Tax measures have good chance, Rep. Craddick says

Vol. 50, No. 123, Daily 15¢, Sunday 35¢

Repeal of the utility sales tax, an increase in inheritance tax exemption and a constitutional amendment to increase the homestead property tax exemption for senior citizens all have a good chance of being passed by the Legislature in special session, Rep. Tom Craddick said in Midland

Craddick said hearings were scheduled for this afternoon on the inheritance tax and utility sales tax items. But, he said, the House declined to suspend posting rules on the other five proposals submitted by Gov. Dolph Briscoe, so hearings on those topics cannot be held immediately. He declined to say how he will vote on any of the proposed laws. "I've got to see the bills. It's like asking, 'Do you like this apple?' when I don't know whether there are worms in it,"

The proposed constitutional amendment to require a two-thirds vote of both House and Senate to increase taxes probably will not pass, Craddick said. "There was some comment yesterday (Monday, the opening day of the session) that they didn't even have the votes to get that out of Similarly, said the Midland lawmaker, the proposed constitutional amendment to set up a referendum system in Texas probably won't get out of committee.

He said he does not know what the chances of passage are for the proposed constitutional amendment to limit spending by local taxing bodies. "I'd say that one is going to have a rough road. Now I'm guessing, because I don't know. I don't think anybody does," Craddick said.

He said he does not think more should have been included in the governor's package presented to the legislators. "I think he (Briscoe) covered it. I don't think the property tax reform should be done in a special session of the Legislature... I think we probably would have been better off to take care of all these items in a regular session, rather than a special," he added.

Sen. W.E. "Pete" Snelson said in Austin Monday he began the special session with some reluctance, because the people's expectations may be greater than the Legislature's ability to accomplish.

"In the light of Proposition 13," the senator remarked, "the people's expectations may be greater than is reasonable." Snelson said the governor had placed "a big load on a special session," and predicted that "some of it will fly and some of it will not."

He said he favors the elimination of utilities sales tax and increasing the inheritance tax exemptions, and he expects both of those provisions to

Other issues will be harder to deal with, he said, because the Legislature will be unable to collect the type of information on public views in a special session that would be possible in the regular session.

Snelson expressed doubts about the constitutional amendment requiring a two-thirds vote to increase taxes. 'Past Legislatures have acted responsibly, and I think the measure is too restrictive to meet possible future needs," he said.

Snelson said he, too, thinks some of the items cannot be considered pro-perly in a special session, and said it may not last the full 30 days the law allows. "If they lay aside some of the things that just cannot be dealt with in the special, then we could go home early," he said.

Russian trials likely to cloud Vance mission

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance flew to Geneva today to see if he can make headway in slowing the nuclear weapons race despite steadily souring relations with the Soviet Union.

Trials of top Russian dissidents Anatoly Shcharansky and Alexander Ginzburg clouded an already complicated Vance mission, but he said the imperatives of preventing nuclear annihilation left him no alternative but to go ahead with the negotia-

But while in Geneva, Vance will meet with Shcharansky's wife Avital in a gesture of support for Shcharansky and other Soviet dissidents, said a U.S. official who declined public identification.

Over the last several months the two superpowers have made only halting progress toward a treaty to limit their long-range bombers and intercontinental ballistic missiles. As Vance prepared for his meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko on Wednesday and Thursday, the Carter administration weighed a decision on ways to protect U.S. land-based missiles from potential Russian assault.

This is likely to add to existing differences between the two sides on how to restrict development and deployment of new missiles and what to do about the Soviet Backfire bomb-

The missile-protecting technique under consideration is a sort of "shell game." Thousands of extra holes would be dug for the American Minutemen. Then the missiles would be shifted from silo to silo periodically to hide them from the Russians.

Despite this tentative step to shore up U.S. defenses, Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., let fly in the Senate with a blistering attack on U.S. negotiating strategy.

Jackson, who has a hardliner reputation, said the Carter administration was inclined to one-sided arms agreements with the Russians. "It is high time we stopped the dangerous practice of entering into unequal deals with Moscow in the misguided notion that Soviet leaders will reward our generosity with restraint in international affairs," Jackson said.

A fellow Democrat, Sen. Thomas McIntyre of New Hampshire, shot back that Jackson was "carping about a treaty that we haven't seen

But Jackson, in a separate interview with NBC, called the decision to have Vance meet with Gromyko while Shcharansky and Ginzburg were on trial "the wrong signal at the wrong

Vance's response, at a news conference, was to "respectfully dis-

The secretary of state condemned Soviet authorities, as he had in unusually strong terms over the weekend, and said the trials "raised serious questions" about Moscow's compliance with the human rights guarantees of the 1975 Helsinki agree-

But he said the weapons-limitation negotiations "stand on their own two feet and have a special quality."

"We are dealing," Vance said, "with negotiations that affect the national security of our nation and the well-being of the world in general."

At the White House, meanwhile, the trials were branded as a "repressive action which strikes at the conscience of the entire world.

Hostage charges captor with New York state flag

NEW YORK (AP) - Louis Jerome figured he'd "had enough" so he picked up a flagpole, charged an unemployed machinist who threatened to blow up a World Trade Center office with 80 pounds of dynamite and ended a harrowing nine-hour siege.

"I had had enough and I charged him with the New York state flag,' said a shaken Jerome early today, explaining how his assault led to the disarming of Ladislaw Fraczek moments after the man tried to barricade himself and four hostages in the office about 8 p.m.

Jerome, a state Compensation Board referee, and three others were held hostage Monday by Fraczek, a Polish-speaking immigrant who had gone to the compensation board offices on the trade center's 36th floor looking for money, police said. Instead Fraczek, about 50, was arrested and charged with kidnapping and possession of a weapon - a bread knife. He was held pending arraignment in Criminal Court. Throughout the ordeal Fraczek claimed his canvas bag contained dynamite, but police later said it contained a Polish flag, a Polish-language Bible, the knife and some dark Russian bread.

Other charges could be filed, police said, if a round cannister Fraczek clutched tightly during the siege turned out to be a grenade, as he claimed. A police department spokesman said the device would be "checked out later today."

The disturbance caused the evacuation of about 4,000 people from 17 floors of the 110-story No. 2 tower of the trade center, the world's second tallest building, located on Manhattan's lower west side. Only the Sears Tower in Chicago is taller, by 110

The compensation referee said he rushed Fraczek after the man tried to barricade the door leading into the room. Fraczek had gone to the door to tell police to bring a Roman Catholic priest so he could give final absolution to the hostages before he detonated his munitions.

That was when one of the hostages, court reporter Clarence Douglas, fled through the door.

After he accused Fraczek of not really having a bomb, Jerome said he then began his charge.

Trials for major Soviet dissidents raise worldwide protests, support

MOSCOW (AP) - Soviet court officials said testimony was given today in the trial of dissident Anatoly Shcharansky about his alleged espionage relationship with an American newspaper correspondent.

In Kaluga, 100 miles away, the wife of Alexander Ginzburg, on trial for anti-Soviet agitation and propaganda, was ejected from the courtroom after an outburst in which she later said she shouted at a prosescution witness, 'God will be your judge."

In a gesture of American support, Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance will meet in Geneva later this week with Shcharansky's wife, Avital, an American official said in Washington. Vance, who over the weekend condemned Soviet actions against Shcharansky and other prominent dissidents, will be in Geneva for arms talks with Soviet Foreign Miniser Andrei A. Gromyko.

A court official in Moscow read reporters a statement saying a secret session of the Shcharansky trial was told he provided "intelligence and other information" to a foreign corre-spondent who, "as established by competent bodies, is an agent of one of the Western military intelligence

The official, Magomet Pirbudagov, did not mention the correspondent's name, but cited articles about parapsychology and genetic engineering written by Los Angeles Times correent Robert C. Toth.

Toth was interrogated by Soviet police before he left Moscow a year ago about his contacts with Shcharansky. In a statement Monday from Washington, Toth denied work-ing for any intelligence agency and called the allegations "nonsense."

According to Pirhydagov, Shcharansky helped the foreign cor-respondent make contacts in the scientific community here and distributed his questionnaires to scientists. He said Shcharansky confirmed the evidence of investigators about his contacts with the correspondent.

He said the court also heard about an article Toth wrote, with Shcharansky's help, suggesting that the locations of secret enterprises could be deduced from the work-places of Jews who were denied exit visas on national security grounds. The trial was closed, barring even Shcharansky's relatives, and there was no way to corroborate the official

In Kaluga, Mrs. Ginzburg said the judge ordered her from the courtroom when she shouted: "It's a lie, everything this man says is a lie," during the testimony of Arkady Gradoboyev who called dissidents "hoodlums and Kaluga court official Georgy Novi-kov said six defense witnesses would testify in addition to 18 for the prosecution. He said the testimony of two of them today, Valentina Kuzmichova and Leonid Rozenov, substantiated prosecution points in the case. They rebutted accusations in Ginzburg's dissident writings that psychiatric hospitals are used for political pur-poses, and that dock workers in the city of Riga once struck over meat shortages, he said.

In the street outside, Mrs. Ginzburg said: "This is not a trial but a cruel reprisal. He looks half dead." In his briefing on the Shcharansky

In his briefing on the sacharanaky trial, Pirbudagov clearly referred to Toth when he said: "The above-mentioned foreigner was worming out information that is not subject to publication in the open press on the Soviet space research program and on classified information in the field of sociological research and parapsychological

"It was with Shcharansky's assistance that the above-mentioned agent of a military intelligence agency had from the autumn of 1976 several meetings with a Soviet scientist who knew secrets, and tried to get from him information on the ultimate re-sults of his classified research. State Attorney General John Hill and Department of Public Safety Director Wilson Speir are the latest additions to a list of 89 persons who have been served subpoenaes in connection with a federal grand jury which Monday will begin hearing testimony in Midland on the Jan. 22 death of Larry Lozano in the Ector County jail.

The two high-ranking state officials have been asked to turn over all evidence and material their departments compiled relating to the Lozano case, according to federal district court clerk records.

Following a coroner's inquest hearing in April in Odessa, Hill asked for the case to be heard by a federal grand jury because, he said, he believed the inquest did not bring out all the evidence, especially involving a possible civil right's violation. Hill at one point criticized Ector County District Attorney John Green for not trict Attorney John Green for not conducting a more vigorous investi-gation into the inmate's death.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Despite their massive weekend rally at the Capitol and their persistent pleas to congressmen, backers of the proposed Equal Rights Amendment are coming up short in their struggle for a seven-year extension of the life of the proposal.

