'We can sue everybody in town under this thing. It's fantastic what the computers can do," school board president Charles Waters said of the proposal drafted by Brooks and tax attorney Cleddie Added Waters somewhat wrily: "I don't know what it'll do for us politically,

The proposal, to be refined this month, involves using computers to spew out lawsuits against delinquent account on the city-school tax roll.

And, says Brooks, the system will be designed to file suit against property owners as soon as their tax bills become delinquent after Jan. 31 of each year.

With this sophisticated a program, we hope to prevent most accounts from ever being delinquent for very long, so they won't add to the overwhelming backlog we've already accumulated," he said.

That backlog is indeed enormous. For the school district alone, it totals about $6 million, Superintendent Ed Irons said. Massive Backlog

So huge is the backlog that as cityschool tax officials try to reduce it by conventional means — filing suits by hand - their efforts are offset by the mass of current accounts turning delin quent each February, Brooks said From past years' experience, he estihas been a "grace period" for recently delinquent tax accounts, Brooks said. Instead of getting sued, the newly delinquent property owners received at most only letters seeking payment.

The tremendous volume of accounts in-volved has prohibited filing suits soon after the Jan. 31 deadline, Brooks said. Rather, the February-through-June period has been used to play catch-up on the older back taxes, he said.

This grace period on newly delinquent accounts has allowed many property owners — particularly Texas Tech University students and Reese Air Force Base personnel - to leave the city before payment of their taxes is demanded. school trustees said.

Evidence of that, they said, is found in the composition of the school district's $6 million delinquent tax roll: 77 percent of that is personal property — notably automobiles - and 23 percent is real estate.

Personal property, Irons said, is "the hardest to collect because most of the people have already moved by the time we get around to them." A four-year statute of limitations on personal property trict's efforts, he added.

President Urges Treaty Support

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter said Wednesday night he would not besitate to send U.S. troops to defend the Panama Canal - "and I have no doubt that even in sustained combat we would be successful."

But Carter said the treaty to yield control of the waterway to Panama in the year 2000 would diminish the risk of any need for armed intervention to defend it.

Urging public support for Senate ratification of the Panama Canal treaty, Carter's firm pledge confronted one of the major points rated by opponents who complain that the pact does not spell out American defense rights.

Opposition Questions Panama Control

That opposition argument deals with the situation after the year 2000 when the canal would be under Panamanian control when Carter, of course, would not be president.

In a nationally broadcast and televised fireside chat, the second of his year-old presidency, Carter said approval of the treaty is "in the highest national interest of the United States and will strengthen our position in the world."

He said opposition to the treaty, due to come up for debate in the Senate next week, "is based on misunderstanding

Many Troops Needed Carter said military experts agree that even with an alliance with Panama "a-gainst the common enemy, it would take a large number of American troops to sons to fight in the jungles of Panama," and that is implementation of the treaty. He said that will help to avoid any attack on the Panama Canal.

Strengthen Security
The president argued that ratification will strengthen U.S. security interests, improve trade opportunities, honor a commitment to keep the canal open to world commerce at a fair price and "demonstrate that as a large and power-ful country we are able to deal fairly and honorably with a proud but smaller sov-

Much of Carter's talk was devoted to posing questions often raised by treaty critics and providing his own answers. For example, he said, many Ameri-cans argue "we bought it, we paid for it, it's ours."

"Do Not Own" Zone

His response was "we do not own the Panama Canal Zone — we have never had sovereignty over it" but rather have purchased the right to use it through annual payments to Panama.

"We have never needed to own the Panama Canal Zone," he said, "any more than we need to own a 10-mile wide strip of land through Canada when we build an international gas pipeline."

Carter also raised the question of whether the United States would have the right to protect and defend the canal against any armed attack or threat to its

Torrijos Statement "The answer is yes," he declared, saying the agreement with Panama not only provides for this but that defense is also spelled out in a statement of under-standing he negotiated last August with Panamanian leader Omar Torrijos — a statement that treaty backers plan to incorporate into the accord. "I would not hesitate to deploy whatever armed forces are necessary to defend the canal," Carter asserted, "and I

WASHINGTON (AP) - A U.S. Information Agency employee and a Viet-namese national pleaded innocent Wednesday to charges of spying for com-munist Vietnam and were held under heavy bond for trial April 3.

Their court-appointed attorneys sought to discount the seriousness of the charges. One said a "scare indictment' had been returned Tuesday by a federal grand jury. The other said the seven-count indictment "blows the charges out of all proportion ... These charges are not as serious as they seem, although of an enticing nature."

Both men, Ronald Louis Humphrey and David Truong, who was indicted under his Vietnamese name, Truong Dinh Hung, pleaded innocent.

Both men spoke only briefly at their arraignment in nearby Alexandria, Va. before U.S. District Judge Albert V.

The judge granted a defense motion to reduce Humpfirey's bond from the $250,000 he had fixed on Tuesday to $150,000. School Board Seat Sought By Accountant

BILL WARREN, an accountant in the local office of the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation, announced his candidacy Wednesday for Place 1 on the Lubbock Independent School District board of trustees.

Warren, 50, of 3004 32nd St., said he wants to help develop a lasting solution to the district's desegregation problems.

"We've been dealing with this thing for 10 years now and we need to get something settled. As long as students are worrying about what schools they're going to, it's not good," he said.

Three in Race
In filing for the Place 1 race, Warren designated Darrell L. Vines as his campaign manager. Two other candidates—Lynn Stafford and Dr. John Ray Jr.—also are running for that post.

School board secretary Joan Ervin, the Place 1 incumbent, says she will not seek re-election.

Punxsutawney Phil To Check Shadow

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa. (AP) — Punxsutawney Phil, a prophetic groundhog who claims his shadow knows, will assess the likelihood of a quick end to winter today from new digs on snow-covered Gobblers Knob. "The new spot will make it easier for everyone to see Phil when he pops his head out," Erhard said. Phil emerges at surrise to make his prediction. Today the sun rises at 7:27 a.m. on Gobblers Knob.

The ceremonial groundhog is taken to a lighted, heated tree stump early in the morning, and comes out when the Groundhog Club's president thumps on the burrow's red doors with a gnarled cane.
Since 1887, records indicate Phil has predicted an extended winter for every year but two - 1960 and 1975. The week after the 1960 forecast, a storm rolled in, dumping two feet of snow on some parts of Pennsylvania, and left Phil out in the cold. The fair forecast held in 1975, however, when most of the nation experienced warm tempera-tures through February.

Surgery Eliminates Tiger's Toothache

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - Three dentists performed a root canal operation on a 300-pound Siberian tiger at the Philadelphia Zoo Wednesday, "just like treating a garden-variety patient," one doctor said.

Dr. Jeffrey Ingber, a restorative dentist and instructor at the University of Pennsylvania Dental School, said, "We're exhausted, but happy. We were expecting the worse, but everything went like we had been doing it all our lives." For the past three months, Monty, a 4-year-old tiger, had lost weight and become sickly. "He could eat well, but he wasn't doing well," said staff veterinarian Dr. Hannah Hinsch. In December, Monty underwent a physical examination that turned up a high level of white blood cells and the broken tooth. Except for those problems, there appeared to be nothing wrong, Dr. Hinsch said. The surgical team used specially adapted human dental tools to reach the 6-inch tooth and remove the entire nerve during the three-hour operation Wednesday. The nerve was broken into bits and flushed from the canal by injecting a sterile salt water solution. A zinc oxide paste was injected into the root canal, and a silver alloy filling with a white composite resin gave the long, conical tooth a normal white - although somewhat blunted - appearance.

Drs. Carl Tinkelman and Mark Snyder, staff members at the dental school,

Meanwhile, in what veterinary ophthalmologists said was the first operation of its kind, a cataract was successfully removed from the right eye of a 4,500pound elephant at Brookfield Zoo in Chicago. The delicate surgery on 8-year-old Pasha, the only male in the zoo's herd of four pachyderms, took more than two hours in a makeshift hospital in the elephant's stall on Wednesday. The operation by ultrasonic probe - vibrations used to break up the thin, milky covering of the eye - was performed by Dr. Samuel Vainisi, a Green Bay, Wis., veterinary ophthalmologist. Three other specialists, 15 keepers and zoo veterinarian staff members assisted.

Powerful lights were installed. The veterinarians wore green surgical gowns. Pasha was immobilized on his side, his hulk, except for the eye area, covered by a large sterilized sheet.

"One of the main concerns was keeping Pasha absolutely still by injecting him with an immobilizing agent," said Dr. George Rabb, zoo director. "The operation took longer than expected ... We believe Pasha's sight in the eye will be restored by about 80 to 90 percent."

Asian elephants such as Pasha usually live 40 to 50 years in captivity, officials say. The long-range hope at the zoo is that Pasha will someday father offspring.

That decrease in supply is expected to boost the price of hamburger by 10 to 15 percent this year, the meat institute says.

1.2 Percent Increase

The AP survey showed that the total bill of 14 commonly purchased food and nonfood products priced at one supermarket in each of 13 cities rose an average of 1.2 percent during January. That compared with a 2.3 percent boost in Decem

The survey was based on a random list of 15 items drawn up on March 1. 1973. The price of each item has been checked on or about the start of each succeeding month since then. One item - chocolate chip cookies - had to be dropped from the list at the end of November 1977 because the maker discontinued the packaged size used in

The latest survey showed the marketbasket bill rose at the checklist store in nine cities last month, up an average of 2.8 percent. The bill dropped in four cities, down an average of 1.7 percent

Comparing prices at the end of January with those a year earlier, the AP found the marketbasket bill at the checklist stores rose an average of 9.5 percent. When coffee which rose to nearly $5 a pound last spring and has declined slowly since then - was removed from the total, the boost was not quite so bitter. The coffee-free bill at the checklist stores increased an average of 7.1 percent.

Chopped Chuck Increases The AP found that the price of chopped chuck increased during January at the checklist store in nine cities. The average rise was 26 percent. Measuring all 13 survey cities, the average price of a pound of the hamburger meat at the checklist stores went from $1.03 at the start of the year to $1.15 today, a boost of 12 percent.

Hamburger wasn't the only item to take a bigger bite out of the grocery budget last month. Pork chops also increased, with the cost of a pound of center-cut pork chops rising during January at the checklist store in seven cities, up an average of 13 percent In contrast to beef, pork has been increasing in supply and prices generally have remained fairly stable. There was no immediate explanation for the January increase. But some sources said a smaller-than-predicted increase in the recent hog supply could be part of the reason.

Sugar prices, which started rising in December, reflecting government price supports instituted late in 1977, went up again at the checklist store in seven cities, up an average of 6 percent. The average price of the sugar at the survey stores in the 13 cities went from $1.12 at the start of the month to $1.16 at the end.

THe higher price of sugar is expected to be reflected in a wide variety of products during the coming year. Analysts for the cooperative extension service of Cornell University predict that higher sugar prices will account for half of percent of the 4 percent to 6 percent increase in food prices that is expected during 1978.

Dairy Bright Spot

One of the few bright spots last month came at the dairy counter. Eggs, which increased in December, dropped again. The price of a dozen, Grade-A, medium eggs decreased at the checklist store in nine cities last month. The average drop was over 12

A look at the overall number of items in the AP survey showed fewer increases — and more decreases — during January than during December. Here at the percentages of increases and decreases:

Down	V	.3 23.

No attempt was made to weight the survey results according to population density or in terms of what percent of a family's actual grocery outlay each item represents. The day of the week on which the check was made varied depending on the month. Standard brands was not available on March 1, 1973, a comparable substitute was selected. Items temporarily out of stock on one of the survey dates being compared were not included in the overall total.

Actual Prices Not Compared

The AP did not try to compare actual prices from city to city — to say, for example, that eggs cost more in one area than another. The only comparisons were made in terms of percentages of increase or decrease - saying a particular item went up 10 percent in one city and 6 percent in another.

The USDA marketbasket issued each month is based on a complex set of statistics. It includes 65 retail items of U.S. farm-produced foods in amounts that theoretically could supply a household of 3.2 persons for one year. The department, which draws on information from 1,500 supermarkets in compiling its report, says the figures do not correspond to actual family food spending and are used mainly to illustrate changes in

The items on the AP checklist are: chopped chuck, center cut pork chops, frozen orange juice concentrate, coffee, paper towels, butter, Grade-A medium eggs, creamy peanut butter, laundry detergent, fabric softener, tomato sauce, milk, frankfurters and granulated sugar.

The cities checked are: Albuquerque, N.M., Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Detroit, Los Angeles, Miami, New York, Philadelphia, Providence, R.I., Salt Lake City

Albuquerque
The marketbasket total at the checklist store went from $16.03 to $15.94, down a little more than half a percent. Chopped chuck, peanut butter and detergent increased, while orange juice, paper towels and eggs declined. The other eight items stayed the

The total went from $15.47 to $15.06, down 2.7 percent. Increases in the price of chopped chuck, orange juice, paper towels, butter and tomato sauce were more than offset by declines in the cost of pork chops, coffee eggs, peanut butter and detergent. The other four items were unchanged.

The total at the checklist store went from $16.46 to $17.11, up 3.9 percent. The main reason for the increase was a rise in the price of chopped chuck which was on sale at 99 cents a pound at the start of the year and returned to the normal $1.39-a-pound level by the end of January. Frankfurters, sugar and butter also increased; tomato sauce decreased; and other items stayed the same.

Chicago The total for 12 available items went from $11.89 to $12.24, up 2.9 percent. Chopped chuck, pork chops, peanut butter, milk, frankfurters and sugar all increased, while only eggs declined. Neither coffee nor fabric softener was available at the checklist store in the requested size and brand. The other five items were unchanged.

Dallas The total went from $15.13 to $15.23, up seven-tenths of a percent. Orange juice, butter, tomato sauce, frankfurters and sugar increased; chopped chuck, eggs and pork chops decreased; the remaining six items were unchanged. Detroit

The total for the 12 items available at the checklist store went from $13.54 to $13.34, down 1.5 percent. Paper towels, peanut butter, milk and frankfurters increased; chopped chuck and eggs decreased. Neither pork chops nor orange juice was available at the checklist store in the wake of the recent snowstorm. Coffee, butter, detergent, fabric softener, tomato sauce and sugar were unchanged.

Los Angeles

The total went from $14.93 to $14.66, down 1.8 percent. Chopped chuck, orange juice and sugar increased, but pork, detergent, milk, fabric softener and frankfurters all decreased. Only tomato sauce remained unchanged.

The marketbasket total went from $15.66 to $15.83, up 1.1 percent. The single biggest increase came in the price of pork chops which went from $1.99 to $2.99 a pound.

Orange juice, paper towels and sugar also increased in price, while chopped chuck, butter, eggs, detergent, tomato sauce and frankfurters declined. The other four items

New York The total for 12 available items went from $17.41 to $17.58, up 1 percent. The increase was due to higher prices for chopped chuck, pork chops and peanut butter. The Chopped chuck, pork chops, eggs, sugar, peanut butter and fabric softener all went up; coffee, paper towels, butter and tomato sauce decreased. Only orange juice, detergent, milk and frankfurters remained unchanged.

The total for 13 available items went from $12.16 to $13.16, up 8.2 percent. The increase was due mainly to sharp jumps in the price of chopped chuck, which went from $1.05 to $1.50 a pound, and pork chops, which went from $2.00 to $2.98 a pound. Eggand frankfurters also increased; paper towels and butter declined. Coffee was unavailable at the checklist store in the requested size and brand on one of the survey dates. The other seven items were unchanged.

Slight Drop Found In Grocery Prices

Despite an uncharacteristic leap in the price of sugar, the total cost of 16 commonly purchased grocery items surveyed Wednesday by the Avalanche-Journal fell off 10 cents since last month.

