Only 163 Cast Demo Run-Off Ballots Here

Bailey County folk showed little interest in the Democratic primary runoff last Saturday when only 163 votes were cast at the two boxes in Bailey county. Only one race was at stake, the Democratic nomination for state attorney general. Crawford Martin got the lion's share of Bailey county votes, tallying 131 to 32 for the former secretary of state, Franklin Spears. Martin also won state-wide. Democrats and Republicans settle down now for the business of seeking office, battling it out on a party basis. But for the most part, election thunder has abated until the Nov. 8 general election.

Bass met for an enthusiastic session at Paul's Restaurant Tuesday morning and breezed through an eight-point agenda that ran practically through the rest of the year.

And from all indications, it's going to be a busy summer, autumn and winter in Muleshoe, merchant-wise. Dr. Charles Lewis, gave a report from the president's desk in which he said a new manager for the chamber should be named soon. Meantime, he urged members not to "relax and coast through the period while we have no manager." Keep vigilant, he urged. Jay Spain, chairman of the committee to name the most courteous sales person each month, told the committee that Ray Puente, who is employed by Jim's Pay 'n Save Grocery, has won the honor for the first month. A "most courteous" salesman will be selected each month. Bass presented the individual plaque to Puente in a little ceremony in the store Tuesday afternoon, and the travelling plaque was also posted in the store. Opal Thompson, secretary-treasurer of the committee, gave a report on the finances of the organization, and Olan Burrows, chairman of the monthly Saturday Night Jamborees, told of the success of the first two such programs. The committee voted to back Burrows and his committee in continuing the shows through the summer months, and he said Bill Taylor, principal of Mary DeShazo Elementary school, will be master of ceremonies at the next such program. He also asked for more workers to help stage the shows. Doyle Trapp, program

More Agencies May Seek Spot On United Fund List

Muleshoe Area United Fund has started taking long looks at its 1966 program, and busiest of all units of the organization so far is the Budget and Admissions committee, headed by Mrs. Bernard Phelps. In fact, three hearing dates already have been set up by Mrs. Phelps for July hearings.

Leaders of all worthy causes of a charitable nature are being urged to consider requesting inclusion in this year's United Fund drive, said Robert Alford this week.

Mrs. Phelps, as head of this important B&A committee, has announced that requests for admission to this year's United Fund campaign and dollar allocations will be considered at a series of hearings. These hearings, she said, are slated for July 8, 11 and 15.

Alford, in discussing the broadening of the area United Fund setup said that "financial support has been provided for a number of health, welfare, recreation and character-building programs since the United Fund was founded in 1963."

Agencies requesting inclusion this year should have their written application in the hands of the B&A committee before the time for these hearings, it was explained. They also should include a summary of the past year's operation, receipts and disbursements, and a plan of proposed operation and expenditures for the coming year.

Alford said that in addition to these items, any agency which has not yet provided the fund organization with a copy of its certificate of exemption for tax purposes, should do so as soon as possible.

The 1965 budget of $13,350, supported the operation of many organizations, including these: The Boy Scouts of America, the Junior Livestock show, Salvation Army, Girl Scouts of America, Babe Ruth League, American Red Cross, the Muleshoe Area Youth Center; the 4-H Youth Development Corp., the USO and the Texas Medical Research Foundation.

Interim allocations also were

Shooting Affray Fells Negro Man; Wife is Wounded

A 260-pound, 40-year-old Earth Negro is dead and his wife is in Green Memorial Hospital here with two bullet wounds as a result of a shooting affray at the Lazbuddie Dump grounds Tuesday afternoon.

Dead man, with a bullet hole in his head, is LeRoy Lovelace and his wife, Loretta Lovelace, is in "fair" condition here.

Arrested and charged with the shooting was Roy James Renfro, also of Earth.

Lovelace's body was being held at Singleton Funeral Home here, pending burial arrangements.

Sheriff Lovelace said Renfro was charged with murder Tuesday afternoon before Parmer County Justice of the Peace, J. R. Thornton in Farwell. No bond was set.

The sheriff said initial reports indicated Lovelace was working in the junkyard near his pickup truck about 2 p.m. Tuesday when the man identified as Renfro drove up in another pickup.

The dead man's wife, Loreca, 44, was with her husband at the time. Sheriff Lovelace said she told him Renfro began arguing with her husband, then fired the fatal shots.

Mrs. Lovelace was injured in the fracas. Attendants at Green Memorial Hospital in Muleshoe late Tuesday listed her in satisfactory condition with minor wounds believed caused by bullet fragments.

