United Fund Officers Chart Course for '66 Campaign

Muleshoe Area United Fund is gearing itself for the 1966 campaign, and at a meeting of officers Wednesday, once again went over plans for the October drive for $13,931 to aid 13 agencies next year.

Robert Alford, president of the Fund, called a meeting of the officers for Wednesday morning in the Muleshoe State Bank Community Room to discuss plans for the campaign.

John Shelton is first vice-president and campaign manager, and Kenneth Henry is second vice-president and public relations director. Inez Bobo is treasurer, and the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce serves as secretary. Mrs. Bernard Phelps is chairman of the important budget and admissions committee.

The 1966 budget will be slightly higher than last year's, but less than $1000 higher, Shelton pointed out. An additional agency, the Muleshoe Area Senior Citizens' Organization (MASCO) coming in for $500 to help provide for that organization which has been carried on for since its organization for individual contributions. The senior citizens program has become solidly established and is serving valiantly, says Alford.

Mighty M Band Starts Practice, Maps Season

By Marsha Lynn Blackman

The "Mighty M" Band blasted off its 1966-67 season Monday night in the freshly painted band hall. A large number of the members were present with a few ex-members mingling throughout the sections. The band was happy to receive the freshmen and also two new members, Alvin Walker, from Muleshoe and Kenneth Taylor previously from Plainview. It has been said that another member may be coming from Portales.

Bob Breckenridge, new director, introduced a new grading system in which each high school member will have to teach and help a beginning musician. This system was received with mixed emotions by all band members.

The "Mighty M" band has set tentative plans to March in at least three parades, including the Lubbock Fair parade in late September; the plans are not definite, but the public can see the band perform at the football games on Friday nights.

The Marching band which will consist of 96 members, will be planning several new and Besides MASCO, two other agencies which are included in the 1966 budget for the first time--the Texas United Fund, assigned $100, and the Southwestern Diabetic Foundation due to receive $250 from the local campaign.

Articles in the Journal between now and the campaign date will appear from time to time, describing the activities of the various agencies which are to receive help. First of these (see below) deals with the 4-H Foundation.

Biggest recipient of funds from the United Fund is the Bailey County Junior Livestock show which this year will be allotted $3495 as compared with $3025 last year. In a memorandum to the officers and directors; the budget and admissions committee said: "Bailey County Junior Livestock show based the 15 percent increase request on anticipated larger number of boys and girls entering animals in competition because of change in date of the show to eliminate competition with the Houston show, plus the addition of two more classes of animals found in our community--Chester white gilts and barrows."

Boy Scouts of America will receive $2500 this year instead of $2350 allotted this organization last year. The memorandum said: "The committee based its increase to the Boy Scout Council on lively participation by local registered Scouts, compared with the slight loss in actual registration at the present time. An increase of 30 percent in boys registered is expected before the year is completed."

No increase was requested by the Salvation Army $1800 being requested both last year and this year. The memorandum read: "The Salvation Army request for the same amount as the two previous years is recommended as this agency has increased its services to local and transient needy."

Girl Scouts also remained unchanged, $1525. The memorandum explained: "Considering the addition of one professional worker by the council to provide increased services in all districts, the proposed allocation remains the same."

One of the sharpest cuts in allocations was the Babe Ruth League's allocation--dropping to $461 this year as compared with $1500 last year. However, the memorandum explained that "from assistance received the past three years, the Babe Ruth League has been able to meet its needs for a new fence and new and revised

Car Rolls 3 Times But Where's Driver?

Highway Patrolman Freddie M. Jack says the life of a patrolman is made up of all kinds of experiences--all of them different.

But he had a new one last Sunday; he had a report of an automobile that had rolled over off U.S. 70 east of town. Jack investigated. The car was there but nobody could be found.

He said he looked the scene over carefully and finally came back to Muleshoe convinced that "if anybody was in that car he had walked away or been hauled away." Jack says a tire blew out, causing the car to crash.

And he still hasn't found the owner--or hadn't at mid-week. The car, a 1957 Buick, was registered to one Richard LeBrown who gave Denver, Colo. as his home address. But a check of the address in Denver failed to turn up LeBrown.