The total of $18.56 for the items is $2.23 higher than the cost at this time last

A five-pound bag of sugar soared 29 cents to a $1.32 Wednesday. The boost since last month reflected an identical increase over the price a year ago. However, during the year sugar has only fluctuated by six cents at a time, ranging in price from $1.13 in June to 93 cents in Bacon hits its all-time high for the past 12 months. A pound of smoked bacon jumped 14 cents to $1.73 since last month, half of its total gain in a year.

The only other product with a markup was chicken. Fryers are now 53 cents a pound as compared to 49 cents a pound

Price decreases for potatoes and lettuce, often oscillating in price, dipped 20 and 10 cents respectively. A 10-pound bag of potatoes costs 99 cents and a onepound head of lettuce costs 39 cents.

A 49-ounce box of laundry detergent resumed its $1.39 tag which had increased 10 cents in December. The price now io

A dozen medium eggs at 64 cents are six cents less than last month and 31 cents cheaper than last February.

Also in the dairy case, a pound of margarine dropped nine cents to a 61-cent tag. The price, although seven cents higher than a year ago, is its lowest price since August.

Wieners, now at $1.43 a pound, are two cents under last month's asking but 16 cents more than a year ago.

Items maintaining their January prices in the survey were bread, milk, green beans, flour, round steak, coffee, and peanut butter.

Coffee has held steady at $3.49 a pound since November when it dropped 10 cents. A year ago, coffee was beginning its price climb and was up to $2.54.

A 12-ounce jar of creamy peanut butter is holding at 86 cents for the third month. It was tagged at 69 cents for 17 consecutive months before leaping to 82 cents in October. In December, it again showed a 4-cent hike.

A gallon of milk at $1.96 and a can of whole green beans at 43 cents are both four cents higher than last February. A large loaf of white bread at 61 cents is two pennies above last year's cost. A five-pound bag of flour, which was upped 2 cents in November to its present

Doling Out Canal Knowledge

IT NOW appears that The Great Debate over the Panama Canal treaties is going to end exactly as it began-in a bitter political shootout between two Republicans with presidential aspirations.

It won't be Ronald Reagan and Gerald Ford this time, but rather Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., and Minority Leader Howard Baker Jr., R-Tenn.

These two have been spoiling for a fight ever since Ford, in an effort to placate the newly vanquished Reagan, chose Dole over Baker as his 1976 running mate.

DOLE NEVER actually embraced the former president's pre-treaty position, although he ran on the Ford ticket.

He never had to. The Panama Canal issue—which dominated the GOP primary-did not arise in the general election. Early on, Dole warned that no Republican who voted for the treaties could win the 1980 presidential nomination.

Dole's jibe clearly was aimed at Baker, who was then stubbornly refusing to take a stand on the pacts. But Dole's inflexibility may have been a tactical error.

Baker, after months of indecision, journeyed to Panama and conducted his own highly publicized negotiations with Gen. Omar Torrijos.

BAKER NOW plans to join Majority Leader Robert Byrd, D-W.Va, in offering the agreed-upon amendments on the Senate

They will encourage senators who want the credit to tag along as cosponsors of the modifications, and fight for ratification without further changes, according to published

So Dole is left to find other grounds for opposing the treaties.

He cannot very well vote for them after his crack about 1980. Baker has blunted the sharpest arrows in his quiver.

DOLE, GOING into the floor debate, probably will concentrate on pushing for treaty changes that would permit the U.S. to maintain military bases in Panama after the year

He may also seek to eliminate treaty language that would preclude the U.S. from building a second canal anywhere except

While both notions could garner considerable support in the Senate, their adoption is unlikely.

For Baker, you see, is gambling that in the long run his own exercise in quasi-statesmanship will pay bigger political dividends than Dole's catering to emotionalism.

A Good Year--It Says Here

THE AVERAGE person may at times feel that the various statistics and trends purporting to show which way the economy is going mean nothing unless he is better off. And to the extent that it all starts with

'Ole No. 1," the average person is right. However, in a time when there have been numerous prophesies of doom and gloom, it is good to read some prognostications that things also may be all right.

THE LATEST in the "good news" department came this week when the government noted that its index designed to signal future economic trends had increased by a substantial margin. The boost was 0.7 percent in December, which if past indicators are to be relied on, means a probably strong performance in the months ahead.

For Lubbock and the South Plains, this, of course, is good news in an area where, for the most part, the economy has weathered the storms which have hit other parts of the nation.

And, if some sort of relief can be assured for the nation's, and area's, farmers, then the outlook for the months ahead will indeed be bright.

BUT, TO TAKE off into the wild blue yonder on forecasts based on what "might" happen, as many have learned, can be disas-

There are many factors which affect the swing of the economic pendulum, not the least of which is the continued intrusion of the federal government and the psychology of the consumer.

For whatever warning it is worth, both of these factors today are in a highly volatile

The current administration, while talking a line of conservatism, goes ahead with spending which can only fuel further inflation.

And the consumer, although enjoying the benefits of a rather affluent period, nevertheless expresses fear of the future.

THIS ALSO is an election year, and to shaky in the Mideast, portions of Africa where Russia and Cuba are making a bold bid for power, and in our own backyard in regard to the Panama Canal.

Hopefully, the forecasts will hold up, the administration will follow a more steady course, at home and abroad, and everyone will keep their powder dry, and unused!

'Short People' Lyrics Paean To Brotherhood

WASHINGTON-At 5'11", I am neither exceplionally tall nor especially short, so I can venture on the topic with some degree of objectivity.

The topic, of course, is the number-one popular song in the nation, an opus entitled "Short Peowritten and performed by a sardonic poet ple," written and perio named Randy Newman.

The song has caused enormous outrage, and has been banned from numerous radio stations as a result (thereby acquiring further popularity). I take it and its curious fate as an episode of our

For those who are not devotees of Top 40 radio music, I should explain:

"Short People" is a metronomic ballad which recites the alleged failings of the undersized: litle feet, grubby little hands, nasty little minds,

The opening line of the song is: "Short people got no reason to live," and the concluding line is 'Don't want no short people 'round here.'

WHILE NEWMAN'S nasal articulation leaves something to be desired, by the time one has heard him do his numbers a couple of times the oint is sufficiently obvious.

The song is a take-off on prejudice, and short people have been selected as the alleged objects of distaste because they provide a "safe" device for symbolizing the issue.

Try substituting "black," or "white," or "Jewish" for "short" and the difference of im-

In other words, it is precisely because there is ed prejudice against short people that ey can be used to write a musical satire on the ubject of prejudice, with the object, of course, or opposing it.

The very idea of someone walking around seething with hatred of short people is so absurd as to make the point all by itself, but in case there is any doubt about the matter Newman inserts a passage in which a chorus sings:

"Short people are just the same as you and I. All men are brothers until the day they die."

FROM ALL OF which it should be evident that ewman's song is a pop-music paean to brother-ood, and a put-down of those who do not em-

The same of the sa

The meaning is perfectly clear (and perfectly conventional), although Newman has used unorthodox tactics by mass-entertainment standards to get his message over.

And if that were all there is to it, the song would probably have experienced a few weeks' popularity and then faded into oblivion.

That, however, was not to be. The song has been transformed into a cause celebre by the angry reaction of some short people and those who ew themselves as defenders of short people.

Their protests have caused a defensive response at certain radio stations where the song has been withdrawn or banned.

AT LATEST COUNT, "Short People" has been dropped from stations in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, and other communities, and gotten itself discussed in lengthy articles in the Wall Street Journal and Washington Post.

The protesters hear the song, it seems, as an outpouring of the very prejudice it is intended to combat-an attack on short people rather than on the mythical bigot who sees in them the personfi-

They have listened to just enough of Newman's lyric to get the negative comments about short people, but not enough to understand the actual meaning of it, and without further ado have mounted a fierce crusade to get it stopped.

Thus a Top 40 song has became a major social ssue-for exactly the wrong reasons. THE PEOPLE WHO should be praising it are attacking it, and the people who should be attacking it (that is, authentic bigots) are probably reveling in it (which may account for its number-

The whole affray is totally backwards. Ignorant armies that clash by night are bad enough in politics; now we have them in pop music.

Satire has always lent itself to misunderstand-(some people thought Jonathan Swift really want to eat babies) and Top 40 radio is not a medium for fine distinctions.

Still, the total inversion of meanings that has occurred on this one is depressing, and tends to confirm a prejudice of my own—that nobody out there is really listening.

Tax Reform S.O.S.

Hill by Treasury Secretary W. Michael Blumenthal has prevented an immediate separation of tax reform and tax reduction even though longterm prospects for reform remain grim.

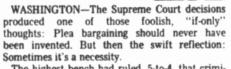

When the quick congressional reaction to President Carter's tax package favored splitting reduction and reform, Blumenthal scheduled private meetings with influential Democratic Congressmen to deliver this message:

The President really cares deeply about the reform side of the package.

That had its impact on Democratic members of the House Ways and Means Committee, who would prefer to consider reform proposals sepa-

ANDREW TULLY:

The highest bench had ruled, 5-to-4, that criminal prosecutors may threaten a defendant with more serious charges to pressure him into pleadng guilty to a lesser offense.

In the trade, that's called plea bargaining. Specifically, the justices decided the case of one Paul Hayes, who was indicted in 1973 on a charge of forging a check for $88.30. Hayes previously had been convicted of two felonies, rape and rob-

A Lexington, Ky., prosecutor offered to recommend a five-year term in exchange for a guilty plea. But if Hayes insisted on standing trial he was told, the prosecution would seek to reindict him under the state's Habitual Criminal Act.

THE HABITUAL criminal law, since repealed, made a life sentence mandatory on conviction for a third offense. But Haves said he was innocent and went to trial.

The jury found him guilty, which automatically subjected him to life in prison, with possible parole after 15 years. State courts upheld the verdict, but it was struck down by the 6th U.S. Court of Appeals. 'In this case," said the appeals court, "a vindictive mood need not be inferred. The prosecutor has admitted it." Ah, there's the rub-in that word "vindictive."

The Supreme Court's majority decided the prosecutor had not been vindictive. His conduct, wrote Justice Potter Stewart, openly presented the defendant with the...alternatives of foregoing trial or facing charges on which he was plainly subject to prose-

POTTER'S POINT was that Hayes had freedom of choice. In the "give-and-take" of plea bargaining, he wrote, there is no "violative element of punishment or retaliation so long as the accused is free to accept or reject the prosecu-

But wasn't Hayes aware that he'd be punished if he insisted on a trial? The answer is yes, but. The but lies in the fact that Hayes was given a choice, and he decided to gamble on winning acquittal on the bad-check charge.

And that, of course, is the trouble with plea bargaining. It involves the use of threats to "persuade" a defendant to plead guilty. Thus is raised the question of the quality of justice.

THE FOUR dissenting justices claimed justice was not done. Justice Harry Blackmun emphasized the prosecutor's "threat," solely to deter Hayes from exercising his right to a trial. Said Blackmun: "Prosecutorial vindictiveness in any context is still prosecutorial vindictiveness Justice Lewis F. Powell wrote that the offer of five years for passing a bad $88.30 check "hardly could be characterized as generous."

Blackmun and Poweli are right. It was a bad case, and the majority wrote bad law because the forging of a check for only $88.30 is a relatively minor offense. Plea bargaining sometimes is a necessity, but justice says that the prosection uld have given Hayes a more attractive reason really feels that deeply, they say, we won't insist.

BUT WHAT KIND of tax reform Carter can expect is another matter. Although the President's reform proposals are but a shadow of his previous plans, they will be whittled down still more sharply in Congress.

His highly publicized crusade against the "three-martini lunch" is in desperate trouble inside Ways and Means, whose members oppose the Carter proposal to halve the tax deductibility of business lunches.

A footnote: The Ways and Means Committee is also hostile to the Carter's tax plan's increase of income taxes for $25,000-plus incomes.

The congressional rule of thumb is that everybody, even the rich, should get some slice out of the tax-cut pie.

THE LAST political act of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, an appeal to Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin not to lose the chance for peace in the Mideast, has generated disagreement and debate among some of Humphrey's closest

There is no doubt his letter to Begin dated Jan. 11, two days before the Senator died, was the sincere effort of a stalwart friend of Israel to urge tion's role

The idea of Humphrey appealing to Begin was mentioned in the Senator's last telephone conversation with President Carter. David Gartner. Humphrey's top aide, told us it was Humphrey's idea, concurred in by the President.

THE DOWNHILL course of the Egyptian-Israeli talks was a major worry of the Senator in his final hours according to Gartner

But other Humphrey intimates who are strong advocates of Israel claim the letter was written at Carter's specific and strong request. Obviously concerned that Humphrey's last words on Israel support "full Egyptian sovereignty" in the Sinai, these friends tend to paint the incident as the case of a dying man being manipulated by the Carter administration. Humphrey personally toned down an earlier draft of the letter, prepared by his own staff, which more specifically blamed Begin for the According to Humphrey's pro-Israel friends, the administration preferred the earlier, more strongly worded version.

PROOF THAT President Carter really is trying harder to get along with Congress is provided by a surprise private meeting between him and one of his most powerful and persistent conservative Democratic critics: Rep. Joe Waggoner of Louis-Waggoner, a key figure on the House Ways and Means Committee, once was nearly expelled from the committee's Democratic caucus because of his close relationship with then Republican President Richard M. Nixon.

Since the 1976 election, he has been a tough opponent of many Carter proposals (particularly his energy tax measures). So, when he showed up at the White House one recent morning in response to a presidential summons, Waggoner noted to an aide that he appeared to be the first Congressman to arrive for the meeting.

No, he was told, you're the only one invited. Carter used the private get-acquainted session to sound out Waggoner's views on a variety of is-

A footnote: While Republican Congressmen generally keep a maximum distance from the exile of San Clement, Waggoner has maintained his ties with Nixon. He calls the former President from time to time, most recently to wish him a happy birthday and talk about developments in the Mideast.

noted later that it is each of us who will decide our future. In the America's Future article, what that future may be is discussed by R. K. Scott, the publisher. Under the heading of "1977 And...1984," here is what he has to say:

"ART BUCHWALD once wrote an amusing column about Rip Van Winkle falling asleep in Lafayette Park, across from the White House. After a ten-year nap, he awoke to find the Soviet flag with its hammer and sickle flying alongside the American flag. Shaking his head, old Rip said: 'Never would have happened if Nixon had been elected!" What made the column funny-and ironic -Scott points out, was that it appeared while President Nixon actually was playing host to Soviet Communist party leader Leonid Brezhnev. And, of course, the Russian red flag was flying at the White House.

As the past year drew to a close, Scott notes, it's clear that many more strange and startling things have been happening.

SUPPOSE YOU had gone to sleep ten years ago, in 1967, and awakened just now, he asks. Wouldn't you find it hard to believe that the U.S. had abandoned all of Indochina-South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos-to the Communists? "Having missed Nixon clinking glasses in Peking, you might be perplexed to see other prominent Americans flying off to Red China to pay homage to a tyranny that still preaches hatred and war against the United States. "Could you believe that we would be cozying up to Castro, even as Moscow's stooge was sending thousands of Cuban troops to crush freedom in Angola and other African countries, and brutally imprisoning thousands of anti-Communists, including Americans? "Would you not be more than mystified to awaken and find that we were about to give away the Panama Canal to a tinhorn dictator with

"WOULD YOU not also be puzzled to learn we were boycotting Rhodesia and blackballing South Africa over human rights-while shipping wheat and technology to the most oppressive colonialist empire on earth, the Soviet Union?