Sheriff Lovelace said he found a British military type .303 caliber rifle in Renfro's truck when he arrived at the scene to assist a deputy, Raymond Treider, Jr. of Lazbuddie.

The sheriff said he also understood another person, a Latin American youth, also witnessed the shooting incident. The youth had not been located late Tuesday.

1300 Measuring Jobs Between Now and Aug. 15

It's land-measuring time in Bailey County for 700 farmers who are going to do their own measuring on an "honor system" plan, and for 500 other farmers who are going to let the ASCS do the job.

In either way - do-it-yourself or pay ASCS -- the complete measuring process is to be completed by Aug. 1. Actually the farmers will have until Aug. 15, but the ASCS office prefers that the job can be completed by Aug. 1 so compliance can be finished by Aug. 15.

Charles Daniel, ASCS manager here, says the county ASCS office is charging straight 10 cents an acre for the measuring fees, although in some counties fees vary.

Daniel said seven men, some of them college students home for the summer, are doing the ASCS measuring task for the farmers. Such crops as cotton, and feed head the measuring series, and they also are measuring the "lay-out" land.

"But basically the farmers who are doing their own measuring job are on an honor system," Daniel said. "They carefully measure their land and turn in the figures to our office. Some farmers said they had the made by Muleshoe Area United Fund to the Bailey County Historical Society and to the Muleshoe Area Senior Citizens Organization. This brought the total to 12 agencies.

In addition to Mrs. Phelps, members of the B&A committee include Robert Hooten, Roy Whitt, Inez Bobo, Cliff Griffiths, Jim Fox, Marie White, Joe Harbin and Gil Lamb.

Alford pointed out these three general benefits of a united giving program:

1. The savings in time, patience and good-will for contributors, leaders and workers;
2. A stronger, more stable financial support for worthwhile agencies.

