S. L. Cunningham Is Candidate For County Judge

Sam L. Cunningham announces his candidacy for election to the office of County Judge and Ex-Officio County Superintendent of Schools, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held Saturday, July 26.

Mr. Cunningham needs no introduction to the people of Sherman County. He has been station agent for the Santa Fe Railroad at Stratford for the past 13 years. He moved to Stratford in 1945 from Higgins where he was similarly employed.

In connection with his candidacy Mr. Cunningham makes the following statement:

"I wish it understood that I am not opposing Mr. Clyde Hudson, our present county judge, in a political way, other than that he has had the office for almost 4 years, and I am asking for it for the next 4 years. There being no issues involved other than our qualifications, for my own I wish to state briefly as follows:

Previously, before moving to Texas from Arkansas in 1941, I was schooled only in the public schools, being born and reared by poor parents I had no opportunity to attend college as my ambition. Later I took a business course in the rudiments of railroading including Morse telegraphy in a Little Rock School and graduated in 1912. Later adding to this study, I took an extension course with La Salle Extension University of Chicago, graduating with the class of 1929-1930, in Railway Station management and accounting. Through the years, it has been my privilege to serve on school boards, to serve on juries of the courts, to work in a county agents office, to serve on the board of stewards of the Methodist Church, and I served as the first County Welfare Director of the County of Hot Springs, Arkansas, having been appointed by the board. Later I served in the Arkansas State Legislature in Little Rock.

All that I am today, I owe to a merciful God, my Godly sainted mother, and my own personal perseverance.

The business of County government has become more extensive, and we are faced with many problems with its continuing growth. Our county seat has had a steady growth, and I for one am personally concerned to see a County Community Hospital built and maintained during the 4 years for which I may be your public servant.

I feel that my backlog of various experiences qualifies me well for the duties of county judge, and if elected, I promise to be faithful and serve you in every way, the best way I know how. Your support and influence will be appreciated."

Royalty Owners Launch Drive For New Members

A membership drive has been launched by the Sherman County Royalty Owners Association. Membership fees for 1958 will be $2.50 per person.

The aim of the organization is to aid royalty owners in getting a better price for their gas, and more favorable consideration from pipeline companies for rights-of-way through and over land.

The association feels that it has been instrumental in securing the increases which have been paid for natural gas during the last few years.

New problems are arising for the royalty owner as Gov. Price Daniel has already indicated that the State of Texas must have more tax money next year. Royalty owners fear that this may place an additional burden on natural resources. As the oil industry is hard hit as the result of imports, royalty owners fear that natural gas will be the target for tax increases. They hope to be in a financial condition to plead their cause before the legislature.

The organization has not asked for membership dues for the past two years.

Officers of the Sherman County Royalty Owners Association are: Elmer F. Hudson, president; Sam Wohlford, first vice-president; R. C. Buckles, second vice-president; W. P. Foreman, secretary-treasurer; and directors are Arlyn Halle, D. W. Wilson, Earl Bradley, F. D. Brannan, Dan Foreman and J. N. Bridwell.

Cancel March 20 P-TA Meeting

The regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association, set for March 20, has been canceled, with the Public Schools Week program held Tuesday night, taking the place of the regular meeting. Parents are encouraged to visit the school Friday, the last day of the Public School Week, or anytime they have an opportunity.

R. W. Standerfer Jr. was elected chairman of the Sherman County Hale-Aikin committee at a meeting held at the school Friday night. George Derryberry of Texhoma was elected vice-chairman and H. T. Galloway was elected secretary.

All four phases of the school survey, "The program, teacher supply, school construction, and finance," will be studied by the entire committee at meetings to be held at 7:30 p. m. on Friday, March 7; Tuesday, March 18; Friday, March 21; Friday, March 28; Friday, April 4; Friday, April 11; Friday, April 18; and Friday, April 25.

