Coke County Voters Turnout In Large Numbers

Coke County Voters followed their traditional trend on Tuesday by voting heavily for Democratic candidates in the General Election.

Voters faced one of the largest ballots ever printed when they went to the polls on Tuesday with four parties listed--- Republican Party, Democratic Party, Libertarian Party and Citizens Party. Candidates were followed by six proposed constitutional amendments.

Though many voters seemed to follow the straight ticket vote, the 1982 Campaign seemed to cross party lines more than ever and the coming trend is swinging toward split ticket voting.

Coke County voter turnout was heavier than the Texas and National average, but pollwatchers expressed disappointment over voter apathy for 1982 elections. A total of 1217 votes were cast on Tuesday, 70 of these in absentee, with 2,227 voters registered in the county.

Political races have run hot and heavy in this year's election in both national and state races. Advertising and polls had first one candidate and then another winning and on the eve of election they continued to run the same way.

Incumbent Bill Clements has been ousted after one term in the governor's mansion by Democrat Mark White. Senator Lloyd Bentsen will remain as Texas' U.S. senator for another term. Coke County is in a new district, District 25, with Democratic Dick Burnett as its representative in the state capital. Bill Sims has won as state senator of District 25.

A final count of Coke County votes cast for each candidate is as follows: U.S. Senator-Jim Collins (R) 430, Lloyd Bentsen (D) 751,

Dear Children of Robert Lee, I am so pleased that you have once again invited me to come to Robert Lee for your Community Christmas Party. November 13 is the day I plan on coming.

Be sure and plan on being in the Children's parade. I always enjoy seeing you dressed up on your decorated tricycles and bicycles. Remember, everyone will receive a ribbon that participates. The parade will start at 5:00 p.m., so you had best be in front of Dawn Floral at 4:30 to get lined up.

After the parade, I will be in the Courthouse to talk to each and everyone of you. I've already gotten my bag filled with candy for you.

I'll also be glad to have my picture taken with those of you who wish. Alpha Kappa Pi will take pictures for a fee of $2.00. They have invited the Suez Temple of San Angelo to bring their funny cars and motorcycles to ride in the parade. We sure hope they can be with us. And don't forget, the "Stomping Steer Band" will lead me into town.

I am so anxious to see you. Be sure and have your Christmas list made out so you can tell me what you want.

Don't forget-- November 13-- I'll see you then.

Love,

Santa Claus

Mrs. Blaylock Has Birthday

Mrs. Hettie Blaylock, 102, of Eldorado was recently honored by her children at a birthday celebration. It was held at the Schleicher County Nursing Home where she is a resident. Punch, coffee, and cake were served to a number of relatives and friends.

(Fannie) Gilbert of Santa Anna, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Blaylock of Robert Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Alex (Lucille) Minter of Tow, Mrs. Cornelia Copple of Uvalde, Lorena Wells of Santa Anna, and Lois Brinks of Lincoln, California. Mrs. Brinks was unable to be present for the celebration, but is in Texas now visiting relatives.

Her husband was away much of the time and she stayed in the Eldorado area and sent her children to school. She has been a widow for 34 years and now has only six living children, but has a legacy in 28 grandchildren, 80 great-grandchildren and 41 great-great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Blaylock still is able to walk some, enjoys her food, and takes very little medication.

Hypertension Is Health Concern

Hypertension, or abnormally high blood pressure, is one of the most prevalent health problems in the United States and is also one of the major contributors to heart attacks and strokes, reports Dr. Mary Shirer, health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Although progress has been made to increase public awareness of hypertension and to develop effective ways of treating it, the problem still remains a major health concern.

"High blood pressure often has no clear signs or symptoms and a person can have it and not know it. That's why it's so important to get your blood pressure checked regularly and, if it is high, to follow the treatment your doctor prescribes," Shirer says.

Leaders of an industry-funded symposium on nutrition and blood pressure control recently gave these guidelines concerning hypertension. They recommended that people:

1. Define their risk status, including diabetes, obesity, and family history of the disease.
2. Check blood pressure regularly, whether or not they are in a high-risk group.
3. If pressure is normal, continue present lifestyle.
4. If pressure is slightly high, begin a program of moderate exercise; lose weight, if needed; and reduce salt intake as necessary.
5. Stop smoking and cut down alcohol intake.
6. If over 40, get a doctor's advice on exercise and take a stress test.
7. Do not drastically alter your diet by cutting out all fats or all salt-containing foods, or by following only a high fiber diet. If you cut out dairy products because they contain salt, you will also lose calcium, which is essential to blood pressure regulation.
8. If sodium-sensitive, follow a prescribed medical diet. Persons with normal blood pressure need not restrict their salt intake, but prudent use is advised.
9. If your doctor decides that you don't need medication, don't insist on it. It's better to regulate blood pressure through diet and exercise than with chemicals.

