'Passive Revolution' of Cubans Continues Unabated

STATE OF WAR PROCLAMATION POSTED TODAY

BULLETIN.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Cuban Ambassador Cintas spent several hours in conference with Secretary of State Hull today and afterwards made plans to return to Havana, focal point of the strife in Cuba.

HAVANA, Cuba, Aug. 10.—Cuba's revolution, in defiance of martial law and the power of army behind President Machado, continued unabated today.

A bomb exploded at a street intersection killing a passerby. Another damaged property but caused no casualties.

A general strike which has cut the city's supply of milk, bread, and other necessities of life, still in full force and hunger intensified thousands.

The presidential proclamation designating a state of war was posted this morning. It gave "participants in seditious movements" 24 hours for the time for signing of the declaration to deliver arms and munitions to authorities. Civil authorities are to relinquish their authority to the army as soon as disturbances occur in any locality, the proclamation reads.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—The department today was expected to receive a reply from Cuban Ambassador Cintas to the proposals for restoring peace in Cuba offered tonight by President Roosevelt.

It was understood the Roosevelt proposal still contained the provision in the original plan for Machado's retirement.

Lamont, president of the American Iron and Steel Institute, announced that the industry would give up the company union which labor long has sought to overthrow. Lamont is pictured at the steel code hearings in Washington.

3,541,000 BALES TEXAS COTTON CROP ESTIMATE

AUSTIN, Aug. 10.—The condition of the cotton crop in Texas is 71 per cent of normal, as estimated by the United States bureau of agricultural economics. This would give an estimated yield of 153 pounds to the acre.

This yield, applied to the indicated 11,095,000 acreage for harvest, places the indicated production at 3,541,000 bales. This is the smallest production since 1922.

The acreage for harvest was secured by subtracting from the July 1 acreage the probable removal of acreage indicated and applying the 10-year average abandonment to the remaining area. Harvested acreage this year's Texas harvested acreage will be the smallest since 1909 when only 9,900,000 acres were harvested. This is caused by the large acreage that is being destroyed under the federal crop reduction plan. The 10 year average condition and yield are 66 per cent and 136 pounds, respectively.

The number of bolls reported safe per plant is larger this year than any year during the last five years, and while the stand is reported as slightly less than that of 1932, it is better than that of any other year since 1924, with the exception of 1925. Indications are that if usual weather prevails during the rest of the season boll weevil damage will be the smallest since 1925.

For the United States a crop of 12,314,000 is indicated from a condition of 74.2 per cent normal. The yield is placed at 198.4 pounds per acre. The estimated acreage to be harvested is 29,704,000 acres.

The sheriff said he and members of the posse believed the negro and believed the young woman, who lived with her parents on a farm seven miles west of here, is believed to have been beaten to death late yesterday and her body thrown into a creek.

The justice of peace held an inquest and returned a verdict of "death at the hands of Marshall Lang."

JAPAN HOLDS ITS IMPERIAL NAVAL REVIEW THIS MONTH

By MILES W. VAUGHN
United Press Staff Correspondent
TOKIO, Aug. 8.—Nine foreign naval attaches and their assistants will be invited to attend the grand naval review to be staged by the Imperial Japanese navy August 25 at the conclusion of the present war games in the South Pacific ocean, it is understood at the navy department.

The attaches, however, will not be allowed to see any part of the war games or to visit naval bases during the time the games are in progress.

To the attaches the review will be merely a spectacle as they have a very good idea of details of all the

LEWIS ASSAILS ATTEMPTS FOR CODE FAVORS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Business interests which seek to gain special advantages from the national recovery act were assailed today by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, at the second day of the hearing on proposed codes for the bituminous coal industry.

Lewis appeared to present labor's side of a code devised at conferences here last month with operators of unionized mines in 14 states.

"More and more the framing of codes is a matter of bickering and bartering, of surrendering just as little as possible and grasping as much as possible," he said. "They appear to have become unconscious of the precarious condition of our entire economic system, and to be suffering from the delusion that we are on our way back to the conditions which prevailed in the summer of 1929."

"This is a delusion which, if permitted to continue, will result in the economic suicide of those who are the victims of it and at the same time in destruction to their more enlightened contemporaries."

"COST RECOVERY" PRINCIPLE ADVANCED

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Embodiment of a new principle in business—cost recovery—in the controversial oil code would place the industry on a sound prosperity basis, Henry M. Dawes, president of the Pure Oil company, said here today.

Dawes issued his statement after reading dispatches from Washington announcing temporary effectiveness of a scale of wages and hours for the industry under the NRA.

"The inability of members of the industry to agree among themselves and with the administration is due more to the lack of understanding of the difference between the principles of price-fixing and cost recovery than it is to the divergence of interest," Dawes said.

Wheat Production Estimate Is Low

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—The agriculture department today estimated the 1933 wheat production at 499,671,000 bushels, as compared with 726,000,000 last year and an average of from 1926 to 1930, inclusive, of 861,000,000 bushels.

70 Appointments On Comm'n Docket

AUSTIN, Aug. 10.—Seventy appointments were on the docket for a three-day session of the state highway commission to open here Monday. Officials expected, however, that most of the appointments would be cancelled as notice has been sent out that attempts to revise projects already approved for emergency work, will only cause delay.

SUM LARGEST EVER EXACTED BY KIDNAPERS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 10.—A total of $199,620 was the ransom paid kidnapers for the release of Charles Urschel, multimillionaire, it was learned today.

This is the largest tribute ever exacted and paid to secure the release of a victim of kidnapers in America, officials said.

The serial numbers of 9,981 $20 bills, identified as ransom in kidnaping cases, without mentioning the Urschel case specifically, were in the hands of bank officials in various parts of the country today.

The confidential information was sent to all banks by J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the United States bureau of investigation at Washington. Although Hoover did not mention the Urschel kidnaping, all the bills were from the tenth federal reserve bank of Kansas City, the same as those recovered at St. Paul and identified as Urschel ransom money.

MODEL BILL TO CONFORM TEXAS LAWS IS SENT

By RAYMOND BROOKS
A model bill, aimed to serve as a basis for statutes to conform state laws to the national recovery program's purposes, has been sent by Gen. Hugh Johnson, national administrator, to Gov. Ferguson.

Basic of this bill seems to be its authority for economic retaliation. This is embodied in a section that proposes:

"Any person subject to and complying with the terms... of any code of fair competition... of any attorney, may institute a suit to prevent and restrain any violation of any provision hereof..."

The next section proposes that "while this act is in effect, and for 60 days thereafter, any code of fair competition, agreement, or license issued under terms of the national recovery act, and any action complying with the provisions thereof SHALL BE EXEMPT FROM THE ANTI-TRUST LAWS OF THIS STATE, or any court order or decree issued thereunder."

The first section is a form for the legislature's delegating power to the governor, and a declaration of emergency conditions. The delegation clause would authorize the governor "to consent to the president utilizing state and local officers and employees in effectuating the policies of the national recovery act."

This section would need revising for Texas since the governor originally exercises all the powers necessary for law enforcement, and the constitution forbids the delegations of legislative functions.

The bill prohibits any person or corporation from refusing to comply with any code of fair competition, agreement or license, that has been approved. Then penalty clause provides a $500 fine for each day of violation of any code, agreement or license.

Another section provides any public official, state, municipal or otherwise, shall be prohibited from letting any contract for public works to any person or firm subject to a code of fair competition, who fails to comply and to use only articles and materials, produced, manufactured and supplied by others subject to and complying with the codes and agreements.

The bill is limited to expire June 16, 1935, or sooner if the president or congress abrogates the national emergency decrees.

FARM BONUS IMPASSE.

Farmers who read disappointment in the news that a 58-year-old federal statute has put immediate cash payment of $190,000,000 in crop reduction benefits to farmers in doubt should not become unduly alarmed. The statute that has brought the distribution of checks to cotton and wheat farmers to a sudden halt and put farm recovery administration officials to head-scratching provides that the federal government shall not make payment to any person owing the government without first deducting the amount of the individual's debt to the government. Farmers of the nation are said to owe the United States $350,000,000, representing crop production loans and various other emergency credits extended during the past few years to help the growers of things out of the ditch. A great many of the cotton and wheat farmers now due benefits for crop reduction are debtors to the government and should the old statute be literally and harshly enforced would be denied any part of the bonus until the debt due the government is paid.

But, the fact that confronts the Roosevelt administration in this instance is that unless the crop reduction program now under way is successful the whole program of agricultural recovery will fail with dire consequences for the rest of the national recovery campaign. If the farmers are denied the benefits they were promised, the government's appeal for further cooperation will be a futile gesture. President Roosevelt can be depended upon to find some direct way out of the dilemma. He has disposed of more difficult questions before with a forthright action that provided amazement for the very simplicity of the solution. He can be counted upon to discover, thereafter, that what was a mountain to his subordinates was merely a little hill, adequately taken care of in the emergency legislation that provided authority for the whole recovery program.

SOVEREIGNTY AND NATIONAL EMERGENCY.

A profound comment has been made by a student of government.

"You ask me," he said, "if this proposed recovery legislation would be held constitutional. The answer is that it would be, even by the same court that two years ago would have been inclined to find the whole matter without constitutional basis."

That recognizes the national emergency status, extending to state cooperation.

Instead of being a slap at the courts, this was construed as a tribute to their performance of their function of furthering and vitalizing the government of state and nation.

