FFA Boys Buy 39 Commercial Feeder Heifers

(By Duard Lamb)

Under the watchful eyes of two highly experienced cattlemen, Frank Judd and Peach Smith, nine F.F.A. boys purchased thirty-nine angus feeder heifers in Amarillo Monday. The heifers have been distributed to the nine boys, and are now being placed on "full feed." This, the F.F.A. Department hopes, is the beginning of a commercial feeding program that will rate second to none. Arthur Judd, Jodie Reesing and Walter Lasley, the three adult advisors on the commercial feeding program, have already discussed a marketing program that will be a great incentive for the boys.

Sonny Judd, Joedale Reesing, Richard McMinn, Neil Harris, Hal Bennett, Elliott Crabtree, Robert Ritchey, Charles Clements and Stephen Cleavinger were accompanied to Amarillo by Jodie Reesing, Roy Harris, Arthur Judd and Duard Lamb. Pup Wells showed his interest in the program by furnishing a truck that was used to transport the cattle to Stratford.

The heifers, averaging six hundred and three pounds, will be placed on a ration consisting of grain sorghum, alfalfa pellets, cotton seed meal, and either ensilage or ground bundles. The boys plan to feed up to a maximum of 120 days, or until the heifers reach a desired grade. At this time, tentative plans have been made for the boys to accompany the cattle to a terminal market such as Oklahoma City. Commission Companies at any of the terminal markets will upon request, arrange an educational tour of the market. This will enable the boys to observe the selling of their steers, the butchering and processing of cattle, and finally, they will get to observe the handling of beef in the wholesale market.

The purchasing of these heifers was an education within itself for the boys. They all realized the importance of uniformity in a group of feeder cattle, and this was the thing that caught their eye as they toured the yards of the Amarillo Livestock Auction early Monday morning, and came upon this pen of thirty-nine angus heifers. The education came in trying to buy these cattle before they came through the sale ring. After many offers, and counter offers, the trade was finally made, and in a short time the boys were on their way back to Stratford with a load of high quality, uniform angus heifers. The boys were all happy over the fact that the purchase price of the heifers was well below the original price asked by the owner of the cattle.

We take our hats off to Frank Judd, who paid for the cattle in Amarillo. Without men like him, we could not have such a program as this. Tuesday morning, the cattle were "shaped up" into groups of twos and threes and the pens were numbered. Each boy drew a number from a hat to decide which boy got each pen of cattle. The cattle were weighed back over the scales at the Santa Fe Stock pens, and from this weight, the total shrink was figured. The total shrink was distributed equally between the thirty-nine head. The Santa Fe scale weight, plus the average shrink, was the pay weight for each individual boy. These nine boys

Fathers Of The Players Will Be Honor Guests

Stratford Elks will meet Vega at 7:30 p. m. Friday in the last scheduled home football game of the season. The game has been designated as "Dad's Game," as a tribute to the fathers of the boys on the Stratford Elk squad. Fathers of the team members will be seated on the field. A placard on the back of each father will bear the identical number as that appearing on the jersey of his son.

The entire half-time program of the Stratford Elk band will be built around the dad's day honors, at which time fathers of each of the players will be introduced.

The game with Vega Friday night will be the last opportunity for fans to see the Elks playing on the home field during a conference game scheduled for the regular season.

The Elks have a fine record for the season, having defeated six teams, and losing only their first game to Boys Ranch.

To win the District 1-B Conference title, the Elks must defeat Vega Friday night, and then face the two strongest teams in the district, Follett and Groom, on their home fields.

Russell Albert, right half back, sustained a leg injury in the game with Darrouzett Friday night, which may keep him out of the game for the remainder of the season. The team will miss him in their coming games. Carroll Wisdom and Jimmy Huggins are being groomed to challenge opponents of the team in his place.

Kenneth Kendrick will tell of his experiences as a judge for the National Grange in awarding prizes for community service projects at the ladies night meeting of the Stratford Lions Club at 7:00 p. m. Monday in the Palace Cafe.

Harry Ingham Injured In Car Accident

Harry Ingham, Jr., is in a Clayton, New Mexico hospital receiving treatment for fractured ribs, a serious back injury, and numerous lacerations and bruises as a result of a car accident Saturday night. A left front tire blew out causing Ingham to lose control of his car. The car left the highway near the place where Mr. and Mrs. Wright Davis and daughter and Mrs. A. E. Lowe were injured several months ago between Grenville and Clayton, New Mexico. The Ingham car went over the embankment, turned over three times, plunged through a wire fence, and came to rest on all four wheels some distance from the highway.

