Spell 'Orbicular'

Whether it's "orbicular" or "zuegma" it makes little difference to 13-year-old Carolyn Wedel, Bailey County's best speller. She goes to Lubbock Saturday to spell in the regional after stumping all challengers in the Journal-sponsored meet here. Well fortified with food and soft drinks, Carolyn settles down here for a near-final cramming session. (Journal Photo)

In Muleshoe

With the Journal Staff

Muleshoe High School Fine Arts Boosters have renamed Buddy Blackman as president. R. A. Bradley has been selected as first vice-president for the next school year, and Melvin Seymore as second vice-president. Mrs. C. D. Gupton will be treasurer, Mrs. Morgan Locker secretary, and Mrs. W. H. Lee the reporter.

Bo Wheeler, county agent in Armstrong county, has announced that the Armstrong county's annual 4-H club farm machinery sale will be held at Claude Saturday. Sales have grossed as much as $15,000, Wheeler said.

The Explorers are having a dance at the American Legion hall Friday night from 8:30 until 12:30, it was announced. Couples will be admitted for 75 cents, singles for 50 cents.

Bill Cooper, Muleshoe, has just been promoted to Lieutenant commander in the Naval Reserves, and will leave for two-weeks' active duty in Washington. Cooper is a pharmacist at Damron Drug.

Ronald Lynn Campbell, Route 5, Levelland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn M. Campbell, enlisted in the U. S. Air Force April 20. His wife, Sharon, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Knowlton, Muleshoe. He is now in basic training at Lackland AFB, San Antonio.

Susan Birdsong was recently named to the dean's honor roll at Texas Tech. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Birdsong and a 1965 graduate of Muleshoe. (Continued on page 3)

25 Years

For 25 years, Blanche Johnson, librarian at the two elementary schools, has taught in the Muleshoe system, and Monday night she was given a pin marking her 25th year. Here she is being congratulated by Board President Joe Embry. (Journal Photo)

Figures don't lie, but they can sometimes be placed in a different arrangement and made to appear different. For instance, if team A beats team B and then Team C beats team A, it could be assumed that Team C is better than either of the two outfits.

Figuring it somewhat like that, Muleshoe's track team is the championship team in the 3-AAA conference. Muleshoe's thin-clads got a better do on a rain-drenched track at Odessa last weekend than the champion Dumas Demons. Muleshoe finished in sixth place out of 17 in the AAA brackets, with a 28 total score. Dumas on the other hand, got a 24 which makes Muleshoe the victor.

But, winner or not, Muleshoe did well at the Odessa meet and Monahans finished at the top of the mile with 94. Snyder was second with 67, and Andrews had 64. Ector of Odessa finished with 44, Lake View got 36 and Muleshoe 28. Littlefield scores 26 and Dumas 24. Lamessa tallied 20, Kermit 18, Levelland 13, Brownfield 12, Pecos 10, Seminole 8, Tulla 8, Perryton 5 and Canyon 4. Muleshoe tallies were made as follows:

880-yard relay: Joe Adams, fifth; Broad Jump: Bobby Julian, fourth, Byron Young, sixth. High Jump: Don Douglas, third;

High Hurdles, Phillip Short, fifth. 100-Yard relay: Terry Hutton, fifth. Pole Vault, Mickey Wilson, sixth. 220-yard relay: Terry Hutton, fifth; Mile run, Jody Mills, third. In the mile relay Muleshoe team was sixth.

You're Getting Old, But Can You Prove it?

You may be getting old—62, 63, 64, or even 65—but can you prove it to the satisfaction of Uncle Sam who has become a bit more skeptical lately?

Jim Latimer, field representative who "makes" the Social Security office here ever so often, says there are a lot of Bailey county folk who have been sticking around this troubled world for three-score years but who never were officially born and thus do not exist.

Says Latimer: "Although a birth certificate at birth or soon after is the best proof, there are many other documents that can be used to prove your age." And then he pointed to

Help Those 'Blue Collar' Pupils Too, Pleads State TSTA Chief

Miss Harriet Griffin, president of the Texas State Teachers Association, thinks the "blue collar" student needs help too. She said as much in an address here Monday night when she spoke at the Muleshoe TSTA public relations banquet.

"It's great training the kids for college," she said, "but what about the hundred who will never go to college—should never go to college? Are we doing enough for them? It's great to point to a school system and say, 'look at our record; 85 percent of our graduates go to college! Sure, any administrator can say that after a big part of the students already have dropped out because they couldn't make the grade of a college-bound high school.'"

"Let's give the blue collar workers a chance, too."

And the Fort Worth teacher also was critical of tests "that fail to give the pupil a second chance," adding that "all the tests in the world are not going to be 100 percent accurate because too many of them fail to take into consideration the humanities, the personalities of the pupils. Besides, there is only one way to be certain: Give the pupil a second chance."

She holds that "one of the great needs of today is to teach students values. 'The good teacher,' she claims, "is one who helps the student to establish a sense of values. Many people are lacking that kind of sense today, and the teacher is one who should be able to give the boy and girl a right sense of values."

She also urged teachers to

Dryland Region Gets Thorough Drenching

Rains, long needed and long overdue, pelted the Muleshoe area this week, dumping as much as 2-1/4 inches in the south and far eastern parts of the county, tapering down to a "nice shower" for the more western regions.

