U. S. Turns Over American Tanker Ships For Soviet

Vessels Will Transport Aviation Gas To Russia; Fuel Shortage Possible WASHINGTON, (AP.)—Harold L. Ickes, defense petroleum administrator, said Thursday four American tanker ships were being turned over to Russia to haul aviation gasoline.

At the same time he said a shortage of aviation gasoline in the United States, with possible severe effects on military and commercial flying, was likely unless the capacity for producing this high octane fuel is increased immediately.

The transfers to Russia might contribute a limited general petroleum shortage in West Coast areas, he said.

Ickes told newsmen that a compulsory plan to conserve gasoline on the East Coast "may not be very far ahead." He said that gasoline consumption on the Atlantic Seaboard had increased materially in the last two weeks, despite the widespread effort to influence motorists voluntarily to curtail consumption.

The problem of increasing American capacity for producing aviation gasoline, which requires special machinery, will be taken up by Ickes Monday at a meeting here of chairmen of regional oil industry committees.

The situation with regard to this gasoline, the coordinator said, "is causing a good deal of concern."

Connally Urges Another Billion On Tax Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—A billion dollar boost in the house-approved $3,202,000,000 tax bill was suggested Thursday by Senator Connally, D-Tex.

He said that the senate should try to write that much in additional taxes in an effort to offset the mounting cost of National Defense. Senate finance committee members generally have agreed that their group should so revamp the tax measure as to make up $323,000,000 in revenue lost when the house voted down a recommendation of its ways and means committee that husbands and wives be required to file joint returns, when both had incomes.

Connally, a member of the finance committee, said in an interview, however, that "the cost of defense had increased considerably since the ways and means committee set out to raise $3,500,000 of extra money."

Connally thought a cut in the exemption for married couples might be feasible, but expressed doubt that anything would be gained by reducing single persons' exemptions from $800 to $750.

FDR Keeps In Touch With World Affairs WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt, on a yachting vacation off New England, was reported Thursday to be keeping in close touch with international affairs by navy radio.

The report was in a dispatch from the U. S. S. Potomac, which also said that the presidential party's fishing luck was good and that excellent weather was attending the cruise.

Sinclair-Prairie Finishing Second Ownby Area Oiler

By Frank Gardner Oil Editor Second producer for the Ownby area of Southeastern Yoakum County is being completed by Sinclair-Prairie Oil Company No. 1 C. R. Granger, north offset to the discovery well, George P. Livermore, Inc., No. 1 Ernest Ownby.

No. 1 Granger, bottomed at 5,355 feet in line, flowed 164 barrels of oil through 1-inch choke on tubing on 24-hour natural test. It was acidized with 1,500 gallons and now is flowing seven barrels of oil hourly. The well is located 440 feet out of the southeast corner of section 487, block D, J. H. Gibson survey.

Quarter-mile south outpost to the area and south offset to the discovery has been staked by Livermore as No. 2 Ownby, 330 feet out of the southeast corner of the east half of the northeast quarter of section 502, block D, J. H. Gibson survey.

Sam G. Dunn No. 1 R. L. Moore, one mile west and a location north of the original Livermore well, has been abandoned at 5,502 feet in line. Hole is being left in condition for deepening if later desired.

Redmond, Greene Plugging Back J. E. Redmond of Port Stockton, I. L. Greene of Midland et al No. 1 Iowa Realty Trust, deep well at two miles north of the Heiner area in Northern Pecos County is being plugged back to 1,850 feet from total depth of 6,010 feet in line and shale. It topped the Simpson, middle Ordovician, at 5,370 feet and was still in that formation at total depth. Operators will try to develop production from shallow zones which carried oil staining and gas.

Oakwood Drilling Company of Midland, headed by R. P. Coats, contracted drilling of the deep test. Southeast of the discovery area in the Abell Simpson pool of Northern Pecos, Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 State-Young topped the Simpson at 4,880 feet and now is fishing for drilpille, bottomed at 4,925 feet in line. Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Simmons cemented 5 1/2-inch casing at 4,997, one foot off bottom, with 450 sacks and is standing while cement hardens. The same firm's No. 1 Thrapp-Walker unit is coring below 5,393 feet in green sand.

In northeastern Pecos, Gulf Oil Corporation and L. H. Wentz No. 1 L. H. Miller et al, scheduled 6,000-foot, is drilling past 2,167 feet in line. It was cored continuously from 1,545 to 1,735 feet, recovering dry lime, but a core from 1,735-55 feet returned sand showing sulphur water.

Pure Oil Company No. 1 TXL (G. C. Frasse, et al), Pecos wildcat 20 miles southwest of Fort Stockton, is shut down for orders at 417 feet. It originally was slated to test the Delaware sand.

Ordovician Tests Gulf No. 25 W. N. Waddell et al, prospective third producer from the Ellenburger, lower Ordovician, in the four-mile south extension area of the Sand Hills field in Western Crane County, gauged 786,000 cubic feet of gas daily and showed a light spray of oil when one-hour test was taken early Thursday. Testing continued. Total depth is 5,651 feet in dolomite.

Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1-RA University, Ellenburger discovery in Southeastern Reagan County, is making a trip at 9,166 feet in line and chert. It topped the Ellenburger at 8,960 feet, according to owner, and flowed 95 barrels per day on natural test at 9,080.

Seeking Ordovician pay in Eastern Upton County, Plymouth Oil Company No. 1 D. L. Alford et al is drilling at 6,755 feet in gray lime and black shale.

Near Monahans in Ward County, Shell Oil Company, Inc., No. 1 Sealy-Smith Foundation, scheduled to drill to 11,000 feet, if necessary, to test the Ordovician, has passed 2,939 feet in anhydrite and lime.

Depth of 7,790 feet in Devonian lime and chert has been reached by Magnolia No. 20 State-Walton, Northern Winkler County Ordovician test between the Kermit and Keystone Permian pools.

Marketing Service Predicts More Wool

AUSTIN (AP)—Shorn fall wool in Texas may reach a total of 12-15,000,000 pounds as compared to the estimated 1940 crop of 10,296,000 pounds, the U. S. agricultural marketing service reported Thursday. The service estimated the crop over the nation at 399,941,000 pounds, three per cent higher than the greatest production on record, the crop last year.

ROME (AP.)—Captain Bruno Mussolini, 23, who abided by his father's admonition to "live dangerously," was killed Thursday in the crash of a long range bomber he was testing as commander of a detachment that was to use the plane.

He died at 10 a. m., near Pisa, and four hours afterward the Rome radio announced his "glorious death at a post of combat."

Bruno was born April 22, 1918, at Milan while his father, as head of the young Fascist movement, was editing the newspaper Il Popolo D'Italia. Bruno was the premier's second son.

Il Duce, himself a pilot, flew at once to Pisa with his chief of air force, General Francesco Priolo.

Two other fliers—the second pilot and a mechanic—were killed in the crash while the remaining members of the eight-man crew were injured.

"This morning Captain Bruno Mussolini died gloriously near Pisa following an accident in the flight of an experimental plane," said the official announcement.

Thus ended a young life into which action in three wars had been jammed, along with the thrills of the trans-Atlantic flight, air and motor racing.

Bruno was married in 1938 to Gina Ruberti. They had one child, Marina, now 17 months old. The death leaves Premier Mussolini with four children, Countess Edda Ciano, 30, wife of Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano; Anna Marie, 11, Vittorio, 24, and Romano, 13.

Japan Criticizes U. S. And British Remarks

TOKYO (AP)—Japan wants to maintain friendly relations with Thailand and considers unwarranted Wednesday's statements by U. S. Secretary of State Hull and British Foreign Secretary Eden of concern over her intentions, the Japanese board of information said Thursday.

