USDA Programs For Family Examination

Secretary Brannan's nationwide Family Farm Policy Review program is aimed at obtaining farmer opinion on the present programs of the Department of Agriculture, along with suggestions for their approval according to B. F. Vance, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Mobilization Committee.

In carrying out the most extensive survey of any Secretary of Agriculture, Brannan is calling upon the 3,000 State and County Agricultural Mobilization committees to take the program to the grass roots. Vance says these committees will hold meetings at the State, county and community levels, during which time representatives and leaders of farm groups, churches and civic organizations will be invited to express their opinions.

According to Vance, the USDA wants to adapt future policies to the needs and recommendations of family farms. It is important that all interested persons attend one of the meetings or else send their recommendations and suggestions to the local county agricultural mobilization committee.

Vance says, "If democracy is to be a continuing source of hope to rural people elsewhere in the world, democracy must continue to advance in rural America." Progress in agriculture must be continued and he says no person is in a better position to make recommendations for this progress than the rural people and especially the man or family who operates a farm.

Tidelands Question Attitude

The House of Representatives wrote history last Monday when it passed the so-called Tidelands Bill by a vote of 265 to 109. The thumping majority clearly shows the attitude of this Congress as being definitely against a central government that overrides states' rights. It also proves that the makers of this Congress are not susceptible to the entreaties of propaganda and high pressure tactics of government officials or private interest lobbies. Many newspapers in this section of the country and columnists waged a continuous fight against this legislation, but the legislation passed anyway. The members of this Congress have shown that they are interested in retaining the American way of life and are not going to be swayed from this course by politics, propaganda or pressure. The debate was heated, but the sound logic on the side of the proponents of the bill could not be answered effectively. We hope that the Senate will do as well on this legislation as did the House and that the President will respect the voice of the people and sign this bill into law. It will be one of the greatest strides against socialism that could possibly be made.

Immediately after the passage of the Tidelands Bill, HR 3298, was taken up for consideration. This is a bill to amend the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act. It would primarily do three things: 1. Permit prescriptions to be taken by pharmacists over the telephone. 2. Permit refills of certain types of prescriptions without obtaining a new prescription. 3. Authorize the Administrator to earmark drugs that could be sold over the counter and those for which prescriptions must be obtained. Although I had very little correspondence on this bill, many of the Representatives displayed communications from druggists and the American Medical Association opposing the bill, especially that section granting the earmarking powers to the Administrator. The debate became very heated on this matter, and finally resolved itself to an argument of personalities, the argument being that Oscar Ewing, the Federal Security Administrator, in whose department we find the Food and Drug Administration, would have powers that should not be entrusted to any individual. Oscar Ewing is a man who has repeatedly advocated so-called socialized medicine, which explains the opposition to granting him any further powers. The proponents of the bill argued that unless the power to earmark these drugs, approximately 30,000 was placed somewhere, the average druggist would have no way of knowing whether he was violating the law or not until he had been arrested, subjected to criminal prosecution and most of his stock confiscated by the government. Actually, the passage of the bill, with or without the powers in the Administrator, is not going to solve the problem faced by the average corner drug store in the small town. The trouble to be remedied lies much deeper than any of the provisions of this bill go, or any amendment to it, and I so stated to the Congress in this date. For your information, the entire bureaucratic control situation can be remedied by one action. That action is to do away with the application of the "substantial evidence rule," as has been applied for a number of years to administrative rulings. This rule, in part, says that when an administrator or administrative body makes a finding of fact, any hearing before the courts subsequent to such ruling is confined to the matters presented to the administrative body; that if there is any evidence in the record before the administrative body upon which that body could have based its decision, the courts are bound by the findings of the administrative body and can not overturn it unless they find that the administrative agency acted capriciously or arbitrarily. Actually, this rule places in administrative agencies powers that are not even placed in federal and state district courts and in effect denies an aggrieved party the right to his day in court. I am now working on legislation to remedy this situation, and if we can procure passage of it, it will pull the stinger of the bureaucratic control of our daily lives and again permit us to go to the courts for a proper and just redress of our wrongs. Contributing To Communism Congressman E. E. Cox of Georgia has just introduced a Resolution to investigate educational and philanthropic organizations and other similar organizations. In presenting the Resolution, Representative Cox gave a discussion of some of the things he was seeking to dig out. He called attention to a number of situations, too lengthy to include in this letter, but I will give you two of them for example. He refers to a Negro poet as follows:

"The Negro poet, Langston Hughes, author of the poem, 'Goodbye Christ,' which urges Jesus to 'beat it on away from here now' and to 'make way for Marx, Communist Lenin, Peasant Stalin, Worker Me,' last heard of as a 'poet in residence' at the Rockefeller-supported University of Chicago, was the recipient of a Guggenheim fellowship in 1935, and of fellowships from the Rosenwald Fund in 1931 and 1941. In 1946 he received a grant from the National Institute of Arts and Letters."

