

Editorial Let Us Not Have Hysteria And Condemnation, But Fact

Under the rules of basic American Democracy, it is the clear duty of elected officials to make governmental decisions based only upon the will of the electorate. Personalities, personal preferences and private desires should be put aside and the decision based only on the wills of the voters and citizens. Whether or not this was done at the recent meeting of the city council where "Sympathy" only was offered the proposed Muleshoe Area Public Library is difficult to state, for only the individual councilmen involved know the true process by which their decision was arrived at. However, since three of the councilmen at the meeting stated that they felt that if the issue came to an immediate vote of the people it would undoubtedly pass, a question — is the will of the people being subverted? — does exist today.

On the other hand Muleshoe is a well governed city, in most instances. The men who form the city council were elected because the voters felt they were the best available for the job. The council's history shows little serious criticism of its governmental policies. Their individual and collective efforts to build a better Muleshoe are a matter of public record. Ordinarily these are not men of malice, but rather a cool-headed governmental body working for the good of the area. Today all persons who think of the present problem coolly and analytically must arrive at the answer that the council based its library decision on what they believed was a solid and intelligent basis. If this is true, they should not change their decision — unless the favorable will of the people is made known to them in hard cold facts — not hysteria — for facts and facts alone are the only basis upon which intelligent decision may be made. Make your opinions known to the individual councilmen. Spend a dime and phone them, spend a nickel and drop them a postcard, stop them in the streets, go into their places of business. Do it anyway you wish, but don't gripe over a cup of coffee or over the neighbor's fence. It does no good, and causes only dissension. Perhaps, the council was mistaken in its estimate of the will of the people. If so, being honest men, they will undoubtedly change that decision even if they must bring it to a formal vote of the populace. Let us not have hysteria and condemnation, but rather intelligent approaches to a difficult problem. . . . Editor.

The Public Speaks As Library Halts

Library Facts And Figures

Muleshoe's city officials, in offering the proposed Muleshoe Area Public Library their sympathy — but no cash, at last week's notorious meeting, stated one of the reasons for doing so was that they had been provided with no figures as to the successful or unsuccessful use of other libraries in the Muleshoe vicinity. Friends of the Library had failed to provide such figures and the city council had made no effort to check local libraries on their own initiative. The Journal this week gathered the figures. They show not one single instance of any area library not being used extensively. Here they are:

Hereford City Population — 8,500 — circulates an estimated average of 56,000 books a year to more than 3,000 card holders. This does not include students doing research work. 22,026 of this total was children's books' 31,527 was adult. The library has a total of 29,000 books. Hereford has recently taken the lead in growth and industrialization in the area.

An example of library use can be seen in the fact that in the first 18 days of May more than 774 magazines were checked out to students who had been assigned grade themes by their teachers. Littlefield City Population — 7,000 — circulated close to 10,000 books last year and has grown from 6,000 books to 14,000 books since its reopening. Presently it has $12,000 in the new book fund.

Morton, which has the smallest public library in the area circulated some 5,000 volumes last year — many to Bailey County residents. Clovis City Population — 35,000 — circulates about 45,000 volumes a year. This does not include school orders for special projects and themes which it is estimated would push the total to about 70,000 a year.

BULLETIN

AND THE RAINS CAME! Muleshoe's rainfall Tuesday night varied from .07 to 1 1/2 inches with R. J. Klump, official recorder, showing .78. Other reports from the surrounding area range from .08 to 2 1/2 inches. Mrs. Stanley Seagroves, 27 miles southwest, reports .08. West Camp had 2 1/2 inches and three-fourths of a mile east of Hicks Chapel 1 1/2 inches fell on the Lewis Cunningham farm. Only 1/4 inch was recorded in the dry land area six miles southeast on the I. L. Kitchens' farm. In the Lazbuddie community, Max Steinbock reports 1.09. His share of the winnings was $1,110.

Editor's note: The Journal paper had originally planned a follow-up story on the library situation and the deep disappointment felt by almost all area residents at the city's inability to assist in the establishment of this very, very basic need. However, the many letters received from the area's residents speak more forcefully and clearly than we could possibly hope to do. Not a single letter or phone call spoke favorably of the city action. Here are a few of the letters.

Dear Editor: Every member of the Muleshoe Study Club is extremely disappointed with the recent "technical action" of the city council in refusing to assist the long-fought for Muleshoe Area Public Library. The city council has done nothing more or less than "avoid its responsibility to the residents of the Muleshoe area, who already have expended their efforts and money on behalf of the library. The proposed Muleshoe Area Public Library, with informal oral city and county "blessings", was born on Jan. 7, 1963, as the improved outgrowth of the old courthouse library, which has been a public — not private — institution since 1939. Legal records show that on July 10, 1939, the county agreed to support library.

The City of Muleshoe joined in local library support by allotting its funds in its 1944-1945 budget. This is in accordance with Texas Public Library Law and state and national laws. Library support has for a number of years been given by a cooperative "joiner" between city and county governing bodies. A Board of Trustees is elected annually and then is usually accepted as a public body. The board acts as the advisory governing body in behalf of the city and county, who are, in fact, the legal custodians of the library for the area citizens.