Governments arise out of the needs of a people; and those needs are expressed, at a pace measuring public necessities or emergencies, in the will of government. A court, disregarding the needs of a people by thwarting the will of government, would set itself over against the government, and cut itself off from the only source of its power, that conferred by the government.

So, this student of government concluded, legislation, state and national, to help untangle the economic situation, will be construed sympathetically in the light of needs and purpose, rather than in a harsh formalistic adherence to the ritual of tradition, or the letter of outworn statutes.

A CONTESTANT PROCESS.

Just now, Texas is told that its highway-building program for the year will be bunched all in one big group of $24,000,000 emergency federal spending out of the public works appropriation by congress.

It is true that most of the work for early months will be on this emergency basis. An average of $4 per capita for each county has been allotted from this fund.

But that is not by any means the whole story of highway improvements in Texas. If it were, there could be no excuse for half the four cent per gallon gasoline tax.

The state is in this situation. Past highway work, speeded up all possible to meet earlier needs, has pledged all prospective state highway revenues to Sept. 1.

On Sept. 1 a new state fiscal year begins. Each month the state will receive something like $2,400,000 of gasoline tax revenues. One-fourth this goes to the schools; one-fourth to the fund to pay off outstanding county and district road bonds. The other $1,200,000 per month goes into the highway fund. It will be applied to the maintenance, construction and operation of the highway system. Maintenance will claim nearly half of it. The remainder will be available for road building.

The highway commission over the Texas and Pacific Railway and the Missouri Pacific emergency allotment will be to Chicago, returning the same route, when new state money is available.

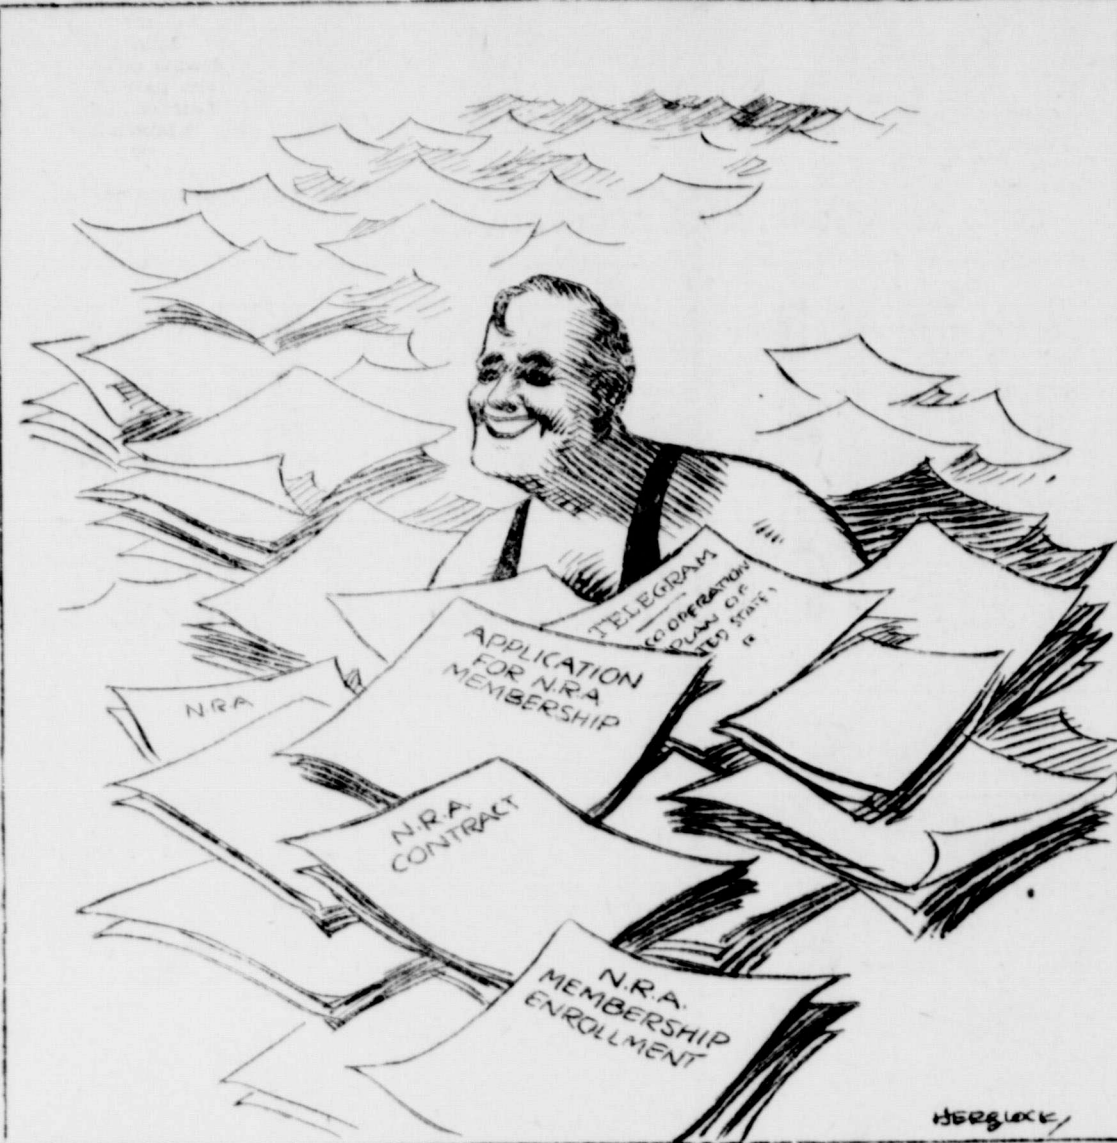

There will be other highway work. The entire party will start process through all the counties. It will be operated out of Fort Worth for your convenience.

NEW ARGUMENT

In the drive started at Austin last week for passing some kind of a sales tax bill in September, a new argument was used in marshalling support for this tax plan.

If the group only were to consider "ad valorem tax relief," or "study needs for taxation," it was pointed out, at once the militant opposition of the production-tax payers, the anti-income tax forces and payers of franchise taxes would be enlisted. But with the assurance that the group of legislators and state and local officials were working only for the sales tax, and its theoretical spread of the burden to the consumers, it was claimed that all those other interests, assured of exemption in the contest, would be tacitly or openly enlisted in support. This idea prevailed, and the group pledged itself to the real object for which it was called, to boom the sales tax idea for speedy action in September.

New Set of Laws Added to Texas Statutes Aug. 30.

By GORDON K. SHEARER, United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, August 10.—A new set of laws will be added to Texas statutes August 30 with the expiration of the 90-day enacting period for acts passed by the 43rd legislature.

Greater liberty is provided by most of the new laws but some will restrict citizens.

For instance, wild flower pickers who have loaded their cars with shrubbery, wild flowers, moss and branches taken from countryside must beware. No longer may they invade the enclosed land of another without permission nor property set aside by the state as a park or animal preserve. Unfenced private property still may be invaded. Violations are punishable by fine ranging from $1 to $10. Children under 17 may pick wild flowers at will.

Prize fighting legalized
Prize fighting banned in the state since 1895 becomes legal under regulations. Professional wagers at licensed race tracks, without posting of odds, will be permitted September 1. If the vote is favorable on revision of state prohibition, 32 beer sales will be legal after September 15.

Oil regulation violations are made punishable under a law becoming effective August 30 and after that date tapping of a tank or pipe line containing oil will be punishable by a penalty of one to five years imprisonment. Oil tax changes from two per cent of value to two cents a barrel when oil is worth less than 11 a barrel.

With the passing of the 90th day following the last legislature owners of natural gas wells in fields of 300-500 acres may use the gas for extracting gasoline if no other market made available.

Spanish may be taught in elementary schools in counties along the Mexican border with cities of more than 5,000 and Latin and Greek may be taught in high schools. College tuition fees are raised and students from other states will be required to pay the same fees charged Texas students in their home states. Abolition of teacher institutes to save money is authorized.

Stronger Labor Laws
Labor laws becoming effective strengthen the penalty clause in the old law against employment of women more than nine hours a day or 54 hours a week; require payment of prevailing local wage on public work, and prescribe fees for barber examinations and shop inspections. Corporations are barred from practicing law by a statute limiting practice to natural persons; court procedure is changed by laws extending the time of life of judgments; lunacy case jurors are cut to a $1 fee; building up large fee bills by filing many charges involved in one transaction is curbed by artion of estates of minors with court consent; companies operating in the state on permits are required to designate an agent upon whom legal service may be made; salaries of court reporters are set at from $2,400 to $2,700 to be determined by the judge.

150 New Charters Issued in July

AUSTIN, Aug. 10.—New corporations numbering 150 received charters from the secretary of state during the month of July. These new corporations had authorized capital stock of $3,256,790, the highest total for any month since last December, and substantially above the total for the 145 new firms incorporated last July, $2,723,000, according to the University of Texas bureau of business research.

Eight of the companies had authorized capital stock of $100,000 or more, the highest total since January, while 59 were capitalized at less than $5,000. Merchandising firms accounted for 37 of the new corporations, 34 were oil companies, and 23 were manufacturers. The number of manufacturing concerns receiving charters was unusually high.

state game department is authorized. A code fixing dimensions of the state flag and methods of its display becomes effective.

Appropriations become effective September 1. Acts reducing salaries of county commissioners and limiting fees of other county officers become effective.