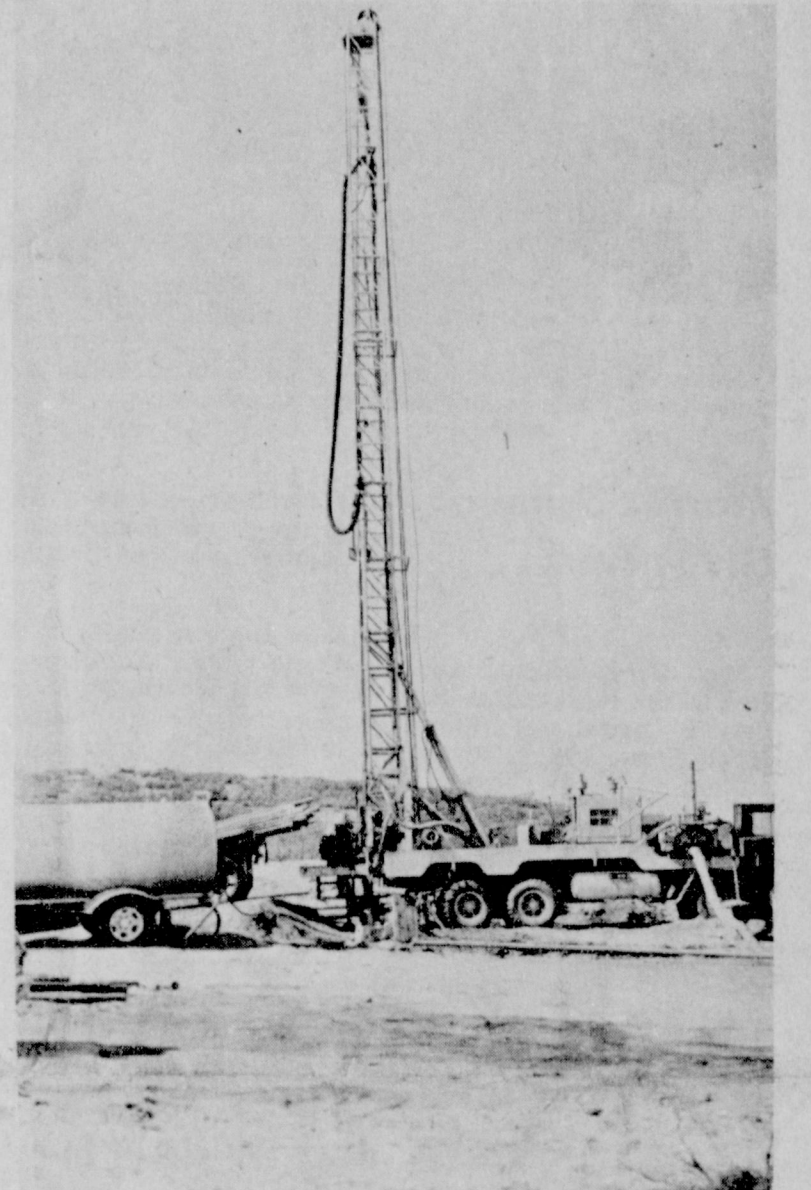

3. Freeing the time of agency volunteers and professionals from activities, permitting them to function for the job for which they were created.

Officers of the Muleshoe Area United Fund, in addition to Alford, are John Shelton, campaign chairman, and Kenneth Henry, director of public relations. Mrs. Phelps and other United Fund leaders are planning to attend a campaign institute for local UF leaders which is being presented by the Texas United Fund at Midland June 15. Alford and possibly others will attend a similar institute in Abilene June 13.

Roy Davis, former manager of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and now in a similar position at Kermit, will speak at the Midland session as well as one at Amarillo.

C-C Prospect Called 'Good'

Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce board and officials are working hard to find a successor for Roy Davis as manager of the local chamber. Davis resigned and became manager of the Kermit Chamber of Commerce June 1.

The board here has been holding frequent meetings to discuss prospects.

A spokesman for the organization said Wednesday that "an excellent prospect" has been contacted, "and we believe he will accept the post." He added that the chamber should "have somebody in the manager's chair before the end of July."

Editor:

Enclosed is a picture of the most independent clock in Texas - and that's covering a lot of territory. When all other clocks are meekly going along with the sun and recording a time of 9 p.m., for instance, this particular clock that I'm writing you about says that it's only 5 o'clock.

And this is very confusing, especially to folk who go to dinner and then go to sleep and then wake up and discover that the clock says 5 o'clock - no meeting should last so long! Anyway, in case you haven't guessed, the clock is the one in the high school cafeteria, which, so far as I know, hasn't been right ever. This picture above, for instance, was made at 7 minutes past 9.

And because I expect to go to school there again next year, I suggest that you not use my name at the bottom of this letter.

Sincerely,
A Clock-Watcher

Operations Resume At Area Wildcat Test

An area wildcat 12 miles southwest of Muleshoe which ceased drilling early this year, resumed operations Sunday, and at mid-week was down 3007 feet and believed entering the San Andres zone.

The wildcat is the Dewey Ross A-3, located 660 feet FFL and 660 feet FEL, southeast corner of Labor 24, League 171, Hale county school land, Bailey county.

Formerly temporarily abandoned early this year after testing the Queens formation following casing perforation and oil sand fracture.

At 200 feet, 8 5/7-inch casing was set and the 5 1/2 inch casing at 2631.

According to available geological information, the formations are running high. Operators are Don Ross, Muleshoe, and Julian B. Smith, Plainview. The well is being drilled by Galen Drilling Co., Tulsa. It's anticipated that the San Andres zone will be completely tested for oil and gas production.

Jenks DeShazo Is Found Dead; Rite is Held

John Jenkins DeShazo, long-time Muleshoe resident, was found dead at his home, 113 W. Ave. G Monday night when friends dropped by to take him to an American Legion meeting. Apparently he had been dead for several hours, although earlier in the day he had called the Journal office to report a weekend visit by a son from Albuquerque. He celebrated his 75th birthday last month.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 10:30 a. m. in the First Baptist Church, conducted by the Rev. A. W. Blaine, Sherman. Burial was in Muleshoe cemetery with Singleton Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Survivors include two sons, Dick DeShazo, Dallas, and Jack DeShazo, Albuquerque; a daughter, Mrs. Jay Weems, El Paso, and a sister, Mrs. Sally Pollard, Brownfield.

Mr. DeShazo, who was a member of the First Baptist Church, was a member of Muleshoe Masonic Lodge and Khiva Temple and of the Shrine. He also was a member of the American Legion and served in World War I.

DeShazo was born in Camp Springs April 16, 1891.

His wife, Mary DeShazo, for whom an elementary school was named here, died in 1952.

Woman Liquor Vendor Taken

Sheriff Dee Clements and his deputies went for a little drive through a section of Muleshoe Saturday which wound up with a woman "boarder" for the weekend at the county jail.

