Comprehensive Plan for Muleshoe Studied by Council Under U.S. Program; Consulting Firm Hired

Muleshoe city council is taking a long, hard look at the Urban Planning Assistance Program, a federally-financed city improvement program being utilized by many Texas towns, including two in this area.

Larsen told the council that his organization "will actively begin the work in Muleshoe and proceed as rapidly as possible to collect all data, have monthly meetings with the Planning Commission, and write the preliminary planning report."

He also offers a "follow-on" assistance to be carried out after the program is started. The council here has been studying the federally-financed plan for urban development for some time. The city manager and city planning chief, for example, have visited other towns and studied similar programs. Tulsa's long-range program is being watched with much interest since Tulsa and Muleshoe are of similar size. The group here has gone into Tulsa's federally-financed program extensively, as well as Littlefield's program. They also have studied at least one town which does not have such a program, Hereford. City Manager Albert Field said Wednesday that the council here is "very much interested in the Larsen survey and will be following progress with eagerness." The manager concluded by saying that "what actually has resulted is that the council has authorized Larsen & Associates to make application for this urban planning assistance through state health department."

DO I GET THE JOB? — Zana Henderson, 819 South 1st, Muleshoe, evidently put on a considerable selling job at Odessa Saturday — he won first place in "job application" contests for the huge West Texas territory in distributive education. Here the interview is being simulated with some of the same questions. Zana hopes to be a pharmacist. (Journal Photo)

Schools to Mark Public School Week

Muleshoe schools will observe Texas Public School week March 7 through March 11. Superintendent Neal Dillman announced Wednesday.

Dillman said open houses are planned for Monday and Tuesday, March 7 and 8, and in conjunction, science fairs will be held at all schools. Junior high and senior high school will have open house Monday from 7 to 9 p.m., and the three elementary schools, DeShazo, Richland Hills and Hilltop, the following nights from 7 until 9 p.m. Science fairs also will be held, and parents will be invited to visit all classrooms taking Junior's place for abbreviated sessions.

Of course, Dillman explained, parents will be invited to visit the schools "throughout the week at any time to learn firsthand the workings of their public school system."

The week of March 7 is to be a busy one; in addition to the open house at school, the Golfer Terry Dill, who calls Muleshoe home, finished in the money at the $100,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic in Palm Spring, Calif., this week. He wound up with 74 - 75 - 70 - 70 - 69 and a 355 total, getting $1150 for his efforts. He finished 19th.

Going from here to the banquet were Muleshoe Jaycee President and Mrs. Kenneth Henry, Dr. and Mrs. Jerry Gle-Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Lane, Ted Weaver, Janette Layton, Bob Stovall, Roger Gornell, Ed Wuerlein and Carl White.

Mrs. Jack Wood, secretary to the manager of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce, has resigned to accept a position with the Muleshoe Retail Merchants' Association.

Muleshoe Youth center will sponsor a dance at Legion Hall Saturday night, following the FHA Sweetheart banquet, according to Jamie Crane, reporter for the organization. The Rogues from Plainview will provide the music. Members will pay 75 cents, guests $1.

Kenneth Lowe of the Laz-buddie community, has received his private pilot's license at Muleshoe Airport. The license was granted by Morgan Locker.

Deadline for entering the Laz-buddie P-TA sponsored Volley Ball tournament is Feb. 21 and persons interested in entering were asked to contact Mrs. Wayne Hardage. The tournament will start Feb. 28.

Mrs. George T. Andrews, Mrs. Alex Williams' mother, is in Muleshoe for a visit. Mrs. Andrews came to Muleshoe from New York for her granddaughter's installation as Worthy Advisor in the Order of the Rainbow for Girls here Saturday night.

Ramon L. May, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Earl May, Route 5, Muleshoe, has been promoted to airman 2-c in the U.S. Air Force. He is an administrative specialist at Wakkana Air Station, Japan, and is a graduate of Sudan High School.

Larry Hall has returned from Galveston after accompanying Mrs. Hall to Galveston last week for medical treatment. Mrs. Hall is a patient in St. Mary's Infirmary, receiving treatments. See MULESHOE, Page 5

Only 3 Democratic Seekers Face Opponents in Election

County officers who will take office next January will be Democrats — that much is assured since no Republican candidates filed for county positions before Monday's deadline.

