House Demos oppose plan to decontrol U.S. oil prices

WASHINGTON (AP) - House Democrats today formally approved, by a 138 to 69 margin, a resolution opposing President Carter's plan to lift price controls on domestic oil.

House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill. whose home state of Massachusetts is heavily dependent on heating oil, openly broke with the president in supporting the motion.

The action, ratifying a voice vote taken Wednesday, is not binding. However, backers said it was an important symbolic gesture from within the president's own party renouncing his decision to raise U.S. oil prices.

It clearly added momentum to the drive in both the House and Senate to approve legislation that would block Carter's decision to begin lifting price controls on June 1.

Such a move is expected to be made on the floor of both chambers within the next few weeks.

Today's overwhelming vote by the House Democratic Caucus comes at a time of mounting congressional discontent with oil companies, rising fuel prices and gas shortages.

Three Senate conservatives who consistently side with the oil industry on major energy votes today urged Energy Secretary James R. Schlesinger to hire a private, outside auditing firm "to conduct a full and complete examination of the oil compan-The request came from Sens. Benblock oil decontrol could lead to

Meanwhile, a new study by the Congressional Budget Office says the president's decontrol plan will cost consumers at least $12.2 billion more a year by 1982 for gasoline, heating oil and related products and services.

That averages out to $135 a family, said the CBO study released on Wednesday.

On the postive side, the study noted that oil decontrol would reduce U.S. imports by about 620,000 barrels of oil a day through a combination of increased production and conservation. That's about 5 percent of what the total imports would otherwise be that year, the study said

The administration is saying a $52 billion price tag for imported oil this year - up $10 billion from last year will have the effect of wiping out what would have been a trade surplus of $25

Schlesinger told the freshmen lawmakers that allowing U.S. oil prices to rise to world levels by 1981, as the president has proposed, is essential to the nation's energy future.

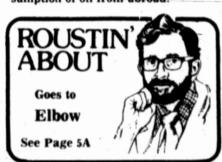

Passage of the resolution provoked a yawn from some of its Texas opponents who had helped delay the final vote for two days.

Seven of the 17 Texans who had voted against the measure on an earlier test vote did not check in for the final roll call.

"That's what is known as being fairly convinced of the outcome, said U.S. Rep. Charles Wilson of Luf-kin, who did not vote. "It was obvious to me that it was going to be 2-1."

U.S. Reps. Bob Eckhardt and Mickey Leland of Houston and Henry B. Gonzalez of San Antonio were the only Texans voting for the resolution.

House Majority Leader Jim Wright of Fort Worth had urged defeat of the resolution. He called President Carter's plan to remove oil price controls a "courageous stand" and said federal regulation of the oil industry had only encouraged increased consumption of oil from abroad.

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Supreme Court today refused to overturn a federal judge's order that tem-porarily spares the life of convicted Florida murderer John A. Spenke-

The court set aside a stay of execution issued Wednesday by Justice Thurgood Marshall, but then denied a request by Florida Attorney General Jim Smith to set aside a stay Spenkelink's lawyers obtained from a federal appeals judge in Atlanta.

The brief pair of orders, released shortly after the justices interrupted a closed conference for lunch, places Spenkelink's fate squarely in the hands of the Atlanta judge, Elbert Parr Tuttle, a senior member of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

In the order overturning Marshall's stay of execution, the court said: "The application for stay of execution, presented to Mr. Justice Marshall and by him referred to the court

It added that Marshall and the court's only other member morally opposed to capital punishment, Justice William J. Brennan Jr., would grant Spenkelink's application. The order said Marshall and Brennan Jr. "object because the court announces its action without first affording them an opportunity to prepare, circulate and file a statement in support of their view.

Department.

In the other order, turning down the state's request that Tuttle's stay be lifted, the justices said: "The motion of the attorney general of Florida to vacate the order entered by (Tuttle) on May 22, 1979 is denied.'

The court noted that Justice William H. Rehnquist reserved the right to file later a written statement, apparently to be only an advisory document concerning the state's request.

Florida Attorney General Jim Smith, leading a jet-age legal "strike force," carried his fight to have Spenkelink put to death to the highest

"This is grim business at best," Smith said before leaving Tallahassee Wednesday. He flew to New Orleans and then to Washington, seeking to sidetrack stays sparing Spenkelink from execution

Beef prices to remain high

News not all bad for consumer or producer

By RICHARD MASON Staff Writer

Beef prices apparently will remain high for the next few years, but the news is not all bad for the consumer.

Nor is it bad for Midland-area cattle producers despite a month-long drop in prices for cattle. Both groups can expect developments in the meat business over the next few years which will prove beneficial, market observers said. For the consumer, meats other than beef will be available in ample supplies at possibly lower prices for the duration of 1979, a livestock marketing specialist at Texas A & M Univer-

And for the cattleman, beef prices are expected to climb steadily during the next two or three years, the owner and manager of the Southwestern Livestock Auction in Midland said earlier this week.

According to Dr. Ed Uvacek, a livestock professor at Texas A & M University, consumers will have an abundant choice in meats at the mar-

"We are fortunate for at least the duration of 1979 in that there will be a sufficient quantity of other meats around," Dr. Uvacek said in a telephone interview

Dr. Uvacek predicted that prices for pork, chicken and turkey "will be moving down or at least stabilizing" over the next few months.

Beef prices will continue to remain high for the next few years, he said. At the bottom of it all are the biologic and economic realities of something called the cattle cycle, a 12-year process that results in alternate periods of boom and bust for the cattle producer.

The latest bust began in 1973, though the effects lagged behind for a number of years. Basically what happened, Dr. Uva-cek said, is that the market collapsed and producers began liquidating their herds.

"What we're seeing now is a result of the cutback," he explained. "The supply is low and the price is up." If the cycle holds true, production will be stimulated by the higher prices, and eventually the price for the consumer will stabilize, Dr. Uva-

"We might see a little slack off in the retail price two or three years down the road," he added.

cek said.

In the meantime, cattle producers can expect higher prices while the shortage in cattle persists.

According to Enos Howle, a vice president for Midland Livestock Corp. and owner and manager of Southwestern Livestock Auction, it takes time to rebuild a cattle herd once it has been culled.

"It takes two or three years to build back a herd," he said. Howle noted that despite a shortage in area livestock, prices have dropped slightly this month for cattle.

Feeder cattle are down about $25 per 100 pounds; packer cows and bulls, down $10-$12 per 100, he said.

Howle speculated that the current lag in cattle prices is a result of a cut in demand because beef is moving slowly in retail outlets and contract cattle are being delivered to buyers. But Howle said the setback is only temporary. And producer confidence in the market is high, he added.

"It still looks good for cattle. Any-time there's a shortage, it's good as far as price is concerned," he said. Howle said while consumers may shy away from beef when the price is high, it's absence from the family food table will only be temporary. "They may switch to something cheaper, but it's all in what they want and what they have to have," he

Meanwhile, Dr. Uvacek said he is advising cattlemen, who are normally a conservative bunch, to re-enter the market at this time if they are

"For the ranchers, it looks prosperous for the next two or three years if they have the money left to expand," he said.

"My advice to anyone who really wants to stay in the cattle business is to expand now and don't wait three or four years. There is money to be made within the next two or three years. It won't be nearly as profit-able after that," he said.

Dr. Uvacek said the Carter Administration may consider price controls on meat prices if beef continues to lead increases for the consumer.

H-bomb report 'serious breach of security'

The Senate hearing was called after Rotow, a researcher and nuclear expert, obtained a copy of dental. He went to the Los Alamos library to test the report "UCRL-475" from the public section of the government's technical library at Los Alamos.

Obtaining the report "was easier than getting something out of the Library of Congress," a second expert told a Senate energy subcommittee... "At the Library of Congress, they at least check your briefcase," Dimitri Rotow added.

Returning to a time when mail boxes lined rural lanes like sentinels at the front walk, the U.S. Postal Service is encouraging Midlanders to take their mail boxes off front doors and move them to the Stan Sartain, director of customer services for the Midland Sectional Center covering 168 post offices in West Texas, said putting mail boxes on the curb rather than on the house cuts the cost of delivery, makes delivery of mail quicker and helps protect mail from the weather. "Cost for mail delivery to the door rather than to a curbside box aver-

Delivery of mail by truck rather than walking also results in more protection from the weather, said Sartain. High winds sometimes blow letters away from the mail box mounted on a house. With the boxes on the curb, the mail is protected from wind as well as rain until it is picked up, said Sartain.

New federal regulations concerning curbside mail boxes were enacted in 1976. Sartain said. The regulations state that all new residences must have curbside boxes unless the residence is a new home in a block where other homes have at-the-door mail boxes.

Mail pick-up is required at curbside boxes when the flag is up, said Sartain. Mail left on at-the-door mail boxes does not have to be picked up by the carrier unless there is mail to be delivered to that address, he

It alleges a conspiracy to commit banking violations and fraud against agencies of the government from 1970 to the present. The indictment said the conspiracy "has resulted in losses and potential losses in excess of $500,-000" to the banks involved.

THE CHARGES FOLLOW nearly two years of investigation by various Lance, who had been a major fund-raiser in Carter's presidential campaign, came to Washington as director of the Office of Management and Budget when Carter was inaugurated in 1977. For a time, they had lunch together twice a week and consulted daily by telephone. They had been political associates since 1966, and when Lance resigned on Sept. 21, 1977, an emotional president announced it.

Now Lance is charged in 22 of 33 counts in an inch-thick indictment. If convicted on all counts, the maximum penalty would be 95 years in prison and a fine of $115,000. The charges against him include conspiracy, misapplication of bank funds, falsifying personal financial statements to banks, and making false entries in bank records. The grand jury described a pattern of bad debts covered and re-covered by new loans — eventually 383 loans from 41 banks that totaled more than $20 million — that benefitted the defendants, their families and their associates.

THE ALLEGATIONS relate to Lance's terms as president of the Calhoun, Ga., First National Bank in 1963-1975, and the National Bank of Georgia in Atlanta in 1975 and 1976.

