

Tank Production Faces Stoppage Threatens West Of Moscow

Germans Strike Near Rzhev And Stretch Defense

Russia Reports Nazis Advance Over Masses Of Corpses In Conflict

By The Associated Press
Russian front-line dispatches conceded Friday Adolf Hitler's invasion armies were still advancing "over mountains of German corpses" in the Bryansk sector of the 9-day-old battle for Moscow, and simultaneously the British radio reported a new threat developing almost due west of the U.S.S.R. capital.

The BBC said Nazi troops were striking toward the upper Volga town of Rzhev, 125 miles west of Moscow, thereby stretching the main Soviet defense line into a 270-mile arc through Vyazma and Bryansk to Orel.

In the see-saw fighting around Vyazma, 125 miles southwest of Moscow, the Russians admitted the Germans had scored gains in several sectors, but said picked Red Army troops were now moving up to meet them, reinforcing units which breached the first violent impact of the Nazi onslaught.

Against this suddenly brightening picture of the struggle drawn by the Russians, the German high command asserted that a 310-mile breach on the central front "has been extended further eastward" in the Vyazma and Bryansk sectors.

On the southern (Ukraine) front, Hitler's field headquarters said German troops were closing in on Red forces encircled along the Sea of Azov, in a drive apparently aimed at the Don River city of Postov, gateway to the Caucasian oil fields.

Achieved By Numbers
Red Star, the Soviet army newspaper, said Russian troops recaptured a village around Vyazma and found 4,500 German dead.

Elsewhere in the same region, counter-attacking Soviet troops were reported to have routed a German motorized column, killing 8,000 Nazis and destroying 220 tanks in a five-day battle.

Red Star said the German advances around Bryansk were achieved only through sheer weight of numbers, with the invaders suffering numerous losses.

Red Star said the Germans were throwing immense forces into the new push after being routed earlier in the Bryansk sector, 220 miles southwest of Moscow.

As an example, Red Star said two Nazi tank divisions and two motorized infantry divisions were hurled against a single Red Army unit of undisclosed size, and that three German infantry divisions led by 100 tanks attacked another Soviet unit during a one-day battle.

Moscow More Confident
Other Soviet dispatches, however, asserted that despite the renewed fury of the German onslaught, Hitler's vast encirclement plan before Moscow had collapsed and that at least some of the trapped Red armies had battled their way out of the Nazi nut-cracker.

The atmosphere in Moscow itself, contrasting with Thursday's official acknowledgements of a grave emergency, was distinctly more confident.

The Soviet command was reported to have opened the flood-gates of Russia's mighty manpower reserves, throwing masses of fresh troops into the bitter conflict.

A Red Army bulletin reported also that the Nazi offensive north of Orel, on the south wing of the German drive on Moscow, had been blocked.

Soviet front-line dispatches said at least 15,000 German officers and soldiers had been killed in various "pocket" battles around Vyazma, 125 miles west of Moscow, and Bryansk, 220 miles southwest of the Russian capital.

Hines Files Four Check Complaints

Four new charges of swindling, with worthless checks, filed in County Court by County Attorney Merritt Hines, brought the total in the last two months to 13 and possibly may be a record number of cases for such a period.

Most of the hot check charges were filed after the Midland rodeo.

Humble Folk Join Fight

Can Nazis Defeat Reds Spirit?

By DeWitt MacKenzie

A fresh surge of Nazi attacks Friday has thrust the Russian line back in several points along the bitterly contested front opposite Moscow, but whether this has produced any vital change in the position isn't yet evident from the meager advices at hand.

In the far south, too, the Germans are reported to be forging ahead along the shore of the Sea of Azov toward the gateway to the Caucasus.

The Reds are defending their positions fiercely. Moscow declares that the Nazi gains are being made "over mountains of German corpses." This is gruesome but not surprising, for the German high command always has depended largely on the weight of massed attacks for results, and I myself saw many similar sacrifices of life in the World War.

That battle along the bloody highway to the capital is one of the most amazing conflicts of history. The German soldiers—youths who have been trained to the fine edge of athletes—are flinging themselves into the pit of death with that courage which always has characterized the race. The perfection of the invading war-machine is amazing.

Asserts Reds Crushed
Even more amazing is the fact that it can be stopped. And the manner of its present holding is an epic, for we find civilians now fighting side by side with their soldiers in defense of country and the soil they love.

The Germans assert that the Russian war is virtually over—that the Reds already are crushed. It may be, indeed, that the Muscovites have been so weakened that they are on the verge of collapse. Only time will demonstrate that.

I do not believe, however, that the Reds are beaten. They likely will suffer further reverses. Moscow may fall, and the whole Russian line may be driven back even behind the mighty defenses of the Ural Mountain chain.

But the only thing that can knock them clear out of the war, as this column has emphasized before, is a collapse of morale. It would be difficult to find any signs of weakening morale in a Red fighting front in which civilians—humble folk who know nothing of the art of war and never have been far from the little farms where they were born—are facing death-dealing terrors which are hard even for the professional soldier to face.

Wilke Urges Machine Tool Owners To Join Forces For Defense

Machine tool owners of the Midland area can get defense contract work, but it will require effort on their part to do it, L. A. Wilke, area manager of the Division of Contract Distribution, OFM, told a score of interested parties Thursday afternoon at Hotel Scharbauer.

"I haven't come here to kid you and tell you that this work will be passed out to you," Wilke said. "It will be necessary for you fellows to get together and decide what you can do, and then attempt to sell the government on the idea that you can do this work in the Midland area."

Wilke, whose office is in El Paso, pointed to the billions now being spent on the defense program.

"You must start on this defense program just like you were starting over in business," Wilke said. "There is very little possibility that the plant of any man present can handle a defense project in its present condition. It will be necessary for you to approach it from the standpoint of doing an entirely new job."

Miller Is Adviser
R. L. Miller, area adviser, appointed at the suggestion of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, presided at the meeting. Bill Collins acted as secretary.

"We are here today to find out if possible what we can do in the defense program," Miller said.

Present were machine tool owners from Pecos, Monahans, Odessa, Midland and McCombs.

M. L. Swinehart, manager of the Pecos chamber of commerce, and Jerry Debenport, manager of the Odessa chamber of commerce, were present.

Wilke paid tribute to the efforts of the Pecos group in attempting to get defense work.

"The shops there really have gone ahead in this movement, because it appears they will have to get this defense work to stay in business much longer.

"I don't mean that the government is threatening anyone, but it will be an economic necessity before long. You have heard of priorities, and under this system materials will be harder and harder to get unless you have a defense order."

Miller read from an address by Floyd B. Odium, director of the Division of Contract Distribution, in which Odium said, "there are no idle plants in Germany."

"I think we may take that to mean that there will be no idle plants here," Wilke said.