"Apparently," says the patrolman, "LeBrown was working somewhere in this area when the accident occurred. He probably just figured he had 'totaled out' the Buick anyway, so didn't bother to haul it away."

But in case LeBrown decided he would like to have his badly damaged automobile (see picture on Page 4) he'll find it at Muleshoe Motor Co. It was hauled there this week after being towed out of the grain sorghum field where it had crashed.

Radio Snitcher Gets Stiff Fine

A patient sheriff who waited for five hours in a weedy field near Maple used his patience--plus a pair of binoculars to "get his man." Dee Clements, Bailey County sheriff, said he had a description of a youth who had taken a $25 transistor radio from the cab of a Bell milk truck at Maple while the driver was making deliveries to a Maple grocery.

Now the man, Frank Baradoza Jr., who is only 17 years old, is spending considerable time in Muleshoe atop the courthouse--at the insistence of County Judge Glen Williams.

The judge handed down one of the stiffest fines he ever gave for such an offense--a 60-day jail term and a $200 fine.

The sheriff said the lad was seen removing the radio from the cab of the milk truck, "so I just waited around until he showed up again, using a pair

PEPPER - PICKING PEOPLE - These people are harvesting one of the biggest bell pepper crops in Muleshoe area's history, and both yield and price are good. This is a 23-acre field just west of Muleshoe, one grown by L. A. Green on the A. W. Copley farm. Yield is around 100 bushels to the acre. This was the second truckload taken from this particular plot after some six hours of picking. The pepper business is just one more indication of the trend hereabouts toward more and more vegetables. (Journal Photo)

Elder Warren preached Saturday afternoon at a meeting and soon afterwards suffered a fatal heart attack. The Watsons had received a letter recently from the Warrens stating they would attend the Shamrock meeting then from there go to Clovis and Anton for their August Associations. Several hundred people were in attendance at the Shamrock meeting and many noted that his sermon that afternoon sounded as though he was preaching a farewell--discipling sermon. Funeral services for Elder Warren were held Monday afternoon at Elk City, Okla. The Warrens were former residents of Oklahoma, also of Lubbock. He had an appointment at Muleshoe about ten years ago.
 Terry Parham, Lazbuddie, Bobbie Jordan, Friona and Sheri Roberts, Farwell attended the Waco Seminar last week. 'The Great Airship Flap' Recalled By Recent UFO Sightings

By FRANK MASQUELETTE
 Houston Post Writer
HOUSTON (AP)—Yellowed newspaper clippings tell of a series of sightings across Texas in 1897 of the "mysterious airship."
 They add up to what might be called: The Great Airship Flap of 1897.
 Some of the accounts resemble accounts nowadays of Unidentified Flying Objects.
 Consider this report from the 1897 Houston Daily Post.
 "Childress, Texas, April 17—The much talked-of airship was seen here last night about 1 1/2 o'clock. The Rev. J.W. Smith was the first to discover the curious aerial monster.
 "He thought at first that it was a star shooting, but after watching it a moment or two, saw that it was not.
 "It soon disappeared, traveling in a westerly direction. The Rev. Smith thinks that it must have been 2,000 feet high and traveling very fast."
 Or this one
 Longview, Texas, April 20—Last night about 9:30, the Post correspondent and family, on returning from church, saw the so-called airship.
 A bright light, seemingly about the size of Venus, moved swiftly to the northwest, disappearing beneath the horizon.
 In a few minutes, it reappeared. The light emitted a series of intermittent flashes, of a steel color. No car (cabin) was seen.
 Here's another
 Atlanta, Texas, April 19—There was considerable excitement here today, caused by a visitation last night by the mysterious airship.
 "It was first seen by Jim Nelson, a farmer. His attention was attracted by a peculiar noise and, looking up, he discovered the mysterious aerial traveler.
 "It seemed to be descending straight to the earth with great rapidity and Mr. Nelson's hair stood out with fright.
 "But within two or three hundred feet of the earth, it paused for an instant. Then moved off at a rate of speed about equal to that of an ordinary passenger train."
 The Atlanta dispatch says the airship was seen by other citi-

