SANTA IS IN TOWN! — Santa arrived in Muleshoe last Saturday afternoon and has opened his workshop here again this year to talk with the kiddies. Dolores Vinson and friend, Reba Manka, who was visiting here from Plainview were among the first to sit on the Jolly old gent's knee and tell him what they want for Christmas.

City, County Officers Kept Busy As Vandalism, Break-ins Hit Area

A rash of minor crimes, ranging from window-breaking to shop-lifting, hit the Muleshoe area over the weekend, keeping city and county officers on the jump.

It started with a gasoline storage tank at the Gulf Warehouse in the 200 block American Blvd. Thieves broke the lock off the big tank and stole an undetermined amount of gasoline sometime during the weekend.

Sheriff's officers said the haul was not believed to be great — "probably just the amount of gasoline they could haul off in small cans."

Then vandals hit the Peerless Pump Co. on U. S. 70 and State Highway 214 just north of town. They broke plate glass windows at the Peerless office, but apparently did not burglarize the place.

Windschild of a 1959 Ford, left beside the highway by Mrs. Prady Hanley when the automobile's engine stalled, proved the target of another act of vandalism. All the windows in the automobile and the windshield were broken. Her husband is in a Lubbock Hospital.

At the Co-Op Gin, vandals, possibly the same ones who damaged other property, struck at glass windows in the office, and also knocked out the windshield from a pickup truck parked outside the office. Rocks were used for these acts of vandalism, officers said.

Officers Elected Library Work Successful Continued Support Urged

The first annual meeting of the Friends of the Library was held Monday, 8 p.m. in the community room of Bailey County Electric Cooperative.

Officers for the coming year were elected as suggested by the nominating committee. They are: Melvin Evans, president; Joe Harbin, first vice-president; R. P. McCall, second vice-president; Mildred Davis, secretary, and Marie Lanau, treasurer.

Matilda Stiemmons, outgoing president, presided during the first part of the business meeting, before turning the floor to the newly elected president.

Mrs. Stiemmons expressed her appreciation to the many able and willing workers and officers of F. O. L. who were instrumental in laying the groundwork for the first year of a Muleshoe Area Public Library.

In her comment Mrs. Stiemmons said: "a great part of this fine year we have had can be attributed to the tireless efforts of the late Ola Belle Lamb and her work which was carried on by her daughter, Magann."

She challenged the group to continue their efforts in supporting the Library in the future.

Cotton, Despite Late Start, Still Due To Hit 100,000-Bale Mark

Bailey County cotton is late and part of it is "tough", but experts Wednesday said it will make 100,000 or more this year. One farm expert put it this way: "We're still thinking that we probably will gin 100,000 bales as compared with last year's 113,000 - bale output."

The "tough" feature has giners and farmers puzzled somewhat. A freeze that came late, still caught much of the cotton in the "green" stage but at first it had not been believed that the weather had done much damage.

Now, apparently, farm folk realize that the damage probably was greater than at first feared. Giners say the cotton is "hard to do anything with," and that it has not yet arrived at the stage where it reaches the gins in proper condition to gin.

One farm expert, in discussing the situation, said "late planted cotton has been hurt a little more by the freeze than we had expected."

He added that June-planted cotton had a top crop that appeared to be fairly mature. The gradual frost conditions should have opened most of this crop. It now appears that the hard freeze will result in a relative small boll in the top which will ed cotton ending up with many not open."

Moisture, he said, is the main factor in the trouble. Gins desire a 5 to 8 percent moisture.

Tax Guides In Adams Office

The 1965 edition of the Farmers Tax Guide is now available through the County Extension office, says J. K. Adams, County Agricultural Agent. These guides include explanations on almost every phase of tax that farmers encounter. Examples showing computations and how various options are handled are also explained, points out Agent Adams.

Of particular interest to our farmers are the changes that are available for the 1964 tax year. Some of these include: (1) Income Averaging, (2) Carryover of Charitable Contributions, (3) Capital Loss Carryover, (4) Investment Credit Recapture, (5) Minimum Standard Deductions, and (6) Medical and Dental Expenses Allowable for Taxpayers Over 65 years.

A knowledge of these changes and how they affect each applicable farmer is a must, says Adams, County Agent. The tax liability of each producer is completely dependent on how he or his "employed" tax filer utilizes these regulations.

The 1965 Farmers Tax Guide is available free of charge and can be secured through the county extension office.

'T WAS

Two weeks before Christmas when I looked at my car, the model was old, and had been driven too far.

The inside was ripped, the seat it was torn, the brakes didn't work and also the horn.

The windshield was busted, the old clutch was broke, the gas line was clogged and so was the choke.

