Conservation Homemaker is Being Sought

The search is underway for Texas' top conservation homemaker of 1967.

A state champion conservation homemaker will be named early next year, along with five regional winners. They will be selected from among the outstanding regional candidates whose records are submitted to the state judging committee.

The annual conservation judging activity is sponsored by the Fort Worth Press, in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Soil Conservation Districts of the state and other groups. The event provides recognition for achievements of Texas women in the area of conservation in the home and on the farm and ranch.

Miss Maeona Cox, Texas A&M University Extension foods and nutrition specialist and chairman of the state judging committee, reminds all participating groups that deadlines should be noted.

County winner's records should be sent by the county Extension agents to the district home demonstration agents by next Feb. 13. The records are due in the office of the regional judging committee chairmen by Feb. 20. Records of first and second place regional winners should be sent by chairmen of regional judging committees by March 6 to the assistant director of Extension Home Economics at Texas A&M University.

The state conservation homemaker for 1967 will be selected by March 17. She and other state winners will be honored at an awards program May 6 in Fort Worth. Regional winners will be recognized in special ceremonies to be held in the five regions of the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board.

Winner of the champion conservation homemaker title in Texas last year was Mrs. Jewel C. Ramage of Route 1, Hooks. Now in its twenty-second year, the awards program is part of the annual "Save the Soil and Save Texas" activity sponsored by the Fort Worth Press in cooperation with other organizations and agencies.

Mrs. Jimmie White in the Lariat Community won the title of Conservation Homemaker for Region I last year.

According to Robin Taylor, Home Demonstration Agent, at the present time no one has been selected from this area.

Homemaking Tips

Using the consumer market place to advantage includes choosing the best time to shop for goods of different kinds, according to Miss Joy Arrington, Extension home management specialist at Texas A&M University.

Decisions about best times to buy may vary with the types of goods to be purchased, whether or not there is always a dependable supply in the stores, and when the stocks are likely to be freshest in offering good choices to the consumer. Choosing a good time to shop or buy may mean deciding whether to purchase in advance of need or at the time of need. Buying in advance may be a good idea if the item can be found, if storage is not a problem, if money for the purchase is available, and if there is no risk of loss of quality or style before the goods are to be used. On the other end of the scale, waiting until the last minute to make a needed purchase may mean the buyer has little choice and must take what is offered at a relatively higher price. As a result, excessive time may be spent in shopping for and making the needed purchase.

Quite often, seasonal sales help set the time in seeking replacements for goods. For example, white sales in August and January generally offer quality goods at dependable prices. End-of-season sales may offer real bargains in clothing and some types of household equipment, furniture, and furnishings.

Bargains may be found at sales, but it often takes an experienced buyer to find them--

Shallowater. The High Plains Center is leading the way for other small communities to have their own centers.

Children's Training Center has not only gained help from Caprock District Clubs, but also has been entered as a project in the Community Improvement Program jointly sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs and Sears-Roebuck Foundation. Entry in that program gives the Center a potential of additional funds at the end of the two-year period. Should the Training Center project be made as first, second or third place winner in the national contest, it would receive the accompanying money prize of $10,000, $5,000 or $1,000. Individual clubs in the district having no community improvement project are urged by Mrs. Cummings to fill out their entry form, co-signing for the district project.

Operating simultaneously with the public schools, for a nine-months regular session for pre-school children, the Center also has a summer program in which 44 boys and girls participated last summer. Working with the YMCA, the Center provided the only summer program for retarded children in this half of the state. Swimming, arts and crafts, and picnics given by church women's groups were available. Enough teenagers worked with the "Y" to provide one for every two children in the pool. Child Welfare workers assisted with a teenage group therapy program.

Training at the Center does not replace, but does prepare children for special education classes in the public schools.

Experience with buying will help consumers decide upon times that are best for them.

Little girls' leather shoes feature round toes and sharp styling for 1966 fall and winter fashions, says Miss Fannie Brown Eaton, Extension clothing specialist at Texas A&M University. The saddle oxford still rides high with saddles showing up in smooth, embossed suede and patent leathers. Oxfords also feature sport scalloping, perforations and spat effects.

The dress-casual shoe category is gaining popularity. The shoes serve equally for school or special occasions, Miss Eaton says.

