Tornado hits near Abilene

By The Associated Press

A weather system which produced over a dozen tornadoes Wednesday continued to set off thunderstorms and heavy rains today.

At least one tornado touched down near Abilene, Texas and two tornadoes caused extensive damage and at least two deaths in northwestern Oklahoma Wednesday. Large hail was reported in both states.

A flash flood watch was in effect today for sections of northwest Texas after heavy rains in the area.

Showers and thunderstorms spread across the middle Mississippi Valley and the Tennessee and lower Ohio valleys into the Lake Michigan area, and temperatures in the 30s resulted in some snow in parts of Wyoming and Colorado. Rain mixed with snow fell across the Nebraska panhandle.

Rain was predicted today from the central and southern Rockies across the central and southern Plains, the middle and lower Mississippi Valley, most of the Great Lakes area and the Ohio Valley. Showers were also expected in the northern and central Atlantic Coast states, while thunderstorms were forecast for the southern Plains.

Temperatures were expected to range from mild to cool.

Temperatures before dawn today ranged from 27 at Warroad, Minn., to 79 at McAllen, Texas.

Other reports: Eastern U.S. — Atlanta not available, Boston 53 clear, Cincinnati 60 rain, Cleveland not available, Detroit 51 rain, Indianapolis 60 foggy, Louisville 61 cloudy, Miami 78 clear.

Rubber Workers seek legal protection against guidelines

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United Rubber Workers union is asking a federal judge for protection from President Carter's anti-inflation guidelines, which threaten to trigger a strike Saturday against Uniroyal Inc.

U.S. District Judge Barrington Parker arranged to meet today with attorneys from the union, tire company and government to review the Rubber Workers' request for a temporary restraining order against Carter's top inflation fighter, Alfred E. Kahn, and other economic advisers. A hearing date was not immediately set.

Union President Peter Bommarito, charging that the government has "unlawfully" interfered in contract talks with Uniroyal, asked the judge Wednesday to stop the administration from using threats against the tire industry to enforce Carter's voluntary wage guidelines.

An accompanying document charged that the government's intervention "has brought the parties from the prospect of a peaceful settlement... to the brink of a strike that no one desires."

The union claimed it reached a tentative agreement with Uniroyal two weeks ago on a contract that would far exceed Carter's 7 percent annual wage guidelines, but the company backed out because the government illegally threatened to stop buying tires from the firm.

Uniroyal, which has pledged to stay within the guidelines, denies it reached an agreement.

The talks have been snagged on that point, and Bommarito is refusing to bargain with the company unless it admits it "welched."

Meanwhile, federal mediators considered calling union and Uniroyal officials to the bargaining table today for the first time since negotiations broke off a week ago.

Sources close to the dispute said the two sides remain deadlocked and another round of talks was unlikely to produce any progress toward a settlement before 12:01 a.m. Saturday, when 8,200 Uniroyal workers are scheduled to strike.

The Rubber Workers' court challenge, based on a suit filed with the AFL-CIO and eight other unions in March, seeks to strip Carter's voluntary anti-inflation program of penalties aimed at achieving compliance.

The administration has said it would deny federal contracts to firms that exceed either the wage or price guidelines.

Johnny Carson's going to stay — for awhile

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — America's insomniacs can heave a sigh of relief — Johnny Carson says he's going to stay on the "Tonight Show." At least for awhile.

"I love doing this show," Carson told a cheering "Tonight" audience that gave him a standing ovation Wednesday night.

"Originally, I had expressed an intent to leave after our 17th year, which would have been Oct. 1 of this year. I intend to stay past that time," he said.

Carson said he was staying "not because of any extreme pressure from NBC. I could make that decision (to leave), but I think I owe something to the show, and I think I owe something to NBC also."

"Besides," he added, "I would probably miss this show terribly and maybe regret walking away from it that quickly."

The 54-year-old Carson returned to "Tonight" after a two-week vacation, a period in which his reported intention to leave the program was a major topic of show business conversation.

In patented Carson style, he milked the reports for laughs.

"I've made a new deal with NBC," he quipped. "I won't get a salary but (NBC president) Fred Silverman has agreed to keep my gas tank filled."

Carson denied reports that his relationship with Silverman was strained, saying their meetings always have been amicable.

Carson's request to leave the "Tonight Show" was a blow to NBC, badly beaten in the ratings race this season and not eager to lose its biggest star.

The "Tonight Show" is a big revenue earner for the network, accounting for about 17 percent of NBC's before-tax profits last year.

"...I think I owe something to the show, and I think I owe something to NBC also." — Johnny Carson.

After his show-opening monologue, Carson explained the situation.

"I had expressed the desire to NBC to finish the 'Tonight Show' earlier than I had originally intended which is 1981 (Carson's current contract runs to the spring of 1981). They, of course, would not like me to leave. I have very ambivalent feelings."

Carson said he'd decided "it might be time to pack it in after 17 years, for a couple of reasons."

"I didn't want the show to become boring to the people. I didn't want to get bored with it and I wanted to work at a professional level that I take a certain amount of pride in. Nobody wants to 'dog' a show like this."

University closes

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israeli military authorities ordered the all-Palestinian Bir Zeit University in the occupied West Bank of the Jordan River closed indefinitely today because of anti-Israeli demonstrations.

An Arab youth was shot Wednesday during a rock-throwing demonstration in the town of Bir Zeit, 15 miles north of Jerusalem, and a one-day general strike to protest lack of security there was called today by the local Arab community.

Israeli press reports said some 100 Palestinian youths, many of them Bir Zeit students, waved banned Palestinian flags and barricaded the road Wednesday to protest Jewish settlements in the West Bank and an Israeli nationalist march.

Israeli cars were stoned and shots were fired, wounding the youth who was reported in satisfactory condition. Police said they were investigating the shooting.

The army said no soldiers were in the vicinity when the youth was shot and investigators were considering the possibility that an Israeli civilian fired the shot. The Jerusalem Post said witnesses reported the shot came from a carload of Jewish settlers driving to the nationalist march on Israeli independence day.

Catherine Anne Shelley

Catherine Shelley receives scholarship

Catherine Anne Shelley, an 18-year-old senior at Lee High School, has been awarded a college-sponsored National Merit Scholarship.

The award is sponsored by Baylor University. The daughter of M. Carol Shelley, she plans to major in nursing at Baylor.

She has lettered in both band and academics for three years. She is a two-year member of the National Honor Society, serving as vice president one year.

She has been active in the Medical Explorers, Acteens and has been a Candy Stripper. She is employed at Midland Memorial Hospital as a nurses aide.

She is a member of the stage, marching and concert bands at LHS.

Her grade point average is 4.255. The National Merit Scholarships are awarded to some 1,900 high school seniors throughout the country.

The college-sponsored scholarships are awarded on the stipulation that they be used at the sponsor institutions. They are renewable for up to four years of undergraduate study.

India refuses USSR nuke

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin offered Soviet help to build a major atomic power plant in India, but the suggestion was turned down, a senior government official says.

Kosygin's offer, made during a March visit, was considered, "but it is felt that in the present conditions and having regard to the development of technology in the country, it would not be feasible to have larger atomic plants," the official, Sher Singh, deputy minister for atomic energy, told Parliament Wednesday.

Singh did not give further details of the offer. The United States supplies nuclear fuel for India's U.S.-built atomic power plant at Tarapur, near Bombay. Delays in fuel supplies have prompted India to talk of turning to new sources should the 1963 Indian-U.S. fuel supply agreement be broken.

According to a new U.S. law, the United States is supposed to halt fuel supplies to any country that refuses international inspection of all its nuclear facilities. India has refused to allow the inspection on the grounds that the condition is discriminatory.

Truck crash kills nine in Arizona

YOUNG, Ariz. (AP) — Authorities say brake failure may have caused the driver of a pickup truck to lose control just before the vehicle became airborne and slammed into a tree, killing nine of the 10 persons inside.

State police spokesman Allan Schmidt said the accident occurred early Wednesday about 100 miles northeast of Phoenix on a short downhill stretch of winding road. He said the truck veered off the left side, vaulted into the air and struck the tree about 12 feet off the ground with such impact that it "sheared the cab off."

Only the driver survived. All were employed by Reidhead Enterprises of Heber in a logging operation.

"The driver has indicated his brakes failed," said Schmidt. "There is some preliminary evidence to support that."

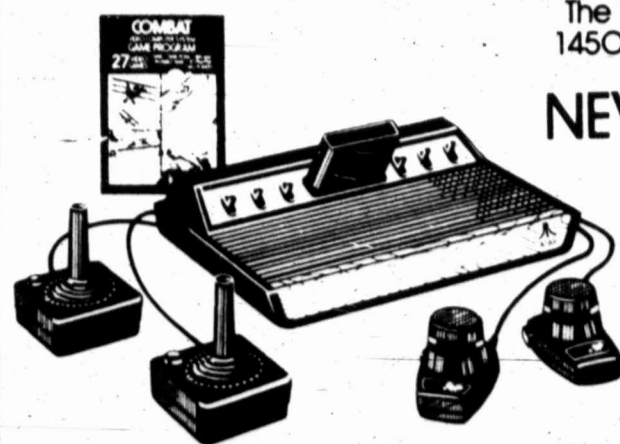

The survivor, Ernesto Aviedo Delgado, 22, of Los Angeles, who was driving the truck, was taken to a hospital in Globe. He was listed in stable condition with a broken shoulder and back.

The accident on State Route 288 was discovered at 8:15 a.m., about an hour after it had occurred, police said.

Elusive rain remains in Basin forecast

Mother Nature, obviously confused by all the sand, has mistaken the Permian Basin for the Gulf Coast.

The sea-side weather should begin to move on by Friday, the weatherman said today.

Cloudy and cool with a chance of showers or thunderstorms tonight and decreasing cloudiness Friday is the official forecast from the National Weather Service office at Midland Regional Airport.

While the clouds have done nothing but tease the official rain gauge so far this week, weathermen are putting chances of rain tonight at 40 percent.

High Friday is expected to be only in the low 70s with the overnight low predicted at near 50.

Wednesday's high was recorded at 88 degrees with the overnight low at a mild but muggy 63.

Record temperatures for the date are 96 degrees set in 1965 and 37 set in 1976.

Although the official measuring station has recorded only 2.86 inches of rain so far this year, and none of that in May, area towns have gotten occasional showers from the weak-long cloud cover.

Big Spring weather watchers recorded a small shower this morning, and Crane reported .25 inch measured from a "cloudburst" Wednesday night.

Violent thunderstorms rumbled down the Texas Panhandle today, spawning tornadoes and touching off flash flooding as it swept to the southeast across North Texas.

Flash flood, severe thunderstorm, tornado warnings were issued for many counties in West Central and North Central Texas.

The thunderheads — darkening skies, flashing lightning and spawning twisters — dumped up to two inches of rain per hour as they crossed the state.

A tornado sighting was reported earlier near Stephenville, south of Weatherford.

Ticket sales 'good' for Doobies; Promoters eye concert closely

Ticket sales for Thursday night's Doobie Brothers concert at the Chaparral Center at Midland College are "good," according to Center Director Larry Campbell.

Department and Sheriff's office Thursday said they do not anticipate anything out of the ordinary at the concert as far as law enforcement is concerned.

Midland Chamber of Commerce will get its new building started with a groundbreaking ceremony at 11:30 a.m. Friday.

The new two-story office building will be located on the northeast corner of the block bordered by Texas, Wall, Main and Loraine streets, site for the ceremony. It is on the block on which the city's Exhibit Hall is being constructed.

The building was designed by Frank Welch and Associates and will tie in with the Exhibit Hall, also designed by Frank Welch. The chamber building will have 9,600 square feet.

Retail space for lease will be on the first floor, and the chamber's offices will be on the second floor of the new building, the spokesman said.

Bill passed giving more power to deal with juveniles

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The Senate approved and sent to the governor Wednesday a bill that would give juvenile judges more power to deal sternly with delinquents and their parents.

The Senate approved the bill on voice vote. Judges would have the authority to force delinquent children and their parents to make restitution for property damages. The potential payment period could last until a delinquent turned 23.

If a youngster or his parents could not pay restitution, the judge could order the child to work for free in a charitable or educational institution.

Currently law merely makes a parent liable for malicious damage caused by a child, which leaves it up to the property owner to take the parent to court and collect if he can.

The bill sent to the governor also would enable judges to force parents to pay up to $15 per month for their delinquent children.

Teenage alcoholism and drug abuse were discussion topics for seventh grade students at Goddard Junior High School last week. Mental Health and Mental Retardation alcoholism counselor Dan Wakefield, left, and psychologist Charles Silverman, right, spoke to the students as part of Alcoholism Education Week sponsored by the Council on Alcoholism, a United Way agency.

Texas House passes bills for mandatory car insurance

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The Texas House passed a bill Wednesday that would require every motorist to buy auto liability insurance or run the risk of paying a fine.

A 129-8 vote sent the bill to the Senate.

If the bill becomes law, each car would have to be covered by a policy providing at least $5,000 for property damage and $20,000 for deaths and injuries inflicted by the negligence of its driver.

When insurance companies deliver policies, they also would deliver stickers to be placed on windshields of insured cars.

A car without an up-to-date insurance sticker could not receive a vehicle inspection sticker. A car cannot be driven on Texas highways without an inspection sticker.

Drivers who are caught without insurance would be subject to fines of $50 to $200 on first offense. The fine would rise to $200-$1,000 for future violations.

Some 30 percent of the vehicles in Texas are uninsured now, according to Rep. Gene Green, D-Houston, sponsor of the bill.

Insurance companies oppose the bill, contending that drivers who do not voluntarily buy liability coverage tend to have more accidents than insured motorists.

Green acknowledged that liability rates probably would rise if his bill passes.

House OKs funds Clements wants

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The House has quickly granted Gov. Bill Clements' request for millions of dollars to rebuild Texas' disaster contingency fund after the Wichita Falls tornado and flooding in southeast Texas.

Representatives voted 130-0 for a bill appropriating $6.8 million shortly after Clements' sent his emergency message to the Legislature.

The bill next goes to the Senate for further action.

Rep. Jimmie Edwards III, D-Conroe, said that after all costs of the disaster are covered, the fund will have a balance of about $2.5 million for future needs.

"No one could anticipate two disasters within two weeks in this state," Clements said in his emergency message Wednesday.

Clements last week asked for $750,000 to shore up the disaster fund for grant payments to tornado victims.

"New figures have come in on Wichita Falls," Clements said in a message to legislators.

The state paid $1,650,000 in individual family grants of $500 apiece. In addition, the state is providing 2,000 temporary housing sites for an additional $2 million.