Bula community, for example, was more fortunate than some of the other areas, two inches peppering down on that community to put a sparkle in the farmers' eyes and brighten the crop prospects considerably.

Muleshoe had an official accumulation of 1.42 inches but Needmore reported 2 inches and Pleasant Valley as much as 2.4 inches.

This wet spell probably will dampen some ambitions to plant cotton in April, points out County Agent J. K. Adams, "which may be another blessing as seedling disease probably will be less likely when cotton is planted in May and then followed by warm weather. April, he explained, has more cold, damp weather.

The rains were beneficial to small grain crops—wheat and oats and alfalfa will get a boost before its first 1966 cutting.

Then Irish potatoes and corn, already planted, will "smile" following the generous moisture.

Grain sorghum planting time is in the offing, and Adams points out that "Bailey county farmers have found that cotton-planting time is also planting time for long-season, high-yielding grain sorghum.

With plentiful irrigation water, farmers are finding it very desirable to give grain sorghum a good soaking before the cotton needs its first irrigation in the spring. This procedure, says Adams, is possible only when grain sorghum is planted along with cotton.

He says another factor favoring early planting is early-blooming, which means greater insurance against damage from sorghum midge.

Early planting of grain sorghum means early harvest which allows farmers to shred stalks, apply fertilizer and rot organic matter while a few warm days remain in the fall of the year.

The county agent said the "cheapest way to raise cotton in 1967 would be to decompose grain sorghum stalks in 1966."

Bula to Get Head Start Program

Bula Independent School district in southern Bailey county, will have a federal "Head Start" program this summer, it was announced this week by U. S. Senator Ralph Yarborough and Congressman George Mahon. The Journal received telegrams from each solon telling of the grant.

The school will receive $6970 in federal funds and will add $1022 local funds to the project.

The program is a project of the "Economic Opportunity" act and will provide funds for a summer project for 20 pupils, underprivileged children "which will enable children to enter first grade next fall on a par with more fortunate children." Yarborough's telegram explained.

Several West Texas schools have availed themselves of the "head start" program and are planning similar schools this summer. Muleshoe schools, however, apparently have not applied for federal funds for such a project. Neal Dillman, superintendent, was out of town and could not be reached for comment, but a school official said that "if the Muleshoe school has applied for funds for such a program, I am not aware of it."

'Drouth' Ended

It's been quite a spell since a tractor has bogged down in the mud in these parts, but weekend rains mired this one in a low spot east of Muleshoe. Then hard rains, measuring up to 2.4 inches, washed all the mud off the wheels. Note cattle in background. (Journal Photo)

Farmers in County to Plant Only 63,194 Acres of Cotton

Bailey county farmers will divert 31,702 acres of cotton land to other crops, final figure for the 1965 crop revealed. This means Bailey county will have a total cotton crop of only 63,194 acres after receiving 94,896 in the original allotment.

These figures were revealed this week when cotton acreages were announced. Last year, this county had 103,786 acres in cotton allotments and actually planted 100,455 acres. Texas Cotton Ginners' Association said Monday that statewide, 31.5% of the effective allotment will be diverted. "If all acreage is planted which has been signed up in the program, this would present a 23.6% decline from the planted acreage last season."

Some interesting figures are revealed in the new acreage predictions. Cochran county, for example, which usually grows less cotton than Bailey county, will divert 22,280 acres of a total effective allotment of 69,821 acres. In 1965, that county had 74,545 planted acres.

Crosby county cotton farmers have signed up to divert 37,740 acres out of an effective allotment of 118,030 acres. Dawson county will divert 65,352 with an allotment of 195,336 acres. Deaf Smith county, which had only 9847 acres planted in 1965, had an allotment of 10,289 acres and will divert 2392 acres.

Ginners association reports that Floyd county, which planted

Lions to Sponsor Rubinoff Show; Tickets on Sale

When Rubinoff appears in Muleshoe in a program of popular concert music, he will play on one of the most precious instruments in the world, the famed Romanoff—Stradivarius Violin insured for $100,000.

The violin is famous for its silken, lustrous tone, it's full range and almost unbelievable depth. Made in 1731, by the master of all violin makers, this particular "Strad" eventually found its way into the hands of the Romanoffs, one time rulers of Russia, and still bears the bejeweled crest of that family. During the revolution, it was smuggled out of Russia and eventually was purchased by

Muleshoe Seniors Are Invited To Rush Forum

Mrs. Rex Jordan, president of Plainview City Panhellenic, has announced that graduating senior girls from the Muleshoe area are invited to a Rush Forum at 3 p.m. Saturday, April 30th, in the Vincent Tudor home, 2800 SW 3rd., Plainview. Mrs. Jordan said that mothers of the girls are also invited to the Rush Forum. She stated that an invitation is extended to each graduating senior girl who is interested in National College social sorority rush.

The annual Rush Forum and College Sorority Education Party is designed to give information on Sororities and rush procedures of all college campuses where there are chapters of national sororities. Mrs. John Bell, rush chairman, is in charge of arrangements, and has announced that representatives of the college panhellenic group at Texas Tech have been invited to participate in the panel discussion. Refreshments will be served, with Mrs. T. M. Chesser in charge.

City Panhellenic annually awards a scholarship of $100 to a qualified and deserving graduating senior girl for use in helping her attend college. The organization is hoping to be able to give additional funds as the group expands.