"We moved in on the woman," said the sheriff, "and confiscated a nice supply of beer and whiskey. Frankly she was bootlegging."

Hauled into county court Monday, she pleaded not guilty, and bond was set at $500.

In addition to the female liquor vendor, the sheriff's department jailed two on charges of worthless checks, one on two separate charges, and the city lodged a "boarder" in the jail on a charge of drunk and disorderly conduct.

Charles Jones and Joe Adams spent the last week at Granite Shoals Lake near Austin.

The men made a side trip to Houston to attend graduation exercises for Melinda Harris, daughter of Marian Harris. Melinda attended Muleshoe High School.

Local Rains Destroy Crops

The water came from West Camp and Progress sections and Blackwater Draw looked pretty much like the old Mississippi. Bridges on Highway 70 were unable to carry the flood and the water carried out a Santa Fe bridge as this point, holding up through rail traffic for three days. Passengers and mail were transferred here.

To the north of Muleshoe, the country resembled a huge lake last Friday, where flood waters

The new telephone directors for the Southwestern Associated Telephone Company, were distributed in Muleshoe last week, the first issued since July, 1940. The total number of Muleshoe and suburban connections is approximately 165.

Muleshoe was almost isolated for two days last week, due to flood waters which surrounded the town and cut off highway and rail traffic. On highway 214, south, water poured over the pavement for better than a mile and for a few hours was between two and a half and three feet deep.

25 Years Ago

from the north part of the county tumbled in on fields, washing out crops, drowning poultry and livestock and damaging farm buildings. In some sections the rain reached cloudburst proportions. It was rain from 10 to 20 miles north and west of Muleshoe that did the big damage here. Ditches were not sufficient to carry the water, which overflowed fields and pastures. Farmers herded cattle and hogs on haystacks to save them. The weather station announces total rainfall of 21.18 inches for the year here.

Mrs. Noel Woodley and daughter of Memphis, arrived in Muleshoe last week where they will make their home. Mr. Woodley has been here for the past two weeks, having assumed his duties as secretary-treasurer of the Western National Farm Loan Association.

Mrs. Clay Beavers and sons, Spencer and Billy, returned to Muleshoe Thursday after a ten days' trip in eastern and southern Texas, arriving here just in time to beat the high rise of water which a few hours later cut off many returning visitors.

Colonel Homer Garrison says they will seek administrative guide-lines for police in determining the needs for supervising traffic and providing motorist services on the controlled access highways.

International Association of Chiefs of Police research and development division is conducting the project under contract with Office of Highway Safety, U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

Texas is one of six states selected for intensified study, though all states and most metropolitan areas will be covered. Security Needs Top Fund Bills, Rogers Claims

WASHINGTON, -- "National security comes first -- above all other considerations facing the 89th Congress," Congressman Walter Rogers said Saturday. This week the House of Representatives, the Congressman said, is scheduled to act on a bill authorizing the purchase in the coming fiscal year of aircraft, missiles, naval vessels and other armaments.

Congressman Rogers called the bill "extremely important because it will set the course of U. S. military weaponry at this crucial period in our history."

The authorization bill -- largest single bill of its type expected to come before Congress this year -- contains a total authorization for appropriations of $17,858,059,000. The authorization for procurement of aircraft, missiles, naval vessels, and tracked combat vehicles totals $10.6 billion, and authorization for research, development, test, and evaluation totals $7.3 billion.

"The bill was reported unanimously from the House Committee on Armed Services, indicating the degree of Congressional agreement that the armed forces of this country must be maintained second-to-none in the world," Congressman Rogers said.

The week's schedule for the Congressman calls for him to participate in continuing deliberations over two important legislative matters before committees of which he is a member.

The Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, on which Congressman Rogers serves as ranking majority member, will continue to discuss legislation affecting community antenna television (CATV) systems and television broadcasting.

Congressman Rogers will again be presiding as the House Sub-committee on Irrigation and Reclamation continues deliberations on the lower Colorado River Basin Project authorization bill.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Overhanging Branches

To the man next door, that spreading elm tree in his back yard may be a thing of beauty.
But to you, the branches overhanging the fence may be just an eyesore. Do you have a right to cut off those branches at the boundary line?

Generally speaking, you do indeed. As a property owner you own not only the surface of your land but also, to a reasonable extent, the airspace above it. By cutting off the overhanging branches, you are merely removing what has intruded into your property.

But the right to cut is not the same as the right to keep. Whether cut or not, those branches still belong to your neighbor. The law determines ownership of the entire tree by the location of its trunk, not of its branches or roots.

