Agricultural

Coastal Bermuda is the most promising of the new grasses, and it is rapidly gaining in imas in the future, says Dr. R. C. portance in Texas. This grass Potts, associate professor of is similar to common Bermuda, but the joints of the stems and rhizomes are longer and its leaves have a light green color and are longer than the leaves of common grass. Potts points out that, although this grass produces seed heads, the heads do not produce viable seed; therefore, it must be spread through sprigs or rhizomes.

Buffel grass grows wild throughout the whole continent of Africa, in Sicily, and eastward to northwest India. Since it was first introduced at the Angleton Station in 1917, it has been planted at several other Texas Experiment Stations. Several introductions have been received, but Potts says that none of them look alike.

The type of Buffel grass which looks best to the forage specialists grows about three feet high, is light green in color, and the stems are a little smaller than a lead pencil. According to Potts, reports from Australia and Africa indicate that Buffel grass is relished by livestock and that it is resistant to drouth. He says that this species will probably find a place in Texas agriculture, but it needs further South African bluestem, also known as Thatch grass or Dekgrass, is a native of Africa and South America. It was introduced into the United States in 1905 from Pretoria, South Africa. However, testing of this species did not start in Texas until 1941. African bluestem grows to a height of about five feet, the stems and leaves are blue in color, and the plant is leafy at the base. When the plant matures, it is stemmy and not desirable for grazing. African bluestem is adapted to Central Texas and south. It will grow on a wide variety of soils and is quite drouth resistant.

Several kinds of the perennial crab grasses from Africa show promise for use in Texas. Florida farmers and ranchers have found one of these grasses known as Pangola grass to be extremely well adapted to their conditions. The Houston Chamber of Commerce and the Farm and Ranch Club of that city recently sponsored a trip to Florida to get first-hand information on Pangola grass, and has the advantage of the continuing those making the trip are very much enthused about it. Pangola will be tested throughout East Texas and Gulf Coast

In addition to the introduced species, Potts points out that many of the native which are already well adapted to Texas conditions are being  domesticated and tested forage yield. Texas winter grass, 46 Ounce Can or spear grass, appears to be one of the most promising native grasses. It gives excellent growth when fertilizer and cultivated. Other native grasses that are in the process of being domesticated are little bluestem, switch grass, side-coat gramma, blue gramma, buffalo grass and

Make Legibility Tests Of Sundry Printed Matter

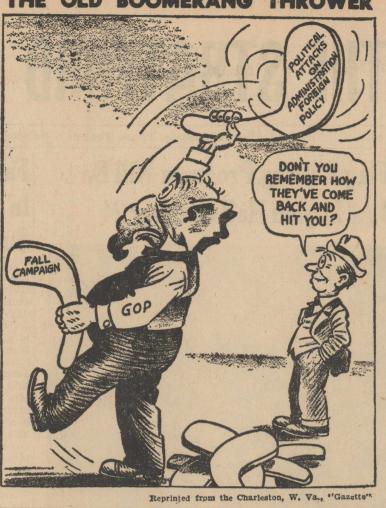

Tests of the legibility of printed matter, as measured by speed in reading, indicate that no great differences exist among most of the type faces in common use. As between material printed in all-capitals and in small letters, however, the results show a superiority of 12 per cent in favor of small letters or more properly lower-case type.

The greater legibility of lowercase is due to the fact that it is more familiar to the eye and that the letters have more distinctive traits in the form of serifs, differences in size, and the like. For example, the I's and h's are taller than the m's and e's. These differences in size, shape, and serifs give the letters something for the eye to "catch." Further, they help to make a word recognizable at a glance. That is important for fast reading, because the reader does not spell out the words letter by letter but sees them as a whole, just as we recognize a face by its total appearance and not by examining separately the eyes, nose, and other features.

The length of the printed line. or width of the type body on the page, has a good deal to do with easy legibility. Tests have indicated that a type-line 80 millimeters long, or about 3 1/5 inches, provides the easiest legibility.

