

Homecoming Is Tomorrow Nite

The First Annual Homecoming will be held during the Groom-Stratford football game tomorrow night at 7:30.

The Elks will name a homecoming queen and four attendants. The queen will be crowned in the center of a large heart formed by the High School band at half-time.

The Junior High and Preswee bands will participate at the half-time, also. All the bands are under direction of George Dick.

The game will be preceded by a flag raising ceremony and invocation. Following the game, a dance, with the Amarillo Swingsters playing, will be held at the American Legion hall. It will be financed by the City of Stratford, as agreed prior to Halloween.

All students from the seventh grade through college age are invited to the dance, a spokesman said. The Groom football players, band and pep squad are being invited, too.

Elks Drop Gruver Game

The Stratford Elks dropped a crucial contest in District 1-B last Friday night to Gruver 20-13.

The Elks lost the toss and Gruver elected to receive. After a short kickoff, Stratford held the Greyhounds and forced them to punt. The Elks fumbled on their own nine-yard line and Gruver recovered.

Stratford stiffened and took the ball on downs. The Elks kicked outminute to go. The Greyhounds controlled the ball for the remainder of the game.

The Elks drove to the Gruver 17 after the kickoff, but lost the ball on downs at the end of the first quarter.

Gruver moved 80 yards for a touchdown on a number of ground plays. The extra point try was no good.

To open the second half, Stratford received the kickoff and drove 80 yards for a touchdown without losing possession of the ball. Russell Albert scored. He made a 27-yard run during the drive, which was the longest run made by either team. The extra point try was bad.

The remainder of the third stanza was a see-saw battle in which punts and intercepted passes were traded by the two teams.

Early in the fourth quarter, the Elks held the Greyhounds on fourth down and a foot to go on the Gruver 42-yard line. Stratford scored on a pass from Emery Hamilton to Jimmy Phelps. The play covered 25 yards.

A pass from Hamilton to Phelps was successful for the conversion. The score was tied, 13-13, with six minutes to go.

Stratford kicked off and Gruver drove to the Stratford 17, where Mitts passed to Dahl for a TD. A minute and 50 seconds remained on the clock. A 15-yard unnecessary roughness penalty on Stratford aided in the final Gruver touchdown drive.

Mitts made the conversion. Gruver kicked off and intercepted a Stratford pass with about a Stratford pass with about a ball on downs. The Elks kicked outminute to go. The Greyhounds con-

All-Around Rodeo Lead Re-Taken By South Dakotan

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Casey Tibbs, hard riding and consistent rodeo champion from Ft. Pierre, S. D., won more than $3,000 in two weeks to recapture the lead in the race for the world's all-around cowboy championship in the closing weeks of the 1955 rodeo season according to the latest championship standings announced today by the Rodeo Cowboys' Association, Inc.

Tibbs, with seven world's championships to his credit, moved 1,872 points ahead of Jim Shoulders, Henryetta, Okla., who has held the top spot in the all-around standings since he took the lead from Tibbs last June.

Still harrassed by a knee injury he received in September, Shoulders won a total of only $332 since the standings were last posted two weeks ago.

Not included in today's posting were the results of two recent big purse rodeos. Complete results from the Madison Square Garden Rodeo in New York and the International Dairy Show Rodeo in Chicago were received too late to be included in the official posting.

These rodeos will have little effect on most championship races, however, since few of the top national contenders placed high in the money.

In the protracted duel between Tibbs and Deb Copenhaver, Post Falls, Ida., for the saddle bronc riding championship the Dakota bronc twister won $800 more than Copenhaver to trim the latter's lead in the event to 170 points. Tibbs' gain promised to be short-lived, however, since Copenhaver is the only cowboy high in the standings who won heavily at New York. At Chicago, both bronc riders won the same amount, $312.

Another suspenseful battle that seems to be retaining its cliff-hanging qualities up to the last rodeo of the season is the brotherly rivalry between Benny and Willard Combs, Checotah, Okla. In the last fortnight, Willard the elder won $1,200 to reduce Benny's lead from more than 1,400 points two weeks ago to less than 600 points. Still to be counted, however, is the $700 won by Benny at Chicago where Willard didn't place in the money.