The insurance companies are given increased power to invest in title abstract plants.

Gunners are freed from the bonds heretofore required.

Use of second hand materials in batteries sold without being marked "rebuilt" is made punishable by fine or jail sentence.

Requirement of medical examinations before issuance of mutual insurance policies for over $500 is abolished.

The narcotics law is corrected to make enforcement of the prohibition against marihuana enforceable.

Licensing of game breeders by the come effective January 1. An act combining the offices of county tax assessor and county tax collector becomes effective Jan. 1, 1935.

Through the Editor's Spectacles

By GEORGE

Some folk who waste time on this column got the impression from what I said about visiting my parents in Louisiana recently that I am a Louisiana native. I want to correct that impression, not because I am entitled to any credit for choosing Texas as the state of my birth, but simply because I don't want to do Huey Long's dominion any further injustice. I don't give a darn what happens to Huey Long, but I can be polite about it, anyway. To dispose of the matter in short order I shall explain that I was born in Collin county Texas, at a wide-place-in-the-road called Westminster, on a certain day in March of a certain year of the Twentieth century. I was born of parents both of whom are native Texans, which makes me double-dyed in the matter of Lone Star nativity.

Though I didn't have any choice in the selection of a state in which to be born, I think that my forebears made a mighty good selection. I am sure that native Louisianians, and Oklahomans, and Arkansans, and even Californians are equally attached to their birthplaces. Not knowing anything about those states except what I read and what I have seen on occasional excursions from native soil, I unprepared to defend or even enumerate their good points. So far as I am concerned Texas has enough to make it the ideal state.

None of us natives, however, has any right to boast of his heritage of land. We just happened to be lucky that's all. We didn't have anything to do with the selection. On the contrary we just wandered around in an infinitude of nothingness until luck picked our particular life germs out of the unknown and gave them form and being. We haven't any more right to boast of being born in Texas than the genius has the right to boast of his brain or the pretty woman the right to boast of her face and figure. Neither of these had any part in choosing the characteristics of which he or she is so proud. It is quite true that each is entitled to credit for developing, training or improving the talent, but I'm speaking of being boastful of mere possession. Instead of being uppity over a good brain, or a good face, a good pair of legs or of being born in a particular and favored area of God's greenhouse of living we ought to be thankful and proud to the extent that we make the best use of what we've got.

Anyway, I'm glad I wasn't born in Louisiana.

What Kentucky home-grown tobacco, a set of golf clubs and the company of such wags as R. L. Fousler and T. C. Williams can do to a good man is well illustrated in the case of Homer Slicker. Homer's attributes all point to a pretty decent sort of citizen but the above combination has so interfered with nature's effort to do well with this particular item of human clay that the result is a bird who will sit on the edge of a green and "guy" a fellow golfer in the middle of the most important stroke of his career.

There ought to be a law.

I say this for the benefit of notice who come after me.

When approaching the nine holes of the Cisco County club for an afternoon with Mr. Par be careful to scrutinize the scene. If anywhere there is the sight of a figure, dropped languorously on the edge of a green or a tee, drawing patterns in the dirt with a golf stick, refrain from starting your play until the figure has vanished.

It's Mr. Homer Slicker just waiting to spoil your whole afternoon. It cost me five strokes to do this fact yesterday.

WAGES RAISED
WELLSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 10.—The drive for higher wages spread to public school teachers with announcement that all teachers will receive salary increases ranging from 20 to 40 per cent the 1933-34 term. A minimum salary of $100 a month was fixed.

ATTLEBORO, Mass., Aug. 10.—The old-time whipping post has been revived for such cases. Judge Walter A. Briggs declared convicting Francis Barrett, Jr., throwing a stone which cut a girl's lip. The defendant was given a suspended jail sentence.

Natural GAS Remains Your Lowest Priced Domestic Servant

PRICES are going up. So say the newspapers and business experts . . . so say the price tags in the stores. Food, clothing, commodities in general, are moving steadily to higher levels to meet changing conditions.

But Natural Gas Service, always your lowest priced domestic servant considering the value received, remains at its same modest price level. Instead of advancing to keep pace with other costs, it now becomes by comparison an even greater value than before.

If you have not received this form, see J. C. Patterson on the county agent, or Ed F. Jay, sign it, and send it in at once. GERMANS PUSH CAMPAIGN FOR AIR DEFENSE

BERLIN August 10 — Germany is combining her demands for an effective defensive air force with a systematic campaign for civilian protection in case of bomb or gas attack from the air.

Sensational reports printed recently that strange foreign planes had appeared over Berlin and dropped anti-Nazi propaganda literature have added impetus to the movement.

Recently in Berlin authorities inaugurated a course of instruction in civilian defense. At the same time in Silesia extensive tests were being conducted in practical measures against attack. Breslau, chief city of the section, is only 16 minutes from the border, and would be particularly vulnerable to an enemy air force.

The tests, which lasted a week, included all conceivable emergency measures. It is planned to continue them in other parts of the Reich in an effort not only to develop the best means of defense, but to impress the civilian population with the importance of protection from air attack.

Meanwhile, however, the government will continue to campaign for a defensive air force strong and fast enough to combat enemy planes.

Frankly and Directly I Appeal to the People of Texas

An emergency faces our railroad—YOUR railroad—and Texans have ever risen in defense of their own

From the beginning of Texas history, courage, a spirit of independence and the willingness to fight for their home institutions have been born into Texas people.

That institution is the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Lines. Whether the Katy made the state or the state made the Katy is not important now.

Each is eternally indebted to the other—a mutual obligation that is cheerfully and proudly recognized by the people of Texas on the one hand, and the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Lines on the other.

Not in a time of stress, the long and splendid relationship between Texas people and Texas railroad is threatened by economic conditions.

In such an emergency, the Katy, father and child of Texas, turns for support and cooperation to the generations of her people descended from those hardy pioneers who gathered to cheer the first Katy train to cross her prairies on that memorable day in December, 1875.

The Katy now seeks every ounce of freight, every passenger moving in its territory. It makes this appeal frankly, boldly, bluntly—

How to do your Bit—use coupon below or telephone nearest Katy office. It costs you nothing extra to join this movement. All the Katy asks is your support. Now—

What to do? You can do three things. First, ship your freight via Katy—ride our trains. Second, use your influence on every hand to boost the Katy, opportunities are constantly presenting. Third, when you hear about movements of freight or know of people who intend to travel, see, phone or write the nearest Katy employee—for every Katy man and woman is in this fight, eager and anxious to pass on information to proper officials.

NEW LAW GAINS $330,000 IN GAS TAXES IN JUNE

AUSTIN, Aug. 10 — Comptroller George H. Sheppard's gasoline tax enforcement "army" of auditors and auditors created by the legislature last March, recovered the record sum of $330,000 in "missing" gasoline taxes during June, at an expense of but $15,000.

This was the gist of a summary of June activities released to the Texas Cood Roads association today by J. W. McKeen, division chief at the request of the comptroller.

Comptroller Sheppard, stated, saw in the figures "proof" that if the people will help, Texas can save the predicted $4,000,000 a year in gas taxes here-to-for.

"Here's how," the state's gas tax income in February was $307,514 short of the same month a year ago, or nearly 10 per cent. March was almost as bad. Thousands of cars were not being used, and bootleggers were running wild.

Then this new law, making evasion a felony, went into effect March 21. Our staff went to work. In April the decrease over 1932 was very small. In May it had been turned into a small increase. These June figures show we collected $122,370 more gas tax than in June, 1932.

"The motorist nearly always pays this tax at the filling station, whether it's passed on to the state or not. When it's not, the schools, the bond fund, the highways are being robbed. So is the taxpayer who must make up the difference. That's why we are asking the public to look for evaders."

FIFTH ANNUAL FFA CAMP IS BROKEN WED.

Three hundred boys and their teachers broke camp Wednesday after the largest attended and most successful Future Farmers annual encampment of the five which have been held at Lake Cisco.

Vocational teachers held their final conference Wednesday morning at the Cisco Country club. All F. F. A. contests were completed yesterday and prizes awarded at the business session shortly after lunch, which closed the 1933 encampment.

Throughout the three days they were held, an effort was made to have the boys enjoy their stay. Boat rides, a movie matinee, water sports and various other forms of competition were arranged, together with the activities directly connected with the F. F. A. organization.

Each evening there was a general assembly, at which special programs were given. Tuesday evening the F. F. A. boys and a hundred townspeople, heard an address by Ollie E. Webb, assistant to the president of the Texas and Pacific railway. On the Texas program was a thirty minute entertainment by a Cisco orchestra composed of Ernest Hittson, Spurgeon Parks, Lorenzo Parks, Dick Thomas, Harry Schaefer, and H. J. Moyer.

Prizes were awarded to winners in all contests. Sweaters were given to the boys scoring highest in the best Future Farmer and the best agricultural student contests.

"This is undoubtedly the best place to have the encampment," P. G. Haines, state agricultural supervisor, said yesterday. "It certainly has helped us. This has been the biggest camp we have had, and we hope to make it grow each year."

He was enthusiastic in his praise of Lake Cisco as a natural location for the annual encampment and pointed out the advantages of bringing even more boys here in the future. The enrollment this summer jumped to nearly 300, an increase of 125 over last year's number. Each year in the past a larger number of boys has attended than in that preceding.