Big Spring High School senior Kathy Birdwell will be among five area girls competing in the District 2-A1 Lions International queen contest Saturday in Midland. The Lions will be holding their annual district convention in Midland Friday through Sunday. Kathy, 19, who said she enjoys people and athletic activities, is being sponsored for the contest by the Big Spring Downtown Lions Club.

Larry Stockett conducts his business in first paperless office

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL

WASHINGTON (AP) — In Larry Stockett's office, no secretary takes a letter.

No mistake-ridden letters jam wastebaskets.

No filing cabinets line the walls.

There are no typewriters, no file folders. There is no clutter.

If Stockett wants to go over correspondence on the way home, he opens his briefcase, turns on the 6-ounce microfiche projector and reads from a screen built into the briefcase lid.

The 32-year-old Stockett is president of Micronet, Inc., a management consulting firm that specializes in automation. His message is that the office can be made just as efficient as the production line.

"We wanted to be the first to practice what we preach," Stockett says.

That gave birth to this week's official opening of what Stockett proclaims is the office of the future.

Not surprisingly, it's called The Paperless Office and it's located amidst the plush boutiques in the shopping arcade of the Watergate complex. But it is a working office, not a trade show or a sales room.

"We don't sell any equipment or software. We are a user like any other user," says Stockett.

Equipment in Micronet's office includes a Thought Tank System that takes dictation from any phone in the office, word processors, video display screens at each desk, printers for letters that go out of the office, a computer and three minicomputers. Instead of the tapping of typewriters in the usual office, here there is only the insistent hum of machinery.

"If a firm goes to the manufacturer, they get a sales pitch," Stockett said. "From us they hear what works and what doesn't work."

The firm also conducts workshops for executive officers of companies and for planning teams, charging $225 per student per day. Stockett expects 5,000 to attend the workshops in the next 12 months.

An accounting firm sent managers from around the world. The government is a big client.

All of the equipment in use in the office is of standard manufacture and readily available. Lockett's briefcase, complete with microfiche projector and screen, sells for $139. Microfiche are 4-by-6 inch sheets of film capable of holding the equivalent of 270 pages of paper computer print-out.

"Every bit of information I create in my company I can carry with me in my briefcase," Stockett said.

Stockett said that although more than 50 percent of the gross national product is associated with information systems, there has not been any increase in office productivity in the last 10 years.

Warning: Cats, dogs might be hazardous to family's health

ATLANTA (AP) — Warning to pet owners from the national Center for Disease Control: cats and dogs can be hazardous to the health of women and children.

Research has linked family pets to diseases that can cause spontaneous abortion or a misformed fetus, blindness or pneumonia-like symptoms, said Dr. Peter Shantz, a CDC researcher.

Because of a certain parasite, pregnant women in particular should not be exposed to cats and "certainly not to cat feces," said Shantz. "A pregnant woman should not be responsible for changing cat litter and probably should try to avoid exposure to cats," he said.

The disease, toxoplasmosis, is relatively common, but few infected individuals have ill-effects, said Shantz. But if a mother acquires it during pregnancy, he said, she can transmit it to the fetus, perhaps causing spontaneous abortion or a disfiguring malformation in the child.

Although pet industry figures show about 63 million families in the United States own a dog or cat, cases of pet-transmitted diseases are fairly rare, said Dr. William Winkler of the CDC. "Obviously having a dog is not a tremendous public health problem," he said.

But cats and dogs can carry diseases, and researchers say that children — especially those with pica, the tendency to eat non-food items — seem to be the most vulnerable. "Small children have a greater chance to get sick from any disease," said Winkler. "They're small, close to the ground and they get intimate with the animal's mouth, urine and feces."

"There's a tendency to have the dog or cat sleep in bed with them and they kiss and snuggle it. They shouldn't do that."

Recently, medical investigators hypothesized that multiple sclerosis, a wasting disease, is linked to owning dogs.

"It has been suggested that multiple sclerosis is related to the ownership of dogs and intimate contact with them," Winkler said. "So far, it has been a hypothesis difficult to prove." A bacteria spread by dogs — campylobacter — is suspected of causing up to 10 percent of the diarrheal diseases in children younger than 4 years old, said Winkler. Such problems can be life-threatening to infants, he said.

Another disease known to be transmitted by dogs and suspected of being carried by cats — brucellosis — can cause what appears to be a very severe and protracted influenza. Winkler said it also can cause sterility and spontaneous abortion by pregnant women.

INFLATION FIGHTING ideas

"Let's Get Fresh!"

From the U.S. Office of Consumer Affairs: "In season, fresh and raw fruits and vegetables usually cost less than canned or frozen varieties. Depending on the time of year and your personal preference, it is a good idea to comparison shop between different forms of the same food."

Taking advantage of seasonal buys in produce is a good inflation fighting idea. When such items as corn, onions, squash, tomatoes, potatoes, melons, peaches, plums and all the other favorites come to market in large quantities, the price naturally goes down. That's when Inflation Fighters make their moves. By featuring these plentiful fruits and vegetables often in their family's menus throughout the year, they save substantially!

Mark Russell says

The rumor in Washington is that the House will investigate a congressman charged with staying home during the Easter recess.

The House Ethics Committee will declare that the congressman's blatant failure to fly to a romantic country at taxpayers' expense is in violation of the Mandatory Junket Act.

I cannot divulge the name of the congressman, since, as you can imagine, he is already swamped with curiosity seekers and reporters.

"I never knew that staying put during the Easter recess would cause such a stir," said the maverick. "I've been mending fences here at home and reading the threatening post cards from some of my colleagues in Paris and Tahiti."

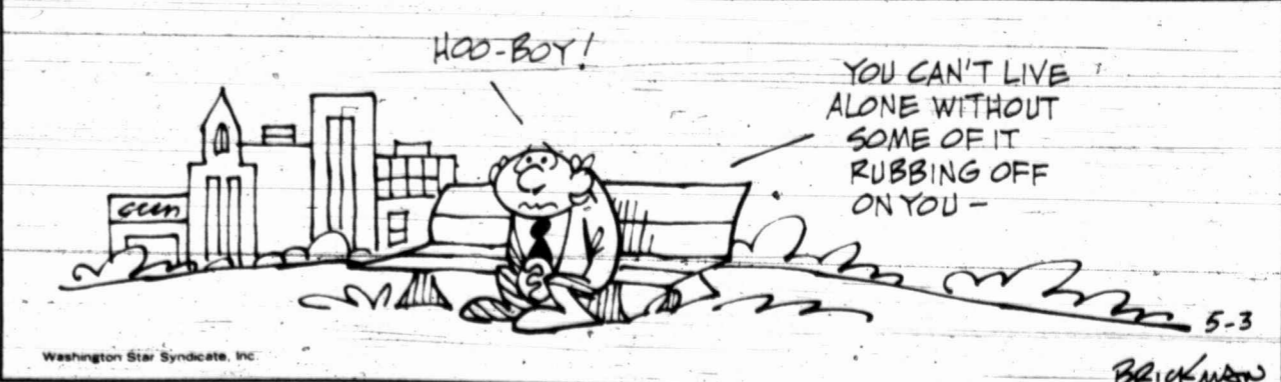

The culprit congressman once dreamed of being President, but no more. After all, if a man is afraid to go on a free junket, how can he stand up to the Russians?

Lamesa proud of new cotton mill

LAMESA — Have you ever been so hot 'n' mad that you could "spit cotton?" Probably you have at one time or another. And one of these days, you may be hungry — or curious — enough to eat the stuff, the real McCoy. Cigar-smoking Robert Pearson has, but what he ate was candied cottonseed meal, rather than puffs of cotton. "They make a good cookie out of this right now," Pearson said of the meal. "Cattle like it, too. And it's rich in protein. "I've eaten ice cream made out of cottonseed, but I don't like it," allowed Pearson, a Mississippian-turned-Texan, who is superintendent of the edible-producing Lamesa Cotton Oil Mill.

THE MILL'S MOST highly touted product is cottonseed oil, which is nothing particularly new to folks in Dawson County. This South Plains county is, quite simply, cotton country. But the out-flow of processed oil extracted from the bean-size seeds spewing forth from West Texas cotton gins is going to be gushing forth like a booming wildcat oil well. The 40-year-old mill is being revamped — new equipment is replacing old — and production will increase 50 percent...to 300 tons of cottonseed processed per day. "We're putting in everything new, but employees, and that's what we need," noted a jesting Patsy Mason, one of about 60 mill workers. The multi-million dollar machinery will be producing new oil, which, in a roundabout way, will be traded for more new oil — petroleum — from the Middle East. One is edible, the other, which isn't, gets the cotton products and a whole lot more to market. BUT PEARSON'S concern is keeping the machinery going once it gets geared up. "It's not the biggest, but it's the most modern (oil mill plant) in the United States," he said. All together, the sprawling plant, which is near a cotton gin and cotton-cushions, pads and the such, and in the making of paper, plastics, gun powder, photographic paper and sausage casings. —Hulling and Separation: "This is where you take the cottonseed, cut it, and get the goodies (kernels) out of it." —Dust control: Here, anti-pollution devices collect the dust and lint in keeping within standards of the Environmental Protection Agency. —Extraction plant: Hulls go into storage silos, and the kernels go to the road cars, both tank and box. Some are shipped out by transport trucks.

THE HULLS and meal go to cow and feed lots. And, like Pearson said, some meal goes into making cookies and, maybe one of these days, cotton-bread and the like.

The oil — used in cooking, baking, salad oil, mellorine, margarine, shortening — is shipped to food processors around the world.

"It's going (among other places) to wind up with the Arabs in the Middle East," said Pearson. Northcott has given cottonseed oil a try in the kitchen.

"You can cook with it," he said. "I've cooked with it."

"It's good cooking oil," added Pearson. "You can't beat it."

Northcott, for now, seemed to differ somewhat. "Personally, I'm not too crazy about the taste." But, he said, chemists are working toward getting that certain cotton smell and taste out of the oil.

Allen Herzer, who has been plant manager here since 1971, seemed pleased with the mill and its potential.

"Oh, we've got a good plant. I just wish it were running now."

The mill's most highly touted product is cottonseed oil, which is nothing particularly new to folks in Dawson County. This South Plains county is, quite simply, cotton country.

seed office in the city's industrialized eastside, will have been shut down about a month when it cranks up on about June 1.

The plant, a division of Chickasha Cotton Oil Mill in Fort Worth, started its conversion to new equipment about six months ago. The plant kept running during most of the conversion.

Pearson and Rick Northcott, construction foreman, took a leisurely stroll through the plant to show it off to Roustin. About Pearson furnished the narration: —Seed-cleaning units: "That gets all the sticks, rocks and crap (dirt) out of them (seeds)." There are four units here.

—De-linting units: This machinery removes the fuzzy lint from the seed. Lint, which markets for six cents a pound, is used in stuffing mattresses, old extraction plant, which will be replaced by an up-to-date plant in the backyard of the oil mill by November. The meal, which is what's left when the oil is taken from the kernels, goes to storage tanks before shipping time.

"Everything is 100 percent new, brand-new, new equipment," said Pearson. "I guess it's the most modern equipment that money can buy. It's expensive. Don't get me wrong about that."

Once the mill is cranked up again, it'll be running 11 months out of the year.

Concerning that 12th month: "We're repairing and getting ready for the next year," said Pearson.

A Sante Fe Railway spur runs to the plant. Here, the products of the seed are spilled, poured or shot into rail-

Minister is 'friend and pastor' to dying, families

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the fourth of a multi-part series on death and how those involved handle the crisis.

By GARY OTT
Plainview Daily Herald
News Editor

The scene is rugged Dodge City, Kan., in the mid-1800s. The hero is a hard living gunslinger who has no doubt seen the insides of more than one bar room, honky-tonk and even bordello. He—probably in the mold of a Lee Marvin—has drunk, cussed, and caroused a lifetime of living into 35 short but hard years.

But, like it sometimes happens in the movies, the fun comes to an abrupt halt when our hero is gunned down in a bloody street fight. Alas, all is not lost because while on his death bed the hero whispers to his girlfriend "go fetch the preacher 'cause I'm ready to get religion before movin' on."

That familiar scenario—especially the bedside confession—makes one heckuva of a good Hollywood script but does it happen in real life?

NOT VERY OFTEN, say several Plainview religious leaders contacted by the Herald during the past two weeks.

"It just doesn't happen that way," says Charles Teykl, pastor of First Presbyterian Church. "More times than not the person (one who faces an impending death) assures me that he has his life in order. Of course, by doing this he is reassuring himself." Tommy Ewing, pastor of Trinity United Methodist Church concurred with that assessment. "In all my years in the ministry I've seen very, very few death bed experiences (a last minute grasp at salvation by a dying person). Instead, persons have a fear of the unknown and want some reassurance that their life is in order."

MINISTERS, of course, often come in contact with dying persons and their families—either through hospital visits or the patient coming to the minister.

But, the role they play and the advice they offer often varies. Most agree, however, that they try to be a combination "friend and pastor."

"I try to be a friend as well as minister," said Gene Glaeser, minister of the Garland Street Church of Christ. "Usually I review the beauties of heaven and mention some of the frailties of this life. But, we generally don't get into any great theological question."

Teykl said it was important for the minister to be a friend. "I try to be supportive, even humorous, with the patient," he said. "Of course, there's something symbolic about the clergy and I try to offer assurance that God is with them."

HOW DO people react to news that they are dying? Quite well, the ministers agree, although there often is some bitterness or despair initially.

Most also concurred that "the Christian" has a tendency to better accept death and experiences "less fear of the unknown."

Likewise, they generally agree that family members who are Christians accept the death of a loved one better if they realize the person dying is a Christian.

Gene Barber, pastor of Calvary Temple Church, said family members—Christians and non-Christians generally go through a five-part phase once they learn a loved one is dying.

According to Barber, these phases, and the order in which they occur, are:

- Denial or disbelief (this really is not happening to me).
- Outward anger (they're mad at others, including God).
- Inward anger (self-guilt).
- Genuine grief (person can actually cry about the situation which often helps).
- Resolution (regaining zest and joy for life).

"IT HAS BEEN my experience,"

Barber said. "That non-Christians often have trouble getting past the fourth (grief) stage. Christians, however, have a better understanding of death and don't fear the unknown as much."

Barber also said he believes in "talking honestly and openly" about death. "Since most people—Christians and non-Christians—have a certain fear of death, I think it is important to talk openly about it and bring death into the world of reality," he said.

MINISTERS, like doctors, often face the seemingly unpleasant task of dealing with dying patients.

But, unlike doctors—who by the very nature of their jobs must deal with cold, and sometimes cruel, medical facts—ministers view their jobs in a different light. Most see it as an opportunity to comfort the patient and offer support and hope for "life after death."

Pilot OK after belly landing at Big Spring

BIG SPRING — A Lubbock pilot made a belly landing at Big Spring Airport here Wednesday morning, but walked away unharmed, according to Big Spring police.

