

Lombardo Death Marks New Years Eve Change

NEW YORK (AP) — There'll still be a New Year's Eve this year, but it won't be the same for tens of millions of Americans and Canadians — for the first time since 1929 Guy Lombardo won't lead his Royal Canadians in "Auld Lang Syne."

The creator of "the sweetest music this side of heaven" died Saturday night in Houston's Methodist Hospital of a breathing problem associated with the pulmonary artery trouble for which he was admitted Oct. 27.

His wife, the former Lillibelle Glenn of Cleveland, Ohio, whom he married 51 years ago, was at his bedside.

Arrangements for a funeral service near his Freeport, L.I., home were being made Sunday.

Lombardo was 75 and had led a band for 63 of those years. He started at 12 with four other youngsters playing for women's clubs in London, Ont., his birthplace. He was named Gaetano after his father, an immigrant Italian tailor.

Lombardo and his brothers, Carmen and Lebert, moved their band to Cleveland in 1925 and Chicago in 1927. A younger brother, Victor, and a sister, Rosemarie, also were with the orchestra.

The Lombardo orchestra proved to be an unbroken success story for more than half a century, and for many people his New Year's Eve telecast was a traditional part of the holiday. Lombardo sold more than 400 million phonograph records and for the past 40 years never made less than $1 million a year.

This past summer, his revival of the Broadway show "Finian's Rainbow" at Jones Beach on Long Island took in $1.55 million, sparking what was rapidly becoming a record financial year even for the most successful big band in musical history.

Asked the reason for his perennial popularity, Lombardo once said: "It's simple. People like to dance."

The Royal Canadians had a bland, soothing style, which infuriated lovers of pure jazz and most critics of popular music.

Nevertheless, in 1965, during the height of the Beatles' popularity, Lombardo beat the English group at the box office, drawing larger audiences on one tour than the pop group had in the same facilities.

Lombardo admitted that not all the people loved his music all the time.

"We lose 'em in their teens, but we catch 'em up later," he once said. "Sooner or later we get 'em all and when we get 'em, we keep 'em."

A CBS official said Sunday the network received more telephoned inquiries about Lombardo's death than it did about those of Elvis Presley earlier this year or Bing Crosby a few weeks ago.

Some of his biggest hits were "Little White Lies," "Boo Hoo," "You're Driving Me Crazy," and "Seems Like Old Times."

Lombardo's death, however, is the final punctuation of an era of broadcasting. It followed by only a few months the passing of Ben Grauer, who did the New Year's Eve commentary from Times Square while Lombardo supplied the music heard from Montreal to Miami and Anchorage to Atlanta.

Some of his biggest hits were "Little White Lies," "Boo Hoo," "You're Driving Me Crazy," and "Seems Like Old Times."

"Auld Lang Syne" was the band's theme song long before Lombardo played it over the air on Dec. 31, 1929, from the Grill of the Hotel Roosevelt in New York.

"Western Ontario, where we started, was heavily Scottish," he said, "and every dance ended with the playing of that song."

The Royal Canadians played every New Year's Eve at the Roosevelt for year after year and, when the hotel announced his departure for the Waldorf-Astoria 13 years ago, Time magazine commented, "It was like Athens announcing the departure of the Acropolis."

Possibly because his music was so calm and soothing, Lombardo sought adventure in private life.

He was a speedboat enthusiast and won the Gold Cup in 1946. In 1948 he was severely injured when he swerved to avoid another boat that cut across his path.

One adventure he didn't seek: Gangster George Maloney shot two other hoods at Chicago's Granada Ballroom while Lombardo was broadcasting in 1927. This was the first killing heard coast-to-coast.

Cullen Davis Defense Trains Heaviest Guns On Priscilla

AMARILLO (UPI) — Two weeks into their case, defense lawyers for Fort Worth millionaire T. Cullen Davis have changed their approach.

In seeking to construct an alibi for their client — regarded as the wealthiest ever to stand trial for murder in Texas — defense attorneys have switched their target to Priscilla Davis, the defendant's estranged wife and chief accuser in the shooting death of her 12-year-old daughter.

Jurors have heard defense witnesses' allegations of drug use and sex involving two generations of Fort Worth society and subculture.

Prosecutors, however, prefer to describe the testimony as irrelevant, immaterial character assassination.

During 13 days of testimony last August, Mrs. Davis said she did not use, buy, sell or give away drugs such as marijuana, cocaine or heroin or permit them in the 19,000-square-foot mansion she retained during litigation of her divorce suit.

The only prosecution witness to indicate otherwise was a friend of the victim who testified that Mrs. Davis' youngest daughter, Andrea Wilborn, kept a marijuana plant in her bedroom. Dana Anold said she did not know if Mrs. Davis was aware of the plant.

But defense witnesses said cocaine, marijuana, amphetamines, LSD, amyl nitrate and other pills and capsules were stored, given away, snorted, smoked, inhaled and otherwise ingested at the Davis mansion and on outings involving Mrs. Davis, her friends, her teenage daughter, Dee, and Dee's friends.

Two young women testified they were teen-agers, when they accompanied Mrs. Davis, Dee Davis and their entourage to the Willie Nelson Fourth of July picnic at College Station in 1974.

After District Judge George E. Dowlen forbade name identification of drugs, Becky Ferguson, 22, and Valerie Marazzi Faulkner, 20, said plastic bags of white and brown powdery substances and a green leafy substance were common on the outing, made in a rented motor home.

Steve Sumner, the attorney who directed the defense investigation, said Mrs. Davis had left the impression she "did nothing more than drive these girls (Dee's friends) to Girl Scout meetings."

"That's the reason we're bringing in all these young girls (as witnesses)," he said. "Priscilla represented herself as nothing more than Dee's mother to these girls, and we hope to show a different relationship existed."

Sumner said the answer to prosecution criticism of the witnesses was "they're her (Mrs. Davis's) friends, not ours. None of them can say they were Cullen's friends."

Another defense witness, Malcolm McDaniel, 32, told of a party at the Davis mansion where "you could just walk up to anybody and get anything you wanted."

McDaniel, serving a 10-year probated term for aggravated robbery, testified he saw and smelled marijuana in Dee's bedroom, and observed nude swimming and group sex that "embarrassed" him.

Friend Says Mrs. Davis Wanted To Dump Farr

AMARILLO (UPI) — A convicted cocaine pusher and friend of Priscilla Davis has testified Mrs. Davis "wanted to get rid of" her lover, Stan Farr, and thought Farr was stealing from her.

Sandy Guthrie Myers, 27, also testified Saturday in the capital murder trial of T. Cullen Davis that Mrs. Davis told her "something heavy was coming down" less than one week before Mrs. Davis was wounded and her daughter and lover shot and killed.

Mrs. Myers said the discussion about Farr occurred in June or July 1976 at the Fort Worth nightclub Farr operated until his Aug. 3 murder at the Davis mansion.

"She felt he may have taken some things that belonged to her," Mrs. Myers testified. "She wanted to get rid of him. She told me she couldn't figure out how to but she wanted to get rid of him."

Mrs. Davis denied during her testimony she ever believed Farr stole anything from her.

Although District Judge George E. Dowlen refused to allow jurors to hear Mrs. Myers' comments about Mrs. Davis' boyfriend, he did rule admissible a hearsay conversation Mrs. Myers said occurred when she met Mrs. Davis at a doctor's office four days before the mansion shootings.

"She told me something heavy was coming down," Mrs. Myers testified. "We talked first about her divorce and my relationship with my husband and her health and then she told me something heavy was coming down and she needed to talk to me."

Mrs. Myers said Mrs. Davis told her the subject did not involve her two-year divorce suit against her millionaire husband.

The witness said Mrs. Davis was nervous and intense during their brief conversation.

Mrs. Myers also testified outside the jury's presence that W.T. Rufner, Mrs. Davis' previous lover, once threatened Farr and Mrs. Davis outside their presence.

"He said, 'I'll get that tall s.o.b. and I'll get that —,'" Mrs. Myers testified Rufner said in March 1975.

Rufner this week denied threatening Mrs. Davis or participating in the shootings.

Mrs. Davis has identified her husband as the black-clad gunman who ambushed her and Farr and a family friend who arrived later.

Davis is being tried for the murder of his stepdaughter, Andrea Wilborn, 12.

Time Quality, Not Quantity Said Parenting Key

NEW YORK (AP) — Children whose parents both work and who spend part of each day with babysitters can grow up just as well adjusted as children whose mothers stay home all day, a Philadelphia psychologist told a seminar on two-career families Sunday.

"That's because when mothers are home, they really want to spend quality time with their children," said Margaret Baker, a psychologist who teaches at Chestnut Hill College in Philadelphia.

"Research shows that even the best-meaning adult can only spend a maximum of six hours a day in meaningful interaction with children," she said. "The mother who doesn't work spends a lot of time with extra activities, such as volunteer work and tennis, and often doesn't feel the pressing need to spend time with her child."

"Sometimes she doesn't spend as much time with her child as the mother who works. The important thing is the quality of attachment the mother has with her child. I don't think time is critical. What is critical is how she feels about the child."

Mrs. Baker said the minimum amount of time a mother should spend with a young child is two hours a day, "and a lot more time on weekends."

Mrs. Baker, herself a 35-year-old mother with a 14-month-old son, counsels families and children with psychological problems. She was speaking at the second day of a two-day conference on "The Modern Two-Career Family."

Government figures show that the percentage of mothers in the labor force who have small children has almost doubled since 1970.

By 1975, the latest year for which statistics are available, 36.6 percent of married women with children under six were in the labor force. Almost half of all married women with children under 18 work.

care centers and that a parent sending a child to such a center has less control over the quality of the care for the child. One advantage, however, is that a day-care center costs less than an individual babysitter, she said.

"Flexibility for the mother is important so that she feels comfortable with her child and doesn't resent spending time with him," the psychologist said.

"At day care centers, you have to fit into their schedules."

"One problem of these two-career marriages is that the parents tend to be perfectionists," Mrs. Baker said. "Just as they want to master the job, they want to master parenting. They want to be the best parents, and that tends to put a lot of pressure on the kids to perform."

One advantage, however, of two-career families, she said, is that the father in a two-career family tends to get more involved with a child and take over part of the parental functions.

"Fathers in one-career marriages have more traditional bread-winner roles and often spend less time with their children," she said.

NEA Reports 'Back To Basics'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A new "back to the basics" movement in schools has resulted in renewed attention to spelling lists, grammar, composition and multiplication tables, the National Education Association reports.

The association said a spot survey of teacher groups in the larger states showed the movement has become national in scope this year. The trend carries with it the suggestion education requires some hard work.

"We're back to telling students that learning may not be all fun," said one Fairfax County, Va., teacher.

"We're keeping some of the best things from the conceptual math, but we have found true what some teachers have been saying right along — there are some fundamentals that require dull work, such as memorization and mathematical computations."

Iowa Education Association President Bob Gilchrist said Iowa teachers never went very heavily into "so-called modern education approaches. Yet," he said, "there is a need for more basics due to societal changes and increases pressure on the schools."

Gilchrist suggested television and, to a lesser extent, broken homes have caused many basic reading fundamentals formerly learned at home now to be learned primarily at school.

An NEA official said Gilchrist was referring to the "homework problem." Some teachers now prefer to have students handle their homework in class under their supervision rather than compete with television at home, he said.

Lyle Hamilton, the NEA communications manager who talked to more than 50 teachers in conducting the informal survey, said the "back to the basics" movement was another pendulum swing in education.

"We went through this in the 1950s. Then, in the 1960s, the buggie, the obsession was whether the curriculum was relevant," Hamilton said. The concern was in making the subjects interesting and keeping the student happy.

"If the child liked the curriculum, if he felt good about what he or she was learning, that was it, in the extreme," said Hamilton.

"Now the pendulum seems to be swinging back more to 'look, there are certain things that have to be learned,' and whether students find spelling or grammar relevant or easy to learn, it has got to be learned."

Hamilton said when he was teaching 7th and 8th grade in the 1960s, he had a colleague tell him, "Don't worry about spelling or composition. Just worry about their creativity. Some day, he or she will wake up, that's when you teach spelling."

He said it hasn't always worked that way.

The NEA, whose 1.8 million members form the largest teacher organization in the nation, has issued a pamphlet for teachers and parents entitled "Learning Is Hard Work."

It reads in part:

Argument Set On Dismissal Of Student

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court is about to examine another phase of student rights at state universities: can a student who fails to measure up academically be dismissed without a hearing?

Arguments are scheduled for 9 a.m. CST today on the appeal of the University of Missouri from a ruling that it should have accorded a hearing to Charlotte Horowitz before she was told to leave the medical school at Kansas City.

The 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals said the dismissal stigmatized Miss Horowitz in such a way that she will be unable to continue her medical education and her chances of returning to employment in a medically related field are severely damaged.

As a result, she is being deprived of liberty under the Constitution and is entitled to a hearing, the opinion said.

The university also has appealed another 8th Circuit decision requiring recognition of a Gay Lib student group on the Columbia and Kansas City campuses. The justices have not announced whether they will accept that case.

"Learning is hard work. And the future of all of us — students, parents, teachers, the community at large — depends on it."

The ideal babysitting arrangement, Mrs. Baker said, is a woman who lives in the household or who comes to the house regularly and can give the child undivided care and attention.

BALMORHEA SCENES — The Comanche Springs Pupfish, a very rare species, can be seen in the canals which flow by the San Solomon Springs Courts at the Balmorhea State Park out in far West Texas. In the 1930s, the Civilian Conservation Corps developed one of the world's largest man-made swimming pools at what is now the park. The pool covers two acres and is constantly supplied with fresh spring water. (Correspondent's Photos)

Pupfish Add Splash At Balmorhea Park

By JEFF W. HENDERSON
A-J Correspondent

There is a good possibility Nessie of Loch Ness, Scotland, fame will be captured some day. We will flock to see her, for the odds are very good Nessie is a long-necked plesiosaur — an aquatic dinosaur thought to have become extinct some 40-million years ago.

You and I would probably stand in line for hours to see the last living specimen of a prehistoric woolly mammoth if suddenly one were discovered tomorrow and exhibited for public view. The last one died about 10,000 years ago.

What about a chance to see a passenger pigeon or the dodo bird? It was only recently they vanished. The American Bison (buffalo) and the Whooping Crane are slowly beginning to come back from the brink of extinction.

There are many animals on the endangered species list today — many of which we will never have a chance to see, especially some of the aquatic animals.

However, there is one place out in West Texas where you can observe the antics of an extremely rare fish — the Comanche (stylistic spelling) Springs Pupfish. Balmorhea State Park, between Fort Stockton and Van Horn on U.S. 290, is the only place where the average traveler can have a chance to see the pupfish. Balmorhea has been a mecca for far West Texans since the 1930s, when one of the largest man-made swimming pools in the U.S. was created at San Solomon Springs — it covers two acres.