Two student nurses of the Clayton hospital in the company of gentlemen friends were driving on the highway only a short distance from the Ingham car. They noticed the sudden disappearance of the car lights and decided to investigate. The accident occurred at 8:00 p. m. and the wrecked car was not visible but they could hear the horn blowing. They found Ingham slumped unconscious over the steering wheel. Two of the party remained with the injured man and two summoned an ambulance.

Harry Ingham, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Ingham, and Mr. and Mrs. Andy James of Boise City, have been with Harry Jr., most of the time. Mr. Ingham said Tuesday that it was quite possible that his son would have to remain in a body cast for a period of six months.

Does The Conduct Of Fans Reflect The Community?

(By R. W. Standefer, Jr.)

Does the conduct of our fans attending games reflect the community? This question has been asked many times; some defend it; others do not. In most cases, conduct of the fans is above reproach. The majority behave themselves at home or away from home; however, the conduct of a few is questionable both at home and away from home.

The majority of our fans follow the team because they have a real interest in the team. There are some whose children are on the team; others, relatives or friends; others because they are truly sport enthusiasts. A small majority who resort to intoxication by alcohol follow the team. They are not appreciated by the school, the team, or the real true fan. They sometimes become so intoxicated that they do not realize what they are doing. There are some who appear intoxicated, who seem not to know what they are doing; but when the game is over, they go directly to their car. The majority of fans certainly do not appreciate this type of person. It would be better for them to remain at home. So, that opposing fans would not get the wrong impression.

These few do not realize how they jeopardize the school and the team. Officials can penalize the team for having intoxicated fans on the field. This is unfair to the team, the school, the coach, and the community. These drunks have to be conducted off the field. They can be placed in jail for safekeeping for the good of the community. Opposing schools get the impression that this is typical behavior of Stratford fans, and they criticize the school and community for allowing it to happen.

The University Interscholastic League, of which our school is a member in good standing, charges our school with the responsibility of carrying out the rules and regulations of that body. Every fan should know these rules and regulations, and they should try their best to carry them out for the interest of the community.

Ralph Yarborough Spoke Here Saturday

Ralph Yarborough, a prospective candidate for the office of U. S. Senator from Texas, spoke at a breakfast attended by 43 local citizens in the Palace Cafe Saturday morning. Yarborough made no reference to the possibility of his own campaign but traced the history of the Republican and Democratic parties since their origin. He attacked Republican policies which have enabled some classes to prosper at the expense of others. Yarborough referred to the Great Plains as a country of inspiration and credited many of the accomplishments of the people of this region to the kind of country in which they lived.

We Pay For Driver Education, Whether We Have It Or Not

A study made this year at the Bradford Senior High School in Bradford, Pennsylvania, revealed that the community paid $67.73 per student for the privilege of not training high school drivers, reports the Bulletin of the National Association of Secondary-School Principals.

The school, with an enrollment of 992 students, found that 389 already had licenses. Eighty-nine students had been involved in accidents costing $19,628, an average of $212 per accident. Only 2 of the 89 drivers involved in accidents were driver-education graduates, despite the fact that the trained drivers represented 25 percent of the total number of drivers with licenses.

The trained drivers' proportionate share of this huge bill was $424. The untrained drivers cost the community $19,204. Since there was a total of 285 of them in school, the total per-pupil cost of not training them amounted to $67.73. The community could have trained every driver for less than half the price it paid in insurance settlements and damage claims.

Good Study Lamps And Homework

With school in session again the youngsters need a well lighted, cheerful place to study and read. A good desk lamp properly placed goes far in preventing eye strain and reducing fatigue, according to extension home management specialists.

A table lamp, wall model, or even a pair of wall lamps can do the job. The important thing is be sure the lamp is equipped with a glass or plastic reflector bowl under the shade, or with a wide harp to accommodate an indirect type bulb. Both these types of under-shade construction give a combination of upward and downward light that reduces the eye-irritating difference in brightness between the desk top and the rest of the room. For long periods of desk work, it is more desirable to have a lamp with glass or plastic reflector. Height of the lamp from the desk is very important, too. A lamp that is too short gives such a small spread of light that part of the desk is virtually dark. A lamp that is too tall places the bottom of the shade above eye level with a resulting brightness that is uncomfortable. Most people find that a height of 15 inches between desk top and bottom of the lamp

F.T.A. INSTALLATION SERVICE

(By Wilma Sneed)

The "Mary Allen F.T.A. Chapter" had its installation service, Thursday night, October 25. President Carolyn Folsom welcomed the guests, Mrs. A. W. Allen of Stratford and Mrs. Forrest Roberson of Dalhart. Mr. R. W. Standefer, Jr., presented the President with our charter. It was acquired in March of last year. We now have two stickers on the charter, the 1956 and 1957 sticker.