Congressional supporters of the ERA had intended to bring the subject before the House Judiciary Committee for a vote today, but scrapped plans when it became clear they lack

Well-placed congressional sources concede privately it appears unlikely they ever will be able to get a majority of the 34-member committee to agree to the proposed seven-year extension without changes. As a result, current efforts appear aimed at assembling a majority of committee members behind a compromise four-year extension that the leaders of women's groups will grudgingly accept.

'That would not be a retreat,' said one member of Congress who favors the extension.

Thirty-five states have ratified the proposed ERA, which would outlaw discrimination based on sex. Under current law, ratification by three more states is required by next March 22 if the proposal is to become part of the Constitution. With the deadline only 81/2 months away, ERA backers are asking Congress to give states until 1986 to act. A crowd estimated at 55,000 to 100, 000 marched in Washington on Sunday to dramatize their plea, capping the day with a rally at the Capitol. Backers of the ERA say as many as 5,000 people stayed in Washington on Monday to lobby their congressmen.

Publicly, top leaders of the women's movement as well as congressional backers say they still hope to win approval for the seven-year

Three members of the Cowden family, longtime area ranching and community leaders, will be honored during the American Junior Rodeo Association's (AJRA) rodeo July 19-22.

The event will be dedicated to Frank Cowden Sr. and Frank Cowden Jr. The arena's new dance pavillion will be dedicated to Bessye Cowden Ward of the F-Bar Ranch, located south of Odessa, for her civic contri-

The rodeo will be the highlight of Western Week in Midland which is slated for July 15-22. A parade kicks off the event at 2:30 p.m. July 15. It will start at the Western State Bank parking lot in the 1000 block of Andrews Highway and will proceed to the downtown area.

Prizes will be awarded in various categories and all groups are invited to enter including civic clubs, commercial enterprises, riding clubs, sheriff's posses, youth groups and individuals. Entry blanks may be picked up at the Western Wear stores in Midland and Odessa

The rodeo will start at 7:30 p.m each of the four nights in Thorp Arena located on FM 868 one mile west of Holiday Hill Road.

Scheduled entertainers will include Jon and Jim Hager, nationally-known recording artists who appear on the weekly television show "Hee Haw." The twins will be featured during intermission July 20-21. They also will appear at two of the four nightly dances from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. in the new pavillion.

Scheduled for each of the four nights are singer Lyn Childress and 'Showdown.

Additional bleachers and restrooms are being constructed at Thorp Arena. The arena is the site of two AJRA rodeos each year. The event last April drew a record 467 entrants. the largest number in AJRA history.

Among the competition events are bull riding, barrel racing, pole bending, bareback riding and several categories of roping.

American Legion returning to Philadelphia, not scared of disease

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - William Stokes spent 41 days in a hospital fighting Legionnaire's Disease which he got while attending the 1976 convention of the Pennsylvania American Legion here.

The mysterious germ killed 29 people, sickened 150 others, and frightened the nation. But now Stokes, who lost his right leg when he stepped on a World War II land mine, is coming back to Philadelphia for another state Legion convention that starts today and isn't afraid at all.

"I don't think it's going to happen again," he said, laughing, during a

The deadly outbreak caused the card to get into meetings," he said, because many still believe the pneumonia-like bug may have been deliberately planted in the food or water, or spread through the air conditioning ducts. The federal Center for Disease Control in Atlanta, which mobilized the medical detectives, said it is sure the disease is caused by a bacterium and that it can be treated effectively by an antibiotic called erythomych. But the scientists have failed so far to come up with a quick diagnosis to prevent the death of 15 percent to 20 percent of its victims.

Since the Philadelphia outbreak the center has found 258 isolated cases in 37 states, and believes the so-called Legionnaires' germ may be the cause of 40,000 undiagnosed pneumonia cases annually.

An apparent hit-and-run victim found early Monday morning near Midland has been indentified as Lillie Faye Holden, 57, a patient of Big Spring State Hospital, who "walked away" late Sunday, said Jake Glickman, spokesman for the hospital. Authorities said the body of the victim was found along Interstate Highway 20 southeast of Midland at 3: 45 a.m. Monday.

Midland County Sheriff's deputies confirmed the identification.

Glickman described the victim as "a pretty confused lady" who had committed herself voluntarily. He said he did't know how she got to Midland "unless she was picked up by someone."

Authorities earlier had checked area nursing homes and taken postmortem fingerprints in efforts to identify the victim.

police said. Rockefeller's son was in Washington when he learned of his father's death. He joined his mother, Blanchette, at the family compound. Rockefeller was the eldest of the five sons of John D. Rockefeller Jr. Winthrop, who became governor of Arkansas, died of cancer in 1973, and their only sister and eldest child in the family, Abby Rockefeller Mauze, died three years ago, also of cancer. While Nelson and Winthrop devoted themselves to politics, brother Laurance concentrated on conservation and business, including resorts in the Virgin Islands and Wyoming, and David became president and chairman of the Chase Manhattan Bank, third largest bank in the United States. But the brother who carried the name synonomous with fabulous wealth sought neither more wealth nor power, and spent his life on such pursuits as friendship with Asia, population control, arts in education, and, finally, the performing arts.

In 1956, when the sprawling Lincoln Center, home of the Metropolitan Opera, the New York Philharmonic and many other theater and musical groups, was in the planning stages, Rockefeller was asked why he was getting involved in "show biz."

He replied that his travels had led him to believe "in art, and the exchange of art, as vital in helping international understanding."

No time to change!

Congressman Bob Krueger's campaign to unseat incumbent U.S. Sen. John Tower appears to be losing momentum, and it is easy to understand why.

The New Braunfels legislator began campaigning more than a year ago. His initial efforts made him appear as an articulate, dedicated politician with new ideas and a positive approach to solving problems. He had projected an image of conservatism, largely through his efforts to obtain deregulation of natural gas.

As the campaign wears on, however, it appears that Congressman Krueger has moved closer to the liberal side of the political spectrum and is basing his election chances on support from big labor.

His recent active effort in behalf of the so-called Labor Reform Act has cost him support from businessmen as well as working men and women who resent the AFL-CIO's efforts to make unions even stronger and more powerful in Washington and elsewhere.

Perhaps Mr. Krueger forgetsthat Texas still is a right-to-work state and that this asset, plus the lack of a state income tax, is bringing more business to and creating more jobs for the Lone Star State than ever before.

Krueger's campaign of late has been extremely negative. Instead of telling the voters about his own plans and personal qualities, he tends to carp about Senator Tower. Despite the fact that the Senate committee, controlled by Krueger's own Democrat party. has completely exonerated Senator Tower of any wrong doing in the Koreagate matter, Congressman Krueger continues to try to inject this as a campaign issue

Additionally, Congressman Krueger has missed many key votes this year in the House of Representatives in which he

Most recently, he has voiced opposition to the Key-Roth bill, a Republican-sponsored measure which would lower individual federal income taxes by 33 percent over a three-year period. Instead, the New Braunfels legislator campaigns for a balanced budget keyed to the inflation rate, hardly a solution to increased government spending.

Let's not forget that the AFL-CIO has selected Senator Tower as its number one target for defeat in the U.S. Senate. Carrying the labor banner in this effort is Congressman Bob Krueger.

The Reporter-Telegram is of the opinion that Texans can illafford to reject Senator Tower, a champion of free enterprise and individual initiative, replacing him with an AFL-CIO-sponsored candidate.

Thump' versus 'shape

Contrary to popular belief, it's not the thump which tells one when a watermelon is ripe! It's the color and shape!.

Now this bit of information undoubtedly may come as a surprise to many of the old-time watermelon-thumpers-and-eaters in this part of the state, most of whom speak from long experience both in and out of West Texas watermelon patches. Many of them may even want to argue the Nevertheless, this is the information issued by Texas Department of Agriculture (TDA) Market News personnel, who may or may not speak from personal experience in the matter.

They recommend choosing watermelons with symmetrical shapes, rounded ends and freshlooking stems. They point out that "a hollow thump when you tap the watermelon only indicates that it is overripe."

Again, these are the comments of the boys and girls who get out TDA's Market News for Commissioner Reagan Brown.

Many of us, on the other hand, have grown up thinking that the "thump" is THE way of determining when a watermelon is ripe. We must admit, however, that we most often used the "plug" method to confirm the "thump" sound.

Although this immediate area is not classed as one of the state's leading watermelon producers, Midland, Martin and adjacent counties always have produced some delicious, extra large melons. It is recalled that back in earlier years the Midland Chamber of Commerce used to ship the largest melon of the season to the White House. Those were the days before peanuts held sway there. It might not be a bad idea to revive the practice.

Letters tie Marcos to Jap booty

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON - Philippine dictator Ferdinand Marcos is trying to keep the lid on our disclosure of his plans to recover World War II booty that the Japanese plundered in Asia and buried in the Philippines. The dictator forcefully denied our stories. calling them our "own concoction." But new confirmation keeps bubbling to the surface.

A top secret letter to Marcos from two of his treasure hunters has now come into our possession. The letter, dated May 2, 1973, and signed by Gen. Onofre T. Ramos and Col. Florentino R. Villacrucis, describes a digging at Fort Bonifacio in Manila. "Upon receipt of the signal from Your Excellency ... on 1 March, 1973, conferences and preliminary recon-naissances were undertaken ..." the letter reports. "Your Task Force Restoration proceeded with lighting of the tunnels, then finally checking the pinpointed areas, which were believed to have contained the treasure as of at least 16 spots. These 16 spots were detected as positive for hidden treasures ...

The date of the letter is significant, because it indicates Marcos may have known about the treasure when he overthrew the Philippine democracy and made himself absolute ruler six months earlier. The prospect of getting his hand on the plundered treasure may have influenced his decision to seize dictatorial power. For he had acquired secret Japanese maps showing the burial spots of more than $100 billion in gold, platinum, jewelry and other valuables.

The letter does not say how much, if any, of the treasure had been recovered at the time. One source has told us he was shown a room piled with gold bars in the basement of Marcos' summer presidential palace in 1975. Other sources quoted Amelito Mutuc, a Marcos crony and former ambassador to the United States, as confiding that more than $14 billion has already been removed from secret underground and underseas locations.

Meanwhile, two U.S. participants in the hunt for the treasure trove have finally admitted their involvement. Olof Jonsson, a Chicago engineer, has received two letters from the Philippine combine formed by Marcos to uncover the buried loot. Both letters urge him to return to the islands to fulfill his secret contract. One was dated May 2, 1978, after our first columns appeared.

Jonsson also told our reporter, Eileen Canzian, that since the columns were published, two members of the Marcos combine have asked him to return any photographs of himself with Marcos, presumably to eliminate even circumstantial evidence linking Marcos to the recovery of the Japanese plunder. For the combine apparently has no intention of returning the booty to its rightful owners.

