A district court jury, picked Monday afternoon from a list of 72 called for possible service on civil courtcases, came back to start its work Tuesday morning only to learn that the case scheduled for trial had been settled out of court.

Previously all other cases on the docket had been settled, and District Judge Pat Boone dismissed all other potential jurors to wind up the present term of civil court.

The judge also announced that he was cancelling a scheduled term of criminal court, originally docketed for Jan. 18. He is attending the inauguration ceremonies for President Johnson that week, he said.

Business Total Up Slightly Over 1964

Bailey county had more businesses at the end of 1964 than it had at the start of the year, says Charles L. Swanson, manager of the Amarillo-Dun & Bradstreet office.

Altogether, Bailey county had 213 manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers in the county at the start of the new year than it had at the same time last year. On Jan. 1, 1964, the county had 200 such businesses; thus the gain amounts to 6.5 percent.

The report showed that total businesses in Lamb county declined for the same period, dropping from 500 to 492 businesses as of Jan. 1, 1965. This was a 1.6 percent decline. Swanson said this month Dun

'64 Building Program Here Topped $2 Million

Muleshoe building boomed to the $2 million mark during 1964, best estimates indicate.

And this does not include the schools' $9 million building program which barely got under way during 1964, that project will be included in the 1965 building total.

Muleshoe does not require building permits. (A permit ordinance possibly will be passed in 1965).

Without building permits it is impossible to figure construction. However, the city requires a plumbers permit for work done on both old and remodelled houses.

City Manager Albert Field said 38 such permits were sought during 1964 for what he considered new construction. This would mean in the neighborhood of 60 new homes.

Not included also within Muleshoe Proper is the Morrison additions, Morrison Construction Co. figures Wednesday that firm had built 20 new homes in 1964, having a retail value of $450,000. That company figures that 50 homes were built last year in Muleshoe proper.

Field said that the estimate of 38 new homes constructed last year also was based on new water connections. However, he pointed out that some of the connections were for multiple-family use, such as mobile home parks and at least one of the new apartment houses built here in 1964. This would indicate that considerably more than 38 families moved to Muleshoe last year.

A number of major construction jobs were started last year, including new church structures and several new store buildings in Muleshoe and in the surrounding area. Some of these projects are not yet complete, and like the school construction program will be counted in 1965's building program. Among these is the First Methodist Church's annex which is still in the foundation stage. (See BUILDING, Page 4)

Chase Ends In Tatum

A high-speed chase Monday from Bailey county to Tatum, N. M. by Sheriff Dee Clements resulted in the arrest of an 18-year-old youth, Manuel Salas Jr., Muleshoe.

The youth is in Bailey county jail, charged with forgery. Clements said he had word that the youth was hiding in a house near Stegall. The sheriff together with the man to whom the check had been given, watched through field glasses until the youth came out of the house, got in his car and drove away. A chase followed that led into New Mexico.

Officers in Tatum, contacted by radio, picked up the trail and captured Salas as he came through that eastern New Mexico town.

The youth was alleged to have given the check in Muleshoe Sunday afternoon.

Retiring Muleshoe Road Man Met Some Wonderful Folk

Roy White wound up 35 years of highway work Dec. 31, and they were "pretty wonderful years."

There was a little final dinner for him, given by the Ike Stinsons, and Roy talked about his 35 years of road work. "A lot of the work was just pure routine," he recalled. "But there were some pretty interesting spots, too. Maybe quite a few of them," he summed up.

"There have been some fine roads built during those 35 years, and I'm glad to have a small part in the program. There's been lots of improvement and road-building during that time, and today's roads are a far cry from the roads that we had in West Texas 35 years ago."

White counts one his greatest privilege the opportunity "of working with some wonderful men and a fine bunch of county commissioners." Of those 35 years, he spent 14 with the State Highway Department and the last 21 with Bailey County.

White hasn't announced just how he will spend his time after active all his life to be content with "just sitting."