Hull said Japan's intentions toward Thailand were of increasing concern to the United States and Eden warned a Japanese move into Thailand would bring about "a most serious situation between Great Britain and Japan."

Far East Britons Will Fight Move In Burma Sector

Officials Inform Japan Thailand Is Ready To Battle Against Invasion

By The Associated Press. British official spokesmen in the Far East warned Japan Thursday that "all preparations are ready to smash any Japanese attempt to cut the Burma Road or move further westward," and London quarters said they counted on little Thailand, with an army of only 50,000 troops, to fight any Japanese invasion.

Capping a series of red lights to Tokyo, Australia's navy minister William M. Hughes declared in Melbourne: "Do they (the Japanese) think Australia can look on these movements which Japan is making in other countries—movements threatening the very foundations of the empire and Australian interests in the Far East—and do nothing?"

While London hesitated to say definitely that Britain would help Thailand to resist Japanese encroachment, the Singapore office of the ministry of information said flatly that any further Japanese move westward would be crushed.

A Reuters (British news agency) dispatch from Moscow declared, however, that the Soviet high command was "confident that the Germans will reach neither Kiev nor Leningrad, let alone Moscow itself."

German military dispatches pictured the strongest Nazi blows as falling on Russian forces in the Ukraine, and the Germans declared Rout Prize Nazi Unit. The German high command asserted Wednesday Nazi troops were "at the gateway of Kiev," the capital.

Start Work On First Permanent Buildings

Heavy Machinery Operators Fail To Go To Work

Excavation for the first permanent buildings at the Advanced Twin-Engine and Bombardier Training Center started Thursday. O. K. Johnson, project manager for Cagle Brothers and P. M. Reeves and Sons Inc., general contractors, announced.

The first block of seven buildings will be known as the quartermaster's block and will be located in the southwestern sector of the Military Reservation. In the block will be four barracks, a supply building, a day room and the administration building for the block.

Excavation also started for sewer lines in Military Reservation and a ditching machine was at work on this project.

The first-aid station practically is completed and will be in operation Friday.

Construction of the railroad spur and siding was on schedule and more than 50 men were busy at this task.

An increase of 20 per cent in personnel on the construction work is expected Friday with the employment of additional laborers.

The number of guards has been increased to nine.

Britishers Bomb Industrial Areas

LONDON (AP)—The RAF reported Thursday successful raids on industrial centers of Western Germany and shipping off the coast of Holland but admitted that from its wide-ranging operations Wednesday and Wednesday night ten planes are missing.

It was indicated that the assault was renewed on Northern France today.

Again the night attacks were centered on Frankfurt, Mannheim and Karlsruhe in a continuation of the methodical pounding of German targets, and the communique reported "huge fires were started and a considerable weight of bombs was dropped on each city." These raids, however, cost eight planes.

Construction At Three Big Yards In East Halted

Stoppage Involves Navy Vessels; Hillman Calls Officials' Conference

BROOKLYN (AP)—At two ship yards in Brooklyn, both operated by Bethlehem Steel Company, 6,000 workers were ordered back to work Thursday by their union several hours after they had declared a holiday.

By The Associated Press Construction of defense-

tal ships and shipbuilding materials, some of them for the Navy, was halted Thursday at big shipyards at Kearny, N. J., and Brooklyn and Staten Island, N. Y., by walkouts involving both CIO and AFL unions.

At the Federal Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company's Kearney plant alone $493,000,000 worth of naval and merchant ship construction alone was hit by a strike called by the CIO Wednesday at midnight. Other defense production was halted at the New York yards.

At the latter plants, rival CIO and AFL unionists launched a stoppage of work at three shipyards—two in Brooklyn and one on Staten Island—of the Bethlehem Steel Company. The company said the dispute involved union representation but officials of both the CIO and AFL unions said wage demands were the root of the trouble.

At Washington, Sidney Hillman, acting director of the Office of Production Management, summoned the officials of Federal Shipbuilding and of the CIO union involved to a conference Thursday afternoon with defense, navy and maritime commission officials to discuss the strike.

Hillman said the meeting was called hastily "in view of the vital importance of shipbuilding in the defense effort."

Plane And Rail Strikes The Kearny strike also was considered by the full membership of the defense mediation board at a meeting in Washington this morning but members declined to discuss the case. The navy said it was watching the strike very closely because it "virtually affects large navy contracts."

Local CIO officials claimed 16,000 of the 18,000 employees at the Federal Shipyard and 6,000 at the Bethlehem Brooklyn plants. No estimates were available on the CIO members affected on Staten Island or the AFL members at either the Brooklyn or Staten Island yards.

A California aircraft wage dispute involved 38,000 employees of the Lockheed Aircraft Corporation, Burbank, Calif., and its subsidiary, Vega.

The national railway mediation board called a meeting of its members for Monday in Washington, presumably to discuss the threatened strike of 1,200,000 railroad workers.

BE HAPPY, BUT STRIVE TO DO BETTER AND BE BETTER: I have learned, in whatever state I am, therein to be content.—Philippians 4:11.

Weakness Is Fatal

The United States is slow to admit that the world is what it is.
For two years the world has been beating on our door, sounding sirens, and ringing alarms, urging us to wake up. Gosh, how we hate to get up in the morning!
Britain hated, too, to wake from that pleasant slumber. She watched and hoped while her potential allies, one by one, fell before the aggressor. At last she woke painfully to that last lone struggle against that aggressor.

For 45 years the United States has gazed dreamily out across the Pacific. We saw Japan whip China in 1895 and Russia in 1905, getting the Kurile Islands and half of Formosa. We saw Japan annex Korea in 1910. We saw the Japanese effort to obtain from Mexico a naval base at Magdalena Bay. We saw the German concession at Kiaochow in China, and the island of Yap fall to Japan after the World War. We saw Japan leave the League of Nations and take many "mandated" islands permanently. We saw the Pacific Four-Power treaty for status quo in the Pacific signed by Japan and later repudiated when Japan saw fit. We saw Manchuria, North China, South China, and now French Indo-China fall successively to Japanese arms.

This record of 45 years shows two things: Japan, rightly or wrongly, feels an urge to expand. It has never hesitated to act on that urge whenever chances look good.
In view of these things, is there the slightest doubt that Japan will grab the Netherlands Indies, eastern Siberia, or even the Philippines, whenever the chances look good? No. Already, using the Indo-China aggression as a lever, Japan puts pressure on Thailand (Siam) for "concessions."
The fate of the Netherlands Indies, source of rubber and tin, is important to the United States. We have spent millions in the Philippines to help an independent people develop independent institutions, not to make a fat prize for Japan.

Perhaps the best chance to halt further Japanese penetration into southeast Asia is to make it quite clear that there is no weakness there. Public declaration by Britain, the Netherlands, and the United States that a single step beyond French Indo-China means war with all three might do the job. It might not. But it is the best chance. Weakness is the one fatal error.

With Singapore and the Netherlands Indies in Japanese hands, the Philippines are untenable. They, too, would fall. China could no longer hold out. A vast new empire would have at its mercy any and every contact the United States might wish to make with Asia, just as another power, threatens to have at its mercy every such contact with Europe.

This is insufferable and unthinkable. It is time to wake up. There is a point where patience ceases to be a virtue and verges on sheer stupidity.

Road To Security

Mayor La Guardia of New York City, in his capacity as American chairman of the Joint United States-Canadian Defense Board, met with the board of Montreal, and immediately afterward was closeted with President Roosevelt. While little was revealed as to the discussion, it concerned measures for the joint defense of the Pacific Northwest.

The President, revealed La Guardia, favors an immediate real survey of proposed routes, to be followed by early beginning of actual work on the road to Alaska.

