Study shows patient migration for medical services

By MARSHALL STINNETT
 Journal writer

The Texas Hospital Association Rural Out Migration Study shows Bailey County had 476 patients in 2001 leave the county for medical services and spend a total of $14,218,305 for the services.

Cardiovascular services were the highest medical out migration with 115 patients spending a total of $5,275,440, followed by general medicine with 70 patients spending a total of $1,046,520.

Sixty-two Muleshoe patients left the county for neurological services for a total of $1,969,768.

Hospital Administrator James Bone told the hospital board during the last meet, it is unfortunate for the Muleshoe District to lose that much money but very few of the services and procedures could be performed in the Muleshoe Hospital without hiring specialists and buying expensive equipment. There would not be enough volume to support the specialists or to pay for the equipment.

Icy roads contribute to serious accident

By MARSHALL STINNETT
 Journal writer

An ice and snow packed Highway 84 was the cause of a serious accident in front of United Supermarket on December 23, at 9:22 p.m.

According to the accident report, a purple Freightliner was traveling eastbound when a 1989 brown Chevrolet pickup, traveling west, skidded sideways from the turning lane into the path of the Freightliner. The driver of the Freightliner, Calvin Lee Rodgers, said he was unable to avoid the pickup driven by Trista Nicole Green.

Rodgers estimated his speed at 30 mph and the pickup's speed between 10 and 15 miles per hour. The truck struck the "forward passenger side of the pickup" severely injuring 17 year old Green.

The Freightliner jackknifed destroying a utility pole on the grass of United's parking lot.

The pickup came to rest against the curb on the north side of the highway.

Rodgers, 41, was not injured. Green was taken to Muleshoe Medical Center and transferred to University Medical Center in Lubbock. As of Monday, Green remained in critical condition in the intensive care unit.

Rodgers lives in Palestine, Texas. Green is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Green of Muleshoe.

No citations were issued for the accident.

Some Thoughts from a New Year's "Grinch"

As I write, it is December 30, 2002. I think it was about 10:37 a.m. or so when I suddenly realized that I am probably something of a New Year's grinch. Actually, I think I've known it for a long time, but I hadn't really thought about it that much until this morning.

I don't mean "grinch" in the strict sense the word is sometimes used. I'm not surly about New Year's Eve, Day, or any of its other appurtenants. (If that word doesn't mean much to you, ask Max King about it.

Focus On Faith
Curtis Shelburne

Until then, read "features" or "accompaniments." Thanks!) I'm not at all pessimistic about it. I don't mean to be cynical about it.

I'm all for any good excuse to spend time with friends and family and enjoy a delectable morsel or two or a few, and, though I love my work, I thoroughly enjoy days off. I imagine that taking the first day of the year off is a very good thing. I suspect the world would be a better place and the work we do when we're "on" would be more valuable if we took more days "off." (Workaholics may work more hours than folks who live more balanced lives, but I'm convinced that folks who work smarter—not longer—work better. And that opinion is free.) I think everyone should get his/her birthday off. (Mine's on Saturday this year. Rats!) I even have plans to take September 21st off. It's not my birthday, but it is the birthday for Bilbo & Frodo Baggins, and I'd held them and their chronicler, J.R.R. Tolkien, in high esteem for a long time before anyone thought of making some very fine movies about The Lord of the Rings.

Enough of that. So what's the problem, then? No big problem. I'm not "down" on the New Year's holiday; I guess I just think it promises more than it delivers. It's long on sparklers and confetti and short on genuine substance (very short in relation to its truly holy predecessor a week earlier). It's a holiday, and I'm fine with that. But it can easily be more hollow than holy. To me, it's not much of a really meaningful "holy day" except that it's the eighth day of Christmas which is much more significant and meaningful than it's being the first day of a year our calendar calls 2003.

