

Insulation Dangers Stressed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many of the 750 known manufacturers of cellulose insulation do not know if their product is either flammable or corrosive, the chairman of the Federal Trade Commission said today.

FTC Chairman Michael Pertschuk said that with the current insulation boom, consumers must be especially careful of the material they install in their houses.

He was among those scheduled to testify today before a House Commerce subcommittee investigating unsafe insulation and the problems associated with the proliferation of manufacturers.

Pertschuk said an FTC investigation already has found:

— In Birmingham, Ala., insulation that was sold door-to-door from the back of a trailer burst into flame in a customer's attic after being touched with a hot lamp cover.

— Insulation from a firm called ATI Manufacturing Inc. was found to be flammable after it was installed in a college dormitory. An FTC injunction now bars the firm from producing insulation that fails to meet federal flammability standards.

In another case, the subcommittee found two men in Denver, Colo., who sold their customers newspapers and chemicals, along with machines which supposedly combined the two into non-flammable cellulose insulation.

Not only was the material flammable, but the machines broke down after a short period of use.

And in Denver, the federal Community Services Administration helped finance re-insulation of 100 homes of low income persons. The insulation turned out to be flammable.

In addition to the attention given flammable cellulose insulation, "Corrosive material is like a time bomb waiting to explode," Pertschuk said.

Cellulose insulation, now produced in large amounts because of shortages of the more standard mineral wool variety, becomes corrosive after sustained exposure to moisture.

After contact with walls, flooring or beams, Pertschuk said, "it could result in serious structural damage over a time, thereby endangering the occupants of the homes."

He estimated that insulation of various types was installed in 6 million homes in 1977 compared with 2.6 million in 1976.

There were an estimated 140 manufacturers of cellulose insulation in August 1977.

Pertschuk and other specialists said the boom is partly due to a $400 tax credit included in President Carter's energy plan now pending before Congress. Many homeowners went ahead and installed the insulation with the belief that the tax credit would win congressional approval.

The FTC chairman said there is nothing inherently unsafe with cellulose insulation, as long as it is made under standards which insure nonflammability and protects the material from corrosion.

He said adequate federal standards are needed to guarantee uniform safety in the industry, along with adequate authority to enforce the standards.

Fatal Plane Crash Near City Probed

By JACK DOUGLAS
Avalanche-Journal Staff

A National Transportation Safety Board official arrived here this morning to begin investigating Monday night's plane crash south of the city which killed the four occupants of the craft.

The cause of the crash of a four-passenger Cessna on U.S. Highway 87 near "The Strip" remained a puzzle early today.

Killed were the craft's pilot, Stephen Frank Douglas, 22, of 2703 27th St. and formerly of Euless; William Peter Davis, 21, and Kevin Lee Gerald, 21, both of Andrews; and Raymond Wesley Needham, 21, of Dallas.

It took rescue workers more than an hour to free the victims after the 7:40 p.m. mishap. All four of the plane's occupants were pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace Wayne LeCroy.

NTSB investigator Frank Roth and Federal Aviation Administration flight inspector Bob Blain said today they will study the plane's remains, go to the site near the Town and County Airport where the craft plunged and attempt to locate pictures of the wreckage before it was disturbed by rescue workers.

Roth, who will be assisted by Blain and several Cessna representatives, said there were no clues yet on why the single-engine plane crashed. It struck the median between lanes of south U.S. 87 only 100 yards from the All-Star Liquor Store, after reportedly sliding off the nearby Town and County airport runway in an apparent futile effort to land.

After leaving the runway, the plane reportedly was making a turn and got tangled in some power lines before crashing into the median.

"He was so low, I thought it was a truck on the highway," said King Rhiley, vice president of Sky Breeze Aviation Inc.

Cypriot Chief Asks Parley With Sadat

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — President Spyros Kyprianou offered today to meet President Anwar Sadat to try to heal the rift caused by the shootout between Egyptian and Cypriot forces at Larnaca airport Sunday night.

The Egyptian government suspended diplomatic relations with Cyprus after Egypt's abortive commando raid to capture two Arab terrorists at the airport.

Egyptian Information Minister Abdel Moneim Sawy said in Cairo that Egypt was bringing home its entire diplomatic mission from Nicosia and had asked the Greek Cypriot government to take all its diplomats out of Egypt. But he said this was "neither a freeze nor a break in relations."

Sawy accused the Cyprus government of an "unfriendly stand" and said his government would review all aspects of Egyptian-Cypriot relations.

Kyprianou said Cyprus would try to restore friendly relations with Cairo, and he appealed to Arab leaders not to turn Cyprus into an arena for settling Mideast conflicts.

"I would like to appeal to President Sadat to do his best to calm down the atmosphere in his country ... and to try, both of us, to restore the old relations and the old friendship," Kyprianou told a news conference.

"I would be prepared to meet President Sadat if the latter would be prepared to respond," he said.

The Egyptian action followed a demand by the Cyprus government for the recall of the Egyptian military attaché in Nicosia and its refusal to hand over the two Palestinians involved in the murder of Cairo newspaper editor Youssef el-Sebaei in a Nicosia hotel on Saturday and then held 11 Arab officials hostage aboard a commandeered Cypriot airliner for 24 hours.

Kyprianou said he had not received official word from Egypt on its decision to have the envoys of both countries withdrawn. He said he had had no direct communication with Egypt since Sunday.

The Palestinians surrendered during the gun battle Sunday night in which Cypriot troops overcame a planeload of Egyptian commandos who were trying to capture the terrorists. The terrorists were charged with premeditated murder before a Nicosia magistrate Monday and could get the death penalty if convicted.

Fifteen of the commandos were killed in the airport battle, 16 were wounded along with six Cypriot soldiers and a West German TV cameraman, and the other 41 Egyptians were captured or surrendered.

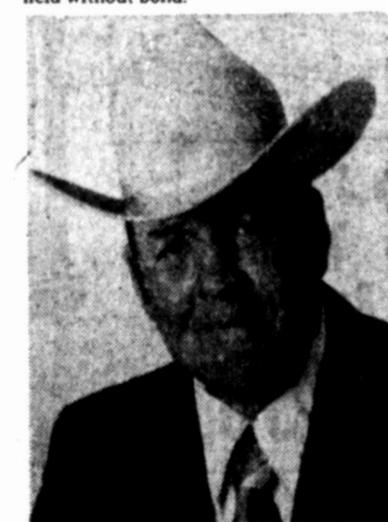

Ranger Killed In Drug Raid

DENTON (AP) — A Texas Ranger was shot to death and a Denton County man jailed without bond here today following a shootout during a drug raid at nearby Argyle.

Denton County Sheriff Kenneth George identified the Ranger as Bobby Paul Doherty, 41, of Fort Worth.

It was the first time a Texas Ranger has been shot to death in the line of duty since 1917, a Texas Department of Public Safety spokesman said.

Charged with capital murder of a police officer was Gregory Arthur Ott, 27, who was arraigned before Denton County Judge J. Ray Martin. He was ordered held without bond.

BOBBY PAUL DOHERTY
Ranger Killed During Raid

Records at North Texas State University in Denton show that Ott graduated magna cum laude in psychology, with a minor in philosophy, last December. This semester he was doing graduate work at NTSU toward a master's degree.

Ott is the son of Dr. Bruce F. Ott of Bell Mead, N.J.

Sheriff George said two persons had been arrested, but only Ott was charged immediately.

Officers said Doherty was first treated at Westgate Hospital in Denton and then taken to John Peter Smith Hospital at Fort Worth, where he died of a .38 caliber gunshot wound in the head.

Sheriff George said Doherty, two undercover DPS narcotics officers and Denton County Sheriff's Capt. Dwight Crawford and deputies Bailey Gilliland and Ron Douglas were attempting to purchase 50 pounds of marijuana from the residents of a home at nearby Argyle, where the shooting took place. He said Doherty had not entered the residence at the time of the shooting and was near the back door.

The second man in custody was the one the undercover officers were dealing with, George said, and he was under arrest when the shooting broke out.

Texas Ranger Capt. W.C. Burks said he has not been able to immediately determine what happened. He said officers exchanged gunfire with the man after Doherty was shot. The man was captured almost immediately, he said.

Doherty had been a Ranger since 1976 and had been employed by the DPS for about 20 years.

Solons Approve Bounty Bill

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) — A committee of the Minnesota House of Representatives has approved a bill to pay bounties on drunk drivers. Drinkers themselves would pay for the bounties through a nickel-a-drink tax on bar sales, under the bill approved on a voice vote by the 25-member committee Monday.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. John Arlandson of Golden Valley, would raise $27 million a year and be used to compensate communities — $150 for each drunk driving arrest, $100 for each case prosecuted, $100 for each case in which a public defender is used, $35 for pre-sentence investigations and fees for the costs of extra police patrols.

"This gets the drunk driver off the back of the taxpayer and on those who drink," Arlandson said, "and the more you drink, the more you pay." Forst Lowery, head of the Hennepin County Alcohol Safety Action program, said Monday arrests for drunk driving are the most costly, complicated and time-consuming type police officers are called upon to handle. "Some call this a bounty bill," he said. "Well, I can't think of a better species to put a bounty on than the drunk driver, or a better way to raise that bounty than with on-sale liquor."

He said studies show 80 percent of drunk drivers arrested had just left bars. Arlandson said the bill would spur 10,000 additional drunk driving arrests each year, bringing the total in the state to about 30,000.

No opposition testimony was allowed because of a shortage of time, but several committee members said outside the hearing room they were opposed to the bill.

"With this bounty hunters provision, local police departments that want an expensive piece of equipment and don't have funds in the budget can just go out and arrest more people," said Rep. Richard Cohen of St. Paul. The measure now goes to the tax committee.

Carter Gains Support For Coal Moves

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter won bipartisan support from congressional leaders today to do "whatever he needs to do" to end the marathon coal strike, according to the leaders who met with Carter.

Senate Republican Leader Howard Baker of Tennessee, after meeting with Carter, told reporters: "I think the president must do whatever he needs to do."

Carter is holding off on strong action to end the lengthy coal strike while administration officials assess mine owner response to a tentative contract agreement reached by the United Mine Workers and a major independent producer, the PM Coal Co.

Several of the lawmakers who met with Carter said the PM accord gave "reasonable hope" that an industry-wide accord still can be negotiated. They said a negotiated settlement is preferable to any other option, a view the Carter administration has often expressed.

Baker said failure to resolve the bargaining stalemate could result in "millions, possibly tens of millions out of work."

Baker and the other participants at the meeting did not give blanket advance approval for specific steps the president might take. But the congressional leaders indicated broad-based support for presidential leadership in what they said could become a national crisis by April. Senate Democratic Whip Alan Cranston of California spoke of "very strong bipartisan support" for presidential leadership in resolving the stalemate.

Rep. Thomas S. Foley, D-Wash., said the meeting produced a consensus that Carter be given "as much latitude as possible." Foley expressed the view that whatever steps the president might take would receive strong congressional support.

Energy Secretary James R. Schlesinger said after the meeting that the PM pact has encouraged the administration to "wait it out a bit longer" before turning to other options.

He said the administration was inclined to see whether the PM development leads to further progress in the stalemate between the UMW and the large coal companies.

Meanwhile, top-level coal company executives met to study the PM settlement.

The president met with the congressional leaders of both parties to brief them on the strike and the options he is considering to end the walkout if an industry-wide contract settlement isn't reached.

The UMW's bargaining council voted 23-16 Monday to accept a tentative PM contract.

There was no immediate response from the Bituminous Coal Operators Association. See CARTER WINS Page 12

Slow Thaw Continues On Plains

A-J News Services

A 13-degree overnight low in Lubbock may not be the best evidence of a warming trend in the area, but forecasters say the South Plains will get a few days of relief from the severe winter weather that chilled the area with record-breaking temperatures and left behind up to 9 inches of snow.

Monday's mercury climbed to 34 — two degrees above freezing and a notably rare occurrence in recent days. Sunday's two-degree low reading marked the third consecutive day of record cold for that time of year.

But temperatures may reach the lower 40s today with 10-15 mph northerly winds expected to become light and variable tonight.

The South Plains dry spell should continue through Wednesday, when temperatures will reach a high in the upper 40s, the National Weather Service reported today.

An extended outlook for Thursday through Saturday indicates top temperatures will reach the 30s and 40s on the South Plains, while minimum readings will fall in the 20-degree range.

This morning's clear skies and nippy temperatures followed a Canadian cold front that completed its quick trip across Texas before midnight Monday.

High Court Clears Way For Drilling In Atlantic

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court cleared the way today for extensive oil and natural gas drilling in the Atlantic Ocean off New York, New Jersey and Delaware.

The justices refused to hear an appeal by Suffolk County, N.Y., officials and a group called Concerned Citizens of Montauk to delay the offshore exploration and production by six firms.

The controversy involves a massive portion of the Outer Continental Shelf known as the Baltimore Canyon, for which the Interior Department sold oil and natural gas leases in 1976.

The government issued permits to six firms last November to drill exploratory wells within the 867,750-acre area. Some of the wells would be within 60 miles of New York City.

Suffolk County and the Montauk group, along with other local governments and environmental organizations, were in court as early as February 1975 opposing the proposed lease sales.

Before those sales, opponents won a short-lived victory when U.S. District Judge Jack Weinstein of New York ruled that a 2,000-page environmental impact statement prepared by the Interior Department was inadequate.

However, the 2nd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals reversed Weinstein's ruling, and the lease sales were held on August 17, 1976 after Supreme Court Justice Thurgood Marshall rejected a last-minute attempt to have them postponed.

The government awarded leases for 93 tracts to highest bidders, and was paid $1.1 billion. In addition, companies holding the leases must pay rentals until oil and gas is discovered and then must pay the government royalties of up to one-third the value of any oil or gas extracted.

After the sales, drilling opponents returned to Judge Weinstein with accusations that the government did not give adequate consideration to the environmental impact if offshore oil had to be transported by tanker rather than by pipelines.

Weinstein again ruled against the government, and was again reversed by the 2nd Circuit.

In their Supreme Court appeal, the drilling foes claimed that the appeals court's decision "clears the way for profound and irrevocable alteration of the Mid-Atlantic seacoast and landscape despite the admittedly major risk of oil pollution to the Atlantic fishing grounds and

Lance's Market Widens

ATLANTA (AP) — Former Budget Director Bert Lance says his news commentaries are so popular, he's decided not to limit them to Atlanta.

"The response to my series on Channel 11 in Atlanta has been so favorable and there has been so much interest in other parts of the country, that a wider distribution of the commentaries is indicated," Lance said Monday.

So the commentaries, which began two weeks ago on WXIA-TV, will be nationally syndicated by Colbert TV Sales of Los Angeles.

Lance resigned as budget director under criticism for his past banking practices. When he first announced his plunge into news, he said his commentaries would focus on economic issues.

His lectures, he said, will concern international and national terrorism and hostage incidents.

Authors Critical Of Books

NEW YORK (AP) — The authors of two Watergate books have accused each other of leaving out the good stuff.

Former White House counsel John Dean, whose testimony helped uncover the Watergate scandal, says H.R. Haldeman's new book suffers from "conspicuous" omissions.

Dean, who wrote "Blind Ambition," made his comments in a two-part Dick Cavett Show on the Public Broadcast System. The first part was aired Monday night; part two will be shown tonight.

Dean asked Joseph DiMona, who helped Haldeman write "The Ends of Power," whether he could bring up some things he felt Haldeman left out — the White House enemies list, for example. DiMona said, "Only if I can raise the omissions in your book, John."

DiMona described Haldeman as truthful by nature and "deep down a warm fellow" with a good sense of humor.

Bats In The Bleachers

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — The body count now stands at about 700 dead bats after a three-week battle that pitted staff members and students at Beach High School against the furry flying mammals.

The school's principal, Richard Mole, said only four bats were killed Monday, and only about 100 bats have survived the preceding melees.

The bats, which probably had been living in the school's attic since it was built almost 20 years ago, infiltrated through ceiling crevices and forced the delay of two recent basketball games, Mole said.

The biggest battle occurred Feb. 13 when students, administrators and custodians, armed with brooms, tennis rackets, shoes, books and other weapons, embarked on a search-and-destroy mission which climaxed with the massacre of 150 bats in the gymnasium.

Goering's Suicide Note Made Public

BONN, West Germany (AP) — In a letter to his wife — "my heart's only love" — Hermann Goering said he was committing suicide because hanging would not be dignified enough, a German newspaper reports.

"Death by shooting I would have accepted at any time. But the Reichsmarschal of Germany cannot allow himself to be hanged," said the letter published in Welt am Sonntag.

The paper said the No. 2 man in the Nazi hierarchy wrote the letter in his prison cell shortly before poisoning himself on Oct. 15, 1946, two hours before his scheduled hanging for war crimes.

The letter was said to have been confiscated by Allied authorities who found it in Goering's death row cell at Nuernberg prison.

The note indicated that Goering possessed a fatal cyanide capsule from the start of his captivity.

Chaplin Burned Early Film

NEW YORK (AP) — Charlie Chaplin burned the negative of the first film he produced because he had not acted or directed in it and was envious of its high quality, his daughter says.

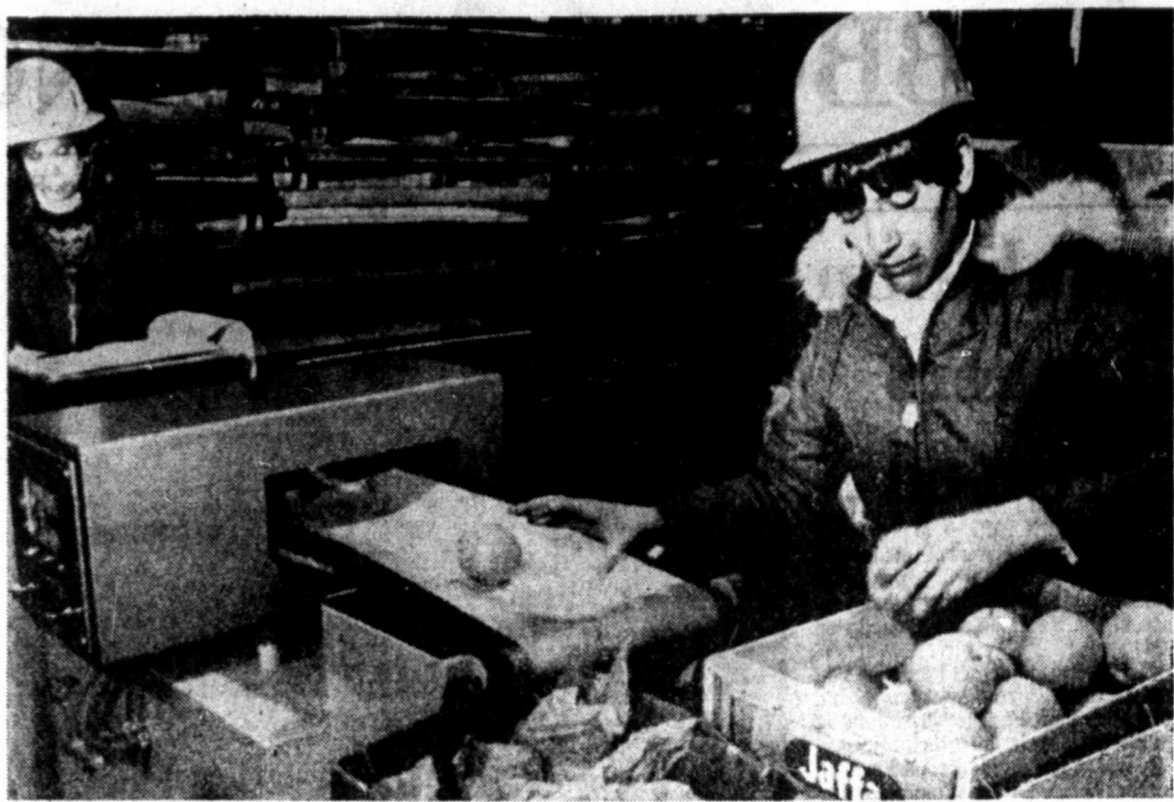

Actress Geraldine Chaplin, in an interview in the March issue of McCall's magazine, said she learned from her mother, Oona, that Chaplin, who died last Christmas, had burned his first producing effort, a film "about a sea gull or something like that."

Edna Purviance starred in the movie, Miss Chaplin said, but she did not give any other details about the film.

Miss Chaplin said her father would not have cared so much about a merely adequate film. "I'm sure that the Purviance film must have been wonderful, or Daddy would not have burned it," she said.

CHECK ISRAELI ORANGES — U.S. Food and Drug inspectors and chemists placed oranges from Israel onto the conveyor belt on a metal detector machine Monday in a warehouse on a dock at Gloucester, N.J., on the Delaware River across from Philadelphia. Israeli Fruit Passes Inspection

GLOUCESTER CITY, N.J. (AP) — Inspectors found no mercury contamination during the first day of tests on Israeli oranges that arrived here for sale in the United States, federal officials said.

A team of ten U.S. Food and Drug Administration inspectors began sampling 1 percent of approximately seven million oranges Monday to see if any showed traces of the metallic substance. The operation is expected to take four days.

FDA officials said they don't expect to find contaminated fruit, but the examination by a metal detector is being done as a precautionary measure after several persons were sickened by mercury-contaminated Israeli oranges in Western Europe.

The German freighter "Nordland" docked here Monday loaded with the fruit, the first shipment to reach a U.S. port since a group claiming to be Palestinian guerrillas said it sabotaged Israeli fruit in an attempt to disrupt Israel's economy.

