Youth Drive For CROP Raises $321.71

Sale Contracts Control Beets

All restrictions have been removed from the planting of sugar beets but profitable production of the crop depends on the advance sales contracts producers may make with the sugar refining companies before the acreages are planted.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has announced that there will be no restriction on sugar beet acreage in 1961. It was further stated that the 1961 farm proportionate share would be the number of acres planted.

The elimination of the acreage restrictions on the part of the Department does not mean an unlimited acreage of beets. The acreage of sugar beets in the United States in 1961 will be determined by the capacity of sugar beet factories. It follows then that before a producer grows sugar beets for processing into sugar for human consumption he should have a contract with a sugar company that processes sugar beets.

In past program years the sugar beet production in Texas has taken place in counties around Deaf Smith County. The nearest processing facility to this area is the Rocky Ford, Colorado factory owned by the American Crystal Sugar Company.

Other sugar refining companies which are in operation near enough to serve this territory include: American Crystal Sugar Co., Boston Building, Denver 1, Colorado; The Great Western Sugar Co., Sugar Building, Denver 17, Colorado; Holly Sugar Corporation, Holly Sugar Building, Colorado Springs, Colorado; and the National Sugar Manufacturing Co., 2829 E. 2nd Avenue, Denver 6, Colorado.

Interested producers may contact these companies for information regarding the possibility of contracting sales of their beets.

Maize Harvest Moving At Snails Pace

Combines in widely scattered fields continued to cut a small amount of maize which is producing over 100 bushels an acre from Sherman County irrigated fields. The freeze Monday night which producers believed might be the answer to ripening late maize crops, seems to have retarded most of the drying progress of the grain.

Despite high winds Saturday and Sunday, the sturdy maize stalks are still standing erect with their loads of grain.

School For Teachers Monday

The Stratford Schools will be closed Monday, November 7, to enable the members of the faculty to attend the Sherman-Hartley - Dallam-Moore-Hutchinson Teachers In-Service School to be held in Dumas.

Classes will be resumed as usual Tuesday morning.

Political platforms are for one party to stand on, and the other to jump on.

Country To Elect President November 8

Sherman County voters will go to the polls as will 100 million other voters Tuesday, November 8, to cast their votes for their preference of the man who will carry the responsibilities of the President of the United States for the next four-year term of office and possibly the next eight years.

Monday afternoon 50 absentee ballots had been cast by Sherman County voters, an unusual number for a general election where there are no local contests. Absentee voting will close at 5:00 p. m. Friday.

Kennedy and Johnson will have the support of many staunch members of the Democratic party and Nixon and Lodge will enjoy the same loyalty from the old guard of the Republican party.

Few observers anticipate a landslide victory in the election which will close a campaign that has been waged at a merciless pace not only in the major voting centers but also into the sparsely settled voting territories. Had either party had firm convictions of an easy victory in the election Tuesday, the drives would have been centered only in the heaviest voting areas.

Few voters will ever be able to explain even to themselves just what influenced their final decisions. Issues have been injected into this campaign which have nothing to do with the duties or responsibilities of the president, and the average voter may find the situation even more baffling than usual.

Every voter is responsible for casting his or her ballot with all the intelligence at their command, and the hope that their convictions will elect the leader most capable of serving at the head of a Great Nation which is shouldering not only its own responsibilities but most of those of an entire free world.

Seniors Win Carnival Crowns

Mrs. Arthur Cartrite Named County H. D. Club "Woman Of The Year"

Mrs. Arthur Cartrite

Mrs. Arthur Cartrite of the Southside Home Demonstration Club has been honored with the title of "Sherman County Home Demonstration Club Woman of the Year."

She has been a member of home demonstration clubs for twenty-five years. Her first membership was with the Idle-A-While Club organized with the aid of Miss Maurine McNatt, Sherman County's first home demonstration agent. She has served the club as an officer in all of the offices of the club except that of secretary-treasurer, and at one time was a council delegate and served on various committees of the council.

Mrs. Cartrite has been a food and garden demonstrator. Her demonstrations included preparation and the serving of meals as well as preparation for storage in home freezers. She keeps her freezer well supplied for family use, freezing chickens and vegetables that she has grown. She cans a year's supply for her family from her own garden and makes her own jelly and preserves. As a landscaping demonstrator for her club, she sodded her yard, planted numerous shrubs and trees, and built a bird bath. She gave programs on landscaping and gardening to her club and this year gave a demonstration on rose grafting.

Mrs. Cartrite has made clothing for herself and her family and now sews for her grandchildren. She has attended all special workshops on sewing such as basic, advance and tailoring. As a good club demonstrator she has rearranged the inside of her home recently, adding kitchen cabinets and a beautiful china cabinet. She added wall-to-wall carpeting to the home and improved two clothes closets. Besides being a good demonstrator, she is a talented artist in all crafts and responds to any calls the club may make.