District Members Plan Christian Church Conclave

Christian Churches of District Four will hold an annual convention in Midland Tuesday with the First Christian Church here as host.

The district is the largest in the state's organization of 17 districts and extends from Sweetwater to Fort Stockton, east and west, and south to San Angelo.

Outstanding guest speaker will be Dr. Ray E. Snodgrass, president of the National Evangelistic Association of Philadelphia and Wichita, Kan. He will preach at 3:35 p. m. Tuesday afternoon.

Other speakers will include: Dr. O. L. Shelton, pastor of the First Christian Church, Wichita Falls, and chairman of the board of stewardship for Christian Churches in America; and the Rev. Homer Naislip, pastor of the First Christian Church of Big Spring. Dr. Shelton will preach at 11:30 a. m. and the Rev. Mr. Naislip at 7 p. m.

Pickering Prepares Program
State and district leaders are scheduled on the program. They include: The Rev. Patrick Henry, secretary of Christian Churches in Texas; Dr. J. B. Holmes, chairman of the permanent fund in Texas; Mrs. Bessie Hart, secretary of women's work in Texas; and Charles M. Ross, director of young people's work in Texas.

Other district leaders on the program besides the Rev. John E. Pickering, Midland pastor, are: The Rev. C. A. Johnson, the Rev. Bedford Smith, Mrs. Dean Chenoweth, San Angelo, and the Rev. Harold Lockwood and James H. Goodman, Midland, president of the convention.

The theme and program of the convention was prepared by the Rev. Mr. Pickering at the state convention last April and a similar program will be presented in all districts of the Christian Church in Texas within the next three weeks.

West Texas Football Fans Arrive For Game

Dyed-in-the-wool football fans from a large Permian Basin area, selecting the Midland - Sweetwater game here at 8 p. m. Friday night to witness a flurry of aerial plays and the state's leading scorer—Marion Flanagan of the Mustangs—came to town Friday.

Sweetwater is bringing a large following, including its pep squad and band.

Midland held a pep rally and bonfire program Thursday night and its band and pep unit will perform at the game.

Coach Earle Clark named Ben Sevier, tackle, acting captain for Midland. Coaches Larry Priddy and Adrian Clark named Sparky Eberle, center, and Flanagan for Sweetwater.

Reserved seat tickets will be on sale at the Midland Drug until 4 p. m. and then will be sold at the stadium.

General admission duets will be sold at the stadium only.

In accordance with a ruling from the Internal Revenue Department at Austin, Midland students will not have to pay a tax. They are admitted free.

Visiting students have to pay admission prices in accordance with the District 3-AA ruling.

Continental Will Test Ellenburger In Jones Wildcat

By Frank Gardner
Oil Editor

Two-inch tubing is being pulled preparatory to deepening to the Ellenburger, lower Ordovician, in Continental Oil Company No. 1 Evan B. Jones et al, Southwestern Crane County deep test.

The well now is bottomed at 6,004 feet in brown lime of the Simpson, middle Ordovician. On last gauge through tubing it swabbed 48 barrels of oil in 12 hours. Oil is coming from lower Simpson sands at 5,730-50 feet and at 5,905-27 feet. No. 1 Jones is located 660 feet out of the north corner of section 12, block 3, H. & T. C. survey, one and one-quarter miles south of Ellenburger producers in the South Sand Hills field and five miles north of the Abell Simpson pool of Northern Pecos County.

In the South Sand Hills field, Gulf Oil Corporation No. 29 W. N. Waddell et al is running 2-inch tubing to test, bottomed at 5,646 feet in Ellenburger dolomite. In the link area between the main Sand Hills pool and its south extension, Gulf et al No. 2-B J. B. Tubbs is drilling past 1,685 feet in anhydrite. A Sand Hills west-edge test, Gulf No. 6-A Tubbs, has reached 3,995 feet in lime.

North Basin
Late Thursday, L. C. Harrison & Tobe Foster No. 1 E. L. Steck, Central Lubbock County wildcat, two miles northeast of Lubbock, was drilling below 2,300 feet in red rock and anhydrite. It occasioned some interest by topping Anhydrite at 1,480 feet, 134 feet higher than the first producer in the county, Harrison et al No. 1 W. G. Naim estate, three and one-quarter miles to the east and slightly to the south.

It is reported a drillstem test is being run in Trinity Drilling Company No. 1 Dan Auld, Western Lynn County wildcat. Total depth is 5,202, two feet past contract. Only slight shows were logged in drilling to 5,202 feet with rotary and the well was abandoned several weeks ago. However, operator later decided to move back rig and test the well, with the possibility that it might be acidized or deepened.

String of casing has been cemented at 5,183 feet with 200 sacks in Honolulu Oil Corporation No. 1-13 L. H. Wright, Eastern Yoakum County wildcat. It now is standing while awaiting installation of cable-tool unit, replacing rotary. Total depth is 5,262 feet in lime which carried oil staining and porosity from 5,190 to bottom.

In Western Terry County, American Drilling Corporation is reported to have set 260 feet of surface

Officers Arrest Ex-Convicts For Miley Murders

FORT WORTH (AP)—Two ex-convicts were held Friday as suspects in the slaying of Marion Miley, 27-year-old nationally known golfer, and her mother at a fashionable Lexington, Ky., country club Sept. 23.

Sheriff Ernest Thompson and Police Chief Austin B. Price of Lexington started for Fort Worth after receiving a telephoned description of the men last night.

Detective Capt. A. E. Dowell of Fort Worth said Thompson told him "they're the men we're looking for."

At Lexington Thompson declined to discuss the arrest.

The men who gave their ages as 32 and 43 signed waivers of extradition.

They were arrested Wednesday night by Detectives Theoren Brooks and N. E. Smith whose suspicions were aroused by a Kentucky license on their car. Police identified the license number as that of an automobile reported stolen by a Louisville night club operator.

Oil Firms Move 4000 Tank Cars

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Interior Ickes, the Defense Petroleum Coordinator, reported Friday that oil companies in the week ended October 4 moved 4,099 rail tank cars of oil into the East coal area, complying with his request that the industry "enlist every possible method of transportation" to get oil to the Atlantic Seaboard.

Movement of rail tankers into the East was at a rate of 585 a day.

In some instances, Ickes said, the oil was shipped direct on the long haul by railroad from producing areas to the East. However, a large part of the oil traveled part of the way from the producing field by pipeline or barge to terminals where it then was picked up and moved the remainder of the way by tank car.

Jurisdictional Union Dispute Threatens Work

Transmission Plant At Toledo May Shut Off Operations Soon

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON.—War Department officials said Friday that the bulk of the Army's tank production was threatened with immediate stoppage by a jurisdictional dispute involving the Spicer Manufacturing Company at Toledo, Ohio, and its subsidiary, the Hillsdale (Mich.) Steel Products Company.