I cried and I moaned and started to fuss something had to be done about my old bus.

So I went to Muleshoe Motor Co. and am now all aglow, like their ad said I got more for my dough.

Now I laugh at the Bumps and get mileage galore, my new car looks swell and here's something more:

Muleshoe Motor sold me my car on a long easy plan, my payments are low, I'm a happy man

As well as learning to be artistically creative, the classes have given the residents of this farming community a social fellowship which they seem to enjoy as much as painting.

About 17 are enrolled in classes taught each Monday afternoon and all day Tuesday. Some of these are from Morton, some from Circle Back, but most of them are from the Needmore area.

Mrs. Arnold has recently constructed a studio, 20 by 20 in the back yard of her home which is equipped with central heating and air conditioning, ample storage space for supplies and idea materials, a closet for the artist's smocks and a bath.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

ABSTRACTS

While driving around a lake, John and Mary saw a "For Sale" sign on a piece of lake property which they thought they could afford to buy.

They made inquiry of the owner and agreed on a price. They inquired about title and the owner assured them that he would give them an "abstract." They took the abstract, which was a fat book of papers, and the deed, filed the deed at the courthouse and thought no more about it, assuming, as many people do, that an "abstract" is an assurance of good title.

Some years later they went to sell to a buyer who was better informed. He insisted that either the abstract be examined and an opinion given by an attorney that the title was good or that the seller must provide title insurance. When they sought an opinion as to whether the abstract showed good title, they were dismayed to find that the title was not in good order, and that there would have to be a quiet title lawsuit to dispose of some flaws in the title before the buyer would accept it. Neither would a title insurance company write a policy of insurance for them without legal action to clear up the title.

John and Mary were astounded to learn that they were wrong in assuming that an "abstract" was an assurance of good title. An abstract is merely a record of every document which has ever been filed of record at the courthouse affecting the title to a particular piece of property. It may show good title or bad title, or no title at all. It is only a bundle of papers, as John and Mary discovered, which summarizes the state of the title. Its possession does not in any way assure good title.

Thus while one may be able to get possession and peacefully occupy a property with an unsalable title, difficulties will arise when the property is to be sold or mortgaged. To do so is only to postpone and perhaps increase the trouble and expense of clearing the title. It makes good sense to correct any title defects when you buy property.

COMMERCIAL RATINGS

Two Muleshoe businessmen have received their commercial ratings under FAA examiner Morgan Locker. They are Herbert Griffiths and Sam Damron. Damron and Griffiths have had quite a contest and lots of fun in the race for this rating and Damron quite often reminds Griffith that his was issued first.

Richard Stockstill, Earth and L. E. Mitchell, Levelland, have been issued their Private License by Examiner Locker.

Kenneth Lowe is a new student at Muleshoe Flying Service and Doug Shelby has made his solo flight.

Herbert Griffiths flew Kenneth Precure to Lubbock last week on business.

Mark Grimsley also made a business flight to Lubbock.

Bill Jim St Clair, Sam Damron and Jack Little went to Abilene by bus Saturday and attended the Andrews - Hershey football game.

At Abilene, following the game, the trio picked up St Clair's Apache which he had left there after being weathered in a few weeks ago on a flew on to Granite Shoals where they spent the night in St. Clair's cabin there.

They flew back to Muleshoe Sunday afternoon.

Billy Hodges made a dual cross country flight to Lubbock last week with instructor Morgan Locker.

While there, the student practiced landing at the tower - controlled field.

GALVESTON FLIGHT

Wilfredo Dela Cruz, 27, was flown to Galveston Friday by Morgan Locker of Muleshoe Flying Service.

Cruz was injured critically when he fell from a cotton trailer Wednesday on the Grover Greshaw farm.

Locker left the airport on the air ambulance mission at 8:30 Friday morning and although the flight was smooth except on a front encountered near Abilene which caused some icing.

Cruz stood the trip fine and was taken from the airport by ambulance to John Seely Hospital where he is being treated by a neuro - surgeon, Dr. Overton.

He was transferred from West Plains Hospital here to the Comanche by Singleton Ambulance service.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Of Law and Love

PARKING LOT LAW

If you drive a car, you probably have frequent occasion to use a parking lot. But what may be a handy convenience for you may also be a happy hunting ground for the car thief. Do you know your rights in case your car is stolen?

By and large, the law divides parking lots into two basic types. Let's consider them separately.

TYPE "A" LOT

At this lot you pay your fee and park the car yourself, keeping the keys. You have a right (exercise it!) to lock the car, and you may drive out without handing in any ticket.