Sherman County Hale-Aikin committee members include: Aubrey Rasor of Gruver, Terry Huse, George Riffe, George Derryberry, Mansel Roach, Bill Worley, Ralph Renner, all of Texhoma, Texas, Mrs. J. E. Crabtree, Mrs. Earl Riffe, George Jeffcoat, Come Donelson, Kenneth Kendrick, John Knight, F. B. Mullins, A. L. King, A. E. Pronger Jr., R. W. Standerfer Jr., Mrs. Herbert Folsom, O. L. McMinn, W. O. Bryant, Clyde M. Hudson, H. T. Galloway, Mrs. Arlyn Halle and Rev. M. E. Upchurch of Stratford.

Sherman County citizens are joining in the most widespread citizen study ever made of Texas public schools, with a view to recommending improvements to the 1959 state Legislature.

The study, which has to be both thorough and speedy because county reports are needed by May 1, is an outgrowth of the Legislature's move to examine operations of the Gilmer-Aikin Law since its adoption in 1949.

Each one of the state's 254 counties has a special committee which will report by May to the Hale-Aikin committee of 24, a state-wide group which will consolidate the county reports and draft recommendations to the 1959 Legislature. The deadline on this is October 1. The Texas Education Agency is lending manpower and material assistance in order to get the job done on time.

In common with the other counties, the Sherman County committee under the chairmanship of R. W. Standerfer Jr. is concentrating its efforts in the areas of curriculum, teacher supply, class room shortages and finance. Out of these studies improvements in the Gilmer-Aikin Law will be sought, and a widespread citizen knowledge of school problems at the local level is expected to result also.

State Senator A. S. Aikin Jr., a sponsor of the school legislative and study movements, has called for the widest possible citizen participation in the current study.

The Texas State Committee on Publication Education, state-wide citizens group, is urging all local citizens committees to join with Hale-Aikin county committees if they have not already done so, and is pointing out that individual citizens also have been urged to join. Further information is available from the county chairman of this county, from the Texas Education Agency, or from Mrs. Carter Taylor, president of the Texas State Committee on Publication Information at 2503 Avalon Place in Houston.

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER MARCH

IN THE ongoing of seasons, we have come again to a month that is named for the god of war. And it may also be said that in the ongoing of the seasons and the years, through small wars and rumors of greater wars, we have come to the same employment that has taxed the world since the dawn of time.

Many years ago, a poet wrote that we should pause before we sound the trumpet to hear the voices from the field. Those voices might now be lifted from the field if there was likelihood that listening ears would attend. The voices from the field would now include heavily-taxed voters who would like to end the blowing away of billions in smoke, the destruction of cathedrals of worship, of homes and cities, and a multitude of fathers and mothers who sit beside the unnumbered dead and refuse to be comforted because they are not.

But what good does it to draw back the curtain of only a few years ago and read in Gray's "Elegy" that the "paths of glory lead but to the grave" when there are so many who try to walk in them? And the writer is reminded that it serves little purpose to write about war. Who knows what is to be done about it? "I ain't gonna study war no more" are the words that come from a humble source. But such a resolve might do something to lessen the probability of war.

TODAY'S PROBLEM: Knowing One's Self

MRS. JEAN SAVAGE, 17 Wall Street, Brockville, Ontario, Canada, married a Canadian soldier during the war and left her native England to make her home in a Commonwealth country. Since all her training had been to place England above every other country, what was more natural than that she should place English customs, habits and people above all others. By reason of courtesy she refrained from saying anything about comparisons she made, but she says she knows now that her thoughts often were obvious, too obvious.

"It took me eleven years to learn that I was expecting more from my marriage than I was willing to give. In other words, I expected my husband to go all the way in making our married life a happy one. It was not until we had three children old enough to voice their thoughts on it that I came to have a proper sense of values."

Her husband began finding his pleasures at other places than in his home. He did not turn to some other woman who "understood him." But he did find golf alluring in the summer and his club in the winter. One day their young son asked "Mummy, why don't we laugh a lot at our house like they do over at Mike's?"

The question stunned her, and shock remained even after she had recovered from her first reaction to the question. Well, why didn't they? And why did Mike's father spend so much time at home with his children? Why did he take his wife out in the evenings instead of going to a club? She decided to do something about it. She began by preparing her husband's favorite dishes. Then she took opportunities to express appreciation of things he did. She says she had long since given up the English woman's habit of having his slippers beside his favorite chair when he came home (the while she still clung to the advantages English women demand). Now she did just that. Soon she found herself taking pleasure in doing little things that pleased him. But that winter his club still had its appeal. The following summer, however, her efforts paid off. He suggested that the whole family go away together for his vacation. Little by little his club noted his falling off in attendance. Just these little things brought laughter into their home and the same brand of happiness as over at Mike's house.

