Ladies Bolster County Fair

The superintendents of the women's divisions of the Sherman County Fair to be held September 7-8 announced today that all plans have been completed for this year's fair and are hoping that each Sherman County resident will participate in making this fair a success.

Mrs. Meritt Sweny, announced that there have been many changes in the baked goods department. In the cake division there will be classes open for the different variations in the butter, sponge and chiffon type cakes. Entries can also be made in the pastry, cookie, yeast bread (both sweet and plain), loaf bread and candy classes. For more definite information read your fair catalog which will be available September 1.

In the canned goods department the superintendent, Mrs. B. E. Dovel, said that the entries must be in standard jars and must be canned within the last twelve months and at least two weeks before the fair. There will be classes available for fruit, vegetables, pickles, relishes, jams, jellies and other entries this year.

Mrs. Cone Donelson, chairman of the china painting and ceramics division, is urging all women who have articles in this class to please exhibit them. There is a place to exhibit your hobbies and old pictures according to Mrs. Tom Wakefield, who is superintendent of this department. Anything that would be of interest to the people of Sherman County is welcomed.

Do you paint? Mrs. Martha Harrison, chairman of the painting department, is interested in exhibiting your pictures.

There is a place for your handwork in the Sherman County fair. The classes have been changed a bit this year. There will be entries in embroidery work, hand cut work, knitting, crocheting, quilting, and rug working. Only one article per class can be entered for competition by each person according to Mrs. Roscoe Dyess, the chairman.

Mrs. Sam Lasley, chairman of the flower department, announced that the flowers are to be in place no later than 9:00 a. m. Friday. They will be on display Friday and Saturday. Judging in the flower department will be Friday at 10:00 a. m. Cash prizes are offered to adults and youth. This department is expanding as the fair is growing bigger and better every year. We encourage wider participation of youth and adults in this county. There will be some one at the fair barn Friday morning by 8:00 a. m. to accept and care for the exhibits and also they will be watered and cared for Saturday morning. Plants entered for awards must have been in the possession of the exhibitor at least 60 days previous to the fair. The exhibitor can not enter more than one plant or flower for any one award and must furnish all vases necessary for displaying their exhibits. Plants must have been owned by the exhibitor at least three months previous to the fair and must be exhibited in undecorated containers.

The potted plants have been divided into two classes, foliage and blooming. The arrangement division is divided into the following: miniature (not over four inches tall), desk (masculine), basket, coffee table, dining table, arrangements to include fruits, vegetables or foliage, mantel arrangements, and monochromatic arrangements (all visible parts of one color hue).

The clothing department has always been of great interest at the fair. Mrs. Horace Sneed, this year's chairman, urges both adults and youth to enter garments in this department. She is trying to make provisions for protecting the better garments from dust so plan to bring them in. All garments that have been made within the last year can be entered even though they have been washed, ironed, or dry cleaned. However, if a garment has placed in previous shows within the last year it cannot compete for a prize but can be exhibited.

This can be the best fair in the history of Sherman County if everyone will participate. This is your fair.

Miss McDougal Becomes Bride Of J. Quisenberry

Nuptial vows were exchanged Saturday evening by Tommie McDougal, daughter of Tom McDougal of Channing, Texas and Mrs. Harold Felger of Las Vegas, Nevada, and James Quisenberry, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Quisenberry of Phillips, Texas. Rev. Charles R. Gates, pastor, read the impressive double ring ceremony in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church.

Altar decorations featured an arrangement of white gladioli and greenery, lighted by white tapers in candelabra. Candlelighters were Greg Jackson, Phillips, and Beverly Srygley, Borger.

As a nuptial prelude, Miss Darla Jean Galloway, organist played "Liebestraum," by Liszt, and "The Swan" by Saint-Saens, and Handel's "Largo." Traditional wedding marches were used for the professional and recessional. Miss Galloway also played "Meditation" as background music during the ceremony and accompanied Mrs. Cherry Koffman of Perryton, who sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's attendants wore blue dresses and silver slippers in keeping with the bride's chosen colors, blue and silver.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Merle Dean Parker of Hartley, wore a ballerina length dress of steel-blue crystalene with a matching bandeau. She carried a bouquet of blue carnations.