In bareback riding Eddy Akridge after a three-month neck and neck contest with Jack Buschbom, Cassville, Wisc., seemed to be safely on his way toward his third consecutive bareback title.

Only 284 points ahead of Buschbom a month ago, Akridge, who hails from Hesperia, Calif., widened his margin Oct. 15 to 513 and pulled nearly 1,500 points ahead in today's standings. Neither won at New York or Chicago.

For the second time in a month, Dean Oliver, Boise, Ida., was the only one of the three top calf ropers who added to his winnings. Collecting nearly $1,000 in prize money, Oliver lengthened his lead over Lanham Riley, Ft. Worth, Tex.

★ FROM THE SOULING SPORTS LIBRARY

to a safe 7,117 points, a margin which this late in the season, all but assures him of his first championship.

Also safely on ice is Shoulders' comfortable lead in bull riding. Winning only $200 in the event he still is more than 7,000 points ahead of the nearest contender, Harry Tompkins, Dublin, Tex.

Under the Point Award System of the Rodeo Cowboys Association, Inc., each cowboy gets a point for every dollar won at an R.C.A. approved rodeo through the season.

Legion Ladies Install Officers

The American Legion Auxiliary held an installation of officers last week. Mrs. Lavern Tekell, 18th district president, was the installing officer.

Installed were Mrs. Fred Senna, president, who was represented by Mrs. Dee Brannan; Mrs. Geneva Moon, vice-president; Mrs. Marcela Moon, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Lela Moon, chaplain; and Mrs. W. W. Gay, sergeant-at-arms.

Mrs. Tekell was assisted by Mrs. Moose of Borger. The 18th district commander, in a speech, said, "It is a duty and privilege to be an auxiliary member. As each and every auxiliary member knows, you can not work your way in, you cannot buy your way in, your membership is yours because someone gave or offered their service, and some their life blood, for their country."

The Stratford auxiliary voted to place a Bible in each of the grade school rooms, through the sixth grade.

Refreshments of ice cream, coffee and cake were served at the close of the meeting.

Guests were Mrs. Lou Roberts of Amarillo and Mrs. Margaret Storen of Kansas City, Mo.

Mrs. Leian moon, retiring president, closed out the preceding year before the new officers were installed.

R. C. Buckles Attend Meet In Phoenix

R. C. Buckles of Stratford, president of the XIT Rural Telephone

Co-op and vice-president of the Rita Blanca Rural Electric Co-op, and Mrs. Buckles attended a Region 10 meeting of directors and managers of REA co-ops in Phoenix, Ariz. last Thursday and Friday.

The meeting is held annually for Co-op directors and managers in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona. Workshop sessions are held throughout the two-day period. Atomic energy was discussed as well as other phases of cooperative operations.

Ex-Servicemen To Be Feted At Christian Church

Former servicemen will be recognized at the Sunday services of the First Christian church in Stratford. Cryder Braysshaw, minister, announces.

Sunday activities include Bible school, 9:45 a.m.; lesson, "Jesus Meets Human Needs;" morning worship, 10:45; sermon, "Growing in Grace and Knowledge." Mr. Braysshaw will sing "Bless This House," the birthday of the church will be observed and the Lord's Supper will be celebrated; the Official Board, 2:30; evening worship, 7 p.m., sermon, "The Temple of God," the second key to closer living with God will be discussed; a reception for new members who have not received their baptismal certificates and membership cards will be held immediately following the evening service.

25 Rotary Cutter

Unlimited Versatility—Greater Profits—

The 25 rotary cutter will cut, shred and spread corn and sorghum stalks, crop residues, weeds and brush, maintain pastures and roadways. It will aid in the control of crop pests, reduce pasture and roadway maintenance costs, improve soil humus, and increase land production — for greater profits.

IMPORTANT IH ENGINEERED ADVANTAGES:

- Shredding Attachment
- Available in Fast-Hitch and Trailing Models for Tractors of Two - plow Size or larger.
- Free-swinging, reversible knives for long life.
- High, tapered front end opening for positive cutting and shredding of tall material.
- Positive PTO drive through enclosed bevel gears.
- Reinforced all-steel housing for dependability.

- Safety shields for operator protection.
- Built-in protection devices prevent machine damage.
- 57-inch cutting and shredding swath for up to 30 acres a day coverage depending on field conditions and material being cut.