The Whites have four children, J. C. White lives here, Mary Joe (Mrs. Luther Clegg) lives in Lubbock, Jimmy Dale is in the Air Force in Germany and Jerry Bob White lives in San Francisco. All were reared in Muleshoe.

A BAILEY COUNTY FIRST - This is Miss Debbie Gustin, Lazbuddie, who was Bailey county's first baby of the year, born early Jan. 2 in Green Memorial Hospital. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Gustin who also live at Lazbuddie.

It's An Off Year, So Poll Tax Payments Lag Behind

Poll tax payments for 1964 are lagging far behind last year's sales, says Jean Lovelady, county assessor-collector.

"It's an 'off year' for elections," Mrs. Lovelady pointed out, "and that usually means a sharp slump in the number of poll tax payments made. However, this year's sales are even below the usual 'off year' payments."

Up until Monday, only 206 persons had paid their poll taxes, her office records showed. Usually by the end of the sign-up period, 1500 persons have paid their poll taxes or secured exemptions. Mrs. Lovelady explained. "And by this late date," she explained, "some 800 payments have been made."

Deadline for payment of 1964 poll taxes in order to vote in 1965 elections is Jan. 31. "And that means that folks have only about 24 more days in which to pay their poll taxes," she pointed out.

During national election years, Bailey county's poll tax payments peak at nearly 30%. More than 2700 paid poll taxes last year to be eligible to vote in national, state, county and city elections.

While this is an "off year" so far as elections are concerned, two local elections are included on the 1964 agenda here, and to be eligible to vote in either, poll receipts are necessary, officials pointed out.

Both these elections are slated for April, Muleshoe Independent school patrons will name two members to the school board on the first Saturday in April - April 3, Superintendent Neal Dillman said.

Places to be filled are those now held by John Smith and Ralph Douglass. Neither man has indicated yet whether he will seek re-election. The board is expected to call the elections officially at its February meeting, Dillman said.

The city has slated an election for Tuesday, April 6 - the first Tuesday in April, city officials reported.

Two city council positions are to be held - one now held by Rudolph Wedebush and the other by Matt Dudley. Neither has yet announced for re-election.

In addition to the school and council elections, there is always the possibility of a bond election. (See YEAR, Page 4)

RETIREES - Roy White, a highway worker for 35 years, retired Jan. 1 and he's going to "miss some of the wonderful people I worked with during those years." Here he and Mrs. White look at a picture folder of their four children.

New Books Arriving At Library: Obtained Through Memorial Funds,

Muleshoe Area Public Library receives many new additions by Memorial gifts:

These books are ordered on the basis of: first — request of family preference; 2nd — Needs of Library and 3rd — special request and popular demand. It is impossible because of volume orders to tell whose name goes in which book, but we sincerely hope our selections are each and every one good, and satisfactory to the donors. This is a wonderful program which enables the Library to add new and up to date books from time to time.

A Memorial plate is placed in each book with the name of the donor, and the name of the one for whom it is given. Several hundred books have already been ordered and more to come. If you would like to place a book on the Library shelves in Memory of a Loved one or friend, you may see or call Rev. J. Frank Peery for the details.

These are a few of the many given in memory of Mrs. Gil Lamb.

Exodus by Leon Uris; For Your Eyes Only by Ian Fleming; The Spy Who Loved Me by Ian Fleming; The Bridge Over the River Kwai by Pierre Boulle; My World's the Stage by Amelia Walden; Ceiling of Amber by Elizabeth Ogilvie; Somebody's Sweetheart by Rebecca Marsh; The Year Santa Went Modern by Richard Armour; Shoes for Punch by Jocelyn Arundel.