The springs, which gush out some 22-26 million gallons of water a day, have been a site long known to thirsty travelers. However, if one of the Apaches or one of the troopers from old Fort Davis were to visit the springs today, he wouldn't recognize the place.

Up until around 1871, the area around the springs was very marshy. In 1871, canals were constructed through the marshes to drain them. The canals diverted the water to irrigate nearby farms.

Little did the early developers of the area know they were destroying the habitat of the Comanche Springs Pupfish.

It's strange, sometimes, that no one ever stops to contemplate how fish got in a spring-fed marsh which is about 100 miles from the nearest river.

The San Solomon Springs were dredged and further developed in 1926 by L.B. Nusterman. He deeded the land to the state in 1934, with the swimming pool and a recreation area being developed by the Civilian Conservation Corps. (CCC).

The state began a program to protect some of the wildlife, and the pupfish managed to survive, as did another species — the Mosquito Fish.

To the east of the springs, the state built an 18-unit lodge. Canals from the springs flow around the lodge, forming a natural habitat for the pupfish and Mosquito Fish. It is possible to stand for hours and watch the pupfish. Every now and then, you will see a fleeting shadow in the water — that's a tiny Mosquito Fish.

In a study released in May 1977, two biologists — Anthony A. Echelle (Baylor University) and Clark Hubbs (UT-Austin) estimated there were only 2,000 adult Comanche Springs Pupfish in the environment at San Solomon Springs.

Besides getting a chance to see the rare, two-inch long pupfish, Balmorhea offers the visitor a chance to get away from it all.

The swimming pool is a big drawing card, with visitors coming from as far away as Midland-Odessa and El Paso to spend the day swimming in the 76-degree water. Swimming rates are 50 cents for adults and 25 for children under 13.

The 18-unit lodge is an attraction also. "We have had families book every room for family reunions," said Jake Dameron, park superintendent.

It's easy to see why. The 3,300-foot elevation never seems to get too hot — the rugged Davis Mountains are just a few miles away.

The lodge features central heating, air-conditioning, TV and kitchenettes. The rates are most reasonable — $10 for the first adult, with a $2 charge for each additional adult and a $1 charge for each child between 6-13 years of age. Children under six stay free. Kitchen use is an additional $4, and you furnish your own utensils.

East of the lodge are a picnic area and camping facilities.

The park has five campsites with shelters, permanent tables and grills. And there are 28 multi-use sites with shelters, tables, grills, water and electricity. There is a restroom with showers located in the camping area.

For the recreational vehicle or travel trailer user, the park has a dump station.

The lodge makes an attractive place to stay while you spend some time at nearby Fort Davis (32 miles south on Texas 17), McDonald Observatory (about 50 miles to the south and west; you take Texas 118 from Fort Davis) or just fishing at Lake Balmorhea (two miles south of the park and stocked with catfish and bass).

The fishing lake is privately owned, and it costs $1.50 per person for 24-hour fishing privileges.

Reservations for the lodge or a camping site (it's difficult to get in without a reservation) can be made by writing to the Balmorhea State Recreation Area, P.O. Box 15, Toyahvale, TX 79786.

Balmorhea is a good place to "cool your heels." After all, it's not every day you get a chance to swim among exotic and rare aquatic animals.

House, Senate Conferees Seek Solutions

WASHINGTON (AP) — With most members of Congress gone from Washington for a three-week Thanksgiving holiday, House and Senate conferees will continue trying to resolve differences between the energy bills passed by the two bodies.

During the recess, several members of Congress planned to visit Panama to bone up for debate on the canal treaty, certain to be a major congressional issue next year. Senate Majority Leader Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., and eight or nine other senators were to head for Panama on Wednesday. Assistant Majority Leader Alan Cranston, D-Calif., said he hopes to go in January.

Several House and Senate members also plan to go to China in January, a trip arranged by the White House.

Energy conferees were to resume work Monday on the non-tax portions of energy bills passed by the House and Senate. Later in the week, a second conference group will begin working on the tax provisions.

The House passed most of Carter's energy proposals, but the Senate made major changes in some parts and rejected key provisions in others.

The non-tax panel will work Monday on President Carter's proposal to force utilities and factories to stop burning oil and natural gas and switch to coal.

Among items to be taken up by the tax conferees are a tax on crude oil and one on fuel-wasting automobiles. The House passed both, but the Senate rejected both.

President Carter planned to seek public support for his energy proposals by making a nationally televised speech on the subject Tuesday night.

Meanwhile, foreign governments were being told the President's four-continent trip was being postponed because of Congress' delay in completing work on the energy bill.

Also on Monday, a Senate armed services subcommittee will hear from Secretary of State Cyrus Vance an assessment of American-Soviet progress toward limiting strategic armaments.

The Senate was in session until early

Saturday completing work on legislation providing major increases in Social Security taxes to restore the financial stability of the system, which pays retirement benefits to 33 million Americans. There are significant differences between the Senate bill and the measure passed by the House. They will have to be resolved by a conference committee.

Guidelines for the use of federal funds to pay for abortions is another major issue left pending for action in December. So far, a conference committee has been unable to reach a compromise on the issue. The Senate supports federal payment for abortions under government medical programs in cases of rape or incest or when a woman would suffer "severe and long-lasting physical health damage" because of pregnancy. The House would permit abortions only when essential to save the life of the woman.

When Congress returns, it also will have to deal for the first time with a Carter veto. The President used his first veto Saturday to turn down a bill that would have authorized $80 million for the Clinch River breeder reactor project in Tennessee.

Carter said the project was "technically and economically unnecessary."

Environmental Body Criticizes Piecemeal Clean Air Approach

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Environmental Protection Agency should get away from the "chemical of the week syndrome" and set up a comprehensive plan for removing cancer-causing chemicals from the air, says a private environmental group.

In a petition to be filed with the EPA Monday, the Environmental Defense Fund said: "Present knowledge indicates that there is a definite link between pollution of the air by carcinogens (cancer-causing agents) and an increased incidence of cancer."

Robert Rauch, a staff attorney for the fund, said that for too long the public has been forced to stand by helplessly as one chemical after another was indicated as being potentially carcinogenic.

"Agencies such as EPA have simply failed to get on top of the problem," he said in a statement. "Even after the hazards associated with a particular chemical have been publicized, it may be months or even years before the government takes effective action."

The petition said evidence suggests there are large numbers of carcinogenic substances released daily into the air from diverse sources throughout the nation. It said the National Institute for Occupational Safety has identified some 1,500 agents as being suspected carcinoagens. Many of these substances undoubtedly are in the air, it said.

"Most of these carcinogens are present only in low concentrations," it said. "Taken in isolation, any one might seem insignificant. However, taken together they will have a major impact."

The present approach to regulation is on a case-by-case basis, with each chemical considered separately, it said.

The petition recommends a classification scheme placing air pollutants that have been shown to produce cancer in either man or animals in the first category. These would have to be listed immediately and removed from the environment as rapidly as possible.

Category 2 would include probable carcinogens for which insufficient evidence exists now to warrant regulating them like those in the first category. For these,

EPA would be required to do further testing.

Category 3 would cover possible carcinogens, based on their structural similarity to known carcinogens. Here, also, EPA would be required to do further testing.

The program is similar to one proposed last month by the Labor Department for controlling the more than 1,500 known or suspected cancer-causing chemicals now found in the American workplace.

200 Veniremen Called For Hughes Will Trial

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Two hundred prospective jurors have been summoned for the beginning Monday of a trial to determine if the so-called Mormon Will was the authentic last testament of the late Howard Hughes.

It is one of two scheduled this month regarding the purported will. A Houston probate court judge has set a Nov. 14 date for a hearing to determine Hughes' legal residence.

Texas, which could gain millions of dollars in inheritance taxes, claims the Houston-born celebrity was a resident there at the time of his death. Hughes' relatives claim he was a resident of Nevada, where he lived for several years. Nevada has no inheritance tax.

The large number of potential jurors was called for the Las Vegas trial because of anticipated difficulties in selecting a six-member panel to decide the validity of the three-page, hand-scrawled document.

Clark County District Judge Keith Hayes noted that pre-trial coverage by the news media has been extensive, and the beneficiaries named in the purported will also pose some possible conflicts in the selection of jurors. Additionally, Hughes' gaming and hotel empire here is the state's largest employer, and there is a good chance that several Hughes employees will be among the 200.

Hughes left a vast empire when he died April 5, 1976. An accounting of the estate filed with the court shows assets totaling about $169 million.

Prior to the filing of the report, which will probably be disputed by the Internal Revenue Service, Hughes' fortune was reported to be in the billions.

More than 30 Hughes-wills were received by the court here, but the so-called Mormon Will is the only one that has gained any recognition, and revelations of the past year involving Melvin Dummar of Ogden, Utah, have cast doubt on that document.

Dummar, who used to operate a service station in Willard, Utah, has admitted delivering the will to the Mormon Church headquarters in Salt Lake City, where it was found on April 27, 1976.

Dummar is named in the will to receive one-sixteenth of the estate.

Dummar's only explanation for being named in the will is a story about meeting a bedraggled old man in the desert north of here in the late 1960s.

Defending the Mormon Will is Los Angeles attorney Harold Rhoden, who represents former Hughes aide Noah Dietrich.

Dietrich, 89, is named by the will as executor of the estate, and Rhoden has been named special executor as it pertains to the Mormon Will because of Dietrich's advanced age.

Rhoden has admitted in court that there is little about the will above suspicion.

Hayes has saddled Rhoden with the burden of proving that the document is genuine, a task which is formidable.

Rhoden also must appear Nov. 14 in Houston before Probate Judge Pat Gregory. Rhoden said he can't be in two places at once, and that he has no one to send to Houston as his representative. Attorneys for Hughes' relatives have made arrangements to be represented at both trials.

Hayes issued an order prohibiting Texas officials from seeking a default judgment against Rhoden if he does not appear in Houston on Nov. 14, but Texas Attorney General John Hill has ignored the order. Texas authorities claim the Houston trial date was set before the Nevada date.

Mexican Airline Hit By Strike; Groundworkers Demand Raise

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The government-owned airline, Aero Mexico, suspended all flights Sunday after groundworkers demanding higher wages went on strike.

A Mexico City airport spokesman said the airport was calm. It was not known how many passengers were stranded, but some would-be travelers aware of the planned strike had canceled their trips.

Service to Mexico by four other airlines — Eastern, Nicaraguan, Pan American and Varig — already was shut down by striking groundworkers.

Flights to and from the United States continued on Braniff, American, Western and Texas International airlines. A spokesman for Braniff in New York said flights from Mexico City were heavily booked but there were no plans to add extra flights.

Aero Mexico has 150 flights daily, carrying an average of 15,000 passengers to 30 cities in Mexico and to New York, Miami, Los Angeles, Tucson, Houston, Madrid, Paris and South American cities.

Two unions representing 5,300 ground personnel walked off the job after midnight to back demands for 25 percent wage increases.

The company has offered 10 percent, which is in line with government anti-inflation recommendations.

Other beneficiaries are the Boy Scouts, the University of Texas, the University of Nevada, the University of California, Rice University, orphans, the City of Long Beach, Calif., and the Mormon Church.

Hughes' relatives contend that the Mormon will is a forgery, an opinion shared by the FBI.

While some of the handwriting is similar to that of Hughes, FBI analysts have declared the document a "rank forgery." Some of the misspellings in the document also are suspect, as is the general format of the will, Hughes was a fussy man, one who demanded perfection.

The style of the Mormon Will does not suggest it was done with care.

Hayes has saddled Rhoden with the burden of proving that the document is genuine, a task which is formidable.

Rhoden also must appear Nov. 14 in Houston before Probate Judge Pat Gregory. Rhoden said he can't be in two places at once, and that he has no one to send to Houston as his representative. Attorneys for Hughes' relatives have made

Book Tells Of Oswald's Fatalism

By NICHOLAS DANILOFF
UPI Correspondent

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — Just two days before John Kennedy visited Dallas on Nov. 22, 1963, Lee Harvey Oswald decided fate had chosen him to assassinate the President — a man whom he actually admired.

That delusion, coupled with two unsettling FBI visits to his wife Marina earlier that month were the critical factors which motivated Oswald, in the view of author Priscilla Johnson McMillan.

Mrs. McMillan, who knew both Oswald and Kennedy personally and testified before the Warren Commission, spent 13 years writing "Marina and Lee." The copiously documented, 527-page book also draws on seven months during which the Russian-speaking author spent full time with Oswald's widow.

In a recent interview, Mrs. McMillan noted that FBI agent James Hosty interviewed Marina Nov. 1 and Nov. 5, 1963. The FBI was interested in Oswald because of a CIA tip that the one-time defector to Russia had visited the Soviet embassy in Mexico City that fall.

"I think the Hosty visits undid him totally, and set off a paranoia which was ripe to be set off. And without those visits, there might have been no assassination," Mrs. McMillan said.

"The other thing: the route. Had the route been two blocks different, had it been one block different, there might have been no assassination.

"But Oswald, with his megalomania, thought the choice of that route (past the Texas School Book Depository where Oswald was employed) meant that fate had chosen him as its instrument.

"And he really didn't (believe he had) a choice after that."

Mrs. McMillan believes about a dozen factors combined to push Oswald towards his decision to shoot the president, even though at times he spoke admiringly of Kennedy to his wife.

The first of these factors, she said, was a hushed-up 1962 assassination attempt on Soviet leader Nikita Khrushchev in Minsk, where Oswald lived during his stay in Russia.

"But the crucial factors were the Hosty visits and the choice of the route, which I think Oswald only learned on Wednesday, the 20th of November," she said.

Oswald was a psychotic, paranoid personality, she believes, unhappy in his marriage, drawn to left wing causes, lonely, secretive, desperately seeking recognition.

He wanted to be caught and tried so he could use his trial as a forum for his political ideas, she believes.

In April 1963, Oswald tried to shoot retired Army Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker, a leader of the John Birch Society in Dallas. The fact that Oswald shot at Walker did not become known until after Kennedy was killed.

Of the assassination, she said "There was enough evidence to convict Oswald 50 times over." She noted that Oswald's palm prints were clearly identified on the murder weapon and on surrounding objects in the School Book Depository.

Mrs. McMillan rejects the many conspiracy theories.

Former CIA Director Allen Dulles, she said, was reluctant to serve on the Warren Commission because he knew of CIA attempts to kill Cuban leader Fidel Castro. But he concluded that Castro was not trying to retaliate against Kennedy and never told the panel of the CIA attempts.

Mrs. McMillan, a former correspondent for the North American Newspaper Alliance, had a six hour interview with Oswald in Moscow in 1959.

