'Moonlight' Sale Blasts Off Fall Chamber Events

First of the Muleshoe merchants' big autumn sales events, a "Moonlight Madness" sale, Oct. 13, will blast off the autumn season here, to be followed by the second big event, the Halloween Kiddies' parade Oct. 29.

These matters, among other chamber activities, were discussed at Tuesday morning's breakfast session of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce directors in Paul's Restaurant. Also discussed were such activities as a chamber membership and visitation club, and a short course on "New Directions in Management" to be staged Oct. 10-14.

The management course, it was explained, is sponsored by the chamber and the Distributive Education department of the Texas Education Agency. Teacher will be Mrs. Mary Frances Bowden, supervisory management training specialist, University of Texas Extension division. She is a graduate of Tulsa University and has served as personnel and training director of department stores and specialty shops. Cost for the course will be $4.

Muleshoe to Meet Winless Denver City

Muleshoe Mules, still basking in the giddy feeling of a lopsided, lopsided victory last Friday night, will take off tomorrow for Denver City to tangle with a team which so far has been winless.

And because of that winless factor, the Mustangs will be battling with blood in their eyes. They'll be playing for keeps, even though the game is not a conference affair.

The Mustangs lost a heart-breaker last Saturday night when Stamford Bulldogs nosed them 7-6 in a hard-fought game played on neutral ground in Snyder.

The Denver City outfit had been undergoing a team re-build program, the Denver City Press said, but apparently the re-building process was not complete or at least not too successful.

However, they were meeting an inspired Stamford team seeking its first victory over Denver City since 1958 when the Bulldogs won 14-0. The week before, Denver City and Lovelland battled to a scoreless tie.

John Q. Public Billed For $327,631 in Taxes

Joe P. Citizen, who owns property or possessions or both in Bailey County received his bill from the county and state this week, and it's the biggest bill ever sent out from the courthouse--$327,631.15.

And hardly had the "Duns" hit the post office before some of the more eager-beaverish tax-payers began doing just that--paying their taxes. Before the day was over, in fact, she had received a number of checks for taxes.

The tax bills ran all the way from 24 cents to a whopping $5,480.63. The tiny bill would be sent to someone who valued his worldly goods here at only $10, while the five-thousand plus statement went to the Santa Fe railroad, the county's biggest taxpayer. Utilities, however, were only a shade behind, General Telephone, Southwestern Public Service and Bailey County Electric Cooperative all receiving good-sized statements too, not necessarily in that order.

The 1966 mailings (which were for 1965 taxes) were a third higher than 10 years ago; the 1956 tax ticket totaled only $212,256.63.

But by the same token, the county's valuations were considerably smaller too. For example, the valuation now is $15,053,481, while in 1956 the valuation was only $11,236,202.

Those Joe P. Citizens who are returning their payments pronto have a reason for doing so: The county office allows them a discount for their promptness, explained Jean Lovelady, county assessor-collector. (Even the little Joe Blow who got billed for 24 cents can save a penny if he returns his payment right away.)

It runs like this: A three-percent discount if the bill is paid this month--in October. Or a 2 percent cut if taxes are paid in November, and 1 percent off if paid in December. Net is due Jan. 1.

Then starting Feb. 1, a 1-1/2 percent penalty goes into effect. And each month thereafter until July 1, one-half of one percent is added. That's each month, remember.

Mrs. Lovelady said the bills went out on schedule, "without additional help," Mrs. Lovelady and her two regular assistants taking care of the job.

The tax collector said the statements cover personal, ad valorem (estate and county) and water district taxes.

Lamb county, however, a $50,000 reduction in the total tax bill was reported by Herbert Dunn. Even so, the Lamb county statements totaled $449,602.15. The lower tax total, Dunn explained, is due to a reduction in highway costs. The road program is being lopped by $106,000.

Castors Booming!

"A forest of castors," is the way one farmer described this year's castor crop, and the picture above on the Bill Millen farm north of Muleshoe, proves the point. Almost concealed in the crop is Kenneth Powell, who is about as tall as a farmer could be found.

Castors Flourish In Bailey County

With the demand for castor oil for "military and other high quality instruments highest in history," the lowly castor (formerly known as the castor bean) is flourishing.

And in this county, the crop promises an exceptionally high yield. Throughout Bailey county's irrigated region, the crop is being used to supplement dwindled acreage in other crops, particularly cotton.