Big Spring Fire Marshal Jim Ryals said the plane's alarm system failed to warn Eugene Skalnaker that the landing gear on his single engine plane was not down.

Police and fire officials arrived after the plane skidded down the runway about 250 feet.

Amount of damage to the plane was not determined.

Kenny Rogers tops Country Music awards

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Kenny Rogers, the Oak Ridge Boys and Barbara Mandrell shared top honors as the Academy of Country Music awards went prime time with a star-studded telecast featuring more music than talk.

Rogers, who walked into the Hollywood Paladium with nominations in five categories, emerged with two prestigious prizes — the top male vocalist and entertainer of the year awards.

The silver-bearded singer's hit "The Gambler" already has won the country song of the year Grammy this year. But Rogers, who won four awards from the Academy last year, said the Country Music honors were the most gratifying.

"It represents a lot of work, a lot of effort," Rogers said, "and this way I can justify to my wife being on the road so much."

Rogers, who has run the gamut from jazz and pop to country in his lengthy career, said that his experience has contributed to his current success.

"You draw on all of your resources," Rogers said. "Country music is no longer one-dimensional."

The Oak Ridge Boys, who took away silvery cowboy hat trophies for top vocal group and whose "Y'all Come Back Saloon" recording was album of the year, also came to country music through a side door—gospel. The Tennessee-based quartet has won four Grammys for their gospel recordings.

Miss Mandrell, who co-hosted the two-hour show with Roy Clark and Dennis Weaver, said her award for top female vocalist caught her completely by surprise.

"I didn't even compose a speech," she said, "but gosh, you've made me happy."

Don Williams struck a casual note at the otherwise dressy affair, wearing a denim jacket as he accepted a "hat" for single record of the year — "Tulsa Time."

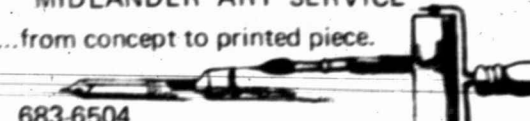

Christy Lane, whose recent string of hits include "I Just Can't Stay Married To You," and "Simple Little Words," was named top new female vocalist.

Top new male vocalist was John Conlee, who wore pink-tinted spectacles — a trademark since his song "Rose Colored Glasses" established him as a top draw.

Anne Murray, whose rendition of "You Needed Me" earned her a Grammy as top female vocalist, was not on hand as the same tune was named song of the year. But composer Randy Goodrum and publisher Bob Milsap collected the award for Miss Murray, who recently gave birth to a second child.

Sandwiched between the Academy's nine on-camera awards were performances by many top nomi-

Ohira to speed tariff reductions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Japanese Prime Minister Masayoshi Ohira said today he will seek approval from the Japanese parliament for advanced implementation of tariff reductions agreed to at the Tokyo Round of tariff talks.

Ohira's announcement, made in a speech to the National Press Club, was seen as a demonstration of Japanese good will in the face of persistent American criticism over that country's multibillion trade surplus.

In his prepared remarks, Ohira said he was proposing the measure "as a contribution to rectifying Japan's international payments imbalance."

Japanese officials who briefed reporters on the speech said that Japan will implement the advanced tariff reductions in stages, in accordance with specified formulas. The officials also said "it is expected" that other developed countries would respond by taking "appropriate measures to counteract protectionist movements."

Ohira, who is on the second day of his official visit here, also pledged a continued effort to strive for "a more open and freer world trading system."

Discussing Japan's foreign policy, Ohira said the Japanese partnership with the United States is pivotal.

"This partnership is indispensable to world peace and stability. We owe it to the world to build on today's solid foundations by developing a still more productive partnership for the 1980," he said.

"The balance of power — and therefore the peace — in Asia and the Pacific, and throughout the world, continues to depend on a strong America."

Ohira said Japan and the rest of the world expect "resolute leadership from the United States, and I for one am confident that the administration is responsive to these expectations."

Lie detector tests set in Big Spring shootings

BIG SPRING — Four persons are scheduled to take lie detector tests in Midland in connection with the shooting deaths of two Big Spring residents April 27, Howard County Sheriff A.N. Standard said today.

Tests will be made at the Department of Public Safety, according to the sheriff.

Standard said he does not consider the people to be tested as suspects and called the lie detector tests a "procedural matter."

One person was scheduled to take the lie detector test today, a second person on Friday and the other two sometime next week, Standard said.

Rape reported

Police today were investigating the alleged rape of a 22-year-old Midland woman who reportedly was assaulted earlier in the day on the city's east side.

A 47-year-old man was arrested shortly after the woman reported the incident, police said.

The woman told police she was forced into a car by several men outside a bar in the 800 block of East Texas Avenue.

She told officers she was taken to a vacant house, where one of the men forced her to have sexual intercourse.

After the alleged rape, the woman told police her attacker went to sleep. She told police she then ran to a friend's house to call them.

Police said they later arrested a man at the vacant house.

John Wayne

John Wayne said stable

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Hollywood legend John Wayne spent "a good night" recovering from his second operation this year, a hospital spokeswoman said today.

The 71-year-old film veteran remained in stable condition in the intensive care unit of UCLA Medical Center after undergoing surgery to remove an intestinal blockage, said spokeswoman Suzzette Darby.

Al Hicks, a hospital spokesman, said the surgery Wednesday was routine.

UCLA Medical Center night nursing supervisor Barbara Stone said today that doctors had "not issued any statement at all" on the question of whether they found traces of the cancer that had forced removal of Wayne's stomach in January. He also had a cancerous left lung removed 15 years ago.

"There's nothing on the release I have on cancer one way or the other," she said. "To my knowledge there's nothing that's been released one way or the other regarding cancer."

Wayne was taken to UCLA Tuesday night. The hospital said he was scheduled to return to UCLA, anyway, for a checkup following his January cancer surgery.

At that time, Wayne was admitted for gall bladder surgery. But surgeons found cancer in his stomach and had to remove it during a 9½-hour operation. He left the hospital Feb. 10.

"An examination of Mr. Wayne after his admission for a routine check revealed a partial intestinal obstruction that was relieved in an operation this morning," said hospital spokeswoman Bonnie Whitham.

Wayne, who will be 72 on May 26, was taken to the intensive care unit following the surgery, Hicks said, but had been in the same ninth-floor room where he stayed while recuperating from his Jan. 12 cancer surgery.

Eleven days after he presented the Oscar for best picture of the year at the Academy Awards on April 9, Wayne was admitted to Hoag Memorial Hospital in Newport Beach for treatment of bronchitis. He left Hoag on April 25.

Four more arrested

in drug investigation

ODESSA — Four additional arrests were made early today in connection with a drug investigation that resulted in seven arrests Wednesday afternoon, an Ector County Sheriff's office spokesman said.

No charges had been filed by early today, the spokesman said.

The 11 arrests culminate a seven-week, single-handed undercover investigation by an Odessa sheriff's deputy who had just completed basic law-enforcement training in Midland, the spokesman said.

The seven people arrested Wednesday were charged later that day before Peace Justice Jimmy Harris with various offenses involving the alleged drugs.

Many fathers of 1979 Texas Tech University graduates will be eligible for special diplomas at the same time commencement exercises are conducted by colleges of the university, May 12, according to John E. Scherer of 2510 Concord St., Midland, chairman of the Endowment Funds for Scholarship project for the Texas Tech Dads Association.

A father is eligible if he has a son or daughter graduating, is a life member of the Texas Tech Dads Association, is a four-year member of the association or has paid annual membership dues during the past four years.

Members who meet the requirements, according to James G. Allen, executive director of the association, should get in touch with the Texas Tech Dads Association, Box 4293, Texas Tech, 79409 or telephone 1-806-742-3630, and their diplomas will be ready.

"It would seem only right," said Allen, "that when his son or daughter gets a diploma at the end of four years of study, Dad should also get a diploma certifying that for the past four years he has supported a student at Tech and the association as a dues paying member."

Qualifying members are invited to visit the office of the association, Room 164, Administration Building, on commencement day to pick up their diplomas.

CROCKETT ELEMENTARY SCHOOL Parent-Teacher Association unit will have its last meeting for this school year beginning at 7 p.m. Friday in the school's cafeteria, said Wilburn Buttery, principal.

New officers will be installed and a Cinco de Mayo Fiesta featuring migrant and sixth grade students in a bi-cultural program will be presented.

Mexican food booths will be another attraction. They will open at 6 p.m. "There has been standing room only at all of the PTA meetings at Crockett this year," said Buttery, "and this last program should be another attendance breaker."

CINDY CANFIELD, graduating senior at Lee High School, was guest of honor last Friday at a swimming party and buffet given by Mrs. Don C. Bennett and Robin Bennett at the Bennett residence.

Miss Canfield will attend Southern Methodist University next fall. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Canfield of 3100 Seaboard Ave.

GRAND SQUARES of Midland will have a dance beginning at 8 p.m. Friday at M-Square. David Davis will be the caller.

All area square dancers are invited to attend.

DOYLENE RANEY will present her piano students in a recital beginning at 7:30 p.m. Friday. The recital will consist of gospel and popular songs and will be held in the Fellowship Hall of Alamo Heights Baptist Church.

Students playing will be Brian Ameal, Amy Arenivas, Kelli Badgett, Donna Broadway, Nathan Casbeer, Lauri Culp, Kirk Dunn, Maria Francis, Krissie Hammett, Lisa Hutchinson, Paula Johns, Becky Kelley and Marci Light.

Also, Karan Long, Ralph Nall, Jill Newton, Stephanie Schlichting, Katy Raney, Joni Spinks, Sherry Trimble, Richey Trullitt, Carol Waddell, Cindy Willmon, Brad Wilson and Laura Wilson.

David Newton will sing a song, accompanied by his daughter, Jill, and Rita Stotts will join a student in playing a flute duet.

Awards will be presented to each student after the recital. The public is invited.

KATHY MILLS, LYNN SCOTT AND MARY TOM HALE, graduating Lee High School seniors, were honored with a delicatessen supper in the home of Lynn Erwin, who was assisted by her mother, Mrs. E. R. Erwin.

Twenty-six guests attended, including the mothers of the honorees.

Miss Mills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mills, will attend Texas A&M University in the fall. Miss Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Scott, and Miss Hale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Hale, will attend Abilene Christian University in the fall.

MIDLAND JUNIOR ASSEMBLY will sponsor a Farewell Formal from 8-11 p.m. Saturday at the Midland Youth Center, according to Sarah Neisig, assembly publicity chairman.

Chaperones will be Mr. and Mrs. Ronald A. Britton, Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Page and Mr. and Mrs. Don L. Sparks.

DEANN WOMACK, a student at Greenwood High School, recently won first place in typing in the University Interscholastic League Region 1-B competition held at South Plains College in Levelland.

Beta Sigma Phi, a social, cultural and service organization for women, celebrated its 48th anniversary in Midland with a Founder's Day event at Ranchland Hills Country Club.

The anniversary was observed by the nine chapters in Midland and by all other chapters around the world. Highlight of the activities was presentation of the Girl of the Year awards from each of the local chapters. Kathy Blackman, member of Mu Psi chapter, served as chairman of the activities. Beverly Acker presented a special message from the sorority's president, received from the international office in Kansas City, Mo.

Special awards were presented by Kay Blank and program was given by Quila Morrow, who gave a book review on Erma Bombeck's "If Life is a Bowl of Cherries..."

The largest women's sorority in the world, Beta Sigma Phi has 250,000 members in over 12,000 chapters existing in 30 countries. The organization is non-academic, non-political and non-sectarian. The keynote to the sorority is friendship.

Internationally, the chapters have created several special funds. The International Loan Fund enables members to help one another. The International Endowment Fund has donated over one million dollars to cancer research, cystic fibrosis, homes for underprivileged children and other causes. The Exemplar Fund helps to support Literacy Village in India and a college scholarship fund is available to members and their children.

The organization was founded in Abilene, Kansas, by Walter W. Ross.

Midland Deanery meets in area

MCCAMEY - The Midland Deanery spring meeting was held here recently for Catholic Women's organizations, which includes Andrews, Ector, Midland, Crane, Upton, Imperial, Coynosa, Fort Stockton, Pecos and Terrell counties.

Mrs. Clyde Reyes presided and moderators were the Rev. Charles Hassenauer, OMI, of Midland; DCCW president, Mrs. Bill Parker of Anson and the Rev. Robert Kelly of Abilene. Attending from Midland were Mrs. Reyes, Ernestina Ramirez, Mary Ayala, Felipa Lara, Elena Heredia, Lupe Garcia, Margarita Guajardo, Estela Carrasco, Juanita Martinez, Mage Paiz, Felipa Heredia, Rosa Espinosa and Mrs. Tom McCurdy.

Christi Price shower honoree

Christi Price of Fort Worth, bride-elect of Craig Klemppner of Midland was honored with a miscellaneous shower recently in the home of Mrs. Earl Whisnand of 2313 Seaboard Ave.

A woven rattan doorpiece centered with the couple's picture and decorated with earth-tone ribbons and eucalyptus leaves greeted the 68 guests registered. Refreshments were served from a table centered with a spring bouquet and brass and ironstone accompaniments.

A brass tray was presented the honoree by the hostesses, Mrs. W.H. Nelson, Mrs. Jim Rogers, Mrs. Fred McMann, Mrs. Jim Eads, Mrs. Dean Cox and Mrs. Whisnand.

Special guests were Kayla Price of Abilene, sister of the bride-elect; Linda Klemppner of Lubbock, sister of the future bridegroom; Mrs. G. R. Klemppner, grandmother of the bridegroom-to-be, and Mrs. Richard Klemppner, future bridegroom's mother.

Christi, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Herbert Price of Fort Worth, and Craig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Klemppner of Midland, will be married Aug. 24 in Fort Worth.

Crystal Ball planned

Plans are being finalized for the annual Crystal Ball to benefit the High Sky Girls Ranch.

The event, set for May 9 at the Midland Country Club, is hosted by the High Sky Ranch board of directors.

Invitations have been mailed for the black tie formal affair. The ball will be held from 8 p.m. to 12 midnight.

Activities will include a breakfast at 10:30 p.m., entertainment to be provided by Mal Fitch and his orchestra and an auction of Waterford crystal chandeliers.

In addition, a surprise entertainer will act as master of ceremonies for the auction and special drawings for Waterford crystal.

High Sky Girls Ranch

is a refuge for young girls who are having a difficult time living with their families and who need an environment to grow and develop in a home-like atmosphere.

The ranch depends entirely upon individual gifts and donations for support. It is governed by the board of directors, consisting of some 30 persons in the Permian Basin area.