"I liked him," she said.

JACOBYS ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD & JAMES JACOBY

Jim: "Championship bridge in America is tough. In Europe where almost every country plays several complicated artificial systems almost anything can happen and usually does. Take this hand that decided a match between England and Italy. The English bidding is shown in the box."

Oswald: "It started simply enough. Then North jumped to four hearts to show a void. South showed the spade ace and North bid five notrump to ask South to bid seven diamonds if he held two of the three top honors."

Jim: "West opened the queen of hearts. South ruffed in dummy. Ten minutes later he came to his hand with the queen of clubs; ruffed his last low heart; tried to discard the king of hearts on a club and was down one when West ruffed. We have little criticism of this play, but if South had led a low diamond toward his hand at trick two he could have made the slam."

Oswald: "The Italian bidding was really weird. South started with an artificial club to show a minimum opening. A diamond would have been a strong bid. North responded one spade. South raised to two and North jumped to six clubs to tell partner to forget about spades. South's singleton club was the queen and the slam rolled in."

Ask the Jacobys

A Canadian reader wants to know what we bid after partner responds one no-trump to our one-diamond opening. We hold:

AKKx Kxx AKKxx AKKx
The correct rebid is a pass. We have a minimum balanced hand. There is no good reason to rebid our five-card suit.

ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: Have you considered early retirement? If not, may I suggest it? I think senility is creeping up on you.

I almost quit reading your column after that ridiculous poll you did last year on whether or not parents would have had their children if they had it to do over again. Then you had the gall to try to defend that crazy question by calling it "research." For some masochistic reason, I continue to read you.

Your latest, however, is the pits. It seems you've gone haywire on how to hang toilet paper. Who cares except a few neurotic lunatics? It's enough that you printed that letter from some dude whose uncle happened to manage hotels in Switzerland. And then you printed another letter from an idiot who advises toilet paper manufacturers to put the print on the other side - so the design won't face the wall when hung "properly." The real solution would, of course, be to use white tissue paper and hang it any way you darn well please. Of course that would delight the environmentalists whom you insulted recently by saying that they have overdone a good thing and now we are having an energy problem. I mention the environmentalists because they claim that white toilet paper causes less pollution since it does not contain colored dye. Obviously, the best solution would be to recycle your column. Signed — D.R.T., From Wakesfield, Nebraska

Dear D.R.T.: I am properly chastened by your thoughtful letter. I have no plans to retire at the moment, but one more letter on toilet paper may well send me around the bend, and they will take me off the job with a butterfly net.

Dear Ann Landers: You made reference in a recent column to Murphy's Law. Unfortunately you printed only part of it. Perhaps you are unaware that there is more. May I provide the rest?

Murphy's Law Of Perversity: Nothing is as easy as it looks.

Everything takes longer than you expect.

If anything can go wrong it will. If there is a possibility of several things going wrong, the one that will do wrong first will be the one that will do the most damage.

Left to themselves, all things go from bad to worse.

If you work on a thing long enough to "improve" it, it will break. If you think everything will be O.K., you have surely overlooked something.

Mother nature always sides with the hidden flaw.

Mother nature is a witch.

Dear Love: Thanks for providing me with the full version of Murphy's Law. Sorry I had to change the first letter in the last word but this is a family newspaper.

Home Economics Classes Providing Students 'Education For Living'

By SIDNEY MARGOLIUS
NEW YORK (WNS) — If your child wants to take a home economics course in high school or even in college, don't shrug it off as just cake baking. Modern home economics has gone far beyond the traditional household skills, useful as they are.

Home ec has, in fact, become education for living; for learning to handle some of life's deepest needs, as shown by discussions with some of the teachers around the country helping to develop and shape this changing field.

Nowadays you're as likely to find home economics students at hospitals, nursing homes and pediatric centers, learning to care for the elderly, ill and sick children, as in the classroom, reports Anne Warren-Boulton, a home economics instructor at the Locust Valley, N.Y. High School. You'll also find them visiting used car lots, rental agencies, furniture stores and pharmacies, learning to deal with these realities of life after graduation.

The trend toward education for living is noticeable across the country. To cite a few examples, students at Fenton High School, Bensenville, Ill., have organized their own consumer association, publish a regular newsletter, make price surveys and operate an information resource center.

In Jacksonville, Fla., a school-wide consumer education program starts with first graders who learn how to count money and make change as they select goods.

In Lawrence, Mass., students are being trained both in consumer information and community outreach so they can pass on their new insights and facts to their home communities. That students bring home their consumer training and help educate their families is one of the most useful aspects of consumer courses.

Nor do you need fear that home economics or consumer education will dilute your child's basic education. In fact, home economics often helps students understand some of their other courses. For example, students sometimes really first grasp fractions when they have to measure out a third of a cup of an ingredient.

Similarly, in sewing classes, students learn metrics quickly, notes Elissa Lorett, chairman of the Locust Valley school's home economics department. Patterns give measurements in both inches and metrics and the kids learn to think in terms of metrics rather than stop to convert.

One of the most popular of the new courses, and certainly useful in an era of lengthening life spans, is Home Nursing. Mrs. Warren-Boulton reports. Students learn about local health services and visit old-age facilities and nursing homes. As well as awareness of resources available for helping elderly people, the youngsters get insight into the problems of old age.

In Child Care courses, students learn about community resources such as day care centers and about methods of child-birth delivery, child abuse problems, coping with hospitalized children, comparison shopping for children's needs, and other realities that will confront them as parents. The Fenton students do a special survey for their fellow students of the shopping problems they may encounter at Christmas such as unordered merchandise, reports faculty advisor Les Diabay.

Another course that educates for real life is Psychology of The Family. This is one of a number of modern home ec courses now taken by boys, too. The course goes through the various stages of the family, from dating to marriage, etc. The students are paired in couples and shop for a ring, plan a wedding, decide which will continue in school and which get a job, then look for a job, plan a budget, and shop for an apartment, car, loan, furniture, other needs.

One group that home economists would like to see exposed to more consumer education is 6th graders. They get no home economics or consumer education. But they do buy clothing, tapes and records, toiletries, books and many other goods.

Consumer education can be especially helpful to handicapped children in line with the present trend to "mainstreaming." Mrs. Warren-Boulton advises. "Mainstreaming" means putting handicapped children with others in the least restricted setting instead of separating them. Consumer education provides a bridge of mutual needs and interests be-

Nutritional Fallacy Easily Spotted

How to tell a food fallacy from fact is not all that difficult. When a food is promoted with an emotional appeal, the promise to bring about a miraculous benefit is most likely an exaggeration of the truth. Turn to reliable sources of information, such as your public health nutritionist or a local hospital dietitian for counseling on good nutrition or for answers to your questions.

SOFTER LOOK — Boot pants take on a much softer and more flattering aura with this regal check look. An ideal topper is the solid color crew neck pull-over with buttons on the shoulder. It makes the perfect casual sports outfit.

MEATBALL TIP

Many good cooks like to use beef chuck rather than beef round for meatballs because chuck is a fattier cut than round and that factor benefits the flavor of the meatballs. If you have a food processor you can easily grind the meat at home.

Setting The Place

Commercial Shipping To St. Helena Ending Nov. 10

LONDON (AP) — When the ship Good Hope Castle pulls away from St. Helena Nov. 10 for Southampton, England, the Union Castle Mail Steamship Co. will end 120 years of regular passenger calls at the lonely island in the South Atlantic Ocean where Napoleon died in exile in 1821.

The ocean passenger trade is dead, except for a few cruise liners. Cargo vessels nowadays are built to carry containers and few companies bother to fit in cabins for passengers.

This is bad news for the 5,000 inhabitants of St. Helena, marooned without an airfield on their speck of remnant British empire 1,150 miles from the Angolan coast of East Africa, 1,694 miles from Cape Town and 4,606 miles from England.

But help is on the way. The Foreign and Commonwealth Office has bought a ship to keep the lifeline open.

The island can never be independent because it cannot support itself. We have just got to accept that and do what we can for the people there," an official said.

He denied reports from South Africa of shortages on the island because of fewer ships calling.

"The governor would have sent us a telegram pretty quick, and he hasn't," the official said.

The ship for St. Helena is the 3,150-ton Northland Prince, bought from a Canadian company and now under conversion by managers in Cornwall, who will operate it for the British government between England and Cape Town.

Its first trip will be in December, taking home for Christmas some of the St. Helenians who work 700 miles away on Ascension Island, where there is a U.S. satellite tracking station and a British wireless relay station.

The ship is a come-down from Union Castle's stately 10,000-tonners, but the Foreign Office says it will have about 100 berths for passengers and is large enough to give them a comfortable ride and carry all the supplies the islanders need.

St. Helena looks like a parade in color photographs. It is the top of an enormous mountain rising from the ocean bed, the surviving half of a volcano that blew up millions of years ago. Surrounded by calm seas, the island, just 10 miles wide and six miles long, lies in the track of southeast trade winds that give it a perpetual English summer climate.

As the site of Napoleon's six-year exile after the battle of Waterloo, St. Helena became the most famous and discussed spot in the world. The British put in 3,000 soldiers and sailors to make sure Napoleon did not repeat his escape from the Mediterranean island of Elba.

For two centuries the island flourished by supplying fresh food and water to ships sailing from Britain to the east around Africa's Cape of Good Hope. It was populated by British expatriates, slaves imported by the British from West Africa and Madagascar, descendants of the Portuguese who discovered the island, the Dutch who first annexed it, Malays, Chinese, and travelers from other nations.

The Suez Canal opening in 1869 doomed the island's prosperity and it has been running down ever since. British taxpayers pay the equivalent of $2.9 million a year to sustain it and even tomatoes, eggs, potatoes and canned milk are imported.

"The trouble is, there is nothing to pull up to," said the Foreign Office man when asked why the islanders apparently are so helpless. "There is no industry and two thirds of the island is barren."

Anthony Thornton has a different explanation. The British-born architect, who lives in Cape Town, South Africa, was excluded from St. Helena in 1975 after he formed a political party which is sued a manifesto calling for economic reforms to lessen dependence on Britain.

Thornton, who spent eight years on St. Helena, said the basic problem is that Britain has made the islanders totally dependent on British aid.

"Ninety-five per cent of them are government-employed — 30 percent directly and the others through the government-controlled trading company," Thornton said in a recent interview when he visited London on business. "No money is invested to create production. I wanted every family at least to have a small plot to grow their own vegetables."

Thornton said he upset the St. Helena establishment — "the governor, two dozen settlers, expatriate colonial officials and some senior islanders" by going too far, too fast. He said he introduced new farming methods, livestock, fruit trees, irrigation, the first supermarket, renovated the principal hotel in the capital, Jamestown, and bought the trading company.

"I was accused by some of being a communist and by others of trying to introduce apartheid from South Africa. All rubbish," he said.

Then he added: "I think the British government is trying to do something. The new ship is magnificent. But the British are too pessimistic about the island. They suppress political opinions and development money is not used in the right way."

Flight Study Ordered On Hydrogen Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — By the end of the century, people might be whizzing around the world in hydrogen-powered planes that could get from New York to London in one hour and 56 minutes.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration last week gave Lockheed-California Co. a contract to study a liquid hydrogen-fueled aircraft capable of carrying 200 passengers up to 6,000 miles at a cruise speed of 4,000 miles per hour.

That please Willis Hawkins, Lockheed-California president, a one-time biplane riveter who long has dreamed of building a hydrogen aircraft.

The purpose of the 15-month, $270,000 study is to determine how to design a hypersonic aircraft with two diverse engine systems, he said. It would use five conventional turbojet engines for takeoff and five supersonic combustion ramjet engines for cruising.

The contract calls only for a design concept, with no actual construction planned.

But Hawkins hopes the nation soon will begin experimenting with a hypersonic test vehicle. NASA and the Air Force are looking into that possibility.

He feels American airlines should be flying hydrogen planes by the end of the century, that it makes sense from the standpoints of speed, saving energy, preventing air pollution and reducing noise.

Hawkins said the time is fast coming when Americans are going to have to find alternate means of fueling their automobiles, their homes, their buildings and their airplanes.

"My candidate for the airplane is hydrogen," he said. "It's clean, it's energetic, provides about 2½ times the miles per pound as the fuel we're using today, and the engines are pretty easy to design, because the stuff burns very beautifully when it's converted to a gaseous state."

Hawkins said hydrogen can be produced from the nation's abundant supply of coal.

"We've got one design that we've been looking at pretty thoroughly," he said. "It carries 400 passengers. And we've come up with some interesting numbers. If you made a fleet of 100 to 120 of these airplanes and they operated 20 years on hydrogen made from coal, they would save $10 billion over operating them with a JP (synthetic) type fuel made from coal."

The world's fastest commercial jetliner is the 1,300-mile-an-hour British-French Concorde. But it is restricted to half that speed when flying over most land areas because of the potentially damaging effects of its sonic boom on the ground.

The concept being studied by Lockheed would have no such restriction because it would cruise at altitudes of 110,000 to 120,000 feet — compared to about 60,000 feet for Concorde.

"From that height, the intensity of any sonic boom would be so dissipated by the time it reached the ground that it would not be objectionable to anyone hearing it," said Dan Brewer, Lockheed's manager for hydrogen studies.

On takeoffs and landings, the noise would be kept down by use of the conventional turbojet engines.

Hawkins said that many years ago Lockheed worked on developing a hydrogen plane for the U.S. government, but found it difficult, expensive and "pretty discouraging."

That was before NASA perfected the technology in the 1960s to fuel rockets with liquid hydrogen. Without the great power of hydrogen, Saturn 5 rockets never would have been able to boost American astronauts to the moon.

A major problem that had to be overcome was developing the materials and insulation needed to maintain hydrogen in a liquid state at 423 degrees below zero Fahrenheit.

Hawkins said a hydrogen plane will be expensive to develop, and that much of the initial expense would have to be borne by the government, in cooperation with the major aircraft manufacturers.

HYDROGEN POWERED — By the end of the century, people could be whizzing around the world in hydrogen-powered planes, as in this artist's conception, traveling at 4,000 miles per hour. Such a plane could fly the 5,420 miles between Los Angeles and Tokyo in two hours and 18 minutes, or cover the 3,436 miles from New York to London in one hour and 56 minutes. (AP Laserphoto)

Bakke Opponents Agree On Civil Rights Stand

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Despite strong differences of opinion on the Bakke reverse discrimination case, 77 national organizations said Sunday they will continue to work together "to secure full civil rights for all our citizens."

The groups, in a statement released by the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, acknowledged they had fought over the case of Allan Bakke, a white man who charged special programs for minorities kept him out of the University of California medical school.

The case is now before the Supreme Court.