Contaminated fruit was found during the past few weeks in shipments to England, Holland, West Germany, France, Belgium and Sweden.

The oranges that arrived here are intended for distribution to wholesalers and supermarkets in the east by Fisher Bros. of Montreal, said Roger Lavoie, the firm's operation's manager.

Loren Johnson, the FDA's district director, said some 62,000 crates from the same shipment were unloaded last week in Halifax, Nova Scotia, and found to be free of contamination.

The Nordland's holds contained 101,000 crates of oranges, but only about 75,000 crates, each containing between 80 and 100 oranges, were to be unloaded here.

Some 25,000 crates will be returned to Canada because federal inspectors declared them unfit for human consumption after one compartment was found to be improperly refrigerated.

The FDA inspectors emptied crates of oranges onto a conveyor belt, which passed through the metal detector. The detector sets up a magnetic field and when a metallic substance passes through the field a signal flashes, Johnson said.

The fruit was repackaged for distribution after examination. Unloading of the cargo was expected to last until Friday.

Police Want To Question Bundy About Schoolgirl

By THOMAS E. SLAUGHTER

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Theodore Bundy — suspected in the beating deaths of two college sorority sisters and sought for questioning in dozens of other killings — now is wanted for questioning about the disappearance of a 12-year-old schoolgirl.

Lake City Police Chief Paul Philpot said Monday that a man using a stolen credit card later found in Bundy's possession was in Lake City, about 100 miles east of Tallahassee, the day Kimberly Leach vanished from her school.

Philpot said he would ask Tallahassee authorities to allow his investigators to question Bundy, 31. "We feel we have sufficient evidence to talk to him about it," he said.

The girl disappeared about 9 a.m. on Feb. 9. She had been seen at her first class, and returned after class to retrieve a handbag. She did not show up at her second class.

Philpot said a man checked into a Lake City motel on Feb. 8 and paid for his room and a meal with a credit card, later found to be stolen.

The card was among those recovered from Bundy when he was arrested last Wednesday in Pensacola. Bundy, who had escaped from a Glenwood Spings, Colo., jail on New Year's Eve, was apprehended driving a car stolen in Tallahassee. He was returned to Tallahassee for questioning about the car and credit cards.

Bundy had been awaiting trial in Colorado on a first-degree murder charge in the 1975 death of a Michigan nurse, Carolyn Campbell, who was raped and killed while on a skiing vacation.

He was previously convicted of the abduction of a Salt Lake City, Utah, woman and sentenced to 15 years.

Authorities around the country want to question Bundy, recently placed on the FBI's most-wanted list, about more than 30 slayings and kidnappings, all involving young women, that started in California in 1969.

In Tallahassee, Leon County Sheriff Ken Katsaris said Bundy was a suspect in the Jan. 15 bludgeoning deaths of two women at Florida State University's Chi Omega sorority. He says Bundy lived in Tallahassee from early January until Feb. 12 in an apartment about one mile from the Chi Omega house.

SST 'Flunks' First Report

NEW YORK (UPI) — Kennedy Airport's neighbors gave the Concorde SST its first report card after three months of daily operations. Not surprisingly, the plane flunked.

"It flunked both its noise and operational tests here," said Carol Berman, co-chairman of the Citizens Committee to Stop the SST. "... The Concorde is by far the noisiest plane on both landing and takeoff every day at Kennedy."

At a meeting with Concorde opponents Monday, Mrs. Berman said the Federal Aviation Administration has received 700 noise complaints about the jet since Air France and British Airways began regular Concorde service to and from Kennedy Airport Nov. 22.

"When I called the FAA they told me the Concorde is the only plane that trips its noise-monitoring devices," Mrs. Berman said.

Besides, she said, the Concorde has a bad service record: It failed 14 times in December to meet its scheduled takeoff or departure time by a half hour. And on three occasions, either British Airways, Air France or both Concordes failed to take off at all, she said.

Mrs. Berman, who headed an unsuccessful year-long fight to keep the Concorde out of New York, said the committee wants the House subcommittee on Environment and Energy to investigate the jet.

FDA Warnings Appear On Saccharin

WASHINGTON (AP) — Food and drugs containing saccharin now must warn consumers that the artificial sweetener could cause cancer.

While the labels must be in place today on all products shipped across state lines, the warning may not appear on products previously on store shelves.

The statement reads, "Use of this product may be hazardous to your health. This product contains saccharin which has been determined to cause cancer in laboratory animals."

The Food and Drug Administration last April proposed banning use of saccharin because of tests showing it caused bladder cancer in male rats and because limited human case studies indicated the sweetener had a role in human cancer.

Congress passed a law last November that delayed the ban for 18 months, required warning labels on saccharin products and authorized further tests.

The federal government is scheduled to begin next month an 18-month, $1.4 million study to get better information. Previous studies are inadequate, several government agencies said last January.

The study will look at cases of 3,000 bladder cancer patients to try to determine which factors contributed to the disease.

John Wayne, Bob Hope Win Awards

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Perennials Bob Hope and John Wayne won "People's Choice" awards for the fourth straight year while actresses Carol Burnett, Mary Tyler Moore and Barbra Streisand shared the spotlight in the women's categories.

Results of the nationwide survey of viewers over 12 years old, conducted by the Toledo, Ohio-based National Family Opinion, Inc., were announced during the nationally televised 1977 "People's Choice" awards show Monday night.

Hope won the all-around male entertainer award and Wayne outpolled Robert Redford and Burt Reynolds for the favorite movie actor prize.

James Garner of the television series, "The Rockford Files," was named favorite male TV performer, with Alan Alda of "M-A-S-H" and Robert Blake of "Baretta" runners-up.

Miss Burnett coupled her favorite all-around female entertainer award with the favorite TV variety program award given to her long-time series, "The Carol Burnett Show." Miss Moore and Miss Streisand were runners-up to Miss Burnett for the all-around award.

The favorite female TV performer award went to Miss Moore, who outpolled Miss Burnett and Angie Dickinson of "Police Woman," while Miss Streisand picked up favorite movie actress honors, trailed by Sally Field and Diane Keaton.

Other leading award winners were — Linda Ronstadt, favorite female musical performer, Debby Boone and Olivia Newton-John were runners-up.

— Peter Frampton, favorite male musical performer, trailed by Shaun Cassidy and Barry Manilow.

— "Star Wars," favorite motion picture, beating out "Rocky" and "Smoky and the Bandit."

— "M-A-S-H," favorite TV comedy, followed by "All in the Family" and "Three's Company."

— "Little House on the Prairie," favorite dramatic TV program. Voted runners-up were "The Waltons" and "Family."

Winning the awards for favorite new TV actor and actress were Dan Haggerty of "Grizzly Adams" and Suzanne Somers of "Three's Company."

"Eight is Enough" pulled in the most votes for favorite new TV program, and favorite new TV dramatic program "Love Boat" and "Three's Company" tied for new TV comedy honors.

Another tie in the voting resulted in "Boogie Nights" and "You Light Up My Life" sharing the favorite new song award.

Fugitive Of Chain Gang Arrested In Michigan

BEULAH, Mich. (UPI) — Every day for 11 years, Edward Davies lived with the fear that someone would discover he was a fugitive from a North Carolina chain gang.

Now that it's over, Davies says he's relieved police finally arrested him. But now, Davies fears the future — what may happen to him and what may become of his family.

Davies, 40, a family man described by friends and coworkers as a "model citizen," faces extradition back to North Carolina, where he had been in trouble for passing bad checks.

An illegal U-turn in the northern Michigan resort town of Honor during a fishing trip last October gave Davies away. Police ran a computer check and found the long-outstanding fugitive warrant.

North Carolina authorities were told of the arrest and Gov. James B. Hunt Jr. sent a formal extradition request to Michigan, where Gov. William G. Milliken routinely signed it last week.

Davies, a machine repairman at a Chrysler Corp. assembly plant in Detroit, had managed to stay out of trouble since his prison camp escape. Only recently, he purchased a new home for his wife and three children in suburban Madison Heights.

But he never stopped worrying about getting caught.

"I worried about it every day for 11 years," he told reporters after his weekend arraignment in district court. "Every time I got stopped for a traffic ticket, every time I saw an officer drive by the house, I figured this is it."

"Sometimes, it was so bad I'd almost pass out."

"In a way, I'm relieved that this finally has come to a head," Davies said. "But, at the same time, I'm really scared. I'm worried that my family is going to lose all the things we've worked so hard to get."

Davies was sentenced to a multi-year term on a prison farm near Charlotte, N.C. in 1967, but escaped during his first week.

"The guys on that chain gang made it real clear to me that because I was a Yankee, doing my time was going to be pretty rough. They were going to see to that," he said.

Though free on $1,000 bond pending another court appearance March 20, attorneys familiar with his case give Davies little hope of winning a reprieve.

"There's almost no way to stop it at this point," one lawyer said. "It's like a giant machine has been set in motion. He will be extradited to North Carolina unless Milliken can be persuaded to rescind the warrant or Governor Hunt can be persuaded to rescind the extradition request."

FDA's Drug Policy Draws Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doctors, parents and epilepsy study groups say the Food and Drug Administration is moving too slow in approving a drug they say helps epilepsy victims.

So far, the FDA has approved the use of sodium valproate only for experimental situations. The agency has demanded more tests before allowing wider usage. Those protesting the delay say the drug has been successfully used in Europe for 10 years on some 200,000 patients.

Three Armed Men Rob Elderly Lubbockites

Two elderly Lubbock men fell victim to armed robbers in separate Monday incidents at their homes.

Salvatore Valdez said that just as he was responding to frantic knocking at his 507 Ave. D front door about 8:45 p.m., three men kicked their way in. After one of the intruders pushed the 62-year-old retiree next to a bed, the spunky resident managed to hit his attacker with a cane. However, all three bandits brandished long-bladed knives and demanded money.

Reports indicated the robbers took $20 from Valdez' wallet and $5 from the purse belonging to a 65-year-old woman also at the house. They also departed with a $40 necklace and a radio after searching the residence.

The three Mexican-American suspects, all of whom spoke only Spanish during the holdup, reportedly were in their early 20s.

And it was three men fitting the same general description who robbed 76-year-old Harry Arnold of $26 less than an hour later.

The victim told police that when he answered his 2804 1st St. doorbell about 9:30 p.m. the three strangers asked to buy some worms. After Arnold directed the trio to the garage area, he reportedly got the worms and was asked to change a $20 bill.

When the resident said he could not, one of the young men reportedly asked about a $5 bill and Arnold responded by going to the porch and producing three $1 bills in change.

At that point, reports indicated, one of the men grabbed the money and another produced a knife. Arnold reportedly hit one of the bandits, but the third one picked up a mop and struck the elderly victim on the head.

The robbers — in possession of Arnold's wallet and cash — were last seen running west from the front yard.

In the city's latest reported rape, a 22-year-old woman told officers she was pushed into her 5th Street apartment about 10:45 a.m. Monday by a man who first asked her for a match.

According to reports, the attacker threw her onto the floor, removed her clothes and kept telling her not to scream as he raped her.

The suspect was described as a Mexican-American in his late 20s, about 5-foot-8 with a heavy build.

In a recently reported house burglary, Lon Miller said someone got through a door at his 5023 27th St. home Monday and made off with $4,630 worth of property.

In addition to a television set, stereo equipment, silverware and microwave oven, the take reportedly included $2,500 worth of jewelry.

Oleta Hunter of Route 1, Box 286, Lubbock, told officers a front door at a vacant house she owns at 401 N. Boston Ave. was pried two weeks ago and about 300 yards of carpet was stolen. The complainant set the loss at $2,385 and named a suspect.

According to Carroll Meeker of 7004-B Utica Ave., lumber and a door, valued at $750, were stolen from a garage at 8005 Richmond Ave. sometime during the past few days.

A 19-year-old Lubbockite seen running from a local pawn shop early Monday wound up behind Lubbock County Jail bars after officers found more than $10,000 worth of merchandise scattered about a hole in the building's roof and on the floor inside.

Officers responding to an alarm at the Empire Pawn Shop at 1120 19th St. about 3:40 a.m. Monday said they discovered more than $10,000 in guns and jewelry strewn about the hole in the roof, around a ladder leaning against one wall and on the floor inside.

Other policemen assisting with the call pulled up outside they said, just in time to see the suspect running from the area.

While owner Charles W. Craig estimated the loss, officers detained the man for questioning. Another suspect believed to have been involved in the burglary attempt was still at large today.

Also Monday, patrolmen were told of about $125 in clothing that reportedly disappeared from a car owned by Darla Ruth McKnight of 2002 45th St. between 12:30 a.m. and 7:45 a.m. Monday while the vehicle was parked outside a residence in the 4400-block of Avenue T.

Dewey Sanford Whitfield of 5512 9th St. told officers someone took a 30.06 rifle, a .22-caliber rifle and a shotgun all valued at about $450 from his home about 7 p.m. Friday.

Firms Campaigning Against Discounts

By EDWARD K. DeLONG
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Thirteen big industrial firms are campaigning at the state and local levels against discount electric rates for the poor and for volume discount rates for companies using a lot of power.

Banded together in an organization called the Electricity Consumers Resource Council, the firms argue that while industry will suffer first if the so-called "lifeline" rates are adopted and volume discounts eliminated, prices ultimately will rise for everyone.

Gary Wilson of PPG Industries in Pittsburgh, who heads the council's state relations committee, says industry must start presenting its views to the public immediately.

"We need to work with state and local trade associations, chambers of commerce, utility groups, energy users groups, other organizations, the media — with anybody we can — to make sure that unnecessary and unwarranted decisions are not made," Wilson said in the latest ELCON bulletin.

The 13 members of ELCON include Anheuser-Busch, Armco Steel, Diamond Shamrock Corp., FMC Corp., General Motors, Nabisco, and Union Carbide.

It opposes two major rate reform movements:

— Lifeline rate proposals, designed to provide subsistence amounts of electricity to low-income families at a reduced price to try and assure that no one goes cold or without lights because of rising utility bills.

— Efforts to replace traditional volume discounts with systems designed to more realistically reflect power generation costs through such measures as making users pay the replacement price of power they consume.

Lifeline plans have been approved in California, New Jersey, Ohio and Oregon, and rejected in Alabama, Illinois, Indiana, Florida, Idaho, Louisiana, Maine, Mississippi, New Hampshire, New Mexico, South Dakota, Texas and West Virginia.

ELCON justifies volume discounts on grounds it is cheaper to produce the large, steady flow of power industry requires than the up-and-down flow for home consumption.

The council has prepared a "slide-and-sound show" for its members describing the adverse impact of lifeline rates.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL:

It's Not All Fit To Print

IMPERIALISM has long come in several standard flavors, ranging from political and military to economic. But "information imperialism"?

the manipulation of super-organizations which—in the name of a doubtful representivity of the printed media south of the Rio Grande—try to divide local journalism, undermine our sovereign interests and prevent our countries from generating their own news stories.

THE PURPOSE, they said, would be to end "the information imperialism practiced by the major American and European news agencies."

Groscoars also said in the meeting, conducted under the auspices of UNESCO (United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization), that such an agency would stimulate what he called a fairer and more balanced international news flow.

It's not the prospect of competition that concerns us so much as the possibility that the proposed official agencies might be used as tools to curtail coverage by outside correspondents, thereby bringing the local press under government control.

IT MAY WELL be that the U.S. and West European-dominated international press is doing less than its best by the Latin countries.

The Bogota resolution specifically disavows any such intent but apprehension persists. In the words of the sponsor, former Venezuelan Information Minister Guido Groscoars:

However, it is at least observing developments there from a number of viewpoints, and reporting to the world with a number of voices, a plurality of effort which in the long run usually is more conducive to getting at least some of the truth across than is a single supposedly authoritative voice.

"There is a need in our area to oppose

A government-financed service essentially is a government-controlled service. And controlled information usually is just another way of saying propaganda.

'Bigfoot Is Alive And Well In Washington'

John D. Lofton:

SALT II: Why Not The Best?

WASHINGTON—In April of last year, after his original Strategic Arms Limitation (SALT) proposal had been abruptly turned down by the Soviets, President Carter reassured a group of congressional leaders: "Don't worry, I intend to hang tough."

in favor of the Soviet Union? Everything I've learned about SALT II indicates that the answer to that question is yes.

The evidence that this is a very likely prospect are remarks by liberal Democrat Rep. Charles Wilson of California and conservative Republican Sen. John Tower of Texas.

"The SALT II treaty in its present form is not in the best interest of the United States during the period 1978-1985.

Both men traveled recently to Geneva, where they observed the SALT II talks, and both men are greatly concerned about the drift of these negotiations.

"In view of our withering bomber force which will decline in capability during the period, our highly vulnerable ICBM force, and with the Trident (a nuclear-powered submarine) and Cruise missile programs in doubt within our government, no treaty would be preferable to an instrument which could guarantee Soviet strategic superiority for the remainder of the century." Says Wilson.

DESPITE WHAT HE calls the "orchestrated publicity of the Carter administration," Wilson, a senior member who has served for 15 years on the House Armed Services Committee, says that SALT II "constrains the United States very much and the Soviet Union very little." He asks and answers:

"THOSE WHO MAY wish to view the current state of the SALT treaty as an enhancement of U.S. security through a more credible deterrent force should be disappointed.

"The question is, will SALT II legalize and perpetuate an imbalance of strategic nuclear power

"Those who may wish to view it as stabilizing the arms race or as any real constraint upon the raw strategic power of the Soviets should also be disappointed.

"The treaty merely deals with gross numbers of weapons and, as it now stands, the Soviets are assured of a degree of nuclear superiority."

Wilson says that, as the SALT II treaty is now shaped, it is greatly advantageous to the Soviets in the following ways:

—IT WOULD FREEZE U.S. technology while permitting the Soviets to go ahead.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

Under In The Over

MONDAY WAS another holiday for a lot of government workers. It reminded Art Gamble that about the only offices and institutions that closed down because of the snowstorm Friday were tax-supported ones.

Lubbock's South Overton addition, between Broadway and 19th Street from Avenue Q to University Avenue, is a neighborhood where concerned homeowners already have taken steps toward preserving the single-family residential character of their environment.

To be sure, the Citibus system still ran up a deficit of $112,708 for the three months. It had budgeted, though, for a $120,000 deficit.

That means we have a $9,642 surplus in the deficit or, put another way, a $9,642 deficit in the anticipated outgo above the under-budgeted revenue.

WHEN SHE AND a few other neighborhood women first started pushing for preservation of the historic Swiss Avenue area of East Dallas, says Mrs. Lee McAlester, they were especially sensitive to the image they might project.

After a tour of the neighborhood, Mrs. McAlester pronounced it an ideal candidate based on the experience of the Dallas Historic Preservation League.

WERE SUCH A trend to continue, the local transit system would end the year with a shortfall in the long haul, which would be tantamount to an overage in the under-age, or worse still, an imbalance in the unbalanced budget.

"We didn't want to come across as little old ladies in tennis shoes," she recalls.

SHE SAID HER group has leveraged an original $4,000 into a half-million dollars worth of home purchases in the last 18 months.

This could lead to a shortsighted over-optimistic projection of the magnitude of next year's red ink requirements, leading to an understatement of subsidy requirements and a consequential bulge in the budgeted deficit at the end of 1979.

So, when the group got its first big publicity break—an appearance on a TV public service program—they sent an articulate businessman to do the talking for them.

Neighborhood support, an enabling city ordinance and, ultimately, the availability of home improvement loans are keys to the success of such a project, Mrs. McAlester said.

Granted, the Advisory Board passed the borrowed buck to the bus company itself, accusing the management of spending $6,515 less for salaries in the first quarter than it had promised to spend.

"He did great," Mrs. McAlester says, "until they came to the last question. He was asked who were the people who really started this neighborhood project."

Lubbock has several older neighborhoods teetering on the edge between remaining or bouncing back as stable, desirable places to live or becoming semi-slums within a very few years.

THAT IS A circumstance which no Big City mayor, Big Labor boss nor Big Government bureaucrat would tolerate—and yet the Advisory Board talked as though it were a good thing!

"Oh, the ladies of the street," he replied. "They're probably out there walking the street right now..."

Every encouragement is needed for people who would like to preserve and restore their neighborhoods themselves.

Next thing you know, somebody'll even be talking about balancing the transit budget by the end of President Carter's first term, which would be as impossible for them as it is for him, and we'll have the Keynesian economists on our backs.

MRS. MCALESTER was here the other day as the guest of Mrs. Ben Stribling et al of the Junior League, the local historical society and others interested in creating historic preservation districts in Lubbock.

GREAT SNOWFLAKES in the sky! What is the Lubbock Transit Advisory Board trying to pull? Its first quarterly report for the 1978 fiscal year shows less of a deficit than it had predicted.

So, c'mon now, fellows, be good sports and try to overspend your deficit. After all, that's become the American Way.

She told them the Dallas experience has been that such projects ultimately sell themselves on an economic basis.

For shame! What will the folks in the Big Apple think of us? How can we ever again show our faces in Washington?

Property values, and thus the inner city tax base, go up as soon as the first effects of home restoration become visible, she explained.

If we can't manage our affairs, like they do, so that the deficit is always bigger than expected, we will be out of step with the whole country.

Paul Scott:

Truong: Red Man On The Hill

WASHINGTON—The intriguing case of David Truong, the smooth acting, English-speaking Vietnamese national accused of espionage in behalf of Hanoi, raises a number of urgent questions for Congressional leaders.

able to meet with former CIA Director Colby, who knew his parents in Saigon.

gress to examine reports from pro-U.S. Vietnamese that Hanoi has infiltrated a number of agents among the 150,000 Vietnamese refugees in the country and are now trying to organize them for espionage operations in the U.S.

