The story was headed, "Statue Eyed as Memorial to Mules," and was an Associated Press account of the mule dedication here July 3. Potato harvest is well under way in Bailey county with both price and quality called good.

Barrett Produce Co. which grows potatoes on 375 rented acres of land, began harvesting the crop this week, and company branded the 1965 crop as "excellent in quality."

A spokesman for the company said Tuesday that the price is around $7 per hundred, but the price is expected to decline as the new crop harvest increases.

He said that the average is 260 sacks to the acre, but peak production has not yet been reached. The output so far is around 175 sacks to the acre.

The variety grown here is Lasota, a red commercial variety, which has proved to be a good yielder. Land where the potatoes are grown is north and northwest of Muleshoe.

Other truck crops grown in the Muleshoe area were reported at mid-week as "making good progress." Some 2000 acres of tomatoes are grown here each year, and this year's crop is "average or better," a farm expert said.

Cantaloupe harvest is expected to get under way shortly, and cucumbers also are at the harvest stage.

Farm Bureau Queen Contest Scheduled Here

Farm Bureau has announced its annual Farm Bureau queen contest open to Bailey county girls between the ages of 16 and 22 prior to Sept. 1.

Mrs. Joe Wheeler is in charge of the contest which will be held in the high school auditorium later this summer.

The winner here will go to the district queen contest in Lubbock.

Each contestant must be the sister or the daughter of a Farm Bureau member, and each girl must make a one-minute talk on the subject, "Why I'm glad my family belongs to the Farm Bureau."

The contest last year drew 18 entries for the county.