"And wouldn't you be jolted to learn that we had scrapped our only anti-ballistic missile system, disbanded most of our North American air defenses, shot down our own B-1 bomber and closed our only ICBM assembly line-all while watching Russia continue the biggest arms buildup since Hitler? "And wouldn't you be paffled by headlines shouting of new probes of the CIA and FBI, and of crippling cutbacks in their efforts to protect U.S. security against the spreading of espionage and subversive activities of the KGB (Russian Secret Police)? "There's no telling what 1978 will bring. But the way things have been going, our Rip Van Winkle might be excused for thinking that George Orwell's 1984 already has arrived. "Fortunately, a growing number of Americans are waking up to what's been going on. And they're determined to save America-before we

THAT'S PRETTY strong medicine. And Scott goes a few steps further in pointing up how more and more people are calling for a halt to the liberal excesses of the 1960's.

The excesses thread like a piece of unraveling yarn through the national fabric as far too many stand by and do nothing.

Yet, there are those who are raising their voices. Many Americans are mounting a campaign to seek Senate rejection of the Panama Canal giveaway. People are no longer reluctant to stand up and say "I am a Conservative," and then go out and act and vote like it because the Liberal Movement, in everything from welfare and Big Brotherism to the ERA, has gone too far. The younger generation itself, perhaps realizing the awesome, yet challenging and rewarding, task ahead, hopefully is turning to the right. What would you do to save your country? The answer is simple. Be an informed, objective and active citizen. Be a part of America. It's the best way of life you will ever have! L.M. BOYD:

reach 1984."

WHAT HAPPENED 83 years ago that caused numerous sensitive ladies to take their baths while fully clothed? Before your time? Mine, too. Still, for several years just before the turn of the century, a lot of women with tender sensibilities refused to take all their clothes off even behind closed doors.

It was the discovery in 1895 by William Roentgen of the X-ray. Widespread for a while there was the belief that the science boys had come up with a device that permitted them to see unspeakable details through walls.

Baker Wants 'Independent' Attorney General

Avalanche-Journal Staff What Texas needs, says Jim Baker, is an attorney general who is "more a lawyer than a politician." Baker says he fills the bill. That's not to say he doesn't know a lot

Baker stressed Wednesday.

"The attorney general is charged with preserving the integrity of government in this state. We need an attorney general who is independent of the political power structure in this state," he said on a campaign swing through Lubbock. He pointed to the controversy over

But he is not a part of the Democratic political machine in this Democratic-controlled state. And that's the big item,

President Carter's removal of Republican U.S. Atty. David Marston in Philadelphia as a "perfect example" of what happens when one political party has too much power. "The events of recent weeks in Washington involving the firing of a U.S. attorney at the urging of a Congressman he was investigating, I think, highlight the importance of independence in a law enforcement office," Baker said. The Houston attorney and former U.S.

undersecretary of commerce (1975-76) formally announced as a GOP candidate for state attorney general Tuesday. He is a little more than a year ago, he was managing President Ford's 1976 campaign.

But he is not a part of the Democratic going for him that can make him a winner in the general election, no matter which Democrat he faces and despite traditional GOP "underdog" status:

— Legal and administrative experience he said are "at least equal to, if not better than" White's or Daniel's:

— Texans being "sick and tired of the betrayal they've suffered at the hands of the Carter administration."

- Serious Republican financing for this campaign and a number of "good" GOP candidates up and down the November ballot.

On the experience slate, Baker noted he has been a full-time practicing attor-ney in Texas 18 years, and that he has spent seven years managing the some 100 lawyers in the Houston firm in which he is a partner.

One of the chief duties of an attorney general is "administering an office of 150 lawyers," he commented.

All three attorney general candidates have promised to take the Carter energy package to court if it attempts to allocate or put price controls on Texas natural

Baker said his Commerce Department experience will help there.

are," and can better fight the energy bat-tle and others against "increasing federal encroachment...in our daily lives," he

Carter betrayed Texans on the energy issue by promising deregulation during his campaign and now backing off that vow, Baker said.

Turning to the GOP November ticket, he said he thinks U.S. Sen. John Tower challenged by either Democrat Bob Krueger or Joe Christie — will help all other Republican candidates. Tower, the only Republican elected to a statewide office in Texas since Reconstruction, is a formidible vote-getter and 'every vote for John Tower can't pull a straight ticket," Baker stated.

This will be the first year the GOP has really "mounted...an across-the-board" campaign for top offices, he went on, noting that besides Tower and himself, Republicans will have:

- The winner of a likely three-way gubernatorial primary race on the ballot. Bill Clements and Ray Hutchison already are campaigning, and former governor's candidate Hank Grover who ran a hard 1972 race is expected to announce.

- Contenders for "seven or eight" congressional districts, including a three-ry here — George Bush, Jim Reese and Joe Hickox.

— A number of state senate candidates. All eyes locally are on former Lubbock mayor Jim Granberry who is keeping political observers here dancing, expecting him to announce for the 28th Senatorial District seat being vacated by Kent Hance.

"We never really had a well-financed" GOP campaign for anything but the gov-ernor's race, Baker said. That's not so now. He is reported to have collected, in just a two-week period, nearly $200,000 in pledges of financial support from his hometown alone. Baker said that if elected, he would like to follow current Atty Gen. John Hill's lead on one thing — suing "state agencies to make them obey the law. "That's a man 19th District fray in the GOP primary here — George Bush, Jim Reese and Joe Hickox.

— A number of state senate candidates. All eyes locally are on former Lubbock mayor Jim Granberry who is keeping political observers here dancing, expecting him to announce for the 28th Senatorial District seat being vacated by Kent very salutary thing."

On a Lubbock area hot potato, the Equal Rights Amendment, Baker said he believes the amendment to be unnecessary. "I would not support the ERA in the first instance because as a lawyer I believe the Constitution already guarantees equal rights" under the 14th Amendment, he said.

BOSTON (AP) — Many heart attack patients could safely be sent home from the hospital after one week instead of the current average of more than two weeks, aiding their psychological recovery and saving the nation $360 million in medical costs annually,

The researchers concluded that peoole who have had heart attacks can go home after about seven days if they have not suffered serious complica tions by their fourth day in the hospi-tal. Ordinarly, these patients stay in the hospital an average of almost 16

The doctors concluded that 45 percent of all heart attack victims could be sent home in one week. They estimated that at 1977 prices, this would save each patient an average $2,032.

According to a national survey, 394,-000 Americans have heart attacks each year. If 45 percent - 177,300 were discharged after one week, the researchers estimate this would save $360 million annually.

The doctors also said early release from the hospital could help diminish heart attack patients' fears about

"Many of the patients - although they don't have chest pain, shortness of breath or any other symptoms that would inhibit their activity — become cardiac cripples," said Dr. Robert A. Rosati, one of the Duke researchers.

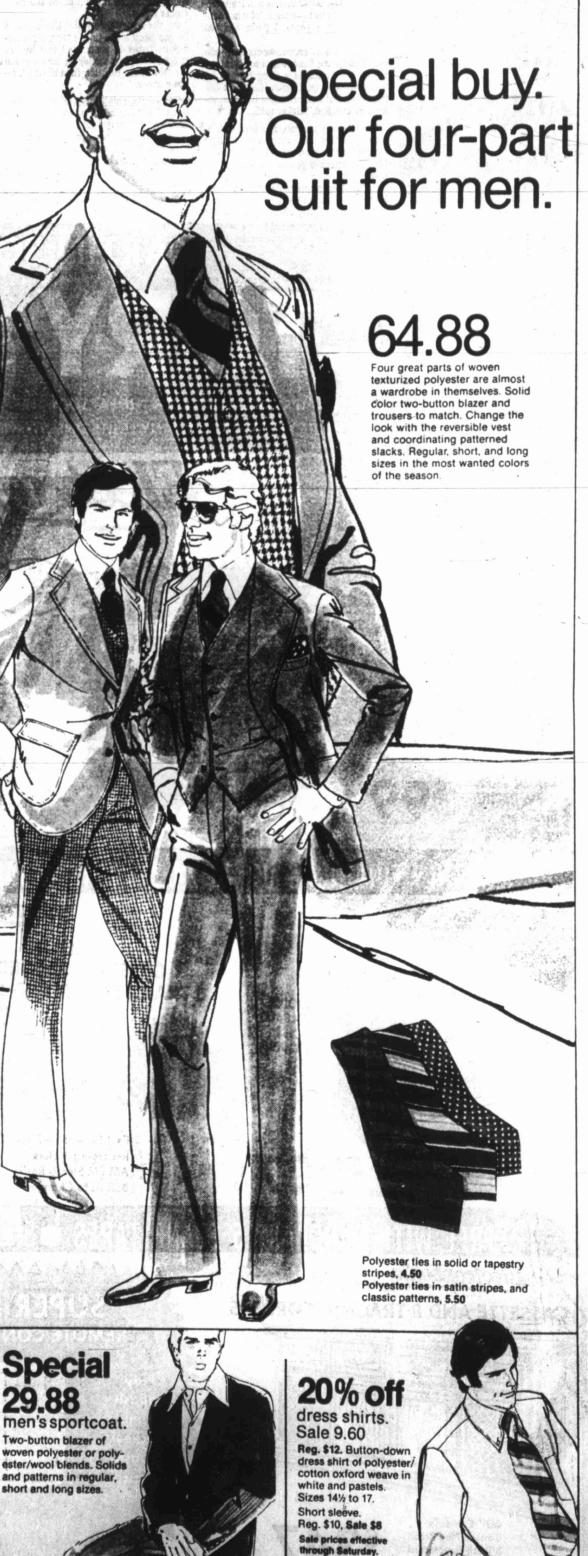

'They don't go back to work; they retire; they treat themselves as if they still have symptoms that limit them," he said. "By shortening the length of the hospitalization, we might contribute to the impression that they are not as bad off as if they had been in the hospital for a long time.

In their study, the researchers followed the medical progress of two groups of heart attack victims - one that went home after a week and another that was discharged after 11

Hail Suppression Voting Disputed

By LARRY SPRINGER

A-J Austin Bureau AUSTIN - The Hale County election in which a proposal for continued weather modification activities was defeated is invalid, proponents of hail suppression activities have told the Texas Water Com-

That argument, opponents countered, is sour grapes.

Considering only the narrow issue of whether the commission still has jurisdiction to rule on the application for a weather modification permit submitted by Plains Weather Improvement Association Inc., the two commission members were told by PWIA at siney Jerome Kirby of Littlefield that the Hale County election was "not validly called.

He maintained that the commissioners court did not have the authority to set the election on its own, but, by law, must wait until the court is petitioned in a manner set out in the elections statute.

Attorney for the opponents, Harrell Feldt, of Plainview, said there is nothing in the election law that says a county commission cannot call an election on the weather modification matter on its

He added that if the proponents had any complaints, they should have raised them before the election.

"Let the people's vote stand," Feldt urged, "Let's not have any of this second guessing because 'we didn't get the vote

Kirby argued, however, that the election precincts in which PWIA is now proposing to conduct its operations all voted for weather modification.

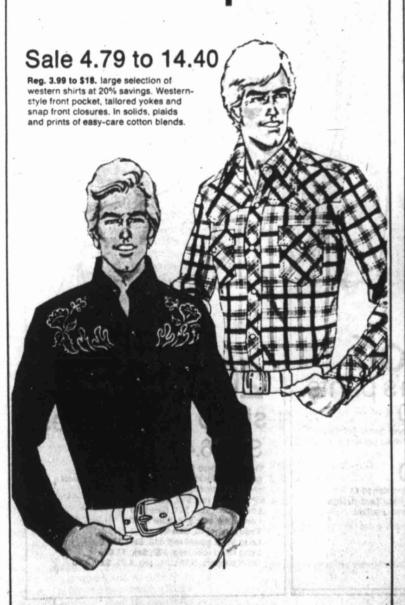

Those include some precincts in the Panhandle which were involved in two elections which preceded the Hale County balloting.

If the results in all those precincts were added together, he said, the proponents would have won.

"How can you have a valid election unless you have an election that covers all the precincts within the (hail supression) target area?" Kirby asked.

U.S. District Judge Philip Pratt's dismissal of the indictment, at the request of U.S. Attorney James K. Robinson, means the nurses, Filipina Narciso and Leonora Perez, will not be retried.

Childress To Vote For Police Chief

A-J Correspondent CHILDRESS — Childress Police Chief Odis Burrows and former police chief Alvis Maddox will face each other in the chief of police election here April 1.

City officials believe that Childress is one of a few Texas towns where the office is elective rather than appointive.
The city council recently discussed changing the post to an appointive one, but decided to postpone the consideration until next year. Mayor Pro Tem Walter Lockhoof explained that officials felt it would be better to consider the change during a nonelection year.

"Next year, there will no election races, and only the the issue, not the personalities, would be involved," Lockhoof said.

The changeover, if recommended by officials, would be decided by the voters of Childress in a special election. Lockhoof said council members feel the issue could be a "political bombshell" in an

On Dec. 19, 1977, Pratt granted the nurses a new trial, criticizing the conduct of federal prosecutors.

"The most serious problem for the gov-ernment in a new trial would be the reduced number of respiratory arrests which would be the subject of the charges," Robinson said in a 20-page motion to dismiss the indictment.

"A new trial would involve six, not 11 victims, and six, not 11 respiratory arrests," he said.

"In addition to the reduced number of charges available for a new trial, all of the problems which confronted the govent in the first trial would continue to exist in a new trial, including: no clear evidence of motive; the need to rely heavily on eyewitness testimony, much of which might be attacked on the grounds of faulty perception and erro-neous memory, and the problem of overcoming natural skepticism that two nurses with no prior criminal or anti-sociial background ... could have conspired together and carried out such a bizarre plan to poison helpless patients under their care," Robinson said.

STONEWALL JACKSON WASHINGTON (AP) - The National Portrait Gallery, a branch of the Smithsonian Idnstitution, has acquired one of two existing daguerreotype por-traits of Confederate General Thomas J. "Stonewall" Jackson. Marvin Sadik, gallery director, said the other photograph "Old Jack" is in the Museum of the Confederacy in Richmond, Va. He said five additional pictures were taken of the general but all have been lost.

The National Citizens Committee for Broadcasting said in its latest 13-week study of prime-time programming that the amount of violence in all prime-time shows declined by 9 percent in programs aired in fall of 1977 compared with shows aired during the 1976 season.

The group said programs on ABC showed a 26 percent decrease in the instance of violence and an 11 percent decrease on NBC. But, the group said, there was a 14 percent increase in violence on prime-time programs aired by CBS.

"CBS gives no weight to this study," a network spokesman said in New York on Wednesday.

The committee said it also found that several companies — General Foods, Campbell's Soup, Schlitz, and Kodak, in ing dollars away from violent shows.

"I think this shows an informed public was able to influence the networks," said Ted Carpenter, a committee member who released the report. He said some of the advertisers had told him that they were influenced to pull their advertising from violent shows listed in earlier reports by the committee.

The study said Whitehall Labs, maker of Anacin, placed the greatest percentage of its advertising on programs with the highest murder and mayhem index, while Exxon Corp. spent the least on tel-evision shows with a high index of crime.

In its "murder and mayhem" ranking for shows aired last fall the committee rated CBS's "Logan's Run" the most violent show in terms of number of violent

Others in the top 10, in order, were: "The Godfather" on NBC; "Young Daniel Boone," CBS; "Man from Atlantis," NBC; "Wonder Woman," CBS; "Barnaby Jones," CBS; "Oregon Trail," NBC; 'Rockford Files," NBC; "Bionic Wornan," NBC, and "Starsky and Hutch,"

The ratings were based on actual depiction of shooting, stabbing, beating, drowning and other acts or threats of inflicting pain or death.

Thus, the study said, the mystery show "Columbo" was listed as having no murder or mayhem at all, because while it often started with someone being killed, the murder was not shown.