He also refers to Hans Eisler as follows: "When Hans Eisler, brother of the top Soviet agent, Gerhardt Eisler, was about to be expelled from the United States because he was a Communist, Dr. Alvin S. Johnson, then director of the New School for Social Research, intervened and persuaded James L. Houghteling, then Commissioner of the Bureau of Immigration, to let Eisler remain in the United States in order that he might engage him as a teacher in his New School for Social Research. He then secured a grant of $20,160 from the Rockefeller Foundation to defray the costs of a music study project to be conducted by Eisler at the New School. All of this was done with the full knowledge that Eisler was a Communist and in this country to spread the doctrine of communism."

There is much information available on the subject, and I will try to include more of it in subsequent News Letters. I do want to point out that Communist propaganda can not be spread without funds and that these funds are not coming from the poor and middle classes to which you and I belong.

Farm Labor Problems We have arranged for hearings on my bill and several other similar bills to remedy the situation which confronted farmers last year in the harvest of their crops. Miss McDaniel Is Bride Of R. L. Hutchison

In an impressive ceremony Wednesday afternoon of last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McDaniel, Thelma Claudine McDaniel, daughter of Mrs. C. D. McDaniel of Kerrick, became the bride of Russell Lee Hutchison, son of Mrs. W. W. Hutchison of Guymon, Oklahoma.

Rev. M. E. Upchurch performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of immediate members of the families before the fireplace, which was flanked with tall baskets of white and peach gladioli.

Mrs. Fred McDaniel, sister-in-law of the bride, sang "I Love You Truly," and "O Perfect Love" preceding the ceremony. Mrs. Martha Harrison, pianist, played the traditional wedding marches.

The lovely bride, given in marriage by her brother, Fred, chose for her wedding a ballerina-length gown of Goddess lace, fashioned with an elongated bodice, having pointed collar and fastened down the front with tiny lace covered buttons and three-quarter length cuffed sleeves. Her veil of imported French illusion, fell to her finger-tips from a bonnet of lace.

She carried a small white Bible, a gift from the groom, topped with a single white orchid and showered with stephanotis and white satin ribbon.

"For something old," she wore a tiny gold and ruby pin, which belonged to her great-grandmother; "for something borrowed," the veil loaned by her sister-in-law; and "for something blue," she carried a handkerchief sent to her mother from France during World War I.

Marjory Matthews was maid of honor. She wore a yellow organdy dress with a corsage of green carnations. Jean Harrison, bridesmaid, was wearing a blue organdy frock with a corsage of red carnations. Donna Harbour, in a frock of pink marquisette, and carrying an old fashioned nosegay of yellow daisies and baby breath, was junior bridesmaid.

Melvin Webb of Guymon served as best man.

Mrs. McDaniel, mother of the bride, wore a blue crepe dress with pink accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

Mrs. Hutchison, mother of the groom, was attired in a sheer black and white print with accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Fred McDaniel wore a gown of aqua lace with pink and black accessories and a shoulder bouquet of pink carnations.

A reception followed the ceremony. On the bride's table was a three tiered wedding cake decorated with delicately shaded pink and white rosebuds and surmounted with a miniature bride and groom. The centerpiece was of white and peach gladioli and appointments were of silver.

Marty McMahan and Jean Harrison presided at the table. Mrs. Herman Ralstin, a sister of the groom, was in charge of the guest book.

Later, the couple left on a wedding trip, keeping their destination secret. For traveling the bride wore a beige-print dress with a red sleeveless bolero and red accessories and a white orchid. After August 10 they will be at home 15 miles north of Kerrick.

Mrs. Hutchison is a graduate of Stratford High School, class of 1951. She had her first two years of high school at Goodwell, Oklahoma.

Mr. Hutchison, engaged in farming, attended Guymon and Goodwell schools.

The wedding guests included: Mrs. Myron Leedy of Junction City, Kansas; Mrs. Herman Ralstin, Lerona Margaret, Max and Gary Ralstin, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Hutchison, Robert, Pearl and Kenneth Hutchison, Mrs. Carrie Hutchison, all of Guymon; Mr. and Mrs. F. SAVIOR OF THE WHEAT CROP

SWARMS of passenger pigeons ravaged early Wisconsin wheat crops by devouring the newly-sown grain. Moved by the farmers' plight, the Van Brunt brothers of Horicon, in 1861, built a seeder, incorporating their newly-patented cylinder feed. Seed grain was worked into the ground and covered with a protective blanket of soil.

The success of the Van Brunt seeder exceeded its builders' fondest dreams. It not only overcame the pigeon menace, but revolutionized existing seeding practices. Within a few years the fame of the Van Brunt machine spread across the nation.

Modern John Deere-Van Brunt grain drills are still the outstanding buy. Stop in today for full details.

Electric Pacemaker Starts Heart to Beating Again

BOSTON, Mass. — An artificial electrical pacemaker that has been used successfully in animal experiments to make stopped hearts beat again was announced recently.