And for most of the Democratic office seekers, it will be a "no contest" affair. For three positions, however, more than one office seeker will add a bit of spice to spring politics.

Until late Monday, only two jobs — county judge and commissioner from precinct 4 — had opponents; but late Monday Mrs. Alex Reid (Thursie) tossed her hat into the scramble for the to-be-created district clerk's post. Earlier, Neld Merritt, a deputy in the present district-county clerk's office, had entered the race. Until this year the county and district had been served by a single clerk, Hazel Gilbreath, but since the population has passed the 10,000 mark, a separate county and district clerk must be employed.

Two persons also are seeking the county judge's post which is to be vacated next year by Glen Williams who has announced he will not seek reelection. Calvin Calvert and Don W. Chahak each has filed for county judge.

But the most hotly contested election is that of county commissioner, precinct No. 4. R. B. McCall, the incumbent, is being challenged by Charlie J. Tiller and C. C. Smitke, both of whom filed last week. Shoo-ins at the 1966 elections are several who were unopposed for county or district posts. These included Edith Witt, who seeks re-election to the county treasurer's job. She was the first to file with the county Democratic chairman, Harvey Bass.

Hazel Gilbreath is unopposed for county clerk, and Loyd Stephens for county commissioner, precinct No. 2. Also unopposed is Joe D. Vaughn for justice of the peace, precinct No. 1, also an incumbent. On a district basis, Pat Boone is unopposed for district judge.

County Republican Chairman, Clarence E. Mason, said he had received only one candidate's official filing: Bob Price, Pampa, Republican would unseat Democratic congressman Walter Rogers. He ran unsuccessfully two years ago before the district was realigned to include this county.

Democratic office holder, Jesse T. George, is unopposed for state representative, district 75. Prospects are good that turnout for this year's elections will be large; more than 2500 persons, including those above 60 who did not have to buy poll taxes, should be eligible to vote this year. While this is not a record number, it is exceptionally large for a non-presidential year, points out Jean Lovelady, county tax collector-assessor.

At mid-week, no candidates had filed for city council positions or for Muleshoe Independent school board posts. The council election is slated for April 5, and the school board election for April 2. Candidates for either council or school board must file at least 30 days before election, Page 5

$1-a-Bale Fee for Cotton Research And Promotion Proposed in New Bill

The National Cotton Council's move to increase funds available for cotton research and promotion through a national marketing order has taken definite shape. Bailey county cotton farmers are following the move with much interest.

H.R. 12322, a bill which would enable the Secretary of Agriculture to hold a grower referendum to determine if cotton producers favor a $1 a bale "check-off," was introduced this week in the House of Representatives by Congressman Harold Cooley. It was immediately referred to the House Agriculture Committee of which Cooley is chairman.

Muleshoe Busy With Scoutdom; Five Units Here

When it comes to Scouting, Muleshoe is a pretty busy town. This was pointed out by adult leaders here this week as the town joined the rest of the nation in observing the 56th anniversary of Scoutdom.

SPEAKING OF SCOUT WEEK

They're All Scouts And All Ways, Too!

When the Richard Puckett's speak of Scouting they mean ALL of scouting, because that six-member Muleshoe family represents ALL levels of Boy Scouts of America from Cubs to Explorer. And even the parents get into the act — and in a big way!

Richard has been tapped for membership in Order of the Arrow and will go through ordeal in 1966 to become a member. Or take Barbara, the mother. She's Den Mother for Pack 620 and has been for six years. For two years she has been a Den Mother trainer, and got her Den Mother key in 1964. She was also a Girl Scout Leader for two years for Girl Scout Troop 39. And Cynthia is a member of Girl Scout Troop 39 and a junior Girl Scout. She served as patrol leader for two years and a Brownie Scout for two years. Cynthia has earned eight badges. Larry is a Cub Scout registered in 620 only last November. He will get his first award — Bobcat — this month. Lance belongs to Boy Scout Troop 620 and is a first-class Scout. He earned four merit badges and is serving his second year as a den chief for Pack 620. Lance attended Boy Scout camp for three years.

Beverly Phipps Works on Degree

By Beverly Phipps
The following is an article written by Beverly Phipps, a student who is working on her chapter degree in FHA, according to Martha McCormick, FHA Advisor.

We are the Future Homemakers of America.