Most important of these is whether to conduct a Korean-type inquiry to determine the scope of the Communist Vietnamese intelligence operations among members of Congress, their staff, and officials in the executive branch of government.

The FBI also gathered evidence that Truong met with top State Department officials involved with Vietnam peace and diplomatic normalization negotiations and then sent reports of these discussions covertly to the Vietnamese negotiators in Paris.

If there is to be no double-standard, Congress must give the Truong case as thorough an investigation as it is now giving that of Tongsun Park. The national security stakes are much higher.

As in the case of Tongsun Park, the Korean influence peddler with links to that country's intelligence service, Truong was an intelligence agent active in Congressional circles seeking to influence lawmakers for his bosses in Hanoi.

The Truong case also raises the need for Con-

THE BIG DIFFERENCE in the two cases is that Truong was working for the Communist government of Vietnam, whose troops were involved in killing Americans, while Park was fronting for a U.S. ally, whose officials were scared that their country would be abandoned to the Communists as was South Vietnam.

the small society

by Brickman

A full-scale investigation of Truong's close and unusual relationships with members of Congress (similar to the congressional probe of Tongsun Park) is urgently needed so the American people can have a full picture of how Hanoi infiltrated and influenced the anti-war movement both in and out of Congress and the impact that this had on U.S. foreign policy.

Sylvia Porter:

Home Health Care Oldest, Maybe Best

ALTHOUGH THE FBI was prohibited from monitoring Truong's wide-ranging activities on Capitol Hill, the agency was able from other sources to gather information showing that he had access to dozens of Congressional offices and was an integral part of a Communist Vietnamese intelligence network in the U.S.

HOME HEALTH CARE programs are taking hold from coast to coast as one of the "newest" solutions to runaway hospital costs (although, in actuality, home care is the oldest form of care there is).

The far-reaching significance of the Truong case is indicated by the involvement of Dinh Ba Thi, Vietnam's Ambassador to the United Nations, who was requested to leave the country because of his role in the espionage operation.

Today, 55 of the nation's 70 Blue Cross plans offer home care benefits to more than 38 million of their subscribers, against only 25 million subscribers at 32 plans six years ago.

Ambassador Thi was recalled by his government after the FBI filed papers in federal court naming him a part of the espionage conspiracy with Truong and Ronald Humphrey, the United States Information Agency employee, charged with spying on behalf of Hanoi.

With home care, you, the patient, may receive any early discharge from the hospital to continue your treatment or convalescence at home.

In many ways, U.S. security officials stress, Truong was a much more effective operator than Tongsun Park. His contacts reached all the way to the top of the State Department and Central Intelligence Agency in addition to his influence on members of Congress.

You may be provided with a hi-lo hospital bed, an overbed table and any other needed medical equipment and supplies. Many of the same services you would get in the hospital are available at home.

On several occasions, for example, Truong was

FOR INSTANCE, under a physician's supervision, a nurse and physiotherapist may visit you, if you are a patient, twice a week to administer drugs, check blood pressure and give therapy.

—It would undercut congressional support for defense programs, including research and development.

And not only does home care get hospital patients home sooner. It's far less costly than hospital care and, in many areas, it frees hospital beds for other patients who need them.

(Systems delayed by the treaty or protocol will probably be delayed in the appropriations process.)

So convinced is the Blue Cross Assn. of the potential in home care, that it has just created a model home health care benefits package that it will urge all of its member plans to adopt.

—It would result in favorable world propaganda for the Soviets, and

IN THE PACKAGE in addition to the above benefits will be: occupational therapy, speech therapy, medical social service, electro-cardiography, oxygen treatment, nutritional guidance, lab tests and X-ray services, health aide, homemaker services and such equipment as wheelchairs and walkerettes.

—The treatment of Cruise missile technology transfer could possibly drive a wedge between the United States and its NATO allies.

Home care must be preceded by hospitalization in many plans providing home care benefits; in others, it may be in place of a hospital stay if the care is a recognized alternative to inpatient.

Commenting on his trip to Geneva to observe SALT II talks, Sen. Tower says:

Some Blue Cross plans provide the care at no extra charge. And the days spent on home care do not reduce the number of inpatient benefit days to which you are entitled.

"I WAS UNABLE to observe any discussions concerning the Soviet Backfire bomber (a plane that can strike the continental United States and our NATO allies).

You may feel more comfortable at home if you're convalescing or chronically ill. You may find the quality of care at least as high as that at a hospital.

"That is because Backfire is not being discussed at SALT in deference to the Soviets' refusal to do so. This omission is a serious mistake. It will be very difficult for the proponents to claim that the SALT II agreement is worthwhile if it omits this important Soviet system."

The care at home may be much more preferable for psychological reasons alone.

If a patient and measured approach is not followed in the SALT talks, says Tower, "I fear the result may be a treaty that the Senate will consider to be fraught with peril for the Free World."

IN ANY CASE, your use of home care is optional—and not every patient is accepted for home care. Screening and evaluation determine the suitability of the home and consider the nature of the illness.

President Carter has said that he would never ask the Senate to approve a SALT treaty which was not good for our nation. If he really means this, and I'm sure he does, then there's no way he could send the present document to Capitol Hill. To coin a phrase: Why not the best, Mr. President?

Most cases are orthopedic (fractures), cardiovascular and cancer, but also included have been emphysema, arthritis, the like.

Prison Inmates Burn Infirmary

CASTAIC, Calif. (AP) — A jail infirmary was burned to the ground and at least six barracks were ransacked by up to 300 prison farm inmates when a fistfight mushroomed into a full-scale riot.

"We have the troublemakers isolated, and they will be reassigned to maximum security around the county," sheriff's spokesman Chet Ballew said after the 1½-hour melee Monday night at the Wayside Honor Rancho, about 40 miles north of downtown Los Angeles.

"You cannot forget about this tomorrow," he said. "There will be a few days of extra precautions. We'll have an increased number of men on duty."

Deputy Carl Riegert said many inmates would have to be transferred to the county's central jail in Los Angeles because of damage to their barracks.

More than 85 deputies from throughout the county joined the six guards at the minimum-security, county-run facility, which is surrounded by a low chain-link fence and has no guard towers. Most of its 700 prisoners are serving terms of less than one year on minor offenses.

"It's a real mess," said a reporter leaving the compound Monday night.

Six of the 25 barracks-style buildings were ravaged by rioters, who smashed windows, overturned beds and stopped up toilets, deputies said.

County firefighters entered the besieged jail compound under a sheriff's escort to battle the fire at the infirmary, but the building was a total loss, a sheriff's deputy said.

Riegert said the trouble began earlier in the day when about 50 inmates brawled on the facility's baseball field. That melee was broken up by guards, and prisoners were confined to their barracks, Riegert said.

"But about 7 p.m., 50 men again gathered on the baseball field and began fighting with rocks and any other weapons they could find," he said.

That fight grew to include as many as 300 inmates, Riegert said.

One inmate suffered head lacerations in the first brawl, but no injuries were reported in the later riot, Riegert said.

Record Earnings Announced

DAKOTA CITY, Neb. (AP) — Iowa Beef Processors, Inc., has announced record earnings for the first quarter of fiscal 1978, a 13 week period ended Jan. 28.

IBP had sales for the quarter of $547.71 million with net earnings of $6.88 million or $1.42 per share, based on 4.8 million shares fully diluted, according to Robert L. Peterson, president.

Sales for the first quarter of the previous fiscal year were $546.01 million with net earnings of $5.75 million or $1.23 per share.

Peterson said late last week that no new negotiations are scheduled in connection with a labor dispute at the Dakota City plant. The strike began Feb. 28, 1977. The company reopened the plant without a new contract agreement Dec. 12, 1977, after negotiating sessions reached a stalemate.

The Dakota City plant started a second work shift in both slaughter and processing on Feb. 15.

Finder Thought Ring Worthless

TOWSON, Md. (AP) — A fireman who found Red Skelton's $155,000 diamond ring lying on a snowy sidewalk thought it was a worthless bauble because "it had all that glass in it."

The comedian lost the ring with four flawless diamonds and weighing more than 16 carats Saturday night after performing a benefit at Towson State University, where he had visited drama classes earlier in the day. He reported it missing Sunday morning.

Ernest Yates said he found the ring Saturday night and simply dropped it in his pocket. He said he didn't call police because "I didn't know they were diamonds."

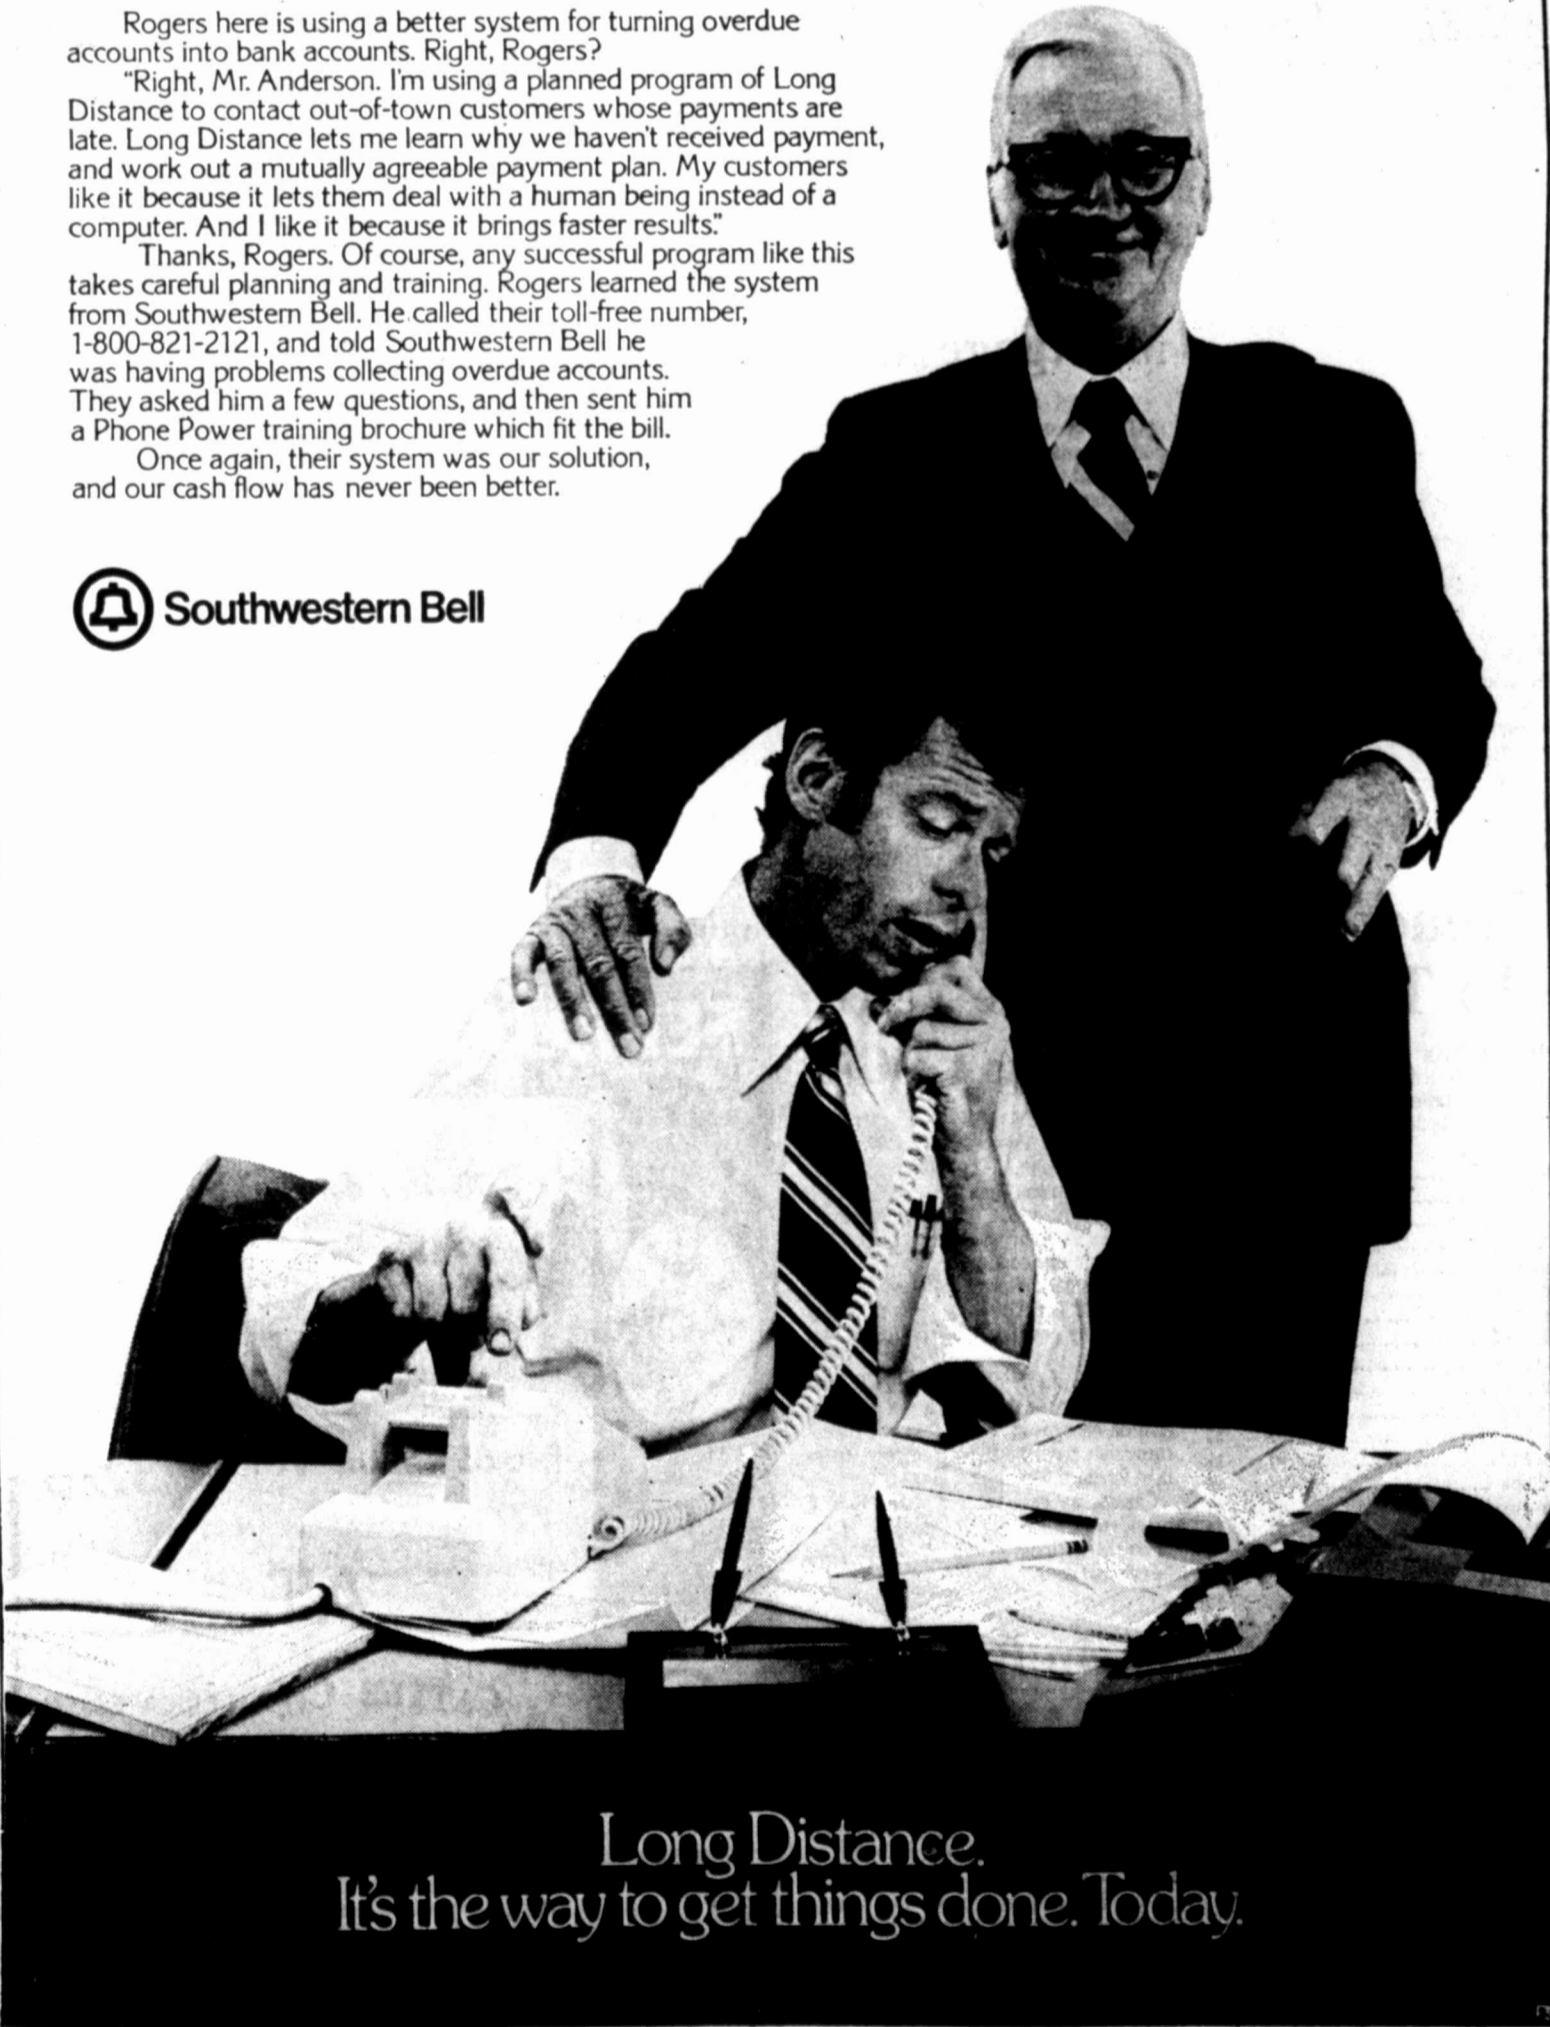

"In our collection department we don't pinch pennies, we dial for dollars."

Rogers here is using a better system for turning overdue accounts into bank accounts. Right, Rogers?

"Right, Mr. Anderson. I'm using a planned program of Long Distance to contact out-of-town customers whose payments are late. Long Distance lets me learn why we haven't received payment, and work out a mutually agreeable payment plan. My customers like it because it lets them deal with a human being instead of a computer. And I like it because it brings faster results."

Thanks, Rogers. Of course, any successful program like this takes careful planning and training. Rogers learned the system from Southwestern Bell. He called their toll-free number, 1-800-821-2121, and told Southwestern Bell he was having problems collecting overdue accounts. They asked him a few questions, and then sent him a Phone Power training brochure which fit the bill.

Once again, their system was our solution, and our cash flow has never been better.

Commission Critical Of State Board Of Morticians

By LEE JONES
AUSTIN (AP) — The state agency that licenses and regulates undertakers is too close to the undertaking lobby, the Sunset Advisory Commission's staff says.

It also reported to the commission Monday that the State Board of Morticians does a poor job of protecting the public and has had two or more conflict of interests situations.

"The staff has determined that functions currently performed by the board are not meeting objectives of protecting the public from health hazards and improper business practices," the report said.

Board duties could be absorbed by the State Health Department, which regulates the preparation and transportation of deceased persons, the staff said.

Commission members will recommend life or death for some two dozen state agencies, including the undertakers board, when the Legislature convenes next year.

The staff report said consumer complaints to the board deal mainly with price and quality of service.

"However, the board has taken the position that these types of problems do not lie within its jurisdiction. Yet, despite the pattern of the public's complaints, the board has not sought modification of its law," the report said.

One yardstick used by the staff was whether an agency had recommended new laws to benefit the public rather than the occupation it regulates.

But the morticians' board picture is clouded by the fact that the board's lawyer is the registered lobbyist for the Texas Funeral Directors Association, the report noted.

The staff observed that the board took no action on 14 out of 16 consumer complaints filed last year, but did refer nine of them to other agencies. Two complaints the agency said it referred to the attorney general never were received, the report observed.

"Only once, in 1977, was a sanction imposed as a result of a complaint presented by a consumer," the report said.

One problem, it said, was the fact that the board's attorney — lobbyist for the undertakers association — fills a key role in the handling of complaints.

"It would appear somewhat difficult to maintain an objective perspective while he fills the role of legal advisor in resolution of disputes brought before the board and acts as a lobbyist for the trade association," the report stated.

The staff also said the board, consisting entirely of undertakers, appeared to make it unduly hard for others to enter the field.

For instance, apprentice embalmers must submit separate notarized reports on each of the 100 bodies they are required to prepare as a condition for licensing.

The staff said with a limited market for funerals undertakers don't want price competition. And one way to avoid price competition is limiting entry into the occupation, the report said.

"Technological advances have made the need for embalming questionable. Even if the need is accepted, because of other technological advances the number of funeral homes currently operating is far in excess of the number required for efficient operation," the report said.

"Yet the industry remains profitable."

The report, in fact, questioned the need for the current state law requiring bodies to be embalmed or refrigerated within 24 hours of death.

It quoted health department officials as saying, "Within the United States, embalming has no public health significance."

The report also said the board had conflict of interest problems.

