

Shivers Uses Good Roads In Campaign

During the last five years, 75.61 miles of roads have been built in Sherman County. It was Texas greatest period of road construction history, Highway Department files show.

The breakdown by counties as well as state totals prepared by the department showed that $847,523.20 was spent in the county for maintenance of present roads and for the gigantic construction program.

Meanwhile in Austin Governor Shivers cited the impressive figures "as evidence that the state's construction program is giving Texas motorists the best roads that engineering can provide."

The report showed that 14,926.10 miles of roads added to the state highway system over the period covered a cost of $575,158,572.32, more money spent for construction than in any other comparable period.

Figures also showed that Farm-to-Market roads came in for a lion's share of the total. The roads were named a priority because they give farmers needed routes to markets and access to towns surrounding rural areas, a highway official said.

Shivers, who said he was very proud of the excellent way Texas roads have improved in the last half-decade, listed dollars and time saved as two prime benefits to Texas motorists.

"State drivers have been able to save countless hours and money through good roads that provide the ultimate in safety and design," he remarked.

He also pledged that he "would do everything in my power" to continue the present rapid pace of road-building and maintenance.

"A road system worthy of its name must provide its motorists with swift, safe routes," he said.

C-C To Push Numbering Of Houses

Chamber of Commerce members pledged renewed support of the house numbering project in Stratford at the meeting of the organization at 1:00 o'clock Wednesday in Lola's Cafe.

E. L. Cummings has numbers of several homes installed. The figures which are visible at night are just behind the curbs.

Interested citizens as well as Chamber of Commerce members who will donate time to assisting with the work may register with F. L. Yates at the Yates Drug.

The telephone shortage in Stratford was discussed and additional pressure will be used to secure additional facilities.

The district manager of the General Telephone Co. has requested an enlargement of the Stratford system but the general office has not approved the expansion program.

Council Plans To Sponsor Chest X-ray Health Survey

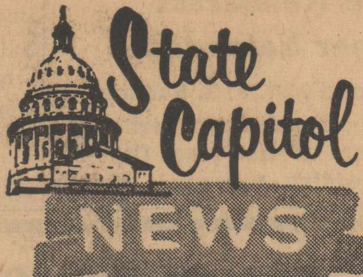

The Sherman County Council met at 2:30 Friday. There were ten members and Miss Lucile King present.

The Council Chairman, Mrs. Harold Bennett, called the meeting to order. The group sang America as an opening song. Business matters were discussed, club reports given, and letters concerning the council were read.

The Council plans to sponsor a chest x-ray and health survey of Sherman County. The date for this will be announced later.

The meeting was adjourned and Mrs. Wakefield, T.H.D.A. chairman, held an election for delegates to be sent to Dallas August 10, 11 and 12, for the state T.H.D.A. meeting.

Delegates to be sent to this meeting with Mrs. Wakefield are Mrs. Pruett Adkins and Mrs. Archie Arnold. Alternate delegates chosen were Mrs. Wayne Cartrite and Mrs. Alfred Pronger, Jr.

Texas' campaign trails are sizzling as figures in the quest for the state's top political job enter the speech-making home stretch.

Governor Allan Shivers' bid for re-election was boosted by the announcement of State Senator A. M. Aikin that he would support the governor.

Aikin, champion of public education and co-author of the Gilmer-Aikin laws, said he has never doubted the sincerity, integrity, or ability of the governor.

In a string of campaign speeches broken by a brief personal visit to the Rio Grande flood area and a request to President Eisenhower to designate five hard-hit counties as disaster areas, Shivers:

1. Charged that opponent Ralph Yarborough does not have the interest of the state's old people at heart. The governor said that his opponent has "never lifted a finger to help increase old-age assistance," but has worked to boost pensions for retired judges.

2. Received support from an Austin union barber who said that charges made against the governor in a Corpus Christi labor convention were "unjust." G. O. Eddleman said that the governor had always been helpful to the laboring people and that the "anti-labor" accusation brought against Shivers was the work of labor's "would-be bosses."

3. Reiterated his stand against changes in segregation laws and hit out at Yarborough for "mud slinging."

4. Cited industrial gains and the fact that more people are working and making more money in Texas than ever before. "Is this what Yarborough wants to change?" Shivers inquired.

Yarborough Busy
Candidate Yarborough continued his campaign, aided by a chartered airplane that shuttled him to more than 30 towns for brief speeches.