The local public library, as are all public libraries in the United States, was founded with the idea of bringing library services to all surrounding area citizens. Another purpose of our continuing interest in local public library growth is the fostering of better reading habits, especially of the children. Not all of our citizens are able to afford a personal book collection in their own homes; and the public library of books, regardless of income or status.

Sincerely,
Mrs. O. N. Jennings, president
Muleshoe Study Club

Dear Editor: We in the Stegall community are elated over the multi-county Bookmobile program and its success. It provides enjoyment and intellectual incentive.

It will be used more in the summer than ever in the past two successful stops in our area after the children are out of school. Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Buck Ragsdale

In view of the recent decision handed down by the City Council concerning the plea for better public library service and as chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Muleshoe Area Public Library, I feel it necessary to make the following statement: Hundreds of people in the Muleshoe area have voiced the desire for better public library service and I would like to assure every person that the Board of Trustees will do its best to open the doors of the library on or before July 1st. Since the City Council cannot be of assistance at the present time, numerous details must be worked out by the Board of Trustees and the interested civic groups and clubs concerned.

I ask the citizens of Muleshoe and the surrounding area to be patient and keep faith for Muleshoe WILL have improved library service. All the gifts, volunteer hours of labor, and the many memorial gifts will not be neglected or misused. The time for utilization has just been delayed. The Board of Trustees and the Friends of the Library send out thanks for all the work done and earnestly solicit continued interest and support. During this interim period, the children, young people, and adults of Muleshoe and the area are encouraged to make use of the High Plains Library Book Mobile Service. Signed: J. Frank Peery, Chairman Board of Trustees Muleshoe Area Public Library

debted for the present library building. The library board of trustees is not involved in the transaction, and will never be until the Friends pay for the building and then turn it over to the board (as is their expressed aim). Concerning the legality of the city council aiding the library, my first suggestion would be for the council to read the by-laws of the library board of trustees. The name of this board is the Muleshoe Area Public Library Board of Trustees. I would like to stress the word PUBLIC. It is not a private concern. It is true that all initiative and action towards public library service has been taken by private individuals. This is only inevitable in view of the apathy of elected officials in this area. Section B of the Muleshoe Area Public Library Board of Trustees By-Laws states: "This board shall at all times cooperate with and be responsible to the Muleshoe City Council." Now that is indeed a strange clause for a private organization. The real kicker is this: Since the inception of a public library in Muleshoe, the Muleshoe City Council has contributed $20 a month for the librarian's salary. Now they are asked to contribute a sum to maintain a useable library, they have decided (See Library Page 5)

As a city tax-payer, I'd like to commend the city council for their voting 100 percent in favor of library facilities here. I'll also bet that the library board of trustees is greatly relieved to have the sympathy of the council.

According to your article in the Sunday paper, the city council felt "that because of the indebtedness of the library — the city government could not commit itself to taking over the library lock-stock, cash and debts". The fact is, the Friends of the Library (a separate entity), is in-

Kathy Moore Wins Co-op Scholarship

The beginning of college careers will be aided financially for a group of high school students who will be named this summer as winners of scholarship offered by the electric cooperatives of Texas. Twenty-one students will share more than $9,000 to be awarded winners of historical essay contests being conducted by eleven rural electric systems in Texas. More than 350 contestants will enter essays based on their research into the history of the electric cooperative serving their area. On the local scene, a panel of judges (composed of professional people in the area) reviewed essays submitted by students from high schools located in Sudan, Springlake, Bledsoe, and Muleshoe. The essays were scored on the basis of factual information, clarity of writing, and human interest. The judges did not know who the contestants were, nor did the students know the judges. After due consideration and much deliberation, the panel selected Miss Kathy Moore, 18-year-old daughter of the C. E. Moores who

Councilmen Save City Over 3,500

It developed this week that the city council saved the city over $3,500 when it turned down all bids several weeks ago for the seal-coating of Muleshoe's streets.

The program, which was originally estimated by city officials to cost about $25,000 was bid on by several firms several weeks ago.

At that time the lowest bid was $18,264. The question of whether or not the low bid might be too high was raised immediately after the opening of all bids.

At that time one of the losing bidders stated he had submitted too high a bid because he had misunderstood the city bid request. He additionally stated that it appeared to him that the job should have cost about $16,000.

The city immediately refused all bids, clarified its bid request and re-advertised.

This week the new bids were opened and the low bid of $14,771 went to Thomson Construction Company, Denver City. Thus by quick action the council saved city taxpayers about $3,500.

The actual physical start of the program here is expected to begin in about two weeks, according to City Manager Albert Field.

Muleshoe's Jaycees have committed the organization to bring a major Carnival and Fun Fiesta to the Muleshoe area July 13th.

According to plans, the Fun Fiesta this year will be much larger than that held here last year. This year it will include a circus complete with wild animals, trapeze acts, side show and a complete "Big Top", which will cover more than 13,000 square feet.

The show will be under the direction of Sutton Imperial Shows, which is the same one held here last year. It will be complete with rides and concession stands. Most of the concessions will be operated by local groups and organizations for the benefit of their individual organizations.