In the past three years, at least five complaints have been received on establishments owned by board members, but the board lacks a policy prohibiting it to act in such matters, the report said.

At the January meeting, board member Jack Carswell "actively discussed and supported a motion" to drop a complaint against his firm, the staff said.

It also said that board member M. Watson Frazier headed the Texas Funeral Directors' and Embalmers' Foundation, Inc., which developed plans for a building that houses both the board and the Texas Funeral Directors Association.

"Since Mr. Frazier has resigned the presidency of the TFDEF (June 1976), he has actively worked as a board member to negotiate a long-term, pre-paid rental agreement between the TFDEF and the board. In October 1976, the board pre-paid $27,000 to the foundation for five of the 10 years' rental agreement," the staff report said.

Study Shows Consumer Uncertain Of Future

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Consumer confidence is stable, but people are getting more uncertain that things will improve in the future, according to a University of Michigan study.

Attitudes measured in January remained about the same as they were in the last two months of 1977, the U-M Survey Research Center reported today.

But, "These survey findings do not indicate a reversal in the emerging downward trend," researchers warned.

The Index of Consumer Sentiment was down from a recovery peak reached last summer. The all-time high was reached in 1965.

Attitudes in January were more favorable toward buying large household items and cars, while those toward buying houses declined since November and December.

Thirty-nine percent of those surveyed last month said it was a good time to buy because prices would only go up in the future.

People have about the same attitudes now as they did a year ago on personal finances and buying conditions, said Richard Curtin and George Katona. But expectations for more improvements in business conditions and personal finances are less favorable than a year ago, they said.

That widening gap between the present and the future outlooks will boost the short-term spending outlook, Curtin and Katona said. But they cautioned consumer spending cannot be depended on for long-term economic expansion.

The survey was based on 690 telephone interviews with people across the country.

The economists noted the trend toward buying ahead of future price hikes is different from the attitude of the 1950s and 1960s. Optimism then was based on low prices, with less regard for what costs would be in the future, they said.

Curtin and Katona predicted that if income and price conditions continue to improve, consumers may become more optimistic about the future.

"Sluggish or declining real incomes, on the other hand, could result in a sharp drop in sentiment," and make people even more pessimistic, they added.

Mortgage Rates Expected To Rise

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The chief economist of the National Association of Homebuilders says mortgage rates will rise to 10 percent unless present trends suddenly reverse.

The economist, Michael Sumichrast, made his remarks in an interview before he appeared at the February meeting of the Homebuilding Association of St. Louis on Monday.

Sumichrast also predicted new housing starts in single family homes will be down 10 percent to 15 percent by the end of the year.

He said his predictions are supported by the fact that the excess of deposits over withdrawals at savings and loan associations is running sharply under this time last year and in 1976.

"While there has been a dramatic slowdown in new money coming into SLs and banks which specialize in the housing market, there has as yet been no slowdown in mortgage lending," he said.

"Obviously, this situation cannot continue very long before mortgages get tougher to find and rates move higher."

Sumichrast also predicts new housing costs to rise by 15 percent.

"There's no point in ignoring the warning signals. Those who are planning to buy a new home or an existing one should be nailing down a firm mortgage commitment now," he said.

With all the adverse predictions, he predicts a good year for most builders.

"Most firms already have a big backlog to work off. They had a very profitable 12 months, so the industry is in a healthy economic condition," he said.

Sumichrast said studies by the NAHB showed more than 50 percent of all new home sales were to two-income families with combined annual earnings in excess of $24,000 a year.

Neighbors Win Murfee Bee, Atkins Champion Wins Again

By MONA HARVEY
Avalanche-Journal Staff

Neighbors claimed the two top slots in the Murfee Elementary bee, another repeating champion won her school event and a few fourth-graders emerged as school spelling bee winners in recent competition.

Ronnie Harris, alternate, lives three houses away from Kevin Crawford, who Monday won the Murfee bee. Ronnie, a fourth-grader, missed "indigent" and Kevin, a sixth-grader, corrected that error and cinched his title with "interpolate."

Principal Velma R. Shambeck expressed pride that her top competitors spelled into the intermediate words section of "Words of the Champions." The bee, which included 25 students, lasted 20 rounds.

Ronnie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Harris of 3807 69th St. and Kevin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Brad Crawford of 3801 69th St.

James V. Baker, language arts consultant for the Lubbock Independent School District and county bee director, was the pronouncer at the Murfee bee. Sixth-grade teachers served as judges.

Cynda Ramold, eighth-grader at Atkins Junior High, emerged again this year to represent her school in the Lubbock County bee scheduled at 9:30 a.m. March 11 in Smylie C. Wilson Junior High auditorium.

Last year Cynda advanced to fifth place in the county bee, missing "colloquialism." She joins four other returning champions, including Lori Smith of Mackenzie Junior High who placed third in 1977.

Cynda won her school bee with "artery" after alternate Arlan Privett was felled by "apparel." This is at least her third year to serve as school representative since she also represented Bayless Elementary as a sixth-grader.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ramold of Rt. 9, Box 90, Lubbock. Arlan is the eighth-grade son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Privett of 1921 60th St.

Bee officials Norma Davis, Chris Carter and Francis Evans observed seven students in a bee which lasted 30 minutes. Shallowater Elementary's titlist is Traca Ellis, fourth-grade daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Ellis of Shallowater.

Alternate Rani Schatzle is the fourth-grade daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Schatzle of Shallowater.

Rani misspelled "ceramics," enabling Traca to decide the bee with "brittle."

Seven finalists from grades two through five participated according to bee director Kathy Schatzle. Jane Thompson pronounced and judges were Lesli White and Judy Leonard.

Bozeman Elementary's bee was determined by two words which last year decided at least two championships.

Kim Hooper won on "celebrity."

The fourth-grade daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hooper of 2105 E. 4th St. Apt. 38, defeated 24 other contestants in a bee lasting 35 minutes.

Ruben is the fourth-grade son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Flores of 2726 E. 3rd St.

Bozeman bee officials included Larry Crawford, Clarence Priestly and Mrs. Drew Foster.

Don Armstead spelled with "confidence" and a strong "constitution" to take the Posey Elementary title. The sixth-grade son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Armstead of 1502 E. 10th St. triumphed over 28 students in a 40-minute contest.

Vicki Bright and Jana Cook were bee officials in the Posey bee which saw Rose Miller, fourth-grade daughter of Mrs. Doris Miller of 1712 Teak Ave. come in second.

Last year's runner-up, Paul Aguirre, claimed the Sanders Elementary top honor in a contest involving two other students. The sixth-grade son of Mr. and Mrs. Epifanio Aguirre of 1016 2nd St. correctly spelled "ammonia" and "beagle" to win.

Alternate Leroy Mitchell, also a sixth-grader, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Mitchell of 605 Hub Homes.

Vicky Tate acted as bee director and pronouncer with Joyce Davies, Melba Burk and Kathryn Gober as judges.

Constable Faces Charges In Jail Inmate's Death

MIDLAND (AP) — An Ector County constable, who claimed he was beaten to prevent him from revealing information about the death of a Mexican-American jail inmate, faces misdemeanor charges of making a false report in connection with his story.

The charge was filed Monday against Leonard Garcia Jr., 33, after a weekend investigation by Midland and Odessa police. Garcia pleaded innocent Monday before Midland County Judge Barbara Culver, who set a $2,500 property bond.

Garcia, who said he had information about the death of Ector County jail inmate Larry Lozano, was found early Friday in a water-filled ditch near the Midland Regional Air Terminal. His car was nearby.

Garcia told Midland police he was beaten by three men after he left one of two Odessa bars he had visited that night.

Odessa police confirmed to the Odessa American, however, that witnesses in those two bars had not seen Garcia.

Garcia was admitted to Midland Memorial Hospital with "a broken rib and multiple bruises," a hospital spokesman said at the time.

The constable told newsmen he had three broken ribs, but Midland police talked to the doctor who took X-rays and was told Garcia had what appeared to be a "cracked 11th rib."

Lozano died Jan. 22 in what Ector County Sheriff Elton Faught has claimed was a suicide. But there have been at least two autopsies made and no official ruling has been handed down. The case is still under investigation.

Mexican-American leaders claim Lozano was beaten to death.

Ector County District Attorney John Green has said that Garcia "knows nothing about the Lozano death."

Garcia was appointed to the precinct constable's post last year and is a candidate for the post in this year's election primary.

Fugitive Vesco Willing To Go

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Fugitive financier Robert Vesco says if Costa Rica doesn't want him, he's willing to go.

Vesco, who has been living in Costa Rica since 1972, made the statement in an interview with the weekly news magazine Proceso published Monday.

"If President (Rodrigo) Carazo asks me to go, well, I will go," Vesco said, adding that "many countries" have offered him refuge.

Vesco, formerly of Boonton, N.J., fled to Costa Rica in 1972 to escape prosecution on charges of stock fraud and illegal campaign contributions to former President Richard Nixon.

Carazo, an easy winner of the Feb. 5 presidential elections, recently said, "For the national health, it's better that he (Vesco) goes."

Farm Bureau Sets Meeting

Members of the Lubbock County Farm Bureau will hear Bill Bounds, state affairs director of the Texas organization, when they meet at 7:30 p.m. today at Plains Co-op Oil Mill.

Don Enger, president of the county group, said Bounds will speak on the topic "What the Farm Bureau is doing for you" and also will discuss the Bureau's position relative to the American Agriculture movement.

Conservation Cuts Opposed

By DON KENDALL
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Opposition is building in Congress and among some farm organizations against proposals by the Carter administration to cut federal spending on conservation projects designed to help farmers protect their land.
 The reductions were included in budget proposals President Carter sent to Congress a month ago and involve some Agriculture Department programs which will directly affect farmers during the fiscal year which will begin Oct. 1. Proposed reduction in the program will be reviewed Friday, Feb. 24, at a hearing by a conservation subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Agriculture, Nutrition and Forestry. Sen. Dick Clark, D-Iowa, a member of both panels, will preside at the hearing.
 Carter and Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland have pledged support of land-use policies directed at maintaining food supplies and the productivity of the nation's farmland.
 "To do so, we need to provide financial assistance programs and research, technical and educational activities to help individual landowners and local public bodies make land-use decisions consistent with local and national objectives," Bergland said in a statement Jan. 13.
 On Jan. 24, the Carter budget was sent to Congress calling for cutbacks in key USDA programs and agency spending for next fiscal year.
 Clark, in announcing the hearing earlier this month, said that in all the Carter budget calls for cuts of about $130 million next year, including a sharp reduction in personnel for the department's Soil Conservation Service.

 A recent study by USDA showing that the nation is losing about 2.8 billion tons of cropland soil a year, the equivalent of nine tons an acre, was cited by Clark as a reason for stepping up conservation efforts.
 The government has aided farmers in soil and water conservation for more than 40 years, and these programs have helped hold down topsoil erosion — although USDA experts say the loss rate is still much too high.
 Clark said that one of the problems is that soil conservation programs are expensive, require careful study of each local problem, extensive planning and, in many cases, costly investments. Further, the effects of these efforts are not seen overnight.
 "And so, soil conservation programs are inevitably a prime target for budget-cutters year after year," Clark said.
 One example is the Agricultural Conservation Program or ACP, which has provided federal payments to help farmers pay for approved conservation work on their land.
 The Carter proposal calls for a cut of almost 50 percent to $100 million next year from $190 million currently provided for ACP.
 Other cutbacks include money for small watershed planning, clean water assistance and resource conservation and development.
 Clark said that "ignoring the situation is a penny-wise, pound-foolish policy" which cannot be tolerated if agricultural productivity is to be maintained.

Sorghum Symposium Scheduled Friday

AMARILLO (Special) — A symposium for persons interested in learning about the economics of growing corn and grain sorghum will be at 9:30 a.m. here Friday at the Texas A&M Research & Extension Center.
 The meeting is being sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.
 Dr. Ray Sammons, extension farm management specialist in Amarillo, will discuss the farm program and economic outlook for corn and sorghum during 1978. He also will review cost of production and other economic considerations, such as a higher target price for milo than corn, for growers to decide their corn and grain sorghum acreage for 1978.

controlling weeds in the two crops. Weeds to be controlled will determine the best crop and herbicide combination to select.
 "For example, corn and Eradicane are the best bet for fields infested with Johnsongrass," the scientist said.
 Economical control of insects will be discussed by Dr. Carl Patrick of Amarillo, extension entomologist. He will describe insects that infest the two crops and give growers some idea about cost of control.

Eastern Europe Possible Market For Soybeans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department says that the seven countries of Eastern Europe are a potentially growing market for U.S. soybeans, but that it will take strong efforts to develop.
 "Despite apparent internal efforts to achieve self-sufficiency in oilseeds, imports of soybeans and meal for feed production have gained momentum," the department's Foreign Agricultural Service said.
 The report, included Monday in a weekly issue of "Foreign Agriculture" published by the agency, said that "typical of the situation in many developing countries, Eastern Europe is experiencing growth requirements for more and better protein foods."
 Rising per capita incomes have resulted in larger consumer demands for quality foods, including vegetable oils, which include soybean oil.
 The report said that a two-phase program to promote U.S. soybeans and soybean products in Eastern Europe has been outlined through 1985. The first step will be in a cooperative program with soybean industry groups to promote soybean meal in livestock feeding rations.
 In the second phase, assuming that the first step is successful and soybean-cushing plants come into operation in Eastern Europe, will be to "ensure the production of quality soybean meal and soybean oil through technical assistance to plant managers," the report said.
 The countries involved are Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary, Poland, Romania and Yugoslavia.

"With this in mind, we need to evaluate the economics of growing the two crops on the High Plains," Sammons said. "We will present guidelines to help growers plan their acreages for this year," he continued.
 Economics of irrigating grain sorghum and corn will be discussed by Dr. John Shipley, TAES economist in Amarillo. He will present results of research at the North Plains Research Field at Etter which shows the most economical number of irrigations for each crop.
 Shipley has developed equations that will enable producers to arrive at their most profitable irrigation level for both grain sorghum and corn.
 Leon New of Lubbock, an extension irrigation specialist, will discuss pumping and water use efficiency for corn and grain sorghum. The specialist has conducted many demonstrations on panhandle farms with different soils showing how the two crops respond to levels of irrigation.
 Dr. Frank Petr, extension agronomist in Amarillo, will discuss methods of selecting corn and sorghum hybrids for different levels of irrigation. In addition, he will talk about research that evaluated corn and sorghum hybrids for resistance to maize dwarf mosaic and head smut.
 "Growers need to adjust fertilizer rates for different levels of irrigation in the two crops," Petr said.
 Cost of weed control in corn and grain sorghum will be outlined by Dr. Allen Wiese, Texas A&M weed researcher at Bushland.

Services Set For Victim Of Mishap

A-J Correspondent

OLTON — Services for Denny Barnett, 49, of Olton will be at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday in the First Baptist Church at Olton.

Al Morgan of Plainview will officiate. Burial will be in the Olton Cemetery under the direction of Parsons Funeral Home at Olton.

Barnett was killed in a two-vehicle collision Monday afternoon about half a mile south of Hart on Farm Road 168 in Castro County.

Justice of the Peace Marshall Young of Dimmitt pronounced Barnett dead at the scene.

Department of Public Safety reports indicated that Barnett's pickup was southbound. Apparently Barnett had started around a curve, hit a patch of snow and ice and slid into the northbound lane hitting the side of a semi-trailer.

The accident occurred about 12:30 p.m.

The Lamb County farmer was a member of the Masons, the Olton Co-op Gin board, the ASCS committee and the FHA board. He had been a member of the First Baptist Church for 18 years and a deacon for the past six years.

He was married to Carmaleta Campbell May 21, 1955, in Olton.

Survivors include his wife; a son, Bart of the home; three daughters, Kim, Lori and Stacy, all of the home; two sisters, Merdell Rogers of Gustine and Dorothy Gilbreath of Dimmitt; and a brother, James of Lubbock.

Cheating Allegations Leveled At Police

ATLANTA (AP) — Atlanta Public Safety Commissioner A. Reginald Eaves "expressly authorized" the distribution of questions and answers to some 1975 police promotion examinations "for the benefit of certain candidates favored for promotion," says a report.

The report on a 3½-month investigation of cheating allegations in the city's Bureau of Police Services was released by the Atlanta attorneys who conducted the investigation, Randolph Thrower and Felker Ward Jr.

Eaves attended the news conference Monday where the report was released and again denied the accusations.

Don't Blame Your Age For Poor Hearing.

Chicago, Ill.—A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of the smallest Beltone aid of its kind will be given absolutely free to anyone answering this advertisement.

Send for this model, put it on and wear it in the privacy of your own home. While many people with a hearing loss will not receive any significant benefit from any hearing aid, this free model will show you how tiny hearing help can be. It is not a real hearing aid, and it's yours to keep, free. The actual aid weighs less than a third of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit.

These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. Thousands have already been mailed, so write today to Dept. 5770, Beltone Electronics Corp., 4201 W. Victoria, Chicago, Illinois 60646.

Bill Clements Offers National Energy Plan

BY SYLVIA TEAGUE
Avalanche-Journal Staff

Texas has a national energy role to play, Republican gubernatorial candidate Bill Clements said in Lubbock today, adding he would push for a five-point plan to be adopted by the national government as a solution to the energy crisis.

Clements, a Dallas drilling contractor, faces other Republicans Ray Hutchinson of Dallas and Clarence Thompson, a Fort Worth dairy worker.

Clements said he would advocate a task force of all the states with the common energy problems faced by Texas.

Once the task force formulated recommendations, Clements said, "I guarantee I could make Washington listen — I know the right buttons to push."

Clements was deputy secretary of defense for four years.

His five point energy plan includes encouraging production of oil and gas, coal and nuclear energy and "bringing forward research on solar and geothermal energy."

The fifth part would be a program of conservation which he said was "active, not passive."

Carter's energy program is an "absolute disgrace," Clements said, because it is passive rather than active.

Currently, "Texas is being raped of its natural heritage," Clements said, when the state is forced to "furnish cheap fuel to northern states" at less than market prices when those states refuse to drill off their coasts.

Clements labeled education "grossly neglected" and said he wants to improve its quality.

He suggested giving teachers the same benefits given other state employees, such as sick leave and salary base. Clements said the result would be improved morale of the teachers and better teaching.

He also said it would bring qualified teachers working other jobs back into the teaching profession.

Clements said he favored bringing "discipline back into the school program" and advocated the creation of a teacher-faculty senate which would allow teachers to play a part in decisions made about their schools.

He said he supported providing more funding to poorer school districts, but said he would "leave the very high quality schools alone."

Clements was to campaign in Lubbock much of today, including a 3 p.m. speech to a Texas Tech University political science class, a reception with Tech students at 4 p.m. and a 7:30 p.m. reception with supporters.

Princess Grace To Read Poetry

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Princess Grace of Monaco will appear on the American stage for the first time in 26 years Sunday when she pays tribute to the opening of International Wildlife Year at the Pittsburgh International Poetry Forum.

Princess Grace will read poetry selections in an anthology program entitled "Birds, Beasts and Flowers."

The program, conceived and directed by London producer John Carroll, will be presented at the Carnegie Music Hall Sunday and Monday.

Samuel Hazo, director of the Poetry Forum, said the recital will include selections from William Shakespeare and William Blake, along with works by contemporary poets.

Princess Grace, the former Grace Kelly, will follow her Pittsburgh premiere with a presentation at the Tyrone Guthrie Theater in Minneapolis Feb. 28, the Academy of Music in Philadelphia March 2, Catholic University in Washington, D.C., March 3-4, Princeton University March 6 and Harvard University March 7-8.

Local Trial Still Needs 10 Jurors

By PAT PATRICK
Avalanche-Journal Staff

Six prospective jurors in the Samuel Christopher Hawkins III capital murder case were cut this morning, and the seventh was being questioned when attorneys broke for lunch.

Thus, midway into the seventh day of jury selection, there were only two panelists chosen for the death penalty case.

Picked Monday afternoon was Mrs. C.M. (Gloria) Hawk of 5314 26th St. The 54-year-old housewife says she has been a Lubbock resident for 15 years.

Jurors are being sequestered in a downtown Lubbock motel.

Hawkins, 34, is accused of stabbing a six-months pregnant woman to death during an attempted aggravated rape.

Abbe Rodgers Hamilton, 19, was found in the bedroom of her Berger home May 3, 1977, bound hand and foot and stabbed about 10 times.

The trial was moved to Lubbock from Hutchinson County on a change of venue.

In a capital case, each side is allotted 15 strikes of a prospective juror for no stated reason. The state used one of its peremptory challenges this morning.

Through midday, the state had used four of its 15 free strikes, and the defense, seven.

Several persons were excused by the court this morning because they expressed reservations about imposing the death penalty in any case.

Other issues contributing to the snail's pace in selecting jurors are some persons' reluctance to vote innocent for one defendant who pleads insanity and some citizens' opinion they could not disregard a confession even if they thought it had been involuntarily given.

If Hawkins is convicted of the capital charge he will face either life imprisonment or death, the only punishment options open to jurors under Texas' capital murder law.

The Amarillo man also is charged with capital murder in the death of a 12-year-old Amarillo girl and with the aggravated rape of a Hereford woman — crimes which authorities say were committed by a suspect they called the "traveling rapist."

Jury selection was to continue at 1 p.m. today in the 99th District Courtroom.

Chile, Argentina To Study Claims

PUERTO MONTE, Chile (AP) — Presidents Augusto Pinochet of Chile and Rafael Videla of Argentina met at an army base in central Chile and agreed to open negotiations on their countries' rival territorial claims in the Cape Horn region.