He promised to "clean out" the Texas Insurance Commission if elected.

He also demanded an audit of the books of John Van Cronkite, a former Shivers campaign manager whose name came up in the bankruptcy case of Lloyd's of North America.

Yarborough declared against third terms, saying that "when politicians become fixtures their cronies become fixers."

The candidate promised an administration dedicated to quick aid for farmers and ranchers, better roads and highways, better schools, and expanded veteran land, health, and state welfare programs.

Holmes Is Active

Covering the crossroads is J. J. Holmes of Austin. He is making a grassroots search for votes, spending little time in the big cities. It is his first race for Governor.

State Courts

One state court has wound up business for a summer vacation and two more will soon follow suit.

The Court of Criminal Appeals finished its nine-month term and recessed until October 1. Expected to shut up shop were the Supreme Court and the Third Court of Criminal Appeals.

A new associate justice for the Supreme Court is to be appointed by the governor before the court resumes business in the Fall. The new justice will replace the late Judge Graham B. Smedley.

Lyerly Leaves
Hugh Lyerly, executive assistant attorney general, resigned July 1 to enter the private practice of law in Dallas.

He joined the firm of Coke and Coke.

"Mr. Lyerly set an outstanding record as a trial and appellate attorney during his three years of service with our office," said Attorney General John Ben Shepperd in announcing Lyerly's resignation.

THE STRATFORD STAR

Volume 49.

Stratford, Sherman County, Texas, Thursday, July 8, 1954.

No. 40.

In a lovely ceremony Sunday morning at 9:00 Jo Wayne Harding became the bride of Johnny Floyd Summerour, young Dallam County cattleman. The pretty and popular bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Harding of Stratford. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Summerour, Sr. Both his father and his maternal grandfather, A. E. Pronger of Stratford, are among the prominent pioneers in the cattle industry of the High Plains.

The beautiful sanctuary of the First Methodist Church in Stratford was the setting for the double ring service. Rev. M. E. Upchurch, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Stratford, impressively officiated in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends, many from out of town.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Joe Everett and Miss Lynn Reeder.

Baskets of yellow gladioli and yellow tapers in candelabra decorated the altar and yellow satin bows were attached to the pew ends along the entire bridal aisle. Candelighters were George Hayden Harding and Edward Summerour.

Mrs. Martha Harrison played a program of organ music including the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin and Mendelssohn's Wedding March and accompanied Mrs. D. W. Nance, Jr., of Hobart, Oklahoma as she sang "Because" and "All For You."

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, was never lovelier than in her wedding dress of white nylon tulle and summer satin worn over crinoline. It was designed with a molded bodice, V-shaped neckline, cap sleeves and extending around the bouffant skirt was a deep flounce of the tulle. Several narrow ruffles of the tulle were on the upper part of the skirt and bodice.

The imported shoulder-length veil of illusion cascaded from a headdress of pearl flowerets. Bow-knots of white velvet, centered with seed pearls, trimmed the dress and also bordered the veil.

Completing the bride's attire was a cameo brooch and pearls which had belonged to her maternal great-grandmother.

The bridal bouquet, carried on a white Bible, was of stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Robert C. Reed was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. James E. Summerour, Jr., Miss Joyce Haney and Miss Marsha Roach of Alton, Oklahoma. Lorelei Harding and Donna Summerour were junior bridesmaids.

The attendants wore identically styled gowns of pale yellow organdy fashioned with close fitted bodices having rolled collars terminating into bows in the back and full skirts over crinoline.

The honor attendant wore a picture hat of yellow maline and carried a colonial bouquet of Majestic daisies and Donna and Lorelei had nosegays of yellow carnations. The other attendants carried fans of yellow horsehair braid trimmed with daisies.

Joe Everett served as best man. The groomsmen and ushers included James Summerour, Jr., Douglas Carter, Benny Biddy, Bruce Biddy and Lyle Wakefield.

Mrs. Harding, mother of the bride, wore an ivory lace dress with beige maline hat and other accessories in beige.

Mrs. Summerour, mother of the bridegroom, chose a gray linen dress with frosted embroidery on the waist and pockets. Her accessories were in navy and white.