The indictment does not touch on loans from the National Bank of Georgia to Carter's peanut business in Plains, Ga., which are now the subject of a separate grand jury investigation headed by special counsel

That inquiry reportedly is considering whether the loans may have been used, in part, to finance Carter's 1976 campaign in violation of federal election laws. The president has said they were not.

On Wednesday, after the indictment was made public, presidential spokesman Jody Powell said "it would not be appropriate" for the president or his spokesman to comment. The Justice Department had notified the White House of the indictment Tuesday. Twenty months before, after newspapers had raised questions about Lance's finances, and investigations by federal banking officials and the Senate had begun, Carter announced Lance was resigning — and praised

"I DON'T THINK there is any way that I could find anyone to replace Bert Lance that would be, in my judgment, as competent, as strong, as decent and as close to me as a friend and adviser," Carter said then. Even afterward, Lance kept his staff pass to the White House.

The others now named in the indictment are all long-time associates of Lance, and all were involved in Lance's unsuccessful race for the Georgia governorship in 1974. They are:

-Thomas M. Mitchell, a Dalton, Ga., businessman and member of the state transportation board, whom Lance left in charge of his holdings in a blind trust during his eight months in Carter's administration. -Richard T. Carr, a former officer at the Calhoun bank and president of a bank in Ringgold, Ga.

-H. Jackson Mullins, a long-time friend of Lance who owned a pharmacy in Calhoun and owned stock in the Calhoun bank.

ALL THREE WERE charged with conspiracy along with Lance. Mitchell was named in 11 other counts, Carr in 12 and Mullins in six. All involved violation of federal banking statutes. The key conspiracy count charges that the four:

-Extended loans which "were knowingly beyond the capacity of the recipients to repay."

-Allowed hundreds of thousands of dollars of overdrafts.

-Juggled bank records and misled other banks into lending money.

Senators disagree on water import legislation

Austin Bureau

AUSTIN - Efforts to pass legislation providing for water import for West Texas may come to grief in the Senate because of a disagreement by two West Texas senators - who both say they favor the concept, but disagree on details of the proposal. At a meeting Wednesday of the Senate Natural Resources Committee, Chairman A.R. ("Babe") Schwartz of Galveston told Sen. E.L. Short of Tahoka and Sen. Bob Price of Pampa he would prefer to have any fight on the bill on the Senate floor.

"I want to see you solve a problem on obtaining water," he assured Price and Short, before the committee voted to report out HB 2205, the House-passed water import measure by Rep. Bob Simpson of Amarillo, and Price's SB 1321, another water import authority bill which Price had attempted to substitute for HB 2205.

Price said some counties in his district had opposed some provisions of the measure and did not wish to be part of the proposed import authority district without changes in the mea-

Short noted the House had added an amendment providing for annexation and de-annexation of counties, upon petition of five percent of the qualified voters to hold an election on such questions. Price said his bill would use the qualifying terms "surface water" and "imported water" to keep "all underground water from being moved out from under a landowner's property." Private ownership of groundwater is protected under HB 2205, Short Price's proposal also would require the executive director of the Department of Water Resources to provide information on cost along with other eviden e for Water Development Board approval of an importation plan, and provides that the water be furnished "on an equitable basis for all the water needs existing within the authority.

But the major change proposed by Price is removal of the restrictions added by the House, over Simpson's opposition, to limit the authority's power of eminent domain to within the district's boundaries.

Price argued the authority to condemn land outside the district is needed to allow the authority to func-

"If you don't have an easement, you might as well not have the bill.... There's no use to have the legislation if you can't get to the water," he

Short warned that the House was not likely to accept deletion of the limits on the district's powers - saying he had talked with Simpson and Speaker Bill Clayton, and was of the belief the House would not approve any changes to that section.

"It might not pass the Senate," agreed Sen. Lindon Williams of Houston, a committee member.

Short and Price agreed to work together in an attempt to win passage of an acceptable bill - but Short said after the meeting he did not intend to accpt amendments to it when the bill comes to the Senate floor. "If anything happens to the bill, he'll (Price) get full blame for it in West Texas," Short said. He accused 'Price of delaying a planned committee meeting and possible early action on the bill by using a parliamentary device to prevent consideration of the measure for a twoday period. "He tagged it for 48 hours," Short reported. "I could have had it on the masked burglar dressed in black got into the home of Neutrogena Corp. soap company president Lloyd Cotsen, tied up his wife, their teen-age son and a guest, then shot all three in the head, police said.

All three were in a hospital early this morning, and the guest was reported in "very critical" condition. Police said each had been shot once with a .22-caliber pistol.

Police identified the victims as Joanne Cotsen, 49, Noah Cotsen, 14, and Chris Doering, 13, of West Covina, who had been living with the family while attending school in Beverly

According to UCLA Medical Center spokesman Jim Powers, both Mrs. Cotsen and her son were in serious condition following surgery.

The place is Elbow. It's a rural community southwest of Big Spring. And it's about as well known as Chalk, Otis, Lomax, Ross City and Midway, but is better known than Lee, which is no more.

better known than Lee, which is no more.

"The best I know and what I've always heard," the place has been called Elbow since the early 1900s when McKinnon's father moved here on a railroad boxcar with his cattle, horses and household goods.

He came here from Comanche County to farm.

The father bought land at $7 to $8 an acre, got Durham (shorthorn) cattle at $8 a head and grossed four cents a pound on cotton.

The year was 1904. Jack McKinnon, who was a year old then, crossed over the plains with the rest of his family in a covered wagon. He was one of 11 children.

McKinnon, more or less, has been here ever since.

THE FARMING community got its name from Elbow Creek, which "nearly touches where it begins," and which, when it's not dry, dumps water into Beals Creek. This, in turn, empties into the Colorado River.

McKinnon's father, John Calvin McKinnon, was "one of the first to grow cotton southwest of Big Spring." He was Scotch-Irish.

"He was a Christian man who believed in doing what was right," said the son. "He helped build this community."

community."

The community, except for a grammar school and a church, is about fizzled out.

"This is Elbow — what's left of it," said Ethel, McKinnon's wife of almost 51 years.
"This is a little joint," said McKinnon.

The community got a little bit smaller about 12½ years ago, when McKinnon closed his grocery store-filling station.

"WE RAN THE STORE for years and years and decided to quit," said the wife.

McKinnon, free of his gardening chores, put the hoe aside, walked over to the store which adjoins the house and showed what time and dust does to things left undisturbed.

"I just shoved the door to and forgot about it,"
McKinnon said of the store's final day.

Though the world outside changed, most everything in and around the McKinnon place remains unchanged — except for the seasons.

There was a "price freeze:" The Texaco gasoline pumps outside the store reflect 29 and 33 cents per gallon. Old W.E. Garrett snuff tins are stamped 10 and 15 cents each; the small one used to be a nickel. Tin cups sold for 29 cents each. Among the many old soda water bottles is a "Sky Pilot" brand.

Antique weighing scales and a meat slicer from the old grocery store at Lee, six miles to the south, collect nothing but time and dust.

"There's nothing there (at Lee) now but oil wells."

"There's nothing there (at Lee) now but oil wells," noted the missus. "I wish they were up here."

DUST FILTERS through the cracks and covers the shelves and old merchandise.

McKinnon pointed to an old wooden .22-caliber cartridge box. Instead of holding bullets, it was partially filled with credit pads used back when customers could just say "charge it," and the store-keepers were accustomed to jotting down the charged items. It was neighborliness.

Most paid at the end of the month or whenever payday fell or when money came in from the sale of crops, cattle or fowl.

"I put my debts in that," McKinnon said of the credit "charge it" pads. "That's what put me out of business."

Actually, McKinnon said, most folks paid up. And, anyway, he needed more time to farm his cotton acreage.

McKinnon, 75, quit farming three years ago.

HE FIGURED that in the time since he put the plow down, he could have dusted things and re-arranged all his antiques and collectibles and created the Elbow Museum.

"Well," he said, "when I shut up that store, I thought I'd have time."

He didn't

He didn't, again.

His "junk room" is still cluttered and collecting dust.

In the old store, in sheds and in an old former Elbow school house he bought, McKinnon has lots of stuff: from a 1954 Hudson Hornet sedan to team trees, wooden nail kegs, cotton scales, carbide lamp and hot plate, coal-wood-burning stove, bottles, what-nots and many other things from the past.

After glancing over his myriad of artifacts collected through the years, McKinnon retired to the shade on the cool, south side of the house.

The missus joined him.

THEY TALKED about so many people moving into town. They mused over the off-chance of somebody making a go of another country store out here.

"I don't think a country store would do too good (again)," Mrs. McKinnon speculated.
"Oh, yes, it would," said McKinnon, "if they just sold stuff accidentally."

He said the people, their customers, were good to them in the 35 years they were in the grocery business.

Their life together goes along fairly leisurely — in piddling, visiting, gardening and fixing up things every now and then. Their place is cozy, comfortable

"Oh, she does good to put up with me," McKinnon said of his wife.

"He's been a wonderful husband, sure has," said the wife.

This old electric pump at Elbow in Howard County, a reminder of those "good old days" when gasoline was plentiful and much cheaper, still works and occasionally pumps diesel fuel. Jack McKinnon shut down the grocery store and filling station there in 1967, when gasoline was 29 cents a gallon for regular and 33 cents for ethyl. (Staff Photo by Ed Todd)

Not needed in Texas

Monopoly bargaining power over all teachers in the public schools of Texas long has been a desire of labor unions in the Lone Star State.

And they very well could be closer to achieving their goal right now than at any previous Union lobbyists, early this month, were able to get one of their bills - S.B. 289 - reported out of the Senate Education Committee. The committee action was surprising and shocking to many Texans.

The bill, as proposed, would grant the unions monopoly bargaining power over all public school teachers. Thus, the union bosses would be able to force all teachers to accept the union as their exclusive bargaining agent - even teachers who oppose the union and do not desire its aid, assistance, advice or what-have-

Think about it for a moment. If the unions should succeed in passing this legislation, union officials would have almost unlimited power to call teachers out on strike - keeping schools shut down until their demands are met.

Texas and Texans very definitely do not need this sort of legislation. In the first place, it is in direct opposition to the Rightto-Work principle. Senate Bill 289 should and must be defeated, along with any other bills giving unions monopoly bargaining privileges.