The picture above, for instance, was made on the Bill Millen place north of Muleshoe where castors are being used in skip rows with cotton.

The name "castor beans" is being replaced, J. K. Adams, county agent explained, "because some people who might not be well informed, might think the bean is edible. Such is not the case, since the oil of the castor is poisonous."

One farm expert predicted that castors will "continue to grow in popularity here," and he predicted that "much larger acreages will be noted in a few years."

The oil is highly valuable for lubricating delicate instruments as well as some types of aircraft.

Refuge 'Shares' Income; Units Receive $1765

Bailey county units this past week received a $1764 check from Uncle Sam as payment under the new "Refuge Revenue Sharing Act" program. The presentation was made by Keith Hansen, manager of the Muleshoe Wildlife Refuge. (See picture on page 3.)

Remember the Poll Tax? WELL,
It's That Time Again - Free!
Want to pay your poll taxes? Well, you can, only there's no paying to it anymore, the old pay-poll-taxes-or-you-don't-vote days are gone, probably forever, Uncle Sam objected.
Jean Lovelady, county tax assessor-collector, said the registration period started Monday, and folks who want to vote must register. But the $1.75 fee is gone.
"The state talked about tacking on a cost tag, just to cover the printing costs -- say 25 cents each -- but they knocked that out, too, when the old poll tax law was repealed by the state legislature after the federal courts had ruled that no one could pay for the privilege of voting for federal candidates. The state of Texas went along and wiped out its century-old poll tax law, too. Deadline for registering, incidentally, is Jan. 31."

Ford's Punt, Pass, Kick Contest Set

Muleshoe area boys from 8 through 13 can put their football skills against thousands of other boys throughout the nation in the fifth annual Punt, Pass & Kick competition which will culminate with a trip to Washington, D. C., and on appearance at the National Football League Play-Off game for the top 12 winners.

Sponsored nationally by the Ford Dealers of American and the National Football League, the Punt, Pass & Kick competition -- or PP&K -- will be staged in Muleshoe by Muleshoe Motor Co.

Muleshoe boys will be tested for their ability to punt, pass and place-kick a football for distance and accuracy. First - , second - and third - place winners will receive distinctive Medal of Achievement awards on plush velvet ribbons. Top award is a blue motif, second - place award is red, third award is white. There will be 18 award medals in all. Scores throughout the country then will be compared to determine the six top winners in each of the 360 Ford zones -- a total of 2160 zone winners.

Zone winners will meet in 37 Ford District competitions at which 228 district champions will win trophies. The 228 runners-up will receive certificate awards. All 228 district champions will compete for area championships to be held in 15 NFL-city areas.

The 42 western NFL-area champions will compete in Baltimore, Maryland, on Saturday, December 10, to determine the six western division champions (one for each age group). The 48 eastern NFL-area champions will compete in Dallas, Texas, on Sunday, December 11, to decide the six eastern division champions (one for each age group.)

The six eastern NFL division champions, and the six western division champions accompanied by their mothers and fathers, will go on a "Tour of Champions" to Washington, D. C. They then will travel to the Orange Bowl in Miami, Florida, site of the annual NFL Play-Off game, for half-time competition to determine the six National PP&K Champions.

Robert Hooten, of Muleshoe Motor Co. pointed out that PP&K involves no body contact, there is no charge for entering and no special equipment is needed. "Registration will be open through October 7," he said, "with Muleshoe Motor Co. as registration headquarters."

"In 1965, PP&K's fifth year, 715,817 boys entered the competition," he said, "a program which has received the commendation of the President's Council on Youth Fitness."

Hooten said entrants will be judged on distance and accuracy of their punting, passing and kicking. Points will be awarded for each foot of distance the ball travels on the fly, and points will be subtracted for each foot the ball lands to the right or left of a center line. The Muleshoe Competition will be held at the High School Football Stadium on Saturday, Oct. 8, at 9:30 a.m.

Tie scores will be played off

Dr. Lewis, M. D. Gunstream, and Robert Hooten. Guests included the Rev. Don Murray, who gave the invocation, and Kenneth Henry. Newly-elected directors present included Don Harmon, Eddie Faust, Buddy Peeler and Bob Jones.

