Airport, exhibition center bond votes planned Dec. 14

By DEBBIE PIERCE

Those four city bond proposals the ones which the Midland City Council has been studying in depth this past year — at last will "have their day in court."

Council tentatively set Dec. 14 as the voting date for the bond issues to improve Midland Regional Air Terminal and to construct a downtown park and exhibition center. Council also expressed its intentions to hold an election the first Tuesday in February for the city parks improvements and-or new zoo bond proposals.

If approved, the four proposals would mean about $14 million worth of improvements in the city. The airport downtown park for $1.5 million, the parks improvements for $4.78 million and the new zoo for $5 million.

City Secretary James McCullough told the council none of the bond proposals could be presented before Dec. 8, as the voting machines must be cleared by law a certain number of days prior to and after the general election Nov. 2.

Council expressed concern over exact figures in the proposals, and agreed to have the city fiscal agent present at the first meeting in October to discuss the totals. The group also agreed that Councilmen Charles Tighe and Mark Martin would meet Oct. 13 with a representative of Zooplan Associates, which drew up the feasibility study recommending a new zoo, to discuss possible alternatives in that proposal.

Then, council expressed a desire to go back to using the four city fire stations as polling places, rather than the two high schools, in these elections, since, they said, "these elections don't relate directly to the schools, and the school polling places might confuse the voters.'

If approved by voters, the airport bond proposal would allow Midland Air Terminal to take on a whole new look. Included in the proposed improvements would be a second-level parking garage, rehabilitation of the ground-level parking, new secondfloor offices, two enclosed pedestrian crossing bridges from the secondlevel parking garage, a remodeling of the terminal building, and upperlevel passenger loading areas.

The downtown park and exhibition center, if approved, would include a see-through exhibition building with 14,000 square feet on the main floor and 11,000 square feet in the basement area, a terraced amphitheater with grassy seats, two-and-one-half blocks of beautified downtown parking and remodeling of several retail establishments downtown.

Both the downtown park and exhibition center and the improvements at Air Terminal would

Water experts seeking input for comprehensive state plan

By JUDY JOHNSTON

A team of water experts is in Midland today to seek input on a revised comprehensive water plan for Texas through the year 2020.

At the same time, they will promote support of a Texas Constitutional amendment increasing by $400 million the amount of Texas Water Development Bonds that may be issued on approval of the legislature.

The representatives of the Texas

the San Andres Room of the Midland Hilton Hotel for everyone in the Midland-Odessa area.

In an interview Tuesday night with The Reporter-Telegram, the four men of the team explained both the comprehensive plan and the proposed amendment.

The four men who will be conducting the water plan forum tonight at the Midland Hilton Hotel will be James Rose, executive director of TWDB: Herb Grubb, director of planning: John T. Carr Jr., director of weather modification, and Dr. Tommy R. Knowles, director of ground water division. The group is holding 25 of these public forums to find, in advance of making a plan, what are the water needs in Texas and what Texans would like to see in the plan.

Then together with the data the crew has been gathering since February on ground and surface water, ecological factors, "weather modification" and other factors, they will devise what they hope will be an on-going plan which can change to meet changing needs in Texas.

They will present the plan to the 65th legislature for approval. The Texas Water Development Board is statutorily responsible for this type of water planning in Texas. Midland and Odessa receive water from the Colorado River Municipal Water District, which takes from the Ogallala Aquifer, which extends through most of the Texas Panhandle. Within 30 years the aquifer will be diminished, the men said. In addition, by the year 2000, they predict, municipal use of water in the Midland-Odessa area will incresase to 90,300 acre-feet from its 1974 level of 79,100. Manufacturing use of water should increase to 40,900 acre-feet from the 1974 level of about 17,000.

An acre-foot is an acre of water one foot deep. Population increase and other factors such as the federal Safe Drinking Act also will create a drain

The federal act does not provide any means for these systems to apply for federal funds to upgrade the systems. The Texas Water Development Bonds are now the only source of such funds, they said. Money loaned by the TWDB for water treatment, storage and research is a loan, not a grant. It is based on hardship and need and is

Outside of planting and reaping peanuts, Chip Carter says that he has three ambitions

And they all hinge on his father being elected President of the United States.

The younger Carter, in Midland late Tuesday on a campaign swing around Texas. spent 30 minutes at Midland Air Terminal to promote his 51year-old father, former Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter, for president.

And should the Democrat Carter defeat GOP Republican President Gerald Ford at the polls Nov. 2, then Chip Carter,

"Visit Dad in the White House" at will.

Chip Carter flew into Midland via a private twin-engine propdriven aircraft shortly before 7 p.m. Tuesday.

And with the stamina of a traditional hustle-bustle politician, young Carter had already made whirlwind airport stops at Wichita Falls and Abilene. He roared out of Midland in the Beechcraft Baron en route to San Angelo and Waco that night. Today, he was to speak for his father at Tyler and Fort Worth before flying to St. Louis, Mo. Carter, in his first political visit to Midland, was greeted by Vann Culp, Midland County Democratic party chairman, and by about a 100 other supporters and newsmen.

Many were wearing Jimmy-Carter-for-President - type buttons and gold-painted jewelry fashioned after the peanut - Carter's cash crop.

"You have to make friends quick in politics," young Carter

"I'm not a public speaker," he said, as if naturally mimicking his dad's Southern accent. Readily, his smile put him without doubt into the smiling

Carter clan. Before the hodgepodge press corps was herded into a small executive-type office for a session with the son, young Carter asked the well-contained and near-quiet onlookers to "join our family" in the cam-

"It's good to be back with people who don't have an accent." Carter said in jest before start of the press conference under bright lights in a crowded but small room.

Carter took questions from the news media people, handily and confidently responded and openly avoided any speech-

"He has never been fuzzy on the issues," he said, "and the (Ford-Carter) debate showed that he had not.'

Water Development Board will hold a Board approves buying of buses for integration

By LINDA SCHAFFRINA

Midland school trustees Tuesday approved purchase of nine school buses to implement the elementary school desegregation plan and stressed the importance of students participating in cultural exchange activities this year. The buses will cost a total of approximately $135,000. Trustee Don Sparks voted against the purchase, saying that he is opposed to buying buses for any desegregation plan.

Schools superintendent Dr. James H. Mailey said an emergency federal assistance grant may be available to defray some or all of the cost of buses and reconditioning the Carver Building for use as a cultural exchange center. The board authorized Mailey to seek such funding from federal or state sources.

Reconditioning Carver will cost approximately $125,000, Mailey said. Trustees answered questions from Gracie Tipton, an Emerson Elementary School parent, con-

The consent decree settling the desegregation case calls for preliminary interactive experiences, on a desegregated basis, this year although full implementation of the plan does not begin until next year.

School board president Joe Dominey said the activities are required by the school district and will be an integral part of the instructional program

If the district fails to comply with the provision of the consent decree requiring such action, there could be further litigation of the case, he said.

'We could not have had an agreement without doing something this year." Dominey said.

The administrative staff has developed plans for the following number of activities per grade for this year: four for kindergarten and first grade, five for second grade, 10 for third grade, 12 for fourth grade and 14

Sixth graders will participate in those field trips usually scheduled for that grade, but on an integrated basis. Activities for kindergarten through fifth grade vary according to grade. They will include field trips, some of them previously scheduled; classroom exchanges within the clusters of schools students will attend next year, and in-class activities that do not involve leaving the classroom. Some will last all day and Dominey called the experiences 'an opportunity for the children to learn about children from different racial and ethnic backgrounds" and said it would ease the way for full implementation of the desegregation plan next year.

Mrs. Tipton asked if a child's grade would suffer if he missed the cultural activities.

ODESSA-Sandwiched among the Presidential Museum costumed soiree, the West Texas Kennel Club dog show and the first of the presidential debates last Thursday was a round-up cocktail reception and barbecue feed for participants in the first-annual Ector Country Fair, and fair president Camilla Blain was nice enough to invite me over so I found time to go. (I'm often asked how I manage to cover so much territory for these meanderings, and I must say I often do it in spite of the best efforts of the highway patrol.)

Like the fair itself, the dinner had mixed returns. Turnout was small, response was often lukewarm, and everybody had to eat and run. (They hadn't provided beer for soft-liquor retreads such as myself, but I conned the Odessa Chuck Wagon Gang out of a little Budweiser from their private stock next door and things started looking better immediately.)