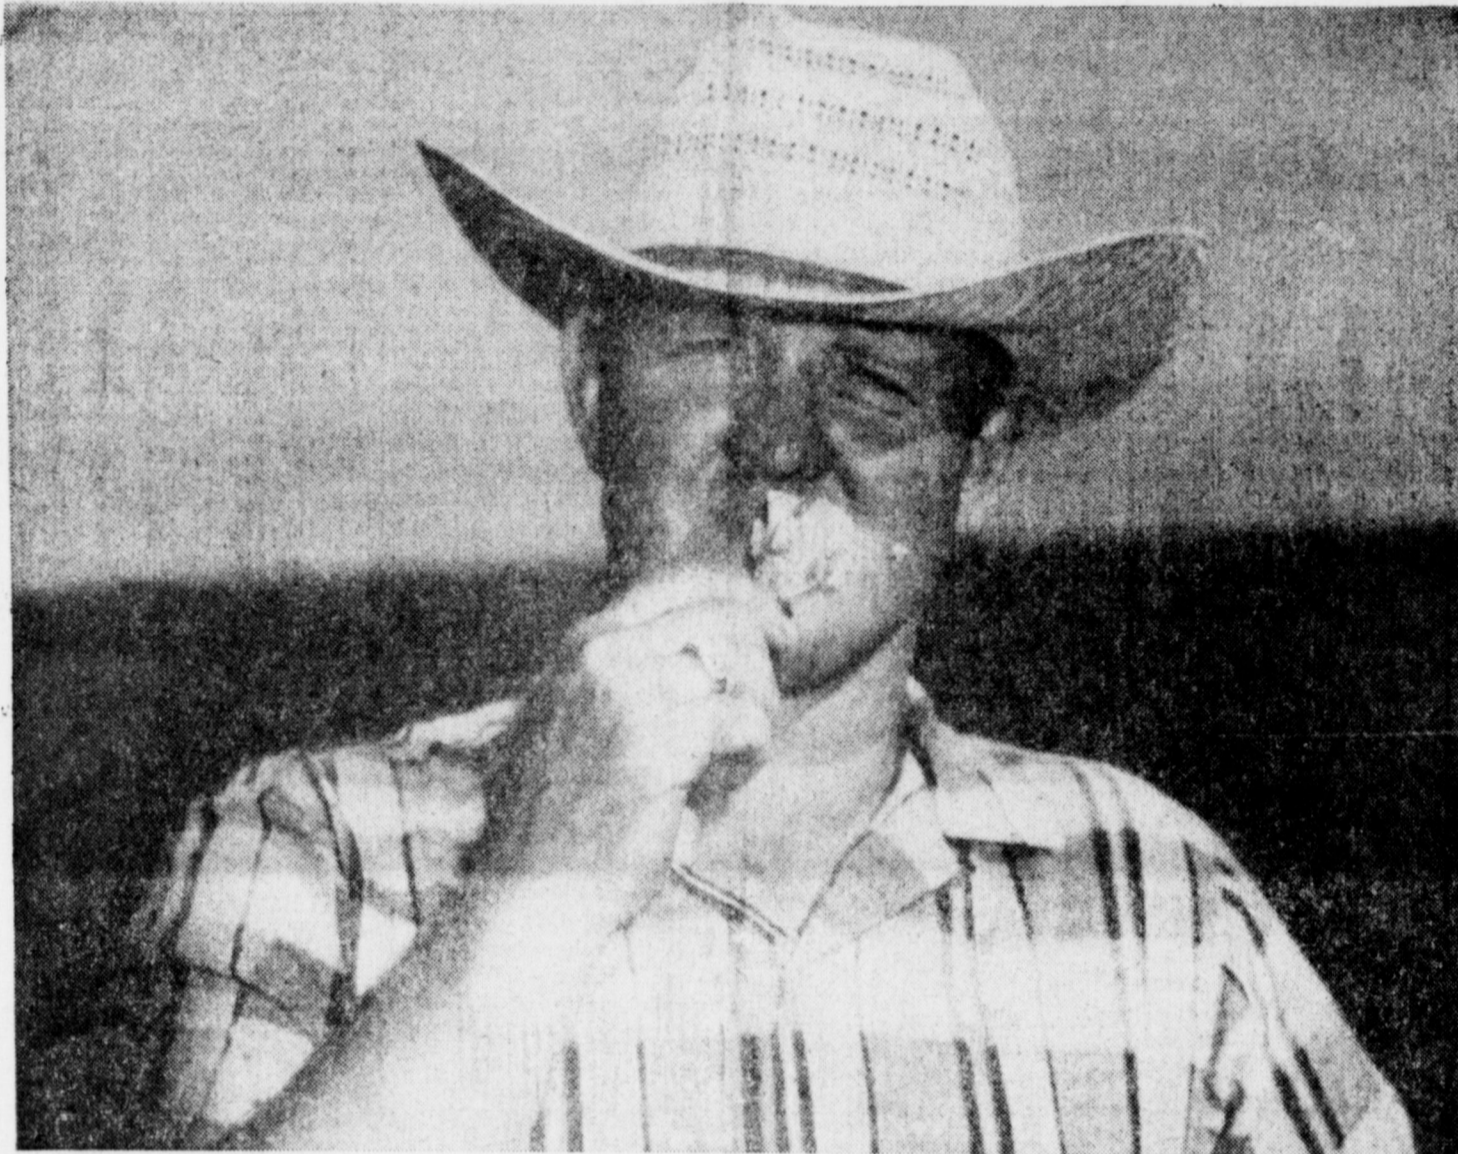

Girls wishing to enter must file their applications with the Farm Bureau office, 1612 W. American Blvd. The application must be accompanied by a late photo of the contestant.

Local Golfer Wins At Friona

Russell Haberer, Muleshoe, captured the amateur title Monday at Friona's West Texas PGA chapter pro-amateur golf tournament. He scored a 69, and Dimmitt's Dickie Dyer was second with a 71.

Former Muleshoe professional, Ray Hardy, now living in Clovis won low honors for the pros with a five - under par 67. Bob Baker of Hereford finished second with a 69.

Hardy also was a member of the winning pro - team. He and Victor Beach, also of Clovis, tied with Fred Pendergrass, Olton, and Vance Moxom, Amarillo, for top honors at 64.

"TEXAS ORCHID" — This is a west Texas orchid - or, at least, it's as valuable to cotton farmers as an orchid, and smells just as good. It's a cotton bloom. Sniffing the delightful aroma (only it doesn't have any aroma at all) is Eugene Vanstony who has 301 acres of cotton just south of Maple. At this point, it looks like a bumper crop. Another Picture on page B-1. (Journal Photo)

Southwest Region Looks Good, Bad

Bailey county will produce a "much better" cotton crop this year than last year.

That's the opinion of experts who say that the "over - all picture is much brighter than last year."

Unless the 1966 late July hail storm is repeated, cotton is virtually in the bag. Eugene Vanstony, who farms 301 acres of cotton a mile south of Maple, says his crop is the "best I have had in several years." He said he planted an "early but he adds that some of his neighbors were not so fortunate."

His crop has reached the bloom stage, and had is probably the only casualty that could knock him out of a good yield.

Dryland areas in the southwestern part of the county have a better - than - usual crop prospect. But there's a touch of irony in the picture: The heavy rains which the area received, running to as high as 9 inches at Stegall, were both a Jekyll and Hyde event. While they provided more moisture than the area has seen in several years, the rain also knocked out the crop in many places, and some farmers have replanted as many as three times.

Others in the Stegall region, for instance, simply gave up their 1965 cotton crop entirely, converting the land to grain sorghum.

Hail also was heavy in some parts of the Maple - Goodland - Stegall territory.

For example near Morton, farmers replanted cotton as late as June 22, and only three miles south of Vanstony's excellent crop, farmers were virtually wiped out of the '65 cotton business by a late storm.

Charles Daniel, ASCS chief here, says the county had 102,000 acres allotted to cotton for 1965. How much of that allotment is still cotton "is anybody's guess." However, he believes the amount of cotton land taken out of cotton "is very small." The ASCS office will soon know the total cotton acreage as field crews have started the tedious task of measuring the cotton land. Daniel says the county also has some 200,000 acres devoted to grain sorghum, and this total may be swelled somewhat by land originally devoted to cotton. Grain sorghum will "make" much later than cotton.

One farmer in the Maple area says he will make cotton "even though it was planted late," because the crop is making such good progress now. "Of course he admits he is keeping his fingers crossed, hoping for a later-than - usual frost which will permit his crop to mature. He said he planted an "early maturing crop" but adds that "now it remains to be seen whether even a so-called early maturing crop can get in under the frost deadline."

Vanstony, who is a partner with his brother, Bob in operations at Maple and Lubbock, grows Riceot 90, Paymaster 101

A, and Lankart 57 in the Maple area. The crop was planted May 3 "and we were lucky in escaping both hail and sand-blow damage." The three varieties, he sums up, are "neck - and - neck" in progress. All three varieties are at the bloom stage.