Bridesmaids were Ellen Quisenberry of Phillips and Dorothy Veigel, of Hereford, Texas. They wore ballerina length dresses of baby blue crystalene, with matching bandeaux and carried bouquets of blue carnations showered with silver.

Best man was Tony Vaughn of Phillips. Groomsman were Jim Oswald, Plainview, Texas, and Rex Easterwood, Dimmitt, Texas. Ushers were Garland Roberson, Hereford, and Bill Smith of Amarillo.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a floor-length white gown of lace over satin, designed with a fitted bodice, long sleeves which tapered to petal points over the hands, a mandarin collar, and a full skirt with a nylon tulle flounce at the hemline, and featuring a back panel of alternating tiers of ruffled lace and nylon tulle. Her finger-tip veil of nylon illusion with a wide lace edge sprinkled with rhinestones, was attached to a white lace bandeau covered with iridescent sequins and seed pearls and outlined with seed pearls. For the traditional something old she wore her grandmother's lapel watch, something new, pearl earrings edged with rhinestones. She carried something borrowed, which was a white Billopp topped with white chrysanthemums and lilies-of-the-valley, and wore a blue garter for something blue.

Mrs. Felger, mother of the bride wore a navy blue linen suit with pink accessories and a white gardenia corsage. The groom's mother, Mrs. Quisenberry, wore a navy blue dress with matching accessories and a white gardenia corsage.

Mrs. Quisenberry graduated from Hartley High School and attended Texas Lutheran College in Seguin, Texas and West Texas State College in Canyon. She taught in the Stratford school last year.

Mr. Quisenberry graduated from Phillips High school, attended Frank Phillips Junior College, Borger, and graduated this summer from West Texas State College. He served two years in the army in the medical corps as a dental technician.

Mr. and Mrs. Quisenberry will both teach in the Stratford school this year.

After a short wedding trip they are at home in the Phelps apartments on South Main Street.

Thirty boys reported to Coaches Haskell Bilibrey and Pete Bateman Monday morning for football practice. Equipment was issued and work began immediately for the 10 game schedule. To most of the boys the first week will be a week of aches, pains, grunts and groans. After being issued issued their gear the boys elected Richard (Punkin) McMinn captain of the team for the ensuing year. Coaches Bilibrey and Bateman were well pleased with the weight and growth of the boys since school dismissed last spring. Twelve lettermen of last year's squad, of which seven are seniors, reported for duty.

Those reporting are Carroll Wisdom, Wayne Cummings, Butch Kirkwood, Mike Neal, Johnny Seaman, James Spurlock, Larry Herald, Cagle Kendrick, Lance Harrington, Paul Aduddell, Jimmie Huggins, Russell Albert, Richard McMinn, Kenneth Knight, Hoy Harrison, Henry Harrison, Melvin Mitts, Jimmy Skillin, Gary Steinberger, Bobbie Burkham, Robert Ragsdale, Joe Dale Reesing, Gerald Preston, Sonny Judd, Bill Dyess, Ted Oakley, Penny Brooks, Raymond Self, Bill Minkley, Butch Cates and Marvin Cotton. Paul Aduddell, Butch Kirkwood, and Melvin Mitts are the only returning veterans to the line while Albert and McMinn are the veterans of the backfield.

The vacancy created by the loss of Willie Price to the squad this year leaves the right half back position wide open. Cagle Kendrick, a sophomore, the hard luck boy of the squad last year, looks as the number one quarterback for the Elks. Bob Donelson, the extra point kicker of the squad last year will be missing from the squad this year due to an illness that will not permit him to participate in sports for a time at least. His educated toes will be sorely missed by both players and coaches. Johnny Seaman, senior, who did not play last year, will strengthen the Elks backfield, and with Carroll Wisdom and Mike Neal, two boys that are versatile enough to play either in the line or backfield, should give Coach Bilibrey insurance of reserve strength in both departments.