TWANG MEETS TWANG

By Allen Wishert

OLD man Scott Fowler was well liked by the villagers. But when yet he sought seclusion. He didn't mind being laughed with, but when it came to being laughed at, that was a horse of a different color.

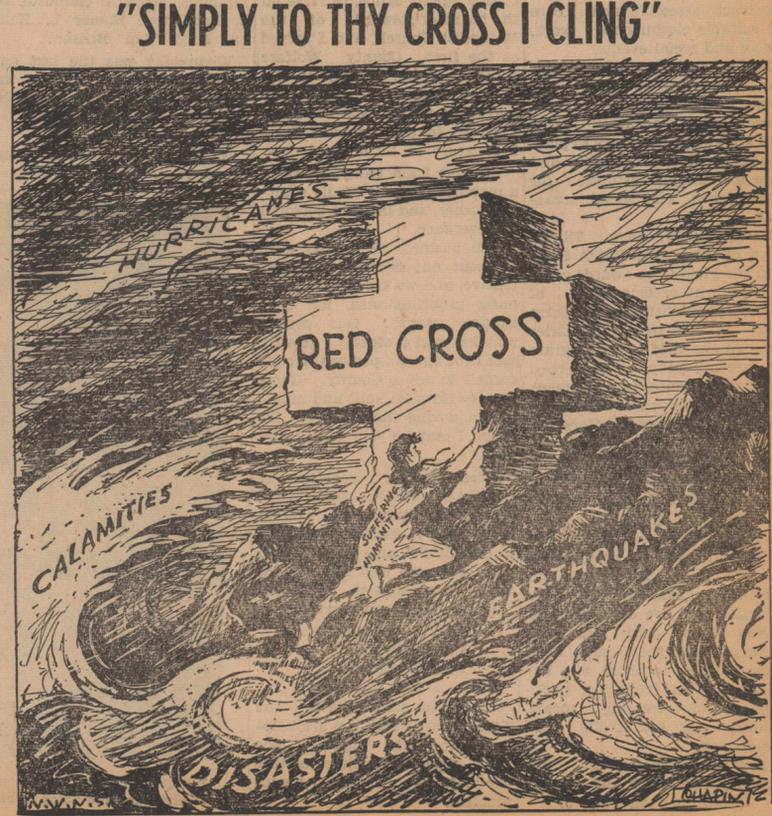

The town folk didn't laugh at him through any disrespect, it was more of a humorous nature, but he remarked to his wife: "When a fellow can't open his mouth without puttin' his foot in it, it's time to keep it shut. He and family had immigrated to Sandy Rock from the deep South, and he brought his Southern "Twang" with him. Jane, his daughter, was quite a favorite with the entire population of 986. The village swains held her high in esteem, yet no one called at her home. Still, they couldn't remember ever being forbidden to do so. Her father had become antagonistic and they had taken for granted they were not welcome.

Jane never displayed any favoritism. Each received the same lovely attention, but if one attempted proposing, she nipped it by saying: "I am sorry, but you just do not fit into my category. Jane Fowler couldn't help being pretty, and didn't even do much to make herself that way. She dressed well, but it was just a gift of nature that made her tall and slim with jet-black hair and wide hazel eyes.

A new cotton gin was built at the edge of the village. When it was completed an overseer was assigned. He was a young man and single. Arriving at the gin office one morning this young man noticed Mr. Fowler in the gin yard, thoroughly interested in the modern equipment. From the rumors he had gathered concerning the old overseer. You seem interested. May I have the pleasure of showing you about it?" Old man Fowler peered at Steve with a queer, but favorable glint in his eyes. "Got a twang in your voice that can't be mistaken. Where'd you come from, young fellow?" "Originally, from Georgia." "I knowed it," the old fellows eyes sparkled. "So, you are a native of my state?" "Born and bred, ain't never been able to shake the twang. Wouldn't it if I could. "I presume, Miss . . . you, too, are a Georgia Peach?" "I am, but somehow I missed the lovely characteristic that has blessed my father."