Yes, for presently timebound creatures like us, a way to mark time is a useful thing, and I'm all for new beginnings and a time to take stock of where we've been and where we're going. That's always a good thing, and if New Year's helps us do that, great! A real change of heart is, I believe, something truly celebrated as an occasion for joy in Heaven where real joy and real celebration never end and the ongoing "party" makes the little non-event in Times Square look less than paltry and pathetic, but I doubt a flip of the calendar page is otherwise particularly impressive to Heaven's King.

Having said all of that, I'll enjoy the "holiday," and I hope you do, too. And may your new year be much better than happy. May it be truly blessed and filled with His genuine joy.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

"LET THIS BE A WITNESS!"

WITH THESE WORDS MANY A BIBLICAL PERSON WOULD SEAL A CONTRACT OR A COVENANT, OR A BUSINESS PROMISE BY SOME TANGIBLE TOKEN AS A HEAP OF STONES, OR A MONUMENT WITH A CHISELED MARK OF AGREEMENT ON THE STONE (GEN. 31:46-52). SOMETIMES IT WAS BY A WRITTEN DOCUMENT SUCH AS A DEED OR A LETTER OF DIVORCE (DEUT. 24:1, 3; JER. 32:10). BUT THE MOST POPULAR METHOD WAS BY CALLING MEN TO WITNESS THE EVENT IN QUESTION. THIS CONCURRENT TESTIMONY OF AT LEAST TWO WITNESSES WAS REQUIRED UNDER THE MOSAIC LAW—ESPECIALLY IF IT WAS TO ESTABLISH GUILT OF A CAPITAL CRIME (NUM. 35:30). THIS PRINCIPLE WAS A GENERAL RULE IN ALL JUDICIAL PROCEDURE (DEUT. 19:15). ALL WITNESSES BEFORE THE TESTIMONY WAS GIVEN, WERE CAUTIONED TO TELL NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH...

AND TO CONCEAL NOTHING THAT WAS PERTINENT TO THE CASE. IT WAS A SIN FOR A WITNESS TO WITHHOLD EVIDENCE IN HIS POSSESSION (LEV. 5:1; PROV. 29:24). FALSE WITNESS BEARING WAS DENOUNCED IN THE DECALOGUE (EX. 20:16) AND WHEN DETECTED, DREW THE SAME PENALTY UPON THE FALSE WITNESS THAT HE HAD ATTEMPTED TO GET IMPOSED ON THE ACCUSED—THESE ANCIENT JUDGES DID NOT FOOL AROUND!!

DOWN THE STREET

By LEAH BELL
Journal writer

Down the street this week, I asked friends and neighbors about New Year's resolutions.

By far, most of those I questioned refused to voice their resolutions for fear of failing to keep them. But a few brave souls came forward to share their goals for 2003. Here's what they had to say.

The most ingenious (and sneaky) resolution I encountered on my journey Friday came from the probation office, located just around the corner from the Journal.

Joy Williams told me that she resolves to gain some weight in 2003. Not catching on right away, I looked at her inquisitively. "Don't you mean that you want to lose weight?" I said.

Turns out, Joy has found a way to beat resolution failure—make a resolution that's easy to keep! She found a loophole!

Joy is setting herself up for accomplishment. After all, everyone knows that it's easy to gain weight.

The beauty of her resolution is this, she only has to gain a pound or two and then cruise through the rest of the year, being careful not to lose any of that weight. It's a brilliant way to keep a resolution! (For skinny folks like herself anyway.)

Fellow probation officer Dianne Brunson wasn't as willing to share her resolutions, if she had any.

"It's too hard to keep a resolution. My husband (City Manager David Brunson) doesn't make resolutions so I don't either," she said.

Probation office secretary Angelica Olivas, who by the way is expecting in March, has also resolved to gain weight. Hers is for the baby's sake. Turns out she's found a loophole, too!

I moved on the First Bank where I ran into Audree Anzaldua doing some business for Viola's Restaurant.

She has resolved to be more animal friendly and stop letting others drive her new vehicle.

Bank employee Tina McDaniel's resolution is the same as that of people across the world. She wants to stop smoking—for good this time.

