Vaccine Arrives For 3rd Mass Polio Shots

Polio vaccine for the third and final mass polio vaccination of the people of Sherman County and the adjoining Stratford Independent School District territory has arrived. Much of the vaccine was donated for the first and second shots, which sold for $1.00 each. A charge of $2.00 will be made for the third shots as all of the vaccine had to be purchased.

School children will be vaccinated the first day of the final mass polio vaccination drive. These shots will be given in the Stratford Clinic the afternoon of Tuesday, November 12, from 1:00 to 4:00 p. m. On Wednesday, November 13, the polio vaccine will be made available to every person in the territory whose name appears in the alphabetical list from the letters "A through D."

The vaccination schedule will be continued for several weeks, with an announcement of those made eligible for vaccination each week. This program will be continued until every person in the territory has had a reasonable length of time for an opportunity to get their final polio shots, according to an announcement made this week by V. W. Foreman.

Dumas physicians will be present to either give or direct the administration of the polio vaccine.

Present plans are carried out, polio vaccine inoculation will be made available to the public every Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon in the Stratford Clinic until the final program of inoculation against polio has been completed in the territory.

Although everyone in the territory has not taken advantage of polio vaccine inoculation as a protection against the dread disease, the territory at the present time, is perhaps one of the best protected from the disease of any in the state.

Polio vaccination can in no way be construed as taking the place of polio hospital insurance. Although cases of polio among those protected by the vaccine are growing more and more rare, the far reaching protection of polio family plan insurance, is still considered a wise investment for the average low income family.

Statement Relative To The "Flu"

The best treatment is prevention with "Flu Vaccine." Reactions are not severe, and probably indicate susceptibility.

Avoid crowds, over-exhaustion, late hours, alcohol and infected people.

At the onset of the illness, go to bed, take aspirin or something similar and force fluids. The usual course is four days, with one day of high fever, 103 to 104 temperature; usually the second day.

As this epidemic progresses, it appears to be more and more of the cases are of the Asiatic Flu.

Avoid antibiotics, except for complications; apparently common, and under supervision of your doctor. They are valueless, expensive and relapses are more common to those receiving antibiotics.

Sugar beets and sugar cane provide an identical product (in processed form) though they grow under entirely different climatic and soil conditions and one is a root crop, the other a stalk crop.

Hallowe'en Youth Dance Will Be Held In Legion Hall On November 9

The annual Hallowe'en Youth Dance, sponsored jointly by the City Council and the Stratford High School Student Council, will be given in the American Legion Hall on Saturday, November 9. Students in the Seventh grade and those through the college age level are invited to attend. Dancing hours will be from 8:00 until 12:00 midnight.

Music will be furnished by Bob Smith's orchestra of Richfield, Kansas, which has appeared here previously at dances sponsored by the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

In previous years the dance has been held on Hallowe'en night, along with the carnival, a free show, the youth CROP drive, and many other activities. This year, due to conflicting dates, widespread sickness, and many other conflicts, the entertainments have been spread out over several more days in an attempt to give everyone an opportunity to enjoy at least part of the festivities prepared for the young people of the territory.

Hunters Bring Home Deer From Colorado

R. M. Buckles and Paul Chesmer have returned from a hunting trip in Colorado, bringing home three deer. On their first day, a herd of deer crossed the road between them and another car of hunters. All of the men waited until the deer were out of the path of possible cross-fire. Chesmer said it sounded like a war had opened up when every one opened fire. Only one deer dropped. Each group of hunters thought they had bagged the deer. A nickel was flipped to determine the owner. The other group won the toss and the deer. Later on the trip Chesmer bagged two deer with three shots and Buckles dropped one with two shots.

Davis Motor Co. Has '58 Chevrolet Cars On Display

The 1958 Chevrolet, which made its bow today at the Davis Motor Co., has been labeled "the car of the year" by technical writers who have attended private showings. Also on public display for the first time will be the rakish 1958 Corvette and the latest in the Chevrolet truck line.

The 1958 Chevrolet is new from bumper-to-bumper and from frame to roof line. It is longer, lower and wider and emphasizes flowing sculptured lines from the dual headlamps to softly flared rear fenders.

Two suspension systems for a more luxurious ride along with remarkable handling, stability and durability are included in the new models. Sturdy coil springs, front and rear are standard. A new "level air" system which automatically adjusts to all load weights is optional.