Mrs. Cartrite has always entered some of her efforts in the county fair since it was first organized in the county and has helped set up many club exhibits at the fair.

Mrs. Arthur Cartrite moved to Sherman County with her family from Missouri in about 1907 and has lived in the Spurlock Community for fifty-three years. She was a member of the Spurlock Church when it

Funds Available For Irrigation With Underground Pipe

(By Patric W. Neil)

Conservation of irrigation water is mighty important to the irrigation farmer. Loss of water from unlined ditches because of seepage and evaporation can be enormous and probably varies from ten to fifty percent.

A limited supply of water makes such losses doubly serious. Fewer acres can be irrigated or crops must suffer from lack of enough water. Underground pipe is one method to cut seepage losses to a minimum. Irrigators are rapidly learning the advantages of pipe. Some of these are: Provides close control of water distribution, saves times and labor, permits productive use of all the land, aids in insect and weed control, simplifies irrigation of sloping land, and requires little maintenance.

Of course, any underground pipe line needs to be properly located so as to fit into a well designed system. Since these lines are permanent, it is well for the average farmer to seek advice on their design and location. Soil Conservation Service technicians are available and able to help with such problems.

Since several contractors are installing and furnishing irrigation pipe in this area, no problem should be encountered in obtaining the pipe or installation. All of the contractors guarantee their installations for at least one year. Generally, any faulty material or workmanship should become evident during the first year of operation.

Perhaps pipelines will never replace all open ditches, but eventually replace most permanent ditches. When underground pipelines are supplemented with the use of metal or canvas pipe, no ditches are necessary at all.

While pipelines are expensive, their expected life span should be long. Considering the advantages and saving through their use, a real saving may be expected over a relatively short period of time.

Cost share assistance of up to 50% of your cost is available through your ASC office.

America is a land where a citizen will cross the ocean to fight for democracy—and won't cross the street to vote in a national election.

Let 11 Mile Road Paving Contract

A contract for 11.1 miles of construction on FM Road 2349 in Sherman County has been awarded to a Pampa firm, it was announced in Austin this week by the State Highway Commission.

Ray Boswell submitted the low bid of $157,636.00 on the project. Grading, structures, base and surfacing from the end of FM Road 2349 east, north and east from Stratford 11.1 miles to FM Road 1262 is expected to take 150 working days, according to Charles W. Smith, District Highway Engineer of Amarillo.

Henry L. Gallegly, Resident Engineer of Dalhart, will be in active charge of the project while it is under construction.

City Secures Trash Barrels

The city has brought some used but good serviceable barrels for the convenience of the people of Stratford. Barrels that have no bottoms or are otherwise damaged should be replaced. This will be of help in improving the city sanitary service, and comply with the City Ordinance which requires that trash containers be in good condition, according to Dan Foreman, City Clerk.

was first organized as the first church in the county. Later she moved her membership to the Sunray Methodist Church where she is still an active and loyal member. She helps with her circle's bazaar, bake sale, and cooking for the Sunray Lions Club meetings. She has held many offices in her circle and has served on the program committee and all standing committees. She also taught a Sunday School Class.

She has three children and twelve grandchildren. Two of her children are college graduates; one of them is a minister. When the Cartrite family operated a dairy, she was responsible for the delivery of the milk. During the harvest seasons she cooks for the extra harvest hands which are employed.

Mrs. Cartrite baby-sits for her daughter-in-law while she helps in the field and this fall during maize harvest, she will help her grandson with his lessons while his mother is busy with the harvest work. She always has time to baby-sit for neighbors or helps in any other way needed. She has always helped in any way she could with school activities, such as box suppers, bake sales and P-TA, and at one time served as a school trustee.

In nominating Mrs. Cartrite for the title of "Club Woman of the Year," the Southside Home Demonstration Club ladies said, they thought they were very fortunate in having the family as members of their community and thought she was deserving to be selected as "Woman of the Year."

The one '61 car built to back up a long-term warranty

Ford led the way with the one car beautifully built to take care of itself . . . and you

On September 29, Ford Dealers set an industry trend—were first to extend their 1961 car warranty from the conventional 4,000 miles or 3 months to 12,000 miles or one full year, whichever comes first.

Why? Because Ford built the one car to support such confidence. Ford for 1961 is the one car beautifully built to take care of itself!

The '61 Ford was designed and built to the more exacting standards necessary to offer an extended warranty. Ask to see this warranty at your dealer's.