This land link between Washington state and Alaska has been often proposed, and preliminary surveys have been made. Surely the urgency of the Pacific situation suggests that a time has come to set the dirt flying.

Warfare . . .

Thursday, killing 30 and wounding 35.

A Red Army bulletin reported that Russian troops had routed one of Adolf Hitler's elite "Totenkopf" (Death's Head) divisions, littering the field with 2,500 Germans killed and wounded.

The Soviet communique quoted a captured German lance corporal as saying that the division, formed of Hitler's Blackshirt Schuetzstaffel detachments, had orders to deal a "decisive blow" in one of the main sectors of the eastern front.

Under Russian artillery fire, the communique related, German tanks, motorcycles, machine-guns and mine-throwers and mutilated bodies of Fascist soldiers were flung into the air . . . and when the "Totenkopf" wavered, Red army men launched a bayonet charge and completed the rout of the Fascist division.

Warning to Japan

Wednesday night, the Soviet high command said, German troops stormed Red Army positions on the Estonia front, driving toward Leningrad in what appeared to be the that the remainder of Red Army troops surrounded in that grain-rich province were now "facing destruction."

"new theater" of offensive operations mentioned Wednesday by the Nazi high command.

The Russians also reported violent all-night fighting in the sectors of Smolensk, 230 miles west of Moscow, and Bel Tserkov, 50 miles south of Kiev, the Ukraine capital—the same battle zones which have appeared regularly in Soviet communiques.

In the Far East crisis, the British sounded a stiff new warning to Japan, declaring that "all preparations are ready to smash any Japanese attempt to cut the Burma road or move further westward."

The warning apparently referred to a possible Japanese move into Thailand from bases in French Indo-China or an attempt to invade China's southwest province of Yunnan, through which the Burma road feeds supplies to Chinese armies in the north.

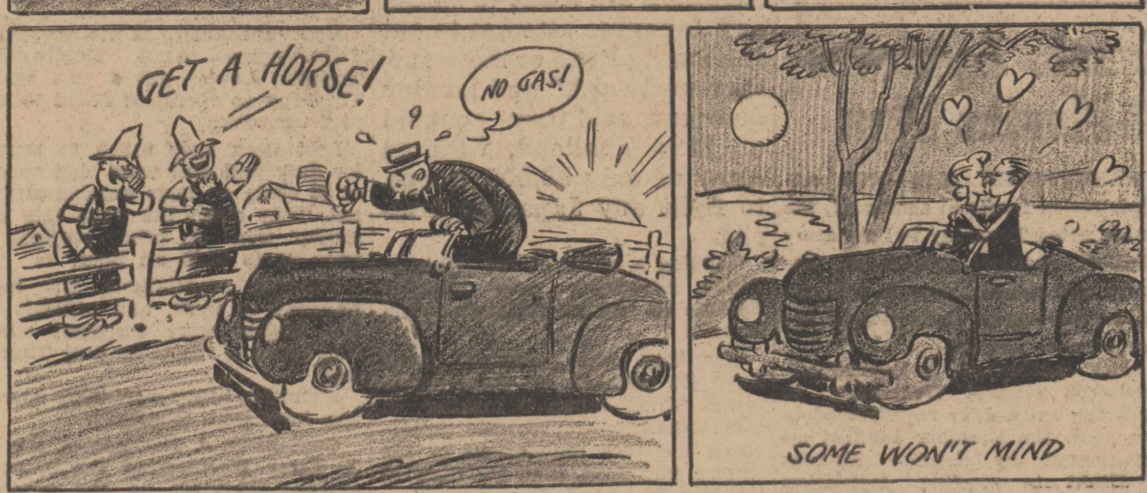

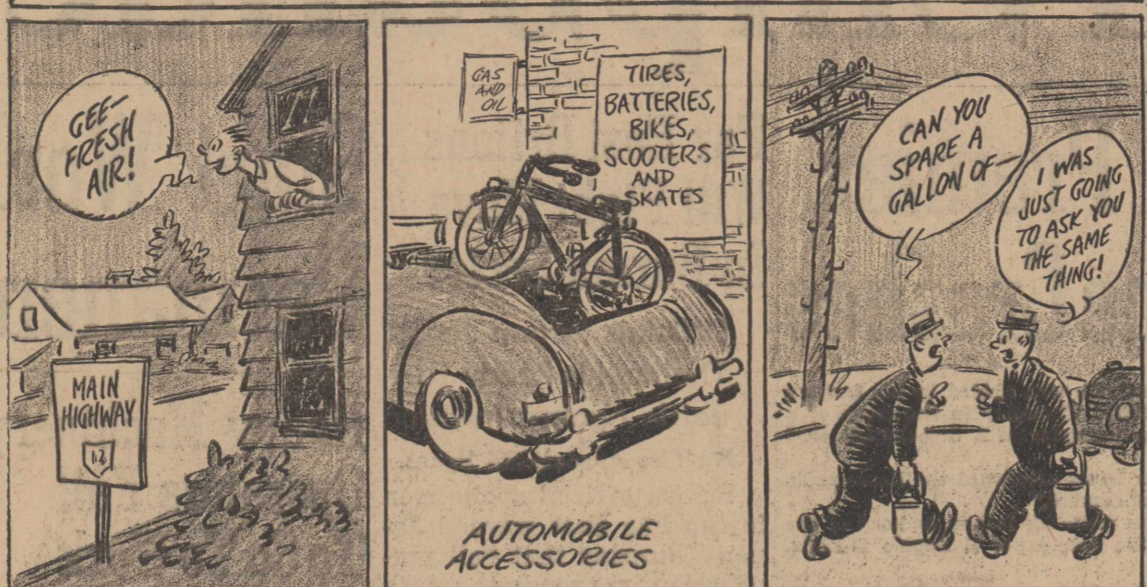

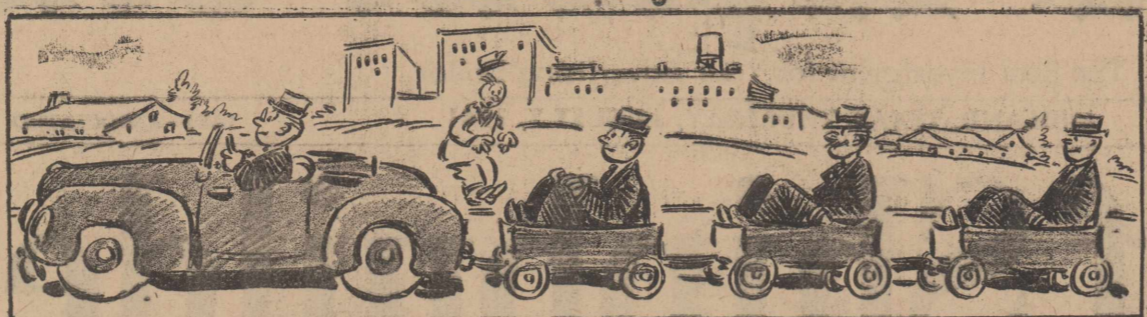

The same source declared that while the Germans still held the initiative in the 47-day-old Russian campaign, the Nazi high command was gravely concerned over "the slowness of the advance and the very heavy casualties."

Gasless Nights

Military And Other Experts Stated War With Japan Was Imminent But Don't Count On Big Conflict Soon

By Peter Edson
The Reporter-Telegram
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—The more you read the less you know, and the more you follow the dope of the experts the more you believe that Big Bill Knudsen was right—"An expert is a mechanic away from home."

That general negation can be applied to military experts, political experts, all economists, experts on foreign affairs and particularly experts on the Far East. In the opinion of people who should know, there ain't any such animal as that last.