AFL and CIO unions are involved in the controversy.

The main stoppage at Hillsdale Steel Products Company, a subsidiary of the Spicer Manufacturing Company at Toledo, Ohio, where department officials said there was also a CIO boycott resulting from the Hillsdale dispute. The Spicer Company makes about 70 per cent of the transmissions for all the army's tanks and also for most of the half-tractor and "jeep" combat vehicles.

The Toledo concern reported that unless there was a settlement it would have to halt work Friday night on transmissions for the military vehicles and that materials were on hand for about a week's further manufacture of parts for the tanks.

Officials Request Closing
Spicer employs about 2,200 workers.

The Toledo plant was said to be involved in the dispute only indirectly. It has a contract with the CIO Automobile Workers Union.

The Hillsdale Company, however, has a contract with the rival AFL Automobile Workers Union, which recently won a Labor Relations Board election there.

Despite the AFL victory, the dispute between the rival unions continued at Hillsdale, and rioting this week resulted in temporary closing of the plant at the request of local officials.

FSA Announces Loan To Finance Youth Projects

Farm boys and girls in Midland County whose parents are cooperating with the Farm Security Administration may obtain loans to finance 4-H Club and vocational agriculture projects, Oscar M. Fowler, FSA rehabilitation supervisor, said Friday.

Projects which may be financed include baby beaves, dairy heifers, small ewe flocks, bred gilts and so forth.

"These projects," Fowler said, "are to be conducted under rules of 4-H and vocational programs, under the direct supervision of county agents and vocational teachers, in cooperation with FSA supervisors."

In a letter to Fowler, outlining the objectives of such loans, Raymond O'Hara, farm management specialist of the FSA, said: "These programs give young America its opportunity to contribute its share toward increased food supplies for the nation's National Defense effort."

"Although we enjoy looking at the prize-winning calves and other livestock the boys and girls produce," O'Hara wrote, "let us not forget we are primarily interested in the boys and girls and their development."

Club Work Benefits
The Farm Security Administration's participation in these projects, it was learned, is designed to make it possible for all children in FSA families to obtain educational and vocational training opportunities available in public school systems and community affairs.

I. O. Sturkie, county agent, said: "I see in this plan an opportunity for youngsters, who otherwise would not be able to participate in club work, to carry out successful projects and to receive the advantages of club work."

"The FSA's leading program for boys and girls," said H. M. Howell, vocational agriculture teacher in Midland High School, "is not only an opportunity for more youngsters to participate in vocational training, but it is also a method of providing adequate financing so they can carry out their projects with the maximum efficiency. Moreover, this plan will enable boys and girls to acquire splendid experience in business and financing."

Keep Social Security Secure

The Social Security Act is capable of being one of the most far-reaching social measures of our time. Since it is just what it calls itself, a measure to provide security for the people, it should be carefully restricted to that. The President's proposal to extend Social Security coverage to another 40,000,000 people in addition to the 40,000,000 now covered, will require the most careful study. In admitting that one of the reasons for the proposal is to provide money for financing the defense effort and to restrict inflationary tendencies, the President calls attention to a vital point.

The original Social Security Act was one of the most complicated measures ever enacted by the Congress. The precaution had been taken of making a most thorough study of all European systems of social insurance, and of consulting all the best American experts with actuarial and relevant experience. The act was most carefully drawn in an effort to incorporate the best features of known and proved legislation of the kind all over the world. It is intended to be a permanent feature of the American order, not a makeshift effort to meet an emergency.

Since that is true, it ought to be amended only in the same way. There were valid and excellent reasons for excluding from the act those now outside its provisions. It has always been contemplated that the coverage should be extended, but it ought to be extended only in such directions and to such an extent as experience has proved workable.

Money paid in under the payroll taxes for Social Security coverage is, it should be recalled, not kept in a fund, but spent by the government, which is then under general obligation to pay it when due. The temptation to get revenue at will by such means, without due regard to the future obligations involved, is great, especially at a time like this.

The experts who helped write this legislation in the first place ought to be recalled and consulted as to its extension, so that it may be built solidly, not for the emergency but for the future.

Let's pay for defense as defense, and for social security as social security. Any other course may lead to disastrous confusions now and later.

What, No Sables?

We're running headlong right into the real privations of a defense economy, all right.

Comes from New York furriers the desolating word that there are no $65,000 Russian sable coats to be had this year. It seems that the Russians are busy trying to trap somewhat bigger game than sables. Ermine and chinchilla are going to be equally rare, the furriers report.

Americans are carefully conserving their health only to throw their lives away on the streets.

That is a trend pointed out by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., which shows reduced mortality among its policy-holders in major cities, indicating excellent health conditions. Among industrial policy-holders, the death rate for eight months of 1941 was 1.4 per cent lower than last year, and deaths from tuberculosis actually dropped to the lowest point on record.

But, in the meantime, while these people were thus carefully guarding themselves against sickness, the death rate from auto accidents was climbing 16 per cent. The bitter foolishness of such a situation needs no comment except that every man who touches the wheel of an auto or walks across a street has the power to remedy it.

Highlights From the Week's Oil News

Completions reported last week were 23 above those of the previous week and only 3 below the year's high reported during the week ended August 28. Compared with last week, oil wells were up 4, gas wells up 27 to 85, a record, and dry holes down 3. Compared with the peak week, oil wells were down 3, gas wells up 24 and dry holes down 24.

The outstanding news of the week comes from California, where four wildcats are testing, three in the Jewell district of northern Los Angeles County and the fourth in the San Joaquin Valley. More closely watched than these potential pool openers, however, is a test of the retaceous in a well drilled on the extreme east end of the Kettleman Hills field. If this well produces, it will open not only the large structure to production but it will also lower the potential producing section in California.

Other areas show the normal extensions and scattered discoveries but two developments are worthy of special attention. These are the finding of oil on the flanks of another large Southwest Texas structure, combined with extensions in the pay zone at Stratton, and the increasing interest in the Wilcox trend play centering on Montgomery County's deep wells.

A feature of recent developments is the more widespread search for gas with completions increasing in all sectors.

KANSAS: Standard's Kearny County discovery is being followed up by tests in Edwards County, Kansas, and Kiowa County, Colorado. The latter well is 2 miles from the state line and 26 miles from the Patterson Kearny County well. Zenith is extended to the north. Other sands extended are Gorham at Hall-Gurney and the Arbuckle in Marchand and Walters.

ARKANSAS: A sulfur content even higher than that of McKamie is reported for the discovery west of that field. Recompletion of the well has resulted in higher recovery.

NORTH TEXAS: A Gadsden lime pool has been opened in eastern Young County. The pool opener near Bowie in Montague County gaged at the rate of 2,000 bbl. from the conglomerate.