Mrs. Jordan stated that, "the Panhellenic Rush Forum is designed to explain the function of sororities on college campuses and answer questions which high school girls might have." She added that a primary purpose of the Greek sororities is to serve as friendship groups for persons who share common interests, forming a helping bond among loyal friends.

She reported that scholarship is emphasized by all groups, which on many campuses results in a higher scholastic average for sorority women than the over-all women student's average. She cited figures explaining that more than 75 per cent of the funds contributed by individuals to colleges and universities are given by sorority and fraternity members. Nationally more than 70 per cent of the fraternity men and women graduate from college, compared to 50 per cent of all other students.

Veteran Teaches Civilians How To Make Coffee

The coffee industry has recruited a retired Army warrant officer to show civilians how to make coffee.

Chief Warrant Officer Hilliard G. Sheppard (USA-Retired) will serve as southwestern representative of the Pan-American Coffee Bureau's Coffee Brewing Center to teach housewives, restaurant, catering and vending operators the right way to brew a quality cup of coffee. The assignment is nothing new to the veteran Army food specialist who has taught thousands of GI cooks the art of making a soldier's favorite beverage.

Sheppard will cover the states of Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas, making appearances on radio and television home and food programs, and before women's clubs, hotel and restaurant organizations, high school and college home economics classes, and direct contact with public and private operations serving coffee.

"Nothing is so easy to make, yet so hard to get as a good cup of coffee, whether at home, in a restaurant or snack bar, or from a vending machine," says Sheppard. "And actually, it's so easy, provided that a few simple, basic steps are followed.

Recent surveys by the Pan-American Coffee Bureau, which represents the 15 Latin American countries exporting over 62 percent of the world's coffee, show that coffee consumption in the United States last year averaged 2.79 cups per person daily. The producing countries, who rely heavily on coffee exports for a substantial amount of their foreign trade, feel that an increase in coffee consumption will come about if consumers get a better tasting cup of coffee.

"Unfortunately," says the former Army food service specialist, "too many people just don't know how to make coffee correctly, and when they get a bad tasting beverage, they blame the coffee or the pot instead of themselves."

An ideal cup of coffee, according to scientific tests at the Coffee Brewing Center laboratories, results from brewing at the ratio of two level measuring tablespoons of coffee to not less than six nor more than eight ounces of water. The ratio is the same for larger quantities, equaling one pound of ground coffee to every two to two-and-one-half gallons of water.

On the west coast, particularly, the tendency is toward a lighter beverage. Sheppard says that many people - from housewives to commercial operations - have been misled by claims of some coffee companies into using more water per measure to get more cups per pound.

"It is impossible," he says, "to get more yield of beverage per pound of coffee from one brand or blend than another, and this includes a two cup coffee maker to multi-gallon equipment."

Neither Sheppard, the Pan-American Coffee Bureau or the Coffee Brewing Center recommends any coffee by blend, brand or land of origin. This is considered a matter of personal preference and taste, which varies according to individuals and sections of the country.

The sole recommendation is that the ground coffee be fresh, best quality, and of the particular grind recommended for the equipment in which it is to be brewed.

"Many people use the wrong grind," says Sheppard "and this has a direct effect on the brewed beverage."

Equipment is also an important factor in the quality of brewed coffee. The Coffee Brewing Center, which has evaluated and tested hundreds of different makes, models and types, says there are many coffee makers on the market that just can't brew quality beverage, especially those designed for home use.

As part of its effort to promote quality coffee for the consumer, the CBC is embarking on a program to award its Seal of Approval to home and commercial coffee equipment that meets the standards of its scientific evaluation.

"Consumers will soon be able to spot the pot with the perk that's up to par," says Sheppard "and they'll know that they can get quality coffee with that equipment, provided they follow the simple, basic brewing procedures we recommend."

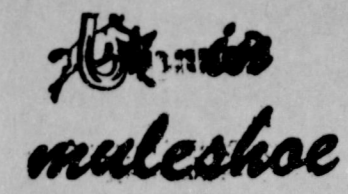

In addition to demonstrations and appearances before groups, Sheppard will be available to work with individual and chain restaurant and vending machine operators to help them improve the quality of coffee they serve the public.

He will assist in evaluating commercially dispensed coffee for the center's Golden Cup Award, which is presented to public establishments serving quality coffee. The Golden Cup Award, recognized by the food industry as the ultimate symbol of coffee quality, is given only after on-site inspection and laboratory analysis of several brewed coffee samples.

Sheppard will be responsible for inspecting and evaluating any public establishment applying for the award on the basis of brewing procedures, quality control, cleanliness and other factors.

His services will be available without charge and can be obtained by contacting Director W. Burgess, executive director of the Pan-American Coffee Bureau, 120 Wall Street, New York, N.Y. 10005.

Wise outdoorsmen read the weather reports regularly. They know that sudden weather changes have a great influence on our outdoor creatures. And they put these to their advantage.

A sudden drop in the barometer, for instance, often prods fish into hitting. Some of my most memorable fishing has occurred just before a front hits. Usually, fishing also is good just afterwards, when conditions are settling back to normal and the barometer starts its rise again.

fishing was all but dead on Sunday.

Many outdoorsmen realize this about fishing. What they fail to understand is that it often works equally well with wildlife.