Also listed as top sponsors of shows the committee found to be violent were Miller beers, Sears, Ford, Oldsmobile, Chevrolet, American Motors, Sylvania, Colgate Palmolive, and General Electric,

After Exxon, advertisers which put the smallest percentage of their television advertising on violent shows were Kraft, Texaco, Oscar Mayer, General Foods, Quaker Oats, Jean Nate, Timex, Purina Dog Food, and Peter Pan Peanut Butter.

The committee is a private nonprofit group that seeks to influence broadcasting. It is supported by member and foundation contributions and is headed by Nicholas Johnson, a former member of the Federal Communications Commission. Carpenter said the report on television violence was funded by the American Medical Association.

It found that among 17-year-olds, the ability to explain the basic concept of democracy - namely, that the people elect their leaders - declined from 86 percent to 74 percent. Among 13-year-olds, it fell from 53 to 42 percent.

More than 96 percent of both age groups could name the president, but on-ly about 20 percent of the 13-year-olds and 48 percent of the 17-year-olds could name any of their representatives in Congress. That was about the same as 13year-olds fared in 1970, but it was down from 57 percent for 17-year-olds.

Black students generally scored about 15 percent lower than whites on the tests.

Experts who took part in the study called the results disappointing but not surprising. They blamed it on a shift from civics courses to electives.

"Social studies is receiving very low priority in the curriculum and the attrition rate of these courses is very high,' said Anna Ochoa, an Indiana University education professor and president of the National Council for the Social Studies.

Electives are being substituted for hard-core government classes," she said, adding that the number of students in civics courses was more than 700,000 in 1961, but only 450,000 in 1973.

The report also said, "The pressure to return to the 'basics' at the elementary level has in many cases reduced the time available for social studies.'

The report said students showed mixed results on recognizing and valuing constitutional rights. It said 13-year-olds

Polanski Flees To England

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI) - Film director Roman Polanski fled the United States Wednesday rather than face up to a possible prison term for his admitted unlawful sexual relations with a 13-year-

Polanski, 44, failed to appear for final sentencing by Superior Court Judge Laurence J. Rittenband. Rittenband could have given him a prison term of 50 vears or released him outright on proba-

A few hours after the abortive court session, British Airways revealed that Polanski had flown into London from Los Angeles Wednesday, arriving at Heathrow Airport around noon, British

It was not known whether he intended to stay in England. A Los Angeles deputy district attorney suggested that Polanski might take refuge in Paris, saying there was a question of whether the United States has extradition arrangements with France for return of persons convicted of such an offense.

British Airways said Polanski, the former husband of murdered actress Sharon Tate, came to the Los Angeles International Airport without a reservation and was given the last standby seat in first class on the DC10 jetliner, travelling under his own name.

Rittenband had issued a bench warrant for Polanski's arrest when he was told that the director had defied the court's order to appear for sentencing.

Douglas Dalton, Polanski's attorney, told Rittenband he did not know where Polanski was but added "I don't believe he is in the United States."

Dalton said he received a telephone call from Polanski Wednesday morning informing him that he would not be in court. The attorney told Rittenband he would make "every effort" to persuade Polanski to change his mind.

Rittenband said he had the legal authority to pronounce sentence in Polanski's absence but he continued the case

Polanski had pleaded guilty to the charge of unlawful sexual relations with the unidentified girl. Last week he completed 42 days of court-ordered psychiatric observation at the California State Prison at Chino.

Polanski, born in France of Polish parents, grew up in Warsaw, Poland, during the Nazi occupation in World War II. He spent many of the years after Miss Tate's murder in 1969 in Paris, London and

Dalton declined to discuss with reporters Polanski's apparent decision to flee the jurisdiction of the court rather than face sentencing. He said it was a matter of attorney-client relationship. Child Care Cost Deductions Change

QUESTION: Both my wife and I work. We have two children, for which we incur child care expenses. I understand that the new tax law has changed some provisions of deducting child care expenses. What are the new rules?

ANSWER: Under the prior law, taxpayers could claim as an itemized deduction (Schedule A to Form 1040) certain expenses incurred for the care of $35,000. Payments to relatives were not deductible.

The new law converts the deduction to a tax credit of 20% of eligible expenditures. It limits the maximum eligible expenses to $2,000 for one dependent and $4,000 for two or more, and eliminates the $35,000 limit. It also eliminates the distinction between expesnes for services inside and outside the home for children.

Eligible expenditures are now ex-tended to married couples where one spouse works part-time or is a student, and to a divorced or separated parent who has custody of a child The Act also makes payments to relatives who are not dependents of the taxpayer eligible for the credit if the services which the above changes apply to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1975. may be entitled to, you should file Form 20441, along with your Form

Bergland Requests No Crops Cutback

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland said Wednesday that a farmers' strike could damage the nation's livestock industry and curtail wheat and soybean exports for 1979.

Bergland, appearing before the House Agriculture Committee, appealed to farmers not to respond to the push by a group called American Agriculture for farmers to cut back new crops by 50 per-

He said he would decide by early next week whether to go ahead with an alternative course for raising prices - a call for all feedgrain farmers to reduce by 10 percent the acreage they plant in corn, barley, oats and sorghum this spring.

About 100 supporters of American Agriculture were on hand as Bergland made one of his periodic reports on the state of the farm economy. The movement,

Junk Mail Opponent Displays Collection

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) - Peter Wolmut saved 1,094 pieces — or 75 pounds — of junk mail last year to prove his point that it poses "an ecological problem of monstrous proportions."

Wolmut says if his mail is typical, it adds up to a national disgrace involving 22 billion pieces of mail, requiring the U.S. Postal Service to pick up, sort, resort and deliver more than 755,000 tons of the stuff.

He says the national load of junk mail would fill 56,640 houses made of nine rooms, each 10 feet wide, 10 feet wide and 10 feet high — three bedrooms, kitchen, bath, dining room, living room and double garage.

While he admits that everyone may have different ideas of what constitutes junk mail, he contends that most of that stuff that arrives unbidden, hawking ev-erything from magazines to mascara, is nut, a 39-year-old Portland school inistrator, objects to the inability which called a nationwide farm strike Dec. 14, is urging farmers to plant half of what they usually do.

Bergland said a 50 percent cutback would mean that the United States could not meet foreign demand for wheat and

In addition, he said, grain prices would rise so much that those who feed the cattle, hogs and poultry would be financially ruined.

Bergland said he and President Carter want farmers to cut back wheat acreage 20 percent, perhaps reduce feedgrain acreage 10 percent and sign contracts to store 800 million to 900 million bushels of grain in a farmer-held reserve until market prices rise above production costs.

Preliminary USDA surveys indicate that wheat acreage for 1978 will be down about 14 percent but that feedgrain acreage be off only about 1 percent.

Rep. Charles Grassley, R-Iowa, charged that the Soviet Union is "making money" in its purchases of 7 million metric tons of U.S. grain so far this buying year. He said the Russians are doing that by buying through European branches of U.S. grain merchants and borrowing there with depreciating dollars.

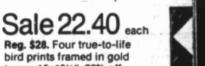

Assistant Secretary Dale Hathaway replied that he had been unable to confirm those published "rumors" and that Russian buyers flatly denied them at a Moscow meeting Dec. 15.

Later he told a reporter: "I don't have the foggiest idea how Russia finances its imports and I don't think the Treasury knows either.

Washington Officials Talk With Top Strikers

Texas American Agriculture Movement leader Gerald McCathern of Hereford and representatives of other state strike offices met Monday with House Agriculture Committee Chairman Tom Foley and with President Carter's chief economic advisor.

McCathern, Rick Rogers of Oregon and Bill Structmeyer of California met with Foley in a three-hour session described by McCathern as "very productive."

Foley reportedly told the farmers he was "concerned" about the new farm bill because growers were not participating in the program as proposed. Foley designed the program last year.

Boston University Wednesday suggested establishment of a federal trust fund to loan tuition fees to college students who would repay the money through payroll withholding after graduation.

Dr. John R. Silber said the United States has a distinguished record for providing equal opportunity for higher education but the record is not perfect. There are still those denied both access and choice by their financial circumstances," Silber said. Silber was dean of the University of Texas College of Arts and Sciences at the time he was named president of Boston University in 1971. Silber said his proposed trust fund would not need a new federal bureaucracy for administration and would cost no more than $4.6 billion at the start, based upon prevailing tuition rates in the independent and state sectors of higher edu-

"And the trust fund would be self-sustaining within a generation," he said. Silber said repayment could be carried out over a varying length of time and that repayment would be contingent upon income paid either through payroll withholding or estimated tax payments for those persons self-employed. "Although the amount to be repaid would include a one-time service charge for administration and other costs, there would be no interest charged on the advance." hè said.

Silber said the advances would be limited to tuition costs and would average $7,-500 per student in the independent sector, where tuition is typically $2,500 a year, and $1,860 in the state sector, where he said tuition now averages $620 a year. "Just how long it would take any one student to repay an advance would depend on variations in annual income," he

Under the Silber plan, advances would not be available to freshmen.

Ex-Policeman Denies

HOUSTON (UPI) - A fired policeman charged with beating and drowning last May of a Mexican-American arrested on barroom drunk complaint denied Wednesday he pushed the prisoner into Buffalo Bayou.

"I never pushed the man in," said Terry Denson. Prosecutors charge Denson and three other fired officers violated the rights of Joe Campos Torres by beating him for insolence and that Denson, encouraged by the others, pushed him into the water. They face possible life sentences. Denson, 27, said he and the others had taken the prisoner to a secluded location to release him. Denson said he was holding Torres, 23, by the arm at the top of a ledge 17 feet above the bayou. "He came up (with his arm) and grabbed this hand (Denson's right). I jumped back. The next thing I knew, he was going down. He went in feet first," Denson said.

Denson said he jumped back when Torres reached for his hand because he knew of the prisoner's Army Ranger training and anticipated a body blow. "There was no way I was going to let him touch me." Denson said. Denson said the officers stood on the ledge above the bayou for a few moments after Torres went in and decided he was all right and needed no assist-

Ogburn also criticized an experiment pictured recently in a San Angelo Standard-Times supplement.

"What they basically did was stake a lamb out in an area where they knew there were eagles, and an eagle dispatched it. We've never said they don't kill, but that was a totally unnatural event," he said. An animal staked out in the open will

Husband's Bid To Collect Insurance For Unconscious Wife Denied By Firm

AMARILLO (UPI) - A Texas insurance company has denied its major medical coverage applies to a woman who went into a coma before giving birth to a healthy girl, an attorney said Wednesday.

George Snell said he was notified Tuesday by American National Insurance Co. of Galveston the company was denying the application of Ricky Goforth, filed five days before his pregnant teen-age wife lapsed into a coma.

Laurie Goforth, 18, suffered a cardiac arrest at the couple's Borger, Texas, home Dec. 17. She was transferred to an Amarillo hospital and gave birth Jan. 8 to a girl without regaining consciousness. Snell, who is representing Goforth, said the couple made an application for major medical coverage Dec. 12 and received a conditional receipt from the company for payment of the first month's premium.

But Snell said he was informed by Jim Minteer, senior vice president of the company, the firm decided Jan. 26 not to issue the health policy. The company said it wrote a letter to Goforth informing him of the decision.

"But Ricky did not know for sure they had refused to issue he policy until I told him," said Snell

Snell said he is looking into the reasons the policy was denied and is considering legal action. Goforth, 21, has taken a job in an aerosol plant in Amarillo to be closer to his wife. He also has taken the infant, Susan Michelle, to his apartment.

Pushing Torres "She's just like a normal baby. She o wakes up about once a night," he said. "She's just like a normal baby. The baby was born Jan. 8 while Mrs. Goforth was still in the coma. "It was a normal birth." he said.

The policy did not cover pregnancy, and Goforth had paid his doctor and hospital for a normal birth, said Snell. He said he did not know whether the expenses for the birth had been paid since the baby was delivered in Amarillo.

"The expense of the birth is not at issue," he said. "What is at issue is a general major medication policy.'

Hospital bills are estimated to be $500 per day and funds have been established to help defray expenses.

U.S. Action Urged

Sadat has said the United States must take new action to push negotiations along, but Western sources warned against expecting dramatic breakthroughs when the Egyptian leader

Sadat was invited to Washington so Carter can get a better idea of what Sadat expects to happen next, the sources said.

Sadat is to arrive in Washington at 2 p.m. CST Friday at Andrews Air Force

One source said the Egyptians were on the verge of asking the United States to formulate "a set of proposals" along the lines suggested by Carter at Aswan Jan.

Carter said a Mideast settlement should be based on establishing normal relations between Arab states and Israel, Israeli withdrawal to 1967 boundaries, and a role for the Palestinians in determining their future.

"If we go by these three points we can start negotiating seriously," an Egyptian official said. "It would guarantee withdrawal and Egypt already said that a few kilometers here or there would not make much difference."

Carter also challenged arguments that surrender of the canal to Panama after the year 2000 would create a "power vacuum" in the area. He said on the contrary the treaty

Carter even argued that President Theodore Roosevelt, whose administration began the canal project, would back the treaty were he alive.

Technically, there are two Panama Canal treaties, one covering the rest of the century and the other guaranteeing the waterway's safety, openness and neutrality after Panama takes over. They are considered indivisible, howev-

Hayakawa, R-Calif., said two more planes "will retain the production capability of the B-1 manufacturing team, sustain a balanced work force at hundreds of facilities throughout the United States and provide us with a production option into the 1980s when we will know the outcome of the SALT II negotiations." The B-1 construction facilities are a North American Rockwell plant in southern California.

A motion by Hayakawa to get the Senate to defer to the House position was tabled on a 57 to 38 vote.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., pre-dicted the SALT talks will not produce a satisfactory treaty and said the time will come when Carter "is going to have to have something to fall back on. He's going to have to have the B-1."

Carter announced last summer h wanted to halt production of the B-1 bomber in favor of accelerated development of the cruise missile, a technology in which the United States is believed to have a substantial edge over the Sovie

December Upsurge nation's industry during the early months

WASHINGTON (AP) - Business improved substantially for the nation's manufacturers in December as both new orders and sales registered their biggest gains in nine months, the Commerce De-than three years. The increase in order and sales activity in December set the stage for what is ex-

The defendant - 28 and married - was in the dock for allegedly stealing cash from his employer, a service station operator.

Stipulated testimony from the employer indicated he had told the defendant when he hired him that he would be keeping a close eye on the register.

"I had been advised by a former employer ... that he had some problems in making change to customers," a statement by the employer said.

"I told (the man) that I would try him out, but that the register would have to check pretty close to what it should be.

That was Jan. 5. On Jan. 15, the operator ran a tally and discovered he was $180 short. Further investigation, according to the employer, showed that funds first started disappearing Jan. 9.

The defendant was arrested and admitted he had stolen from the register on several occasions during his 10-day span on the job.

'Valentine Lady' Ready For Crush

LOVELAND, Ohio (UPI) - The nation's "Valentine Lady," snowbound by last week's blizzard, says she is now getting to the annual crush of Valentines she re-mails for people with the appropriate "Loveland" postmark. "I didn't make it out the past week, except to feed the birds," Mrs. Doris Pfiester, a 65-year old widowed grandmother, reported Wednesday "We didn't have mail delivery for three days, but the mail is now coming through and I'm already getting valentines to

Mrs. Pfiester became the "Valentine Lady" six years ago when she started handling the Loveland Chamber of Commerce's valentine project all by herself. Sometimes working up to 18 hours a day as the Feb. 14 Valentine's Day draws near, Mrs. Pfiester receives thousands of Valentines from around the country to re-mail. She not only postmarks each valentine envelope "Loveland," but attaches a picture of Cupid and the message, "There is nothing in the world so sweet as love.'