DEAR ABBY
Don't give in

 By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have known this guy for two years, but we didn't get really serious about each other until seven months ago. I'm 18 and he's 19. He kept trying to get me to go to bed with him, and I kept saying no. Finally I gave in.

I really was in love with him, Abby. I'm no tramp. I thought it would bring us closer together. Maybe even get him to figure out some way we could get married.

Well, I was wrong

After that evening I didn't hear one word from him. Finally, I ran into him by accident three weeks later, and his attitude toward me was completely different. He acted like a stranger.

I feel so cheap. If I had known then what I know now, I never would have given in. But there's nothing I can do about it now.

I wasted something very precious on someone who wasn't worth it and didn't appreciate it. Please keep telling girls that the way to keep a guy is by NOT giving in to him. I wish I hadn't. —SORRY IN W. VA.

DEAR SORRY: I will. And maybe your experience will help some other girl when she has that decision to make.

Wedding bells in your future? Whether your lifestyle is bridal gown or blue jeans, Abby lays it all out for you in her booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding." Send $1 and a long, stamped (28 cents) self-addressed envelope to Abby: 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Directors appointed for Lancaster Garden Center

Committee chairmen for the board of directors of the Lancaster Garden Center, Museum of the Southwest, were appointed by the newly elected coordinator, Betty Shirey, at a recent meeting of the directors in the center.

The chairmen are Barbara Drake, liaison between Garden Center and Museum of Southwest; Mary McAlpine, properties; Audra Mann, telephone; Leanell Hardman, flower show ribbons and awards; Arva Putman, typing; Mrs. Shirey, greenhouse; Gerry Griffin, assistant greenhouse, and Virginia Gilbert, special hostess.

Violets; Mary Watkins, special arts; Mrs. Putman and Jean Eads, lawn and turf classes; Carolyn Lindsey, newsletter; Gladys Mitchell, historian, and Hazel Somerville, memorial book.

Joy Butts gave a report on the rose garden at the center and said she had plans for a miniature rose garden if there is enough interest.

The next meeting of the board of directors will be May 22.

Amy Freeman Lee, second from left, of San Antonio discussed the importance of volunteer work at a talk held on the Midland College campus and sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary, Inc., of Midland Memorial Hospital. Also pictured are, from the left, Mrs. James Malley, Mrs. Richard Cramer and Mrs. James Davis, auxiliary members. Mrs. Lee is heavily involved in art, education, civic affairs and the humane movement. Her talk centered on giving, caring and communicating, which she believes are all essential to volunteerism. She has given more than a thousand lectures since 1945 and is heavily in demand for speeches throughout the U.S. She has also had some 174 literary works published in a variety of forms including poetry, essays, criticism and short stories. Older citizens discuss their lives

LIVING LONGER AND LOVING IT. By Arthur Geller & Deborah Geller. Hammond. 184 Pages. $7.95.

Older persons are the fastest-growing minority in this country. There are more than 23 million people over the age of 65 living in the United States today — 11 percent of the total population.

So many books have been written focusing on their problems that older people have come to be perceived as financially, physically and mentally limited, sitting feeble and ill in a corner, waiting for release in the form of death.

Now Arthur Geller, director of the senior center of the Henry Street Settlement House in New York, and his daughter, writer Deborah Geller, have revised that concept by letting the "oldsters" speak for themselves.

And what some three dozen men and women ranging in age from the late 60s to the late 80s have to say is that they are enjoying their old age, in many cases finding it the best time of their life. They're going back to school, remaining active in organizations, pursuing hobbies, still working at jobs, enjoying a rich social life, remarrying happily in words, with the authors supplying bridging chapters. The subjects range from "everyday" unknowns to such prominent persons in the field of aging as Maggie Kuhn, founder of the Gray Panthers. They tell their stories in their own words, with the authors supplying bridging chapters. It's a book that will be inspiring to the old, illuminating to the young and heart-warming to all.

Review Club plans meeting

The En Amie Review Club will meet at 12 noon May 9 in the Midland Woman's Club.

The program will be presented by the children's theatre group under the direction of Debbie Waddell.

New officers to be installed are Mrs. Robert Hobbs, president; Mrs. Gus Waterman, vice president; Mrs. Elwood Hisey, recording secretary; Mrs. Arch Lair, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Frances Brantlett, treasurer; and Mrs. W. D. Gill, publicity and historian.

Reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. Neal McDonald at 694-1184.

Women's Golf Association competes

ANDREWS — The Nine Hole Division of the Hogan Park Women's Golf Association of Midland recently journeyed to Andrews for their weekly Playday.

They had an unprecedented and unplanned trick shot contest. Jeanne Allen won the "Fling the Driver on Hole One" contest, while "Golf Ball Walk on Water" contest winners were Jean Connor and Barbara Larsen.

"Break 50 on Foreign Soil" winner was Renee Beigue. The "Bank Shot From Tree to Wrong

Green" and "Hit the Yard Marker" were sewed up by Mrs. Larsen.

"In the Water Out of Bounds" was captured by Betty Reimers.

Legitimate winners were Mrs. Reimers, high; Betty Williams, second high; Margaret Moore, low; and Margaret Phelps, second low.

Annual senior party planned

Plans are revving up for the annual Senior "All Night" party sponsored by the parents of seniors at Robert E. Lee and Midland High Schools.

The event is set for graduation night, May 31, from 11 p.m. to 4 a.m. at the National Guard Armory, N. Lamesa Road.

Serious play will begin again Wednesday with Trophy Day.

A Nine-Hole Division Handicap Tournament is slated May 16 and 17.

May Day fellowship set Friday

A May Fellowship Day Celebration of Church Women United is scheduled for 10:30 a.m. Friday in the Rathoff Chapel of First Christian Church.

The event is hosted by the Christian Women's Fellowship group of First Christian Church.

A 9:30 a.m. executive committee meeting will precede the program in the Youth Lounge of the church.

Following the program, a salad luncheon will be served in the fellowship hall. Each member attending is requested to bring a salad.

Entertainment will be provided by "The Origin," choral group at Lee High School. Their presentation is entitled "The Year of the Child." The public is invited to attend.

HOROSCOPE

By CARROLL RIGHTER (Fri., May 4)

GENERAL TENDENCIES — You are inclined to break up an existing condition but by being very quiet you can get the correct answers from deep within yourself and for being most creative in your ideas, thoughts and feelings.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Handle responsibilities well. Listen to ideas of others that could be of help to you. Do some entertaining of those who are devoted to you.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Do nothing that kin would resent. Fundamental affairs need particular attention and conscientious effort. Avoid anything that has an element of danger in it.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Any changes where work is concerned is not good at this time. Give support to partners who are loyal to you. Listening to gripes on the part of others is wise. Do whatever is fair and just.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Take care you are not extravagant where pleasure is concerned. Avoid whatever is not worthwhile, wholesome. Buy a thoughtful gift for a loved one.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Learn to save more so that you can have more in the future and build up a reserve quickly. An expert's advice in the morning is not correct but later you get the true facts.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Be careful in motion of all kinds and you make this a happy and safe day. Make sure statements, reports are correct. Take no unnecessary risks in investments.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23): Don't mix finances and personal relationships or there can be trouble now. Delegate the social to the evening. Don't reach decisions about changes until evening.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21): You are in a nervous dither until the middle of the afternoon, so calm yourself and then the evening goes well for you. Get as much done as you can, especially where civic work is concerned.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Stay to what ever is interesting so that you forget any anxieties you may have. Find the right new outlet for yourself. You are now capable of understanding new ideas, attitudes and can grow.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): You can take care of obligations well now, but don't involve your friends in them or there is trouble. Try to please your mate more.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Show loyalty to associates and don't antagonize bigwigs today or tonight. Not a good day to solve a nagging problem (at least together matters).

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Some old problem can best be handled during evening hours, so postpone it until then. Handle work affairs quietly. Give more thought to your diet for better health.

RECLINER REVOLUTION it wasn't too long ago that most decorators regarded the over stuffed recliner, lounge chair or ottoman for good reason. These older recliners offered much in comfort but very little in style or fashion. They were often bulky, ungainly, and hard to place in the room, unless stuck off in Dad's den out of sight.

There's been a revolution in recliners since that time and the results are making even the most dubious decorator change his mind. Comfort is still one of the reasons for choosing these chairs, but now there is a fashion flair to match the comfort.

The big improvement is that recliners need not look like recliners. Many are scaled down in size without sacrificing comfort. They are more in proportion, do not need as much space, and can often take the place of the traditional lounge chair in the most elegant setting.

There are rockers, too, or rocker-recliners. Again, the styling and coverings (in fabrics or vinyls) make them much more versatile.

You'll find these chairs a happy choice for Dad (remember, his day comes up in June), and for the family room or den where many hours are spent reading, relaxing or watching TV. And you'll find a happy choice in our collection of fine recliners now on display.

The 1979 Midland telephone directory, to be distributed in mid-May, features a cover by nationally-known artist Warren Hunter. The painting is a Central Texas farm scene, complete with bluebonnets.

Ma Bell to deliver directories soon

Midlanders have a special delivery to look forward to soon — the 1979 Midland telephone directory.

A record-setting 97,376 copies of the new directory will be delivered beginning May 16, said Juanita Bryant, district manager for Southwestern Bell, today.

"One copy will be delivered to each residential subscriber, with additional copies available at the Southwestern Bell business offices," she said.

The cover of the 1979 directory is titled "Redstone Ranch," a watercolor landscape by nationally-known San Antonio artist Warren Hunter.

A 1939 graduate of the Art Institute of Chicago, Hunter established his own art school in San Antonio in 1946.

The Hunter painting chosen for this year's directory depicts a kind of scene for which Hunter is famous — a Central Texas farmhouse complete with windmill, water tank, clothe-line, barbed-wire fence, and plenty of bluebonnets.

"I've always loved this area," Hunter says of Central Texas, adding that he wants his work "to remind people of something in their own experience."

Two special features have been added to the directory this year. A page on modular telephone equipment is included in the call guide section in the front of the directory. It illustrates how to connect and disconnect modular phones.

A letter from Charley M. Davidson, staff supervisor for customer relations, is included in the yellow pages. Titled "How To Be a Better Buyer and Consumer," the letter offers shopping tips concerning prices, estimates, receipts, contracts, credit details, guarantees, licenses and permits.

The letter also gives the phone number of the local Better Business Bureau and lists a toll-free number that customers may dial if they find a yellow page ad to be deceptive or misleading.

Motahari buried

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — More than 200,000 mourners marched through downtown Tehran today with the body of Ayatollah Morteza Motahari, the second leader of the Iranian revolutionary regime assassinated within nine days.

A telephone caller purporting to speak for the assassins said other leaders of the regime were marked for death. But Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, the architect of the revolution, said the "martyrdom" of Motahari and Gen. Mohammad Vahid Gharani made the leaders of the revolution "more determined in our fight against corruption and imperialism."

The procession started at 8 a.m., and the line of marchers swelled as it moved through the city. The government ordered national mourning for the day, and shops and factories were closed.

Amid the wailing of women in traditional long black veils, some of the mourners chanted slogans condemning communists and leftist guerrillas, calling them "parasites on society," because the group that claimed responsibility for the assassinations used leftist as well as religious terminology in its statements.

The procession traveled for about a mile. Then the body was transferred to a black hearse to be taken to the holy city of Qom, Khomeini's headquarters.

Terrorists attack in Italy

ROME (AP) — Terrorists raided the Rome headquarters of the Christian Democratic Party today, exploded bombs and fled while trading shots with officers, leaving at least one policeman dead and two others wounded critically, police said.

The Italian news agency ANSA quoted firemen as saying they found the bodies of three persons in the rubble, but there was no confirmation of this. Fire officials said the only casualties were policemen.

The gang, possibly numbering as many as 15 members, set off high-powered explosives, devastating one floor of the building and causing damage to other floors in the six-story structure.

Scores of police cars and armored vehicles rushed to the scene near the Tiber River in downtown Rome and helicopters hovered overhead in an attempt to spot the fleeing gang members. Some were said by witnesses to have fled in a red Simca.

Italian radio said firemen found the gang had painted the five-pointed Red Star symbol of the Red Brigades, Italy's most feared terrorist group, on the walls inside the building.

The attack came a month before Italians go to the polls in a national election, and the radio said the terrorists scrawled on the wall: "Transform the electoral fraud into a class war."

Sketchy reports from the scene described the gang members as young and unmasked. The gang was said to include several women.

Police closed off a wide area of downtown Rome, behind the Parliament buildings.

The Red Brigades' reputation stems from their kidnapping of five-time Premier Aldo Moro in a street ambush in Rome on March 16, 1978 in which Moro's five police bodyguards were killed. Moro's trussed and bullet-riddled body was found in the trunk of a car 54 days later.

strong for an opening bid of one notrump.

East took two hearts and led a third heart. West ruffed with the ten of spades and switched to diamonds.

Remembering that East hadn't opened the bidding despite his strong hearts. South concluded that West had the king of spades. Since a finesse couldn't succeed, South led the ace of spades, dropping the king and making his contract.

DECEPTIVE RUFF

At the other table of the match the bidding and play were identical up to the third trick. But this West player, perhaps a connoisseur of firewood, ruffed the third heart with the king of spades.

South naturally thought West had started with the singleton king. South therefore won the diamond return in dummy and led the nine of trumps for a finesse, whereupon West's ten took the setting trick.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer you hold: S-9872; H-QJ5; D-AKQ6; C-AK. What do you say? ANSWER: Bid one diamond. This 19-point hand is too strong for an opening bid of one notrump.

Electric rate bill gets House OK

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Be it a cow chip, as opponents said, or a rose, a bill stripping city councils of their power to delay electric rate increases has passed the Texas House.

A 74-65 vote sent the measure to the Senate, where a similar bill has been awaited floor action for several weeks.

If the bill passes, electric companies would take their requests for rate increases directly to the Texas Public Utility Commission, by-passing the city councils.

The commission now receives city rate cases only on appeal from council decisions.

In recent years, city councils have tended to reject rate increases, delaying higher rates for months while the commission decides the power companies' appeals.

The commission generally has granted at least part of the increases sought by the power companies.

If the bill passes, cities would have only a right to go before the commission to challenge rate increases.

DR. NEIL SOLOMON

Agencies join fight

Dear Dr. Solomon: Now that potentially harmful substances, such as asbestos, have been found in office buildings, schools and other public places, what is being done to eliminate this threat to health?—Gary

Dear Gary: No less than four government agencies are now involved in controlling 24 toxic substances, including asbestos and arsenic. These products are known to cause immediate illnesses and to have serious long-term effects, including cancer, birth defects, sterility and organ damage. The joint attack will involve the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), the Consumer Product Safety Commission, the Food and Drug Administration and the Occupational Safety and Health Administration.