Douglas Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Roberts, remains in Shannon Hospital in San Angelo this week. He is reported to be showing some improvement after being hospitalized for ten days from complications of a ruptured appendix.

Lord, thou knowest I am growing older.

Keep me from becoming talkative and possessed with the idea that I must express myself on every subject.

Release me from the craving to straighten out everyone's affairs. Keep me from the recited of endless detail. Give me wings to get to the point.

Seal my lips when I am inclined to tell of my aches and pains. They are increasing with the years and my love to speak of them grows sweeter as time goes by.

Teach me the glorious lesson that occasionally I may be wrong. Make me thoughtful but not noseey, helpful but not bossy. With my vast store of wisdom and experience it does seem a pity not to use it all. But thou knowest, Lord, that I want a few friends at the end.

A fall social is planned to include husbands on November 19. This is to be a "Scavenger Hunt", beginning at the Randy Bessent home. A double bake sale was, also, decided on for November 24. Anyone with a special baked goodies request is urged to contact a member of AON.

Quail hunting season opened in Coke County last Saturday morning and will continue through Jan. 30, 1983.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife have estimated that quail numbers are the highest in recent years. Therefore bag limits have been upped in Coke County to 20 birds per day. Hunters are urged to hunt early in the season before die-offs result from the overly dry conditions which now exist and food supplies grow shorter.

Shooting hours are one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour after sunset. Shotguns do not require plugs since quail are not migratory birds.

Dove season drew to a disappointing close on Oct. 30. Hunting was poor locally, probably due to lack of grain fields in the area and dry pasture conditions. It will reopen Jan. 1-10, 1983 for a short split season. Many times over the last few years, good numbers of large birds have been taken during the split season and leaves shotgunners something to look forward to.

The Artist of the Month program, initiated by Administrator Jay Leath last February, continues to be a popular drawing card for visitors and residents alike. The hall, lobby, and recreation room are brightened each month with works of various local artists.

Yvonne Conner and Grace Ditmore began the displays last February with their oils, followed by George Weir, oils, and watercolors in March, Linda Boone with oils for April, and Billie Barrett and her oils in May. In June, Pat Stephens exhibited oils, Lorene Millican with her oils in July, Lynette Boykin and her photography display for August followed by oils by Joyce Stephens in September.

Gertrude Bloodworth and Lynn Doris Smith combined their works in oil for the October showing. Fay Allison, also working with oil, will serve as the Artist of the Month in November.

Scheduled for December are oil paintings by Cynthia Davis and Joan Davis.

Recent visitors to the Nursing Home were a cheery group of young people, who came bearing cookies. The group included:

4-H Club members and mothers:

Jodi Waggoner, Shasche Smith, Stephanie Rogers, Johanna Service, Emily King, Amy Johnson, Jody Brasher, Warren Brasher, Stephanie Poehls, Misty Epperson, Jason Walker, Jo Ellen King and Lila King. They were accompanied by Mrs. Glenda Service, Mrs. Elaine King and Mrs. Kathy Brasher.

Last Friday was "spooky" day at West Coke County Nursing Home, when the entire staff donned Halloween garb for the day. The residents seemed to enjoy being cared for by witches, clowns, goblins and other weird characters!

Visitors are always welcome at any time at the nursing home. Everyone is gearing up now as the holiday season approaches. Several fun activities are already being planned for the residents.

County Agents News Column

by Sterling Lindsey

Frost will be hitting before long, and this could lead to prussic acid poisoning in livestock grazing certain pasture grasses and forages.

Although many plants contain the toxic material that causes poisoning those causing the highest mortality in livestock when grazing after they have been frozen and wilted are Johnson and Sudan grasses and sorghum or hybrids of these.