The Chuck Wagon put on a magnificent feed. (Those guys aren't satisfied if you stop eating that succulent boneless beef and cowboy beans while you can still walk. No wonder they had to go to Norway last week to feed Europe's starving masses.)

And it was interesting to get a run-down on some of the problems and delights of putting on a first-ever county fair, despite Camilla's admonition that the candid report was "off the record."

In fact, Camilla and her crew of public-spirited volunteers have much to be proud of - most notably the fact that, despite figurative hell and literal high water, the fair attracted enough area citizens who spent enough money to pay off some .15,000 in expenses and leave some $5,000 in the nest for next year's affair.

County Judge Joe Connally and the Ector comissioners are to be com-mended for the logical and far-sighted system in which they provided for the phaseout of political involvement in the fair, which is slated to go under pure "civilian" control shortly in order to facilitate operation without such governmental burdens as low-bid purchasing and the like. I was most intimately involved with the chili cookery under the direction of County Auditor Bill Hicks, of course, but I thought the queen's pageant was first-rate, the arts and crafts exhibits from exciting to tremendous (particularly half a dozen virtual Rembrandts from somebody identified only as "Shumate"), the commercial and eleemosynary exhibits enlightening, the carnival unusually civilized, fresh-painted and and the entire atmosphere of the affair happy and fruitful despite lingering rainclouds-and rain. And when Judge Connally broaches intimations of some future entity to be called the Basin Area Fair, I can see it as a useful addition to the area festivals such as those in Abilene, Lubbock, San Angelo and El Paso

But let's not start chili cooks-off at all of them. There are those who are beginning to call this column "Chili

Democrats taking notice of Ford investigation

By The Associated Press

Democrats are beginning to take some public notice of federal investigations into alleged misuse of campaign funds during President Ford's congressional campaigns and Ford's golfing trips with corporation

Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter, at home for a rest in Plains, Ga., has avoided direct comment on the investigations and, until Tuesday, so did other Democrats.

But Carter's running mate, Sen. Walter Mondale, and party chairman Robert Strauss both offered comments on the Ford investigations Tuesday.

Mondale, in Toledo, Ohio, said Ford has been "ducking and hiding" from questions about the investigations. And Strauss chastised GOP vice presidential candidate Bob Dole for suggesting that the probes were political in nature.

The special Watergate prosecutor's office is investigating the records of Ford's home district GOP organization in Kent County, Mich., reportedly looking into allegations that Ford, while in Congress, illegally diverted campaign contributions to personal or improper use, "laundering" the money through local party organizations.

In addition, the Securities and Exchange Commission reportedly is investigating golfing trips made by Ford as a congressmen. Those trips were paid for by the U.S. Steel Corp.

The White House said Tuesday that Ford had made trips to corporate golf courses while in Congress, but Ford press secretary Ron Nessen declined to comment when asked if Ford had, as a congressman, converted campaign funds to his personal use.

Ford has not personally mentioned the investigations and has not been available for questions. Ford remained at the White House on Monday, meeting with foreign dignitaries, setting the scene for his next debate with Carter on the subject of foreign affairs.

At Tuesday's briefing session, Nessen disclosed that Ford had played golf on courses operated by Firestone Tire, Bethlehem Steel and Alcoa Aluminum.

He said he didn't know if the companies paid for Ford's expenses. U.S. Steel reported last week that it paid for three Ford golf outings in New Jersey and for two visits to a company guest house near Disney World in Florida. Explaining the golf outings, Nessen said, "The President is an avid golfer. He has played with regularity during his 26 years in Washington and he has accepted invitations at various clubs, which is customary. He played with friends, and at other times he invited his friends to be his guests at his

He said Ford quit accepting golfing trips when he became vice president in 1973. Asked why, Nessen replied, "He's in a different position now. He was vice president then and now he's President. Before that, he was a member of Congress.'

Mondale at first avoided questions on the probes, saying: "I don't think I should be commenting on that until I'm personally sure what the situation is. Those questions shouldn't be put to me. They should be put to the person in the White House. I am told the President is unavailable for comment. I'm told he won't answer questions. Then, in Toledo, he said Ford was "ducking and hiding behind his desk" and should answer questions about the investigations.

Dole said Monday that the Watergate prosecutor's investigation was "nothing but election year politics." Told about the White House revelation about the corporate golfing trips, Dole said he had no information and could not discuss it.

But Strauss said Dole's remarks about Watergate Prosecutor Charles Ruff were off base.

"I would remind the public and Sen. Dole that this is the very response Americans got from Nixon, Agnew and Dole - in 1972, covering up the Watergate scandal until after the election.'

Strauss said Dole and Ford have a right to remain silent on the probes but that "they do not have a right to impugn the motives of the FBI, the special prosecutor or Democratic party officials."

While Carter has not directly commented on the Ford investigations, he did refer Monday to "political leadership that has been bogged down in Washington for 25 or 30 years," drawing advice, counsel and financial support from lobbyists and special interests that "belong to the same clubs, play golf on the same golf courses. Asked if his remarks were directed at the Ford probes, Carter smiled and said, "I'll let you make the judgment about that.'

In Plains, Carter studied for next week's debate and toured his peanut warehouse, but he kept his remarks mostly on the crop.

Carter has been advised by his top aides to be more cautious when answering questions because of criticism of his statements in recent interviews, including a controversial discussion in Playboy magazine.

His headquarters issued a lengthy statement in his name after the government issued its latest reading of economic indicators.

Gambling city's boom fantastic

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — You still get 18 nickels for three lemons on the slot machines here, but more people are losing to the one-armed bandits than ever before.

The 9.2 million tourists and conventioneers who visited Las Vegas last year spent more than $2.2 billion, a sum that would make this town the 87th largest corporation in America were it a company. Of that amount, the wheels, cards and dice that gyrate around the clock separated the visitors from more than $770 million.

Despite economic slowdowns, fuel shortages and steadily rising prices, the gross income of casinos here has risen an average of 15 per cent annually since 1970, making their total gambling take the last six years more than $3.3 billion.

The winning streak hasn't gone unnoticed. Hotel and casino owners are embarked on what Chuck Ruthe, vice president of the Greater Las Vegas Chamber of Commerce, calls the biggest building boom in a decade.

It's hard to argue with him. The Aladdin Hotel has just finished a $60million expansion.

Part of that $60 million went for what Aladdin executives call the "Tower of Majesty," 20 stories of rooms topped off by the "Cleopatra" and "Scheherazade" penthouse suites. Outside the $1,800-a-day suites. each about the size of three twobedroom houses, is a sign reading, "It's not much, but it's home."

The hotel threw a two-week party that cost a cool $1 million to celebrate the completion of construction. Across the street at the Dunes. management plans to spend $75 million on two 500room towers featuring three and four-bedroom suites with whirlpools. In a throwback probably possible only in Las Vegas, the rooms will also have king-sized, electronic Murphy beds that will vanish into the wall at the touch of a button. Guests will use one of eight glass elevators to reach their Murphy

The list goes on. The Stardust plans a $70-million facelift, although problems with Teamster pension fund investments may delay things. The Desert Inn, at a cost of $30 million, is renovating all its rooms. The Flamingo, in a $22.5-million project, will add a new casino and 500 rooms. The Riviera recently laid out $20 million for a 17-story, 300-room ad-

The current titleholder in the space race is the Hilton, after a $14-million project that pushed its total to 2,139 rooms. The previous champion, the $106 million MGM Grand, may be forced into third position if the rumored 3,500-room X anadu hotel and casino comes to pass.

Downtown Las Vegas is growing, too. The Fremont just finished a $7million expansion and the Golden Nugget is adding an $18-million hotel, the latter to be known simply as the Golden Nugget Rooming House.

What makes a town built on its customers' losses so successful?

"It's the uniqueness," says Frank Scott, president of the Nevada Resorts Association and a 40-year veteran of Las Vegas. "The finest entertainment in the world is here, and the gambling itself is entertainment. People enjoy it, and I think they enjoy the freedom they're

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — These are bad days at Alum Rock.

Classes have started in the city's poorest school district, and the federal government — in residence for four years to test the controversial concept of vouchers in education — is pulling out its millions of dollars and going home.

"Basically dead would be a good way to characterize voucher," says David Mandel, program officer for the National Institute of Education. The institute funded the program at the Alum Rock Union School District, serving 15,000 mostly Mexican-American students.

The experiment here, the only attempt by the federal government to test the voucher idea, was heralded at first as a dramatic new tactic to save deteriorating public education.