Double Ring Rites Unite Local Couple

Miss Mary Morton exchanged wedding vows with John Blakely Etheridge Jr. in a double ring ceremony, solemnized Nov. 10 in the home of the groom's parents.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Morton who live at Hereford a portion of the time and other times at Muleshoe and Mr. Etheridge is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Blakely Etheridge Sr.

Paul Easley, minister of the Sunset Ridge Church of Christ, officiated.

The bride was escorted in marriage by her brother, Clifford Morton in a white silk eskaline suit fashioned with a lace over blouse. Her head dress was of crushed illusion over satin, with a short veil caught by a small white velvet bow. She carried a cascade bouquet of white tiara roses centered with a white orchid.

Miss Joan Lanus presented pre-wedding music and traditional wedding marches on the organ. Mrs. Stan Studer accompanied by Miss Lanus, sang "Wedding Prayer," by Dunlap.

Mrs. Clifford Morton, sister-in-law of the bride was matron of honor. She wore a two-piece Italian silk dress of pale olive green. She carried a bouquet of miniature bronze mums and ivy.

Henry Hancock Etheridge, brother of the groom, was best man.

A wedding supper was held in the home following the ceremony. The table bearing the tiered cake was covered and skirted with pink tulle.

Mrs. William J. Sames III served the wedding cake. Miss Sally Sames, niece of the groom, presided at the wedding book.

Out of town guests were the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Morton and Mrs. Robert Singer, Tulsa.

The couple departed for a wedding trip to Miami, Fla., and New Orleans. They will be at home in San Antonio.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.—School teachers are moving boldly forward with their drive for an $85,000, 000 a year pay raise. This, despite the fact that they don't have the support of the governor's committee on education needs.

Texas State Teachers Association seeks salary increases ranging from $61 to $100 a month. This would cost the state $68,000,000 and local school districts $17,000,000 annually.

TSTA says it has rounded up considerable support in the Legislature and among education - support groups.

But the governor's committee voted not to make any reports on any phase of its far-reaching study until it has completed its research into all areas of public schools.

Chairman Leon Jaworski expressed confidence that Gov. John Connally will call a special session of the Legislature in 1968 to consider the committee's final recommendations.

A committee resolution recognized that salaries are important to staffing schools but added that other factors are just as vital in determining the effectiveness of teachers and administrators.

Without a committee recommendation, there will be sentiment among lawmakers to tell teachers they will have to wait another year for pay adjustment. Teachers will bring pressure on legislators to act immediately. This will be one of the toughest problems legislators will face during the 1967 session.

Decision is all the more difficult in view of an anticipated tax bill of well over $100,000, 000 that is exclusive of the teacher pay question.

COLLEGE LOANS APPROVED--A total of $9,535,000 in federal loans has been approved for Texas colleges and universities under federal higher education facilities. They will help finance $23,000,000 worth of buildings.

Dr. J. K. Williams, commissioner of Texas Public Higher Education, announced that the following loans have been cleared:

.Abilene Christian College, $507,000 for a physical education building;

.Christian College of the Southwest, Garland, $209,000, classroom;

.LeTourneau College, Longview, $485,000, science;

.McMurry College, Abilene, $380,000, science;

.Texas Southmost College, Brownsville, $136,000, library.

AIR STANDARDS HEARING SET--Air Control Board set January 5 for public hearing on proposed regulations to control pollution from smoke and particulate matter.

Tentative regulations would outlaw burning of burrs, trash, lint and other wastes from cotton gins and require mechanical dust collectors for asphalt portable plants. They cover flues, grading of smoke density, combustion units and distances of pollution sources from neighboring property.

TEXTBOOKS ADOPTED--State Board of Education has adopted $6,400,000 worth of new textbooks for 11 subjects.

Board also authorized development of state plan to support $2,500,000 federal loan application for educational services to children of migrant agricultural workers.

In other action, it reviewed appeal from ruling of Commissioner J. W. Edgar concerning transfer of pupils from Neches school district to adjoining Frankston and Palestine ISD's.

FEDERAL LANDS--Texas

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler has gone on record as favoring a plan to give to the individual states control of the revenue from federally owned lands within the states.

Sadler said he will make that recommendation to the federal Land Law Review Commission, of which he is a member.

His plan would give to the state in which the land is located 40 per cent of the revenue from that land. Other 60 per cent would be divided among the other 49 states. Texas has no federal lands.