Another addition to the fair this year will be some 60 display booths, which will house displays by local and other area merchants. Today the Jaycees are beginning to sell the booths to local merchants. First choice of all booths will be offered locally. If all are not taken by local merchants the Jaycees will travel to neighboring cities to sell them to non-competitive businesses.

Cost of the 10 by 10 foot booths will be $67.50.

The fair, which will cost the Jaycees about $7,000 to bring here, will also feature a Fair Queen Contest. The contest will be based on the number of tickets sold.

Each club or organization or business which enters a queen will sell tickets to the fair. The organization which sells the most tickets will have its entrant named Fair Queen.

The winning organization will receive the grand award — something between $250 and $500.

The state Jaycees will receive five percent of the fair's gross. It is estimated the Fun Fiesta should gross about $14,000.

In other business at its regular weekly meeting last Monday the group named Jerry Gleason as Jaycee of the month in recognition of his efforts in making the recent volleyball tourney a success.

A special appreciation award was presented to Mrs. Fran Powers for her assistance in the recent Hootenanny.

Swim Suits Take To Cover-Ups Intriguing Style Contradiction

Note to girl-watchers: what you'll see by the sea this summer is less of the bikini and more of her beach cover-up.
The new look in swimwear is an intriguing contradiction in fashion. Two-piece cotton swimsuits endorse the bare look, and the popular bikini is more daring and baring than ever. But the brief swimsuit is likely to be topped with a demure cover-up... in a delicate-looking but sturdy cotton.
According to the National Cotton Council, the cover story in swimwear ranges far and wide. Styles include long-sleeved shirts... either man-tailored or frilly; beach shifts... knee-length or completely covering the body from neck to toe; and blazer jackets, overblouses, cotton knit beach sweaters and hooded parkas.
Most of the cover-ups are designed to coordinate with the swimsuit underneath... and all are attractive enough to be worn with skirts and long pants as well as swimwear.
For instance, one three-piece cotton beach costume features a hooded parka and a brief swimsuit with boy shorts and bra top... all in pink and white striped seersucker. The parka, a lightweight, can be paired with long pants for sailing, or a skirt for shopping... proving that the wardrobe of new beach cover-ups is longer and more varied than that of swimwear items in the past.
You'll see another new kind of cover-up on the beach and it's equally versatile. It's the one-piece "romper." You can pull the romper over a wet suit after swimming, or wear it under a wrap skirt to town. Rompers come in dainty cottons like dotted Swiss or pleated batiste that complement the style's "little-girl" air of femininity.
In fact, swimwear designers are going all out for femininity, both in the styles and the fabrics they favor. While gingham, chambray, pique, and printed terry are popular beachwear fabrics, airy, delicate cottons are making You'll probably see as much organdy, lace, eyelet, and dotted Swiss on the beach as on the dance floor. These softly pretty cottons turn up in some of the

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — State officials have begun the long parade before Gov. John Connally's budget staff and the Legislative Budget Board. From now until summer's end, more than 150 state agencies will give estimates on how much they will need to operate in the 1966-1967 biennium.

These hearings will produce budget recommendations to the next Legislature by Governor Connally and by the Legislative Budget Board.

All estimates must be set out in dollars and cents. But the summer budget hearing period actually is the guessing season, since agency heads have to guess now how many file clerks, how much stationary and how many pencils they will need in August, 1966.

A few items seem certain: The Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools expects a 37 per cent increase in the population of its schools for mentally retarded and will need an estimated $5,000,000 more than its current $28,000,000 for pay raises for prison guards.

Budget raises not determined this summer are expected to be requested when the Legislature gets proposals for improving the state's higher education system; giving public school teachers a pay raise; building new schools for the mentally retarded; and building a state osteopathic college.

AUTO THEFTS — State Highway Department reveals the fact that each year about 17,000 automobiles are stolen in Texas — and 9 per cent are never found!

Until three years ago, scrap cars — complete with plates and negotiable ownership papers — could be purchased for $50. But no more.

To prevent both plates and papers falling into hands of theft rings the Legislature required each salvage yard operator to remove current plates from vehicles purchased as salvage.

Plates and papers are supposed to be kept under lock and key until claimed by the Highway Department. About 10,000 titles and 3,000 license plates are picked up each month.

BUILDING BOOM CONTINUES — April was the second biggest construction month in Texas history, reports the UT Bureau of Business Research.

Total value of authorized building was estimated at $153,600,000 — up 6 per cent from March.

Only once before has the Bureau's index been higher — August, 1961, when it reached 152.3 per cent.

Increased somewhat in April. But nonresidential permits rebounded strongly. The Bureau concluded the federal income tax cut encouraged growth of investment in hotels and motels, commercial garages and amusement buildings.

Permits for hospitals and other institutional buildings also increased, and $14,000,000 worth of stores and mercantile buildings were authorized for an increase of 52 per cent over March.

SHRIMP SEASON CLOSE DELAYED — Close of the Gulf shrimping season was delayed 15 days — until June 15 — on order of the State Parks and Wildlife Commission.

Biologists recommended the 45-day closed season be put off due to retarded growth of juvenile brown shrimp this year. With proper safeguards, Director J. Weldon Watson said, the 1964 shrimping season still can be the best since record-breaking 1960.