Lewis presented a certificate of merit to Kenneth Henry for his work in directing the big Fourth of July celebration, and to Eddie Faust who headed the membership campaign of the chamber last spring.

Bob Janca, chamber manager, presented a plan for forming an official membership and visitation club. This group would sell memberships and visit new businesses. Each member of this club will receive a blazer and badge to identify him as a member after he has acquired 300 points.

A membership report was given, listing new members as well as old members who have upped their dues. New members include Bob Stovall, Eric Smith, W. E. Meyers and J. M. Hall. Dues increases were made by the Tri-County Credit Bureau White's Cashway Grocery and Highland Motel.

The board decided to visit a new industry here each month, starting this week with Foto Vues Inc., a new industry in Muleshoe which makes western novelties.

The "Moonlight Madness" sale will be staged from 7 until 9 p.m., in downtown Muleshoe with all stores cooperating. Sales folk and owners will dress in old-fashioned night gowns.

The directors also were on the day of competition. Ties for top spot in zone and district standings also will be played off during special contests. District winners will receive trophies. Area winners vie for the top 12 division championships. The six national winners receive handsome PP&K championship trophies. The other six receive national runner-up trophies. All 12 finalists go on the "Tour of Champions."

urged to attend a West Texas Chamber of Commerce industrial meeting in Abilene Oct. 14.

Janca pointed out that communities are going to "get the basic facts on industrial development at the 13th annual industrial conference."

This conference is carefully geared to giving the small community the basic information it needs to improve its industrial picture. As a result of an all-out recent effort by the West Texas Chamber to unearth West Texas' greatest growth potential, two main areas of industrial opportunity will be explored-----attracting industries geared to agriculture and to the petrochemical industry.

The one-day program will feature some of the most outstanding industrial figures in Texas as speakers or workshop moderators. Highlighting the day will be a series of nine separate "How To" workshops, designed especially for the small community in need of know-how. The conference will be held at the San Angelo Coliseum and will run from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Keynote speaker for the conference will be F. J. Spencer of Houston, outstanding economic development consultant. He will speak during the morning.

The luncheon program will be a special feature, with several firms who have recently located in West Texas giving their testimonials on why they chose the area for their operations. Their representatives are expected to go right to the heart of the industrial development picture in West Texas, highlighting the opportunities which exist in the region.

One of the most talented industrial teams in the Southwest, the successful Denton team, will present a demonstration on how to handle a prospect. This will be a feature of the morning session.

night Stamford-Denver City game, the Abilene Reporter-News wrote:

Statistics gave Denver City victory on paper but the scoreboard told another story.

Stamford bounced into the scoring column with a minute remaining in the first quarter capping a march that began on their own 34-yard line. Halfback Raymond Cedillo went over from the four with 1:06 left to play on the first period.

Joey Lawson kicked the extra point that ultimately was to determine the winner of the sea-saw battle.

The Mustangs were quick to counter, setting up operations on their own 36-yard line. After using 10 plays to drive to the Stamford 30, quarterback Gary Hatfield rolled out to the left and dashed across the goal with 9:02 left to play in the second period.

The remainder of the game was a defensive battle.

Denver City threatened again moments before the first half ended, driving to the Stamford 11 yard line on a 24-yard pass from Hatfield to end Dayne Young, but the effort went for naught as time expired.

After an exchange of punts during the third quarter neither team being able to move the ball, Denver City cranked up one more drive during the final period, moving to the Bulldog 25.

With 15 seconds remaining to play, John Powell teed up a desperation field goal shot but his kick fell short.

Leading rusher was Denver City's Gary Hatfield, who ran 128 yards from his quarterback position, rivalled by Bulldog fullback Von Grimes with 76 yards to his credit.

Reading Rooms To Boost Pupils' Skill Are Set Up

Under Title I - P. L. 89-10, one of the government reading programs, Muleshoe schools have set up reading stations or rooms equipped to help students develop reading skills and to increase their reading comprehension and speed.

All materials are geared to fit the child's needs. Controlled readers, with all levels of stories on film, tape recorders, with individual head sets, record players, overhead projectors, language masters, and library and skills books of multi-levels are used in these enrichment rooms.

These developmental or enrichment rooms offer excellent opportunities for children to develop to their fullest potential, because the classes are small and the teachers have more time for individual help.