I remember the opening of deer season a few years back. It was a warm, still day. But, despite the high temperatures, deer were up and about all day. Even toward mid-afternoon, when the temperature was pushing the high 80's, many deer were feeding out in the open.

Next day a severe norther hit. Deer kill was nowhere as good as it was opening day. But a few days later, when things started warming up again, the deer came out en masse as they had just before the front hit.

Our wild creatures, both fish and fowl, have some sort of built-in weather predicting device. They know when nasty weather is coming and they get ready for it. If it looks like a severe front that will drop the temperature or perhaps bring heavy rain, they'll start feeding to store up for the lean days ahead.

Once on a fishing trip on the Llano River, I noticed hundreds of wasp nests scattered along a rocky overhang on a bluff. Black and red insects were swarming everywhere. Next morning, when I walked down to the river, I noticed the wasps were inactive. They were bunched on the nests. Not a single one was flying about.

At the time I wondered if maybe this meant the weather was to change.

Sure enough, late that evening a front moved in, bringing severe thundershowers. These wasps knew the change was coming. And they were ready for it.

A few years back, on a warm October morning, I went squirrel hunting. On the way out I heard on my car radio that a front was moving in. It was not a bad front, but it was enough to drop the Sedation To Soothe Produce?

COLLEGE STATION, Texas - Food technology continues to advance, and although it may sound far-fetched, several companies think there is a big future in shipping produce under a form of heavy sedation.

Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Texas A&M University Extension consumer marketing specialist, says that in the future you may hear of a load of tomatoes that has been "put to sleep," or a truck load of cabbage that "holds its breath," or lobsters that are shipped in a state of "suspended animation."

Up to now, refrigeration has been the basic method of delivering fruits and vegetables to markets. However, another method has been developed which not only prevents deterioration, but also retains more of the flavor. Nitrogen can be injected into a load of produce to lower the oxygen level and curtail the "breathing" process, the main cause of deterioration.

"The effects wear off in about two days--and at that time, normal respiration and oxidation begin again. Produce may be eaten at any time without change in taste, nutritive value or possible ill effects," says Mrs. Clyatt.

temperature somewhat and bring light rain.

By the time I reached the woods, there was a lead-gray overcast from horizon to horizon and a light mist was falling. But instead of driving the squirrels into hiding, it has just the opposite effect. They were everywhere in the tree-tops. I've never had better squirrel hunting, any time, anywhere.

My deer hunting friends who make regular annual trips into Colorado tell me that one of the best times to hunt mule deer is just before a cold front moves in, triggering snowfall. Cold weather prompts the annual migration into the lower country. Hence, the deer are on the move and consequently more vulnerable to hunters.

Then there was the time on the famous YO Ranch near Kerrville when a sudden front had dropped temperatures and brought rain. It wasn't a severe storm. Just enough to plummet the temperature into the lower 40's and really start the deer moving.

As we drove through the pasture that day we counted numerous bucks. Yet on the previous day we'd driven the same route and spotted very few.

Weather changes influence animals in different ways, depending mostly on whether it is a severe, moderate or mild front.

A severe front might prompt active feeding before it hits. But poor hunting results after it arrives. Then animal activity picks up again as the temperature starts to warm.

A moderate front might keep wildlife more active for a longer time in the day. Normally, deer are up early in the day, bed down during midday, then come out again in late evening. A moderate front may keep the deer moving all day, even after it has arrived.

A mild front may only serve to keep the animals up for perhaps an hour longer in the morning, then bring them out again an hour early in the afternoon.

But despite what it may do, weather can be the outdoorsman's best friend or worst enemy, depending on what he does with it. By observing weather changes and watching what changes they bring in the outdoors scheme, you can use such future changes to your advantage.

Rain is benumbed by most fishermen. But not by those dedicated to the sport. They know that it may bring some discomfort, but often the very best fishing is to be had during a rain storm.

Dede, 1916 Dodger Catcher, Sees More Action as Scout

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

Arthur Richard Dede has a golden anniversary coming up because it was 50 years ago that he played his first—and only—major league game with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

"It was a real emergency," smiles the 70-year-old Brooklyn native when reminded of the one time his name made a box score. "Cito Miller and Chief Hi Myers were the catchers. I was the bullpen man."

"Well, one day when we're playing the Giants in Ebbets Field, Miller went out for a pinch hitter and Uncle Robbie (Manager Wilbert Robinson) called me in because Myers had a bad finger."

"I caught the last three or four innings for Leon Cadore, who was also a rookie that year of 1916."

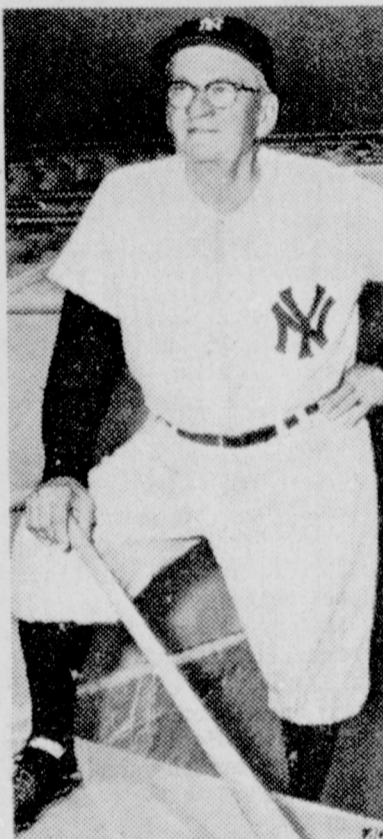

Did Dede have any tough chances?