The attempt to hush up the recovery operation unnerved Jonsson who decided to stay in Chicago. He declined the all-expenses-paid trip back to the Philippines, he told us, because he fears for his safety. Another engineer, Wes Chapman of San Francisco, first denied his participation in the project despite our documentation. He has now admitted he took part in the search for the Asian El Dorado. But he still insists that the Philippine dictator had nothing to do with it.

We have accumulated so much evidence that Marcos apparently has given up his earlier attempt to deny the treasure hunt as our "own concoction." The new line from Manila, it seems, is to dismiss it all as an end-ofthe-rainbow search by dreamers who have no connection with the dictator.

On a monitored overseas call, for example, we got an admission out of Mutuc that he had participated in the attempt to recover the Japanese loot. Then Chapman admitted he switched his story after some coaching from Mutuc. But both men stubbornly clung to the claim that Marcos was not involved.

The secret letter from the two treasure hunters proves otherwise.

HEMISPHERE REPORT:

Lopez Portillo objects to Panama Canal pacts

By WILLIAM GIANDONI Copley News Service

Now President Jimmy Carter's admirers in Latin America are starting to disclaim any responsibility for U.S. policy toward the Western Hemisphere.

President Jose Lopez Portillo is the first to come out and say so clearly.

'In my conversations with Mr. Carter, I have discovered that he is a man of good faith, who wants to advance in designing a policy with respect to Latin America," the Mexican president said recently. Lopez Portillo made it very clear that he feels the Carter administration has not made much progress and that, at least in its dealings with Panama, it has fallen One of Mexico's complaints has been that the Carter government seemed to limit its concern about the Western Hemisphere to Communist Cuba and Panama. On the occasion of the flight to Panama to watch Mr. Carter and the Panamanian dictator, Gen. Omar Torrijos, sign the instruments of ratification of the treaties covering the Panama Canal, Lopez Portillo talked mostly about the Isthmian epublic. Panama is a subject on which he has strong feelings.

It may be recalled that Lopez Portillo was one of the two most important Latin American chiefs of state who did not trek to Washington last September for the ceremonies in which the Panama Canal treaties were unveiled. The other absentee was President Ernesto Geisel of Brazil.

The Brazilian, though, had a good excuse as Sept. 7, the day when Mr. Carter and Gen. Torrijos signed the treaties, was also Brazilian Independence Day, hardly one on which a president could be expected to be making a ceremonial visit to Washington.

But last September, word leaked out of Mexico that Lopez Portillo felt that Panama had not improved its position by agreeing to that treaty which gives the United States the right to keep the Panama Canal and any future international waterway there "permanently neutral." Mexico finds it difficult to differentiate between the objectionable "perpetuity" of the treaty arrangement of 1903, under which the canal was built, and maintenance of permanent neutrality.

It all might have ended up as a footnote in the history of relations between the United States and Latin America had the U.S. Senate not insisted on amendments to the treaties that spell out in clinical detail the operations that the United States would undertake in event security of the canal was endangered.

That apparently only confirmed Lopez Portillo's belief that the new canal treaties are far from meeting Panama's hopes for full sovereignty over the canal and the Canal Zone.

Nevertheless, Lopez Portillo might have held his peace had Mr. Carter not erred in remarks he made welcoming a group of Mexican congressmen on their recent visit to

The U.S. President told them that Lopez Portillo had been highly useful and that he had been a moderating influence in the negotiations that led to the canal treaties with Panama.

Lopez Portillo felt he had to set the record straight and he did in a conference with the reporters who flew from Mexico to Panama with him on

"As many times as I have met with President Carter himself and with leaders of other countries I have insisted on the conviction that Panama must fully recover its sovereignty over all its territory, especially over the Canal Zone, which is that country's principal geographic resource." Lopez Portillo said, in reply to a

From a lawyer's point of view, that is as an individual rather than as president of Mexico, Lopez Portillo noted that "the amendments (to the canal treaty) introduced by the (U.S.) senators admit the unilateral possibility of North American intervention in case of a crisis over what is called 'the neutrality of the

To emphasize his reservations, the Mexican president attended only the two public ceremonies - the signing of the instruments of ratification of the treaties and the mass meeting that followed - but left to fly back to Mexico some two hours before the "mini-summit conference" in which Mr. Carter, Gen. Torrijos and the presidents of Colombia, Costa Rica and Venezuela and the prime minister of Jamaica met to discuss hemisphere and world affairs.

INSIDE REPORT:

Unpleasant echoes of summer of '76 return for GOP

By ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON - Gerald R. Ford's old pals on Capitol Hill are overriding protests from his potential rivals for the 1980 presidential nomination to dip into party campaign funds for him—stirring up dying embers of the blazing Ford-Reagan bitterness two years ago.

Without announcement or authorization, Ford's friends who control the Republican congressional campaign committee are paying the $36,500 salary this year for Ford's political aide. While supposedly hired to help Ford campaign for 1978 congressional candidates, the aide will be invaluable in preparing a 1980 presidential run by Ford.

Neither one political aide nor $36,-00 will make Ford president again, but they could represent something much bigger. His backers clearly in much bigger. His backers crearly intend that Jerry Ford will be chief beneficiary of Republican gains in congressional elections providing momentum for his presidential comeback. The campaign committee fulfilled a similar function for Richard M. Nixon in the dramatic Republican congressional gains of 1966.

What bothers many Republicans, however, is not the example of Nixon in 1966 but of Ford in 1976. To Reaganites, the incident all too closely resembles Ford's use of the party apparatus to beat back Ronald Reagan's challenge two years ago.

The decision to start paying for Ford's political aide in April was made by Rep. Guy Vander Jagt, the committee chairman, and Steven Stockmeyer, its executive director, without notifying other committee members; like Ford, both are from Michigan. The aide is Charles Greenleaf (still another Michigander), who was a Ford delegate hunter and campaign assistant in 1976. Greenleaf is answerable to Ford only and is located in Palm Springs, Calif., the former president's home.

Nobody would have suspected this cozy arrangement except for a June 2 account by New York Times reporter Adam Clymer. Bob Barrett, Ford's former military aide and present executive assistant, revealed to Clymer what an experienced politician would have concealed. Greenleaf's work, said Barrett, "would make it easier for Mr. Ford to exercise his options in

That set off grumbling in Republican cloakrooms, even among such Ford stalwarts as Rep. Bob Michel of Illinois, House minority whip. But another Illinois congressman, Rep. Philip Crane, did more than grumble.

Crane, a Reagan supporter in 1976 and a possible candidate himself in 1980, on June 8 fired off to Vander Jagt a series of blunt questions: Who made the decision? Who else is eligible for such help? How much will Greenleaf be paid? "Is this consistent with the objectives behind the forma-tion of a Republican congressional campaign committee?

Vander Jagt replied on June 14 by sidestepping Crane's questions. In-stead, he used that hoary politician's device of attacking the news story while claiming Greenleaf "is part of our Congressional Advocates pro-

Stockmeyer told us helping Ford has two precedents: Nixon in 1966 and John B. Connally in 1976. The subsidy for Nixon (variously estimated at $30, 00 to $80,000) was specially raised and did not come out of committee funds. The help for 1976 congressional campaign activities by Connally (not then a presidential prospect) was around $8,000 to pay a scheduler hired by the committee and located in

Are the other 25 "Congressional Advocates" eligible for their own Greenleaf? "We'll do the same for anybody who asks," Stockmeyer told us. Not so, says his boss. Vander Jagt told us Ford is "a special case," lacking funds or staff.

Actually, Ford has more resources than his potential rivals: 12 staffers, than his potential rivals: 12 staffers, seven of whom are fully paid for by the federal government with no statutory restrictions on their political use. Defending the arrangement, Ford wrote Vander Jagt June 15 that paying Greenleaf should not "be imposed on the taxpayer." If so, he has left-over funds from the President Ford

Committee's (PFC) campaign fund of Vander Jagt has put out the fires in the cloakrooms, at least among Ford

Vander Jagt has yet to answer a similar request from Lyn Nofziger, Reagan's longtime political adviser. "We feel that this kind of preferential treatment (for Ford) will be disturbing to many who have contributed to the congressional committee," Nof-ziger warned in a June 21 letter. So, "in an effort to treat all of its fundraisers (Congressional Advocates) equally," he called for the committee to pay a Greenleaf for Ronald Reagan. District Judge Vann Culp today said the manner in which the wheel is compiled is up to the district clerk and other specified county officials, and he will not get involved unless a case challenging the method is brought before him.

If it is determined that the only way to compile the jury wheel is to have typed on cards and placed in the drum, the county will be faced with the task of finding typists willing to work for the $3.35 an hour the county pays its temporary employees. And at that, the commissioners calculated, it will cost between $3,500 and $5,000 for the labor involved.

The jury wheel is to be compiled between Aug. 1 and Aug. 15 each year, according to state law.

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market continued the upswing of the past three sessions with a small gain today.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up .60 at 817.39 after an 11point rise in the past three trading days.

Gainers held a 3-2 lead over losers in the broad tally of New York Stock Ex-change-listed issues. Brokers tended to view the advance as a technical rally after the decline of the past four weeks, which erased about half the gains recorded by the Dow Jones industrial average in the

Some chart-watching analysts said buying was encouraged by the Dow average's ability to hold above the 800 level last week.

Wall Street's attention, meanwhile, was beginning to focus on summit talks scheduled to begin Sunday in Bonn, West Germany, among leaders of leading industrialized nations.

British Petroleum led the active list, up 1/2 at 16% amid unconfirmed reports that the discovery.

The NYSE's composite common stocks edged up .07 to 53.62. On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index gained .44 to 147.14.

Volume on the Big Board came to 11.95 million shares at noontime, up from 8.66 million at the same point Monday.

Manpower jury could begin hearing testimony today

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) -A jury could begin hearing testimony today in the case of the first defendant to stand trial for misusing federal Manpower funds in the Rio Grande

Jury selection began Monday for Don Gray, business manager of the Harlingen-based Plumbers and Pipefitters Union Local 823, who is charged with stealing $20,000 in 1976

Gray is being tried on five of 29 theft indictments handed down bty a Brownsville grand jury following a court of inquiry there in December and January.

Indictments against seven of the 16 persons charged in connection with the Manpower fund abuse case were dropped Monday by District Court Judge Harry Lewis. The case was moved here on a venue change.

Cameron County District Attorney Joe K. Hendley told newsmen he had exercised his discretion as prosecutor to move for dismissal of the indict-

Among the indictments dropped was a witness tampering charge against former Cameron County Dis-

Midland man charged with rape

A Midland man was in Midland City Jail today in lieu of $10,000 bond after being arrested and charged in connection with the alleged rape of a 15-year-old girl Saturday.