Thus, if it is an apple tree that overhangs your yard, you may pluck the apples (because they are intruding) but you may not eat them (because they are not yours).

Suppose the tree is located entirely on your neighbor's property, with no overhanging branches.
Would you ever have any grounds for complaint about such a tree?
You might have—if the tree is in danger of falling.

In one case a man noticed that a pine tree, planted by his neighbor, was rotting badly and learning his way. But his warnings to the man next door went unheeded.

Sure enough, during a wind-storm, the tree finally did topple over onto his house. He sued the neighbor and won damages. The court said that, even though the tree did not overhang, it posed a clear and constant danger to his safety.

On the other hand, you ordinarily have no legal grievance if the tree isn't dangerous but merely annoying.

One home owner complained in court that a neighbor's leafy maple tree, while not overhanging his yard, did keep his house in shadow most of the day. But the court held this complaint unjustified, saying that the neighbor had full freedom to grow whatever trees he pleased on his own property.

As a practical matter, tree law is seldom tested in the courtroom, perhaps because there is seldom enough at stake to justify the costs of litigation.

Besides, a tree—in the poet's words, "a nobler object than a prince"—usually gladdens people on both sides of the fence. If statistics were compiled, they surely would show that trees inspire more poems than lawsuits.

Rod Storage — When storing fishing rods, either stand them up straight in racks or hang them by their tip-tops from the ceiling.

Never lean them against the wall as this will cause the rods to bend. If there should be unusual heat in the room, rods particularly fiberglass ones, will take a permanent set.
This set can be removed with a slight applic 'on of heat, but the process w. only weaken a good rod and eventually cause it to break.

'Frill' Spending Must Halt, Says Walter Rogers

By Congressman Walter Rogers

Until the war in Viet Nam has ended, all non-essential domestic spending should be curtailed by our Government --and the economy of the nation geared to wartime conditions. By attempting to maintain programs initiated in advance of the rising demands of the war, we are risking inflation by straining manpower and material resources, we are placing a strain on the Treasury to meet all obligations without incurring enormous deficits, and we are inviting the necessity of tax increases. All of these problems can be held to a minimum by reducing expenditures in what might be termed "luxury" areas of Government activities.

I am opposed to continuing programs that can be laid aside until the course of events in Southeast Asia is resolved. There is no question in my mind that Congress would not have enacted a number of programs now in effect had the war been raging at present levels when they were proposed and adopted.

If there is a single, paramount obligation of the Federal Government it is to maintain the Nation's security--to insure that our defenses are second-to-none in the world in order that freedom is preserved. One hundred and seventy-five years ago, in his first annual message, President George Washington told Congress, "Among the many interesting objects which will engage your attention that of providing for the common defense will merit particular regard. To be prepared for war is one of the most effectual means of preserving peace." This has been the policy of our Government since George Washington's time, and his words set forth the overriding responsibility of Congress--a responsibility that surpasses all others.

Dear Editor:

Editor:

I would like to speak to the people of Muleshoe and those coming into Muleshoe--that they had better beware of the signs to avoid speed traps. The crackdown is probably well and good but I think they should give us some warning.

For some 15 years I have driven as I thought the road conditions and traffic allowed, never having received a ticket for anything here, Clovis, Lubbock or elsewhere.

On my return from a neighboring city to finish some things in Muleshoe, I suddenly found myself being hauled over to the side like a common criminal and later accused of driving recklessly. Such a welcome back to Muleshoe! I paid my fine to get it over with; but it was a deep blow to take and I went home to take knock out pills, leaving my small children on their own, and today hasn't been much better.

Just Monday I had bragged about our adopted town of Muleshoe.

My husband lost an uncle (aged) last week and my grandmother and now to be hit with this is just too much.

What are the speed limits in residential sections? A little trailer came loose, jumped the curb and only a 2' high fence prevented it from crashing into our house this week. Should motorscooters be allowed to disrupt the quietness on a Sunday afternoon?

Is Muleshoe or the police department so hard up as to tear its people apart without giving them some warning?

Also I think the removal of our grass and trees by the court house was uncalled for. Seems some one was too lazy to walk a bit.

I also happen to know that law officers take advantage and drive faster than the speed limit at times.

(Name withheld by request)

A check of the records of Justice of the Peace Joe Vaughn revealed that 39 speeding tickets were issued by the highway patrol during the months of April and May. He termed this "normal for a 60 day period."