Fortunately, no further action on the measure has been taken. Hopefully, it will be permitted to "rest in peace" without further attention (floor action) during the remainder of the session, ending May 28. But there always is the danger of some unwarranted, unwanted legislation getting by in the closing days and hours of a legislative session. Every effort should be made to prevent S.B. 289 from getting by under such circumstances.

And in this connection, it is somewhat encouraging to note a substantial loss of membership in the Texas and other affiliates of the National Education Association (NEA)-union, as reported in "Right To Work News."

Susan Staub, staff director of Concerned Educators Against Forced Unionism (CEAFU), says this "reflects the growing awareness and rejection of the NEA's promotion of compulsory unionism by the nation's educators."

"Right To Work News" quotes Ms. Staub as saying, "Educators are concerned about the firing of good teachers - often tenured teachers - at the command of union officials.'

She added that "Educators more and more, are standing up for their freedom of choice."

It is our firm belief that a vast majority of Texans do not favor granting unions monopoly bargaining power over Texas' public school teachers.

Now the sage grouse

A quote from a letter reportedly from the Federal Bureau of Land Management sent to a Denver oil company was left on the editor's desk. It reads:

"This is in response to your request for variance regarding the sage grouse strutting-nesting complex-stipulations attached to the above mentioned lease and well site.

"At this time available data suggest that around-the-clock drilling operations tend to suppress sage grouse strutting activities. Combined with the fact that the proposed lease and well site is located within the nesting habitat associated with the two strutting grounds, we feel the variance should not be granted in order to protect this natural

Carter sure Soviets won't cheat

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON - The key to the SALT II agreement, and to its chances of approval by the Senate, is "verification." Senators want to be sure the Soviet Union isn't cheating on the number and variety of its nuclear weapons.

President Carter has reassured them. "We are confident." declared last month, "that no significant violation of the treaty could take place without the United States detec-

But secret documents do not support the president's rosy assurance that the Soviets will be unable to fool us. Quite the contrary, in fact.

A "Top Secret" report in the National Intelligence Daily, the CIA's super hush-hush information newspaper for top government leaders, has this to say: "In view of our incomplete understanding of Soviet concealment and deception activities and in view of the inconsistencies and unevenness of their use by various parts of the (Soviet) strategic forces ... our forecast ... in this field must be highly tentative.'

Competent sources confirmed to our associate Dale Van Atta that the report is all too true. It warns that despite the "considerable political, economic and even military risks involved ... we cannot exclude the possibility that Soviet leaders, if they believed they could succeed, would approve a program of concealment and deception designed to help gain a strategic advantage over the U.S." Indeed, the CIA report speculates that "an effort of this scope almost certainly was approved at a high political level." The CIA is convinced, in other words, that the men in the Kremlin are perfectly willing to cheat on the SALT agreement - and our intelligence techniques can't prevent them from getting away with it.

From secret documents and from intelligence sources close to the SALT negotiations, we learned the details of a number of the Russians' tricks. They have been using them since at least 1964 to hide their weapons strength from American intelligence. We cannot report all their tricks without revealing our own secret detection methods. But it is safe to tell part of the story:

One relatively simple screen the Russians use for their strategic weapons was described to us by a source: "When the Russians move mobile missiles, there is sometimes a long logistics trail. It's like a circus of vehicles going through the country and is as easily detected. But if they break the caravan up, moving one truck at a time, we might not learn about the move."

· Beginning about 1964, the Soviets began "disruptive painting" of their intercontinental ballistic missile complexes, constructing dummy roads, facilities, equipment and launch sites - modern versions of "Potemkin villages" by the people who invented the technique.

. In 1966, the Russians learned to time their activities to our satellite schedules. "In response to warnings of the approach of U.S. reconnaissance satellites passed to all branches of the Soviet military establishment," one document notes, "both surface-to-air missile and airwarning-and-control radars restrict their electronic emissions at times when the emissions would be susceptible to interception by the satellites. In 1967, the Russians began building tunnels big enough to hold up to 20 missile-carrying submarines. Dum my subs were constructed to confuse American spies, and canvas or 'environmental' coverings were used to camouflage the facilities.

 Though the CIA claimed these subterfuges never seriously hampered our ability to maintain an accurate count of Soviet submarines," the agency admitted that it made it tougher to figure out a far more vital statistic - the number of Soviet subs in port at any given mo-

 In 1974 and 1975, the CIA discovered that the Soviets were partially covering submarine hull sections awaiting assembly at Severodvinsk, and concluded that "these actions were clearly attempts to deny the United States information on missile-launching subs before they are built."

· The most innovative - and potentially dangerous - deception began in May, 1974. That was "telemetry encoding," or making messages from test missiles indecipherable to non-Soviet monitors tracking the

It is tricks like these that have given many members of the Senate cause for concern. One senator put the case for caution bluntly: "We have consistently underestimated Soviet capability," he told us. "The past track record is not encouraging."

Senate skeptics, with good reason, are not viewing the SALT II agreement through Jimmy Carter's rosecolored glasses.

BRASS RING - Today we award a Brass Ring - good for one free ride on the Washington Merry-Go-Round to Harold Denton, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission official who, with his wife Lucinda, became familiar "strangers" in Middletown, Pa., during the Three Mile Island nuclear plant crisis. Calls are still coming in to their Rockville, Md., home from across the nation and especially from Pennsylvania, Mrs. Denton reported. 'We've had invitations to family reunions and dinners, and calls just to say 'Hello' and 'Thank Harold for telling us the truth," she told us. "We got a real hometown feeling there."

Denton has even been favorably featured on some T-shirt designs, the ultimate salute to a nuclear-age hero.

"I know that, Jimmy. How about offering her a ten o'clock deadline? "That seems fair," Jimmy said. "What if she doesn't buy it?"

'Then ask her to come up with her own bedtime plan. You've done all you can and now the ball is in her court," Kirbo said.

"I knew you would come up with a solution, Charley. Thanks a lot." The President turned to Ham and Jody. "I'm going back to Amy with one last proposal. She either goes to bed at ten o'clock or has to take the consequences for it.' "What consequences?" Jody asked, taking notes. "I will tell her I'm very disappointed with her.'

"Now you're being presidential," Ham said.

"Suppose she doesn't accept it?"

"Then I'll offer her 10: 30. It's better than not having a bedtime plan for her at all.'

Now, there is a strong anti-Amtrak lobby comprised of super Proposition 13 types, bus companies and perhaps even the railroads. They can argue that: Amtrak doesn't operate one single line in the black; Amtrak used up $4.2 billion in subsidies in eight years and didn't come up with a good rail system; ridership has not increased fast enough; it would be cheaper to buy free bus or airplane tickets for most Amtrak passengers, since each rail passenger is so heavily subsi-

Most of these arguments are valid simply because Amtrak has never been funded sufficiently or given assurance that it is here to stay. The buscompanies have a right to resent some of Amtrak's funding (though buses ride on subsidized highways), but would be better served to integrate with Amtrak's schedules, providing bus service to pick up where Amtrak ends.

Necessity for Amtrak emphasized by fuel shortages

As for the railroads who bellyache about the federal bucks spent on other modes of transportation, they shouldn't be knocking Amtrak, the dummies, because Amtrak is also in the railroad business.

When trains are two-thirds or more filled with passengers, there is no more energy efficient transportation system going. The other day, Amtrak president Alan S. Boyd spoke to employes and told them that Amtrak the way it has had to operate - is not energy efficient, but that train systems with good passenger load, are.

Congress, which moves like an elephant this year, has come around a little on Amtrak. Sen. Frank Church made the best move when he asked Senate Leader Robert Byrd to hold authorization on the cutdown Amtrak bill until after the upcoming recess, thus giving congressmen a chance to hear what people think back home. Church not only wants to save rail service in Idaho, but across the country, too, because he feels there must be a national rail system ready when gasoline shortages become perma-

The Administration wants to cut $1.4 billion from Amtrak's budget in the next five years, and with it, 12,000 miles of route. Several amendments to the Amtrak bill amount to saving service on a half-dozen long distance routes and a number of commuter

Cullen Davis weds girlfriend today

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) - Multimillionaire Cullen Davis and his longtime girlfriend Karen Master were married early today, within an hour of the expiration of the 30-day waiting period after his divorce from Priscilla Childers Davis.

As early as the law allowed, the couple went to the home of Tarrant County Clerk Madrin Huffman shortly after midnight and bought their marriage license, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram said in a copyright story today.

They were wed at 12:50 a.m. at the home of Davis' longtime friends, Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Hudgins, in the company of about 25 friends and family The couple is passing up a wedding trip to begin moving immediately into the $6 million Davis man-

"We plan to redecorate one room at a time," the new Mrs. Davis said.

Davis still faces three felony charges in connection with an August 1976 shooting at the mansion that left two people dead and two wounded, including Priscilla Davis. He also faces a July 9 re-trial date on a charge he plotted to hire a hit man to kill District Judge Joe H. Eidson Jr., the original judge in his divorce.

Davis had until midnight Wednesday to move out of the mansion or face a $50,000 fine for every day she Huffman said the couple asked him to issue the

Row inmate

granted stay

DALLAS (AP) -Death Row inmate Anderson Hughes, who was scheduled to die Friday, has been granted an indefinite stay of execution by U.S. District Judge Robert M. Hill.

Hughes' request to delay his death by injection was rejected Wednesday morning by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

His attorneys, Arch McColl and Tom McCorkle of Dallas, immediately filed a writ of habeas corpus in Hill's federal district court.

The defendant was convicted of capital murder in the Sept. 23, 1974, shooting death of Mesquite policeman Travis E. Williams.

If the death sentence had been carried out, Hughes would have been the first person to be executed by injection of a lethal chemical.

The last person executed in Texas was convicted murderer Joseph Johnson of Houston who died in the electric chair July 30, 1964.

Hughes' conviction was upheld May 8, 1978, by the state criminal appeals court and he was scheduled to die June 20,

U.S. Supreme Court Justice Lewis Powell. however, held up the death sentence on June 9, 1978, until the entire high court could review the matter.