In the elementary schools the children are in self-contained class rooms. All the required courses are taught but the emphasis is on reading and math. In the Junior High the children are scheduled in reading classes for one period a day.

Most of the teachers in these rooms attended West Texas University, Canyon, this summer and received special training in the teaching of reading.

A recent survey made in schools who were in the (PESO) Panhandle Educational Services Organization last spring, showed that each grade had made a definite gain in reading growth.

Couple Exchange Vows In Assembly of God Rites

Beneath a heart archway with greenery and baskets of gladoli and gold mums on either side, Linda Sue Higginbotham, Muleshoe, and Murray Duane White, Farwell, became man and wife. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Higginbotham and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam White, Farwell.

Double ring vows were repeated in the Muleshoe Assembly of God Church at 7 p.m. Friday with the Rev. J. W. Farmer, pastor of the church, officiating.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white satin brocade featuring a round neckline, pointed sleeves with pearl buttons ending at her fingertips and a fitted bodice. Her veil of net and lace fell from a beaded crown. She carried a bouquet of white orchids centered with feathered carnations atop a white Bible, a gift from her parents, covered with satin and lace.

Janice Higginbotham served her sister as maid of honor. She was attired in a gold satin brocade street length dress with a fitted bodice. She added a bronze mum corsage.

Clifford Gray, brother-in-law of the groom, was best man.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. W.L. Watkins and the late Mr. Watkins and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Rogers, Mancos, Colo.

Given in marriage by her brother, Jack Watkins from Wichita Falls, the bride wore a floor-length dress of white chiffon velvet designed with a scoop neckline accented with pearl applique trim. The bodice featured a French dart line and petal point sleeves. The natural waistline topped a softly-pleated skirt accented at the front hemline with the pearl applique trim used at the neckline.

The back of the gown was accented by small self-covered buttons to the waistline. Her chapel-length train was attached at the waistline by a velvet sash which tied in a small bow in the front at the waistline. Her shoulder-length veil of silk illusion was attached to a pearl tiara. The bride carried a cascade of white carnations.

Mrs. Bill Watkins, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor and Miss Elaine Haley was bridesmaid. They wore floor-length dresses of red chiffon velvet featuring scoop necklines, short sleeves, bodices accented by French dart lines, natural waistlines with bow belts and softly pleated skirts. Their red net veils were attached to pillboxes of chiffon velvet and they wore diamond drop necklaces and wrist-length white gloves.

Cadillac Adds Front-Wheel Drive

Highlighting the 12 model Cadillac line-up for 1967 is all new styling, unexcelled safety, comfort and convenience features and a completely new luxury personal car -- the front wheel-drive Fleetwood Eldorado.

Calvin J. Werner, Cadillac Motor Car Division general manager and General Motors vice president, said that the 1967 Cadillacs will be on display in dealer showrooms Oct. 6.

"Safety has always received primary consideration at Cadillac and this year is no exception," Mr. Werner said. "Prominent among the product improvements related to safety is an energy-absorbing steering column. The wheel deflects under severe body impact and cushions the driver against a padded surface inside the circumference of the wheel. At the same time the impact collapses a section of the steering column."

The new Eldorado is distinguished as the only car in the world offering the mutually complementary features of front-wheel-drive, variable ratio steering and automatic level control as standard equipment. This model is being built on its own special assembly line at Cadillac's Detroit plant.

Length of the Eldorado is 221 inches, its height is 53.3 inches, its wheelbase is 120 inches. Other models retain their 1965 dimensions.

The front view of standard models is fresh in concept but retains a traditional Cadillac flavor with the cross-hatch grille design and vertically mounted twin headlamps. A broad, bold look is achieved with wider spacing of the grille elements.

The new silhouette gives the car a longer appearance. A powerful horizontal design line sweeps the entire length of the car -- emphasizing length and a sculptured look. A distinctive new roof structure is exclusive to the two and four-door hardtop models.

Highlighting the rear view is a completely new bumper and taillight configuration. All lighting functions are housed in the vertical bumper outer which provide positive nighttime Cadillac identification.

Crisp, tailored lines dominate the styling theme of Cadillac's five-passenger Eldorado. A long hood, distinctive roof, and short rear deck set the character for Cadillac's new personal luxury car. Its appearance is dignified, but youthful, with a roof design reminiscent of a formal opera coupe and full-wheel openings that give a sporty flair.

