Incumbent legislators fare well in run-off

Associated Press Writer

Incumbent legislators generally fared well in Saturday's Democratic run-off primary, and there was little in the outcome to change the political tone of either the House or the Sen-

In a Senate run-off, Rep. Bob Vale of San Antonio, a Mexican-American with a liberal voting record, downed attorney Phil Hardberger for the seat now held by Sen. Frank Lombar-Lombardino, a conservative businessman and ex-policeman, was defeated in the first primary, May 6.

Bush plans to 'move' campaign to Lubbock

By LINDA HILL

Now that the Republican primary campaign is over, George W. Bush plans to move "figuratively" to Lubbock for much of the general election campaign for the 19th U.S. Congressional District seat being vacated by retiring U.S. Rep. George Mahon, Bush said today in Midland.

One of his campaign staff members probably will move to Lubbock to run the organization there, and Bush and his wife, Laura, plan to rent "an apartment that we can work out of,"

First order of business is thanking those who worked in the long primary campaign and organizing for the general election campaign, in which he will run against Democratic state Sen. Kent Hance of Lubbock, Bush

In Saturday's runoff primary, Bush beat out Odessan Jim Reese to win the right to face Hance in November. The nature of Bush's primary runoff victory was a bit foreboding, however, in that Bush carried a majority counties in the district. Bush, for example, was outscored by Reese by 110 votes in Lubbock County, Hance's homeground

He said budgeting for the campaign is expected to take about 10 days. A 'realistic assessment' of what it will take to run the campaign, he said, would be about $200,000.

Bush said he won't consider himself a Lubbockite, but "we'll probably spend more time there than anywhere else, once things get cranking.

Of the race against Hance, Bush

Meanwhile, Hance, reached in Lubbock today, said he believes the key factor will be his legislative experience. He said he has represented "almost 70 percent of the 19th District" as a state senator since 1974, and that that will help him be effective more chance of winning. "They (his chances) are not excellent, but they're good." The key issue, he said, will be what he called Hance's inability to remain independent from the

quickly As for any connection with President Carter, Hance said, "I sure don't think it'll help me." However, he said, "In two years, he (Carter) probably won't be president," so "it'll take more than that issue to become elect-Hance said he showed his ability to act independently while in the state The Democrat said he doesn't believe where the candidates were born is an issue, but the fact that "I've lived in the district all my life" is, and would have been, no matter which Republican had been nominated to run against him.

Hance said he has not begun his general election campaign yet. Rather, he said, he is concentrating now on personal business. "I have to make a living." he noted.

Vale's opponent in November will be Dr. B. B. Markette, a Republican.

Former Rep. E. L. Short of Tahoka, defeated for re-election in 1976, made a comeback by winning the Democratic nomination for the Senate seat now held by Kent Hance of Lubbock, a congressional candidate.

Short downed Don Workman of Lubbock, a Texas Tech regent, and will run against one-term Rep. Joe Robbins, R-Lubbock, in the general

If Vale is elected in November, the Senate will tip in a slightly more liberal direction but will remain largely conservative.

Rep. Leonard Briscoe of Fort Worth, a cigar-loving black businessman, was picked off by Reby Cary, director of minority affairs at the University of Texas at Arlington. Tarrant County districts were realigned by federal courts in late winter, giving blacks an additional seat. It was won by Bobby Webber, a nursing home owner who ran a hard race against Briscoe in 1976. Webber defeated Roy Brooks in the run-off.

Two black representatives from Dallas who frequently were in the limelight last session defeated challengers in the run-off and are home free in November

Rep. Sam Hudson, who starved himself for several weeks to protest the slow movement of his bills from House committees, defeated Wes Pool, 1,312 to 1,028. Pool's father was the late Congressman Joe Pool.

Clay Smothers, the House's 1977 "Rookie of the Year," defeated auto worker Charles Rose, 1,503 to 1,357 in the Oak Cliff section of Dallas. Smothers, a conservative black, became well-known in the House for his opposition to abortion, busing and the U.S. Equal Rights Amendment.

Neither Hudson nor Smothers has a Republican opponent

Rep. Ernestine Glossbrenner, D. Alice, who sponsored the bill that eliminated the requirement that voters sign their ballot stubs, downed Homero Canales, also of Alice.

Big Spring man dead

in shooting

BIG SPRING - Police are investigating the shooting death of a 23year-old Big Spring man who was found shot in the back Sunday night near his car, located partially in the alley at 707 E. 5th St.

Police said Rudy Ramirez Jr. was found lying about six feet from the rear of his car after officers responded to a call that residents in that area had heard squealing tires and shots being fired at approximately 10:54 p.m. Sunday.

Police said it appeared Ramirez had been chased by someone in another car. There are no clues as to the identity of the driver of other car, investigators said.

Ramirez died a few minutes after police arrived at the scene, according to reports. Peace Justice Bobby West pronounced him dead at the scene.

Officers said Ramirez apparently had been shot with a 12-gauge shotgun. They said a .22-caliber pistol was found on the pavement next to an open door on the driver's side of the victim's car. Four shots had been fired from the pistol, officers said.

Joseph Montoya dies of kidney, liver failure

WASHINGTON (AP) - Former Sen. Joseph M. Montoya, a member of the Senate panel that investigated the Watergate scandal, died today from what hospital officials said was liver and kidney failure.

Montoya, 62, a Democrat from New Mexico, entered Georgetown University Medical Center May 4 complaining of stomach discomfort.

His family was with him when he died this morning

Montoya, who described himself as a "poor boy from Pena Blanca," spent almost 40 years in elective public service before he was defeated in 1976 in his bid for a third term in the U.S. Senate.

After serving in New Mexico elective offices, Montoya was elected to Congress in 1957 and then to the Senate in 1964. He came to national attention when he was named to the Senate Watergate Committee in 1973. That panel conducted hearings that figured prominently in the eventual unraveling of the Watergate cover-up.

He was defeated for re-election in 1976 by Sen. Harrison Schmitt, a Republican, a former scientist-astro-

Members of the Montoya family said the former senator underwent surgery May 7 when a benign growth was removed from his intentine.

There was a second operation last Wednesday in an effort to determine the cause of a high fever and retention of excessive fluids.

His condition worsened late in the week and by Sunday the hospital reported Montoya was in critical condi-

Effort to save woman fails

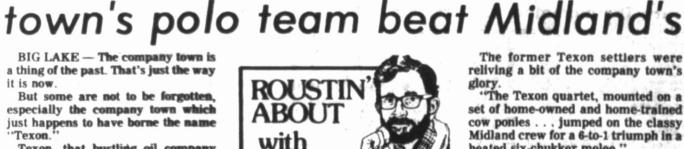

ODESSA - A 59-year-old Odessa woman apparently drowned in Monahans Draw here after her vehicle ran off a bridge about 8: 10 p.m. Sunday, a spokesman for the Odessa Police Department said today.

The woman, Lorene Wampler Mills of Odessa, was traveling east on west Murphy when she apparently ran off the right side of the road, struck a small hole on the shoulder of the road and lost control of her vehicle. The spokesman said her car ran off the bridge, landing in eight to 10 feet of water in the draw. Rain late last week had filled the normally dry southside

Earlier reports that spectators standing at the edge of the draw watched the woman drown without going to her aid are untrue, the spokesman said.

"There were (people in) several cars behind her that saw her go off. In fact, two men who saw her run off the bridge went into the water and got her out, but she was dead before they freed her. When our divers arrived and entered the water to see if anyone else was in the car and to hook it to the wrecker, they found two doors open," the spokesman said.

An autopsy has been ordered. The death is being carried as an apparent drowning until the autopsy results are in, the spokesman said.

And the reason Big Lake Oil Co. gave birth to Texon was because that oil and still-pumping discovery well, Santa Rita No. 1, started spewing forth the makings of prosperity - oil on May 28, 1923. And from that gusher sprang forth a town of 2,000 — though a few, looking through rose-tinted glasses, have pushed that figure up to 10,- Oilfield workers were making $4 a day back then. That was good enough pay to wave the Depression on by

"By God, you could buy something with it," recalled Flint Stinson, 79, who first came to Texon in 1926. He was 27 then, and was hired on by the company as a roustabout and a

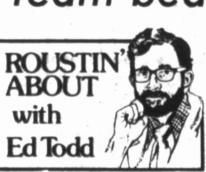

Stinson, who now calls San Angelo home, returned to Big Lake Sunday to rekindle some old memories along with some of his old oilfield buddies at the annual Texon Reunion About 300 old-timers, their spouses and some latecomers from several states flocked to the Reagan County Community Center here for the get-together, to swap tales and other talk, and to partake of a barbecue beef dinner (lunch to the city kin folks).

"We have it (the reunion) over here, because there's nothing at Texon any more," said Thelma Gardner, a reunion booster, who vi-vidly remembers Texon of the 1930s. Her spouse, Midland oil operator Roy Gardner, not only toiled in the fields, but also was a first baseman on the company-sponsored baseball "He was a first baseman and a good one," Ralph Lacy Way, who ran a tailor shop at Texon back then, recalled of Gardner. Too, he remembers left-handed pitcher "Flop" Harris winding up on the mound and letting go with "a grunt you could hear a mile away." Texon was a viable community sustained by oil and entertained by baseball, polo playing, a motion-picture theater that showed first-rate movies at 10 cents a ticket, and much more. Fact is, Texon, so it would seem, had country club facilities for its oil patch crews and their families. There was the golf course, tennis courts, the athletic barn, swimming pool, rifle range, the clubhouse, and, of course, playing fields for the Texon Oilers — the baseball team — and the Texon Polo Team.

Paul McCollum, who was just a kid back in Texon's heyday, seemed to get a charge out of recounting, via newspaper clippings, some of Texon's polo conquests.

McCollum, speaking from the podium to a restless and chatting crowd, dropped names such as Big Lake's lke Chaffin, "star of the Texon Polo Club," and Sonny Noelke, Bill Lane, Dick Farrington and a few others. And it was with obvious relish that McCollum, an Odessa lawyer, former district court judge and son of Texon dentist C. W. "Choc" McCollum, re-minded the old-timers of Texon's 6-1 defeat of the Midland team at the West Texas Exposition

"Just a good, old hard-riding set of country boys came to town ... and whaled the tar out of the millionaire Midland polo team ...," McCollum said to the cheering and hand-clapping partisans at the gathering.

The former Texon settlers were reliving a bit of the company town's glory.

"The Texon quartet, mounted on a set of home-owned and home-trained cow ponies . . . jumped on the classy Midland crew for a 6-to-1 triumph in a heated six-chukker melee."

You could almost hear the hoof beats of the polo ponies and the whacking of the wooden ball on the Credit for the smashing win went in large measure to the "sterling defense" of the Texon players Lane, Neolke and a fellow named Bloom. More clapping followed when McCollum noted that the hapless 'Midlanders couldn't locate the uprights" due to that nifty defense work by Texon.