By Vern Sanford
 "This is not a time for hysteria" says Russell Tinsley in his outdoors column in the Austin American-Statesman. We agree so fully with what he has to say about guns and killers that we are reproducing his comments in full for your own consideration:
 This latest macabre incident at The University of Texas provides even more hysterical fodder for ban-the-gun advocates. Considering the circumstances that is understandable. But let's be realistic about it all.
 Even if we would have the stringent firearms law now being pondered by Congress, one Charles J. Whitman still would have qualified to obtain both guns and ammunition. There was nothing in his past record to deny such a request. He had no criminal record, his character references were impeccable, he was a former scoutmaster, he was honorably discharged from the U.S. Marine Corps, he was not a known alcoholic or mental case. Viewed realistically, he was an All-American boy. Yet in our society people like this often create havoc. It would have been impossible to deny Whitman a gun without denying it to every other American citizen.
 Anyway, a deer rifle is not normally a weapon of violence. It is much too prominent to be carried about. Yet in this instance an ordinary deer rifle, one that is quite popular among Texas hunters, wrote a dubious and gory page of history.
 Ironically, when the massacre started, the police were ill-equipped to do anything about it. Long-range rifles, scope sighted, are not standard issue. They are seldom needed. Yet in this case pistols and sawed-off shotguns were practically worthless. The sniper had all the advantages. In the first few minutes the sniper was roaming about the observation tower and firing at his victims with impunity.
 Inevitable Man from Mars
 Another bizarre account was found in the April 19, 1897, edition of the Dallas Morning News: "Aurora, Wise County, April 17—About 6 o'clock this morning the early risers of Aurora were astonished at the sudden appearance of the airship which has been sailing throughout the country.
 "It sailed directly over the public square, and when it reached the north part of town, collided with the tower of Judge Proctor's windmill and went to pieces with a terrific explosion, scattering debris over several acres of ground, wrecking the windmill and water tank and destroying the judge's flower garden.
 "The pilot of the ship is supposed to have been the only one aboard, and while his remains are badly disfigured, enough of the original has been picked up to show that he was not an inhabitant of this world.
 "Mr. T.J. Weems, the U.S. Signal Service officer at this place and an authority on astronomy, gives it as his opinion that he (the pilot) was a native of the Planet Mars.
 "Papers found... are written in some unknown hieroglyphics... This ship was too badly wrecked to form any conclusion as to its construction or motive power...
 "The town is full of people today who are viewing the wreck and gathering specimens of strange metal from the debris. The pilot's funeral will take place at noon tomorrow."
MAY REFORM DIVORCE LAWS
LONDON (AP)—The Church of England's inquiry into measures to reduce the hardship of broken marriages may open the way to a new reform of the divorce laws in the next parliamentary session, church sources think. A committee, under the chairmanship of the Bishop of Exeter (Dr. Robert Mortimer), is expected to make the break-up of a marriage grounds for divorce under suitable safeguards.

imaginary straight line out from the muzzle, the bullet bisects this line twice, once on its way up in the curve and again on its way down. This means the bullet was "on target" somewhere before the 100-yard mark and again at 300 yards. Halfway, or at the peak of its curve, the bullet was 6.5 inches high. This means that from the muzzle out to 300 yards the rifle would pinpoint a bullet within a 6.5-inch diameter circle, by aiming right where the rifleman wanted to put his bullet. Even if it were aimed to impact at 200 yards, the rifleman could compensate for expected drop of the bullet at ranges beyond this by holding his sight pattern slightly high.
 From his vantage, at the top of the Tower, Whitman's accuracy was remarkable. Shooting from a high place like this, down at an angle, the tendency is to overshoot. Only a skilled marksman would know immediately to compensate for this parallax.
 When a 100-grain bullet in 6-mm leaves the rifle muzzle it is zipping along at 3,190 feet-per-second. Even at 300 yards it retains 2,420 fps velocity. At 100 yards it strikes with 1,890 foot-pounds of energy and at 300 yards there still is 1,300 fp energy. This bullet kills by shock. Hitting a victim at 1,300 fp energy creates tremendous shocking power. I've seen what a 6-mm bullet can do on whitetail deer; thus it amazes me that fewer people were slain.
 Oddly, a schoolmate of Whitman's in Lake Worth, Fla., one Frank McCarty, commented that in high school Whitman "wasn't much of a shot." He said he must have been taught marksmanship in the Marines.
 No one in his right mind would advocate doing away with the Armed Services because of this incident. Yet there is a parallel here. The Marine Corps didn't kill; the 6-mm rifle didn't kill, per se; Whitman killed. It was an unfortunate, gory, shocking thing. But let's be realistic about it all. In our democratic way of life, these things not only are possible, they become reality at times. But we can't sacrifice all our freedoms on the long-shot possibility of preventing another disaster such as this in the future. Such negative thinking never has been a workable or practical solution.