Cotton in other sections of the county, while not as advanced as in the highland territory in the southwestern part of the county, also is "progressing nicely," farm experts declare.

Even though the northern end of the county received some hail damage earlier in the growing season, it has made progress, recovering from that early damage.

It Was A Good Town In 1920's Young Poet Said

Back in the mid 20's, a 15 - year old "devil" for the Muleshoe Journal figured it was time for somebody to start writing "pieces" about a wonderful place called Muleshoe.

Accordingly he picked up his pen and dashed off a poem. R. B. Boyle, the editor of The Journal in those days, read the first poem. "Pretty Good, Sherman," he told the young writer, "why don't you write one of these booster poems every week or so?"

After that Sherman B. Vance turned official poet for The Journal, and from 1925 through 1927, he dashed out many of these booster items.

"It matters not, my friend, where you may roam, you'll find no better place to make your home than in Muleshoe," read one of the poems.

His mother (as mother's will) saved the poems, and this week she brought them to The Journal. His mother, Mrs. W. F. Goodwin, now lives in Amherst.

One of his poems which he titled, "That's in Muleshoe," ran like this: Where there is more of smiling and less of crying; Where there is more of giving and less of buying; Where a man makes friends without half trying - That's in Muleshoe. Where the future looks a little brighter; Where your burdens are a little lighter; Where prosperity gleams the whole year around - That's in Muleshoe.

"Where there is more of work and less of sorrow, doing things now instead of tomorrow; Where things are made of everything that's good - That's in Muleshoe.

"A beauty spot away out on the Plains, Where there are no swamps and valleys and all those things; Where you feel like a man the whole year round - That's in Muleshoe.

Where there are no dry and yellow and sunken acres; Something not to be compared (See POET, Page 5)

Little League Crowd Thrills At Tripleplay

The outstanding play of Monday evening's Little League game, in which the Cashway Sluggers overwhelmed the Mortormen 18 to 5, was a thrilling tripleplay.

In the series unusual in Little League play, the Sluggers roll-up three outs in the triple play.

Chuck Beaston, Sluggers third baseman, caught the fly ball, threw it on to Perry Stockard at second base for the second out. Stockard threw the ball to Nelson Fox on first base to complete the crowd's applause - winning triple play. Following the Sluggers and (See TRIPLEPLAY, Page 5)

Pleasant Valley Has Nudist Scare

Rumors persisted at mid week that a man, clad only in a T-shirt, had been seen at a farm home near Pleasant Valley recently, but officers here refused to confirm or deny the rumor.

A Lamb county deputy sheriff said he had heard nothing of the reported incident. "We have no record of it at all," he told The Journal.

According to information pieced together by this newspaper, a young farm woman went out into her back yard recently about 6 o'clock one evening. Hearing someone approaching she turned around to discover she was being followed by a "young" man who was nude except for a T-shirt. She screamed and fled back into the house. The man disappeared, and all efforts to locate him have proved unavailing, the Journal has learned. Pleasant Valley is a farm community nine miles east of here, and lies mostly in Lamb county.

The young girl is reported not to have recognized the nudist, but is said to have described him as "about 23 to 25 years old."

Another rumor said a young man, supposedly the same person, was seen walking down U. S. 70 near Pleasant Valley. He was completely nude, a tourist reported when she reached Earth.

Names of the young woman who is reported to have seen the man in her back yard and of the tourist who is said to have seen the nudist on the highway, were not learned.

Celebration Congratulations Are Received

Muleshoe received many telegrams from persons in high places during the recent Mule Memorial celebration, and messages still are being received at Chamber of Commerce headquarters, Roy Davis, manager, said Wednesday.

Here are messages from four VIPs received recently:

I see that even Farm Journal Magazine took note of Muleshoe's plans to dedicate the "Old Pcte" statue tomorrow. I wish I could be there for the unveiling. Sen John G. Tower.

Congratulations to the city of Muleshoe and the Chamber of Commerce on taking note of the mule and dedicating a monument. (See CELEBRATION, Page 5)

It's Quiet Now, But June Was A Busy Month In Justice Court

June in Bailey county was a busy month for Justice of the Peace Joe Vaughn, a check of the justice's blotter revealed Monday.

And it was also a busy month for officers who made the arrests.

"If June was rough, July is running the other way around," said the justice. "We had 73 cases in June, but during the first two weeks of July, fewer than a dozen cases have been filed in my court."

By far the majority of the arrests were made for traffic violations, and cost the offenders all the way from $16.50 to $65. The lower fines were assessed against offenders whose violations were considered "non - hazardous", Vaughn explained.

The higher fines were assessed against offenders who were "a hazard to others on the road - like the fellow who drew the $65; he was speeding at the rate of 100 miles an hour."

Speeding, incidentally, led the list of arrests during June. A total of 31 speeding tickets was given. Out of the 73 arrests, only one person pleaded not guilty; trial for this alleged violator has not been set.

One of those arrested for speeding turned out to be a police safety officer from another state. "He didn't tell us he was an officer until after he had paid a fine, and then he showed us his badge," Justice Vaughn said.

Two were arrested on a charge of "contest of speed." Litterbugs drew fines for three charges. One person was arrested for failure to have a tag on a two - week trailer, and one went to court for making an improper turn.

Texans Think Big—About Weather And Baseball...