"Midland persistently barked at the goal but lacked the final punch,' McCollum read from a yellowing clipping. If it was any consolation to the "millionaire" Midlanders, the Texon win was "no gentle gentle breeze." Midlanders on the polo field included J. Jowell, Ellis Cowden, Jim Wood and Clay Floyd.

Shortly after the polo recounting Sunday afternoon, the old Texon gang, filled with barbecue, taters, pinto beans and, naturally, memories, began mingling, gathering in smaller groups for picture-taking, and, finally, began heading for the exits and for home.

Leaving and expecting to return for next year's meeting of the non-clan were the likes of Sonny Harvey, a pumper who calls himself "just an old Irishman"; "Boob" Howard, a gang pusher for Marathon Oil Co. (formerly Plymouth and Big Lake Oil Co.) and another old Irishman, and Alvis Denton a retired number.

Denton, a retired pumper There, too, was Earl "Hardwood" Brooks, an rig builder who came to Texon in 1926.

Time permitting, they all will be back, and, once again, memories of the Texon that was will be gushing forth like the oil did back then.

"Oh," recalled Maurine Werst, "it (the oil) was flowing like gold" in and about the company town.

Poerner worried

By The Associated Press

John Poerner says he's not worried about the one last hurdle that remains for him to continue as a member of the powerful Texas Railroad Com-

Poerner came back from a second-place finish in the May Democratic primary to top aging political cam-paigner Jerry Sadler more than 2-1 in Saturday's runoff election.

The former state representative next faces Republican James W. Lacy, 53, of Midland, in November. Poerner said he will now turn his attention to that campaign, "which I am confident I can win."

With the Texas Election Bureau reporting complete but unofficial re-turns Sunday from 252 of 254 counties, Poerner trounced Sadler in the light voter turnout more than 2-1. Poerner had 544,715 votes, 70.02 percent, to Sadler with 233,148, 29.98.

Poerner, 45, was appointed in Jan-uary to fill an unexpired term on the commission. A political unknown, he spent nearly $500,000 in his campaign. Most of it went for a last-minute media blitz designed to teach Texans how to pronounce his name —

Sadler, 70, was on the railroad commission before World War II and was a former land commissioner. He relied on the familiarity of his name, spending about $6,500 for the entire

The outcome was a replay of Sadler's 1976 railroad commission race, when he also finished first in the primary without a majority and then lost in the runoff to Jon Newton.

Voters in six Congressional districts Saturday also selected one Republican and five Democratic nominees for the U.S. House of Representatives.

U.S. Rep. John Young D-Corpus Christi, lost the nomination for his seat to State Rep. Joe Wyatt of Bloomington. Accusations made two years ago that Young was keeping a secretary on his payroll partly for sexual favors apparently hurt his chances for re-election.

Two Democratic nominations for the state Senate and 13 for the Texas House were also decided Saturday. After Poerner learned of his victory, he promised to "make every-body a good hand" at the railroad commission. He said he felt humble because so many people had a part in his victory.

"First of all Speaker Billy Clayton organized the House and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby organized the Senate," Poerner said. "Then county governments organized the minorities and the local people.

"And last of all the press shouldered their responsibility and laid the record before the people and when that happened we could feel it turn around almost overnight."

"Just tell everybody that I will make a good hand," he said. The Railroad Commission regulates the oil, gas and trucking industries in Texas.

During the campaign, Sadler charged that Poerner was "in the pocket" of those industries. Saturday he said, "Oil is king, and the king must have his clowns. Poerner called Sadler a "disgrace." He claimed Sadler's age made him an unsuitable choice and said Sadler had a history of absenteeism as land commissioner.

In a Tyler area Democratic runoff for chief justice of the 12th Court of Civil Appeals, J.W. Summers apparently narrowly defeated Larry Starr by 319 votes. Totals were 24,633 for Summers to 24,314 for Starr. All 18 counties in the district had reported and were complete.

Rex Reddell won the Democratic nomination to the State Board of Education from the 10th District, leading Gus Garcia 15,730 votes to 14,197.

The Republican nomination for the board's District 3 went to Marjory Vickery, who led Harold Watkins 779 Bob Dickenson defeated J. Neil Daniel for the Democratic nomination for 11th District associate justice on the state civil appeals court. The tally was 30,307 to 27,567.

SALT talks to continue

WASHINGTON (AP) - Strategic arms talks should continue despite recent Soviet involvement in Africa, two high-ranking administration officials say.

"We should not look mainly at thelast week's or the last month's events," Defense Secretary Harold Brown said Sunday of the Russian activities. "We have to look at a series of years."

· Brown told a television interview show that a SALT agreement is in the best interest of the United States and the Soviet Union.

He acknowledged that the longterm outlook for SALT is not encouraging, considering the Soviet military buildup in Eastern Europe and along the Chinese border.

"That is a long-term trend which, if it continues, forces a response from the United States," he added.

In another television interview, Energy Secretary James Schlesinger agreed that SALT should not be linked with Africa.

These are matters that are sepa rate from, distinct from, the SALT agreement," said Schlesinger, a for-mer defense secretary. "If a SALT agreement is valid on its own merits, then we should agree to it; if it is not, we should not." Brown made the comments on the CBS interview program "Face the Nation." Schlesinger appeared on NBC's "Meet the Press."

In another SALT development last weekend, administration officials who asked not to be identified confirmed that a Soviet proposal to limit the testing and deployment of new intercontinental missiles was rejected late in May.

There were a few who felt this (proposal) was an improvement (over past Soviet positions), but most felt it was not," said one official close to the talks.

He said the administration rejected the proposal largely because it would have blocked work on the mobile MX land-based missile, which is now in the early stages of development.

WASHINGTON (AP) - HEW Secretary Joseph A. Califano Jr. says he wants to know whether further action is needed to correct "a substantial appearance of impropriety" in the handling of drug abuse contracts.

'Art of the possible'

Sen. Russell Long has been in Congress long enough to respect the adage about politics being the art of the possible.

Thus he is proposing that Congress tackle the problem of insuring Americans against the cost of "catastrophic" illnesses before it tries to legislate a scheme for full-blown national health insurance.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, on the other hand, yet prefers to go all the way, and he seems to have the Carter administration on his side. President Carter promised in his State of the Union message in January that he would offer a comprehensive national health plan by the end of this year, and signals from the White House indicate he has not changed his mind.

Either way, we can assume that both Congress and the administration would like to march into the 1980 elections bearing as a gift to voters an answer to their worries about the cost of medical care.

This would be the first major expansion of governmentsponsored health insurance since the Medicaid and Medicare programs were inaugurated in the mid-1960s.

It is the experience with those programs, mainly the way their costs have jumped off the charts, that has dictated the go-slow approach to health plans embracing more people. The search for political launching pads for 1980 finally may overcome the hesitancy in Washington to take

The $15 billion cost estimate for Sen. Long's plan compares favorably with the $100 billion estimate for the kind of blanket medical policy Sen. Kennedy would write for us all. Yet Congress and the taxpayer, should know by now that cost projections for health insurance are more vulnerable to overruns than Trident submarines.

The Congressional Budget Office last year issued an analysis of various options for insuring the population against catastrophic medical costs, and included a warning.

The techniques and services for treating serious, long-term illnesses - those which run up bills in the tens of thousands of dollars - are going to expand as the funds become available to pay for them.

The advent of "major medical" insurance programs which now protect about 125 million Americans against bills which would wipe out their resources has seen a steady increase in the proportion of health-care dollars going into treatment for illness in the catastrophic category.

Sen. Long has his priorities right. If there is going to be any new government insurance program, it should try to deal with those medical disasters which can quickly outstrip the average family's ability to pay.

The problem is to calculate the impact of such a program on the health care system and the federal budget, and to avoid runaway costs which could be catastrophic in themselves.

Mid-1978 certainly is not too early to open the debate on a new departure of this magnitude in health care.

At issue is Wisconsin Republican

Rep. William Steiger's popular pro-posal to roll back capital gains taxa-

ASIS PERSPECTIVE:

No tears, please, for the Nationalist Chinese

By V. H. KRULAK Copley News Service Don't grieve for Taiwan.

Suppose we did affront them needlessly by sending National Security Adviser Brzezinski to Peking on the same day that the Nationalist Chinese were inaugurating their president.

Suppose we did deliver them another body blow in "moving a step closer," as Brzezinski put it, to 'normalization," which is to say full diplomatic relations with the Communist Chinese, and none with the Nationalists.

Suppose we have hurt them by refraining to sell them arms and discouraging our allies from doing it - just to curry favor with the Reds on the mainland.

These affronts from their American friends have become common fare to the Nationalists, and they have learned to roll with the punches.

So don't grieve for them. Because, while we have been busy trying to romance the Peking leadership at their expense, the Taiwan regime has gone quietly ahead, learning to stand on its own feet, patiently accepting our crude

They now have two of these, which they have been able to put together in less than six years, while we, in the United States, can't build one in 10. Don't grieve for them.

They are doing all right. Their new president, Chiang Ching-kuo, an overwhelming choice in a free election, is immensely popular, as is his vice president. Shieh Tung-min, a native of Taiwan. Dedicated to austerity, constitutional rule, law and order and human rights, they give all the world - free and slave something to ponder, and stand in dramatic contrast to the mainland regime, a slave state where human rights are regarded as unimportant. And throughout the progress of their incredible boot-strap effort, the Nationalists have never addressed a word of reproof to the United States for our conduct where they are concerned; never a word to reflect the hurt arising from trip after trip of American presidents and secretaries of state to Peking without even a fuel stop in Taiwan - for fear of offending the Communists, who hate us openly, and would have our gizzard if they

Future of Permian Basin water at stake in hearings

BIG SPRING — Representatives from at least 10 West Texas cities and towns, and from as many counties,

Texan named to 'Dirty Dozen'

WASHINGTON (AP) - Since 1970, an environmental lobbying group has named 41 members of Congress as foes of important environmental legislation. Twenty-five have been defeated and six retired.

Environmental Action on Sunday released its newest "Dirty Dozen" list two senators and 10 representatives who the group feels is vulnerable at the polls.

Some of the 12 said they're honored to be on the list while others added they're sympathetic to environmental issues but must consider jobs and other economic factors. "Environmental Action is an ultra-liberal political outfit which couldn't care less about unemployment or inflation," said Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., who made the list.

"If Environmental Action had its way, the American people would starve and freeze to death in the dark."

The list was based mainly on 14 Senate and 19 House votes, said A. Blakeman Early, a spokesman for Environmental Action. The votes in-cluded amendments to air and water according to Ivie. pollution control {laws,, strip mining controls, auto emissions and water projects.

"The Dirty Dozen have consistently cast their votes to weaken air and water pollution control standards," Early said. "These legislators are creased water demands, said Ivie. clearly not looking out for their constituents' best interests."

MNB OFFERS NEW HIGHER INTEREST

CD'S & IRA'S

NEW-HIGHER INTEREST CD'S

Effective Thursday, June 1, The Midland National Bank is offering two newly authorized certificates of deposit. These will permit MNB customers to earn higher interest rates than were previously available from commercial banks.