It was pointed out that there is plenty of space here to take care of the boys that the lake and the swimming offer special inducements to the boys interested in water sports, and that the dam furnishes an excellent camp site, open but protected and free of mosquitoes.

Quartered in Dam The boys were quartered in the hollow sections of the dam, being assigned to their sections in school groups. The kitchen likewise was in the dam.

The swimming pool, during the last three days, has been popular with the boys, whether they were engaged in the water contests, swimming for the fun of it or just watching the water and other swimmers.

Schools from all over West Texas sent boys to camp, 26 different ones being represented. In addition, 30 vocational teachers were here to attend the tri-district conference. Among the notables attending the teachers conference were P. G. Haines and J. B. Rutland, state vocational supervisors, of Austin, and E. R. Alexander and J. C. Dykes, of Texas A. and M. college.

Richland Spring sent 29 boys to the camp. Throckmorton sent 25, the

190 MILLIONS IN BENEFITS ARE HELD UP

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 — Immediate cash payment of $190,000,000 in crop reduction benefits to American farmers was in doubt this week as officials sought to untangle complications arising from an 58-year-old law.

Agricultural adjustment administration officials said if the cash payment were not made on schedule, success of President Roosevelt's farm relief program would be endangered.

Farm credit administration leaders countered with the assertion that much of the $190,000,000 fund should be used to reduce the farmers' $350,000,000 debt to the government.

The law says that the government can pay no money to any individual without deducting what that individual owes the government. Attorney General Cummings prepared a ruling on the statute for presentation to a committee of three.

The committee indicated they would dispose of the dispute within a few days.

The impasse is holding up $100,000,000 in checks prepared for delivery to cotton farmers who promised to reduce their crops. About $90,000,000 more is scheduled to be paid wheat farmers on similar contracts this fall.

MOTOR LOVERS ARE TOLD TO VISIT MEXICO

By MERRILL E. COMPTON United Press Staff Correspondent DALLAS, Aug. 10 — Motor loving North Americans are advised by Michael and Virginia Scully, authors of Grand Rapids, Mich., to explore Mexico.

The Scullys record their experiences in motoring 3,000 miles in the sister republic to the south of Texas in a recent book, "Motorists' Guide to Mexico," published by the South-West Press, Dallas.

"The opening of Mexico's first system of motor highways means the opening of a new world to the American motorist," they write in their introductory chapter. With typical American salesmanship they endeavor to entice the motor tourist in Mexico by answering in this chapter such questions as: "But is it safe?" and "how are the roads?"

Of the former, they write, "we drove about 3,000 miles through the republic in three months. We encountered nothing but friendliness and courtesy, even from traffic police. We witnessed two arrests, both for drunkenness, and these occasions marked our nearest approach to violence and crime."

Answering the latter question, they draw a comparison with present day Mexico and the Mexico of 1925 which they said was then "as inaccessible as Australia to the American motorist." Armed with statistics, they support Mexico's claims to highway development.

Successful in answering these questions they advise with painstaking care the preparations for such a motor tour as their own, or for lesser distances. The problem of clothes, of motoring supplies and of getting about the country after leaving the Rio Grande is amply covered.

To Texans the book has more than customary interest. Texas is next-door neighbor to Mexico. No spot in the state is more than a good day's drive from the Sonora's sugar coast, the entry to Mexico, Nuevo Laredo. For tourists from outside Texas they advise two routes to Nuevo Laredo, either through central Texas via San Antonio to Laredo, or from Houston along the Gulf-coast to Laredo.

REDUCTION BY PLOW-UP PUT AT 4 MILLION

1933 FAILURES COMPARE WITH NORMAL YEARS

AUSTIN, Aug. 10 — The record of commercial failures so far in 1933 compares favorably with that for more "normal" years, according to the University of Texas bureau of business research.

The record for July is certainly noteworthy, for there have been only three cases since 1920 when either liabilities or the number of failures for July were smaller than they have been this year, the bureau's report said.

According to weekly reports to the bureau of business research from Dun and Bradstreet, there were only 41 commercial failures during the five weeks of July, or an average of about eight a week; last year during the five weeks in July, 79 failures were reported.

Liabilities reported during July amounted to $72,690, with two firms having liabilities over $100,000, the report continued. Last year in July total liabilities reported by 70 bankruptcies were $2,595,000, and seven firms had liabilities over $100,000. Average liabilities per failure amounted to $17,844 during July, only 6 per cent greater than the average of $16,888 for June, and less than half the average liabilities reported for July a year ago, $37,071.

There was available to creditors on the basis of the book value of assets of 53 cents on the dollar as compared with 41 cents in June and 43 cents in July last year.

"Of the total failures reported, seven were groceries and meat markets, six were drug stores, five were women's specialty shops, and two each of men's shops, dry goods stores, general stores, manufacturers, and produce merchants."

Judkins to Head County Repeal Drive

EASTLAND, August 10. — Frank Judkins of Eastland will be chairman of a campaign to be put on in Eastland county by the Texas Liberal Legion for the repeal of the 18th amendment to the federal constitution and to legalize the sale of 3.2 beer in Texas. This announcement was made by Lecher King of Abilene, who is chairman of the 24th senatorial district.

Further announcements regarding the campaign will be made soon by Chairman Judkins.

JURY BLAMES THIEVING UPON CRIMINAL RING

The grand jury for the 91st judicial district, reporting to Judge George L. Davenport Saturday, charged that an alarming amount of thievery has been found to be going on in the county with evidences of an organized ring.

The grand jury, in session seven days, reported it had examined 147 witnesses and had returned 77 indictments, 74 of which charged felonies.

"We desire to point out," said the jury report, "to the court, and to the public in general that we have found an alarming amount of stealing going on in our county, some of it of the petty variety, and quite a bit of an even more serious nature; there is evidence of an organized criminal ring operating in this respect, and their depredations have been many and serious. In this connection we desire to state that our officers charged with the enforcement of the law have been and are doing all within their power to cope with this situation. However, the thefts are so numerous and of such a serious nature that we desire to point out that it will be necessary for the citizenship to lend their hearty cooperation and assistance in helping to stamp out both by giving the officers all the information they possibly can, and by doing their duty when called upon for jury service, this alarming situation with reference to crimes of this character."

"We wish to commend District Attorney Gray Owen, for his able assistance to us, and to thank him for his untiring efforts in presenting testimony before us. We wish also to thank Virge Foster, sheriff, and his deputies, and the grand jury jurors, all of whom have assisted us in every way possible.

The report was signed by D. C. Hazlewood as foreman and R. E. Sizak as secretary.

ELECTION MAY BE CALLED ON NEXT MONDAY

The county commissioners court will probably order a local option election in Eastland county for August 26, coincident with the statewide election on 32 beer and repeal of the 18th amendment, when it meets Monday, County Judge Clyde L. Garrett informed the Daily News Tuesday.

The court has not been in session for two weeks. The meeting next Monday, he said, will bring the call within the requirements of the law to hold the election on the 26th.

MID-WEST GETS ROYAL RUSSIAN ART TREASURES

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Art treasures collected by the imperial family of Russia through the centuries rapidly are being dispersed in the small towns of the United States, particularly the middle west.

Items, which once were in the Czarina's chambers in the Winter palace now have in living rooms in Racine, Wis., and Lansing, Mich. A diamond ring owned by the Czarina now is owned by a woman in Fargo, N. D. Rare goblets from which Catherine the Great once drank beverages considerably stronger than 32 now contain iced tea when used on porches in Evanville, Ind., and Independence, Mo.

And many an evening gown, which will be worn this winter in dozens of towns throughout the middle west will be made of rare gold and silver brocade which once was a vestment for a priest in one of the royal churches.

Even intimate articles of wearing apparel of the royal family embroidered with the monograms of the former owners have found their way to appreciative owners.

These treasures from the five palaces in which the royal family spent part of each year, have been collected by Dr. Armand Hammer and are being exhibited in Chicago, coincident with the Century of Progress.

That this exhibit is vying with the fair in interest is shown by a check of the visitors.

"An amazing thing to us," Dr. Hammer said, "is the interest the exhibit has aroused in women from the smaller rural towns. It appeals to their romanticism.

Here they find stability in seeing how these art works have existed in spite of the great changes in Russian life and government. The new owners cherish these possessions and they shall be preserved for many generations," Dr. Hammer said.

The midwest is not alone in its interest in these relics of the past. Orders for cloths and objects d'art have come from Maine, Oregon and Florida.

FT. WORTH GIRL CAN NOW HEAR FOR FIRST TIME

FORT WORTH, Aug. 10.—It is a queer world to Miss Dorris Morrow, attractive Fort Worth girl, since she can hear.

For the first time she can remember Miss Morrow is able to hear sounds. This through the aid of an instrument. She had been deaf since she was a year old.

She is now learning to associate sounds with objects but at first the noise of a passing automobile, a factory whistle or a song meant nothing to her, other than sound vibrations in her ears.

Her own voice even surprised her. It sounded terrible the first time she heard it, she said, and she threw her hands over her ears.

Recognizing her own name by sound was one of her biggest difficulties.

Word that she used in her own speech meant nothing to her orally. She is an expert lip reader and through that medium she began to associate words and sounds.

Miss Morrow never has used the sign language. In several years at special schools she was taught how to operate her vocal cords so that she could speak. Her language is remarkably accurate.