Legally, this is a kind of quick lease. You are paying for the temporary use of a parking space, but not much more. Thus, a man whose car was stolen from a Type "A" lot (at a ball park) failed to collect damages for his loss. Under such parking arrangement, said the court, a car owner could hardly expect the management to keep a keen lookout for thieves.

In short, the primary responsibility for the car continues to be yours.

TYPE "B" LOT

At this lot you leave your keys in the car, so the attendant can park it for you - and move it around in your absence. Furthermore, you get a ticket which you are supposed to turn in when you leave.

This arrangement is called a bailment, and its vital element is the transfer of possession to the management. With possession goes responsibility. Now you are paying not only for the use of a parking space but also for a reasonable amount of supervision and safekeeping.

Thus, a man whose car was stolen from a Type "B" lot (at a busy intersection) won full compensation from the management. The court found that the lot had too little fencing and too few attendants for safety.

What about all the small print - or large print for that matter - on the ticket you get? If the ticket says "Not Responsible For Theft," does that automatically black your claim?

As a rule, the law frowns on efforts by parking lot proprietors to dodge responsibility for their own negligence. Proprietors have had a measure of success, in some states, in putting a dollars - and - cents limit on their liability. But generally they do not get off scot - free, no matter how plainly the ticket might say so. Courts feel that such tough terms, imposed on the relatively helpless motorist, are just too unfair to be enforced.

TIPS...

FROM THE OFFICE OF HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT

Combination washer - dryers offer some advantages over the separate units for some families. Some of the advantages are:

1. Space requirements are cut in half.
2. Less time needed for handling clothes.
3. Your time is free for doing other things as the washing and drying cycle will be completely finished without assistance from the operator. Simply load and set for the wash and dry desired.
4. Short cycle required to complete the cycle since no time is required to change clothes from washer to dryer.

Washer - dryer combinations may be operated for either washing or drying without the complete cycle being used.

There are some disadvantages to the washer - dryer combinations, too. Some of these are:

1. More time required if the total laundry for one week is done in one day. Clothes should be sorted and a load done each morning or as needed.
2. Slower spin speeds used by some brands which are not as efficient in removing water from the clothes, making for longer, more expensive drying periods.
3. A breakdown in either unit might deny you the use of both units.
4. Repairs may be more expensive because the mechanism is more complicated.

Study your needs and make your decision based on sound facts.

Beef ---

He has worked with commercial and registered breeders in that area and has carried on a very active education program in beef cattle production.
The shortcourse at Muleshoe High is scheduled to begin December 14 at 8 p.m. in the High School.
During the dates the shortcourse is in progress, Holtzapple will be available to assist cattlemen with individual problems and to provide on-farm instruction, according to Bickel and Bray.
Cattlemen interested in attending the shortcourse should write or call the Vocational Agriculture teachers at the High School.
An entry fee of $2. will be charged.
Beef cattle shortcourse certificates will be presented to each cattlemen who attends all the training sessions.
Holtzapple says the field of beef cattle production must take a close look at efficiency of production in the future. With land prices, feed and taxes rising, the producer is meeting more and more competition for the consumer's dollar at the meat counter.
From the economic view of the beef cattle business, there is every indication that in comparing the producer of yesterday and the producer of tomorrow, beef must be produced to sell cheaper in order to be a profit-making business. Holtzapple indicates that the beef cattle shortcourse will deal with methods of producing beef at a lower cost and the way of producing the kind of beef that the housewife wants to buy.
He also says that the course will include such important fields as the meat-type steer, selecting bulls and replacement heifers, proper range use, and supplemental winter feeding. The course can be changed to meet the wishes and interests of the farmers and ranchers enrolled.
Shortcourses in beef cattle, as well as in other areas, are now available to farmers throughout the state under the cooperative program between and Texas A&M University.
Prof. Bob Jaska, associate professor, Department of Agricultural Education at Texas A&M University, who coordinates the program for Texas A&M.
"This cooperative program," states Jaska, "is designed to make the services of specialists available to conduct shortcourses under the supervision of public schools. Such a program will enable teachers of vocational agriculture to provide improved educational services to farm people."
Specialists are now available in the fields of beef cattle, insect control, farm management, farm electrification, arc welding, swine production, tractor maintenance, dairy science, pasture, and oxy-acetylene welding.