An examination of the record of most so-called experts on the Far Eastern situation will prove this easily. A year ago they began predicting that the U. S. fleet would go to Singapore, that war between the U. S. and Japan was inevitable, and that the Japanese were ready to seize the Dutch East Indies any 15 minutes. On the general theory that if you predict a thing long enough and hard enough it will come true under the law of averages, all these things may happen. But don't do without eating until they do, for there are any number of reasons, military as well as economic, that they aren't going to come off instantly.

Whatever you think of the administration's policy or lack of policy toward the blind alley brawl in Europe, credit must be given where credit is due, and the policy with regard to the Far East and particularly Japan has thus far been planned and executed with skill. The importance of the Orient in the international picture has not been overlooked, but the bait and the line played out to the Pacific big game fish has been handled, beautifully timed and with just enough of the slack of appeasement so that fisherman Uncle Sam has not become fouled in his own line and dragged into the drink.

Economically, the actual freezing of Japanese credits and the threat of embargoes on oil and silk have been good pressure to make Tokyo stop and consider. Actual embargoes would do the Japanese more harm than sending the fleet to Singapore.

Militarily, Japan is rated the third most war-weary country in the world, Spain and Italy alone being ahead of her in that kind of despair. Furthermore, Japan is in the position of the big fish which swallowed the hook and can't spit it out.

She has an army of less than two million—1,600,000 under arms and another 200,000 or so called up. She has the manpower for an army of four million, but can't get the arms or equipment for them. That is, she has 57 divisions under arms and the most she can raise is 66, instead of the potential 200.

Information is perhaps none too accurate, but the best dope is that 10 divisions are in Manchukuo against the two red banner armies of the Soviet, made up of 26 infantry, 10 cavalry and four mechanized divisions. Thirty-seven Japanese divisions are occupied in China, one in Korea, one on Sakhalin Island, three or four in Hainan and French Indo-China, and four or five at home. That's what the military experts call extreme dispersion.

Japanese mechanized forces are as bad if not worse than even the American. Japanese air forces of approximately 36,000 planes are mostly 1939 models, copies of German originals now obsolete, and 750, miles is still the effective range for bombers carrying bombs. From Saigon, French Indo-China, to Singapore is 840 miles and from Formosa or Canton to Manila is about the same. From Vladivostok to Tokyo is 689 miles.

A Job For The Navy
That would seem to leave it up to Japan's navy—and a right good navy, too—if Japan is to go places. She can, of course, ride off in all four directions. If she goes north and runs into the Soviet, there is plenty of trouble ahead. She can go farther into China at about the same rate she has gone in the last four years.

She can go south, against the Malay peninsula and Singapore and encounter a great many worries. The occupation of Indo-China can be considered as accomplished, and Japan might even penetrate Siam, but Singapore is something else again. Before Japan can tackle the Dutch East Indies, she must reduce Singapore, and it would take years. To the east lies the Philippines. They are within range, and if Japan did not have her hands full in three other directions, they would be pie any time she wanted to help herself. Engaged as the Japanese are on three other fronts, a full shooting war, requiring complete coordination of sea, air and land forces, would keep the Japanese gentlemen very busy indeed for quite some time, thank you, please.

So don't bet on war with Japan tomorrow.

Coast Guard Will Receive Recruits

The Coast Guard is the country's oldest military service, being organized in 1790. Hindermarch was serving 25 years under a Dallas County robbery conviction.

Division Prepares To Continue Long Jaunt

FAIRFIELD, Tex. (AP)—In a secluded and thickly wooded campsite 12 miles east of here virtually the full strength of the 36th Division—16,000 men—prepared Thursday for a continuation of its long jaunt from Camp Bowie to the Sabine maneuver area.

Long, rumbling columns of the 61st Field Artillery brigade pulled into camp Wednesday, along with the division headquarters unit, to join troops already bivouacked here. The engineers are busy at Mansfield, La., readying the 36th Division quarters for the war games.

U. S. Believes Japanese Move Fits Axis Plan

By Lloyd Lehrbas
WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States government, it was learned Thursday, believes that Japan's pressure bid for control of Thailand is part of a well-patterned Axis plan to seize control of the oceans and thereby dominate the world.

The latest Japanese moves were described as dovetailing perfectly with Germany's demands on Vichy for military and naval bases in French colonial possessions, particularly at Dakar.

All evidence available, an informed source stated, points to a coordinated drive by Germany to control all strategic bases in the Atlantic, while Japan seizes similar objectives in the Pacific.

"When—and if—Germany and Japan accomplish that ambitious objective," a ranking official said, "the Axis powers could join forces across the southern oceans and dominate the seas, isolating the Americas for a coordinated attack from the Pacific and the Atlantic."

To win that "stranglehold on the world," it was pointed out, the Germans and Japanese must first seize the British and French strong points that dominate the world's seaways, and officials said that the aggressive plans now in motion have that objective.

Soldiers Will Use Big Water Supplies

CAMP POLK, La. (AP)—The army said Thursday it was prepared to supply more than 1,500,000 gallons of purified water daily for the 500,000 soldiers who will need plenty of it for drinking, bathing and cooking in the late summer maneuvers in Louisiana.

The army promised that the soldiers in the huge war games would have the "best possible water to drink."

Each of the 19 divisions participating in the maneuvers will have its own mobile purification plant, capable of purifying at least 75,000 gallons daily.

The main supply for drinking and cooking will be from streams and lakes, and from town and city mains in the "occupied" territory.

Nothing Better Than Midland Seen By Boy On Trip

Mrs. T. Paul Barron and son, Charles, returned Wednesday from an extended trip through the South and East. They were away approximately a month.

They went north by way of Memphis to Columbus, Ohio, where they spent two weeks as guests of Mrs. Barron's sister.

New York was the eastern goal of their journey and Charles reports that they liked it. Sightseeing here included their visit to the Empire State building with its vast spreading view of the city, a boat trip round the island, and other interesting excursions. The Midlanders found the metropolis easy to travel in.

At Washington, D. C., they saw the capitol and other points of interest and then swung south to New Orleans. The older quarters of the city were older in appearance than other cities visited. Charles said, but the new portions of New Orleans are quite modern. Some of its streets are very broad, like Canal Street, and some very narrow like Royal Street in the old French quarter.

Mammoth Cave in Kentucky was another of the highlights of the trip, but Charles does not rate it above the Southwest's own Carlsbad Cavern.

Indeed, he declared that "not a thing" seen on the trip looked any more beautiful than Midland.

Cheatam Funeral Held In Eldorado

McCAMEY (Special)—Funeral services were held from the First Baptist Church in Eldorado Wednesday for Glenn Cheatam, 14, who died in a Texon hospital Tuesday from injuries received in an automobile accident a mile west of Big Lake.

A light pick-up in which he was riding with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Smith, Douglas McSwain and Guaremo Fruto, also of Eldorado, overturned three times after it struck a soft shoulder.

Mrs. Smith, driving the car, is in a critical condition in the Texon Hospital, suffering a broken leg and crushed arm. They were enroute to Alpine from Eldorado.

With the boy at the time of his death were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Cheatam of Eldorado and his aunt, Mrs. Etta Ferguson of McCamey.

At Mrs. Smith's bedside are her husband and son, Tommy, and wife of Eldorado, and her daughter, Mrs. Edwin McCollum and husband of Alpine.

WRONG PHONE NUMBER, EVEN ON SLUG, IRKSOME

GARY, Ind. (UP)—George Miller, drug clerk, believed there might have been some justification in a customer's anger when, failing to get her nickel back after dialing a wrong number, the customer yanked the receiver off the hook and walked out of the store with it.

But it was something of a shock when telephone company workers repairing the phone reported that the last coin deposited was a slug.