The U.S. Supreme Court refused to stay Hughes' execution on Oct. 10, 1978, and refused to reconsider the case on Nov. 27, 1978. Although the full court denied Hughes' request. Justices William Brennan and Thurgood Marshall said the execution should be stopped because "the death penalty in all circumstances constitutes cruel and unusual punishment."

The impressive celebration of the Lord's Supper was held in Bartle Hall. The moderators of the two churches are from Texas, which has never happened before, and include ruling elders Sara-B. Moseley of Sherman, head of the PCUS and the first women to ever hold that position, and the Rev. William P. Lytle of San Antonio, moderator of UPCUSA.

Of the 14 persons leading the worship service, 10 of them were from Texas and included the Rev. James E. Andrews, stated clerk of the general assembly, based in Atlanta; the Rev. Patricia A. McClurg, administrative director of the general assembly, Mission Board of Atlanta; Dr. John D. Moseley, chancellor of Austin College and husband of the moderator; Ms. Norma Hernandez, student at Jefferson High School in San Antonio; Ms. Kary Wilshusen, a student at the Presbyterian School of Christian Education in Richmond, Va.; the Rev. Rafael Sanchez, executive presbyter of Alamo Presbytery in San Antonio, and the Rev. Robert F. Jones, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church in Fort

The ceremony began with an impressive parade of banners and included one from Tres Rios Presbytery which is a court over the churches in the Midland area. It was carried by the Rev. Bob Lewis of Seminole, commissioner of the general assembly.

Other commissioners are the Rev. Gordon Bowie of El Paso, Robert B. Gaines of Midland, Paul Bearden of Odessa, and Ms. Roxanna Augesen of Odessa, who is the youth advisory delegate.

At the combined worship service, Mrs. Moseley emphasized the common heritage of the two groups and Mr. Lytle noted that the participants came from every state in the Union. Turning to speak to each other in a double sermon the two moderators also spoke to the audience on a common obligation of obedience to Christ, of decipleship and of Christ's on cable television outlets at 2 p.m. Sunday. A 119-year-old split between the two largest denominations of the church could end as early as 1989. the newly elected leaders of the churches said at the

At news conferences after their elections Wednesday, both men vowed to work to heal the split between the churches that arose over the Civil War issue of slavery. The delegates to the 191st annual General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church elected a California professor, the Rev. Howard L. Rice of San Francisco, as moderator and presiding officer. Later in the day, the Presbyterian Church in the United States, which is largely based in the South, elected the Rev. Albert C. Winn of Richmond, Va., as its new moderator. Rice said later that he believed reuniting the two factions would come from the bottom up, beginning with the uniting of local governing units known as presbyteries. There were 10 such "union presbyteries" at the end of 1978, and Rice said he hoped the number would double in the next couple of years.

Winn said he favored working toward union of the two churches in 1989, which will be the 200th anniversary of the first general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

The United Presbyterian Church was formed in 1858, in a union of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church and the Associated Synod of North America. In 1861, churches in the South formed the Presbyterian Church in the Confederate States of America — a group which in 1865 became the Presbyterian Church in the United States. Both church leaders also called on the churches to

Odessan jailed in kidnap case

ODESSA — A 21-year-old Odessa man was in city jail here today after being charged with aggravated kidnapping in connection with an incident that occurred about 1:30 a.m. Wednesday, a spokesman with the police department said.

Rolando Barrera Garcia was charged late Wednesday before Judge Otis Moore and bond set at $15,000. He was arrested about 1:45 a.m. Wednesday after his car was stopped near the intersection of South Grant and Clements streets.

According to a police spokesman, a man allegedly had forced an Odessa woman at knifepoint into a car about 1:30 a.m. outside a convenience store at Second and Muskingum streets, and reportedly had threatened to kill the woman.

The woman told police the man started south down Grant Street at a high rate of speed and she tried to put the car's gear into reverse. The gears made a grinding noise, she said, but the car kept going. Ine woman said she then grabbed the steering wheel several times to make the vehicle hit a curb, and succeeded in the 1400 block of South Grant.

A police officer said he had stopped for a signal light at South Grant and Clements when the car approached at a high rate of speed, hit a utility pole and stopped. A woman ran from the car screaming for help, the officer said, and he arrested the driver Coach Dennie Hays' Midland Bulldogs wrap up spring football drills Friday night in Memorial Stadium.

The Bulldogs, after a great spring in which Hays is highly pleased, will hold their annual Bill Mims Purple-White game at 7:30 p.m. to wind up 21 days of workouts in preparation for the 1979 football season which opens in September.

'This has been the best spring workouts ever and I am really pleased with the results. The youngsters have worked hard and I feel we will be very competitive this fall, " said Hays after Wednesday's wor-

THE ONLY injury this spring was to quarterback Michael Feldt who suffered a knee injury and will miss Friday's game, according to Hays. "That's an awfully good percentage to only have one injury. Of course, we didn't have a lot of contact in the first week, but have had some good scrimmages in the past two weeks." Hays is also happy over the freshman or sophomores-to-be that have also taken part in the spring drills. "We have an awfully fine group of younger players, " said Hays. They have plenty of size and have also worked hard for us. The junior high coaches had them ready when they reported to us."

MIDLAND IS still two coaches short, but those will be named in the very near future. "It didn't hurt us not to be a full strength for spring drills, because I have a good staff that works hard and does a good job, added Hays. The junior varsity will hold its final game starting at 4:30 p.m. Friday followed by the Mims Game at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $2 each with proceeds going to Bill Mims, a former Midland High school athlete was was injured more than 20 years ago while playing for the Bulldogs.

Members of the Purple unit include Michael Collins, Doug McLean, Russell Hays, Bobby Stovall, Buckner Smith, Mark Hewitt, Richard Young, Scott Yocham, Billy Applin, Hank McClung, Steve Mills, Ray Deleon, David Askew, Randy Bush, Blake Burchard, Danny Salas, Gary Willis, EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) -California State-Northridge had the early lead as the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women track and field championships got into full swing today at Michigan State University.

Northridge's Jodi Anderson put her school on top Wednesday in the first of the meet's four days by winning the pentathlon with a record-setting 4,475

Pentathlon involves five events: 100-meter hurdles, shot put, high jump, long jump and 800-meter run. Anderson broke the 1978 record of 4,279 points held by Themis Zambrzycki of Brigham Young. She also broke field records in the long jump and 100-meter hurdles. Patsy Walker of UCLA had to be taken out by stretcher after she landed awkwardly during the long jump and broke her leg, said UCLA Coach Scott Chisam. Walker was in overall second place when the injury occured.

The pentathlon was a close contest, going down to the final event, the 800-meter run, which Anderson finished in 2: 15.8, ahead of Zambrzycki's

2:17.3. Linda Waltman of Texas A&M was third with 4,085. Fourth went to Karen Page of Utah State with 4,039. Brenda Wilson of Adams State was fifth with 3,977. And in sixth among the 16 participants was Mary Harrington of Colorado State with 3,950.

Preliminaries, including a few semifinals, are slated for today. Some field finals are set for Friday, with the rest of the finals coming Saturday.

Parker debut hands Cubs 3-0 victory

BY TED BATTLES R-T Sports editor

After watching Arkansas abuse Midland pitchers for 32 runs in two games over the weekend, Mark Parker, waiting to make his first start in Cubs Stadium, couldn't have been blamed if he were apprehensive about his debut in the Texas League's version of Fenway Park or Wrigley Field, with the wind blowing toward

If the 22-year-old from Huntington, Ind., was gunshy, it didn't show. The righthander, feeding the Jackson Mets a steady diet of fast balls, pitched a 3-0, five-hit shutout in the opener of the five game series. And what's more, it was the fastest nineinning game of the season at Cubs Stadium, requiring just 2 hours and four minutes.

It was 1-0 into the last of the seventh as Parker and Jackson's Greg Harris matched goose eggs. Midland's lone run came when Dan Rohn walked to open the Cubs first, went to second on Jesus Alfaro's single and both moved into scoring position on a double steal that set up Eric Grandy's run-scoring grounder to third

THE CUBS added unearned runs in the seventh and eighth to "spoil" the 1-0 game, rarer in Cubs Stadium than a no-hitter. So by the ninth, it seemed just a question of whether Parker could finish his shutout, and as it turned out, it was the only serious trouble he encountered all night, in fact, the only time a Met got as far as third base.

With one out, Wally Backman tripled to right center as the plot thickened. Manager Randy Hundley had Darrell Turner heating up in the bullpen as Hubie Brooks flied to right. Jared Martin probably preserved the shutout when he positioned himself to throw as he made the catch and gunned a bullet to the plate that would have cut down Backman by 15 feet, but Backman wisely held third.

Ron McDonald then whistled a couple of vicious fouls to left, the second clearing the fence. "The two foul balls were pitches over the inside half of the plate, so I threw to the outside corner," Parker reflected, and got a called strikeout to end the game.

HUNDLEY ADMITTED he was ready to make a change. "After the triple and that foul ball over the fence, I was thinking about it. If McDonald gets on, I don't want to see that big guy (catcher Jody Davis) coming up. He's got some power. I'm glad I didn't have to make the deci-

Parker, now 3-1, said his fast ball was moving and "they were hitting a lot of grounders and popups, so stuck with it...Big defensive play? It would have to be Mike Turgeon's DF on a tough up after I walked the lead off batter in the fourth.

For Parker, the run in the seventh took some of the heat off, "it was important because it takes the bunt away and a lot of other things they might be able to do in a one-run

Harris, who pitched in the TL as a reliever two years ago and was 8-9 for Lynchburg, Va., Class A, last year gave up just one earned run and couldn't be blamed if he were wailing of the unkind fates. Midland's second run came after two were out in the seventh, an infield hit by Brian Rosinski, a single by Bill Hayes which sent Rosinski to third and the misplay at first on the relay that let the run come home.

The run in the ninth was equally tainted as Martin beat out a grounder to second, raced to third on a wild pickoff throw and scored on Grandy's single to right.