The loss by graduation last spring of Bruce Biddy, Perry Coffman, Ralph Hampton, Ray Fisk, and Jimmie Phelps, all of whom were Elks linemen and gave the Elks line an average of 185 pounds last year, will also be missed and has forced the Elks to stress speed more than ever, and this is just what the coaches have adopted as their slogan, speed, speed and more speed.

Word has reached the Elks that the boys from the banks of the Canadian river, Boy's Ranch, with whom they play the first game of the season, have been in practice for some time and are out to avenge the defeat they suffered at the hands of the Elks in their last meeting in the fall of 1954. At the same time both the coaches and the Elks are determined to keep their record clean as not having ever lost to a Boy's Ranch eleven. The starting eleven for the Elks will not be chosen for another two weeks and could be delayed until the evening of their first game September 14, when all of the patrons and boosters should be out to give the boys a big welcome in their opening game.

FARM INCOME INCREASE NECESSARY

(By Walter Rogers)
The Secretary of Agriculture is now advertising that he is moving into the second phase of his soil bank program. Many are wondering what happened to the first phase. It reminds you of the story of the fellow who reported that he was now working on getting together his second million dollars. It seems he gave up on the first.

The second phase of the soil bank program, referred to by Mr. Benson, is that portion of the program providing for the laying out of land on a long term contract basis. The return from this land is relatively small, and there are requirements that it be planted in grass or trees. Very few farmers will be able to lay very much land on a long term basis, unless they have an outside income. Strange as it may seem to some of the present day bureaucrats, very few farmers have an outside income. They must depend upon their land for a living. As the matter presently stands, they are barely able to eke out food and clothing in many instances on the acreage they now have available. If they cease to farm a portion of this, it simply means that their income will be proportionately reduced.

Royal Pendleton, Manager      Stratford, Texas

It is argued, by the present bureaucrats, that the trouble lies in "surpluses", and that the only way to reduce the surpluses is for the farmers to stop growing some of the products. A more fantastic argument could hardly be imagined. In the first place, the surpluses have no effect whatever on the price that must be paid by the farmer for the processed or manufactured products. It is true that the surpluses have been used as a sorry excuse for filching the farmer. He has been led to believe that this terrible economic "satan," to wit, surpluses, must be done away with; that as soon as this is done, he, the farmer, can live in a land of milk and honey, and butter his bread on both sides. In other words, these heavy thinkers have figured out that, if they do away with the surpluses and reduce production, there will be a scarcity of food and the price of farm products will increase. This may be true, but the stupidity of this approach lies in the fact that it will not solve the problem, but serve only to increase it. The present difficulty of the farmer has been caused by a measurable reduction in his income. On his present income he cannot buy the manufactured and processed articles that he and his family need to live and carry on farm operations. Therefore, the farmer must have an increase in his present income without an increase in the cost of those things that he must purchase to stay in business.

Under the Benson Plan, there are two glaring defects that seem to have been overlooked by the brainy boys. In the first place, if a farmer has 100 acres of land under production, puts 25 acres in the soil bank, and is paid such amount of money as would equal the profit he would make off these 25 acres if he had planted them, his income will not be increased one cent. Therefore, he is in no better position, from an income standpoint, before or after the soil bank. The only benefit he receives from the soil bank is that it amounts to a sort of crop insurance on the land placed in the soil bank. He is assured of being paid on that acreage, even though he has a subsequent crop failure during the year.

In the second place, the increasing of the cost of farm products, by the creation of a scarcity in those particular commodities, will not serve to benefit the farmer, but will tend to harm him. Under such a plan, the increase in price going to the farmers will be reflected in the price tied to the end manufactured or processed product, and instead of solving the farm problem, there will be an additional problem of inflation.

The income of the American farmer has been allowed to get out of balance in our economic structure. This imbalance is transmitted to and sorely affects small businesses all over the nation, especially in the rural areas and the areas depending upon agriculture for subsistence. Many of the economic ills of this country, in several segments of the economy, could be quickly solved by facing up to and doing something about the present farm tragedy.