After being closed to traffic for several weeks, State Highway 28 was opened to travel last weekend. Following a heavy rain several weeks ago, a low place on the highway, about two miles northeast of Muleshoe, filled with water, and a lake has been standing on the road since. Recently the water receded enough to permit highway employees to use graders and trucks in making temporary repairs on the road. Several hundred feet of pavement was ruined by the water.

'Lost the Battle, But Won the War'

By Sen. John G. Tower

We have just completed another very busy week of Senate activity. This week we were considering several items of particular importance to Texas and Texans.

To begin with, the Senate engaged in a long debate and conducted 14 roll-call votes as we attempted to prevent the cooperative, state-federal unemployment compensation system from falling under federal domination. Although we lost the battle, I believe we may have won the war by making a strong case in the Senate for continuing the program as the House of Representatives wants to continue it.

I believe the states must retain their participation in the unemployment compensation program so it can be more effectively administered, closer to the people who support it and benefit from it. Interference by the federal government--substitution of the federal judgement for local judgement--can only be harmful to state unemployment compensation systems.

A careful review of the 30-year history of this legislation conclusively demonstrates that without the heavy hand of federal intervention, the individual states have adopted modified, improved and expanded their unemployment insurance programs to meet the special conditions of each state.

Taking a broader view, the increased taxation which federal control of the program would require could disrupt state budgets. Under the proposed federally-controlled unemployment compensation idea our own state would face a tax increase of some $47 million, a figure $11 million more than the increases planned next year in all other Texas state taxes and a figure $7 million more than the total our Legislature appropriated to support higher education over the next two years.

Even so, my objections to this bill go beyond the purely financial problem and apply directly to the bill's impact in our American system of government. Federal control of unemployment compensation would allow the federal bureaucracy to take over yet another state responsibility. Instead of that, I think we should reject the notion that all the nation's wisdom resides in Washington. We should continue to honor and to utilize local knowledge, local experience and local participation in government.

Another Senate matter concerning Texas this week was the appropriation of funds for support of NASA and the Manned Spacecraft Center at Houston. The Senate defeated several unwise attempts to drastically curtail funds for the space program.

The NASA budget had been very carefully pared down in several stages--first by NASA itself, then by the Budget Bureau, then by the House of Representatives. As it came to the Senate, the request was a reasonable and responsible one.

The NASA request included full funding of both the Gemini and Apollo flights controlled from the Manned Spacecraft Center.

While we cannot say today exactly what total benefits mankind eventually will reap from the discoveries of these programs, we already have seen initial advantages in navigation, weather prediction, observation and communication. Certainly, these programs should be brought to a successful conclusion without crippling cuts. NASA is already taking its share of the slow-down forced on us by federally-induced inflation. There was no reason to further penalize the space program, and the Senate overwhelmingly rejected the proposed cutback.

The Military Medicare bill reported by the Armed Services Committee on which I serve, also was considered last week. It updated and expanded the medical care program available to military personnel, their dependents and retirees.

The bill provided these important benefits at a lower cost than previously envisioned yet gave this deserving group better coverage at less personal cost than is available under any other government employee medical plan.

I felt it was important to fully support these Defense Department personnel of whom we require so much in these times of crises.

I do hope one slight change can be made in this Military Medical Care bill during the House-Senate conference deliberations. I felt that the House was correct in providing coverage for one class of military retirees who served less than eight years on active duty. Although the Senate dropped that provision, I hope these retirees will be covered in the final version of the bill.