Upper-Class Take Honors

The Blackburn-Moore Chapter of Future Teachers sponsored the fifth annual Powder Puff football game at the Benny Douglas stadium Monday night before a slightly chilly crowd of several hundred people.

Approximately $450 was cleared from the fast-moving game played by the girls of Muleshoe high school. Proceeds from the game are used jointly by the Student Council in the beautification of the MHS campus as well as to help 10 girls from Muleshoe high school go to the state convention in San Antonio in Feb., 1967.

Kerry Moore very ably acted as referee, assisted quite well by Larry Meyers, Alvin Davis and Dean Black.

Final score in the contest was Junior-Senior team 36 and the Freshman-Sophomore's 20.

Wildlife Area Hunts Planned, Drawings Set

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department announced that applications are being accepted for public hunts on seven wildlife management areas although the public drawings to determine the participants will not be held for another three weeks or so.

The free shoots involve primarily deer but also include javelina, turkey, and quail.

The Department noted that practically all the inquiries to date were about big game.

Surplus inhabitants on the management areas are harvested under supervision as a part of the experimental activities covering many phases of wildlife management.

The public hunt sites will be: Kerr Area near Kerrville; Black Gap Area in Brewster County; Engelking area near Palestine;

Angelino Area (Cherokee Unit in Cherokee County);

Sierra Diablo Area in far west Texas;