Miss Betty Bradley very efficiently, gave a reading, "A Colored Lady at the Telephone." It was very humorous and well done. The group really enjoyed the reading. Our name honoree, Mrs. Allen, was honored by Miss Wilma Jean Sneed. Mrs. Allen kindly consented to the chapter using her name. Mrs. Allen has been a resident of Stratford 54 years. During those 54 years she has taught the first grade in Stratford Elementary Schools 17 years.

The "Stratford F.T.A. members are certainly honored to be called "The Mary Allen F.T.A. Chapter."

The F.T.A. pins were presented to each member by Mr. Galloway. The pins have the shape of a shield. It is sterling silver with the burning torch in the center. The initials F.T.A. are printed in small black letters across the center of the pin. Next on the program was a duet, sung by Wilma Sneed and Carolyn Folsom, accompanied by Darla Galloway. The guest speaker was Mrs. Forrest Roberson from Dalhart. She spoke on the enjoyment of the teaching profession. It was a very interesting and heartwarming speech. I am sure each F.T.A. member was benefitted by this talk.

The last number on the program was a piano duet, played by Darla Galloway and Jean Spurlock.

Refreshments of punch and cookies were served. There were 17 guests present.

T.S.T.A. MEETING

(By Wilma Sneed)

The T.S.T.A. (Texas State Teachers Association) met last Tuesday night, October 23. The meeting was called to order by the President, Bill Brantley. He announced the program which was put on by the Stratford High School Band department. The swing band played two numbers, "Little Brown Jug," and "When the Saints Go Marching In." The mixed chorus sang one number "Battle Hymn of the Republic." The chorus was accompanied by Miss Darla Galloway.

After the program the treasurer gave a report. There were reports from the chairmen of Sunray, Dumas and Stratford Schools, on distribution of Amendment four material. Results are good in that none of the stickers or pamphlets pertaining to Amendment four were returned.

The group voted to assess two dollars per member to pay for additional advertising of Amendment four, also to pay expenses of the two delegates to State Teachers Meeting, which will be held during Thanksgiving in Houston.

Mr. Wooten, Superintendent of Dumas Schools, spoke briefly on improving the standing of the teaching profession, by promoting a more effective public relations program and a better understanding of the schools and their responsibilities to the community.

After the meeting was adjourned, refreshments of cake and coffee were served in the cafeteria by the F.H.A. girls who plan to be future teachers.

of languages, The Holy Bible, encyclopedias, annuals from other high schools and from colleges, almanacs, newspapers and magazines.

Last summer the library was moved to the old principals office. When it was moved it was reorganized. We have a much more efficient and orderly library this year than we have had in the past. Therefore, the librarians can better serve the students.

In behalf of all the students here in Stratford High School, I want to thank Mrs. Mercer, who was in charge of the library, Mr. Galloway, and anyone else who helped in organizing the library for doing such a fine job.

AMENDMENT FOUR

(By Betty Bradley)

On November 6th everyone should go to the polls to vote. Of course all of the teachers are hoping you will vote for Teacher Retirement Amendment 4. The requirement to be eligible for minimum benefits. All service does not have to be performed in Texas, however, it takes two years out of state teaching to make one year in Texas. A person may not retire before the age of 55 or before completing 30 years of creditable service, whichever comes first. Those falling to meet these requirements are entitled to a refund of the money they paid into the fund.

To receive a minimum retirement benefit of $200 a year, a person must teach thirty or more years and retire after reaching the age of 60. A person who teaches more than 10 years and less than 20 and retires after attaining 65 years of age will receive at least $900. It has been said that some retired teachers now receiving $20.87 a month will receive $100 if this bill is passed. Amendment 4 will be a big help to the retired teachers. Vote for Amendment 4. Taxes will not be raised to pay this Amendment.

Just what is amendment 4? It gives the legislature the power to revise the existing Teacher Retirement System. The new revised version will give the teacher benefits comparable to that of industries. The amount paid by each teacher and matched by the State, will be increased by 5% of the employees income to 6%. The former maximum limit of $180 per year of contribution from any one person will be raised to $504 per year. This amendment also extends the purpose of the fund to include disability and death benefits as well as retirement pay.

The existing plan requires a person to teach 20 years in Texas before he is eligible for a pension. In the revised form, 10 years is the minimum service re-

AN URGENT MESSAGE!

(By Darla Galloway)

I have no way of knowing the percent of Sherman County teenagers who have or have not taken polio shots. Here is an urgent message about polio vaccination. Millions of American high school students are facing 1957 unprotected against polio, despite the fact that about one of every seven cases of the disease occurs among teenagers and serious crippling occurs more frequently among young people and adults.