The Senate also dealt this week with a bill to help relieve the tight-money, high-interest-rate situation now facing homebuilders and citizens trying to buy or sell real estate. I had originated this legislation earlier and was pleased that it received such prompt attention. It was one of the first really positive and constructive steps we have taken in fighting inflation.

STICKY SITUATION

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) -- Janette Arnott, 14, is recovering from the year's stickiest accident.

Janette was on her way to a convent when the school bus carrying her and 13 other children collided with a truckload of 2,500 gallons of glue.

The collision burst the container and hundreds of gallons of glue poured into the back of the bus.

Said Janette's father, Len Arnott: "Janette got glue stuck in her hair, in her eyes, and her pockets and her schoolcase were filled with it."

Water was used to hose the highway clear of the sticky mess.

lighting. The allocation this year is for operating expense only.

American Red Cross will receive $500 this year as compared with $750 last year, the report saying "Due to the limited scope of services rendered by this agency locally, the committee recommended a decrease in the allocation."

Muleshoe Area Youth Center has a $750 allocation this year as compared with $600 last year. The report from the budget and admissions committee explained: "Since enlarging its program to the sub-teen youth, the facing an increase in entertainment expenses, an increase in allocation to this agency was recommended."

United Service Organizations (USO) will get $200 this year, the same as last year, said the memorandum: "Serving 160 servicemen from our area and increasing services in Vietnam to include eight service clubs, four more service clubs are not scheduled."

The 4-H Youth Development Corporation fund of $150 was unchanged, the local committee saying that this is "our fair share of the statewide budget to provide dues for State Round-up and workshops for leadership training."

Medical Research Foundation of Texas will receive $75 this year, a $25 increase over last year "to initiate new research for medical and dental diseases," the memorandum explained.

A $100 grant will go to the Texas United Fund for the first time, the memo explaining: "The Texas United Fund has previously been included as an administrative expense. It is recommended that they be included as a separate agency for the amount requested...."

different shows and routines to be presented on each Friday night. New music has been given to each member to be learned. Some of the new, different songs are "Tijuana Taxi" and "Spanish Flea" which are two well-known pieces by the Tijuana Brass. Several Broadway Musical selections and movie selections were passed out, also. They include "Pass Me By" from "Father Goose," "Mame" and "It's Today" from the musical "Mame" and "Consider Yourself" from "Oliver." The band also plans to entertain the public with well-known pieces such as the rollicking jazz number, the "Saint-Louis Blues March" and the famous circus number, "Barnum and Bailey's Favorite."

The new assistant band director was introduced and warmly welcomed. He is Larry Harris. Mr. Harris is a 1966 graduate of West Texas State University in Canyon. He is a very fine trumpet player as was seen when he played with the band Monday evening.

The band voted to have summer band practice at 7 each evening and dismiss at 9. Everyone is invited to come to the rehearsals and see how the band is progressing. Marching practice was to have begun last Tuesday evening.

The band certainly hopes that the public will support them this upcoming football season as they try to create spirit for the "Mighty Mules" football team. Neither organization can properly function or expect to progress without the support from the community and it is hoped that the public will see this responsibility and then try to back the band and the football team as they try to help the community in their own ways by trying, and eventually reaching success.

July Accidents: One is Killed

Bailey County had only three highway accidents last month, but one of those resulted in a death, Sgt. Thurman Keffer, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area, reported Wednesday from Lubbock headquarters. Property damage in the three accidents report said, amounted to $710.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first seven months of 1966 now shows a total of 32 accidents resulting in one death, 21 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $34,195.

For this district, Parker county had the greatest number of deaths--six--and Lubbock county was only one behind with five. Jack county had three deaths, Hockley, Crosby and Cochran counties each had one death. Lamb county had 20 persons injured, Hale had 16 and Haskell 10. Wise county reported 14 injuries and $10,000 grant by the Sears-Roebuck, Southwestern Division, of Dallas, according to W.L. Stangel, retired Dean of Agriculture at Texas Tech and John I. Bowling of Hale Center, Panhandle members of the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation's Board of Trustees. The Bailey County United Fund has ear-marked $150 in support of the 4-H Foundation.