Non - Fiction:

Manners to Grow On by Tina Lee; Moving into Manhood by W. W. Bauer; Comparative Guide to American Colleges by James Cass et. al.; How to get Money for College by Benjamin Fine, et. al.; Parent's Guide to the New Math by Evelyn Sharp; The Secret of Happiness by Billy Graham; Living by Faith by Faith Baldwin; The Story of Rocks by Dorothy Shuttlesworth; Learning to Paint in Oils by Les Daniels (illustrated step by step) Painting Materials and Techniques by Frederick Taubes; Drawing Lessons for the Masters by Robert B. Hale; My 55 ways to Lower your Golf Score by Jack Nicklaus; Football - Texas Style. An illustrated History of the Southwest Conference by Kern Tips; The Complete Works of Shakespeare; The Wounded Land; Journey through a Divided America by Hans Habe; Good for a Laugh by Bennett Cerf; No One Must Ever Know by Betty Martin.

Donated by Rev. and Mrs. Charles Grow: Throne of the World DeWohl, Louis; Double Decker (mystery) Ambler, Eric; Crooked House (mystery) Christie, Agatha; The Enormous Room, E. E. Cummings; Bible Readings for the Home Publ. by Review & Herald; Publishing Co., The New Dictionary of Thoughts (Quotations) — Compiled by Tryon Edwards, D. D.

Given in memory of Mrs. Beulah B. Perkins, all of religious nature.

All of the Women of the Bible by Edith Deem; Prayer Changes Things by Charles L. Allen; Bible Story Book (312 stories from the Bible) with 179 illus. & 4 animated maps; The Lord's Prayer (An interpretation by Ralph W. Sockman) Bible Handbook by Henry H. Halley (an abbreviated Bible commentary; recent amazing archaeological Discoveries. How we got the Bible, an Epitome of Church History, and Selected Bible verses); Bible Atlas (40 new full color maps, 300 photographs, is a contemporary picture of Bible Geography); Handbook of the Bible by Donald Demaray; (with thousands of interesting facts)

All these were given by children and grandchildren of Mrs. Perkins: the Harpers, the Fertons and the Perkins family and also Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Birdsong.

Donated by Mel Evans of The Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge: 22 very interesting pamphlets relating to the National Wildlife Refuge System. The heading on one bulletin is "Interior Department Steps Up Fight to Save Near - Extinct Wildlife" — and released a long list of fast vanishing American birds, mammals, fish and reptiles.

Of the extinct species, about half have vanished since 1900. It was interesting that the Plains grizzly bear disappeared.

ed around 1895. Also of interest to hunters is pamphlet on how to identify ducks from a distance.

Magazines were donated this week by Mrs. O. M. Jennings, Tom Hunke, and recently by Mildred Davis. We receive regularly the Boy's Life, donated by The Boy Scouts, and several religious monthly publications, among these: "The Christian," the "Megido Message", and "Methodist Woman". I mention these because I feel that they may be of great help to teachers, and church workers in the various denominations.

Do you know of someone who has done a heroic deed? I received The Annual Report of the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission today: which gives listing of Heroic Acts during 1964 which were reported to the Commission, and shows the awards given each. An example: Mac Williams, an electrician aged fifty - six entered a burning building and attempted to save Mrs. Johnson and her daughter from the flames. He was unsuccessful in his attempt. (He had entered the building, which was a wall of flames, two times to search). He sustained a number of severe burns and was unable to work for eleven months. The Carnegie Commission granted him a bronze medal for his bravery, and disbursement benefits of $1,000 and until further notice he will receive $100. a month. I think there are probably many acts of unselfish heroism performed that are never reported, and never properly rewarded. If you know of some such act, information on how to apply for awards and, or benefits may be obtained from your Muleshoe Area Public Library.

Many are taking advantage of the valuable information that may be obtained from the Library, many are reading for pure pleasure. You may open your future - Read, Try it, you may also like it — Know what you talk about — Read! Happy reading in 1965!

 One builder, in summing up the situation, called 1964 "one of the biggest years construction-wise in Muleshoe's history," and he predicted the building trend will continue well into 1965. "I think," he said, "that we are still a long way from the saturation point in the matter of homes. Rentals are still scarce, and as long as that condition exists, housing construction will continue to be brisk."
 Practically all the new structures are masonry.