Proposal would exclude national parks and military reservations, but Sadler feels that all the other federally owned land would be put to better use, since state agencies and state officials could do a better job of supervising the use of the land.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

LUBBOCK -- Not long ago Democratic Congressman W. R. (Bob) Poage of Waco said he thought the attitude of Congress on future cotton programs would be profoundly affected by the decision of farmers on the dollar-a-bale research and promotion program.

He said "If farmers show by their votes that they are ready to give up on cotton, I think the Congress will be ready to give up too." He was referring, of course, to the referendum to be held December 5 through 9, in which cotton producers will decide the fate of the Cotton Research and Promotion Act.

He spoke at the time as vice chairman of the potent House Agriculture Committee. Now, with the November 8 defeat of Representative Harold Cooley in North Carolina, Poage rises to the chairmanship, and the weight of his words is considerably enhanced.

It might be argued by some that his judgment of the attitude Congress will take after the referendum was not necessarily accurate. But there is little doubt that his own personal feelings closely parallel those he ascribed to "the Congress."

And as chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, breeding ground for all farm programs, Poage's feelings take on considerable significance.

"As things now stand," Poage said, "under the emergency four-year program in effect -- the government has gone just about the last mile in making cotton competitive in price, in the domestic as well as the foreign market."

He reminded that payments to protect the cotton farmer's income, meet price competition and reduce the surplus are substantial. He noted that a typical farmer who diverted the maximum 35 percent of his allotted acres in 1965 received over $70 per bale produced in direct government payments.

And he warned that some northern congressmen are already asking whether the government's effort to save cotton is not costing more than it is worth.

But Poage, who has long had a big voice in the formation of farm programs, added, "In my judgment, Congress will feel that it is very much worthwhile if we can see genuine promise that there will be programs capable of putting cotton on its feet and making it self-sufficient within some reasonable period of time. If there is to be such an outlook, a greatly expanded program of research and promotion must be at the heart of it."

"In this day and age, producers of any product have to put up big money to improve it and sell it through advertising and other techniques of promotion. Either they do this or go out of business. In essence, this is the decision farmers must make in the referendum on cotton research and promotion."

It was a part of Abraham Lincoln's enduring philosophy that you cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves.

Apparently, Poage agrees. Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., has noted some indications that the trend of textile mills toward increased use of man-made fibers and a corresponding move away from cotton may be weakening.

He points out that domestic textile mills are devoting an increasing number of cotton-system spinning spindles exclusively to cotton.

More than 15 million of these spindles were active on October 1, which is both the largest number and the highest percentage on 100 percent cotton in several months.

Another sign of cotton's strengthening position in competition to man-made staple fibers, according to Johnson, is the recent breakdown of the blend levels imposed by the major producers of polyester.

Polyester makers have long insisted that manufacturers use no less than a 50-50 blend with cotton, and the most popular blend in the huge shirting market has been 65 percent polyester, 35 percent cotton.

But Arrow shirt company has turned the percentages around and introduced a 65 percent cotton, 35 percent polyester permanent press dress shirt. They call it polyester-fortified cotton.

And, according to the Daily News Record, this has opened a "Pandora's box," sure to result in blends with as little as 10 percent of the man-made fiber. The leading textile publication says a variety of fabrics with 35 percent or less polyester will be making their appearance as new producers of polyester attempt to buy their way into the market via the low blend level route.

"Certainly we would prefer to see all shirts and other apparel constructed of 100 percent cotton," Johnson says, "but we may as well face the fact that man-made fibers are not going to suddenly disappear from the face of the earth, and that there will always be some blended fabrics. And so long as blends there must be, 65 percent cotton and 35 percent man-made is far better than the other way around."

Johnson is quick to admit that these few bright spots in an otherwise dull picture for cotton are not the panacea for all cotton ills.

"They are just a toddler's steps on the long road cotton has to travel before it becomes

Relatives Visit In Arkansas

by Mrs. C. A. Watson
Mrs. Quinn Weaver, Lazbuddie accompanied by Mrs. Hayden Moser from Phoenix returned from Arkansas last of the week, after spending two weeks with her father, Odus Wilson, 77, who has been in poor health for some time. She reports his condition remains about the same.
Johnny Broyles and Lyndon Foster had the misfortune of running over a cow south of Clays Corner on road 214. The boys were taken to West Plains Hospital for observation and released. The car was a total loss. The animal was killed. The accident was unavoidable according to the boys.