A 348-cubic inch engine which is new from fan to flywheel, is designed primarily around a new combustion chamber, the optional Turbo-thrust V8 offers greater torque for improved mid-range performance.

Cold Epidemic On Decline In Schools

A cold and flu epidemic which threatened to close the Stratford Schools was believed to be on the wane Wednesday. Monday there were 80 pupils and 3 teachers ill. Tuesday the absentee list of pupils climbed to 107 with 3 teachers absent. Wednesday morning the absentee list of pupils had declined to 99 with only 1 teacher absent.

Improvement in attendance gave Superintendent R. W. Standefer Jr. the hopes that it might not be necessary to close the school.

Substantial styling advances in keeping with the trend-setting characteristics of the immensely popular current model Plymouth cars, plus a broad new lineup of six engine options and other important new engineering features will be seen when the Plymouth is introduced.

The new Plymouth is improved in appearance, performance, comfort and safety, yet retains many of the outstanding styling, handling and riding features that were so enthusiastically accepted by American car-buyers this year, John P. Mansfield, Plymouth president announced.

Stratford Motor To Show '58 Ford Cars November 7

The 1958 Ford car line featuring major styling changes, the most efficient engines in the cars every three years. In its transmission and new optional air suspension, will go on display at the Stratford Motor Co. Thursday, November 7.

Historically, auto companies have made basic changes in their cars every three years. In its 1958 models, Ford has actually created fundamental design and engineering changes just one year after its completely new 1957 model. Demonstrating this change are twenty-one models on two separate wheelbases; the Fairlane and Fairlane 500, with an overall length of 207 inches, and the Custom, Custom 300 and the station wagon, measuring 202 inches.

The external appearance of the new car features Ford's sculptured-in-metal treatment in which styling lines are molded into the sheet metal itself.

Cruise-O-Matic, an all-new, high performance automatic transmission, providing maximum response under all driving conditions, is available for 1958 Ford cars.

Mrs. Lavake Is Hostess To Beta Sigma Phi

The Nu Beta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met October 24 in the home of Georgianna Lavake with Ronnie Dettle presiding.

A letter from the state project chairman acknowledged receipt of the picture Bible the chapter sent to the mental hospital.

During the business meeting it was decided to cancel the Christmas card party and sponsor, instead, a Christmas "ways and means" dance.

The program topic was "Loves Miracle in Marriage," given by Dorless Wells, in the absence of Glennelle Dettle.

Following the program, the members thoroughly enjoyed a sack costume party, followed by a very spooky event planned and devised by the social committee.

Cake, coffee and little pumpkin favors were served from a beautiful table in the Hallowe'en motif. Members enjoying the evening were Joan Bell, Ronnie Dettle, Margaret Fisk, Georgianna Lavake, Bonnie Mitchell, Jerry O'Quin, Gaynelle Riffe, Maxine Stinson, Bobby Word, Dorless Wells, sponsor Alora Taylor and director Lela Moon.

Eller is cooperating with Mr. Porter and the Amarillo Experiment Station in the dry-land variety test. The plot, located four miles east of Stratford on the Earl Shirk land, contains 64 varieties of wheat. All of the standard varieties and many experimental ones make up this plot.

Earlier in the fall, Mr. Porter planted this same type of demonstration on irrigation land. This plot is on the Sneed-Eller farm. The Sneed-Eller farm is also the site of a concentrated wheat fertilizer demonstration. Dr. Alex Pope of the Amarillo Experiment Station is supervising the demonstration.

Paul Chesmer and the Stratford F. F. A. have worked out a fertilization demonstration with Horace Sneed. This demonstration calls for the application of anhydrous ammonia to wheat in the early spring. The Stratford Butane Co. will furnish the fertilizer and the equipment for its application. The nitrogen level will be carried up to the 200 pound per acre rate.

TELL US YOUR PROBLEM
AND LET US PASS IT ON TO HELP OTHERS IN SOLVING THEM.
BY JOHN and JANE STRICKLAND

THE problem that beset Henrietta Jacobsen, R.F.D., Columbus, Ohio, was a problem that should be confined strictly to the young, but it sometimes stays with people to the grave. And it stems from just one thing: thinking too much and too often of one's own self.