"Our differences on the merits as well as on the ultimate impact of the Bakke case are deep and not to be minimized," the organizations said. "But neither should they be permitted to obscure the shared goals that still unite and bind us together."

"Whatever the decision in the Bakke case, we shall work together in the future, as we have in the past, to secure full civil rights for all our citizens and to help realize those social and economic conditions in which alone the fulfillment of those rights is possible," the statement said.

Signers of the statement said they would continue to fight for government policies and programs that "establish as a matter of right a job at a living wage for everyone willing to work or who can be qualified for work by training."

They also pledged to work for a "a guaranteed income, sufficient for living in dignity, for all those unable to work; a decent home in a decent environment for all; education to the limit of each person's ability and medical care for all in sickness and in health."

Aerial Duo Keeps Cowboys Unbeaten

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) — Are the unbeaten Dallas Cowboys awesome? Wide receiver Drew Pearson thought the question over after the Cowboys had whipped the New York Giants 24-10 for their eighth straight National Football League victory Sunday. "The defense and the special teams are awesome," said Pearson. "The offense? Not yet, we're not." Pearson was awesome enough for the Giants, catching three long passes that kept Dallas scoring drives moving. It marked the 39th consecutive game in which the slender receiver had caught at least one pass.

"He's good for at least one a game," said quarterback Roger Staubach. "You can see that from the streak." That streak is a Dallas club record, but Pearson realizes how tenuous it is.

"You can't think about it," he said. "You've got to go out and catch the ball. It almost ended last week. I only had one catch. You just hope each game that you can get free enough to keep it going."

Coach Tom Landry thought his club had played a very ordinary game against the Giants. "I don't think we were mentally concentrating enough today to executive properly," said Landry. "It's a long season. It has ups and downs. Today was a down."

Pearson's catches positioned the ball for touchdowns by Billy Joe Dupree and Tony Dorsett, and a 35-yard field goal by Efren Herrera.

The Cowboys' first score came when Jay Saldi recovered a punt that was fumbled twice by the Giants and rolled into the end zone with the ball.

Dallas, winning its eighth straight game, recorded seven sacks of Giant quarterback Joe Pisarcik. The lone New York touchdown, a 1-yard plunge by Bobby Hammond, was set up by a short Cowboy punt from the end zone and Hammond's 28-yard return.

The Cowboys set a club record with 14 penalties, but it hardly disturbed Dallas, which dominated the game from the time Saldi scored his first-period touchdown. Pearson's catches came on passes of 25, 23 and 41 yards and each of them kept Cowboy drives moving.

The 25-yards was on a third-and-15 play that set up Staubach's 5-yard TD pass to Dupree, giving Dallas a 14-3 halftime lead.

In the third quarter, the Cowboys started from their 9-yard line and moved to the Giants' 49 when Staubach found Pearson again for 23 yards. A penalty moved Dallas back to the 41, but pass interference against Bill Bryant in the end zone set up Dorsett's TD plunge.

After Hammond's touchdown Staubach found Pearson for 41 yards on a first down play in a drive that was climaxed by Herrera's field goal.

Pearson finished the game with just those three catches, but they were good for 89 yards.

The Giants took the opening kickoff and moved to Dallas' 33 before the drive stalled and Joe Danelo missed a 50-yard field goal try.

On the next series, New York's defense stopped Dallas cold and Danny White punted from the Cowboy 38. Hammond dropped the ball at the 23 but New York's Ernie Jones recovered momentarily. Then he too bobbed it and the football bounced crazily toward the Giant goal line. Saldi caught up with it at the 8 and bounced in for the touchdown.

That made it 7-0 Dallas and accounted for the only points of the first period.

The Giants got on the scoreboard in the second period after a 44-yard punt by Dave Jennings pushed the Cowboys to their own 5 yard line. White was forced to punt from the end zone and New York got the ball at the 36. The Giants couldn't move but Danelo hit on a 51-yard field goal — the longest of his NFL career.

But the Cowboys came right back with Staubach's scoring pass to Dupree climaxed a 46-yard drive in nine plays for the 14-3 halftime lead.

Big-Play Oilers Bomb Bears In 47-0 Laughter

HOUSTON (AP) — Sticking to his game plan of returning the big play to the Houston offense, quarterback Dan Pastorini rifled touchdown bombs of 85 and 43 yards to Ken Burrough Sunday and directed the Oilers to a 47-0 thrashing of the stunned Chicago Bears.

"With his (Burrough's) speed, he can outrun a lot of coverages and with my arm I can out-throw most of them," Pastorini said after the Oilers had snapped a three-game losing streak against the off-form Bears.

Pastorini's game plan also got a boost from Billy "White Shoes" Johnson, who scampered 61 yards for one touchdown on a second-quarter end-around and returned a free kick 75 yards for another score late in the game.

"I don't believe I have ever seen a better game period," Oiler Coach O.A. "Bum" Phillips. "As hard as they have practiced and hung together the past few weeks, they deserve this win."

Chicago Coach Jack Pardee, suffering his worst defeat as the Bears' coach, could do little but praise the Oilers.

RECEIVING — Chicago, Earl 3-5; Payton 2-15; Houston, Burrough 6-180; Johnson 2-18.

Pardee said. "It was the worst game I have ever been associated with in any form. We were humbled enough."

The National Football League victory evened Houston's record at 4-4 and left the Oilers one game out of the top spot in the American Football Conference Central Division. Chicago fell to 3-5.

The Oilers, whose offense ranked last in the AFC in total offense and rushing and passing offense, threw away its grind-it-out ground game against the Bears in an attempt to end a three-game losing streak.

Houston's first two big plays, Johnson's run and Burrough's 85-yarder, were delivered over a 2.55 span of the second quarter and helped the Oilers to zip to a 17-0 halftime lead. Toni Fritsch kicked a 29-yard field goal in the first quarter.

After Houston's Don Herdeman scored on a one-yard dive early in the third quarter, the Oilers resumed their big-play style when Burrough caught a shoestring pass from quarterback Dan Pastorini on a 43-yard touchdown play.

On the first play of the fourth quarter, Chicago's Walter Payton fumbled and Oiler linebacker Greg Bingham returned it 34 yards for a touchdown.

Johnson's 75-yard kick return came after Houston's James Young tackled Mike Phipps in the end zone for a safety late in the game.

The Oiler defense also did a number of the Bears, which entered the game with the NFC's No. 2 ranked offense. The Oilers sacked two Chicago quarterbacks six times for 52 yards in losses.

The 85-yard connection between Burrough and Pastorini was the longest touchdown reception and pass for either player. Pastorini, who said last week the Oilers needed a return to their big-play offense, threw the ball 58 yards in the air to Burrough at the Chicago 37.

Burrough had beaten Virgil Livers on the play and showed him nothing but his heels the rest of the way to the end zone. Burrough also beat Livers on his 43-yard TD catch.

Moments later, Johnson took a handoff from halfback Ronnie Coleman, narrowly averted being tackled in the backfield, raced 61 yards around left end and won a footrace over the last five yards with Allan Ellis.

Payton, who entered the game as the NFL's leading rusher and with five consecutive 100-yard performances, was held to 79 yards on 18 carries by the aroused Oiler defense. The defense held Chicago to a net 0 minus 16 yard passing.

Burrough, in his best game of the season, finished with six receptions for 180 yards and two touchdowns and Pastorini completed 11 of 18 passes for 246 yards and two touchdowns.

Chicago quarterback Bob Avellini was replaced by Phipps after completing 5 of 12 passes for 21 yards. Avellini and Phipps each were sacked three times by Houston defenders.

Raiders Seek To Stay In Line For Bowl Bid

By CARTER CROMWELL
Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff
Steve Sloan reflected Sunday on the previous day's 49-17 victory over TCU, finding some good things and some bad things. Then he shrugged his shoulders and said, "Well, we won. That's what counts."

And winning is something the Raiders must continue to do if they are to receive an invitation to a bowl game. The triumph over TCU upped their record to 6-2 with three games to go.

Tech plays SMU in Dallas Saturday and battles Houston in the AstroDome the following Saturday night, Nov. 19. Bowl invitations can first be extended at 6 p.m. that day.

"I feel like we have to win that SMU game to be considered for a bowl," Sloan said. "If we lose to SMU, I don't think we'll get any consideration. Winning that game would make us 7-2 and give us a chance to get into a bowl."

"I don't know if a bowl would wait until after our game with Houston to invite us, or not. I just don't know how much effect that would have on it."

At this point, Sloan has some large concerns about his team. The Raiders, banged up all season, suffered some more injuries against TCU, and several players are questionable for Saturday's contest with SMU.

Offensive tackle Dan Irons played just seven plays versus the Horned Frogs after his knee swelled up in practice Thursday. Offensive guard Greg Wessels twisted a knee, as did defensive tackle Curtis Reed. Safety Greg Frazier sprained an arch, and cornerback Mike Patterson injured a leg.

Sloan said Irons, Wessels and Frazier are expected to miss "several days," and Patterson and Reed will be out "for awhile."

Offensive guard Greg Mahoney is still limited by a hamstring pull, although he played some against TCU, and Irons' backup, Wilbert Cunningham, is still hobbling on a sprained knee, suffered in practice last Tuesday.

Kenny Thiel, who is backing up strong tackle, quick guard and strong guard, did well against TCU, "considering that he'd only practiced there one day," Sloan said.

The Tech defense played very well against TCU, except that it allowed two touchdown passes. Overall, it held the Horned Frogs to just 117 yards, 15 on the ground — the lowest rushing yield by an SWC team this season.

Other than the two TD passes, which gave TCU a temporary lead in the second quarter, Sloan was pleased with the pass defense.

"Our pass defense was better overall against TCU than it has in some games," he said. "I was more confident in it this time."

The Frogs completed just nine of 25 throws and had one intercepted. The theft set up a Tech touchdown.

The Raiders threw TCU for losses 14 times and allowed the Frogs to convert on only three of 16 third-down plays. The Raider defenders set up three touchdowns with a blocked punt, a trap of the TCU punter after a bad snap and the pass interception.

Offensively, the Raiders showed some improvement. Rodney Allison was inserted into the starting lineup at the last minute and steadied the attack, although he couldn't run too effectively. He could still and exercise his leadership ability.

"Even at half speed, he's not bad," Sloan said, probably one of the best option quarterbacks there's ever been.

"I hope he'll be improved this Saturday. If he can be at just three-quarter speed, it'll be a lot better. Right now, we're just doing the best we can on offense because we've had to shuffle a lot of inexperienced people in and out of there."

Sloan was disappointed in the team's turnovers in the first half. An interception of an Allison pass set up a TCU field goal, and two fumble recoveries by the Frogs set up their second-quarter touchdowns.

Tech's final yardage figure was 290, which isn't good, but that is somewhat deceiving. The Raiders actually rushed for 281 yards, a healthy figure, but lost 63 for a net total of 218. Tech had 332 yards at the end of three quarters, when, with the Raiders leading 42-17, a number of reserves entered the game.

With Allison not at full speed, Tech's offense was somewhat limited. Fullback Billy Taylor did most of the work and responded with an excellent performance. He rushed 26 times for 151 yards, nearly a six-yard average. He scored five touchdowns to set a school record, and caught four passes.

Taylor is the team's leading rusher with 644 yards for a 4.8-yard average per carry. He is also the club leader in receptions with 22.

Campbell Continues Heisman Searching

By The Associated Press
Not virus, not photographers, nor Bevo, nor Houston tacklers kept Earl Campbell from making his appointed rounds Saturday.

As a result the No. 1 ranked Texas Longhorns own a half-game lead in the far-from-decided Southwest Conference football race Saturday that apparently will go all the way to Dec. 3 on the calendar before a clear winner is crowned.

Campbell rushed for 173 yards and three touchdowns despite a virus that had him gasping for breath in a 35-21 victory over Houston that was sweet revenge to the Longhorns for several reasons.

"I think I'm getting the flu," said Campbell after he ripped the Cougars with scoring runs of 6, 2, and 39 yards. On one touchdown run Campbell barreled into a photographer, who slammed into Bevo, the Texas mascot.

"I'm not sure who would win that standoff," said Bevo's handler.

Former Texas Coach Darrell Royal said "I know 12 people who won't have any trouble sleeping tonight—Earl and the 11 guys who were trying to tackle him."

Texas, of course, wanted revenge for a 30-0 thumping it received from the Cougars last year.

Also, there was talk Houston wanted to win because of the celebrated Darrell Shepard, the Cougars' freshman quarterback. Houston was placed on one-year probation by the NCAA for the illegal recruitment of Shepard.

Shepard played only one down Saturday and fumbled the ball away to set up a Texas touchdown.

With the game decided, the Texas band chanted "We want Shepard, we want Shepard."

This caused Houston Coach Bill Yeoman to comment "We didn't do anything like that, did we? That's all I care about. As long as our people show a little class."

The Longhorns apparently escaped a scary situation when starting quarterback Randy McEachern suffered a strained right knee on Texas' final offensive series. McEachern was limping in the dressing room but said "It hurts but it's no big deal."

Texas allowed its first touchdown on the ground this year when Alois Blackwell charged 44 yards. Safety Johnnie Johnson said "We are human ... sooner or later somebody was going to score on us. I missed a tackle. It was all my fault."

Eight-ranked Arkansas proved again the Razorbacks are to be reckoned with by mashing Baylor 35-9. Southern Methodist outlasted Rice 41-24 before the smallest crowd in the Mustangs' history at the Cotton Bowl—only 6,918—and Billy Taylor scored five touchdowns as Texas Tech whipped Texas Christian 49-17.

Arkansans Favored In Cross-Country Meet
WACO (Special) — Despite owning a freshman-dominated team, Arkansas will be a favorite to defend its Southwest Conference cross-country champions here today.

The Razorbacks will share favorite's honors with Rice as the conference goes to a 10,000-meter distance for its annual meet. The course is approximately six miles.

The meet will begin at 11 a.m. at Conally Golf Course.

Arkansas has won four meet championships this year, led by Mike Clark and Steve Baker, members of last year's championship team.

Six of last year's top 16 runners return, led by Rice's Marty Froelick and Mike Nowell, with Froelick getting third a year ago behind the departed Niall O'Shaughnessy and Texas Tech's Terrell Pendleton.

East Texas Defenders Clip Javelinas' Streak

By The Associated Press
East Texas State, a team with the most defensive stats in the Lone Star Conference, had the right numbers on the scoreboard Saturday night, ending Texas A&I's unbeaten string at 46 games with a 7-6 victory.

Playing in Commerce, East Texas struck on a 79-yard pass from quarterback Terry Skinner to Dannie Rogers with 6:05 left in the third quarter. Tom Hay kicked the deciding extra point and then the Lions played ball control and a swarming defense to register the upset that put Southwest Texas State in the LSC driver's seat.