Charles Ramage and Leon Watson marched in the parade at Amarillo Veterans Day, Nov. 11. The two boys are members of the WTSU ROTC Color Guard.
Mr. and Mrs. John Littlefield visited Sunday in Levelland with her sister and family, the Wayne Wesleys.

Bobby Broyles, Theron Vaughn, Bill Brown and Gene Smith returned the first of last week from deer hunting at Pagosa Springs.

The Lazbuddie A.B. Girls Team played Anton A and B Tuesday night.
Congratulations to the Lazbuddie Longhorns over the Hart team Friday night outscoring the Hart Horns 14-7. Some of the newspapers got the two Longhorn teams with the two towns mixed and stated the Hart team won-but if you are still in doubt just ask announcer Kenny Splawn of Muleshoe or one of the Lazbuddie coaches.

Mrs. N. M. McCurdie is visiting her granddaughter, Beverly Adkins, at Fairfax, Oklahoma this week.

Birthday greetings this week go to: J.J. McDonald, Bobbie Matthews, Dodavah Lawrence, James and Judy Koelzer, Angela Trevina, Marquita Seaton, Mrs. T. D. Reed, Laura Burnett, Debbie Engelking and Rickie Hardage.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Young visited in Lubbock Thursday evening with their son and his wife, Steve and Nancy Young. Cooper Young senior student at Baylor was home the last weekend to be with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Young. Cooper will get his degree in January.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Watson Muleshoe, visited Tuesday night with the Leon Smith Jr. family.

Mr. and Mrs. James Harvey and children visited Sunday in Plainview with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Harvey.
Guest in the Joe Jesko home Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs.

Tragic Gun Deaths Are Emphasized

AUSTIN---This is the sorrowful side of the fall hunting season; the side nobody likes to talk about.

But the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, committed to a broad public service program, has a duty to perform with all its game management facilities, it realizes fully that it can do nothing for a wounded or dead hunter.

So the Department cautions sportsmen about the horror side of hunting that, fortunately, because of safety adherence, affects a comparatively few. A spokesman said a tragic recent weekend event, or events, helped prompt the reminder.
An 11-year-old boy was struck in the head by the fire of a 14-year-old hunting companion. The younger lad jumped up just as the other pulled the trigger.

Shirley Smith has accepted the job as secretary at the Lazbuddie Farmers Union Coop. Judy Koelzer, former Lazbuddie school student is presently in nursing school at Amarillo.

Meanwhile, four fishermen were reported to have drowned along with one boating occupant since the last water recreational deaths were listed. This brought the season's total to 226 or 26 more than last year.

In urging hunters to beware of lethal gunshots, the Department noted that progress has been made in advocating greater care in properly identifying targets since no hunter deaths from being mistaken for game were reported last year.

The deaths increased the fall wildlife harvest deaths to 14, seven short of the total for the entire 1965 autumn total as recorded by the Department, with the main season not yet opened.

These are two of the most common causes of field fatalities, according to the Department.

ROTARIANS--These are some of the members of the local Rotary Club as they are boarding a chartered bus going to Lubbock where they attended the Inter-City Rotary meeting last Thursday. They are Earl Harris, D. B. Lancaster, John Shelton, Clinton Kennedy, David Anderson and John Crow.

Its new look is just one nice thing about the '67 Chevy pickup

THERE ARE LOTS OF OTHERS.

For instance, new durability: New sheet metal construction discourages rust. Eliminates exposed joints on cargo box and tailgate. Provides self-washing wheelhousings with special splash shields. Inner cab is specially treated against rust.

Also, added comfort, safety and convenience: Improved visibility all around. Dual master cylinder brake system. Telescoping lower steering shaft. Energy-absorbing instrument panel. Interior color-keyed to go with exterior paint. One-hand tailgate latch.

And extra strength: Full-depth double-wall side panels (Fleetside models). Double-wall steel in cab roof and other important areas.

Plus famous Chevrolet truck features: Independent Front Suspension that gives a smooth ride—like a car. The most popular truck 6's and V8's. (And there are lots more, as your Chevrolet dealer will show you.)