Mrs. Pfiester, who personally puts this tiny southwestern Ohio community on the map each Valentine's, was honored this past summer as Loveland's first "Woman of the Year."

"It was just breathtaking," she said. "There was a big parade and I rode in a beautiful, old 1930 car and they gave me a lovely trophy and a proclamation from the city. I'm still in

In addition to the thousands of valentines she re-mails for other people, Mrs. Pfiester, naturally, is on a lot of valentine

"I get so many and a lot of thank-you notes too," she said. "Last week during the blizzard I got them out and read through them again.

"I enjoy ding this more every year. It's something from the heart and it seems we just don't have enough things done from the heart anymore.

Instructions for the Valentine Lady's services: (1) Address all cards in the usual manner, but do not put a stamp on the envelopes. (2) Put all envelopes in a larger envelope, enclose money

U.S. government officials said there was no evidence that any of the tainted fruit had reached the United States, and the Israeli Embassy in Washington claimed none of the oranges were for sale in U.S. stores.

Five Dutch children were hospitalized for mercury poisoning last week after they ate the contaminated oranges and became ill, the Dutch Health Ministry reported. Doctors pumped the children's stomachs and sent the youngsters home a few days later completely recovered.

In West Germany, police discovered a Jaffa shmora orange containing "a peasize quantity" of mercury. The fruit was part of a consignment sold to grocery stores in the central industrial city of

The sale of Israeli oranges was stopped by trading companies or supermarkets in several European countries and as far away as Greenland. Britain, Belgium, Switzerland, West Germany, Norway and Finland ordered tests or their remaining stocks of Jaffa oranges.

The letters, mailed from Stuttgart in West Germany and dated Jan. 21, warned officials: "It is not our aim to kill the population, but to sabotage the Israeli economy which is based on suppression, racial discrimination and colonial occupation."

But a letter addressed to 18 European and Arab countries was received by a Western news agency in London and claimed that the Jaffa oranges had been poisoned during packaging operations in

The Israeli Foreign Ministry said in Tel Aviv it believed the Jaffa oranges had been injected with a "metallic substance, that could be mercury," a liquid metal which can be fatal when ingested. But it declined comment on reports that Arab terrorists were responsible or on the claim that the oranges were injected in Israel.

Newest Candidate For Congress Airs U.S. Policy Views

Avalanche-Journal Staff Retired Air Force Lt. Col. Joe Hickox - whose has made a name for himself in West Texas as a stringent critic of U.S.-Soviet relations — Wednesday made it a five-man race for the 19th Congressional

The Republican candidate vowed to do his part to "steady America's course."
"During this century...the concept of individualism, which is the basis of the capitalist system, is being slowly re-moved from our society. Our freedom moved from our society. Our recom-and independence are being replaced with an irrational sense of inadequacy and dependence upon an increasingly powerful and regulatory government, Hickox said.

The 41-year-old son of a Georgia sharecropper hammered on a familiar theme - his belief that the U.S. has fallen to second place militarily behind the Soviet

"Trends clearly are in their favor," be said, commenting that Russia last year outspent the U.S. by 40 percent for its

"The consequences of that position are unacceptable to me. If we become inferi-or, we will be unable to defend ourselves and our interests through the world,"

Hickox stated. For two years, he was assistant Air Force attache at the American Embassy in Moscow. And during his 20-year military career, he served a year in Vietnam and Thailand and as a command pilot, saw active duty in Laos where he flew 750 combat hours, While military matters are close to his heart, he is not just a "one-issue" candidate, Hickox insisted.

"You cannot separate domestic prob-lems from foreign ones," he said, continuing that 16 years spent on a farm make him a sympathetic and knowledgeable representative of agriculture.

"If costs of production are not curtailed, then the farmer must receive more for his products. Farmers must be allowed to compete freely in world mar-"Other nations have laws which restrict import and sale of U.S. farm products. On the other hand, import quotas to the U.S. favor foreign products, which is unfair to the American producer," Hickox He said that while he wants to expand any products to the Soviet Union that would prop up their economy."

Selling American products to Russia below cost" or at taxpayer-subsidized world markets, he flatly opposes "selling

He stressed he was not against American products being sold to Russia or other communist countries, but sa'd those peoples should "pay through the nose.

"It only makes sense that every dollar extra they have to spend on wheat or cotton or American technology is one less dollar they have to spend on missiles and bombers."

Hickox joins Midland oilman George Bush and former Odessa mayor Jim Reese, the 1976 unscuccessful contender against veteran U.S. Rep. George Mahon in the GOP May primary. Democratic hopefuls for the job Mahon has held 44 years are state Sen. Kent Hance and Trin-ity Church pastor Morris Sheats, both of

A former assitant deputy commander for operations at Reese Air Force Base. Hickox retired last year.

His campaign opening salvo loosed a few rounds at his former employer, the Air Force:

'A few months ago, I made a decision to end my military career.

"Quite frankly, I was tired of being told what to think and what to say about amnesty for deserters, the B-1, Panama Canal, foreign aid to Marxists governments, detente and wheat deals with the Soviet Union, the Middle East crisis and other

"During my service in the Air Force, I was called upon to fight in a war, a war which we were not allowed to win" and that resulted in a "loss that provided the greatest victory ever for the Soviet Union towards advancement of socialism and communism throughout the world," Hickox said.

"Regardless of events or circumstances, for the past 20 years I have placed my nation above self. It was a solemn oath that I took without reservation. Today, I still place my country's welfare above all else and that is why I'm announcing my candidacy for the U.S. Congress from the 19th District," he said.

"World Turns" debuted on April 3, 1956, the same day "The Edge of Night" remiered. "Search For Tomorrow" is the longest-running TV soap opera and dates from September 3, 1951. But if you count radio years, "Guiding Light" is the longevity champ because it was a radio serial for a dozen years before it first appeared on TV in 1952.

Bryce first appeared on "GL" as daddy Bauer from the early '50 until 1968. Then he moved over to "As the World Turns" as Dr. Demming, Carol's father, until the early '70s. Ed was born in Allenport, Pa., one of 11 children of a coal miner father and housewife mother. He grew up in Detroit, however, and is married and the father of three sons.

DR. GEORGE C. THOSTESON

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband has been told he has lactose intolerance. He is Negro, and I have heard it is common in that race. Is this true, and will he overcome it? He has gas and intestinal discomfort. How should this be handled? -Mrs. G.L.

Lactose is milk sugar. Intolerance of this is due to a lack of the enzyme (lactose) that metabolizes it (makes it so the body can use it).

Researchers at Johns Hopkins University and others have pointed out that this intolerance occurs in only from 2 to 8 per cent of adults of Scandinavian or Western European extraction. It's seen in some degree in from 60 to 80 per cent of those of Arabic and Negro extraction. Milk and milk products are usually tolerated as infants, but intolerance grows with age, and becomes a real problem by the second decade of life.

Theoretically, those affected should avoid all milk products. However, there are varying degrees of the intolerance, and some can use small amounts of milk or milk-containing food. Milk is included in so many products that listing foods to avoid would be impossible. Best to be a good label reader.

Your husband might have an absolute intolerance, or he might have a treatable disorder of the digestive tract (such as gall-bladder disease or a pancreatic deficiency). This is for his doctor to deter-

With the gas problem, it's best to keep a food diary to find out just which ones are causing it. He might search for milk substitutes in the non-dairy creamers.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have midriff bulge and have been trying to trim it down with exercise. All I get for my efforts is tired. Any good exercise suggestions? — Mrs. W.W.

Situps, pushups, bending and twisting exercises, touching your toes with your fingers - all are usually effective in toning up abdominal muscles. This may give-the appearance of losing weight It is not all flabby muscle. The abdomen is a common site for fat deposition and it usually takes more than exercising to be successful. Try a diet along with the exercise and you should end up getting more than tired for your efforts. If you need help with a reducing plan, see my booklet, "Lost Secrets of Reducing," for which send 50 cents and a stamped, selfaddressed envelope to Dr. Thosteson, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, Ill. 60611.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 41 and have acne or some form of recurring blemishes on my forehead. I think I'm an allergic person, because certain foods and liquor cause indigestion. A doctor gave me a skin test and I do avoid some of the foods and substances he advised against. But I don't do it religiously. Frankly, I've never had the patience for such things. I know that if you sent me some sensible and believable treatment, I could do it.

I doubt it. Nonetheless, it would be smart to find out if your blemishes are acne. Occurring only on your forehead it might be your hat or cap band provoking sweating or irritating the skin. Food can be factor, but it is not a common cause.

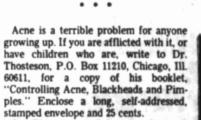

If the blemishes are acne, they should clear with proper antibiotic treatment that only your doctor can prescribe.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My doctor wants me to go in for a "pro-time" test? What is this? I have been on a blood-thinner medicine for some time now. Does that have anything to do with the test? - Mrs.

The full name is "prothrombin time test." It tells the doctor how fast your blood clots, a common precaution for persons taking blood "thinning" medicine. If the time seems too long, the doctor may want to adjust the dosage of the Acne is a terrible problem for anyone growing up. If you are afflicted with it, or have children who are, write to Dr. Thosteson, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, Ill.

AND ALAN SONTAG While the Culbertson-Lenz match gave Culbertson the opportunity to claim that he was the best player and his system the best system, by 1935 it had become apparent to leading bridge players that the team of Oswald Jacoby-David Bruce-Howard Schenken-Michael Gottlieb and various substitutes were the best players in the world and their system, which was fairly similar to Ely's, the best system. Culbertson countered by playing a match against Hal and Dorothy Sims. A match the Culbertsons really could not lose because Jo Culbertson was a far better player than Dorothy Sims. Still it was a good match.

In this hand, Ely should really have passed at three notrump. Jo would have brought that contract home easily by careful play.

However, Ely went to four spades. Hal opened the queen of diamonds. Ely rose with the ace of diamonds, played ace and one spade only to go down when Hal took his king and led a second diamond. There was no way to shut out Hal's nine of spades and Ely still had to lose another trick.

Ely could have made the hand by ducking one diamond, but there was and has been no criticism of his actual play.

'Checkbook' Approach Defended

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — TV personality David Frost defended so-called 'checkbook journalism' in a talk at the University of Arizona.

Frost, whose lengthy interviews with former President Nixon were telecast last year, said Tuesday night that paying public figures for stories was, at times, necessary and similar to well-known personalities selling memoirs in book form.

"We may be used to book memoirs more than television memoirs," he said. "But I think in many ways a television version is tougher. In a book, you write your story. But in television, there is someone who is constantly questioning

Frost said Nixon was paid $600,000 plus 20 percent of the profits above production costs. He said the 20 percent cut could amount to between $250,000 and $500,000.

General Says Early Peace Pre-Empted

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP) - Retired Army Chief of Staff William Westmoreland says the Viet Cong and North Vietnam could have been forced to the peace table as early as 1968. Speaking on the 10th anniversary of the Tet Offensive Tuesday, the commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam from 1964 to 1968 said the early 1968 offensive against American and South Vietnam government troops took such a toll on the enemy that "it took four years for them to recover.

Westmoreland said an early peace settlement was pre-empted because American political leaders opted for "a no-win political policy." He told a University of Vermont audience that a stepped-up military campaign would have changed that. Instead, the retired general said, some congressional leaders were swayed by war protest groups and what he described as slanted media coverage of the war. Westmoreland said President Lyndon Johnson was partly responsible for the failure of U.S. forces in Vietnam because he was unwilling to broaden the war and allow his generals to take the initiative.

his art objects, including a collection of small gold boxes, should fetch a cool $2 million, Sotheby's estimates. But the highlight of the sale should be a Louis XV secretary by one of the greatest French cabinetmakers of the early 18th century, Bernard van Risenburg. Estimated price: $200,000.

As President Carter's overall job rating sank to a low of 49-47 percent negative, the ratings of his vice president and key members of his Cabinet also took a turn for the worse.

According to the latest Harris Survey of 1,259 adults nationwide, here are the key ratings of the President's offical family:

—Vice President Walter Mondale now stands at 39-36 percent negative, with a substantial 25 percent unable to make a judgment about the job he has done. Last March, a 54-22 percent majority gave him positive marks, just about the same rating as he had when Jimmy Carter chose him as his running mate.

Best Rating -Secretary of State Cyrus Vance does best among the key Carter people tested - 36 percent positive and 36 percent negative. In March he received a 41-18 percent positive rating, and in December 1976, a 51-11 percent majority approved of his appointment.

-Attorney General Griffin Bell emerges with a 29-28 percent negative rating, better than most. Last March, he scored 26-25 percent positive. One reason for the attorney general's relatively modest decline is that he is given high marks by a 32-26 percent plurality in his native South.

Young's Turnabout -Ambassador Andrew Young comes up 38-28 percent negative nationwide, compared with a 33-20 percent positive rating last March.

-Secretary of Energy James Schlesinger scores 38-25 percent negative. This is a sharp turnaround from the 36-16 percent positive rating last March. -Secretary of HUD Patricia Harris is given a negative score of 27-24 percent, a switch from her 29-14 percent positive standing last March. -Secretary of the Treasury Michael Blumenthal receives a 30-23 percent negative rating, a turn for the worse from the 29-14 percent positive rating he had last March

-Secretary of Defense Harold Brown is rated 29-22 percent negative, again a big change from the earlier 27-17 percent positive assessment -Secretary of HEW Joseph Califano comes up with a 33-22 percent negative rating, decisively poorer than the 26-15 percent positve standing he had 10

-CIA Director Stansfield Turner emerges with a 29-19 percent negative rating, a turnabout from his previous 23-13 percent positive standing.

-Secretary of Interior Cecil Andrus comes up with a negative rating of 26-18 percent. In March he scored 24-12 percent positive. -Secretary of Commerce Juanita Kreps scores 25-18 percent negative, a change from the 36-11 percent positive response of the public just after she was appointed to the post December 1976. Bergland's Rating

-Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland gets a 36-17 percent negative rating for the job he has done, a reversal of the 26-13 percent positive rating he achieved 10 months go.

-Secretary of Transportation Brock Adams comes up with : 30-16 percent negative rating, compared with a positive core of 21-12 percent last March. -Finally. Secretary of Labor Ray Marshall is given a rating of 30-15 percent negative, a change from a 20-14 percent positive score accorded him 10 months

Familiarity Factor

In fairness to some members of the Cabinet, it is important to point out that in most cases a majority of Americans are not familiar with them all. Exceptions to this are Vice President Mondale, now known to 75 percent; Secretary Vance, known to 72 percent; Ambassador Young, known to 66 percent; and Secretary of Energy Schlesinger, known to 63 percent.

It must also be pointed out that back in March, President Carter's own overall rating was 67-21 percent positive, and it now has slipped to 49-47 percent negative. The basic truth may well be that no key member of a president's official family can do well in the eyes of the public unless the president is also doing

City Attorney Senter Announces Retirement

By PAULA TILKER Avalanche-Journal Staff

City Atty. Fred Senter announced Wednesday that he will retire on July 8 his 65th birthday.

However, Senter will continue to work for the city as liaison to the Legislature. And performing on a retainer basis, he will represent the city at special hearings in Austin.

Senter said he is announcing his retirement early enough to give the city council ample time to hire a replacement. The personnel department will begin advertising the upcoming vacancy in legal and municipal publications.

After applications are reviewed, the council will hold private interviews with candidates.

Retirement for Senter will mean more than leisure time occasionally punctured by trips to Austin. Although his plans are not finalized, Senter said, he is considering writing a book on municipal law. And he and his wife Jonnie plan to travel while still in good health.