Size of the type in the 80-millimeter line also affects the results. The most effective size was found to be 10-point type, which runs about 7.2 lines to the vertical inch. Both larger and smaller type, whether printed in 80-millimeter or longer or shorter lines, result in less TRAVERSE CITY, Mich.—George Washington, so legend says, cut down one cherry tree. Fred E. Reed of Sutton's Bay did better than that, however. He ordered workers to cut down his orchard of 250 trees.

It all came about when Reed was offered only 4 cents a pound for his crop of Michigan sour cherries. "I'll clear the ground and raise strawberries," Reed declared flat-

Last year's crop of Michigan sour cherries brought 9 cents a pound. Packers are offering 4 cents for this year's early crop, but promised growers additional payment (possibly up to 3 cents a pound) later if the price of the processed pack warrants it.

But Reed isn't interested in subsidy prices.

'When I can't raise cherries and make a profit without depending on price supports I'll quit growing them." he declared.

The only trees he left standing were a few for his personal use.

58 Persons Die in Crash Of DC-4 in Lake Michigan

ST. JOSEPH, Mich. - About 19 miles northwest of St. Joseph, at the bottom of Lake Michigan, is the remains of a giant DC-4 which crashed and carried 58 persons to their death in the worst air disaster in the nation's history.

It probably will never be known what caused the crash. Debris scattered over the area indicated a tremendous crash or explosion. Most pieces of wreckage were no more than inches square.

Searchers found hundreds of pieces of the foam rubber cushions. Coastguardsmen, using boat hooks, fished wreckage from the lake. They brought up a pair of brown wool trousers, the pockets empty and the buckle ripped from the belt.

There were some flight kits, maps bearing the name of Northwest Airlines, a man's white handkerchief, a bank book of the National City Bank of New York, a green jacket of a woman's dress, a man's shorts. and parts of bodies.

Among the debris was a child's shoes and a little girl's rag doll. The doll was one of the few things that came out of the crash complete and

For centuries the big olack soap kettle was a household utensil. Every family in this country made its own soap orborrowed from neighbors. Dramatic progress began in the twentieth century with the invention of the washing machine. Along with it came the first soap flakes, in 1918. The first synthetic detergents originated in an American laboratory 20 years later. Today soap and synthetic detergents are made in many huge factories, employing tens of thousands. Soap, with its allied products, has become a huge industry. NATIONAL PATENT COUNCIL PATENTS INSPIRE INVENTIONS ... INVENTIONS BUILD AMERICA!

RUNNING AMERICA is the joint job of 150,000,000 people. It's the biggest job in the world today -keeping it running for liberty and for freedom. And the whole world's watching to see whether Americans can do it!

IN MUCH OF THE WORLD today, the people have resigned from running their own countries. Others have been quick to step in-first with promises of "security"—and then with whips and guns—to run things their way. The evidence is on every front page in the world, every day.

FREEDOM COMES UNDER ATTACK. The reality of war has made every American think hard about the things he's willing to work and fight for-and freedom leads the list.

But that freedom has been attacked here recently—just as it has been attacked in other parts of the world. One of the most serious threats to individual freedom has been the threat of Government-dominated Compulsory Health Insurance, falsely presented as a new guarantee of health "security" for everybody.

THE PEOPLE WEIGH THE FACTS. In the American manner, the people studied the case for Socialized Medicine—and the case against it.

They found that Government domination of the people's medical affairs under Compulsory Health Insurance means lower standards of medical care, higher payroll taxes, loss of incentive, damage to research, penalties for the provident, rewards for the improvident.

They found that no country on earth can surpass America's leadership in medical care and progress. They found that able doctors, teachers, nurses and scientists -working in laboratories where Science, not Politics, is master-are blazing dramatic new trails to health for Americans—and for the world.