6-MONTH MONEY MARKET CD

The first CD is a short-term money market certificate with a ceiling interest rate which will be set weekly with changes in the average yield on new issues of six-months Treasury bills. The money market certificate can only be issued in denominations of $10,000 or more with a six-month (26 week) maturity. Interest will be paid according to the average (auction) yield for the six-month Treasury bill in the most recent week's auction prior to issuance of the CD. For example, the average auction yield for six-months Treasury bills in May 1978 ranged from 6.935% to 7.141%. Of course, these rates will vary week to week according to money market forces. Presently, banks can pay 51/2% on CD's under $10,000 for 90 days to one year.

The new market certificates are nonnegotiable, but can be pledged as collateral for a loan.

8-YEAR 7 3/4% CD

The second CD is a long-term certificate issued in minimum denominations of $1,000 at maturities of eight years or more at a maximum rate 7 3/4%.

NEW DEPOSITS TO IRAs EARN 8%

Effective June 1, Midland National will pay 8% on all deposits to Individual Retirement Accounts. This rate is the highest rate a federally insured bank or savings and loan may pay on time deposits of maturities of more than six months. Rates on existing IRA accounts will reflect the new maxium rate. With daily compounding, the effective annual yield on 8% IRA deposits will be 8.33%.

Federal law and regulation prohibit the payment of a time deposit prior to maturity unless three months of the interest thereon is forfeited and interest on the amount withdrawn is reduced to the passbook rate. Accounts for each person are insured for up to $40,000 by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Senate returns to face labor law filibuster today

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate, returning from a week-long re-cess, is back to face a filibuster on labor law revision while members of the House are ready to vote this week on spending billions of dollars to run the government.

Senate Majority Leader Robert C.

Byrd is expected to file the first motion to limit debate on the Republican-led labor law talkathon today, tting up a vote on Wednesday.

er votes are likely later in the week, as even backers of the measure concede they don't have the strength to cut off debate on the first or second try. Today is the 10th day of the filibuster against the controversial

In the House, attention will turn to the annual appropriations measures and to legislation providing $2 billion over the next four years.

Congress voted $2.3 billion in shortterm loans and guarantees to help bail the city out of its financial diffi-culties in 1975. But that legislation expires on June 30, and city officials say the additional loan guarantees are necessary to ensure continued city borrowing in the private money

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., has scheduled four days of hearings this month on similar legislation before the Senate Banking Committee, which he heads.

On Wednesday, the House plans to vote on the first of the general appropriations measures, this one covering operations of the Treasury Department and the Postal Service.

Locusts plague East Africa

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) -- East African nations appealed for foreign aid today to help combat the worst plague of locusts in a decade.

Tanzanian Agriculture Minister John Malecela, chairman of the East African Desert Locust Control Organization, issued the appeal after arriving in Addis Ababa, capital of Ethiopia, the country hit hardest by the insects so far.

The locusts were first sighted in Ethiopia and neighboring Somalia a month ago. Kenyan officials reported over the weekend that the plague is spreading to northern Kenya.

Radio Addis Ababa said the insects are devouring crops in western Ethio-pia. Officials asked for medical help and more laborers to build emergency landing strips for planes being used to spray the insects.

A team of agriculture experts have been sent to northeast Kenya to direct spraying operations there, offi-cials said.

Peace justice to seek recount

ODESSA - Incumbent Harold Slicar is expected to ask for a recount of the votes in Saturday's Democratic primary race for nomination to Ector County peace justice, Precinct 1. His opponent, Charles E. Gee Jr., garnered 556 votes to Sligar's 546.

Sligar said it would be foolish for him not to seek a recount when he lost by such a narrow margin. He charged that the box in Gardendale was run "illegally," and said he would take the matter to court if necessary.

Two other races where incumbents had stepped aside attracted considerable attention, although the predicted 800,000 voters appeared to fall about 100,000 short.

State Rep. Mickey Leland won the Democratic nomination over Anthony Hall for Barbara Jordon's vacant 18th District seat. Ms. Jordan shocked Houston-area supporters by deciding Leland, a flashy, street-savvy black from Houston's poorest neighborhood known locally as "The Fifth Ward," called the race one of the cleanest in the state's history.

"I never dreamed that a little old guy from Fifth Ward would be going to Congress to take the place of a little old woman from Fifth Ward (Jordan)," he said. "Barbara Jordan and I are very different people, but be-cause she has passed the way of the 18th District, she has made it possible for me (to go to Congress).'

Like Tommie Gray, you can shape up at Pat Walker's!

She had never had a weight problem until after her second baby was born, Tommie Gray explains. Then she couldn't seem to shed the extra weight and inches.

"I kept having to buy bigger clothes," she says. And although she wanted to do something about her figure, she wasn't sure just what to do until her sister mentioned that she was going to Pat Walker's for a complimen tary treatment.

Her sister was so pleased with the Pat Walker program that Tommie decided to try it, too. Her husband, unfortunately, didn't share Tommie's enthusiasm-but she went, anyway, without his knowledge.

few weeks he noticed my weight loss," Tommie continues. "Everyone noticed, but I did not tell anyone. The day I was asked to do a Pat Walker ad, I knew I had to tell my husband. . . . He was very shocked, but he is glad I went and now keeps up with my progress." (And great progress it's been, too: so far, Tommie has lost 241/4 pounds and 283/4 inches.)

'Maybe we'll be going more places now," she adds jokingly. "He says now he'll take me somewhere besides the local hamburger stand!"

Farms paying undue share of tax load

The Associated Press The number of individual farms in the United States has been dropping and a growing number of states are trying to re-verse the trend by easing for a 50 percent reducthe tax burden on farm-

The problem stems from the fact that land has become increasingly valuable in recent years and, as the market value went up, property taxes soared. Farmers who could not afford the taxes sold their land, often to developers or large corporations.

Now, lawmakers are changing the way farmland is taxed, assessing it on the basis of the crops and livestock it produces, rather than on its market value, and they are trying to pro-vide specific tax breaks for farmers.

In Wisconsin, farmers get an income tax credit based on the property taxes they pay and the level of farmland pro vation they employ. If a farmer wants to remove his property from the

If dummy had four trumps and only three clubs, South could draw trumps, cash the top clubs, ruff dummy's low club, cash another top heart and give would get a free finesse. If anything else. South would discard a diamond while dummy ruffed. That's what bridge players call a complete strip.

Since dummy has only three trumps, South must rely on the incomplete strip, a more exciting performance. South cannot afford to draw all of the missing trumps since that would leave no trump in dummy for the ruff-discard play.

LEAVES TRUMP OUT

Instead, South wins the first heart and draws only two trumps. Then he cashes the top clubs, ruffs a club, leads a heart to dummy and ruffs another club. Finally, he gives up the heart, hoping it must be won by the player who is out of trumps.

And so it turns out. If West returns a diamond, South gets a free finesse. If West returns a heart, dummy ruffs while South discards a diamond. Declarer gets to his hand with a diamond to draw the last trump, and the slam is home.

Opening of new casinos due to hike dollar coin demand

By TOM GARDNER Associated Press Writer

Before casino business gets into full swing in Atlantic City, N.J., operators had better check their supply of silver dollars. Nevada has the corner on the

Of the $45.5 million in dollar coins minted last year, the Treasury Department's Bureau of the Mint says 65 percent went to the Federal Reserve Bank in San Francisco and its branch in Los Angeles for distribution - mostly to Nevada.

"Last year, we averaged 2,087 bags of dollar coins paid to banks monthly" for a total of just over 25,000 bags a year, a spokesman for the Federal Reserve Bank in San Francisco said.

The branch in Los Angeles shipped out another 22,941 bags last year. At $1,000 a bag, that's about $48 million in cartwheels that changed hands in the return rate of about 52 percent to San Francisco. The Los Angeles branch expects a steady increase in demand for dollar coins by Las Vegas of 11 percent a year. But the opening of the MGM Grand Hotel and its sprawling casino — the largest in the world — has

'We had an increase of 1,300 bags of dollar coins in April over April of 1977," the San Francisco banker said. Another official at the bank said the Federal Reserve vaults in San Francisco could not supply the MGM's hunger and had to turn to the mint for fresh

"With all the casinos opening this year in Reno, activity," he said. "Otherwise, we're going to be in big trouble."

He did not anticipate an increase in the number of dollar coins being minted. "Other Federal Reserve banks have stockpiles we can tap until they start minting the new dollar coin." he said.

He added that the casinos are lobbying for the new coin. While it will mean converting all the dollar slot machines in Nevada to take the smaller coin, slot operaors figure they will benefit in the long run by having lower maintenance costs on their machines than they now have with the heavier coin.

And if Nevadans - proud of their heritage as "The Silver State" - mourn the passing of the traditional "silver dollar," they are about seven years too late. Except for proof sets, dollar coins minted since 1971 do not contain one grain of silver.

"Don't call them 'silver dollars," said an official at the Los Angeles Federal Reserve branch. "They are 90 percent copper with a nickel alloy coating. He said they cost the government about 8 cents each to make. The new ones will cost 3 cents.

NEW YORK (AP) — Three paintings of water lilies by Claude Monet, lent by three different American museums, are on show together publicly for the first time as a triptych, at the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

They are among 81 works, including other famous water-lily paintings, in a radiant exhibition titled "Monet's Years at Giverny: Beyond Impressionism," which is in New York until July 9, and will then be at the St. Louis Art Museum from Aug. 1 until Oct.

The exciting discovery that three of the single water-lily paintings belonged together was made by Charles S. Moffet, associate curator in the Metropolitan Museum's Department of European Paintings, when he was selecting works for the show.

The paintings had been sold separately from Monet's studio in the 1950s and belong to the Cleveland Museum of Art, the St. Louis Art Museum and the Nelson Gallery-Atkins Museum, Kansas City, Mo., respectively. They will return to their separate homes after this unique showing as a triptych.

The paintings on display, hung chronologically, acquire particularly interesting significance from their relationships to each other. They illuminate changes in the way Monet worked as the years progressed and show a certain narrowing of scope as, limiting his physical range, he turned his attention more and more to aspects of his garden. Yet, despite eye trouble and ill health, he continued to experiment, enrich and develop his creative vision.

The scenes in this exhibition's selection of works were never more than a couple of miles away from Monet's house. Later, he focused even more closely on details of flowers, water and reflections, below horizon level. But at the same time the canvases grow larger and larger, and his brush strokes bolder. while his colors glow with fresh, luminous variations of his palette range. The effect, paradoxically, is of opening out — the advance "beyond Impressionism" rather than closing in.

Repetition of subject is an important element in the way Monet worked as the Giverny period pro-gressed — changes in color made the difference. Monet once explained that he felt that to paint a subject only once was to deny an aspect of reality, the passage of time, and that a single depiction could

Propery taxes threaten dream

By LOUISE COOK Associated Press Writer

"The property tax," says Pennsylvania State Sen.
John Stauffer, "has put the age-old dream of home ownership in jeopardy for the young and old and for millions in between."