Argentina disputes a British arbitration award to Chile of the islands of Picton, Lennox and Nueva. Pinochet said Monday that the British decision is not negotiable and the only thing to discuss is jurisdiction over the neighboring waters.

Stock Prices Continue Recent Slide

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices extended their recent slide today in a session marked by heavy institutional activity in utility issues.

The noon Dow Jones average of 90 industrials was down 3.42 at 748.87 after a 23.30-point drop last week.

Losers outpaced gainers by close to a 2-1 margin among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Late in the morning financial news tickers sprouted a rash of block trades in electric utility stocks ranging in size from 100,000 to 200,000 shares.

Though the identities of the participants in those transactions couldn't be determined, analysts said it was evident that one or more investing institutions had embarked on a program to sell off some utility holdings.

Market-watchers theorized the decision might have been prompted by expectations of a continued rise in interest rates.

Seven of the 10 most active NYSE issues at mid-day were electric utility issues, with all but one showing a fractional decline.

Consumers Power dropped 1/4 to 22 1/2; Gulf States Utilities lost 1/4 to 13 1/2; Virginia Electric & Power was down 1/4 at 14 1/2; Central Illinois Public Service fell 1/4 to 13 1/2; Arizona Public Service was down 1/4 at 19 1/2; and Northeast Utilities was unchanged at 10 1/2.

The Dow Jones average of 15 utilities registered a relatively modest 20 loss to 103.32.

The NYSE's composite index was off .18 at 48.72. On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index dropped .36 to 122.59.

Volume on the Big Board reached 9.88 million shares by noon, against 7.29 million at the same point on Friday.

Officer Thought Career Ruined

NEW YORK (AP) — A policeman who took his life with a shot through the heart believed his 23-year career was ruined because of charges that he took part in a boisterous, drunken party while guarding the mayor's mansion, his colleagues say.

THOMAS CAIN

Officers described 44-year-old Thomas Cain on Monday as solitary and serious-minded — and tortured by the possibility that his spotless service record might be damaged by the charges.

"It had a traumatic effect on him. I finally took him to a PBA lawyer who told him he had nothing to worry about, he was going to be cleared. I just wanted to quiet him down, to calm Tommy down," said officer James McVetty, the Police's Benevolent Association representative for the area where Cain worked.

Cain's suicide was discovered after he failed to report Monday morning for a hearing into the mansion incident. Officers sent to his Queens studio apartment found his pajama-clad body lying on the sofa. Neighbors told officers they heard a sound that may have been a shot at 3 p.m. Sunday.

A handwritten suicide note was found nearby, addressed to his sister, Patricia. It described Cain's "embarrassment" and "humiliation" over the charges.

Cain was divorced six years ago, McVetty said. He had two children, a son, 16, and a daughter, 14. His ex-wife had remarried.

Cain and two other officers were under investigation on charges of raiding the mansion's liquor supply early on Jan. 20 while assigned to the mansion's guardhouse.

Phone calls to the guardhouse, authorities said, met with "lots of laughter and a lot of obscenity." An anonymous letter to police brass later charged the three were too drunk to sign out when their shift ended.

None of the officers' names were released in the investigation, but Capt. William Visser, Cain's commanding officer, said that "everyone knew who they were. It became a laughing stock."

Visser said the first complaint about the incident came from a mayoral aide who said his 3 a.m. call to the guardhouse was handled rudely. He was unable to get through to warn Mayor Edward Koch of a snow storm that had left 13 inches on the ground by 6 a.m., he told Visser.

"It was the first time Cain had worked the guardhouse and he didn't know the routine. He couldn't believe someone would call the mayor at that hour," Visser said. Cain told Visser he thought the call was from a crank, and said he discourteous to the caller. The charges grew serious, however, when police brass received an anonymous letter and a phone call claiming the three officers had been drunk, Visser said.

Officers who worked with Cain described him as tall, lean, erect, grey-haired, distinguished. "He could have been a politician," said one. Cain had just earned a master's degree in psychological counseling from Fordham University.

"He was a good thinker," said one officer. "Sensitive. All the men feel very depressed about this. I guess you see a reflection of yourself."

Because Cain went to school, he worked the midnight to 8 a.m. tour of duty. He never had a regular partner. None of the officers could say who his best friend might have been.

Cain earned a score of departmental citations for meritorious service, and he was third on the list of officers scheduled for sergeant's school.

"He was a great cop," said a young officer. "You figure an old-timer doesn't make arrests, but he did. He was a very active cop, a cop's cop."

Lt. Francis Murray, who worked at the 23rd with Cain for five years, recalled him as a private person, intelligent, quiet but quick with one-liners, "some of the funniest remarks you ever heard."

"Look," Murray said, "Be kind to him, will you please? He was a very nice person."

Movies About Women Score Top Honors

By BOB THOMAS HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Two dramas about relations between women, "Julia" and "The Turning Point," scored top honors in the 50th annual Motion Picture Academy nominations today, beating a pair of highly popular space epics.

"20th Century-Fox was the big winner in the Oscar sweepstakes, with 11 nominations apiece for "Julia" and "The Turning Point" and 10 for the biggest box-office hit of all time, "Star Wars."

Another film of intergalactic travel, "Close Encounters of the Third Kind," followed with eight nominations.

As expected, the race for best actress proved to be the strongest. The nominees: Anne Bancroft, "The Turning Point"; Jane Fonda, "Julia"; Diane Keaton, "Annie Hall"; Shirley Maclaine, "The Turning Point"; and Marsha Mason, "The Goodbye Girl."

Surprisingly, Miss Keaton was named for a comedy rather than her heavy dramatics in "Looking for Mr. Goodbar."

Miss Keaton's director and co-star in "Annie Hall," Woody Allen, was nominated for best actor, along with Richard Burton, "Equus"; Richard Dreyfuss, "The Goodbye Girl"; Marcello Mastroianni, "A Special Day"; and John Travolta, "Saturday Night Fever."

The winners will be announced at a nationally televised awards ceremony April 3.

The nominees for best picture of 1977: "Annie Hall," "The Goodbye Girl," "Julia," "Star Wars" and "The Turning Point."

A surprising omission was "Close Encounters of the Third Kind." Other major nominees: Supporting Actor — Mikhail Baryshnikov, "The Turning Point," Peter Firth, "Equus"; Alec Guinness, "Star Wars"; Jason Robards, "Julia"; and Maximilian Schell, "Julia."

Auditors Find City Agency Owes $66,829

AUSTIN (AP) — Audits show that six Governor's Office of Migrant Affairs subcontractors owe the agency $178,638 in unspent funds, the Austin American-Statesman said Tuesday.

Auditor Ken Carter of the Governor's Office of Criminal Justice, which made the audit, said that the Lubbock-based Llano Estacado program owed GOMA more than $66,829 for two types of job-training programs. On the other hand GOMA owes Llano Estacado $30,498 for the public-service jobs sections of the programs.

Carter said the final figure of money owed GOMA may be as much as $300,000, but that in some instances the agency owes subcontractors funds.

GOMA gets most of its money from the Texas Department of Community Affairs and then passes the money along in grants to approximately 25 subcontractors.

Besides the Llano Estacado program, subcontractors owing GOMA money are West Texas Opportunities Inc., Texas Migrant Council, Texas Panhandle Community Action Corp., Community Services Inc. and Central Texas Opportunities.

Congratulations

'On Twentieth Century' Wins Sparse Credits

By WILLIAM GLOVER
NEW YORK (AP) — Broadway musical fans need not hurry to get "On the Twentieth Century."
Creaking like a rusty rural local instead of the once famous express train where it all supposedly happens, the show bumped forlornly onto the stage of the St. James Theater this weekend.
There are quite a few estimable talents involved, but only two rise successfully above the heavy-handed, patchwork mood that characterizes the affair.
Those sparse credits are won by John Cullum, a performer of wide-ranging parts, and Imogene Coca, a veteran pixie of unflattering charm.
Cullum portrays an on-the-skids producer in the book which Betty Comden and Adolph Green have skinned from 45-year-old farce by Ben Hecht, Charles MacArthur and Bruce Millholland. Cullum's hectic efforts to win back his mistress star from the clutches of Hollywood while the 20th Century Limited speeds from Chicago to New York provide the plot's dull pivot.
Cullum amusingly overacts, sings handsomely and mugs splendidly. His behavior, along with facial makeup, conjure recollections of John Barrymore, who played the same role in a 1932 classic film, without music.

Madeline Kahn, his romantic lure, is not however in the same class with Carole Lombard, who appeared with Barrymore. Miss Kahn's comic sense is egotistically mannered.
Miss Coca, to return to the better news, enacts a harmless looney who romps through the train posting "Repent" signs and rubber-necks Cullum with dreams of comeback until her keepers nab her at Cleveland.
The score by Cy Coleman is deliberately old-fashioned opera with "Our Private World" the only song of potential popular appeal, while the others rate as adequate.
The Comden-Green lyrics maintain the team's reputation for slick rhyming, though frantic irrelevancy keeps creeping in.

Harold Prince, on sabbatical this season from producing shows himself, has staged the rarely cheerful opus with a large cast surrounding the principals in a state of galloping confusion.
Robin Green devised the en route assortment of sets that range from two miniature trains to giant locomotive sections and a series of car interiors that are more noticeable than the action. There are lots of period costumes by Florence Klotz and a capricious lighting schedule by Ken Billington.
"On the Twentieth Century" might benefit from help by Amtrak or Conrail.
On the off-Broadway circuit, the weekend brought one delightful arrival and one dud.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

By Bernice Bede Osol

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) When you sense you have the upper hand in dealings on a one-to-one basis tomorrow, you will probably be right. That doesn't mean you should try to grind him or her down.
ARIES (March 21-April 19) Keep records of your instructions and document all you do tomorrow. Someone who is less than honest may attempt to implicate you if they goof up.
TAURUS (April 20-May 20) It is never smart to try to keep with the Joneses. That's doubly true for you tomorrow. Buy only things you really need. Avoid financial troubles.
GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Here's a good motto to hang on your door tomorrow: What you see here, say here and hear here, when you leave, make sure it stays here.
CANCER (June 21-July 22) Why knuckle under tomorrow just because others make a lot of noise? A mouse may roar like a lion, but it's still a mouse. Stand up for your rights.
LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It never pays in the long run to take shortcuts in your work, especially an important task. The boss may unexpectedly decide to check on you tomorrow.
VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Be your own person. Save yourself a lot of headaches tomorrow. If you let another do your thinking, you could get the wrong end of the stick.
LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Future plans must be based on an honest projection of what you'll be able to manage. Overload yourself tomorrow and you'll only buy grief for later.

The Almanac TODAY IN HISTORY

By United Press International
Today is Tuesday, Feb. 21, the 52nd day of 1978 with 313 to follow.
The moon is approaching its full phase. The morning star is Mercury.
The evening stars are Venus, Jupiter, Mars and Saturn.
Those born on this day are under the sign of Pisces.
American educator Alice Freeman Palmer was born Feb. 21, 1855.
On this day in history:
In 1878, the New Haven, Conn., telephone company published the first phone book. It listed 50 subscribers.
In 1885, the Washington Monument was dedicated — 37 years after the start of construction.
In 1965, Black Muslim leader Malcolm X was fatally shot at a rally in New York City.
In 1975, Judge John Sirica sentenced former Nixon administration officials John Mitchell, H.R. Haldeman and John Ehrlichman to prison for their roles in the Watergate cover-up.
A thought for the day: American patriot Thomas Paine said, "Those who expect to reap the blessings of freedom must... undergo the fatigue of supporting it."

Vereen Says Career Started At Age 10

By JAY SHARBUTT
BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — When he was kid growing up in Brooklyn, Ben Vereen took his first steps toward show biz, courtesy of a passing guest, a kind of flum-flam man for a dancing school.
The guy, Vereen said, "is walking down the street and I'm just doing my kid thing, playing ball. I was about 10. He says, 'Young man, is your mother home?' I said yeah.
"And bingo, the man promptly talked Vereen's mother into enrolling the kid in his dance school. "He snowed her on this whole idea of, 'He has the potential to be a dancer.'"
Turned out the guy was right. Ben could dance. And sing. And act. He's proved it in Broadway's "Pippin," his NBC summer series a few years ago, in various TV specials and as Chicken George in "Roots."
Come March 2, Vereen is on ABC again in his own special, "Ben Vereen ... His Roots." But he gives no credit at all to the dance school whence it all began.
Vereen, a mild, gentle guy, says the joint was crowded, a waste of his time and his mother's hard-earned money. But still, it lit up an early desire to join the entertainment fraternity.
"I'll never forget going to the school one day and a cab driver turned to me, saw my tap shoes, and said, 'Ah, I guess you're going to be another Bill Bojangles Robinson,'" he recalled.
"In my head, I said, 'Who's Bojangles?' But I said, 'Yeah, sure.' Didn't find out who he was until much later in my life."
A year later, he said, singing entered his life, courtesy of his godmother, Mary Eddie, wife of a minister. She "kidnapped" him, he grinned, off the streets on Sundays and took him to church.
"She taught me this song, 'His Eye is on the Sparrow,' an old Ethel Waters song," he said. "I sang it the first time in church and she played these heavy gospel chords. I just loved it."
Another step in his career: his junior high school principal, Ben Ruskin, urged Vereen to try out for New York's famed High School for the Performing Arts, even though Vereen never considered it.
"I wanted to go into aviation, maybe the Army or Air Force, be a lifer," he said. But the school took him, gave him his first formal training in performing. Later, he met theater guru Tom O'Horgan.
He said O'Horgan, who cast him as Judas in "Jesus Christ, Superstar," had a school where singers, dancers, actors and musicians taught each other their crafts "and I was fortunate to run into him."
"He believed that theater is one, that all these crafts come together, and the total actor must be able to tap them all. It was a great lesson, because from that day on I've done just that."
Vereen talked of this at the Beverly Hills Hotel's Polo Lounge, where show biz types hang out. They tend to be nervous, insecure. Not Vereen. He seemed eminently serene, despite his risky trade.
"Well, it's not like tomorrow, if everything drops out, I'm not going to go bananas," he smiled. "I have five lovely children and a very beautiful wife. So I'm a very wealthy man."

Disturbances Minor In Chinese Parade

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Despite recent violence by San Francisco's Chinese youth gangs, about 300,000 people jammed Chinatown for the colorful New Year Parade led by the traditional 150-foot Golden Dragon.
The only trouble during the weekend came early Sunday, well after Saturday night's parade, when police were forced to break up a mob of hundreds of youths, most of them not Chinese. Twenty of them were taken into custody when a force of policemen charged into the mob to disperse it.
"They were just a bunch of bums who came to watch the parade and stayed to get drunk," policeman Frank Fahy said.
A special force of 150 police were assigned to Chinatown to prevent further bloodshed between the Wah Chings and Joe Boys — the two gangs seeking to control the neighborhood. The two gangs have been at war for seven years.

Senate Holds Secret Talks On Torrijos

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate, after clearing its visitors galleries and locking its doors, held a secret session today to discuss charges that Panamanian leader Omar Torrijos has been involved in drug smuggling.

Guards required everyone in the public and press galleries overlooking the chamber to leave after Vice President Mondale observed that the closed session was about to begin. A security officer dismantled two telephones in the press section even though no one was allowed in there. Earlier, security guards had checked to make certain that equipment being used to provide live broadcast of the public debate was disconnected.

About a dozen senators were on the floor when the doors were closed, including Bob Dole, R-Kan., who had requested the closed session, and Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., chairman of the Senate Intelligence Committee, which has custody of classified files dealing with the narcotics trafficking allegations.

Majority Leader Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., set in motion a quorum call to summon absent members.

Byrd declared that it would be "a live quorum," meaning that it would continue until a majority of senators were present.

The last secret session was July 1, when the Senate debated the neutron bomb.

The closed session came as the Senate continued debating the two treaties that would relinquish control of the Panama Canal to Panama by the year 2000.

President Carter said today that opposition to the treaty "is still very formidable but decreasing."

"We have a growing public support," Carter told Prime Minister Anker Jorgensen of Denmark at a White House meeting. "A year ago there was very little support. As the terms have become known, the opposition has decreased."

Dole said Monday he would move to make public the charges involving Gen. Torrijos and members of his family.

Dole's statement came after he examined a classified report on the information to be put before the closed-door session by the Senate Intelligence Committee.

Byrd cautioned during Monday's debate that Senate rules strictly prohibit senators and their employees from disclosing classified intelligence material, unless the Senate approves such disclosures.

"The need for such strictures is obvious," said Byrd. "We are dealing in the realm of national security."

In asking for the secret session, Dole said he still has questions about the allegations despite a statement from the head of the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration that Torrijos "has never been a target of investigation."

"Well, that is fine," Dole responded. "But should he have been the target of investigation?"

Commenting on the range of allegations the committee looked into, Bayh responded that "we read some of this stuff in the newspapers. Some of it is true and some of it is false. We tried to ferret out the facts."

Material from the DEA files previously leaked to the media included unverified agent field reports.

After examining selected documents made available to senators by the committee Monday, Dole said he still had "30 or 40 questions."

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., another of the more than a dozen senators who examined the material, said he saw nothing that he thought would have affected the treaty negotiations.

One matter alluded to when the drug allegations have been raised is a sealed federal grand jury indictment handed down in New York City in 1971 naming Moises Torrijos, the general's brother, as having been involved in narcotics trafficking.

Moises Torrijos never was arrested and has been Panama's ambassador to Spain since 1976. His brother has been quoted as saying he would hand over the ambassador to the United States to face any drug charges.

cated at the airport. "Then we saw three bright flashes."

"What he was doing down so low, I don't know," Roth said.

While it was not known whether there were any eyewitnesses to the crash, one Lubbockite said he watched as the plane first tried to land.

"It was like the whole thing just started coming apart in mid-air," Raymond Rauls of Lubbock said. "After it slid off the runway, he took it back up again and looked like he was going to try it again."

The pilot reportedly pulled the craft back up into the air, barely off the ground, after it slid off the runway at the small private airport.

The airport is equipped with lighted runways for night landing.

Witnesses said the plane appeared to shake, as if suffering some kind of structural difficulty or extreme turbulence and headed north from the airport.

The plane then circled back around west before hitting a power line crossing the highway and plunging to the ground.

Douglass reportedly had rented the plane from Avtech Aviation, Inc., near Lubbock International Airport.

Wayne Hill, team supervisor for Lubbock Approach Control, said the plane made a routine departure from the international airport about 7:05 p.m.

Control officials received reports from Douglass of normal altitude changes until 7:32 p.m., when the control terminated radar service after it was advised the craft was going into Town and Country Airport.

Rhiley, who was closing up the aviation offices at the time of the mishap, said pilots do not need radio contact to land at the small airport, and Douglass apparently had none.

"You don't have to have any permission to land like at the bigger airports. It's an uncontrolled airport," Rhiley said.

The plane was so mangled that rescue workers, including Lubbock firemen, county sheriff's deputies and Department of Public Safety troopers, thought at first the wreckage contained only two bodies.

Electricity was knocked out in some parts of South Lubbock and most of the county area near the site by the downed power lines, and crewmen worked into the night to restore energy.

Services for Douglass will be 3 p.m. Wednesday at First United Methodist Church in Eules with the Rev. Hiram Johnson, pastor, officiating.

Burial will follow in Bluebonnet Hills in Colleyville under the direction of Lucas Funeral Home.

Douglass had attended Texas Tech University for two years, majoring in geology. He was a graduate of Trinity High School in Eules and reportedly was about to get his flight instructor's license.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Douglass of Eules; a brother, Cary Douglass of Eules; a grandmother, Mrs. Ethel Douglass of Lubbock; and a step-grandmother, Mrs. Samantha Lankford of Chillicothe.

Services for Davis and Gerald were pending this morning with Singleton Funeral Home in Andrews.

Needham's funeral is scheduled for 11:30 a.m. Wednesday at Resthaven Memorial Chapel in Dallas. All other arrangements remained pending with Restland Funeral Home.

Carter Wins Support In Coal Crisis

tion, the major industry bargaining arm which has been unable to reach a contract settlement with the union.

Meanwhile, the administration pursued an alternative strategy should Carter decide on tougher action to end the strike.

Labor Secretary Ray Marshall, on Capitol Hill for talks with key congressmen, told them he has drafted a contract proposal to present to the union, and the BCOA.

Sources described the proposal as an interim step taken before Carter selects one or a combination of three "final" actions to end the strike. The alternatives include invoking the back-to-work provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act, asking Congress to enact legislation permitting temporary federal seizure of coal mines or seeking legislation calling for binding arbitration.

Carter has not yet made a final decision on what step to take, Powell said.

"The view generally is that it might be productive to leave some doubt in the minds of both parties whether it's the lady or the tiger that remains behind the door," one official said.

AFL-CIO President George Meany said, however, that his talks with Marshall indicated "the president is thinking in terms of mid-winter session of the AFL-CIO Executive Council, where he said he thinks seizure is the best alternative open to Carter and said he would understand invoking the Taft-Hartley Act."

The UMW is not a member of the AFL-CIO.

Each day the strike goes unsettled, utilities throughout the Midwest and Mid-Atlantic states move closer to mandatory electricity cutbacks to industry. In Indiana cutbacks already are in force in some areas, and 400 workers were newly laid off, bringing the strike-related jobless total there to about 1,500.

Congress is thought cool to proposals for government intervention requiring special legislation because of worries the measure could interfere with Senate debate on the Panama treaties and upcoming labor law legislation.