Peace Justice Robert Pine set bond Monday for Emitt Miller, 28, of the 1300 block of West Tennessee Avenue, who was arrested Saturday.

Officers said the girl, who lives in San Angelo, was visiting her guardian in Midland. A friend of the guardian offered to take the girl to the bus station so she could return to San Angelo, police were told.

The girl told police the bus station was closed, but rather than take her back to her guardian's house, the man stopped in the 1200 block of East Pecan Avenue and attacked her.

The man reportedly threatened the girl with a pistol, police said.

trict Attorney Fred Galindo. The exprosecutor was indicted for allegedly attempting to change the testimony of two members of the Governor's Office of Migrant Affairs.

Indictments were also dropped

-John David Osborne and John Willard, trade school instructors, each charged with one count of theft for allegedly having repairs to their homes performed free-of-charge by Manpower trainees with materials bought with federal funds.

-Earl Melton and Paul Smith. brick contractors, each charged with one count of theft for allegedly using Manpower trainees on a Harlingen construction project and allegedly collecting federal labor payments while neglecting to pay the trainees.

-Roel Martinez, one of two incorporators of a janitorial service, charged with nine counts of theft. He was accused of participating in a kick-back scheme:

-Carlos Rodriguez, proprieter of a Brownsville language academy, indicted for bribery of a Manpower official in return for a government

The five indictments on which Gray is being tried here stem from two contracts he negotiated between the Plumbers Union and a Hidalgo County anti-poverty agency. According to the indictments, Gray contracted with the Associated City-County Economic Development Corp.

in Hidalgo County to undertake a study of migrant workers. Gray is charged with stealing the $20,000 in study funds while failing to comply with the standards set forth in the contract. Eliseo Sandoval, the former director of the Hidalgo County anti-poverty agency, was granted immunity in return for his testimony in Gray's case and others. Prosecutors and defense lawyers spent most of Monday behind closed doors consolidating indictments in the various cases.

The trials are expected to last several weeks, with some defendants facing federal trial on similar charges later this month. Many of the indictments are centered around the alleged abuse of funds channeled into Texas by the U.S. Department of Labor through the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act.

Cheers to the 'piranha masseur' who saved the movie 'Greed'

By LARRY ROHTER The Washington Post

ANGRA DOS REIS, Brazil - At first, they were calling it "Naked Sun" and emphasizing the heat and the exotic tropical setting. Then, when they decided that the jewels and the robbers who steal them deserved more attention, they began to call it

But if Carlo Ponti and company had really wanted an accurate title for the movie they have been shooting in this chic but isolated Brazilian resort town, they'd have settled for something like "Jaws Goes to Rio.

Never mind "Bionic Man" Lee Majors, who plays the leader of the jewel thieves. Never mind Margaux Hemingway, Marisa Berenson, Karen Black and all the other high-priced human talent. The real stars of this $6-million disaster flick are the extras - hundreds and hundreds of Brazilian piranhas, as alive and as nasty as the day they were first fished out of the Amazon.

As Majors explained it, "Greed" is "an action-adventure picture in which a lot of people get eaten up by piranhas." The plot — what there is of it — is simple: A gang of jewel thieves stash their stolen goods at the bottom of a Brazilian lake but then find that, thanks to a tidal wave and a burst dam, the lake has been invaded by a horde of voracious, man-eating fish that won't allow the retrieval of the

But who needs to bother with a plot when you've got the most vicious fish in the world working for you for room and board? There was only one problem: The Brazilian piranhas lived up to their reputation and proved to be more temperamental and uncooperative than even the most difficult of Hollywood stars.

Take the first batch of piranhas, who were lured out of the Rio Araguaia, an Amazon tributary, with tasty bait and flown down to the set of "Greed" abroad a specially chartered plane. On the trip from their Amazon home, most of the fish insisted on eating through the plastic containers in which they were being shipped, and by the time the plane landed, all but a handful of the aquatic passengers sponded as expected in captivity. Ponti is sending a "hat lesson learned, the next batch of killer fish was brought to the set, a secluded cove on the Atlantic Coast some 125 miles west of Rio de Janeiro, safe and sound in glass and metal cylinders. Everything was fine until the piranhas were poured into a tank for preliminary filming.

That's when they started to attack and eat one

"They devour each other with a ferociousness and rapidity that has to be seen to be believed," said Alex Ponti, son of producer Carlo Ponti and production supervisor of the film. "We've lost 200 or 300 of them

"You put a group of them in water and they immediately go for each other," said one of the production team's Brazilian associates. "The weakest ones get gobbled up first, of course, but when it's all over, you've got nothing left but bits of bone and fin. And blood, lots of blood

At a reported price of $150 a fish, that's not peanuts. Add to that the resulting shooting delays that, in the words of leading-man Majors, was "a $20 million picture that they're trying to shoot for a nickel and a quarter."

To save the day, the Pontis hired a fish specialist, who came to be known on the set as "the piranha masseur." His name is Luis Maluf, and he's actually one of Brazil's leading experts on the habits of the piranha — but his duties actually did include rubdowns for flagging fish.

When it was time to shoot a scene in the piranha pool, Maiuf stood by attentively. If one of the fish showed signs of tiring - which would immediately cause the others to turn on it and initiate the general bloodshed - Maluf yanked it out of the water by its tail and massaged it gently until he thought it had regained its strength and could return to the

Perhaps even more dangerous is the task that will be entrusted to one of the cameramen when location shooting ends. Because the piranhas have not re- about covers my phone bill.

crew up to the Araguaia, where underwater scenes will be shot right in the piranhas' native habitat. "Nothing is going to happen to them," said Alex Ponti, with only the slightest trace of doubt in his voice. "These are guys who have worked with Jacques Cousteau. They know what they're doing. They're not worried."

Neither was Lee Majors, for that matter. He explained that he and Black have "two key scenes with the piranhas," including one in which the fish put a grisly end to the character he plays. But in both scenes, The Bionic Man and his leading lady will be swimming in a tank that is protected from the piranha pool by a sheet of invisible glass.

Not that Majors - like Black, Berenson and Hemingway - doesn't have his complaints. "Greed" is his first experience making a film overseas, and the $6 million man had mixed feelings about his $6 million movie.

"This is not exactly the script we wanted," he said, swatting one of the multitude of mosquitoes swarmng around the set. Preparing for his role was easy: and you've got something of a crisis for a movie "I took all my shots and brought my diarrhea

> "This is such a godforsaken place," he complained as he killed time between scenes with the makeup man and the bodyguard who accompanied him from the United States. "With American actors and an Italian and Brazilian crew, there's a real lan-guage barrier and a real lack of organization. The only thing that could possibly be worse than this is out in the jungle on the set of 'Apocalypse Now'.

> Majors had been placated - at least partially - by being installed in an elegant house that has its own pool and a private beach - both piranha-free, of course. He had been spending most of his free time there, "playing Ping Pong with the guys" — and talking on the phone with Farrah Fawcett-Majors.

> "I feel cut off," he said. "Cut off from my wife, cut off from my family. I even feel cut off from my agent. They give us a per diem here, and mine just

Government urged to own waste sites WASHINGTON (AP) - Congress was urged Monday to require government ownership of uranium mill waste disposal sites that an environmental witness said will remain dangerous for tens of thousands of years. Helene Linker, an attorney with the Natural Resources Defense Council, testified at a House subcommittee hearing on legislation to expand the authority of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission over such sites. As written, the bill would require government ownership only if the mill is licensed by one of the four states to which the NRC has delegated licensing authority, Ms. Linker said. She said nine of the 18 active nills in the United States are licensed by these four states -Colorado, New Mexico, Texas and Washington. The mills in other states are licensed directly by the federal government.

In addition, Ms. Linker told the environment subcommittee of the House Interior Committee, tens of millions of tons of uranium mill waste have accumulated in 23 abandoned piles in eight western states. These waste piles are left over from mills that are no longer active.

"To ensure that the. .. piles, which remain toxic for tens of thousands of years, will be subject to adequate, long-term con-trol, ownership of disposal sites should rest with either the federal or state government," she

Southern to design coal plant

ATLANTA (AP) - The Southern Co. has announced that it will design a plant to convert high-sulfur coal into a clean-burning solid fuel that could drastically reduce the nation's dependence on foreign oil.

The plant will convert 6,000 tons of high-sulfur coal a day into an en-vironmentally acceptable fuel called solvent refined coal, the utility holding company announced. A company spokesman said the tentative site for the plant is in western Kentucky, but a final selection has not been made.

Southern Co. President Alvin W. Vogtle Jr. said data compiled during tests at Georgia Power Co.'s Plant Mitchell near Albany, Ga., proved that solvent refined coal meets current clean air requirements for new power plants and improves plant operation and reliability

The company said it would receive federal funds to manage the design and engineering work on the demonstration plant.

"Today, the federal government and private industry have taken a giant step toward a common goal the goal of assuring that new ways to use America's vast coal reserves will be fully developed and in place in the 1980s..." Vogtle said.

The company said the project is part of an intensive effort to speed the development of new energy technologies and is being carried out at the request of the U.S. Department of Vogtle said he believes the refining plant can be operational by 1983. The Southern Co. is the parent firm of Alabama Power Co., Georgia Power Co., Mississippi Power Co. and

Senate goes to work on energy phase one

By TOM RAUM

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate will try to present President Carter with final action on the first part of his energy plan - coal conversion legislation — before the upcoming eco-nomic summit in Bonn, the chairman of Senate Energy Committee says.

The measure, one of the least con-troversial of the five parts of the energy package, would prohibit new power plants from burning oil or natural gas and encourage many existing ones to switch to coal. "I would like to give this to the president before he leaves," Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., the com-mittee chairman, said as he roamed Capitol corridors Monday trying to round up the necessary senators' signatures for the plan.

He said he expects the Senate will be able to act on the measure by Thursday, the day Carter leaves for West Germany.

The energy bill has been languishing before Congress for nearly 15 Energy Secretary James R. Schlesinger said any congressional progress on the energy bill would be welcome. But he told a reporter, "We sent five parts to Congress and we expect action by Congress on five parts. "One swallow does not a summer make. One bill does not an energy package make. But it helps." Jackson said once a majority of energy conferees - there are 25 House members and 17 senators sign the compromise legislation, he has approval from Senate Majority Leader Robert C. Byrd to bring it directly to a floor vote.

The signatures are considered assured since conferees already have agreed verbally to the compromise legislation

But Jackson said things do not look as good for another part of the energy package — natural gas pricing. He said he now sees only a 50-50 chance that it will be approved.