HIGH, TAPERED FRONT END OPENING FOR CLEANER CUTTING — FINER SHREDDING — One feature not found in any cutter is the unique design of the housing. It is high in front to allow the knives to cut the material before it is knocked down. Then the housing tapers down to compress the material to assure maximum shredding action. A reinforced recess in the center of the tapered opening permits free movement of the PTO drive shaft in the field.

IT'S UP TO YOU

By Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

THE DANGEROUS SPIRAL
 After a strike of two months, New York truck drivers hauling sand and cement, have secured a two-year agreement providing a pay rise of 35¢ an hour "and other benefits". The latter include a 5 per cent payroll contribution by employers to union welfare and pension funds, eleven paid holidays and longer vacations. These men will now be receiving approximately $3.00 per hour. This is said to be the last union in the construction trades industry of New York to receive a substantial wage increase this year. The total package adds nearly 20 per cent to the income of these workers.

 In the same column of the same paper is the story of a comparable increase for truck drivers in Boston. The pattern is general throughout the country.
 If wages are to rise 10 per cent per year, how much will prices advance? Perhaps not quite so fast for the employment of increasing amounts of capital in most industries is resulting in greater efficiency.
 Nevertheless, union members and their leaders and all the rest of us should think seriously about the consequences of the rising wage price spiral. If it cannot be stopped, the purchasing power of the dollar will be destroyed.
 As more efficient means of production and distribution are developed, free competition should be allowed to bring about reductions in prices, unhampered by spectacular wage increases that prevent them. This will spread the benefits to the public and enable the whole population to share in better living.

 If the stronger pressure groups keep demanding continual wage increases, they will bring bitter suffering upon the less well-organized groups who are unable to so protect themselves.
 Already, building costs are so high, due to a variety of causes including high taxes, high wages, and featherbedding in the building trades, that the larger part of our population is unable to house itself and is now receiving subsidies of various kinds including rent fixing, and municipal state and federal contributions toward housing projects.

 Is it beyond the imagination and good will of the workers of our country and their leaders to recognize this dangerous situation and to stop the wage-price spiral?
 That is the sure way to greater prosperity for all, the preservation of the value of the dollar, freedom and stability in government with greater satisfaction of human wants.

 The first thing lots of folks do when they've returned from vacation is to wonder how the heck they spent so much.

Stratfordite Salutes Youth

This is one town that looked the same the morning after Halloween, Mrs. Mary Albert reports.

"Not one thing torn up. I have lived here almost 30 years and this is the first time I have seen this. I think this proves, if you will help the youth instead of just degrading them, they will be glad to cooperate, too," Mrs. Albert commented.

Seventy-one Stratford and Spurlock young people collected $342 for CROP, Christian Rural Overseas Program, and Care.

The drive was under direction of Rev. Charles Gates, Methodist pastor; Cryder Brayshaw, Christian church minister; and Rev. M. E. Upchurch, Baptist preacher. Assisting them were Mrs. Ben Biddy, Mrs. Tommy Taylor and Mrs. Corum Dortch, Pat Taylor, Carolyn Folsom, Butch Keener and Owen Hudson.

"Hats off to Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Standlin for the free movies and to the sponsors of the dance Saturday night, the City of Stratford. Isn't this much better than Halloween's before?" the reporter concluded.

American Legion State Leader Speaks Here

C. L. Downey, Pleasanton, Tex., commander of the Texas Department of the American Legion, spoke in Stratford Wednesday night. Fred Sena, Stratford commander, reports.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Probably future historians writing about this era in U. S. life will devote some length to what may be called the Hoover story.

He will probably be epitomized as first victim of the massive smear campaign that has now become so much a part of American political life. By time Great Depression struck, both press and airways had been developed to point where a mass smear was possible.

This was a fact well recognized by professional political propagandists of that time, with result price of eggs, lack of jobs, and everything connected with depression were presented as deliberate machinations of then president, Herbert Hoover, for some ulterior motives never explained.

A degree of reason has since prevailed, but there still exists among politicians to take a stand on any measure endorsed by the ex-president. True, he is applauded on public appearances, but few Congressmen get up and say flatly "I have thoroughly read the reports of the Hoover Commission and am in full accord with his findings." The smear lingers on.