The Cubs and Mets clash again at 7:30 p.m. today, Ladies Night, with Henry Mack 2-1 going for the Cubs and Dan Smith, 4-0 hurling for Jack-

CUB CLOUTS-Last year Jackson pitchers held Midland to 4, 2, 3, 1 and 0 runs in games here, and if Harris' opening game effort is any indication. the Mets' pitching is tough again this year, even though Neil Allen, Jeff Reardon and Jeff Prewitt have gone on to higher leagues...A 1-0 game in Cubs Stadium is even more taut than a no-hitter. Relying on memory, the last 1-0 game here was i 1973 when the Cubs won 1-0 in 10 innings over somebody named Frank Tanana, could have been a lefthander...Mets' reliefer Pete Hamner is the first sidewinder at Cubs Stadium this season and Cub batters probably hope he's the last...

Green Bay's Carter announces retirement

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) - Jim Carter, who faced the ire of many Green Bay Packer fans when he assumed the middle linebacker job of National Football League great Ray Nitschke in 1971, announced his retirement Wednesday after nine seasons with the Packers.

"I suppose I might have some second thoughts because I still think I can play, but I've been treated fairly here," said the 30-year-old Carter, a University of Minnesota product who came to the Packers as a third round draft choice in 1970.

Carter said that, after having a fine season in 1977, he felt he should have played more last season instead of being replaced in the starting lineup by rookie Mike Hunt as part of a Packer "youth movement."

Carter said he had asked the Packers to either trade or release him, and "they apparently couldn't work anything out, so I'm going to retire."

He said he assumed that, if a trade could not be worked out, other teams were not interested in him, and he would pursue private business en-

Packer Coach and General Manager Bart Starr said the Green Bay organization wished Carter well, and he said he sympathized with Carter's plight when he first came to the

Starr said he "had a lot of compassion for Jim because I feel that he began his career here under trying circumstances since he was replacing an exceptional middle linebacker."

Garland handcuffs Toronto, 4-3 games this year and have thrown better stuff, but I take pride in pitching a complete game, just as anybody

By The Associated Press

The song says it's a long, long way from May to September, but it was the other way around and even longer between complete games for soreshouldered Wayne Garland — from September (1977) to May (1979).

The 28-year-old right-hander, who made only six appearances last season before undergoing surgery for a torn rotator cuff in his shoulder, allowed four singles Wednesday night for his first complete game since 1977 as the Cleveland Indians nipped the Toronto Blue Jays 4-3...and two of the Toronto runs were unearned.

'That's got to be one of the most gratifying wins of my career," Garland said. "I've gone out in past

Nashville school gains NAIA slot

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) - David Lipscomb College of Nashville will pinch-hit in the NAIA national baseball tournament next week for a Southern Baptist college from Arizona which withdrew because its players celebrated a victory with champagne.

National Association for Intercollegiate Athletics officials approved Lipscomb, the 1977 NAIA champion, to replace Grand Canyon College of Phoenix, a spokesman said Wednesday. Lipscomb, 34-11, was a runnerup to Birmingham Southern this year in NAIA Area 5 playoffs.

NAIA spokesman Charlie Eppler said this was the first time the association has had to invite a team to the national tournament. Its bylaws stipulate tha only area playoff winners are allowed into the final tourney. The president of Grand Canyon, a Southern Baptist-owned college, called the NAIA's Kansas City office Wednesday morning to say the team wouldn't be participating, Eppler

The decision was made because players brought out champagne in a postgame locker room victory celebration in violation of school rules.

"Because it's a Christian school, they feel we made a disgrace of the school," Grand Canyon pitcher Ed Bonine told a Phoenix newspaper.

Grand Canyon College, 58-10, was the NAIA's No. 1 team this season after defeating Sam Houston State 10-2 Friday to win the Area 2 playoff. Bonine said the winning players poured the champagne on each other afterward but didn't drink it.

Eppler said three officers of the NAIA Baseball Coaches Association agreed by telephone Wednesday to admit Lipscomb and the NAIA Coaches Association and the NAIA executive committee, the association's 11-member governing group, else. The last complete game I threw was against the Yankees in September of 1977.

In other American League action, the Baltimore Orioles downed the Boston Red Sox 5-2 on Pat Kelly's three-run pinch homer in the 10th inning, the Texas Rangers whipped the Minnesota Twins 7-2 behind Al Oliver's three home runs, the Milwaukee Brewers shaded the California Angels 1-0, the Detroit Tigers edged the New York Yankees 4-3 and the Chicago White Sox beat the Oakland A's 6-1. Kansas City and Seattle were not scheduled.

Garland, 2-4, didn't become a winner until Gary Alexander cracked a two-run homer off Dave Freisleben in the eighth inning. Garland wasn't overpowering but he mixed speeds well and hit the corners.

"I'm getting stronger every outing, but it will still take all of this year and part of next year before I believe I can get down and handle every situation that comes up," he said. "My slider was my best pitch tonight. Usually my screwball is my out pitch, but I stayed with my slider because I was putting it where I wanted it."

Garland was a 20-game winner for Baltimore in 1976 and then signed a lucrative free agent contract with the Indians. But he dipped to a 13-19 record in 1977 and it appeared as though his career might be over last

Kelly's first home run of the season ruined a complete-game effort by Bob Stanley and came after Billy Smith's one-out infield hit and an error by third baseman Butch Hobson. Eddie Murray also homered for the Orioles, who won for the 24th time in the last 30

"It was wonderful to receive congratulations from my teammates," said Kelly, who had only 24 previous at-bats. "I'd been doing that for them all year. It's not easy being on the bench, but I try to stay involved in the ballgame and keep the other guys alive. What good does it do for a person to go off in the corner and

Steve Stone, who shaved off his mustache and changed his uniform number from 21 to 32, held the Red Sox to eight hits over the first nine innings. "They didn't know I was the guy they knocked around in Boston last week," he joked.

Rangers 7, Twins 2 Oliver smashed a two-run homer in the first inning and solo shots in the fifth and eighth as Texas hammered a club record five homers and Ferguson Jenkins allowed six hits. Pat Putnam and Mike Jorgensen also homered, with Oliver and Putnam slamming two-run shots in the first inning.

"I had the day off on Tuesday, and with the rest I really felt superstrong," Oliver said. "In batting practice, I hit one out of the park that broke the bat. Another one broke the bat and hit the wall.

Paul Molitor scored the game's only run on Don Aase's bases-loaded wild pitch with two out in the seventh inning and Billy Travers hurled a six-hitter for his second consecutive shutout. Molitor and Sal Bando singled with two out and Gorman Thomas walked. Aase's 1-2 pitch to pinch hitter Charlie Moore bounced in the dirt and was deflected about 10 feet down the third base line by catcher Jim Anderson, who then slipped trying to retrieve the ball. Anderson, normally an infielder, went behind the plate because of injuries to Brian Downing and Terry Humphrey, the Angels' two catchers.
"The only other game I ever caught, until the last inning last night (Tuesday) after Downing got hurt, was in Babe Ruth ball when I was 15,' Anderson disclosed. "And then I just wanted to see what it was like.

I just flashed what I thought he wanted to throw, but he was free to shake me off. On the wild pitch, the ball bounced in front of me. I blocked it wit my chest protector and it bounced to my left. Jim Kaat nicked Steve Kemp on the arm with a 1-2 pitch with two out in the bottom of the ninth to force home the winning run. The Tigers loaded the bases with one out against Ken Clay on two walks around a single by Mark Wagner before Kaat got Lou Whitaker to ground into a force at the Roy White's two-run homer helped the Yankees to an early 3-0 lead but the Tigers tied it in the eighth on two-out singles by Whitaker, Kemp, Rusty Staub and Jason Thompson.

"I just threw a bad pitch," said Kaat. "I was trying to play country hard ball and I didn't make it. I tried to bust a fast ball inside. It just got away, that's all."

White Sox 6, A's 1

Chet Lemon's tie-breaking threerun homer climaxed a four-run fifth inning that carried Ken Kravec to his fourth straight victory. With Oakland leading 1-0, Bill Nahorodny opened the Chicago fifth with a single, was was sacrificed to second and scored on Junior Moore's single. After Claudell Washington walked, Lemon belted his fourth home run of the season into a strong wind, the ball barely reaching the stands just inside the left field foul pole.

Reds whitewash Giants

Mike LaCoss said Manager John McNamara waved his magic wand again - but the wands Dave Collins & Co. had something to do with it, too.

LaCoss, unbeaten this year, chalked up his fifth victory by threehitting San Francisco Wednesday night while Collins, Johnny Bench and Ray Knight were hitting home runs off Vida Blue in Cincinnati's 5-0 whitewashing of the Giants. It washed away the bad taste of the Reds' 12-2 loss 24 hours earlier and widened their National League West lead to 21/2 games over the Giants. In the rest of the NL it was Atlanta 6, Houston 5; St. Louis 3, Philadelphia

1; Los Angeles 4, San Diego 2, and Montreal 3, Pittsburgh 0. Chicago at New York was rained out. 'We haven't lost a game I've started yet," said LaCoss, a 23-year-old right-hander. "It seems like Mac waves a magic wand when I pitch. "Like tonight, He puts Dave Collins in left field and he hits a home run (his first as a National Leaguer). He's just a super manager.' LaCoss' first start this year came against the Giants after the Reds had lost their first three games. It was a disaster for him - four hits and five runs allowed in two-thirds of an inning, although none of them were earned because of an error he committed. Still, the Reds won that one 7-6 and haven't lost with him on the Similarly, errors and erratic baserunning led to Tuesday night's horrendous showing against the Giants.

"When you lose like that," LaCoss said, "it's better just not to say anything, forget it and go about your business. It would have been a lot worse if we'd played like that and lost

"The problem is he's throwing the right pitch at the wrong time," said Giants pitching coach Larry Shepard. There's no doubt he'll come out of it. It's like Bill Madlock batting .200. It just doesn't figure.

Bench's homer leading off the second inning gave LaCoss the only run he needed. But before the inning was over Dan Driessen had singled and Collins had homered. Knight's homer. his first of the season, came with the bases empty in the fourth.

"He was throwing all right," catcher Mike Sadek said of Blue. "Two of the home runs came on pretty tough pitches. He threw a slider down and away to Knight but he went out and got it. And Collins hit a pitch over his

egos are involved

The split has been felt particularly strongly with the approach of championship racing's richest and most prestigious race - Sunday's Indy

"They're gonna ruin racing if they don't get this thing straightened out, and they're not going to get it settled until they get rid of the ego thing,' Agabashian said. "There's a lot of egos out there, and that could take a long time — maybe too long.