Douglas Costle, EPA administrator, explains that the agencies will try to minimize the risk of these 24 substances without preventing them from being used for beneficial purposes. For example, asbestos will still be permitted to be used for fireproofing, but it will have to be handled in such a way as to protect health and the environment.

The government's efforts are in addition to those being taken voluntarily by industry.

Dear Dr. Solomon: Our family had a scare recently when our doctor suggested my father be examined for possible tuberculosis. Fortunately, the tests were negative, but they left me wondering. How common is TB today?—Kim

Dear Kim: The incidence of TB has declined dramatically over the past 35 years as new drugs for its treatment have become available. Today, it is a manageable disease. The use of at least two effective anti-TB drugs quickly makes a patient non-infectious.

TB is not similar to other communicable diseases. It takes prolonged exposure to high quantities of organisms to produce infection, and overt disease often does not become apparent until years later. Treatment generally involves a long-range commitment of from 18 to 24 months for someone with the disease, and for 12 months for someone who becomes infected. Along with new drugs for the treatment of TB has come a trend towards ambulatory care of patients, and short-term hospitalization in local acute-care hospitals. This is followed by multiple drug therapy on an outpatient basis.

It is believed that identifying persons at risk of developing TB and placing them on preventive therapy can greatly decrease future problems with the disease.

Dear Dr. Solomon: I had my blood tested twice for sickle cells at the clinic and was told to come back. Why?—Ms. A.C.

Dear Ms. A.C.: The results of this test will permit a doctor at the clinic to give medical advice that is right for you. Should the test show that you have sickle cell trait, you would receive counseling. If you have sickle cell anemia, you would be given further tests as well as special medical treatment and counseling.

(If you have a medical problem, see your doctor. If you have a medical question, write to Neil Solomon, M.D., 1726 Reisterstown Road, Baltimore, Md. 21208. Dr. Solomon cannot give personal replies but will answer as many questions as possible in his column.)

Floating lid may be put on interest

AUSTIN, Texas (AP)—Gov. Bill Clements says he is looking into the possibility of replacing Texas' longtime 10 percent interest limit with a "floating" interest ceiling.

But he has not made up his mind yet, Clements told reporters Wednesday after talking with sponsors of legislative proposals to hike the constitutional ceiling from 10 to 12 percent.

Also, Clements said, he is awaiting a legal opinion from Attorney General Mark White.

A spokesman for White said the opinion on interest rates probably would not be ready before Friday.

Clements, who threatened two weeks ago to veto any legislative bill that would increase Texas' home interest rates from 10 percent to 12 percent, talked Wednesday with Sen. Bill Meier, D-Eules, and Rep. Jerry Donaldson, D-Gatesville, behind closed doors for about half an hour.

"It is a very complex situation and very delicate so far as I am concerned," Clements told reporters afterwards.

Water import bill OK'd by committee

Austin Bureau

AUSTIN—Legislation called the "first step" in allowing West Texas to import water won approval Wednesday night from the House Natural Resources Committee, on a last-minute vote change.

Rep. Jimmie Edwards of Conroe, switched from "present" to "aye" to give the bill the six votes needed to bring it out for House consideration, 6-0. Amarillo Rep. Bob Simpson called his measure to allow creation of an import authority for those counties overlying the Ogallala Aquifer "the first step in allowing people in the area to solve our water problem." Simpson mentioned that both Midland and Ector Counties overlie the Ogallala.

Some opposition to the measure was expressed by the League of Women Voters and Lone Star Chapter, Sierra Club, but spokesmen for both groups said they were not opposing the concept of water import as such.

Miami rancher JT Webb also appeared to oppose HB 2205, and called on lawmakers to "get Roberts County out of this organization." Rep. Bob Close, Perryton, a committee member and the House member for Roberts County, voted to report the bill out, with Roberts County still part of the proposed entity.

He did amend the bill to remove Garse, Dickens and Crosby counties at the request of Rep. Bill Healy, Paducah.

Wayne Wyatt, general manager, High Plains Underground Water District, Lubbock, told the committee "we are literally mining our groundwater" in the High Plains area—and that it's hoped current studies (including the six-state Ogallala study authorized by Congress) will identify a source of water which can be transported to the High Plains.

Wyatt also said the bill isn't aimed solely at import for irrigated agriculture. "We have quite a few small municipalities in dire need of water right now." Department of Water Resources planning director Dr. Herbert Grubb presented statistical information on the Ogallala area, noting the region's importance for oil and gas and for food and fiber production.

At present, some 6,000,000 acres is under irrigation, Grubb reported, producing some $2.5 billion in produce annually.

Shortages in irrigation water would result in decreased production, and increased costs to consumers, he added.

An import authority is needed to contract for or arrange for the import of water, to carry out that import, and to assure proper distribution of water.

Grubb concluded Jim McCroy, Panhandle Underground Water District No. 3, who noted he had opposed earlier versions of the import authority plan, said he feels the current proposal is as good a method as can be offered at present.

Jerome Johnson, Amarillo attorney serving as president of Water, Inc., told the committee "the need for imported water is clear in our acre and in Texas."

He reported "great numbers" of persons attended meetings held by Water, Inc. in Lubbock and Plainview on the import proposal.

Catherine Perrine, League of Women Voters, said the League's position is that it would be better to wait results of the Ogallala studies now underway and to make any attempt to deal with West Texas' water shortages part of an overall state plan.

"We are equally aware of the very great need of the High Plains to solve its water problems. It's a knotty problem for which we don't have a solution."

Since the High Plains would not be likely to bear the cost of importing water alone—and since the proposed authority would have authority to condemn property outside its boundaries to implement import—it would be better to approach the matter on a statewide basis, she said.

"I see no sin in bringing water across state lines," she added.

Austin attorney Stuart

Henry, representing the Sierra Club, said the bill as drafted indicates the authority could be made statewide at the discretion of the Water Development Board, and suggested language changes be made to limit the authority to the Ogallala acre.

Simpson said that was the intent of the bill, and reported from committee, with not indicating that there was no effort to expand it outside of that acre. The bill was sidetracked by the full House.

AS THE Seniors plan their flight, new leaders must rise up to guide the new sophomores, juniors, and seniors. The newly elected Student Council officers are:

President—Jeff Robnett, vice president—Renee Ramsey, treasurer—Ami Brown, secretaries—Laura Weinstein and Shelley Paxton.

Today's juniors are tomorrow's seniors, and the following people will head the Senior Class:

President—Gerard Alcalá, vice president—Dru Perry, treasurer—Tricia Jewell, secretary—Claire Aldridge.

Last but not least, are the jumping Juniors who will follow the decisions of their leaders:

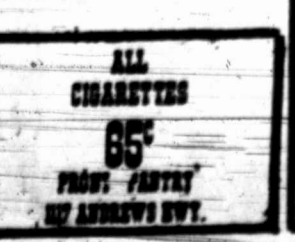

President—Jim Kemper, vice president—Jana Blaschke, treasurer—Kathy Woods, secretary—Monica Blair.

Congratulations to these newly elected leaders, and good luck to all.

ATTENTION all Junior Council members: Saturday at 2 p.m. there will be a set-up in the Youth Center for Junior Assembly. We want to see all of your shining faces! See next week's issue of the Chatter for the new Junior Council members and officers.

Last week the Midland High School Band received Sweepstakes at UIL competition. This weekend the band members take off for Arizona for their annual spring trip as well as competition. Good luck, band members! We hope you have a great time as well as a safe trip.

KRISTA BIKLER and Jim Kern have been chosen as Junior Rotarians for this week. Congratulations!

Our reputation is included at no extra cost.

When you buy a new car, you're really buying a lot more than just the steel, aluminum, and other materials that go into the construction of an automobile. You're also buying a pledge from the dealer to work for your total satisfaction.

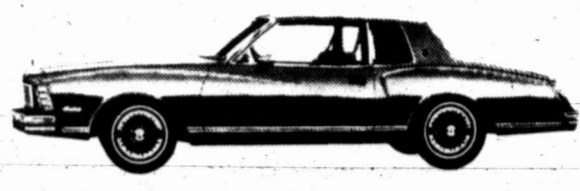

That's why a car dealer's reputation is one of his most important products. But really, his reputation is not just made by his promises. A good reputation comes from hundreds of happy, satisfied customers... people who tell other people about being treated fairly.

Here are some examples of excellent values that could help contribute to our reputation in the future:

Spurs shake off monkey

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — The San Antonio Spurs have earned a playoff rematch with the Washington Bullets. And veteran Louie Dampier says the Spurs will show up this year without the playoff monkey that's been on their backs for a decade.

With emergency starter Mike Green hitting nine crucial fourth-quarter points and guided by the seldom-used Dampier, the Spurs shaded the 76ers 111-108 Wednesday night in the decisive seventh game of a National Basketball Association Eastern Conference semifinal series.

The Central Division champion Spurs have qualified for either the ABA or NBA playoffs in 11 of the franchise's 12 years, but hadn't won a series since 1968 — when they were the ABA's Dallas Chaparrals.

by Washington in six games. There was grumbling about a playoff jinx.

"It's just a nice thing to finally get the monkey off our back," said the 34-year-old Dampier, who hit two fourth-quarter jumpers and quarter-backed the Spurs' late surge.

"That (jinx) ended right here tonight," San Antonio's George Gervin said after the game.

"A lot of people said we couldn't win, but we all had faith in ourselves," said forward Larry Kenon.

The Spurs, who had frittered away a 3-1 lead in the best-of-seven series, led the 76ers by as many as 18 points in the second period and nine at half-time.

But the 76ers, led by Julius Erving, had clawed back, taking a 104-101 lead with 2:33 remaining. The 6-foot Dampier, who had played briefly in only two games of the series, connected on an 18-foot jumper and Mark Olberding had a free-throw to knot the score.

GREEN, STARTING in place of injured Billy Paultz, then hit a pair of free throws and a jumper and Gervin had two other free throws to put the game out of reach.

"Mike Green and Louie Dampier came through and really won the ballgame for us," said San Antonio Coach Doug Moe. Dampier was pressed into service because starter James Silas was in foul trouble and reserve Mike Gale wasn't shooting well.

"We really didn't really expect that out of Green," said Philadelphia forward Bobby Jones. "But I played with him my first year in the league (at Denver) and I knew he was a clutch player."

"Green played excellent basketball," said Philadelphia Coach Billy Cunningham. "We were up by three with about two minutes to go. In the last two minutes it was anybody's game. We had the opportunity to win."

Gervin had 33 points and Kenon added 27. Green finished with 18, but was credited with 20 because of an apparent error in the official box-score.

As for the Bullets, the drained Moe savored a beer in each hand and smiled. "I don't even know we're playing Washington yet. As far as I'm concerned, they don't even exist at the moment. You just win a big game in a big series, you don't turn it off right away."

The series opens Friday night in Landover, Md.

Abilene puts dent in Rebs' playoff hopes

ABILENE — Midland Lee took a giant step backward Wednesday afternoon in their attempt to win the second half of the District 5-4A baseball race.

What happened was, the Rebels lost 5-3 here to Abilene High in a remake of Tuesday's washed-out district tussle.

The setback cost the Rebels dearly. They're now 5-1 in the loop and tied for the throne room with Abilene Cooper (them again) and Midland High. Lee, 19-10 for the year, closes loop play Saturday by entertaining the Bulldogs.

Lee, which with a victory would've had a precious one-game bulge, scored three unearned runs in the third. Unfortunately for the Rebels, that was it.

And with Terry Willis, in relief of Alan Koonce, struggling, Abilene High used a few breaks to manufacture three runs in the bottom of the sixth and secure their first major upset of the second half. The Eagles are 3-3 in league and 10-11 overall.

Starter Eddie Locke and reliever Mac Rogers tamed the Rebel bats with a spiffy five-hitter while Koonce and Willis yielded six. Steve Pitts

Midland College honors athletes at spring banquet

By RICHARD VINCENT Sports Writer

The atmosphere Wednesday night at Midland College's All-Sports Award Banquet was one of success.

And well it should've been considering the outstanding performances by the five Chaparral teams and 60 student-athletes that were honored during the dinner at MC's student center.

But it wasn't just athletes who were feted. Cheerleaders and trainers were recognized for the part they play in the athletic process while three persons were cited for the Chaparral Spirit Award.

The spirit award is rather unique, in that it's presented to those who make "great contributions" to the athletic program from within the campus. Honored this year were Bill Burns, MC director of financial aid, Joe Hopkins, MC director of maintenance, and Chris Lubinski, the athletic department secretary.

Also of special note were the academic excellence awards presented to freshman golfer Jamie Gossett of Rankin and freshman swimmer Mark Zapata. Each maintained a superb 3.8 grade point average.

Cullen Mayfield, a sophomore from Dallas, stole the show during the basketball awards presentation. The all-conference and all-region selection played a large part in the Chaps' third place conference finish. For his efforts, Mayfield, who has a full ride waiting for him at Midwestern University, was named the team's most valuable player.

As a prelude to the MVP announcement, coach Jerry Stone in essence summed up the kind of year Mayfield had. "If you saw us play," said Stone, "you know who it is."

The Fighting Chaparral award for basketball was given to sophomore Luis Alvarado of El Paso. And the best defensive player plaque went to Midland High's James Hicks.

Joining Mayfield, Alvarado and Hicks as monogram winners were Fred Jones, Kenneth (Chucky) McGill, Robert Tate, Kenneth (Big Time) Young and Tim Shelby.

Womens golf coach Susan Holland honored her five players for a job well done, especially considering they played major college competition much of the time. "I had five really great girls to work with this year," she said, adding the squad made "about 100 percent improvement in our standings" from last year.

Womens golf letter recipients were Fighting Chaparral award winner Gossett, MVP Wendy Goodwin, a freshman from the Tall City, Midlanders Sheryl Guthrie and Diane Robinson, and Maria Haasch.

Athletic director and mens golf coach Delnor Poss seemed especially proud of his team. After all, they won

Alfaro's return shoots Cubs past Gold Sox, 7-6

BY TED BATTLES Sports Editor

Jesus Alfaro, out since last Thursday with an ankle injury, celebrated his return to the Midland Cubs starting lineup with a one-out, game-winning single in the last of the ninth as the Bruins snapped a four-game losing streak with a 7-6 win over Amarillo's Gold Sox at Cubs Stadium Wednesday night.

Earlier Alfaro had knocked in a couple of runs with sacrifice flies, so the 20-year-old Chico from Maracaibo, Venezuela, is back at the bat, but in the field, he wasn't quite full speed. The jip off came in the seventh when Alfaro went into the hole to backhand Steve Smith's grounder. Ordinarily, he would have made an impossible throw and, chances are, astounded the runner. In this case, he was content to glove the ball like any normal shortstop.