We face the future with warm courage and high hope. For we have the clear consciousness of seeking old and precious values.

For we are the builders of homes. Homes for America's future.

Homes where living will be the expression of everything that is good and fair.

Homes where trust and love and security and faith will be realities, not dreams.

We are the Future Homemakers of America.

We face the future with warm courage and high hope.

The FHA Creed explains the feeling of looking ahead into the future that FHA members have. FHA prepares girls for a better life in the future, not only in material ways but also mentally. Future Homemakers are more likely to have homes of trust, love and faith.

The emblem of the FHA organization is octagonal in shape and bears the name, Future Homemakers of America, around the top of the plane while the lower side of it is the motto, "Toward New Horizons". In the center there is a house supported by two hands which symbolizes that the future homes of America are in the hands of its youth.

The colors of the Future Homemakers of America are red and white. The colors are symbolic of youth — youth which has courage and determination to succeed, yet has innocence and purity. It is symbolic of homelife, the success of which is of utmost importance.

The FHA flower, the red rose, is symbolic of vibrant, flowing health which contributes to happiness and efficiency in home and group life, and for this reason it is the chosen flower of our organization.

The Muleshoe FHA Rose chapter accomplishes many interesting things through its program of work. In September the goal, To Stress The Importance of the Individual, was stressed by the election of the Rosebud girls to a sandhill party. The Rosebud chapter is composed of freshman girls.

October's goal, Good Health and Good Family Relations, turned out to be very interesting. Mrs. Mary Sligar, Professor in psychology at West Texas State University, spoke to the Future Homemakers on mental health. The installation of Rosebud Officers was also held in October.

Jobs, Careers, and You, was the goal for November. Many different speakers were present at a night meeting to stress this goal. Women with different jobs and careers spoke to the girls on becoming teachers, secretaries, home economists and others.

In December, the FHA girls helped others by collecting Christmas cards with stamped envelopes. They sent these to the Big Springs Mental Hospital so the patients would have cards to send to friends and relatives. The goal for this month was, Leisure Time, Constructive Time.

For January the goal is, Make Your Money Behave. On January 18, a style show was held to model the clothes made by home economic girls. The guest speaker, Mrs. Thompson, from the Fashion Shop, spoke on styles, and coordinates, including the cost. She had girls modeling average cost clothes that were also stylish.

In February the Sweetheart Banquet is an annual affair. The goal is Leisure Time, Construction Time, and a guest speaker is always present on this occasion.

March brings a very interesting goal, Neighbors Near and Far. The program will be by Foreign students attending near by schools learning the customs and living habits of students from other countries.

In April a panel discussion will be held by High School students pertaining to the goal, Morals and Manners Matter. FHA Week activities will also be underway in this month.

The goals for the Future Homemakers organization work toward making members realize the importance of certain values, but the home is the origin of the love, guidance, and understanding needed to solve challenging problems.

referendum or by a "yes" vote "by cotton producers voting in the referendum who have produced at least two-thirds of the volume of the cotton produced."

While this language of the bill does not make it clear, members of the NCC committee responsible for writing the bill explain that this latter method is intended to mean a favorable vote from producers who produced two-thirds of the cotton produced "by producers voting in the referendum," not two-thirds of total production.

starting at 7:30. Also to be recognized at the council session this year for the first time will be Eagle Scouts.

Jones pointed out: "Boy Scout week has been observed by Boy Scouts of America since 1910. Of course, it was never the intent of the Boy Scouts of America to pick out an isolated week or day in which to practice the Scout Oath, Law and the Good Turn. Rather Scout Week is a time when all 5.6 million of our members together with the more than 30 million former Scouts re-emphasize the meaning and great values of the Scouting Program.

"Scout Week is the one time during the year when 143,000 Packs, Troops, and Explorer Units and over 5 million Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers and adults bring all their efforts to bear to show that Scouting is a great force for good in our world.

"The theme for Scout Week 1966 is "Breakthrough For Youth". If every one of our 5.6 million boys and leaders do his bit to point out the progress of Scouting we shall be demonstrating in the best way the tremendous force for good that we have in the Scouting Movement.

"We must devote Scout week 1966 to show the world both the free world and the world behind the barbed wire, behind high walls, behind the iron-curtain — that we are determined to dedicate our lives to God and Country and to the service of others."