She finished her high school course in public school here in 1930 with excellent standing. Before entering school here she spent eight years in the Central Institute for deaf in St.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER IV

EVE sat at the desk in her hotel room until nearly dawn, writing a letter to Dick. After her unpleasant experience with Theron Reese in the taxicab she longed for the safety and contentment she always felt in Dick's presence.

In the letter she did not mention any of her companions except Freda Carter.

Freda left the next evening after a day in which she and Eve were extremely busy. They dined together and Freda asked Eve to call at her apartment after she returned to Lake City.

For the rest of the week Eve devoted herself to work but in spite of this preoccupation she was worried. No word had come from Dick. Freda would not allow her to call him by long distance, though she hungered for the sound of his voice. Each night she wrote him a long letter, pouring out her love.

After Freda's departure Eve felt the need of companionship and called on Irene Prentiss. They had been classmates in high school. Freda had gone to New York immediately following graduation and now, after five years of marriage, was still working in the office of a financial magazine where she had begun as stenographer. Today, however, she was assistant editor of that journal.

Irene appeared with several galley proofs in her hand. Eve thought she looked tired and a bit worn. Irene seemed glad to see her but explained that it was press day. Eve realized she should have telephoned to learn when it would be convenient for her to call. Evidently New York business offices were not so informal as those in Lake City.

They went to lunch together but it was a hasty meal at a nearby restaurant. Irene wore a dark fur jacket that Eve admired.

"It's really dyed hunny," the other admitted. "The difference between this and the sable I coveted went into stocks. I'm playing the market, darling, and it's the most exciting thing I ever did. I didn't need much to start; I pyramid. You must let me give you some tips!"

LATER she invited Eve to ride along with her for dinner and at five o'clock they met. Eve was immediately thrown into a seething mass of humanity homeward bound via the subway.

Elsworth Prentiss, Freda's husband, was an instructor in a private school and each afternoon arrived home an hour or so before his wife returned from the office. He usually started preparations for their dinner.

CRAZY WATER MINERAL

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 10.—A total of $199,620 was the ransom paid for the release of Charles Urschel, multimillionaire, it was learned today.

This is the largest tribute ever exacted and paid to secure the release of a victim of kidnapers in America, officials said.

marriage. She waited now, expecting an apology or at least an explanation, but none came.

"Who was he?" Eve's voice was pitched a note too high but she managed to keep it steady. Dick did not answer her question. He was simply being exasperating; making her be explicit. Very well!

"Who was the man you met at the station?" she repeated.

"Joe Casper."

"I've never heard you mention him. Is he a friend of yours?"

"He's the timekeeper on the job."

"And the girls—who were they?"

"They answered to the names of Peggy and Babe."

"I didn't know you liked that sort of girls."

"What sort?"

"Oh, the kind who picks up a straggler and lets him call her by her first name right from the start."

"So that's it! Well, you're wrong. Those girls are harmless enough. Casper's engaged to Peggy if that reassures you."

"Where did you go after you put me on the train?"

"To the Merry-go-round." Dick answered frankly. The Merry-go-round was Lake City's best known night club.

EVE considered this. "And I suppose the girls went too?" she asked.

"Yes—of course." Dick was obviously irritated.

"A perfect frame-up!" Eve accused.

"Now, see here, Eve!" Dick exploded, "it was entirely an accident that Joe happened to see me there. I didn't know I was going to the station at that time and you know it!"

"But the fact remains that on our wedding night you went out to have a good time with someone else!"

"Well, what did you expect me to do, home and cry?"

"But, you had all those evenings!" Eve sputtered. "I suppose you were too busy with Joe Casper's friends—"

"And that will be that!" Dick said with emphasis.

Silence. Then, with head high, Eve went to the bathroom to bathe her eyes with witch hazel and repair her complexion.

When she reappeared she smiled at Dick wistfully. He held out his arms and she slipped into them. Eve whispered coarsely. "Just how did my darling spend his evenings last week?"

With a snort of impatience Dick withdrew his arms, turned and walked to the window. Then he said, "Looking for an apartment, of course."

"This one is perfect," Eve assured him. "I'm sure we'll never tire of it."

Dick was silent. Obviously something was wrong. Eve made another attempt.

"It was a terrible thing for me to do, I know," she conceded. "I don't believe any girl ever had such a situation to face on her wedding day. I'm sure no one ever had so unsatisfactory a honeymoon."

Dick turned and her pent-up expression quite melted him.

"That wasn't our honeymoon," he answered huskily. "We're beginning our honeymoon now."

But the little quarrel marred the happiness of Eve's homecoming. It erected a barrier of resentment and distrust between them that did not disappear.

DAUGHTER OF FAMED COMMONER IS U. S. MINISTER TO DENMARK

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another of a series describing the work of important feminine officeholders in the administration of President Roosevelt.

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 — Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, shake chamer, torch singer and legislator, is America's first woman envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to a foreign country.

She now is established in the United States legation at Copenhagen, Denmark, where a newspaper called her Denmark's "girl friend."

The handsome daughter of William Jennings Bryan gained her election to Congress from Florida. She had invited a scientist to a congressional committee hearing to testify about wild life in the mysterious Everglades, where Mrs. Owen wanted a national park established.

The scientist brought a five foot king snake for purposes of illustration. The congressmen looked fearfully upon the reptile as it coiled upon the green-covered committee table.

Mrs. Owen boldly picked up the snake and coiled it around her neck. Fear in congressional breasts subsided.

She thus revealed herself as the true daughter of the "Great Commoner," who often saved similar situations by a bit of showmanship.

Mrs. Bryan is a tall, striking woman, who lived a life of adventure all over the world—in Britain, Egypt, South Africa, who has raised a family of four talented children, and who entered politics in the steps of her father as another outlet for her abilities and her energies. She is an accomplished pianist and a singer of topical songs, including the "hot and low down" ones. She trained a group of British soldier-actors during the world war. They entertained their comrades in Egypt, when Mrs. Owen was there with her late husband. He was in the King's army which fought at Gallipoli and later went into Palestine.

The feminine minister first became acquainted with Denmark in the summer of 1931 when she made a tour of that country in the motor Pullman which she had used for her Florida congressional campaigns.

She made the traditional Fourth of July speech at Rebid Park, a wild moorland in Jutland, given to Denmark by a group of Danish-Americans. She met during her journey many of the officials of Denmark, including the foreign minister and his wife, who is a member of parliament.

As a thoroughgoing feminist she is particularly grateful for Denmark's "extremely civilized attitude" toward women, for its extraordinary work in decreasing infant mortality and for its record of international peace.

Although Mrs. Owen has known the President and Mr. Roosevelt only since 1930, she was one of his most ardent campaigners. As a professional lecturer, public speaking teacher, and dramatic orator, she was credited with doing much to help Mr. Roosevelt's election.

Her appointment as minister to Denmark followed, not only because she was a good democrat, but because the President believed she would acquit herself well in Copenhagen.

Parent-Teachers to Discuss Plans for Mobilizing School Support in September

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 — Definite plans for mobilizing public support for closed schools will be considered by the leaders of the National congress of Parents and Teachers at their semi-annual meeting here Sept. 18-21.

Concern of parents and teachers over the plight of schools is intensified by the outlook that many public schools will open their doors much later than usual this fall, or fail to open at all.

Must Keep Up Standard
According to present plans, parent-teacher associations throughout the country will make every effort to arouse citizens to the need of maintaining educational standards. Citizens' councils have been formed under parent-teacher auspices to study education needs and to promote the idea that education is the responsibility of all citizens, regardless of whether they are parents or teachers or not.

Financing of public schools to assure adequate educational opportunity to all children is viewed by P. T. A. workers as one of the most pressing problems confronting the nation today.

Business Won't Finance
"It is not to be expected that education will be properly financed by a word largely devoted to business and which has no appreciation of education ideals or methods," said Mrs. Hugh Bradford, president of the national congress. "One of our past purposes in the parent-teacher association has been to draw together into our conference leaders in all walks of life that they may better appreciate education."

Publications on the organization and administration of parent-teacher work will be distributed by the National conference of Parents and Teachers during the month of August, to guide parent-teacher associations in the work in the schools next year, the body announced.

Reach for a Lucky — for always Luckies Please!

A woman's reason for liking a man's cigarette

Maybe you'll think I'm a bit inconsistent. Most things I'm fond of are really quite feminine... dainty, frilly frocks—delicate deserts—yes, and delicate compliments, too. To me my cigarette is a personal thing—it touches my lips—so give me one with real character. For some reason or other, I find that whenever I reach for a Lucky, always "Luckies Please". They're as mild and pure as can be—I wonder if "Toasting" isn't the reason after all!

because "It's toasted"

'Passive Revolution' of Cubans Continues Unabated

STATE OF WAR PROCLAMATION POSTED TODAY

BULLETIN. WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Cuban Ambassador Cintas spent two hours in conference with secretary of State Hull today and afterwards made plans to return to Havana, focal point of the strife in Cuba.

HAVANA, Cuba, Aug. 10.—Cuba's passive revolution, in defiance of the martial law and the power of arms behind President Machado, continued unabated today.

A bomb exploded at a street intersection killing a passerby. Another bomb damaged property but caused no casualties.

The general strike which has cut off the city's supply of milk, bread, meat and other necessities of life, is still in full force and hunger is rampant throughout the city. The presidential proclamation declaring a state of war was posted this morning. It gave "participants in seditious movements" 24 hours from the time for signing of the decree to deliver arms and munitions to the authorities. Civil authorities are relinquishing their authority to the military as soon as disturbances occur in any locality, the proclamation said.