This trait affected Henrietta in the usual way: she was shy, self-conscious and given to morbid thinking. She was afraid of people, so people stayed away from her; she constantly had in mind what people thought of her, and many of them thought just what she thought they did. Her thoughts being unhappy, she suffered unhappiness and passed it on.

(If this seems a rather exaggerated idea of what such a malady can do to one, study those you know who are similarly afflicted.)

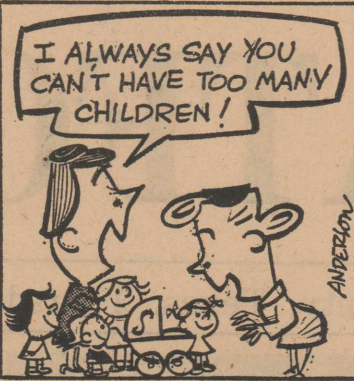

But even though Henrietta had come to realize what was the matter, and to know that only she could solve the problem, she didn't know just how to go about it.

Then one day she heard one of her classmates make a speech at a committee meeting. This girl also had once been shy, self-conscious. But now she was friendly, self-reliant and happy. Henrietta waited until the meeting was over, and walked home with this girl. She complimented her on her speech and added, "I always thought you were too shy to make a speech."

"I was," said the girl, "until I took a course in public speaking, where I had either to make a speech every week or waste the good money I'd paid for the course."

The short of this story is that Henrietta followed her friend's example. She found that the course took her out of herself, taught her how to approach others, how to make friends, how to direct her thoughts along happy channels. Today she says she hasn't the slightest fear of competing with that classmate who directed her along the right path.

"I REMEMBER"
BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mrs. Fred H. Cook, Murfreesboro, Tenn.: A few weeks past an uncle died at the age of 94. His passing was the last link to the Old Timers or pioneers in our community who were in direct contact with the early wave of migration from North Carolina that came here in the early Eighteenth Century.

He could sit for hours and relate the experiences of his parents crossing the mountains in an ox cart which held all their house furnishings, pots and pans and a few homemade quilts. They drove their cows and hogs ahead of them and the tinkling of the cowbells was all that broke the intense stillness of the forest, except for the broad axe that was used to clear away the forest for a road.

When they arrived here, the few pioneers who had already settled down stopped to help build the cabin—two rooms, one on top of the other; no floor (just dirt); no windows, only a door hung on leather hinges, with a large board placed across the door to bar it at night.

Above the door was a place for the rifle, one of the most important items to a pioneer. He considered himself naked if he didn't have a Barlow knife, rifle and a broad axe of mattock. These were necessary for survival in lonesome regions where houses were miles apart.

THE ELK

Football News

(By Ann Burgess)

In the game here last Friday night the Elks were taken by Darrouzett. The game was a close one, and had the Elks made two more yards they would have had a good chance of winning. If the much wanted six more points were made the Elks would have won on penetrations. Stratford had seven where the Longhorns had only three. Stratford had 24 first downs to Darrouzett's 18.

Two fifteen yard penalties hindered the offensive movement of the Longhorns. Three minor penalties of five yards each were stepped off against the Elks. Each team lost three fumbles, and each intercepted one pass. Stratford depended largely on passing to gain yards, but over half of them were incomplete. Stratford had 315 rushing yards to the Longhorn's 144. To sum it up, Stratford had Darrouzett beat in all ways save the score. A score of thirteen to seven stood when the game ended.

Also new for 1958 are the dual headlights, standard equipment on all Plymouth cars, and a dressed up lower grille section which matches the horizontal lines of the upper grille. The distinctive rear-facing third seat which Plymouth introduced in 1957 is again available with Sport Suburban station wagons for 1958. Joint research efforts of the United States, England, and Sweden have resulted in the discovery of element 102, a radioactive element so unstable that it has a half-life of only 10-12 minutes.

TAKE advantage of your large oven by baking at least two different things at one time. That casserole for lunch can go in at the same time as a cherry pie for dinner or for the freezer; the cake for dinner can be baked along with rolls to be heated for breakfast. Keep your baking supplies in one spot with canisters on the counter for staples like flour, sugar, shortening, salt and baking powder. Have the shelves above sectioned to give you a vertical file for pans. Pin up your reminders on a bulletin board with magnetic blocks.