Lamb Tells Club Of Own Problem With Alcoholism

Family, friends, religion—all are needed to help a victim of alcoholism to recover, Gil Lamb, manager of KMUL, told Muleshoe Rotary club Tuesday at its luncheon. Lamb, who took his last drink more than a dozen years ago, said a program on alcoholism by civic or church groups could help young people avoid a drinking problem, and he urged a program to let the people know the facts about alcoholism. Jails for alcoholics is not the answer to the problem, Lamb said.
 Lamb gave a sketch of his own battle with alcoholism over a long period of years. Now he is trying to help others. "People who helped me told me to help others with their problems," he said, "and I do that at every opportunity."
 Guests at Monday's meeting of Rotary included N. W. Payton, Texaco; Pewee Williams, Don Harmon, Robert Hooten and Darrell Turner.

It was announced Tuesday that the Rotary directors will meet at Paul's Restaurant Friday morning at 7 o'clock.

Lutheran Women's Missionary Holds All-Day Meeting At Lariat

Thursday, January 7, the Lutheran Women's Missionary League of St. John Lutheran Church, Lariat, will hold an all day meeting to which all the ladies of the congregation and their friends are invited, reports Liz Kaltwasser, president of the Lariat league.
 The morning session which begins at 10 o'clock will be devoted largely to Bible study.
 The pastor of St. John, the Rev. Herbert F. Peiman, will speak on "Better us of the Bible in the Home". He will demonstrate how the use of modern study session include the use of ter understanding of many archaic words and expressions in the King James Version. "I would advise no one to completely discard the King James, but rather to enrich it by parallel reading from other translations," Peiman stated.
 Other points that will be demonstrated during the morning translations can give us a better Bible concordance and crossreferences, which are found in most Home and Teacher's Bibles.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR
 Editor:
 Here's an item we received in a roundabout way from the Corsica, S. D. Globe:
 Once upon a time there was an ant who worked hard all day in the fields. It was summer and the ant was busy cutting grass and dragging it home. The ant had a grasshopper as a neighbor. The grasshopper lived on commodities and other products of Boards and Agencies and sat in his doorway singing all day.
 When winter came the ant had a whole bale of grass. But the ant had violated the Federal Farm Law for overharvesting grass. He was fined $162.50 and the surplus was seized. The plus in exchange for his food stamps.

Southwestern Public Service Sets Elaborate Construction Program

Southwestern Public Service Company's 1965 construction and improvement program calls for an investment of $24,607,000 in new facilities, it has been announced by A. R. Watson, president and general manager of the electric company.

The company's construction plans for 1965 anticipate the second largest annual improvement program in the company's history, topped only by 1964's record investment of more than $30,000,000. At the conclusion of the 1965 program, the electric company will have invested nearly $120,000,000 in new equipment in the 1961-65 period.

"One year ago, when we announced a record single year construction budget, our forecast was for continued growth throughout our 45,000 square mile service area. Our optimistic outlook remains unchanged, as evidenced by the continued high level of new equipment investment we plan for 1965 and the years to follow. Inasmuch as we must begin our planning and construction to meet our customer's needs from 3 to 5 years in advance of their actual requirements, it is apparent that we anticipate continued economic expansion in our service area," Watson said.

A major portion of the electric company's 1965 construction budget will go for additions to its interconnected generation and transmission system, which includes 11 base-load electric generating stations which are linked together by a 4,000 mile network of high voltage transmission lines.

The additions to the generating capability include a 210,000 kilowatt unit to be installed at Cunningham Station, west of Hobbs, New Mexico. The Cunningham addition will be the second 210,000 kilowatt machine to go into service within the period of a year. Plant X, near Earth, Texas, houses the first of these giant generators, the largest single unit in service on the company's system.

The other generating additions to be completed in 1965 are gas turbine units to be installed at Borger and Pampa. These units will be located at industrial plants in each case, with the fuel to be provided by the customer.

At the Borger location, where natural gas will be purchased from the customer for fuel, the exhaust gases will be returned to the customer for use in his gases which are a by-product of the customer's manufacturing process will serve as the fuel for the new turbine.