In a voucher system, the government pays the parents instead of the schools. Parents, given a voucher for the amount of money it takes to educate a child, can spend it in any school they choose.

The demise of the nearly $8, million

The demise of the nearly $8- million program in Alum Rock has left teachers, administrators, parents and funders with mixed feelings about the effort to bring free market economics to public education.

What it brought instead, nearly everyone agrees, were some innovations in teaching, some new ways to run a school district, a little more parent interest in the schools, and a lot of paperwork.

As envisioned by economist Milton Friedman and others, a voucher program would allow parents to spend their educational IOUs in a public school, a private school or a parochial school — each of them charging "tuition" equaling the voucher.

Under a national voucher program, state and municipal taxes, now the principal sources of revenue for America's public schools, would be used to redeem vouchers at public, private and parochial schools. This tax money now goes directly to public school districts.

Eliot Levinson, a Rand Corp. researcher studying the experiment, said the idea was to "give the power to the consumers and let the great holy free market loose and it will get rid of the incompetents in the public schools."

But in Alum Rock, teachers weren't excited about competing with private and parochial schools. The district and federal officials agreed instead to offer parents alternatives within the public schools themselves.

As many as 54 "minischools" sprang up offering different styles of teaching. They were formed by groups of four or five teachers who wanted to work together. Three or four mini-schools were located in each of the 14 school buildings where the experiment was conducted. (The district's 14 other schools weren't included in the program.) Each minischool had a separate budget determined by the number of children enrolled with vouchers.

Federal sponsors of the experiment wanted no limits on mini-school enrollment, so that popular ones would grow and unpopular ones would die. But teachers insisted on enrollment limits so that all the minischools could survive. In addition, there was a policy of "squatters' rights," a guarantee no child would be bumped from his neighborhood school.

There were mini-schools that stressed individual learning, basic skills, creative arts and cultural diversity, to name a few.

"It wasn't much of a real test of a voucher system," admitted Richard Reyes, in charge of evaluating the project for the district. "It was a very sophisticated example of multipleoption education."

Many of these schools remain in a system the district now calls alternative education. Parents still have the option to send their children to any mini-school in the district.

During the voucher experiment, an effort was made to make the parents aware of the choices available. The district sent out elaborate brochures to explain differences among minischools.

By the fourth year of the program, last year, Reyes said, nearly 30 per cent of the children in the experiment were being bused outside their neighborhoods to take advantage of the different mini-schools. But few parents were taking an active role in running the schools.

Reyes said the mini-schools caused some friction among teachers but were largely welcomed for the freedom they gave them. They learned, he said, that the modified voucher system did not increase segregation in the schools, as some had feared.

Holding the balance

Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld's hint that the Pentagon will seek a hefty $18 billion increase in the defense budget for fiscal 1977 reflects concern over inflation, a conviction in Washington that the public is security-conscious and an awareness of a growing military might in the Soviet Union.

The arguments probably are valid.

President Ford had proposed earlier this year a more modest increase from the present level of $112 billion. But his $120 billion target envisioned only about a 2 per cent gain in real spending. The rest would have been lost to inflation. The new goal, estimated to be about $130 billion, will allow a hike of 5 per cent or more in military strength.

The American people — and Congress, too — are skeptical of detente as increasing evidence is revealed of continuing enlargement and modernization of Soviet forces. Congress already has indicated a commitment to more personnel, planes and ships, despite a plea by Democratic presidential challenger Jimmy Carter for cuts of $5 to $7 billion in the military budget.

Rumsfeld also wants a more sophisticated air defense system. The consensus of national opninon seems to support Rumsfeld's goals.

But opinion is fiekle. A population weary of taxes is unlikely to tolerate waste or inefficiency. Defense planners must be wary of ego-satisfying proposals from the armed ser-

Petitions signed by 5,500 of his fellow journalists support his position that the First Amendment protects the confidentiality of his notes and that to disclose the source of the CIA documents he gave to a New York newspaper would violate his professional ethics

When the document was published seven months ago it appeared that Schorr had been a party to a breach of national security. That is hardly the case. The breach was not Schorr's. At the time he received the document the House investigating committee had decided to make it public, a decision later reversed by the full House. Further, it has been learned that the committee staff was woefully law in keeping copies of the report from circulating in Washington

Schorr is not the first reporter Schorr quite properly refuses to to stand firm against a powerful arm of government in protecting a source, and we hope he is not the last. Unfortunately, the CIA investigating committee was also not the first to be embarrassed by a leak of confidential information. It could be the last if the Ethics Committee confines its attention where it belongs - on congressmen and staff members who deliberately or carelessly are responsible for leaks in the first

Mining on national landmark

By JACK ANDERSON with LES WHITTEN

WASHINGTON — A White House official intervened with the Interior Department earlier this year to gain permission for a friend to dig pit mines on a national historic land-

The mine operator with the White House connections is Dr Robert Sansom, a former assistant administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency As chairman of Virginia Vermiculite. Inc., he is now more interested in mining vermiculite than in protecting the environment

Vermiculite, while not one of the glamorous minerals, has some commercial if mundane uses. It is used, for example, as insulation and fireproofing, garden filler and even Sansom wanted to dig for vermiculite on some historic farmland at Green Springs. Va. The 300-year-old site is treasured by the Interior Department however for its historic and scenic value. The White House pressure to spoil the site with pit mines, therefore, was resisted by Interior Secretary Thomas Kleppe.

But the story is worth telling as an example of Washington pressure politics Dr. Sansom, scheming to put profits ahead of history, got in touch with a friend on the President's staff

Confidential White House memos show that on March 28 Sansom called Dr. James Connor, who doubles as cabinet secretary and presidential advisor. The two friends counseled together, and Connor suggested that Sansom write to the President. Connor said the lett'r should be directed to his attention, and he would guide it through the oval office.

In a "Dear Jim" letter the next day. Sansom told the White House aide: "I am enclosing the letter to the President that you suggested would be appropriate to clear up the subject." The letter denounced Kleppe. declared that vermiculite was vital to conserve energy, proclaimed that "the country desperately needs more vermiculite" and promised that the mining wouldn't disturb the environment

This militant letter, complete with Sansom's "Dear Jim" notes, was routed to Kleppe, who is supposed to forward information about despoiling operations on national historic landmarks. The inclusion of the "Dear Jim" note was a subtle signal that Sansom had a powerful White

But Kleppe, unimpressed, drafted a tough turndown for the President to sign. "The energy situation of the country would in no way be imdeclared the draft, if the historic landmark were left undisturbed. An accompanying memo advised the President that there was enough vermiculite to last well into the next century and that "good substitutes" were available anyhow.

If President Ford had seen the draft, he probably would have signed it. This would have laid down as White House policy that Green Springs would remain green and would not be marred with quarry-like holes.

But Connor managed to pigeonhole the draft which never reached President Ford's desk. To Connor's credit, he is now repentant. "I wish now," he said, "I had told him to send the letter straight to Kleppe." But Connor admitted ruefully: "I shelved Sansom expressed no such remorse. He told us he could have asked White House staff chief Richard Cheney to intervene but had contacted Connor because he knew him better. "I would do it again." said Sansom "There's nothing of historical value within five miles" of the proposed pit mines. Furthermore. he said, the people of the county need the industry.

PERCY PROBLEM There was a lot of worrying last year, according to confidential diplomatic papers, over a string of worry beads. The incident which involves Sen. and Mrs. Charles Percy, R.-Ill., was supposed to have been hushed up.

It happened while the Percys were visiting Saudi Arabia. At a private dinner, the table talk turned to worry beads, those Islamic talismans that the Arabs constantly finger Saudi oil minister Ahmed Zaki Yamani is an avid collector of expensive worry beads. As a gesture of Arab hospitality, he dispatched a messenger to fetch a set of worry beads worth a couple of hundred dollars. He graciously offered them to the Percys as a gift.

But James Akins, then the U.S. Ambassador to Saudi Arabia, had lectured Yamani about U.S. regulations against accepting gifts. He turned to Yamani and said: "After all we've talked about gift-giving regulations, how can you do this right in front of me?"

Sen. Percy let the remark slide, but Mrs. Percy took umbrage. She thought it was a slur on the senator's integrity. It was the Percy's practice to accept gifts rather than embarrass their hosts. But back in Washington. they would quietly turn the gifts over to the State Department

The embarrassed Yamani withheld the beads, and the incident was forgotten by everyone except Akins. He was later sacked by Secretary of State Kissinger. For a while, he couldn't shake the notion that the Percys were somehow involved in getting him fired.