Polio continues to disable and kill. Thousands of Americans have been stricken so far this year. But now for the first time in history, we have a weapon to combat the disease. The Salk vaccine is today in plentiful supply. With widespread use, it can virtually eliminate paralytic polio.

Between right now and next spring millions of American high schoolers must receive three shots of Salk vaccine. Why now? Because full immunization requires a period of eight months. People who want to have the full protection of the Salk vaccine in next summer's polio season must start the three-shot course now. It would be a tragic waste if, through carelessness, neglect or apathy, thousands of youngsters were condemned to face this terrible disease.

Polio hits teenagers hard, about one out of every seven polio patients during 1955 were teenagers. To protect yourself through vaccination call your family doctor or local health clinic today.

Amendment Analysis

House Joint Resolution No. 9 would, if adopted, add a new Section 11a to Article I of the Constitution of Texas, providing that any person accused of a felony less than capital and who has been convicted of a felony twice before may be denied bail pending trial.

Section 11 of our Constitution says that "All prisoners shall be bailable by sufficient sureties, unless for capital offenses, when the proof is evident." The proposed new Section 11a would allow the judge of a court of record or a magistrate in this State to deny bail to persons accused of a felony less than capital but only under certain very limited circumstances.

Bail could be denied pending trial only after a hearing and upon evidence substantially showing the guilt of the accused. The accused would have to have been convicted of a felony two times before, the second conviction subsequent to the first both in point of time of commission and of conviction for the offense. The accused person would have a right to appeal to the Court of Criminal Appeals for a review of the refusal of bail, and in addition, if he was not accorded a trial within sixty days from the date of his imprisonment, the order denying bail would be automatic and was obtained upon his own motion or request.

The constitutions of the United States and of many states have provisions that excessive bail may not be set. Generally, where no more is said in a state's constitution, the courts have held that such a provision allows the judge to deny bail. The Texas Constitution requires setting of bail in all cases except where the death penalty is imminent.

House Joint Resolution No. 9 attempts to set some measure of control over organized crime which usually operates in and out of the large cities of the state. These organized gangs often use a large city as the base of their operations for robbery and crime throughout the state. The provisions of the amendment are directed toward repeater criminals. The denial of bail is hedged about with many qualifications intended to prevent the possibility of misuse of authority by a judge.

This proposed amendment would be effective upon adoption.

Mrs. Dick Diehl Entertains With Birthday Party

Mrs. Dick Diehl entertained with a birthday party in her home October 18, honoring her son, Dick Diehl, Jr., on his ninth birthday.

Halloween decorations were used throughout the house.

The lovely birthday cake was baked and decorated with cut flowers and presented to Dick Jr. by Mrs. Frances Watson. Mrs. Watson's little daughter, Jamie Louise Powell of El Paso, Texas was the only out of town guest.

The little guests arrived at 4:00 o'clock. Bingo was played by all and prizes were given to each who Bingoed. Mrs. Diehl took several colored pictures of the happy group as they played.

After lighting the candles and singing "Happy Birthday, Dick" and opening the gifts, punch and cake were served to Miss Doris Ballinger, Dick Jr.'s teacher, Mrs. Katie Bateman, Nancy, Mary and Pete, Jr., Diana and Becky Word, Jamie Louise Powell of El Paso, Patsy Sandlin, Jess Smith, Tom Seaman, Larry Norris, Don Woolsey, Denny and Charles Plunk, Mrs. Pup Wells and Allen Wells, Teddy Reynolds, Rusty Thompson, Bill Casey and Rickey Pickens.

Each child was given a "trick or treat" sack with Halloween candy and favors in it, and they all departed wishing Dick Jr. lots more happy birthdays.

Tex Says He's No Expert But He Believes Ike Is

The other night a bunch of us were sitting around in the drug store after the football game, drinking coffee and talking. You know how it is after a game in a small town, especially after the home team loses. Nearly every man in the crowd had a theory as to why we didn't win the game. Most of them, of course, blamed the coach. I couldn't help remembering that before we consolidated the county schools we didn't even have enough boys to make up a football team. And these same football experts who were saying what Rockne or Bud Wilkinson would have done, up until a few years ago they didn't know a football from a watermelon.

But that's the way it is in a small town (and in big ones, too, I understand). I guess there's no real harm done, although sometimes it's pretty rough on the coach.

I guess we have a right, in this free country, to be self-appointed experts in any line we want to pick out. It seems to me that most people choose either football or politics.

Take this presidential election coming up next Tuesday. During the last few weeks I have heard so many different political experts that I nearly get confused sometimes. I have to stop and think that the fellow who is talking probably doesn't know any more about it than I do, and that helps me keep straightened out.