"These 'tailored' installations of generating equipment are indicative of our responsibility to conserve the natural resources of the area we serve. In each case, there will be total utilization of the heat energy present in the gases, and all waste will be eliminated.

This, of course, introduces economies for us as well as the customer, and is the type of program we must carry on to keep the customer's price down by keeping our costs down. The benefit of this type of planning goes to all of our customers," Watson said.

1965 will see a continuation of convert the main arteries of a program started last year to the company's transmission network to 230,000 volt lines. The major voltage was 115,000 volts until this year.

Scheduled for completion this year are 230,000 volt lines running from Plant X to Cunningham Station and from Plant X to Nichols Station, northeast of Amarillo.

The 230,000 volt lines have 4 times the carrying capacity of the 115,000 volt circuits and their increased transmission capability ties in with the larger, more efficient generating units such as the two new 210,000 kilowatt machines to both improve service and keep it economical.

A 115,000 volt line is being constructed from Amarillo to Borger to provide the electric power for pumping the water through the aqueduct system associated with the Canadian River Dam. Load growth in the Hereford-Dimmitt area will bring the construction of another 115,000 volt circuit from Plant X to Hereford. This will "firm up" for many years the power supply in this growing region. "There is great satisfaction in being able to say to our customers once again as a new year starts that their electric service dollar is buying more than ever before. Three things make this record possible. First of all are the customers themselves, who are using more electric power than ever before. They make it possible for dedicated employees working with the most modern and efficient equipment to keep down the price of our service in the face of rising costs for fuel, equipment and labor", Watson concluded.

Hunters Paid $12,000 in Fines For '64 Abuses

The farewell 1964 arrest report for the Parks and Wildlife Department was a farewell to arms, at least temporarily, for some Texans, observe J. B. Phillips, law enforcement coordinator.

Now take the two chaps caught hunting deer with a bow and arrow while possessing fire arms.

Phillips declined to identify the pair to spare them, he said, from any reprisals by the may law-abiding archers.

Also there were the three persons caught hunting migratory birds in a baited area, definitely forbidden by federal and state statute.

Those were the hunting front runners but there was one oddity among the general infractions — the one person charged with skiing in an unauthorized zone. A few localized laws hold game wardens responsible for enforcing boat safety regulations.

Phillips said the total of $2,555.67 in fines and costs collected involved the age-old abuses. There were three cases calling for maximum $200 fines — two for hunting deer with artificial light and one for having an untagged deer.

The 404 violations involved 56, no hunting licenses; 29, head-lighting game animals; 24, hunting at night; 22, killing deer in closed season; 20 hunting from an automobile and 19, hunting in closed season.

The fishing scene was far from neglected as wardens utilized the late fall weather to check on angling developments. One hundred and four were charged with fishing without a license and ten were charged for using an electrical device to take fish.

Navy Will Defer New Enlistees

The U. S. Navy recently authorized the regular Navy Recruiting service to enlist men in the Naval service and defer ordering them to active duty for a period of up to 120 days. Each individual enlisted under this program will be enlisted for six years and be required to serve four years active duty in the Navy.

This new procedure will allow applicants currently enrolled in school, or who are employed, to complete school or continue employment for an additional period of time and still be completing a portion of their obligatory six-year military service.

The enlistment in the Naval reserve with a request for assignment to extended active duty exempts the reservist from call by the selective service system.