REPLY TO PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE AWAITED. WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—The state department today was expecting momentarily a reply from Cuban Ambassador Cintas to the proposals for restoring peace in Cuba offered last night by President Roosevelt. It was understood the Roosevelt appeal still contained the problem in the original plan for Machado's retirement.

Band to Play at Lake Cisco Tonight

The Rev. P. T. Stanford, who, at this time, was the pastor of the First Methodist church here, will be in charge of this evening at 8 o'clock at the Side Baptist church with Rev. A. Newsome, a Baptist minister of Oklahoma City, for a prohibition rally.

These two men have been speaking four times daily and will continue to do so until August 26. They will be in the Cisco territory today, Friday and possibly Sunday. A. Newsome, when a very small boy, was captured by the Indians and his father and mother were killed. He will wear costume of an Indian chief, and will tell a thrilling story this evening of his life among the Indian people. Everybody is invited, and especially all those who are interested in the great cause of prohibition.

3,541,000 BALES TEXAS COTTON CROP ESTIMATE

AUSTIN, Aug. 10.—The condition of the cotton crop in Texas is 71 per cent of normal, as estimated by the United States bureau of agricultural economics. This would give an estimated yield of 153 younds to the acre.

This yield, applied to the indicated 11,065,000 acreage for harvest, places the total production at 3,541,000 bales. This is the smallest production since 1922.

The acreage for harvest was secured by subtracting from the July 1 acreage the probable removal of 10-year average abandonment to the remaining area. Indications are that this year's Texas harvested acreage will be the smallest since 1909 when only 9,900,000 acres were harvested. This is caused by the large acreage that is being destroyed under the federal crop reduction plan. The 10-year average condition and yield are 66 per cent and 136 pounds, respectively.

The number of bolls reported safe per plant is larger this year than any year during the last five years, and while the stand is reported as slightly less than that of 1932, it is better than that of any other year since 1924, with the exception of 1926. Indications are that if usual weather prevails during the rest of the season boll weevil damage will be the smallest since 1925.

For the United States a crop of 12,314,000 is indicated from a condition of 74.2 per cent normal. The yield is placed at 198.4 pounds per acre. The estimated acreage to be harvested is 29,704,000 acres.

NEGRO HUNTED AS SLAYER OF YOUNG WOMAN

BROOKSHIRE, Tex., Aug. 10.—A negro cotton picker was hunted throughout this region today as a suspect in the slaying of Elsie Jones, 22, farmer's daughter, victim of a brutal beating.

Sheriff Lawrence, of Waller county, said the negro, Marshall Lang, was cornered last night in a thicket but escaped the large posse which sought him.

The sheriff said he and members of the girl's family had good reason to suspect the negro and believed revenge was the motive.

The young woman, who lived with her parents on a farm seven miles west of here, is believed to have been beaten to death last night and her body thrown into a creek.

The justice of peace held an inquest and returned a verdict of "death at the hands of Marshall Lang."

LEWIS ASSAILS ATTEMPTS FOR CODE FAVORS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Business interests which seek to gain special advantages from the national recovery act were assailed today by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, at the second day of the hearing on proposed codes for the bituminous coal industry.

Lewis appeared to present labor's side of a code devised at conferences here last month with operators of unionized mines in 14 states.

"More and more the framing of codes is a matter of bickering and bartering of surrendering just as little as possible and grasping as much as possible," he said. "They appear to have become unconscious of the precarious condition of our entire economic system, and to be suffering from the delusion that we are on our way back to the conditions which prevailed in the summer of 1929."

"This is a delusion which, if permitted to continue, will result in the economic suicide of those who are the victims of it and at the same time in destruction to their more enlightened contemporaries."

"COST RECOVERY" PRINCIPLE ADVANCED

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Embodiment of a new principle in business—cost recovery—in the controversial oil code would place the industry on a sound prosperity basis, Henry M. Dawes, president of the Pure Oil company, said here today.

Dawes issued his statement after reading dispatches from Washington announcing temporary effectiveness of a scale of wages and hours for the industry under the NRA.

"The inability of members of the industry to agree among themselves and with the administration is due more to the lack of understanding of the difference between the principles of price-fixing and cost recovery than it is to the divergence of interest," Dawes said.

Wheat Production Estimate Is Low

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—The agriculture department today estimated the 1933 wheat production at 499,671,000 bushels, as compared with 726,000,000 last year and an average of from 1926 to 1930, inclusive, of 861,000,000 bushels.

Farmer Held in Prisoner's Killing

BULLETIN. TEMPLE, Aug. 10.—Charges of murder were filed here today against Will Fewell, Belton farmer in connection with the slaying of H. D. Thompson. He made bond of $5,000 and was released.

The aged prisoner was killed when a blast from a shot gun protruding from the rear window of a fast-traveling automobile struck him in the chest and shoulders. He died instantly.

Qualifying for the annual Cisco Country club's golf tournament, due to be completed August 18 is proceeding slowly in spite of the fact that registrations for the tournament are coming in satisfactorily. Team Captain O. V. Cunningham said today.

So far only 10, including club champion Bill McMahon who is automatically qualified for the top flight, have turned in their scores out of the 30 who have registered for the tournament.

These are: O. V. Cunningham, 70; Homer Slicker, 74; P. L. Cagle, 82; W. C. McDaniel, 91; C. E. Pace, 93; O. J. Russell, 93; W. H. McNeely, 94; J. W. Thomas, Sr., 96; Frank Thomas, 96.

State Officials Are Rotary Club Guests

Asst. Attorney General V. Earl Earp, of Austin; Mr. Paxton, of the comptroller's department, Fort Worth, and Mr. Shoemaker, of Waco, an insurance company official, were guests of the Cisco Rotary club today noon and spoke briefly. Forrest Wright, member host to the trio, introduced them.

The program for the day was in charge of R. N. Cluck and Dr. E. L. Graham. It consisted of entertainment by two negro men, a pianist and a tap-dancer.

After numbers by these two Mr. Cluck asked Mr. Wright to present his guests for brief talks.

SUM LARGEST EVER EXACTED BY KIDNAPERS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 10.—A total of $199,620 was the ransom paid kidnapers for the release of Charles Urschel, multimillionaire, it was learned today.

This is the largest tribute ever exacted and paid to secure the release of a victim of kidnapers in America, officials said.

The serial numbers of 9,981 $20 bills, identified as ransom in kidnaping cases, without mentioning the Urschel case specifically, were in the hands of bank officials in various parts of the country today.

The confidential information was sent to all banks by J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the United States bureau of investigation at Washington.

Although Hoover did not mention the Urschel kidnaping, all the bills were from the tenth federal reserve bank of Kansas City, the same as those recovered at St. Paul and identified as Urschel ransom money.

MODEL BILL TO CONFORM TEXAS LAWS IS SENT

By RAYMOND BROOKS. A model bill, aimed to serve as a basis for statutes to conform state laws to the national recovery program's purposes, has been sent by Gen. Hugh Johnson, national administrator, to Gov. Ferguson.

Basin of this bill seems to be its authority for economic retaliation. This is embodied in a section that proposes:

"Any person subject to and complying with the terms . . . of any code of fair competition . . . of any attorney, may institute a suit to prevent and restrain any violation of any provision hereof."

The next section proposes that "while this act is in effect, and for 60 days thereafter, any code of fair competition, agreement, or license issued under terms of the national recovery act, and any action complying with the provisions thereof . . . SHALL BE EXEMPT FROM THE ANTI-TRUST LAWS OF THIS STATE, or any court order or decree issued thereunder."

The first section is a form for the legislature's delegating power to the governor, and a declaration of emergency conditions. The delegation clause would authorize the governor "to consent to the president utilizing state and local officers and employees in effectuating the policies of the national recovery act."

Needs Revising. This section would need revising for Texas since the governor originally exercised all the powers necessary for law enforcement, and the constitution forbids the delegations of legislative functions.

The bill prohibits any person or corporation from refusing to comply with any code of fair competition, agreement or license, that has been approved. Then penalty clause provides a $500 fine for each day of violation of any code, agreement or license.

Another section provides any public official, state, municipal or otherwise, shall be prohibited from letting any contract for public works to any person or firm subject to a code of fair competition, who fails to comply and to use only articles and materials, produced and manufactured and supplied by others subject to and complying with the codes and agreements.

The bill is limited to expire June 16, 1935, or sooner if the president or congress abrogates the national emergency decrees.

FARM BONUS IMPASSE.

Farmers who read disappointment in the news that a 58-year-old federal statute has put immediate cash payment of $190,000,000 in crop reduction benefits to farmers in doubt should not become unduly alarmed. The statute that has brought the distribution of checks to cotton and wheat farmers to a sudden halt and put farm recovery administration officials to head-scratching provides that the federal government shall not make payment to any person owing the government without first deducting the amount of the individual's debt to the government. Farmers of the nation are said to owe the United States $350,000,000, representing crop production loans and various other emergency credits extended during the past few years to help the growers of things out of the ditch. A great many of the cotton and wheat farmers now due benefits for crop reduction are debtors to the government and should the old statute be literally and harshly enforced would be denied any part of the bonus until the debt due the government is paid.