CYCLISTS NUMEROUS

There are now more than 100 million cyclists in the United States, reports the Bicycle Manufacturers Association of America. These cyclists are riding anywhere from 82 to 89 million bicycles, the Association estimates.

When the council suggested that he continue working for the city as legislative liaison, Senter said, he emphasized he doesn't plan for it to be a full-time occupation.

He plans to enjoy the leisure hours, he said, explaining it was his decision to re-

Under city policy, employes must retire at age 65 unless they secure special council permission to continue. Senter decided not to seek the waiver, explaining that he doesn't want to spend the rest of his life just working.

And, he added, "I'm tired."

Senter began working in the city attorney's office in 1954 after practicing law in Marfa and Lubbock. He was named city attorney in 1960 following the death of his predecessor, Vaughn Wilson.

He is licensed to practice law before state and federal courts and the Supreme Court. He served as president of the Texas City Attorneys' Association and is a member of the National Institute of Municipal Law Officers.

Senter said he has enjoyed his 24-year tenure in the city legal office, citing a "competent staff" as the reason for his

Tech Tarbox Symposium Opens

A New York publishing firm has indi-cated it will publish proceedings of the Second Tarbox Parkinson's Disease Symposium, set to begin at 10 a.m. today at Lubbock's South Park Inn.

The announcement of publishing plans follows by weeks the publication of proceedings of the first Tarbox Symposium, held last year in Lubbock.

Those proceedings constitute a 316-page, 90th volume of the Plenum Pub-lishing Corp. "Advances in Experimental Medicine and Biology Series."

A Texas Tech spokesman said the pub-lishers apparently "liked what they saw" in the volume and expressed interest in publishing discussions at the second sym-

Granviel was convicted of the 1974 knife slaying of Natasha McClendon after raping her. He admitted killing seven companied rapes and attempted rapes. Battie was convicted of the shooting death of Peggy Hester in the course of a robbery in 1975.

The defendants contended death by injection violated the Eighth Amendment prohibition against cruel and unusual punishment.

License Revocation Of Architect Upheld

AUSTIN (AP) - The 3rd Court of Civil Appeals today upheld revocation of the license of an architect who allegedly put his name and seal on hospital plans prepared by another architect.

The court acted on an appeal filed by Vollie M. Piland from decisions by the Texas Board of Architectural Examiners and State District Judge Jerry Dellana of Piland was accused before the board of removing the seal of David Ashcroft from a set of hospital blueprints and substituting his own.

The court said the plans were owned by Henry Houseman, a security underwriter who organized and financed hospital projects. He obtained ownership for the plans in exchange for expenses he incurred in helping with financing of Valley land's critical, professional judgments."

Man's Suit Overturned By State Supreme Court

AUSTIN (AP) — A $400,000 judgment in favor of a man who became deaf after receiving a drug manufactured by Bristol-Myers was overturned Wednesday by the Texas Supreme Court. The decision in the Corpus Christi case means a new trial of Ramon Gonzales' suit against the drug manufacturer.

The court said the jury should have been told of a settlement between Gonzales and the doctor who administered the drug, Dr. Rufino Gonzalez.

"Under the settlement, Dr. Gonzalez' insurance company, Aetna Casualty and Surety, paid Ramon Gonzales $100,000, with the understanding that it would get the money back if Gonzales won his suit against Bristol-Myers. Bristol-Myers' "Kantrex" was given to Gonzales for an infection in his hip.

The court said it was "uncontradicted" that Gonzales' deafness was produced by excessive administration of Kantrex and

It also agreed with lower courts that Bristol-Myers failed to give adequate warning of deafness as a possible side effect of excessive doses of Kantrex.

New Television Drama Offers Eva Marie Saint 'Real' Role

NEW YORK (AP) - Eva Marie Saint has enjoyed remarkable success on the stage and screen by calling time and again on a rather simple formula.

"It's a response to the material," the blonde actress said. "I never read a script and wonder whether people will like it. I don't enjoy doing things that could never happen, playing parts that aren't real."

The approach worked most notably in the early stages of her film career. She won an Oscar playing opposite Marlon Brando in "On the Waterfront" in 1954, and roles in "That Certain Feeling" in 1956, "A Hatful of Rain" and "Raintree County" in 1957 and "North by Northwest" in 1959 followed.

The credits since then have been impressive, though not frequent, with emphasis most often on the difficult dramatic part. The latest is in "Taxi!!!" a Hallmark Hall of Fame presentation Thursday at 10 p.m. EST on NBC.

Miss Saint and Martin Sheen have the only speaking roles in "Taxi!!!" which was written by Lanford Wilson. On a trip from a New York City hotel to the airport, the cab driver and his passenger develop a unique relationship, talking about their problems, hopes and dreams.

The role of the passenger was appealing, Miss Saint said, in its depth, demand-

"Martin and I were talking about itwhen we had finished, about the five days of really hard work," the actress recalled. "I said I felt each day I had learned a little about myself, and that I felt drained every night. 'And I remember what he said. He said in acting, if you care about the work, you leave a little bit of yourself every day. And that's the way it was.

"I could never approach a job without being serious about it," Miss Saint said.

LOS ANGELES (AP) - ABC didn't plan it this way, but that's how it worked out — the network really has something to celebrate as it throws itself a 25th anniversary party.

ABC is in undisputed first place in the Nielsen ratings, an enviable position for television's long-time celler dweller.

The only party pooper is Fred Silverman, the man who put the silver in ABC's silver anniversary, who is departing in June to become president of NBC. Not to worry. At ABC's Hollywood complex, the finishing touches are being put on the celebration. There, Bill Lee, who calls himself producer of "the whole mess," is winding up nine months of catering the affair. The

Oil Supplies Dip In Severe Weather

NEW YORK (AP) - A sharp reduction in inventories of distillate oil, used primarily for home heating purposes, reflected the severe winter weather around the country, according to the latest weekly supply statistics released Wednesday by the American Petroleum

But distillate supplies remained comfortably ahead of stocks at this time last year, the API report showed.

For the week ended Jan. 27, distillate supplies dropped to 219.8 million barrels from 227.7 million barrels a week earlier but were more than 68 million barrels higher than inventories of 151.3 million barrels in the comparable week of 1977. Distillate production of 3.1 million barrels daily was virtually unchanged from the previous week. Gasoline supplies for the latest week rose to 274.3 million barrels from 226.9 million barrels a week earlier, and also were well ahead of inventories at this time last year of 243.4 million barrels.

Crude oil imports dropped slightly to 5.8 million barrels daily from 5.9 million barrels daily in the previous week. Some 6.1 million barrels of oil were imported daily at this time last year.

"We wanted a concept that would hold people for four hours and be different from what our friendly competitors at NBC did on their 50th anniversary," said

Lee as he stepped out of an editing room.
"We felt we should have a big party and invite all the stars who have been associated with ABC since 1953. We wanted to make it a warm show and talk about our successes and laugh at our failures."

A banquet hall was set up on a stage and 700 people were invited, including 300 recognizable stars. It is in this party atmosphere that Lee weaves the entertainment and a look back at past shows.

The ABC television network was founded on Feb. 9, 1953, when the Federal Communications Commission approved the merger of the American Broadcasting Co. - then largely radio - with United Paramount Theatres Inc.

It started with just 14 stations, including five owned by ABC. At that time CBS had 74 and NBC 71. ABC now has 195 affiliated stations.

The network didn't even offer programs for the whole night. It had no daytime programming at all. Typical shows that first year were "Hollywood Screen Test," "Rootie Kazootie," "Inspector Mark Saber of Homicide," "Ozzie and Harriet," "Space Patrol" and "A Date With Judy.

ABC's early programmers often bum-bled, as comedian Allan King notes in a biting monologue. Like the time the network canceled Frank Sinatra, figuring he had no future, and replaced him with 'Polka Go-Round.'

"The key to the show was getting the whole family back together for one night," said Lee. "And we don't have just one host - we've got 115 live hosts from the party."

The show does not take a year-by-year rundown of network shows, but divides it into genres. There are segments on Westerns, police shows, comedies, game shows and many others. For instance, ABC's past and present detectives meet on the "Barney Miller" set to talk about

Blind Climber Scales 14,000-Foot Mountain

By DOUGLAS KREUTZ

DENVER (NEA) - Michael Coleman, who is about as bold as he is blind, as in a bit of a fix.

He was clinging to a rock face on the steep flanks of 14,018-foot Pyramid Peak near Aspen, Colo. Relying only on his sense of touch, he was trying to find a nandhold that would allow him to reach the ledge where his climbing partner

'On that wall you're exposed to a 2,000-foot drop, and when I couldn't find a ndhold I really started freaking out," Coleman explained as he relaxed in the zontal safety of a Denver office and stroked the neck of his seeing-eye dog ned Ideal. "I was really afraid and I did something you shouldn't do in climbing. I lunged, grabbing desperately for anything I could get.

"I got my friend's boot and pulled on it, and it started to pull him away. He was slipping and yelling at me to let go and I was yelling. I don't really remember what happened then, but both of us started grabbing for things and I finally got to the top. All I know is my whole being was one big giant heartbeat."

What in the name of good sense was a blind man doing on one of Colorado's most dangerous mountains? Coleman, age 30, sometimes wonders about that himself. But, when the memthis way:

"I wanted to show that people in general — and the blind in particular — can do a lot more than they think they can do."

Coleman, who has been blind since an accident at age 17, is a graduate of the University of Denver Law School.

"I had heard that some blind people in Switzerland had climbed mountains and learned to ski," Coleman said, "and, in the winter of 1975, I learned to ski in a program for the blind."

Soon thereafter Coleman met Gene Johnston, who has no vision impairment, and the two became hiking companions. They ascended several technically easy peaks together, sometimes using a pole vaulter's pole as a connecting link when traveling over rough terrain.

'My enthusiasm really started bubbling," Coleman said, "and we got to talk ing about Pyramid. I really didn't think I could do it but he (Johnston) kept encouraging it.

"The climb begins with a steep hike," Coleman said. "We went very slowly and I was very fatigued. I think you fatigue more if you're blind because you can't look at your steps and see exactly what you need to do.

pleasant night trying to sleep in a drizzle.

THE RESERVE OF THE PROPERTY OF

The next day the men made slow progress up a series of rocky gullies and along a ridge.

"I would tell him maybe we should go back, but he said we weren't going back," Coleman said, "I was free climbing with no belay (rope protection) and when we finally got onto the ridge, that was one of the best feelings ever. I really felt the confidence coming and the energy coming.'

The confidence and energy ebbed a little, though, when Johnston informed his sightless companion that they were moving out onto a ledge over a drop of about 2,000 feet. "I wasn't terrified," Coleman said, "But it was an extreemely sober feeling. It's just the kind of ledge people commit suicide on 'But being unable to see was an advantage, ironically, because I didn't have the vertigo some people get. Some of them look down and see it, and it almost pulls them down. Next came the near-vertical section where Coleman panicked and lunged and

Car Wash-Gameroom-Store Plea Goes Before City Zoners

By PAULA TILKER

Avalanche-Journal Staff The Planning and Zoning Commission today will consider a request for a quick stop food mart that also would have a car wash and a gameroom. J.W. Wright will ask commissioners, who will meet at 7 p.m. in council chambers, for commercial (C-4) zoning on several lots north of 50th Street and west of Avenue D.

The property currently is zoned general retail (C-3), and the change would allow the addition of the food store.

Commissioners will consider a request by Ham's Food Mart for C-3 zoning instead of the current local retail (C-2) on a tract north of 82nd Street and west of Abbeville Avenue.

The change would allow gasoline pumps to be added to the lot. The commission denied a similar request by the food store several months ago.

A specific use permit zone change will be sought by Irvin Skibell. He will ask for the change to allow townhouses to be built on the east 145 feet of a lot south of 11th Street and west of York Avenue.

Ken Flagg for Landmark Realtors will go before the commission to request a two-family residential (R-2) zoning on a tract currently zoned single-family residenfial (R-1)

The tract is south of Loop 189 and east of Avenue U.

Apartment-medical (A-M) zoning on an R-1 lot south of 22nd Street and east of Knoxville Avenue will be sought by Milton M. Rowley. The Burroughs Corp. will ask the commission to amend ordinance conditions, thereby allowing machinery in a district limited to offices. The lots east of Villa Drive about 200 feet north of Avenue Q by ordinance are limited to C-4 offices. The corporation, which deals with calculators, wants an area in which it can mechanically check the equipment.

Site plan amendment also will be sought by Roger Boyer. He will ask that the plan for property north of Loop 289 and east of Slide Road be changed to allow the construction of a department Family-apartment (A-1) zoning will be sought for a C-2 tract north of 74th Street and east of Utica Avenue. Tom Elliott will ask the commission for the zoning change.

CHARLOTTE AMALIE, U.S. Virgin Islands (UPI) — Fort Christian, built during the early days of the Danish ocpation of the Virgin Islands 300 years and perhaps the oldest structure in the American territory, has been certified by the Interior Department as a national historic landmark. It was the hub of early Danish settlement, housing colonial governors, Lutheran ministers and other dignitaries, as well as providing military protection for settlers.

Board members will meet in the civic center's terrace suite. The case of the possibly missing money is being investigated by police and auditors. Neither group has turned up clues in the case and neither is sure that any monev is missing.

Following a late-night concert Oct. 21 at the center, between $1,400 and $2,000 reportedly could not be accounted for. A bookkeeping error could be the culprit, investigators say.

Liquor Sales, Academic Health Center Top Regents' Agenda

The sale of liquor on campus and the site of a new regional academic health center are chief among the items on an unusually heavy agenda facing Texas Tech's Board of Regents Friday.

The board will begin its regularly scheduled session at 9 a.m. and will consider, among other things, whether to approve a Student Association (SA) proposal to allow the sale of beer and wine in the University Center.

SA members will present the board with their proposal to allow a pub in the basement of the UC. Chuck Campbell, SA president, says his group will provide the regents with data supporting the financial feasibility of a pub, a description of the proposed facility, and the results of a poll which showed 86 percent of students questioned in favor of having a place that sells beer and wine on campus.

Petitions against a campus pub have been circulated the past two days at Tech under the sponsorship of the Baptist Student Union. However students wanting reportedly have denied the opportunity to appear Friday because they were not on the agenda. Board members also will consider approval of a master of science degree in atmospheric science and one in biology, as well as a bachelor of landscape architec-Other matters include a request by the rodeo stock to be housed in the rodeo facility on 4th Street in exchange for use of the stock. The board also will disucss an amendment to the operating agreement between the university and the City of Lubbock for use of the Auditorium-Coliseum parking area. Under medical school matters, the regents will consider the location of the site for a regional academic health center in the Permian Basin. The cities of Midland, Odessa, Big Spring and Andrews have submitted prodrews made oral presentations to the board in a special meeting this afternoon.

Regents also will consider approval of the general operating agreement between the med school and the Lubbock County Hospital District and receipt of bids for phase two of the regional health center at El Paso and phase IIB of the med school building here.

Conner Conviction Affirmed By Court

A-J Austin Bureau AUSTIN - The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals Wednesday upheld the Hockley County conviction of Stacy L. Conner for burglary of a building. Conner, assessed seven years in prison, which was probated. The appeals court said the judgement should be affirmed since nothing was presented for the court's review.

Health Center Applicants' Hearing Set

The Texas Tech Board of Regents will hear oral presentations today by representatives of three cities vying to be the site of a new regional academic health center to serve the Permian Basin.

Community and health officials from Midland, Odessa and Big Spring will appear before the board in a special meeting beginning at 3 p.m. in the Administration Building.