"The fans can get disenchanted and, if that happens, the sponors may pull the bucks out. If that happens, it could kill the whole thing.'

The slim, grey-haired Agabashian drove in 11 Indys, finishing as high as

He thought back to those years and said, "We had a drivers' dispute with the Speedway back in '47. The drivers were trying to get more (money) out of the Speedway.' "But Wilbur Shaw and Tony Hulman had just taken over the Speedway two years earlier, and they were spending big chunks of money to upgrade the physical plant. Shaw and Hulman satisfied 'em with an answer that there'd be more, but they couldn't promise anything.

'The thing is, it was done by sitting down and talking man to man. They settled down and got it done. I wish that would happen out here now."

The first step in that direction may have been taken Wednesday. At the call of veteran driver Roger McCluskey, drivers, owners, mechanics and officials from both sides met for two hours to discuss their grievances. The result was inconclusive, but there was agreement to continue talking - and that's progress.

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) - The Washington Bullets, with a chance to become the first repeat champions of the National Basketball Association in 10 years, may not be the fat cats they're depicted

When the Bullets struggled to beat Atlanta 4-3 and then had to overcome a 3-1 deficit before prevailing over San Antonio, some observers figured they had lost the desire which carried them to the top last

But veteran forwards Bobby Dandridge and Elvin Hayes say a second championship would be even more satisfying than the first.

"We have more reason to win than Seattle," Dandridge said as the two finalists of last season prepared for tonight's contest in Capital Centre, the Bullets leading 1-0 in the best-of-seven series.

"Two championship rings would be icing on the cake for Wes (center Wes Unseld), Elvin and myself," Dandridge said. "And we have some young players who realize that a lot of great players in the league never even get to play for the champion-

"I learned a long time ago to forget my personal goals," said Hayes, who finished third in the voting for the NBA's most valuable player. "The championship ring means more to me. I want a second one. The first one was good, and I want more."

Seattle, meantime, is encountering the same kind of doubt that Washington faced last season - even though the SuperSonics extended the Bullets to seven games a year ago and finished behind them this year with the second-best regular season record.

Coach Lenny Wilkens was a bit bemused by a question at a practice session this week which seemed to suggest the SuperSonics were still not for

"We don't have to prove anything," Wilkens said. "That was started last year by people trying to understand why THEY didn't make it. Well, we're here again ... and they're still watching. The Bullets won Sunday's opener 99-97 when reserve guard Larry Wright sank two free throws after being fouled as time expired. With Wright scoring 26 points, Washington substitutes outscored Seattle's The SuperSonics, although tired from a transcontinental trip that couldn't be made until early Saturday - after they found out who their opponent would be - were alert enough to convert 20 Washington turnovers into 23 points. But Seattle was clobbered 55-41 in rebounds, and sank only 11 of 23 free throws. Gus Williams, who led the SuperSonics with 32 points, was 4-for-11 from the

"We didn't press as much as we normally do," Wilkens said. "But now that we're rested, you'll see

MHS YOUTH CENTER CHATTER Goodbye, shalom from '79 Seniors.

By JANE FORSYTH, VALERIE VAN PELT CECILY SHULL

Well Seniors, "School's out for summer, high school's out forever!" (At least for Seniors). If you've made it this far, exams are Friday. Exam schedule for Seniors is: Friday, 1, 4, and 6; Monday,

Baccalaureate rehearsal is Friday during 2nd period (9:15 a.m.)

The newspaper will publish Senior wills and the papers will be handed out Friday morning. The Baccalaureate service wil be Sunday at 6 p.m. in the MHS auditorium. Wear your cap and gown, Seniors! All Junior Council members - set up for the Baccalaureate reception in the Youth Center will be at 2 p.m. Sunday. Bring your two dozen cookies. The reception will be at 7 following the service.

Wednesday at 9:15 a.m. at Chaparral Center will be Commencement rehearsal. A week from tonight the Seniors of Midland High School will graduate at p.m. in the Chaparral Center. To top off graduation will be the Senior All-Night Party. Tickets are $7 dur-

Rasco says: Thanks to all who made the Disco Dance the success it was. Ya'll set the record and made it the biggest flop in five years. So don't complain that there's nothing to do in Midland because when there is you don't go!

If it seems like time passes quickly, well, you're right. Football season is back! The Bill Mims Benefit Game will be Friday. J.V. is at 4:30, and Varsity kicks off at 7:30. Packbackers wear your shorts and Buildog T-shirts. New Packbackers - here's your chance to prove yourselves! This game marks the end of spring training of our mighty Bulldogs!

As football returns we see another sport end with flying colors! Three MHS athletes have received All-district honors. These Bulldogs Baseball players are Jimmy Zachery, shortstop; Tracy Gann, centerfielder, and Tommy Munoz, catcher.

Coach Peel was runner-up for All-district coach! Congratulations!

Juniors and Sophomores! Only four more days . . . To all our readers we have enjoyed writing the Chatter. It was a wonderful experience of our Senior year. VENIMUS! VIDIMUS! VICIMUS! (For those of you who aren't Latin scholars), WE CAME! WE SAW! WE CONQUERED!

Now we must move on to bigger and better things. Jane is planning to attend The University of Dallas. Yeah Big D! Valerie and Cecily will be "hooking those horns" at UT. Watch out Austin; here we come! Good luck to the new Chatter Writers. They have big shoes to fill!

Vell, Shalom, Avoir, Chow, Adios, Bye! The 1978-79 MHS Youth Center Chatter Writers!

Jane, Val, and Ces P.S. Junior Council members - DON'T FORGET your two dozens cookies and set-up at 2 p.m. Sunday.

DR. NEIL SOLOMON Nuclear type OK

Dear Dr. Solomon: I am 68 years old, and will be entering the hospital soon to have a pacemaker implanted. I've been told that nuclear pacemakers are available, and I'm wondering about the pros and

Dear Mr. T.: Nuclear-powered heart pacemakers were first used early in 1973, and only about 3,000 were implanted throughout the world during the first five years. This figure contrasts with an estimated 300,000 electrical devices which have been implanted in patients in the United States. Of the first 15 patients to receive nuclear pacemakers in one of the two facilities originally licensed to insert them, 13 are alive and well, and 10 have their original unit.

Initially, there had been some concern about the them. Their chief advantage is their long life.

The major disadvantage of the nuclear pacemaker

For young patients, who may require a pacemaker for 20 years or more, the nuclear-powered device

Dear Dr. Solomon: After our experience with the swine flu vaccine program, which seemed to cause more problems than it solved, I wonder whether the advisability of other mass inoculations shouldn't be

Dear Mr. S.: Reviews as to the advisability of such programs do take place. The U.S. Public Health Service recently recommended that the practice of emergency typhoid vaccinations after floods and other natural disasters be stopped, since there is no evidence that outbreaks of typhoid generally follow these catastrophes. Moreover, epidemiologists at the Center for Disease Control say that the vaccination does not necessarily protect everyone receiving it; in fact, some individuals experience a harmful reaction to the injection itself. It was concluded that vaccination programs place an unnecessary burden on emergency health resources, which are often in short supply at such a time.

The Public Health Service made its recommendation on the basis of a study of the 1976 earthquake in Guatemala. Despite the fact that Guatemala is a developing nation, where typhoid is endemic, it was found that the disease did not pose a problem after the disastsr. The scientists noted that boiling water after a natural disastsr, in order to assure a safe drinking supply, was more important than vaccinations in preventing typhoid disease.

Israeli planes blast Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) - Israeli warplanes blasted guerrilla strongholds in Lebanon for the second straight day today following cross-border shelling that left two Israelis wounded and a PLO bombing that killed two Israeli women and a baby.

Yasser Arafat's Palestine Liberation Organization said the Israeli jets bombed and rocketed guerrilla positions at Reihan mountain, 40 miles southeast of Beirut, and "maintained a thundering umbrella over all towns and villages in south Lebanon, crashing the sound barrier and causing panic-spreading

Sinai settlers resist soldiers

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) - Jewish settlers poked flaming torches, sprayed insecticide and threw stones and vegetables at Israeli soldiers who tried to evict them today from Sinai farmland to be handed back to Egypt, Israel radio reported.

Several persons were reported injured on both sides in the clash. The unarmed troops brought up fire trucks to spray the stubborn settlers, the radio

Iran executions now total 222

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) - Revolutionary firing squads executed six more men today on charges of murder and corruption under the old regime, state news media reported

The deaths brought to 222 the number of known executions by revolutionary tribunals since Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's forces ousted the monarchy in February.

Refugee plight called challenge

WASHINGTON (AP) - The plight of Indochina refugees challenges America to decide if it is truly willing to help the "huddled masses yearning to breathe free," says Joseph A. Califano, secretary of health, education and welfare.

"By our choice on this issue," he told a House judiciary subcommittee Wednesday, "we will reveal to the world - and more importantly to ourselves whether we truly live by our ideals or simply carve them on our monuments."

Amin sighted in Uganda

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — An American soldier of fortune claims deposed dictator Idi Amin is back in Uganda, hiding out in a well-fortified and heavily guarded farm near his hometown in Uganda's West

Daniel Pierre Waltner, leader of a 15-man mercenary commando team hired to find Amin by a prominent Israeli, said Wednesday he saw Amin from a distance near the town of Arua earlier this month while on a reconnaisance and intellegence gathering mission.

Nkomo warns U.S., Britain

UNITED NATIONS (AP) - Rhodesian guerrilla leader Joshua Nkomo, clearly upset by signs Britain or the United States might lift economic sanctions against Rhodesia, says such an move would make them enemies of his guerrilla alliance "and we will deal with them as such."

Nkomo told a news conference Wednesday at U.N. headquarters in New York that he doubted the United States or Britain would lift the U.N.-sponsored sanctions since it would be against their long-term interests.