A near-certain filibuster — joined in by both conservatives who don't think the measure goes far enough and liberal hardcore opponents of gas deregulation - could scuttle the hard-fought compromise, Jackson

Tests slated; strike seen

Operators have announced locations for wildcats in four North Basin counties, and pipe is to be set in a possible Devonian discovery in Gaines County.

Ashland Exploration, Inc., No. 1-84
L. B. Jones is to be drilled as an 8,300-foot wildcat in Crosby County, three miles northeast of Kalgary.

It is 100 feet from north and west lines of section 84, block 2, H&GN survey and three and three-eighths miles west of the White River field. It is one and one-quarter miles west of an 8,050-foot dry hole.

GAINES WILDCAT

Houston Oil & Minerals Corp. No. 1 Reagan County School Land is a new 13,000-foot wildct in Gaines County, 18miles northeast of Andrews.

The project is 660 feet from south and east lines of labor 18, league 297, Reagan County School Land survey. It is one and one-fourth miles north of the depleted Strawn discovery in the Brennand field. Ground elevation is 3,057 feet.

HOCKLEY EXPLORER A 6,500-foot wildcat has been spotted in Hockley Clounty, 11 miles east

It is General Crude Oil Co. of Houston No. 1-13 Oil Development Co., 660 feet from south and west lines of labor 13, league 1, Jones County School Land survey.

The location is one and threeeighths smiles northeast of the Smuyer (Clear Fork) field.

KENT TEST

Vista Resources, Inc., of Lake Wood, Colo., will drill its No. 3-B D. P. Strayhorn as a 7,600-foot wildcat in Kent County. It is 13 miles southwest of Clairemont and 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of sectioon 22, block 5, H&GN survey and 1/2 mile west of Strawn and San Andres production in the Fullerville, Northeast

GAINES PROSPECT

I. W. Lovelady of Midland was running logs preparatory to running cas-ing in his No. 1 Doss, Devonian prospect in Gaines County, 16 miles

The wildcat took a drillstem test from 12,670 to 12,852 feet, the total depth.

Recovery was 1,946 feet of 40-gravity oil, 519 feet of heavily oil- and slightly gas-cut mud and the 2,000-foot water blanket. Fifteen-minute preflow pressur ranged from 1,003 to 1,500 pounds; 60-minute final flow pressures was 1,956 pounds, and 60-minute initial and 120-minute shut-in pressures were 5,251 pounds, Location is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 24,

"We'll have a tough fight, let's face it," Jackson said. And he said the longer action on the bill is delayed, the harder it will be to break a filibus-

Congressional energy aides said Monday they don't think the compro-mise, calling for natural gas deregulation by 1985, will be ready for floor action until August.

Meanwhile, House-Senate conferees on the tax portions of the presi-dent's plan, including his controversial proposal for a tax on domestic crude oil, plan to meet on Thursday. Few expect any real breakthroughs.

Honcho Pickup There are 4-wheel drive pickups and there is the wheel drive Jeep J-10 Pickup. If you think they're the same, you're in for an education. Jeep Pickup has 4-wheel drive that's built-in. not added on like an option — that's the only way we make them. Jeep Pickup is the only. capacity pickup to offer optional Quadra-Trac, Jeep's exclusive automatic 4-wheel drive, the system that's unsurpassed by the competition — to give you super traction. Jeep's load capacity is 2199 lbs. Jeep has a higher ground clearance than all its competitors so rocks won't stop you. Jeep Pickup does not have to recalibrate its springs like the competition to gain greater ground cleanance, so you get a more stable ride without that "on-stilts" look. Jeep Pickup has a long wheelbase for a smoother ride on road or 2199 lbs off. It has a lower tailgate loading height for convenience and a short hood for better visibility. Jeep Pickup has more engine choices than the competition. You pick the size you Long wheelbase need. Face the facts — the 4-wheel drive Jeep "WE WILL DEAL"

Blue faces Palmer, AL All-Stars tonight

Jim Palmer ...AL starter

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Pitcher Vida Blue and outfielder Reggie Jackson, teammates for so long on the controversial Oakland A's, are in and out of the spotlight for tonight's 49th All-Star Game.

Blue, traded across the bay by Oakland to San Francisco during spring training, becomes the first pitcher ever to start All-Star games for both leagues when he opens on the mound for the Nationals.

'Some youngster on the plane told me I was the last winning pitcher for the American League," Blue com-mented, and then laughed, "I already

HE WAS THE starter and winner in 1971 when the AL took a 6-4 victory with Jackson smashing a tremendous home run over the roof of Detroit's Tiger Stadium - and also started in 1975 when the NL won 6-3 in its current domination of the midsummer

Monday night, however, Jackson became the fifth player to withdraw from the American League squad when he telephoned Manager Billy Martin and reported that he was running a fever of 102-103 degrees.

Jackson was promptly replaced by his New York Yankees teammate, third baseman Graig Nettles, who himself had been scratched Sunday with a bruised toe

JACKSON IS THE only AL starter to pull out but the junior circuit also has lost catcher Thurman Munson, infielder Rick Burleson and outfielder Carl Yastrzemski.

The National League lost starting catcher Johnny Bench, who has been suffering from a bad back in recent weeks. Ted Simmons of St. Louis will replace him.

The NL has won six straight, 14 of 15, 19 of 21 and leads the series 29-18 with one tie. American League President Lee MacPhail calls the recent result "embarrassing."

Manager Tommy Lasorda of the Los Angeles Dodgers, in naming a hurler from arch-rival San Francisco, said Blue's knowledge of American League hitters was a factor, but added, "I think he is the best pitcher in the National League."

Blue, with a 12-4 record, opposes Baltimore's Jim Palmer, 10-7, who was Martin's choice to start for the American League in the 9 p.m., EDT, game before a sellout San Diego Stadium crowd of 55,000 and a national television audience.

Palmer was less than enthusiastic. over his starting assignment. On Monday, the right-hander underwent treatment in Los Angeles for a sore left shoulder and commented:

"I don't really want to start. I started last year and I embarrassed myself and now I'm hurt. But somebody has to do it.

PAMER MISSED the Monday years that the AL really wants to workout that drew an estimated 25,-

000 to the park for the open session

Martin's starting lineup will have first baseman Rod Carew of the Minnesota Twins leading off, followed by George Brett, Kansas City, 3b; Jim Rice, Boston, If; Richie Zisk, Texas, rf; Carlton F8isk, Boston, c; Fred Lynn, Boston, cf, replacing Jackson; Don Money, Milwaukee, 2b, and Fred Patek, Kansas City, ss.

Lasorda, whose Dodgers lost to Martin's Yankers in the 1977 World Series, will have a ete Rose of Cincinnati at third base, followed by Rose's teammates Joe Morgan at second base and George Foster in right field. Greg Luzinski of Philadelphia plays left field and bats cleanup. Then come Steve Garvey, Los Angeles, 1b; Simmons, c; Rick Monday, Los Angeles, cf, and Larry Bowa, Philadelphia,

NEITHER MANAGER revealed substitution strategy except Martin, who said, "I'll bring in my left-handed pitchers when Tommy brings in his left-handed hitters."

Ron Guidry, who won 13 games before losing his last start with the Yankees, had been expected to be the starter for the AL, but Martin said his ace hadn't shown his usual velocity in recent outings.

"Our players really want to win this one," declared the Yankees' manager. "This is the first time in recent President MacPhail said, "I can say the recent results have been an embarrassment, a league as superior as we are to lose as many as we

There was criticism of the fans' voting in determining the team, but the Dodgers' Garvey said he favors retention of the system and said, 'There is no greater honor than playing with your peers in this game."

In 1974, Garvey won a starting position as a write-in and wound up as the game's Most Valuable Player.

Blue was asked if he remembered his performance in 1971 and replied, "Oh, yes. Johnny Bench hit a homer off me and Hank Aaron hit his first extra-base hit in an All Star game." Aaron's "extra-base hit" also was a

"IVE FACED ALL the batters in the American League lineup and they're all tough," said Blue. "I don't think there's an advantage or disad-

Although Lasorda thought there would be advantage, Martin said the advantage would be with the hitters who might have a harder time against a pitcher they hadn't seen before.

'They're all tough on you," said Blue. "The American League bats first and it would be a psychological advantage to us if I can get them out in that first inning."
He said he hadn't expected to be

Johnny Bench to bypass contest

CINCINNATI (AP) - Cincinnati Reds catcher Johnny Bench regards his decision to break a streak of starting 10 straight All-Star games as "probably one of the most difficult things I've had to do."

"I couldn't play up to what is ex-pected of me in an All-Star Game," said Bench, who withdrew Sunday from the midseason classic as the result of back problems which have plagued him throughout the first half of the season.

Atlanta catcher Biff Pocoroba was named to replace Bench on the National League squad.

Bench, who would have been making his 11th All-Star appearance, and Rod Carew of Minnesota are the only players to be elected in each of the years since the fans took over the voting in 1970. His total votes this year made him the all-time leading vote-

Bench, despite being sidelined with injuries, polled 2,442,201 votes compared to Steve Yeager of the Los Angeles Dodgers, who had 1,952,494.

"I was selected by the fans and my first thought was that I had an obligation to them to play," said Bench, who in All-Star competition is hitting .385 with three home runs and six runs batted in. "No matter how much you want to go, you have to look at the rest of the season and to the years of your career that lie ahead. You can't jeopardize those

"I want to be ready for the second half. I want to do something important for this team. It is important to these players here in the locker room and for the city." Through the first half of the season Bench has hit .224 with 11 home runs

San Antonio climbed out of a tie for the Texas League West cellar Monday by defeating Midland 8-6.

The only other league action saw Jackson's winning streak climb to 12 with a 2-1 victory over Shreveport in 14 innings. Tulsa at Arkansas was Amarillo, which was idle Monday, remained in the league's Western Division cellar four games behind division-leading Midland.

The Texas League takes a two-day break from the regular season for the major league All-Star game tonight and the Texas League's All-Star outing Wednesday.