The Gold Sox, despite the loss, still lead the series 3-1 going into tonight's 7:30 p.m. Ladies Night game. The Sox and Cubs close out the series and homestand with a combination Bat Night and Two-Bit Beer Night game Friday.

Lee Smith, 2-0, probably will be Manager Randy Hundley's hill choice tonight while Sox boss Glenn Ezell will go with Eric Mustard, 1-1.

WEDNESDAY'S game was one of those "the team that has the ball last" or the "team that takes the last shot" wins variety with the lead changing hands five times before the Cubs won it.

Brian Rosinski opened the ninth with a single to left, moved to second on Bill Hayes' bunt and was motioned to third when John Yandle balked in the process of walking Dan Rohn. That brought in Greg Wilkes to face Alfaro, who went to 1-2 before lining a single over a leaping Earl Battey at third to win it.

Darrell Turner, returning from Wichita, picked up his first decision with 2 1/3 innings of hitless relief while Yandle, 0-1, was the loser, both arriving on the scene after starters Henry Mack for Midland and Gary Pickert for Amarillo had departed.

Midland took a 6-4 lead in the sixth when Jim Tracy singled and Mike Turgeon took Pickert over the scoreboard in left to wipe out a 4-3 Amarillo lead. Rosinski then beat out a bouncer to third and Hayes bruised the scoreboard in left with his second double to score Brian.

THE GOLD Sox knocked Mack out of the box and tied it in the seventh when Steve Smith beat out that grounder into the hole to Alfaro, Tim Flannery bounced a single into right and after fanning dangerous Tim Derryberry for the second out, Mack walked Brian Greer, who had hit a solo homer in the sixth.

Hundley decided to play the lefty vs. lefty game by relieving with Tom Butler against Gary Ashby, who had already been trouble enough. Gary bounced an infield single so high off the plate in the first that Smith had scored from third and was headed toward the dugout when third baseman Turgeon finally got his hands on the ball. In the third he doubled home an unearned run.

Butler worked the count to 0-2 before Ashby lashed a two-run single by a lunging Tracy at first to tie it. Turner then arrived on the scene to fan Dane Ilersten.

Actually, both starting pitchers were better than the final 7-6 score indicates. Mack, trying to repeat a five-hit win over the Gold Sox in Amarillo, allowed four earned runs. Pickert, 1-2, the Overland, Kan., lefthander via Emporia State, yielded only three earned runs.

Ashby's single gave Amarillo a 1-0 lead in the first and Midland tied it when Dan Rohn topped a ball in front of the plate for an infield hit and wound up on third when Pickert's hurried throw wound up in right. Alfaro's fly to right scored the run on a collision play at the plate.

Carlos Lezcano's double and Hayes' grounder to short made it 2-1 Midland in the second before Ashby's double capped Amarillo's two-run third. Midland tied it at 3 in the fifth when Hayes doubled and later scored on an Alfaro loft to center on which Greer made an over-the-head onehanded catch.

CUB CLIPS—If outfielder Brian Rosinski had made another choice four years ago, he'd be biting his nails today as the NFL goes through its annual draft. Both Notre Dame and Michigan recruited him for football. "If I'd gone to Michigan, I would have been in the Rick Leach bunch and gone to three Rose Bowls, but I decided on baseball. The best offer would have been from Iowa. However, I had no assurance I could have played both sports. They said they'd see after my freshman year. I always thought football was the tougher sport, but after pro baseball I've changed my mind. You play every day and there are some days when you really don't feel like it. In football, it's a once-a-week thing and it's a lot easier to get mentally up for that one game." Herman Segelke will get his second start for Midland Friday while either Gary Biggerstaff or Joe Carroll, who teamed up to give the Sox that doubleheader sweep Sunday, will pitch for Amarillo. Pickert went to the same high school as former Baylor quarterback Neal Jeffery. "They didn't even have a baseball program until after I graduated." In college he helped pitch Emporia to third in the nation as a junior and was drafted by Cincinnati, but decided to go back for his final year. Last year, he pitched for the Sox, but like the rest of the team, didn't have a very good year. "It's the same club as last year, but it's amazing how it has matured," Pickert marvels. And despite the loss of third baseman Barry Evans and outfielder Jim Beswick, the two best players on that club. As a rookie, Pickert played at Walla Walla and was managed by Cliff Ditto, honest injun.

Tom Cousineau first in draft

NEW YORK (AP) — Tom Cousineau, an All-American linebacker from Ohio State, was selected by the Buffalo Bills as the No. 1 choice in the 1979 National Football League college draft today.

The Kansas City Chiefs, as expected, then went for defensive line help, taking Colorado State tackle Mike Bell, whose value did not diminish despite a late-season knee injury.

The Cincinnati Bengals, perhaps jolting the hopes of the Giants, took Washington State quarterback Jack Thompson as the third pick.

The Giants had the No. 7 pick.

The Chicago Bears, picking fourth with a choice acquired from Tampa Bay in the Wally Chambers deal of a year ago, selected Dan Hampton, a 6-5, 250-pound defensive tackle from Arkansas.

Buffalo, using its own pick, then went for Jerry Butler, an All-American wide receiver from Clemson.

The Baltimore Colts, desperately in need of defensive help, chose Barry Krauss, a 238-pound linebacker from national champion Alabama who was the Most Valuable Player in last season's Sugar Bowl game as well as the 1976 Liberty Bowl.

The Giants selected Phil Simms, a 6-2 quarterback from Morehead State in Kentucky, who passed for 5,545 yards during his collegiate career.

The St. Louis Cardinals, trying to make up for the loss of speedy Terry Metcalf to the Canadian League last year, picked running back Otis "O.J." Anderson from the University of Miami in Florida.

The Bears, up for the second time in the first round, used their own pick to take Al Harris, an All-American defensive end from Arizona State.

The Detroit Lions, looking for offensive linemen, took Keith Dorney, an All-American tackle from Penn State.

The New Orleans Saints spoiled the Philadelphia Eagles' hopes of grabbing an all-round kicker by taking Russell Erxleben of Texas, who did the Longhorns' place kicking and punting.

The Bengals, using a choice acquired from the Washington Redskins for Lemar Parrish and Coy Bacon, took running back Charles Alexander of Louisiana State.

The Cleveland Browns used all but 24 seconds of their allotted time, then swapped first-round picks with San Diego and also received the Chargers' second-round selection this year. The Chargers then took Kellen Winslow, a tight end from Missouri.

The crowd, which had been chanting the name of Marty Lyons before the Jets' announced their pick, cheered wildly when the team complied by selecting the All-American defensive end from Alabama.

The Green Bay Packers took Eddie Lee Ivey, a triple-threat running back from Georgia Tech.

The Minnesota Vikings, whose running game went to pieces last season when age hit the offensive line, took All-American running back Ted Brown from North Carolina State to complement Chuck Foreman in their backfield.

The Atlanta Falcons selected Don Smith of Miami, Fla., a defensive tackle whom they see as an end in the NFL.

The Seattle Seahawks went for Manu Tuiaosopo of UCLA, a 250-pound defensive lineman who has played both tackle and nose guard.

The Los Angeles Rams, with a pick acquired from Oakland in exchange for cornerback Monte Jackson, took George Andrews, an outside linebacker from Nebraska who played last season as a graduate student, which is permissible under NCAA rules.

The Browns, using the pick obtained in the swap with San Diego, selected Willis Adams, a wide receiver from the University of Houston.

The Eagles, stymied in their quest for Erxleben, went for UCLA linebacker Jerry Robinson, a three-time first-team All-American.

The Denver Broncos, who reportedly would have liked to take a quarterback, instead went for pass protection, choosing All-American offensive tackle Kelvin Clark from Nebraska.

The Rams, picking for the second time in the opening round, drafted Kent Hill, a 260-pound offensive tackle from Georgia Tech.

The Dallas Cowboys went for Robert Shaw, a center from Tennessee.

The world champion Steelers concluded the opening round by selecting Greg Hawthorne, a 216-pound running back from Baylor.

Monte Allwein and Fighting Chaparral went to Ken Clisso.

Letters for women went to Midland's Kelly Dowdle, Erdy, Cindy Francis, Henderson and Linda Miller. Henderson, Erdy, Francis and Miller were named All-America while Dowdle earned an honorable mention spot. Not bad for a five-person team.

Monogram recipients for men were Allwein, an All-America, Bob Franz of Midland, an All-America, Jim Buzbee, Clisso, Wayne Deloney, Dennis Doherty, Ricky Mann, George Tunnell of Midland, Pat Turner and Zapata. Clisso, Buzbee, Deloney, Turner and Zapata were honorable mention All-America.

Cheerleaders honored by their mentor, Teri Valero, were Angie Gavia, Lisa Griffin, Kay Jackson and Susan Smith.

Last, but certainly not least, trainers Nuffie Carrasco and Wayne Pierce were honored for their behind-the-scenes work.

Nelson meet gets tougher

By TERRY WILLIAMSON
Sports Writer

No one can really blame Graham Mackey and Ron Leverich if they have been looking over their shoulders lately. Mackey, a former Midland Country Club golf champion, and Leverich, a former professional from Odessa, own the title of defending champions in the Midland Country Club's Ernie Nelson Partnership golf tournament. But with the looks of this year's field, it's going to be tough to repeat. "This thing (the Nelson tournament) just keeps getting bigger and better every year," tournament director Gordon Marcum said. "I guess the word gets around. People that were playing in the championship flight a few years ago can't make it now. It's getting to be a tough tournament."

And "tough" is the word for this year's event also. The three-day tourney begins Friday with the championship flight set for a 1:30 p.m. tee off.

They go again at 8:30 a.m. Saturday and end up with a final 18-hole round at 1:30 p.m. Sunday, all at the MCC golf layout. One matchup in particular looks strong on paper, at least, and the team of Mackey-Leverich will have to keep their eyes on them. Randy Geiselman and Steve Whiteside could make a strong run at the title. Geiselman has been the MCC club champion for the last two years and Whiteside is a recent graduate of Texas A&M, who played golf at that school. Whiteside is also a former Midland Lee golfer of note. There is also Dr. Dean Strack and Ted Ferguson, and they might just be considered the favorites going in. Strack and Ferguson won the tournament in 1977. Tim Nesbitt, five-time city champion and former MCC champ, will team with Dave Griffin while George Tucker, a three-time NCAA winner at Texas with Tom Kite and Ben Crenshaw, teams with San Angelo's Larry Rice.

Odessa's Ed Brooks, who was on the pro tour, will be among the entries as is Eugene Mitchell, this year's club champion of the Houston Country Club. Lamesa's Jess Claiborne, a former TCU player, will again be in the field with Rene Puetl, a former Longhorn golfer and current Champions Cup titleist. Claiborne is well known among West Texas amateur championships. Johnny Farquhar and Lubbock's Dan Jordan will be a strong team as will Charles Ray and former pro Larry Snyder. Amarillo's Miles Childers will get a chance first hand to see how much the tournament has improved in the last 10 years. Childers was the first Ernie Nelson titleist 10 years ago, and he will return for another shot. There will probably be some eye on Childers just to see how the field shapes up after 10 years.

CART, USAC dispute moves to federal court

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The bitter feud between the U.S. Auto Club and Championship Auto Racing Teams moved into court today with a federal judge expected to make a quick decision in the dispute. U.S. District Judge James E. Noland was to hear arguments on CART's motion to grant a preliminary injunction allowing 19 rejected entries from six CART members to participate in this month's Indianapolis 500-mile race.

An aide to the judge said that "since there is an urgency, Judge Noland will rule as soon as possible." Practice for the May 27 race is scheduled to begin Saturday. Attorneys and officials of the two sides met Wednesday to try and reach an out-of-court settlement. But the talks broke off when CART refused to discuss a long-range solution to the split, said USAC President Dick King. "We would have preferred a settlement to litigation," King said. "But it just didn't happen."

King claimed CART's representatives "insisted that they be allowed to compete in the Indianapolis 500 before even considering any permanent settlement to the problems" which have divided the groups. The lawyers held a pretrial meeting with Noland Wednesday on CART's suit which claims that USAC's rejection of the 19 race entries violates antitrust laws and interstate commerce regulations. USAC attorney Henry C. Ryder said Noland asked if the parties had talked about an out-of-court settlement. "I told him, 'we have, we are, we don't know yet, but we're trying,'" said Ryder. A series of motions, including one making all 84 entries that have been accepted for the race defendants against CART's suit, were filed Wednesday by USAC and the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. Another motion asked the judge to strike the names of eight drivers, including three-time Indy 500 winner and defending champion Al Unser, from the list of plaintiffs. USAC claimed that the drivers had not been rejected. "They're crazy," said Unser. "They know I'm under exclusive contract and that by rejecting Jim Hall's car, they're rejecting me. They know I can't just go and get in another car without opening myself to all sorts of legal action." The rejected entries also included cars for Johnny Rutherford and Bobby Unser, both two-time winners of the race. The entries involved are all owned by members of the CART Board of Directors, but 16 other CART teams have had their entries accepted. CART filed suit last week after the entries of Team McLaren, Patrick Racing Team, Penske Racing Inc., Chaparral Racing Ltd., Fletcher Racing and All-American Racers Inc., were rejected because the six were "not in good standing with USAC."

Rangers keep sinking putts

NEW YORK (AP) — Some New York Rangers played golf the other day. Goalie John Davidson paired with backup netminder Wayne Thomas against defenseman Mario Marois and Bob Murdoch, the older brother of Rangers right wing Don Murdoch. "On the last hole," recalled Davidson, "Wayne sank a 40-foot downhill putt and we broke even, 'cause the last hole was double-or-nothing on the 330 we bet on the hole before." In its own way, the anecdote tells the story of the Rangers in the National Hockey League playoff this spring. They are like a first-time golfer who makes a 40-foot putt because he doesn't know how difficult that's supposed to be; the Rangers are scoring solid victories over tough teams because they aren't paying attention to how difficult that's supposed to be. "This is just fun," said Rangers Captain Dave Maloney. "We're expected to lose, but we're winning, which makes it so much fun." Maloney and the Rangers could afford to be a bit breezy, since they carry a 2-1 lead over the New York Islanders into Game 4 of their best-of-seven semifinal series tonight. The Islanders, meanwhile, haven't enjoyed things very much. "It can't be too much fun when you're down 2-1 in the series," reasoned Islanders captain Clark Gillies, who plays on a line with center Bryan Trottier and right wing Mike Bossy. "This line is one of the reasons we're not winning," continued Gillies. "This line is just not scoring any goals. It's that simple." "We're forcing everything. Nothing comes natural. Now we've got to do whatever we have to get away from them."