"The Texas 4-H Club youth movement is one of Texas's oldest youth organizations and continues to play a vital role in agricultural production and improving the farm standard of living. 4-H Clubs are an outgrowth of early corn clubs for boys and canning clubs for girls. Prior to World War I 4-H Club youth pioneered efforts to diversify Texas agriculture from essentially a single cash crop, cotton, then severely threatened by the Northward march of the boll weevil. Girl members of canning clubs learned how to preserve foods for home winter use and often sold their wares for profit; money thereby earned was invested in better clothing or in chickens or other farm enterprises.

The 4-H Club movement today places primary emphasis on the development of member character, thrift, individual enterprise, and leadership. A 4-H Club member selects one or more of 142 projects in which he or she invest capital, time, energy, and management. Accurate records must be kept on the project, it is entered in competition and is later sold for profit or loss, a practical personal experience in the individual enterprise business system that undergirds the strength of Texas," according to Jerry Wheat, Chairman of the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation.

HISTORY OF 4-H
1. Believed to have begun in Mississippi before 1908 as a corn growing club for boys.

2. Jack County, Texas, organized the first known corn club for Texas boys to stimulate diversification of the Texas agricultural economy then threatened by the boll weevil, (1908).
3. Smith County, Texas, hired the first agricultural agent at county expense in 1908 to dispense the latest scientific agricultural information. A major part of his work was with boys organized into agricultural clubs.

4. Tomato growing and canning clubs for girls originated in South Carolina about 1914. Girls demonstrated scientific agriculture with their 1/8 acre tomatoes. Money earned financed dress material, a flock of chickens, or other practical

Wichita 10. "School days" are almost here again. The familiar yellow school buses will soon be back on the highways. The Sergeant reminds all motorists of the State Law regulating traffic in regard to school buses. "The drivers of a vehicle upon a highway outside the limits of any incorporated city or town upon meeting or overtaking from either direction any school bus which has stopped on the highway for the purpose of receiving or discharging school children shall stop the vehicle immediately before passing the school bus, but may then proceed past such school bus at a speed which is prudent, not exceeding (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

5. 1914. Congress passed the Smith-Lever Law providing funds to be matched by state and county with which to employ agricultural and home economics agents. About 1/3 of the work of Texas Agricultural Extension Service Agricultural and Home Demonstration Agents continues to be with youth (4-H Clubs primarily).

6. During the '20's corn and canning clubs were merged into co-ed 4-H clubs.
7. It has become apparent that 4-H renders greater service beyond its original purpose to distribute agricultural and home economics information, expand farm productivity, and reduce rural poverty.

8. Youth are being given practical experience in the American economic and political heritage: self-reliance, capital investment, management of time and talent, competitive exhibition of product, selling in the free market, club leadership training stresses the parliamentary system of democratic governmental procedures.
9. There are 2 1/2 million 4-H club members in the USA. The movement has spread to 76 other nations as a best hope of underdeveloped countries to rapidly dispense agricultural and home economics information and break down superstition.

10. Texas 4-H numbers 83,798 members, 15,826 volunteer adult leaders, and 2751 club units.
11. Texas offers 142 different projects from which 4-H club members may choose. BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL FRIEND AND FUND SUPPORT OF 4-H

1. Funds to underwrite national, state, district, and county 4-H club activities (contests, awards, special training workshops, trips, etc.) must come from private sources.
2. 4-H has been supported at the national level by major corporations such as General Motors, Ford, General Mills, etc. since the early 1900's. Large national corporations provide county winner medals in 30 different categories (i.e. foods and nutrition, money management, beef production, etc.) A National 4-H Foundation marshals funds for national level educational programs such as the International Farm Youth Exchange, specialized training in citizenship for members and volunteer leaders.