THIS WEEK'S RECIPE

Fruited Ham Slice
 (Serves 5)
 1 1-inch thick ham slice
 Whole cloves
 1/4 cup orange marmalade
 15 uncooked prunes
 Cut slashes in fat edge of ham one inch apart. Insert cloves in fat. Place in shallow baking dish and spread ham with marmalade. Stick a clove in each pruned and arrange around the ham. Pour about 1/4 cup water in bottom of dish. Bake in a moderately slow (325°F.) oven for one hour.

Include that recipe you just clipped, jobs for the family and supplies needed from the grocery.

Dining area a bit far from the kitchen? Let the dishes and foods ride to the area on wheels with a three-tiered cart which will hold everything in one trip going or coming.

Have sliding shelves in the refrigerator which stick a bit? Rub them with a block paraffin to make them glide easily.

Chopping is easy if you have a block with a knife attached to one end of it. The knife fastened to the board gives you French knife action and makes chopping very easy. Neither will the knife get misplaced!

Eighth Grade News

(Reported by Sue Hudson, Typed by Jessie Davis)

Saturday night is the big event for the Eighth grade. We and our guests are to go to a Hallowe'en dance given to us by our room-mothers, Mrs. Burgess and Mrs. Boner.

Thursday night the Stratford Grade School football team lost their game to the Gruver grade school team by a score of 20 to 0. The game was much closer than indicated.

Gruver scored two touchdowns in the first half and they were unable to score until the final play of the game when they scored their last touchdown. All members of the Stratford team played exceptionally hard.

We have divided our history class into panels. Those on last week's panel were: chairman, Shella Donelson, and panel members were: Curtis Davis, Joe Elms, Bobbie Burgess and Tommy Lovett. The topic under discussion was, "Launching the new government for the colonies. Those on the panel this week are chairman, Sue Hudson, and panel members are: Beverly Baker, Laverne Preston, Wayne Fowler and Cleo Aduddell. This topic is "Making the Nation Stronger." We had a letter from a former Eighth Grade student, Johnny Steel. He is enrolled in East Junior High in Colorado Springs.

QUACK DOCTOR TROUBLES

By Kathryn Brummond

MARTIN OWENS breathed deeply of the damp, hay-scented, evening air. Hill's Butter-nut Farm was a lovely place for a young college student to recover from an operation. Even with the so-called-doctor Reynolds frequenting the premises.

Then, to his surprise, he saw Rita Hill hastening toward him through the dusk. "Oh, Mr. Owens," she said in a troubled voice, "I just hate to do this, but I'm going to ask you to leave."

"To leave?"

"I'm so sorry and—and humiliated. I'll return your board money, of course."

"But what in the world—"

"It's mother," Rita said, agitatedly. "She's become prejudiced against you for some incomprehensible reason."

(Mrs. Hill is afraid, Martin said to himself, afraid I'll entice Rita out of this treadmill into a home of her own.) Aloud he said, "How long has your mother been ailing, Rita?"

"Always. But she became worse back when I was in high school." (About when you began to go with boys.)

"Then I started college but I had to quit and come home because she needed me here. That's why I began taking summer boarders. I could be at home and earn money besides."

"But you'll marry and leave some time."

"Not while she needs me. She won't live long, I'm afraid." (Oh yes she will. That kind always does.)

A new thought burst upon Martin Owens—one which had not occurred to him before. This man Reynolds, this pseudo doctor in whom Mrs. Hill put all her trust, perhaps wanted Rita himself. He might have influenced Rita's mother against the young boarder.

"Rita," Martin said, "can't we persuade your mother to see a real doctor? A psychiatrist?"

There's Dr. Evanston at the U. He's one of the best—has a national reputation, and—"

Rita shook her brown curls hopelessly. "She wouldn't go. She's so—so loyal. And she has such faith in Reynolds."

"Still, I believe we can swing it, together, if you will trust me and do just as I say."

"Oh Dr. Reynolds," she said, "I'd just like you to look over this new diet and see if it wouldn't be excellent for mother."

Placing the paper down on the desk before Reynolds, Rita pulled off her gloves and pointed out headlines on the sheet. She used her left hand to do so and thus Dr. Reynolds could not escape noticing a gorgeous ring which ornamented the third finger. It glittered like a diamond.

After a stunned silence the healer said coldly, "I believe I shall have to consider the matter at length, Rita."

"A very good decision doctor," Martin Owens said approvingly. Then he added distinctly, "Come Rita darling. We've a lot of shopping to do."