For example, the recently adjourned Congress still continued to vote billions for new foreign aid, despite fact that special task force of Hoover Commission found in well documented investigation money is thrown away.

Report found since end of World War II until mid-1954, U. S. taxpayers had been wrung out of $46,874,000,000 to give away to foreign nations.

And report found many evidences of colossal waste.

For example, it found U. S. taxes to tune of $2,800,000 were spent to increase production of an Italian coal mine in Sardinia.

This grant was made in 1950 to increase production from a million tons to 3 million tons by October, 1953. Yet by target date increase only amounted to a scant 32,701 tons. In addition, it was found large part of equipment sent over was unusable in the mines and has been warehoused for years.

Also, mine is located in communist stronghold so in event of trouble, sabotage could be expected.

Also 854 page survey takes issue with Washington stand way to defeat communism is to improve living standards.

Report states "Communism, for example, is strongest in the high wage industrial centers of Italy." Report also states U. S. is paying for so many widely scattered projects throughout the world that "no one knows" number now in progress.

Thus future historians may well point to this as an era when billions were continually thrown down drain despite lack of knowledge where billions had gone, plus positive proof that many billions that could be accounted for were foolishly spent.

At same time, they will point out that because these matters were brought to light under the name of a great American who was the first to be victimized by modern political weapon of the Big Smear, that not even his own party members dared 25 years later to stand on his recommendations. Historians may well say that this marked end of the Age of Reason in America and start of the Age of the Big Smear.

Stratfordite In Hiway Mishap

P. J. (Bud) Pronger, Jr. of Stratford was slightly injured in an automobile accident near Texhoma last Saturday.

He was driving a car which was in collision with a car driven by Warren McCarney of Texhoma.

Passengers in the Pronger car were Milton England, dean of agriculture at Panhandle A&M college, Goodwell, and Bob Sheets, Guymon, county agent.

The impact threw England out of the car and he suffered a severe scalp laceration, a brain concussion and chest injuries. Pronger was treated for lacerations at Guymon hospital and was released.

Dean England was hospitalized.

It is not known whether he has been released or not.

Sheets and McCarney were not injured.

Congressman Views U.S. In Europe

By WALTER ROGERS
18th District Congressman

A sizeable group of Europeans look upon Americans in much the same respect as many Easterners look upon Texans. They think that all have a lot of money just because they come from the other side. Another group, well in evidence, takes the view that Americans have no goal in life, other than to get as many dollars together as possible. This group feels this applies to all Americans and that, therefore, the United States does not know how to enjoy life just for the sake of living. There is, of course, the very substantial group who feels most friendly toward Americans and so obviously shows it. Some look with great suspicion on any foreigner from across the sea, but by and large, this is a marked minority.

The Scandinavian countries all enjoy a very high standard of living, with Sweden holding top rank. There are more automobiles and other luxury items that are not so much in evidence in the other countries. The rural areas appear in excellent shape. Mostly small farms. Many women are seen working in the fields. One Swedish woman says this explains why the farms are so well kept and in such excellent condition. Both animals and machinery are used. The Swedes love their animals and take good care of them.

Only the other day, while en route to a conference at the Swedish Shale Oil Company Plant, I saw an old woman driving a large horse to a small wheeled wagon. Traffic had gotten congested and someone behind the old woman blew a horn. This frightened the horse and made him skittish. A bus driver pulled his large bus to a stop, blocking traffic in all directions, got off the bus, went up to the horse and placed his hand on his bridle, patting the horse with the other hand. This reassured and quieted the horse and created a most grateful look on the face of the old woman. The driver said something to the hornblower in Swedish. I couldn't understand it, but I venture to say that the hornblower thinks twice before he scares another horse.

DECEMBER SAFETY—This drawing won first prize as the December safety poster in the American Automobile Association's nationwide contest for 1955-56 school safety posters. It was drawn by Neal Siegel of the Dobbins Vocational Technical School in Philadelphia, Pa. Siegel was also the grand prize winner.