Like most Americans, Texans talk about the weather and baseball. But the folks in Houston have finally done something about the weather. In fact, they've made every day an ideal day for baseball.

That "something" is the Harris County Domes Stadium, home of the Houston Astros and the first indoor baseball field in history. Covered with a network of close to 5,000 sky-lights of Du Pont's "Lucite" acrylic monomer, the unique stadium guarantees sports fans perfect pre-packaged weather 365 days a year. Come heat, humidity, rain or even a freak snow flurry, spectators will be able to attend baseball, football, circuses, rodeos, trade shows, political conventions, religious services—all in constant-temperature comfort. For the stadium is fully air-conditioned, with 6,800 rated tons of equipment in constant operation. What's more—the playing field will have natural grass growing on it, made possible because the skylights permit sufficient sunlight to filter down to the playing field to nourish the grass.

An idea literally pulled out of the sky brought about this indoor-outdoor weatherproof roof. Architects took the same concept that Du Pont scientists had developed for the B-17 airplane gunner's dome of "Lucite", brought it down several thousand feet and simply thought big—half a mile big to be exact.

Seen through a fish-eye lens, the Astrodome interior is a study in curves. Grass on the playing field is nurtured by sunlight transmitted through skylight panels of "Lucite".

All this is, of course, a far cry from the sports stadium of old—whose builders tried all sorts of methods of heating the heat and other discomforts. The ancient Greeks, for example, tackled the weather problem by choosing as the site of their games, Olympia, for its thick grove of trees. But, when Zeus let fly with a lightning bolt, everyone, spectators included, donned winged sandals for a cross-country run.

Time and progress brought the newspaper held over the head, the plastic raincoat, the portable plastic pup tent, and finally the half-enclosed stadium, where the sports fan observes the proceedings in chilled semiprotection.

But these will be mere relics of the past when the Astros take to the field in Houston this spring and summer—or when the Houston Cougars and Houston Oilers kick off the football season in the fall. Even should mighty Bob Aspromonte strike out, there'll be no gloom in Houston's "Astrodome."

It'll be a rainy day in Texas and a great day for a baseball game at Houston's Harris County Domes Stadium, the world's first indoor-outdoor weatherproof sports arena. Only the sun will be able to penetrate the skylight roof of Du Pont's "Lucite". Inside the stadium 2 1/2-million cubic feet of air will be cooled and circulated each minute.

Tanks Rumble...Shades of the Cavalry!

In the rumble of its thundering M-48 (Patton) tanks, the Army Guard today has the speed and mobility of movement which characterized yesterday's horse cavalry. But powerful 90mm. main battle guns give these tanks the firepower with which to tear open and penetrate enemy lines. The complicated machinery represented by these 50-ton fighting vehicles has been mastered by Army Guardsmen, who sharpen their tactics, learn communication, coordination and control measures, and even practice gunnery during weekend training in the months between annual field training cycles. Tankers have been among the principal beneficiaries of the move out of Armory classrooms. As a result, two of the Army Guard's armored divisions and many tank battalions have been designated part of the Army's top priority reserve force.

Water Scarcity Hits Progress-Tower

BY SEN. JOHN G. TOWER

Probably the greatest handicap to rural development today lies in the fact that thousands of communities across our state and over the nation—communities with an incalculable potential for growth and prosperity—can make no progress because they have no dependable water supply.

Without water, a community with good land, good industrial sites, good public facilities and good neighbors may stay practically dormant or may even become a dying community.

This glaring deficiency of rural America is holding down our national progress, and I have joined with 92 other U. S. Senators in sponsoring a bill that presents a new, yet proven, attack on water shortages.

The proposal is Senate Bill No. 1766. It would amend the Rural Electrification Act to provide for the financing and building up of rural water systems. The program would be a joint federal-state-local system of focusing attention upon this need for rural water systems and of obtaining relief for a situation that otherwise can do nothing but get worse and worse.

The Rural Water System bill would place administration of the program under the Farmers Home Administration, a bureau well acquainted with the needs and desires of rural Americans and accustomed to cooperating with them on joint projects.

The FHA would be authorized by the bill to approve proposed rural water system projects and to make loans and grants in support of such projects. The bill authorizes for each year $25 million dollars worth of loans and $5 million worth of direct grants.

In order to qualify for the water system grants and loans, a community would have to show that the project would:

(1) serve a rural area not likely to decline in population because that for which the system is being designed;

(2) be designed and constructed so that adequate capacity will be available to

Hit the Dirt—Hometown Style

An Army National Guard automatic rifleman drops into firing position in a combat attack exercise. Land made available to Army Guard units by local and State authorities across the nation has played an important part in the development of the Guard's increased readiness status. Through weekend training, which in many States is taking the place of traditional Army drill nights, Army Guard units get outdoors into areas where there is the elbow room soldiers need in order to accomplish realistic training. Guard and Active Army leaders believe that units which have emphasized outdoor, weekend training through the year, will be ready for more advanced training—even participation in Army Maneuvers—during Annual Field Training.

Lions Elect

Dr. Walter H. Campbell of Miami Beach, Florida, was elected President of Lions International at the Association's 48th annual convention in Los Angeles, California, July 7-10. Lions International, with 759,097 members in 132 countries, is the world's largest service club organization. Lions International is best known for its many youth programs, community service projects, sight conservation activities and aid to the blind. Last year Lions Clubs around the world completed more than 430,000 individual community projects.

of God and he will say: "Nothing." Ask a fundamentalist and he may well say: "Everything."