Five teams are still in the LSC race, but SWT has a one and one-half game lead over A&I and Abilene Christian (3-1-1) after edging sixth-ranked Angelo State, 23-20. The Bobcats won on a 43-yard field goal by freshman Terry Whitman with three seconds left to put their conference record at 5-0.

Abilene Christian remained in the chase with a 41-18 win over Sam Houston and the Wildcats get SWT in Abilene Saturday. Angelo and East Texas are still alive mathematically with 3-2 records, but those two play each other on Nov. 19.

and 24 points a game, and A&I had 439 yards Saturday, but ET turned back the Javelinas at the 25, 22 and 10. AI's score came on an 80-yard second quarter pass from Elvis Hartsfield to Glenn Starks, but Starks conversion pass—attempted after a bobbed snap—was incomplete and left the door open for the upset.

Southwest Texas scored 16 points in the last 7:20 to edge Angelo State. Freshman quarterback Greg Hamilton hit halfback Paul Darby with scoring passes of 87 and 18 yards to tie the game before Whitman kicked his field goal to atone for a missed extra point after the Bobcats' third touchdown.

SWT faces a rocky road to clinch the title. This week's foe, Abilene Christian, was ranked third in the NAIA last week, and then SWT closes out in San Marcos on Nov. 19 against Texas A&I.

Another streak was also broken Saturday as Stephen F. Austin ended a 15-game losing spell with a 31-3 home-

Snyder Turns District Spoiler, Eliminates DHS

By JIM FERGUSON
Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff

Snyder went and fired the shot heard round District 3-AAA last week. The Tigers, eliminated from the loop race the previous week by Estacado 21-14, decided to do some eliminating of its own for a change. Their victims: the Dunbar Panthers. "There was some added incentive to beat them," Snyder coach Mike Jenkins said about the Tigers' 16-13 upset win over the Dunbar Panthers. "We wanted to be a factor in the district race and the only way we could do it at this point is to beat a contender which Dunbar was." Dunbar, which could have won the District 3-AAA title outright if it beat Snyder and then turned around and popped Lake View on the final night of loop action, could do nothing right against Snyder, turning the ball over five different times. Jenkins pointed out that one of the reasons for the abundant turnovers by Dunbar was the "aggressive" play by the Tigers.

"We were ready for Dunbar," Jenkins said. "I thought for a while that we would have a mental let down after losing to Estacado but we didn't. We got after them and played perhaps our best game of the year."

Most sports types might wonder a bit why Snyder waited until the tenth week of the year to shuck off its cloak of mediocrity.

"Why wait coach?" "I wish I knew the answer to that one," Jenkins said with a laugh. "I guess for a change we weren't inconsistent as we have been for much of the year. Yeah, we've been inconsistent most of the year. We just couldn't get it all together."

Jenkins, who in his second year as head coach of the Tigers, credited the offensive and defensive lines for the win.

"The lines played their best game of the year," Jenkins pointed out. "We were able to control the line of scrimmage the whole game. And that makes a difference, a big difference."

Yes it does. The Snyder coach also pointed out that "for a change we were able to stop the big play when we needed to."

What Jenkins was referring to, of course, was when the fumble recovery by Gary Hamilton which thwarted a last-ditch effort by the Panthers to crack the Snyder goal line late in the game.

Facing fourth-and-10 from the Snyder 22, the Panthers attempted what appeared to be a double reverse with speedster Kenneth James winding up with the ball.

However, on the exchange James fumbled the ball and Hamilton wrapped all of his 170 pounds around it.

"In the past we have given up the big play to them (Dunbar)," Jenkins said. "I think we took it away from them this year with the exception of the passes."

The only "big play" that resulted in a DHS touchdown was a 71-yard pass from quarterback Darryl Green to Wayne Williams. The duo connected on a 41-yarder late in the game, too.

Dunbar, which takes on Lake View down in the Chiefs' tepee, has a chance to play the part of the spoiler this week. Dish out a little misery, mind you.

A win by the Panthers over Lake View would throw the loop to a two-way tie between the Chiefs and Estacado. However, Lake View has already clinched a spot in the state playoffs because of its 21-0 win over the Matadors back on Oct. 7.

Acree's Status Still In Doubt

By TOM HALLIBURTON
Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff

Rumors start flying around the Permian Basin at a rapid pace every time the name Jim Acree enters a conversation. The former Texas Tech football assistant who coached the Midland Lee Rebels for the last eight years. But that coaching term may end after Friday night's season finale with Midland High.

"Oh, everything was going great a year ago as Acree's Rebels were nipping big bully Odessa Permian and heading toward the Class AAAA playoffs. But this year started off with a bang in late August when the team was disqualified from competing for the District 5-AAAA title. The University Interscholastic League ruled Lee was using illegal contact equipment during the first four days of fall workouts. Immediately after the UIL verdict, sources close to Lee's program expected this season would be Acree's last in the Rebel camp.

To add fuel to the fire, Lee (now 4-5) has lost three games this year in the last minute including two in-a-row on the last play. This team was rated third in the Texas Football pre-season poll on Class AAAA schools and many a Midland native has complained through these trying downs.

At the head of this storm stands veteran Midland schools athletic director Sam Cox, who really stands between a rock and a hard place. Like most athletic directors, Cox must defend his coach to an extent and he can't speak for the seven-member school board, which will review Acree's status shortly after the season ends.

"Certainly, this thing has been a real burden and it has been for some time," Cox said Sunday. "I can't speculate on what the board will do. I can't anticipate what they will do. I can only recommend."

Though the Midland athletic director admits the pressure has existed on the Acree status, Cox denies any problems have been added to the matter.

"He committed an offense and it received a lot of publicity but, actually, things have kind of leveled off. He committed a violation but it was only one violation," Cox said.

UIL Changes Announced

AUSTIN (AP) — The University Interscholastic League's legislative council decided Sunday to allow its members to decide whether to eliminate Class AAAA football spring training and whether girls should play full or half-court basketball.

Members of the UIL voted last year to abandon the six-player, half-court form of girls' basketball still played in five states in favor of the five-player, full-court game. The council decided, however, to have members vote again in light of a recent federal court decision upholding Tennessee's six-player rules.

The council also voted to permit district and regional track and field meets to be run in meters or yards. The state meet will be run in meters.

The 20-member body also decided to allow members to vote on establishing state baseball tournaments in Class AA, A and B. Travel costs have prevented state baseball tournaments in those classifications.

Crash, Hike On Desert Called Remarkable Story

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Police said Sunday an 8-year-old girl who led her dazed teen-age brother to safety through rugged desert after a plane crash told them "a remarkable story" of heroism.
The child, Richelle Krumpke, guided her brother Randy, 18, towards the bright lights of Las Vegas following the crash of the small private plane in which her mother and the pilot were killed.
Richelle and Randy were sitting in the back seats of the four-passenger Piper Cherokee when it crashed into a hillside 20 miles from Las Vegas.
Richelle helped her brother, who suffered a slight concussion, out of the plane and led him eight miles through the desert night to a road where she flagged down a motorist who picked them up.
"It is a remarkable story because it is pretty rugged out there, plus it's been pretty chilly," said Las Vegas police Capt. Larry Bolden.
Richelle told police, who found the wreckage and bodies Saturday, that she was hoping to bring help for her mother, Ruth Krumpke, 35, and the pilot, Ron Griffin, 31, both of San Jose, Calif., thinking they were alive.

"My mom was on the (front) seat with her face all bleeding. I climbed out the window and I told Randy to climb out of the window, too," she told officers.
Richelle indicated the plane lost power and stalled in flight, police said.

For 21¢ or less you could put this letter into a call across the country.

If you're an average talker, you can say about 175 words in one minute. Which means you could put a personal letter like this into a more personal one-minute Long Distance call. And it'll only cost you 21¢ plus tax if you dial One-Plus from 11 p.m. Friday to 5 p.m. Sunday, or any weekday after 11 p.m. Of course we're not suggesting you talk for just one minute. But even if you talk 10 minutes, you're only talking $1.58, plus tax. Or $2.57 if you dial Sunday through Friday between 5 p.m. and 11 p.m. And that's talking clear across the country. So if you're still putting words into letters, just think of what you could be putting into a Long Distance call.

Carter Gets Overall Negative Job Rating

By LOUIS HARRIS

For the first time since he came to office, President Carter has been given a negative overall job rating by the American people. According to the most recent Harris Survey of 1,533 adults nationwide, the President receives a 50-48 percent negative score. In July, his rating was 59-37 percent positive; in August, 52-44 percent positive; in September, an even 48-48 percent. His slide may not be dramatic, but it is steady and very real. More important than the overall findings, however, are the details: —On the pivotal element of "inspiring confidence in the White House," the President now receives a 49-46 percent negative rating. President Carter has dropped 19 points on this element over a four-month span. —On a related dimension, "restoring confidence in government," Mr. Carter has dropped from 64-31 percent positive in July to a current 51-44 percent negative, a slippage of 20 points. Put simply, these findings mean that in a nine-month period, Jimmy Carter has practically used up an enormous reservoir of good faith. When he took office, 75 percent of the public believed that he "inspired confidence in the White House." Familiarity has bred a drop of 29 points. History should offer some consolation to Mr. Carter. With Vietnam, Lyndon Johnson's rating fell to 30 percent on the confidence scale in 1968; and with Watergate, Richard Nixon's score dropped to 11 percent in 1974. Whatever the general feelings about the President, Americans make it clear in this latest survey that they are willing to judge the President quite fairly on particular substantive issues. For example, in the foreign policy area, President Carter has shown some gains over the past month. In the wake of news that progress has been made on the SALT talks, the President's positive rating on handling relations with Russia has risen from 31 to 39 percent. As the prospects for a Geneva Middle East peace conference brightened, his positive rating on efforts to achieve peace in that region rose from 34 to 44 percent. Overall, approval of the way he handled foreign policy matters went from 32 to 38 percent positive. Domestically, as the President took a determined stand to get Congress to pass a satisfactory energy bill, his marks on handling the energy crisis rose from 33 to 38 percent. Support for his overall energy program went up from 33 to 37 percent. However, with the Senate chopping away at his energy proposals, his rating on his handling of relations with Congress has slipped from 41 to 38 percent positive. In short, there are signs that Americans are becoming far more sensitive to how President Carter is performing on specific major issues. This means that as he scores victories and makes progress, his ratings will rise. As he meets defeat or appears to be ineffective, his ratings will decline. This issue-by-issue public accounting of the way a President performs is neither unusual nor unwelcome. Not since Dwight Eisenhower has a president been judged as a matter of faith. The others have all been judged by what they did or did not accomplish.

Museum Group To Hear Director

By GERRY BURTON
Avalanche-Journal Staff

In a museum there is the challenge to put up exhibits in such a way, to evolve programs in such a way as to "gently inspire" response in others to understand, to appreciate and to learn. Dr. Leslie C. Drew, who will be heading efforts to do just that at The Museum of Texas Tech University, today will be meeting the association that supports the museum and its programs. The new director, who began his duties Nov. 1, will be speaker for the 48th annual meeting of the West Texas Museum Association at 7 p.m. today in the museum. Action awards will be presented to three persons or organizations having made significant contributions to the cultural environment of the Southern High Plains. New officers and trustees named today will take office in January. Drew, with a background in museum work dating back to his elementary school days, came to Lubbock from the Museum of the Rockies in Bozeman, Mont., mainly, he explained, because he felt it was time to apply all his museum experience in one with deep roots. In Lubbock — where community, university and museum enrich each other — he will not have to explain a museum to those already deeply involved in the effort. He will, instead, be helping guide a varied effort toward varied goals in the museum's multiple roles in research, teaching and interpretation. The museum here has a lot to offer its many audiences, he stressed, and a lot of resources, human as well as financial.

"The Museum itself is about how people cope in arid and semi-arid lands. The Ranching Heritage Center shows how it was done." Although there are a number of outdoor museums dedicated to regions around the country, the outdoor ranch museum is given over to an activity, Drew added. Visitors on the site look at the structures and try to imagine themselves working in the buildings, standing the rigors of the environment and economic conditions and still forging ahead. "It puts ranching into a great perspective," Drew said of the center. Drew became interested in museums through association with a museum director who came to his school regularly with lantern slide programs. Helping with the setup of the program led Drew to respond to a request for Saturday help at the museum. At first, the help consisted of "that good old supportive stuff, sweeping floors and cleaning restrooms," but eventually it led to his going into the field to collect specimens. Since that early inspiration, Drew, a biologist with a specialty in spiders, has collected specimens in many areas for museums at Michigan State University and the Peabody Museum at Yale University, as well as for the Museum of the Rockies. He also has been an assistant professor of entomology and natural sciences. The Drew family will arrive Thanksgiving week. It includes Mrs. Drew, an elementary school teacher; Joe, 18, a freshman chemical engineering major at Montana State; Bill, 16, and Elizabeth, 14.

Israel Frees, Deports Gun-Running Prelate

ROME (AP) — Israel freed Greek Catholic Archbishop Hilarion Capudji from prison and deported him to Italy Sunday following a plea by Pope Paul VI for release of the convicted weapons smuggler. The 55-year-old prelate, wearing a black cassock, knelt and kissed the tarmac at Israel's Ben-Gurion Airport in a farewell gesture to the Holy Land where he had led the Greek Catholic community since 1963. He had served nearly three years of a 12-year sentence after being convicted of running weapons, explosives and ammunition across the Lebanese border in his limousine to Palestinian guerrillas in Israel. Apparently weak from hunger strikes staged to protest his imprisonment, Capudji was helped aboard an Alitalia jumbo jet by two Israeli security agents who had accompanied him from Tel Aviv's Ramleh Prison in a police car. The archbishop was met at Rome's Leonardo da Vinci Airport by a Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO) delegation and Shafiq al Hut, a representative sent by PLO chief Yasir Arafat. A representative of the Vatican shook hands with Capudji and kissed his ring. The archbishop was joined on the flight by the papal representative in Jerusalem, Monsignor William Carew. Also on hand were the Lebanese Melchite Patriarch Maximos Hakim and

Bishop Lutsi Laham, who served as Melchite archbishop of Jerusalem during Capudji's imprisonment. The Melchites are followers of the Eastern rite in parts of the Middle East and America. Capudji, who declined to talk to reporters, drove from the airport with Patriarch Hakim. Church sources said the prelate will spend about three months in a Rome clinic recuperating from his imprisonment. Italian anti-terrorist troops armed with submachine guns patrolled the airport as authorities stepped up security. About 40 persons who identified themselves as Palestinian and Jordanian students were in the arrival lounge to greet the archbishop. Many wore red and white headscarves and carried signs including one that read: "Welcome Capudji, you are a fighter for the freedom of the Palestinian people." Arafat's envoy told reporters, "We consider him (Capudji) a hero, a symbol of resistance, a man who really loves his people and his land."