WEST CENTRAL TEXAS: A Strawn sand pool has been opened linking between Novice and Goldsboro in Jones County. A new gas area has been opened near Brownwood.

TEXAS GULF COAST: As the discovery well at North La Ward, Jackson County, was put on production a test 1 1/4 miles to the southwest showed oil some 12 feet higher. The Wilcox play in Montgomery County continues to attract attention although in Polk County, Gulf's deep Segno test is proving a disappointment.

WEST TEXAS: Small wells extend the Todd Strawn lime pool in Crockett County 3 1/2 miles west and 1 mile northwest. A wildcat in Lynn County is showing below 5,100 feet.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN AREA: Old fields continue to hold the spotlight as good completions are recorded in the Sundance at Salt Creek, on the east side of Kevin-Sunburst and on the south part of Cut Bank.

CALIFORNIA: Five important wells are now being tested including a Cretaceous test on the east end of Kettleman Hills. If successful, this test will open up the whole structure to deeper drilling. The coastal district had three wells in possible pay, a Modelo well in the Newhall district, and wildcats in Turnbull Canyon and the Puente district, all in Los Angeles County. In the San Joaquin Valley the Temblor is being tested in the Jacaltes district of Fresno County in a well which was bottomed in the Cretaceous.

OKLAHOMA: The McLaughlin sand has proved productive at Cumberland. This sand was the original objective of the discovery well but was dry, the production hitherto all coming from the Bromide. Hutulke and West Hutulke appear to be a single pool following completion of a Wilcox sand link. A new pool is in prospect in the Wilcox in Payne County and a fifth pay, the Viola, is claimed for West Hewitt. A Stephens County wildcat is showing oil just above the 5,000-ft. level.

SOUTHWEST TEXAS: The large La Gloria gas-distillate structure is apparently proved for oil production on two sides, the west side showing was found at 6,670 ft. and that on the east side about 500 ft. deeper. Gas distillate is now produced from four sands above 7,000 ft. with others showing below that depth. The newly opened oil area on the northwest flank of Stratton has been extended 1/2 mile. Shallow production has been found in Live Oak County near the Ezzell field. The promised play on the Palo Blanco structure has cooled off as the promising test showed salt water.

MICHIGAN: Reed City is extended

Prospects Worse In France With Winter Nearing

By Ralph Heinzen
United Press Staff Correspondent
VICHY (UP)—In a land of plenty and with a bumper crop, 40,000,000 Frenchmen are hungry today. The prospects for this winter are even worse than last winter. German requisitions of French food production for the rest of hungry Europe are so great that France will have to go hungry so hundreds of millions of other Europeans can eat.

France's wheat harvest was almost normal, 260,000,000 bushels. The potato harvest was better than average, about 300,000,000 bushels. The beet sugar harvest will be 90 per cent of normal when it is harvested. The olive oil production will be normal, and that means plenty for every Frenchman who likes his salads floating in oil and his fried potatoes well browned.

For the average Frenchman today, however, there is a per capita distribution of one kilo—2 pounds—of potatoes a month. He also gets one pound of "fats," including animal and vegetable fats, olive oil, butter and margarine. He draws as his monthly ration one pound of sugar, although the national production, if ever apportioned, would give him five pounds a month. He gets one-half pound of bread a day, despite a national production of wheat which would allow his normal average of 1 1/2 pounds daily.

The rest is France's contribution to the European new order. Meat reduction heavy. By direct and indirect requisitions, Germany continues to draw out of France to feed less happy parts of Europe more than half of France's farm production. This German drain now costs France 14,000 head of cattle every month. At the same time, the practical consequence has been a reduction of meat rations in France from 270 grams per capita per week to about 70 grams once a week.

French wheat is being poured into Spain, Belgium and Holland, where there is a near-famine in bread. French olive oil is being sent into Italy, from French Provence and from Tunisia, to make up for a great shortage of fats in the Italian food rations. French wine stocks are virtually depleted, a month before the new harvest, chiefly as the consequence of German requisitions of 1,800,000,000 quarts of red and white wines for distillation in Germany to produce an alcohol substitute for gasoline as a fuel for tanks and motor transport. The French grape alcohol is mixed with synthetic gasoline in a proportion of 60-40, and makes a powerful motor fuel.

Gives Steer To Zoological Park

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Texas Longhorn Steer with a horn spread of 8 feet and 1 inch was a denizen of National Zoological Park Friday.

The steer, named Gateado, was presented to the zoo Thursday by the Texas Club of Washington and was contributed by Tom East, Hebbronville rancher. Thirty members of the Texas A&M football team, en route to New York to play New York University next Saturday, were interested spectators as Dr. William Mann, zoo director, officially accepted the steer.

The animal was described by Judge Joe Mantague of Fort Worth, attorney for the Texas Cattle Raisers Association, as unsurpassed in boldness and courage. He urged members of the Texas congressional delegation to look upon Gateado if they found themselves in need of those qualities.

Among those who attended the ceremony were Dr. J. Frank Doble of the University of Texas; Tom Lea of El Paso, Charles Guy, Lubbock editor, and Mrs. Guy.

OHIO: One of the most successful weeks in the state's gas play added nearly 30,000,000 cu. ft. to its potential.

NEBRASKA: The fourth pool in the area is indicated by showings in the lower Hunton in a test north of Falls City.

ILLINOIS: After a month of attempted completion, Clinton County's Devonian test turned out to be a gas well. A wildcat in Franklin County, which has run consistently high, is dry through the McClosky. Mill Shoals is extended into Hamilton County.

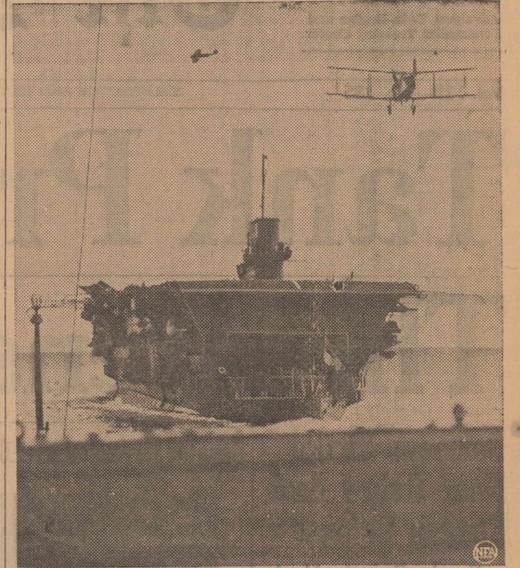

INDIANA: The second well on the Hazleton structure is a McClosky producer and proves a relatively large structure.