In other action, the commission declared oyster dredging legal on public reefs or beds of Lavaca Bay in Calhoun and Jackson Counties and East Matagorda Bay in Matagorda County.

It took under advisement complaints about operation of Gene Howe Wildlife Management area in Hemphill County. Panhandle sportsmen asked that 500 pairs of quail be put out there from the Tyler Hatchery to replace the depleted stock. They also requested that they be permitted to provide special bird feeders.

Commission agreed to seek funds for $450-historical markers in three parks and three wildlife areas. Caddo Lake, Lost Pines and Longhorn Cavern parks were specifically mentioned by former Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd of the Texas Historical Survey Committee as suitable places for the markers.

VETERANS' LAND PROGRAM — The state's veteran land program will pay itself out without any pocket-digging by taxpayers, if the Veterans Land Board carries out its planned program of investing its reserves so they will earn interest while being held to retire bonds as they come due.

State Auditor C. H. Cavness took a long look at the program started by voters in 1946 and concluded:

Through the end of fiscal 1963, 31,732 tracts of land were bought by the board and resold to the veterans. They totaled 2,771,049 acres and cost $216,466,134, averaging $78 per acre.

About 4,000 of the veterans already have paid off their debt and of the 27,893 still owing the state $150,244,291, 2,354 are delinquent on their payments.

Cavness said the number of delinquent accounts is down from fiscal 1962, when 3,283 more were outstanding.

There still is a net loss of $1,151,035 from the "block deals" revealed during the veterans' land scandals. But it looks as though all of the original $3,500,000 eventually will be repaid.

SMALL TOWNS GETTING INDUSTRY — Texas Industrial Commission reports that smaller Texas cities are beginning to get a larger share of the new industrial dollar.

In 1962, the big three — Dallas, Fort Worth and Houston — attracted 50 per cent of the new industry locations. But in the first quarter of 1964, they showed only 38 per cent as more industrial leaders picked smaller communities.

One of the small-town leaders — Paris — will provide a big new market for South Texas veg when Campbell Soup Company opens its Paris plant.

SCREW-WORM PROGRAM — State and federal agencies cooperating in the southwest screw-worm eradication program announced that the sterile fly drop pattern, which originates in Mission, has been extended to reach Arizona.

Between March 29 and May 2, only 31 samples were confirmed.

Library ...

It is no longer legal to support a "private" institution like a public library!

Your article states that Councilman St. Clair has doubts about the success of the bookmobile, and that the Library Board of Trustees has not provided the council with any figures relative to the success or failure of the bookmobile program in Muleshoe and Bailey County.

Apparently there were many unanswered questions in the minds of our City Council when they decided to offer their sympathy to the library. It is strange, is it not, that the president of the library board offered to attend the council meeting to answer any questions about the program -- and was told by the city manager that they had all the facts and would not need his presence?

It is my fervent hope that the City Council has not made its final decision on the subject of a public library in Muleshoe. It seems shameful to waste the efforts of the Friends of the Library and numerous civic groups by allowing available facilities of the bookmobile program to lie unused in a closed warehouse. It appears to this unenlightened radical that there are already too many facilities and resources lying dormant in our fair community.

Respectfully yours,
Signed: Roald Johnson

Roald Johnson
P. S. Anyone doubting my motives on this issue is invited to inspect my personal library and decide whether or not my family is dependent upon a public institution for good literature.

Dear Editor,

As a group who has supported the present library movement with time, labor, and money we wish to register our disappointment at the failure of the Muleshoe City Council to endorse use of our city funds for operation of the Muleshoe Area Public Library.

We fail to understand why the library is no longer a legal recipient of city funds. It would appear that the city council is overlooking an opportunity to capitalize upon the efforts of many citizens who have provided a useable building.

We feel that the City Council has an obligation to the citizens of Muleshoe to adequately inform themselves and reconsider this issue.

Sincerely,
ESA Sorority

Dear Editor:

I am a resident of the Muleshoe trade area. Although Muleshoe is not our county seat or necessarily our nearest town, we consider it our trade center where we do most of our shopping and turn to it for services.

I was disappointed to read the Muleshoe City Council had rejected a public library program last week. I think a public library is an asset to any town, and especially to a town with a trade area as large as Muleshoe.

When I moved to the Muleshoe area about 16 years ago, I could not understand any town not having a public library. It was a utility I assumed every town maintained. After seeing the tremendous growth Muleshoe has made in these years it has still lagged behind in this important educational and recreational aspect. I especially notice this since I now have children and see the disadvantages of them not available.

The Muleshoe ESA of which I am a charter and present member, has undertaken the library as their project for the past two years. Our project has been met with enthusiasm in every respect. It has been our intention to promote a public, NOT a privately operated facility. Libraries can be operated by various means -- grants, foundations, memorias, etc. (if they are tax supported) ... but would have to be locally maintained as a public facility.

I hope the city council will look deeper into the advantages and give the library more consideration for recreational, inspirational, and reference purposes.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Kenneth (Marjorie) Precure

Dear Editor:

As a Librarian I can do nothing but deplore the city's using a technically sound method of assisting in the establishment of a library here.