In fact, I guess I have had my mind made up all along. To make no bones about it, I like Ike. He's a man you can always look up to and respect—the kind of man you'd be proud to point out to any person, from any country on the face of the globe, and say: "That's our President!"

About Adlai, now, I'm not so sure. Of course, if he were elected, he would be my President, too, and I would hope he'd do a lot better than most people around here seem to think he would. This is something I don't think we need to worry about, because from all I can hear and read, Ike is going to win it again.

It seems to me that if Adlai ever had a chance around here, he threw it away when he came out with that H-bomb business. Now, the folks in our town don't know much about H-bombs, except that they don't want any personal dealings with them. Our scientific knowledge of H-bombs is about on a par with our football knowledge, I reckon. But we do know one thing: We don't want some misguided, inexperienced fellow fooling around with our national defense. When it comes to trusting what Bulganin says or what Eisenhower says, I'll take Ike. So will the rest of the country, if I don't miss my guess.

Just before we broke up the other night Doc Brown came into the drug store, and somebody asked him: "Hey, Doc, how's Ike doin'?" (Doc's a big Eisenhower man.) Doc said: "Well, it's a busy campaign for the medical profession. Last week Ike went and got his heart examined; and I understand that this week Adlai is going to get his head examined."

Yours truly,
Tex

FELLOW DEMOCRATS

It's Easy To

VOTE FOR TEXAS BORN IKE

HERE'S HOW

- At the top of the Democratic Party column, strike out the names of Adlai E. Stevenson and Estes Kefauver.
- Leave the rest of the Democratic Party column as it is.
- At the top of the Republican Party column, leave the names of Dwight D. Eisenhower and Richard M. Nixon.
- Strike out the rest of the Republican Party column.
- Strike out all other columns on the ballot.

IS A BETTER DEMOCRAT THAN STEVENSON!

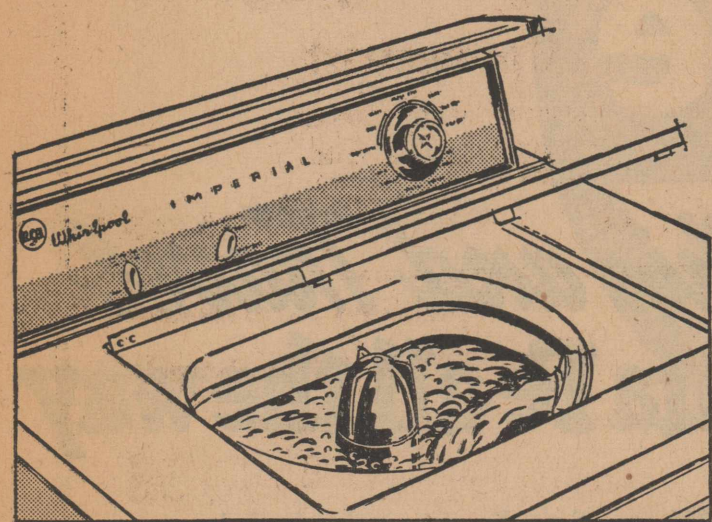

TEXAS DEMOCRATS FOR EISENHOWER

You are a free Texan — You can vote any way you like. Regardless of what you may have heard, it is perfectly legal to split your ticket if you want to, just as it is legal to vote the Democratic ticket straight, or the Republican ticket straight. The purpose of the ballot is to determine what the people want. And if you want to vote for Eisenhower and Nixon — then cast the rest of your ballot for the Democratic nominees — that is your privilege. Don't let anyone tell you otherwise! BY LAW YOUR VOTE MUST BE COUNTED.

WHAT IS MAN?

(By Carolyn Folsom)

Here we are on a planet spinning through space. In comparison with the spaces between the stars it is a speck of dust. Around our earth is a crust of land and water, and encircling that is a tiny, precious layer of air we breathe. This is our home.

We have been here about 1-2 million years. Now there are nearly two billion of us. Most of us are five or six feet tall when grown. We walk upright, and are brown, yellow, red, black, and white. We talk to each other in thousands of different languages. We travel the face of the earth in almost anything you could think of, from ox carts to supersonic airplanes. We seem to have peculiar ideas or tendencies to kill one another and a murderous spree of this kind is called a World War.

A drugstore answer for our question might be: Man is about two or three dollars worth of iron, phosphorus, calcium, carbon, and the like. This gives us very little importance. If this is right, what does it matter what we do on a date — after all a boy is only two or three dollars worth of chemicals and so is a girl (believe it or not). Let the chemicals act pretty much as they please — it doesn't matter. If this is a right answer, it makes little difference how we treat people of other races. Chemicals don't have any particular rights. If we are kept in slums, or segregated from chemicals of a different color it doesn't matter. If this is the right answer, it makes little difference whether we get drunk or not. If we are only an assortment of chemicals, the addition of a few more won't matter much one way or another.