THE "GRASS ROOTS" SIGNALS CONGRESS. In every community in the Nation, people stood up to be counted on this important issue. Thousands of local women's clubs, civic groups, farm, business, religious, taxpayer, medical, educational and patriotic organizations spoke out-giving the great United States Congress its unmistakable Grass Roots signal from home!

And ever watchful, ever sensitive to an alert people, The Congress saw that signal, and heard the people speak out, loud and plain. That's democracy in action. That's the American way!

Today among the 10,000 great organizations on militant public record against "Compulsory Health Insurance" are:

Hospital Association

American Legion National Association of Small Business Men United States Chamber of Commerce National Association of Retail Grocers National Retail Dry Goods Association American Bar Association

• Doctors of this Nation are grateful that the people refused to be wooed by the fantastic promises of this un-American excursion into State Socialism. • Doctors of America are dedicated to serve their fellow citizens at home and their comrades in uniform, wherever service to this Nation may take them. • And the thing they stand ready to fight for-to sacrifice for-to die for-is not the alien way of life of Socialism, but the prideful security of a free and self-reliant people!

THE VOLUNTARY WAY IS THE AMERICAN WAY!

 Throughout the Nation, free men and women, working and planning together, are finding the American answer to every question of medical service, care and cost. Hundreds of Voluntary Health Insurance Plans are in healthy competition—sponsored by doctors, insurance companies, hospitals, fraternal organizations—by industry, agriculture and labor. • Today in America-70 million people are protected by Voluntary Health Insurance! • Throughout the Nation, families are insuring themselves against the major costs of illness-at reasonable, budget-basis prices. Voluntary Health Insurance takes the economic shock out of illness. Protect your family now. • For information, ask your doctor-or your insurance man.

WHY WE EXIST AS A CHURCH

(By Clyde Aly) Have you been to a church recently where you heard this kind of a prayer offered? "Lord, we are so thankful unto thee that thou hast provided so many fine churches that we might join the one of our choice and worship the way our conscience Note the marked contrast between that prayer and the one offered by Jesus, John 17:20, 21: "Neither for these only do I pray, but for them also that believe on me through their word; that they may all be one; even as thou Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us; that the world may believe that thou didst send me" On the one hand, you have some man thanking God for the divided state of Christendom today; on the other we hear the Son of God praying earnestly to His heavenly Father that all those who believe on His name might be one — not just a loose union, but a oneness like unto that which exists in Christ and God. which exists in Christ and in "Even as thou, Father, art in and I in thee." V. 21. A oneness of purpose, heart, mind, teaching, and practice. There is no religious organization today who desires unity among all believers in Christ more than the church of Christ. In view of this fact, it is perfectly natural for the question to enter the minds of "Why then, does not the church of Christ merge with her religious neighbors, seeing that she claims to believe in, teach and practice the unity of all believers in Christ?" This is a very fair question, and when asked in the right spirit and for the right motive it deserves a clear and complete answer.

One of the foremost reasons for this condition is this: the church of Christ believes,

Farm Fires Can Largely Be Prevented

The week of October 8 to 14 is Fire Prevention Week." Texas farm families can well afford to take time out this week to check the farm for fire hazards. Regular checking of farm buildings for fire hazards and the removal of the hazards will prevent many fires.

Each year in the United States, some 3,500 residents of rural communities lose their lives in fires. The farm fire loss amounts to about $100,000,-000 annually. Many farm buildings are under insured or carry no insurance at all and with some building materials at alltime peak prices and others impossible to get, you just can't afford to have a fire.