He finally concluded that he was wrong and wrote to the senator about it. "I thought briefly that Mrs. Percy's complaint could have contributed to the action," he wrote. "But there were apparently other reasons." He asked the senator to assure his wife that "I have the highest respect for your intelligence and your integrity.

contained in Douglas Caddy's 1976 revision of his "The Hundred Million Dollar Payoff" (Public Policy Press). President Ford calls Caddy's work "a serious study on the tremendous political clout organized labor has" and Mr. Ford should know because he is going to be the target, not the beneficiary, of Big Labor's ambitious spending plans.

Meany and his cohorts claim openly that they "own" 62 of the 100 members of the U.S. Senate, and theirs is no idle boast. Voting records prove it! They have nearly the same type of control in the House.

A point in proof was a federal election law change that might have given corporations the right to deduct voluntary political contributions to either party from employes' pay somewhat in the nature of the way labor unions get political money from their rank and file. Rep. Wayne Hays, D-Ohio, since resigned in a sex scandal, huddled with labor's big boys just before the issue was to come before the House. Talking about the problem with Hays, a Republican congressman ventured that it was a sticky issue. "It isn't gonna be sticky." Hays retorted, because every Democrat is gonna vote for it. And, we've got two-thirds of the House. If you think this Congress is going to give corporations the right to solicit their stockholders. management and employes - and check it all off - you need to see a Big Labor, however, can do something similar - and get away with it. Al Zack, the AFL-CIO's public relations boss, describes COPE as "the finest piece of political machinery as ever existed, far more effective than either the Republican or Democratic national committee.'

He could have added that Big Labor is tax-exempt, too, unlike the corporations it seeks to defeat at the

The fact that unions have only one of four U.S. workers and that workers are more conservative than Meany's high-level friends doesn't disturb the big union boss a whit. "No. that's never been a problem." he said. "You see, the millions of unorganized workers have no political power whatsoever...So, the people who have the political punch are those (like himself) who are organized.

In 1972 Big Labor scoffed at both Richard Nixon and George McGovern; it spent its millions to control Congress. And, succeeded. The 1976 strategy looms as more of the same, albeit a public declaration in favor of Jimmy Carter, conservative running madly in pursuit of ultraliberal change of color.

With money, manpower and militantly effective organization techniques at its disposal, the AFL-CIO is going to be a potent factor in determining the future of the U.S. government

Jimmy Carter's LBJ gaffe stirs Connally enthusiasm

By ROWLAND EVANS And ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON - Sudden enthusiasm by John B. Connally in President Ford's behalf helps confirm the new consensus in Texas: Jimmy Carter actually can lose that critically important state thanks to his inexplicable remarks about Lyndon B. Johnson. Connally, who in private has been none too optimistic about his role as Texas state chairman for Mr. Ford, told an old Texas Democratic friend in Washington last Wednesday that everything has changed. Connally said he was returning to Texas to spread around the now notorious Playboy magazine interview's lethal last paragraph in which Carter linked former President Johnson with Richard M. Nixon as "lying, cheating and distorting the truth. The Democrat privately agreed with Connally that Carter's LBJ gaffe gives Mr. Ford his first chance to carry Texas. "Giving this to Big ' another Texas Democratic politician told us, "is like handing a Stradivarius to Heifetz.'' Accordingly, Carter insiders fear the Playboy interview's lasting political damage may come not from Carter's musings on sex but his gratuitous remarks about Johnson.

Whether or not Connally actually stirs many Texans over the dead President, Carter's conduct has turned off Democratic candidates in Texas who had wanted to tie their campaigns closely to his. Even noncandidate politicians, including Gov. Dolph Briscoe, may be less en-

One former Johnson intimate who has been privately advising Carter was at first incensed by the Playboy comments, then cooled off enough to suggest that Carter quickly telephone Lady Bird Johnson in Texas. The apology was made Tuesday but did not keep Mrs. Johnson from describing herself Thursday as "distressed, hurt and perplexed." Old LBJ loyalists describe her true feelings as vastly more intense than that.

Since Carter often has expressed admiration for Johnson (and in his acceptance speech broke the conspiracy of silence on LBJ at the Democratic national convention). why did he assail him in the very last moments following hours of interviewing by Playboy?

The answer may be Carter's irresistible impulse to show the left his understanding and sympathy. Playboy's interviewer was Robert Scheer, an extreme left journalist and old anti-Vietnam activist. "That's what burns me up," one ex-LBJ aide told us. "Jimmy was using old leftwing codewords - Johnson lying and cheating - and he knew he was using

FORD'S STRANGE APPOINTMENT Suspicion that the bureaucratic establishment is calling the shots at the White House has been strengthened by President Ford's appointment of a veteran Democratic bureaucrat to end Republican control over the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC)

Mr. Ford's selection, typically after five months of inaction, of George F. Murphy Jr. ran counter to recommendations of senior national security advisers and conservative Republican Senators. The reason: Murphy, longtime staff director for the joint Atomic Energy Committee. was the candidate of the bureaucracy's old boys network. Dr. Fred Ikle, director of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency (ACDA), early this year recommended ACDA general counsel James L. Malone for the NRC vacancy - the first and only appointive recommendation by the selfeffacing Ikle. Deeply concerned about worldwide nuclear proliferation, Ikle felt at least one NRC member ought to have interests beyond those of the nuclear energy industry. An unusual coalition emerged in support of Malone. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger backed him. So did conservative Republican Sens. James Buckley of New York, Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, Carl Curtis of Nebraska, Jesse Helms of North Carolina and Peter Domenici of New Mexico. On March 24, those five Senators wrote Mr. Ford urging the appointment of Malone, a Republican But the network of past and present staffers at the old Atomic Energy Commission (AEC - predecessor agency to the NRC) neither shared nor approved of Malone's concerns about nuclear proliferation. Besides. as a longtime joint committee staffer. Murphy was a kindred spirit. The key role for him was played by Dr. James Connors, Mr. Ford's secretary of the cabinet who worked at the AEC before coming to the White House.

Connors is credited with managing to get Mr. Ford, in what could be his final weeks in office, to consciously reduce Republicans to a minority (two out of five members) on the NRC by appointing a Democrat.

A footnote: White House personnel chief Doug Bennett told us he does not know whether Murphy is a Democrat or an independent but had the idea he is an independent. In truth, supporters of Malone had sent Bennett information showing that Murphy is a registered Democrat in Maryland

How to obtain maximum citizen involvement in determining goals for the school district was the subject of lengthy discussion during Tuesday's regular meeting of the school trustees.

The school board-postponed action on goals proposals by administrative staff members pending further study on ways to obtain citizen involvement at the beginning of the process of determining the goals.
Dr. Douglas W. Brown, assistant superintendent of schools for instructional services, said a steering committee made up of school administrators devised its system with two objectives in mind.

First, goals for instructional programs are required for accreditation under new state regulations. Broader based goals, the second objective, were designed as a result of board discussions in January, Brown said.

A preliminary set of goals was compiled after the committee received input from other school districts, outside experts and school district professional staff.

The steering committee proposes selecting a cross-section of Midland's population, along with others in the community, to rank goals in the preliminary list.

The information would be submitted to an advisory committee to be appointed by the school board which would then refine the list and submit final recommendations on goals to the board. Trustee Don Sparks said he wants to more fully involve the community in the goal-setting procedure at an earlier stage, rather than using the staff written goals.

Trustee Ed Runyan agreed. "I see too much staff and administration input in this survey," Runyan said. He proposed creation of a committee and a series of subcommittees. each chaired by a member of the board and composed of community members, to study various aspects of DALLAS — Alan Steelman's efforts to oust Democrat Lloyd Bentsen Jr. from the U.S. Senate and to swing himself into the senate seat took a setback when the the Republican challenger closed his Dallas County campaign headquarters and reduced his state staff by half. The Dallas Morning News reported this morning. His campaign is suffering from a shortage of funds.

Anson Franklin, Steelman's campaign manager, said the cuts were made to refunnel the funds "out where people can see the campaign.'

In short, the measure means that Steelman will be cramming money into television campaigns and in travel during the final weeks and days leading to the Nov. 2 general election. Steelman, it seems, has not been gaining the name identification he heeds to out poll incumbent Bentsen.