If producers approved the "check-off" procedure, funds collected would be administered by a Cotton Board selected by the Secretary from nominees submitted by eligible producer organizations within a state. Eligibility of any given organization to participate would be subject to certification by the Secretary.

Primary consideration in determining the eligibility of an organization, according to the act as now written, would be whether its cotton-farmer membership produced a relatively significant volume of cotton to warrant participation.

Producers who did not wish to support the research and promotion program would have the right to demand and receive from the Cotton Board a refund of the $1 assessment. Each refund would have to be requested within thirty days from the date on which the assessment was collected.

Once approved by producers, the marketing order or orders could be suspended or terminated in a subsequent grower referendum which could be called by the Secretary at any time, or called on request of 10 percent or more of the number of cotton producers voting in the referendum which approved the original order. Termination or suspension by referendum would require a simple majority of voting producers who produced more than 50 percent of the cotton produced by those voting in the referendum.

One provision in the act stipulates that: "No producer requesting a refund shall be eligible to vote in any subsequent

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Carpenter returned home Monday evening following a two-week's visit in Lubbock. The Carpenters visited with Carpenter's sister and daughter, Mrs. Harriett Johnson and Nancy. The pair were patients in the Goodnight Hospital in Lubbock.

Four persons from Muleshoe attended last Sunday afternoon's open house at the Lamb county library in Littlefield. Going from reference until all amounts refunded to him have been repaid to the Cotton Board unless the Cotton Board in accordance with regulations issued under the order waives such repayment."

There has been more than a little comment on this provision, and many are of the opinion that denying the right to vote to those who oppose the marketing order is not exactly in line with democratic principles.

Orders issued by the Secretary under the bill could provide for (a) the establishment and administration of appropriate plans or projects for the advertising and sales promotion of cotton and its products; (b) establishing and development projects and studies on production, ginning, processing, distribution or utilization of cotton and its products; and (c) providing that handlers of cotton maintain and make available for inspection whatever books and records might be required by the order and deemed necessary and appropriate by the Secretary.

Simply put, the program would work like this: The Secretary would establish and select a Cotton Board from nominees submitted by approved area and state producer organizations. The Cotton Board would develop and submit to the Secretary for his approval advertising, sales promotion or research and development plans, with no such plan or project becoming effective without the Secretary's approval. An annual budget for carrying out the approved projects would also be submitted to the Secretary for approval.

The point of collection is not specified in the bill except to state that "each handler of cotton, as prescribed by the order, shall collect from the producer... and shall pay to the Cotton Board an assessment prescribed by the order."

W. Lewis David, state executive director of ASCS, will speak at an open meeting of West Texas Farmers in Plainview today "to explain to the farmers what can be expected of the skip-row interplanting of cotton along with grain sorghum and castorbeans." At the Feb. 4 meeting of the Lamb County American Red Cross, Mrs. Bonnie Haberer, county chairman, appointed a committee to arrange a kick-off March breakfast when plans will be announced for a drive to be conducted in Olton, Sudan, Amherst, Earth, Springlake, Spade, Hart Camp, Pleasant Valley and Fieldton.

Mrs. Costen Attends Meet

Joyline Costen, District XIII Teachers Education and Professional Standards Chairman of Texas State Teachers Association, participated in the regional meeting of the National Education Association's National Commission on Teacher Standards held in Albuquerque, N.M., Jan. 24-25. The theme of the meeting was "Remaking the World of the Career Teacher".

Opening the meeting was Dr. William Fielder, associate professor, Claremont Graduate School and University Center, California.

Dr. Fielder called for teachers to become more aggressive both in terms of policy making for the schools and in the political arena as it affects education.

He contended that the solution to all of these problems really rests in the hands of the teachers themselves, rather than outside groups.

He also discussed distortion in textbooks, and blamed this not on the publishers but on the blandness of the teaching profession "which puts up with it."

During a panel discussion a paper was presented by Dr. Patrick Lynch of the University of New Mexico, who contended that schools of education are too concerned with turning out Madison Avenue image conformists rather than encouraging the creative types with independent minds.

The second day of the meeting Dr. Don Davies, executive secretary of NCTEPS said, "The teaching profession — like society itself — is living in a time of great tension, trying to find a balance between change and order."

Dr. Davies said three great opportunities lie ahead: The opportunity "to develop a teacher education program that really makes a difference." He said there needs to be much closer relations between colleges and the schools in which teacher trainees work.