I mentioned that we were en route to the Shale Oil Company Plant for a conference. Sweden has no production of oil or gas other than that produced from shale or rock. This process was in an experimental stage when Germany invaded and occupied Norway and cut off Sweden from any possible oil imports. The Swedish government immediately ordered the building of the actual plant, although the research was far from finished. The plant was built and sufficient oil was produced from this rock shale formation to answer emergency needs during the war. The end of the war brought expansion of this plant and the production of many by-products.

The operation has been subsidized, but the management tells me that present figures indicate its subsidy-free operation within the near future. It might be pointed out that the oil content of this shale is only 6 per cent. The United States has a pilot plant in Colorado engaged in the same type of operation, but the oil content of our shale is many times that of the Swedish shale. The entire operation here has been the source of much helpful information in the development of the process and more is being contributed each day. Its development under the circumstances left little doubt as to the resourcefulness of the Swede and his self-sufficiency in a tight. They are a proud people, and rightfully so.

Finland is the most surprising of all the Scandinavian countries. An industrial exhibit, equal to anything any of us have ever seen, was in progress, and we were escorted through and had many surprises on the way. These people manufacture everything from telephones to textiles. They are great boat builders, especially ice-breakers. They have about everything you can imagine except television.

Nixon Critical Of Soviet Plan

NEW ORLEANS—UP—Vice President Richard M. Nixon, aiming a barb at Soviet Russia, said Tuesday "a powerful nation has no inherent right to be surrounded by satellites."

He contrasted Russia's dominance of the small countries of eastern Europe with the United States' "good neighbor policy toward the countries of Latin America."

The U.S. policy, Nixon asserted in a speech prepared for delivery before the 11th annual meeting of the Inter-American Press Association, has set an example for the world in a big power's relations with smaller countries in its area.

Pays Tribute to Hull
He paid high tribute to the late Cordell Hull, President Roosevelt's secretary of state, for his work in putting inter-American relations on a solid basis of friendship.

Nixon said that Hull, a "great American," was remembered "for so many great works that we sometimes forget his splendid contribution to the development of the good neighbor policy."

He also praised President Carlos Castillo-Armas of Guatemala who is now paying a three-day state visit to Washington.

Castillo-Armas, Nixon said, "led the world's first successful movement to free a government which had fallen captive to the international Communist conspiracy." He called Castillo-Armas "a courageous fighter against Communist subversion in our hemisphere."

Lists Measures
Nixon assured the delegates that the United States government is "adopting measures which will encourage investors from this country to increase" their investments in Latin American countries.

A Salute To 4-H...

A dramatic highlight of the National 4-H Club Congress unfolds as delegates parade before a huge audience at the International Live Stock Show in Chicago.

Four huge H's are formed by the 1,200 delegates to the National 4-H Club Congress during the 4-H Parade.

The 4-H spotlight will again be on Chicago when the top 1,200 boys and girls from all 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico join with guests from foreign countries for the 34th National 4-H Club Congress, Nov. 27 - Dec. 1.

The Congress program consists of discussions by the delegates, tours of the City, banquets and top-flight entertainment features, and is highlighted with talks by outstanding speakers. The 4-H'ers also take part in press conferences and radio and TV appearances. Most of one day is spent visiting the International Live Stock Exposition where during the evening program the 4-H'ers present their annual parade.

Congress delegates are selected from the Nation's 2,150,000 4-H'ers through county, state and national competition. In Chicago, 180 will be named national winners in 29 award programs and will receive $49,050 in college scholarships.

The Congress is made possible by civic-minded individuals, foundations and industries who in 1955 contributed over $750,000 through the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work to support 4-H.

This year, 110,000 4-H members will be honored through National 4-H Award Programs. The awards consist of trips, medals, watches, U. S. Savings Bonds and other merit awards. In addition, funds are provided for leader training with the grants made through the National Committee. The Committee is a citizens' group which has been helping the Cooperative Extension Service further the influence and membership of 4-H for 34 years.

Among the corporations and foundations providing 4-H support are the Nitrogen Div. of Allied Chemical & Dye Corp., Allis-Chalmers, American Forest Products Industries, Carnation Co., Chicago Board of Trade, Coats & Clark Inc., Conrad Hilton Hotel, Cudahy Packing Co., Elgin Watch Co., Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., Ford Motor Co., Larro Sure Feed Div. of General Mills, General Motors, Hercules Powder, International Harvester, Kellogg Co., Kelvinox, Kerr Glass, Massey-Harris-Ferguson, Inc., Montgomery Ward, Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., Sears-Roebuck Foundation, Simplicity Pattern, Singer Sewing Machine Co., Standard Brands Incorporated, Sunbeam Corp., United States Rubber, Westinghouse Educational Foundation, and the Wm. Wrigley Jr. Co. and Gene Autry.

