Steer-Bearcat Action

R-LEE STEERS MANHANDLE G-CITY BEARCATS, 24 TO 6

by Ronnie Baker

Oh, it was a GRIM night for the Garden City Bearcats on this TORRES (sic) night as the Steers put a HOOD on the Bearcat offense. The Steers rung their BELL with a few surprise attacks by SKINNERing them in the second half to completely dominate the game. It was no TRAMPAS through the park, but it was BOONE-y brook win as the Irish would say. The Steers outwrestled the Bearcats on the line of scrimmage using a half NELSON hold on their attack for a total of 179 yards, while the Steers piled up 233 yards.

FIRST QUARTER

The Steers received the opening kickoff at their own 12, with Greg Grim returning it to the S. 38. On the first play the Steers pass only to have it intercepted at the Bearcat 26. Then on their first play, they fumble and Jim Bob Jacobs recovers at the G.C. 23. The Steers moved for a few yards, but G.C. then intercepts another pass at the 11 yard line. But the tension is high evidently as G.C. fumbles it right back to the Steers as Jim Skinner recovers a fumble at the G.C. 11. Then the Steers fumble with G.C. recovering at their 9 yard line. All this consumed the first six minutes of time as though neither one of them wanted the ball. Finally G.C. makes a 1st down without fumbling, but the Steers then hold and they punt to the S. 41. The Steers fail to move the ball and they punt short to the S. 48. Then the action starts for G.C. as they drive all the way to score the first touchdown. They fail on the extra points and it is 6 to 0. The Steers return the kickoff to the S. 39 and the quarter ends at the Steer 44.

SECOND QUARTER

The Steers make a 1st down, but then G.C. holds and Rasco punts one out of the end zone with G.C. getting the ball at the

20. The Steers get a break as G.C. fumbles again with Bobby Boone recovering at the G.C. 19. But, G.C. holds on downs at the 10, but again G.C. fumbles the ball and Gery Naico recovers the ball at the 13 yard line. The Steers can't punch it in, so they settle for a field goal with Naico kicking a 26 yarder to reduce the score to 6 to 3. The Steers kickoff with a return to the G.C. 30. They make two 1st downs, but the Steers then hold and they punt to the Steer 29 yard line. Then the Steers break the ice as Rasco rolls out and hits Larry Palmer with a short pass and Palmer breaks a tackle at the 40 and races for a 71 yard pass and run TD. Naico kicked the extra point and the Steers are on top 10 to 6 with 2 minutes left. The Steers kickoff with a return to the G.C. 27. They make a 1st down, but then Eddie Hood intercepts a pass and returns it to the S. 40. The Steers, then just run out the clock to end the first half.

THIRD QUARTER

G.C. received the 2nd half kickoff and get the ball at their 27. The Steers held them at the 23 on downs and they punt to the S. 41. The Steers make a 1st down, but then they have to punt and G.C. gets the ball at the 20 after the punt goes into the end zone. The Steers get the ball back on a punt to their 20 and on a time consuming drive take the ball to the 20 yard line as the quarter ends.

FOURTH QUARTER

On the first play of the 4th quarter, the Steers fake another field goal try and Eddie Hood rolls to the right and throws a TD. pass to Greg Grim in the end zone. Naico kicked the extra point and it was then 17 to 6.

G.C. received the kickoff at their 15 and returned to the G.C. 32. The Steers hold there and they punt to the S. 20. The Steers

Annual School Homecoming Planned Oct. 14

The Robert Lee Ex-Students Association, along with personnel from the school, have begun plans for the annual Homecoming to be held this year on Friday, October 14.

The 1983 Homecoming will include a reception on Friday afternoon at the school, the Homecoming Parade downtown, the Pep Rally, the Steer football contest against Water Valley, with special half-time activities, a final visitation following the game, and the Homecoming Dance.

Traditionally, the Homecoming has been a festive, joyful time enjoyed by the whole town as old friends return and usually spend the entire weekend.

For the Homecoming to be a success, everyone should take part, whether it's entering a float in the parade, or letting our friends and relatives know about it so they may keep the weekend free for the 1983 Homecoming.

GO STEER'S

Greenwood was picked for third place in the Coaches Poll. The Rangers are 2-2 for the season while the Steers carry a 4-0 record into the contest. The Rangers lost a large number of their starting players from last year, but they have a size advantage over the Steers. Or do they? They may outweigh the Steers, but we all know our boys don't let a minor thing like that stand in their way. They just outrun and outdodge their opponents. So watch out Rangers, the Steers are looking for WIN #5.