Charged was Jack Bickley, a barber, who told officers he was moving from Wichita Falls to Clovis to start work. A horse trailer he was hauling behind his car was loaded with barber equipment. Officers said he forced "several" automobiles off the road before he was apprehended.
He was given three days in jail and fined $100 and costs. His driver's license was suspended for six months.
Ruel Trevino, 18, was arrested and placed in jail here, charged with theft and aggravated assault with a knife.
Still another case filed during the weekend involved an alleged shoplifting act at C. R. Anthony's store. An Earth woman was fined $30 and costs by County Judge Glen Williams after she pleaded guilty Monday to taking two dresses valued at $14.98 each.

content for the crop.
The county has slightly over 100,000 acres planted to cotton and a 100,000-bale yield would mean an average of a bale to the acre approximately. On the other hand, some farmers are reporting a yield of as high as one and three-fourths bale to the acre.
Last year's yield was 113,000 bales.
Meantime, in the South Plains area as a whole, cotton business was on the increase, USDA's Lubbock office reported.
This was indicated by a sharp increase in the number of samples received at the three South Plains classing offices during the past week.
W. K. Palmer, who is in charge of the Lubbock office, said ideal harvesting conditions last Thursday enabled farmers to get into their fields and begin stripping their cotton. The three classing offices received about 50,000 samples daily during the past week.

"We took one big step in 1964 and now let's take another in 1965," the Rev. J. Frank Peery, chairman of the Board of Trustees said, "and to do so, we must look back over the many things which have been accomplished. Maybe they are not everything we had hoped for at first, but we do have a building, an open library, and a means of support through the F. O. L., Memorial Funds for new books, and contributions from area clubs and organizations, the support of the County and City.
In financial reports, Opal Pooth, treasurer, reported a balance of $767.13 and a balance of $2,528.94 was reported in Memorial Fund by Rev. Peery.
Librarian Ann Camp gave a report on books recently purchased and totals checked out during a month's period. A total of 1,799 books are on the shelves, plus more than 190 magazines, periodicals and other materials not counted and processed, yet are available for public use.
Mrs. Camp expressed her appreciation for the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts for their work and support during the past year and the F. T. A., group who assisted with office work and typing which is so badly needed.
It was brought out that the AAUW sponsored Children's Reading House last summer was very successful and the request came, quite frequently from the children for another such hour.
Although Mrs. Camp realizes this would be of vital importance and benefit to our area children, she does not have the time, without assistance to conduct such a program. She offered her assistance and full cooperation to any group, club or organization who will volunteer to sponsor this Children's Reading Hour.
In the Librarian's report, it was learned that although the Muleshoe Area Public Library is concluding its first year in successful operation, in comparison to other towns the size of Muleshoe, our Library is open more hours to the public than any other. The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has what probably is an unscientific view in his letter this week.
Dear editor:
A bunch of us was sitting around talking about that rocket the United States has launched to Mars and wondering how much figuring and calculating it took to aim it in the right direction, considering the fact the earth itself is twisting and hurtling through space at the same time, making the job sort of like trying to hit a racing animal from the back of a pick-up truck bouncing over a pasture, using a boomerang for a weapon.

"It sure takes perfect timing," somebody said.
He's right, and personally I take my hat off to the scientists who're doing it.
For example, you know of course it'll take about eight months for the rocket to get within television range of Mars, and you realize what time of year that is? It's July, and this is another example of perfect timing.
With the Russians also having a rocket sailing in that direction, July is positively the best month of the year for the finish, the month that has the least competition from anything else. Obviously, you weren't going to catch those scientists timing the climax during the fall football season, during the winter basketball season, during spring baseball practice, or during the late summer of the major league games.
July was exactly the right month to get the people's undivided attention, and I look forward to the time, if it's handled right, and we can get a few more nations taking up the sport it'll be a real shot in the arm for the dull summer month. We'll need three or four more, though, to make it a real contest. How much attention would football get if only Harvard and Yale were playing."
Once the other entries are signed up, the sport has almost unlimited possibilities, as we'll never run out of planets to race to. There are billions of them out there. This is exactly what July needed.
Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Chandor Plans European Trip: Liked "Pete" Too

Col. Peter Chandor, author of a number of English-published books, left Muleshoe Wednesday for his home in Dallas.
In an interview with Col. Chandor, he expressed his appreciation for the many friendly people he met in Muleshoe with the Journals and said he would take their warm memory with him on his forthcoming trip to Europe.
Among his most pleasant memories, will be "Pete the Mule" for whom a statue is being erected and Europe will also hear greetings from that "Ole Pete" of Muleshoe, Texas, from Peter as he travels through abroad to see his grandchildren whom he has never seen; two of which live in Europe and another in Africa.

When the old fellow himself will be on hand to greet his many admirers and to find out from the mwhta they would like for Santa to bring them this year.
Hundreds of youngsters, both in and out of the parade, cheered as Santa came to town in a red and white airplane. The plane was towed by a jeep at the end of the procession with the familiar white-bearded figure standing on the wing and waving.