A Christian Answer: We are children of God. God is our Father, this means every last one of us is His child. If we are God's children, we somewhat resemble Him as children do their parents. To a very small degree we can want the same things He wants, be kind as He is kind, live forever, as He is eternal! We are very precious in His sight. Not one of us is to be disregarded or treated disrespectfully. Then: it makes a great deal of difference what we do on a date because the boy and girl are both children of God, neither has the right to act otherwise; and neither has any business viewing the other in anyway except as a child of God. It makes a great deal of difference whether we get drunk or not. Children of God have no business getting drunk. The image of God should not be deposed, even for a few hours, by chemicals, and if we get drunk, we are likely to do some things which are not suitable for God's children. If this is the right way, it makes all the difference in the world how we treat other races! For, you see, in this way of looking at people, the color of skin, the shape of nose, or texture of hair doesn't matter. What does matter is that they are our brothers, every last one.

MYSTERY BOY

(By Darla Galloway)

The Mystery boy last week was Jimmy Skillin. This week our mystery boy is a member of the Junior Class. His favorites are: favorite food, fried chicken, favorite drink, milk; favorite sport, basketball; favorite actor, John Wayne; favorite actress, Elizabeth Taylor; favorite subject, shop; favorite teacher, Mr. Billbre; favorite passtime, reading. He is six feet tall and weighs one hundred and thirty-eight pounds. He has blue eyes and blond hair. Who is he?

STRATFORD TRIPS

DARROUZETT 14-13

(By Bob Donelson)

The Stratford Elks came from behind to defeat the Darrouzett Longhorns last Friday night, 14-13. Darrouzett scored first in the first quarter on a 44 yard pass play. However, they failed to make their extra point. Stratford could not get their offense rolling, and Darrouzett scored again in the second quarter on another pass play, this time for 58 yards. They also made their extra point. Carroll Wisdom intercepted a pass in the second quarter and returned it 30 yards, but it was to no avail, and Darrouzett led at the half, 13-0.

The Elks came back in the third quarter. Jimmie Huggins intercepted a pass, and shortly thereafter, Mike Neal ran 50 yards for an Elk touchdown. He also ran the extra point. In the fourth quarter, the Elks drove to the Darrouzett 1-yard line, and Neal Plunged the line for the touchdown. Carroll Wisdom then ran the extra point which proved to be the margin of victory for the Elks.

The summary: First downs, Stratford 10, Darrouzett 10; rushing yardage, Stratford 225, Darrouzett 116; Passing, Stratford completed 1 of 8 for 8 yards, Darrouzett, 3 of 11 for 106 yards; Punting, Stratford punted twice for an average of 30 yards, Darrouzett, three times for an average of 23 yards; Penalties, Stratford, 8 for 80 yards, Darrouzett, 3 for 35 yards.

Friday night, November 2, at 7:30, the Elks will be host to the Vega Longhorns.

WHAT IS A FOOTBALL PLAYER?

(Copied by Carolyn Folsom) Between the innocence of boyhood and the dignity of man, we find a sturdy creature called the football player. Football players come in assorted weights, heights, jersey colors and numbers, but all have the creed: to play every second of every game to the best of their ability.

Football players are found everywhere — underneath on top of, running around, jumping over, passing by, twisting from or driving through the enemy. Teammates rub them, officials penalize them, students cheer them, college girls adore them, coaches criticize and mothers worry about them. A football player is courage in cleats, hope in a helmet, pride in pads, and the best of young manhood in moleskins.

When your team is behind, a football player is incompetent, careless, indecisive, lazy, uncoordinated and stupid. Just when your team threatens to turn the tide of battle, he misses a block, fumbles the ball, drops a pass, jumps offside, falls down, runs the wrong way or completely forgets his assignment.

A football player is composite, he eats like Notre Dame, sleeps like Notre Dame, but more often than not plays like Grand Canyon Grade School. To an opponent publicity man, he has the speed of a gazelle, the strength of an ox, the size of an elephant, the cunning of a fox, the agility of an adagio dancer, the quickness of a cat, and the ability of Red Grange, Glen Davis, Bronko Nagurski, and Jim Thorpe, combined.

To his own coach he has, for press purposes, the stability of a mule, the fleetness of a snail, the mentality of a mule, is held together by adhesive tape, balling wire, sponge rubber and has about as much chance of playing on Friday as would his own grandfather.

To an alumnus a football player is someone who will never kick as well, run as far, block as viciously, tackle as hard, fight fiercely, give as little ground as many points or generate nearly as much spirit as did particular players of his yesteryear.