Stauffer is not alone in his concern. It is echoed across the country in states where property tax bills take steadily bigger bites out of the family housing budget. Americans are demanding relief and the lawmakers seem to be listening.

An Associated Press survey shows that property tax reform is an issue in 39 of the 50 states. Legislators in more than a dozen states already have acted on the property tax issue, although the scope of the changes varies widely.

Efforts to impose strict tax limits or to abolish property levies completely are pending in eight states—California, Montana, Nebraska, Idaho, Oregon, Michigan, Pennsylvania and Ohio. Lawmakers in five states — Kansas, Oklahoma, Maryland, Georgia and New Mexico — considered and defeated imilar proposals.

Elsewhere, there are plans for reassessments and rebates. A growing number of states are passing "homestead exemptions," cutting levies on owner-occupied homes, and "circuit-breaker" plans, reducing tax bills for elderly and low-income per-

The show's illuminating selection of paintings, some of them never before shown in this country, was assembled through loans from public and private collections both here and abroad. A nucleus of 25 works was lent by the Musee Marmottan in Paris from the estate of Monet's son, Michel. The St. Louis Art Museum participated with the Metropolitan Museum in the organization of the show.

Cuban aid indicated, Brown says

WASHINGTON (AP) Nobody found a Cuban cigar butt inside Zaire, but there is convincing evidence that Cubans accompanied invading rebel forces close to the border of the African nation, a Cabinet member Defense Secretary Harold Brown said Sunday evidence of Cuban involvement includes diplomatic reports and statements of eyewitnesses, including people temporarily held by invaders who attacked Zaire's Shaba province.

Appearing on the CBS television interview pro-gram "Face the Nation," Brown said "I would say there is no convincing evidence that Cubans actually accompanied the invading forces into Zaire, but there is evidence that they accompanied them very close to the border.

Brown also said the reports showed some evidence of East German involvement but the facts are uncertain. "There is less clear evidence, I would say, of (the East Germans) actually carrying out the tactical training," he Meanwhile, United Nations Ambassador Andrew Young said in an interview with U.S. News and World Report maga-zine that he had initial doubts about Cuban involvement in Zaire, but now believes the reports are true.

"I did seriously question the charges (of Cuban involvement) at first...but additional intelligence that I've seen convinces me there is truth to the allegation," Young commented.

Young said the United States should have "a rational, analytical response...and not respond emotionally" to the Russian and Cuban presence in Africa.

The Los Angeles Times
ABU DHABI, United Arab Emirates — "I wouldn't work no other way," Ronnie Knotts, a tool pusher from Saline, La., said. "Hour for hour, I'm home with my family more than men working eight hours a day in Shreveport." Knotts is one of a special breed of people whose life-style has been radi-cally changed by the pressures of international economics. WHERE MARRIED American oilmen used to move their families to the Persian Gulf with them, and single drillers spent their free hours in a strange land, more and more of them are going home — all the way home — when off the job. Soaring prices in the oil boom states has led to a revolution in the life of the overseas oil worker.

For the men on the drilling rigs, it has meant that for every day they work they get a day off. Not one day on, one day off; the general pattern is 28 days on, 28 off.
FOR THEIR TIME off, some of the crews are flown back to the United States, others to some mid-way point. The Arabian American Oil Co. in Saudi Arabia charters a TWA Boeing 707, with first-class seating throughout, for periodic round trips between Dharan and Houston.

Growing costs have made it in-creasingly difficult for some of the smaller companies to keep employees and their families in the Persian Gulf nations. In some places, the rent for a modest apartment is as much as $2,-000 a month.

ALSO, CONGRESSIONAL efforts to reduce the tax exemption on overseas earnings have promised to make living abroad even more costly.

Bigger companies had additional reasons. Aramco, for example, was desperately short of family housing for new engineers being brought in for a development program in Saudi Ara-

Ullman says tax will pass working two weeks on and one off, but the change to 28-28 was unsettling and not everybody made it.

"It's the mental attitude," Ken Peek of Houston, a driller in Kuwait for the Parker Co., said. "First there's 28 days of nonstop work, 12 hours a day, then complete dissociation. It's like coming out of jail. You get home and spend the first three days getting reacquainted with your family. Then what do you do for the

JERRY ALLMAN, the manager of Atwood Oceanics in Dubai, had an

"They start yelling at each other," he said.

Arameo psychiatrists say it is too early to come to any definitive con-clusions about the effect of the new work style. But men in the field think they see some patterns developing.

Most agree that the new system works better with more mature men than with younger men. This is illustrated by two tool pushers from the Penrod Drilling Co. of Houston.

TOMMY SPELL, 30, of Crowley, La., preferred the old system of 14 days on and 7 off. He spent his time off with his wife and young son in

"She loved Dubai," he said. "She would come back today. It's too much time off now. i'd rather live here."

Knotts is nine years older and of a different opinion. His two children are already too old for the American school in Dubai.

Also, he has a small farm and raises cattle, which means he has plenty to do when he gets home every other month. When he has to leave for work, he said, "I kick it out of gear and let it coast along for a month."

KNOTTS AND SOME of the others follow a practice known as "hotbedding." Two men working different 12-hour shifts use the same bunk.

The system has also been applied to off-rig pursuits. Roger Garrett, the Dubai manager for Sedco International, said he knows of two drillers working for the company who have bought a service station back home.

The company, anxious to keep its men happy, cooperates and makes sure that the two week alternate months, so that one is always home to

"WE'VE HAD adjustment prob-lems, but most of the men love it," Garrett said. "For one thing, they don't worry about their families if they are back in the States."

Other companies, such as Offshore International, fly the crews out for their time off, but not all the way to the United States. Offshore has chosen the Mediterranean island of Malta as its base point.

Offshore picked Malta because it is inexpensive but comfortable. Bob Browning, the Abu Dhabi manager for Offshore, figures there are about 3,000 oil workers living on Malta and working in the Middle East oilfields.

"I was surprised," Browning said. "I think it's working reasonably well, although at first I thought it was too much time off."

As a manager, Browning is one of the rare ones who still has his family in Abu Dhabi, living in a comfortable Bungalow on the beach.

"I dlon't know how I would cope with 28 days off," he said. THERE IS SOME disagreement among oilmen as to which is the tougher part, the 28 days on the rig or the 28 days off. But not much. Offshore rigs in the Persian Gulf may be among the world's most unpleasant places. For six months of the year the rigs are a hot and humid hell.

There is little to do other than work, sleep and eat. There is no alcohol on American rigs (the French company Foramer is the only one in the area that allows liquor on its rigs). There is closed circuit television, and X-rated movies are said to be popular.

A TOOLPUSHER on one rig has organized a jogging club. Fifty time around the helicopter landing pad equals one mile, Al Reed, manager for Penrod, said.

Reed figures that one man in four cannot adapt to the new life-style. Penrod sends these men home.

The new system has meant added expenses for the companies, which appear to match up more or less with the costs that have been eliminated for housing, other living costs expenses and allowances to offset

PENROD'S REED said the company is actually saving a little, even though staffing has to be increased by one-third and the round trip flights to Houston cost $1,430 a year for every

Browning of Offshore International said his company is not saving any

"We had to go over to the new system to keep our people in the face of the competition," he said.

Fred Schwarzenlander of Port Hueneme, Calif., an assistant tool pusher for Sedco International, appears to be an exception to the rule that young men are unhappy with the new arrangement. He is 24 and unmarried, and he says he loves the system. What does he do with his time

"What do I do?" he repeated. "I go back to California, of course." Did he find it difficult establishing

Public Service Co. wants to build the plant near Inola to take the place of coal-fired generating facilities.

Opponents lobbied against the nu-

Public Service officials said they had expected authorization to start non-safety related work at the site after the fall hearings, but instead the new hearings were granted to take testimony relating to radon emission

The intervenors, represented by a group called Citizens Action for Safe Energy, contend the commission underestimated the effects of radiation from the plant by failing to take intoaccount radon gas in the uranium mill

The tailings, residue from the preparation of uranium ore, are allegedly the cause of an increase in the incidence of cancer and leukemia.

"Scientists state that radiation left behind in the mine-tailings from the uranium used each year in a nuclear power plant the size of one of the proposed Black Fox plants will cause 200 deaths per year per plant — from now on for many centuries," a CASE newsletter claimed.

The organization's conclusions were based on testimony by by Dr. Robert O. Pohl, physics professor at Cornell University.

T.N. Ewing, manager of the Black Fox Station project, says the new round of hearings "will undoubtedly increase the cost of Black Fox Station, ultimately resulting in higher costs of electric energy.'

First Oklahoma nuclear facility at center stage

Ewing, in a letter to Inola-area residents, said the issue to be discussed at the hearings is not new and is to be the subject of a commission report to be released this September.

"It seems more than slightly absurd that the NRC has determined that separate hearings are now required for each operating power station, each reactor under construction and each reactor seeking a construction permit," Ewing wrote.

Gregg Minor, a San Jose, Calif. electrical engineer who was expected to participate in the two days of hearings, was critical of the proposed facility. He said Public Service's architect-engineer had never built a nuclear plant and noted that the plant was of a new design.

Minor said the plant "is likely to create a lot more problems than energy in the next five to eight years."

Cost estimates for the plant have nearly doubled since it was first proposed five years ago, and Minor said it will go higher than the present estimate of $1.7 billion because there are "a lot of unanswered questions."

Re-entry in Andrews to test Spraberry zone

American Quasar Petroleum Co. announced plans to re-enter the Devonian discovery of the Block 6 University field in Andrews County and plug back for tests in the Spraberry

The operation is No. 1-12 University, 660 feet from north and east lines of section 12, block 6, University Lands survey and 19 miles northeast

The old total depth is 12,398 feet. It will be plugged back to 9,800 feet.

ATAPCO PROJECT

Southland Royalty Co. will re-enter No. 1-A Southland, project in Crane County, and attempt completion as a well in the Atapco (Queen) field.

The operation is 1,980 feet from northeast and 660 feet from northwest lines of sectidon 30, block 1, H&TC survey and four miles nothwest of Imperial.

Orignally completed in the Devonian as No. 1 Southland, the test is bottomed at 5,680 feet. It will be plugged back to 2,200 feet. Five and one-half-inch casing is cemented on bottom.

DELAWARE OILER

Mobil Oil Corp. has completed No. 9 Effie Potts Sibley as a flowing well in the Coyanosa, North (Delaware) field of Pecos County, 22 miles northwest of Fort Stockton.

The well finaled for a 24-hour flowing potential of 395 barrels of 35.7gravity oil, and 308 barrels of water, through a 20/64-inch choke and perforations from 4,787 to 4,822 feet. The pay was acidized with 3,000 gallons and fractured with 30,000 gallons. Gas-oil ratio is 1,975-1.

Total depth is 5,000 feet and 5.5-inch casing was cemented on bottom. The plugged back depth is 4,967 feet.
Wellsite is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 48, block OW, TTRR survey and one loction east of other production. No. 9 Effie Potts Sibley is the pool's sixth producer.