General Assembly could make Jolley charming

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Not having the "big" horse in the Kentucky Derby has helped trainer LeRoy Jolley's disposition. If his colt, General Assembly, springs an upset in Saturday's 105th running of the Derby, Jolley might become downright charming. Jolley is making his fifth Derby try and has won with favored Foolish Pleasure in 1975 and finished second with another favorite, Honest Pleasure, when Bold Forbes won in 1976. The pressure of having the Derby favorite had made LeRoy anything but jolly during those times. The veteran trainer, however, was pleased at General Assembly's final workout Wednesday.

THE SON of 1973 Triple Crown winner Secretariat was clocked in a swift 57.2 seconds for five furlongs and 1:10.1-5 for six furlongs while pulling up at Churchill Downs. "General Assembly seems to run best after he works best, somewhat like Foolish Pleasure and Secretariat," said Jolley. "General Assembly seemed to like the track. I hope the conditions Saturday are just like they were this morning." "He looks like Secretariat and runs fast. Secretariat is the best horse I ever saw," he said. Secretariat's final workout for the 1973 Derby also came on a Wednesday and the champion colt registered a 58.5 over a sloppy track. "Maybe we can get history to repeat itself," said Jolley, who did not train Secretariat. General Assembly was expected to be entered today along with favorites Spectacular Bid and Flying Paster and six other 3-year-olds for the 1 1/4-mile Derby worth $200,000-added.

JOLLEY ALSO trains Sir Ivor Agoin, who is regarded as a Derby longshot. The Everglades winner was timed in 1:00.2-5 for five furlongs Wednesday, a half-hour before General Assembly took the track. As for General Assembly's chances on Saturday, Jolley said, "I think we have a chance. Of course, I was disappointed he didn't win the Wood (Memorial), but that was a very strong field and he was beaten by only about three lengths." General Assembly won half his six 1978 starts, which included two losses to Spectacular Bid. This year, he has won only once, the Gotham at Aqueduct, in four starts. He finished fifth in the Wood in his last start. His career has been marked by inconsistency and there have been rumors that General Assembly has ankle problems. Jolley denies that, saying, "If he's been hurting, I don't know about it." Laffit Pincay Jr. is the new jockey on Bert Firestone's General Assembly, in place of Jacinto Vasquez, who is sitting out a suspension.

OTHERS WHO have ridden the colt were Angel Cordero, Steve Cauthen and Darrell McHargue. In view of the workout Wednesday,

Hawks celebrate; booked into jail

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Two members of the Dallas Black Hawks of the Central Hockey League, fresh from winning the Adams Cup playoff, were booked into jail after reports of chairs and beer bottles being thrown from a downtown hotel. However, managers of the International Dunes Hotel told officers they did not want to prosecute. A guest at the hotel called police about 3:30 a.m. Wednesday after seeing several chairs and beer bottles sail past his fifth-floor window, police said. When officers arrived, they said they looked up and saw a nude man standing on a fifth-floor balcony and laughing. Several bottles crashed down on patrol cars parked near the hotel, police said.

Jolley was asked if his strategy called for General Assembly to set the pace on Saturday. "The pace is up to the jockeys," Jolley said. "General Assembly runs better off the pace. His Gotham was as good as any race he's run. We took the blinkers off for the Gotham because he wore them for his two previous races and we had no success."

Bruins face challenge in tonight's NHL battle

BOSTON (AP) — "It was nice while it lasted," said Brad Park of the Boston Bruins — meaning that tonight's showdown against the Montreal Canadiens is now the key contest in the National Hockey League semifinal series. Boston rejoiced as the Bruins finally beat Montreal in the third game of the best-of-seven series Tuesday night. But Game 4 at Boston Garden is another must-win for the underdog Bruins. The Canadiens lead 2-1 in games, with the fifth contest in Montreal on Saturday. "Forget Tuesday night," said Park, the workhorse defenseman whose third period goal won the third game 2-1. "It was a game we had to win and we won it. But it won't mean a thing if we don't win tonight." A Bruins victory could put pressure on Montreal as the series returned to Montreal. But a Canadiens victory would really wrap up the series for the defending Stanley Cup champions, who beat Boston in the playoff finals the last two years. Goalie Gilles Gilbert emerged from Don Cherry's doghouse to win the third game, but the coach may well switch back to his playoff veteran, Gerry Cheevers on Thursday.

Montreal, meanwhile, isn't about to run for cover. "We're still up two games to one," said defenseman Larry Robinson, who scored the Canadiens' goal Tuesday night. "We'll see where this thing stands when we go back to Montreal." A big boost for Boston was the return of captain Wayne Cashman, who played the third game when he was supposed to be in traction at Massachusetts General Hospital. He showed up in the locker room and took a turn on the ice despite a cranky back. The Bruins have consistently out-shot Montreal through three games and Robinson concedes, "We didn't deserve to win two (games) in Montreal." However, a key to the rest of the series may be officiating — at least from the Bruins' viewpoint. On Tuesday, Boston came out hitting but avoided penalties. In the past, the Canadiens have capitalized on power plays. "The Canadiens," said Cherry, "know how to make things happen." The coach promised Boston will play better tonight, even though the victory Tuesday was rated perhaps the team's best effort of the entire NHL season.

Rebels drop contest to Abilene High Eagles

(Continued from Page 1-D) led Lee with two hits while Clay Calhoun, Wade Cartwright and Tyler Alcorn each had one. Rogers annexed the victory while Willis was tagged with his third loss of the season. Cartwright doubled in the first Rebel run and Alcorn knocked in a pair with a two bagger. But during the third, it quickly became the Warbirds' game. They put two runs up immediately after Lee's spurt, and then tacked on three more in the sixth. In the sixth, Willis had control problems, walking leadoff hitter Mike Ogden. James DeLaCruz, pinch-running for Ogden, moved the second on Mike Harrel's ground out. Then Seth Smith reached on an error, giving the Eagles runners on the corners. Mitch Gassaway walked to load the bases and set the stage for the heroics of Bobby Oles, the pint-sized Warbird shortstop. Oles slashed his second double of the day, this one to left center, that emptied the bases. In district action Tuesday afternoon, Conley Crawford spun a five-hitter and got 14 hits from his teammates as Odessa Permian picked on San Angelo, 8-2. And Billy Rumbaugh twirled a two-hitter as Odessa High waylaid Big Spring, 5-1. For Mojo, 2-4 and 15-10, Roger Lightfoot went 3-3 with three runs-batted-in, Doak Huddleston knocked in four runs with three hits and Scott Wynne collected three hits. Odessa High, 2-4 and 9-18, bagged seven hits that combined beautifully with Rumbaugh's pitching and four Big Spring errors.

Ryan defeats Ron Guidry in classic pitchers duel

By The Associated Press

Giving up just one run and five hits, you'd normally expect to win a baseball game. Unless, of course, the opposing pitcher is Nolan Ryan. At the top of his form, the star of the California Angel staff is hard to beat — as he was Wednesday night. New York's Ron Guidry was as stingy as ever, yet wound up getting burned by Ryan's flame-thrower and lost a 1-0 decision in Anaheim. "I didn't throw the ball very well at the beginning," said Ryan after his fifty-sixth hit, "(but) the longer I threw, the more confidence I got." Ryan had been removed from his last two starts because of a groin injury, but it didn't seem to bother the hard-throwing right hander against the defending world champions. "I wore a rubber sleeve on my right leg to keep the moisture and the heat in," noted Ryan. "It worked." Terry Humphrey scored California's only run on a double by Jim Anderson in the third inning off Guidry, 2-2. A sellout crowd of 40,648 watched the strong pitching performance by two of baseball's best hurlers. Ryan, 4-1, struck out seven and walked two while Guidry fanned nine batters and walked three. Humphrey singled with one away in the third inning and Guidry struck out Orlando Ramirez before Anderson doubled to left-center to score the game's lone run. "We played the powers from the East and proved we can play with them," said Ryan, whose Angels took two out of three games from both Boston and New York. "The fans are getting confidence in us."

Spillner with none out in the fourth. "I'm still not all the way back, but the first step is the most important," said Haas. "I didn't let the injury get me down and I never doubted myself. I knew the muscle would heal and with a little patience and a lot of work, I knew I would get things together." Red Sox 2, A's 1 Dwight Evans' solo home run in the eighth inning provided the winning run and Mike Torrez hurled a four-hitter as Boston beat Oakland. One of the hits off Torrez was a homer by Jim Essian that tied the score at 1-1 in the bottom of the seventh. There were two out in the eighth when Evans connected on a 1-2 pitch from Matt Keough and hit his second homer in two games. Evans singled in the third and scored Boston's first run. Orioles 9, Mariners 3 Billy Smith knocked in three runs, John Lowenstein blasted a three-run homer and Mike Flanagan and Don Stanhouse combined on a seven-hitter as Baltimore beat Seattle. Smith had a two-run single in the second and a bases-loaded RBI groundout in the fifth. The Orioles smashed 15 hits off four Mariner pitchers while winning their 13th game in the last 14. They capped their scoring with a five-run ninth, three of them on Lowenstein's blast. Twins 7, Blue Jays 5 Ken Landreaux drove in four runs with a pair of hits, leading Minnesota past Toronto. Landreaux drove in two runs with a single in the third inning and another two runs with a double in the fifth that gave the Twins a 5-4 lead. Ron Jackson hit a solo homer in the fourth inning for the Twins as Dave Goltz picked up his third victory in six decisions after surviving a shaky start. Mike Marshall notched his ninth save when he came on in the eighth inning to relieve Goltz.

Robinson finally laughs as Pirates bury Braves

By The Associated Press

Pittsburgh's Bill Robinson went into the game determined to have a good time, which, lately, has been a rarity for him. But this time, he had a ball. Robinson belted a pair of two-run homers and went 3-for-5 as Pittsburgh ripped the Atlanta Braves 10-2 Wednesday night. With two swipes of his bat, Robinson doubled his home run production for the season. "I was perfectly relaxed," he explained. It has been a long time between laughs for the 6-foot-2, 200-pound slugger, who will be 36 next month. Last year, when he was hampered by an early-season injury, his batting average plunged 58 points below his major league high of .304 in 1977, and this spring, Robinson lost his left field job to the John Milner-Lee Lacy tandem. When he did get chances to hit, he didn't make the most of them. He took a .232 batting average into Wednesday night's game as a replacement at first base for Willie Stargell, who was resting an ailing hip. Robinson said he made up his mind before the game, that "I was going out there and have fun. It didn't matter if I got five hits or made five outs." Robinson's pitch for fun came on a relatively quiet National League program. In the only other games scheduled, the Cincinnati Reds beat the Chicago Cubs 4-1, with Mike LaCoss pitching perfect ball for the first five innings, and the St. Louis Cardinals downed Houston 5-2, scoring two runs after a fifth-inning error by Astros shortstop Craig Reynolds.

Robinson belted his first homer of the game off Mickey Mahler in the first inning after Dave Parker had doubled. "Mahler threw me a change up that came in real fat," Robinson recalled. "It went out." He chipped in with a single in the third inning when the Pirates scored five runs and chased Mahler, then had some more fun in the fourth inning. Parker again was on base, on a fielder's choice, when Robinson slammed homer No. 2 off reliever Frank LaCorte. Pittsburgh's John Candelaria, who has had recurring back problems, pitched his first complete game since June 21, 1978. LaCoss' bids for a perfect game ended when left fielder Barry Foote to start the Chicago sixth, then Ted Sizemore followed with a single. LaCoss, 2-0, gave up two more hits before leaving with two outs in the eighth. George Foster's double and Ray Knight's single drove in two of Cincinnati's runs. "I made one or two bad pitches," said the 22-year-old right hander. "But other than that, I wasn't hit that hard."

Aaron counters against article by Jim Bouton

ATLANTA (AP) — Home run king Hank Aaron, now director of player development with the Atlanta Braves, says he warned the owner of the National League club to be wary of Jim Bouton, who attempted a pitching comeback with the team last season. In an interview with a national sports publication, Bouton criticized Aaron for not putting in enough time at his job. He claimed that Aaron was so unfamiliar with the details of his job, he didn't know one player from the next. "I knew Mr. Bouton was going to do something like this," Aaron said in an interview with the Atlanta Constitution. "I told Ted (Braves owner Ted Turner) and all of them that he had something up his sleeve. I knew he would try to get back at me because I was the one who released him. I had told him in the beginning that there was nothing he could do for the ball club. We weren't in the business of promoting a 39-year-old knuckleball pitcher." Aaron, who broke Babe Ruth's home run record of 714 in April 1974, said he "was suspicious of Mr. Bouton from day one. He had no intention of doing anything but what's his done. He was a snake in the grass, going around snooping on ballplayers." "All he did for us was to take 17 or more starts from some 18- or 19-year-old we're trying to develop." Although his $50,000-a-year job means about one-fourth of the salary he drew in 1974, Aaron said he is satisfied with his lot.

Brewers 6, Indians 1 Gorman Thomas slapped four singles to lead a 14-hit Milwaukee attack and Moose Haas posted his first major league victory in more than a year as the Brewers defeated Cleveland. Haas, 1-1, struck out six, walked three, and allowed only five hits in going the distance for his first victory since April 12, 1978, before he tore a muscle in his pitching arm. Cleveland loser Wayne Garland, 0-3, was tagged for three runs and eight hits before he was relieved by Dan Trickey hired OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Ken Trickey, one of the country's most successful major college basketball coaches, signed a four-year contract Wednesday as athletic director and head basketball coach at Oklahoma City University. "It's a great opportunity to build a tremendous program," said Trickey.

Rau hears team's whispers LOS ANGELES (AP) — Doug Rau has heard the whispers, seen the averted eyes. He's resigned, for the time being, to being treated as if he has a highly contagious disease. In fact, in the world of baseball, Rau's problem is worse than simple disease. The symptoms of the Los Angeles Dodgers' lefthander: an 0-3 record in five starts and a 10.67 earned run average. Rau, shelled early and often, has yet to last past the fifth inning. When Rau enters a room, conversations among his teammates suddenly become quiet. "I see them," he says. "I can't hear them, but I know what they're saying. 'Old Doug hasn't won a game yet. What do you think is wrong with him? Maybe he has the bubonic plague.' "I know what the guys are thinking," he said. "It's tough. They don't go up to a guy and tell him, 'Hey, we know you can't get anybody out but we're still all behind you.' So they just kind of avoid you. I know. I've done the same thing."

MC golf team finishes sixth WACO — Midland College finished sixth here recently at the Region V mens golf tournament. McLennan Community College won the 54-hole event with an 865 team total followed by Odessa College with 892, New Mexico Junior College with 882, Weatherford College with 897, Western Texas with 898, the Chaparrals with 904 and Grayson College with 909. For MC, Tim O'Connor and Kelly Eng each had three-round totals of 224 with Eng's 69 the low round of the tourney, while Alan Coe had 231, Jim Sanchez 232, Denny O'Connor 235 and Mike Yell 236. Overall, Coach Delnor Poss' squad had a tremendous season, capped by a victory in the conference tournament.