Since most farm buildings are of wood construction and built with little thought of fire safety, care must be exercised at all times in the use of the buildings. Hay, grain, fuels and most other materials stored on farms burn rapidly and usually no fire fighting equipment is available for putting out fires while they are small. The wise thing to do then, is to remove the possible causes of fires on the farm. Records kept by the National Fire Protection Association shows that most farm fires are caused by defective chimneys and heating apparatus; combustible roofs; lightning; spontaneous ignition; misuse of electricity; careless smoking and handling of matches and the improper use and storage of gasoline and other farm fuels. A thorough check of the farm | den hose and a pressure water will reveal these hazards if they system provide valuable protecexist on your farm, and the tion. > "I Couldn't Put A Cow In The Bank"

There was a time when cattle were a medium of exchange instead of money. Your "money" might get sick, might die, and you couldn't, certainly, store it in a bank and have it get more valuable with every passing year! It's no wonder that our monetary system was developed. You get better returns by banking regularly. Make it a habit.

One flag pattern kit was sent o each home demonstration agent in Texas in order that she might hold a demonstration for training leaders in making the United Nations flag. The first flag made in each county is being used for educational and publicity purposes.

It's Doughnut Time

Long Johns and Bismarcks are two members of the popular dough-nut family. They're exceptionally fluffy and tender because they are made from a sweet yeast dough

Doughnuts are one of the best breads invented to go with hot fragrant coffee, rich cocoa, or just plain chilled milk. Both cake and yeast-type doughnuts are available in variety from the bakers, but they are fun to make at home now and then. Doughnuts are appropriate for informal parties at which they are guaranteed to disappear

A bit of nutmeg is added for spice to the sweet yeast dough used for yeast doughnuts, Long Johns and Bismarcks. Today's recipe tells how to use the one dough for plain doughnuts with the hole, twists, Bismarcks, and Long Johns. When cool, roll plain doughnuts and twists in granulated sugar, or cinnamon and sugar. Sprinkle Bis-marcks with powdered sugar and frost Long Johns with confectioners'

sugar icing,

To check the temperature of the fat used for frying doughnuts without a thermometer, drop a one-inch cube of bread into the hot fat. If it browns in 60 seconds, the temperature is right for frying twists, roll small portions of dough under the hand and twist the dough back on itself. For Bismarcks, roll the dough 1/2 inch thick and cut into pieces 1 inch wide and 3 inches long or cut with a biscuit cutter. Let rise until doubled, and fry in deep fat (375° F.). Makes about 3 dozen doughnuts.

Warns Of VD Increase

Venereal infections, notably syphilis and gonorrhea, will probably increase sharply in cities and towns near military centers in the near future, State Health Officer George W. Cox has predicted.

He urged all cities, especially those in which greater numbers of military personnel were expected, to intensify their ferrots to control venereal diseases.

Experience during World War Two, the health official said, indicates that unless civilians become as concerned about the venereal disease problem as are military and public health authorities, there will "most certainly" be a great increase in venereal disease infections among men in uniform and the civilian population as well.

"That doesn't mean all soldiers are destined for VD infection," Dr. Cox declared. "It means simply that vice conditions, poorly supervised recreational facilities, and an indifferent attitude on the part of the public are inevitable around military posts and all contribute to higher VD rates."

"These young men were only civilians," he pointed out. "They worked or went to school in communities no different than yours or mine."

He urged that they be provided with wholesome recreational facilities while "in your town. It will help make their lives in uniform a little less drab and monotonous." The State Department of Health has been working

Lesson for October 15, 1950

THE BIBLE must be approached in three ways: with the head. in three ways: with the head, with the heart and with the will. With the head for understanding, the heart for appreciation and reverence, and the will for obedience.

That was the first question Philip asked the Ethiopian: Do you understand what you are reading? Not do you enjoy it, or do you believe it. but do you under-stand it? If not, then the reader can neither fully believe nor rightly enjoy it. . . .

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney func-tion. The King James Version

THE BEST and simplest help in understanding the Bible is to read it in the language we speak. Now unfortunately it was not written in that tongue, but in Hebrew and Greek. We have to read it in translations. There are scores of translations in English alone.