He also urged vastly different training for school administrators and new and effective ways of evaluating teacher training.

"We can change our college programs from their emphasis on middle class, white, night school content and recognize and encourage diversity," Dr. Davies said.

He said there is an opportunity to amplify the voice of the profession. In the most striking educational innovations in recent years — "Headstart", the Peace Corps, civil rights movements — the leadership has come from outside the education profession.

The way to develop a professional voice is to develop professional leadership that won't be bypassed, he said. He also suggested that the strength of local and state educational associations will grow when the public discovers they are more interested in teacher qualifications than in their own welfare.

Dr. Roy Edelfelt, associate secretary of the commission emphasized that in defining "career teachers" we are not talking about longevity, but quality.

In another address, Monroe Sweetland, West Coast legislative consultant for NEA, discussed the NEA's Million Dollar Fund for Teachers Rights, devoted to helping with the defense of teachers — all over the country — when they are unjustly treated.

Attending the conference were delegates from New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arizona, and Texas.

Muleshoe Man Visits Venequela, Finds Caracas 'Most Interesting'

Editor's note: Gordon Murrah, Muleshoe farmer, is on a trip to South America, and this is the first of several reports which he is sending back from his trip.

Gordon Murrah is in Venequela as an exchange farmer from the United States. He was selected by the Farmers and World Affairs, Inc. of Philadelphia, Pa., as one of the six farmers to go for six weeks in January and February with four days in Washington for orientation at the State Department and Agriculture Department. There is also an exchange to Pakistan (though none were sent there this year) and India by the same exchange. Five couples were in Washington also with briefing with Gordon and his exchange farmers on their way to India. The men to Venezuela were from California, Joe Baksh whose father is Pakistani and mother Mexican. He is a University of California graduate with major in soils. He speaks Spanish, which was a requirement or at least some knowledge.

Raymond Anderson of Minnesota belongs to Farmers Union, is a director in two cooperative organizations, is active in community and church affairs. Bud Parks is from Oregon and is active in many organizations and has hosted International Farm Youth Exchanges several times. Ralph Waltz of Indiana is a member of Indiana state legislature, is an Ohio State University graduate and is active in swine associations. Edward Zimmerman of Pennsylvania is an active member in Farm Bureau and other cooperatives and was an electrician before starting to farm. These men are all farmers and will be called by given names in this feature, Gordon said in Washington all of the group were real congenial.

Nelson Leavell is the program director in the U.S. He met the men at the Commodore Hotel in Washington. Von Peacock is representative in Venezuela and visited Gordon last year to give him an application to fill from which he was accepted.

Gordon left Lubbock Jan. 9 by Braniff Airlines, and at 9:06 landed in Dallas, then, arrived in D.C. five hours and five minutes after leaving Lubbock. Each of the next four days was spent in briefings, and taking yellow fever shots. The group was organized into secretary, reporter-photographer — etc. He is baggage expiditer. "Wouldn't it be awful if I let someone's luggage miss the plane," he said. The group left New York City for Caracas (the capital city), the plane landed at Maiquetia. From there the group went to Caracas with Von Peacock where they have hotel rooms at Hotel Avila and will be there for briefing until next Tuesday. The weather was very warm and humid. Visited U. S. Embassy. "Plans seem to be they will keep us busy." Food is good and we have been sitting so much and eating a lot, so probably gaining weight. "Von Peacock said some of group last year gained five pounds.

There is a million dollar hotel on top of a mountain here. The builder ran out of money, so there is only a cable car to the hotel so it is vacant. It is a tourist attraction. "We are planning to go to the Humbolt Hotel tomorrow." Gordons letter! "Boy we had a day! I'll never be through describing this trip. I am sure the flowers and trees must be something like Hawaii. Yesterday it was clear early and clouded up by noon. Today we go up to the Humbolt in the morning. So it is cloudy in the morning and clear in the afternoon. Our pictures probably won't be much good. Caracas is in a large mountain valley which it completely fills, climbs up the sides and in some places spills over. The Humbolt is on the mountain toward the sea. You can see all the city, the mountains beyond, the city reservoirs, the sea, and the coast line north west.

The mountain side is much steeper than Red River. The road from the airport climbs about 3000 feet and enters the valley from the west; then the main roads lead out south to the interior south and southwest and to the east.