"Most of the folks here ain't got no manners," said Mr. Fowler. "They laugh at . . . what they call, the peculiar flappin' of my tongue." The villagers couldn't account for the sudden change in old Scott Fowler's attitude. He began speaking and nodding cheerily to everybody. Several weeks later he held open house and invited the town folks to his daughter's wedding. It was then they understood; the infection in his and Steve's enunciation was identical. He had encouraged Jane to marry Steve, thereby, switching some of the laughs from himself. After the ceremony, he drew Steve aside. "Son," he said, "I'm askin' jest one favor; bring my grandchildren up with a twang."

SOME folks look for the first bud on the tree, for an early robin, or scan the skies for the V-lined flight of honkers returning to their home in the northlands. Such are signs that spring is not too far away. But just as sure a sign—and just as welcome—is the annual arrival of fishing tackle catalogs.

Nowadays, fishing tackle catalogs are more than just "wish books." Many of them are filled with information that earns for them a place in every ardent angler's tackle box . . . pertinent data on fish, and fishing; world record catches, etc.

It is often surprising that veteran anglers will not be quite sure whether the bass on their string is a largemouth, smallmouth, or Kentucky (spotted). Many don't care; they fish for fun or for meat.

Fishing is for fun, it's true, but like any other endeavor, it offers fascinating rewards for extra effort. Being able to correctly identify related species of fish adds much fun to the sport.

This year Heddon's offers a 76-page compendium which covers just about every aspect of the fishing scene, highlighted by a special section which clearly illustrates America's 72 most popular sport fishes, listing both common and scientific names, characteristics, habitat, world records, preference in natural foods and artificial lures, etc. . . . plenty of ammunition for settling campfire arguments.

Spring will come in its own good time; it won't be rushed. But the appearance of fishing catalogs offers the promise that it won't be long and as well gives the enthusiast something to do with his time in the meanwhile.

School Week Program Tuesday

A program highlighting public school week was held in the school auditorium Tuesday night. Public school week celebrates 104 years of public schools in Texas and gives parents and patrons an opportunity to visit the schools to see how the traditionally fundamentals of knowledge are being taught. Fundamentals for elementary schools are defined as reading, writing and arithmetic. As the pupil advances in school, these three R's should be accomplished by a study of such courses as higher mathematics, science, history and English. Upon graduation from high school a student should have had specific training to do something, to go to work and be successful on a job, in the event he finds it impractical to continue his education.

Entertainment was opened by the Stage Band playing Little Brown Jug. Kay Spurlock, band vocalist, sang "You Made Me Love You." The band played Tuxedo Junction, Mood Indigo and A.B.C. Boogie. Frankie Aduddell and Kay Jacobs, vocalists, sang Harbor Lights. The band played When the Saints Go Marching In as their closing number.

A high school mixed chorus sang: Hello Young Lovers, Old Man Rier, Because, and Rock-A-Ma-Soul.

Robert Earl Johnson, Dallam County rancher and a former school board member, made the public school week address.

The Senior Elk Band closed the program by playing Storm King March, Air Force Band, Evangeline Overture, Sara-bande and Gavotte, Londonary Air, Songs from Showboat, and Stars and Stripes Forever March.

CYCLING FOURSOME... Dutch quadruplets, Haa, Ely, Dorothy and Rini Kiffers celebrate their 15th birthday riding their bikes in their home town of Zwolle.

Curtains Close On 50 Years Of Texas 4-H Work

The week is closing in, which 4-H club members have observed 50 years of 4-H club work in Texas. They have gone all-out in presenting to the public the achievements and characteristics which make their organization popular with both rural and urban youth.

From the beginning of 4-H club work, Gerald York, assistant state 4-H club leader, says that demonstrations have been fundamental. From the experience gained in conducting their own demonstration, 4-H members have learned to do by doing. Their classrooms have been the homes, fields, pastures and barnyards of the farms and ranches of Texas. Their work, he says, has always been a practical application of science to farming and homemaking. Demonstrations conducted by boys and girls in many instances have been the means through which improved farm and home practices have been introduced, says the specialist.