EXTENDER FINALS

John H. Hendrix Corp. of Midland potentialed its No. 2 Schumacher one location north of production in the Glasco (Devonian) field of Gaines C8ounty, 22 miles southeast of Se-

The potential was 171 barrels of 35.4-gravity oil, no water, flowing through a 1/4-inch choke and perforations from 12,637 to 12,638 feet. Gas-oil ratio is 17-1.

The hole was drilled to 12,652 feet and 4.5-inch casing was set on bot-Operator acidized the pay section

7th blast victim dies

Land survey.

GALVESTON, Texas (AP)oyce Taylor, 24, died today in Galveston hospial of burns received during a series of explosions at a waterfront oil refinery at Texas

She was the seventh victim of the blasts that rocked the facilities at the Texas City Refining Inc. plant in the predawn hours of May 30.

Two workers and a security guard were killed when two 55,000 gallon gasoline tanks erupted and fire spread rapidly to other storage facilities nearby.

Three others died later of burns. Ms. Taylor, an operator-clerk with the refinery, had been in critical condition with burns on her arms and Edwards closed out his incredible collegiate career Saturday, supplying 20 points personally and helping win another 10 as the University of Southern California won its 27th NCAA Outdoor Track and Field Championship in the meet's 57-year history.

"PLL RUN them both (the 100 and 200) next week," he said after a blistering first-place finish in the NCAA 200. He was disappointed with his NCAA meet record time of 20.16 seconds, which eclipsed the mark of 20.2 shared by two San Jose State runners - Tommie Smih (1967) and John

Carlos (1969). "I was hoping for 19.8, 19.9, something like that," said Edwards, who set a meet record in the 100 Friday at 10.07 and helped the Trojan 400-meter relay team to another meet record at 39.31 seconds Saturday. Add to this qualifying and semifinal heats in all three races and Edwards' record in Saturday afternoon becomes all the more remarkable. "I was burned out by the time we got to the 200 trials," said Edwards, who was named the meet's outstanding athlete by a vote of the American Track and Field Writers Association. Vern Wolfe, the veteran Trojan coach who has won eight NCAA titles in his 16 years at the school, was full points in just six events.

"I can't remember having a chamonship team as thin as this one Wolfe said. "But I can't say I was surprised by the way they performed. They have never let us down. They're a magnificent group of young men.

One of the most magnificent was freshman James Sanford, who finished third in the 200, anchored the winning relay and also ran in the mile relay. Junior college transfer Billy Mullins edged Willie Smith of Auburn in the 400-meter dash and also ran in both relays.

"There were all kinds of things that could have gone wrong," Wolfe admitted, but they didn't.

THE THREE-DAY event at the University of Oregon's Hayward Field produced 10 meet records and one American mark, but no world

High jumper Franklin Jacobs, pole vaulter Mike Tully and distance phenomenon Henry Rono were all expected to threaten world marks, but none made it.

Jacobs blamed Hayward's brittle approach apron, which barely received its protective coating in time for the meet. The surface was as little as one-third of an inch thick in spots, and many jumpers broke their spikes. Jacobs, the talkative 5-foot-8 sophomore from Fairleigh Dickinson, was

Bullets blister Seattle to even NBA playoffs

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) — To veter-an Bobby Dandridge and rookie Greg Ballard, it was just a last-minute offensive change for Washington. To Seattle, is spelled disaster.

Using three forwards and at times a four-forward offense, the Bullets blew out the Seattle SuperSonics 117-82 Sunday to tie the National Basketball Association Championship series at three games each.

The final game of the 1977-78 season will be played Wednesday night in the Seattle Coliseum, where the Sonics have won 22 in a row.

Guard Kevin Grevey unknowing-ling injured the wrist of his shooting arm in Game 5 Friday and it stiffened on the plane ride home from Seattle. Suffering, he finally went into the hospital late Saturday night, but Coach Dick Motta, who did not fly with his team, didn't learn about the injury until about 9:30 a.m. Sunday.

"It looked like we would have to scratch him (Grevey) because it swelled up and was bothering him," said Motta after the game. "Luckily, I had discussed it with Bobby, the idea of using him at guard previously, because Dennis Johnson (Seattle guard and high-scorer) is so tall."

However, Grevey started and tried to play but was replaced after six minutes by guard Charley Johnson with the Bullets down 11-7. In the second quarter, Motta replaced Johnson with rookie Ballard.

THE LINEUP change put forward Dandridge at the guard slot with Tom Henderson and Ballard along the front line with two veterans, forward Elvin Hayes and center Wes Unseld. In the second half, Mitch Kupchak, normally a forward who sometimes plays at center, replaced Unseld in that lineup.

"It was a combination of me going to guard and Greg coming in," said Dandridge of the late second-quarter explosion which moved the Bullets from a 1-point lead with 5:21 remaining, to 47-35 at halftime.

From then on, with a lot of help from their much-maligned bench, the Bullets kept building on their lead until they surpassed the previous high point differential in an NBA final, 34, when Boston defeated St. Louis 129-95

"That's the real Bullets," said Motta. "We played like that against San Antonio and Philadelphia (to reach the finals). I was wondering when we would get a good one.

"NEXT WEDNESDAY'S game should be one hell of a game.'

Seattle Coach Len Wilkens said: 'This was the worst game we've played in a long time. We were totally out of sync. We relied too much on 1-on-1. We didn't play well. We didn't generate anything.

"The Bullets didn't do anything different. I don't think they can play four forwards against us. All we had to do was use our heads, but we were totally out of sync again and we got further Asked about Wednesday's deciding game, Wilkens said: "Our team has pride, they didn't like what happened today. It's not going to happen (Wednesday)."

Although Hayes was the game's high-scorer with 21 points and Dandridge had 19, the Bullets got a lot of firepower from four players coming off the bench - Kupchak 19, Johnson

17, Ballard 12 and guard Larry Wright

"I'd rather talk about the bench when they produce and they produced today," said a smiling Motta.

Dandridge and Hayes also praised the Bullets substitutes with Hayes saying: "ANY CREDIT would have to go to the bench. They came in running and rebounding with Mitch and Greg doing a tremendous job on the boards. This is the way the Bullets have to play to win.

The SuperSonics, however, believe much of the loss could be attributed to their lowly 33.7 shooting percentage from the floor, with only 33 of 98 shots connecting.

"Our offensive contributed to Washington's victory," said Paul Silas, who was pointless in four fieldgoal attempts. 'G Marvin Webster who had 12 said: "I don't think we played an intensive second quarter and I don't think we had good shots, but they didn't go

Freddie Brown, whose 17 points were high for Seattle, said: "All our shots bounced out. Even the rebounds bounced out of our hands. Washington's intensity level was very high. When Motta put in Ballard he took a chance and the rookie played well."

Even Motta noted the Sonic's poor shooting percentage compared with his team's 44.7 mark, on 46 of 103 field goal attempts.

'No pro team shoots 33 percent," said Motta. "Our defense was good but their shooting was poor. We can't take credit for holding them in the 30-percent range.

As for Wednesday night's final in Seattle, the SuperSonics believe they have the advantage and will prevail, since the only game they've lost to the Bullets in Seattle in this championship series was played in the King-dome, not the Coliseum.

Jemison sets Texas League stealing mark tory over El Paso Sunday night. The Drillers stole a total of eight bases in the contest. In addition to his base stealing, Jemison scored four runs and fellow Driller Dan Duran went three-for-four and drove in four

In other Texas League action, San Antonio beat Shreveport, 8-4, Midland edged Jackson, 3-2 and the Arkansas-Amarillo game was postponed because of rain in the Texas Panhandle

El Paso outfielder Jay Peters had a home run for El Paso in the Tulsa contest. First baseman Kelly Snider had three hits and scored four runs as San Antonio defeated Shreveport, 8-4. Juan Deliza, playing for the first time in more than three weeks, slammed a two-run homer for Shreveport.

Gerald Hannah, the second of three San Antonio pitchers, picked up the victory, his first decision of the season. Dave Patterson had his 13th save for San Antonio. Loser Bob Weismiller dropped to 1-3.

Midland Cubs topple Jackson seemed as though pitching had be-come a lost art, but that all changed with the arrival of the Jackson Mets in Midland. The Mets won the series opener 6-2 behind the artful brushstrokes of Jeff Reardon and Sunday 1,253 Winwood Mall Night fans were treated to an old-fashioned pitchers' duel as the Midland Cubs squared the series at 1-1 with a 3-2 victory the hung in the balance until third baseman Javier Fierro took a base hit away from Keith Bodie and turned it into a game-ending double play in the ninth

"I already had chalked it up as a base hit," said Tom Butler, who came Martz, and recorded his seventh save while preserving Martz' sixth vic-

"You've got to hope for those, but you can't expect them," he added. "I'd just told Javier to move off the line," said Manager Jim Saul, "and the next pitch he hit into his glove."

Fierro lunged to his left and fired to Kurt Seibert, who turned the gamesealer to Aaron Randall at first.

IT WAS a weird ninth in which Kelvin Chapman opened with a single and William Wilson tripled down the right field line to trim Midland's 3-1 lead to one. Juan Montaserio skied to right and then shades of Mickey Owen and the fourth game of the 1941 World Series.

Butler broke off a curve in the dirt on a three-two pitch and Keno Perry went for it, striking out, but catcher Greg Keatley couldn't find the ball and Perry was on at first. That set up the double play ball to Bodie, although it seemed a portent of disaster at the time.

"It was bad pitch that broke more than I anticipated," Butler said of his third strike to Perry, "And I guess it fooled him too."

Chapman doubled and Wilson singled him home in the fourth to give the Mets a 1-0 lead and the way starter Louis Lunar, now 4-5, was going, it looked like plenty. Going into the sixth, Midland's only hit was a third inning leadoff single by Kevin Drury. But then a walk, which proved Lunar's undoing, to Kurt Seibert, Steve Macko's force grounder and Jimmy Buckner's triple to leftcenter tied the score.

"I was going for two," said Buckner, "But then the ball hit the fence and scooted between the outfielders," Buckner said.

After a walk to Greg Keatley, Buckner streaked home when Lunar uncorked a wild pitch while working on Randall. Randall reached first on an error and then Eric Grandy and Brian Rosinski walked to force in what proved to be the winning run. Rosinski hung tough, fouling off the good pitches, until he got his free pass to first.

That brought an early shower for. Lunar, who was working on a two-hit-ter when he left, and brought in Dennis Solari, who choked the Cubs off with one hit the rest of the way.

FOR MARTZ, it was a happy return to the starting rotation. He worked the first seven innings, surrendering just three hits in his first start since

"I think I could have gone the distance," he said later, "But I got a little tight in the seventh."

Randy stuck with his fastball and slider, "I threw just two curves and one changeup. The lead off hits in the fourth that scored the runs were off a fastball and slider."

'Considering it has been a while since Randy pitched, he did a good job," Saul praised, "He threw strikes and got a lot of ground balls. He threw 79 pitches and that was enough after the long layoff."

"YOU'LL SEE another good pitcher tonight," Saul added, "in Larry Prewitt, 2-2, beat the Cubs 2-0 in Jackson. His mound opponent will be Ron Davis, 3-3, who was the victim of Prewitt's gem.