Some of the alternatives which the TWDB has been considering to try to alleviate the anticipated water shortage in Texas are transportation of water from out of state to such areas as the Panhandle and West Texas, building of more reservoirs developing the water consciousness of the people to conserve water, desalinization, water reuse and weather modification.

Weather-modification, in the form of cloud-seeding, has been especially promising in this part of the state, the men said. # Britain's Healey to seek relief; pound rallies 3 cents with news

LONDON (AP) - The British pound rallied by nearly 3 cents, to $1.6675, on foreign exchanges today after Britain's Chancellor of the Exchequer, Denis Healey, announced he would seek $3.9 billion in credit from the International Monetary Fund (IMF).

Healey decided on the move after Tuesday's 41/2-cent drop in the price of sterling, to a record low of $1.6360.

Market analysts said Healey's move to draw on Britain's remaining standby credits in the IMF was aimed at removing uncertainties over how it would repay the $1 billion drawn from $5.3 billion in credits extended by the U.S. and other central banks in June. Those credits are due for repayment

One foreign exchange dealer said Healey's action would probably allow the Bank of England to support sterling if necessary. The bank has not done so during the past three weeks as the pound fell from the $1.77 level established after central banks intervened with their credit offering

The pound's recovery helped the dollar to rise against most European currencies, in part because the dollar is used as a vehicle for moving currencies into sterling. Tuesday's slump prompted Healey to cancel a flight to Hong Kong, where he was to attend a meeting of British Commonwealth finance ministers. He turned back at Heathrow Airport a few minutes before his plane was due to leave and headed for crisis talks in London with his financial advisers, including the governor of the Bank of England, Gordon Richardson.

The pound's drop from $2.40 only 18 months ago has made imports more expensive in Britain but has proved a boon for some foreign tourists.

Britain imports more than half its food and raw materials. The higher price it must pay for them now is slowing recovery from the nation's worst recessions since World War II.

Industrial productivity is among the lowest of major Western nations, inflation is among the highest at 13.8 per cent and the country is suffering record unemployment of 6.2 per cent.

British pound continues slump

LONDON (AP) — The ailing pound hit all-time London stock exchange and by midday the Financial lows against the dollar and other major currencies Tuesday and Laborite Prime Minister James Callaghan declared that Britain must get back to a system of profits, high productivity and balanced

After falling 11/2 cents to $1.6665 before Callaghan's speech to the Labor party conference, sterling plunged an additional 1½ cents to the $1.6510 level before recovering to around $1.6550.

That was more than 21/2 cents below Monday night's record low closing of $1.6810.

One dealer said foreign exchange investors were disappointed that Callaghan did not announce any firm measures to counteract the slide of what was once the world's stablest currency. A burst of selling from Switzerland was reported by another dealer as a factor in the collapse.

"Speculators are trying to take the pound down as far as it will go," said one dealer.

According to Jack Taylor, a Washington Post special correspondent, the Teamsters union, which claims it was defrauded on its insurance coverage, has demanded the return of the $250,000 fee shared by Kleindienst.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Bell Telephone, the first company in the nation to ever make more than $1 billion in profits in three months, intends to ask for higher rates unless competition in the industry is

AT&T Chairman John D. deButts told a House subcommittee on communications Tuesday that the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. will ask for a rate increase for residential customers if the Federal Communications Commission is allowed to permit competition in the field to continue.

"I am here for one reason and one reason only." said deButts. "And that is because it appears to me inevitable that over the long run, the FCC's policies will hurt service and add to its cost for the vast majority of our customers, particularly home telephone users."

He testified at the opening of three days of hearings on a proposal to overturn FCC rulings that permit competition in the telephone industry.

Tower requests resource study

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Sen. John Tower of Texas Tuesday urged the Economic Development Administration (EDA) to start immediately on a $1.2 million study of the natural resource problems facing the High Plains region. Tower joined 11 other senators and seven representatives from the High Plains area in a letter to John W. Eden, assistant secretary for economic development, requesting initiation of the program. States in the region include Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas and Nebraska. EDA already has made preliminary studies in outlining ways to deal with the long-range problems of declining natural resources - particularly water and energy - in the High Plains. "We feel that the EDA-recommended plan of action, with some modifications, should be implemented without delay," the letter stated. "Therefore, we request that you allocate the necessary funds and staff of your agency to initiate the first phase of the High Plains project, which is estimated to cost $1.2 million."

the reach of federal scrutiny The FCC has opened up competition in two areas: in customer equipment and service on private lines 185 cosponsors in the House and 16 in the Senate. Rep. Lionel Van Derlin, D-Calif., chairman of the communications subcommitteee, said that the burden of proof to overturn the FCC rested with opponents of competition.

DeButts said the FCC rulings, if allowed to remain, will force the phone company "to press for a massive cost-related restructuring" of its rates. He said that means it would ask for lower charges for some business customers and higher rates for home The latest AT&T rate increases took effect in March, adding an average 10 cents a month to home phone bills and $2 for businesses. It is expected to add $225 million a year to the company's income. The legislation would only allow states to regulate customer-owned telephone equipment. It would also

Short course officials hold Midland meeting

The board of directors and the administrative committee for the Southwestern Petroleum Short Course at Texas Tech University in Lub bock, met Tuesday afternoon at Ranchland Hills Country Club.

The board and committee members met to lay basic groundwork for the 1977 Short Course to be held April 21 and 22. Attending from Texas Tech were Dr. James T. Smith, associate professor and head of the petroleum engineering department and Duane A. Crawford, also an associate professor at Tech.

Also assisting in formulating the 1977 seminar was Hank R. Willis of Midland, general chairman, and Bill R. Brogdon, program chairman.

and service companies also were and gas.

The Southwestern Petroleum Short Course had been held annually for the last 23 years. It is sponsored by producing and service segments of the petroleum industry, in cooperation with the petroleum engineering department at Tech.

Classes are approximately one hour in duration, and are held for a two-day period, with each paper being presented on consecutive days. Question and answer sessions follow each class period. Papers are designed to be original work not previously published or presented.

The course is designed to provide competent operating and engineering instruction, including case histories. in subjects related to production of oil

Southland well finals

FORT WORTH - Southland Royalty Co. has announced completion of its No. 1 Van Irvine as an oil

It finaled from the Shannon sand formation, flowing at the daily rate of 144 barrels per day, through per-forations at 9,902-9,910 feet, natural. A company spokesman said fracturing is expected to increase the flow rate substantially. Drilled to 10,050 Southland owns a 33 per cent in-cent increase for all of 1975, but analysts here cautioned that the difference may be due more to last year's good record than the impact of the earthquake.

The official News China News Agency, which reported the new coal figures, treated the increase as a victory over the effects of the July 28 quake, which severely limited production at the Tang Shan coal mines in the last month of the reporting period. After the strong quake in the Tang Shan area," the agency said, "coal mines of various provinces, cities and regions throughout the country sent manpower and materials to help get the Kailuan mines (just north of Tang Shan) back into production.

Many mines also volunteered to undertake Kailuan production tasks to make up for the losses so that the state coal production plan could be completed.

The Tang Shan area mines appear to be China's largest single producer of coal, delivering about 6 per cent of the total of more than 400 million tons a year. But the one-month impact of the quake on production would represent less than 1 per cent of the total eight-month production figure Analysts said a large increase over last year would have been difficult to achieve in any case because of the unusual number of new mines opened in 1975. As is its custom, China gave no specific production figure for the nation or for Tang Shan. It said only the Kailuan mines had "suffered serious losses.

Chrysler calls suit 'incredible'

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Chrysler Corp. says it's "incredible" that the Justice Department is suing the company for $91 million in damages for alleged violations of the Clean Air Act.

The suit, filed Monday in U.S District Court here, alleges that Chrysler sold more than 9,100 Dodge and Plymouth autos in 1976 that were equipped with improper emission

"The Justice Department's action is incredible," said the auto maker. "It seeks to punish Chrysler for a simple, unintentional human error made in reports to the Environmental Protection Agency. This mistake had no effect on air quality. In fact, Chrylser production tests show that the cars involved beat government standards by a good margin.

"Nevertheless, when Chrysler discovered the error, it notified the EPA, straightened out the problem in production, recalled the cars and corrected them to conform to the reports made to EPA.

"The problem simply is that the part (EGR vacuum amplifier) used was not the part described in the report to EPA. The two parts are virtually identical."