"Well, in those days there were no bat racks, and I recall Buck Herzog hitting a foul pop fly that looked like it would land on the bats. I knew I might go sprawling so I leaped over the bats and as I did I caught the ball. Later in the game, Herzog mumbled something about losing a chance at bat to a busher."

Dede, who has been scouting for the New York Yankees ever since 1958 when the Dodgers moved to Los Angeles, was with Brooklyn from May right through the World Series against Boston in 1916.

He was involved in the longest World Series game in history, 14 innings in Boston. But it will never show in a box score.

"It was the first World Series game Babe Ruth won," says Dede, "and he beat a pretty good man, Sherry Smith. (Ruth pitched)."

ARTHUR DEDE
Batted Once in 1916

"We had only 22 eligible players in those days but I was allowed to catch batting practice. Before the game I warmed up the pitchers and Robbie said: 'We got a little secret. Sherry Smith is going to pitch. The others are decoys, I'm leaving it up to you to tell me when he's warmed up enough.' 'I guess he was heated up enough. He pitched all 14 innings. But the Babe, after allowing Myers a first inning home run, shut us out the last 13. The Red Sox won, 2-1.'"

Dede scouted for the Dodgers 19 years but when they went west he decided to join the Yankee staff. He has looked over many Yankees, including Joe Peppitone.

"Scouting is a full time job," says Arthur Dede, still a Brooklyn resident. "It keeps me going all the time. In fact, I see more action now than I did with the old Dodgers."

Texas Food Roundup

Supplies of favorite spring fruits and vegetables continued to increase at Texas markets this week.

Strawberries led the list of items in plentiful supply and at lower cost, as shipments picked up from Louisiana, California and Mexico.

Citrus remained at attractive price levels. Tomato prices were lower at most markets, according to market news services of USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service. Cantaloupes were lower than a week ago.

Pole beans, greens and green onions, eggplant, peppers, cabbage and sweet potatoes were among the more favorably priced items in the vegetable bins.

Prices on potatoes and carrots moved higher, compared to last week, due to some decline in supplies. In a few areas, turnips, onions and iceberg lettuce also showed price increases.

First spring arrivals of red potatoes and squash from the Texas lower Rio Grande Valley showed up at markets this week.

Egg prices again turned lower. Raisins, honey, grape juice, peanuts and peanut products continued in abundant supply and at attractive prices.

the voices and tells us, in rhyme, about animals nobody ever heard of before. Side two is "Sleep 'ook," in which still more strangebeasties fall asleep. "The Wizard of Oz" is one of Leo the Lion's "full-cast musicals." Seven of the well-known songs from the famous movie, with abbreviated narration, take up a side and a quarter of this record. The unnamed girl singing Dorothy sounds a lot like Judy Garland sounds now and the Wizard sounds like Frank Morgan did in the movie. Rest of Side two is five songs from "Babes in Toyland."

Older children - and adults - will love "Tom Sawyer," read from the book by Ed Begley, read from Caedmon. Begley is a Broadway-movie-TV actor and his voice sounds Midwestern enough to read about Tom. He reads six chapters, starting with the whitewashing of Aunt Polly's fence (which you can still have pointed out to you in Hannibal, Mo.), takes Tom off in a skiff to be a pirate and back to his own funeral.

Caedmon says the chapters about the cave, the murder and Injun Joe will be coming in a future record.

Golden Records (part of Golden Books) has issued a new "Win-nie-the-Pooh," sung by comedian-actor Jack Gifford. These are 17 charming songs about Pooh and his friends. Two other people sing Christopher Robin and Eeyore.

A typical song, to a cheerful tune, composed during the aftermath of an "earthquake," is titled "I Lay on my Chest (I Was Waiting to be Rescued)" and begins, "I lay on my chest and I thought it best to pretend I was having an evening's rest."

Rubinfoff will appear at the High School Auditorium, April 29th. Tickets are available at either of Muleshoe's banks.

He will perform as violin solos the full scores of Chopin's Polonaise, the Warsaw Concerto.

The American public has grown to love these numbers arranged for piano and orchestra, but Rubinfoff feels they lend themselves to violin, equally as well.

His appearance here is sponsored by the Muleshoe Lions club.

A graduate of the Royal Conservatory in Warsaw, Poland, Rubinfoff knew as a child the martial feeling inspired by the immortal Polonaise. Even with freedom today confronted with tyranny and treachery as Chopin knew it, the opus is appropriate as a current theme of the times. The Polonaise was written by Chopin with a burning spirit of national sympathy and has been likened to "Cannons Buried in Flowers".

He was more fortunate in preparing the soul-stirring Warsaw Concerto as the Composer, Richard Addinsell, worked with him on the transcribed violin version. Addinsell felt after hearing Rubinfoff play the Concerto that it was a new revelation in depth of feeling as only the violin could express it.

Candidates' Grid For Gruelling Week

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN - Candidates for statewide offices are getting set for the final week of their campaign.

Democrats will vote at their May 7 primary for seven statewide offices.

Spotlight has been on the race for attorney general. Candidates are Galloway Calhoun of Tyler, Crawford Martin of Hillsboro and Franklin Spears of San Antonio.