"I don't want my daughter, Tabitha, to be mad at me for smoking. I had quit for five months and then started back again. I want to quit for good this time!" she exclaimed.

Lori Bales, also a bank employee, had a somewhat more devious resolution. Revenge is on her mind. It turns out that Superintendent Sheets isn't the only prankster in town.

According to bank tellers Kristi Parker and Ann Mount, about six weeks ago, Lori unleashed unprovoked practical jokes on themselves and Letty Leal, another bank teller.

It seems that Lori found humor in releasing all the coins from their change holders, allowing it all to roll around their stations and the surrounding floor. She also piled loads of paperwork atop their already cramped areas to add insult to injury.

But her reign of terror wasn't quite over. A couple of days later, the girls' paychecks arrived. Excited as everyone is to get their money, Ann, Kristi and Letty opened them up to find that Lori had paid them $12, $11 and $10 respectively.

The girls let Lori have her laugh and then just recently got their revenge, using the Journal as their unknowing cohort.

Although unaware that it was a joke, an ad appeared in last week's classified section, asking people to drop off their used Christmas trees at a certain address. That address turned out to be the Bales' home.

All this pre-Christmas fun has led Lori to make this resolution: Make Letty, Kristi and Ann pay for what they did to her, no matter how long it takes.

Now that's comedy!

Betty Poyner had a great resolution idea. She will resolve to be kinder to her children, family and co-workers.

Jackie Scoggin and Jana Allen don't make resolutions because they never keep them.

I found a similar story at Bratcher Motor Supply where Charles and Tommie Bratcher told me that they hadn't even thought about it.

"We don't make resolutions because we don't keep them," said Tommie.

Virginia Estrada of Banana's and Estrada's Video on Main Street said that she just wants to make her business a success and give back to the community by making her prices the best that she can.

I next traveled down to Lambert Cleaners where I found store employee Tisha Lovelady.

"I want to be closer to God in 2003. I want to have definition and purpose in life. I want to make a positive impact on the people around me," she stated. Very well said.

Crystal Reyes also has a very definite goal for 2003—she wants to graduate from high school one year early.

When I asked her if she thought she could accomplish this specific goal, she said, "I'm gonna do it!"

Amy Melendez, who is employed at Ronnie Holt Insurance, has a little different resolution. She wants to regain some weight after being sick for a while.

Already thin, Amy lost about ten pounds due to stomach problems. She feels better now and hopes to "plump up" some.

To the contrary, employer Ronnie Holt wants to slim down some.

"I want to try to stay on my diet. Since I'm diabetic, it's important to follow a sensible diet," he said.

He also made the most honest comment of the day, saying that he wanted to word his resolution carefully so that others couldn't hold it against him at a later date.

"Didn't you say that you were going to...." is what he wants to avoid hearing.

The Edward Jones office was my next stop. I was greeted by Heather Foley, who always has a smile on her face.

Heather didn't have any problems coming up with a resolution.

She wants to make more time to see her friends.

"Since I got married, I haven't had the time to see my friends who live all around the area. It would be nice to travel to see them and have some girl time," she said.

Finally, I stopped in to see Rheata White at her Main Street art studio. I've known Rheata since I was a very young child. I took lessons from her for many years. And because of this, we can talk quite honestly. Those who know Rheata, know that she's a "hoot."

When I asked her what her resolution was, she said that she wanted to do "gooder" at everything. She also wants to travel abroad more often. And the rest are too course for print!

Art student Julie Saylor wants to be more creative in 2003. She's 22-years-old and just started art classes. I was witness to her first painting and should say that she's got a good head-start!

As for me, I resolve to be more creative, spiritually stronger and kinder to those who I always seem to take for granted, my family.

Oh yeah, me and

Yolanda from the Journal office vow to find a man this year, too!

Hope your new year is overflowing with prosperity, health and happiness.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED INCREASE IN SERVICE CHARGES

On December 6, 2002 Atmos Energy filed a Statement of Intent to change its service charges with the Railroad Commission of Texas and each incorporated city listed below. The proposed changes will take effect no sooner than 35 days after filing.