A spokesman for each city will make an hour-long presentation to board

Written proposals from cities interested in becoming the site of the Texas Tech medical school's third regional academic health center were solicited by Tech last November. Written proposals were received from the three cities to be represented before the regents today, plus Andrews. However, Andrews officials declined the opportunity to make an oral presentation. A regional health center to serve the Permian Basin area was mandated in the legislation creating the Texas Tech

School of Medicine. The med school has centers in Amarillo and El Paso.

The regents will decide on the site for the new center during the board's regularly scheduled meeting Friday.

Crosby Woman Due Trial In Mate's Death

LORENZO (Special) - The 41-yearold widow of a Lorenzo man murdered in December will stand trial for his death, Crosby County Dist. Atty. J. Billy Marley said Wednesday.

Trial dates, however, have not been set in the capital murder case of Mrs.

A Crosby County road construction worker found the body of George William Loftis, a Lorenzo mechanic, on Jan. 4 in a ditch northwest of the Robertson Community in Crosby County. He had been shot once in the head with a smallcaliber pistol, Marley said.

Only a short time later, Texas Rangers arrested 29-year-old Ricardo Hinojos of Lorenzo for his murder.

Hinojos pleaded guilty earlier this year and was sentenced to 35 years in the state penitentiary for his part in Loftis's

After Hinojos reportedly led Crosb County officials to a "derringer" pisto believed to have been the weapon that killed Loftis, capital murder charges were filed against Mrs. Loftis. The mother of five is free on $25,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace Clyde Davis, Marley said, noting that her trial will not begin before May.

Loftis had been missing since Dec. 17.

No money and no identification were found on his body, authorities said.

SURRENDERS HIS WHISTLE - After 32 years as senior doorman at the Mark Hopkins Hotel in San Francisco, 63-year-old Jack O'Neill, has doffed his cap for the last time and surrenders his whistle. Whistle Surrendered By Veteran Doorman

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Smiling Jack O'Neill, senior doorman at the Mark Hopkins Hotel, has doffed his hat for the last time and surrendered his whistle after 32 years at the front door of the Nob Hill landmark.

O'Neill, who began a golf-playing retirement Wednesday, is taking with him memories of princes and presidents, and the millions of tourists who have gone to the Top Of The Mark for a drink and a breath-taking view of the city. He's also taking a 16-ounce gold nugget once left as a tip by multi-millionaire

'That was 20 years ago, and tipping isn't what it used to be," says O'Neill, 63. "We've all lost our class."

But, he said at a farewell reception that the hotel threw Tuesday, "I've loved every minute of every day ... out in all that wind, which as you know can knock

President Truman used to stay at the Fairmont Hotel but would wander across the cable car tracks on California Street to ask Jack what "the people" were thinking.

Soviet leader Nikita Khrushchev "was a great guy, very kind and nice, and I just wondered how he could be tied up in that nation," O'Neill said.

"I asked Mayor George Christopher what I ought to say to Khrushchev when he left, and Christopher said, 'Look, he don't know what you're saying anyway,' so I said, 'Mr. Khrushchev, it was a nice pleasure to have you in San Francisco, and come back again."

Then there was the time French President Charles de Gaulle mistook O'Neill for a high-ranking military man and stood at rigid attention saluting him. "I just answered, 'Merci beaucoup,' and shook his hand warmly, and I don't know if he ever did figure out what was going on," he said. O'Neill came to San Francisco when, at age 12, he took a three-month hitchhiking tour from his home in Pennsylvania. Later, a hotel job in Cleveland convinced him he "liked meeting people."

In 1946, after a bout with meningitis, he left the Army when his doctor told him he needed fresh air. "So I got on the Golden Gate Bridge painting crew for a few months," he said.

Although the air was fresh, there were few people to meet up there. So O'Neill came to the Mark's front door - another windy spot, but with a lot NIGHT

Sides Trade Charges In Redwood 'Massacres'

By DOUGLAS Z. FOSTER

Pacific News Service EUREKA, Calif. — While Congress debates a bill to add 48,000 acres to northern California's Rerdwood National Park, a series of "chainsaw massacres" is inflaming tensions between loggers and entalists in the area.

At least 18 giant redwood in state parks south of Eureka have been vandalized with chainsaws, and nine of them — ranging from 250-350 tall, and several thousand years old these had to be out usand years old - have had to be cut

The damage inflicted already consti-tutes a felony, since the 18 vandalized tress have a commercial value of over $100,000. Undercover investigators fromt he sherrif's department have taken to the woods near Eureka to try to catch the vandals

"This sort of attack on trees is unprecedented in the state of California," said

sherrif's investigator Phil Cox.
The tree-mauling incidents have reheated controversy over the expansion of parklands in northern California, a conflict that has raged intermittently since 1968, when Redwood National Park was first enlarged. Representatives of environmental groups and logger organizatins in Humboldt and Del Norte counties have blamed each other for the damage.

The Eureka Times Standard editorialized in mid-January that while park opponents were suspected of the vandal-ism, the destruction would actually aid environmenatlists.

"Can anyone doubt that proponents of park expansion are running to every un-decided congressman in Washington, D.C., with tales of these "chainsaw masacres'?" the newspaper warned. A reader etedly sponsored by the Sierra Club..." Sierra Club spokesman Paul Swatek hotly denied the charge. "The action is inconceivable," he said. "I suspect the loggers of the vandalism. They have the equipment and the know-how. Yet some close observers here have discounted both assessments. "it's absolutely senseless," noted District Superintendent Alan Philbrook, "This activity wouldn't help either park opponents or

Although the latest park vandalisms are the most notorious so far, they are not the first such cases.

Three years ago, two redwoods were cut down inside Redwood National park, and a bridge was burned. Threats of violence have swirled around what park official Homer Leach calls "a highly charged

During congressional hearings on the park issue in Eureka nearly a year ago, Sierra Club and Friends of the Earth representatives had to be escorted fromt he hearing hall by the police in order to prevent attacks upon them.

At the root of anti-environmentalist hostility is a fear of economic collapse. Two full-page ads in the Times Standard were taken out in early January by the Save Our Jobs Committee, a lobbying offshot of the Eureka Chamber of Commerce. The committee reprinted a letter sent to Congress by business, civic and labor leaders from Huboldt County. The letter pleaded with Congress to defeat the park bill, while noting, "Our local economy is 80 percent dependent upon the timber industry for its livelihood."

This dependence has lent special emphasis to the claims of the large timber corporations that economic disaster will follow if the park bill is passed. Louisiana-Pacific has already closed one plywood plant, throwing more than 300 workers out of their jobs, and the company claims more of its workers. Park proponents have argued that protectoin of the last stands of old-growth redwoods is essential to a liveable enviorment on the north coast, and claim that economic hardship is being wrought by the logging practices of the large timber that park expansion will threaten 1,200

corporations. "We envionmentalists have become scapegoats for jobs loss, but it's the timber companies who have put everybody on the north coast in a bind," contends Stephen Lau of Friends of the Earth.

According to official Forest Service statistics, the companies are simpy running out of adequate logging timber - which than of the cut-and-run practices of the U.S. Forest Service economist Daniel-Oswald predicted last summer that northern California would experience a sharp decline in timber production over the next decade, whether or not the parks are enlarged. "There's simply no more frontier of vast, available stands of timber," said regional forester Douglas

In the face of an eventual decline in logging, several organizations have called for the diversification of the area's econ-

"We want to see incentives for the communities to develop alternatives," said Meca Wawona at the Forestry Network, a private research group in Ukiah. "We have tremendous fish resources that are presently being decimated by logging practices. We have to diversify. Wawona and others have also pointed out that hardwoods, which are presently destoyed by defoliation, could instead be cleared by hand to serve as material for a whole new furniture industry.

Such proposals have so far been largely lost amid the shouting over Redwood National Park. Included in the park bill are provisions for retraining loggers, and providing government aid for the diversification of the economy — but there has been little public discussion about them in Eureka.

California state statistics show that unemployment ran as high as 16 percent in del Norte County last year, and rarely dipped below 10 percent in the whole region. the average unemployment rate for the state as a whole was 7.6 percent.

This high unemployment level has fueled the bitter outbursts in the park

As one logger who supported expansion of the park told PNS, "I can't be named in your article because the companies are saying we'll lose our jobs if the park is enlarged, and everyone else I work with has been riled up into believing it."

Raiders Nudge Owls By 81-77 Count

Executive Sports Editor Texas Tech had control of the game from the opening minutes, but, somehow, that information never reached the Rice bench. In a game of contrasts and incongruities, Texas Tech went out fast, then used a series of pressure free throws to outlast the pesky Owls 81-77 Wednesday night.

But. . . listen, don't talk too loud, we. might miss the score from Fayetteville. While more than half of the crowd which showed up in Lubbock Coliseum last Saturday to see the Razorbacks trip Tech, stayed away-possibly to try to pick up radio reports on that ArkansasSouthwest Conference record to 7-3. That, tied to the SMU win over Houston, is good for uncontested third place in the league. Rice fell to 2-8.

"We dug ourselves a hole." is the way Schuler put it; "We got a little lead off our press and played good defense early," was Myers' assessment.

With the crowd of only 4,097 watching -and evidently listening for Arkansas scores the way they reacted when one would be announced-Mike Russell dropped in a 3-point play with 15:52 left in the first half, and that broke a 6-all tie. Tech then followed that with 8 straight points and 15 of the game's next 17 for a lead which Rice could never overcome.

And the Ralders were running and pressing, a situation which both helped and hurt over the course of the game. In this early stretch, it helped.

After Russell's basket, Tech stole the ball, and Kent Williams hit gtard Geoff Huston with a lob pass underneath. The two teamed again, as Huston hit a seven-footer after taking a pass from Williams. Houston then grabbed a bad Rice pass and kicked it out to Williams at midcourt. The Hobbs sophomore took it the rest of

Alan Reynolds broke Tech's con tive string with a 19-footer, but the Raiders went right back to work, Joe Baxter hitting a 19-footer, Williams ripping a 25-foot rainbow and Ralph Brewster throw-

After a couple of misses, Williams hit a free shot with 11:49 left in the half, and

And the lead held until the Owls, unwilling to believe it was over, began narrowing the gap in the final minutes.

And, suddenly, it was 72-65, Tech, with 4 1/2 minutes to play.

A couple of missed Tech free shots gave the Owls another chance, and this time, big Frank Jackson silenced his hecklers in the stands by muscling through Tech's inside forces for a bucket with 3:17 to go. That cut it to 72-67.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (UPI) - Ulysses Reed was the last freshman recruited by Arkansas Coach Eddie Sutton in 1977. And in the biggest game of the year in the Southwest Conference Wednesday night, Reed showed up just in time.

Reed, a seldom used player, came in during the final seven minutes to hit eight points and help rally fourth-ranked Arkansas to a 75-71 decision over 17th-

The Razorbacks had to overcome an 11point deficit and rely on a 30-point effort from Marvin Delph to end the Longhorns nine-game winning streak and hand Texas its first loss in Southwest Conference

Monterey's Iseral Among Recruits Picking Tech

EVERY MORNING, IT'S mail call at Tasker has developed over the years, a Hobbs High School. Usually, the mail arrives at homes in the southeastern New Mexico city later in the day, but Ralph Tasker makes a personal run-special delivery, if you will He's glad to do it, but, it's not exactly the way he likes it, since Jeff Taylor arrives on crutches every day to pick up the collection.

"Oh, there's some mail comes for him every day," said Tasker, the highly successful head basketball coach at Hobbs. 'Just today (Tuesday), there were four letters. Jeff is in social living class, and when the letters come from colleges, I just pass them on to him."

Until sustaining a broken ankle in a game with Carlsbad just a week ago, he was the scoring leader on this year's Hobbs club, one which is unbeaten and sprinting along at a 107-point-a-game clip. High-scoring teams are nothing new at Hobbs, nor are unbeaten teams. Highly recruited athletes are nothing unique to the city, either, but this is not much comfort to Tasker after losing the senior who stands 6-31/2 in height and eight feet in the eyes of college recruiters.

CAPACITY CROWDS IN Hobbs' Tasker Arena-named for the coach-are as common as pickups on the parking lot. And, this year, more than a few faces in the crowds belonged to college scouts from all of the nation who came to look at Taylor.

His 25-point average and 58 percent shooting had something to do with it. "But, the doctor tells me he's through for the year," Tasker said. And still the let-

Even without him in the lineup, the victories keep coming, however, includ-ing last Friday's 115-84 win over host Clovis. At the time the two teams played, Hobbs was ranked No. 1 in the state of New Mexico, Clovis No. 3.

The team recently scored 176 points, breaking its own state scoring record set

"I've been pleasantly surprised with this club," Tasker admitted. "This team doesn't have much size, so they have to do it out on the floor rather than around the boards. We have to emphasize run-ning and hustle. Thing with this team is that we can't kick it out without getting

"But, this is an exciting team to watch, lots of hustle. . . good teamwork. The fans really love them, too."

TASKER FELT BEFORE the sea TASKER FELT BEFORE the season began than he would have a good ball club. For one thing, he had four players who were on the varsity for the third straight year. With the solid program player on the varsity more than one season is usual; one making the varsity as a sophomore is almost unheard of. Fact is, this was the first time ever that a foursome had made it for three seasons.

Taylor was one of the four, but with him out, the starting unit has 6-0 Steve Smith, 6-0 postman Rick Singleton, 5-101/2 Craig Willman, 5-111/2 Mike Smith, and 5-8 Wallace Williams. Steve Smith, Singleton and Willman were the three 'veterans.'

Williams, a sophomore, came in to replace Taylor.

The high-scoring performances of the Eagles reminds many of the 1970 team, one which was loaded with college talent. That team was one of several to win state titles, but it only went 27-1 for the year.

"Abilene beat us over there," recalled Tasker. "The Little kid (Richard), who went on over to Tech, had a great game, and they beat us by 1 point.

"Both teams scored a lot, but there was no other similarities between the two teams. That year, we emphasized strong rebounding; if we missed a shot, we had a couple of players up around the rim and got some second shots.

We were big. . . 6-91/2. . . Larry Robinson was 6-5, and our starting guard was 6-

Off that team, Robinson went to Texas and led the Longhorns to a champion-ship, and Larry Williams (older brother of current Raider Kent) helped Kansas State to the NCAA playoffs. But, that wasn't all; 11 of the 12 squad members earned college scholarships, and the 12th missed because he signed a pro baseball

"WE'VE HAD AN undefeated team before," said Tasker. "In 1966, we went 18-0. That 1970 team averaged 118 points in regular season—but only 114.6 in the playoffs when some teams held the ball on us. But, the 1966 team averaged over

"That was a sound team, we had two good football players to help in rebound-ing. Good talent. . . well balanced. . .

"Danny Watkins was a starter—he teaches over in Levelland now. Roy Lee teaches over in Levelland now. Roy Lee Ford our captain; Chip Fenner our center, Hardy Ray Murphy, and Jack Wisdom. They were the starters, but some of the others played as much as they did. "But, this year's team, three of them have been contacted (by colleges). We're shooting 52 percent as a team. We're not big, but all of them can play all positions in our offense.

in our offense.

"I felt we might have a good, sound ball club," and the team is undefeated "It's been a very enjoyable year."

And the mail continues to come in.

SMU Stops Ags; Cougs Rip TCU

Phil Hale tied the game with four seconds left in regulation and then hit the winning basket with 45 seconds remaining in overtime Wednesday night to give SMU a 71-70 decision over Texas A&M.

SMU trailed by 11 in the first half, by seven during the second half and was down by three midway through the over-

The Mustangs, a candidate for one of the lower spots in the Southwest Conference when the season began, evened its league record at 5-5 and moved into position to win a home-court advantage in the opening round of the post-season tournament later this month. The disappointing Aggies slumped to 3-7 in conference play.