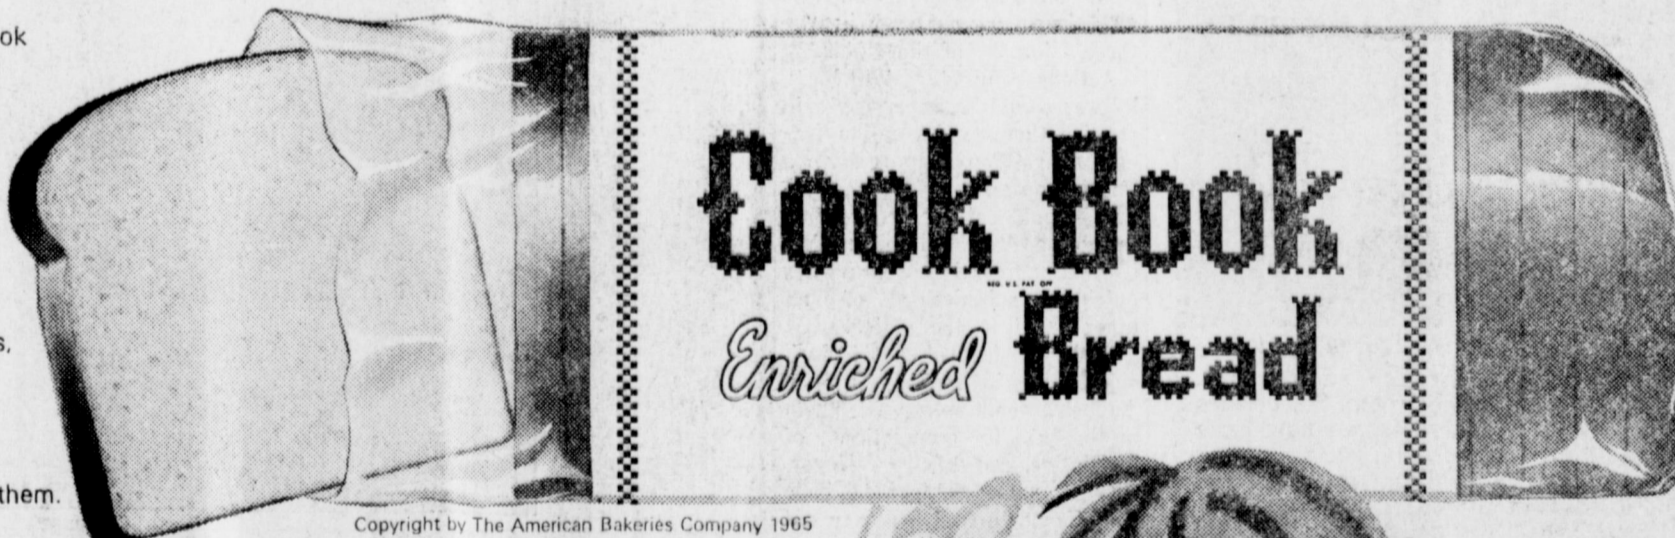

All young men desiring further information about this program should contact their local Navy recruiter at Clovis, N. M.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Texas Legislators will be back in Austin Jan. 12 to grapple with an array of problems which could keep them here throughout the summer.

Congressional and legislative redistricting, taxes and appropriations top the agenda of controversial subjects for the 59th session.

Many lawmakers feel they barely will come to grips with the redistricting issue before expiration of the regular session in May. Special sessions very likely will be necessary to settle this explosive matter in line with the one-man-one-vote theory laid down by court decisions.

Proposed expenditures for higher education and teacher pay raises look like top topics for debate in the spending area. Other legislation sure to stir strong interest and hot tempers includes horse race betting, oil and gas lease pooling, water planning and development, mixed drink sales and judicial pay raises.

No significant change in the power structure of either house of the Legislature is likely. House Speaker Byron Tunnell is assured of another term and Lt. Gov. Preston Smith will begin his second term as presiding officer of the Senate.

There are only two new members in the Senate and 42 in the House.

CRIME RATE UP
Texas' crime rate jumped nearly 12 per cent in 1964, says the Department of Public Safety.

Rate increased from 2,261 offenses per 100,000 population in 1962 to 2,675 this year. This fact led a committee of Texas mayors to call on Gov. John Connally for advice as to action cooperate and urged the 10 mayors to have their city attorneys review proposed revision in the law.

Mayor Hank Avery, Texas Municipal League president, blamed the increase on crowded court dockets, loose bail bond procedures, easy paroles after short imprisonment, weakening of parental responsibility and separate trials for codefendants. Avery is mayor of Midland.