Tonight's game is scheduled for 7:30 and the series winds up with games Tuesday and Wednesday, whereupon the Cubs will take a day off before invading San Antonio for what promises to be a do-or-die series with the West Division Texas League

bery on Bodie in the ninth was only fitting since second baseman Chap-man had robbed Javier in the sixth, going behind second to backhand a ball and throwing the Cub runner out at first...Third baseman Paco Perez also made a fine play on Drury in the fifth, backhanding his skipping shot on the line while Seibert did a midair job on Perez after taking his hopper behind second in the third and Macko committed larceny on Perry's bid up the middle in the fourth... Centerfielder Joe Hernandez, out since the season's first series, is chomping at the bit to get back on the roster...Chicago's roving batting coach Billy Williams departs for Sacramento and junior high and high school graduations for his youngsters...

Blood, sweat and tears for Lee's Rebels ON THE DOUBLE that Rieger got off Schmidt in the

It was a season of blood, sweat and tears for the Robert E. Lee Rebel baseball team. The season came to an end in Lubbock Saturday afternoon with two heart-breaking losses to Monterey in the state Class AAAA quarterfinals. Lee lost both of them by one run, 5-4 and 7-6 and with the losses, is through for the season. A victory in either game would have advanced Coach Ernie Johnson's Rebels into the state tournament in Austin Thursday and Friday, but is just wasn't meant to be.

One gets that same sinking feeling in traveling to Lubbock to play the Plainsmen in base-ball that you get when you take on the Hobbs Eagles team in basketball in the New Mexico city. You are already behind before you start.

Saturday was no exception in Lubbock although this bunch of gutty Rebel baseball players went into the first game determined to win and advance to

This didn't happen, however, but a lot of other things did. Probably things that should not have happened. The 5-4 loss was given to the Plainsmen on the call at home plate by umpire Vernon Poerner. That call opened the gates for three more runs in the bottom of the sixth and the eventual victory.

IN RETROSPECT, the Rebels turned around and beat themselves in the second and deciding game, losing in the bottom of the seventh inning after holding on to a 6-4 lead with two out. The third game should have never been played, but was and there's nothing we can do about that.

"I don't like to dwell long on defeats and I'm just going to have to try and wipe those two games from my mind on an other-wise great season for us." commented Johnson Sunday. Opposing coach Bobby Moegle had some of the same thoughts and feelings that Ernie has afterwards. Johnson and Moegle are the best of friends and have a lot of repsect for each other. "I know how Ernie must feel. I left Midland a couple of times in the past, losing games in the state playoffs on some controversial calls, but I know one thing, we know that Midland's teams are class teams and we like playing them for that very reason," added Moegle, who is taking his team to the state tournament for the seventh

While Moegle and Johnson-coached teams play for keeps on the field, the two men are close friends and this makes for a very healthy relationship be-tween the two schools. They get serious playing each other, but console each other after a loss.

"Ernie had probably the best attitude of anybody after losing two tough games to us. I was also impressed with his young-sters. They were well discilined and played well against us. It was a great series and you couldn't ask for anymore excitement than those three games."

Moegle felt that the ground hall to Don Rasure by Ron Reeves in the bottom of the seventh with two out, was a diffi-cult chance for the Lee second baseman. The two-run double by Dana Rieger moments before, set up the play that won the game for the Plainsmen.

Rasure contribbted so very much to the Lee cause during the season. The senior infielder knocked in six runs against Wichita Falls in the Rebels' 12-8 victory in the first game of the bi-district playoffs. "Don improved 100 per cent for us along with two or three other players, It looked like a long season for Rasure at the very beginning when he went hitless in his first 22 trips to the plate, but he came on strongly and knocked in 24 runs while hitting .268 on the year and .333 in district play. Clay Calhoun and Steve Pitts, a pair of juniors, really improved too. "Both of them came a long way," commented John-son. Pitts went 17 straight games without an error after a low start in the Tournament of Champions back in March and he came up with three big hits in the deciding game Saturday. Calhoun was the designated hitter until Mike Richard was injured in the first game of the season. Johnson was going to use Craig Van Horn behind the plate until Richard's injury and then moved Calhoun there and Van Horn to third base. Clay threw out two base runners in the third game Saturday and played well throughout the play-bottom of the seventh inning, the dangerous hitter picked on a curve ball that hung and rammed it into left field where Todd Clements tried to make a diving catch. "Todd made some big plays for us all year long and I admire him for giving it a shot. He catches the ball and we go to Austin, "said Johnson. Johnson pointed out that Clements played that way all year long and that he never had a team that battled as hard as this one, including the 1969 team that went to the state finals. Lee overcame a lot of adversi-ties, losing Richard, a two-year letterman in the very first game of the season when he suffered a knee injury. "Mike would have made a big difference in our pitching to go along with Terry Willis, Gary Gibson, Van Horn and Schmidt." Richard could also play shortstop or third base and was a good hitter. This way, Johnson vould have kept Van Horn behind the plate. As it was, however, Calhoun came to the front and produced beautifully and now Johnson has a seasoned catcher for next year behind the

Stephen Patrick Garvey really King Kong

By JIM MURRAY The Los Angeles Times

The record book says Stephen Patrick Garvey, the Dodger, is only 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighs 100 pounds. It is the opinion of no less than Reggie Jackson, the Yantee, that the record book lies. "Steve Garvey is really 7 feet tall and 200 pounds," Jackson says, "but he was arought up in a house with a low cetting and narrow walls and it compacted him. But it's all there."

In poor light, Garvey does look as if he started out to be King Kong but grew East and West instead of North and South. He has muscles in his ears. Lumberjacks could roll on his legs. Popeye's arms look puny by compari-son. He's built like a walking can of ou've got a tank. He'd be a million-dollar ballplayer

Other guys get candy bars whiskey brands or racehorses or whiskey brands or racehorses named after them. Garvey gets the same things Thomas Jefferson or the twelve Apostles get named after

IN THE little world of baseball, a IN THE little world or baseman, a guy who goes to church on Sunday is suspect. Particularly if his batting stroke doesn't need divine help. They wonder what he's bucking for -Sporting News Saint-Of-The-Year? But Garvey's the kind of guy wh

But Garvey's the kind of gay who would go anyway. He's not so sure this is the only league down here. Garvey regularly leads the Dodgers in hits, homers and RBI—and getting to bed on time. If you had eight of him, you wouldn't need a manager. If he has a dark side to his nature, he keeps it hidden like a royal family with a dotty cousin chained in the

But, it is none of the above that makes Steve Garvey a ranking mem-ber of the owners all-time team. What really sets him apart is, he shows up all the time. Night-after-night, game-after-game, he's there.

This is not as common as you might think. In some respects, hallplayers lead the world in absenteeism. Showing up for work every day is not the national pastime. This is because ballplayers are: 1, the biggest hypo-chondriacs in sport; and 2, ego-trip-pers who hate to be taken for grant-

BALLPLAYERS are like opera stars, temperamental and finicky. Football playeres play in casts. A baseball player won't play in a nose-bleed. They take to the whirlpool bath if they have a headache. Other ballplayers just hate to be dependable. That's for the lower classes, not a Star. They're like pen-ple who come late to parties. They're too important for punctuality. Garvey will have none of this. If he were late, they'd call the murgue. Garvey doesn't play hard to get. He's either at a ball park or at a ribbun

As Casey Stengel used to say, "It's no good if you can't do it every day." Garvey does it every day. He leads the big leagues at it. He currently is the major league leader in consectuvie games — 397 — and he can become only the 27th player in major lengue history to play in 500 consecutiive games if he plays in every game this Does anger help? Garvey shook his head. "Anger is the enemy of consistency. It's a waste of energy in basehall. It may work OK in football. But in a 162-game season, anger is exhausting. Emotion goes 0-for-4."

Night games and platooning are the modern enemies of consecutive-game records. "It's no accident a switchhit-ter holds the current record for active players, Pete Rose," smiles Garvey.

Yes sir, this group of young-sters were foot loose and fancy free most of the time. Take a trip to Abilene, when they stack-ed players 19 high in the bus or the trip to Fort Worth where 12 of them somehow, wedged themselves into a telephone booth. Ah yes...the back flips that some of the players did during the season. Those were some of the things that gave Johnson a litle bit more gray hair. Tim Whalen, assistant coach, doesn't have much hair

Johnson picking up his 200th coaching win in 17 years at Lee with it coming against the Plainsmen was another highlight.

True, Saturday's windup was an unhappy one, but with Lee having seven juniors back next year and some good talent com-ing up from Whalen's 14-4 junior varsity outfit, Ernie is looking forward to another great season in 1979. "If our young players improve like this year's juniors did, we could be good again, "said Johnson. And lastly to Johnson and Whalen whom I have a lot of admiration and respect for, I would imagine that when it gets down to the quarterfinal round next time around, you will both agree to call upon the UIL to appoint umpires in order to get a better shake. It has been fulfilling, joyful and sometimes a little tearful, but overall great and I am proud to have been a small

Sunday and set up the elimination game with Michigan tonight. The Wolfpack's Mike Fox hit the second pitch of the game out of the park and drove in two other runs with a triple later on against the Redmen. Baylor, the first team knocked out of the 1978 series, "still made the top eight," Coach Mickey Sullivan noted.

"It is really an honor to be here," he said. "We will be back." St. John's, which had upset a strong Temple team to gain a CWS berth, couldn't "put three good weekends together," said Coach Joe Russo. 'We're a young ball club, only losing

San Diego Sockers Coach Hubert Vogelsinger didn't mind that Tampa Bwy had 10 good opportunities to score - his team had what really counted — the game's only goal.

"It was one of those games where one goal either way was going to be enough to win," Vogelsinger said as the Sockers posted their fourth consecutive North American Soccer League victory Sunday.

"I'm just happy we got it. We kept the pressure on in the last minutes and took advantage of our opportuni-

San Diego's Walter McCall fielded a loose ball in front of the Tampa Bay net with four minutes remaining and scored, handing Tampa Bay its fourth straight loss.

The goal also left Rowdies Coach Gordon Jago shaking his head at what could have been.

We created some early chances and didn't put one away when we should have," Jago said. "I thought we outplayed them most of the game, but the second half became a back and forth type of game and they got the break.

"This is one of the first games I remember where we had at least 10 good chances to score, but didn't.

In other NASL action, Tulsa blanked Dallas 2-0, Oakland whitewashed Houston 1-0 and the Cosmos dged Vancouver 3-2.

Roughnecks 2, Tornado 0 Ninoslav Zec scored one goal and assisted on another by Billy Caskey as Tulsa posted its third consecutive victory with 2-0 blanking of Dallas.