JIMMY'S WHITE HOUSE

Brother Billy becomes 'Billy Who?'

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter's trimmed-down, sober brother seems to have become "Billy Who?" around the White House.

When Billy was released from a California naval hospital and indicated he was heading straight for Washington, The Associated Press made three calls to the office of Mary Finch Hoyt, Rosalynn Carter's press secretary.

Although Mrs. Hoyt's office normally handles inquiries concerning the Carter family, the three calls produced no information about Brother Billy's plans or whereabouts.

Next morning, however, Billy showed up in the White House press center looking for reporters he knows.

Yes, he'd spent the night as expected.

So a fourth call was made to Mrs. Hoyt's office, which said the president's press secretary, Jody Powell, would handle all questions about Billy.

So Powell was asked about the overnight visit of the "first brother" at his press briefing a few hours later.

"That's the first I've heard he was here," said Powell, who had nothing to say about the matter.

By that time, Billy was back in Georgia.

WHEN CARTER visited New Hampshire last week, a tanned, handsome blond woman in a green dress was stopped by a Secret Service agent when she tried to get within hailing distance of the president.

When she pointed to a White House staff pin on her dress, the agent allowed as how he'd seen many of those and they didn't impress him.

The lady informed the agent she was Susan Clough, Carter's personal secretary. He then allowed her to pass.

The agent, needless to say, was not a member of the White House body-guard force but had been brought in from a field office to help.

WHAT A difference a presidential decision can make — especially among Carter associates.

Take the case of oil price decontrol and inflation fighter Alfred E. Kahn.

In March, the bulletin of the Consumer Energy Council of America quoted Kahn as telling a consumer group:

"I have no doubt whatsoever that deregulation of crude oil will be seriously inflationary. Letting the price rise to the monopolistic world level... will make it more difficult for us to persuade labor to respect the wage standards, and so threatens to give another twist to the wage-price spiral."

A few weeks later, after Carter opted for gradual decontrol, Kahn had the following exchange with a reporter at the White House:

Q. Mr. Kahn, I would like to ask you if you are 100 percent behind the decision to decontrol domestic oil prices?

A. I am now 100 percent behind the decision to decontrol crude oil prices.

Court orders two insurance suits retried

Austin Bureau

AUSTIN—The Texas Supreme Court both agreed and disagreed Wednesday with lower court decisions on the validity of three life insurance policies purchased by a Midland woman four months before her death.

A W. Washington brought the suit against the Reliable Life Insurance Co., to collect the benefits of three $1,000 life insurance policies which were purchased for his mother, Ozell Washington, shortly before her death.

A Midland trial court earlier ordered Reliable Life to pay Washington $3,000, 12 percent interest, and attorneys' fees.

However, a court civil appeals reversed, declaring that Washington failed to prove that the "good health" clauses in the policies had not been waived.

In its 12-page, unanimous opinion, the Supreme Court agreed with Reliable's arguments on one of the policies. However, on the other two, it ordered a new trial.

It reached that decision, the Supreme Court said, out of "fairness to the parties and the interest of justice....."

Competing for district queen Saturday in a contest sponsored by District 2-A1 Lions International will be Natalie Jeanne Mitchell, 18, a senior at Stanton High School. Natalie, who is active in sports and academics, is being sponsored for the contest by the Stanton Lions Club. The queen selection will be part of a three-day district convention for area Lions to be held in Midland starting Friday.

Midland hosting art exhibits

Several art exhibits are on view in various locations as part of the current "Showcase Midland" emphasis on the visual and performing arts in the city.

Art displays include those at the Museum of the Southwest, Midland College and Theatre Midland. Still others are scheduled next week at the Nita Stewart Haley Library and the Hanging Tree Gallery.

The Museum of the Southwest's Turner Memorial Gallery, 1705 W. Missouri Ave., is exhibiting the 13th annual Southwestern Area Art Show. The show is sponsored each year by the museum in cooperation with the Midland Arts Association.

Hours are 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Fridays, and 2 to 5 p.m. Sundays.

At Theatre Midland, 2000 W. Wadley Ave., a mother-and-daughter art display is under way during the run of Midland Community Theatre's "Vanities," which is having holdover presentations this weekend and next in Theatre II, the arena theater inside Theater Midland.

The exhibit will continue during the run of MCT's next major production, "Crown Matrimonial," which opens Friday night and goes through mid-May.

The exhibiting artists are Mary Rasmussen of Midland and her daughter, Deborah, a senior student at The University of Texas in Austin.

Mrs. Rasmussen's works on display include landscapes in watercolor and oils, plus a few pastels. Daughter Deborah, who will receive a bachelor of fine arts degree from UT next December, is represented with graphics as well as watercolor and acrylic paintings.

Her work ranges from abstract to realistic art. A special exhibition of outstanding paintings and sculpture from Midland area private collections will open next week at Midland's Nita Stewart Haley Library, 1805 W. Missouri St.

The exhibit will open to the public on May 10. Admission will be free.

Midland's Hanging Tree Gallery will be host to well-known Texas artist Wayne Baize during a special exhibition of his work May 11.

According to Carol Swain, director of the Hanging Tree Gallery at 3201 N. Big Spring St., the show will feature original works as well as limited edition prints.

She is inviting the public to come meet the artist, whose Western paintings are prized by collectors. The exhibit will be open to the public between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. May 11.

Kay Sly is seen as the Duchess of York and Jerry Hickman has the role of King Edward VIII, later to be known as the Duke of Windsor, in Midland Community Theatre's production of "Crown Matrimonial." Royce Ryton's taut drama of events leading up to Edward's 1936 abdication of the British throne opens at 8:30 p.m. Friday in Theatre Midland, 2000 W. Wadley Ave., as Midland Community Theatre's third major production of its 1979 season.

Tryouts for two musicals scheduled for Sunday

Southwest Summer Musicals Inc., the newly-organized semi-professional theatrical company that will present a pair of musicals in Midland during June and July, is announcing tryouts to fill parts in the two shows.

Eight performances of the musical "Gypsy" and eight performances of "Damn Yankees" are scheduled.

Tryouts to fill parts in the shows are scheduled for 2 p.m. Sunday in Midland High School auditorium.

The auditions will be open to all residents of the city, the county and surrounding area who have had some singing, dancing or acting experience, said James Buchanan, who will stage and direct the productions.

Additional information on tryouts may be obtained by contacting Buchanan at 683-6979, or by calling Joel Jackson, producer of the musicals, at 685-2025 or 684-5407.

According to Jackson and Buchanan, the producing company will bring together professional actors and actresses, a choreographer and a technical director from the Los Angeles area. West Texas talent will be added to provide a unique mixture of Texas and Hollywood in a distinctive entertainment package.

Buchanan, as director, will be joined by Shari Green of Los Angeles as the choreographer. Her credits include the Broadway production of "West Side Story" and numerous Las Vegas and New York productions, as well as many motion picture and TV appearances.

Technical director for the summer shows will be Cathy Anthony of Los Angeles who has designed and lighted productions for Dallas Civic Opera, the New York City Opera and Universal Studios.

Musical director for the pair of productions will be Don McCartney of Midland, who is choral director at Midland High School. He has worked with Buchanan on several previous musicals at MHS.

Already signed for pivotal roles in "Gypsy" and "Damn Yankees" are several well-known young stage and screen personalities. They include Nanon Tygett, Carol Florman, Clark Sterling, Cathy Sue Pyles and David McFarland.

"Gypsy" will go into rehearsal first in preparation for a gala June 28 opening performance in Midland High auditorium. Additional performance dates for that show are June 29 and 30, and July 1, 4, 5, 6 and 7.

"Damn Yankees" will open on July 12, with subsequent performances announced for July 13, 14, 15, 18, 19, 20 and 21.

Mummer auditions set

Auditions for actors, singers, dancers, musicians and others interested in working in the 1979 Summer Mummer show will be held Sunday afternoon and Monday night in Theatre Midland, 2000 W. Wadley Ave.

The tryouts are open to all interested residents of the city and surrounding area. The Summer Mummer will open their traditional season in early July, to continue through Labor Day.

Sunday tryouts will begin at 3 p.m. and the Monday auditions are scheduled for 8 p.m.

Maxwell Smart to return

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "The Return of Maxwell Smart," a movie adapted from the hit television series, "Get Smart," is in rehearsals at Universal Studios.

Don Adams will reprise his role as the intrepid secret agent in the film, an $8 million spoof of the James Bond-like films. Clive Donner will direct from a screenplay by Arne Sultan, Bill Dana and Leonard B. Stern.

Ballet gala raises funds

By MARY CAMPBELL

Romeo, hot-headed Miss Gregory also had enough to pick a girl a solo uncharacteristic

NEW YORK (AP) — American Ballet Theater chose a Russian-style gala program — a lot of flashy short pieces and some novelties — for its annual fund-raising performance Monday night at the Metropolitan Opera.

Calling the evening a "million dollar celebration," the top ticket price was $150. ABT hoped to realize $200,000 at the box office.

The most novel and charming novelty of the night was "Top Hat and Tails," choreographed by Peter Gennarb, who usually works on Broadway and TV, danced by Anthony Dowell and John Curry, neither of whom usually works at soft shoe routines. They danced side by side, in unison, except for a brief classical ballet interlude by Dowell and a brief solo by Curry that looked like ice skating.

"The Meeting," a solo in which Marianna Tcherkassky did solemn barem dancing to "Danza Araba" fared less well. It left the impression of reaching uncomfortably far to be novel.

Rebecca Wright and Kirk Peterson were fast, funny and delightful in "Harlequinade," choreographed by Ben Stevenson.

Museum to sponsor contest for petroleum photographers

A competitive photography exhibit, "Focus on Oil," will be held this summer at the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum here.

The 50 best photographs as selected by the panel of judges will be exhibited at the museum during June, July and August. Adjudicators will be John Scarborough of Houston, Ben Briard of Dallas and Ave Bonar of Austin. Exhibited prints may be offered for sale through the museum if the photographer so chooses.

Photographic entries may portray any aspect of the oil and gas industry, such as drilling, production, transportation, refining, and may include people working in the industry.

Prizes to be awarded in the competition will include purchase awards of $200 for best-in-show and $50 for first prize in each of the four entry categories.

The Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, erected in the mid-1970s, is the largest museum in the nation dedicated to the history and development of the oil and gas industry.

According to museum assistant director Ed Rowland, "The oil industry has consistently attracted and challenged some of the nation's best photographers through the years. We are happy to provide a forum where the best of this work can be viewed."

Entries in the competition will be received at the museum through May 27. Additional information, along with official entry blanks, may be obtained from the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, Library and Hall of Fame, 1500 IS-20 West, Midland 79701. The museum telephone number is 683-4403.

Several Midland Community Theatre dancers rehearse a pair of pas de deux movements to be presented next week in "Can't Stop Dancin'." The public dance concerts scheduled Tuesday and Wednesday nights in Theatre Midland, 2000 W. Wadley Ave. Admission to the events is free to MCT season members, $2 to non-members. Pictured in foreground are Rhonda Hicks and Kelly Patterson and in background, Christy Hill and Robert Walker.

Reward offered for painting

TORONTO (AP) — A French insurance firm is offering a $20,000 reward for information leading to the recovery of a Picasso painting stolen from a private art gallery in Toronto, police said.

The painting, "Woman in a Hat Carrying a Sheep's Head," is valued at $500,000, experts said.

It was stolen from the Mira Godard Gallery on Feb. 17 by thieves who smashed a door window at the gallery, took the closest painting and ran.

Carter Museum exhibit traces history of travel

FORT WORTH — The history of transcontinental travel in the American West is traced in an exhibition opening Friday at Fort Worth's Amon Carter Museum.

The exhibition, titled "From Train to Plane — Travelers in the American West, 1866 to 1936," will continue through May 28 in the Carter's mezzanine gallery. The display is from the Beinecke Rare Book and Manuscript Library of Yale University and includes books, photographs, pamphlets, maps, broadsides and drawings, all related to Western travel.

The show was organized by Archibald Hanna and William Reese. Hanna is the William Robertson Coe Librarian of the Yale University Library and is curator of its Western American Collection. He will lecture on the exhibition in a program scheduled for 2:30 p.m. May 13 in the museum theater. It will be open to the public without charge.

Hanna and Reese cite the period covered in the exhibition as the era when widespread travel in the West was opened up to ordinary individuals rather than a few hardy explorers.

The exhibition begins with accounts written by Demas Barnes who traveled across the continent in 1866 as a reporter for The Brooklyn Eagle; the show ends with a geological description of the American continent as seen from the air.

Fort Worth pianists to hear Midland keyboard auditions

Almost 300 Midland music students will be participating in 1979 keyboard auditions of the National Guild of Piano Teachers.

The auditions will begin Monday and continue through May 22. Adjudicators will be Ruth Bunch and Nancy Copeland, both of Fort Worth and both accredited Guild judges.

In the forthcoming auditions, students will not be competing against each other but will be performing against prescribed Guild standards of excellence.

Purpose of the Guild auditions is to judge a student on his or her own merits and capabilities in various phases of musicianship.

The repertoire for the auditions is selected from four main musical periods — baroque, classical, romantic and contemporary.

Mrs. Bunch holds a bachelor of music degree from Baylor University and a B.A. degree from Texas Wesleyan College. She has had graduate study at the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago.

For the last 25 years she has been a private teacher of piano and voice in Fort Worth.

She is a certified teacher of the National Music Teachers Association and has judged numerous music contests and festivals in the Southwest.

Miss Copeland earned two master's degrees from Texas Christian University and later was awarded a scholarship for study at the Accademia Musicale Chigiana in Siena, Italy.

She received the master of music degree from North Texas State University, Denton, and currently is working toward a doctor of musical arts degree in piano.

Miss Copeland teaches at North Texas State University and also maintains a private piano studio in Fort Worth.

Midland teachers of piano who will be represented with students in the auditions are Mrs. Hermann D. Williams, Eugenia Hunt, Mrs. R. L. Wise, Mrs. Wayne Matthews, Mrs. Hans Roweck, Mrs. C. J. George, Mrs. E.F. Mottler, Coleen Leonard, Mrs. Larry Millican, Betty Weisel, Mrs. Donald Thompson, Shelley Crawford, Mrs. Benton Howell, Mrs. William Maitland, Mrs. Tom Minihan, Bertha Johnson, Mrs. Ray Bristol, Mrs. James Finley and Robert Poer.

Viva Free Sopapillas!

After you treat yourself to dinner at El Chico, we'll treat you to free sopapillas for dessert! You'll love these delightful Mexican pastries. Cooked until they're a puffy, golden brown, then sprinkled with lots of cinnamon and sugar. And the best part is they're free!