There is not one spot of level ground in the entire town. There are new apartments going up everywhere. Out on the edges (mostly up the mountain sides) where new development has not surrounded them are the ranchos — little houses and shacks of every kind of material, jambed against and on top of each other.

Up in the hills of certain parts are the high class dwellings. We drove through some of this evening. They are real classy with flowers and landscaping of all kinds. The grounds mostly are very small and in many cases use a retaining wall to have any yard at all. Many garages have a steep incline from the street and no parking level at all. The streets are narrow and curving and either up or down, never level. Poinsettias are real pretty and many are used in landscaping.

Manuel Riera came and went up on the cable car to the Humbolt with us this morning. He took us all to a fish dinner in town when we came down. He was real likable and fun. He has on the Venezuelan tea min the U.S. last summer. Stayed with the Senator (Ralph Waltz) or his neighbor. They tried to figure his wealth one night and got to $17 million and stopped. In California he had met Joe's friend. I think we will stay with him at Carora. He wants to come and go with us out southeast as he has never been there. I believe he has attended two Universities in the States.

Met a woman in the lobby tonight from Colorado Springs. Retired, widowed school teacher. Three or four of us are going to church tomorrow. We had already planned it, then met this lady and she goes to the same place. It is interdenominational, interracial, English speaking and I guess refuge for wandering Norte Americanos.

"FB WEEK" PROCLAIMED — Governor John Connally is shown signing a proclamation designating Feb. 7-12 as "Farm Bureau Membership Week" in Texas as Texas Farm Bureau Queen Cherril Lee Norman of Tahoka and TFB President C. H. DeVaney of Waco look on. During the special week, thousands of voluntary membership workers will call on their neighbors and ask them to join Farm Bureau. The state farm organization has a goal of 100,500 members in 1966.

Went to the wholesale market (El Coche) this afternoon. There are two large blocks ringed with little stores and in the middle partly covered is all the produce for sale. The place is government owned and the people rent their spot. Fresh fruit and produce of almost anything you can find in the dictionary, including truck loads of dried fish. Not many peppers — the food here is very bland as compared to Mexican food. This market serves all Caracas — there are branches in other parts of the city. It is not sanitary but not so bad as I had imagined an open market to be. There were some garbage pickers and some children stealing also. Poor Senator, he's bald and didn't wear a hat — bright sunshine.

Sunday — 16. This is known as the city of eternal spring and is really plant. Nights are cool enough for blankets and days warm with bright sun and light breezes. Birds singing, dogs barking, motorcycles and autos maing all kinds of noise.

Von came and took us to church. Bud, Ralph, Ray and myself to the American and Joe to the Catholic. It was a good service. After services a newsman made pictures for the Daily Journal, an English paper. Will try to get a copy if it comes out before we are gone from here. I believe I sent you a schedule of our trip. There will probably be some changes. We will come to Carora just before returning to Caracas Feb. 11. Will probably follow tight schedule. I see we have a Sunday free in Maracaibo perhaps I can contact J.K.'s (Adams) friend then.

Did you read that Venezuelans make parties late at night. Some of the group say it is true. I was asleep by 11 and things were still going strong. Traffic is supposed to be worse weekdays, as everybody leaves Caracas for the weekend. Well if they all left there were plenty came in. I thought I would walk some today and make a few shots of flowers but it is quite cloudy now. Von says it is unusual as the days are very clear most of the time. A thousand pictures wouldn't record all the scenes one would like to keep. All the hotel people speak some English and there are Americans around also. We have a long day with Dept. tomorrow. Then at the end an evaluation session here and in Washington. No health problems for anyone yet but we've been cautioned by everyone there would be so guess that is to be faced yet.

This man we call Senator is joking and kidding much of the time but really very intelligent. He taught Spanish several years ago, traveled Europe and South America some. Judged the State hog show in Chili in 1957. He is absolutely embarrassed by nothing and out talked by no one. He was silent in Church long enough to begin to nod this morning. I like all the group and they are all so different in personality.

Valley Farmers Sign for Huge Sugar Acreage

The minimum acreage needed to qualify the Lower Rio Grande Valley area to make application for a national sugar allotment has now been signed up, the Valley Chamber of Commerce reports.