The most dangerous time as far as the grazing of these plants is concerned is following frost when the plant material begins to wilt. Livestock should not be allowed access to the wilted material until it has dried completely. This usually takes three or four days of good sunlight. New plant growth usually becomes non-toxic and can be grazed within 10 days to two weeks following a rain.

As far as prussic acid poisoning is concerned, the poison acts rapidly and can kill animals within minutes. In most acute cases, animals become affected within 10-15 minutes after eating toxic material and can die in two to three minutes. Symptoms may include a brief period of stimulation followed by depression and paralysis. Signs of colic may be present. Stupor (loss of sensibility), difficult breathing and frequent convulsions may result. Death is caused by suffocation since oxygen remains in the blood and is not exchanged to the tissues. This also causes the blood to appear bright red.

To prevent prussic acid poisoning in livestock several steps are suggested:

1. Allow plant material affected by frost to dry thoroughly before grazing, this may require a week or more of good sunlight.

2. Feed animals hay or a supplement before turning them in on plants that may contain prussic acid. Animals that are not hungry will not be affected as seriously by toxic material since their intake will be limited.

3. Remove all animals from the pasture if one in the herd shows any signs of poisoning.

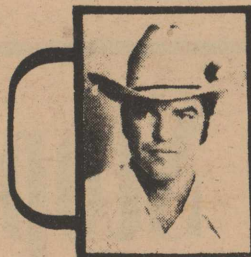

4. Call a veterinarian immediately if an animal appears to be poisoned. An antidote to treat affected animals if highly efficient if given early. This produce is available from veterinarians.

5. Have suspect plant material checked by the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratories at College Station or Amarillo. Local veterinarians will be happy to submit samples for you.

The overall key to prevent prussic acid poisoning in livestock is to be aware of plant materials that may cause poisoning and then to keep cattle from grazing such plants until a safe period has passed.

Jim Brown scored an unmatched 126 touchdowns in his football career.

Jerry Lackey's Country Folk

Frank and Jean Cox pulled into San Angelo last week with several truckloads of pumpkins and citrus fruit. After Halloween they will go down to their place near London in the Texas Hill Country for a few days.

Then, it's off to Wisconsin for Christmas trees. They will return to the Concho City on Thanksgiving with the trees and several truckloads of citrus from the Rio Grande Valley.

Barring an unforeseen weather calamity, forecasters are predicting a good citrus crop this year from the Rio Grande Valley. The Texas Department of Agriculture reports grapefruit production is forecast at 540,000 tons, down 3 percent from last year's harvest, the largest since the 1947-48 season. Orange production is projected at 264,000 tons, up 4 percent from last year.

According to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, growing conditions have been good despite dry weather.

Harvest of early season oranges began in late September. Grapefruit harvest was set to start in mid-October.

Nationally, grapefruit production is forecast at 2,618,000 tons, down 6 percent from last season. Orange production is expected to increase 20 percent from last year to 9,186,000 tons.

Fall vegetable acreage is up overall this year. Carrot harvest will be lower, lettuce harvest higher, and the tomato crop about the same as last year when Texas vegetable producers tally their production figures.

Forecasts show that farmers will harvest 3,600 acres of carrots during the fall quarter, a 14 percent drop from last year.

Lettuce growers in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and Winter Garden area are expected to harvest 1,500 acres, up to 25 percent over last fall. Tomato acreage remains at 500 acres, the same as last year's fall quarter.

Short moisture and hot weather had depleted soil moisture and increased irrigation demands in many fields.

National projections for seven fresh market vegetables, broccoli, carrots, cauliflower, celery, sweet corn, lettuce and tomatoes, are up 6 percent.

Upland cotton production in Texas is now projected to be 57 percent lower than last year with 2.4 million bales.

Based on conditions surveyed by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service on Oct. 1, cotton production is expected to be at its lowest mark since 1975. Projected yield at 311 pounds per acre is down 65 pounds from that of 1981.

Hail and high winds in May and June destroyed much of the crop in the Plains, the state's major production area. The Southern High Plains producers expect to harvest 830,000 bales, 35 percent of the State's crop. Harvest there has dropped 69 percent from last year.

Many people believe that flying moths cause damage to wool fabrics. Actually, it is the larvae of the moth that causes the damage, and once the moth flies it has passed the larvae stage. Due to the heat, laundry or dry cleaning always removes any possibility of further damage--but the damage to the garment itself may become more obvious, explains Becky Saunders, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Any cleaning procedure does not prevent reinfestation, however, Research also shows that larvae of the moth will eat synthetic fabrics which are soiled by food stains.