The proposed increase will not effect the Company's other gas rate schedules. The change will apply to Residential, Commercial, Small Industrial, and Public Authority customers. The Company proposes the following increased service charges:

	During Business Hours	After Hours
Turn on new service with meter set	$32.00	$48.00
Turn on service (shut-in test required)	$23.50	$35.25
Turn on service (meter read only required)	$15.00	$22.50
Reconnect delinquent service or service temporarily off at customer's request	$37.50	$56.25
Miscellaneous service calls	$11.25	$16.88

The proposed service charge changes are expected to increase the Company's annual revenues by approximately 4% and therefore do not constitute a "major change". The proposed changes could affect approximately 215,000 gas customers in the following communities and surrounding rural areas:

TIMES TO REMEMBER

40 YEARS AGO

Jan. 3, 1963—The cotton output for 1962 was valued at $15 million.

Work got underway on the new $3,250 annex to the city fire station to provide space for Muleshoe's fire truck.

217 teenage boys and girls attended the New Year's Eve party at American Legion building.

Six new county officials were sworn into office. They included Hazel Gilbreath, County and District Clerk; Loyd Stephens, new Commissioner for Precinct 2; R.P. McCall, Commissioner for Precinct 4; Edith Wilt, County Treasurer; Joe D.

Vaughn, Justice of the Peace; and Glenn Williams, County Judge.

Coach Bill Taylor was selected for the "Coach of the Year" spot by the Lubbock Avalanche Journal.

35 YEARS AGO

Jan. 7, 1968 — Deanna Carol Peel is the first baby born in Bailey County for 1968. She is the daughter and first child born to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Peel.

Billy Joe Bryant, 26, was injured when the tractor he was driving overturned, pinning him beneath the tractor. He suffered a fractured jaw and knee injury.

Increased postal rates go into effect January 7. New rates were six cents for first class mail and ten cents for air mail.

Texas drivers' license produces color photo.

Interior Communications Electrician Second Class Dale W. Vise, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. M.W. Vise of Muleshoe was advanced to his present rate while serving aboard the oiler USS Chipola

30 YEARS AGO

Jan. 4, 1973 — Newly elected and re-elected county officials were sworn into office. They were W.M. (Matt) Dudley, Commissioner of Precinct One; were Charlie Vela, George Mitchell, Ricky Smallwood and David Wheat.

Corky Green, County Attorney; R.P. (Bob) Sanders, Commissioner of Precinct Three; Dee Clements, Sheriff; Jack Young, District Attorney; Bill Russell, Constable for Precinct 1; W.E. (Wendy) Young, Constable of Precinct 3; Jean Lovelady, Tax Assessor-Collector; and John Thompson, Constable of Precinct 2.

Freshman and sophomore members of the Mullettes were honored. The team placed third in the Slaton tournament having competed against 24 teams. Jeanie Putman was named to the All Tournament team.

Others honored were Rejana Hardaway, Belinda Throckmorton, Glenda Harlin, Lavern Carpenter and Brenda St. Clair.

Not so little women

In researching for the Journal's Times To Remember column this week, the staff came across these interesting photos of (left to right) Fred Mardis, Kerry Moore and Coach George Washington taken in November of 1967. The three good-humored MISD faculty members were pictured as they appeared for their roles in "Womanless Wedding," a school talent show play. Mardis modeled the latest in women's nighttime fashions (of 1967) with his ruffles plus the Curler Cap by Dior. Moore, dubbed the flirt of the show, is pictured outrageously flirting with the cameraman. Washington, who played Mary Pickford, posed with a handmade duffel bag, guaranteed to discourage any aggressive suitor.

Make sure that your ambitions are your own, and not something you've been persuaded to do for colleagues. Remind those you live and work with that you're more than just a pretty face.

SCORPIO — Oct 24/Nov 22

Scorpio, you're not known for holding things back. However, some things should be left unspoken, no matter how much faith you have in the other person.