The pacemaker applies an electrical shock to a small knob-like area of the heart. The shock stimulates this area, which in turn causes the heart to beat. By controlling the regularity of the electrical shock, doctors can thus control the beating of the heart.

The pacemaker is expected to be used for a period long enough to enable the heart to function on its own powers, and in cases of irregular heart beats, to restore the heart's action to a normal rhythm.

"The Legislature shall have the authority to accept from the Federal Government of the United States such assistance and the assistance of the needy aged, needy blind, and needy children as such Government may offer not inconsistent with restrictions herein set forth; provided, however, that the amount of such assistance out of State funds to each person assisted shall never exceed the amount so expended out of Federal funds; and provided further that the total amount of money to be expended out of State funds for such assistance to the needy aged, needy blind and needy children shall never exceed the amount of Forty-two Million Dollars ($42,000,000) per year.

"Should the Legislature enact enabling laws and provide an additional appropriation hereto in anticipation of the adoption of this Amendment, such Acts shall not be invalid by reason of their anticipatory character.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 3 proposing an amendment to Section 49-b, Article III, Constitution of Texas, so that the total amount of bonds or obligations that may be issued by the Veterans' Land Board is increased to One Hundred Million Dollars ($100,000,000); providing for the issuance of said bonds and certain conditions relating thereto and the use of the Veterans' Land Fund; providing for an election and the issuance of a proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 49-b, Article III, Constitution of Texas, be amended so that the same will hereafter read as follows: "Section 49-b. There is hereby created a Board to be known as the Veterans' Land Board, which shall be composed of the Governor, the Attorney General, and the Commissioner of the General Land Office. The Veterans' Land Board may issue not to exceed One Hundred Million Dollars ($100,000,000) in bonds or obligations of the State of Texas for the purpose of creating a fund to be known as the Veterans' Land Fund. Such bonds shall be executed by said Board as an obligation of the State of Texas, in such form, denominations, and upon the terms as are now prescribed by Senate Bill No. 29, Chapter 315 of the Acts of the Fifty-first Legislature (provided, that when the limitation of Twenty-five Million Dollars ($25,000,000) is used in said Senate Bill No. 29, the same shall hereafter be construed as One Hundred Million Dollars ($100,000,000), or as said Act may be hereafter amended, or by other laws that the Legislature may hereafter enact; provided, however, that said bonds shall bear a rate of interest not to exceed three per cent (3%) per annum, and that the same shall be sold for not less than par value and accrued interest.

"In the sale of any such bonds, a preferential right of purchase shall be given to the administrators of the various teacher retirement funds, the Permanent University Funds, and the Permanent School Funds; such bonds to be issued as needed, in the opinion of the Veterans' Land Board.

"The Veterans' Land Fund shall be used by the Board for the sole purpose of purchasing lands suitable for the purpose hereinafter stated, situated in this State, (a) owned by the United States, or any governmental agency thereof; (b) owned by the Texas Prison System, or any other governmental agency of the State of Texas; or (c) owned by any person, firm, or corporation.

"All lands thus purchased shall be acquired at the lowest price obtainable, to be paid for in cash, and shall be a part of the Veterans' Land Fund.

"The lands of the Veterans' Land Fund shall be sold by the State to Texas Veterans of the present war or wars, commonly known as World War II, and to Texas Veterans of service in the armed forces of the United States of America subsequent to 1945, as may be included within this program by legislative act, in such quantities, and on such terms, and at such prices and rates of interest, and under such rules and regulations as are now provided by law, or as may hereafter be provided by law.

"All moneys received and which have not been used for repurchase of land as provided herein by the Veterans' Land Board from the sale of lands and for interest on deferred payments, shall be credited to the Veterans' Land Fund for use in purchasing additional lands to be sold to Texas Veterans of World War II, and to Texas Veterans of service in the armed forces of the United States of America subsequent to 1945, as may be included within this program by legislative act, in like manner as provided for the sale of lands purchased with the proceeds from the sales of the bonds, provided for herein, for a period ending December 1, 1959; provided, however, that so much of such moneys as may be necessary during the period ending December 1, 1959, to pay principal of and interest on the bonds heretofore issued and on bonds hereafter issued by the Veterans' Land Board shall be set aside for that purpose. After December 1, 1959, all moneys received by the Veterans' Land Board from the sale of the lands and interest on deferred payments, or so much thereof as may be necessary, shall be set aside for the retirement of said bonds and to pay interest thereon, and any of such moneys not so needed shall not later than the maturity date of the last maturing bond or bonds be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund to be appropriated to such purposes as may be prescribed by law. All bonds issued hereunder shall, after approval by the Attorney General of Texas, registration by the Comptroller of the State of Texas, and delivery to the purchasers, be incontestable and shall constitute obligations of the State under the Constitution of Texas. Of the total One Hundred Million Dollars ($100,000,000) of bonds herein authorized, the sum of Twenty-five Million Dollars ($25,000,000) has heretofore been issued; said bonds are hereby in all respects validated and declared to be obligations of the State of Texas. This amendment shall become effective upon its adoption."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held throughout the State of Texas on the second Tuesday in November, 1951, at which election all voters favoring the proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the following words:

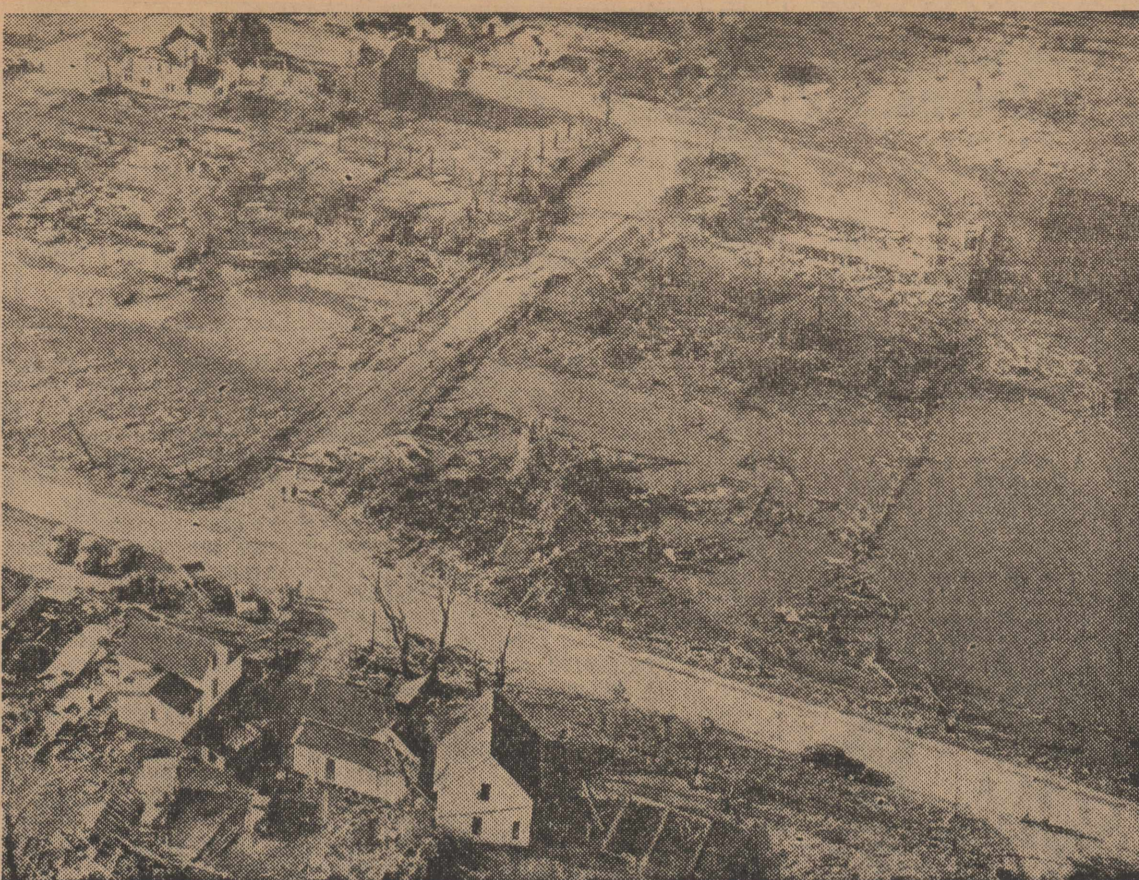

FOR the Amendment to Section 49-b, Constitution of Texas, for increasing Veterans' Land Fund for the purchase of lands in Texas to be sold to Texas Veterans of World War II, and to Texas Veterans of service in the armed forces of the United States of America subsequent to 1945.

Those opposing said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the following words:

AGAINST the Amendment to Section 49-b, Constitution of Texas, for increasing Veterans' Land Fund for the purchase of lands in Texas to be sold to Texas Veterans of World War II, and to Texas Veterans of service in the armed forces of the United States of America subsequent to 1945.

If it appears from the returns of said election that a majority of the votes cast were in favor of said Amendment, the same shall become a part of the State Constitution and be effective from the date of the determination of such result and the Governor's proclamation thereof.

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election, and shall have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

Senator Balderdash Says:

"I AM ACCUSED of toadying to special interests. I am aghast at this defamation upon my fair name and sense of duty. I pledge utter indifference to such contemptible pressure groups as meat consumers and refuse to listen to wails for lower prices from the public, whose spokesmen are greedy lobbyists, more interested in empty bellies than in this great nation's prosperity."

"You, the beef slaughterers, are the only red-blooded Americans since everyone else grew anemic from protein lack. You needn't fear slackening of demand just because every bite of steak upon the public's tongue brings visions of starving white collar workers. You've been exploiting the wrong market in the average-income Americans. Let 'em starve! With the aid of this great democracy and anti-controls senators, direct your pricing toward the millionaire trade."

"NO LONGER can patriotic citizens fill their stomachs with Russian caviar. Let's fill the vacuum with good old hundred percent American roast beef at caviar prices!"