EXCEEDS GOAL
SNYDER — The Scurry County United Way has exceeded its goal for the second consecutive year. Workers had reported a total of $49,974 at the close of the drive, $1,474 over the goal of $48,500. A final report meeting has been set for Wednesday, and additional funds are expected to be turned in at that time.

AUDI FOX BEATS CHEVY CORVETTE!

If you're a little wide-eyed, we can't blame you. We were a little surprised ourselves when our 4-door sedan, the 3-passenger Audi Fox, beat the Chevy Corvette in a Slalom test conducted by the American Testing Institute. But it's true. The Fox won!

The Audi Fox beat the Chevy Corvette. Over and over, and over again. And our test (0 to 90 in 8 seconds) Audi Fox is also frugal (37 mpg hwy, 23 mpg city) — based on EPA estimates using standard transmission. Actual mileage may vary depending on how you drive, car's condition and optional equipment!

Under identical conditions, with the Institute's test driver handling both cars. That's how legends are made.

DAZZLING LIZA — Actress-singer Liza Minnelli pauses to admire the crown she received Friday night during the 41st anniversary Ziegfeld Club Charity Ball in New York. Miss Minnelli, currently starring in the Broadway musical "The Act," was crowned "Miss Ziegfeld 1978" at the affair. (AP Laserphoto)

Soviets Puzzled By Eurocommunism

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet officials seem unsure whether to continue attacking independent-minded "Eurocommunists" or to placate them in hopes of maintaining Communist unity.

"I think the Russians just don't know what to do," a Western diplomat in Moscow said. "They have a lot of alternatives but no one seems sure which one they should follow."

Eurocommunism developed in the past two years as Communist parties in France, Spain, Italy and other West European countries declared independence from Moscow. They questioned basic tenets of Communist theory, criticized the Russians for limiting human rights and pledged to seek power through democratic elections.

The Kremlin's response has ranged from a bitter speech by its chief ideologist, Mikhail A. Suslov, to conciliatory appeals in Soviet publications for Communists to stay loyal to each other.

The latest public squabble over Eurocommunism surfaced at a gala public meeting here last Wednesday and Thursday in honor of the 60th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution. The Soviets invited delegates from more than 25 foreign Communist parties to speak.

Most speakers praised the Soviets, but Eurocommunists also seized the opportunity to restate their views to Soviet leaders. Italian Communist leader Enrico Berlinguer declared there "can be no 'leading' or 'led' parties" in the world Communist movement. British Communist leader Gordon McLennan said that if socialism triumphed in Britain, political parties favoring a return to capitalism could still exist.

The biggest conflict involved Spanish Communist leader Santiago Carrillo, who told reporters he had been banned from speaking after turning in a copy of his speech, which he said was no stronger than Berlinguer's, for translation.

The incident suggested a dispute within the Soviet leadership, because Viktor Afansiev, sent to Spain as a special Soviet envoy last month, had reportedly told Carrillo he could address the meeting.

Blumenthal Predicts

No Oil Price Hike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Treasury Secretary Michael Blumenthal said Sunday there is a "good chance" the Arab oil producing countries will not levy an oil price increase in 1978.

Blumenthal, who recently traveled to the Middle East and met with leaders of several of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC), said he is now "a little more optimistic."

"I think there's a good chance that the price of oil will be stable for a period of time," he said. "By stable, I mean, of course, that I'm hoping there will be no increase. And by a period of time, I mean ... for at least the entire year of 1978."

Blumenthal, interviewed on CBS's "Face the Nation" program, said even a moderate oil price increase "would have a very negative effect on many economies around the world, including our own."

But he said he believes that now "the major oil exporting nations do understand that inflation in the consuming countries, and unemployment in the consuming countries, is not in their interests and that price stability for at least another year will help them as well as all the consuming countries."

Soviet officials said Sunday Carrillo's account "distorts the true state of affairs." A rebuttal by the editor of the Communist party daily Pravda, carried by the news agency Tass, said Carrillo arrived in Moscow too late to speak at the public meeting, was given an opportunity to speak at other gatherings marking the anniversary, but declined it.

The Kremlin has given other indications of disagreements over how to handle Eurocommunism.

Suslov, in a strongly-worded speech in March 1976, called Eurocommunists "opportunists" and said their "regional or national versions of Marxism have nothing in common with revolutionary theory and do harm to the cause of the working people."

Three months later Communist party boss Leonid I. Brezhnev made conciliatory remarks to a world Communist conference, denying the Soviets wanted to create an "organizational center" to police world Communist thinking.

The balance swung the other way again last June, when the Soviet foreign policy weekly New Times vigorously attacked Carrillo for what it called "conscious anti-Sovietism." But after Spanish Communists reacted angrily, New Times backtracked, claiming the Soviet party "is not organizing any campaigns against any fraternal party."

In another article, Boris Zagladin, a Soviet expert on international Communism, said foreign Communists have the right to adapt their policies to local conditions but warned that anti-Soviet statements by other parties would boomerang and hurt them.

In his speech at the 60th anniversary celebration, Brezhnev said Moscow was not trying to impose on other Communists its "prescriptions for the socialist transformation of society."

But he listed basic characteristics of socialist revolution that he said "remain in force and apply everywhere." Some of these principles — such as the proposition that all private enterprise must end under socialism — are opposed by Eurocommunists, indicating that the conflict is far from over.

He explained that increased world inflation will only raise the price of goods which are sold to the oil producing nations, wiping out benefits they might receive from a price hike.

The 13 OPEC nations are scheduled to make a decision on whether to raise prices at a meeting next month in Caracas.

"Based on my discussions in Saudi Arabia, and in Iran and in Kuwait," he said, "I think they're seriously considering" putting off a price increase for at least a year.

Blumenthal also said the administration probably will grant either tax breaks or some form of government assistance to the U.S. steel industry, hit by "dumping" of lower priced foreign imports on the domestic market.

"I wouldn't call them government subsidies," he said. "I would say there would be special programs. They could be tax incentives of various kinds ... although some government money invested in that industry which is such a key to many others might not be a bad investment."

AT ADDED MASTER CLEANERS FACILITY — Shown at Master Cleaners' new 3420 82nd St. shop is Judy Guy, the friendly staffer most usually working with the customers at the modern plant serving south Lubbock, and Dan Barnett, manager and vice president.

Master Cleaners, In Two Locations, Assures Professional Garment Care

Take a combination of new convenience, professional care, long experience... and there you have Master Cleaners!

The convenience factor involves an added location for Master Cleaners, with the firm opening its Number 2 facility in early August at 3420 82nd St. to provide the only cleaners south of Loop 289.

Many Lubbock residents have long depended on Master Cleaners, patronizing the still-existing and very popular business at 2301 34th St.

R. D. Barnett, 25 years in business, and president of the firm, still serves at the 34th Street facility, with Dan Barnett, vice president, managing the newer establishment just a block west of Indiana on 82nd Street.

Great For South Lubbock Everything is designed for customer convenience and for a quality operation at the new and added location.

Large concrete aprons make access easy, with plenty of parking space and two drive-up windows provided.

Professional care remains the watchword at both locations. Master Cleaners watches for tears, rips, missing buttons, etc. — all the little things that can be so important, they want your clothing to be right and look right when it is dry cleaned at Master Cleaners. Expert attention is assured by such staffers as Clara Dolloff, presser with the firm for 25 years!

Dan Barnett emphasizes that Master

Cleaners specializes in such needs as wedding gown cleaning and preservation, leathers, suedes and furs, to say nothing of the very excellent alteration and drapery service.

One-day service is provided at no extra charge. Master Cleaners No. 2 is open Mondays through Fridays from 7 a.m. until 6 p.m. with Saturday hours of 8 a.m. until 2 p.m.

(On Saturdays, items brought in by 10:30 a.m. can be out by 1 p.m.)

"For new convenience, for knowing that your clothing and drapes will receive only the finest care, and for knowledge that your business is appreciated, visit the new Master Cleaners now. It will become a habit!"

Holiday Needs Receive Gary's Attention In Services, Items

Gary's Frozen Foods, the firm traditionally providing the finest in nutritious barbecue, corn dogs, super dogs, custom cooking, and more, has done it again.

Gary's for the second year is stocking the new dynamic nut cracker (electric) that it offered last holiday season. The response at that time was so great that Gary again is offering this "satisfaction guaranteed" unit with a full one-year guarantee. The price: $49.95, at Gary's, 109th Street at South University Avenue, phone 745-1933.

(Not only would this electric nut cracker be most convenient during the holidays, but wouldn't it be a great Christmas gift?)

This electric unit, cracks any size pecans, English walnuts, Brazil nuts, etc., with little or no damage to kernels. Each nut is locked and cracked automatically. Kernels and shells fall out for fast repeat. A safety shield prevents against flying shell particles. Actually "it is the fastest hand-fed nut cracker available," with nothing to adjust; one machine cracks all, and the estimated life is 10,000 lbs. pecans!

Custom Cooking And don't forget the custom cooking services, and the other fine Gary's products.

Gary's is glad to custom prepare any meat, at any time, whether it is wild game or whatnot.

Or one may simply discover that the Gary's Frozen Food label in a favorite grocery or supermarket opens the way to variety and nutritious goodness.

Select from Gary's Barbecue Flavor Delight, Gary's Corn Dogs, Gary's Bar-Que Beef Brisket in bar-b-que sauce, and Gary's super dogs. Whether the occasion is a holiday meal, a Sunday dinner or even a snack, late-season picnic, pre-game meal or a birthday party, one can profit from dependence upon the home-owned, home-operated Gary's Frozen Food firm and its products.

The Bar-B-Que Flavored Delight is newest of the Gary's family of labels, and it is oh-so-good. A beef, beef suet and textured vegetable protein product, it is a new experience in delicious eating. Keep it frozen, and just heat to eat.

This new product is available in the area, distributed to retail stores and to institutions. Look for the label.

Also, Gary's still has something else relatively new: the 10-pack of Gary's Corn Dogs!

Consisting of batter mix around a frankfurter, partially cooked in pure vegetable oil, these, too, are easy to prepare. Simply thaw, remove from bag, place in 375-degree oven for 12 to 15 minutes or deep fat fry.

Corn Dogs from Gary's are enjoyed by kids and adults alike.

Also, one still can get the delicious Gary's Barbecue Beef Brisket in a favorite grocery or supermarket.

The barbecue brisket, super dogs and other quality items from Gary's Frozen Foods, 109th Street at South University Avenue, make many a West Texas meal something special — whether for a special event or simply a change of pace.

These products, long recognized as the finest obtainable, are prepared in the modern, enlarged, functionally attractive quarters for Gary's, specifically designed and built for service, in south Lubbock.

Every Gary's Frozen Foods product is an experience in goodness! School children, their parents and a lot of other people (unexpected guests included) can attest to the deliciousness of Gary's Super dogs, corn dogs — and the Gary's Bar-Que package available on retail basis.

Gary Tidwell, plant manager Jack Conner, and the entire staff at Gary's Frozen Foods personally devote all efforts to insure that Gary's Super Dogs, for example, are made from the finest wieners, dipped in a batter that is a distinctly different flour mixture.

Gary's Frozen Foods products are U.S.D.A. inspected every day, insuring the use of the best meats and preparation.

ELECTRONIC NUT CRACKER AGAIN MARKETED — Gary Tidwell emphasizes that not only is this unit available at Gary's Frozen Foods, but the firm will be glad to mail these for the unit cost of $49.95 plus postage and handling charge of $2.50.

CABINETS, FURNITURE ITEMS, EVEN TOYS ORIGINATE AT WOODCRAFTERS

Woodcrafters Home Of Quality Workmanship, Newest In Ideas

For the finest in residential and commercial cabinets and other woodwork, it is Woodcrafters, at 2205 Auburn St. This Lubbock firm "that offers more" was opened back in May by long-experienced co-owners Kenneth Olson and Terrell Hutchens. Both are graduates of Southwestern University in Oklahoma where each majored in Industrial Arts. They came to Lubbock right after graduation in 1967 to work for the next five years as industrial arts teachers for the Lubbock Independent School District. The next five years both taught vocational courses for the schools, and during this time Kenneth and Terrell kept up with their cabinet work during the summers. They handled jobs such as the 8-ft. traveling medical display cabinets for the Tech Medical School, together with many residential cabinet jobs.

Woodcrafters has the best in machinery enabling these men to give detailed and exact cuts and a beautiful, even finish job whether the project is cabinets or furniture, for example. They are veritable specialists in commercial and residential wood work. Kenneth and Terrell are pleased to give the customer a finished product on the desired deadline . . . without sacrificing quality of their work. Besides all this, they can give one the necessary consultation on what is best in design or placement when you may be unsure. Wooden Puzzles Something of immediate interest, for Christmas and the months beyond, Woodcrafters has designed and cut 1 1/2-inch wooden puzzles just right for a youngster or as a novelty piece for one's desk. These animals (nine varieties and more to come) are 10 inches tall and are cut into four or five pieces so that they can be used as a puzzle. They can even stand . . . and one could make an entire zoo and not have the pieces scattered everywhere. These are left in the natural wood finish and offer greater opportunity for the youngsters to crayon or paint their own preference in faces and clothes, for example. Add to all this that these are practically indestructible, and one discovers their utility as really great gifts. (Terrell and Kenneth will build to any size, should one desire a larger cut-out.) These toys may be found at the Card Cottage in the Terrace Shopping Center, and at Woodcrafters, 2205 Auburn St. May we have the pleasure of working with you at Woodcrafters? Remember, for finest woodwork, call 747-4741 or (residence) phone 747-0336, or come by the firm at 2205 Auburn.

Lubbock Kash & Karry Wholesale Grocery Tells 'Money-Saving Truth'

"Many of you have profited — for months — by checking the ads of Lubbock Kash & Karry Wholesale Grocery on these pages, and purchasing accordingly. (Selecting at the same time from the hundreds of other items already marked at 'rock bottom' at this popular Lubbock grocery that recently celebrated its second anniversary). "Others of you possibly have yet to learn the money-saving truth . . . that Lubbock Kash & Karry Wholesale Grocery can be a tremendous friend to the family budget. May we prove this at a very early date?" See the Lubbock Kash & Karry Wholesale Grocery ad on these pages for specific examples of the bargains to be found at this unique Lubbock store, at even lower-than-usual prices to celebrate the firm's anniversary. Certainly, all will agree that it is advantageous to shop more carefully than ever before . . . for price and value. Then . . . be sure and check the Lubbock Kash & Karry ad.