Frank Schuster of San Juan, chairman of the Valley Chamber's agriculture committee, said 27,015 acres have been pledged to sugar beet production in letters of intent obtained by the chamber in recent weeks.

"We will continue to accept any other letters of intent that come in," he explained, "on a first-come, first-served basis." Schuster said signing up of the acreage completes the first hurdle toward obtaining a sugar allotment for the Valley.

The next step, he said, will be to turn the matter over to the Valley Chamber industrial committee, which will endeavor to interest a manufacturer in building a Valley plant if a national allotment is obtained. William Nix of McAllen is chairman of the industrial committee.

Schuster said the letters of intent and other preparations were being made in order that the Valley might take advantage of any future opportunity arising in the sugar industry. He pointed out the Cuban situation, which might have aided the area in getting an allotment for sugar production if advance planning had been completed.

Cars' Use Cost Texans Record Amount In 1965

Their use of Texas highways cost motor vehicle operators a record $432,643,000 in 1965 — a $23,046,000 increase over the year before, the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association estimated this week.

Charles F. Heidrick, state chairman of the Association's Oil Information Committee, said about 54 per cent of the total was collected at the gasoline as an example. Valley research scientists have been working on sugar beet varieties and processing for some three years and have found high yields can be produced economically in the area, Schuster said.

pump at the rate of five cents per gallon. Other state highway-user taxes include motor vehicle registration and license fees.

"Texas highway users pay tremendous sums toward development of a highway system that will meet their needs. They must be alert to attempts to raid these funds for non-highway governmental projects," Last year, state highway user taxes totaled almost $7 billion in the U.S., while special federal taxes were about $3.7 billion.

Association estimates were based on statistics recently released by the U.S. Department of Commerce.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm reviews the national budget this week, more or less.

Dear editor:
I don't like to advise the President, there ought to be somebody left in this country who isn't always saying what the President ought to do, or shouldn't do or should have

Today's Meditation

By J. Frank Peery
Read John 4:19-26.
He is the head of the body, the church. (Colossians 1:18)
While crossing the Atlantic Ocean by air, I was reading a book entitled He Is Lord of All. When I was above the clouds, I could feel that Christ was over all, and that His sovereignty extends over all domains.

Christ is the head of the Christian church. Without Him it would not exist. As Christ has influence over all spheres of life, similarly His church leaves marks wherever it is found.

What Christian wishes to live in a city where there are no churches? What would become of our people if Christ did not live among us and His church did not make its influence felt in our communities?

The marks of the Christian Church include fellowship, service, witness, and worship. Unless a church has these objectives in all its life and activities, it cannot be called a true church.

PRAYER: Teach us, O God that the church is an art gallery for exhibition, but a place where we can express our adoration of Thy power and majesty and love. Grant to us pure hearts that we may make our faith dynamic. In Christ's name we ask all this. Amen.

done, not to mention the same for his wife and children, but last night I was reading in a newspaper which I hauled off and bought in town, people think I just sit around out here and wait till a paper shows up but this isn't the first time I've bought one. I did the same thing once year before last, at any rate, according to this paper which I bought and paid for and now own outright. President Johnson has proposed a record breaking budget for this year of 112.8 billion dollars.

However, he pointed out, this will come within 1.8 billion of being balanced, because while we have to spend more, the country is booming so its income will increase so much that tax revenues will make it come out almost even.

Now this may work for the nation, the President has more economic advisers than I do and they keep in closer touch with the economic index — in fact, I'm out of touch altogether with the economic index, I had one for this Johnson grass farm but I mislaid it, well I didn't really mislay it, I filed it under the E's where it belongs but now I can't remember where I put the E's — but it never does work out that way with me.

Every time I figure I can spend more because I anticipate making more, something happens and I wind up making less and therefore owning more. I don't know about Washington, but with me anticipated income is one of the most unreliable

Thought for the Day
What am I doing for my church to strengthen its fellowship, service, witness, and worship?

Pecans are noted for being good keepers, particularly when unshelled. Yet shelled pecans will keep fresh up to nine months in the refrigerator when in an airtight container, and up to two years in the freezer.

sources of revenue I've ever tried to operate on. A calf born in January ought to be worth around $100 in September, and it would have been if it hadn't died.

However, this isn't to say Washington can't do it. It's got more calves to depend on.
Yours faithfully,
J. A.