"To my constituents who ask what people can eat when their money no longer will buy food, I reply with all the sarcasm I can muster, LET 'EM SWALLOW THEIR MEASLY PITTANCES AND COUGH UP CHANGE FOR TAXES!"

"Sure cure for many complaints of inflation is stiffer taxes upon the impoverished. They whine about the cost of each article they buy. Curtailment of purchasing power by taxation would decrease the number of articles they could buy, thereby decreasing the number of complaints."

"The poor are extravagant in the face of starvation and squander savings. Let the government drain away savings through taxation and prevent this extravagance."

A NEW ANGLE

A Short Story By Rebecca Osborn

CUB REPORTER Jim Stanley knew it wasn't a big assignment. After two months on the Boulder Courier Times, he hadn't impressed the city editor even with his name. On the but heading downtown Jim pulled a pencil from the inner pocket of his jacket and made a few notes.

The ed had suggested an interview and he sketched out some questions: name, educational background, honors . . . Suddenly he stopped and peered out the window to the range of snow-tipped mountains above the clean, square buildings of the business district. He picked up the pad and blacked out his notes. He grinned. Sure, that was the angle!

There was a pretty, young girl behind the counter. "Your name, please."

"James Stanley, furniture salesman. That is, I was."

"Fill these out in ink, please. Jim took the forms to the desk, pulled the chair a little to one side so that he could steal an occasional glance at the girl, and began answering the questions that covered every activity of his life from his childhood hobbies and high school activities to his present address and whether or not he smoked. He calculated on the time it would take for the counselor's interview and wondered about the wisdom of putting so many hours on an ordinary assignment. But Cy Lucas had sent him. Let him regret it if it took all day.

The girl took the sheets of questions Jim handed her and delivered them to the back office. Jim sat down on the bench. It was 11 before he was summoned for his interview.

The job counselor was a tall, spare man with graying hair and a nose, Jim reflected, that suggested a pointer's. Jim tried to look as though a man would who had just lost his job. Maybe if the city editor found him out the look would come natural.

"Furniture salesman?" "Ah—yes, sir."

"I take it you're not too happy in that line of work?" "Well, to be honest, I'm not," Jim confessed.

"I'd like to have you try a few tests. Here's an aptitude test—takes about an hour. Personality test—45 minutes. Job placement test—about an hour."

At the desk in the inner room, Jim looked through the first folded sheet. Three hours of tests! Well, if this was what they asked of applicants it was the information that he was after. He looked at the first question: "If you were on a street corner and a man beside you suddenly pulled out a gun and shot a pedestrian, what would you do?" Jim grinned. At the Courier Times they would call that a break!

At three o'clock the cub reporter handed in the last of the tests and sat down again on the outer bench, awaiting a consultation. Half an hour later he was called in.

The job counselor was studying a sheet of notes as he motioned to Jim to sit down. He put the sheet down and fixed his long nose on Jim.

"I've gone over your tests. Selling furniture isn't your line. Ever thought about journalism—newspaper work?"

"Well, I don't know. I guess I never thought about it."

"How'd you like me to give you a recommendation? What paper would you be interested in? Something around here?"

"Yes," Jim said, "How about the Courier Times?"

Jim thanked him, glanced at the material on his desk, and looked briefly around the room as he left. Cy Lucas would get a laugh out of it when the recommendation came through. Well, at least he'd remember the name of Jim Stanley.

He reached the newspaper office at five, relieved to see that the city editor had left. At the desk he shared with two other cub reporters, Jim began his story. The copy seemed to grow from the battered platen of the typewriter without his help. By six o'clock he was only beginning. It would be a longer story than he thought. At eight he gathered up the sheets, kissed them fondly and left them on Cy's desk.

Jim felt keen the next morning as he walked into the office of the Courier Times. There was a message on the desk to see the city editor. He knew that this was it.

Cy Lucas swung his chair around to face the cub reporter. In his hand was Jim's story of the night before.

"Too long," he said, bluntly. "Too much detail. Dry. Cut it down. As a reporter you'd make a good furniture salesman."

He thrust the pages impatiently at Jim.

"One more thing. The job counselor down at the employment office called me this morning. He's got an applicant down there who has everything it takes to make a good newspaper man. Better get on the beam, son, or he'll have your job!"

Fire Record
Almost 400 fires affected national park areas during last year but 89 percent of these were held to ten acres or less. The fire record showed less than average acreage burned and fewer man-caused fires, although abnormally severe lightning in many areas contributed to raising the cost of fire suppression.

CLARITE BATTERIES Have A Reserve Capacity

When a Clarite Battery is discharged at a very rapid rate, even on a vehicle with many accessories in operation, it will show repeatedly a rapid recovery from a state of discharge from its own reserve capacity. Should it be completely exhausted, it will revive itself with a short rest.