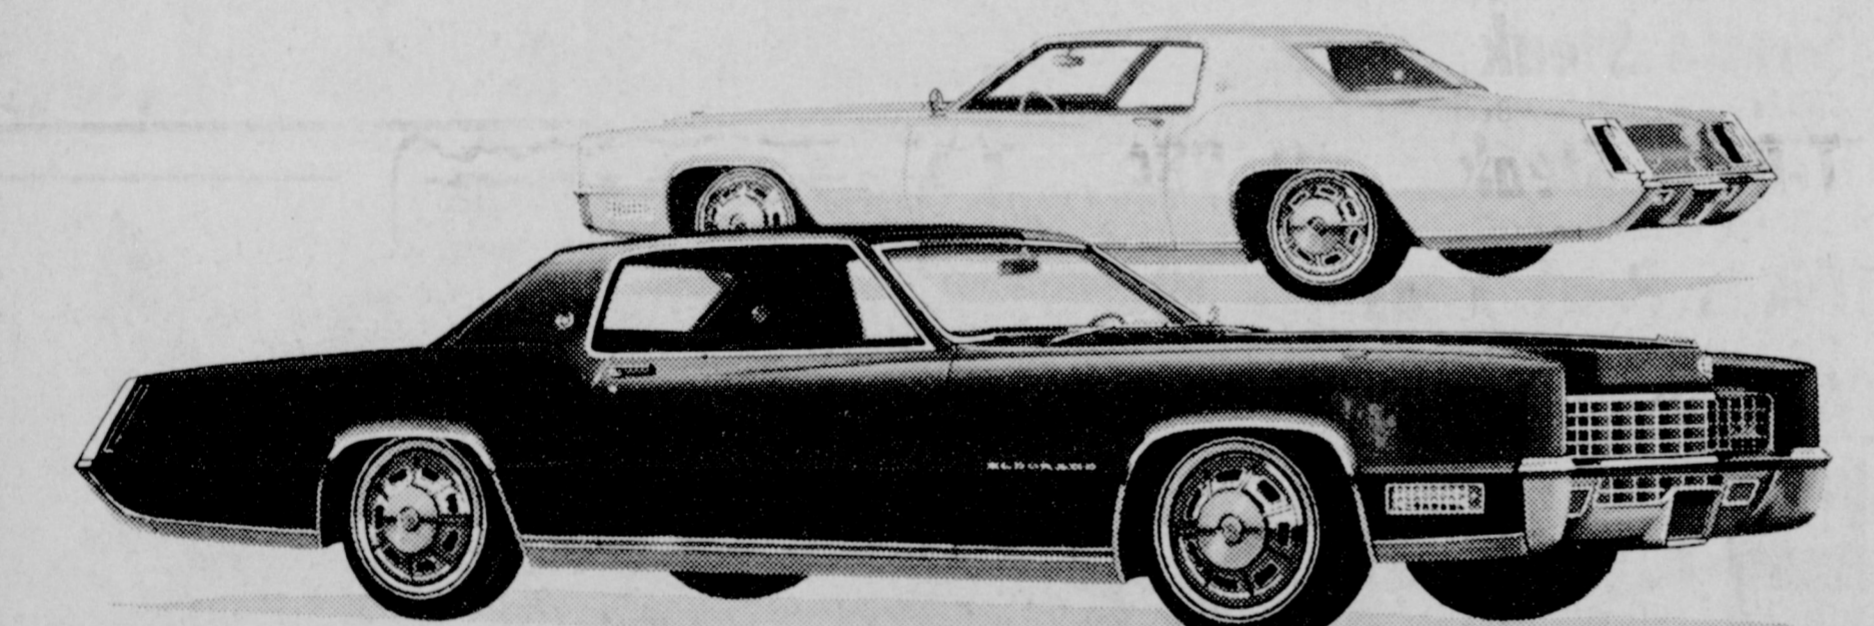

Gene Howe area in Panhandle; and Matador area near Paducah.

Interested hunters should submit their requests for application forms to the Parks and Wildlife Department, John H. Reagan State Office Building, Austin, Texas 78701. Deadline for acceptance of applications is 5 p.m. Monday, Oct. 24, in the Austin headquarters.

The Department advised prospective participants that 17 years is the minimum age. A maximum of four may apply for the same hunting party but that none of these should apply for hunting on a second area.

Number of the 1966-67 hunting license must be given along with full name and address.

Coach McAlpin and his staff, comprised of Raymond Schroder, Ronnie Jones, Bill Gravitt, Fate Harris, Darrell Oliver, and Bob Graves, presented the program at the weekly meeting of Rotary.

Albert Field was the program chairman and presented Coach McAlpin and staff.

Ronnie Jones showed Morton films and analyzed them.

Jones said that the present staff was one of the finest with whom he had had the privilege of working and that the 6th, 7th and 8th football program was unusually good. He said that the varsity is playing fairly good football and that they played everybody against Morton.

Jones also said that the game with Denver City would be a tough one. Brownfield and Stamford were the only teams that had beaten Denver City. He feels that Muleshoe has the problem of being able to score after getting inside the 10-yd. line.

Ransom Jones was the student guest.

Texas Needing 5500 Teachers

AUSTIN--Texas is facing its worst teacher shortage in 25 years, according to the Texas State Teachers Association.

Results of a survey were released Sept. 29 by TSTA Executive Secretary, Charles H. Tennyson.

A need exists for some 5500 fully qualified teachers throughout the state, he said.

The survey was conducted to include every one of the some 1,303 Texas school districts, of which 82 percent have replied.

Tennyson said that tabulation of the survey returns showed that by September 28, 1,069 school districts reported a need for 5,492 fully qualified teachers.

He said this figure was determined by a two question query: 1. "How many professional positions do you have vacant at the present time?" The total report in response to this question was 1,092.

2. "How many positions have you filled with teachers who are not fully qualified?" Survey results showed 4,400 not fully qualified teachers have been hired to man teaching positions requiring a fully certified teacher.

"By adding those two figures together," Tennyson said, "we see that there is a shortage of at least 5,492 fully qualified teachers on Texas."

More than 10,000 teachers are teaching in Texas this year with only emergency permits, Tennyson said.

"According to the survey returns," he continued, "superintendents apparently feel that almost one half of the holders of these 10,000 emergency permits are not qualified to handle the professional duties required of a classroom teacher. Of course, many of these emergency permit teachers are excellent instructors.

"The sad fact is that Texas superintendents are today forced to hire unqualified persons in order to keep Texas schools open. We have no estimate as to the number of school children receiving inferior instruction."

Every major metropolitan area is included in the survey results. All but Fort Worth Independent School District are affected.

Tennyson said the release of the figures at this time was made to erase any doubts as to whether there is a teacher shortage in Texas.

On Monday, September 26, the executive board of the Texas Association of School Administrators (TASA), aware of a serious teacher shortage, voted to request an interim report from the Governor's Committee on Public School Education on the need for increased teaching salaries.

TASA thus becomes the second major education association in the state to go on record in behalf of immediate action to provide better teaching salaries. Earlier this year TSTA asked the Governor's Committee for an interim report on the need for better salaries.