Hale scored only eight points, but two of them were the biggest of the night for Jeff Swanson hit 23 points for SMU, including 11 free throws, while Joe Swed-lund added 13. Vernon Smith led Texas A &M with 20 and Willie Foreman had 17. Texas A&M led in the overtime, 69-67, and the Aggies' David Goff was on the free-throw line. He made both shots, but the second one was taken away because an A&M player had stepped into the free Reggie Franklin then scored to bring SMU to within one point, and, after a missed A&M shot, Hale hit his basket to put the Mustangs in front. A&M worked the ball down to 11 seconds and then called time out. But when play resumed, the Aggies could not work for a good shot and a desperation effort at the buzzer missed.

Houston 93, TCU 55 Mike Schultz scored 15 points and pulled down 15 rebounds despite a pulled leg muscle and the Houston Couhad no trouble in tromping lowly HONOLULU (AP) - Bruce Lietzke, the cross-handed putter who was the sensation of the early-season last year, is neither surprised nor disappointed by his relatively slow start on the pro golf tour this season.

"Last year, well, it was the sort of things dreams are made of," said Lietzke, who won his first two titles, was second in two other events and collected more than $202,000 in 1977.

"You can't expect to have a season like that every year," said the tall, articulate Lietzke, the defending champion in the $250,000 Hawaiian Open that starts today on the beautifully conditioned, palm and flower-studded, 7,234-yard Waialae Coun-

"And, realistically, you can't expect to win every tournament. You can try to win every tournament, but that's all. You can play your best, hope you get some body else. Realistically, though, you know that any one man's chances of winning any one tournament are very slim."

Lietzke, who'd already won once when he came to Hawaii last season, has been slowed by a minor injury this year. In four starts he's won only $1,037, missed the cut twice and withdrew once.

As a potential favorite in a 147-man field that is chasing a $50,000 first prize, he points to Torn Watson, a two-time winner this season who appears primed for a run at a second consecutive Player of the Year title.

Lietzke is one of many who regards Watson with the awe that one was reserved for Jack Nicklaus, who is skipping this event. And Lietzke exempts Watson from his basic assessment that any player's chances in any single event are re-

The remainder of the tilts will likely not be played. Ironically, Tuesday was the second time in three weeks Paducah had lost a home district game. The first time a natural gas shortage prevented the game with Aspermont.

But at Post Tuesday, there was no shortage of excitement as Tahoka kept its second half mark unblemished. The Bulldogs trailed 21-11 after one quarter but were up 32-27 and 52-39 at the other breaks. Post made 14 free shots in the final period to pull within reach, but missed a shot at the buzzer which would have sent the tilt into overtime.

Before a tightly jammed crowd estimated at more than 2,000, the Panthers, facing elimination from any playoff berth, used the 26-point performance of 6-6 senior Billy Don Hardaway to score the win over their crosstown rivals.

Hardaway, who was held in check during the first quarter, exploded during the final three stanzas to score 26 of Dunbar's final 56 points. He also accounted for 18 of the Panthers' rebounds.

"They were really leaning on him hard in the early going," McWilliams said.
"But he started shaking loose toward the end, hit a few buckets from the outside and that helped us win this one."

Along with Hardaway, McWilliams lauded forward Darrell Green, who came off the bench to scored eight clutch points.

Although not his usual overpowering self. Hardaway helped put together a final Dunbar scoring surge that saw the defending district champions overcome a two-point margin held by Estacado after three quarters. Early in the fourth period, Hardaway hit two quick buckets, sandwiched around a layup by Greg Whitfield, give the Panthers a 59-55 advantage with 5:57 left in the game. The lead was Dunbar's first since the 5:41 mark in the first However, Estacado fireplug Mike

Chatham, playing one of his better games of the year as he hit 14 points, led a late rally which saw the Mats hold a one-point lead (68-67) with 1:24 left. The Mats ran off nine unaswered points during a two minute span.

But Estacado had trouble controlling the tempo of the game and Dunbar capi-talized on some faulty Matador shooting, scoring six uncontested points of its own. Hardaway started the spurt with a jump-er, followed by a dunk by Whitfield and a clutch pair of free throws by Hardaway, last year's city player of the year. Estacado cut the gap to 71-70 when Freddie Ivory hit a long jumper, but by that time the Mats were coming in on a wing and a prayer. Whitfield, Dunbar's second leading scorer with 14 points, canned an easy layup about 13 seconds after the Ivory bucket, assuring the Panthers the victory. As time was running out, Estacado's Dewey Turnver tossed in a jump shot to end the game at 73-72.

LOS ANGELES (AP) - George Allen Rams from 1966-70, would be returning to the job from which he actually had been fired twice. The late Dan Reeves, who owned the Rams at that time, dismissed Allen in 1969 but brought him back amid objections to the firing from players and fans.

and have averaged just over 98 points a game. And that's 18 more than they've averaged through an 11-13 campaign.

NMJC became the last WJCC team to post a road win Monday when it knocked off Frank Phillips in Borger 105-99.

And tonight the rebound continues against Western Texas, which shares the loop lead with New Mexico Military and

Those two teams battle it out in Odessa and the winner there could get sole possession of first place if the T-bird rebound continues

"We're fortunate in that we've got all the toughies at home this round," the first-year coach said, then qualified that by adding, "but I guess I shouldn't say that because they're all tough. Rather, I should say those teams at the top of the standings.

NMJC has only one sophomore on the team (6-4 Al Massenburg of Wake Forrest, N.C., who is averaging 12.7 points and 9.5 rebounds a game).

"Anytime you have a big group of freshmen you should improve as the season goes along," Black says. "But our big thing is attitude. I don't think there's a team, in the nation with a losing record that has as good an attitude as we do. Everyone is pulling together and that helps.

That, plus Black's about-face on his philosophy toward the game. "When we were getting beat like we were (1-8 in WJCC's first-round) we decided it was time to change.

Another reason for the reversal, so Black feels, is the improvement in 6-10, 215-pound Rod Camp. "He didn't get to play much in high school (Washington, D.C.) and he missed our first six games for disciplinary reasons. The last few games he's come on strong. He got 24 points and 12 rebounds against Frank, Phillips in just over 20 min minutes.

Both WTC and NMMI have five road wins each in conference action, best among WJCC units.

For the second straight year, an area team has allowed a cager to participate in too many tournaments and lost the right to advance to the state playoffs.

Last year, Odessa Ector, then defending AAA state champion, was found guilty of violating Rule 8-A of the boys basketball rules.

Earlier this week, the District 8-B executive committee placed Sundown's boys his acts were inexcusable, deeply regrets on probation for the remainder of the what he did, assured me that he will nevyear and deprived the Roughnecks of representating the league.

However, Southland Supt. Tom Alvis, chairman of the 8-B executive committee, said Sundown would not be forced to forfeit any games. The violation came about when it was learned one Sundown cager participated in three junior varsity and one varsity tournament. Rule 8-A limits to three the number of tournaments in which an athlete may compete during one school year. Before the ruling, Sundown was leading the second-half chase with a 3-0 mark. Ropes won the first-half title outright with a 6-1 reading.

New Leaders Take In Area Cage Rankii

By WALT MCALEXANDER

Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff
All that snow and ice the past week have made things miserable for some people: Just like Midland, Dunbar and Abilene Christian made things miserable for leaders in The Avalanche-Journal's area basketball listings.

As a result, there are three new leaders —actually, 2½ because there's a tie for the AAA top spot—this week. Estacado had been the area's top AAA all year and Abilene had been the leader in AAAA the past two weeks. Lubbock Christian had been on the spot twice this

But that's all over. Midland whipped Abilene 76-70 Tuesday and the War Ea-gles relinquished their hold on the top spot to that other Key City unit, Cooper, which was the leader before falling to Midland Lee in the first-round of 5-AAAA action,

The two Lubbock AAA schools thare that lead as they've swapped home-court losses. The latest came Tuesday when Dunbar won 73-72.

LCHS has lost only two games during the last month, but both were to ACHS and both knocked the Eagles from the top area position. This time Farwell assumed the Class A leadership.

INVESTORS' GUIDE

By SAM SHULSKY

Q. We would like to invest some money for our young grandchildren and make sure they (and no one else) will benefit.

A. I don't want to get involved with an old and very commonplace complaint: the dissatisfaction of elderly parents with their married children's financial lifestyle. Your problem turns up many times in the course of a month.

If you have no qualms about letting your children know how you feel, there is no reason you can't by-pass them completely in the handling of any funds you want your grandchildren to have. A lawyer should advise you, especially if your state has some unusual property laws. In general, however, you can always buy some securities or set up a bank account in custodial accounts for the grandchildren and name someone other than their parents as custodians.

Q. I noticed in your column that one could invest $50,000 and get a monthly income of $450 for life. Please tell me how. We need more income.

A. I don't think I ever recommended investments yielding 10.8 percent. However, it is quite possible you read something about a lifetime annuity. If the beneficiary is, (or beneficiaries are) old enough, one could get $450 a month (and even more) for life (or lives) from a lifetime annuity. Check it out with a reputable insurance company licensed to do business in your state.

. . . Q. We have some money in growth mutuals, but we now need income. Should we switch the money to an income fund? Or should we wait a little longer for a recovery in the growth fund? We are 71 and

A. If the fund management has an income fund into which you can switch for a total fee of $5 do so. If you find you must pay another full commission to get into an income fund...DON'T. Take your money out and put it into 7% percent insured savings certificates or 8-81/2 percent high grade corporate bonds.

As to when to make the switch - what can I say? You invest in an income fund when you need the income. You get out of a growth fund when you no longer can invest for growth. If you think I'm sidestepping your question - you're right.

Q. The other day I heard a TV man say he can make 20 percent on bonds bought on margin. The bonds would be rated A to AAA. Possible?

A. Sure thing. I'll show you how to make 22 percent.

Buy $100,000 worth of high grade bonds yielding 81/2 percent, or $8,500 a year. Put up $10,000 of your own money and borrow $90,000 at 7 percent, paying the bank $6,300 interest annually. You get $8,500 and pay the lender $6,300. Net profit -$2,200 or 22 percent on your $10,000 investment

Now, all you have to do is find a bank which will lend you 90 percent on bonds and charge you only 7 percent. And be sure to stock up on aspirins. You'll need 'em when money rates rise, your bonds decline and the bank wants more margin.

It's an old, old story - this idea of making profits on other people's money and it's always worked for awhile and has always come to grief when money rates go up, bond prices decline and when the banks call for more margin.

There was a time - believe it or not when U.S. Treasury bonds were yielding as little as 1% percent. You could buy a hundred thousand dollars worth of them and put up only $5,000 or $10,000 of your own money. Furthermore, the bank chargedd you only 1% percent for the $90,000-$95,000 it lent you. Result: you netted 1/4 of 1 percent on $90,000 or $95,000 of someone else's money - free and clear... until, as must come to all credit markets, rates began to rise and the pyramiders found themselves paying 2 and 3 and 31/2 percent interest on their $90,000-$95,000 bank loans which were earning them 1% percent.

Lester Maddox Fighting

By TOM TIEDE

ATLANTA (NEA) - Lester Maddox says he got started in life with $4 in his pocket. He was 16 years old then, the scrawny son of a Georgia millworker, and he used the $4 to convert a pigeon coop into a downtown Atlanta confectionary. He went on from there to become the government of this state. Now 62, Maddox says things haven't really changed much for him. "I started with $4 and it looks like I'm ending up the same way." The onetime symbol of southern segregation says he is broke, deeply in debt, and he fears the pressures of the predicament may very well send him to an early grave.

Maddox says his problem is rooted to his past political efforts. "I would have been a lot better off if I'd never been gov-

As it is, he says, he still owes $182,000 from his political campaigns of 1966 through 1974. "I can't possibly pay it off," he says; "all I got to my name right now is $642.

Technically, Maddox believes, he may be responsible for only a portion of the campaign debt. Much of the $182,000 obligation was incurred by others, although in Maddox's cause. "But I co-signed all of to pay them off; the thing is, I just can't raise the money. Maddox says he has difficulty enough raising money for his personal and private use. Since spending four years as Georgia governor, and another four as lieutenant governor, he has failed in several business enterprises, including food service, real estate and even a song and dance comedy act.

At present his income is "unreliable benefits for his public service. He says he has some remaining business connections, "but not enough to count on."

As for his status as an ex-governor, Maddoxd says the banks are unimpressed. "They are breathing down my neck. The other day my wife went to one bank to cash a check for groceries, and it was refused. That's the first time in 41 years my check wasn't good. I tell you, I'm just worried sick about it."

Maddox says worry over the debt led to a heart attack in September. "I was overworking and losing sleep," he explains, " and it hit me one day while I was out weeding ivy in the yard." Maddox suffered a myocardial infarction, a blockage of the arteries. "The debts did it," he insists, "I know they did."

The former governor is still recuperating from the seizure at his upper middle class home in northwest Atlanta. He is pale, and says he has lost 20 pounds. "I'm feeling better," he says, "God worked a miracle on me. But it could happen again. You never know. My doctors tell me I must live quietly for now.'

He says he drives some, but never in heavy traffic. He walks a little. Sitting in the den of his home he points to the gar-den out the window: "That's where it happened - there by the ivy. I felt this real bad pain in my chest. Then it went to my arm. I don't mind saying I was scared

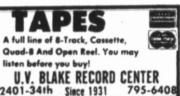

Friends say Maddox's heart attack has changed him. Like the crippled George Wallace, Maddox may no longer be the firebrand he once was. Says one neighbor: "He is aging, sick, tired, discouraged and broke. And I think maybe he's lonely. I suppose that all these things would mellow anyone.

In particular, Maddox has mellowed regarding Jimmy Carter. The pair have feuded since Maddox served as Carter's lieutenant governor in 1970-74. When Carter announced his presidential candidacy in 1976, Maddox entered the race "so that I can show America what a phony and a hypocrite Carter is.'

Now that is over, Maddox says. When he was hospitalized, Carter was among the first to send good wishes. Maddox is grateful: "I think he really wants to do what's right for the country. I support him. He's my president and I include him in my prayers every day."

Maddox says he prays many times a day. But although he feels God saved his life during the heart seizure, he says he has not yet had any divine interference in his financial troubles

Paducah Ballot Takes Shape

PADUCAH - Iress Brooks, a Cottle County farmer and Place 3 incumbent city alderman, became the first councilman to file for a spot on the municipal ballot to be voted April 1.

He is being opposed in his bid for re-el-ection by a former city councilman, Walthe council a number of years.

Businessman Dave Willis, also a former councilman, is seeking the Place 4 position now held by Wesley Gibbs, a farmer who is completing his first term. The mayor's office is being sought by newspaper publisher Jim Caraway in his first bid in a local political race. Edward Maxey, a former councilman, was appointed in July to fill a vacancy left by Oran Mowrey's resignation.

In the school board election, also set for April 1, D.H. Pope, a businessman, filed for the place held by Kenneth Tippen, who was serving the unexpired term of Bobby Sunday.

Incumbents Ben Marrs, and Jerry McClendon, had not filed for a place on the school board by Tuesday's close of business at the school tax office.

Grain Futures

CHICAGO (AP) - Grain futures prices closed mixed to slightly higher on the Chicago Board of Trade Wednesday with soybeans sustaining early gains throughout the session.

Continuing transportation problems caused by bad midwest weather and frozen rivers added support to the soybean and corn prices.

Wheat prices rebounded from opening losses by some export buying which was later dampened by commercial selling. Corn was down fractionally with continuing commercial buying.

At the close wheat was 1 cent a bushel lower to 1 higher, March 2.673/4; corn was 1/2 lower to 1/2 higher, March 2.261/4; oats were 1/2 lower to 1/4 higher, March 1.321/4 and soybeans were 1 to 21/2 higher, March