Spears pledges efforts to improve law enforcement. Martin is emphasizing his 27 years' experience as a lawyer and his long service as state senator and secretary of state. Calhoun identifies himself as the "only real conservative" in the race.

All three candidates are eyeing the large number of voters who apparently still are undecided despite their long campaigns.

Gov. John Connally, seeking a third term, virtually has ignored attacks on his administration by Stanley Woods of Houston. The third candidate for governor, Johnnie Mae Hackworth of Brenham, has not actively campaigned.

Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline, running as Woods' ticketmate, is opposing Lt. Gov. Preston Smith.

Paul B. Haring of Goliad is waging a spirited campaign against incumbent Railroad Commissioner Byron Tunnell of Tyler.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr is opposed by political newcomer John R. (Jack) Wiloughby of Houston for the U. S. Senate nomination.

Land commissioner Jerry Sadler has opposition from Fred Williams of Del Rio.

Only contested statewide judicial race is between incumbent Court of Criminal Appeals Judge W. T. McDonald of Bryan and District Judge John F. Onion of San Antonio.

Light voter interest is expected to be reflected in a predicted 50 per cent voter turnout.

Population - Texas is growing at the rate of 1.5 per cent a year, UT's Population Research Center reports.

An estimate of population shows that there were 10,335,141 Texans on April 1, 1965. This is a gain of 756,464 over the 1960 census.

Irrigated farming areas in the High Plains produced the two fastest growing counties - Randall and Deaf Smith. Respective growth rates are 7.7 and 7.1 per cent a year. Hartley County, in the top of the Panhandle, has gained 7 per cent a year.

But Texans still are moving to town. Study shows that the 21 metropolitan counties, which contain cities of 50,000 and more, gained 637,374 of the total. Only three of the 21 failed to gain. They are Midland, Ector and Cameron Counties.

Pollution - Population growth essentially is to blame for growing problems of stream pollution. For example, the State water plan, soon to be released, predicts that Fort Worth and Dallas will be discharging 750,000 acre feet of waste water a year into the Trinity River.

This prediction has the Texas Water Pollution Control Board looking for ways to require cities and industries to treat their wastes so they will not cause pollution. Board must adopt a plan for maintaining good quality water in all Texas streams by June 30, 1967, or Federal agencies will take over the job.

Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, has appropriated $25,000 to be used, with matching money from the Pollution Control Board, to devise a work plan for a $4,000,000 study of how to keep the Galveston Bay System clean.

Colleges - Population growth produces more college students. Coordinating Board forecasts that enrollments in 17 state colleges and universities will double by 1978 - from 115,015 to 260,097.

This determination was made for the purpose of splitting up the $156,000,000 Texans will pay in the next 12 years on the 10-cent per $100 ad valorem tax to finance college buildings at the 17 schools. Schools in the University of Texas and Texas A&M Systems get their building money from their permanent fund endowment.

A $20,000,000 bond issue to finance the first two years of student loans under an overall $85,000,000 state program was approved by the Board.

Tourists - Texas Highway Department reports that 12,688,000 tourists visiting Texas by car in 1965 spent $613,148,000 - 16.4 per cent more than in 1964.

Governor Connally, pushing for tourism, pointed out that when air, train and bus visitors are added to the total, it shows that $907,000,000 was spent by the visitors.

He also emphasized the need for more recreational facilities and major reservoirs during the dedication of Canyon Dam on the Guadalupe River.

AG Rulings - A county sheriff or his deputies may not contract with an incorporated city to provide it police protection which are performed regularly by city police officers or city marshals, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr so advised Galveston County District Atty. Jules Damiani Jr.

In other opinions Carr concluded that:

- In order to obtain a Texas license to practice chiropractic, it's immaterial whether an applicant has passed an examination conducted by the National Board of Chiropractic Examiners.

- Only the territory that was in Justice Precinct #2 of Denton County, when voters legalized sale of beer in 1935, legally is wet. Precinct was enlarged in 1948, taking in part of a dry precinct.

- Lamar County Hospital District has no authority to convey any of its land to the county as site for a building to house welfare agencies.

Emergency Plan Accepted - A committee named to draw up a plan for management of natural resources in the event a nuclear attack knocked out federal controls presented its report to Governor Connally.

Areas covered by the plan include construction, economic stabilization, electric power, food, petroleum and gas, health, transportation, water, industrial production, housing and manpower.

Connally requested the Emergency Resources Planning Committee to remain in operation 60 days longer.

Courts Speak - Texas Supreme Court agreed with lower courts that A&M Consolidated Independent School District (Brazos County) tax assessments are not arbitrary though district does not levy on personal property like bank deposits, autos and furniture.

High court declined to review a damage judgment favoring a Lubbock area farmer who said his hogs were killed by aerial spray.

Third Court of Civil Appeals upheld a 1965 permit allowing a Bexar County concern to discharge 696,000 gallons of treated sewage into Salado Creek near San Antonio.

Court of Criminal Appeals ordered new trial for C. L. McCaleb who had been convicted of selling securities without registering with state securities commissioner.

OEO Approvals - Governor Connally has announced approval of seven projects under the Economic Opportunity Act.

Projects are: Jim Wells County, $69,198; Matagorda, Brazoria and Fort Bend Counties, $64,560; Harrison-Panola Counties, $24,217; Victoria, $13,459; Cottle, Foard, Hardeman and Willbarger Counties, $11,046; Nacogdoches, $7,692; and Castro County, $27,477.