TASA's action came after the chairman of the Governor's Committee said that the committee would issue interim reports on three areas--including drivers' education--but not on the emergency situation of teaching salaries.

"The results of our survey are deeply disturbing," Tennyson said.

"These alarming figures mean nothing less than a clear obligation for TSTA to pursue vigorously programs designed for the consideration of the Texas Legislature, which will convene in January.

"We will propose that the average salaries of classroom teachers in Texas become such as to be equal to or above the national average of classroom teacher's pay."

Tennyson went on to say that the teacher shortage can be blamed on Texas' poor minimum salary schedule for teachers.

He said the rise in the number of federal aid to education programs has created new demands for teachers.

"There are other factors involved in the teacher shortage," he said. "But the single most important source of the trouble lies in the fact that Texas is still not paying its teachers a decent living wage.

In life he could not run very fast.

Dreaming of the years long gone by

Made of marble he could not sigh.

In younger days down in the south

He had a clincher bit in his mouth

Pulling a plow down in Tennessee

His thoughts were ' this is tough for me.'

O

One moonlight night he ran away

Stopped for breakfast and ate some hay

Traveled out west to a Texas town

Was all tired out then layed down

Stayed in Muleshoe for a month or so

Tried to chase him out but he didn't go

He ate his meals in grass, places

Learned to love people with kind faces

He died a hero in Muleshoe village

Forgotten was the land he used to tillage

Looking alive a man with a long pole

Gave him a poke, dead he is, the poor soul

This verse must end with a sad farewell

I hear the train whistle and the engine bell.

Dear Editor:

Editor's Note: The following letter was received by Holt, Santa Fe agent here from San Bernardino, Calif.

Dear Sir:

My nephew, Odell James, drove us to Muleshoe on Sept. 14 from Spring Lake to take train 75 for the west. You may recall our visit in your office. Having lots of spare time, Odell drove us all over the nice city of Muleshoe. We stopped at the Statue of the Mule and our nephew said "Uncle, why dont you write a poem about this Mule."

I told him "O.K., I will make a stab at it. Enclosed you will find the verse or poem. It sounds corny, but it has some rhyme to it, so give me "E" for effort. If it meets with your approval you have my permission to hand it over to the local paper to publish. Some one may have a chuckle over it and if the paper finds room for it, send it to the Santa Fe Magazine to help put your little friendly city on the map.

I am enclosing $1 if the paper puts the verse in print, I will want to send two or three copies to Odell so he can let the rest of the clan read the master piece of riff-raff? Our kin folks have many, many acres out Spring Lake, Sunnyside, Friona and Tulla way. They are shippers more or less on Santa Fe. Raise malze, cotton, soybeans, cattle and get farm machinery. Also have a ranch in Oklahoma east and north of Tulla. We had a nice trip both ways on the train. Better to come to Muleshoe via Amarillo.

Thanks in advance for your kindness. With best personal regards.

Yours truly,

Men are Sought For Vacancies in State Patrol

The Texas Department of Public Safety announced today it has 231 vacancies in its uniformed patrol services and reminded interested men between the ages of 21 and 35 that the next deadline for applications is October 17.

Examinations will be held on Oct. 22 for the next cadet training school scheduled to begin Jan. 3.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., DPS Director, said vacancies exist in all four of the uniformed services-- Highway Patrol, License and Weight, Drivers License, and Motor Vehicle Inspection. Most of the openings are in the Highway Patrol Service.

"These opportunities for careers in public service offer many and varied advantages for qualified men," Garrison said. "Men who would like to dedicate their lives to helping people can at the same time enjoy a livelihood with security and opportunity for advancement."

He pointed out that effective Sept. 1, higher salaries and a five-day work week went into effect for all DPS uniformed personnel. He said cadets at the DPS Law Enforcement Academy in Austin will receive $400 per month while in training, and will be off Saturdays and Sundays. The training period will last approximately 18 weeks, including 13 weeks of basic training. The remainder of the period will be devoted to specialized training in the service which the cadet is to be assigned.

Texans on Tour Stage German Market Seminar

Members of the Texas Farm Bureau's second annual "market-builder" tour to Europe returned to Texas landing at Love Field after a jet flight from Paris.

For two weeks, the group of 84 farmers, ranchers, agribusinessmen and their wives had toured marketing facilities and visited famous sights in seven European countries. Representing nearly every commodity grown in the state, they paid their own way to Europe to study the marketing methods and potential for Texas farm products. Some of the farmer-agribusinessmen contacted importers while there.