San Antoniotops M-Cubs by 8-6 in series finale

By TERRY WILLIAMSON

The miracle making Midland Cubs ran out of card tricks at Cubs Stadium Monday night in an 8-6 loss to the San Antonio Dodgers, but as far as home stands go, the Cubs go into the Texas League All-Star break in better posithan they entered the 10-game

THE CUBS insured a winning edge in the series against the Dodgers with a thrilling 5-4 come-from-behind 12th inning victory over San Antonio Sunday night, and despite Monday's loss, took the series three games to two. They also pounded second place El Paso four games to one to open the homestand

When the Cubs started the home stand back on July 1, they were 21/2 games out of the Western Division lead. Now they stand in first place, ½-game ahead of El Paso and 3½ games ahead of third place San Antonio. In short, they picked up three games by winning seven of 10 in the

NOW THE real test comes as the Cubs embark on a two-week road trip against Eastern Division foes Tulsa and Shreveport. This could be the critical point of the season for the surprising Bruins. A good showing in the coming two weeks could give the Cubs a real run at the second half

For a while Monday, it looked like the Cubs might win eight of 10 games in the home stand. They overcame a 4-0 first inning defecit with two runs in the bottom of the first and three in the second. They held that lead until the sixth when the Dodgers tied the score and then lost it in the seventh when the Dodgers exploded for three runs. Still, the Cubs made a fight of it in the ninth before the Dodgers' Rick Sander came in to put out the fire.

TRAILING 8-5 heading into the final chance ninth, Eric Grandy started a rally with a leadoff double off the left field wall and moved to third on a grounder by Brian Rosinsay's game winni Javier Fierro got Grandy in with a booming double down the left field line, and another comeback win seemed to be in the offering plate once

However, Dodgers' manager Don LeJohn then pulled starting pitcher Dave Stewart at that point for the slants of Rick Sander, and that move proved to be as wise as his move was wrong on Saturday. On Saturday, LeJohn pulled starter Bill Swiacki in the ninth, and the Cubs went on to pull out a victory. Sander, normally a starter, was up to the task, however, and the Cubs would not see another miracle on this night. Sander got Mike Gatlin on strikes before giving up a punch sin-gle to right to Duane Gustavson. Gustavson represented the tying run at first base, but Sander KOed Jim Tracy looking to end the game. End of miracles this time around.

THE DODGERS struck for four runs in the first frame off Midland starter Lee Smith, who fell to 7-5 for the year with the loss. Mickey Hatcher's single to right plated one run and Ed Santos got another home with a single to right. Alex Taveras then followed with a two-run double to left center. Taveras was a pain in the neck to the Cubs. He went 3-for-3 and knocked in four of the Dodgers' eight

THE CUBS, however, came back in the bottom of the frame as Joe Hernandez and Eric knocked in runs with singles to left. Then in the second the Cubs captured a 5-4 lead with a three-

Tracy opened the frame with grounder that eluded Dodger second baseman Jack Perconte for an error, and Kurt Seibert followed with a single to left. Steve Macko sacrificed the runners up and Tracy scored on a grounder by Joe Hernandez. Grandy then singled to left to plate Seibert, took second on a bad throw by catcher Jesse Baez and scored on a wild pitch by Stewart.

WITH ED SANTOS at third in the sixth, Baez hit a grounder to Macko to score Santos. That tied the game at five. Then came the fatal seventh when the ever present Taveras came

JIM MURRAY

They call this a dream game?

By JIM MURRAY The Los Angeles Times

SAN DIEGO - They used to call it "The Dream Game." But it isn't really a game at all. It's a recital, given by 18 soloists, a fugue for 18 bats and a ball, an opera in nine acts.

People came to see Ted Williams bat, Sandy Koufax pitch. No one asked "Who won?" It was like asking "Who won 'Carmen'?" Or "Who won Schu-

It had its moments early. Babe Ruth (who else?) won the first game with a mighty home run. (He later misplayed a pitcher's high fly into a triple— but who was counting?)

THE SECOND ONE saw a pitching exhibition for the ages. Carl Hubbel threw this elbowding screwball and, with two men on and none out in the first inning, proceeded to strike out the flower of American base-ball, Ruth (four pitches), Gehrig (six), Foxx (three). Then, he struck out Simmons (four), Cronin (four), and, after Dickey got a base hit, Gomez (three). Foxx managed to get a foul tip in all that. Gehrig came to the dugout after his whiff to growl at his fellow players, "You might as well swing, it ain't going to get any higher." Who won? Who knows?!

The owners never cared for the game. Yet let the record show Dizzie Dean's career came to an end on a broken toe from a line drive off the bat of Earl Averill in an All-Star game. Dean pitched another year but had lost all effectiveness trying to pitch off one foot. Ted Williams shattered his elbow in this liams and Willie Mays. It was just a kind of complicated batting practice for Ted, who saved his best performances for All-Star games. For Mays, it was like stickball in the streets. Baseball was an art form in All-Star game. It had playground purity. Hardly anyone got walked intentionally or hit by the pitcher on purpose. The fans came to see stars star.

BASEBALL IS uniquely suited to this kind of all-star format anyway. You see, it's not a team game either. It's a series of solo performances. The pitcher does this thing. He's like an artist painting a portrait. A touch of red here, a daub of gray there. A chiaroscuro. A curve ball here, a fastball there, and, presto! a masterpiece to hang in Cooper-

Then, it's the batters' turn.

Here's Dimaggio gracefully stepping into a high hard one. The smooth, level swing, and the ball soars up on a graceful high arc towards the seats. A smash

> It's the Met, Carnegie Hall, not the Make Believe Ballroom. It's Cole Porter and Gershwin, not "Turkey in the Straw." Keep score if you want to, but I'd rather know who was better, Palmer or Luzinski, Seaver or Jackson, rather than AL or NL. I'd rather see a performance for the ages than a game decided by a sacrifice bunt or intentional walk. So, let the hitters hit, the pitchers pitch, the acrobats catch. Throw the scorebook away, bring up the stage lights, and let's get on with the show.

All-Star voting now popularity contest

SAN DIEGO (AP) - It is time to change the All-Star voting procedures to make this mid-season game a more meaningful collision between the American and National leagues.

On paper, the idea of turning the vote over to the fans was certainly a good one and you can't argue with Commissioner Bowie Kuhn's well-intentioned efforts in that direction eight years ago. But, sadly, the fan vote has become little more than a popularity contest with familiar names receiving the strongest support. That doesn't always produce the very best per-formers in the first half of the season. And isn't that what the All-Star Game is all about - a game between two teams of current stars?

THE MOST flagrant example of name-voting this year was the selection of Johnny Bench as the National League's starting catcher. More than 2.4 million fans voted the honor to the Cincinnati catcher, most of them casting ballots while Bench was in a hospital with back problems. In the last six weeks, while his vote total was mushrooming, Bench played in no more than a half dozen games. He was elected on his reputation for past accomplishments and it is to his credit and good sense that he is passing up the game, allowing Ted Simmons to start behind the plate for the National League.

At second base, the NL starts Joe Morgan, a two-time Most Valuable Player who is struggling along this season with a .254 batting average and some nagging injuries of his

There are other examples of voting injustices. Don Money is starting at second base for the American League, despite the fact that he's rarely appeared at that position this season. Jeff Burroughs, leading the NL in hitting, was 11th among outfielders because the ballot listed him at first base. He compounded that problem by playing for a mostly anonymous Atlanta team that lacks the glamour and exposure of other

Tway grabs Trans-Miss spotlight

DALLAS (AP) — Bob Tway, the No. 5 member of Oklahoma State's NCAA championship golf team, grabbed the spotlight Monday from his teammates in the first of two qualifying rounds for the 1978 Trans-Miss golf tournament.

The 19-year-old Marietta, Ga., amateur fired a four-under-par 67 at Brook Hollow Golf Club, where more than half the qualifying field had scores in the 80s and 90s

OSU's top player, Lindy Miller, missed an eagle by an inch on the 18th hole and settled for a tap-in birdie for a 70, one-under-par on the more wideopen Las Colinas Country Club, a few miles away at Irving, Texas.

Another OSU player, Britt Harrison, came in at one-over 72 and former Mexican Amateur champ Rafael Alarcon shot a double-bogey on No. 17 and a bogey on 18 to finish with a three-over 74. Both Harrison and Alarcon were at Las Colinas. The field of 400 of the nation's top amateur golfers played in 102-degree temperatures. The best 64 after today's second qualifying round will compete in match play at Brook Hol-low that begins Wednesday and con-tinue until two finalists battle in a 36-hole final Sunday

Kenny Huff of Dallas led the field at Las Colinas, matching Tway's 67. The only two other sub-par rounds of the day were a 69 by John Shackleford of Austin, Texas, 69; Andy Blossom of Stockton, Calif., 70; and Gary Pinns of Winston-Salem, N.C., 71. Shackleford and Blossom were at Las Colinas and Pinns at Brook Hollow.

"I wasn't trying for any kind of super round. I was just trying to hit it in the fairway and onto the green, and I happened to hit a few close enough that I made the putts," said Tway, who offset two bogeys with four birdies and an eagle.

"It was one of my better rounds in competition," he said. He hit a driver only three times all day on Brook Hollow's tightly confined course.

Doug Clarke, 19-year-old Stanford University player who won the Trans-Miss two years ago, was one of five players who came in at oge-over 72s at Brook Hollow Monday. With him were Steve Bowman of Tyler, Texas; Chris Gutilla of Fresno, Calif.; Vince Vines of Odessa, Texas; and Bucky Smith of San Marcos, Texas.

Two former Walker Cuppers -John Grace of Fort Worth, Texas, and John Farguhar of Lubbock, Texas were among six who had 72s at Las Colinas. With them were John Paul Cain of Houston, Harrison, Dale Blackburn of Houston and Jimmy Adams of Port Arthur, Texas.

Grace hit the water on a par-3 hole, couldn't find a place to drop, and came back to the tee to hit another shot. It landed on the green 20 feet from the pin, and he sank the putt for a bogey-4.

Baseball tryouts reviving dreams for young players

WALTHAM, Mass. (AP) — Dreams of baseball glory collided with grim athletic reality here for 300 would-be major lea-

The Major League Scouting Bureau, which serves 17 clubs, opened the gates Monday at Nipper Maher Field. It was as close as most of the summer leaguers will get to professional

"Everyone wants a chance to show what they can do," said Lennie Merullo, the bureau's re-gional scout. "The fact is, though, if we saw Jerry Remy here we'd probably pass him

Many of the hopefuls flocked to the tryout knowing they probably wouldn't be among the handful invited back for a second look.

Merullo conceded that gritty players like Boston Red Sox second baseman Remy must be watched daily to be appreciat-

At the tryout, however, players wearing uniforms plastered with "Southie," "Everett Taxi" and "Suarez Pool Room" were watched only for a matter of minutes, maybe seconds. They were timed in the 60yard dash and graded for throwing and fielding skills. Hitting wasn't a consideration.

"If they can't run fast enough or throw well enough, forget it,' said Merullo. "They don't understand. We're looking for kids with major league, not just professional, potential.'