Sources said the tentative PM contract called for cost-of-living pay boosts and could mean a $2.40 hourly wage increase over three years for miners now averaging $7.80, roughly the same as the latest BCOA offer.

But PM agreed to forego BCOA demands for the right to process unlimited non-union coal through UMW mines and to place miners on a 30-day probationary period. Production incentives the BCOA has been de objects to the incentives on safety grounds.

High Court To Act In School Dispute

the risk of oil fouling the ocean beaches and parks in America's most densely populated coastal area."

The planned drilling will be the first in the Atlantic Ocean since the government initiated its push to find new energy sources.

The six firms awaiting word from the high court — all poised to begin full exploration and production — are Shell, Mobil, Texaco, Gulf, Exxon and Houston Oil and Gas Co.

Most of the initial exploration areas are east of Atlantic City, N.J., but some to the north are off New York's Long Island and two are east of Cape Henlopen, Del.

Experts believe that the Baltimore Canyon could contain as much as 1.4 billion barrels of oil and 9.4 trillion cubic feet of natural gas.

In another action, the Supreme Court agreed today to decide whether the federal government may force parochial schools to bargain with teacher unions.

The justices voted to review an appeal by the National Labor Relations Board aimed at overturning a decision by the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals that federal labor law does not apply to church-run schools.

The government's test case focuses on Roman Catholic schools in the Chicago and Fort Wayne-South Bend, Ind., dioceses, but carries the potential for broad national impact. Some 108,000 lay teachers are employed in nearly 10,000 elementary and secondary schools run by the Catholic Church in the United States.

In other actions announced as it returned from a four-week recess, the Supreme Court:

— Let stand a lower court's ruling that church-related schools may not refuse to admit black children as students on grounds that religious scruples against integration.

— Agreed to decide whether the federal government must impose higher tariffs on electronic products imported from Japan to end what American manufacturers claim is unfair competition.

— Said it will hear arguments before deciding whether it should help resolve a dispute between Texas and California over the estate of multi-millionaire Howard Hughes.

Lay teachers, whose numbers have increased in Catholic schools across the nation in recent years to replace the nuns who once had filled almost all such positions, held elections in the Chicago and Indiana dioceses in 1975 and voted for union representation.

The elections were held with the NLRB's blessing but over the objections of church officials.

The dioceses refused to bargain with the teachers' unions, contending that their First Amendment rights to freedom of religion exempted them from the National Labor Relations Act.

The NLRB cited the church officials for unfair labor practices and ordered them to negotiate with the unions. The board ruled that while the schools were religiously affiliated, they were not completely religious and therefore were not exempt from labor laws.

On an appeal by the two dioceses, the 7th Circuit panel reversed the NLRB's ruling. "The very threshold act of certification of the union necessarily alters and impinges upon the religious character of all parochial schools," the appeals court said.

It ruled that having to deal with a union in collective bargaining would unconstitutionally take away from the control of church officials in overseeing "the religious mission of the schools."

In its Supreme Court appeal, the NLRB pointed out that many Roman Catholic schools have submitted to collective bargaining with lay teacher unions and that the process "has been working smoothly."

It also noted that Catholic schools now must answer to many governmental regulations such as fire inspections, zoning ordinances, health and safety standards, minimum wage laws and compulsory attendance regulations.

"The danger of economic strife if workers in religious schools were deprived of the opportunity to engage in collective bargaining ... justified the determination by Congress not to exempt such schools from the rights and obligations imposed on all other private employers and employees," the board's appeal said.

The Chicago diocese operates two secondary schools, Quigley North and Quigley South. Forty-six teachers joined the union there.

The Fort Wayne-South Bend unit was comprised of some 180 teachers at five secondary schools in northeastern Indiana.

U.S. To Strengthen Forces In Pacific

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The security of the Middle East and Persian Gulf oil producing areas is as vital to the United States as is the security of NATO and Asian allies, says Defense Secretary Harold Brown.

Brown spoke of the new emphasis on U.S. military interests in the oil regions during a speech Monday before the Los Angeles World Affairs Council. The text was made available here.

Touching on other defense matters, Brown disclosed that South Korea's defenses will be bolstered by additional U.S. Air Force F-4 Phantom jets before withdrawals of American ground combat troops start at the close of this year.

The administration has referred increasingly to Middle East interests beyond Arab-Israeli issues, and plans a force of more than three divisions that could respond quickly to trouble there. Brown made the strongest statement so far on what he termed "a highly volatile region."

"Because the area is the world's greatest source of oil, the Middle East and the Persian Gulf cannot be separated from our security and that of NATO and our allies in Asia," he said.

"We intend to safeguard the production of oil and its transportation to consumer nations without interference by hostile powers."

In addition to U.S. plans for South Korea's defense, Brown told of a decision to strengthen U.S. Pacific forces in the next five years.

They include the arming of B-52 strategic bombers now based on Guam with cruise missiles; stationing of $100 million AWACS radar and command planes in Asia, probably on the Japanese island of Okinawa; and equipping U.S. Pacific air units with the F-15 Eagle, the Air Force's first-line fighter aircraft.

HANDLING your moped safely involves some practice exercises. Here the cornering drill helps develop the ability to make sharp turns or corners safely.

Safety Tips Given For Mopeds

By BOB CLAMPETT

All right, students, take your seats. Don't talk to your partner. Bring fresh pencils daily and plenty of your own note paper. The name of this course is Moped Riding, 101, a survey course covering the basics of learning to ride a motorized bicycle. Now, on the first unit, required in all survey courses which we call our basic theory of learning.

Second In A Series

1. Wear bright clothing. And add a megapatch to the back of the jack if it makes you more visible.
2. Use a helmet. Although your body may survive a fall at 10 miles per hour, your skull could easily be cracked if it hit a stone, curb, or bumper guard.
3. Wear a pair of goggles. And at speeds of up to 30 mph, you'll need strong protection from the wind, which will cause a flood of tears, particularly at night.
4. Shoes. For most moped riding, motorcycle-style boots are not really necessary, but laced shoes are. Your slip-ons may slip off, leaving you exposed down below.
5. Wear heavy-duty pants. Protect those knees from scrapes by wearing heavier-material pants when weather allows. Be careful of your cuffs getting caught on the pedals too.

Each time you prepare to ride, you must give your moped a quick "pre-flight" safety check, something like this:

Tires — Are they under-inflated? Are the rims still seated properly? Are there any signs of cuts or excessive wear? Are they wearing evenly? Be sure.

Wheels — Are the spokes tight? Make certain that the wheels are adjusted properly.

Brake levers — Are the cables connected and tight? Are the levers operative? Fuel tank — Always check to be sure you have enough fuel.

Lights — Flick them on and off. Check your brake lights while you're at it. Pedals — Do they turn freely? Does the chain drive appear clean and clear of mud? See any cracked or missing links?

But now you're riding. Feel the sensation of powered forward movement. Then, when you feel it's time, release the throttle and slowly apply the brake by squeezing the brake lever, back wheel first and front wheel quickly thereafter. You'll slowly come to a stop. You may have noticed that I stressed the importance of pulling your rear-wheel brake first. That's because the majority of your moped's braking power, about 75 percent, is in the front. Premature use of your front-wheel brake will adversely affect your handling of the bike, could lock up your front wheel, and could possibly send you tumbling over the handlebars.

Another important phenomenon concerns what to do with your knees during the ride. Keep them tucked in as close to moped's center as possible. This gives you better balance, more control, and it also protects your knees through the corners.

100 YARDS OF WRECKAGE — Both east and west portions of Interstate 10 in El Paso were closed Monday afternoon after a semi-trailer truck driven by Jeffrey Scott Meadows, 27, of Jayetteville, Ga., flipped twice while taking a curve and exploded after hitting the center median of the freeway. The wreckage damaged nearly 100 yards of freeway center fence and threw bails of cotton on the opposite freeway lanes. Meadows escaped the spectacular accident with very minor injuries. Convicted Lackey Gets Death Penalty

By FRANK PATRICK
Avalanche-Journal Staff
SAN ANGELO — A jury here Monday decreed that Clarence Allen Lackey be put to death for the brutal slaying of Toni Dianne Kumpf.

The grim verdict capped a dramatic trial, which included several moments of pathos.

One of those moments came when a woman who said she loved Lackey tearfully gave testimony which, in the minds of some observers, clinched the 23-year-old defendant's capital murder conviction.

Tension mounted as the jury filed into the courtroom here at 7:10 p.m., after deliberating on Lackey's fate for an hour and 33 minutes.

It was up to the nine-man, three-woman panel to answer two questions: basically, whether the murder was done intentionally and whether Lackey would probably commit criminal acts of violence in the future.

Presiding Dist. Judge Robert C. Wright took the jury verdict and read it before asking the defendant to stand. He then read aloud the affirmative answers to the two questions, answers which in combination were tantamount to the death penalty.

The judge then told Lackey his punishment "shall be by death, by execution, according to law."

Lackey stood ramrod straight, his face registering little emotion as the pronouncement was made.

Miss Kumpf was killed July 31, 1977. In opting for the ultimate penalty jurors rejected an emotional plea for mercy lodged by defense lawyers, and agreed with Lubbock Criminal Dist. Atty. Alton Griffin that justice demanded Lackey's execution.

During a gripping punishment argument, the veteran DA asked jurors to imagine the horror after horror which he said the victim must have experienced until "her life drained in blood onto that mattress."

Griffin asked the jury to consider Miss Kumpf's thoughts when her door was kicked down before dawn and awakened to scream for help.

"That was the first horror," Griffin said.

He asked jurors to imagine what went on in the victim's mind as, Griffin said, she might have come to in a pickup truck or later in a strange house.

"She was taken to a strange house and forced to submit," Griffin stated. "She may have been thinking 'My God, I've submitted, now maybe its over,'" the prosecutor said.

"What happens? Her throat is cut and I submit by two slashes, so deep you could see inside the throat."

Griffin said Miss Kumpf never knew what he termed a final degradation, being abandoned "like an animal, a dog or a piece of trash" at the edge of a cotton field south of Lubbock.

As evidence during the punishment phase of the trial, Griffin and Asst. Dist. Atty. Phil Gamble introduced documents showing Lackey earlier had been convicted of a 1973 burglary and of a 1974 burglary with intent to commit rape.

Griffin hammered hard at that record, saying it gave jurors an accurate gauge of what to expect from the defendant in the future.

He said each crime proved more violent than the last.

"Clarence Allen Lackey had every reason to know that if you break into someone's house and they can tell someone about it, you can go to the penitentiary," Griffin argued.

Court-appointed defense attorney Phil Brown told jurors he would "beg you to See SAN ANGELO Page 4

Hospital To Advance Salary To Recruits

Faced with personnel shortages, the Lubbock County Hospital District board of managers Monday voted to advance prospective employees a month's pay to help draw more nurses here from other cities and states.

The month's advance — which must be repaid through payroll deductions during the worker's first year of employment — will be used "primarily to help recruit nurses," Gerald Bosworth, executive director of the district and Health Sciences Center Hospital, said.

He called the new policy an "initial step, trying to do a little more" to gain more employees for the county teaching hospital, now in its third week of business. If the policy doesn't get results, Bosworth said he may return to the board with more proposals for recruitment incentives.

The policy approved Monday amounts to an interest-free loan of at least $936 to registered nurses coming to Lubbock from other cities. Such a loan, Bosworth said, may help bring in nurses who want to make the move but cannot afford relocation expenses.

The Health Sciences Center Hospital has a work force of about 500 employees — 145 of them registered nurses or licensed vocational nurses. Hospital officials say they need about 60 more nurses to adequately staff the services available.

Many nurses have been working overtime to make up for the personnel shortage. Bosworth told the board Monday the hospital "doesn't have enough staff to do everything that's been requested" for surgical operations. Also, more nurses are needed to open another patient-care wing of the new medical facility, he said.

Presently about 125 of the hospital's 245 beds are staffed and available. Daily census has been running at over 100 patients — although Monday was an off day with only 87 beds occupied — and Bosworth said more beds should be opened to meet demand.

Offering prospective employees an advance of one month's pay is "very conservative" in light of the incentives provided by hospitals in other parts of the country, Bosworth said.

Also Monday, the board agreed to buy more equipment, costing about $91,000, for the hospital's neonatal intensive care unit. And the group heard reports on the facility's first half-month in business.

As of Friday, the hospital has recorded 331 admissions and 110 births — "significant activity for the first 17 days," Bosworth said.

J.C. Rickman, board chairman, said only about one percent of the patients admitted to date have qualified for taxpayer-financed care under the district's medical indigency assistance program.

Although he expects that figure to swell, board members said the new hospital is off to a good fiscal start.

Herd Of Cows Sent To Help

BY EMMA STENEHJEM
Bismarck, N.D.

I didn't expect the storm to break until later that day. When the sky cracked open and the rains began, I was still driving on the main road with my granddaughter MaryBeth. My farm in Arnegard was still 12 miles away. Then I remembered the short cut around some grazing land.

It was a gravel road, deeply rutted by tractor marks, as is common in these rural parts of North Dakota. Something warned me not to risk it, but darkness was coming on and I was anxious to get home.

"How did your practice go, MaryBeth?" I asked brightly. I knew my 10-year-old granddaughter was deathly afraid of storms. She had come to spend the Easter holiday with me and, to pass the time, had joined the church choir. Tomorrow, Easter Sunday, they would be singing the beautiful "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's Messiah.

"It was fine, Grandma," MaryBeth said in a small voice, keeping her eyes on the road.

I zigzagged along, grumbling each time I swerved to miss the giant cuts of the ruts. Then suddenly, as I rounded a curve, a blur of lights exploded in front of me. Horrified, I pulled hard on the wheel. A big car swooshed by, crowding us into a deep rut. The steering wheel jerked out of my hands and the car flipped over.

Dazed, I tried to move myself. The crash had pushed me under the steering wheel and into the leg space in front of the driver's seat. I heard a weak whimper from the back seat. "Are you hurt, child?" I called.

A faint voice said, "I think I'm OK, Grandma."

"Come to me if you can," I called frantically. I knew I was too hurt to move to her. My legs were twisted and there was a strange heaviness in my chest.

In a few moments I saw her frightened face peering at me from between the spokes of the steering wheel.

"Lord, forgive me for bringing this upon her," I groaned to myself. But there was no time to chide myself for choosing the short cut. I had to think of a way to get help. Should I send my frightened granddaughter out in the rain where lightning flashes cracked across the sky?

There was only one solution. MaryBeth would have to go out in the storm that terrified her and look for help.

"Crawl through the window, child," I told her feebly. Soon she managed to wiggle out into the rain. "I'm scared, Grandma," she wailed through the wind and thunder crashes.

"Don't be frightened," I called. "Look for a light or a house." There was silence. Then at last she said, "I think I see some lights!"

"Go to them," I urged, and prayed for God to be with her as she splashed off through the fields.

"Dear God, please protect and guide MaryBeth," I prayed over and over again. "Send Your guardian angel to be with her!"

The rain continued to pour on the crushed car as I waited and prayed. It seemed like hours and hours. What had happened to MaryBeth? Had she found someone? Was she lost in the storm?

I don't know how long I lay in the car, praying. But suddenly through the steady movement of the rain and wind I began to detect a new motion. What was it—a rubbing? Craning my neck painfully, I was able to see cows nudging my wrecked car!

"Hiyah, hiyah! Get home, you critters," I heard someone shouting. It's a farmer, I thought joyfully. I began to call for help.

"What's that?" came a startled reply from out in the storm. Soon a rain-soaked farmer was peering through the open window of my car. I tried to smile at him. "Are you hurt?" he cried, vainly trying to pull open the jammed door.

"Somewhat," I answered weakly. "But I can't move and had to send a little girl for help. She's out there somewhere..." I looked helplessly into the fields.

"Don't worry," the man said. "We found her in my field. My cattle strayed in the storm and I found her right in the middle of my cows. She was so frightened and exhausted that she wasn't able to make sense, so I brought her back to my house. Then I came on horseback to round up the cattle, and found you." He shook his head. "It's amazing. I wouldn't have seen a darn thing in this storm if it weren't for these here cows!"

Suddenly I knew how the Lord had answered my prayers. He had sent the cows! They were our guardian angels — a herd of cows!

The farmer took off his horse's saddle blanket and covered me with it, promising to go for help. Soon I was taken to Arnegard Hospital. MaryBeth, already there, rushed to my side.

"You'll be all right now, Grandma," she said happily.

I nodded, thinking about God's special answer to my prayers. My old body would still be able to sing that wonderful song of praise at Easter Mass.

"Yes, child," I said to her. "The 'Hallelujah Chorus' will surely be sung in church tomorrow!"

Marine Dies Of Gunshot

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (UPI) — Marine Lance Cpl. Armando C. Vasquez, 20, who stabbed to death two patients in a rampage through a military hospital before he was shot by a military policeman a month ago, died Monday.

Vasquez of El Paso died of heart failure brought on "by the trauma of a gunshot wound," a Marine spokesman said.

He had been hospitalized in serious condition since he was shot twice with a 45-caliber pistol on Jan. 20, and one of the bullets remained lodged within inches of his heart, too close to remove.

Vasquez was initially hospitalized for possible head and neck injuries after a truck he was driving crashed, killing a passenger.

"THE NET PROFIT CROP OF 1977"

Some producers contracted their 1977 Sunflower acreage with "The Sunflower People of West Texas", for eleven cents.

Unlike their neighbor, some producers wanted higher prices than the $1.1 Cent Per Lb. Contract being offered by "The Sunflower People of West Texas" in their Joint-Venture Contract.

Now when harvest time finally arrived and the crop developed to be the largest in the history of the United States, the farmer who wanted MORE actually got LESS.

Friends, don't get caught again holding the short end of the stick: The "Sunflower People of West Texas" now have contracts available for the 1978 Crop Year.

Long before anyone else establishes a market, "The Sunflower People of West Texas" offer you a Sunflower Production Contract that will give you, the farmer, a price for your product that allows you a Net Profit.

Only by contracting ahead can you guarantee yourself a net profit in planting Sunflowers in 1978.

When you consider that it take less cash per acre to grow Sunflowers than any other crop, one must appreciate the fact that it will greatly reduce cash flow requirements for farming operations.

Each year "The Sunflower People of West Texas" offer new opportunities to the producer who wants to help himself. The "Plant Now-Pay Later" program for Sunflower Planting Seed has allowed many producers to stay in business in hard pressed financial times. The same people again offer this same program to those who would like it.

Rsults of last year's Sunflower Crop show a need for another service to be added: This year you can again contract to have your spraying for Insect Control included and pay for it in the fall when you harvest your crop, should you desire to do so.

So ... if it is Profit You Want, SUNFLOWERS ARE THE ANSWER. CONTRACT WITH "THE SUNFLOWER PEOPLE". For full details about planting seed, contracts, spraying and fall terms on the complete program, contact —

HEART BALL CHAIRMAN — Mrs. Robert R. Norris, Heart Ball chairman, left, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Merriman watch the dancing Friday night during the 12th annual Heart Ball held in the Lubbock Country Club.

Heart Ball Raises Needed Funds

The 12th annual Heart Ball found 'good hearts and gentle people' gathered in the Lubbock Country Club Friday to raise needed funds for the American Heart Association.

The money is necessary to assist in the effort to combat heart disease by providing educational services, research monies, free blood pressure clinics, field studies, volunteer training and other supportive services.

Statistics show heart trouble is one of the leading causes of death as 29,780,000 persons in this country suffer from some form of vascular disorder.

The Heart Ball traditionally raises a goodly portion of the Lubbock contribution to the American Heart Association.

Heart Ball Chairman was Mrs. Robert R. Norris.

Other chairmen were: Mrs. Morris Turner and Mrs. Charles Bishop, ticket committee co-chairmen; Mrs. James Spears, decorations; Mrs. Robert Moore, finance; Mrs. Carl Cannon, publicity and Mrs. Glenn Jones, food and beverages.

Bridal Courtesies

JANET THOMPSON

Janet Thompson, bride-elect of Brady Mimms, was honored with a lingerie shower Saturday in the home of Mrs. E.H. Brazier. There were five hostesses. Special guests were Mrs. J.E. Mimms, mother of the future bridegroom; Mrs. Melba Thompson Jr., mother of the bride-elect; Mrs. Hal Martin, grandmother of the future bridegroom; and Mrs. Melba Thompson Sr., grandmother of the bride-elect.

The couple plans to be married February 25 at Woodrow Baptist Church.

FINLEY-DUFF

Ann Finley and Bill Duff were honored Sunday with a couple's reception in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H.T. Duff. Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Finley, parents of the bride-elect, and Mr. and Mrs. L.A. Duff, parents of the future bridegroom, were special guests.

The couple plans to be married March 10 at Broadway Church of Christ.

LOW-FAT BREAD

For people who still think bread is fattening, an average slice (one ounce) of whole wheat or enriched white bread has fewer calories than: a half cup of cottage cheese; a cup of skim milk; one medium egg; one small banana; a half cup of cole slaw; two tomatoes; and every comparable portion of meat. So, it's not the bread that adds calories, it's what you put on it or eat with it.

Declaring at four hearts, South took a line that seemed to offer excellent prospects in view of the bidding. Unfortunately, he overlooked a line that would have virtually guaranteed the contract.

After West's one spade overall was passed back to him, South showed his strong hand and good suit with a jump to three hearts. Holding a ruffing value, a king and four trumps, North had just enough to go on to game.