Walter Meyers, TFB commodity director and tour leader said it is hoped the tour will turn up valuable leads for sales. Following the first tour in 1965, the TFB opened a market for fresh Texas beef in Germany. He said a highlight of this year's tour was a trade seminar in Wiesbaden staged for the Texans by U.S. State Department officials and German importers and marketing experts. Alexander Burnet, U.S. assistant agricultural attache, discussed the German market for Texas farm products. John Montell, member of the U.S. mission to the European Economic Community or Common Market, outlined the purpose and procedures of the Common Market.

COTTON TALKS
 FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

LUBBOCK -- Indications are that cotton producers on the High Plains and elsewhere will get considerably higher prices for cottonseed this year than they've gotten in many, many years.

It's the result of an old law almost forgotten in High Plains cotton circles -- the law of supply and demand. The estimated national 1966 crop of just less than 11 million bales -- about 30 percent below 1965 production -- has brought on a proportionate reduction in the prospective supply of cottonseed for crushing. The demand for cottonseed and cottonseed products has not seen a similar drop. Unlike lint, there's no surplus from which to fill the gap.

On the Plains cottonseed at the gin has opened at about $70 per ton, basis quality index of 100, as compared to from $42 to $50 per ton paid in recent years. How this price will hold through the season is anybody's guess, but most observers see little chance of a decline back to $50 a ton or less.

There's about 800 to 850 pounds of seed per bale, worth $28 to $70 per ton. Ginning charges, including bagging and ties, average from $18 to $20 per bale. So farmers as of now can expect to realize from $8 to $10 per bale above ginning.

Certainly there's no assurance that this seed price will hold for the year. But the current price would bring farmers from 160 to 200 points net over loan value for their cotton.

And percentage wise this factor takes on added importance in view of declining loan values -- from 32 cents basis middling inch in 1963 to 29 cents in 1965. Loan price for 1966 is 21 cents, basis middling inch, but the value of both diversion and price support payments must also be taken into consideration this year, with each individual farmer calculating his own price.

Last year cottonseed was credited with accounting for about 11 percent of the total value of the crop, and this percentage figure is sure to be higher in 1966.

There is the feeling in some circles that the value of the seed in each year's crop may become progressively more significant on the Plains.

And lending credence to this belief is the research efforts being put into development of glandless, gossypol-free seed. The National Cottonseed Products Association envisions a vast increase in markets for cottonseed products once gossypol glands are eliminated. Gossypol is well known to be responsible for the troublesome dark color of cottonseed oil. It either eliminates or reduces the usefulness of the oil as a protein feed for poultry, swine, other non-ruminant animals and humans.

Without gossypol, the competitive position of cottonseed oil with other oilseed crops would be greatly improved. And this is especially true in view of the government's "Food For Freedom" program to develop vegetable protein foods from cotton and soybeans for human consumption.

Donald A. Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., emphasizes that the production of glandless seed is not a matter of introducing new varieties, but rather a matter of incorporating the glandless factor into existing varieties without loss of yield and lint quality characteristics.

Gregg 25-V a variety which produces glandless seed, is already being produced commercially on the Plains. It is estimated that approximately 135 tons of this planting seed were sold in 1966, and the National Cottonseed Products Association and area oil mills are seeking the cooperation of producers and ginners toward harvesting every seed of 25-V so it may be crushed separately. The resulting glandless cottonseed oil will then be made available for research purposes.

In order for this research to be effective, this glandless seed must not be contaminated with other seeds. Gins and oil mills in the areas where 25-V has been planted have arranged to gin and crush the seed separately, and the only problem remaining is that of grower cooperation -- getting growers to harvest this cotton separately.

Johnson is urging all growers to make special effort to see that 25-V arrives at the gin unmixed with any other variety. He says "Because of the current economic difficulties being encountered by cotton lint as a market commodity on the Plains, the income from cottonseed is tremendously important to cotton as a major cash crop in the area. And we should do all we can to enhance seed value."

Neither PCG nor NCPA is recommending this or any other variety. They point out that with the current value ratio between lint and seed, farmers can afford to plant glandless cottonseed only if it is equal to the best ginned varieties in yield and quality of lint.