SERIAL STORY

LESSONS IN LOVE

BY JERRY BRONDFIELD

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: Dugan tells Barbara he kissed her on an impulse. Later Uncle Hank explains that Dugan's part in the Midwest Oil affair was that of a person helping out a friend. Barbara is repentant for her accusations. At the country club dance, Dugan strolls through the garden and comes upon Barbara and Larry in an embrace.

BARBARA SAYS "NO"

CHAPTER XI
LARRY GROVER took Barbara's face tenderly between his two hands.

"Okay," he murmured. "You win. Here I am broken down like an old pair of shoes." He smiled into her eyes. "You'll marry me, now, won't you?"

His arms went around her again and his lips sought hers, but she turned her face against his chest instead of kissing him.

"Larry," she said quietly, "I think I've always wanted you to kiss me the way you did just then. It was the first time you really ever put your heart into it."

She looked up at him then. "Yet even now you take me for granted. You confess your love unreservedly, so of course you figure I'll start marching right down to the altar with you."

Barbara patted his cheek tenderly. "I'm glad you finally kissed me that way, Larry. It woke me up."

He frowned slightly. "What do you mean?"

"I'm pretty sure I don't love you, Larry," she said softly. "You're sweet and well, but"—she pointed to her heart—"but something didn't go click in here when you popped the question."

She looked at the moon streaming from behind a feathery cloud, and she felt as though a big load had been lifted from her mind.

"It's funny, Larry," she mused, "the way we think we want something, and then discover we never really did want it when we get it."

She poked him in the chest playfully. "That applies to you, Larry."

He smiled ruefully. "Not angry. Just disappointed. But I guess it's my own fault for not playing my cards right. Or would you say it isn't the way you play them but the cards you have to play?"

"Let's not analyze it," she whispered.

"Let me know if you change your mind?"

She nodded. "But I don't think I'll change it."

He took her by the arm. "Let's go inside. As I recall, you haven't danced with Dugan yet," he said pointedly.

She stiffened slightly. "No, I haven't."

THEY couldn't find Dugan Blake anywhere. "Haven't seen him in the last 15 minutes," said Uncle Hank. "Haven't seen him all night, in fact," said Uncle Hank.

There was a troubled frown on Larry Grover's face as he drove Barbara home.

"Funny, about Dugan disappearing, wasn't it?"

"I—I hadn't thought much more about it."

"Liar," he said matter-of-factly. "Why don't you admit you're in love with him?"

"I'm not," she flashed. "Nor have I any intentions of falling in love with him."

"Well, at least you're a beautiful liar," he added cheerfully. "Which makes it all right, of course."

Larry offered his hand as he took her to the door. "We've got to be very impersonal from now on," he said gravely, and she laughed.

Then Barbara reached up swiftly and kissed him lightly. "That's for good luck tomorrow. I'll be darned if I'll get up for your morning game, but I'll be on hand if you advance to the afternoon round."

Barbara sat up in bed and hugged her knees. She liked to think that way, and she wanted to do a lot of thinking just then.

Larry Grover—sweet old Larry Grover—had finally neglected his ponies long enough to get around to proposing to her. She knew he would, sooner or later, of course. Seriously, and not jocularly in that threatening manner he liked to employ.

There was a time when she would have accepted, she mused, and then hurriedly amended the thought in her mind.

Looking at it objectively she should have known it never could be. When she fell in love she wanted it to be sudden, swift and sure. Something that would hinder and make a definite impression, not a vacillating one.

Barbara knew she could never learn to love a man, as though it were a lesson, taking it by stages until the whole thing was mastered and understood.

She felt a little ashamed of herself, too. Larry probably wouldn't have proposed if it hadn't been for Dugan Blake. Poor Larry. Of course, he had figured—just as she knew he would—that Dugan Blake might blossom into a rival BARBARA lay back and closed her eyes. A silly thought, of course. Larry should have known that was an impossibility. For her to fall in love with that— that wild Indian didn't make sense.

It didn't, did it? she asked herself and then, as though an inner voice had answered her, Barbara sat bolt upright again.

She knew then and there she would have to be careful. Her falling in love with Dugan Blake could make a lot of sense. There was no use kidding herself. And there was only one thing she could do about it.

She had to avoid Dugan as much as possible in the two days remaining before he returned to Oklahoma.

Brian Hill beat Spring Mountain the following morning, 8-6. Dugan got four of the eight goals, and as they dismounted at the end of the game, their faces bathed in sweat, Larry swung an arm around Dugan's shoulder enthusiastically.

"This is the year," he chortled. "We can't miss, or I'm a left-handed Ubangi."

Larry picked up a sponge impulsively and sponged Dugan's face. "Honest, injun, I wish you weren't going home Monday. Everyone around here is completely sold on you. I'm not kidding when I say there's going to be an awfully let-down feeling when you pull stakes."

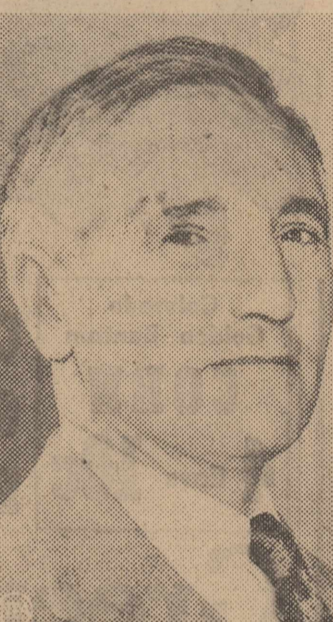

He helped Dugan into a fleeced jacket to keep his muscles from getting cold. "Can't you transfer your interests to New York?" Larry asked appealingly.

"Old Man Chase probably can make just as good use of you here as he does down in the sticks."

Dugan smiled wryly. "Thanks, Larry. It's swell of you to say all that, but I think I'll be better off in Oklahoma. Yes," he said slowly, "a lot better off."

Fort Worth And Dallas Club End Long Game In Tie

By The Associated Press.
The third-place Dallas Rebels, rounding into a smoothly functioning ball club, and the fifth-place Fort Worth Cats staged a tremendous 11-inning struggle that ended in a 1-1 tie Wednesday night.

The Rebels ended the longest home stay of the season after the two teams had battled in ding-dong fashion before a throng of howling fans in a game that was finally called to permit the Cats to catch a train.

Playing at Tulsa, the Oilers swept a twin bill with the Oklahoma City Indians, taking the first 8-1 and the seven-inning nightcap 7-6.

The San Antonio Missions ended a four-game home series by taking a 2-0 decision from the Shreveport Sports.

The Houston juggernaut functioned as usual, Ted Wilks turning in his 17th win of the season to give the Buffs a 3-0 triumph over Beaumont at Houston.

Looney Will Try To Break Pass Nabbing Record In Pro Ball

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Don Looney, one of the best forward pass nabbers in the business, is going to try to break his own National Pro League record this year—but it's secondary to the Pittsburgh Steelers winning the division championship.

The soft-spoken, lanky son of Dorothy Hill, a Texas Christian University record of 58 catches for 707 yards with the Philadelphia Eagles last year, asserted Thursday "I'll be tryin' for a new mark," but added:

"The thing I want most of all is to win that championship. It sure would be nice to get into those playoffs next December."

Next December, incidentally, Looney said he plans to marry Miss Dorothy Hill, a Texas Christian University graduate in 1940, is now working on a master's degree in business.

Two things may keep the 23-year-old end from breaking the mark he set as a freshman in the big time.

First, little Davey O'Brien, another illustrious son of Texas Christian, will no longer be on the throwing end of the passes. O'Brien left the Eagles at the end of last season to join the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The second is best put by Coach Walt Kelsing: "We're going to concentrate on a running attack this year. If we find a good passer, naturally we're going to use him, but we're not going to sacrifice the rest of the attack for a passer."