Oil Output Boosted Again - Texas Railroad Commission raised the limit on oil production to 35 per cent of potential - highest point for the month of May in seven years.

Allowable was boosted due to increasing demand and decreasing stocks on hand.

New allowable is an increase of 75,700 barrels a day over April.

Grayson County officials received a Highway Department survey recommending a new route for U. S. 75 from Sherman to the Red River.

Texas veterans are paying up well on their farm and ranch loans, with only 4.44 per cent of the 28,199 active accounts, due November 1, late on their payments, reports Land Commissioner Sadler.

State Health Department advised local health units of the new Federal aid policy making birth control information available to all who seek it.

Governor Connally named Frank W. Mayborn, Temple newspaperman, to the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, succeeding the late W. R. Beaumier.

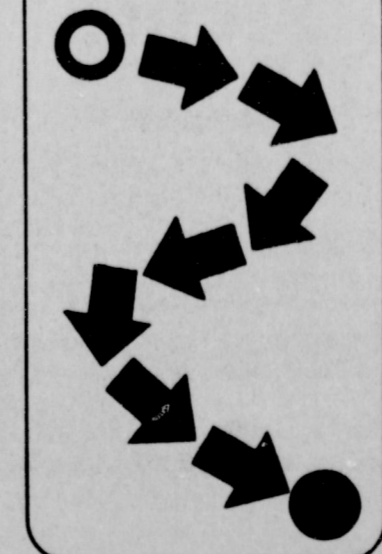

ENDS 30-YEAR CAREER STORRS, Conn. (AP) - Bob Muir, Williams College swimming coach, finished his 30-year career on top as his Ephem won their fifth straight New England intercollegiate swimming title. Wesleyan finished second, 18 points back.

QUESTION: We have seen given an old, round-topped, hallway-type of table that has been in the family many years. It has a dark, almost black finish that nevertheless shows the grain of the wood. There are no cracks or other mars in it. In fact, the entire table is exquisitely made, with curved legs that have claws at the bottom. Do not rub, since there is a possibility that some of the finish will come off if it happens to be a clean surface, but lack of lustre, apply a 50-50 mixture of turpentine and boiled linseed oil.

ANSWER: It is surprising how many times old pieces of furniture can be restored simply by washing them. Use a mild soap and lukewarm water, rubbing with a clean, lintless cloth. Rinse off all the soap and then, using a new, dry cloth, wipe thoroughly - and make sure that every bit of water is removed. This will effectively remove accumulated grime and will let you know quickly whether any further steps are necessary. If the finish does not appear to be sparkling, wipe the surface with a cloth dampened with turpentine. When even this does not seem to have cleaned the wood sufficiently, wipe with another cloth, this time dampened with denatured alcohol.

POWER for PROTECTION

The defense of our nation is inexorably tied to the pulsating power that flows through the lines of the rural electric cooperatives. Over the nation more than 1,000 of these member-owned electric systems furnish the power that allows electronic eyes to scan the skies. This same dependable power is ready to trigger a massive defense mechanism. In Texas, there are 79 of these locally owned, independent systems with lines that cover the remote stretches of our state. BAILEY COUNTY ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE is a proud member of this fraternity of distinguished public servants, furnishing dependable power for our protection while Helping Texas Grow.

BAILEY COUNTY ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE ASSN.

Dear Friends of El Monterrey:

As you have perhaps noticed, I am no longer associated with El Monterrey, as of April 1st, 1966.

To our kind friends everywhere -- especially of Clovis, Portales, Muleshoe, Hereford, Bovina, Friona, Sudan, Littlefield, etc., may I express my appreciation for your past patronage -- Not only for the past 8 years, during my ownership, but also for the previous 12 years when my father (Col. Weede) was associated with the Gray Reed's. As you know, my Aunt & Uncle (Sis & Gray Reed) were the original founders some 30 years ago.

Although I've sold all my interest in El Monterrey, I have retained the right to enter any business in any location -- even to direct competition to El Monterrey.

Sincerely

Foundation Plan Of Farming Being Used Extensively

HALFWAY - The High Plains Foundation Farming System developed after eight years of research at the Foundation will be extensively used this year over the High Plains. This system of farming involves skip-row and interplanting cotton with other crops such as grain sorghum or castors in the following pattern: Two rows cotton, skip one row, two rows of another crop, skip one row, and two rows cotton. This system is in compliance with the 1966 Agricultural Program and therefore will not receive a penalty. The combined effects of price penalties for low quality cotton, reduced allotments, decreasing water supply, and a new farm program make it necessary for farmers to employ all means available to maintain farm income.

Tests on the farming system conducted at the High Plains Research Foundation during the 1965 crop year involved such factors as irrigation, water use, fiber quality, yields, cotton flowering, and cotton maturity as compared to solid planting of cotton. Loyd Langford, associate agronomist, reports that micronaire was increased from 3.0 in solid planting to 3.4 in skip-row interplanted cotton. The fiber Pressley strength was increased by 3,900 pounds of pressure per square inch. Interplanted cotton also produced higher yields on 36% less water. Cotton yields were increased 210 pounds of lint per

Tower Wants U.S. To Bomb Hanoi, Haiphong Bases

By Sen. John G. Tower

Although my recent trip to Vietnam convinces me that we have turned the corner and taken the initiative militarily in the war, I find many persons concerned that we are not doing everything we could to bring the war to an early and successful conclusion. A number of Texans and newsmen have asked me what our single greatest mistake is.