The Clarite Battery has an ability to "come back." The number of times depends somewhat on the type of car and the starter drag. Tests prove a CLARITE Battery will bounce back quickly dozens of times after reaching the exhaustion point where it fails to turn the motor over. Even after tests such as these, CLARITE Batteries have rapidly accepted the charge from the generator, and built up to full charge within a very few miles of normal operation.

DALE CARNEGIE

★ AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING" ★

Worry Works Its Way

A STORY TOLD ME by M. M. Henry, 313 Chestnut Avenue, Anniston, Alabama, relates an experience which he declares was based entirely on Worry.

About four years ago he developed a cold. This worried him because he had no time to spare. He had no appetite; that wasn't alarming, but the condition of his throat was. His worry increased. One night after he had gone to bed he struggled. Switching on the lights his wife saw that his lips were purple, and that he was getting black in the face. She called the doctor, who, after examining him, said, "Mrs. Henry, I don't know what the trouble is nor what I can do for your husband. Tomorrow I'll arrange to have a specialist examine him."

But the specialist didn't help, and Mr. Henry's condition continued to grow worse.

After a few more days, he took a plane to Atlanta, Georgia, and went to the best authority the city afforded. But this learned man only shook his head, laid down his instrument and walked out, saying that he would return in a few minutes. Soon a second doctor looked at Mr. Henry's throat and advised hospitalization and an operation. (Later Mr. Henry learned they thought he had cancer of the throat.) After the operation, he was sent home, but was to return in two weeks for a second operation.

At home, his family doctor told his wife there was little hope of his ever getting well, and advised sending him to John Hopkins in Baltimore. His wife urged this and accompanied him to Baltimore, where he started on the routine of X-rays and medical examinations which lasted three weeks.

He felt very hopeful now, and his wife was very encouraging. They decided to see something of the town, make it a sort of holiday period. There was nothing said against eating what he liked, so they visited the best eating places, too. And they thoroughly enjoyed their visit, almost forgetting that they were there for except at the times they must keep appointments with the medical men.

In three weeks, the doctor who headed the nose and throat department said, "Mr. Henry, we are going to dismiss you today."

"But, Doctor," said Mr. Henry, "you haven't told me yet what was the matter with me."

"Oh, nothing serious," was the reply. "You began to improve shortly after you got here."

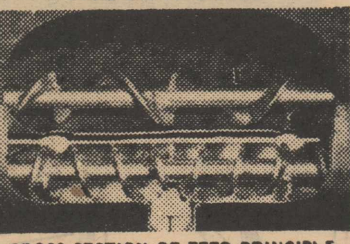

What was the matter with him? Well, as stated above, Mr. Henry says it was nothing but worry working its way out of his system. And he has learned to put aside worry as he would the plague, for it can really bring on all sorts of things to plague a man.

DESTRUCTION?

Here is destruction you can see. And it is likely that these two "Indians" will be called to task for their saw and hammer artistry. But, even so, this destruction is not as serious as the destruction you can't see that goes on within your costly farm machinery when you trust your lubrication to "just any" oil.

Several years ago, a group of farmers realized the need for a refinery that would make oil especially for use in Op Refinery, is the product of their vision. This Oil is Op Refinery, is the product of their vision. This Oil is the farmer's assurance of maximum service and minimum wear.

Devotional Gems

(By N. D. Carter)

Genesis 3:9 reads: "And the Lord God called unto Adam, and saith unto him, Where art Thou?" In the first place, God knew where Adam was. He knew the exact place where Adam was hiding. This fact may well bring this thought to us, and that is that God knows where we are every moment of our lives. He knows where we are, whether it is in church, in our home, or in the most sinful places on the face of the earth. There is more to be learned from this verse, and hurt though it may, we will have to face this question now or later; and at the latest, at the judgement.

Now, in the second place, God knows where you are spiritually, morally, materially, and physically. He knows your condition, whether you walk in the spirit or in the flesh (see Rom. 8:6) and is pleased with your life accordingly. He knows where you are morally and physically. We know by the written word of God that He can only be pleased with us if we walk after the spiritual things of life and that if we seek after the things of this world he is not pleased nor indeed can be. A life of morality is a life spent in spiritual comfort which can come only from trust and obedience to Him. Therefore we must deny ourselves of physical comfort much of the time in order that we may have this life of morality.

Then we have this observation, God was asking Adam how he (Adam) stood in the sight of God for Adam's own benefit. Adam had to answer the question without delay. What would you or could you say if God asked you this same question today? And, beloved, he is asking!

Where art Thou?

Christian's Spending

Lesson for August 12, 1951

ONCE upon a time, so they say, a Scotchman opened his pocketbook in December, and a June-bug flew out. That story belongs to the class of stories that sound funny because they are impossible, like the Paul Bunyan stories, or the one about the fly that fell off a marble and broke his back. No man is so stingy that he could go from June to December without opening his pocketbook to spend a single cent. Spending is something all of us do, all the time.

Is Your Money Yours?

"IT'S my money and I can do what I please with it." That is the average man's attitude toward his money. But it's not the Christian attitude.