4-H members, York reports, have shifted their demonstrations to reflect the changes which have been taking place in the agricultural world. Tractor maintenance, electricity, other engineering demonstrations and farm management are becoming increasingly important with boys. Frozen foods, home management, health, nursing, first aid and home industries are important fields among the 4-H girls of the state. All are interested in junior leadership and citizenship work.

York extends a special invitation to boys and girls who are not 4-H members to check with a 4-H member, leader or county extension agent for details on how they may enroll. Membership in 4-H costs nothing but the rewards are great, says the state leader.

It's like getting back 15¢ on every gas dollar!

Here's the biggest savings story of the year! And here's why.

It all starts with Ford's new dream of a drive called Cruise-O-Matic... the newest, most versatile, most automatic of them all! Two new driving ranges let you choose your starts for the road conditions that exist. For example, in most of the driving you'll do, you can take off lively as a spring lamb if you wish. And on snow, ice or any slippery road surface, with the extra driving range you can get sure-footed starts that are steady and silky-smooth.

Now, team this all-new automatic with Ford's new Thunderbird-powered V-8

(with up to 300 hp) and you get as much as 15% better gas mileage, too! That's because a special gas-saving rear axle ratio is used to give you all the savings of "built-in" overdrive economy.

And based on factory suggested retail delivered prices, a Cruise-O-Matic Ford is priced lowest of the low-price three with comparable equipment.

So, with Thunderbird go... down-to-earth gas savings... plus Ford's traditionally low prices and high resale return... you have the best reasons in the world to make yourself a deal on a beautiful new Cruise-O-Matic Ford!

You and each of you are hereby commanded to appear by filing a written answer to plaintiff's petition before the Second 38th Judicial District Court of Kendall County, Texas, in the Courthouse in the City of Boerne, Kendall County, Texas, at or before ten o'clock a. m. on the Monday next following the expiration of 42 days from the date of issuance of this citation, said Monday being the 17th day of March, 1958, and there to answer the original petition of Dolores Mooers, a widow, as plaintiff, filed in said court on the 30th day of January, 1958, against H. B. Fuqua as Independent Executor under a purported will of Clifford Mooers, deceased, and in which suit the other named defendants are those persons first named in this writ and to whom it is above directed, and other defendants to be cited personally are:

American Cancer Society, Inc., a New York corporation, and American Cancer Society, Texas Division, Inc., a Texas corporation, and Betty Nuss, Chester Green, R. J. Kelly, Mrs. Gladys Van Pelt, Genevieve Conroy, Ralph Dahlstrom, Swen Lundahl, Russell Baughman, Charley McClaskey, Allan H. Ellingson, Paul S. Oles, and Mrs. A. G. Koenig, as executrix under the will of A. G. Koenig, deceased, and the said Mrs. A. G. Koenig, a widow, and Elizabeth Koenig, a feme sole, as the only heirs of A. G. Koenig, deceased; John T. Claybourne, Frank Demus, Mrs. C. W. Farley (and husband), C. W. Farley, Tom Walters, Leonard Ward, Bruno Brandt, W. B. Davis, and John W. Clark, individually and as constituting and representative of that class of five-year employees given cash legacies of $500.00 each under the terms of such purported will of such decedent.

Said suit styled "Dolores Mooers, A Widow, v. H. B. Fuqua, Independent Executor, et al.," being numbered 1525 on the docket of such court and a brief statement of the nature of the suit being as follows:

Plaintiff seeking equitable relief asks to set aside a settlement made with her husband, Clifford Mooers, dated May 1, 1956, and this Court's decree of approval entered the next day in cause No. 1464, styled "Ex Parte: Clifford Mooers and Wife, Dolores Mooers," recorded in the minutes, Vol. 6, p. 636, and asks an accounting and for a declaration fixing the identity of the residuary devisee under a purported will of such husband as admitted to probate December 10, 1956, in which suit it is claimed that plaintiff as the wife of such decedent for 27 years before his death was induced to consent to such property settlement and decree by the fraud of her husband and his agents, consisting of false representations and concealment of material facts as to the nature, extent and value of the community property and of plaintiff's true interest therein at such time, and because of further false promises to bequeath and on account of mistake induced by fraud of her said husband and coercion; and it is claimed that a fraud was also practiced by such decedent on this Court, and that the proceedings did not comply with Article 2624a.