Both mothers wore shoulder bouquets of Amazon lilies.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. Curt Adams and Dick of Hobart, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. Alton Roach, Miss Marsha Roach, and Donald Fornal, Alton, Oklahoma; Mrs. Faye E. Harding, Lone Wolf, Oklahoma; Mrs. D. W. Nance, Jr., and son, Jimmie, Hobart, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. Hal Stone, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bybee, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. Vergil Hawkins, Melrose, New Mexico; Dan Spencer, Dalhart; Faye Dellis and Jan Adams, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Rhea Owens and Ginger, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bagwell, Amarillo; Mrs. Eugene Gibney, Dalhart; Warren and Farrell Meeks, Dalhart; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Nance, Dalhart; Mr. and Mrs. D. Click, Enid, Oklahoma; Mrs. Cecil Johnson and Sydney, Dalhart; Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bridwell, Texhoma; Timmie Lu Williams, Amarillo; and Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Steel, Dalhart.

The bride and groom have gone to New Mexico and Colorado resorts on their wedding trip. The bride's traveling dress was a linen print having an avocado background with which she wore avocado accessories and the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

Upon their return they will live on the Summerour ranch southeast of Dalhart.

July 3 Fireworks Drew Crowd

One of the largest crowds to attend a Fourth of July celebration in Stratford gathered at the baseball diamond Saturday night to enjoy a colorful display of fireworks. John Haney, Chester Guthrie and Claude Fedric kept the show going at a rapid pace until one of the bombs backfired and destroyed one of the mortars used for shooting the rockets and bombs.

During the remainder of the show it was necessary to allow the remaining mortar, for the large bombs, to cool before another could be fired.

Spurlock Family Has Reunion At Sunray

A family reunion of the W. A. Spurlock family was enjoyed by the thirty-six attending on Sunday. The affair was staged on the grounds of the Travis Spurlock home near Sunray.

This, the twelfth such affair, was an outdoor picnic and included all the usual delight of an informal weiner roast.

Those present were Mrs. Annie Spurlock of Sunray, Leon Bowen of Sunray, Neal Spurlock who is stationed at Biggs Air Force Base in El Paso, Texas, Miss Mary Wayne Tinkler of El Paso, Mr. and Mrs. Enis Fedric, Gilbert and Bill Haynes, all of Dalhart, Byron Fedric of Stratford, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Spurlock, W. A. and Dixie Lee of Sunray, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Spurlock and family of Sunray, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Spurlock and family of near Stratford, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Spurlock and family of near Stratford, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Freeman and Dianna of Sunray, Mr. and Mrs. Lacy Fedric and family of near Stratford, and Sid Anther and Max Anthur of Lincoln, Nebraska.

Graduates Met For Reunion Monday

The annual picnic and reunion of Stratford High School graduates, their husbands and wives, was held on July 5th in Ellwood Park in Amarillo. Those who failed to attend missed a lot of visiting and a delicious picnic meal. Those present were: Mrs. Hilma Cleveland and Joe Cleveland, Mrs. E. R. Glass, Mrs. Elsie SoRelle, Miss Minnie Laufa Jackson, Miss Mary Crabtree, Mrs. Newton Crabtree, Mrs. Don Ellison and baby, Mrs. Hugh Stewart, Mrs. J. R. Storey, Mrs. O. H. Finch, J. S. McMillen, Ben Beck, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Higgs and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kessie, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Allen and daughters, and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Steel.

A. E. Pronger Injured In Car Accident

A. E. Pronger, 81, was taken to Coon Memorial Hospital Wednesday morning for treatment of facial injuries. He was accompanied by his wife and son, Alfred.

Mr. Pronger blacked out soon after turning off of Third Street on to Chestnut Street. His car left the street near the middle of the block, and angled across the vacant lots, side-swiping the southwest side of the General Telephone Co. building.

The car stopped in Fourth Street. Mr. Pronger suffered facial bruises and lacerations, and his right knee was also injured in the impact.

According to late reports, he is getting along nicely.

Stone Brothers Here For Reunion

Ural Stone is enjoying a visit from his brothers who are here to attend a family reunion. The visitors include Amos Stone of Hurley, New Mexico, Junior McKee of Whittier California, and Glen McKee of Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

They are also visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Stone and other relatives at Conlen.