But in law, the phrase "act of God" has nothing to do with religion. The law sits in judgment only on the acts of man. Calling an event an act of God is merely the law's way of saying it is not an act of man.

This distinction could be important indeed.

Suppose, for example, that a bolt of lightning strikes a tree in your back yard, toppling it onto the neighbor's garage. Obviously you did not hurl that lightning bolt. Nor could you have prevented the harm it inflicted.

Having played no role in the event, you are not legally liable for the damage. "Act of God" is a good defense.

But suppose the tree fell not only because of the lightning but also because it was badly rotted. Although you had known for some time that it might fall, you had neglected to take any precautions.

Surely, if God caused the lightning in the first case, He caused it in the second case as well. But now your own negligence played a key role in the outcome. Therefore, "act of God" is not a good defense. You could be held liable.

When should a force of nature be foreseen and guarded against? There is no easy answer. There are no easy precautions fair to expect in an area where tornadoes are unknown. A careful person makes due allowance, under all the circumstances, for the likelihood that nature will kick up a fuss. Most act of God cases involve weather. But not all. In one instance, a farmer sued his neighbor for crop damage caused by water leaking from a drainage canal. The neighbor replied:

"My canal did leak, but only because of holes dug by gophers. Since I didn't cause those gophers to dig, I am not to blame. This should be considered an act of God."

But the court held that, even if the digging could be called an act of God, gopher damage was common enough to have been foreseen and prevented. The court might well have reminded the defendant of Milton's admonition in "Paradise Lost":

"Accuse not Nature! She hath done her part; 'Do thou but thine'"

Ground Crew Care the R Factor for Army Aircraft

Weekend training, in many States replacing the traditional drill night, is helping to build the effectiveness of the Army Aviation arm of the Army National Guard. At the present time there are nearly 1,000 aircraft—both fixed-wing and helicopters—assigned to a variety of different Army Guard units. Army Guard aviators must become skilled at landings and take-offs from unimproved airstrips which are a far cry from paved runways found at most airfields. A skilled mechanic making an adjustment on propeller of an O-1A "Bird Dog" is a member of an Aviation Battalion getting valuable weekend training at a strip which closely resembles the sort of terrain Army Guard birdmen would be likely to encounter in actual operation.

Memorial Fund Expanded By Cancer Society

In response to numerous requests from families and individuals, the American Cancer Society announces an expanded memorial fund. Families and friends of cancer victims are invited to contribute to commemorate their loved ones.

"Contributions made in memory of a friend or a member of the family are acknowledged by the American Cancer Society, and a memorial card is sent to the family stating that a memorial gift has been received and giving the name of the donor. These contributions may be in any amount," said Dean (Mrs. Deibert) Sprayberry, treasurer of the Bailey County unit. "Memorial funds are used to support the Society's three fold attack on cancer through research, education, and service," explained Mrs. Sprayberry.

"Although the major source of funds for this program comes from the Society's annual April Crusade, memorial funds received throughout the year are becoming increasingly important to the Society as more families and individuals become aware that they can contribute to the ultimate victory over this dread disease."

She also explained that the American Cancer Society is deeply grateful to individuals and families throughout the county who are using this practical means of assisting the Society to carry on the fight against cancer.

Memorial funds should be sent to the American Cancer Society, Bailey County unit, in care of Dean Sprayberry, First National Bank, Muleshoe.

Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Charles Alsup, Bailey County Cancer Society president, or Lubbock District office, Briercroft office Park No. 3, Lubbock. Don H. Lambert is field representative for this area, Sherwood 4-6175, Lubbock.

Scout Troop 634 Home From Camp

Fred Clements, Melvin Griffin and Jimmy Dale Bellar counselors, along with 12 boy scouts returned home Saturday from Tres Ritos where they have been since July 4. ## Texas Taxes May Hit $40 Million

BY VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN — Texas Research League warns that another fiscal "crisis" looms for state government in 1976, when new taxes of $40 million a year may be necessary.

Simple arithmetic points to a "sizeable" money problem, says the League. It notes that while Texas' new fiscal period will begin September 2 with a general revenue surplus of some $97,800,000 it will end August 31, 1967, with little more than $1 million in the fund. Gov. John Connally's budget staff has estimated a balance of about $4 million.

Comparing the shrinking surplus with some non-recurring revenue measures agreed on by the 59th Legislature, TRL researchers conclude lawmakers in 1967 may have to pass a $107,200,000 new tax bill. League admits the figure may be higher or lower. Its staff acknowledges that sales tax revenues are running well ahead of official estimates this year and if it keeps up, the new tax requirement may be reduced to $90,000,000.

Actually, general sales tax collections this year are "much higher" than in 1964. Comptroller Robert S. Calvert reports. Collections since the current fiscal year began last September 1 total $164,200,000, compared with $150,600,000 for the corresponding period a year ago.

TRL observes: "An $90 million tax bill is no small matter, but neither is it a really serious crisis for a state with the untapped tax resources and growth potential of Texas. This is, of course, an optimistic — as well as an unofficial — estimate and the tax required might well be higher if revenues do not come up to these expectations, or if expenditures substantially exceed them."