Funeral Rites Held Nov. 1 For Mrs. Snead, 101

Funeral services were conducted on Monday, Nov. 1, at 3 p.m. for Mrs. Theodosia Snead, 101, in the First United Methodist Church. Officiating the rites was the Rev. Fred Cox. Burial followed in the Robert Lee Cemetery.

Mrs. Snead died on Saturday, Oct. 30, in the West Coke County Hospital.

She was born Theodosia Sloan on May 22, 1881 to Dr. and Mrs. David Sloan of Hill County, Texas. She and John Snead, a widower with six children, were married in Brandon, Texas on Jan. 4, 1916.

Mrs. Snead moved to Coke County with her new family shortly after her marriage. Most of the couple's married life was spent stock-farming near Robert Lee. She had no children of her own, but her disposition and manner endeared her to all and she became "Mammy" to her family and those close to her.

Her husband died in 1956 and Mrs. Snead lived with relatives until poor health dictated she enter the West Coke County Nursing Home a number of years ago. Two step-daughters and one step-son also preceded her in death.

Mrs. Snead if survived by three step-sons, Douglas Snead of Bronte, J.C. Snead of Robert Lee and Joe Long Snead of Roscoe; 11 grandchildren; a number of great-grandchildren; several fifth generation great-grandchildren; one niece, and two nephews.

Pallbearers for the services were Bud Thetford and J.F. McCabe, both of Robert Lee, Aubrey Denman, Jerry Parker and Randy Parker, all of Bronte and Norman Roberts of Coahoma.

Appearance Is Important To Ladies' Career

Does a woman's appearance really determine how successful she will be in her career? According to many "dress for success" authorities it does, reports Becky Saunders, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

A recent study funded by a major beauty products corporation photographed potential employees "before" and "after" makeovers.

According to the study, the recommended changes in hair-styles, makeup and clothing definitely improved the woman's possibility of being hired. Their salary estimates were also higher.

In response to the question, "what should a female manager or executive look like," the employers answered "confident, organized, in charge, serious, intellectual and career-oriented."

Eye contact and a direct smile were also considered very important by those who answered the questionnaire.

Hairstyles noticeably influenced employers, Saunders says. Shoulder-length or shorter styles were favored. In addition to being easy to care for, shorter hair also draws attention to the eyes and creates a more approachable and friendlier image. Women who were chosen tended to have natural hair color and makeup, and selected conservative jewelry and clothing.

VA News Items

When a Texas veteran dies, survivors are urged to submit a claim for burial benefits with the Waco Veterans Administration Regional Office.

Such action will allow the VA to officially advise the claimants about the burial benefits to which they are entitled.

Basically, since October 1, 1981, burial benefits have been available for veterans who died while receiving VA compensation or pension or were receiving military retirement pay instead of VA compensation; had original or reopened claims for VA compensation or pension at the time of death; died enroute to a VA medical facility for an examination or care under prior VA authorization, or died while under proper treatment in a VA medical facility.

For further information telephone the Waco VA Regional Office toll-free number listed in your telephone directory.

Comptroller To Have Rep In RL

State Comptroller Bob Bullock will have a representative from his San Angelo office in Robert Lee on November 16, 1982 to assist local taxpayers and answer questions about state taxes.

Bullock said Enforcement Office Esther Esparza will meet with local taxpayers in the Conference Room at the Coke County Courthouse from 9:00 a.m. to 10:00 a.m.

Girl Scout Adult Leaders Invited To Area Meet

All registered adult Girl Scouts are urged to attend the upcoming Area Association meeting. The meeting for Area III which encompasses Rotan, Roby, Roscoe, Robert Lee, Bronte, Blackwell, Snyder, Hermleigh will be held on November 11, 1982 from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. The location for this meeting will be the Camp Boothe Oaks, in Sweetwater.

The purpose for the meeting is a planning session for the long-range goals of the West Texas Council. Also, the meeting is intended to give direction to the Board of Directors concerning matters related to the West Texas Council. The West Texas Girl Scout Council is a participating agency of the United Way.

Hypertension, or high blood pressure, is a major health problem in the United States and is also a contributor to heart attacks and strokes. It has no clear signs or symptoms, and a person can have it and not know it, reminds Dr. Mary Ann Shirer, health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. It is important for all individuals to have their blood pressure checked regularly-- and if it is high-- to follow the treatment prescribed by their doctors.