Even the most uneducated public official must realize that without the heritage of literature life is reduced to the mundane -- Make a buck. There must be more to life in Muleshoe than that.

People here are repeatedly asking -- "Why has industry passed Muleshoe by -- What do we lack?"

It takes a good deal of money, time and effort to establish a manufacturing facility. Add to that simple fact that those establishing such a business must necessarily live in the area in which it is established. Then look at our most recent example of Muleshoe "progress", and we may see one of the reasons for Muleshoe Lack of progress in business and manufacturing.

Mrs. Richard Goodrow

Since Muleshoe is our home, we as parents, want the very best for our son in the way of opportunities. If a community is to prosper and grow, we as citizens must put forth every effort to support the religious, educational, and industrial phases of our community. We wonder why young people do not return to our city after completing their education. It is very plain to see that if we are not willing to vote for a progressive place to live, there will be no interests to bring our citizens of tomorrow back to their home town to either go into business or contribute their talents in making this a better place to live. We are hurt and disappointed that the city council refused such a worthwhile and educational addition to Muleshoe and the surrounding trade area. Since so many individuals and organizations have worked so diligently and untiring in putting over $8,000 into the Library and with sizeable accounts in the banks, we feel that the so called legal technicality has been misinterpreted since the Library is not a private organization but a very public one.

We are hoping the city councilmen will continue to have the in-mobile has not completed two trips to each of 44 stops in Bailey, Parmer, Lamb and Cochran Counties.

There have been a total of 5315 books checked out from the Bookmobile has now completed two million, Georgia Pena, Bookmobile librarian, reports.

After six weeks of operation, there have been a total of 846 borrower's cards issued to readers in the four counties. The summer months are the biggest and the busiest for bookmobiles, so it appears that the next three months will be the peak period for the year. Some borrower's cards are issued to individuals, but a great number of the 846 have been issued to families which means that there might be several borrowers checking out books on one card.

The bookmobile is leaving book deposits at several school libraries.

These are: Whiteface, Bovina, Spade, Springlake, Threeway, Sudan, and Lazbuddie.

As many as 300 books are left at these school libraries so that the schools might in turn, circulate them to their students. The Bookmobile has discontinued going to the schools during the summer, but will start again in September.

The Bookmobile is also assisting the Modern Study Club in Friona in a summer reading program. The Study Club has asked for 150 books to circulate to children wishing to take part. Children who qualify for reading certificates will receive them at the end of the summer.

Up to date, the largest number of books have been checked out at Olton, Friona, Earth and Farwell, but there are several other towns right behind them in the number of checkouts.

Interest of all the people of our town and will reconsider the refusal.

A Round-Up Of The Bracero Program Slated To End Next December

EDITOR'S NOTE: Public Law 78 (Bracero Program) will end Dec. 31, 1964. The ending of the law will directly effect Muleshoe's labor program adversely. It may also adversely effect the possibility of Muleshoe's obtaining a canning plant. The plant will operate almost entirely on tomatoes and cucumbers grown locally. Both crops necessitate the use of hand labor. Not only cotton farmers in Muleshoe and the High Plains, but all U. S. farmers have for many years faced a short supply of suitable agricultural labor — perhaps since the tractor displaced the mule — and all indications are that the shortage will get worse before it gets better. Unless Congress has an unexpected change of heart, Public Law 78 will expire on December

31 of this year. PL 78 is the "enabling act" under which from 200,000 to 450,000 Mexican Nationals (Braceros) have been brought into the U. S. A. specifically for farm work each year since its passage in 1951, and which has proven mutually beneficial to employer and employee. About 200,000 such workers were imported in 1963 and a similar number is expected to cross the border by the end of this year. So, when PL 78 dies it will leave a 200,000-man hole in the labor force available to U. S. agriculture in 1965 and presumably thereafter. Somewhere, U. S. farmers will then be expected to find irrigators, hoe hands, harvest hands and a variety of other workers to fill that gap, and already there is considerable concern over where such workers are to be found. First to feel the pinch of this sudden loss of labor will of course be those farmers who have learned to depend on foreign labor to fill all or part of their requirements, but the increased competition for the already short supply of domestic workers will carry the burden to all farmers alike. At least until such time as another acceptable and willing labor supply has been developed, some crops will undoubtedly suffer for lack of care, and when production is curtailed, especially on fruits and vegetables, the ill effects of a short labor force will begin to be felt by consumers for removed from agriculture. The reasons behind congressional disapproval of the Bracero program are many and varied, and have been widely discussed. Generally the feeling among agricultural leaders is that opposition to PL 78 is based on misunderstanding and political expediency rather than a genuine concern for either agriculture or agricultural workers. But, be that as it may, many of the legislators who voted for the program's one-year extension in 1963 have given notice that they will not again favor the law, and it is given little chance for survival beyond its present expiration date December 31.

Anticipating the repercussions that will obviously follow close behind this sudden withdrawal of 200,000 crucial workers, representatives of agriculture (including ourselves) met recently in Washington to draw up the framework and purposes of a new organization to be known as the "National Council of Agricultural Employers."