But, the fact that confronts the Roosevelt administration in this instance is that unless the crop reduction program now under way is successful the whole program of agricultural recovery will fail with dire consequences for the rest of the national recovery campaign. If the farmers are denied the benefits they were promised, the government's appeal for further cooperation will be a futile gesture. President Roosevelt can be depended upon to find some direct way out of the dilemma. He has disposed of more difficult questions before with a forthright action that provided amazement for the very simplicity of the solution. He can be counted upon to dispose of the present difficulty. It would not be surprising to discover, thereafter, that what was a mountain to his subordinates was merely a little hill, adequately taken care of in the emergency legislation that provided authority for the whole recovery program.

SOVEREIGNTY AND NATIONAL EMERGENCY.

A profound comment has been made by a student of government.

"You ask me," he said, "if this proposed recovery legislation would be held constitutional. The answer is that it would be, even by the same court that two years ago would have been inclined to find the whole matter without constitutional basis."

That recognizes the national emergency status, extending to state cooperation.

Instead of being a slap at the courts, this was construed as a tribute to their performance of their function of furthering and vitalizing the government of state and nation.

Governments arise out of the needs of a people; and those needs are expressed, at a pace measuring public necessities or emergencies, in the will of government. A court, disregarding the needs of a people by thwarting the will of government, would set itself over against the government, and cut itself off from the only source of its power, that controlled by the government.

So, this student of government concluded, legislation, state and national, to help untangle the economic situation, will be construed sympathetically in the light of needs and purpose, rather than in a harsh formalistic adherence to the ritual of tradition, or the letter of outworn statutes.

A CONTESTANT PROCESS.

Just now, Texas is told that its highway-building program for the year will be bunched all in one big group of $24,000,000 emergency federal spending out of the public works appropriation by congress.

It is true that most of the work for early months will be on this emergency basis. An average of $4 per capita for each county has not been allotted from this fund.

But that is not by any means the whole story of highway improvements in Texas. If it were, there could be no excuse for half the four cent per gallon gasoline tax.

The state is in this situation. Past highway work, speeded up all possible to meet earlier needs, has pledged all prospective state highway revenues to Sept. 1.

On Sept. 1 a new state fiscal year begins. Each month the state will receive something like $2,400,000 of gasoline tax revenues. One-fourth this goes to the schools; one-fourth to the fund to pay off outstanding county and district road bonds. The other $1,200,000 per month goes into the highway fund. It will be applied to the maintenance, construction and operation of the highway system. Maintenance will claim nearly half of it. The operation of the highway department is paid for out of highway revenues. The remainder will be available for road-building purposes.

The highway commission has made this clear, in telling county delegations that work not taken care of in the federal emergency allotment will be held back for future consideration when new state money has accumulated.

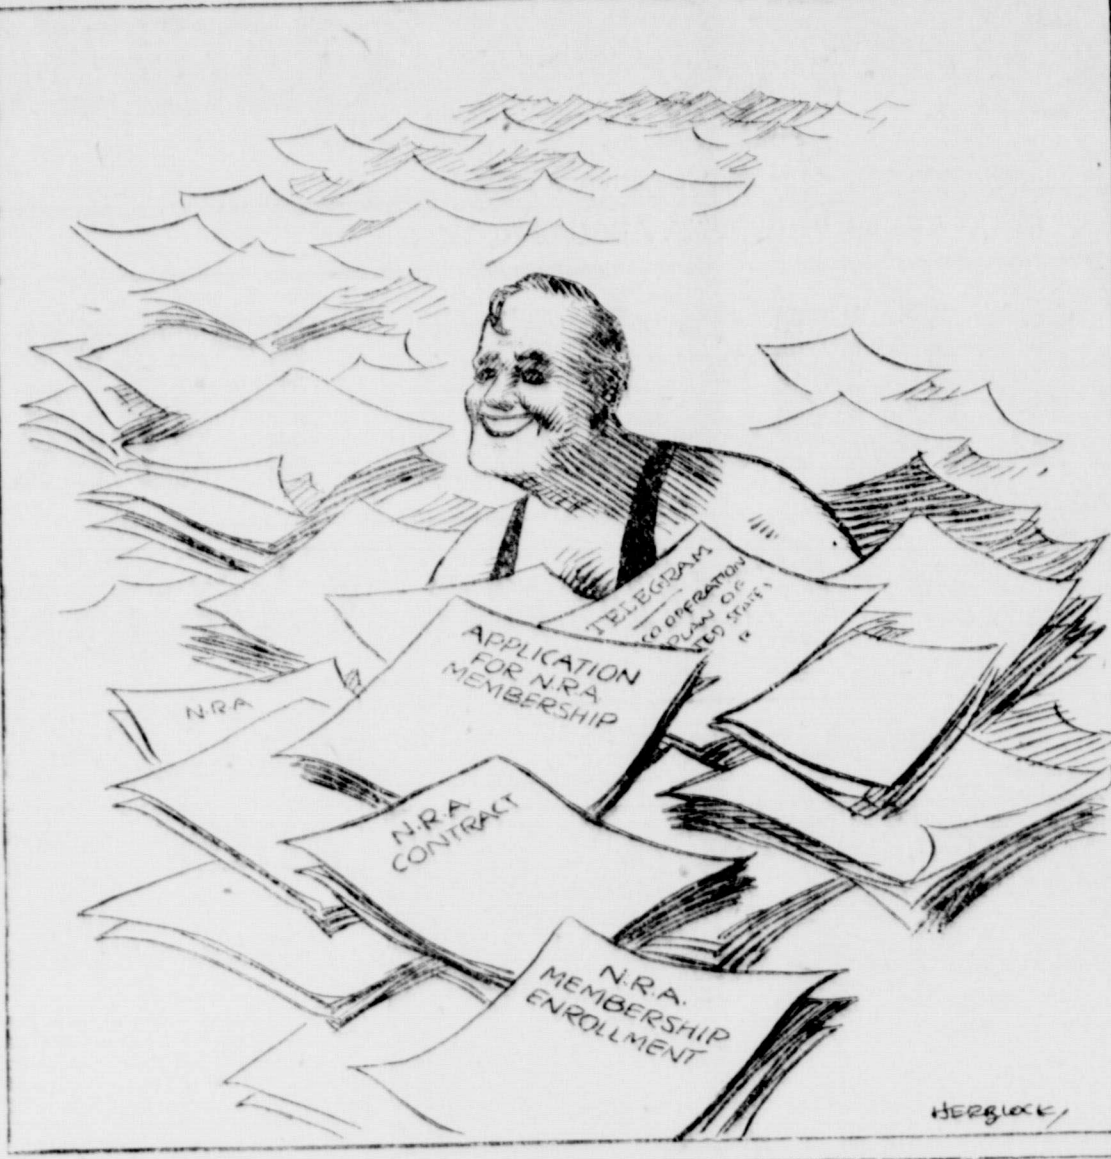

There will be other highway construction during the next 12 months, just as highway-building has been a constant process through all the years since Texans have paid for it in the gasoline tax.

NEW ARGUMENT FOR SALES TAX.

In the drive started at Austin last week for passing some kind of a sales tax bill in September, a new argument was used in marshalling support for this tax plan.

If the group only were to consider "ad valorem tax relief," or "study needs for taxation," it was pointed out, at once the militant opposition of the production-tax payers, the anti-income tax forces and payers of franchise taxes would be enlisted. But with the assurance that the group of legislators and state and local officials were working only for the sales tax, and its theoretical spread of the burden to the consumers, it was claimed that all those other interests, assured of exemption in the contest, would be tacitly or openly enlisted in support. This idea prevailed, and the group pledged itself to the real object for which it was called, to boom the sales tax idea for speedy action in September.

New Set of Laws Added to Texas Statutes Aug. 30.

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, August 10 — A new set of laws will be added to Texas statutes August 30 with the expiration of the 90-day enacting period for acts passed by the 43rd legislature.

Greater liberty is provided by most of the new laws but some will restrict citizens.

For instance, wild flower pickers who have loaded their cars with shrubbery, wild flowers, moss and branches taken from countryside, must beware. No longer may they invade the enclosed land of another without permission nor property set aside by the state as a park or animal preserve. Unfenced private property still may be invaded. Violations are punishable by fine ranging from $1 to $10. Children under 17 may pick wild flowers at will.

After four years' restriction lovers get a break. The "gin marriage law" will be repealed in part. No longer will it be necessary to file "intentions to wed" three days in advance of issuance of a marriage license.

Prize Fighting Legalized
Prize fighting banned in the state since 1895 becomes legal under regulations. Parimutuel wagering at licensed race tracks, without posting of odds, will be permitted September 1. If the vote is favorable on revision of state prohibition, 32 beer sales will be legal after September 15.

Oil regulation violations are made punishable under a law becoming effective August 30 and after that date tapping of a tank or pipe line containing oil will be punishable by a penalty of one to five years imprisonment. Oiltax changes from two per cent of value to two cents a barrel when oil is worth less than 11 a barrel.

With the passing of the 90th day following the last legislature owners of natural gas wells in fields of 300-600 acres may use the gas for extracting gasoline if no other market is made available.

Spanish may be taught in elementary schools in counties along the Mexican border with cities of more than 5,000 and Latin and Greek may be taught in high schools. College tuition fees are raised and students from other states will be required to pay the same fees charged Texas students in their home states. Abolition of teacher institutes to save money is authorized.