"Not only this week, but check each week on representative money-saving staple items provided by this distinctive firm at 901 N. Ave. Q. "Did you know that groceries still can be purchased in Lubbock at rock-bottom prices — and — with full carry-out and sackng service? "If you are shopping elsewhere, you may be doing much of the work yourself, and still be paying too much; so — try Lubbock Kash & Karry Wholesale Grocery and pocket the savings!" Located at 901 N. Ave. Q, phone 747-6023, this firm is Lubbock's only independently and wholly owned and operated wholesale grocery. Low Overhead It takes pride in "selling for less," a policy made possible by its cash arrangement, low overhead, purchases directly from the manufacturer, its policy of "pick it up yourself and save the difference," and local warehousing. Co-owners are Tommy Toombs and Noble Sides, with Toombs as manager. Sides, formerly with the Ben E. Keith Co., enjoys a wide acquaintance in the area, as does Tommy who also is a long-time Lubbock resident. Both are on the job to give their personal attention. In its fully-stocked quarters on North Avenue Q, Lubbock Kash & Karry sells in quantities as small as one-half case lots, and packaged meats, etc., by the package. A very good stock of refrigerated products, including these packaged meats, is maintained. The firm has enjoyed acceptance and appreciation of those even coming long distances to take advantage of the prices and selection. More than 1,600 items are included in the stock that veritably affords "anything for the grocery business," and housed in a big 6,000 sq.ft. building at the north Lubbock location. Staffmembers are on hand to load merchandise for the purchaser, remember. Everything is top quality, with definitely no "seconds" even at the low prices.

EARL RAY
SOUTH PLAINS LEADING BAND HOUSE

5302 AVENUE Q
Briercroft Shopping Center

FOR OVER A QUARTER CENTURY

Earl Ray Music, In Briercroft, Suggests Holiday Musical Gifts

Wouldn't an ideal Christmas present for that band student son or daughter be a quality instrument from the Earl Ray Music Co. in Briercroft Center?

"Selection there will assure that you are all set — with the best — for current school needs, and beyond."

Service does not end with the rental or sale at this leading band house. Earl Ray maintains the largest band instrument repair department on the South Plains, with fulltime specialists on the job.

"Wouldn't this be a very good time for you as a band student to 'trade up' to a quality instrument to best serve you in the progress that you have made in your music pursuit?"

"Let us at Earl Ray Music Co. show you how easy and rewarding this can be." Reliance upon the Earl Ray Music Co.

can solve (and easily so) the many situations and even problems for the music-minded.

Long a standby as "the South Plains' leading Band House," the Earl Ray Music Co., at 5302 Ave. Q in the Briercroft Shopping Center, pledges the finest in instrument repair and sales, even leasing and trade-up.

For more than a quarter century of being known and trusted by band directors, parents and bandmen throughout the area, Earl Ray Music Co. early in 1974 moved from a former 1502 Ave. Q quarters to the large modern home it now enjoys — a facility that has met with exceptional response from customers who actually are excited about the added conveniences and still-fine service at Earl Ray's.

Selling, servicing and trade-rent-lease of fine instrument lines still is the whole business of Earl Ray. Whether selection if from Conn, Vito, Selmer, Bundy, LeBlac, Ludwig, Bach, Olds, Gemeinhardt, etc., quality is assured.

More and more students throughout Lubbock and entire area are learning the advantages of "trading up" to a better instrument at Earl Ray Music Co. As the students progress in their musical careers, the "trading up" is especially advantageous.

"Whether or not you purchased your present band instrument from Earl Ray, they will be glad to give you a price you are sure to appreciate with trade on a better one.

A wide choice of instruments is stocked.

Month-Long McWhorter's Tire Sale Includes Every Tire In Huge Stock

Every tire in the house is sale priced throughout November!

At McWhorter's, that is.

"For the unbeatable combination of the world's finest tires and the best tire deals in West Texas, rely upon McWhorter's, home-owned and home-managed, at 1008 Texas Avenue in downtown Lubbock.

Imagine... sale prices on the famous Goodyear tire line right here before the holidays... when such deals can be especially appreciated, whether in preparation of ski trips, a Thanksgiving trip, or wheels for Christmas gifting!

Tire Chains
(Speaking of ski treks, it is that time again, and McWhorter's is ready with a stock of chains in all sizes. Wise advice is to get these chains now, before the rush.)

Front-end alignment and brake service are other key reasons for turning to McWhorter's before the holiday rush, too.

See the McWhorter ads in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal for specific prices.

Business & Industrial Review

PLAUDITS FOR DEPARTMENT HEAD — Mort Salit, right, is congratulated here by J.G. Treadaway, Woolco manager in Lubbock, upon designation as "Outstanding Employee of the Month". Salit, one of the best acquainted and most popular of the Woolco family of dedicated staffers, has been with the firm for more than five years. A native of Baltimore, Md., Salit attended the University of Baltimore, and has been in the retail and wholesale field for 30 years. He is a 14-year Lubbock resident, and he and his wife have two daughters. Salit exemplifies the type employee Woolco is proud to claim. Treadaway emphasizes, fitting in with the store's constant endeavors to "become your favorite store".

Layaway, Other Purchase Options Enable Easiest Christmas Shopping

"Each year, don't you envy the shopper who plans ahead and avoids the last-minute rush of the Christmas season, the person who already has all gifts selected and often paid for in full!"

Woolco makes this all so, so easy for you, too, with its already-huge Christmas-oriented stock added to each department, and with the layaway and purchase options that make for easy shopping, whatever the need.

"All merchandise except seasonal or close-out items may be put on layaway. In fact, we at Woolco are now taking layaways for Christmas which will be held until Dec. 16. Now, wouldn't it be wise to select now and use this convenient plan to ease the Christmas rush at later date?"

This added convenience (in addition to Woolco's three types of charge accounts) enables one to put only 10 per cent down and place almost any type of merchandise on layaway.

Nominal Charge
The handling charge for this service is only 50 cents for purchase up to $50; $1 for purchases between $50 and $100, and $2 for $100 and up. Payments then are to be made at least once per month.

The efficient and friendly credit department personnel will be most happy to serve in either the handling of layaways or in opening a charge account with Woolco.

Options Listed
The three already-popular credit purchase options include:

First, there is the Revolving Charge Card that enables the customer to shop at his or her leisure, making one charge at one of the convenient checkouts in the front of the store.

Second is the 30-60-90 day account for major purchases, allowing one to pay one-third of the amount per month... with no finance charge!

Third, we have the Installment Payment account that allows you to make just one small monthly payment, with the finance charge figured on the unpaid balance. "Along with the Woolco credit service, we gladly accept your BankAmericard or Master Charge purchases."

DESIGNED FOR MAXIMUM CUSTOMER SERVICE — Pearl Garza, pictured, is one of the several Woolco staffers on hand to assist in the multiple purchase plans especially appreciated in Christmas planning.

Toy Selection Complete At Woolco

For a complete selection of toys from which to choose for Christmas... again it is Woolco!

And now is the time to see and select from so much that is new... and all at Woolco's low, low prices.

There are dolls and accessories, with all the newest dolls including Baby Come Back, Baby Heartbeat, Donnie and Marie and others, plus a wide variety of the "old standards" such as Barbie, Ken and others.

There are new lines of clothing to fit all popular 11 1/2-inch dolls, too. Plus toy refrigerators and appliances... everything to set up toy housekeeping.

There is an extensive selection of stuffed animals, and a wide variety of riding toys (sidewalk bicycles and tricycles included)... the Green Machines and Yellow Jackets, Hot Wheels of all sizes, pedal cars and battery-powered riding toys!

What a selection of games and puzzles... all the great and new table games,

Star Wars games and puzzles, Jaws and Monopoly, even large floor games, miniature pool tables and pinball machines.

There is a wide selection of HO race sets and train sets, featuring Aurora, the biggest name in HO racing. There are HO train sets at low prices, and a complete line of accessories.

Plus cars and trucks in abundance. Select from Tonka, Nylint and others.

All this and much more contributes to Woolco's correct claim to "a complete toy selection, ready now for Christmas."

LUBBOCK'S MOST COMPLETE WHOLESALE

Business & Industrial Review

GEARED FOR WINTER, FOR FASHION, FOR FIT — Children's Shoe World prides in the things that count. Shown with quality footwear for the season are staffmembers Wanda Teal, Glenn Hobgood and Alan Allgood. Note the firetruck that in every season proves a delight for the children who look forward to a trip to Children's Shoe World.

Children's Shoe World Stocks Footwear Needs For Season

"Make Children's Shoe World your winter, school and holiday footwear headquarters; they have earned the title!"

This invitation from "the largest in West Texas" is qualified in unmistakable manner by the friendly firm's regular and corrective footwear, its provision of the right facilities and by the interest and qualified help of its staff.

Actually famous for fit and quality, Children's Shoe World, at 3624 50th St., stays at the forefront in every season.

Boots, Galoshes

Examples of the exciting current offering include gaucha type boots, dingo boots, and (note this, for sure) a complete assortment of rubber footwear — overshoes, galoshes.

A complete line of Child Life and Lazy Bones shoes are stocked. The Child Life really "dressy", slinky patent shoes are in top style, and available here.

One's doctor's prescription is gladly filled in these famous shoes at Children's Shoe World; after all, the firm works in close harmony with the doctor, following his advice and prescription. It would do no less as the largest store in West Texas serving orthopedic needs.

Those visiting the store within recent weeks have found that it has been most attractively and functionally remodeled and enlarged for maximum customer service through arrangement, display and atmosphere.

It all adds to the fact that the people at Children's Shoe World are capable and honest in their effort to meet the needs of all children.

Alan Allgood, co-manager, brings to the Lubbock area many years of shoe fitting experience. He emphasizes, and correctly so, that parents should be conscious of their children's foot problems, then bringing them to Children's Shoe World where "we can take care of your needs."

Wanda Teal, co-manager, is a native Lubbockite and began servicing little feet here back in 1951. She has been with the firm since its opening in 1967, and is fitting the second generation of many families.

Rounding out the very capable staff is Glenn Hobgood, another who recognizes and emphasizes the importance of proper fitting for the children.

This is a staff worth knowing — and depending upon.

E.R. Handy, owner and founder, takes pride in the services rendered, in the staff capabilities, in the progress and continued growth of the business, knowing that well-pleased customers tell others!

"If you have never shopped Children's Shoe World (the largest in West Texas serving orthopedic needs, remember), then a new experience and treat awaits, for we take pride in putting you, our customer, number one!"

The entire personnel at this unique children's shoe headquarters believe that it is much more important to fit a child correctly in a quality shoe best for his or her feet than it is to simply make a sale.

Even with all the comfort and correct fitting, which is stressed, the Children's Shoe World is well aware of style and brand names, and continually keeps abreast of what is new and best.

Correctly fitted shoes for the youngster is among the most important items in the healthy development of his or her body, each staffmember agrees. From the vital "first step" days until the feet are fully formed for normal growth, the child deserves the best in shoes.

Remember — an extensive line of regular and corrective footwear for children is the rule every day at Children's Shoe World, 3624 50th St. in Lubbock.

Store hours are 9:30 a.m. until 6 p.m. (including Saturdays).

Both BankAmericard and Master Charge are welcomed.

Alan Allgood, Wanda Teal and Glenn Hobgood have the extensive experience in fitting regular and orthopedic footwear; they know how to recognize the possibilities of foot troubles in youngsters. Most important, they will be the first to recommend that you consult a doctor before making a shoe choice if there is the slightest possibility of complications.

"Isn't this the type of firm to which you should trust your children's feet?"

Tole Painting, Oil Classes Among Mrs. B's Pre-Holiday Considerations

A most impressive schedule of tole painting, oil instruction, workshops and seminars has been announced for forthcoming weeks at Mrs. B's Arts, Crafts & Gifts.

Due to the enthusiastic acceptance and the popularity of Mary Lou Garrison's previous tole seminars at Mrs. B's, a return engagement is announced.

All-day sessions will be held Nov. 17, 18, and 19, with night seminars on Thursday and Friday (Nov. 17, 18).

Enrollment is underway, and one should register at earliest possible date to be assured of a place in the seminar.

And on Nov. 14, 15 and 16, one-day workshops in florals and landscapes will be conducted by Jeanie Lewis, much-sought-after oil instructor. Five of these workshops will be held in all.

Other one-day workshops are "in the mill" at Mrs. B's, and one should inquire for details. The qualified instructor list includes Charl Egeland and Sarah Storrs (tole painting) and Jo Daugherty and Sally Carter, oils.

All this, plus the tremendous stock of craft supplies at Mrs. B's, 5105 29th Drive, phone 797-5850, enables preparation for unique Christmas gifts. But there is no time to delay!

Daily there are new arrivals throughout the stock, and frequent visits are invited and advised to stay abreast of all that is new. Everything at Mrs. B's, owned and actively managed by Margie Berryhill, says "welcome." The easy access, off-street parking in an uncrowded area, a building specifically designed and remodeled for the big craft and gift shop, the attractive arrangement within, the ample classroom area, the huge stock, and the friendliness of Margie and her daughter, Stacey, all correctly prove "We're glad you are among our customers."

Outstanding in Field

As to the instruction in the near future, most tole painters are familiar with the expertise of Mary Lou Garrison of the Village Tole House in Arlington (Tex.). A Master Tole Teacher, her drawings and paintings have been shown extensively.

Jeanie Lewis is a very outstanding artist, and is a native of Lubbock, though later living in Arizona, New Mexico and Houston.

Jeanie's main media is oil, but she also likes to work with acrylics. Her paintings are primarily landscapes and florals. Bright, happy colors dominate.

"I feel that with enough patience and desire, anyone can learn to paint," Jeanie emphasizes.

All materials necessary in any of the seminars, workshops and classes at Mrs. B's are stocked there.

Picture frames are now stocked, as is a very, very good selection of wood for the tole painters.

It is an outstanding pre-holiday season at Mrs. B's!

AMONG CLASS PROJECTS — This still life will be one of the paintings featured in forthcoming workshops at Mrs. B's Arts, Crafts & Gifts. Note the accompanying story for details regarding the impressive instructors and announced schedules.

HAROLD HARVEY, INSURANCE SPECIALIST, PLACES SERVICE FOREMOST

Modern, Knowledgeable Service
Sure At Harold Harvey Agency

"Is your insurance program up to date, meeting the needs of today and tomorrow?"

"Does your insurance fully serve the purpose of your personal preference?"

"Does it need review by a trusted and knowledgeable expert in the field?"

Then, turn to Harold Harvey, whether the need is for complete planning, for review, for mortgage cancellation life insurance or whatnot.

Harold Harvey's continuing efforts and subsequent successes in insurance service are matter of record.

For a fact, the Harold Harvey Agency (No. 5, Briercroft Office Park, phone 747-6673) can materially assist, professionally and correctly, in the insurance picture.

Harvey takes pride in representing companies with good records, and prompt payments can be (and should be) a big factor in choosing one's insurance agent. Harvey prides in promptness.