Wheat Growers To Vote On Quota Continuation

Friday, July 23, is the date when Sherman County wheat growers will join other wheat growers throughout the nation to determine whether or not the wheat marketing quota program will continue in operation for the 1955 wheat crop. This in effect is the decision which wheat growers will make in the coming wheat referendum, says R. C. Buckles, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Buckles points out in compliance with the law Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has proclaimed marketing quotas for the 1955 wheat crop. The marketing quota program will be in effect if it is approved by at least two-thirds of the wheat growers voting in the July 23 referendum. If the quota program is approved, growers who plant within their 1955 acreage allotment will be eligible to market their 1955 wheat free of a marketing penalty.

Buckles also explains that if the vote in the referendum is favorable wheat growers who exceed their allotment will be subject to a 45 per cent-of-parity penalty on their excess wheat. If the vote is unfavorable there will be no penalty.

To be eligible for price support on any crop produced on the farm in 1955 the producer must comply with all acreage allotments established for his farm for that year. On farms where the crop allotments call for a diverted acreage of more than 10 acres, a total acreage allotment will be established for the farm and, in that case, the farmer must stay within that total as well as individual crop allotments to be eligible for price support.

In making his allotment proclamation, Secretary Benson stated that: "The long range interest of agriculture and the national economy will best be served when we can have less, and not more, government regulation and control." He added, however, that under present conditions "we have no immediate choice. With approximately a two-years supply of wheat expected to be on hand when this year's crop is harvested, there is no question at all about the requirement for marketing quotas and the establishment of a national wheat acreage allotment at the level prescribed by law."

Referring to the "cross-compliance" requirement, making it necessary for the farmer to stay within all acreage allotments established for his farm to be eligible for price support, the Secretary said: "Neither is there any question about the need to require cross-compliance with established acreage allotments. It does not make sense to encourage the building of new problems through the unwise shifting of acres from one surplus crop to another."

Chairman R. C. Buckles advises that conveniently located referendum polling places will be announced in advance of the referendum.

In the referendum conducted a year ago, for the crop now being harvested, the vote was 390,221 to 57,536. By special act of Congress the acreage allotment for the 1954 crop was set at 62 million acres. The allotment for the 1955 crop is 55 million the minimum acreage permitted under the law.

To Publish Candidates Edition

A sample ballot which will be almost a duplicate of the official ballot to be used in the July 24 primary election will appear in next week's issue of the Star. Candidates who wish to take advantage of this issue of the paper to present a message to the voters should file their copy not later than Tuesday noon.

Absentee voting in Sherman County started Tuesday morning.

DALE CARNEGIE

★ AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING" ★

IN THE spring of 1944 Gerald G. Price, 323 South 12th Street, Van Buren, Arkansas, was attending Air Force College Training at Cedar City, Utah. His objective was to earn his wings and become a pilot. He had been in training about three months. One morning, a morning he says he shall never forget, he was called out of his classes and given a telegram from the Commanding General of the Air Force. The essence of the message was this, "You men who came from the ground forces will be returned to the branch of service from which you came. The ground force needs you. The air force has all the men we feel we will need to finish the war." That message included him. He had previously spent nine months in the infantry.

He faced one of the greatest disappointments of his life. He didn't want to give up his flying career. He didn't want to go back into the infantry. For three days he brooded deeply. He didn't eat well; he didn't sleep well. On the fourth day he got a letter from a close friend and former school mate who was in England after having been seriously wounded in conflict. As he read his letter he remembered a small clipping that someone had pasted on the side of a bandsaw in the furniture factory where he had once worked. It read: "I was without shoes, and I complained—until I met a man without feet."

This was the first time he had thought of that verse since he had read it many months before. Now, when he thinks he is in trouble, when it seems that he is struggling along without shoes, he stops and looks around. And he finds he need not look far before he finds someone who is struggling along without feet.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"Sure it's mostly spaghetti—The worm hasta' eat, don't he?"

From the Bassett and Henry County Journal, Bassett, Virginia: Nobody likes a chronic griper, and he who enjoys misery is left to himself to enjoy it. There is danger in our going too far in the selfish indulgence of berating ourselves. If we drench those about us with self-abasement, or harp on adverse conditions which cannot be changed, our complaints will be brushed away with annoyance and disgust. If we would bring out our troubles but not make a parade of them and remember that "people are funnier than anybody," our troubles would be controlled.

Actually the ability to laugh at one's self and to find the lighter side of a situation has become an American trademark. Such situations as pulling the hat down on the wrong fellow's head would be disaster in some countries. Here you can almost bet that the victim got a big laugh too.