The most widely sold of these is the one known by various names: the King James, or the Authorized, or the 1611, version. This was first published in 1611, being essentially a revision of the Bishop's Bible, a still earlier translation. The name "authorized" is misleading, however, for it never was authorized by church or state. It is a noble example of 17th century English and has had a wide influence wherever English-speaking people have gone.

The fact is, however, that people today do not speak 17thcentury English any more, and very few of us even read it. Consequently the Bible, in this King James version, has a quaint Shakespearian sound, and the difficulty of the language is one of the main reasons why the average American today finds it hard to read.

Furthermore, the King James is inaccurate in many places. At the time it was published, the translators were working from Greek manuscripts which are now known not to be either the earliest or the best available. For these reasons, fresh translations of the Bible were greatly needed.

20th Century Translations

THESE modern-English translations of the Bible haven't changed the Book; they are simply helping the reader to get back to the ideas of the original apostles and prophets; they are putting the Bible again into the language people actually speak.

Some of the more important versions may be noted here. Practically all the churches of Protestant North America have been co operating through the International Council of Religious Education, in producing what is called the "Revised Standard Version" of which the New Testament is already out, and very popular too. The whole Bible in this version is due to be off the press by September 1952. This is an excellent version for church or liturgical use, as It keeps close to the King James rhythm wherever it can; for the King James version, whatever its faults, has a rhythm about parts of it (notably the Psalms) which has never been surpassed. Two other translations have been before the public, and have won many friends, for a score of years now: Moffat's, and the American Translation by Goodspeed, J.M.P. Smith and others. (This latter includes the Apocrypha, to which most Protestants are strangers). . . .

At One Sitting

THE average reader, used to taking his Bible in snippets of a verse or two, or a chapter at most. at one time, will find that he can sit down with one of these modern translations and just read on and on, fascinated by the book he has discovered for the first time.

One of the "hardest" yet most important parts of the Bible, for instance, is the Epistles section of the New Testament. Every one of these epistles is a short letter, but how few persons ever read one straight through! Let the reader who is puzzled by the Epistles get a copy of "Letters to Young Churches," a translation by J. B. Phillips, and he will find that dark part of the New Testament simply opening up and shining. The work of translating will go on and on as long as language keeps changing; let us thank God for all those who in our time have been making the Word of God again an open book for all men.

Nation's Fire Bill

Fires burn nearly $2,000,000 a day in homes, office buildings, valuable timber land, foodstuffs and other resources that are virtually irreplaceable, according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters. Although fire losses dipped slightly last year for the first time since 1942, the cost of damaged American property came to $667,536,000, the highest for any country in the world. The National Board cautions that the slight decline from the previous year's phenomenal fire bill of $711.114.000 should not be a sign for any relaxation in the fire-safety precautions.

Reduces Cancer

side human bodies are being reduced or wiped out by a powerful new X-ray, medical scientists re-

The X-rays are 2,000,000 to 23,-The Pony Express was known | 000,000 volts in power, the strongest ever used medically. They come from super X-ray machines of various kinds.

They can reach deeper into the body, with more punch. They don't affect all cancers, for some tumors resist X-rays or at least have not been affected by less powerful rays. One machine, a Van de Graaf generator, produces 2,000-volt Xrays. This means X-rays with double the power of all the medical radium in the world, Said Dr. John G. Trump of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology The rays can deliver 60 percent of their tremendous energy to cancers three or four inches deeper inside the body, he said. They speed through the skin, bone, and other tissues without doing much damage to these healthy tissues. They don't slow down enough for damaging work until they have gone a few inches.

A rediscovered trick of treatment makes the beam even more potent. Dr. Trump said. This is to put the patient on a turntable, revolving slowly, to change the angle of the X-ray bombardment. The cancer then gets the X-ray from all sides. There is far less chance of injuring the skin where the beam enters, or other healthy tissue. This rotating idea was first tried in England nearly 40 years ago, but at a time when there were no X-ray beams that would concentrate deep in the body.