Nine oil companies collaborate in the program, including American Oil, General Petroleum, Pan-Am Southern, Pure Oil, Standard Oil Foundation, Inc. (Chicago), Standard Oil Co. (Kentucky), Standard Oil Co. (Ohio), Stanolind Foundation Inc., Tulsa, Okla., and Utah Oil Refining Company.

Railroads cooperating are Burlington, Illinois Central, North Western, Milwaukee and Santa Fe.

Individuals who offer awards include Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen, Thomas E. Wilson and Edward Foss Wilson.

After his implied attack on Russia's predatory policy of surrounding itself by satellite nations, Nixon spelled out the policies which he said this country follows in its relations with Latin America:

"Each state, no matter how small, is entitled to recognition of its independence and equality under international law."

"The smallest state should have the same confidence as the largest that its sovereignty and territorial integrity will be respected."

"Stronger states should contribute to the development and welfare of less developed states. "We reject the Communist philosophy that stronger states should take from weaker states lying within the orbit of their power."

First Bulbs to Plant— Those That Flower Early

Snowdrops Flower When the Last Snow Melts.

The first bulbs to set out in the fall are those that blossom earliest in the spring. They must do most of their growing before the ground freezes in order to blossom so soon after it thaws out.

There are no garden flowers which will grow and blossom while the soil is frozen. But the snowdrop comes close to doing this. It sometimes blossoms in midwinter, during an unseasonable thaw.

Like the hardy crocuses, scillas and tulips, snowdrops come not from the arctic but from a semi-tropical area, Asia Minor. Their wild species grow in high mountain valleys where there is plenty of snow and freezing weather in winter, but hot sunshine in summer.

Their flowers are small, white, bell shaped and later in the season would attract little attention. But as the first sign of spring they give the spirits a lift, at a time when they have no competition.

If you have trouble keeping snowdrop bulbs through more than one winter try planting them in a moist, shady location, three to four inches deep. Set the small bulbs fairly close together and if possible select a place which can be seen from a window. It may be too cold to say long outdoors when they bloom.

After the snowdrops come the scillas. They like a sunny place and multiply from dropped seed. They are much earlier than the violets and a truer blue. Chionodoxas, called "glory of the snow," have blue flowers with white centers. They blossom with the scillas and also spread from seed.

Crocuses follow next, with larger flowers in white, blue, yellow, and striped varieties. These should not be planted on a lawn. None of the fall bulbs should be planted where their foliage cannot be left uncut until it turns yellow. If cut, a new bulb cannot develop for the next year's flowering.

Of bulbs that produce large flowers the first to blossom are the daffodils. The earliest tulips to flower are the species varieties, wild forms native in the Near East. The variety Red Emperor, a bright red, is probably the largest of all tulips, as well as the earliest to flower, blossoming at the same time as the daffodils. Other species tulips, not quite so early, are Kaufmannia, which has creamy white petals edged with carmine, and clusiana, or the "candy stick" tulip, with red outer and white inner petals, which give a striped appearance.

All early flowering bulbs should be planted as soon as practical without disturbing plants still in flower.

Hyacinths are early flowering, blooming at the same time as the daffodils. They bring to the spring garden the first pink flowers, and also contribute several tones of blue which stand out in contrast to the prevailing yellow of the daffodils. For garden effect, what are known as bedding size hyacinths are satisfactory. They are good subjects for planting boxes.

Bulbs should never be planted in porch and window boxes which are exposed to cold air all around them during the winter. The boxes should be sunk in the ground and covered with a heavy mulch to protect them from the most severe temperatures. Another method is to plant the bulbs in pots, which are sunk in the ground in the winter, and removed to the boxes in the spring, when top growth begins.

In addition to the safety-padded instrument panel, available since 1953, and safety power steering and power brakes, first offered in 1952, Oldsmobile has other less apparent safety features.