It is significant that Ford has so many take-care-of-itself features not found in other cars, regardless of price. These new Ford features are a triumph of exhaustive research, fine engineering, and quality construction that give you the most reliable Ford ever built. Drive a '61 Ford soon.

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF

- Lubricates itself—You'll normally go 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications. Then a quick, inexpensive Ford Dealer lube job (which costs about $4.00*) will get you set for another 30,000 miles.
- Cleans its own oil—You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes with Ford's Full-Flow oil filter.
- Adjusts its own brakes—New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves automatically for the life of the lining.
- Guards its own muffler—Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminized—normally will last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.
- Protects its own body—All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing the body panels beneath the doors.
- Takes care of its own finish—New Diamond Lustre Finish never needs wax.

Texas' dominant position in the Democratic Party has been a major factor in the amazing growth and prosperity of our State during the past 50 years.

Count our blessings that have come because TEXANS were in the RIGHT party at the RIGHT time.

Count the jobs... educational opportunities... military installations... defense projects... water and soil projects... rural electricity and telephone systems. Count our ultimate potentials for development.

Now the Democratic Party has selected a TEXAN for one of the two top offices our Nation has to offer. As Vice President, Lyndon B. Johnson will be in a position to render the greatest service any Texan has ever been able to give his State, his Party, his Nation.

Our Nation needs the dynamic leadership of John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson. And Texas needs to be counted in the Democratic column November 8 to keep its voice STRONG in the party that has honored its sons and nurtured its growth. Texas has no such stake in any other party or any other candidate.

Ten Men On A Fearful Night

Struggling for their lives after their PT-boat had been slashed in two by a Jap destroyer in the pitch black off the Solomons one night in August 1943, ten men saw their skipper, Lt. (j.g.) John Kennedy, with in insight they may never achieve again, an insight that still affects their judgment of him today.

To a man, six of these survivors, agree that without Jack Kennedy, they would not be alive today. "In all honesty," said former Radioman John E. Maguire, now a finance-company man in Jacksonville, Fla., "the survivors owe their lives to him. Never, at any time, did he lose control of himself or get shook up." A fellow Bostonian, Chief Gunner's Mate Charles (Bucky) Harris, now a laboratory worker in Waltham, Massachusetts, recalled crying in panic to Kennedy: "Skipper, I can't swim."

With New England matter-of-factness, Kennedy, treading water, snapped him out of it. "For a man from Boston, you're really putting on some exhibition out here, Harris."

It was not only that Kennedy's crew gave him credit for getting them out of the water alive, but also for keeping up their spirits for five days on a tiny atoll, surrounded by Japanese forces. "I knew he'd get us back," said former Quartermaster Edgar E. Mauer, now an electroplater for a St. Louis metal works. "He said he would and I had confidence in him. Once I remember he told us: 'It can be done and it will be done.' I think he knew we were in an awfully tough spot and he wanted to reassure himself, too."

Even before the awful hours in the night and the water, Kennedy's crew regarded him with pride and respect. They called him "Shafty," because of his youthful, skinny legs; but admired his quiet, self-possessed way. "Though he was young, I looked up to him like an older man," recalled former Torpedoman Ray Starkey of Garden Grove, California, now a grandfather. To former Machinist's Mate Patrick H. McMahon, now 54, and a mailman in Cathedral City, California; he was special because, though an officer and a millionaire, "he acted no different than Joe Blow who didn't have a dime in his pocket."

Not surprisingly, the survivors have kept in touch with their old skipper over the years, and he with them. "I was just a sailor," Maguire recalled, "but he's called me whenever something was going on in his life." Maguire and his wife were invited to the weddings of both Jack and brother Bob. McMahon and his wife, Rose, went East late in the war to take part in a war-bond rally in New York and to visit in Hyannis Port. On their way home, Mrs. McMahon recalls, she turned to her husband and said: "Oh, what a President Mr. Kennedy would make." "Well," Pat replied, "I'm afraid his religion might be against him."

All the survivors are planning to vote for Kenedy and some are already campaigning spontaneously. Former Motor Machinist William Johnston, a trailer-truck drive of Waltham, Massachusetts, appeared with Kennedy on a stage in Milwaukee during the Wisconsin primary. And the whole crew may be working for their old boss again. Starkey has recently been asked by Kennedy aides in Washington whether the whole crew of the PT-109 could be recruited for a "We're All for Jack" campaign.

If the politicians are promising the voters less these days, it's because they've already given them almost everything. — Homer Phillips.

The Elks scored in the first quarter with a 17-yard pass from Willy Steinberger to Harry O'Quinn. In the second and third quarters the Anderson and Anderson combination, credited with the ability to run through or over most teams, broke through the Elk defense to build up a safe lead.

Neither team scored in the last period of play. Stinnett has a conference record of 3 wins and no losses.