MORE FACTS Which Affect You

The Eisenhower Administration has constantly complained of surpluses in an effort to discredit the farm program. They have blamed the accumulation of these surpluses entirely on high support prices. These facts prove that exactly the reverse is true:

Added to Cost of Supports by Bank Financing

September 1953, Secretary Benson came up with a new crop loan plan which gave banks additional income for servicing. He described it as a means to "offer to banks an opportunity to buy certificates of interest in outstanding grain loans at an increased rate of interest."

The amounts of these increased earnings to banks investing in special pool certificates were:

FISCAL YEAR	ADDITIONAL INTEREST PAYMENTS
1954	8,401,000
1955	4,559,000
1956 (est)	6,110,000
TOTAL INCREASE	$19,070,000

The Eisenhower Administration delayed the Soil Bank by opposing it for two years:

- January 1954: Secretary Benson told a House Appropriations Committee on this date that "in his opinion it was unworkable."
- January 1955: Soil Bank bill introduced on this date was opposed on the grounds it would be "too costly," and that the Department already had a program to induce adjustments.
- March 1955: Soil Bank bill introduced on this date was opposed on the grounds it would not be "an effective means of obtaining adjustments" and would not be "acceptable."
- 1956 (election year): The Eisenhower Administration suddenly decided the Soil Bank was "workable" and was not too costly.

Thus we got the Soil Bank two years too late for many farmers.

Many Texas Voters Are Uneasy About Tidelands

And so are we who sponsor this program. When Senator Price Daniel (who helped sponsor the tidelands bill in congress) was nominated for Governor of Texas, he immediately announced that he would not support the Stevenson-Kefauver ticket, unless they would assure him they would not try to recover Texas tidelands for the Federal Government. Governor Stevenson then made the statement that the 'tidelands issue was history and that so far as he was concerned it was a closed book.' Senator Price Daniel then announced he was satisfied and would support the Stevenson-Kefauver ticket. That is all we know but we do know that Attorney General Brownell of the Eisenhower Administration has brought suit in the federal courts against the State of Louisiana to try to recover 7 1/2 miles of the 10 1/2 miles, granted in the tidelands bill, for the federal government. If he succeeds in this suit certainly Texas will be next. We believe that Texas tidelands would be much safer under a Democratic than a Republican Administration.

BY JOHN and JANE STRICKLAND

When troubled have faith in your God. All fails where faith fails."

AFTER World War II, Harris Walters, 3802 Orchard Street, Cleveland, Ohio, came home to find himself deeply in debt, debts about which his wife had written nothing. "If we had been so unfortunate as not to have you come back," she said, "I didn't want you to be worried. And you wouldn't have done anything about it anyway, until you did come back."

Harris knew that it wasn't his life's fault that she had had such a difficult time when the twins had been born just a few weeks after he left, nor that there were continuous doctor bills for her, as well as for them. Nor was she to blame that his mother and father had had to live with them.

He had planned on his allotment of six months from the government to set him up in business. Now he would have to use it to pay on those debts, and find a job to carry them along. It was a very discouraging state of affairs; sometimes he wished he were still back on some Pacific Island, and he wondered how many ex-soldiers were facing just such a problem; wondered how many were capable of solving such a problem? Was he?

Those five little words "capable of facing a problem" caused him to stop and think. Was he really capable? He had been considered so in the Army. He had been relied on time after time both for judgment and activity. Was he going to let down now, let down not only himself but his family?

The quotation above became his motto. It took him several weeks to really get back into his stride. But he got a job, and he skimped and saved until the debts were paid, then he settled in a business of his own.

Wednesday of last week at the First Methodist Church.

Mrs. R. W. Standefer presided over the business meeting and Mrs. M. Dortch led in prayer. Mrs. Edd Garoutte gave the devotional.

The study leader, Mrs. E. Cummings, talked on "Youth, The Nation's Richest Resource." Mrs. R. W. Standefer's topic was "Young People In An International World." "Let's Allow Our Teenagers to Work," was given by Mrs. O. L. McMinn. The study leader finished the remainder of the lesson on "Youth In A Responsive World."

Mrs. R. W. Standefer served refreshments to Mrs. M. Dortch, Mrs. O. L. McMinn, Mrs. Herman Lavake, Mrs. Ernest Cummings, Mrs. H. L. McDonald, and Mrs. Edd Garoutte.

The next meeting will be November 14 at 2:30 p. m. with Mrs. H. L. McDonald.

Third important factor is placement of the lamp on the desk. It should be placed on the side of the desk opposite the writing hand. If twin lamps are used, such as two wall lamps, mount them with the center of the shades about 30 inches apart.