Among them are inter-lock safety door locks, introduced in 1955 to reduce the possibility of doors unlatching under impact, and the new safety-aimed sealed beam headlights.

These more powerful headlamps extend about 80 feet further down the road on low beam, which is so aimed that it concentrates light on the right shoulder of the road.

Optional accessories offered are the new automatic six-way front seat and the dual exhaust system. In addition in the '56 Holiday coupe and Starfire models, the front seat automatically slides back for easier front seat entry when the door is opened and automatically slides forward for easier rear seat entry when the front seat is tilted forward.

Safety power steering, standard on the '56 and optional at extra cost on other series, has been improved through a smoother cut-in of the steering assist when pressure is applied to the wheel and a flexible coupling that minimizes road vibration.

The "Rocket" engine has undergone several revisions to improve power and performance. Breathing properties of the engine have been improved through the use of a higher lift camshaft, larger valves and revised ports in the cylinder head, a quadri-jet carburetor incorporating an air valve and larger venturis, and a new intake manifold with a T-branch contour.

The following bodies will be available in the new car:

One-Fifty series, two- and four-door sedans, utility sedan and two-door, six passenger station wagon.

Two-ten series, two and four-door sedans, Delray coupe, sport coupe and sedan, two- and four-door six passenger station wagon and four-door, nine-passenger station wagon.

14 available at the start of 1955 production.

The new valve-in-head six-cylinder engine is equipped with a high lift camshaft, hydraulic valve lifters and extra alloy exhaust valves which are added to minimize the build-up of deposits. Gasoline mileage has been improved.

The 1956 Chevrolet may be powered by a variety of V8s. One develops 162 horsepower and is installed in cars with the standard shift. The second is designed for Powerglide and produces 170 horsepower. The Super Turbo-Fire with four-barrel carburetor furnishes 205 horsepower.

Fitted with a new head, the compression ratio on the Super is at an all-time Chevrolet high of 9.25 to 1.

V8 refinements include a new high lift camshaft which results in more power for the regular Turbo-Fire Powerglide engine and the Super. Hydraulic valve lifters are standard on all eight.

A full-flow oil filter is an optional item.

With a sport sedan to join the sport coupe and six station wagons, Chevrolet will be in a position to take full advantage of the so-called "suburban market," Davis related. Like the coupe, the sedan in the Bel Air series will receive luxury treatment.

LOOKING AHEAD

By Dr. George S. Benson
DIRECTOR — NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAM
Geary, Arkansas

McGUFFEY'S GREAT LESSONS RETURN
The famous McGuffey Readers are coming back. They are the textbooks, first published more than a century ago, that were widely credited with building the sound intellectual foundations and the strong moral fiber of several succeeding generations of Americans. Modern McGuffey Readers, embracing the great moral teachings of the original textbooks, are now being published and offered to schools throughout the nation. This is another encouraging sign, among many, that the education profession today is awakening to the challenges of a world in crisis.

The future strength of America, even with the great political and economic system that has been established, must depend upon the moral and intellectual assets that are being educated of our youth today. Any people without these assets would be weak and would permit the gradual decay of the principles on which the American way of life is founded. In a sense, the American way is a system of governmental and economic virtues which stem from the best characteristics of a God-fearing mankind.

Readers Widely Accepted
Commenting on the McGuffey Readers, which gradually were supplanted in the early 1900's, my encyclopedia says: "It is probably true that no other American school books have had a greater influence on American life, for they were not only a source of reading material but a widely accepted instrument of ethical education." The wonderful stories in the McGuffey Readers, from Grade 1 on up, taught reading in a fascinating way and at the same time etched in the mind of the child a character-building moral lesson.

The story of George Washington and the cherry tree — giving great stature to the virtue of honesty — became an American classic through the McGuffey Readers. Other stories from a long list of authors and from many lands found their first (and lasting) fame in the McGuffey series. The textbooks were called "eclectic" readers to emphasize that their content represented the best lessons drawn from many cultures.

McGuffey's Life
William Holmes McGuffey was born on a Pennsylvania farm, and soon thereafter his family moved into Ohio. The boy had no formal schooling but his desire for an education was overpowering; he often walked 20 miles to borrow books to read, some of them the early classics. Finally he managed to attend school, and when 23 years old he began teaching. Later he graduated from Washington College, taught at Miami (Ohio) University, became president of Cincinnati College and later of Ohio University.