Penalize Poor Quality Wheat

The U. S. Department of Agriculture on August 14 named 23 wheat varieties which are undesirable because of inferior milling or baking qualities and which will be discounted 20 cents per bushel in price-support rates on the 1957 wheat crop. Discounts to discourage plantings of undesirable wheat varieties were included in the price-support program for the first time on the 1956 wheat crop. The 23 varieties of wheat named as undesirable for the 1957 wheat support program follow by class:

- Hard Red Winter
Stafford, Pawnee Sel. 33, Red Chief, Chiefkan, Early Black-hull, Red Jacket, Kanking, New Chief, Blue Jacket, Furkof, Cimarron, and Red Hull.
- Soft Red Winter
Kawale.
- Hard Red Spring
Henry (except in Wisconsin and Washington), Spinkoeta, Premier, Sturgeon, Progress.
- Durum
Pentad, Golden Ball, Peliss.
- White
Rex, Sonora.

These varieties were designated by the Agricultural Research Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture after consultation with State Agricultural Experiment Station personnel, agronomists, cereal chemists, and others on State and Federal staffs.

Experience during the past year has indicated that the undesirable varieties should be designated nationally instead of by States as for the 1956 support operation. The only exception is Henry which is named as undesirable in all but the States of Wisconsin and Washington. The list of undesirable varieties for the 1957 operation is virtually the same as for the 1956 crop except for the addition of Cimarron and Red Hull varieties and the deletion of Kanqueen, Yogo, and Galgalos varieties.

While it is too soon to establish the degree of effectiveness of the discount in discouraging planting of undesirable varieties of wheat for the 1956 harvest, every indication points to a decrease in the acreage planted to these varieties for harvest this year.

While the designated varieties have been planted in the past to meet specific production problems such as drought or rust resistance, early maturity, adaptability for modern harvesting methods, and others, they prove undesirable for commercial food use. The discount was adopted in the support operation to discourage their production and lessen the possibility of U. S. wheat of inferior quality finding its way into domestic and export channels. Representatives of crop improvement associations have strongly urged the action to help improve the quality of overall U. S. wheat production.

The application of the discount of 20 cents per bushel to producer support rates will be the same as under the 1956 operation. The price-support regulations for the 1957 program will provide for producer certification regarding undesirable varieties similar to the certifications made by producers that they produced the wheat and produced it in the current crop year. Because these varieties are difficult to determine from threshed samples of wheat, the identification of the variety going under price support will be the producer's responsibility based on his knowledge of the varieties he seeded and harvested. Even though some of the undesirable varieties might have protein content high enough for a premium, no protein premiums will apply to any of the undesirable varieties in determining the loan rate. Similarly, no amber or hard amber durum premiums will apply.

Although a cougar can easily pull down a grown horse, no other animal of comparable size is so easily killed — a well-placed 22 bullet will do it with no danger to you.

Allocates Funds For Drouth Hay And Roughage

Secretary of agriculture Ezra Taft Benson on August 14 allocated $1,000,000 to implement a hay and roughage program for eligible livestock producers in drouth disaster designated areas of Texas.

The Federal-State cooperative program was proposed by Gov. Allan Shivers August 10 in Austin. Under terms of the program, eligible farmers and ranchers in "major disaster" designated counties — Sherman is one of the 160 such counties in Texas — will receive certificates having a value of $7.50 per ton of hay or roughage purchased. This subsidy will be provided by Federal funds under terms of an agreement between Secretary Benson and Governor Shivers. The State will pay certain administrative costs and will develop an arrangement under which banks of the State are expected to aid in handling the certificates so that they may be used as cash in making purchases.

The program is believed to be more practical than hay programs in effect at intervals during the past three years. Under former programs, Federal funds were used to pay one-half the transportation cost for moving hay into the drouth area, up to $10 per ton. Under the new cooperative plan, farmers in designated drouth emergency areas will apply to their county Farmers Home Administration committee, and, if found eligible, will receive the purchase certificates. The certificates may then be used as part payment for roughage or hay which the farmer or rancher has been authorized to purchase.

Secretary Benson explained that the hay and roughage program is not limited to Texas, and that he will consider requests for similar aid from Governors of other drouth-designated States.