Howe's Will Go To Sweetwater

John P. Howe, women's league leader, will travel to Sweetwater Friday night to play a women's team there.

It will be the second road trip for the Howe's. They lost to Odessa there in a close game several weeks ago.

The Texas Company wrestled the softball league leadership from Independents Wednesday night, running down Wilson Dry Goods, 14-3, for their second consecutive victory in two nights play. Tuesday night the Texans beat Independents, 7-3.

Johnny Carter, first sacker, Webb, third baseman, and Bobo, catcher, hit well for the losers. Bobo smacked a homer, and Carter and Webb hit doubles. Wilsons outthit the Texans.

Two Medalists Beat Opponents

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Charley Coe parked his young frame on a bench by the first tee Thursday while his two co-medalists in the Broadmoor Invitational Golf Tournament drove toward the title again.

Coe, Oklahoma high school golf champion from Ardmore, went one down to defeat at the hands of Dan Walker of Denver Wednesday, L. B. (Bud) Maytag, Colorado Springs, and John Kraft, Denver, who shared the medal at par 70 with him came in with comfortable victories.

Maytag ousted Don Brown of Denver on the 14th hole, 6 and 4. The washing machine scene paired off with Gomas Green of Fairfax, Okla., Thursday.

Kraft, a school teacher, slammed Harry Missidine of Tulsa, Okla., into the championship flight consolation rounds with a 3 and 2 in, to meet Young Harvey Cowan of Beaumont, Texas.

Trip To Maneuvers No Novelty To Dog

FORT CUSTER, Mich. (UP)—Rex, 10-year-old mascot of the Service company, 10th Infantry, here, is preparing to go to Arkansas with 20,000 Fort Custer soldiers for maneuvers.

It won't be anything new for Rex, who has been in the army seven years. Veterans here estimate Rex has traveled 25,000 miles with the army and that he has been a "pal" of thousands of soldiers.

The German police dog, once scrawny and weak but now plump and content as a result of the army diet, attended maneuvers at Fort Knox, Ky., in 1935, 1936, 1937 and 1938; in Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, and Louisiana in 1939 and in Wisconsin in August, 1940. He came to Fort Custer last December and went to Tennessee for maneuvers in May.

Strange Animal Is Puzzle To Farmer

BAKERSFIELD, Cal. (UP)—In the interests of science, and incidentally to satisfy his own curiosity, Ben Perea, a farmer, is eager to have a naturalist study the strange, hybrid animal that wandered home recently from a mountain grazing range with his flock of goats.

The animal has the ears and movements of a deer, the hairless hide of a Chinushua dog, and other characteristics which may be traced to its mother, a goat, according to Perea.

"When I first saw it, I was struck by the fact that it was hairless, except for a very fine fuzz," he said. "Then when I attempted to examine it at close range, it bounded away with the high, even jumps of a deer."

"Later, I noticed that its ears were shaped like those of a deer, and that it shifted them for sound as a deer does. I wondered if it might be a cross between a deer and a goat."

Johnston Colt Takes $20,300 Hambletonian

GOSHEN, N. Y. (AP) — Three years ago R. J. Johnston, wealthy Charlotte, N. C., cotton textile manufacturer, sat in the stands at Good Time Park and thrilled to the sight of McLin Hanover winning the classic Hambletonian. He decided he would like to see his silks coming down there in front, and quickly changed his thoughts into action.

A year later he stepped into the sales ring at Lawrence Sheppard's Hanover, Pa., Shoe Farms and bid in Ashley Hanover for $1,800. He promptly changed the name of the son of Sandy Flash to Bill Gallon, the name of a close friend and former business partner from New York.

His next step was to turn the colt over to Lee Smith, 47-year-old, weatherbeaten, 145-pound trainer from Dadeville, Ala. Smith had been in and out of the grand circuit for years but he had done most of his racing in smaller southern and midwestern leagues.

Wednesday the combination of horse-trainer and owner achieved what many others have tried to do for years—they won the Hambletonian as 25,000 fans cheered themselves hoarse. With Smith giving Bill a perfect drive the Johnston-owned colt came back from defeat in the first heat to win the final two miles and the purse of $20,365.95.

Sports Roundup

By Eddie Brietz

NEW YORK—Help! Help! Here's a chance for youse guys to go a good turn for the defense program. Earl Ruby of the Louisville Courier-Journal proposes football teams for army camps and plants during defense work to compete against each other. Senator Happy Chandler has agreed to sponsor a trophy if leagues can be organized. They would like to hear some good ideas on how to set up the program.

That talk about Joe DiMaggio getting $80,000 next year gives everybody a laugh. Just he same he's already getting a whole lot more than the $35,000 he was supposed to have signed for last winter. Joe is no dumb gazzo. He knows when he's well paid. He may ask for a healthy raise, but not in Babe Ruth's class.

The Port Side Of It
Lefthanders have been more effective than righthanders in the American Association this year.... The only club which has a winning percentage against both pitching styles is Louisville.... Leave it up to us Kernels, huh!

Sports Cocktail
Connie Mack has conceded the pennant to the Yankees. He told us as much at the world series last year.... He picks his own A's to finish in the first division.... Lou Nova, still vacationing in Maine, thinks he can knock Louis out in less than ten rounds.... If you want to get down a good bet on the national singles tennis championship, take Riggs, although bridegroom Frankie Kovacs still has plenty of backing.... Pete Fox, who hit three doubles in game Tuesday for the Red Sox, hadn't made an extra base blow all last week.... Both the Reds and the Red Sox have decided to pass up exhibition games in Havana next spring.

Today's Guest Star
Lynn C. Doyle, Philadelphia Evening Bulletin: "Boston wants the Louis-Nova entertainment.... Now this Grove has his 300, they want to look at a fellow who can really pitch."

Pitcher Wanted
How's this for an all-star team composed of National League managers... Jimmy Wilson, catcher; Bill Terry, first base; Frankie Frisch, second base; Leo Durocher, shortstop; Bill McKechnie, third base; Bill Southworth, Doc Prothro and Casey Stengel, outfielders.... They would have to pick up a pitcher some place.... But if they found a good one it would bust up the team because every fellow would want to keep him for his own club.

Beware Of Entanglements
Out in Utah H. Colbert of the Heating Center ball club got a home run on a ball that should have been a double.... Outfielder Jack Green caught his pants on the barbed wire fence and Colbert circled the bases before he could squirm loose.

NEW YORK (AP)—Thomas E. Dewey, national chairman of the United Service Organizations' fund drive announced Thursday that the goal of $10,765,000 has been reached and that with community chest commitments, the total will reach $12,000,000 by fall.

Dodgers Bounce Back Into First Ahead Of Cards

By Judson Bailey
Associated Press Sports Writer
Somebody is always rocking the boat in the National League. The boys ride along on an even keel for a couple of days and then, just when the fans take a deep breath of satisfaction, the jitterbugs start bouncing.

Thursday the Brooklyn Dodger have bounced back into first place with a six-game winning streak and a margin of three percentage points over the St. Louis Cardinals, while the Pittsburgh Pirates, Wednesday nine games out of first place, Thursday were only eight away and still spouting fire and fur.

The Cardinals backed out of the scene by losing a 5-1 struggle to the Cincinnati Reds, whose south-paw star, Johnny Vander Meer, limited the Cards to eight hits.

With the score of Cincinnati's conquest posted on the big black board in the Polo Grounds, the Dodgers stormed out in front of 52,791 New York fans and downed the Giants 3-1.

The Pirates achieved their fifth straight and 17th triumph in 20 games by overwhelming the Chicago Cubs 13-3.

Yanks Win And Lose.
Five-hit hurling by Manny Salvo brought the Boston Braves a 6-0 shutout against the Phillies in another night game.