League suggests that the Committee on State and Local Tax Policy "look at many available revenue-raising possibilities in the course of its studies."

SESSION REJECTED — Governor Connally has rejected requests for a special legislative session to deal with rising car insurance rates in Texas.

State Representative Carl A. Parker and J. D. Weldon, both of Port Arthur, requested such a session to investigate the rate increases averaging 13.4 percent which were authorized by the State Board of Insurance to take effect August 1.

Connally said he doubts any practical benefits would be gained from a special session at this time, although he shares concern over the increases. The governor made three principal points:

—Texas' liability rates after the August increases will be lower than those of 34 states and the District of Columbia.

—Two recent legislative inquiries already have been conducted on rate-making methods and have determined no fault with the Insurance Board's formulae which are available for public scrutiny.

—The Legislature is willing to give "little support" to stronger laws to curb rising auto accidents which bear directly on insurance rates.

APPOINTMENTS —David L. Greenberg was named by Governor Connally as judge of the new county court No. 1 of Galveston county. He is a law partner of Galveston Sen. A. R. Schwartz.

Connally appointed Sen. Walter Richter of Gonzales to the board of control of the Southern Regional Education Board and Rep. Don Cavness of Austin to SREB's Legislative Advisory Council.

Truett Latimer, former member of the State Legislature from Abilene, is new executive director of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee. He succeeds George Hill of Austin.

COURTS SPEAK — State Supreme Court has agreed to review the case involving the state's right to tax coin-operated vending machines on military reservations. Third Court of Civil Appeals, overturning Austin District Court, earlier held that the state had the power to collect the tax on Fort Hood machines.

High court backed Amarillo Court of Civil Appeals in ruling that Moore County District Court must hear the suit challenging boundaries of county commissioner's precincts.

DESEGREGATION — U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare reports that 625 of Texas' 1,370 school districts have submitted statements of compliance with the 1964 civil rights act which received federal approval.

Another 67 Texas districts have submitted acceptable voluntary desegregation plans and 13 more have court-ordered plans.

Deadline for integration of schools receiving federal aid is Sept. 1, 1967.

ECONOMY PROBED — University of Texas Bureau of Business Research turns up these interesting facts and figures in a new study of the Texas economy over the past decade:

Personal income per capita rose from $1,585 to $2,175; real purchasing power increased some 18.8 percent compared with 24.7 percent for the nation; Texas per capita income dropped from just under 90 percent of the national figure in 1954 to just over 85 percent of 1964.

More than 65 percent of all Texas personal income remains in the form of wages and salaries. Manufacturing supplies 13.18 percent of personal income; petroleum and natural gas producers pay 3.20 per cent; wholesale and retail trade provide 13.01 percent; and government wage and salary payments, 14.05 percent.

State Starts Year With Big Surplus

BY VERN SANFORD
Teras Press Association

AUSTIN — State government will begin the new fiscal biennium with a surplus of nearly 100 million. But it will wind up with a balance of only $4,200,000, according to estimates of the Governor's budget office.

In a recap of legislative spending, Gov. John Connally's staff totaled all appropriations at $3.3 billion, of which $622,900,000 will come from general revenue, (vetoes by the governor of $2,600,000 from the spending bills are deducted.)

Figures put state cost of the average $533 teacher pay raise at $70,600,000,000 for the two-year period beginning September 1.

Total new revenue provided by the 59th Legislature will come to $82,500,000, according to revised figures. Biggest portion of this comes from the three-cents-a-pack increase in the cigarette tax.

HOSPITAL TRANSITION — Texas' vast system for treating the mentally ill, mentally retarded and victims of tuberculosis is entering a vital transition period.

On Sept. 1, realignment and reorientation of these facilities and services, as enacted by the 59th Legislature, will go into effect:

Separation of the tuberculosis hospital treatment program from the mental health and retardation services and consolidating it with the State Health Department, which now handles case finding and follow-up work.

Abolishing the existing hospital board — general policy-making agency for mental and tuberculosis hospitals and special schools for the retarded — and creating a new Department of Mental Health and Retardation. A new, nine-member board will replace the present Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools.

Sweeping new concept of care, spelled out in recommendations of statewide study committees named by Governor Connally, are expected of the reorganization.

INSURANCE HIKES — Auto liability insurance rates will increase an average of 14.4 percent on August 1. Rates will vary widely in the 26 rating areas in the state.

However, some coverages will go down in cost, by as much as 17 percent. These policies are for insurance against losses not connected with accidents — such as fire and theft.

State Board of Insurance says it has carefully reviewed the loss data forming the basis of the rate changes and finds that the new rates will be "adequate and reasonable as required by law."

In another area of insurance, Texas companies have had more than $15 million worth of claims from hail and storm damage. By this time last year, $9 million had been paid in such claims. Biggest blow came from the Wichita Falls storm of May 27.

COMMITTEE NAMED — Governor Connally has named a seven-member committee to negotiate with Louisiana in an effort to settle a long-standing dispute as to the Sabine River boundary between the two states.

Connally appointed his executive assistant Larry Temple, Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, Sen. Martin Dies Jr. of Lufkin, Sen. Jack Strong of Longview, Rep. David Crews of Conroe and Rep. Charles Wilson of Lufkin.