Martin did not return to the farm until evening. Then, again, he saw Rita coming through the dusk. But now she was running, curls flying. "Oh Martin, it worked!" she cried. "Reynolds came scooting out here as soon as we had left his office and they had an awful row."

"Now, we'll coax her into the city to see Dr. Evanston. He'll make her want to get well instead of wanting to stay sick."

Suddenly Martin took Rita's hand and looked at the ring. "How much did you pay for this diamond?" he asked, "A dime?"

"I should say not! A whole dollar!"

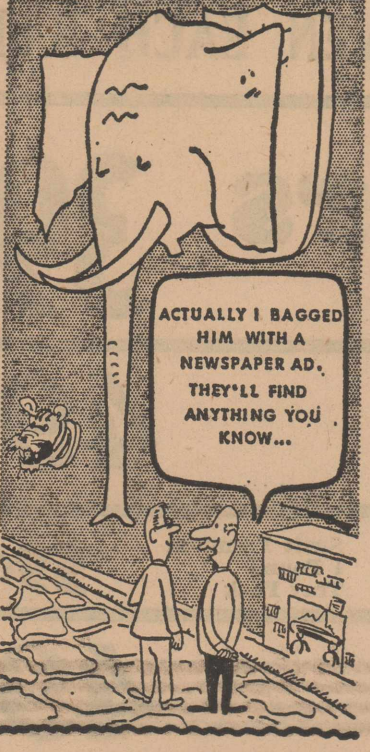

"Well, Rita, can't we have it for a going-steady ring? Let's be engaged to become engaged just as soon as your mother will let you wear a real diamond."

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From C. F. Young, Toledo, Ohio: Well do I remember the old horse-power threshing machine of my boyhood days in Illinois, near Oakland.

At first I sat on the sideline watching an older boy drive the horses—two teams of two horses each, hitched to a long shaft on opposite sides of a revolving platform in the center, under which were cog wheels that made the tumblers roll. These connected with the thresher.

In due time, I was a proud boy, standing on that revolving platform with a long whip in hand to urge the horses along.

When a stop was to be made, the driver jumped from the platform and ran in front of one team while someone else checked the other team.

From Mrs. B. B. Poole, Georgetown, Illinois: I remember when my mother raised flax. She had a large loom and wove linen table clothes, towels and cover lids as well as linsey cloth to make out school dresses and under skirts. The first school I attended was in the old Mt. Zion Church. We sat on slabs (with no back rest) for seats.

Mother had a big spinning wheel and a small one and she could spin thread. I will never forget the old time ways, born and raised in Old Virginia.

Texans Will Vote On Amendments To The Constitution November 5

November 5 Texans will go to the polls to vote on three constitutional amendments. The first amendment on the ballot concerns a revision of the state employee retirement system.

Speaking in behalf of the issue, J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, said "Those who are familiar with the present state employee retirement plan, know that it has long since become antiquated. Under the new system, a far more equitable and realistic approach is taken."

Musick said that he believed the Texas Department of Public Safety will receive particular benefits, because the new plan would create a greater incentive for promotion and tenure of service. And, it will be of aid in recruiting more competent personnel.

Advantages of the plan would give the employee the opportunity to select the highest salary he has received for five consecutive years, of the past ten, as a basis for his retirement scale.

Of the other two amendments to be considered on the same day, one deals with an increase in payments to needy, aged persons. The third asks for a decision on whether or not the state should create a Texas Water Development Fund for the conservation and development of water resources.

FOR:
The Constitutional Amendment amending Subsection (a) of Section 62, Article XVI of the State Constitution, relating to establishment of a retirement, disability and death compensation fund for officers and employees of the State.

AGAINST:
The Constitutional Amendment amending Subsection (a) of Section 62, Article XVI of the State Constitution, relating to establishment of a retirement, disability and death compensation fund for officers and employees of the State.

FOR:
The Constitutional Amendment increasing the limit on the maximum monthly payment to needy aged persons from state funds from Twenty Dollars ($20) per month to Twenty-Five Dollars ($25) per month subject to certain conditions for payment in excess of Twenty-One Dollars ($21) per month and on the total yearly expenditure out of state funds for assistance to needy aged, needy blind, and needy children from Forty-Two Million Dollars ($42,000,000) per year to Forty-Seven Million Dollars ($47,000,000) per year, and allocating and appropriating additional sums, supplementing current legislative appropriations, for payment of assistance grants.