I think we are making a mistake in not bombing the enemy's supplies where the supply depots are located in the Hanoi and Haiphong areas of North Vietnam. I believe interdiction of supplies is essential to a acre in a three-year average; grain sorghum 1,332 pounds per acre; and castors 270 pounds over solid planting.

In other tests conducted by Dr. Arthur Gohlke, principle soil scientist, interplanted cotton showed increased flowering which resulted in increased yields. The higher air temperature in interplanting hastened cotton maturity and increased micronaire from 3.3 to 3.7 over solid cotton. Interplanting also produced higher yields with earlier maturing cotton and slightly higher micronaire than cotton in a 2x1 skip-row pattern. Constant air temperature measurements show interplanting resulted in higher air temperature and longer effective lint producing days than was possible in either 2 x 1 or a solid planting pattern.

Farm Centered Demonstrations on twelve farms over the High Plains showed micronaire and percent white cotton were increased in interplanted fields when compared with solid planting. Higher yields were produced with 24.23 percent less irrigation water. Interplanted cotton matured quicker which resulted in earlier harvest.

A project sponsored by Plains Cotton Growers involving fiber testing, spinning performance, and yarn testing was conducted at Texas Technological Research Laboratories. Five bales of cotton from interplanting was compared to five bales of solid planted cotton which included five different varieties. The tests showed a general increase in micronaire, Pressley strength, and stelometer reading in grams per tex. Yarn quality was successful effort in any war, but it's a pretty slow and costly business just to go about blowing up trucks and roads and bridges when you could more quickly destroy the enemy's supply depots.

This, I think we should be doing with primary emphasis on oil and gasoline storage. The easiest way to stop a truck from heading into South Vietnam on the Ho Chi Minh trail is to cut off its supply of gasoline.

I also think we have made a lesser mistake by not closing the port of Haiphong. That, of course, is the principle funnel through which sea-borne supplies reach North Vietnam. Through Haiphong come the Soviet missiles and helicopters being used against the South.

Although there has been some political unrest in South Vietnam (Continued on page 7) ter as measured by the yarn tenacity tests. When spinning the longest fiber at high speeds, the number of ends down per 1000 spindle hours was significantly lower in the interplanted cotton.

Don Johnson, Executive Vice-President of Plains Cotton Growers, states, "Any system of farming that will improve quality and spinning performance of High Plains cotton certainly needs to be put into practice by the farmers."

John Anderson, Assistant Director, Commercial Production Division of Baker Castor Oil Company, has the following to say: "The interplanting of cotton and castors is a money maker. Up to 50% higher yields on both crops have been obtained by the use of this system as compared to solid planting. At the same time, production costs were reduced with a saving in irrigation water. There has been no problem in mixing of cotton and castor seed, due to the nature of harvesting of the two crops."

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm explains some facts of life to a big outfit this week.

Dear editor:

According to a copy of the Wall Street Journal which a well-to-do friend of mine in town handed to me the other day to indicate the conversation was over, which I figured was a fair swap, the New York Stock Exchange has threatened to move out of New York City because the new mayor wants to raise its taxes.

As a result, lots of other areas are bidding for the exchange, but I wish to announce I have no place for it out here on this Johnson grass farm, and I'll tell you why.

It's not that I have any objections to the Exchange, as far as I know it's a fine outfit, but its members seem to know more about stocks than taxes.

I don't understand a bunch of men capable of handling millions of dollars worth of stocks every day not knowing that trying to flee from higher taxes in the 20th century is as hopeless as trying to make water stand uphill at an angle.

It's all right with me if the Exchange wants to move out of New York, but if it thinks it can leave any of its present or future taxes behind, it's headed for a crash. Don't the members know that taxes can go where even paved roads don't?

You let the Exchange move out here and it wouldn't be two weeks before I'd get a letter saying my taxes ought to go up on account of me being benefited by the proximity of the thing. As for the Exchange itself, what makes it think one part of the country is any less tax-hungry than the rest? It could escape maybe for a short while, but they'd overtake it before long. Business is like an iceberg, only a small part of it is ever allowed to stay above the tax line.

Taken as a whole, I guess the world is the tax-hungriest it has ever been in history and I would have figured the Stock Exchange would have known this.

You can't escape, gentlemen, even if you put it in a house trailer and keep moving it around. All you'd be doing is adding the gasoline tax to the rest. Yours faithfully,

Don't Quit Too Soon

According to surveys made by educators, business organizations, the federal government and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce—money, are better adjusted to the money, are better adjusted to the changing demands of the time, and have a better understanding of their political freedoms—than do those folks who have not completed their education.

All of these leaders advise the young student — about to quit school for employment now — to consider carefully.

Before making the decision to leave school, young people are advised to talk over their particular problems with school advisors, parents, religious and civic leaders.

What may seem to be a bright job opportunity today, may end just there. The future can not mean advancement without adequate preparation for it.

Many new skills and specialties are constantly needed in every phase of business and industry.

The one who is well prepared for the many opportunities that will present themselves in the times ahead will also be better prepared to become a leader in the community, better equipped to enjoy leisure and culture, and can make important contributions to our nation's future.