The New York Yankees divided a doubleheader with the Boston Red Sox, but still managed to increase their big American League lead by a half game through Cleveland's loss to Detroit.

Tex Hughson and Mike Ryba held the Yanks to six hits in the first game, two of them homers by Joe DiMaggio and Joe Gordon, as the Red Soxers smashed to a 6-3 victory. In the nightcap Marvin Breuer held Boston to five hits and DiMaggio doubled two runs across in the sixth inning for the margin of a 3-1 triumph.

The Detroit Tigers scored 11 runs in one tremendous third inning explosion to beat the Indians 11-2.

The St. Louis Browns made use of a five-run fourth inning to take the first game of their doubleheader header from the Chicago White Sox 9-6, but Lefty Thornton Lee came back with a six-hit pitching job to give the Sox the second 5-2.

Washington whipped the Philadelphia Athletics 5-1 in a night game.

By Mrs. Gaynor Maddox NEA Service Staff Writer
No matter what part of the country you live in, nor what the season, you can plan your family meals to fit into the new national "yardstick of a good diet," given by the Food and Nutrition Committee of the National Research Council.

Tomatoes, Oranges, Grapefruit, Green Cabbage, Raw Vegetable Greens: One or more servings for everyone.

Potatoes, Other Vegetables and Fruits: Two servings or more a day.

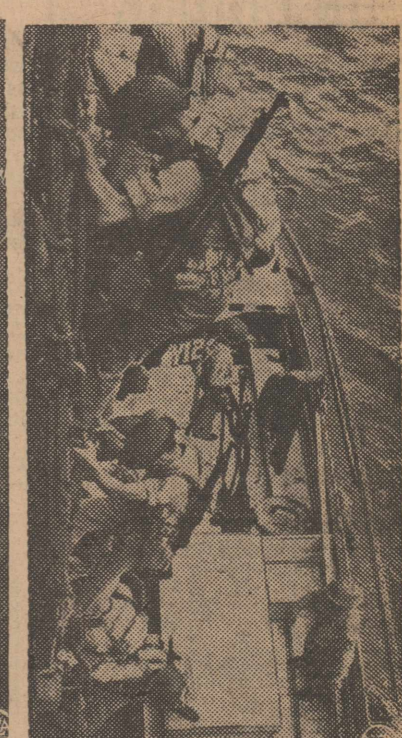

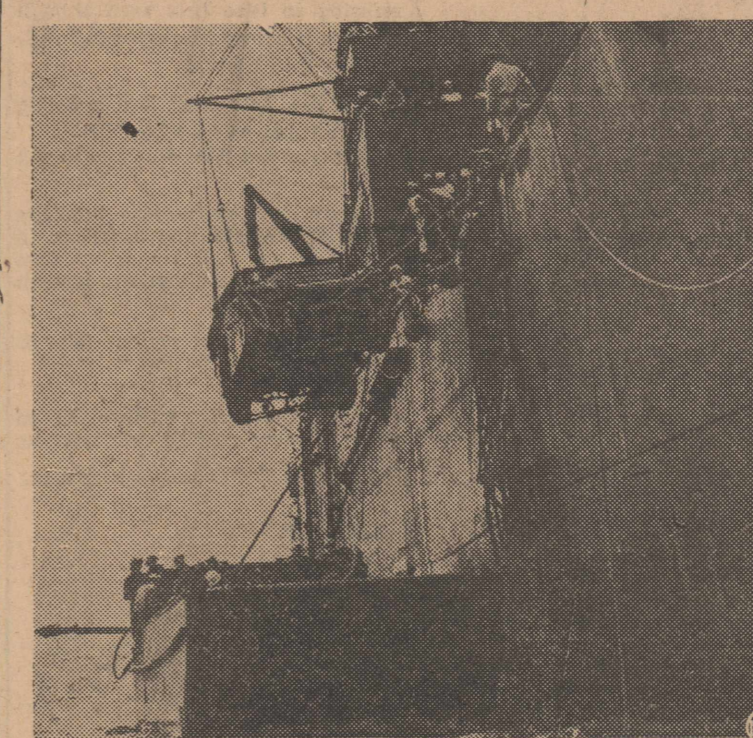

Shortages Won't Affect Cosmetics

WASHINGTON, (UP).—The Office of Production Management has good news for the women: The defense effort is not causing serious shortages of cosmetics, although other beauty aids may be affected.
According to Robert E. McConnell, chief of the OPM conservation unit, there will be no appreciable shortage of such articles as cold cream, face packs, astringents, lip rouge, suntan lotions and other cosmetics.

Germany Reports Losses Moderate In Smolensk War

BERLIN (AP) — German losses were moderate compared with the "extraordinarily high" losses of the Red Army in the Battle of Smolensk, the high command declared Thursday, reiterating that the fierce struggle in front of Moscow has ended victoriously for Adolf Hitler's armies.
This was the follow-up report in which the high command Wednesday promised to tell point by point how Germany's soldiers pierced the Stalin line and drove a salient deep toward Moscow.

Marines And Army Team To Capture Shore

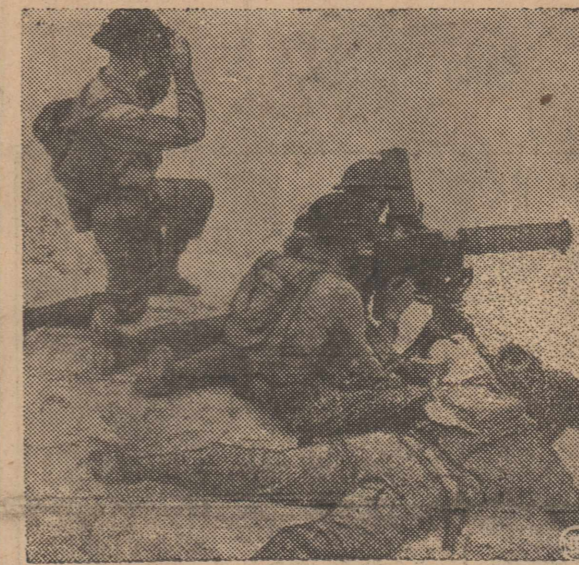

Practicing together for the first time, U. S. Marines and the Army's 1st Division "invaded" a "hostile" shore at New River, N. C. and established a beachhead for an "expeditionary force." Above, a scout car is lowered from the transport into one of Uncle Sam's new "invasion" barges. Note cargo net hanging down side of ship.

Using the cargo net as a ladder, soldiers and marines swarm down into one of the big motorboats used to ferry landing parties to beach for attack.

Here's the tough part. Leaping into the surf from landing boats, "invaders" dash shoreward—presumably in the face of enemy machine guns.

Success! A spot of beach has been won and a machine gun unit quickly sets up its piece to protect following landing parties.

With successive landing parties comes artillery. These lads are hustling up a light field piece to add defenders' woes.

Will House Aviator's Airplane At Canberra

SYDNEY, Australia. (UP)—Canberra will become the resting place of another link with the epic flights of the late Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith. His old plane, the Southern Cross, is to be housed in the civil hangar there, instead of at the Kingsford-Smith airdrome, Sydney's chief airport.
The capital already has many relics of the flier's remarkable flights. In the basement of Parliament House are two cancelled checks—one for 5,000 pounds, in recognition of his 1928 trans-Pacific flight; the other for 3,000 pounds, paid in 1933, in recognition of his distinguished air service, especially his record solo flight to Australia in October, 1933.