All fans are urged to Follow the Steers! Let's pack the stands at these games and give these boys the support they need and deserve.

Fans are again reminded that district contest begin at 7:30 p.m.

LAST WEEK'S RESULTS

Irion County 23, Bronte 6; Eden 39, Water Valley 7; Robert Lee 24, Garden City 6; Greenwood 32, Sterling County 15.

THIS WEEK'S SCHEDULE

Bronte at Sterling City; Irion County at Eden; Water Valley at Garden City; Robert Lee at Greenwood.

Lions Club Broom Sale Set For Oct. 8

The Robert Lee Lion's Club Annual Mop and Broom sale will be Saturday, October 8. The Cracker Barrel Grocery will be the headquarters in Robert Lee.

Numerous household items can be bought at this sale. There will be a wide selection of mops, brooms, brushes, doormats and other miscellaneous items.

The benefit your local Lion's Club receives from these sales is a small one compared to the benefit received by the many blind and multi-handicapped citizens employed by the Lighthouses for the Blind, who make these items.

Lion's Club sales of blind-made merchandise help make it possible for the Lighthouses for the Blind to assist the blind and multi-handicapped population in various ways, such as counseling, grooming, homemaking, etc. Most important, however, is vocational and job placement; workshop employment in the Lighthouse and ultimately, job placement of the most proficient into outside industry.

Everyone, mark October 8, on your calendar and come buy the items you need at the Lion's Club Annual Mop and Broom sale. Your purchases will "Help The Blind To Help Themselves".

The Federal Government is the largest single employer of women in the United States.

REPORTS

Cashiers in grocery checkout lines across our state, not the number crunchers in Washington, will ring up the alarming dollar signs when it finally comes time to total up West Texas drought damage.

The food prices you and I will pay tomorrow are being decided by what happens to our food producers today.

U.S. Agriculture Secretary John Block is downplaying the early warning signs reflected in August food price figures released by the U.S. Department of Labor. He continues to characterize food as an "inflation fighter" even as vegetable prices climbed 16.5 percent in August, a turnaround from an 11.9 percent drop in July.

Beef prices dipped by 1.3 percent last month, but food industry analysts say lower prices are only a short-term effect of increased cattle sales forced by drought conditions. Diners in Dallas, Detroit, and Dayton can expect to fork over more money for a Texas T-bone in another six months.

The hard times facing Texas farmers and ranchers will have a domino effect on related industries, such as steel and farm machinery, already plagued by layoffs and depressed sales.

Secretary Block never responded to my invitation to tour the West Texas drought area, and he "drought relief" he offered all far short of what is needed.

It is no surprise that only a handful of Texas farmers and ranchers have applied for federal loans at interest rates of 8 to 14 percent. Already mortgaged to the hilt, they cannot repay what they owe now.

For this reason, I have asked Secretary Block to approve emergency payments to Texas farmers and ranchers to cover existing debts and help purchase feed. Even more important is the need to release federally owned corn stored in the Texas Panhandle since the 1980 Russian grain embargo.

This low-grade grain, unfit for human consumption, is costing taxpayers $5 million a year to warehouse when it could feed starving cattle and keep West Texas ranchers from going broke.

Secretary Block has coldshouldered this request while Texas cattlemen have watched the summer heat wave scorch the grazing land. Their alternatives are few: sell off their herds at low prices, transport the cattle to better grazing land hundreds of miles away, or continue purchasing expensive feed.

Bill Honaker, a Fort Stockton rancher for 32 years, told me he has cut his herd from 1,028 to 319 head since January. He says his feed bill increased from $4,628 in 1982 to more than $30,000 during the first eight months of 1983.

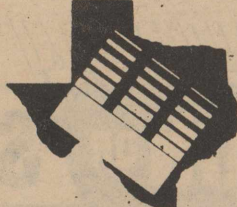

Many Texas ranchers cannot afford that kind of feed bill. The Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Far West District, reports 30-40 percent of area ranchers have had to get rid of all their cattle, while others sold 50-60 percent of their herds. Land unsuitable for grazing offers even less hope to farmers trying to coax crops from stubborn cracked soil.

The far corners of our state and nation are tied to West Texas by the economics of the dinner table. We need to offer more than crumbs of "drought relief" to those who feed us.

Mrs. Thomason Attends Meet

Jerry Thomason, County Treasurer, Coke County, along with some 175 other Texas county treasurers attended the 35th Annual Texas County Treasurers' Conference in San Angelo, September 20-22, 1983. The Conference was the conclusion of a highly productive year for Texas county treasurers under the leadership of President Bill Melton, Dallas County Treasurer. The agenda included headline speeches from State Treasurer Ann Richards, Attorney General Jim Mattox, Secretary of State John Fainter, and House County Affairs Chairman Gary Thompson, as well as financial and educational discussions and workshops.