3. State support was piecemeal and catch-as-catch-can until organization of the 4-H Recognition Committee in 1952. The Committee initially sought to raise funds to underwrite extracurricular activities at state contest eliminations called Roundup (about $6,000). THE TEXAS 4-H YOUTH DEVELOPMENT FOUNDATION

1. The informal Recognition Committee was incorporated as the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation in 1962 and has embarked on a needed expanded program of support of 4-H adult leader training, 4-H college scholarships, junior leadership training, etc.
2. The Foundation seeks to marshal friend and funds support of Texas 4-H. The present level of financial support sought is a minimum of $1.00 per 4-H club member support from Texas corporations, professional people, individuals, and foundations for projects (probably the lowest support budget for any Texas youth movement.)
3. The Foundation seeks permanent financial underwriters for certain continuing and recurring projects the Foundation sponsors. For example, The Foundation assumed initial financing of the State 4-H Horse Show which is now financially underwritten on an annual basis by the Texas Electric Cooperatives, Inc. (1964 beginning).

4. The 4-H movement in Texas has no training or camp center. From one to four such centers are needed and would be of benefit to the club movement; a long term as-investment by the tomato club girl.

5. 1914. Congress passed the Smith-Lever Law providing funds to be matched by state and county with which to employ agricultural and home economics agents. About 1/3 of the work of Texas Agricultural Extension Service Agricultural and Home Demonstration Agents continues to be with youth (4-H Clubs primarily).

6. During the '20's corn and canning clubs were merged into co-ed 4-H clubs.
7. It has become apparent that 4-H renders greater service beyond its original purpose to distribute agricultural and home economics information, expand farm productivity, and reduce rural poverty.

8. Youth are being given practical experience in the American economic and political heritage: self-reliance, capital investment, management of time and talent, competitive exhibition of product, selling in the free market, club leadership training stresses the parliamentary system of democratic governmental procedures.
9. There are 2 1/2 million 4-H club members in the USA. The movement has spread to 76 other nations as a best hope of underdeveloped countries to rapidly dispense agricultural and home economics information and break down superstition.

10. Texas 4-H numbers 83,798 members, 15,826 volunteer adult leaders, and 2751 club units.
11. Texas offers 142 different projects from which 4-H club members may choose. BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL FRIEND AND FUND SUPPORT OF 4-H

1. Funds to underwrite national, state, district, and county 4-H club activities (contests, awards, special training workshops, trips, etc.) must come from private sources.
2. 4-H has been supported at the national level by major corporations such as General Motors, Ford, General Mills, etc. since the early 1900's. Large national corporations provide county winner medals in 30 different categories (i.e. foods and nutrition, money management, beef production, etc.) A National 4-H Foundation marshals funds for national level educational programs such as the International Farm Youth Exchange, specialized training in citizenship for members and volunteer leaders.

3. State support was piecemeal and catch-as-catch-can until organization of the 4-H Recognition Committee in 1952. The Committee initially sought to raise funds to underwrite extracurricular activities at state contest eliminations called Roundup (about $6,000). THE TEXAS 4-H YOUTH DEVELOPMENT FOUNDATION

1. The informal Recognition Committee was incorporated as the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation in 1962 and has embarked on a needed expanded program of support of 4-H adult leader training, 4-H college scholarships, junior leadership training, etc.

piration of the Foundation will be to locate, construct and endow one or more Texas 4-H centers. A study has been underway exploring possibilities for the establishment of a world or hemisphere 4-H center in Texas.

5. The Foundation secured $35,000 in underwriting funds from the Moody Foundation and Sears-Roebuck Foundation to support a series of adult leader training workshops in 1963. Texas 4-H, once exclusively a school extra-curricular activity, has evolved into a community or neighbor sponsored activity lead by volunteer leaders.
6. There are 45 positions on the Board of Trustees of the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation.
7. The Board schedules two annual board meetings; first week in June at College Station (annual meetings) during state 4-H contest eliminations (Roundup), and in mid October. The board assembles on call.

8. Board member term of office is for three years with re-election for a second term of three years possible.
9. The Foundation elects its officers.
10. The Foundation will organize a Board of Development with at least one representative in each county. The Board of Trustees appoint Board of Development personnel for an indefinite term. The Board of Development will become the voting body of the Foundation (i.e. select new trustees.). It will represent the Foundation program at the county level.
11. A four man executive committee implements policy of the Foundation Board of Trustees.
12. The Foundation has an executive secretary and treasurer to handle details. All fund disbursements are countersigned by the treasurer and a member of the executive committee. An audit of accounts is made and presented to the Board at its annual meeting the first week in June.