The game was played before a home crowd of 16,876 Stompers 1, Hurricane 0 Charlie Mrosko took a crossing pass from Ben Bozadair and scored at 58: 10 to give Oakland its victory over Houston. Oakland goalkeeper Shep Messing faced 23 shots and had to make eight saves. Cosmos 3, Whitecaps 2 Giorgio Chinaglia scored a pair of goals and Santiago Formoso tallied his first of the season as the Cosmos established a NASL record for consecutive home victories with their 18th

"Lefty Grove was 40 and still winning," said Dodger Manager Tom Lasorda. "It isn't how old you are. It's how you throw. Kaat pitched a heck of a ballgame. He's a great conditioned pitcher."

Kaat got into his present condition with a winter physical training course that included weight lifting. It put a couple of muscles on his frame and some zip to his pitches.

"I think it has given me added strength," said Kaat. "But you'll have to ask the hitters. I think my

World yacht race is off

VICTORIA, British Columbia (AP) - The second 25-nautical-mile race of the three-quarter ton yacht world championships was abandoned Sunday after crews of 18 boats waited five hours for winds that never came. Race officials planned to to reschedule the race for Wednesday. On Saturday, the Hagar of Seattle, skippered by Gerald Duncan and Joe Goldberg, won the first race of the series. In second place was Bill Buchan's Sachem of Seattle, while John MacLaurin's Pendragon of Los Angeles was third.

"He has been the most effective so far this season of anybody who ever pitched for me," said Ozark of Kaat who has a 2-0 record in 1978 but could have been 6-0 with any kind of hitting support. Perry, a slim right-hander who like Kaat has had success in both the American and National leagues, not only hit a milestone level in victories, but also boosted his career strikeout total to 2,897 — putting him within shooting range of the coveted 3,000 level.

"Perry is a great competitor," said New York Manager Joe Torre. "I admire him.

But Torre, like others, believes that Perry has been gaining his success in an underhanded manner - by virtue of the illegal spitball.

"He still throws the spitter," said Torre. "It's been so long now it doesn't mean much. Everyone knows

Talbott killed in boating accident

TOMS RIVER, N.J. (AP) - James Talbott was killed Sunday when his 27-foot craft flipped over during a side-by-side duel with another boat in the Toms River International Power Boat Race in Barnegat Bay.

Talbott, 36, of Allen Park, Mich., was pronounced dead on arrival at Community Memorial Hospital, apparently from neck lacerations.

Crewman David Rutkowski, 34, also of Allen Park, was not injured seriously. Wolverine, driven by Gary Karos of Mount Clemens, Mich., was declared the winner of the championship race when officials cancelledh racing. Talbott's After-U-Too, flipped side

In other National League games, the San Francisco Giants edged the Montreal Expos 3-2 in 10 innings; the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the Cincinnati Reds 4-1; the St. Louis Cardinals turned back the Houston Astros 4-2 and the Chicago Cubs whipped the Atlanta Braves 6-4.

Greg Luzinski drove in two runs in a five-run, second-inning bat-around to ease Kaat's victory. The Dodgers had scored two runs off Kaat in the first before Philadelphia broke the game open by chasing Dodger left-hander Tommy John in the second inning.

Derrel Thomas and Bill Almon drove in two runs apiece to help Perry post his 250th victory. Perry scattered six hits, striking out five and walking two before needing relief help in the eighth from Bob Shirley and Rollie Fingers, who gained his 13th save. The victory improved Perry's record this year to 4-2.

Bert Blyleven combined with Grant Jackson for a four-hitter and John Milner had four singles and two RBI to lead Pittsburgh past Cincinnati. Blyleven, making his first career start against the Reds, had a perfect game until the sixth and needed relief help from Jackson in the seventh.

The Pirates gave Blyleven a 3-0 lead with two runs in the second and another in the third, chasing Paul Moskau. Milner had an RBI single in each inning.

Cardinals 4, Astros 2

Rookie Silvio Martinez won his second straight major league game to lead St. Louis over Houston. Martinez, who fashioned a one-hit victory over the New York Mets last week, yielded a run-scoring single to Reggie Baldwin in the second and a sacrifice fly by Enos Cabell in the seventh; when he needed relief help from; Buddy Shultz.

The Cards broke the game open with a three-run fifth capped by George Hendrick's RBI double against Houston ace J.R. Richard.

Cubs 6, Braves 4 Heidy Cruz smashed three hits and drove in two runs to lead Chicago over Atlanta. The Cubs took a 3-0 lead in the first on Larry Biittner's sacrifice fly and Cruz's two-run double.

Gary Matthews hit his seventh homer in the Atlanta second, but the Cubs came back in the bottom half of the inning with a run on a walk, a sacrifice and a run-scoring single by Gene Clines. The Cubs scored their winning runs in the fourth on a walk, a run-scoring double by Larry Cox and an RBE single by Ivan DeJesus.

Bowsher wins Texas 500 stock crown

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (A") - After the first victory of his career, 21-year-old Gary Bowsher had some advice for veterans A.J. Foyt, Bobby Allison and others.

"This race is 500 miles and as hot as it is, and as punishing as the track is on cars, you have to take it easy," Bowsher said after taking an easy victory over Bay Darnell in Sunday's Texas 500 stock car race. "Those guys are chargers. They want to be up front all day.

"I knew Foyt and Allison were fas-ter than me. But I wasn't gonna rece with them. I wanted to finish."

Bowsher did, some seven laps ahead of Darnell, whose Camaro overheated and blew up while he was dueling with Bowsher for the lead. Bowsher's Ford had overheating problems of its own, but the Spring-field, Ohio, driver who has been in competition since he was 16, was de-termined he would finish.

"I wasn't worried as much about Darnell as I was the overheating. I knew I could outrun him, but I was nna take it easy with the car until the last few miles. I thought it was oing to go right down to the wire."
The Bowsher-Darnell duel was one

"I couldn't have done it without my dad, though. He's schooled me and guided me ever since I started driving."

Asked what he would do with his $11,200 in winnings from the $76,000 purse, Bowsher replied, "Hand it over to my dad. He'll plow it back into the race car, and we'll probably go for a national championship."

The victory will be enough to propel him to the lead for the national championship. The official point standings were to be announced today in Daytona Beach, Fla.

Yarborough's victory is believed to be only the third time a driver has led a Grand National race from start to finish. He did it a couple of years ago at Bristol, Tenn., and Darel Dieringer also accomplished it.

"It was one of the easiest races I've ever run here," he said. "The car worked good and made it easy on me. It's one of the best cars I've ever driven anywhere on a short track."

Pole-sitter Lennie Pond was second, behind by two laps or about 40 seconds. Richard Petty was third, four laps back, and Dave Marcis fourth, five laps back.

PGA tour in change

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) - PGA tour officials, seeking to avoid a lengthy court battle, have rescinded a rule that would have lifted the lifetime exemptions from tournament qualifying of golfers who no longer meet PGA performance standards.

The lifetime exemp tions, until 1970, came automatically with a victory in the U.S. Open or PGA Char naments. Twenty-five players currently have such exemptions, and one of them, veteran Al Geiberger, feels PGA Tour Commissioner Deane Beman's suspension of the new rule was the right move.

"I think it was the right thing to do - the only thing to do," Geiberger said Sunday at the Kemper Open. "In my opinion, they weren't accomplishing that much (by lifting the exemptions). It was more the principle of the thing than the number of players that were affected."

Beman's announcement Saturday, subject to approval by the PGA Tournament Policy Board, appeared to re-solve a suit filed in a Texas court by 12 golfers with lifetime exemptions, including Sam Snead, Gene Sarazen and Julius Boros. The PGA rule lifting their exemp-tions would have taken effect next year. Geiberger, whose lifetime exemption came from a 1966 victory in the PGA championship, said he would have joined in the suit if he had not been ill at the time it was filed Geiberger is currently free from tournament Hollis Stacy.

MADRID, Spain — Mario Andretti of Nazareth., Pa, scored his second straight Grand-Prix victory, leading the Spanish Grand Prix from the early laps to increase his supremacy in the world Formula I drivers' championship.

Andretti covered the 75 laps of the twisting Jarama circuit in torrid heat in 1 hour, 41 minutes, 47.08 seconds, an average speed of 93.531 mph for 158.72 miles. He's not letting down a team if he does poorly; he's only letting down himself. A tournament would love to have a Ben Hogan, for example.

disappointed after he cleared just 7 feet, 3 inches.

"I wanted to leave my respects," he said. "I wanted to set a world record in the NCAA Championships. I know I'm just a sophomore and have two more chances, but you never know. I might get injured. This time I felt like

I was ready."
Tully had set a disputed world record at 18-8% in the Pacific-8 championships two weeks ago. He easily won the NCAA competition, but missed badly at 18-9.

After the event, he was most upset about the disqualification of his UCLA teammates in the mile relay semifinals Friday. The Bruins would have qualified for the finals and might have won, giving them 10 points for a total of 60, one more than Southern Cal's winning total.

BUT UCLA'S Larry Goldston was accused of knocking the baton from the hand of of a Los Angeles State runner and the Bruins were disquali-

"The guy just dropped it," Tully said. "The ABC television people say people will be surprised when they see their tape of the race." UCLA Coach Jim Bush had no doubt the disqualification cost them the championship.

"There's no doubt about it," he said. "We would have won the mile relay and we'd have won the meet. We didn't run our (relay) guys in other events. They were fresh. They would've won."

Tully and Jacobs, as well as most of the other top competitors in the NCAA meet, will be in the AAU championships and Tully was already anticipating the challenge.

"The pole vault is real good in the U.S. this year," he said. "With (Earl)

Bell and (Jeff) Taylor, it will be a Rono's fantasy of an unprecedented triple — victories in the 5,000, 10,000 and 3,000-meter steeplechase, turned into the reality of a single.

The Washington State runner, who set NCAA meet records in qualifying for both the steeplechase and 5,000 on Thursday, coasted to victory in the steeplechase final Saturday in another meet record time of 8: 12.39. He finished far ahead of fellow Kenyan and three-time defending champion James Munyala of Texas-El Paso. It was the first time Rono had beaten Munyala in four steeplechase mat-

But the quiet and intense Rono scratched from the 5,000 and successfully eluded the avalanche of press that descended upon him after his steeplechase victory.

HE GAVE a confused look and jogged away into a nearby warmup area. Later, in a statement released through the WSU sports information director, he said he ran the same type of race he wanted to run.

"It was very slow early," he said, "but I wanted to run the same as Thursday, that is hold back and then pull away about halfway through the race."

With Rono out of the 5,000, sophomore Rudy Chapa gave Oregon its first individual title in four years. The friendly Chapa, who probably will skip the AAU meet, was candid about

"I wasn't disappointed when Henry dropped out," he said. "Sure I'd like to run a good race against him sometime this year, but not necessarily in the NCAA Championships."

A packed house of more than 14,000 on the last day of competition Kenth Gardenkrans of Brigham Young shattered Mac Wilkins' five-year-old discus record by 5½ feet with a heave of 210 feet, and Ron Livers of San Jose State went 56-31/4 for a new collegiate record, breaking the old mark he set by Perti Pousi of Brigham Young 10 years ago by six inches.

Gleason's condition reported

CHICAGO (AP) — Doctors say they will know within two or three days how successful the coronary bypass operation was on comedian Jackie Gleason.