Mrs. Thomason explained that the County Treasurers' Association was instrumental in the passage of four bills during the 68th Session of the Texas Legislature, including HB 570, the county treasurers' continuing education bill which requires 20 hours of classroom training in the duties of county treasurer each 24 months. The organization also published the new Texas County Treasurers' Procedures Manual in cooperation with the V.G. Young Institute for County Government, a part of the Texas A&M System.

It is normal to feel angry sometimes. Anger is a healthy emotion for people. Even children feel anger. Sometimes it makes them feel better. Anger helps get the "mad" out, too.

At times, angry feelings result in hurtful actions. These actions must be stopped. Children should not be permitted to hurt other children, their parents, property or themselves. It is important that parents not make children ashamed of their feelings. However, children need to learn to express anger without hurting others or feeling guilty.

Younger preschool children (3-year-old, usually show anger in physical ways: Biting, hitting, kicking or breaking things. As they get older (4 to 5 years of age), children will use words to tell others they are mad. Help and encourage your child to say, "It makes me mad when you do that," or "Stop hitting me - it hurts."

What makes a child angry? Children become angry when they are stopped from something they enjoy. Children become angry when others tease or make fun of them.

Many children learn that anger is a sure and easy way to get adults' attention. They see others get results from temper tantrums. So children think it will work for them, too. If parents let temper tantrums attract their attention, children may use them every time they get angry.

You can help your child by...

1. Setting a good example. Be careful about how you express your own anger. Using harsh language, screaming or hitting family members hurts. Remember, children learn most of their actions from parents.

2. Talk about anger. Find out what made your child mad. Help him understand his feelings, so he will learn that anger is a normal feeling. Let him know that you understand and are willing to help. He needs to know it is okay to feel angry sometimes.

3. Help a child learn to express anger. Teach him ways that he can control his angry feelings. Suggest that your child use words when he is mad. Try "I am mad because..." or "It makes me mad when..." Let your child know you love him, even when you do not approve of some of his actions.

Tickets Still Available To Concert, Dance

The Extension Way
People Helping People

Fall is generally time for producers to examine their herds and cull any undesirables. The drought coupled with expected high feed costs this winter are added reasons producers should take a hard look at their herds. Any animals found to be open, older or unthrifty should be the first to cull.

With the existing conditions, producers should wean calves a little earlier than normal to allow cows to pick up a little before winter. Also, it takes less supplemental feed for dry cows than lactating cows. In this same frame of mind, producers might consider culling fairly deep on mature cows and keeping a larger percentage of replacement heifers as they also require less feed than mature cows.

To assist the producer in this annual culling process, some sort of individual cow identification such as ear tags can be a very useful management tool. Throughout the year "problem" cows, those that lose a calf, raise unthrifty calves or those that generally are uneconomical can be jotted down and a record kept to aid in the culling process next year.

For producers who calve year-round, individual cow identification enables you to write down the approximate date each cow calves, and a record of calving interval determined. Those cows taking 12-18 months to calve back should be culled.

Ft. Chadbourne-Hayrick Reunion Set For Oct. 2

The Fort Chadbourne-Hayrick Reunion will take place on Sunday, October 2, at the Bronte Recreation Center at the County Park. Dinner will be served at 12:00 and all friends of these two old communities are invited to attend.

Meat, paper goods, and drinks will be provided. Those attending are asked to bring salads, vegetables, or desserts of their choice and come and be together for the day.

SWCD To Elect New Director

An election for a director to serve in Zone 5 on the Coke County Soil and Water Conservation District Board is scheduled for October 6, 1983 at 10:30 a.m. The election will be held in the conference room in the Coke County Courthouse, announced Horace Scott, secretary of the board.

State law decrees that to be eligible to vote in a soil and water conservation district election, a person must own agricultural land within the zone where the election is being held. The person must also live in a county all or any part of which is in the district and the voter must be at least 18 years old.

Legal qualifications state that a candidate for the office of a district director must own land in the zone he represents, be at least 18 years of age, and be actively engaged in farming and ranching. He must also live in a county all or any part of which is in the district.

Zone 5 of the district includes land from the south county line on both sides of Hwy. 208 to just North of the Hayrick Cemetery, and to just South of Sanco.

Current members of the board are: Joe Rawlings, Royce Fancher, Horace Scott, Wilbern Millikan, and Finnell Smith.

The purpose of the district is to promote sound conservation programs on farm and ranch lands within the district. All conservation programs sponsored by the district are of a voluntary nature to the landowner or operator.