Recommendations as to location of the boundary is the west bank of the Sabine. Texas maintains that the center line of the river is the correct line. Ownership of the area south of the Sabine also is in dispute.

Valuable oil and gas are at stake.

ATTRACTIONS PRAISED — University of Texas Bureau of Business Research credits tourist attractions with helping to keep the level of Texas' economy above last year's during the first five months of 1965.

However, business activity dipped 4.4 percent in May.

January - May average index for 1965 was nearly 20 percentage points above the average for the same months in 1964.

Bureau says there is "every indication" this will be a good year for the travel industry in Texas.

FUNDS SHORT — State Board of Health has 65 applications for federal Hill - Burton hospital aid funds totalling $38,000,000 but expects an allotment of only about $14 million.

Hill - Burton funds assist communities in building and equipping non-profit hospitals and related health facilities.

Allocations of the 1966 funds are expected in August.

Many applicants will not receive Hill - Burton money during the coming fiscal year, warns Dr. James E. Peavy, State Health Commissioner.

SCHOOL CHECKS — Texas Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar served notice on local school officials that the Texas Education Agency will check complaints resulting from the Civil Rights Act.

Periodic reviews also will be made by TEA to a certain whether or not districts receiving federal aid are abiding by non-discrimination rules.

Formal complaints will result in a hearing before Edgar, appealable to the State Board of Education and the courts.

SHORT SNORTS

State Banking Board denied applications of Denison Bank and Trust Company and American State Bank of Pasadena. An application by the Frontier State Bank of Eagle Pass has been filed.

Third Court of Civil Appeals has held an oil company may refill and straighten slanted wells in the East Texas field.

House speaker Ben Barnes named five Dallas representatives to survey cost of modernizing State Fair of Texas facilities in Dallas.

Parks and Wildlife Commission will meet on July 16 to review local hearings in 149 counties now under the game and fish regulatory responsibility program. Special meeting will be held later to set rules for 34 counties and areas added to the regulatory program by the 59th Legislature.

Governor Connally has announced approval of application of the Wintergreen Tr. - Comm. Committee, Inc. for a $9,445 community action program to combat poverty in Maverick, Dimmitt and Zavala counties.

Grain Sorghum Taxes In Italy Cut $8.50 Ton

Effective July 1, the tax placed on U. S. Grain Sorghum imported into Italy was dropped by $8.50 per ton establishing a threshold price for grain sorghum at $60.80 per ton as compared to $69.30 last year and to corn at $64.80 per ton.

The announcement was made official this past week by the Italian Minister of Agriculture during a visit to Italy by Bill Nelson, Executive Vice President of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association, in Europe under USDA auspices to work on duty and tax problems affecting grain sorghum markets.

U. S. producers of grain sorghum produce and sell grain sorghum at about 10 percent less than corn. The previous high duty in Italy had made the price of grain sorghum there $4.50 per ton higher than corn and the new price maintains only a 6.19 percent price spread between the two grains removing some of the price advantage for sorghum which still will not give it full access to the fast expanding Italian feed grain market.

Nelson pointed out that while this encouraging announcement was made during his visit to Italy, that it would not have been possible without continuing efforts over the past by G-SPA's representative through the U. S. Feed Grains Council in Rome, Dr. Romano Graziani and the office of the U. S. Agricultural Attache of the American Embassy.

The grain sorghum corn price differential applied in Italy is now the widest of any country in the Common Market and will be significant in favorably affecting the price relationship in other countries as permanent Common Market grain prices in 1967 replace those in effect now in the individual countries. It is not expected that grain sorghum will replace U. S. corn markets which have been growing but that sorghum will now have a better chance to share in this important feed grain market growth.

After the conferences in Italy, Nelson will then be in

Before Dust Settles, Infantry Attacks

An attack against an "enemy objective" is launched by tough Army National Guard infantry troops in a highly realistic weekend training exercise. Many Army Guard units will be ready to undergo more demanding Army activity during Annual Field Training, because this practical experience, in place of traditional drill nights, has materially stepped up unit readiness. Guard units get help from State and local communities in obtaining the use of land for training sites to provide troops the elbow room needed to practice platoon and company level tactics.

Weed Problems Mount; Control Program Urged

HALFWAY — Weeds are a problem to area farmers at all times, but due to the recent extensive rains that have fallen, many farmers are getting behind in their weed control program.

Jack Parks, Agricultural Engineer for the High Plains Research Foundation, states that now is a good time to start a weed control program by using flame cultivation. The weeds are still tender and succulent due to the wet weather and will be more susceptible to heat than at a later date when the hot, dry weather prevails.

Much of the land is still too wet for conventional (sweep type) cultivation, but will support a flaming rig. Parks says that now is the time to get the jump on this year's weed crop.

The Foundation has added a new step in the research program this year in flame weed control. Parks is working closely with Dr. Arthur F. Gohlke, Senior Soil Scientist of the Foundation, in combining weed control with flame.

"We know some crops that are grown out here cannot be flamed until they have some size to the plant. With cotton, the minimum flaming size is around six inches. This year at the Foundation, we are combining chemicals and flaming to see if we can get the crop by the danger stage for flaming," says Parks.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm apparently is buffaloed by some figures he has found on highway costs.

Dear editor:
I walked down to my mail box this morning and while I was pulling out my mail four cars and two pickups drove by and I got to thinking, this road is becoming a major thoroughfare.