As for the amount of light, 150 watts is the minimum recommended for a wall or table lamp while a pair of wall lamps should have a minimum of 100 watts each.

Lastly, a light-colored desk with a dull finish is the most comfortable when working under a lamp. If such a surface is not available, a light-colored desk blotter will help in eliminating reflections.

Under the Juniper

Do not despair of the present when you read in the papers or hear over the radio of many crimes. It was worse in the "good old days." The wide dissemination of news makes the time seem worse than the past. And there are more people in the world now. So do not despair of the United States if a few delinquents do some dastardly thing. There are multiplied millions who are respecting the law.

And why despair of the human race because a small number of men and women do the things that fill the papers with lurid things? Multiplied millions of our people have not robbed a bank or shed the blood of their fellows.

These thoughts are suggested by an incident in the life of Elijah, the prophet of God in an evil time and in an evil land. When God found Elijah under a juniper tree and asked what he was doing there, the prophet replied that the enemies of the Lord had slain his prophets, overthrown his altars, and were seeking the life of Elijah to take it away. And the old prophet lamented that he alone was left to serve God. Then the Lord told Elijah there left 7000 in Israel who had not bowed the knee to Baal. And there are millions on our land who have not betrayed their faith.

Los Angeles' sticky La Brea tar pits took a fearful toll of prehistoric wild life, says the National Geographic Society. More than 1,500 saber-tooth tiger skulls alone have been recovered from the asphalt grave.

Unknown Member Pays Dues

On or about October 15 some person mailed $7.50 in cash to the Sherman County Farm Bureau in payment of their 1957 dues. There were no marks of identification to enable the county agents staff to credit the proper person with membership. A membership card will be issued to the person claiming the proper payment of his annual dues.

Flores and O. H. Ingham. The guest list included Mesdames Lee Grimes, C. A. Donelson, V. O. Gilbert, G. L. Taylor, Roy Allen, Floy Yates, I. D. Wall, Grover Keown, R. W. Standefer, Jr., R. C. Buckles, Newton Crabtree, W. O. Bryant, C. R. Foster, V. M. King, H. C. Wyatt, H. T. Galloway, Archie Arnold, Arlyn Halle, R. G. Gillis, Jim Taylor and Miss Sammie Beall. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Roy Vincent of Hartley, Mrs. A. J. Mayfield, Mrs. Elvis Pickett and Miss Irene Beall, all of Dumas.

Many gifts were sent by those unable to attend.

Miss Beall was also honored Tuesday of last week when she was given a shower by Mrs. Frank McDaniel and Mrs. Ivan Hull, in the McDaniel home in Dalhart.

Fall flowers, fruit and grain, sprayed gold to carry out a gold and white theme, decorated the entertaining rooms.

The serving table was laid with a white imported linen damask cloth, and centered with an arrangement of sprayed gold dogwood, Sweetheart roses and trailing ivy in a milk glass wedding jar. A figurine "The Loving Deer", of pure white china, flanked by tall white candles in gold candelabra centered the arrangement.

Mrs. L. Blanche West and Miss Dora Ponder presided at the table.

For the shower, the bride-elect wore one of her trousseau frocks, of muted-gray, with a corsage of pink carnations, a gift from the hostesses. Her mother, Mrs. Russell Beall, and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. R. F. Vincent, Hartley, were presented with corsages of white carnations.

A restraining fence placed around the field and fans kept behind it. 4. Provide police protection for officials entering field during the game, and upon leaving the field. 5. The penalty, for failing to carry out these provisions, is expulsion from the league. This forbids playing member schools during the penalty period. Last year several schools were expelled for one to three years for the use of abusive language toward officials and for striking the officials. True fans will not tolerate irate fans to strike and abuse officials. This would hope that Mr. Judd didn't lose any money on the deal, his purchasing of the heifers in Amarillo made it much easier to shape the heifers up.

This program is not intended in any way to substitute for, or take the place of the milk fed program with which we are all familiar. Contrary to this, it is intended as a supplement to the milk fed program. Many people are of the opinion that more cattle should be fed in this locality. We have the cattle, the grain, the roughage and an ideal climate for dry lot feeding. With the irrigation development, we will be able to raise one of our better protein and vitamin A supplements, alfalfa. If northern feeders can come to Sherman County and buy our cattle and grain, transport each hundreds of miles north, and still make money on a feeding operation, why can't we do the same thing in Sherman county, where our county seat town has railroad and highways leading in all four directions to the best markets in the nation.

Realizing that someday, Sherman county might be the location of numerous feed yards, the Stratford Vocational Agriculture Department and its F.F.A. organization hopes to train our youth of the community in this highly technical skill, feeding cattle.