Most of the credit can go to the cold front for the sharp drop in the number of fish caught this past week. The fisherman were here and most fished the same way and places they had all summer and went home with little to show for their efforts. This rapid drop in the shallow water temperature no doubt moved the fish out into deeper water for the time being. A change like this throws everything out of kilter, add a full moon and a barometer that's high and steady and it's a good time to stay home unless you are just coming for the outing are need the practice. Generally the weather is near perfect, but seldom will you find the fish very cooperative.

Crappie are often an exception and will bite better during and after a siege of bad weather than at any other time. Most experienced fisherman think the crappie are the craziest fish in the lake anyway. Three people can be fishing from a boat, one catching fish like mad and the other two, not every as much as get a bite. Because this often happens it's best to go crappie fishing with good friends. Bob Cope and Rufus Rush of Lubbock got a fine string of crappie last Saturday and were back late buying more bait. At the time they were in the store, they had over thirty fish with several going over a pound. DeWayne Crawford of Odessa caught several good fish from their dock.

Now would be a good time to try trolling here in Oak Creek. There is no telling what you might catch. Member some three years ago when Fred Clayton of Earth caught what turned out to be our lake record yellow cat-while trolling a white-boomer bait- off Rocky Point. Catching a 63 pound catfish on a rod and reel is an experience few fisherman ever get and even fewer land.

The water temperature took a nose dive dropping from 79 to 71 degrees. The level is down about 1 1/2 inches from last week and the water is clear.

Energy Conservation and Power Subcommittee in Washington this afternoon, Lone Star Vice President Neal Hall said neither program merits continuation.

"Neither program can ever be cost-effective and, as a consequence, places an unnecessary cost burden on Lone Star's customer," he told subcommittee members. "Lone Star urges repeal of both of these programs to the benefit of its more than 1.2 million customers who otherwise must continue to pay needlessly higher utility bills."

Hall's comments refer to Congress's mandate that utility companies must offer home energy audits to all eligible customers, and must soon begin offering similar energy audits to eligible commercial and apartment customers. These conservation programs are required by the National Energy Conservation Policy Act of 1978 and the Energy Security Act.

"Unlike the many conservation programs and information Lone Star historically has offered, the RCS program is not cost-effective for our customers," Hall said. The reduction in natural gas usage by customers who have had the RCS audits is minute, particularly when you realize that some 97 percent of customers neither want nor use this program Hall continued. It has cost Lone Star, and ultimately the customers, some $2.1 million to date. In other words, Hall said, the RCS program has achieved conservation at the cost of more than $82 per thousand cubic feet of gas conserved.

Speaking after the hearing, Hall added, "On behalf of its customers, Lone Star has opposed these programs since their inception." He also applauded Congressman Ralph Hall (D-Rockwall) for making the hearing possible. He said, "In doing so, the Congressman has provided consumers of this area an outstanding service."

Rep. Hall represents the 4th Congressional District of Texas.

Steer JV Team Winner Over Bronte, 20-6

Coach Wayne Alexander lauded his Steer JV team for a good defensive effort in their rout of the Bronte Longhorn JV's in Bronte last Thursday night. He cited the efforts of Michael Torres, Tim Garringer, Randy Stephens, and Shane Smith as outstanding in the 20-6 win.

In the first quarter, the Steers got on the board with a 55 yard run by Tim Garringer for the TD. He also ran the extra point in to make it 8-0. On the final day of the second quarter, quarterback Randy Stephens threw a heart-stopping pass to Leo Saucedo for a 63 yard pass play for the Steers second touchdown of the night. The run for the extra point failed as the gun sounded for the halftime making the score 14-0.

The Bronte Longhorns scored in the third quarter, while their extra point try failed, making the tally 14-6.

In the final period a 34 yard pass play from Randy Stephens to Tim Garringer netted a touchdown for the Steers. The extra point attempt again failed and the final score was big win for the Steers, at 20-6.

then made a couple of 1st downs, but then G.C. halts them and Rasco punts out of the end zone again, and G.C. gets the ball at their 20. Then fate strikes again as G.C. fumbles at their 11 with Bobby Boone recovering. The Steers move to the 7 yard line, where Rasco fakes a play into the line, and keeps it around end for another TD.

Naico kicks another extra point and the score is 24 to 6. Then with the kickoff, G.C., desperately tries to score with Larry Palmer intercepting a pass at the S.33 yard line. The Steers can't move and punt to the G.C. 37. But Palmer intercepts another pass and the Steers decide to run out the clock at the G.C. 20.