Where else can people laugh at and with each other over common misfortunes or mistakes? Thousands of things happen each day that bring laughter and countless retellings. Old Timers hold regular audiences of younger men with their past experiences; the younger folks listen, learn and laugh. The ability to do just that is what makes us human beings. After all, the world is made up of people—and people are funny.

From the Suburban List, Essex Junction, Vermont: A man in West Virginia, who is 84 years old, and very active, was asked how he keeps going at his age. Here is his answer:

"My formula is to keep busy so that the years go by unnoticed; to despise nothing except selfishness, meanness and corruption; fear nothing except cowardice, disloyalty and indifference; covet nothing that is my neighbor's except his kindness of heart and his gentleness of spirit. Think many, many times of my friends and, if possible, seldom of my enemies."

That is a whole sermon of an hour's length condensed into a few words. The tragedy of it is that not a great many people carry it out.

Some may qualify except that they are selfish. Others might get a good mark, but they are more or less mean. Not so many are disloyal and cowardly but indifference is quite common. And how many people there are who are jealous of their neighbor's success. The easiest thing in the world is to extend sympathy to someone who has misfortune. It is not quite so easy to congratulate one who has made success.

Local Showers Fell Monday

Local showers fell over widely scattered sections of the county Monday evening. North and east of Stratford rains were gauged at one-half an inch. Row crops in some sections were given temporarily relief from dry weather. Farmers in the more favored southeast part of the county fear they may have to plant over for the third time.

New Mexico Couple Injured In Road Crash

Mr. and Mrs. Luther R. Wartena of Elephant Butte, New Mexico are recovering in Coon Memorial Hospital in Dalhart from injuries received in a highway accident Friday.

The Wartenas were making their annual trip to Gary, Indiana.

The accident occurred on U. S. Highway 54 about a mile west of Stratford. The car, pulling a 25-foot house trailer, apparently went out of control as the driver crossed the bridge. The car veered to the north side of the road, sheered off posts along the edge of the highway and struck a telephone pole, and left the trailer resting against the pole at the foot of the highway embankment.

Mr. Wartena suffered chest injuries. Mrs. Wartena suffered severe back and chest injuries.

my PET PEEVE by Mike Bennett

NOTHING under the sun peeves me more than meeting someone who calls me by name when I am unable to return the favor and am forced to half-heartedly attempt polite conversation while trying to call up a name to match the face. A crucial time is when I am walking down the street with a visiting relative or friend. We meet someone who calls me by name and asks about my family. I ask about his and we carry on this type of conversation while visiting friend or relative stands by twiddling his thumbs and wondering why I don't have the courtesy to at least introduce him so he can get into the act. After all, he has a family of his own to talk about. You can apologize all you want to later on, but the visitor thinks you're just trying to cover up some bad manners, or something.

Take what happened to a friend who was eating out with his wife in one of the better restaurants. In walked a girl from the home town. There was a difference of several years in their ages and the last time he saw her she had been cutting out paper dolls. Now she was a freshman in college. They looked at each other and here is a summary of the conversation, somewhat cut down to eliminate the old-faithful questions about "how's the family?" It went like this:

"Hi!"
"Hi!"
(long pause)
"I knew I knew you, uh, uh. I mean I knew you, I mean . . ."
"Yeah, I know I knew you, but I didn't know whether you knew me or not."
"Well, bye."
"Well, bye."
"All right, now, who was she?"

The importance of the office of County Commissioner cannot be overstressed. This office is in proportion to County Government as our Congress is to our Federal Government. Your County Commissioners are Your County Legislators.

This Office Demands—

- A person who has studied and understands the problems of political science;
- A person who is ever present in his County to fulfill the needs of its citizens either as individuals or as a unit;
- A person who has a sufficient knowledge of finances to ward off any unjust appropriations or haphazard disbursements.

As to efficiency I have carried out my present occupation of farming to a degree as to maintain a decent living for my family. However, if the wheat crop should fail again next year, then "no comment."

As to my honesty, ask the merchants in Stratford with whom I have transacted business. I will abide by their judgment.

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER

Jesus, Our Example and Lord. Lesson for July 4; Luke 2: 40-52. Golden Text: Luke 22: 52.

The reader may be reminded in the lesson text of a famous picture of Jesus among the doctors of the law. But we think first of what preceded the appearance of the boy in the temple. The boy had turned away from the sights of a big city and the great throngs to go into the temple. As for his compelling motive, he said he had to be about his Father's business.