Dallas Mayor Erik Johnson and San Antonio Mayor Walter McAllister noted the high number of repeat arrests. Jonsson suggested that traffic violations fines be made offenses. He also proposed legislation to make it harder for persons charged with multiple crimes to be released on bond.

STATE SALES TAX
There is guarded talk in the halls of the State Capitol, by lawmakers who would rather remain anonymous for now, that the two-per-cent sales tax will be extended to cover grocery purchases when the 1965 Legislature meets.

State sales tax law passed three years ago brought in year which ended August 31. This tax accounted for 12 cents of every State revenue dollar. But expected demands on State resources — to meet teachers' pay raises, improvement of higher education facilities, and upgrading of other State services — is expected to be the trigger for making the sales tax applicable to groceries, heretofore exempt.

AUSTIN Just one year and four months ago, the state law establishing the office of Regulator Loan Commissioner — called the "Loan Shark Law" — went into effect.

Opening of that state office marked the end of more than 36 years of legislative battles over regulator control of loan companies.

Actually, that part of the law which provides for the licensing of those making loans of $1,500 or less, once they meet rather rigid licensing standards, didn't become effective until December 23, 1963.

Since that time, 1,800 loan offices have been licensed. Commissioner Frank Miskell says that 22 examiners have made a thorough check of the books and records of 724 offices.

Also, the agency's enforcement division has investigated 154 complaints by individuals against lenders. According to Miskell, 72 of the complaints involve alleged overcharges or refund shortages. But most of the investigations revealed that borrowers had not been overcharged. "They just woke up to the high cost of borrowing money."

Forty of the complaints involved charges of harassment or unreasonable collection efforts. Investigation of these led to the discovery that some complaints were unjustified. Also, some were beyond the jurisdiction of the Loan Commissioner. These have been referred to district courts.

Other complaints ranged from hip-pocket (unlicensed) lenders to concealment of facts that should have been revealed in license applications. At the close of the agency's first year of operation, all but four of the cases were classified as "settled."

Miskell says that the "big ones" the complaints that will be subject to public hearings and possible revocation of license will be coming up early in 1965.

OPTIMISTIC NOTE
Dr. Robert B. Williamson, research associate with UT's Bureau of Business Research, says Texas oil producers have grounds for cautious optimism concerning 1965.

He notes that while mid-December stocks of Texas crude were at the lowest point in 16 years, prospects for greater demand were in view. State crude oil production allowable for January was raised to the highest level in two years.

Williamson reports that the U. S. Defense Department, an important oil and gas customer, plans to increase its military purchases of petroleum fuels by three per cent during the fiscal year ending in June, 1965.

He points out that crude production rose one per cent the first 11 months of 1964, and oil and gas well completions also were up fractionally.

INAUGURAL INVITATIONS
Some 40,000 Texans have received invitations to the two big state political-social events of the season: the gala Democratic victory dinner on Jan. 25 and the inauguration of Governor Connally and Lt. Gov. Preston Smith on Jan. 26.

Party leaders hope to set new attendance and financial records at the $25 a plate dinner.

Speaking will be limited to a minimum for political functions, probably confined to Connally, Smith and House Speaker Byron Tunnell.

Inauguration ceremonies will be simple and brief. REDISTRICTING DELAY?

have not given up on thwarting federal court-ordered legislative redistricting on the basis of population alone.

Connally, Smith and Tunnell all have made known their support of efforts to amend the U. S. Constitution permitting state senators to be selected with consideration given to geography, as well as head count.

Tunnell was chairman of the resolutions committee, at the recent General Assembly of the States, which called on all states to petition Congress for a constitutional convention on reapportionment.

Look for two resolutions to be introduced on this subject during the 1965 session of the Texas Legislature.

One will call for a constitutional convention to consider an amendment reserving to states the right to determine makeup of their subordinate political subdivisions.

Another version map simply urge Congress to submit such an amendment for ratification by three-fourths of the states.