As a handful of team scouts - like the Red Sox' Bill Enos -looked on, and Merullo helped supervise, bureau scouts Jim Walton and Ken Parker, an Earl Weaver look-alike, barked out orders like Army sergeants. "You got to be lucky. You hope someone notices you," said Bob Walton, a 21-year-old South Boston twilight league pitcher, and no relation to the scout.

"Everyone gets a shot, I guess," added Walton, a variety store manager. "That's what it's all about. But it's tough on guys like me with no college experience."

"For some of these kids," said Merullo, "just putting on the uniform and being here is the biggest thrill."

The scouting bureau holds similar tryouts around the country. The first was here in Waltham, a city-suburb west of Boston, four years ago at the invitation of local officials.

On Monday, prospects came from throughout New England. The wife of a Presque Isle, Maine, pitcher arrived at 7:30 a.m. to hand the scouts a statistics sheet on her husband.

The best dozen or so were invited back for a practice game on Tuesday, along with players from earlier regional tryouts.

For the vast majority, however, the message was harsh. Said Parker: "If you don't throw and run up to major league specifications, you will be cut. In fact, if you throw good but can't run, you're not worth a

Royster will move to shortstop next

ATLANTA (AP) — The Atlanta Braves are moving Jerry Royster from second to shortstop and bringing a slugger up from the minors in a shuffle that gives the team one of the youngest infields in the majors.

The shakeup sends shortstop Pat Rockett down to the International League squad in Richmond, Va. He has hit only .141 for the Braves.

Coming up from Richmond is 20-year-old Glenn Hubbard, who has led with a .336 average in 80 games. Hubbard has 35 runs batted in and with 14 home runs, has led the league much of the season in that category as well as in runs, hits and total bases. The Ogden, Utah, resident was the Braves' 20th draft choice in 1975. He has hit .287, .317, .294 and .385 in minor league assignments prior to this

The 25-year-old Royster is hitting .285 but played only 51 games at shortstop last season.

The other Braves infielder affected is Darrel Chaney, who has split time at shortstop with Rockett. The change gives the team a very young infield for the majors, since first baseman Dale Murphy is 22 and rookie sensation Bob Horner at third is only 20.

"This could be a super deal for us," said Braves Manager Bobby Cox. "I hate to take Darrel off short, though, because he's playing so well."

Royster, however, fears the switch might not be such a super deal for him, and he wants a new contract to accompany the shuffle in case his move to short doesn't work out.

"I'm putting my entire career in jeopardy," he said. "I'm the only on who has something to lose, not Bobby Cox and not the Braves.

"If I don't do well at short and Hubbard does what they want him to do at second," he continued, "then they'll be looking for a shortstop and I'll be out of a job. I said I'll go to shortstop, but I'm looking to secure myself for a year or two at the same

Special infield instructor Clete Boyer has been asked to work with Royster, who leads the team in stolen bases with 18.

In another change, the team announced Monday that it has called up pitcher Larry McWilliams from Richmond to take Adrian Devine's place on the roster.

Devine was put on the 21-day disabled list Saturday with a sore elbow. The left-handed McWilliams, 24, had a 6-5 record and a 2.83 earned run average in 15 games at Richmond this year. He had 78 strikeouts in 108 innings and allowed just 87 hits.

Earl Campbell goes through first pro football workout

SAN ANGELO, Texas (AP) - Earl Campbell, the No. 1 draft choice in the National Football League this year, went through his first workout Monday with the Houston Oilers in their training camp.

"He has great work habits. He catches the ball well and he runs with extremely good balance," said Oiler coach O.A. "Bum" Phillips about the Heiseman Trophy winner. "But, then, if he wasn't I wouldn't have

The Oilers traded tight end Jimmy Giles and two draft choices to the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in return for the first shot at the University of Texas running back. Phillips said Campbell, unlike some other touted rookies, is embarrassed by all the attention coming his way. But he said the other players didn't mind his being in the limelight. When asked whether he would feel obliged to play Campbell because of the large financial investment the Oilers have in him, Phillips said he wasn't worried about that possibility.

'The investment in Earl has already been made. The biggest mistake you can make is by playing someone who doesn't deserve to play," he said, "but I don't think that will happen."

George Allen surveys rookie Ram candidates

FULLERTON, Calif. (AP) — George Allen — a best friend of aging pro football veterans - surveyed a crop of mostly untested rookies, free agents and young quarterbacks at the opening of the Los Angeles Rams' preseason drills Monday.

It's a time of many changes for Allen in his return to the Rams after a seven-year absence. He became famed for his fondness for veterans during his years as coach and general manager of the Washington Red-

Allen, who dispenses a football-is-everything philosophy, finds himself with two young quarterbacks who spend half of each year studying hard for professions outside the National Football League. A third quarterback candidate is a Yale man.

THIRD-YEAR Ram Pat Haden and even younger backup Vince Ferragamo are the holdovers from the 1977 Rams after the retirement of fabled Joe Namath.

Haden has just completed three years of study in England as a Rhodes Scholar, and plans to enter law school next winter. Ferragamo is a firstyear medical student at Creighton University, and says he may be forced to choose between football or medicine when he gets to the clinical portion of his studies two years from

Asked if brainpower is a valid substitute for experience in a pro football quarterback, Allen said, "I think so." Then he changed the subject.

That subject was the newest Ram, Brian Dowling.

Dowling, 31, was a star quarterback at Yale in the late 1960s. After an undistinguished pro career with five teams in the NFL, World Football League and Canadian Football League, Dowling was signed by the Rams Monday.

There were 17 veterans and 41 rookies in camp for the opening drills. Remaining veterans are to report July 20 to prepare for the first preseason game Aug. 5 against New En-

"I've been told that the job is mine," said Haden of the No. 1 quarterback job. "I never felt secure in the job when Joe Namath was with us last year."

"The coaches kid me about that. But it's always good to have that kind of plus," Ferragamo said.

Dowling also has a plus of his own, knowing the Allen system better than the others at this point. He was with the Redskins during the entire preseason last year. He was released by Green Bay last week because the Packers are committed to a youth

Free agent shows speed

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Free agent George Washington turned in the fastest 40-yard dash time Monday dur-ing the Dallas Cowboys rookies and young veterans' first prac-tice session of the 1978 National Football League training camp

The 5-9, 169-pound Georgia wide receiver sprinted the 40 in 4.44 seconds with closest competition coming from another free agent - 6-0, 196-pound defensive back Kenny Randle of Southern Cal, who ran a 4.53.

The 65 players also ran a mile and a half with Tim Abney, a 6-1, 170-pound free agent defensive back from Lincoln, Mo., clocking in at 8: 51.

Eleventh-round draft choice Dennis Thurman, a Southern Cal defensive back, and secondyear quarterback Glenn Carano finished second a third in the distance run.

Two-per-day practices begin Tuesday in preparation for scrimmages with Los Angeles Rams and Oakland Raiders rookies later in the week.

British Open golf has Watson, Nicklaus picks

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) -"If you were going to build a new course, you certainly wouldn't build one like this," said Arnold Palmer.

"If I tried to lay out another course like this one, people would laugh at me and say, 'Call that a golf course?'" said Jack Nicklaus.

"It's a very well laid-out course," said Andy Bean, this year's top U.S. money winner. "You've got to hit a perfect shot to get close.'

They were all talking about the Old Course at St. Andrews, cradle of the game and mecca for golfers the world over. On Wednesday, St. Andrews stages its seventh British Open since World War II and its 22nd since the Open was first played 120 years ago.

Both Nicklaus and Palmer hastened to get the record straight they weren't guilty of high golfing

"It's a very subtle course - though some people might call it by other names," said Palmer, who played his first Open at St. Andrews 19 years ago. "To play it properly you've got to take a great deal of thought."

"I think it's fabulous," said Nicklaus, who like Palmer is a two-time Open winner. Nicklaus won in 1970, the last time the Open was played

"You've got to accept it for what it is - the home of golf. Some people may say it's the worst course they've seen. It isn't, and I love it," Nicklaus

Bean arrived here Sunday after an overnight flight from the United States. Three hours afterwards he made his first acquaintance with the course and shot a 4-under-par 68 in practice.

"I must admit that when I first saw it I thought it was rougher than we expect in the U.S. But the more you play it, the more you learn to respect

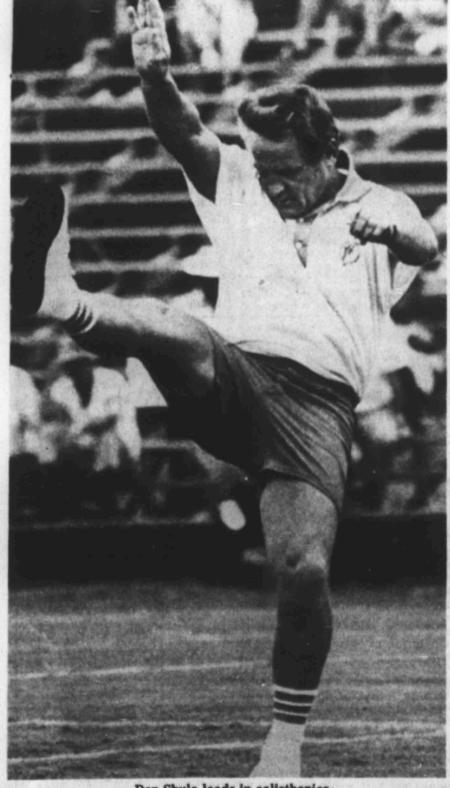

St. Andrews is a course, windswept most of the time, without trees, with gorse lining the fairways and with hidden sandtraps and undulations to catch the unwary.

Many of the hazards can't be seen from the tees, and Palmer commented mildly and politely, "It's unusual for a course to have hazards that you can't see."

Nicklaus and Tom Watson, who won the Open in 1975 and again last year, are joint 6-1 favorites to win this Hubert Green and Lee Trevino, the last man to win twice in a row, are at 14-1 with Severiano Ballesteros of Spain, Gary Player of South Africa and Tom Weiskopf at 16-1. Bean is rated at 25-1.

The first two rounds will be played in groups of three, with the first round starting Wednesday.

In the men's opening match, No. 1 seed John Sadri, the National Collegiate Athletic Association's runner-up from North Carolina State University, defeated Jack Conlan of Warren, Ohio, 6-4, 6-2.

The men's match was the first ever played on Cleveland's new lakefront Harold T. Clark Stadium. Sadri, 21, a Charlotte, N.C. native, said the tournament will probably be his last amateur one.

"I'll turn pro for the U.S. Open," he said. "I feel I'm ready. I've worked hard and practiced a lot every day. It's time to turn pro."