According to the suit, Chrysler equipped autos with a device known as an exhaust-recirculation amplifier for certificaton tests by the Environmental Protection Agency, a test that is required by law to insure that autos meet federal clean air

The cars cited in the suit were not equipped with the device, the government alleged, thus violating the law prohibiting the sale of any new vehicle unless it is covered by a certificate of conformity issued by

The autos that allegedly failed to contain the emission device included Plymouth Valiants, Dusters, Furies and Volares, and Dodge Darts, Coronets, Aspens and Chargers, All were equipped with a 225 cubic-inch engine and manual transmission, the government said.

Committee resolution to block sale shelved

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Ford administration cleared away one obstacle threatening relations with Saudi Arabia, but Congress is still considering legislation opposed by the oilrich Middle East kingdom.

At issue, according to the administration, is a possible price rise for oil that Arab nations ship to the United States. Responding to Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's plea, the Senate

Foreign Relations Committee on Tuesday cleared the first obstacle by killing any chance that Congress would block the sale of $30 million worth of sophisticated airborne missiles to the Saudis. The second obstacle is an amendment that would prohibit U.S. firms from participating in the Arab boycott of Israel. Reversing an earlier decision, the Foreign Relations Committee refused send to the floor a resolution by Sen. Clifford Case, R-N.J., that sought to stop the administration from selling 650 Maverick air-toground missiles to Saudi Arabia.

Technically, Case could still raise the issue directly on the Senate floor. but a source in his office acknowledged that the chance of suc-

In addition, the House does not even have a similar resolution before it. Because Congress expects to adjourn for the year by week's end, it is unrealistic to expect the matter to be pushed through. In fact, one of the House's leading opponents of the sale, Rep. Benjamin Rosenthal, DN.Y., said of the effort to stop the sale, "It's dead."

Under the law, the administration can sell arms to a country unless both houses of Congress pass identical resolutions opposing the sale.

Prices

NEW YORK (AP) -Stock prices were mixed today in a pause after Tuesday's sharp selloff.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was up an estimated 3 points after Tuesday's 18.20point drop, its largest loss in more than four months. Declines maintained a 7-5 lead over advances in the overall count of New York Stock Ex hnge-listed issues.

The Dow fell about 3 points in early trading this morning, registering continued concern over the drop in the government's index of leading economic indicators reported Tuesday. But at mid-morning the market steadied, with analysts noting some signs that traders who had sold short earlier were buying back in to cash in some profits.

Westinghouse Electric was the most active NYSE issue, unchanged at 19.

The Big Board's composite index of all its listed common stocks gained .06 to 56.65. At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was up .04 at 102.77.

Volume on the NYSE set a moderate pace, totalling 8.08 million shares over the first two hours against 8.95 million in the comparable period on Tuesday.

Few stocks on the active list showed more than minor price changes.

DEL RIO, Tex. (AP) -A burly ex-Marine testified today he received $25,000 after a commando-style raid he led on a Mexican jail that freed 14 U.S. citizens last March.

Donald Fielden, 29, said he paid $12,000 to William McCoy Hill, who he said helped him stage the raid.

Fielden's testimony came in the federal court trial of Sterling Davis Sr., Hill, and Billy Jack Blackwell, all of Dallas. They are charged with conspiracy in connection with the March 11 raid at Piedras Negras across from Eagle Pass, Tex. Davis and Hill also are on trial on related before the raid. charges.

Fielden, who pleaded guilty earlier to charges of conspiring to export a firearm, told the jury how the raid was planned and staged.

He said he was referred to Davis by Fred Todd Graves. Graves had told Fielden that Davis

National Cotton Council official says that a proposed increase in cotton producer assessments to add funds for industry research and marketing promotion "has the support" to be approved.

Herman Propst of AFTER AD HAS BEEN Anson, Tex., the vicechairman of the Producers Steering Committee for the Cotton Council, said Tuesday, "I feel the proposed ad- the ditional funding has the support to pass:

Propst and about 45 other cotton industry p.m. Friday for Sunday editions. It spokesmen told a Department of Agriculture hearing Tuesday that cotton is beginning to regain its share of the textile market, but more money is needed to retain and expand it.

The hearings are part of an effort by the USDA to hear cotton growers' comments on the possibility of an increased producer assessment

Depending on the growers' opinion, the USDA may call for a referendum late this year on the proposed a'ssessment of four tenths of one per cent of the gross sale price of each bale

Another industry spokesman, Donnell Echols of Lamesa, Tex., said, "The producers are very much in favor of the added funding. It's somewhat of a foregone conclusion that we should increase the amount of the assessment.

He added. "The only question is the amount of the rate and whether it is 42 HOUSEHOLD GOODS a percentage or another 43 SPORTINGS GOODS flat rate per bale assessment.

If the assessment is 47 GOOD THINGS TO EAT approved, cotton growers | 48 FROZEN FOOD LOCKERS will continue to pay the $1 per bale that now goes for promotion and research. MENT Echols said

Echols said the proposed additional assessment of fourtenths | SOILFIELD SUPPLIES of one per cent on the STFARMEQUIPMENT gross sale price of each bale is favored by MAPARTMENTS FURNISHED producers, while others 61 APARTMENTS UNFURNISHED in the cotton industry, 62 HOUSES FURNISHED such as merchants, might favor another fixed figure per bale assessment.

Billy W. Golden of Seymour, Tex., treasurer of the Cotton Board, 69 HUNTING LEASES testified that cotton's "most compelling problem is to hold and fill its market.

He pointed out that the cotton industry is far behind the synthetic fabrics industry when it comes to research, advertising and promotion.

He said the synthetic fabrics industry last year spent $60 million in advertising while the cotton industry spent only $3.4 million Synthetics also spent $230 million in research while cotton research was limited to $5.4 million.

E. Hervey Evans Jr., of Laurinburg, N.C. testified that the additional income would expand all levels of research and marketing programs with agricultural textile research getting an important share of the funds

just happens NEW YORK (AP) -

Sherry is among the oldest of wines. According to Rand McNally's "Entertaining With Wine," all sherries, which are made by a continuous blending of old and new wines, century after century, fall into two basic categories: the light, dry finos and the darker, robust olorosos. The vintner can't plan which type he will make the wine decides and develops for itself. The wine maker, according to the book, must simply watch, wait and accept.

Ali keeps title on disputed decision over Norton

NEW YORK (AP) - Muhammad Ali, the winner and still heavyweight champion of the world, will go into a huddle with himself during the next few days and ponder two alternatives affecting his remarkable ring career. At age 34, his skills diminishing, should he be content to retire on the negative note of his widely disputed 15-round victory Tuesday night over challenger Ken Norton?

Or should he try for one last, glorious hurrah-a repeat triumph over the hard-punching George Foreman—with a guaranteed price tag that could reach $10 million?

Midland directory. Texas leading Exterminators, Low,

"I BEEN thinking seriously of retiring," the weary champion said today, as he lay sprawled on a table in the visiting locker room at Yankee Stadium, admittedly hurting and his normally bombastic voice hardly rising above a whisper.

'I've whipped everybody I should whip. I got more nothing to prove. I am the champion. I keep saying maybe I ought to quit and spend more time with my kids."

Ali in Zaire, Africa, and The Philippines, came into the hectic dressing room and sat beside the prone titleholder. They talked in low and significant whispers.

"TO ENHANCE boxing's credibility, it is necessary now to call on the awesome punching power of George Foreman," King said. "He deserves another shot. I think an Ali-Foreman return bout would exceed any extravaganza yet staged in the boxing

Talk of a return bout with Foreman, whom he knocked out Oct. 30, 1974, in Zaire, quickened the interest of the somber Ali.

"I say I been thinking about retiring," he hedged. "But maybe in a few days when my back don't hurt so much and my hands don't feel so sore I will change my mind. So I don't want to make a snap decision right now."

Meanwhile, less than 100 yards away, over in the dressing room of the baseball Yankees, Norton, the defeated challenger, was venting his frustration on all within ear shot.

"I was robbed," he insisted. "I won 10 rounds, at least nine. The judges gave the decision to Ali because they see him making a lot of money for boxing.'

Judges Harold Lederman and Barney Smith each scored the fight 8-7 in rounds for Ali while referee Arthur Mercante had it 8-6-1. A majority of the newsmen-by random sampling-gave the nod to Norton. A loud of roar of boos came from the pro-Afi crowd when the verdict was announced.