Jesus was the product of a godly home. Not in abject poverty but not in wealth Jesus grew to manhood in Nazareth, in a home that was an average one for the region. It was the pious attitude of the home that made it distinctive. It was the custom in that home for the inmates to go up every year to the feast of the Passover. This shows the disposition of the home toward religion.

It was in his twelfth year that Jesus went into the temple on the occasion of the Passover and was found there in the midst of the doctors of the law. There is also an indication of the life Jesus had led as a youth in a statement concerning him when he went early in his ministry to Nazareth. As his "custom was," it is said, he went into the synagogue on the Sabbath. Jesus grew up in the church.

It is significant that Jesus grew up "subject" to Mary and Joseph. He was not allowed to do just as he pleased, but was directed. He did not want to do otherwise than he was told. Jesus is our example of right youthful growth and as the product of a godly home.

It is estimated that Canada's output of nickel in 1953 reached 285,000,000 pounds, or about 85 per cent of the free world's total production.

Uncle Sam is the nation's biggest landlord, owning 500 million acres or nearly one-fourth of the total area of the continental United States.

Such has been the development of our modern power resources and mechanical conveniences that the average American family today has the equivalent of 49 servants in the house—put to work instantly by the push of a button or the flick of a switch.

NEW SILVER DOLLAR

By F. L. Rowley

"WHAT'S the matter, sonny?" asked the big man with the silk hat and the huge watch-chain. "I—I lost my dollar," replied the boy sadly. Without looking up he continued to kick the sawdust near the edge of the carnival grounds.

The big man smiled. With a grunt he sank to his knees to take part in the search. At length he came up with a dollar bill.

"Here you are!" he chirped. "Why, it isn't even bent."

The small boy gave the bill one long, covetous look. Then he turned two wide blue eyes on the big man.

"Thank you sir, but I can't take that; I lost a new silver dollar."

The man in the silk hat turned red. He got to his feet slowly. Then with a roar that made the boy cringe he blurted:

"Now I've seen everything!" The boy turned to flee.

"What's your name, sonny?" a soft voice asked.

The little fellow looked around. Had that question come from the big man? No one else was nearby.

"I'm Jimmy Edwards, sir," he said.

"Well Jimmy," said the big man in the same soft voice, "I'd like to give you tickets for some of the rides; I own this carnival, you see. Will you accept them?"

"A ticket for the bicycle too?" asked Jimmy eagerly.

"Why—yes. Yes, of course," said the man following Jimmy's gaze until he too was looking at the beautiful red machine that was to be raffled off.

Jimmy thanked the man for the small cards. Tucking the bicycle ticket carefully into a corner of one pocket he made for the nearest of the rides. The big man with the silk hat and the gold watch-chain smiled as he watched the boy.

The show had a short run in Hillcrest. On the all-important last day when the bicycle was to be raffled off Jimmy had to go to Shelbyville with his mother. It was late in the evening when they returned.

"Mother, may I go see who won the bike?" he asked.

"Of course, dear, but don't stay too long. You haven't eaten yet."

Jimmy raced breathlessly down the dark street. As he approached the carnival grounds his heart sank. Men were busy dismantling the booths. Jimmy's eyes swung to the platform on which the red bicycle had stood. It was empty!

"Well, if it isn't my little friend!" boomed a familiar voice.

Jimmy turned to face the big man. The tears in his eyes and the stub in his hand told their own story.

"Looks like you lost," sympathized the big man. "Don't ever pin all your hopes on luck, my boy. Most of us have to work hard for what we get."

"Yes sir," muttered Jimmy.

"But I tell you what we'll do. I have another bicycle here—it's quite new, and terribly stiff. I wonder if you could break it in for us? We might want to raffle it off next time we come to Hillcrest."

"Yes—yes sir," said Jimmy hesitantly. "When are you coming back?"

"Oh, in about five years," replied the big man with a twinkle in his eye. Then, turning to a man in overalls, he said: "Max, get that new bike off the truck."