SAN ANTONIO—An architects' partially completed model of HemisFair 1968, superimposed over a photo of the City of San Antonio, shows the proximity of the 92-acre international exposition to the downtown sector. Multi-terraced building in the foreground is the Institute of Texan Cultures. The 622-foot Tower of the Americas separates the state exhibit from the city's $10.5 million civic center complex. Open spaces are for the federal and industrial exhibits, many of which are presently contracted.

Governor Urges Sterner Laws

By Vern Sanford, Manager Texas Press Association
 AUSTIN--Heinous, unthinkable crimes--such as those that have left a trail of blood across Texas--must be stopped, say state officials.

Gov. John Connally and Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr both have strongly recommended changes in Texas' criminal laws.

Their proposals are the result of three terrible incidents.. all committed over a period of two weeks. First, the sniping episode on the University of Texas campus during which Charles J. Whitman deliberately killed 16 innocent persons and wounded three dozen more; then the malicious murder of a night watchman in Roscoe, Texas, by a Texas teenager; and finally, the grotesque murder of three youngsters in Fort Worth.

Connally said he would ask the Legislature for a law requiring a compulsory life sentence for anyone who commits murder, then is found not guilty because of insanity.

Carr concurred--adding that he plans to appear personally before the Texas House committee on revisions of the code of criminal procedure in January.

Meanwhile, the attorney general has asked the governor to appoint a blue ribbon citizens committee to draft legislation for tougher laws and stronger penalties.

Up for study are: Stiffer penalties for crimes of violence. Stiffer penalties for sex crimes. Clarification of laws dealing with carrying arms in public. More effective methods of confining those who use insanity as a defense for crimes.

Both Connally and Carr made it clear they are firmly opposed to stringent laws regulating the sale of firearms.

DRAFT CALL INCREASES—Texas' draft call for October is the largest since May, 1953, when the Korean war ended. State quota for October is 2,671, compared to 3,823 at the close of the fighting in Korea, according to State Selective Service Director Col. Morris S. Schwartz.

September quota also is up--from 1,585 to 1,890. National call is for 46,200.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES State Supreme Court Chief Justice may assign retired appellate court judges to duty on courts of civil appeals in case of vacancy or disqualification, Attorney General Carr has ruled. Assignment would be terminated by return to duty been launched by the Texas Highway Commission. Commission approved a $3,200,000 plan which includes replacement of conventional sign supports and illumination pole bases with new units incorporating "breakaway" safety features.

New bases and supports already are in place along newer sections of interstate highways in Texas. Program involves putting them in place of conventional equipment on older section.

Instead of rigid, unyielding hazards, breakaway sign supports and pole bases shear on impact, pivoting up and away from an out-of-control vehicle. The vehicle then rolls to a more controlled stop.

Inflation Trend Concerns Price; Policies Blamed

"Federal policies are a prime cause of growing inflation, in the opinion of Bob Price. He pointed to "the administration of laws and not the laws themselves as the major reason for upward price adjustments."

In a talk at Olton Monday, Price said: "The 1966 agricultural law was basically sound and could have increased farm and ranch net income while generally holding the line on prices to the consumer. In applying the new program the Secretary of Agriculture has favored big business over the local producer and the consumer."

"Price, candidate for Congress from the 18th Congressional District of Texas, stressed the importance of "steps in the law that could restore parts of the free market system in farm and ranch products." He said the 1966 act will permit the free market to function better than it has in years if left alone.

"The farm problem lies with administration meddling. The Secretary of Agriculture ordered the dumping of wheat from government surplus; the fixing of prices on domestic hides; and arranged with the Defense Department to purchase great quantities of food items as substitutes for its customary uses of beef products. The President personally appealed to housewives to buy lower grade foods in order to bring about lower food prices. Proof that government controls are inflationary is seen at every hand. The food grower is earning less the housewife is paying more; and the cost of living is advancing at the fastest rate in years. The administration must give private enterprise markets a chance to operate."