Objectives of the N. C. A. E. are generally set forth in two sections of its third Article of Incorporation, to wit: "(a) to unite in common organization those engaged in the production, handling or processing of United States agricultural (including horticultural) commodities or products and of others whose business welfare depends upon the economic efficiency and well-being of U. S. agriculture, and (b) To promote the common business interests of its members to improve the position and image of U. S. agriculture as an employer of labor and to facilitate and encourage the establishment and maintenance of conditions whereby an adequate force of agricultural employees will be available for agricultural employment in the U. S., but not to engage in the recruitment, housing, supplying or employment of agricultural employees."

Membership in the new organization has been divided into three categories. (1) Regular members are to be persons, partnerships or other organizations whose principal operation is the production of agricultural commodities, (2) Sustaining members are grower, trace or commodity associations whose members are engaged in the production, handling or processing of agricultural commodities, and (3) Contributing members are persons, partnerships or other organizations whose business welfare is affected by the economic efficiency and well-being of U. S. agriculture.

CHILDREN IN CAMP
It's a good idea to give written consent for necessary medical care if your child leaves home for a visit or a camping trip, or if you plan to be away for any length of time. For example, a summer camp nurse may bring a boy into a hospital with an acute case of appendicitis. But the doctor may well hesitate to go ahead and operate without the parents' consent. Is the doctor arbitrary, and is such permission just a legal technicality? No, he is well within his rights, though he may give first aid — but only for emergency treatment where a child's health or life may be at stake. He is likely to put off follow-up care until he can reach the child's parents. A relative or babysitter generally cannot grant consent for a child's treatment. Even an adult must request treatment and grant consent to medical care on his own before a doctor can give it to him. Children cannot do this. By going to your doctor you show your willingness and consent to accept his treatment. Your consent is assumed also when you ask for a house call by the doctor, or if as a result of an accident you come to a hospital for emergency treatment. If you are unconscious, the doctor may well give you emergency care, yet later he should get your consent to further treatment. Minors cannot consent to medical treatment, and except in dire emergencies their parents or guardians must give it for them. The consent should not be broadly or loosely phrased, but should be as specific as circumstances permit.

The principal reason for having the consent in writing is to avoid later misunderstandings. It is a protection both to the patient and physician.

NEW LAW TIGHTENS HOT CHECK PROSECUTIONS
The 58th Texas Legislature passed H. B. No. 457 dealing with the use of worthless checks to defraud. It has practical aspects for both the collection of such checks and the prosecution of offenders that were not available before. It makes it unlawful for any person or firm to make, draw or deliver a check with intent to defraud, knowing that the maker does not have sufficient funds on deposit to cover its payment. It is no longer required that the check be given in exchange for property in order to project the maker or drawer to punishment. The new Act, similar to the old law, provides that the refusal of payment by the bank shall be prima facie evidence of intent to defraud and of knowledge of insufficient funds, "provided such maker . . . shall not have paid the holder thereof the amount due thereon within ten (10) days after giving of such notice that such check . . . has not been paid . . ."

New notice provisions state that notice shall be given in writing sent by registered or certified mail or telegram to the place listed on the check. Penalties are provided which increase with each offense and depend upon the size of the check. First conviction on a check under $50 shall be punishment in the county jail for not to exceed two years and by fine not to exceed $1,000. If the check is over $50 the penalty can be fixed at confinement in the penitentiary for not less than two years nor more than ten years. In order to avoid turning law enforcement agencies into mere collection agencies, the Bill provides that anyone who has furnished information concerning a worthless check which has resulted in the acceptance by the District or County Attorney of a complaint and who shall thereafter suggest or request that such case be dismissed, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction fined not less than $100 nor more than $500. (This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Yarborough In Washington

Dear Fellow Texan:

The Senate has a number of programs under study to help soften the problems of the 17 million Americans who are 65 and over, including some 700,000 in Texas. I serve on a special subcommittee looking into the long term care of patients in nursing homes. Senator Moss of Utah is chairman. There were very few nursing homes before the Social Security Act of 1935 was passed. By 1939, there were 1200 nursing home with 25,000 beds. Today there are 23,000 homes with 592,000 beds and somewhere between 300,000 and 400,000 patients. All states now have laws setting standards for nursing homes. Other testimony discloses: 1) State licensing standards vary widely and so does the quality of state inspection and enforcement. In many states, enforcement is lax. 2) Many welfare patients in nursing homes get poor care.

3) There are still about 40 percent of the nursing home beds in the country classified as unacceptable by state agencies working with the Federal government. Many of these beds are in homes originally built for some other purpose and are little better than firetraps. 4) We have further learned there is no proper coordination of the three Federal programs which stimulate construction of adequate nursing homes — the Hill-Burton program, the Federal Housing Administration and the Small Business Administration. We are working to upgrade the nursing homes, to better care for our elderly citizens in Texas and the nation. San Antonio has a high-rise nursing home for the elderly, one of the first in the nation. It is the Victoria Plaza Apartments project. Texas, with this project, has provided a model for the rest of the nation.