It is further claimed in such suit that all or substantially all property in decedent's name at the time of such settlement and at the time of his death was community property, and

From The Canton Independent-Sentinel, Canton, Pa.: Interesting is the announcement that John D. Hertz, who rose from a penniless immigrant Hungarian boy to an American millionaire, is allocating most of his fortune, which may run in to "many millions of dollars" to a scholarship fund for training young men and women as mechanical and electrical engineers.

Mr. Hertz, who is now 78 years old and a partner in Lehman Brothers, investment bankers, became disturbed by newspaper reports that the Russians "are turning out 100 per cent more engineers than we are." To offset Soviet advances in training engineers, he has made immediately available enough money to subsidize more than 100 students a year. The trustees of the fund, which will be called "The Fanny K. and John D. Hertz Engineering Scholarship Fund," will have full discretion in the administration of the money.

However, Mr. Hertz has made the following stipulations:

1. There must be no discrimination in giving aid with regard to race, religion or sex.
2. All those receiving aid must take a course in American history.

3. They must pledge themselves to serve the United States on request of the Government in time of national emergency.

In explaining the aims of the fund, Mr. Hertz said: "I simply want to contribute in the interest of defense the fortune the United States has allowed me to accumulate." And, later, he said he was interested in "the poor boy or girl who really wants an education but can't get it."

From the Catskill Mountain Star, Saugerties, N. Y.: The great American cities are booming in population. But millions of people still prefer the smaller towns, the grass-roots feel and atmosphere, the way of life that goes with the countryside.

Recently an employment agency ran a three-line ad in the New York Times offering jobs on country weekly newspapers. From that single, tiny notice more than 60 replies were received. This caused the American Press to say that "... there may be many newspapermen who have gone to the cities to seek their fortunes and, after a few frustrating months or years, long to return to the country ..."

that had the wife received those properties awarded to her in such settlement, such were greatly less than her share at such time, and such contract was grossly unjust and disadvantageous to her, but that there was further material fraud and deceit practiced on her as to those properties which it was recited she was to receive under such settlement because of failure of title and of consideration in material part and inability to deliver and failure to deliver personal property of the kind and value which it was represented such wife should receive.

Plaintiff offers to do equity and makes a continuing tender to restore that which she has received and asserts that due to her situation, inexperience, ignorance and deception she could not sooner have discovered such fraud and brought this action.

It is further claimed that since such husband's death the defendant H. B. Fuqua, acting as Independent Executor under the purported will of such husband, has come into possession of but has not distributed all of those properties which the husband wrongfully took under such settlement and decree and in which plaintiff had a continuing equitable ownership and interest, and that the other defendants are claiming to own or have some interest in such properties and estate as the respective cash legatees and residuary devisee under such purported will, and that among such properties are lands and interests in lands within the State of Texas including those described, listed and identified in such petition, including the following:

SHERMAN COUNTY:

1. A 1/4 mineral interest in the South 1/2 of Sec. 336, Blk. 1-T, T&NO Ry. Co. Survey, Sherman County, Texas. The State of Texas To The Sheriff or any Constable of any County of the State of Texas, GREETING:

You are hereby commanded to serve the foregoing citation by making publication thereof in some newspaper, of legal circulation, published in the County of Sherman for four (4) consecutive weeks, the first publication to be at least 28 days before the return day of the citation.

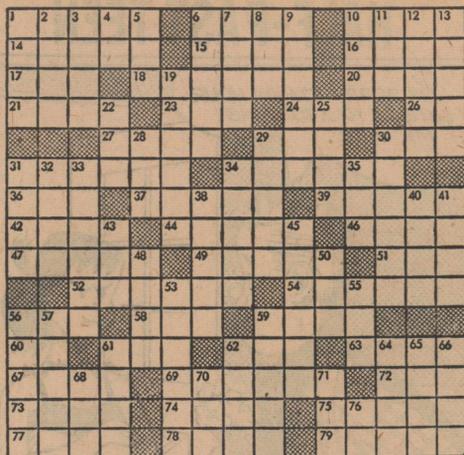

Herein Fail Not, but on the return day hereinabove named, have you then and there before said court this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Issued and given under my hand and seal of said court in Boerne, Texas, this 30th day of January, 1958. (Seal) LORENE K. HAZZ DISTRICT CLERK, KENDALL COUNTY, TEXAS (Pub. 2-13, 20, 27; 3-6)