Overrall, it was a heavyweight fight of little distinction. Here were two of the supposedly most powerful fighting men on earth -Ali at 221 and Norton at 2171/2-slamming away at each other for 15 rounds and hardly making a dent in each other's facade.

After the skirmish, in which there were no knockdowns and no visible blood. Norton suffered a bump under his right eye. Both men were red and bruised from the pounding but virtually unhurt.

Ali started out with a flatfooted, bore-in style as he promised, fell back on his familiar dancing routine in the middle rounds and held his own in some wild but futile hitting sprees at the finish. Norton slumped badly after dominating five of the first six rounds. Neither was a fighter in the Jack Dempsey, Joe Louis, Rocky Marciano tradition. Norton unleashed the harder blows. Ali, with his flicking left, landed more often. But they were marshmallow shots that hardly ruffled an eyebrow.

Boxing expects more blood and thunder from its heavyweights.

"I outfought him completely," Norton said afterward, not attempting to restrain the tears of disappointment. "I thought I whipped him decisively in our first fight and won the second fight although the decision went to Ali. I think I won this fight by a bigger margin than either of the others.'

The 31-year-old Norton, a rugged. picture athlete who towers 6 feet, 3 inches, broke Ali's jaw and won a decision March 31, 1973 in San Diego but six months later lost by a slim margin because of a last round Ali rally. Both fights were nontitle over 12 rounds.

Williams, Boulden honored

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) - Halfback Robert Boulden of Sul Ross and free safety Willy Williams of Austin College were named outstanding players of the week Tuesday by the Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

Boulden, a 5-foot-10, 180-pound senior from Hamlin, was named ofensive plahyer of the week. He gained 110 yards on 23 carries and caught a 35-yard pass for touchdown Saturday to lead the Lobos to a 14-10 victory over Monterrey (Mexico) Tec.

Williams, defensive player of the week, intercepted two Colorado College passes, recovered one fumble and had 14 tackles as the Kangaroos lost 31-14 in Colorado Springs. Williams also played as a wide receiver and caught a touchdown pass.

BOBSERVATIONS Split predicted for Tall City teams

By BOB DILLON

District 5-4A warfare opens Friday with four big games on tap as schoolboy football teams forget the fun and games and get down to the nitty gritty.

Last weekend was another good one for this corner as far as picking games was concerned.

Out of 30 games, 26 were correct for a per cent of 86.6 and on the season it reads 97 correct and 15 incorrect for a 78.8 percentage.

There ought to be plenty of upsets in the next seven weekends, especially in the Little Southwest Conference.

So without any more hesitation, here come the picks and they certainly won't win any popularity contests

ROBERT E. LEE takes on the Odessa High Bronchos in Memorial Stadium Friday in a game that shapes up as a dandy. The Rebels did a good job on allstate quarterback Darrell Shepard except for the 68-yard TD last year. The Bronchos haven't forgotten that game and are fired up for the Maroon Platoon. Going with the Rebels to post a narrow 20-16 win over the Red Hosses in a real headknocker. MIDLAND HIGH travels to Odessa for a date with the No. 3-ranked Permian Panthers in W.T. Barrett Stadium. Two years ago, the Bulldogs lost 6-3 on a blocked punt. The Panthers have only lost two games in the past seven years at home so have to go with Mojo to take a 28-13 victory...

SAN ANGELO and Abilene Cooper

open the tough 5-4A slate in Abilene and this one is always a great game. The Bobcats have beaten the Cougars the past two years in the final two minutes of play. San Angelo has a 1-2 mark but those two losses have been to good solid teams. The Concho Cats to take a 20-14 victory in P.E. Shotwell

ABILENE HIGH hopes to bounce back after two losses to Stephen F. Austin and Temple. The Eagles have too much speed for Big Spring's Steers. The Warbirds should breeze to an easy 27-8 victory over the Steers...

Other picks across the Lone Star State: El Paso Andress over El Paso's Tigers; Burges to take victory over Austin; Bowie over Irvin in a close one (Both are weak); El Paso Coronado to whip up on hapless Jefferson; Las Cruces Mayfield to humble El Paso Eastwood: Alamogordo, N.M. to beat Parkland; Amarillo in narrow win over Hereford; Caprock to nudge Borger; Amarillo Palo Duro to defeat Lubbock

Coronado Thursday night; Lubbock High over Odessa Ector Thursday; Lubbock Monterey to give Hobbs, N.M. another lesson in West Texas football; Canyon over weak Plainview; Denton to nip Wichita Falls Hirschi; Trinity Euless over Lewisville; L.D. Bell to upend Wichita Falls High; Arlington over Arlington Bowie; Arlington Sam Houston to take victory over Haltom; Richland over Burleson; Irving's Tigers over Carrollton-Turner; Irving MacArthur to post triumph over South Grand Prarie; Sherman over Plano; Longview to whip Nacogodches; Lufkin over Jasper; Tyler to trip Texarkana; Killeen over Bryan in close contest; Temple over Conroe in another dandy; Spring Branch Memorial to topple Northbrook; on Thursday; Houston Kashmere to post Thursday night win over Scarborough; Baytown Sterling over Forest Brook; Ball over Waco Richfield; Brazoswood to upend Clemens and San Antonio Lee to prevail over

Lee preps for OHS

Robert E. Lee Coach Jim Acree showed the film of his Rebels' 38-0 victory over El Paso Irvin and then turned quickly to the Odessa High Bronchos. Lee faces the Bronchos in Memorial Stadium Friday in the District 5-4A opener and the Rebs will also be celebrating hornecoming against best all-around high school athlete I have seen in my 23 years of coaching, " said Acree before the large crowd. Acree went on to say that Shepard can do everything well - run and pass and is a dangerous threat every time he has his hands on the football. "Their (Odessa's) fullback is also a fine athlete and Coach Dick Winder

Alamo remains unbeaten

Austin White of Midland shares first place with Odessa Nimitz in the 9th grade football standings after posting a 20-0 victory over Odessa Hood last

While White was blanking the Highlanders, Nimitz was posting a 37-8 victory over Edison Gold of Midland.

Midland Alamo leads the 8th grade standings with 3-0 record followed by Goddard of Midland and Odessa

Crockett with 2-0 readings. In the 7th grade football race, San Jacinto Green and Alamo Grey sport unbeaten records with 2-0 marks.

Seventh Grade action Thursday finds Goddard White at San Jacinto Green; Alamo Grey at Goddard Red and San Jacinto White battling Alamo Scarlet at Alamo with kickoff set at all three games at 3:30 p.m. San Jacinto White and Goddard White stand 1-1 while Alamo Scarlet and Goddard Red are 0-2 on the year.

All ninth grade games are set for Saturday this week with Austin White (3-0) facing Austin Orange (1-2) at Austin starting at 10 a.m. Bonham (0-3) battles Nimitz (3-0) at the Permian practice field at 2 p.m. while Bowie (0-3) tries Edison Purple (1-2) at Edison at 10:30 a.m.

Crockett (2-1) battles Ector (2-1) at the OHS practice field at 2 p.m. while Edison Gold (1-2) takes on Hood (2-1) at the Hood field.

In 8th grade games Saturday, Alamo (3-0) tries Hood (0-3) in Odessa at 10:30 a.m. while Crockett (2-0) is at Blackshear (1-2); Goddard (2-0) is at Nimitz (0-2-1) while San Jacinto (2-1)

The Gorman Panthers are in good position to move to the top of the Class B rankings this week in The Associated Press Texas schoolboy football poll. Gorman was sitting handily in second place last week when previous No. 1 ranked Chico took a 56-9 KO punch from Class A Muenster.

Gorman joins Sherman in Class 4A. Beaumont Hebert in 3A, Rockdale in 2A and Aledo in A among this week's No. 1 ranked teams.

While the Panthers are competing in Dist. 6-B with a 4-0 record, they could be leading Dist. 10-A they've beaten three 10-A members, including district favorite DeLeon. Gorman held DeLeon to three first downs in a 29-8 victory.

Chico dropped to No. 9 in Class B this week, one notch ahead of Axtell and newcomer Motley County, tied

By The Associated Press

Gary Green keeps harboring these thoughts of being a glamorous running back.

Each time Green mentions it, Baylor secondary coach Wade Turner breaks into a cold sweat.

"I joke with the coaches a lot but down deep in my mind I wonder if I'd be any good running with the ball," says Green, a senior from San Antonio.