LOUISIANA GULF COAST: The old Napoleonville shallow salt dome is showing oil in a flank test around 3,500 ft. Two new wells are promised at Bayou Sale, while a fourth producing one has been opened at Schooner Bayou.

What, Again?

Just as Mussolini's propagandists were claiming serious damage to the Ark Royal in a Mediterranean battle, this new picture, taken from a destroyer and showing the famous ship riding the waves of Mare Nostrum, arrived in America. The British aircraft carrier is the war's most sunk ship.

Plans Convention

The Rev. John E. Pickering, pastor of the First Christian Church, has arranged the program for the district convention of Christian Churches in Midland Tuesday.

Information Wanted On Available Lots

J. P. Butler, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce housing committee, Friday asked Midland citizens who have lots for sale to write him, submitting complete legal descriptions of the lots.

Letters concerning the lots, he said, should state the price asked and whether the street in front of the property is paved and if the paving is paid.

Only lots in locations eligible for FHA loans should be submitted. Butler requested that all information be put in letters and mailed to him.

Intelligent Performance combined with unquestioned integrity, has helped us to prove to the community that we are worthy of trust.

A dessert course was served in mid-afternoon.

Present were: Mmes. Burt Atkinson, H. W. Deax, E. S. Hitchcock, Jorgensen, McFarland, Jerry Phillips, J. C. Williamson, and the hostess.

Next meeting of the group will be with Mrs. H. T. Newsom, 507 N. Pecons.

How To Relieve Bronchitis

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Young People To Meet Jointly

Looking for a permanent organization to be expanded later when the soldiers arrive, Methodist and Presbyterian young people will hold a joint meeting at the Presbyterian Church, Sunday afternoon.

The group will gather about 5 o'clock for games and a fellowship period, to be followed by a supper served at 5:30 o'clock by the Presbyterian girls.

The group will then enter a combined program, with the Presbyterian young people, headed by Lynn Stephens, in charge. The program will be based on the report of the Interdenominational Youth conference held at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, last summer.

The meeting will be dismissed in time for those present to attend either the Methodist or Presbyterian evening church service.

All Presbyterian and Methodist young people are urged to attend the meeting.

Next session of the group will be with the Methodist young people on the second Sunday of next month.

Demonstration, Talk And Book Review Given at Club

A three-part program was presented at the all-day meeting of the Greasewood Home Demonstration Club with Mrs. J. C. Franklin, Wednesday.

In the morning session, Miss Alpha Lynn, county home demonstration agent, talked on yard improvement, giving as one principle that ground should be sloped so that water would run toward trees and shrubbery.

John W. White of A&M presented a demonstration on rat extermination in the afternoon session. He used one part of Red Squill to 12 parts hamburger meat, rolled into balls and hidden from the rats. He also used the poison on vegetables.

Mrs. J. M. White of Midland concluded the program with a review on the Book of Job.

Luncheon was served at noon to Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Sturkie, Mrs. J. M. White, Mrs. D. W. McDonald, Mrs. Cecil Young, Mrs. Gus Peters, Mrs. Warren Skaggs, Miss Lynn, Mrs. Arthur Judkins, Mrs. J. F. Garber, Mrs. T. O. Midkiff, C. Kinsey, Mr. White, and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin.

RAUBS MILLS, Pa. (AP) — A quick-thinking housewife blushing received all credit Friday for averting a freight train wreck.

Two telephone poles were blown across the Pennsylvania railroad tracks near Mrs. Foster Heinbach's home. Knowing a train was due to pass, she dashed up the tracks, and flagged the freight.

Her signal cloth was—yep, red flannel.

Christ Our Defender, Friend And Saviour Was Meek And Lowly

By R. A. Weaver

Matt. 20:25 But Jesus called them unto him and said, Ye know that the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them.

26 Not so shall it be among you; but whosoever would be come great among you shall be your minister;

27 and whosoever would be first among you shall be your servant:

28 even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.

Jesus alone practiced fully the doctrine that He taught, and met the requirements of His ideals. The Son of man, Lord of heaven and earth, came to earth not to receive recognition and honor. He "came not to be ministered unto, but to minister." He performed the fullest ministry and rendered the most mental service to His disciples. Almost at the close of His ministry He girded Himself with a towel and washed His disciples' feet. "If I, then, the lord and teacher, have washed your feet, ye also ought to wash one another's feet. For I have given you an example that ye also should do as I have done to you."

The Beauty of Humility

Every Christian agrees in principle with the virtues manifested by Jesus, but the willingness to demonstrate these virtues in one's own life and action is the great need in the world today. To delegate the menial and servile tasks of charity to paid agencies is to lose the joy and power that comes only through the personal touch. Charity is greatly over-organized, and to toss a coin to a homeless and friendless vagabond is giving only in the coin of the realm and not of one's self which is the only thing that counts. We preach brotherhood, friendliness, love, but hesitate to soil our hands with the task that may be the only way in which we may brighten the corner where we are. The helping hand is one that makes contact. This service cannot be transmuted into bills, notes or gold. That is the great lesson Jesus tried to teach His disciples.

Pride Goes Before a Fall

The following story is about a wise and devout man called St. Philip Neri. Among the ruins in a convent not far from Rome, one had appeared, who laid claim to certain rare gifts of inspiration and prophecy, and the abbess advised the Holy Father, at Rome, of the wonderful powers shown by her novice. The Pope did not well know what to make of these new claims, and Philip, coming in from a journey one day, he consulted him. Philip undertook to visit the nun, and ascertain her character. He threw himself on his mule, all travel-soiled as he was, and hastened through the mud and mire to the distant convent. He told the abbess the wishes of his Holiness, and begged her to summon the nun without delay. The nun was sent for, and, as soon as she came into the apartment, Philip stretched out his leg all bespattered with mud, and desired her to draw off his boots. The young nun, who had become the object of much attention and respect, drew back with anger, and refused the office. Philip ran out of doors, mounted his mule, and returned instantly to the Pope: "Give yourself no uneasiness, Holy Father, any longer; here is no miracle, for here is no humility."

Where to Find the Seers

If you seek the servants of God in order to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, you need not seek those who claim they have talked direct to God, and offer to sell you a course of self-development at so much per lesson; If someone claims to have discovered the secrets of the Masters of long ago, and desires that you join this movement of that organization at a fixed fee, you will save time and money by listening to the Truth as revealed by those who are meek and lowly at heart, and they never make a racket out of religion. Meekness and humility are virtues that anyone may acquire and practice. It does not require an education, a noble ancestry, fame, fortune or position. It does require the power of will, and the desire to emulate the example of our Lord and Master, without which no one ever ascends high in the holy order where everyone is a king and priest unto God.