In 100 patients treated since last October, the cancers have shrunk each time, and some still are shrinking, Dr. Trump said. These included cancers of the head, neck, breast, lungs, and pelvic organs.

It still is too early to know whether anyone has been cured, but "we are hopeful the results will show more cures than by conventional methods of X-ray treatment," Dr. Trump said. The patients are far less likely to suffer from radiation sickness, he added.

Shrinking of deep cancers with 23,000,000-volt X-rays was described by Dr. Roger A. Harvey of the University of Illinois. These rays come from a betraton, a doughnut-shaped atom-smashing machine.

In 23 patients, all with advanced cancer, the cancer has shrunk each time, so far as can be observed. Dr. Harvey said. Whether any of the 23 will recover can't be pre-

Girl Wins Fight to Stay In Malay With Foster Mother

SINGAPORE - Thirteen-vear-old Bertha de Hartogh, who grew up in the jungle, won a high-court appeal against a decision to return her to civilization in Holland. The Singapore court of appeal reversed an earlier decision that the girl should be handed back to her parents, who left her with a native governess when they fled from Japanese invaders in 1942. Bertha, one of six children of a Dutch army sergeant and his wife, grew up in a Malay jungle village with her foster mother, Aminah, after her parents were interned by the Japanese. Released in 1945, the parents were unable to find the child. However, a traveler in northern Malaya saw her running naked with brownskinned village children and reported her presence to authorities.

Man, Mule, Dog on Pulaski Skyway Cause Traffic Jam

JERSEY CITY, N. J.-Clarence Hornback wanted to go back home to Galesburg, Ill., and so he took the best highway he could find and caused the worst traffic jam in his-

Nobody told Hornback the Pulaski skyway, main road from New York to Philadelphia, wasn't for mules. So he started down it with his mule and dog.

Police found him shuffling along the elevated highway being trailed by a long, long line of cars. While police were escorting him off the road, the strap holding the pack on the mule let go. Assorted bundles scattered over the road. Policemen scurried around clearing up the debris. By the time the situation cleared, traffic had backed up about four miles.

Origin of "Tank"

The military tank which has be-come a major factor in the Korean fighting was developed by the British in World War I. The British, in order to keep the real purpose of the machine a secret, gave out the story that the huge machines were "tanks" for carrying water. The name caught on and was never changed.

Esperanto, the proposed international language, was invented by Dr. Zamenhof, an occulist of Warsaw.

Chemicals That Eliminate Poison Ivy Without Damage There are two chemicals that will get rid of poison ivy without hurting the soil. First, there is ammate which is used at the rate of 3/4 of a pound to a gallon of water and sprayed on when the sun is shining. In tests, this killed from 90 to 95 per cent of the poison ivy, depending upon how thoroughly sprayed. Then, a follow-up spraying in September, or fairly early next spring, will usually kill it for good. There is also 2.4-D of which the esterone form is necessary, as the other type will not kill poison ivy.

A new hormone, quite similar to 2,4-D, known as 2,4,5-T is also effective, and the two used together -the esterone form of 2,4-D and 2, 4,5-T in about equal quantities makes an excellent poison ivy or brush killer. In fact, excellent success has been had with both the esterone form and the combination of ture of this suit is as follows: A these two in killing both poison ivy

It seems that there is always one drawback to everything, so we might say that the warning on ammate is that while it is not poisonous, and doesn't stain cloth or hurt the grass under the poison ivy, it will corrode a cheap spray pump. So, be sure to wash your sprayer out thoroughly after using it.

The 2,4-D solution has a very strong hormone effect on tomatoes and beans, so care should also be taken not to use it in the vicinity of these two vegetables, or to use the sprayer that has been used for 2,4-D, for even washing the sprayer out 15 or 20 times will not entirely eliminate the traces of this material. Therefore it would be much better to have one sprayer that you would use only for Ammate and 2.4-D, although you can use this sprayer to spray corn and other useful plants that are resistant to this hormone.