The Harold Harvey Agency calls to attention some other situations in which they can be of prime benefit:

"Re-evaluation of one's insurance makes good sense what with property values going up every day."

Harvey points out the value of an "inflation-guard endorsement" that annually increases the insurance coverage of the home. This endorsement can be put on an annual basis on current homeowners' policies at a cost far from prohibitive. It provides a realistic protection of values.

"Specializing in fire and casualty insurance, the Harold Harvey Agency can render services that can be rewarding for every client.

Mortgage Cancellation
Among the key areas in which Harvey can render a special service is that of home owners mortgage cancellation life insurance, paying off the mortgage in full should the breads in... die.

The complete homeowners and mortgage cancellation package can be placed through Harvey with one company for maximum convenience and efficiency — the Floyd West Co. organization with which Harvey has had close contact since back in 1959.

Harvey also is a specialist in bonds, whether the need is administrator, guardianship, various types of court bonds, etc.

Whatever the insurance or bond need, Harold Harvey can simplify the problem. It is as elemental and easy as that.

Package Policy
A package policy that affords a substantial decrease in premiums in one of the services made available at the Harold Harvey Insurance Agency!

Applicable to commercial interests including hotel-motel and office, institutional, apartment, mercantile, processing and industrial, the Multi-Peril "package plan" is now available in Texas, and Harold Harvey at No. 5 Briercroft Office Park, is eager to assist with this program in improving one's insurance situation.

"In the complex world of insurance, it makes good sense to rely on Harold Harvey, a veteran in the field of "modern insurance practices with old-fashioned service."

Harvey is no newcomer to the insurance field or as a trusted friend and capable adviser to Lubbock and area policyholders.

"Visit or call Harold Harvey now. It could well improve your insurance picture."

Precision Tune In Lubbock Stresses
'Good Product At Reasonable Price'

"Doesn't your car need a tune-up? Does the cooler weather hint that one of these mornings it will be c-o-l-d, and a properly functioning vehicle will be a necessity?"

Then, isn't a trip in order, now, to Precision Tune, before the rush period?

Open since March, Precision Tune, 34th Street at Avenue Q in Lubbock, has apparently made quite a good name for itself. Customer response has been reported exceptionally good by the manager and local co-owner, Hank Tunnell.

Motor tune-up is the only business of the firm, Tunnell, an area native, emphasizes, with prices sure to appeal.

Prices Appeal
For a 4-cylinder auto, tune-up price is $25.50, for 6 cylinder, $27.50, and for 8 cylinder, $29.90, with these prices including parts and labor!

Involved are all-new Champion spark plugs, points and condenser, adjust timing and set carburetor plus (if needed) at no extra charge, replacement of P.C.V. valve, fuel filter, rotor cap, distributor cap and three spark plug wires.

Good, qualified mechanics are another pride of Tunnell who actively is on the job, with the clearly-marked, easy-to-find shop open from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m., Mondays through Fridays and until 5 p.m. Saturdays.

Speedy Service
Appointments, though not absolutely necessary, are welcomed. Same-day service is the rule, and one usually has to wait only 45 minutes to one hour, Hank reveals.

Modern Equipment
Latest equipment is utilized, including the Marquette engine analyzer and the Clayton dynamometer.

Precision Tune has a three-page list of guidelines including a "good product at reasonable price". Close check is kept on the quality of all service.

Success Story
Precision Tune was founded in October 1976 in Beaumont by Bill Childs, who still is president of Precision Tune, Inc., of Beaumont. His first venture (in a vacant service station in Beaumont) has grown until he owns five shops in the Texas-Louisiana area including partnership in the Lubbock operation.

HOLIDAY READINESS A FACT AT BOWMAN'S

Bowman Trim-a-Tree Shop Open With Selection Stressed

Bowman's fantastic Trim-a-Tree Shop is now open at the Big Bowman firm, 8301 S. University Ave.
 This means that Christmas preparation for home, office, business, parties or gifting can be the easiest ever — with such a stock provided at this time and at economical Bowman prices.
 Look at some of the opportunities in this so-pretty division of the Bowman facility:
 GE lights are stocked (cool, bright energy savers) with all fully guaranteed! Get the Merry Midget, 35-light set, for indoor or outdoor, for just $6.99, or the standard 25 light set for $9.99.
 Cut trees will be available Nov. 27, with prices from $9.99 for Plantation Fir, Douglas Fir, Noble Fir and Scotch Pine.
Custom Flocking
 Trees are 3 ft. to 7 ft. height, and custom tree flocking is available, as is delivery.
 Permanent trees already are in stock, priced from $13.95 to $89.95, in green or white silver. Both the long and short needle types are stocked. (Why not layaway now? There is no layaway charge.)

Custom Bows
 "Also... one must see the custom made bows. We at Bowman's custom make all our bows for gift wrapping. Prices for these begin at only 19 cents each."
 A complete assortment of tree ornaments is stocked, with the traditional shiny glass ornaments as well as the modern handmade and theme types. There are Santas, kissing figures, reindeer, animals, fruit, crystal ornaments, birds and others.
 And skirts for any tree.
 Real and artificial wreath material is stocked, with custom wreath making and centerpiece decorating another appreciated service.
 Tinsel and garland is stocked in abundance... in gold, silver, red, green, blue and frosted tip, in three, six and nine ply garland.
 Gift wrapping is available.
 Also arriving in time for Christmas are poinsettias and azaleas. The three-bloom sturdy poinsettias in six-inch pots are especially good values.

 Domestic and exotic tropical foliage arrives weekly. And there are imported Dutch bulbs now in stock. (Plus much, much more.)
Gift Suggestions
 Bowman has so very many items in stock that are great for Christmas giving... such as the Weedeaters in a variety of sizes and marked at special low prices.
 And McCulloch chain saws, the ultimate tool for pruning, firewood, backyard construction, etc. A choice in models is stocked.
 Whether it is selection from the specialized Christmas stock, the decorations, the gift items, the extensive nursery stock, or items from anywhere in the big facility, Bowman assures top value and selection... plus ease in shopping... and low, low prices.
 "Don't delay... visit the Bowman Trim-a-Tree Shop now: it is open from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m., Mondays through Saturdays."

Lamps of Distinction, Replacement Parts, Multiple Services Available

Even for those familiar with the House of Shades and Lamp Repair, 2710 50th St., a visit there at this time will reveal added services, newest shades and an expanded staff to afford every customer consideration.
 Unique lamps of distinction, quality lamp shades, replacement lamp parts and glass, expert lamp repair, custom building, re-wiring, re-design and re-finish (to make your lamp a shade better) in essence comprise the business scope of this better lamp house.
 Some months ago the House of Shades and Lamp Repair made giant strides, doubling its floor space, as example, to better serve. Consequently, more merchandise was stocked and more convenient display was enabled.

 From an outsider's viewpoint, it is noted that actually the expansion in physical facilities was simply another step in many progressive moves at this popular Lubbock firm.
 "Come on out and let us personally thank you for your trade and confidence that has made our steady growth possible."
 The House of Shades and Lamp Repair is in its sixth year of service.
Meeting A Need
 Even at its beginning, this Lubbock firm recognized the needs in its field, and stocked and served accordingly. Since that date, even more has been learned of customer preferences, and consequent growth and expansion has followed. Yes, the House of Shades and Lamp Repair is here to stay!

 Owners Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Houchin report that continually they are able to get more and better stock.
 The House of Shades has complete facilities for lamp wiring, repair and rebuilding. One's favorite antique, bottle or vase can be professionally converted to a lamp to specifications. "We'll make a lamp out of any old thing!"

Heartline

HEARTLINE is a service for senior citizens of all ages. Its purpose is to answer questions and solve problems — fast. If you have a question or a problem not answered in these columns, write Heartline, 114 E. Dayton St., West Alexandria, Ohio 45381. Senior citizens will receive prompt replies but a stamped, self-addressed envelope must be included with the request. The most useful replies will be printed in this column.

HEARTLINE: I am 57 years old and I have been working in the railroad industry my whole life. I recently had an accident and I will be off work for quite some time. Can you tell me how I apply for sickness benefits from the railroad? — T.F.

A. An application for sickness benefits (Form Si-1a & b) can be obtained from a railroad employer, a railroad labor organization, or any board office. An application (which includes a doctor's statement of sickness. There is a new orange-colored sickness application for use in claiming sickness benefits. Keep some extra forms on hand, and let your family know where they are kept and how to use it on your behalf, if necessary. Also, keep your latest Form BA-6, Certificate of Service Months and Compensation, with the application. Your BA-6 form shows your Social Security number and includes instructions on how to claim benefits.

If you become unable to work because you are sick or injured, complete the application, have your doctor complete his part of the form, and mail it directly to the U.S. Railroad Retirement Board within seven days of the first day for which you want to claim benefits. Enclose the right-hand portion of your BA-6 form, but do not delay sending your application if you cannot locate your BA-6 form. Delayed filing can cost you benefits.

HEARTLINE: I am reaching 65 and I am going to apply for Supplemental Security Income. I have visited a Social Security office before. What papers should I bring with me when I file my applications? — S.R.

A. It depends on your situation. In general, you should bring any of the following: your Social Security number; documents showing your date of birth; if you own property, your last tax bill or other papers showing its value; any income tax papers for this year or last year; and any bank books or other records you may have that show the amounts of your earnings, savings, and other income.

Do not delay, however, in calling or visiting your Social Security office. The people there will gladly assist you in obtaining the papers you need.

HEARTLINE: Each month I send my medical bills to Medicare. Sometimes these include bills from three or four different doctors. Lately, the payments have been delayed because Medicare has written for more information about itemizing one doctor's bill more completely. Is there anyway that I can prevent this delay? — J.C.

A. You are attaching all doctor's bills to one Medicare claim form. One carrier we checked with suggested that you attach bills from each doctor to a separate claim form, thus permitting the correctly itemized ones to be paid more promptly. We also suggest that you visit the doctor whose claims need more itemizing and discuss the carrier's letter with him. By having the claim correctly itemized, your payments will be more prompt.

Heartline has developed a detailed book covering the whole Medicare program. "Heartline's Guide to Medicare" is written in easy-to-understand, question-and-answer form and contains information on many medical items and services that are covered, complete information on the deductibles you have to pay, a sample claim form with detailed instructions on how to fill it out, and a complete explanation on how the reasonable charge under Part B is figured.

For your copy, send $1.50 to "Heartline's Guide to Medicare," 114 E. Dayton St., West Alexandria, Ohio 45381. If you are not satisfied, your money will be refunded. Please allow six weeks for delivery.

Princess Anne's First Child Due

LONDON (AP) — Princess Anne, 27, only daughter of Queen Elizabeth II, will have her first baby this month in a hospital and not in Buckingham Palace, a newspaper has reported.

The birth is expected about Nov. 14, which is the princess' anniversary and Prince Charles' birthday. The London Sunday Telegraph said the decision on a hospital, which was not named, was on the advice of doctors who noted Anne's previous gynecological trouble. She had surgery to remove an ovarian cyst when she was 20.

Good News: Enough Supply Of Antifreeze

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The good news is the automobile antifreeze outlook for winter is bright: Supplies are plentiful and the price is about the same.

There really hasn't been a crunch as far as antifreeze is concerned since 1974 when, in a spinoff from the energy crisis, panic buying and restricted supplies caused a shortage.

Union Carbide, which makes Prestone, said "the situation has been pretty good since 1974. We're not concerned at all this year."

The company also said that most retailers are selling antifreeze for slightly less than $4 per gallon.

The fact that chain stores are piling it high on their shelves right now and pushing it does not reflect a big inventory left from last year but more likely an attempt to cash in on still lingering memories of last year's severe winter.

In 1973 antifreeze was selling for as little as $1.59 a gallon. Prices the following year went to $4 and $5 a gallon, and while they have not declined to the levels of previous years, they have not continued to jump either.

The problem during the oil embargo involved a shortage of ethylene glycol, a basic ingredient which comes from crude oil or natural gas.

An additional factor was that polyester fibre, used for so much clothing, has the same chemical base and was competing with antifreeze for the basic raw material.

But industry spokesmen say the situation has now eased and in general there should be enough antifreeze to go around this winter.

INVESTORS' GUIDE

By SAM SHULSKY

Q. The other Sunday afternoon, after another day of losing on football bets, my wife said, "Why don't you try the stock market? You couldn't do much worse!" I just happened to notice your column the other day. (I generally don't get past the sports pages.) I'd like to try the market. Have you a list of high-risk, high-yield stocks? I'm rushing this letter because I've got a series bet on the Dodgers and the game is about to start.

A. Well, anyway, you didn't have to rush out to collect on that bet. And, secondly, if you're interested in high finance these days, you don't have to go beyond the sports pages. There's more money being made there than in Wall Street.

As for shifting from bets on football to bets on stocks, I'd say you're getting into wilder territory. A team's record has been plotted to three decimal places. (And statistics on any given batter's ability to hit a lefthander with two men on and with three pretty redheads in the right field bleachers as an inducement are instantly available.) But doping out your stock's chances involves guessing not only what the "Fed" is going to do about interest rates, but predicting where (and when) the next international incident will erupt and what public official will pick that day to issue a gloomy statistic.

I don't have any list of gambling stocks. If you want to be frank about it, practically all the issues on the N.Y. Amex and counter as well as those on the regional exchanges are your oyster. The bets are larger, you most likely will have to wait more than a couple of hours to know whether you win or lose, and the "odds" are made tougher by commission charges which can run to 2 to 3 percent of your bets.

Q. We are in our 50s. We have $25 face value E bonds going back to 20 to 30 years. Would it be to our advantage to cash these in and get larger face value bonds? Are these old bonds still earning interest? We also have a gold investment certificate which accumulates interest at 6 3/4 percent. If I don't take the money out it is automatically renewed. Should we add more money to this gold certificate?

A. Do not cash in the $25 face value E bonds because if you do, you become subject to the tax on past interest accumulated in the bonds. There is no disadvantage in $25 face value bonds. There is no reason to exchange them. All the bonds are still earning interest.

(Every E bond issued since May, 1941, is still earning interest.)

The smaller bonds do take more space in your vault box but that still doesn't justify paying income taxes now while you are still employed. E bonds are E bonds whether they are in $25 or $500 or $1,000 amounts.

I am not sure what you mean by a "gold investment certificate." Who issued it? Or stands behind it? What is the meaning of "gold" in the title? (I doubt it means anything.)

Tomorrow: Company stock in retirement.

Shulsky welcomes written questions, but he will be able to provide answers only through the column.

For lists of growth and dividend stock, please include a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Address your requests to Sam Shulsky care of King Features Syndicate, 235 East 45th St., New York, N.Y. 10017.