Carter secretary turning to gas station 'launches

WASHINGTON (AP) - The gasoline pinch has hit the Oval Office. Sort

President Carter's personable personal secretary, Susan Clough, has to gear her schedule to his - which isn't good if you have to worry about keeping fuel in the family buggy. For instance, Ms. Clough gets to

Many service stations along her route aren't open that early, and many of those that are have lines of waiting customers that would make her tardy if she got into one. In the evening, when work is done,

Mexico says crude claims are correct

By LEONARD GREENWOOD The Los Angeles Times

MEXICO CITY - Mexico has the oil and gas reserves it claims to have and is prepared to show the documentation to any experts, Jorge Diaz Serrano, director general of Petroleos

Diaz Serrano made the statement in impromptu remarks during a speech he was making in Acapulco to the annual conference of the Mexican Bankers Association, a Pemex spokesman confirmed here Wednesday night.

The Pemex chief said that the figures on Mexico's natural gas and oil reserves at the end of 1978 were correct, and he repeated them to the bankers. Up to that time, he said, Mexico had proved the existence of 40 billion barrels of "hydrocarbons." (Mexico, unlike other countries. lumps together both oil and natural proved and probable, of about 200 billion barrels.

Diaz Serrano did not mention a Los

The article quoted as its sources many experts on Mexican oil, including Francisco Viniegra, a former Pemex manager of exploration, and James W. Watson, senior vice president of the Dallas company DeGolyer by Mexico to certify its oil findings.

The Times' story has appeared in Mexican newspapers and has stirred comment in financial circles here and among the bankers attending the Acapulco conference. The Pemex spokesman said Diaz Serrano had interrupted his prepared speech to repeat the official government figures and to comment on them.

tion about our resources" to any experts, he said. "We are sure the figures will make them as enthusiastic as we are "

Diaz Serrano added that since the announcement of those figures, Mexico had confirmed the existence of a new oil field with an area three times as large as the total of previously

The new area, he said, is off the coast of the gulf state of Campeche. This new field, he said, raises the possibility that Mexico has more oil offshore than on land, where most of the big discoveries have been made in

Court dismisses case against promotion of generic drugs

A U.S. District Court prescription drug prodjudge has dismissed the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association's challenge of federal efforts to promote generic rather than name-brand

Judge Joseph H Young said Wednesday that the federal Food and Drug Administation's plan to publish a list of therapeutically equivalent drugs and a guide to prescription drug prices is simply a release of information which gives consumers freedom of choice.

"Moreover, agency release of this information is undoubtedly a public service in the public interest," he said in his opinion.

The Washington-based association, representing about 130 companies, contended the proposed lists would remake the competitive structure of the industry.

In addition, the association maintained that the lists would promote the use of cheaply

The alleged harm "is only speculative, Young wrote. "If PMA choices.

Many readers have written me to ask; "Where can I find hams, bacon, etc. made without nitrate or nitrite?"

There are, I know, some companies making such products, but I'm afraid I have no list of who or where they are. And if I did, I wouldn't by-side. tell you.

There is currently much controversy over the use of these substances in the processed meat products on the market. "Why is nitrite used anyway? (Nitrate has to be converted to nitrite before it functions so all we're really concerned about is nitrite.) Here are at least four reasons.

"Number One, it produces the typical pink color of ham, bacon, cured sausages and the like. Sometimes when hams are cured without nitrite a pretty good color results because there is frequently some nitrate in the water or salt supply. With really pure water and really pure salt, a cure without nitrite usually gives a "Number Two, nitrite prevents rancid or stale flavors. Salt alone promotes rancidity, so plain salt pork doesn't hold its typical fresh flavor nearly as long as properly cured ham or bacon. Also, ham never takes on a 'warmed over' taste like a fresh pork roast does when it is heated up for the second or third meal.

Coalition ruled out by Canada's Clark Let Ivory save you $2.00 on soda pop. What a refreshing idea! By STANLEY MEISLER

The Los Angeles Times

OTTAWA-Joe Clark, the prime minister-elect of Canada, announced Wednesday that his Progressive Conservative Party would attempt to govern alone, despite its lack of a majority in the new Parlia-

At a news conference in Edmonton, Alberta, the 39-year-old Clark ruled out any pact with the Social Credit Party, a small, rural Quebec party that has just enough seats to give Clark his majority.

Instead, Clark said, he would rely on the three opposition parties — the Liberals of Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau, the Socialist New Democratic Party, and the Social Creditors - to allow his plurality government to function without trying to vote it down and cause a new election.

"I expect," Clark said, "that the opposition parties would all want to give a new government a fair chance to present our program to Parliament and to bring that program through Parliament....It would be in the best interests of the other parties in Parliament to support sensible measures that we put

The final returns from Tuesday's parliamentary election indicated that difficult times might be ahead for the minority Clark government. Not only did the Progressive Conservatives fall short of a majority by six in the 282-seat House of Commons, but they also finished behind the Liberal Party in the national popular vote, a vote that divided along ominous ethnic and linguistic lines.

The Progressive Conservatives won 136 seats in the House of Commons while the Liberal Party slipped to 114. The New Democratic Party had 26 seats, and the Social Credit Party six.

But, in popular vote, the Liberals led with 4.5 million votes (40 percent), while the Conservatives ahd four million (36 percent), the New Democratic Party two million (18 percent), and the Social Creditors a half million (4.5 percent).

The Conservatives were able to win almost half the seats with a little more than a third of the vote because a large proportion of the Liberal vote was concentrated in the French-speaking province of Quebec. The Liberals piled up enormous majorities that they didn't need in Quebec while failing to come up with enough votes almost everywhere else.

The Liberals were practically shut out in the English-speaking West, while the Conservatives were practically shut out in French-speaking Que-

It was the most obvious polarization of the Canadian vote since 1917 when English and French-speaking voters split over the issue of the reluctance of the ethnic French to fight for the King of England during World War I. The latest electoral split will obviously be cited by Quebec separatists as evidence that Canada already is divided into two countries.

Recognizing the problem, Clark told the news conference that he intended to appoint prominent Quebecers to the Senate, the largely ceremonial upper house of the Parliament, so that he could include them in his Cabinet.

Stock market mixed

NEW YORK (AP) - Stock prices were mixed today in a quiet, drifting session.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, off 7.97 Wednesday, edged up 09 to

Earlier in the week signs of a slowing economy sent the market higher, with investors apparently going on the theory that reduced business activity might bring with it lower inflation and interest rates. But as the evidence of a possible slowdown accumulated Wednesday, traders seemed to have some second thoughts about those hopes. When automakers posted an aggregate 25 percent

NEWS IN BRIEF One injured in school shooting

ATLANTA (AP) - A young woman armed with a 38-caliber pistol surrendered to police, a little more than two hours after she took refuge on a balcony after a female student was shot and wounded in a nearby dormitory today.

Florida rejects ERA, 21-19

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) - The Florida Senate today rejected the Equal Rights Amendment 21-19, leaving the proposed ban on sex discrimination still three states short of ratification.

The House had approved ratification last week, and Senate President Phil Lewis allowed the ERA to come up for a vote instead of sending it to a hostile committee that had bottled it up earlier.

The vote marked the third defeat for ERA supporters in the Florida Senate. The proposed amendment also was rejected in 1974 and 1977.

Gasoline available at Big Bend

Thinking about postponing that trip to Big Bend because of a possible gas shortage there? There's no need to worry, the gasoline distributor for the park says. If you can get to Big Bend National Park, you can get enough gasoline to get out again, he claimed. Gasoline can be purchased at three locations in the park, including Panther Junction, Rio Grande Village and Castolon. Only unleaded gas is available at Castolon, however. W.J. Newell of Newell Oil Company, who has been distributing gasoline to the park for the last 25 years, said there will be no shortages. "Since this is a remote area, gasoline availability is of extreme importance and we have made special arrangements to insure that it will continue to be available," Newell said.

Midland woman transferred

ODESSA - A 23-year-old Midland woman charged with two counts of aggravated assault Tuesday for acts allegedly committed earlier in Odessa was transferred Wednesday from Midland City Jail to Sharon C. Searuggs, 3122 W. Kansas St., was arrested early Tuesday in Midland on a traffic warrant, according to Midland police.

Bond for Ms. Searuggs was set Wednesday at $5,000 on each of the two charges, officials said.

She remained in jail early today in lieu of bond, officials said. Municipal Court Judge Otis Moore of Odessa set the bonds.

One assault charge stems from the Odessa stabbing of Patricia Diane Gilbreath on April 18 at the Gilbreath woman's apartment.

The other charge stems from an incident in which the residence of Pearline May Tumlin in Odessa was stuck by bullets fired from a .22-caliber weapon on April 17, police said.

Stacy Dam rehearing granted

AUSTIN — The Texas Water Commission Wednesday granted a rehearing — in order to change language to meet a court decision regarding what constitutes a "final" order - in its decision on Stacy

The three-member commission granted the request for rehearing to amend two sections of its order granting water rights to Colorado River Municipal Water District, in order to make the

The permit required that the district furnish an operating manual on the reservoir for TWC approval, but attorneys contended that under a court decision, that provision meant that the approval of the permit was not "final" - because it was conditional upon some future condition being met.

Therefore, the commission granted the rehearing, and altered the language in the permit.

A formal order is to be issued, probably later today, with the opponents of the project - princiapally the Lower Colorado River Authority and the City of Austin — having another 15 days to request a further rehearing, and CRMWD having 10 days from that 15 days to enter a reply.

Record enrollment indicated by early MC pre-registration

Early indications are good for a record enrollment for Midland College's first summer session.

With four days remaining to complete pre-registration, 532 persons already have signed applications to take classes this summer. The record for the first summer session was 543 students during 1978.

Midland College will be closed Monday in observance of Memorial Day. Pre-registration will continue Tuesday through Thursday from 7 a.m. to noon and from 12: 30 to 5: 30 p.m.

Registration for the first summer session is scheduled on Monday, June 4, from 2 to 4 p.m. and 6 to 9 p.m. in the Physical Education Building.

600 may die in holiday traffic

CHICAGO (AP) - The National Safety Council estimates between 500 and 600 persons may die on the nation's highways over the three-day Memorial Day weekend despite expectations that many motorists will have trouble buying

Over the 1978 holiday period, The Associated Press counted 528 traffic-related deaths.