Gleason was reported in satisfactory condition early today in the intensive care unit of Michael Reese Hospital, recuperating from six hours of open-heart surgery. Unless there are complications, the doctors said, the prognosis for Gleason's recovery is excellent.

Hospital spokesmen said Gleason was cracking jokes until he was anesthetized before the Saturday operation.

A team of two heart surgeons and two assistants stripped a vein from the 62-year-old Gleason's leg and used it to bypass all three wing arteries in his heart. The object of the bypass operation is to detour blood around one or more of the three natural arteries carrying blood from the heart. In arteriosclerosis, the most common form of clogging of the arteries, the vessels nar-row as fat deposits build up on their interior walls. Gleason's triple bypass surgery was necessary, surgeons said, because his coronary arteries were 80 percent to 90 percent clogged.

Doctors said the operation is not usually risky. More than 70,000 bypass operations are performed each year at an average cost of about $12,500. Gleason's wife, Marylyn, stayed in a private room during the operation and was reportedly at the hospital

The hospital said phone calls and telegrams for Gleason were coming in at Doctors said Gleason would have to be hospitalized for up to two weeks and then forego performing for a month.

"The Great One" was admitted last Sunday with severe chest pains. He checked out of the hospital against medical advice, but came back four hours later. He was tested during the week.

The remaining Chicago performances of the play performances of the play, "Sly Fox," in which Gleason stars, have been canceled.

Court won't

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Supreme Court today cleared the way for New York authorities to return Joan Little to North Carolina.

Apparently rejecting arguments that Miss Little's life would be endangered in North Carolina's custody, the nation's highest court turned down a request that her extradition be posted until her lawyers could file a formal appeal.

Miss Little now faces return to a

North Carolina prison to finish serving a term on a breaking-and-entering conviction and possible additional time on escape charges. Miss Little, who is black, became the focal point of civil rights and women's rights activists in 1975 when she stood trial on charges of murdering a Beaufort County, N.C., jail

She said the guard, Clarence Alli-good, attempted to sexually assault her and that she stabbed him with an icepick in self-defense.

She was acquitted after a twomonth trial that attracted international attention but was later imprisoned on an unrelated breaking-andentering conviction.

Last Oct. 15, Miss Little escaped from the North Carolina Correction Center for Women near Raleigh. She was arrested in Brooklyn, N.Y.,

Tass reports no casualties in earthquake

MOSCOW (AP) — A strong earth-quake rocked the southern part of Soviet central Asia today, Tass reported, but it said damage was slight and there were no casualties.

Tass said the quake measured eight on the 12-point Medvedev Scale at its epicenter north of the town of Gazli. The town was destroyed by a 9-point quake in 1976, but Tass said stronger materials had been used in rebuilding, and it came through the new quake in "excellent" shape.

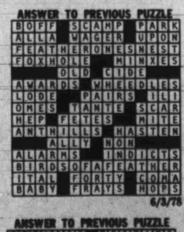

The quake was also felt in Bukhara, Samarkand and Tashkent, Tass reported.

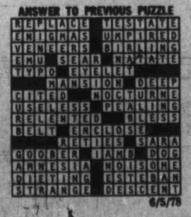

Woman listed as 'satisfactory'

An 18-year-old pedestrian was listed in satisfactory condition today in Midland Memorial Hospital following a Saturday night traffic accident.

Police said a vehicle driven by Patti Ann Stoudt of the 2300 block of North A Street was southbound on Jackson Street. Barbara J. Andrews of the 1500 block of Butternut Lane was standing beside a pickup parked and facing north in the 2100 block of North

The vehicle driven by Ms. Stoudt struck the pickup, causing it to strike Ms. Andrews, said police. The pickup belonged to Leonard Munson of the 110 block of East Nobles Avenue.

Latest postage hike may spell out end for Lincoln pennies

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN AP Special Correspondent

RIDGEFIELD, Conn. (AP) - The new 15-cent stamp for first-class let-ters may soon make this country pen-

The old bronze Lincoln penny can scarcely withstand another snub. The rarer Indian head, if any are still in circulation, awaits its final scalping. No more pennies pushed across the post office counter to send a letter by what used to be called the penny post. Now a dime and a nickel will do the job. And a dime will send a postcard; no pennies need apply.

Sad. It was such a bright, promising

"A penny for your thoughts," offered Dean Swift, the satirical sage, when pennies and thoughts were worth more.

In my youth, only yesterday, you could buy a stick of gum or a tiny slab of chocolate on a subway platform for a penny, or, an even sounder investment, get yourself weighed and your fortune told.

The dentist reminded you to show for an annual checkup with a penny postcard. A penny could get you an all-day sucker, bubble gum with baseball cards showing Goose Goslin, Babe Herman, Mickey Cochrane and other heroic figures in pin striped battle regalia; an eraser and pencil if you were intellectually inclined, a penny whistle if you were musical, a two-cent plain at the fountain if you had two of them, a visit to a pay toilet, and a penny candle to have on hand in case you couldn't find a penny to complete the circuit when a fuse

Ten penny nails cost 10 cents per hundred. Penny-ante poker was a serious game, even in my college days. On rainy days at the beach, you broke open your piggy banks to visit a marvellous institution called the penny arcade. For a penny you could play pinball machines, see a risque cardflip film, pop away in a shooting gallery, visit the flea circus, excavate gum balls and valuable prizes like a comb and fountain pen from the scoop derrick machine, race simulated racing cars, test your muscles and have your handwriting analyzed.

The penny tabloid, before it wen to two cents, was the bed rock of our free (in ideas) Western press.

"The penny-papers of New York do more to govern this country than the White House in Washington," thun-dered the reformer Wendell Phillips more than a century ago. About the same time, across the pond where the penny got its start, Lord Cecil asked on the floor of the House of Com-

"Can it be maintained that a person can learn anything worth knowing from a penny paper? It may be said that people may learn what is said is Parliament. Well, will that contribute to their education?

It is not noted in Hansard's, the British Congressional Record, whether his audience nodded, shook their heads or cared a pennyweight for his speech, which wouldn't have been all bad since a pennyweight then was the actual weight of a silver penny, 1-12th of an ounce or 24 grams of silver.

James Joyce was hardly underrat-ing his talent but going for the popular market when he titled his first volume of verse, "Pomes Penyeach," and handed them to a publisher on the Trinity College side of the penny bridge over Dublin's Liffey Riverm

Poems and papers weren't the only reading matter available for a penny. There were penny dreadfuls, cheap paperback novels of crime, violence and passion that Tom Sawyer's playmates had to hide in the corn crib along with Captain Billy's Whizbang. Mark Twain and Brete Harte went West as itinerant journalists, scribbling pure literature at a penny a

Which reminds me that a few years back I visited the Berkeley campus during the anti-Vietnam demonstrations and saw a bearded dreamer sitting barefoot under a tree emblazed with the sign "Poems for a penny." I handed the supine minstrel a bronze coin of the realm and he quickly dashed off a two-word couplet that was instant haiku or less:

"Cheap

Creep. The penny is our oldest coin. The Washington cent appeared in 1783, nine years before Congress got arouid to establishing a U.S. Mint. The bronze coin was suggested by the revolutionary patriot Gouverneur Morris, who later sunk a pretty penny into the Erie Canal. Morris, who went to Paris as a financial agent for the new government, took the word cent from the French centime, which in turn was derived from centum, Latin Until 1857, half cents were in circulation, which is why those were called the good old days. In Britain the good old days were even older. The penny predates Edward I's reign (1239-1307) and could be broken in to halfs (pronounced hay-pun-ee) and even quarters or fourths, known as a farthing.

Since 1873 the penny is by law in the United States required to be minted of 95 per cent cooper and 5 per cent tin, with time out for World War II when a cooper shortage ushered in a penny of nc-coated steel that the slot machines in Las Vegas.

Benjamin Franklin, the first post-master general, would be dismayed to learn how his successors behind the stamp window have devalued our first coin since he wrote in his "Necessary Hints to Those that Would Be Rich" the adage that every school child memorized in the depressed days of yore:

Chairman bids to change Republican party's image

By WALTER R. MEARS AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) - Somehow, Bill Brock didn't seem like the guy to shake up the Republican establishment. After all, he was part of it — solid, predictable, moderately conservative

Just the type to run the Republican National Committee between presidential elections, while he looked for an opening to resume a political ca-reer stalled by Senate defeat. So much for type casting.

Brock is trying to change the style and the face of the party he leads. He's out talking, and listening, to people who haven't had much more than passing glances from the GOP in He's been to the NAACP, to union meetings, he's had black activist Jesse Jackson address the national He's invested $750,000 in recruitment and campaign assistance for black GOP candidates. There will be more than 100 of them on state legislative ballots this year.

"Everybody talks about the black program," Brock said. "But we've got 20 women running for the legislature in Ohio alone." He has been to organized labor with a simple message: the party is so small and so thin that nobody will have to wait in line to have an impact on its policies and candidates. The national committee has bought commercials to sponsor a black public affairs program broadcast in 24 cities. It took advertisements in 23 Jewish newspapers to commemorate the 30th anniversary of Israel. And while chairman Brock insists he hasn't changed his views much since he was Sen. Brock of Tennessee, his programs at party headquarters are evidence of a lesson learned the After 14 years in Congress, six in the Senate, Brock looked like a safe bet for re-election in 1976. His name was starting to turn up in the future book on Republican presidential pros-That was before Democrat James R. Sasser upset him in Tennessee, gaining 93 percent of the black vote.

"We are here and we are serious,"

Brock told the NAACP 18 months later, saying that he hopes no party will ever again take black voters for granted, or write them off to the opposition.

Brock says that his programs don't represent an effort to change Republican philosophy, but rather, to use it effectively so as to create jobs and ease taxes with measures designed to encourage private enterprise and de-So he urges a 33 percent tax cut over a three-year period, noting that there was a day when Republicans would have insisted on balancing the budget first, cutting taxes later. He boasts of Republican proposals for special tax incentives to create jobs; of rewards for employers who set up shop in the cities, where people are out of work. But on those and other Republican offerings, there is one small problem: the GOP doesn't have a prayer of passing them. With one-third of the seats in the House and Senate, all they can do is make proposals and speeches.

Which leads Brock to an observation that comes close to political here-sy. No politician is going to say that his party is better off without the White House.

But Brock does say that it doesn't do the Republican Party much good in the long run to elect a president every few terms and have him take the heat for things that go wrong when, in fact, he can't get much of anything through heavily Democratic Brock claims progress for his effort to build the party from the bottom. The test will come in November, but he is not forecasting a dramatic resurgence of the crippled party. He looks for gains of perhaps 15 seats in the House, for an increased share of GOP seats in state legislatures, and for five or six governors.

He says the process of rebuilding will take time, probably a long time. But Brock seems to have that.

Not that he's forgotten the lure of elective politics. But there aren't any openings now. There will be, in elections for the Senate and for governor of Toppages in 1999.

of Tennessee in 1982. Either could be a comeback route.