Answer to Puzzle No. 487

by LYN CONNELLY

THERE are reports that "$4,000 Challenge" may not last out the season . . . Frankly, we're surprised it lasted as long as it did . . . It never had the suspense or appeal of the original show . . . Whatever happened to radio's popular "Lum and Abner" Chet (Lum) Lauck is public relations counselor for an oil company and Norris (Abner) Goff is head of a real estate development in Laguna Beach, Cal. Eve Arden is losing her new show . . . Actually, it's a pretty good half hour, but to the majority of viewers Miss Arden will always be Connie Brooks just as Lucille Ball will always be Lucy.

Jack Webb wants to give up thesping and concentrate on direction and production. He would bow out of the 1959 "Dragnet" series and let Ben Alexander star . . . Another one with similar ideas is William Bendix who has ideas of having someone else play Riley while he directs the series . . . After all these years Groucho Marx has lost his auto sponsor . . . Hope some one else latches onto the sarcastic one for his type of rapier wit is a vanishing breed and TV needs it . . . Charles Boyer calls live TV "ersatz theater—a combination of the stage and film."

PLATTER CHATTER
CAPITOL:—If you're a fanatic parent searching for some peace from rock and roll, hark in the glorious music of Nelson Riddle's latest — that swoony, nostalgic "I'm Gettin' Sentimental Over You" . . . it's great . . . Flip side has a choral group doing the title song from "The Girl Most Likely" . . . The kids may even park their rockin' shoes for this one . . . Semprini and his orchestra, a sensation in Britain, makes an impressive debut on this label via "Destiny Theme" and "Invitation Waltz," both of them piano solos which display his talents with a flourish.

THOUGHTS

OBSERVATIONS and comments by leaders in many fields of business are reflecting in the news an increasing concern as to just what is going to happen in the days ahead.

At the beginning of the year some economists expressed the belief that our economy would stay up if consumers spend more in 1958 in the purchase of automobiles, household appliances, televisions, etc. This they apparently are not doing, at least, not to the extent anticipated.

Despite constant reports that things will "pick up" increasing unemployment is making news in many sections of the country. Domestic help, something difficult to find during and since the war years, is becoming more available in some areas.

The cost of living seems locked to an endless upward spiral. A recent survey in the San Francisco Bay region (conducted by a research group in Social Economics of the University of California) disclosed that in 1957 the cost of living jumped 6 per cent over 1956. For one income group—the salaried worker—there were increases in all major items of his budget. The cost of a home, for example, was up nearly 6 per cent; the mortgage was 5 1/2 per cent above 1956 and the down payment nearly 7 1/2 per cent higher.

There are, however, some significant stabilizers in the American economy. Private pension plans continue to set records in

North India Missionary To Speak Friday

Sydney S. Bryant

Sydney S. Bryant, a missionary to North India for the past 28 years, will be a guest speaker at the Assembly of God Church Friday, March 7, at 7:30 p.m., according to an announcement made by Rev. Bob Goodwin, pastor.

Bryant is under appointment of the Foreign Missions Department of the Assemblies of God, with headquarters in Springfield, Missouri.

Since 1929 when Bryant first went to India as a missionary of the Assemblies of God he has served in a variety of capacities. He was first stationed in the United Provinces after which time he went to the Jubulpore District and opened a new station. Work at first was among the aboriginal tribe called Kohls. The new converts were greatly persecuted by the Brahmins who had hoped to hold them in serfdom. A nearby governmental project caused the erection of almost a complete new city. As a result many South Indians were brought in and the work was then carried on in English, the vernaculars and by interpretation into the languages of the South. Bryant will tell about the current development of missionary work in India. He will be speaking as an authority on the field of India as well as bringing up-to-date information regarding the progress of missions throughout the world.

Rev. Goodwin extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend the service.