American Farmer Is Against Saving Time

WASHINGTON (UP) — What's the American farmer got against daylight saving time?
"Plenty," says Rep. August H. Anderson, R., Minn. "If you want your breakfast an hour earlier every morning, the farmer's got to get up an hour earlier to supply you with eggs, milk, bacon and vegetables. It knocks him off his routine."
"It's more than that," says Grand Master Louis J. Taber, of the National Grange. "You can't control nature by law."
"The sun has to be up three or four hours to get the dew off the ground before a farmer can put in his hay, thrash his grain or pluck his peas. With daylight saving time, a farmer's help would quit just along about the time in the afternoon when it's the best working time on a farm."
"All I know about it is that this will get us to work earlier," says Rep. Wilburn Cartwright, D., Okla. "and I'm against working."

Football Starts Man On Acrobatic Career

ALBANY, N. Y. (UP)—A football led Johnny Woods, 53, of Los Angeles, into a 35-year career as a "human fly."
He gave the ball a tremendous boot and it landed on a roof. He decided to scale the building and liked the thrill so much he's been doing it ever since.
Woods has scaled the brickwork of buildings in every state. He admits he is beginning to "feel the pull" of his years, but he is not through yet. He wants to climb the Empire State building in New York City and the 32-story State Office building here before he retires.
He has had one accident. A loose brick gave way on a building in Florida and he fell and fractured his skull. As soon as he regained his strength, he returned and inched his way to the top of the structure.

SAN FRANCISCO AQUEDUCT RIVALRS FAMOUS BRIDGES

SAN FRANCISCO (UP).—San Francisco has a third bridge with as impressive a record as the more famous Golden Gate and San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridges—the Third and Channel aqueduct—city engineers revealed recently.
This little drawbridge—the heaviest single-leaf Bascule ever constructed—is rated an unlimited load limit.
Since its dedication in 1933, more than 77,000,000 cars have passed over its span and its gates have been raised over 177,000 times to allow ships to move up and downstream.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY TO BE STUDIED ON SPOT

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UP)—Pennsylvania schools and colleges are inaugurating a new policy of teaching history and geography "on the spot."
Most recent school trip planned will be for students at the Indiana Teachers College, at Indiana, Pa. The 1,200-mile tour will include visit to the Gettysburg battlefield, Valley Forge, Philadelphia, "Indian territory" at Delaware Water Gap and in the Pocono region, Pymatuning state park, two state game and fish reservation, Wellsville's "Grand Canyon" and the Coudersport Ice Mine.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

Before leaving San Francisco to continue my transcontinental bridge tour, I must tell you about one dynamic personality who is making a name for herself in Pacific coast bridge, Maureen O'Brien.

Her conversation and coined phrases are as original and snappy as her line of reasoning at the bridge table. Not only can she think quickly, but she is able to conceal from her opponents what is going through her mind. Here is a quick decision that helped her win the All-Western masters pair title with Wilbur Hayhurst of Los Angeles.

The hand was played at three no trump by North at most tables. After the spade lead, most of the declarers could see no possibility but to hold off the spades to be sure of exhausting West. Then if West held the ace of hearts, the king would produce declarer's ninth trick. Of course, when West held the trick with the king of spades, he shifted to the queen of hearts and the defenders cashed six tricks in a hurry.

Miss O'Brien, sitting North, made a quick decision that to hold up the spade ace was dangerous and had only a 50 per cent chance of being useful. She won at once with the ace and ran the diamonds, hoping to wreck the adverse hands.

East discarded the six and five of hearts, then the deuce of spades. West let go two hearts. The king of clubs was led, dropping the jack. Dummy continued with the eight of clubs.

Miss O'Brien guessed right and finessed against the queen. Thus she won 11 tricks for a glittering top on the board.

DOWNTOWN OIL WELL PROVES IT'S NO DUMMY

KILGORE, Tex. (UP)—People who never saw a real oil well on a downtown street may be skeptical of this story, but East Texans will not be surprised. There is one oil well in front of a tire company here, and others behind the building, all operated from a central pumping unit. Many persons believed that the well in front of the building was an advertisement for the gasoline station.

Such persons were surprised recently when the well "blew out" its packing and ran wild for several minutes.

Process May Reduce Tung Oil Shipments

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UP)—Two University of Minnesota chemists have developed a process that may materially reduce this nation's dependence on China for tung oil, an important shellac and varnish base.

Drs. George O. Burr and J. Peter Kass believe by their process fats from common native sources such as corn and linseed can be made to assume the properties of the imported tung oil.

The process, Burr says, is similar to that used in making soap. It involves heating of the common oils for long periods and at high temperatures.

"The heating when carried out under certain conditions, so

LONDON BOOKIES REFUSE TO TAKE BETS ON WAR

LONDON (UP)—Bookmakers are refusing to take bets even though there is a slump in greyhound racing owing to the war.

But the bets they are refusing have nothing to do with racing. They are not the outcome of the war.

"Every day we receive inquiries from clients, old and new, as to the odds we will lay on various aspects of the war," said a London bookmaker.

"But we will not quote. War is a matter far too serious."

Iowa State College Makes New Cheeses

AMES, Ia. (UP)—Iowa State College experts are doing their part to fulfill the demand for fancy cheese—which have been cut off because of the war.

American gourmets soon will be delighting in the flavor of "Iowa Blue" instead of Roquefort, and some like the former product even better.

"Iowa Blue has a better flavor than any that ever came out of the Roquefort caves of France," Prof. C. A. Iverson, Iowa State college cheese expert, said.

The college's dairy department has spent 20 years developing this new cheese, along with modified types of Edam and Swiss cheeses. Under the college's formula, 12

Gasoline Saving Isn't Too Big Job

DETROIT (UP)—It's not too big a job for the nation's more than 27,000,000 owners of private passenger cars to save upwards of 140,000,000 gallons of gasoline monthly for defense, according to an estimate made here.

The estimate was made by L. G. Peed, De Soto vice president who believes it is possible for every driver to save at least five gallons each month by proper operation and upkeep of his automobile.

A saving of 140,000,000 gallons of gas per month would mean that more than 1,500,000,000 additional gallons could be diverted to military needs during a 12-month period, according to Peed.

Intelligent conservation of motor car fuel, he said, "could go a long way toward dispelling the threat of 'gasless Sundays.'" He pointed out that when the speedometer needle begins to show more than 30 miles an hour the drain on the gasoline tank is greater.

Bell To Toll War Through

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I. (UP)—The fire bell at Charlottetown city hall will ring every morning until a war victory is won. The daily observance was inaugurated following a decision of the city council, and will serve to remind residents the country is at war as well as prompt them to offer a prayer for victory.

Admitting the city's vulnerability to air attack in its present uncamouflaged state, the chamber announced it intends to provide the city with the necessary project for military and industrial concealment.

First step under the program, as outlined by Capt. H. Ledyard Towle, authority on creative design who was active in development of camouflage techniques during the World War, would be to set up a civilian committee on a volunteer basis.

City May Camouflage Mills For Protection

PITTSBURGH, (UP)—Pittsburgh's steel mills and industrial plants, vital to national defense production, soon may be provided with camouflage protection, if a program sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce is carried out.

Admitting the city's vulnerability to air attack in its present uncamouflaged state, the chamber announced it intends to provide the city with the necessary project for military and industrial concealment.

NAVY SPIRITED RECRUITING EVEN EXTENDS TO GIRLS

SEATTLE, Wash. (UP)—The navy recruiting office has interested at least three Seattle girls in a sea-going career.

Evidently misled by first names, the navy extended invitations to Torbjorn Gaupseth, Jerry Elliott and Frances Wright.

All, unfortunately, have a "Miss" prefixed to their names.

SHORTAGE OF POLICE RECOVERERS IN CALIFORNIA

SACRAMENTO, Cal. (UP)—Traffic violators and highway crooks generally might infer mistakenly that the Golden Era is about to dawn for them in California. Owing to the national defense program highway patrolmen are faced with a revolver shortage. No new ones are available—but they warn the old ones will still shoot.