Practice Makes Perfect

The real joys of our holy religion come only through personal application of those things which Christ revealed in the beauty of His lowly holiness. The church may seem dead to you; the sermons may sound dry and uninteresting; the hymns of Zion may sound lifeless—but if, as you walk the pathway of life, you keep an eye open for the man who has fallen among thieves, and if you will lift him from the earth soiled with the blood of his wounds, and take him to the place of succor—if you become interested in the dire needs of the hopeless and fallen, and are willing to forget pride, forget caste, forget race, forget place and position—if you can force your weary eyes to discern the footsteps of your Lord and follow them o'er fen and moor, never looking back—you then can find the Truth in the sermons, the Presence at the altar, and the songs of Zion will lift you above the world. But without meekness and humility Christianity is a mere creed, a dead letter and a lifeless formality.

Next Thursday the club will meet with Mrs. Wyatt.

Halloween Motif Features Party For Bridge Club

The Halloween motif was featured in appointments for the afternoon bridge with which Mrs. Tom Sealy feted the Wednesday Bridge Club at her home, 410 South L Street.

Tallies and score pads for the four tables of bridge played were in the holiday theme and the same note was reflected in the party plate.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By William E. McKenney
America's Card Authority

On the way back to New York from Asheville, we stopped off at Philadelphia long enough to say hello to Benjamin M. Golder, ex-congressman from that district, and learned that he had just returned from the northern New York tournament held at Oswego.

Mrs. Golder is nationally known as an outstanding woman life master. "Ben" has taken an interest in tournament bridge only in the last few years, but already rated a master.

At Oswego he played with Mrs. R. C. Young of Philadelphia, Mrs. L. C. Robinson and Dr. W. McD. Halsey of Oswego, a team made up at the last minute, and they crashed through for the team-of-four championship.

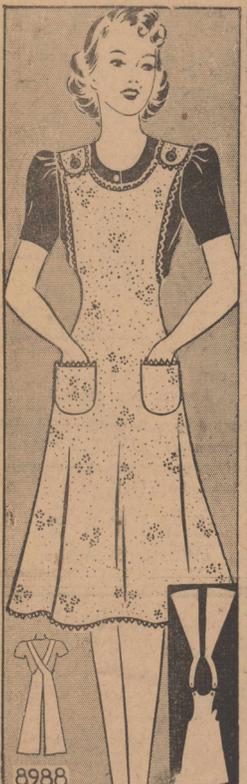

You can always count on Ben's bidding. It is as firm as the Rock of Gibraltar. His partner never has to worry that he hasn't his values, and that is how they successfully reached a slam contract on today's hand. Mrs. Young played it in fine style to make the contract.

On the opening lead, the ace of spades won the queen. West guessed correctly that the lead was not a singleton, so he shifted to the ten of clubs. Mrs. Young (North) played low and won in dummy with the ace.

The ace and king of hearts took out the adverse trumps. Then followed the king of spades and a low spade ruff, on the chance of dropping the jack.

When East showed out, Mrs. Young inferred that East was long in diamonds and probably held the king of clubs. She therefore let out all her trumps and, sure enough, East was squeezed in the minor suits. He finally had to let go the king of clubs to save all four diamonds.

Kitchen Joy

You'll find an apron like this a joy for housework of every kind—especially in the kitchen where you like to have your dress fully protected. And it is so easy to make—as you can see by the diagram.

The straps button firmly at the shoulders and stay in place always without slipping and sliding. This is a pattern you'll make again and again in pretty cotton prints, gingham, calico, percale, chambray or broadcloth. Trim it with ric-rac or bias braid.

Pattern No. 8988 is in sizes 34 to 48. Size 36 requires 2 7/8 yards 32-inch material, 8 yards ric-rac or bias binding.

For this attractive pattern, send 15 in coin, your name, address, pattern number and size to The Reporter-Telegram Today's Pattern Service, 211 W Wacker Drive, Chicago.

Aprons, house dresses, day dresses and evening dresses are all presented in sizes 12 to 52 in the fall issue of Fashion Book. Send for your copy today.

Germans Kill 74th Person As Reprisal

PARIS, German-Occupied France (AP)—German authorities announced Friday the 74th person had been shot as a reprisal for attacks against the German occupying force.

The announcement said Gaston Pinot, of Courmelles, in Aisne department, was shot Friday. He was condemned to death last Tuesday for illegal possessions of firearms.

It was said also that 15 militant Communists had been interned at Amiens on orders of the prefect of Somme department. This raised to 45 the number of Communists sent to concentration camps in that department in the last several days.

Committee To Study Industries Problem

AUSTIN (AP)—What to do in behalf of small industries that have lost skilled workers to larger plants holding defense contracts is a problem a special House committee will tackle here Monday.

Announcing the meeting, Chairman DeWitt Kinard of Port Arthur asserted small plants should be given an opportunity to continue production for defense needs. Many of them have equipment and machinery but not sufficient trained workers, Kinard added.

Odessa To Have Roping Matches

ODESSA (Special)—Outstanding ropers of West Texas and New Mexico will compete in week-end roping matches and exhibitions here starting at 2 p. m. Sunday afternoon in a program sponsored by the Odessa Roping Club.

Headline events will be a jackpot roping, a calf-bellling contest, and a ladies flag race.

John Holleyman, Crane, will rope against Ted Powers, Coleman. Theirs is a 10-calf contest. E. P. Driver, Big Spring, and Bill Bomar,

Gayda Blames U. S. For Panama Shakeup

ROME (AP)—The authoritative Fascist editor Virgino Gayda Friday accused the United States of responsibility for Thursday's coup d'etat in Panama.

Writing in his newspaper Il Giornale D'Italia, he said the coup was intended to set up a new regime subservient to Washington's orders and "intrigues."

Clovis, N. M., are scheduled in a six-calf event. George Teague, Crane and Vaughn Harris, Odessa, will rope in an eight-calf contest. Buck Jackson of Pecos will announce results.

Shows Hung Jury Picture In Court; Jurors Deadlocked

City Judge C. C. Keith got a picture in the mail Thursday and waited until he got to the district clerk's office to open it. The timing was perfect.

Keith showed the picture to District Judge Cecil C. Collings, District Attorney Martelle McDonald, Clerk Nette C. Romer, and Sheriff Ed Darrell.

The picture was "The Hung Jury," McDonald said, "There's one right in the next room."

"Maybe we should show the jury that picture," Judge Collings suggested.

Housewife's Dollar Continues To Shrink

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas housewife's food dollar continued to shrink during September.

The State Bureau of Labor statistics reported a survey of retail prices on 82 items in 10 cities showed an overall increase of 3.4 per cent last month.

Some prices, including those of cereals, beef, veal, canned fruits and vegetables and dried fruits and vegetables were down but the reduction was more than offset by increases on bakery products, pork, lamb, chickens, dairy products, eggs, fats and oils and sugar and sweets.