In the first place, Jesus' parable of the talents reminds us that all the conditions, and all the energy, and everything else that makes earning money possible, are in the long run the gifts of God. "It is he that hath made us and not we ourselves" is just as true now as it ever was.

God it is who gave us life in the first place, who has preserved us, and endowed us with whatever gifts and capacities we have. We are not our own, we are bought with a price, as Paul puts it.

However, we earn our living, whether as farmers, business or professional people, if it had not been for the blessings of God we could have earned nothing at all. One bedrock principle of the Old Testament is that the earth is the Lord's. Put that together with the New Testament principle that the Christian belongs to God, and you have arrived at the great principle of "stewardship."

Profits or Profit?

THE earliest Christians of Jerusalem pooled all their resources and dealt them out to all, in proportion to their individual needs. This experiment in sharing the wealth failed; and one main reason for the failure was that they paid all their attention to consumption and none at all to production.

No matter how smoothly you distribute the wealth, if some one is not producing, the whole pile will vanish in time.

Nevertheless, those earliest Christians did have a firm grasp of a real truth: namely, that when a Christian spends money he ought to have the needs of the community first in mind, and not his own profits. Does this sound too idealistic?

Well, even the law, slanted though it may seem toward the protection of wealth, puts limits on the ways a man can spend his money. If it can be shown that what he pays his good money for is hurtful to the community, the law will clamp down on him, in many cases. You can't keep a skunk farm on Broadway. It may be your money, and your skunks, but it's not your Broadway.

To take another angle: down in Atlanta (Georgia) a highly successful industrialist, when he died, left the stock in his company to his employees. They had helped him earn his fortune, he said; they should share in the proceeds.

Does not our community help us earn whatever we do earn? And doesn't the community deserve consideration in the spending?

The Money-God

NO temples on our main streets are labeled "To the God Mammon." But money is often a god, all the same. On Mammon's altar how many things and men are sacrificed! What will men not do to "make a fast buck," to turn a neat profit? Honor, decency, truthfulness, health, even life itself, will be given up before consenting to cut the profits down.

Every great entrenched evil—gambling, prostitution, corrupt courts, liquor traffic—is as hard to dislodge as the silversmiths of Ephesus, and for the same reason: The people who stand to make money out of sin never care what happens to the sinners.

But let us watch ourselves. Do we smalltimers criticize the paunchy big-shots because we really hate the way they sacrifice everything to greed, or is it because we are envious?

Turpin-Robinson Bout Tops List

By GRANTLAND RICE

THE fight game has run from famine to overflow, from rags to riches, at the fastest pace anyone can recall.

The startling defeat of Ray Robinson by Randy Turpin has left the September situation badly over-jammed.

Jim Norris naturally wants a Robinson-Turpin return match for September with the prospect of a $500,000 show. He also wants to give Joe Louis his shot at the lost title in the same month. He has plans for the younger heavyweights who have been moving forward.

Certainly of all the September parties, the Turpin-Robinson meeting heads the list in the way of general interest. Robinson's defeat is old stuff now, but it is still an almost unbelievable episode. The reason for this is plain. British fighting men have been so bad through so many years that one takes British defeat for granted before a glove is thrown.

There are many still who want to see what happened to Robinson since he crossed the purling Atlantic. Slumps in fighting form are not uncommon but it is difficult to see how Robinson could have gone back that far.

One answer is that Randy Turpin must be a much better fighter than he was rated. Even a slipping Robinson, a skidding Robinson is still something to beat.

So everyone, in any way interested in the boxing game, or the career of a champion, wants to know what the true answer is.

What has Turpin in his system that was overlooked? Why has Robinson gone back? Or how far has Robinson gone back?

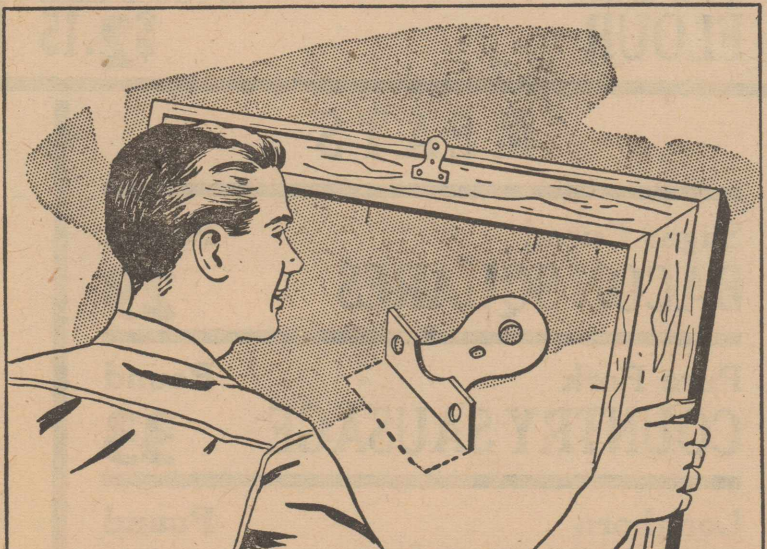

Ray bestrode his field like a towering Colossus up to the Turpin moment. It must have been a rude shock after so many years to find himself outboxed and outpunched by a considerable margin.