West led a club to his partner's ace, and declarer won the club return. Trumps were drawn in two rounds and, since declarer had to lose a spade trick, he concentrated his efforts on trying to avoid two diamond losers. Since West had over-called in spades, declarer declared that his best chance was to play West for the jack of spades. Accordingly, he led a low spade to dummy's ten, and when East won the jack, the contract was doomed. West had to score his two aces for a one-trick set.

If we presume that West has a five-card suit for his overcall, declarer has a sure-trick line for his contract. Have you spotted it?

After drawing trumps, declarer should lead a low spade toward the queen. West cannot afford to rise with the ace. When he plays low, the queen wins. Declarer returns a spade. As it happens, the jack drops and the ten is set up for a diamond discard, but let's suppose that East started with two low spades and West has the jack.

West captures the king of spades with the ace, but he is end played. If he returns a low spade, dummy's ten wins. If he returns the jack of spades, declarer ruffs, enters dummy with a trump and discards a diamond on the ten of spades. Anything else West does is equally futile, for a club return gives declarer a ruff-sluff, while a diamond automatically eliminates declarer's second loser in the suit since it is into his Q-10 tenace.

Hair Loss Causes Still Mystery To Science

By CHARLES HIX

Even before Delilah clipped Samson, myths and theories abounded about the mysteries of hair loss. Although scientific study has progressed, not all factors are completely understood. Hair loss can vary among males in the same family and from generation to generation.

Balding is not a dread disease. In fact, it's not a disease at all; hair loss is associated with some illnesses, such as anemia and thyroid conditions, but the loss is reversible by treating the disease.

Because hair pretty much grows according to an established cycle, some daily loss of hair is a healthy sign, indicating that the ongoing process of hair replenishment is taking place. Each scalp hair grows for two to six years (the average is four), then rests for about three months before being pushed out by a new hair growing from the same root. Fortunately, follicles don't work in unison, so at any given time considerably more hairs are growing than resting. However, more hairs do fall out during the autumn, perhaps a subconscious acceptance of the world's natural rhythms. Only when the rate of loss exceeds the regrowth rate does thinning or balding become evident. As men age, regrowth does slow, so thinning is inevitable.

While there are various contributory reasons for baldness, the principal one is the accumulation of androgen (the male sex hormone most related to balding) that accompanies maturation.

Androgen shortens the growing phase, since the hair root is prematurely placed in the resting phase when the androgen level in the blood reaches a certain level. As the androgen level continues to increase, so does the frequency of resting cycles. Thus, the hair fails to grow to any appreciable length because the roots have atrophied, though they are not necessarily dead. The hair that is now produced looks more like fuzz than hair.

Eventually this downlike growth is barely visible, although the roots keep repeating these feeble cycles of growth and rest for many years. Surprisingly, perhaps, it's very difficult to grow new hair on a man whose head resembles the proverbial billiard ball. If the roots are dormant, this can be accomplished by injecting the scalp with the female hormone estrogen — only he may actually start sprouting breasts, experience a reduction in his sex drive and have other unsatisfactory side effects.

There is no actual proof that changes in the diet or mineral and vitamin supplements taken internally can alter the course of hair loss. Yet many men firmly believe in and swear by such "remedies," claiming that their hair growth has improved.

Physicians, in addition to condemning "hair vitamins" or "antibaldness lotions" as frauds, also dismiss scalp manipulation as a means to prevent or retard hair loss.

However, even the most adamant detractors of scalp massage and treatments to prolong hair health do allow that these measure feel good and are relaxing. As one plastic surgeon freely admits, there is greater value in what a man perceives as truth than there is in the actual truth about baldness. Many duped men actually do find their hair growing more healthily again. Whether or not this "impossible" phenomenon is explained by the fact that the acute anxiety over hair loss has been relieved simply can't be ascertained. But some myths are absolutely unfounded. Cutting hair doesn't make it grow faster for example, or else there'd be herds of men shaving their heads simply to cure their hair recession.

How to Win At The Losing Game

The Diet Center Way!!

PERHAPS THE MOST unusual aspect of the Diet Center's approach to attacking extra pounds is that "every single person who comes through our doors is treated as an individual."

Since its inception in 1970, Diet Center had avoided the group therapy approach, preferring instead to offer each client personal, private counseling and support.

What we offer dieters in the program is the knowledge that through the thick and thin of their weight reducing period they have a friend — who understands.

The Diet Center program is based on four phases of dieting from preparing to lose weight to maintaining ideal weight once its attained. All phases include the private counseling sessions.

Another important reason for the success of Diet Center now incorporated with centers in the U.S. and Canada is the quick results of the Program!

While other reducing plans may set one or two pounds as average weekly losses, Diet Center averages three and one half pounds per week. A conservative estimate of weight loss is between 18 and 30 lb. No crash starvation techniques are utilized nor are drugs or shots used to achieve the losses.

BASICALLY, it is just a matter of sensible eating, combined with Diet Centers own food supplement that contains the necessary ingredients to help you diet and feel your very best.

DEAR ABBY

DEAR ABBY: Two months ago I lost the sweet and gentle man to whom I had been happily married for 31 years. With our three children grown and into happy marriages of their own, we were looking forward to traveling to all those wonderful faraway places we couldn't see until our "retirement years." And of course we had planned to grow old together.

Suddenly all these hopes have disappeared. I am not bitter. I realize that many couples weren't blessed with as many happy years as we have had.

Not only is my complaint so "petty" I'm almost ashamed to mention it, but it is directed to many of my well-meaning friends who have written to express their condolences.

Each day I want to shout from the rooftop, "Please, good people, stop addressing my mail 'Mary E. Jones. Legally, yes; socially, I'm still 'Mrs. James R. Jones!'"

I was always so proud to be his wife; I am just as proud to bear his name as his widow.

Please tell them for me, Abby. Everyone I know reads your column faithfully. Thank you.

NEW WIDOW

DEAR WIDOW: Although I've mentioned it in my column many times, I will publish your letter as a reminder to those who have forgotten (or never learned) that a widow is always addressed (socially) as "Mrs. (her husband's name) Jones."

DEAR ABBY: There's a boy in our office who is nosy to the point of looking over my shoulder while I'm writing a check. He also will pick up and read anything that happens to be on my desk.

While one of our co-workers was on vacation, his personal mail was stacked up on his desk. Mr. Nosy went through all the mail and commented to the rest of us, "Gee, Mr. Bigshot sure has a lot of bills!"

How does one handle such rudeness?
PERTURBED

DEAR PERTURBED: Good manners, taste, tact and respect for the privacy of others are almost impossible to teach those who have developed tasteless, tactless and nosy habits. So if it's privacy you want, keep everything of a personal nature out of sight.

DEAR ABBY: My mother has been divorced for 15 years. She's 63 and a nice-looking woman. Last month the man with whom she has been going for two years moved in with her. (He's also divorced.)

She says they love each other but if they get married they'll lose their welfare and Medicare benefits.

I am married and have a wonderful family. I disapprove of my mother living in sin with this man and have refused to visit her. She lives only a few miles from me.

She said if I loved her, I would "understand" and visit her. I've told her that she is welcome to come to my home, but I'm not going to hers.

Do you think I'm right?
CONN. DAUGHTER

DEAR DAUGHTER: You have a right to disapprove of your mother's lifestyle, but it's not your place to "judge" and punish "sins." That's the Lord's job. ("Hate the sin but love the sinner.")

Who said the teen years are the happiest? For Abby's new booklet "What Teenagers Want To Know," write Abby: 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Enclose $1 and a long, stamped (24 cents), self-addressed envelope, please.

FIVE DIE IN HOUSE FIRE—Nell Slay and her son, Michael, neighbors of the Faustino "Joe" Garcia family, survey the remains of the Garcia house in north Harris County after a fire Sunday night took the lives of Mrs. Garcia and four of the six children, Faustino Jr., 12, Melda, 10, Veronica, 8, and Roxanne. The two children who escaped are John Paul, 13, and Lora, 9. The father was working at the time. The fire was reported to have started when one of the three goats kept on the back porch kicked over a heater. (AP Laserphoto)

San Angelo Jury Assesses Death Penalty To Lackey

give life imprisonment in this case, but life.

His voice at times breaking, Brown pleaded for a decision which would not "shut the door completely for life and hope for Clarence Allen Lackey."

Brown told the panel their decision would never leave them, and indicated that if they were going to err, they should do it on the side of mercy.

"If you vote (for life imprisonment) justice will be served tempered by mercy," Brown said. "Punishment will be adequate."

Evidence during the trial indicated Miss Kumpf, a 23-year-old Tech University Medical School employee, was abducted from her 1001 Ave. W Lubbock residence before dawn by a man who crashed through the door, subdued her and took her away in a pickup truck.

The victim's partially clothed and bloody body was found about 9:30 p.m. by a farmer who was irrigating his field.

The state built its case on abundant clinical evidence, buttressed in part by fleeting eyewitness accounts from the apartment scene.

The coup de grace was the highly emotional testimony by Mrs. Carroll Jean Johnson, who said Lackey, her former lover, had told her the afternoon of July 31 that he was the object of law enforcement officers' search for a suspect in the slaying.

Clinical evidence included an opinion by a Department of Public Safety fingerprint expert that a print found on a package of cigarettes on the bed of Miss Kumpf's apartment was that of Lackey's left index finger.

Eyewitness Ricky Tomes indicated he saw a man fitting the defendant's general description speeding from the scene in pickup truck.

Blood of the victim's type was found at several locations at Lackey's 1216-A 83rd St. residence, according to the opinion of DPS chemist Jack Benton.

Benton also testified that, in his opinion, traces of that blood type were found inside a pickup truck parked at the residence and inside one of Lackey's boots.

Benton also gave his opinion that the victim had had sexual intercourse with a person who had the same blood type as Lackey.

Mrs. Johnson, 25, was granted immunity by the court on Griffin's recommendation.

She said she returned to the house she shared with Lackey shortly after 7:30 a.m. July 31 and found a large amount of blood on a bedroom carpet.

She said still wet blood was also on a chest-of-drawers and dresser in the room.

The witness said Lackey indicated about 3 p.m. that day that he was concerned with the grisly slaying.

She said the news came after she described a radio account of the crime.

"He sat there a couple of minutes and then reached over and took my hand and said 'Baby, I've got to tell you something...'" He said "I'm the one they're looking for," Mrs. Johnson said.

She then broke down on the witness stand.

The defense during punishment testimony elicited comments from a San Angelo psychiatrist, who said that in his opinion Lackey had suffered a form of epileptic seizure during the time in question and would have been unable to conform his conduct to the law.

The state presented in rebuttal testimony from a second psychiatrist, who said — after Griffin outlined Lackey's reported movements during the episode — that in his opinion it was "virtually unthinkable" that a person suffering a seizure could have demonstrated the purposeful behavior depicted by Griffin.

The death penalty conviction carries an automatic appeal.

The trial — which began with the jury selection process Jan. 30, and which was delayed by an incompetency hearing before a separate jury — was transferred here from Lubbock on a change of venue.

Woman's Death Result Of 'Chance'

By FRANK PATRICK
Avalanche-Journal Staff

SAN ANGELO—People are born with or develop certain skills and traits.

Toni Dianne Kumpf had, according to those who knew her, perhaps the greatest capacity of all — the capacity to love, to be concerned about others and to try to make them happy.

Toni Kumpf died young, and she died a terrible death.

The life was snuffed out just as the pretty young woman was beginning to establish herself as an adult, living on her own and through her own resources.

Investigators feel it was blind chance which singled out the victim for her fate. There was no evidence turned up by investigators to indicate Miss Kumpf knew Clarence Allen Lackey, the man who was found guilty of her murder.

Because she died young, her family perhaps knew her best.

Miss Kumpf's parents did not attend Lackey's trial here, but other relatives were present to talk about the shattering impact on those who loved her of the victim's death.

They (the parents) could not have stood up under it (the trial), an uncle said.

"It is just incomprehensible, they'll never get over it," he said.

He paused a moment. "Hopefully, they will be able to live their lives somehow around it, but they will never get over it."

Her father and stepmother, Jim and Carol Kumpf, live in Dallas. Her mother, Mrs. Jo Lassorella, resides in Las Vegas, Nev.

Relatives described Miss Kumpf as a "sweet, considerate" individual, who was basically somewhat shy.

"She spoke sweetly—her whole demeanor was that way," an aunt said. "As a child she was so very precious and petite."

The aunt said Miss Kumpf was always an extremely feminine girl and young woman who never went through a tom-boy stage.

Relatives said Miss Kumpf's family played a major emotional role in her life.

"She was a very good correspondent and wrote with regularity to her grandmother who just died in December," an aunt said.

The family said the grandmother was never told of Miss Kumpf's murder. Miss Kumpf, a Tech University graduate had been working at the medical school.

One relative said she had been "so proud of the fact that she was becoming independent."

Miss Kumpf reportedly spoke Spanish well, was interested in gourmet cooking and liked to snow ski.

Her consideration for others was the main personality feature mentioned by relatives, a trait which made it an enjoyable experience giving to her in turn. "Her parents gave her a bicycle for her birthday—her last birthday—and she was so excited about it. The enthusiasm was as if it had been the first bike she ever had," one of them said.

The family said Miss Kumpf had a "strong sense of Christianity" and had been very involved in working with youngsters in her church when she lived in Dallas.

"The thing we would like to stress is that something terrible like this can happen to anyone. You can be nice, you do not have to do anything wrong to end up in trouble."

"If we can get that across to others, maybe it will have accomplished something," a relative stated.

Local Candidates Ask Support Of Educators

By SYLVIA TEAGUE
Avalanche-Journal Staff

Candidates for Congress from the 19th district and state Senate hopefuls appealed for the support of educators Monday night at a forum at Smylie Wilson Junior High School.

Four candidates for Congress, Democrats Kent Hance and Morris Sheats and Republicans George Bush and Joe Hickox appeared at the forum sponsored by the Lubbock Classroom Teachers Association, Lubbock Educators Association and the Lubbock County Unit.

State Senate candidates present were Democrats Don Workman, Jesse George, Morris ("Moe") W. Turner, E.L. Short and Delwin Jones.

Sheats, pastor of the Trinity Church, was the sole Congressional candidate to express unqualified support for creating a Department of Education separate from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

"I believe if you take the department and separate it, it does not necessarily mean more and more bureaucratic tendencies," Sheats said.

State Sen. Kent Hance gave qualified support to the idea of a separate education department, suggesting that hearings be held to get educators' input on the matter.

He said his support would depend on how the new department would be established. He expressed fear that the proposed benefits of the separation might never reach the classroom level.

However, Midland oilman Bush and retired Air Force Lt. Col. Hickox opposed the creation of a new education department.

"The bureaucracy in society scares me," Bush said, adding that the creation of a new department would lead to "more government encroachment in life."

Hickox echoed the same thoughts, saying "A new department of education would expand the bureaucracy and unless you speak awful loud I will not do that (vote to create the new department)."

Bush advocated ridding education of "duplication of efforts and a lot of red tape," and Hickox drew applause when he said "free breakfasts and free lunches (in schools) have got to stop."

Hance said he supported legislation which would allow teachers to take jobs in another state without sacrificing their retirement benefits. He also said he opposed combining the teacher retirement system with social security.

Former Lubbock mayor Turner pointedly jabbed at two of his opponents, Short and Jones, calling their education voting records while in the state House, "shameful."

"I'm mystified these men are telling you how much they've done," Turner said.

Turner laid out a case of discrimination against teachers by explaining that of $770 monthly base pay for a Lubbock teacher with one year's experience, the educator takes home only $591.

"What a sad commentary. Students are taught by dedicated people worth only $591 a month (to the state)," he commented.

George, a former state representative from Brownfield, and Workman, a Lubbock banker and Texas Tech regent, both cited their experience as school teachers as proof they could understand the problems of educators.

George was applauded when he told that he had experienced the "below national average salaries, the overcrowded classrooms and the frustrations and the hopes" of being a teacher.

George listed numerous proposals he would advocate in the state senate if elected, including a salary schedule for teachers which would keep salaries at least 10 percent above the national average, an automatic cost of living increase for present and retired teachers, an improved teacher retirement system, legislation to protect teachers from lawsuits and extra pay for extra duties performed by educators.

Workman said he supported improving educational opportunities in Texas, but added "there's not enough money to go around. You and I are going to have to decide on priorities."

He said there is going to have to be major changes in school funding and suggested educators set standards for teachers who have just completed school.

Jones suggested making education part of the general appropriations bill. Then, Jones said, teachers would not be blamed for a tax hike which is often attributable to 176 state agencies receiving funds.

Short said he supported an annual school census at five year intervals, a sick leave policy for all teachers, the establishment of special day schools for the deaf and a law prohibiting loitering on school property.

About 150 educators attended the forum.

Theater May Close In Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Indianapolis Civic Theater, which calls itself the oldest community theater in the nation, will close this spring unless it is assured of major financial backing.

Kurt F. Panzer, president of the theater's board of directors, said the 64-year-old theater group's ticket sales were disappointing this season and it has run up deficits for several years.

Civic performs in the 800-seat Showalter Pavilion at the Indianapolis Museum of Arts complex. It was built with a $1 million gift to the city from the late Mrs. Ralph Showalter and opened in 1973.

Panzer said grants are being sought from the Lilly Endowment Inc. and the Indianapolis Foundation and volunteers were mounting a "save Civic" campaign.

George listed numerous proposals he would advocate in the state senate if elected, including a salary schedule for teachers which would keep salaries at least 10 percent above the national average, an automatic cost of living increase for present and retired teachers, an improved teacher retirement system, legislation to protect teachers from lawsuits and extra pay for extra duties performed by educators.

Chief Of Police In Small Town Has High Ambitions

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI) — Terry Donegan doesn't believe in thinking small.

He is 23 years old and serves as chief of police in Le Claire, a community of 2,600 residents in eastern Iowa.

Ultimately, Donegan wants to become the director of the FBI.

"I have wanted to do that since I was in fourth grade. And I think this is a good way to start," he said.

Now entering his second month on the job as chief, Donegan, a native of Franklin Park, Ill., said he's pleased with his work so far.

"I know I am probably one of the youngest police chiefs in the state, but it hasn't hurt any. We've been able to beef up the force and keep crime down," Donegan said. He served on the force for two years as an officer before his promotion to chief.

Donegan said his biggest problem now is the lack of crime in Le Claire.

"We're not a real big town. Honestly, we don't have any crime. We used to have more crime, but it's on the drop. Now there really isn't much," he said.

There are six officers on the force.

"We are working to get the force up to eight with an eight-man reserve force. We want to increase and expand our coverage. I am trying to get all the officers better trained as well," he said.

The Le Claire police department already is on the job 24 hours a day, Donegan said, "just like any other real police force."

He also said he's tried to get the community involved in police work.

"When I first was appointed, I set up a community advisory board to help get people involved. They had gotten used to not really being concerned. We did a lot of public speaking with the people. I get along well with everyone. I think that might be why I was appointed," he said.

Donegan said Le Claire is a "river town with people who were used to doing what they wanted to. Now, they are coming around. We are getting a lot more calls."

INVITATION FOR BIDS FOR REHABILITATION LUBBOCK COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

The Urban Renewal Agency of the City of Lubbock, Texas, will receive sealed bids for rehabilitation of residential structures in Areas 13 and 18, and the MOP project Area, Lubbock, Texas, until 10:00 a.m., Central Standard Time, Thursday, February 23, 1978, at which time and time all bids will be publicly opened and read aloud.

Bids are invited for rehabilitation of the structures at the following addresses:

1116 Itasca
3013 2nd Street
3301 E. 14th Street

Bid documents, including specifications and drawings may be obtained at the office of the Urban Renewal Agency located at 902 Texas Avenue, Lubbock, Texas.

The successful bidder must meet all requirements to act as a contractor as required by the Agency before award of the contract.

The contractor must assure that employees and applicants for employment are not discriminated against because of race, color, sex, religion, or national origin. Urban Renewal is an Equal Opportunity Employer and qualified minority contractors are invited to bid.

Bids may be held by the Urban Renewal Agency of the City of Lubbock for a period of time to insure approval and finalizing of the loan necessary for financing of the contract.

Urban Renewal Agency of the City of Lubbock, Texas, reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive any informality in the bidding.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR CHANGE OF NAME

Notice is hereby given that application has been made to the Savings and Loan Commission of the State of Texas by: Lubbock Savings and Loan Association to change its name to First Texas Savings Association of Lubbock. A hearing on the application will be held March 16, 1978 at 3:00 p.m., in the offices of the Savings and Loan Department, 1004 Lavaca, Austin, Texas, pursuant to authority and jurisdiction granted by Art. 852a, TEX. REV. CIV. STAT. ANNOT. The particular sections of the Statute involved are 212, 213 and 11-11. The applicant association asserts that no other association authorized to do business in this state has the name sought, nor is the proposed name similar to any other as to be calculated to deceive. If no written notice of objection appears in person or by attorney to protest said application is received by the Savings and Loan Commissioner from one or more persons on or before March 6, 1978, the hearing may be dispensed with by Order of the Savings and Loan Commissioner. ISSUED in Austin, Texas, February 13, 1978.
L. ALVIS VANDYGRIFF, Commissioner, Savings and Loan Department of Texas.