SOS Telephone System Being Built Here

Recently a number of printed company checks were stolen from an area gin. Not long ago, a car load of strangers passed several forged pay checks in Muleshoe before being caught. These cases illustrate a very real danger, the possibility of serious losses to local businesses through forgery, fraud, or winding. One local group has lost over $500 since the first of the year to forgers. Of course, extreme caution in handling "customers" not known locally is the best way to avoid loss. But a way to supplement that caution is to share our suspicion or actual information with each other. In an effort to self-protect Muleshoe Businesses, the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce, retail activities committee under the chairmanship of Douglas Haynes, is attempting to set up in a "solid" chain telephone system. Many communities have a whereby any message or warning can be spread to all participating merchants in a matter of minutes. At a recent meeting of the retail activities committee, those present voted to reorganize the "SOS Check" system in the Muleshoe area if enough business men wish to assist. There is no cost involved, only business interest and willingness to make prompt phone call to pass messages along.

SHOP MULESHOE FIRST

Regular members dues have been set at a minimum of $25.00 per year; Sustaining members dues are $50.00 per year, and Contributing members dues will be set by the Executive Committee of the organization. To this new organization, the National Council of Agricultural Employers, we say "Godspeed," and whether through its efforts or otherwise, we hope that American agriculture is not forced to turn the tool shed back into a mule barn for a lack of adequate and qualified help.

FUTURE TAX CUTS
At a recent White House dinner for business leaders, President Johnson said, "I see another tax cut a few years down the road", if the $12 billion tax reduction just enacted succeeds in boosting the economy and balancing the budget, he believes it will succeed.

Lazbuddie Man Named To Team

The Sam Houston Rifle Drill team of the Reserve Officers Training Corp announced the commanders for the 1964-65 year. Commander would be Cadet Capt. Ronald A. Shephard of Amarillo, executive officer, Cadet 1st Lt. Don R. Watson of Lazbuddie, first sergeant, Cadet First Sgt. Curtis II Cowns of Pantex.

TEACHER'S PLAN
After concluding six weeks of teaching summer school slated by Mrs. R. E. Everett, the family plan a vacation in Colorado, then will go to Sul Ross State College, Alpine, where she will attend a reading conference.

VISITED RELATIVES
Mrs. Dora Riddle and Mrs. Lula Thornley, Anton, visited here in the homes of relatives last week. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Roebuck and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lee and family.

FOR FARMERS ONLY!

ARE YOU A FLFWTMMM?

* Farmer looking for ways to make more money.

2100% return on investment sounds phenomenal, but that is the sort of return cotton farmers in this area can receive this season.

The investment is one boll of cotton every 7 feet down the row. The kind of results to be expected is an extra boll of cotton on every stalk.

These statements come from 9 of the nations leading soil scientists who have devoted most of their lives to soil fertility in the southwest and especially in the plains.

Such authorities as Dr. Alex Pope, Dr. Bill Trogdon, and Dr. Gaylord Hanes have been instrumental in the manufacturing of a completely new product at the new Plains Division Plant located at Plainview. This new product for plains soils has been named "Am-Sul-Phos".

Am-Sul-Phos contains almost three times as much nitrogen as phosphorus. The nitrogen is in a form highly resistant to leaching and losses to the air. The phosphorus is highly water soluble. The remainder of the pellet is soluble sulfate ion which reacts with excess calcium in the soil, thus giving maximum uptake by the crop of phosphorus and nitrogen as well as minor elements such as iron, zinc, boron, and manganese.

The product was used in experiments last year. Yields were increased as much as one bale of cotton per acre over standard fertilizer practices in many field scale experiments.

A 100% increase in grain sorghum yield, with high protein grain and 400% or more profit on your fertilizer investment?

Sound far fetched? ? Not at all!

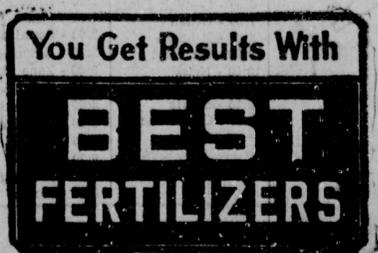

Best's staff of experienced Agronomists has developed an entirely new product which contains the correct ratio and sources of nitrogen and phosphorus which combined with the sulfate ion (SO4) will result in greater efficiency of nitrogen and phosphorus uptake and in a more balanced nutrition for grain sorghum.

What is this product? - "Am-Sul-Phos".

If you have not fertilized your sorghum this year, "Am-Sul-Phos", applied as a sidedress before the sorghum is 10 inches high can double your yield and increase the protein content of your grain.

If you have applied part of your fertilizer at or before planting, apply the rest as a "Am-Sul-Phos" sidedress

FRANKLY SPEAKING

By J. Frank Peery

SEDDATIVE OR SOLUTIONS?

As the final bell rings and the last refrain of "Alma Mater" fades away, thousands upon thousands of high school and college graduates will be turned loose on the nation within the next few weeks. What will the young folks be a sedative or a solution?