There are many reasons why a Turpin-Robinson return will attract the biggest crowd of many years, plus one of the richest harvests. This could be true in England or over here. With the fading days of Joe Louis upon us, Robinson had become the sole survivor of the ring's greater days, when Dempsey, Tunney, Henry Armstrong and a few others were around.

The Long, Long Trail

Joe Louis is now more obsessed than ever that he will be heavy-weight champion again before September passes on. He will tell you

FIRST AID TO THE AILING HOUSE

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Question: I just finished the staggering task of removing some casein paint from a bathroom ceiling, by using a strong water softener solution and a scraper. I am now down to the plaster. Do I treat the bare plaster the same as when new; that is, by using sizing, undercoat and then paint? I had to remove the casein paint because it started to peel and let go of the ceiling.

Answer: You did all right, for you succeeded in doing what you started out to do. But the water softening solution should all be thoroughly washed off, for if you let it stay on the ceiling, it will continue to work on your new paint and spoil the job. Use plenty of water for the wash-off. When the ceiling is quite dry, apply two coats of enamel undercoat and a finish of enamel following the directions on the label. Where you made your original mistake was in putting casein paint on the bathroom ceiling. The steam loosened the paint and caused it to peel. Enamel is the right kind of finish for bathroom and kitchen surfaces (unless you are going to use other hard finishes for the walls). Flat wall paints are not supposed to be used for these rooms.

Coal Was Created Before Human Advent

What is coal? How was it made? Well, it all started many millions of years ago, in what is called the Carboniferous Period. We sometimes call it the Coal Age. The climate was very warm and moist all over the earth. There were heavy rains. Plants grew fast and luxuriantly, especially in swampy areas.

In our country, these great swamps extended in all directions to where we find coal today in what is now Pennsylvania and the whole Appalachian range, the middle Atlantic states, the Rocky Mountains, and even the far away Pacific Coast. The forest trees resembled giant ferns, reeds, and mosses, rising to heights of 100 to 120 feet, and many feet in diameter. Other trees looked much like enormous ferns, climbing 50 feet into the air.

Everything was green and lush in this strange world. The giant trees, ferns, grasses, insect life and other creatures, died, fell into the swamps and became part of the sea life buried there. Heavy rains washed soil and sand from high places into the swampy lowlands. Land gradually sank. The great inland seas advanced and covered up these peat-like bogs, keeping out air and bacteria that cause decay. Again conditions on the earth changed. The land was raised up and once more forests grew, flourished, and died. Again the land sank and the seas advanced.

This process continued over and over through untold thousands of years. The sunshine, whose warmth and magic made these forests, was buried with the vegetation. Slowly the forests piled up one atop of the other, the peat layers began changing into something we now call lignite, and the enormous deposits of dead leaves, branches, trunks, insect life, and sea life were transformed slowly into coal and other minerals.

The quality of legume and grass silage can be improved by letting the green material partially wilt before putting it into the silo, and by adding 60 pounds of molasses, or 150 pounds of ground shelled corn, or 200 pounds of ground ear corn to each ton as the silo is filled.

Coal of the Samchok basin, largest fuel source in South Korea, is poor anthracite hard to burn unless mixed with bituminous, but its use reduces expensive imports of other fuels.

Pruning and dormant spraying of trees and shrubs may be done any time when the temperature is 45 degrees or higher.

The typical raindrop shape is produced by air pressure. The raindrop would be a sphere if it were floating free in space or falling in a vacuum.

Bowling is believed to have originated as a rite among early Christians in Germany.

Nine Lines For Safe Lives

Since even one serious accident in a family can be expensive in money, time and loss of labor, farm families as well as others may well give special attention to safety rules, according to safety advisors of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Here are some simple but important rules suggested by the National Safety Council:

1. Keep passage ways and stairs in good repair, unobstructed, and well lighted.
2. Keep ladders in good repair and easy to get to in emergencies.
3. Don't wear loose or floppy clothes around machinery, or when doing cooking or housework.
4. Keep your back straight and lift heavy loads with leg muscles. Don't try to lift anything that is too heavy for you.
5. Use the right tools for the job, keep them in good condition, and in a safe place.
6. Don't use kerosene to start fires.
7. Always stop a machine before starting to repair it. Disconnect electrical appliances or equipment before working on them.
8. Give prompt attention to even small injuries.
9. Never swim alone. Never dive into water without first determining the depth. Be careful around any boat and never stand up in small boats.

Obvious as these rules may seem, studies of accidents each year show how often they are overlooked, forgotten, or never thought of until after the accident happened.

Surveys made among farm families in which farm accidents have occurred show that many of the serious accidents happen during the last working hours of the day. This indicates that fatigue is a contributing cause of farm accidents and farm workers thus are urged to be even more careful when they become tired.