Baptist Church Revival To Continue Next Week

A revival at the First Baptist Church will continue through next week.

Dr. J. Dean Crain, Greenville, S. C., is the evangelist.

DISTRICT AGENT VISITS COUNTY AGENT STURKIE

J. D. Prewitt, district agricultural agent, visited I. O. Sturkie, Midland County agent, Thursday. Prewitt conferred with Sturkie regarding routine affairs of his office.

Since April statewide prices, based on 82 commodities, have increased 8.4 per cent.

Ask War Branch's Assignment Davies To Midland School

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Orders requesting assignment of commanding officers to five new schools soon to be opened have been forwarded to the War Department Thursday by the Gulf Coast Training Center here.

Under the requested assignments, officers who have held key positions at Kelly Field here will command five of the new fields. Lieut. Col. Irish Davies, assistant commandant at Kelly Field, will go to Midland to command the new bombardment field now under construction there; Lieut. Col. Albert B. Pitts, director of the ground school at Kelly Field, will become commander of the new basic flying school at Enid, Okla.; Lieut. Col. Donald D. Stitt will go from Kelly Field to Sherman to command the basic flying school; Lieut. Col. Albert C. Foull will command the new advanced flying school at Mission, and Lieut. Col. Carlton F. Bond will command the pursuit school at Lake Charles, La.

The advanced flying school at Lubbock will be commanded by Lieut. Col. Thomas L. Gilbert, who is now stationed at Ellington Field, Houston.

Texas Rates Favorite Over Sooners, Tulane Should Beat Rice, And TCU And Aggies Are Given Edge In Games

Zup's Zipper

Myron Pfeifer

Myron Pfeifer, hard-hitting full-back, is one reason why Illinois men are conceding, nothing to Minnesota in battle in Minneapolis, Oct. 11. Bob Zuppke is noted for bringing teams to great heights for big games.

By Herb Barker

NEW YORK (AP)—Climbing out on the football limb and waiting patiently for the drop that's sure to come:

Rice-Tulane: No weakness in this Tulane machine that anyone has discovered so far. Maybe Rice's Owls will come up with the answer but this corner, for one, will have to be shown. Tulane. Texas-Oklahoma: Dana Bible's Texans boast a good line, a flock of talented backs headed by Pete Layden and Jack Crain, and plenty of scoring punch. Oklahoma's played only one game and remains a question mark. Maybe it'll be an exclamation point after Saturday. Until then, Texas. Georgia Tech-Notre Dame: Tech scored the ears of Notre Dame in the 26-20 business a year ago. This may be another scare but there appears to be too much depth in this Notre Dame squad for the Engineers in the long run. Notre Dame.

North Carolina-Fordham: Fordham: Fordham nearly got its ears pinned back by SMU a week ago. Maybe that experience will do the highly-touted Rams some good. They rate a pronounced nod over North Carolina in any case. New York University-Texas A. and M.: No real line on the Texans yet but this ballot is cast for them.

Indiana-Texas Christian: Indiana-Texas Christian: Indiana's won one of the same variety. All of which means precisely nothing. Out of the hat, Texas Christian. Nebraska-Kansas: The Huskers may have real trouble here. Still, Nebraska. Missouri-Kansas State: Taking Baylor-Arkansas: Guessing again. Baylor. Oregon State-Stanford: These games in the north are a football guesser's nightmare. State was good enough to whip Washington a week ago and should give Stanford a battle. Hesitatingly, Stanford.

Minnesota-Illinois: Obviously Illinois is improved but this doesn't look like the spot for a Gopher beating Minnesota. Georgia-Mississippi: Would prefer to dodge this one. This is a pivotal test for Georgia, for if the Bulldogs get past Ole Miss they may wind up unbeaten. Ole Miss has Hapes and Hovious; Georgia has Frankie Sinkwich. Boy, the coin. On the spin, Georgia.

Yale-Penn: The season probably will see no more spirited rally than Yale's 21-point second half drive to beat Virginia. But Penn seems to have unlimited punch. We'll take Penn. Navy-LaFayette: Shouldn't be more than a good workout for Navy. Maryland-Duke: Ditto for Duke. Boston College-Clemson: Looks like a real dog-fight and the guess here is Boston College. Michigan-Pitt: The Panthers may make it close, but even that is subject to doubt. Michigan. Northwestern-Wisconsin: The Badgers will have to do better than they did against Marquette to even stay in this ball game. Northwestern.

Michigan State-Marquette: On

Mustangs To Charge Against Lightweights

Midland high school gridsters will try to put a Bulldog grip on the rollicking Sweetwater Mustangs at 8 p.m. Friday night on Lackey Field and ride the untamed broncs to a District 3-AA victory.

But the pesky Mustangs are the wildest herd from Sweetwater in several years and dopesters say they cannot be ridden.

Snorter Worries Off Weight With Big Game On Deck

By Charles Chamberlain

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Eccentric Dewey Luster, the Oklahoma Sooners' new football coach who answers to the awful nickname of Snorter, is the littlest, biggest worrier in America.

He's worried away five pounds over his game with mighty Texas at Dallas Saturday and at that rate will be dried up and blown away before the season ends.

Snorter has only 136 pounds to start with, packed solidly in a 5 foot 6 inch frame. He is the smallest head coach ever seen in these parts. This mild-appearing, bespectacled little fellow has a elbow bag along behind him on the practice field with a thermos of coffee, Snorter sipping a cup when he feels an idea for a new play coming on.

He's a deacon at the Norman St. John's Episcopal Church, abhors swearing and passed a rule against it. But a week damn rumbled up one day when a freshman ball carrier out-maneuvered a varsity man. Snorter sprinted around the track for punishment.

That Snorter handle was attached in 1916 when he was a freshman griddier for Oklahoma. He came weeping up the field with the ball, sounding all the world like a locomotive.

He has been coaching 19 years, six of which were spent as line and backfield coach at Oklahoma. He holds both B. A. and LL.B. degrees at the Sooner school.

Sweetwater brings a veteran and star-studded squad. It is three times winner in pre-conference games by top-heavy scores. Pacing the prancing Ponies are Marion Flanagan, state's leading scorer, and Sparky Eberle, 207-pound all-district-bound center. Sweetwater springs its offensive trickery from the "T" and box formations with a Notre Dame shift.

The Bulldogs are underdogs. They will be minus two backfield acres in Charlie Kelly, who is sick, and Docie Foster who quit football. Once again Earle Clark's young and lightweight team will gamble on its only weapon—passing. And that offensive has been potent in three games thus far this year.

The battle will be Sweetwater's first conference tilt. The Mustangs were picked by every sports writer and rival coach in 3-A-11 to win the title this year. Midland is smarting from a 6-13 conference loss to San Angelo and although battling against terrific odds, will be in there throwing passes.