In Genesis, we find the story of a fearful catastrophe that brought with it a great opportunity. Noah built the ark. The rains came; the rains ceased. God then made a covenant with Noah never again to destroy all flesh by the waters of a flood; and, as a sign of that covenant He placed a rainbow in the sky. Noah was given the chance to build a new world. Everything had been destroyed except the ark and all therein. All was to be made anew. Here was man faced with a great opportunity, and as always, a comparable responsibility. Everything was to be made new through the use of imagination, ingenuity, and industry. But, Noah failed in his responsibility and missed his great opportunity. It did not come again.

Time and again the most fortunate people, possessed of a chance to change the world, have wasted their lives in confusion, frustration, and failure. The graduates of today, having the chance to solve some of our problems, may instead become part of those problems. What will it be sedative for self or solution for the world?

For today's graduate, what does life mean? "Get what you want; satisfy your own needs; gain position, power, wealth; hold to an egocentric position." Or, does life mean to have a vision of the vastness of the world and dare to use knowledge and truth to help find solutions to the moral, ethical, and spiritual problems that face mankind? I remember the occasion when a rich young ruler came to Jesus and asked, "What must I do to inherit eternal life? In modern terminology, the young man was seeking a sedative. Listen to Jesus reply: "Go, sell what you have and give to the poor . . . and come, follow me." The emphasis was on action: "Go," "Sell," "Give," "Come." Follow. Here was a solution. The young ruler's thought was, "What can I get out of life? Jesus was concerned that he should give something to life.

Frankly Speaking — The thousands of seniors who walk in a new segment of life in a few weeks must do more than live and let live; they must live and help live; they must not just be good but be good for something.

Some of Stratford-upon-Avon's half-timbered Tudor structures, Town Hall, old Holy Trinity Church, the grammar school, the almshouses and the stone bridge look much as they probably did in Shakespeare's day.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER FROM SENATOR JOHN TOWER

Committees: Banking and Currency, Labor and Public Welfare

I am sure I don't have to remind you of this fact, but for the information of those who haven't kept up with the detailed activities of the Senate, we are still debating the Civil Rights bill. Most specifically, we are still debating amendments that would provide jury trials for those of our citizens who might violate provisions of the bill, when and if it is passed.

As you may know, those of us who are opposing the bill as it is now written, lost in our effort to have a jury trial amendment adopted. By a vote of 45 to 45, and then by a vote of 45 to 46, the Senate refused to adopt an amendment that would guarantee jury trials for criminal contempt proceedings growing out of the civil rights bill.

There are other jury trial amendments to be considered and voted on. One of them, sponsored by the leadership, would allow a citizen to have a jury trial if his sentence is to exceed a fine of $300.00 or 30 days in jail. In other words, if the judge is convinced of the citizen's guilt, and if he anticipates that the file will exceed $300 or 30 days in jail, he may allow the citizen to have a trial by his fellow citizens. This seems to me an exceedingly strange approach to justice.

I am supporting amendments that guarantee our citizens a right to jury trials whether the judge thinks they are guilty or innocent. I would prefer that the decision be made in accordance with traditional Anglo-Saxon concepts of justice and freedom — namely, a trial by jury.

I have also introduced amendments of my own. In all probability some sort of civil rights bill is going to be passed this Session. It is my hope that we are able to change it to make it more acceptable to the American people, and to assure that it does less violence to our institutions than would be the case if it is adopted as written now. That is the reason I have taken part in debate on the bill, and that is the reason I have introduced amendments designed to change some aspects of the bill.

For instance, I introduced an amendment that I think would protect the freedom of the press from federal encroachment. My amendment would merely remove employees of newspapers, television stations, and radio stations, from coverage under the bill. I do not want to see some federal bureaucrat determining the news. I have received some criticism for this particular amendment. A few people evidently feel that the press should not be singled out for special attention. Well, perhaps not. But the framers of our Constitution thought so. They believed it so emphatically that they spelled it out in the First Amendment with these words: Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

Now it is quite possible that this bill, as written, could "abridge" the freedom of the press by the simple expedient of influencing who is hired to report or interpret the news. This is entirely possible under Title VII of the bill as now written.

I want to make it plain that I am not concerned with the color or creed of those who write news stories and editorials. If I had to set up criteria of my own, I would say that the most important aspects should be fairness and accuracy. But we are not here concerned with that, either, with protecting the Constitutional prohibition against any law that would "abridge" the freedom of the press.

Aside from the Civil Rights bill, I have introduced measures recently dealing with Viet Nam. I introduced a resolution that calls upon our government to equip our fighting men in Viet Nam with the most modern and As you have no doubt read there have been indications that some of our equipment used in that war is not the best we have to offer.

In addition, I introduced a bill that would authorize the government to properly identify the grave markers of those who die in Viet Nam. Under present regulations, the government is not allowed to inscribe the words "Viet Nam" on markers of those Americans killed in that country, unless the survivor agrees to pay for the inscription. I believe that our fighting men ought to have the most modern, most effective weapons that we can furnish if we are going to call on them to protect our way of life. And, when they give their lives in that endeavor, the very least we can do is properly mark the grave and provide for the survivors.

President Johnson has requested an additional $125 million to prosecute the war in Viet Nam. I will support that request, provided there are adequate assurances given that our fighting men in Viet Nam will get the latest and most up to date and most effective weapons.