Sealed Proposals addressed to Mr. Ralph Williams, President, Board of Trustees, Klondike Consolidated Independent School District, Dawson County, Texas, shall be received in the library, located in the High School Building, Klondike Consolidated Independent School District, Dawson County, Texas, until 7:30 p.m., Monday, March 13, 1978, at which time they will be publicly opened and read aloud. For the furnishing of all labor, materials and performing all work required for the replacement of the gymnasium floor for the Klondike High School and for the furnishing of all labor, materials and performing of all work required for the replacement of roofs on existing school buildings for the Klondike Consolidated Independent School District, Dawson County, Texas, in accordance with Plans, Specifications and Contract Documents as prepared by Hulse and Donham, Architects and Planners, Andrews, Texas. Lump sum proposals will be received for each of the General Construction, A Cashier's Check Certified Check or acceptable Bidder's Bond Payable to the Klondike Consolidated Independent School District in the amount of not less than 5% of the largest possible total for the bid submitted must accompany each bid. Attention is called to the fact that the contractor must comply with all Federal, State and Local Labor Laws. The successful bidder will be required to enter into a contract with the Klondike Consolidated Independent School District, Dawson County, Texas, and furnish a Performance and Payment Bond in the amount of not less than 100% of the contract price, conditioned upon the performance of the contract. Attention is called to the fact that the Owner is exempt from the payment of the State Sales Tax normally levied against material costs. In order to take advantage of this exemption, materials and labor costs must be identified by the successful bidder. In developing this division of labor and material costs, the bidders are cautioned to include all costs and allowances not representing direct material costs with labor. The contract sum as identified by the Base Bid shall not include any allowance for the payment of State Sales Tax on materials required to complete the work. The successful bidder, upon award of the contract, will be furnished with a permit number which will enable him to purchase the required materials without payment of such taxes. Specifications and Plans may be obtained from the Architect in accordance with the stipulations set forth under Deposits and Retains. The bidder acknowledges the right of the Owner to reject any or all bids and to waive any informality or irregularity in any bid received. In addition, the bidder recognizes the right of the Owner to reject a bid if the bidder failed to furnish any required bid security, or to submit the data required by the bidding documents, or if the bid is in any way incomplete or irregular.

DEAR BUDDY'S
 Advice to The Homehunter
DEAR BUDDY: My kids need to walk to school, we need 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, we would love a fireplace but we can't pay more than $40,000. WORKING MOM WORKING MOM: As soon as you get off work, call us we've got a jewel (fireplace too) about a block from Wester school—We work late.
DEAR BUDDY: Every house I look at is the same. Isn't there a house with some personality that I can buy below $50,000.
PERSONALITY QUEEN
 QUEEN: If you would like to see an "extravert" in a 3 bedroom, 2 bath home, let us show you our "sparkle plenty" at 4814 54th Street. Hurry, it won't last!!

MHS Ace Hamby Doubtful For Bidistrict Tilt

By TOM HALLIBURTON
Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff

CANYON — Monterey basketball coach Joe Michalka had approached tonight's class AAAA bidistrict game with a more relaxed attitude than usual at playoff time.

Sunday night the 11-year coach was smiling and talking about why he wasn't as nervous as in other playoff appearances. Then things returned to normal Monday afternoon.

Michalka's leading scorer and rebounder, senior Tony Hamby (6-4), left school during the middle of the day and complained of chills and headaches. The co-captain missed Monday's practice and remained doubtful for the MHS-Amarillo High clash in the West Texas State gym at 8 p.m.

Does Hamby's absence hamper Monterey's chance of advancing to the region I semifinals Friday?

"I'd say that's a pretty good prediction," Michalka moaned. "But we are counting on Tony playing the game. He's taking several antibiotics, so we'll just have to wait and see if he's able."

Before Hamby departed with the flu, Michalka and Sandies coach Barry Arnwine rated the game as a tossup although Amarillo had defeated MHS 47-41 in a January meeting in Lubbock.

"Monterey only shot 30 percent that night, though," said the Amarillo coach. "I've played Joe (Michalka) too many times not to expect it to be close. Somehow, some way, it always winds up close." Michalka agreed.

"It's going to be a nip-and-tuck game. We just hope we can be more relaxed than we were at the start against Hereford. That game was kind of like a playoff game for us. We're just going to try to take our good shots."

Both coaches also acknowledged Amarillo owned the edge in quickness. With Hamby in the lineup, Monterey probably has a slight edge in overall size. Without Hamby, either Kevin Kirkman (6-4) or Keith Jenkins (6-3) draws the starting nod.

Michalka believes the Sandies have more quickness but concedes most of Monterey's opponents have more than his Plainsmen. The MHS coach rates

Hamby as his quickest player and his best jumper, too.

Monterey's other four starters are guard David Davidson (6-0, 14.6 avg.), guard Darin Layton (5-9, 2.3 avg.), forward Craig Ehlo (6-3, 7.0 avg.) and center Chuck Perry (6-5, 7.8 avg.). Hamby carries a 15.0 average and also grabs an average of 8.4 rebounds a game.

"We're not a very tall team except for (6-7 center Victor) Mitchell. They match-up pretty good there with Perry but our team probably is a little quicker. Monterey didn't shoot the ball well (30 percent from the field) the first time we played them and they have to shoot the ball well in order for their offense to be effective. If we play as good a defense as we did that night, then we will have a good chance," Arnwine said.

Mitchell blocked six shots and deflected a few others in the earlier Sandie-Plainsmen affair. The big Amarillo post carries a 15.9 scoring average and ranks second in 3-AAAA regular-season rebounding stats with a 12.1 average. The other AHS starters are forwards Russell Schaffer (6-1 senior, 9.9 avg.) and Jeff Helton (6-0 junior, 5.2 avg.) with guards Kevin Parker (6-0 senior, 12.1 avg.) and Blaine Smith (5-9 senior, 7.1 avg.).

NOTE: By agreement with the American Basketball Coaches Association, teams on probation by the NCAA are ineligible for Top 20 and national championship consideration by the UPI Board of Coaches. Those teams currently on probation for 1977 are: Centenary, Clemson, Hawaii, Minnesota, Nevada-Las Vegas, Western Carolina.

engaging in their own version of king of the hill these days. In the latest Associated Press voting, reflecting games through Sunday, there is a different No. 1 team for the third week in a row. United Press International, however, retained Marquette as No. 1.

Two weeks ago Kentucky stood at the top of the AP heap, a position the Wildcats held consistently for the first half of the year, before relinquishing it to Arkansas last week after a loss to Louisiana State. But Arkansas lost to Houston Saturday, which paved the way for Marquette to take over as No. 1.

The Warriors received 40 of 55 first-place votes in the nationwide balloting of sports writers and broadcasters, and a total of 1,034 points from AP. The defending NCAA champions defeated Wisconsin and Cincinnati in last week's action, improving their record to 21-2. Marquette drew 19 of 31 first-place votes from UPI to lead with 296 points.

Arkansas fell to fourth on both polls. The Razorbacks didn't even draw a first place vote in polling 190 points from UPI and 695 from AP.

Kentucky managed 11 of AP's 54 first-place votes, with UCLA and DePaul each getting two. Kentucky also got eight firsts from UPI, with New Mexico getting two and UCLA one.

On the AP poll, Kentucky moved a step back towards the top, after spending last week in the No. 3 position. The Wildcats, 20-2, managed 936 points. Kentucky was a winner three times last week.

UCLA, ranked third, also moved up a notch. The Bruins narrowly escaped with a 60-59 victory over Washington State Friday night, but then destroyed Washington Saturday night. UCLA, 20-2, received 857 points.

Arkansas dropped from first to fourth after its 84-75 upset loss to Houston. The Razorbacks, 25-2, were the first Southwest Conference team ever to be ranked

No. 1 in basketball.

New Mexico, 21-2, held at No. 5, winning twice and collecting 614 points, while Kansas stayed put in sixth place. The Jayhawks, 22-3, received 571 points.

DePaul moved up one spot to seventh. The Blue Demons, 22-2, accumulated 547 points. After spending a week in the Second Ten, North Carolina jumped back to No. 8 with easy wins over Kent State and Virginia. The Tar Heels, 22-5, collected 361 points.

Notre Dame dropped two spaces to ninth after a 65-60 loss to South Carolina. The Irish are now 17-5. Michigan State, 19-4, rounds out the Top Ten. The Spartans held at No. 10 despite a 99-80 trouncing by Purdue and a tough 79-74 victory over Ohio State.

The Second Ten is headed by Providence, followed by Florida State, Duke, Texas, Illinois State, Detroit, Syracuse, Georgetown, D.C., Minnesota and Louisville.

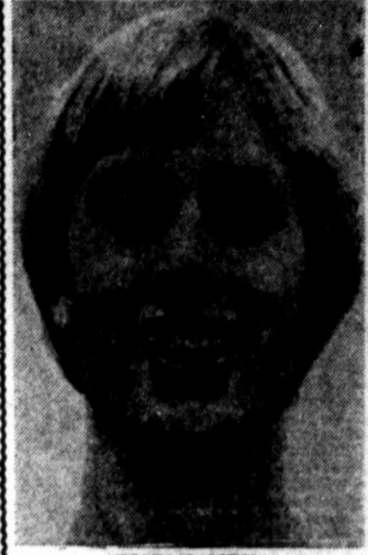

Minnesota is the lone newcomer to the Top 20. The Gophers replaced Virginia. Kentucky, which defeated Mississippi (64-52), Tennessee (90-77) and Mississippi State (58-56), maintained a solid second ranking in UPI's poll of coaches. Arkansas fell to fourth after defeating Baylor and SMU but losing to Houston, 84-75. UCLA, with the help of some last-minute heroics against Washington, earned the No. 3 ranking.

The most significant leap of the week went to DePaul, moving from 10th to seventh on the basis of victories over Wisconsin-Green Bay and Loyola of Illinois.

Rounding out the Top 10 were: New Mexico holding on to fifth place; Kansas maintaining a hold on sixth; North Carolina holding firm in eighth; Michigan State slipping from seventh to ninth as a result of a loss to Purdue; and Florida State remaining No. 10 after a loss to UNC-Charlotte and a victory over Louisville.

Tech, Arkansas Hope To Regain Winning Ways

By DON HENRY
Executive Sports Editor

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark.—If an overly protective face mask and a sore back aren't enough to command Gerald Myers' concern, there are the Razorbacks, angry and wanting to rectify a costly mistake.

Arkansas, last week ranked as the No. 1 college team in the land but now fighting to retain a tie for the Southwest Conference lead, hosts Texas Tech tonight as the 1977-78 regular season slip-slides away. But, both teams will be looking to the immediate future as the goals in Barnhill Fieldhouse when the throw-in comes at 7:30 tonight.

Arkansas' 84-75 loss to Houston last Saturday, coupled with Tech's 78-63 loss to Texas, left the Razorbacks and Longhorns tied for the conference lead. Thus, both the Raiders and their hosts will be hoping to get back on the winning side of the court tonight.

And if a coach wanted a bit of adversity to inject into his psychological approach, Myers has it. For one thing, there is the two-game slide which started with an 81-77 loss to Houston last Wednesday. Tech has not lost three in a row this season but faces that situation tonight.

For another, Myers has 6-5 Kent Williams, the team's No. 2 scorer, still fidgeting around on the sidelines, kept there by a broken jaw and nothing legal to adequately protect it. For a third, there is his replacement, 6-8 Ralph Brewster, slowed by a muscle pull in his back.

Williams and Brewster could help stop that losing streak, but getting them into the lineup is the problem. Tech had a face mask to protect Williams' jaw, but officials ruled Saturday that it was constructed of too hard a substance to be legal.

"We're trying to find someone who has used a mask that is legal so we can copy it," Myers said prior to leaving Lubbock for the Ozarks. "There should be some way we can build Kent a mask."

"We would have used him in the Texas game the other night, if we could have.

Just to see what he could do. We'd like, for sure, to find something in the way of a mask so he can play in the tournament (the SWC post-season affair which begins next Saturday)."

Myers has to be concerned by a muscle injury which kept Brewster out of the last half of the Texas game.

"He hurt it in workout last week, and it started bothering him in the first half. I think he'll be ready to play (tonight) but he won't be completely well."

With Brewster's problems, Myers is expected to insert 6-5 Thad Sanders into the lineup with 6-7 Mike Russell, 6-9 Joe Baxter, 6-3 Mike Edwards and 6-1 Geoff Huston.

"Both of them (Sanders and Brewster) have the quickness to play with the Arkansas guys, so that'll help."

The "Arkansas guys" are Ron Brewer, Marvin Delph, and Sidney Moncrief, the trio which produces a majority of the team's points. The trio has led Arkansas to three straight wins over Tech in two seasons, as well as leading the team to the upper echelons of college basketball.

"What we have to do," said Myers, "is try to get the right approach to playing as a team for the first round of the tournament. (With Williams out) we need to get to working together. We were playing well as a team when he got hurt, and we have to get back to that point."

Tech enters the game with a 10-5 conference record—Arkansas is 13-2. The Raiders are 18-8 and reaching for their third straight 20-game season.

Sands Must Again Overcome Injury

By WALT McALEXANDER
Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff

What a difference a year makes, right Stan Pulliam?

Last year Pulliam's Sands Mustangs were ranked No. 1 in the area but lost a starter on the eve of bidistrict. The Mustangs managed to rout Forsan 64-46 and advanced to the Regional semifinals before losing 59-55 to Hedley, the eventual regional champion.

So what happened this year? Larry Feaster chipped a bone in an ankle and is out for the season and the Mustangs, again ranked No. 1 in the area, will miss the services of the two-year starting guard tonight in bidistrict.

Once again the Mustangs face Forsan (25-2) in bidistrict (8 p.m. in Lamesa). Pulliam, who has compiled identical 94-10 marks in three years of coaching both the Sands boys and girls teams, quipped, "We're definitely not getting any breaks, are we?"

Pulliam, whose boys team is 31-1 this year and riding a 14-game winning streak since losing to Jayton, added, "We're going to have to get a super effort to beat them this time. They've got an excellent team plus they're moving up to Class A next year and have an enrollment of 180 something this year compared to only 70 for us. And that makes a difference."

The Mustangs will start 6-4, 210-pound Martin Nichols, who is averaging 20.1 points and 13 rebounds a game, along with 6-1 David Long (14 points, 9 rebounds), 6-0 Stan Blagrove, 6-0 Van Gaskins and 5-10 Bill Wigginton.

Six other bidistrict games are on tap across the area tonight: Denver City meeting Colorado City (7:30 p.m. at Midland Lee HS) in AA, Lorenzo and Farwell squaring off (7 p.m. at Tulia) and Seagraves meeting Van Horn (7:30 p.m. at Monahans) in Class A and Silverton facing Spade (7:30 p.m. Plainview HS), Ropes challenging Witharral (8 p.m., Texan Dome, Levelland) and Motley County going against Roby (8 p.m. at Post) in Class B.

The A-AA winners advance to the Regional Tournament at Lubbock's Municipal Coliseum Friday-Saturday and the B victors gain the Regional Tournament at South Plains College in Levelland the same days.

Sands has won only eight district titles but all have come since 1969.

Here's a brief look at the other bidistrict games:

Denver City-Colorado City
The Mustangs, in the playoffs for the 11th time but the first time since 1973, are seeking their first regional tournament berth ever. However, Kenneth Harvey, a 6-3, 260-pounder who is averaging 10.6 points and 12 rebounds a game, has been in the hospital lately with the flu and is doubtful.

If he can't play, 6-2 sophomore Mark

Ivy, who has only five games of varsity experience, will start in his place. Other Pony starters will be 6-1 Jeff Avara, 5-8 Perry Hunt, 5-11 Bobby Burkhalter (13.1 points) and 6-0 Ricky Rodriguez (14.2 points).

Winner here will meet the Spearman-Henrietta winner in the regional semifinals.

Farwell vs. Lorenzo
Farwell ended a two-year Vega reign over 3-A in capturing its 15th cage crown and 13th since 1961. Lorenzo's title was the seventh in school's history—six in the last 12 years—and first since 1972.

The Steers are led by 6-4 Russ Jones, who is averaging 21 points and 15 rebounds a game. Other starters will be 5-11 Rowdy Chandler (11 points), 5-11 Keevin Kelly (10 points), 6-2 Clay Roberts and 5-8 Robin Roberts.

Lorenzo will counter with 6-3 Edmond Turner, who is averaging 20 points and 18 rebounds, 6-1 Darrell Lawson (16.0 points), 6-1 Greg Cunningham, 6-1 Guy Morrison and 5-11 Charles Burse.

Winner here will face the Crowell-Baird winner in the first round of regional play.

Seagraves vs. Van Horn
Seagraves, the defending regional champion, is in the playoff for the seventh time this decade and 12th time in history. The Eagles, who have played only 15 games, are led by Texas Tech football recruit Clarence Davis, a 6-0 senior who is averaging 22 points a game.

Other starters will be 5-9 Dennis Middleton (10.0), 6-1 Wendell Griffin, 5-11 Steve McCormock and 6-3 Allen McKinzie. Coach Jim Eddins indicated that 6-0 Johnny Polyak, 6-0 Darrell Cole, 6-2 David Henning and 6-0 Mike Middleton would see considerable action.

Winner here will face Monday's Memphis-Stinnett victor in the first-round of regional play.

Silverton-Spade
Spade has been in the playoffs eight times, including five times this decade. Silverton has back-to-back titles as a Class B school plus six during the 1940s and 50s as a Class A school.

The Owls are led by 6-6 Jackie Vaughn, a 1977 All-South Plains choice who is averaging 28 points and 17 rebounds this year. Other starters will be 5-10 Brent Brannon (12 points), 6-2 Jace Francis, 5-10 Kirk Durham and 5-7 Paul Brannon.

Spade is sparked by 6-4 senior Lynn Cowan, also a 1977 All-South Plains pick who is averaging 25 points and 15 boards this year. Other Longhorn starters for first-year coach Clay Stout are 5-9 Rodney Hall (15.1 points), 5-6 Ruben Lopez (14.3 points), 5-10 Ricky Reed and 5-7 Lonnie Perez.

Winner here meets the Fort Davis-San Elizario victor in the regionals at 4 p.m. Friday.

Ropesville vs. Witharral
Witharral is in the playoffs for the first time in a decade and for the seventh time in the school's history. And coach Phil Warren hopes bidistrict is nothing like the regular-season finale—a 13-12 double overtime win over Three Way which saw his team blanked in both the second and third quarters and have to make up a six-point deficit in the last eight minutes.

Ropes, which was upset in bidistrict a year ago, is in the playoffs for the 12th time, but only fourth as a Class B school and will be moving back to Seagraves' district in Class A next fall.

The Eagles are led by 6-0 Gary Means, who is averaging 23.2 points a game. Other starters are 6-2 Tim Berry (11.0), 5-9 John Cowan (10.1), 5-10 Steven Sims and 6-2 Joel Flowers.

Witharral will counter with a predominately junior lineup with 5-11 Brent Gage the only senior. The junior trio of 6-4 Jimmy Avery, 5-11 Jimmy Polk and 5-11 Roger Reding has combined for 49 points a game, with Avery getting 23—plus 12 boards—Polk 16 and Reding 10. Gage is averaging 11 and 5-10 junior Kelly Doshier six.

Winner here will meet the Sands-Forsan winner at 8:30 p.m. Friday in the opening round of regional play.

Motley County-Roby
Motley County has won only four cage titles in history, but this is the second in three years. And the 12-B championship this year was special because the Matadors had to beat Jayton twice to win the loop title and Jayton, with four junior starters a year ago, advanced to the regional finals.

Danny James' crew is led by 6-5 Rickey Turner, who is averaging 16 points and 13 boards a game. Other starters are 6-0 Robert Parker (14.2), 5-9 Todd McCandless (12.6), 5-10 Harold Dempsey and 5-10 Jerry Lee.

Winner here will face the Channing-Darrouzett victor in the opening regional contest at 2:30 p.m. Friday.

Also on tap tonight is the final regular-season games in 3-AA, where Dimmitt has already been crowned champion.

Plus, Anton and Three Way's girls will vie at 6:30 p.m. at Levelland's Texan Dome for the 7-B title.

Chaparrals Join New TAC League

After May, Lubbock Christian College will no longer be in the Texoma Conference.

Representatives from LCC, Wayland Baptist, Dallas Baptist, Texas Wesleyan and Midwestern State met Sunday and elected to withdraw from the TAC.

However, that fivesome formed a TAC (Texas Athletic Conference) of its own, which will officially start in the fall.

Presently, Hugh Rhodes, the LCC track coach-athletic director, is working on a constitution for the new league, but it will retain much of the old Texoma Conference.

"We'll play everyone a round robin in basketball," incoming Chaparral cage mentor Larry Hays explained. "The first-

Cindermen Qualify For Meet

Weather permitting, three Lubbock Christian College tracksters will depart Thursday morning for Kansas City and the National NAA Indoor Meet.

Chaparral track mentor Hugh Rhodes announced Monday that John Dover (600), Joe Green (440) and Willie Sang (1000) will enter their specialties in Kansas City.

All three competed in the West Texas State Invitational last weekend and, although none won, each bettered the time for qualifying for the nationals.

Sang, a cross-country All-American last fall, ran his first 1000 of the year and was clocked in 2:17.0.

Dover also posted his best career time in the 600, a 1:13.0. Green's official time was 50.3 although two timers had him in 50.0.

Prelims in the 600 will be at 10:30 a.m. Friday, with semifinals at 8:30 that night and finals at 7:35 p.m. Saturday. The quarter prelims are at 11 a.m. Friday, semifinals at 8:50 p.m. and finals at 7:45 p.m. Saturday.

Sang's prelims will be at 11:30 a.m. Friday and the finals will be at 9:20 p.m. Friday night.

COOPER WINS

Cooper's girls defeated Post 46-35. Nancy Clary led Post with 20 points, while Brantley sparked Cooper with 18.

The game was the last of the season for Cooper, while Post has one game left.