There's one thing for certain. Green's pretty adept at knocking down passes, tackling ball carriers, and recovering fumbles. He did so well Saturday in Baylor's 34-19 rout of Illinois that the Bear cornerback was named The Associated Press Southwest Conference Defensive Player of the Week.

Green made seven solo tackles, assisted in four others, deflected two passes and recovered a fumble. "I should have had an interception, too, except I tried to play safe and fall to the ground with the ball and dropped the darn thing," said Green. "Heck, I'm never satisfied with the way I play. I felt I should have had two or three interceptions.

Turner said "Green has just about as good intensity and quickness as you'll find. The pros are really bugging us about him. He's a fine young man." The 5-foot-11, 180-pound Green runs 40 yards in 4.6 seconds and was a running back in high school.

Astros' J.R. Richard chalks up 19th win

By The Associated Press

James Rodney Richard feels his 19th victory is only a just reward.

"I feel I deserve to win 20," the Houston pitcher said after tossing a three-hitter and beating the Los Angeles Dodgers 1-0 Tuesday night, raising his record to 19-15.

"I've worked hard. I've suffered," said the hurler who goes by his initials, J.R.

"When I say suffer, I mean that I figured I should have come up to the big leagues earlier than I did. The only difference between my pitching now and when I first came up is that I've been given the opportunity to pitch," Richard said.

Two of the Dodgers' hits were by Steve Garvey, who now needs only two more to reach the 200-hit plateau for the third straight year.

"The sooner I get them, the better." Garvey said. "It's tough getting to the plate four times a game Houston scored the game's lone run in the first when Cesar Cedeno reached base on a two-base error by second baseman Dave Lopes and came home on Bob Watson's single. It was Watson's 100th run batted in of the season.

Burt Hooton, 11-15, took the loss.

Reds 5, Padres 4

Pete Rose's pinch-hit single in the eighth and Ed Armbrister's triple in the ninth pushed Cincinnati over San Diego. Padres starter Randy Jones suffered a muscle pull in his pitching arm. The injury to Jones, bidding for his 23rd victory, was not considered serious but could cause him to miss Acree also said that tailback Clyde Gary, who led 5-4A in rushing last year, should be at full speed after missing two games and quarterback Brad Wright may see some limited action Friday night.

"It will take a super effort for us to beat them. We will have to really be clicking in order to beat the Bronchos, added Acree.

Rose's hit scored Tony Perez from second base to snap a 3-3 tie. The Reds scored the eventual winning run in the top of the ninth when Perez singled and came home on Armbrister's

Giants 4. Braves 1

Bobby Murcer slammed his 23rd home run of the season and Chris Speier drive in two runs with a basesloaded single to give rookie Bob Knepper, 1-2, his first major league victory as San Francisco topped Atlanta. Knepper, 1-2, scattered five hits in six innings before being lifted for a pinch hitter. He also singled home the Giants' first run Tom. Paciorek doubled home the Braves' lone run in the sixth.

Cardinals 5, Phils 3

Hector Cruz drove in three runs. including two with his 13th homer of the season, to lead St. Louis over Philadelphia. The loss foiled Phils hurler Steve Carlton's bid to become a 20-game winner. Carlton is 19-7. Down 3-2. St. Louis took the lead in the fourth on Cruz' two-run blast in the fourth.

Mets 5-2, Expos 4-4

Ed Kranepool slapped a basesloaded single to lift New York to victory in the opener and Larry Parrish slammed his 10th homer as Montreal captured the nightcap.

Cooper tops Lee girls

The Midland Lee volleyball team dropped their first District 5-4A match of the year in the Lee gym Tuesday night by a 15-5, 15-13 count to Abilene Cooper.

Lee is now 2-1 in district play, and will travel to Big Spring Thursday. The Lee junior varsity also lost to Abilene Cooper, 15-10, 15-13.

A's rolling, Royals reeling

By The Associated Press

The Oakland A's are rolling...the Kansas City Royals are reeling. "They've got the momentum."

conceded Kansas City's Hal McRae. The respective directions of the American League West teams were more evident today, following Oakland's 1-0 victory over the slumping Royals Tuesday night.

That loss cut Kansas City's lead in the wild West to merely 21/2 games, giving comfort to Oakland hopes of overtaking the Royals in the homestretch of the 1976 baseball

"We're just not hitting," moaned Kansas City Manager Whitey Herzog, reiterating a thought he has voiced with some consistency in recent weeks. "Maybe we're trying too

The unfortunate Royals have turned a runaway in the AL West into a pennant race with their shoddy play of late-having lost six of their last seven games. With the opportunistic A's on a winning tear, the combined results have dissolved most of a hefty seven-game lead held by the Royals as recently as Sept. 21.

interesting tonight in the last meeting of the West adversaries this season. Larry Gura was nominated to stop the Kansas City slide against Oakland's Paul Mitchell. 'We can't afford to lose any now."

The A's can make things more said Oakland pitcher Mike Torrez, pointing to the obvious. "We all know that we just have to win again tonight and put more pressure on the Royals."

Sal Bando's seventh-inning home run and the two-hit pitching of Torrez, 16-11, provided the A's with their vital triumph. The A's, who have won five of their last six games, have five games remaining and the Royals have four left.

Bando, leading off the bottom of the seventh, drilled a 2-2 pitch over the left field fence. Kansas City starter Marty Pattin, 8-14, had allowed only three hits through six innings before Bando hit his game-winning shot. It was Bando's 27th homer of the season and his eighth against Kansas City.

The only hits off Torrez in his fourth shutout of the year were an infield single by McRae in the second inning and a single to left by Cookie Rojas in the fifth. The Oakland right-hander retired the last 14 batters in a row. The game was held up at the start by 62 minutes because of rain.

Bobby Grich hit a two-run homer in the 11th inning to give Baltimore's Wayne Garland his 20th victory in the Orioles' opening game with Milwaukee. Reggie Jackson's 26th home run keyed a five-run rally in the first inning which powered

Orioles 7-7, Brewers 5-3

Baltimore's second-game victory. The Orioles clinched second place in the East with their sweep.

Tigers 4-1, Indians 0-6 Willie Horton hit a home run and drove in two runs and Mark "The Bird" Fidrych pitched his fourth shutout of the year to lead Detroit to its firstgame victory over Cleveland.

The Indians won the second game as

Dennis Eckersley overpowered

Detroit with a sixhit, 12-strikeout performance.

Red Sox 7, Yankees 5

Veteran reliever Tom Murphy checked New York on one hit in the final four innings as Boston defeated the Yankees, spoiling Ed Figueroa's bid for his 20th victory of the season. The Red Sox clobbered Figueroa, 19-10, for 14 hits, including rookie Butch Hobson's seventh homer and Jim Rice's 25th.

Rangers 7, Twins 0

Toby Harrah slammed a two-run homer in Texas' six-run second inning and a solo shot in the fourth as the Rangers defeated Minnesota behind Gaylord Perry's six-hitter.

Tulsa's Alexander honored

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Giles Alexander, who considered dropping out of football last year because he wasn't getting to start regularly, was named the Associated Press Lineman of the Week today. Alexander, a defensive tackle for Tulsa, reached his career high Saturday as the Hurricane, in a highly defensive game, scored an upset 9-3 victory over Arkansas.

The 6-foot-2, 250-pound senior came to Tulsa from Jefferson Davis High School in Houston. He had been sought by numerous colleges and had signed a Southwest Conference letter intent with Texas where his father, in particular, wanted him to play. But Giles, who will be 22 years old Monday, changed his mind and signed a national letter with Tulsa.

"Boy, that'll make my dad happy." was his quick reaction when told of his selection.

Saturday Alexander was credited with six unassisted stops, helped on four others and sacked Razorbacks twice for losses. His performance ran his season statistics to 31 tackles, six of them for losses of 25 yards, and two fumble recoveries. Basically, though, the Tulsa coaching staff thinks of him as a quiet but thorough wall in the center of the line. His presence has forced opponents to go outside or to the air. "He has really improved this season," defensive line coach Jamie

Hunter said. "He has improved his agility and reaction. He always had good straight ahead speed. He is also an excellent pass rusher.

"Giles has helped close down the middle of the line which were were concerned about. And he puts pressure on the passer."

His coaches say Alexander is a definite pro prospect, having come on strong in the last part of the 1975 season and so far this year.

It was in the first part of last year when he was a split starter with older players that he became discouraged.

'He moped around a little bit when he didn't start," his coach said, "and thought about leaving."

Today he is "real glad" of his selection.