Actions by 34 state legislatures would be necessary to require Congress to call a federal convention. Apparently, a simple majority vote of Congress could set the convention in motion. A two-thirds majority in Congress is necessary for prompt submission of an amendment to the states.

Under a federal court decision, Texas lawmakers have an August 2 deadline starting them in the face for completion of legislative redistricting. Nevertheless, some continue to hope that they will find a way out through a constitutional amendment.

CHEVROLET—As roomy a car as Chevrolet's ever built.

When you take in everything, there's more room inside this car than in any Chevrolet as far back as they go. It's wider this year and the attractively curved windows help to give you more shoulder room. The engine's been moved forward to give you more foot room. So, besides the way a '65 Chevrolet looks and rides, we now have one more reason to ask you: What do you get by paying more for a car—except bigger monthly payments?

CORVAIR—The only rear engine American car made.

You should read what the automotive magazines say about the '65 Corvair. They're wild about its ride. They think there's nothing else this side of the Atlantic that can touch its styling. Texas Employment Report - Part III Lower Claims, Higher Collections Put TEC 'In Black' For Fiscal Year

A decrease of 12 per cent in the number of claimants paid benefits in fiscal 1964 combined with a 6 per cent increase in taxes collected from 79,550 covered employers enabled Texas' unemployment insurance system to finish the year in the black for the first time in eight years.

Figures released this week in the annual report submitted to Governor Connally by the Texas Employment Commission revealed that 238,000 individuals were paid $59,792,313 in fiscal 1964 compared to 271,300 paid $68,420,304 in 1963.

Though these figures reflect the favorable business climate of recent months and offer some encouragement after the steady decline of the trust fund balance from $302 1/2 million in 1957 to $237 million at the end of fiscal 1963, the report reveals that only the $7.8 million in interest drawn by the fund avoided a eighth successive deficit in fiscal 1964. While benefit payments exceeds net taxes collected by nearly $6 million, the net balance of the fund increased from $237 million to $238 1/2 million due to interest income.

In recent months the Texas Research League completed a study of the solvency of the Commission. The report to the Governor includes thirteen Commission recommendations for strengthening the fund based in part upon the League's study.

One of these is the recommendation that the maximum tax rate for experience - rated employers be increased from 2.7 to 4.5 per cent, allowing earned rates to move to 2.8, 2.9, etc. up to the maximum 4.5 per cent. The minimum rate would remain at .1 per cent, which 42.2 per cent of employers paid in fiscal 1964 while 12.2 per cent paid the maximum 2.7 per cent.

Another recommendation is that the period of disqualification imposed upon claimants unemployed as a result of quitting while still needed, misconduct connected to the work, or refusing suitable available work be for the duration of the period of unemployment and until the claimant has returned to work and earned eight times his weekly benefit amount.

The report reveals that the average amount to which claimants were entitled in fiscal 1964 was $289.30 per week for an average duration of 20 weeks, though claimants drew benefits for an average duration of only per cent of those filing claims lacked sufficient wages to qualify for benefits, while about 25 per cent of qualified claimants had sufficient wages to qualify.

for the maximum benefits of $37 a week for 26 weeks. Of the 350,700 individual placing claims, disqualifications were assessed against 3,713 claimants for refusing offers of suitable work, 42,037 for leaving their last work while still needed, and 18,744 for misconduct connected with their work. A number of others were among the 47,309 claimants placed in jobs by TEC offices, some before they drew their first benefit payment.

TEC claims examiners investigated 153,940 questionable claims during the year, and the determination made in 8,367 cases was appealed by either employee or employer. In 857 cases appeals decisions were rejected and the cases went before the three-man Commission, whose decisions may be appealed to the courts.

The report reveals that 1406 claimants were assessed penalties for filing fraudulent claims, with charges brought against 508 claimants. Of these 322 were convicted. A total of $129,995 was paid out on fraudulent claims and $171,391 on improper claims involving non-fraudulent misrepresentation or error. The fraud detection effort returned a total of 279,817 in refunds to the trust fund.