Baumhower knows about knee injuries

MIAMI (AP) - As a member of the injury-plagued Miami Dolphins, Bob Baumhower was well acquainted with knee injuries. He just would have preferred to have gotten his from something like a hard block by Rayfield Wright in next year's

The former Alabama star, who with A.J. Duhe gave the Dolphins the National Football League's top 1-2 rookie punch last season, injured his knee at a team mini-camp in May. Baumhower, who set a team record for tackles by a lineman last year, was injured when someone fell on it as the team was going through plays.

"It was really a freak accident. They fell on my knee in a pileup. It's a rough way to get a knee injury. If you're going to get them, you don't want it to be while you're in shorts, just walking through plays," said Baumhower.

He became the 20th Dolphin in three years to trainer Bob Lundy. He hopes to be ready by the Dolphins' fourth preseason game and said he's certain he'll in uniform by the regular season's opening

His biggest worry now is the mental impact of his

"I'm going to be working real hard on the physical part, but the big thing now is the mental aspect. You wonder if the knee is going to be easier to hurt this time around.

"I guess until you get a real good lick; experience that and find out your knee is recovered, you'll have the fear gnawing at you constantly," he said.

Baumhower was the Dolphins' second choice be-hind Duhe, the Louisiana State defensive end who was the NFL defensive rookie-of-the-year last season. The rookie duo was a key to the Dolphins' surprising 10-4 record last year. They were pressed into action when ex-Dolphins Randy Crowder and Don Reese were convicted on drug charges and veteran Bill Stanfill ended his career.

"Both A.J. and I come from real good football programs, and that helped a lot. Another big factor was that the coaches knew we were going to have to play as rookies and they worked us hard right from the start," said Baumhower.

He admitted, though, "I didn't expect us to do nearly as good as we did."

Baumhower is high on the team this year and thinks there is a strong chance that Wright and his Dallas Cowboy teammates might have to beat the Dolphins at this year's Super Bowl in Miami if they want to repeat as champ want to repeat as champions.

"We had a lot of good young players last year and we kept getting better and better. I definitely think we can go all the way this year," he said, then grinned and added, "if everybody's healthy."

Roy Boe faces deadline on Islanders, Nets time Roy Boe had the world on a string. He was a millionaire who owned two of the most desirable franchises in professional sports.

But that string seems close to strangling him, closing the book on what once was a fairy tale and now seems headed for a very unhappy

The culrrit for Boe is money. He doesn't have enough of it to support basketball's New Jersey Nets and hockey's New York Islanders - two teams which have a book liability of $30 million.

And because of those debts - and alleged mismanagement of funds -Boe must meet two deadlines this month in order to retain control of the two teams.

The National Hockey League's ultimatum gave Boe until July 18 to create a satisfactory plan that would make the Islanders, who have debts reaching $19.5 million, solvent. Ten days later, Boe must submit a viable financial plan to save the Nets, whose debts are in the neighborhood of $10

"I keep going because I feel both franchises will be here for a long, long time," said Boe, who is seeking a buyer for the Nets. "And they've been my life for the past eight years. I put my heart and guts into this.

"I'm not one of those 1 percent general partners who take a fee for bringing people together. I've got more of my money in these teams than anyone.

Boe, 48, owns 21 percent of the Islanders and 25 percent of the Nets. He has a total of 35 partners, one of whom brought attention to Boe's troubles by suing him. Thomas J. Thornton, a limited partner in the Islanders, sued Boe for $10 million for allegedly diverting funds from the Islanders to keep the Nets afloat.

Last week, State Supreme Court Justice Douglas Young, acting on a motion in Thornton's suit, stripped Boe of his position as president of the Islanders while the team is resolving clubs permanently, Boe is seeing a side of sports he couldn't possibly have imagined when he bought his first team - the Westchester Bulls, a minor league football team.

Temporarily stripped of one of his teams and in jeopardy of losing both

through again with a two-run single off Midland reliever Herman Segelke, who had pitched three innings of scoreless ball against the Dodgers in relief Saturday. The Dodgers added another run on Mark Bradley's run scoring base hit to right.

Smith was not real sharp in this one. He did not strike out a batter in 6% innings of work and walked six. He also gave up 10 hits, but still, he was effective with the exception of the first and seventh innings.

THE GAME could have been a different story for either team had it not been for some sterling defensive plays by both teams. Santos saved at least two runs in the first inning for the Dodgers when he raced to the wall in left to haul down a line drive shot off the bat of Rosinski. Rosinski's blast had homer labeled on it, but Santos took it just off the top of the Gatlin also saved extra bases by going to the left field wall and grabbing Charlie Meyers' long shot in the third, and Hernandez saved a run when he raced all the way back to the center field wall to stab a Kelly Snider tape measure shot. That was probably the catch of the game. Also Midland catcher Gustavson nailed three Dodger runners attempting to steal in a stellar defensive perfor-

Red Auerbach keeps John Brown in dark

BOSTON (AP) - Now it's Red Auerbach's turn to keep new Boston Celtics owner John Y. Brown in the Former owners of the Buffalo Braves, Brown and silent partner Harry Mangurian, swapped National Basketball Association teams last week with Irv Levin, who is moving the Buffalo franchise to San Diego.

Brown and Levin then unveiled a multi-player deal without consulting Auerbach, the Celtics' president and general manager.

Auerbach said Monday he's not ready to tell Brown if he'll stay-on after his contract expires Aug. 1, although the two have discussed a new contract.

"I've received what's been described as a 'very attractive' offer," Auerbach said of Brown's bid to keep the president-general manager. "But attractiveness is in the eye of the beholder. I want to talk to him about

Brown called a news conference at Boston Garden today but Auerbach said his plans will not be announced. The former Celtics coach said Brown's offer deals with front office control as well as money. Auerbach also says he's had a variety of job offers from other sources. He won nine NBA titles as coach of the Celtics from 1950-66 and was front office chief for the last four Boston championships.

The Celtics' general manager was in the midst of a rebuilding plan when Levin and Brown made their deal.

Cosmos' attendance on big upswing now

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) - Five years ago, the Cosmos were playing in depressing Downing Sta-dium on Randalls Island. This year they might outdraw the New York

Although the comparison finds the Mets at a low point in their 17-year history and the Cosmos as the class of the North American Soccer League, the attendance figures are a sign of the soccer revolution in the New York

The Cosmos have drawn 545,135 fans in 12 games, an average of 45,428 in their second year at the Meadowlands sports complex. By comparison, the Mets have drawn 585,175 for 43 dates at Shea Stadium, an average

"We play New England Wednesday night, and after losing to them last week, we're hoping for over 50,000," said General Manager Krikor Yepremian. "Our other two regular-season games are against Toronto and Tampa Bay. Tampa Bay is one of our big rivalries and we think we can draw 65,000 for them. That would put the Cosmos season atttendance at approximately 700,000 - with the league playoffs still to

Last year, the Cosmos drew crowds of 57,828, a standing room crowd of 77,691 and 73,669 for three playoff games. The Cosmos have three potential playoff games at Giants Stadium this year.

"I'm very happy with our atten-dance," said Yepremian, "but I'm not satisfied. I won't be satisfied until we have sellouts and I'm sure we will achieve that - especially in the play-

Soccer Bowl '78 is also being played at Giants Stadium and the game is already close to a sellout. If the Cos-mos make it to the finals, they have a chance to shatter the one million mark in attendance.

The Mets, however, will be hard pressed to keep their fans interested. Their record at the All-Star break is 36-50. If they continue to draw at their current pace, their season total would be approximately 990,000.

Donald Conway, Mets' assistant comptroller, said the team drew 1,of 6,825 last year. No projections have been made for this year's attendance, he said, adding, "A lot depends on the weather and how the club is going."

The Yankees have attracted 966,290 fans for 34 dates, an average of 28,420.

In winning the 1977 world championship, the Yankees drew 2,103,092. The Cosmos' largest crowd of the year was just over 70,000 for Franz Beckenbauer Day May 21. Their smallest crowd was 32,000 for a weekday game played in a steady down-

"Another one of our games was played on a day that three World Cup games were played in the afternoon and one at night," said Yepremian.

Player given heave-ho

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) - Three double plays were just not enough to satisfy Phoenix Giants second baseman Joe Strain, who accomplished the next-to-impossible task of being thrown out of a Pacific Coast League game after it was over. The Giants compensated for four errors by completing three twin killings Monday night en route to an 8-4 victory over the Salt Lake City

After the final out, Strain made some comments to umpire Darryl Cousins, who had ruled in the next-tolast play of the game that the Giants not completed a fourth double play. Whatever Strain said was not appreciated by Cousins, who gave him the heave-ho.

Chester takes bowling title in Salt Lake

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) Wayne Chester of San Mateo, Calif., has won the $60,000 Salt Lake Open for his first Professional Bowlers Association title.

The 25-year-old left-hander defeated previous leader John Handegard 216-152 in the final game for a slim 10-pin 9,,383 edge in total pinfall, 9,- Handegard, who led through most of the final two rounds, needed to throw two strikes in the final frame to win the tournament.

He failed on his first shot, giving Chester the title and a coveted invitation to the Firestone Tournament of Champions next April in Akron, Chester averaged 212 for the 42game tournament and earned $6,000, bringing his earnings in four tournaments this year to $7,380.

With the final eight games remaining, Handegard had a 222-pin lead, but Chester chipped away by shooting games of 263, 218, 246, 199, 169, 196, 206

He won 15 of his 24 matches during the tournament. "I never got into first place until the last game," Chester said after his victory. "Every time I got close, John would shoot a big game and I would fall back again."

Indicators point to near record Soviet harvest announced in November

By DON KENDALL AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - Improved prospects point to a Soviet Union grain harvest this year of about 215 million metric tons, the third largest on record, the Agriculture Department said Mon-

A month ago the department tentatively es-timated 1978 Soviet grain production at between 185 million and 225 million tons, indicating that it might be in the middle of that range, 205 million

In its second estimate, the department's special task force on Soviet grain production said the crop now is expected to range between 195 million and 230 million tons. "Barring unusual conditions during the balance of the growing and harvesting season, a total grain outturn of approximately 215 million tons is now indicated."

The harvest would include about 105 million tons of wheat, 100 million tons of coarse grains such as corn and 10 million tons of miscellaneous grains, rice and pulses such as beans and

If the Soviet harvest turns out to be 215 million tons, it would be 10 percent larger than last year's production of 195.5 million tons. The record was 223.8 million tons in 1976, followed by 222.5 million tons in 1973.

A metric ton is 2,205

Last July the department estimated the 1977 Soviet grain crop at 225 million tons, up from 215 million forecast in June. The estimate was later reduced to 220 million tons and then to 215 million tons last Sept. 29