Professor McGuffey, however, enjoyed teaching and writing and he withdrew from administrative pursuits and joined the faculty of the University of Virginia as professor of natural history and moral philosophy. He held this position until his death in 1873, at age 73. His first readers were published in 1836 and continued to be republished throughout his lifetime. In recent years, the University of Virginia has conducted a "McGuffey Reading Clinic" on the Charlottesville campus.

Authorship Listed
The authors of the new McGuffey Readers are: Ullin W. Leavell, professor of Education and Director of the McGuffey Reading Clinic, University of Virginia; Mary Louise Friebele, author of children's books; and Tracie Cushman, former classroom teacher, Grand Rapids public schools. The American Book Company, New York, San Francisco, etc., is the publisher. The books are called, "The Golden Rule Series — The Modern McGuffey Readers."

Sponsors of the series are Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Palmer, of Texarkana, Ark.-Tex., ardent McGuffey disciples. Mr. Palmer is the widely known publisher of a number of metropolitan daily newspapers; and he has other business interests. He is known for his philanthropies and for his special interest in education. The Palmer Foundation was established "to foster and promote through the public schools and otherwise those basic principles of morality which are common to all civilized races and religions, best exemplified in the Golden Rule; and to promote American patriotism."

Next week: The Teachings of the Modern McGuffey Readers.

National vice-president representing Texas is N. Helgren of El Paso.

The convention heard a treasurer's report which reviewed collections of $22,000. The group has $3,200 on hand and a report by N. D. Wood, public relations consultant.

SWINE SHOW ERROR HOG-TIES JUDGES—Faces of the judges and fair officials at the Putnam County Fair at Ottawa, Ohio, were somewhat red when this picture of them was snapped. It happened at the swine show. The call went out for produce of dam in the Spotted Poland China class. Several exhibitors entered the ring with their animals. As judging was about to begin, Willis Bradford, of Wapakoneta, walked in with an armful of 11-day-old piglets, set them down and waited for the judges to declare him the winner. Spectators laughed and the judges looked concerned. When they questioned Bradford's right to bring in the little pigs, he told them to look in the rule book. They looked at the rule for produce of dam and found someone had erroneously added a date providing that animals entered in that class must have been farrowed "on or after Aug. 1, 1955." So technically, Bradford's piglets were the only ones eligible for the class. Amid laughter, Bradford removed his animals and judging proceeded on "intent," not the "letter" of the law.

Show them the Way... this week

A child's trust is a precious thing. Instinctively your little ones rely upon your example... so the pattern you set becomes their pattern, too.

By taking them to worship with you every week they will come to know God... to be at ease with Him... to feel the strength and warmth of His love. And you will be building the foundation for a richer and happier life for your whole family.

Give them a Faith to live by... Worship with them this week

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Dear Editor:
 The unknown in algebra is designated by the letter X. But the unknown power in Stratford may easily be designated by her youth.

The youth of Stratford have shown to the community and to the state exactly what they can do. They have done a job here in Stratford this Halloween that marks a victory for the town and certainly they deserve our praise.

In place of destruction we had a constructive program. Oh, how much better for all. I drove through main street at 6 a.m. Tuesday and not a thing in the street, everything was in order, which speaks very well for our youth.

Seventy-one youth met at the Legion hall Monday night and were organized for the town canvass by Rev. Chas. Gates, Rev. M. E. Upchurch and myself. The ladies prepared refreshments for them following the canvass. The youth collected $342 from the generous people of Stratford.

The youth enjoyed their refreshments after the canvass and then entered into a fine party which had been prepared by the leaders of the youth. Words will not express our appreciation for this fine spirit and cooperation given by the Stratford youth.

Cryder Braysahw.

Deer And Turkey Hunting Date In Panhandle Nov. 19

The deer and turkey hunting season for 28 Texas Panhandle counties opens Nov. 19 — the Texas Game Commission Game Law DDigest to the contrary notwithstanding.

District Game Warden Jess Felts said he Digest, through error, shows the season as opening Nov. 12.

The season in all 28 counties runs from Nov. 19 through Nov. 28, with exception of Hutchinson county where it runs about a month, Felts said.