Jack Recht, statistics manager for the council said Wednesday the number of deaths likely will be affected by the availability of gasoline. The estimate was made about four weeks ago, he said - before the shortage - when gasoline supplies were roughly the same as in 1978.

"We're committed to that estimate at this moment," Recht said. "My own feeling is that it might be somewhat lower than that estimate,' depending on the number of miles Americans drive. "It's too late to revise it."

But he noted traffic deaths were up 13 percent in the first three months of 1979 compared to last year — "a pretty phenomenal increase" — and had influenced the 500 to 600 estimate. The council said 10,360 persons died through March, and a 1972 record of 56,278 deaths would be broken if the higher death rate continues.

In 1978, 51,901 persons were killed in traffic accidents, and a 13 percent increase this entire year would mean a record 58,641 deaths.

Gladys Stanley retired in 1971 as superintendent of juvenile detention for Skagit, Whatcom and San Juan counties, but vowed her activities would not "come to a screeching halt.'

So, about once a week Mrs. Stanley — a 5-foot-7, 140-pound grandmother — dons a lace bonnet and frilly turn-of-the-century costume and joins about two dozen other oldsters as the "Senior Swingers."

They're a vaudeville and variety team that performs in the small towns north of Seattle. They ramble from gig to gig in two small buses.

The troupe features musicians in their 70s and 80s who play banjo, violins, a drum and piano. If they don't strum, plink or bang something, they sing lustily - like Mrs. Stanley, a-lyric soprano.

"The hopping around on stage and singing is an outlet for my energy," she says. Most of the "Senior Swingers" are women. Few men, Mrs. Stanley says, survive long enough to have that kind of fun. 'Men give up, that's why they die off. When they retire, they just sit down in a rocking chair and worry. A woman has her household and family to take care of all her life and she never retires because she still has three meals to cook and beds to make," said Mrs. Stanley. "The men aren't used to running after kids and using their legs.

An exception, she said, is Owen, her 75-year-old husband. A logger and farmer, he got involved in civic projects after retirement and is credited with helping bring two low-rent apartments for the elderly and handicapped into Edmonds.

Chinese to buy U.S. movies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) - A delegation from China is meeting with independent filmmakers this week to discuss buying American movies and television epics like "Roots" for the folks back home.

"They're mainly interested in films of social significance," said James Patrick Devaney, an independent producer who is the liaison between the Chinese and American movie

Devaney said Tuesday the delegation had been screening films and made-for-TV movies.

'What I've been doing is coordinating all the independent products for them to see," he said. "They thought all films came from major studios ... They weren't aware of independent

So far, Devaney said, the group has shown an interest in the television movie "Ishii: Last of the Tribe." about a primitive Indian discovered at the turn of the century.

He said the delegation expressed an interest in "Stass and Nell," a Polishproduced adventure film about two children kidnapped in Africa, and "No Other Love," a TV-movie about two retarded adults who fall in love.

The film version of "Roots," the most-watched program in television history, particularly captivated the Chinese, but Devaney said there may be some trouble in obtaining it because the film had been sold to Warner Bros., a major motion picture

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Iran's revolutionaries see themselves as following in the footsteps of the Prophet Mohammed, the founder of Islam, who overthrew the corrupt city of Mecca in the 7th century and re-established justice, morality and equality. Here is how many Iranians themselves

By THOMAS KENT

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) - The Islamic revolutionaries who overthrew the shah of Iran are showing rising anger over the adverse image of their revolution abroad. They still consider it a boon to humanity despite violence in the provinces and more than 220 executions since February.

Asserting that only the most sensational aspects of the ouster of Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi have been emphasized overseas, they accuse foreigners of massive misconceptions about the revolution's real significance.

While some Iranians share foreign alarm over the number and speed of executions, many other citizens appear genuinely surprised that the killings have drawn such violent foreign criticism.

They see the outcry as an indication either that killings of the shah's political opponents were never adequately publicized in the West, or that Westerners had no interest in them so long as the shah protected Western strategic and oil interests.

Ayatollah Sadeq Khalkhali, chief of Tehran's revolutionary court, last week called the shah "our Hitler." Iranian militants believe Westerners never grasped the depth of opposition to the shah during his reign, so they fail to understand the reasons for retribution now.

'You have to understand that above all this is a religious revolution," says a young activist who spent more than 10 years in exile in the United States before returning to Iran six weeks ago.

"People overseas have underestimated the causes of this revolution - pornography, corruption, prostitution, inequality, gambling, alcohol, even junk music," he asserted. "People here are now concentrating on the true principles of Islam.'

Americans and other foreigners, he claimed, think of the revolution too much in terms of oil and big-power politics, rather than the egalitarian, "Islamic" lifestyle it is supposed to bring about in Iran.

Islamic principles include the operation of revolutionary tribunals, which have drawn the strongest protest in the West, including a recent condemnation by the U.S. Senate which brought a sharp retort from the revolution's leader, Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini. There are no defense lawyers or appeals, two staples f Western justice.

Defenders of the courts claim that Iran's version of Islamic justice is not barbaric, only different. They say two witnesses are required for every assertion by the prosecution and justice is more effective than in the drawn-out Western court process.

"You don't have to hold every trial here for six months," the young activist said. "Who killed John F. Kennedy and Martin Luther King? Nobody is ever going to know that, in your Western system. We are running fair courts."

Even some supporters of the revolution, however, say they are disturbed by the speed of trials - less than an hour for some death sentences - and an apparent fear by some defendants of angering the court by cross-examining witnesses too ruthlessly.

Iran's revolutionaries could see themselves as following in the footsteps of the Prophet Mohammed, founder of Islam. In the first chapter of Islamic history, in the 7th century after Christ, Mohammed rose up against drinking, gambling, sexual promiscupty and a rigid power hierarchy in the Arabian desert city of Mecca, now part of Saudi Arabia and today the center of Islam. Oppressed by the city's powerful elders, Mohammed fled to nearby Medina, forged an empire there and returned to conquer Mecca against overwhelming military odds. Islamic lore holds that he dispensed stern justice against wrongdoers, although he showed mercy to those who directly attacked him.

Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, persecuted by the shah's regime for his outspoken criticism, was expelled from Iran in 1964 but eventually returned to conquer his homeland.

To an Iranian Moslem (follower of Islam), viewing Iran through the prism of religious history, the shah's regime was a decadent Mecca of the 20th

Carter welfare plan gaining support

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Carter administration's latest proposal for welfare reform is picking up important support in Congress, along with complaints it will be more costly than the president

In outlining the new package Wednesday, White House domestic policy adviser Stuart Eizenstat said it will cost about $5.7 billion more than the presentsystem when fully implemented in 1982 and predicted it "has a reasonably good chance of passage."

Some of the basis for optimism takes into account the backing of Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., Ways and Means Committee chairman. He opposed the president's more ambitious welfare overhaul last year. but is cosponsoring the 1979 version.

Rep. James Corman, D-Calif., chairman of the Ways and Means subcommittee that has direct jurisdiction over the plan, also is a sponsor. Sen. Daniel Patrick Moynihan, D-N.Y., who heads the Finance subcommittee on public assistance, is the chief Senate sponsor.

But there is significant skepticism as well. "I just think it's the normal bureaucratic underestimation of what the real cost in the real world will be," said Rep. John Rousselot, R-Calif., ranking Republican on the Ways and Means public assistance and employment subcommittee. Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., ranking Republican on the Finance Committee, voiced similar criticism. The Department of Health, Education and Welfare "has had a history of woefully underestimating the cost of major programs," Dole said.

Administration spokesmen say they expect the measure to pass the full Senate if it can clear the Senate Finance Committee headed by Sen. Russell Long, D-La., a long-time opponent of a national guaranteed income.

Carter's program would replace what he called "a crazy-quilt patchwork system stitched together over decades without direption or design."

The program would increase incomes for nearly 6.5 million people and would add 200,000 people to the welfare rolls, about 70 percent of them children.

The $5.7 billion price tag placed by the administration on the new program compared with $17 billion for the plan rejected by Congress. Specifically, the president wants to create 400,000 public jobs for the poor, raise benefit levels in the 13 - mainly Southern - states where they are the lowest, boost tax rebates for the working poor and simplify paperwork. About $900 million in annual fiscal relief would be provided to the states, including $220 million to California and $145 million to New York, the states with the largest welfare populations.

parts of the West," one Iranian claims. "We had the plastic, the frills, but we never developed the team spirit, the work ethic that Western countries have. All we had were the automobiles and the drip-dry shirts.' The shah's regime also permitted wide social inequalities that revolutionaries believe led to selfishness, corruption and gross disregard for the welfare of the general public.

Significantly, the first large-scale violence by Iranian revolutionaries included burning movie houses - considered purveyors of harmful Western culture - as well as breweries and the Tehran red-light

Revolutionaries claim that when they think of Iran's future, they concentrate far more on building a hard-working, equal society than on executing past opponents - despite all the executions to date.

House to make one more stab at budget bill

Islam guides Iranians

WASHINGTON (AP) - With lawmakers itching to leave for a long Memorial Day holiday weekend, the House is planning one more try at adopting a compromise 1980 target budget. The House overwhelmingly rejected the proposed $532 billion spending package Wednesday. but the Senate then approved a revised version with more money for education.

The House was slated to consider the new Senateversion today before adjourning for the holiday weekend.

Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, Senate Budget Committee chairman said he hoped a $350 million increase in budget authority for education would win over enough liberal votes in the House to assure the target budget's approval.

However, Rep. David Obey, D-Wis., who engineered defeat of the budget proposal Wednesday, promptly criticized the Senate version and said he would vote against it.

"I don't think the purpose of the (House) vote was simply to lever more spending, which is what this (the Senate proposal) is," Obey said. He added that he had hoped to balance increases for social programs with cuts for defense.

THE NEW CAR SALES DEPT. WILL BE OPEN MEMORIAL DAY

When you buy a new car, you're really buying a lot more than just the steel, aluminum, and other materials that go into the construction of an automobile. You're also buying a pledge from the dealer to work for your total satisfaction.

That's why a car dealer's reputation is one of his most important products. But really, his reputation is not just made by his promises. A good reputation comes from hundreds of happy, satisfied customers... people who tell other people about being treated fairly.