A high-efficiency gas furnace makes a difference you can see.

The larger balloon could hold 104,000 cubic feet of natural gas; enough to heat an average home for more than a year.

The smaller balloon can also hold enough natural gas to heat the same home for the same amount of time.

Why the difference in size?

The larger balloon represents the gas capacity you'd need to operate a gas furnace built 10 or more years ago.

The smaller balloon represents the gas capacity you'd need with a new high-efficiency gas furnace.

Yes, it's quite a difference. Especially when you add up annual savings over the lifetime of the new furnace.

CUB SCOUT NEWS ITEMS

Local Cub Scouts, which make up Pack 461, have received their shipment of bluebonnet seeds. They will be selling the seed packets in support of the '64 Study Club's area bluebonnet planting project.

The young group of Cubs will sell door-to-door, beginning on Friday (today), and the seeds will also be available at four locations in Robert Lee: J&B Lumber and Hardware, Dawn Floral, The Flower Sak, and Butane Sales Co. They will all have a display of seeds. The boys will sell the packets as a fund raiser as well as a beautification measure.

The company which sells the bluebonnet seeds has "scarified" them, which means the hard, tough hull has been pierced and scratched by machinery, making them germinate more quickly and with better success. Plant your bluebonnets now, keep them watered, and watch for those tiny green rosettes which will become gorgeous stalks next spring.

Den Mothers Debbie Wilkes and Barbara Jameson are in charge of the seed sales and can answer your needs or questions.

Steers Down Bronte To Take Coke County Title

by Ronnie Baker

The Coke County Championship changed hands again last Friday night in Bronte when the Steers shut-out the Longhorns 28-0.

After a flimsy start, the Steers finally put it all together and completely overpowered the Longhorns with a ground game that chewed up 389 yards rushing. The defense held Bronte's ground coverage to minus yards. There's going to be a tuffy this Friday and the Steers would appreciate your support.

1st QUARTER

The Steers received the opening kickoff at the 10 yard line and Greg Grim returned it to the Bronte 49 for a 41 yard return. In five plays, Skinner and Grim gained the necessary yardage to score with Skinner going over from the 2 yard line standing up. Anthony kicked the extra point and with only a minute and 53 seconds gone, the Steers had 7 points. The Steers kicked off to Bronte, but with little gain, they punted to the Steer 30. The Steers started another drive, but Bronte held on downs at their 23. The Steers proceeded to stop the Longhorns again and they punted to the Steer 46. Again the Steers started a drive, but fumbled with Bronte taking over on the Bronte 31. Again the Steers held and as the quarter ended, Bronte punted to the Steer 10 yard line.

2nd QUARTER

The Steers moved the ball well to the Bronte 22, but fumbled. Again they held Bronte and Bronte punted to the Steer 43. The ball is turned over again as Bronte intercepted a pass and returned it to the Bronte 38. The tide turned as Bronte fumbled and the Steers got the ball at the Bronte 23. From the 20, Hood lofted a pass in the end zone and Lupe Torrez sacked it in for another TD with little time remaining, Anthony kicked the extra point and it was 14 to 0. The Steers kicked off and Bronte made a first down at the Steer 47 as the first half ended.

3rd QUARTER

In the third quarter, Bronte made their deepest penetration to the Steer 4 yard line. The Steer defense got tough and by fourth down the ball was back to the Steer 34 and a penalty moved it back to the Steer 49, where the Steers took over. The Steers made a couple of first downs, but Bronte intercepted another pass and returned it to the Bronte 44. The Steers got it right back on second down as Johnny Torrez recovered a fumble at the Bronte 42, as the third quarter ended.

4th QUARTER

The Steers couldn't move so Bronte took over on downs at their 31. Bronte made a first, but the Steers held again and they had to punt to the Steer 28. Then the Steers proceeded to go for five first downs and another score with Skinner driving in from the two yard line. The extras failed and the score was 20 to 0. Bronte received the kickoff and drove for a first down at the Steer 44, but the Steers held on downs at the Bronte 18. The Steers did it again as they moved for another TD with Skinner scoring from the three yard line. Grim ran the extras and it was 28 to 0. After that, with little time remaining, it was just the same as over.