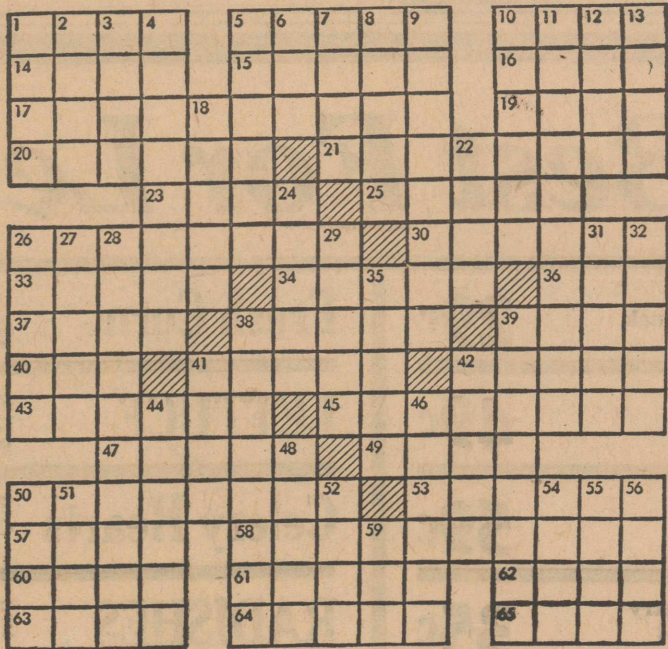

Jimmy touched the bike gingerly as it was rolled up to him. He assured the big man that he'd ride it every day to break it in. With shining eyes he said good-bye to the group that had gathered around the bicycle—then he was off.

"Boss, you're getting soft!" cried Max disgustedly.

"Some kid!" said the big man, smiling. "Yes sir, he's a winner!"

Then he quickly tore up the ticket and proceeded to direct the dismantling of the nearest booth. And you would have noticed, had you been close enough to look, that a new charm dangled from the big man's watch-chain—a charm in the shape of a shiny, new silver dollar.

Answer to Puzzle No. 297

SCANNING THE NEWS

CONGRESSIONAL study of atomic policy triggered off a chain reaction of lobbying which many legislators regard as one of the most interesting pressure "explosions" in years. The blow-up involves the peacetime use of atomic energy. More specifically, it concerns provisions regarding patenting of peacetime atomic projects, as contained in the legislation whittled into final shape by the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy.

The bill, as it went before the Committee for final mark-up, would restore to ordinary patent operation all peacetime atomic development, allowing inventors to receive exclusive rights of 17 years' duration. Military weapons would be excluded.

A growing coalition of electric companies and their allies termed the bill a step that would "free atomic energy" and "strengthen free enterprise." The opposing bloc, apparently smaller, says that it would lead to an atomic energy monopoly dominated by big corporations now working on industrial atomic projects.

One of the channels used by the electric utilities in their drive for business development of the atom is the Public Information Program, designed to "tell the story of investor-owned utilities in simple terms so the people can decide the issues in the fight against socialization."

More than 75 electric utilities are members, and PIP is directed by top private power officials. Its work is carried on through the facilities of Bozell and Jacobs, public relations firm with headquarters in Omaha, Nebraska.

Prune Plants

Before July 15

You still have time to safely prune shrubs if you do it before July 15. After that date pruning may cause woody plants to form tender growth which may not harden enough to endure cold weather.

Shade trees which have been neglected should be cut by mid-summer. All dead and diseased limbs should be removed. Limbs which rub each other should be cut off. Shrubs with long awkward growth can be cut back to more pleasing shapes. Tender buds can be pinched to make a more compact form.

Immediately after pruning, plants should be fertilized lightly and watered deeply. Watering plants every week or ten days will speed up new growth and promote production of flowers and fruit for next year.

HOW TO GET RID OF MILDEW

The old gray nightmare mildew won't leave your shoes what they used to be if you aren't awake to the danger. Mildew grows into leather and leaves permanent stains or other damage.

To remove mildew from leather goods, wipe with a cloth wrung out of a mixture of denatured alcohol and water, half and half. Undiluted alcohol might affect the color of the leather. After wiping off the mildew, dry the leather in a brisk current of air, such as an electric fan provides. Miss Lucile King, County Home Demonstration Agent, says another treatment is to wash leather in thick suds of mild, neutral soap or saddle soap. Then wipe with a damp cloth and dry promptly.

Keeping leather goods well polished with a good wax dressing wards off mildew. Luggage should be kept high and dry on a shelf instead of near the floor of the clothes closet. Leather handbags and gloves may be safer in summer if kept on open racks rather than in closed, unventilated dresser drawers.