Clark Changed Line-Up With Foster and Kelly out it will be up to Bob Wheeler, the passer and power runner; Ivan Hall, the great little speedster; Keith Graham, fast blocker. Charging in front to clear the way will be Jack Noyes, the quarterbacking center; Pete Lee and J. W. Lettwich, guards; Ben Sevier and Gene Estes, tackles; and Buddy Davidson and Jimmy Watson, ends.

Clark shifted three linesmen to the backfield to get blocking power: Marshall Whitman, Wilford Lester, and John Guy McMillan are the converted backs. Lester, a defensive power, is expected to stop most of Sweetwater ground drives. Sweetwater was upset by the Bulldogs last season and is determined to win. Midland has one answer to that—"watch our passes."

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton Jr.

NEW YORK (The Special News Service)—You can't keep up with the sports seasons. Here we thought football was just warming up and we find Ned Irish working overtime on his basketball bookings.

Ned hasn't announced his first college show at the Garden yet (it will be Dec. 12), but he has so many applications for season tickets he doesn't know how he will manage to hold out enough choice seats for the colleges.

What's this we hear about Duke's intent to quit football? Story is the Duke's can't compete with Pitt at the gate and Pitt won't compete with Duquesne on the field. Phil Rizzuto has promised to be one of the umpires when Fort Niagara, baseball champion of the Second Army Corps Area, plays Fort Adams, First Corps Area camp, at Brooklyn's park Saturday.

Take A Chance Dept. Playing safe on this week's football selections, we'll continue to string along with Minnesota and Stanford although they may have tough going against Illinois and Oregon State. In fact, if this is the time Bob Zuppke wants to win just to show up the guys who were trying to get him fired, we wouldn't be a bit surprised to see Illinois upset the Gophers. Other picks are Boston College over Clemson—because it isn't as hot in Boston as it was at New Orleans and because our Clemson scout admits: "I don't think we're as good as Tulane." Colgate over Dartmouth—because we don't think Andy Kerr has showed his hand yet, although reports from New England say Dartmouth has a real good team. Notre Dame over Georgia Tech and Fordham over North Carolina—because we think they're a lot better. For Friday night, Temple to beat Georgetown, which fooled us twice, and Mississippi to beat Georgia—because Frankie Sinkwich won't be at his best with a broken jaw.

is, the only place where good triumphs over evil is in the rassling ring.

One Minute Sports Page Latest addition to the "bow" games is the Carolinas bowl, which will send 22 North Carolina players against 22 from South Carolina for the Greenville (S. C.) Lions Club charity fund, Dec. 6. The assumption is the governors will be there to make their famous remarks.

Sam Taub, the fight broadcaster, will turn actor Oct. 15 on the "Meet Mr. Meek" program. He has been cast as a fight announcer. South Dakota is due to get a look at several baseball bigwigs during the next week or two while the baseballers look over shotgun barrels at some of that state's ten million pheasants. Len Will, who almost played fullback for Columbia last season, and Dave Alderdice, Princeton's 1940 passing ace, will listen to the Lions-Tigers game Saturday down at Chickasha, Okla., where the air corps sent them both.

Morgan Confident Tough Red Raiders Will Coast To Win

LUBBOCK (AP)—Coach Dell Morgan had his Texas Tech boys out on the Coast Friday for a game with Loyola.

Los Angeles football fans can get a shock by asking him how it will come out. Here's what he told Sports Writer Collier Parris before leaving Lubbock:

"Well, I think all the scout dope I have received on Loyola is wrong, so I guess the best for us to do is just run around for points until we get tired."

The 221-pound Morgan—they call him Delicate Dell because of his fondness for cream pies—is that happy combination of coach and optimist.

No moaning for Dell; no stuff about "they're likely to slaughter us. Our team is shot with injuries."

He's a Pollyanna of the Texas Plains.

No First String Before the game with Oklahoma A&M last week, Dell told Bus Ham, Oklahoma City sports writer: "I guess we ought to thump them at least two touchdowns." Tech won 18-6.

Frank Tolbert, Fort Worth sports writer, asked Morgan about his first-string lineup. Said Morgan: "There isn't any first-string. I've got 53 boys and the players who come on the field with their teeth grinding and their sleeves rolled up are the boys I start. If all come out that way, I play them all."

Here's a typical Morgan pep talk: "Well, you guys have to play a ball game. I hope we're still speaking to each other after the game."

Harmon To Play With New York Pro Eleven

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—All-America Tom Harmon is going to take one more crack at the game that lifted him to fame.

The former University of Michigan halfback, who turned down pro gridiron offers after hanging up his togs, will trot out onto the field Oct. 19 in New York to play with the New York Americans against Columbus.

Small College Near Tacoma Boasts Best Total Offense Team

SEATTLE (AP)—Pacific Lutheran a small college near Tacoma, Wash., with a mere 200 male students in its meager student body, boasts the best minor college total offensive team and two of the best little school backs in the nation.

Among the minor schools playing two or more games, the Lutheran aerial circus averaged 407.5 yards per game by rushing and passing in kicking Gonzaga, 25-13, and Eastern Washington College, 27-0. The figures were compiled by the American Football Statistical Bureau.

The two spearheads of the Lutheran attack are Marvin "Tommy Gun" Tommervik, 171-pound Associated Press little all-America halfback in 1940, and 206-pound Marvel Harsman, fullback. They turned in these performances:

Tommervik gained 552 yards in 56 ball handling attempts, to lead the minors in total offense gains—rushing and passing. In the air he's completed 23 out of 34 attempts for 429 yards, with no interceptions.

Golden Cranes Will Be Guests Of Green Wave

CRANE (Special)—The Golden Cranes will be guests of the Monahans Green Wave Friday evening in a District 7-A affair. For the first time since the season opened, all of the Crane first stringers will be able to start.

The Cranes have been concentrating on a defense against power and speed.

Monahans romped over Loraine with a heavy score, tied Colorado City 20-20, and eked out a win over the strong Fort Stockton 7-A team. The Golden boys won in the Stanton tilt 13-0, and lost other affairs, with Kermit, 25-13, Iraan, 27-16 and Wink, 26-7.

Yankee Defeater Returns To Farm

BUCHANAN, Ga. (AP)—One of Brooklyn's most beloved of "Dem Bums"—Whitlow Wyatt—who pitched the Dodgers to their lone world series victory over the New York Yankees, is back home on his North Georgia farm.

The tall Georgian, the only pitcher to beat the mighty Yankees in their last eleven world series games, has a 700-acre "farmer's farm," as Whit calls it. At nearby Cedartown, officials are planning a big celebration in his honor next Wednesday. Wyatt, called Brooklyn supporters "the greatest bunch of fans in the world. They deserved a pennant."