Then I came on back and sat down in the shade and started reading a newspaper which was left in my box by mistake and which I will put in when I get around to it, never figured it hurt to read somebody else's newspaper, or for somebody else to read it a day late, news is something you haven't read before and I've rarely seen the day when I wasn't just as well off with day before yesterday's news as yesterday's.

At any rate, I hadn't gotten far when I read an item that said there is a highway in Los Angeles County in California where as many as 343,000 cars pass a given point in one day.

"The chemicals were applied at a low rate which will reduce the possibility of harmful residue for the crop grown on the land next year, yet will still control the weeds until the crop gets large enough to flame. By incorporating both of these methods, we can do a more effective and economical farming job."

I guess this is true, but personally I don't see how a mail carrier on a route like that ever gets a chance to stop to leave any mail. Every time he stops, traffic must back up as far out as Nevada. With 343,000 horns blasting. On the days when he has free samples of new soap for everybody, it must reach clear to Texas.

Furthermore, the article said such roads carrying so much traffic cost as much as $25,000,000 a mile to build.

I haven't figured this up, but it seems to me that the people paying for such a highway would be better off if they put the money out at interest and stayed at home.

Any time anybody wants to build such a highway by this Johnson grass farm carrying that many people, it would suit me better if they just gave me the cash for my part and I'll move somewhere else.

There must be places in this country where it's worth $25,000,000 a mile to get past, but this place out here sure doesn't qualify. For just a fraction of that you can avoid the place entirely, and probably be happier.

I'm sorry I read that newspaper and will get up out of my chair immediately and put it back where it belongs.
Yours faithfully,
J. A.

COMMUNICATIONS — Your Tool for Progress

In case of fire, this telephone rings the alarm

In many of our towns, fire protection comes from a volunteer fire department. An effective communications system summons these volunteers by ringing all members' telephones at the same time. What's more, it is a distinctive ring which means "FIRE!" and brings firemen on the run. Here is another example of how Communications becomes a Tool for Progress—a communications service of great value to every town with a volunteer fire department. For full information about our many communications services, please call our Business Office.

Speech delivered July 5, Mule Memorial Celebration, Muleshoe, Texas

By State Rep. Jesse T. George
My Fellow West Texans, and Friends of the Mule across this Great State of Texas and across the United States of America.

I know of no event which has given me more enjoyment than the rare and honored privilege of speaking to you here tonight during the close of this unique four-day festival period.

Bailey County and the Muleshoe Area has a story that needs to be told. The early history of Bailey County is as exciting as a western movie, with the quarrels between the cattlemen and the "nesters" over the organization of the county, the location of the county seat, and the development of the county government. Later developments in the county have given the Muleshoe Area an important place among the counties of Texas. The tradition of the Old West rides just over the horizon from the modern growing city of Muleshoe.

The cowboys of days not long since gone, riding herd on longhorn cattle grazing belly deep in miles of prairie hay would find today those rolling sections of prairie land producing millions of bales of top quality cotton and more millions of bushels of grain and feed, as well as fruit and vegetable crops not surpassed anywhere.

Bailey County, created in 1876, and organized in 1917 from Bexar Territory, had an economy dominated by ranching, including the famous XIT Ranch and the Muleshoe Operations, until irrigated farming began in the 1930's.

It is fitting and proper that on this great day proceeding the celebration of our own American heritage of July 4, 1776, when brave men dedicated their lives that our country might be free, that we give notice that Bailey County, too, gave rise to a great man of history, Peter James Bailey, who gave his life in the famous Battle of the Alamo, in order that Texas, too, might become a free nation.

The Muleshoe Area has produced an unparalleled heritage for those of us here today and is producing a proud and glorious future for those who will follow us tomorrow.

The shades of the pioneer days are at rest, and in their stead is Muleshoe, uniquely named and uniquely endowed with the abundance of nature, the capital city of the West Plains of Texas.

Muleshoe, called after a cattle brand of one of the great ranches that flourished here, is in the center of one of the state's most rapidly developing agricultural counties. The Muleshoe Area has taken truly Texas-size strides in growth in recent years; physically, financially, and in the great wealth of civic pride possessed by her citizens.

Operations of large tracts of land annually produce some 100,000 bales of cotton, and more than 200 million pounds of milo, corn, sudan, and related grain crops.

Yes, Bailey County, with its progressive county seat of Muleshoe, and the entire Muleshoe Area, with its numerous growing communities, has truly left us a proud heritage revealing its part in the development and history of our great country. Our best foot is forward, and as we close a chapter in our volumes of historical productivity, we began the writing of a new chapter, a chapter filled with co-operation, enthusiasm, hope, determination, and prospects for a brighter tomorrow.

The Great State of Texas is a land of challenges and opportunities. These are the challenges that are before us now. And as Ralph Waldo Emerson once said, "Nothing Great was ever achieved without ENTHUSIASM."

And so, my Fellow Texans, the problems we face and the solutions we seek, shall best be reached as we march forward together and as we work together hand-in-hand.

As each of us look from the known past to the unknown future, I, for one, am confident that the Muleshoe Area will meet the future as it has excelled in the past.

Again, I thank you for your kind attention and for the honor of being with you tonight to share in the colorful heritage of the Muleshoe Area. May God be with you, and may your journey home be both a pleasant and a safe one. Thank you.