Stronger Labor Laws
Labor laws becoming effective strengthen the penalty clause in the old law against employment of women more than nine hours a day or 54 hours a week; require payment of prevailing local wage on public work; and prescribe fees for barber examinations and shop inspections. Corporations are barred from practicing law by a statute limiting practice to natural persons; court pro-

150 New Charters Issued in July

AUSTIN, Aug. 10 — New corporations numbering 150 received charters from the secretary of state during the month of July. These new corporations had authorized capital stock of $3,256,790, the highest total for any month since last December, and substantially above the total for the 145 new firms incorporated last July, $2,723,000, according to the University of Texas bureau of business research.

Eight of the companies had authorized capital stock of $100,000 or more, the highest total since January, while 59 were capitalized at less than $5,000.

Merchandising firms accounted for 337 of the new corporations, 31 were oil companies, and 33 were manufacturers. The highest number of manufacturing concerns receiving charters was unusually high.

Permits to operate in Texas were granted to 26 out-of-state corporations, as compared with 24 in June and 22 in July a year ago.

cedure is changed by law extending the time of life judgments; lunacy case jurors are cut to a $1 fee; building up large fee bills by filing many charges involved in one transaction is curbed by arithmetical curbing of minors with court consent; companies operating in the state on permits are required to designate an agent upon whom legal service may be made; salaries of court reporters are set at from $2,400 to $2,700 to be determined by the judge.

A physical restoration service for crippled children is made the duty of a division of the state department of education. The state tax board and state tax commissioner are given additional duties in collection of inheritance taxes and intangible taxes on oil pipe lines.

Prison Industry
The state prison board is authorized to set up machinery in the prisons to manufacture automobile number plates and to take out workmen's insurance for prison truck injuries. The highway commission is authorized to erect bridges over the Texas and Louisiana intracoastal canal, and to exchange land for road purposes.

Life insurance companies are given increased power to invest in title abstract plants. Ginners are freed from the bonds heretofore required. Use of second hand materials in batteries sold without being marked "rebuilt" is made punishable by fine or jail sentence.

Requirement of medical examinations before issuance of mutual insurance policies for over $500 is abolished. The narcotics law is corrected to make enforcement of the prohibition against marijuana enforceable.

Licensing of game breeders by the state game department is authorized.

A code fixing dimensions of the state flag and methods of its display becomes effective.

Appropriations become effective September 1. Acts reducing salaries of county commissioners and limiting fees of other county officers become effective January 1. An act combining the offices of county tax assessor and county tax collector becomes effective Jan. 1, 1935.

Through the Editor's Spectacles

By GEORGE

Some folk who waste time on this column got the impression from what I said about visiting my parents in Louisiana recently that I am a Louisiana native. I want to correct that impression, not because I am entitled to any credit for choosing Texas as the state of my birth, for I had no choice in the matter, but simply because I don't want to do Huey Long's dominion any further injustice. I don't give a darn what happens to Huey Long, but I can be polite about it, anyway.

To dispose of the matter in short order I shall explain that I was born in Collin county, Texas, at a wide-place-in-the-road called Westminster, on a certain day in March of a certain year in the Twentieth century. I was born of parents both of whom are native Texans, which makes me double-dyed in the matter of Lone Star nativity.

Though I didn't have any choice in the selection of a state in which to be born, I think that my forebears made a mighty good selection. I am sure that native Louisianians, and Oklahomans, and Arkansans, and even Californians are equally attached to their birthplaces. Not knowing anything about those states except what I read and what I have seen on occasional excursions from native soil, I unprepared to defend or even enumerate their good points. So far as I am concerned Texas has enough to make it the ideal state.

None of us natives, however, has any right to boast of his heritage of land. We just happened to be lucky that's all. We didn't have anything to do with the selection. On the contrary we just wandered around in an infinitude of nothingness until luck picked our particular life germs out of the unknown and gave them form and being. We haven't any more right to boast of being born in Texas than the genius has the right to boast of his brains or the pretty woman the right to boast of her face and figure. Neither of these had any part in choosing the characteristics of which he or she is so proud. It is quite true that each is entitled to credit for developing, training or improving the talent, but I'm speaking of being boastful of mere possession. Instead of being uppity over a good brain, or a good face, a good pair of legs or of being born in a particular and favored area of God's greenhouse of living we ought to be thankful and proud to the extent that we make the best use of what we've got.

Anyway, I'm glad I wasn't born in Louisiana.

What Kentucky home-grown tobacco, a set of golf clubs and the company of such wags as R. L. Ponsler and T. C. Williams can do to a good man is well illustrated in the case of Homer Slicker. Homer's attributes all point to a pretty decent sort of citizen but the above combination has so interfered with nature's effort to do well with this particular item of human clay that the result is a bird who will sit on the edge of a green and "guy" a fellow golfer in the middle of the most important stroke of his career.

There ought to be a law.

I say this for the benefit of noxious who come after me:

When approaching the nine holes of the Cisco Country club for an afternoon with Mr. Par be careful to scrutinize the scene. If anywhere there is the sight of a figure, dropped languorously on the edge of a green or a tee, drawing patterns in the dirt with a golf stick, refrain from starting your play until the figure has vanished.

It's Mr. Homer Slicker just waiting to spoil your whole afternoon. It cost me five strokes to discover this fact yesterday.

Natural GAS Remains Your Lowest Priced Domestic Servant

PRICES are going up. So say the newspapers and business experts . . . so say the price tags in the stores. Food, clothing, commodities in general, are moving steadily to higher levels to meet changing conditions.

But Natural Gas Service, always your lowest priced domestic servant considering the value received, remains at its same modest price level. Instead of advancing to keep pace with other costs, it now becomes by comparison an even greater value than before.

Yes, you can still cook a dinner for three people, make 33 cups of coffee, or operate a gas refrigerator from 8 to 10 hours for a gas cost of only ONE CENT for each of these operations, because Natural Gas Service remains your lowest priced domestic servant!

Back of the blue flame at your gas burner are 4,000 miles of interconnected pipe line, 51 gas fields, and a trained organization . . . to enable you to have hot water for ten baths for only 5 cents.

Frankly and Directly I Appeal to the People of Texas

An emergency faces our railroad—YOUR railroad—and Texans have ever risen in defense of their own

From the beginning of Texas history, courage, a spirit of independence and the willingness to fight for their home institutions have been born to Texas people.

That institution is the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Lines. Whether the Katy made the state or the state made the Katy is not important now.

Texas people have loyally patronized the Katy Lines through the years, with an appreciation that this railroad has gratefully acknowledged by its almost superhuman efforts to improve and humanize service, reduce rates and provide the finest facilities and equipment in America.

Now, in a time of stress, the long and splendid relationship between Texas people and Texas railroad is threatened by economic conditions. The independence of spirit and action which has made the Katy what it is for the benefit of her people, is at stake.

In such an emergency, the Katy, father and child of Texas, turns for support and cooperation to the generations of her people descended from those hardy pioneers who gathered to cheer the first Katy train to cross her prairies on that memorable day in December, 1873.

The Katy now seeks every ounce of freight, every passenger moving in its territory. It makes this appeal frankly, boldly, bluntly—

You can do three things. First, ship your freight via Katy—ride our trains. Second, use your influence on every hand to boost the Katy, opportunities are constantly presenting. Third, when you hear about movements of freight or know of people who intend to travel, see, phone or write the nearest Katy employee—for every Katy man and woman is in this fight, eager and anxious to pass on information to proper officials.

NEW LAW GAINS $330,000 IN GAS TAXES IN JUNE

AUSTIN, Aug. 10.—Comptroller George H. Sheppard's gasoline tax enforcement "army" of detectives and auditors, created by the legislature last March, recovered the record sum of $330,000 in "missing" gasoline taxes during June, at an expense of but $15,000.

This was the first of a summary of June activities released to the Texas Good Roads association today by J. W. McReynolds, division chief at the request of the comptroller.

Comptroller Sheppard, elated, saw in the figures "proof" that if the people will help, Texas can save the predicted $4,000,000 a year in gas taxes heretofore stolen.

"Consider what this means to the taxpayers," the comptroller said. "It means that in February, the month before this new law was passed, we were headed for a $2,500,000 decrease in annual gas tax returns; but now we have wiped that out and are moving at the rate of $1,300,000 increase."

"Here's how: the state's gas tax income in February was $207,514 short of the same month a year ago, or nearly 10 per cent. March was almost as bad. Thousands of cars were not being used, and bootleggers were running wild.

Then this new law, making evasion a felony, went into effect March 21. Our staff went to work. In April the decrease over 1932 was very small. In May it had been turned into a small increase. These June figures show we collected $122,370 more gas tax than in June, 1932.

"The motorist nearly always pays this tax at the filling station, whether it's passed on to the state or no. When it's not, the schools, the bond fund, the highways are being robbed. So is the taxpayer who must make up the difference. That's why we are asking the public to 'look for evaders.'"

1933 FAILURES COMPARE WITH NORMAL YEARS

AUSTIN, Aug. 10.—The record of commercial failures so far in 1933 compares favorably with that for more "normal" years, according to the University of Texas bureau of business research.

The record for July is certainly noteworthy, for there have been only three cases since 1920 when either liabilities or the number of failures for July were smaller than they have been this year, the bureau's report said.

According to weekly reports to the bureau of business research from Dun and Bradstreet, there were only 41 commercial failures during the five weeks of July, or an average of about eight a week; last year during the five weeks in July, 79 failures were reported.

Liabilities reported during July amounted to $732,000, with two firms having liabilities of over $100,000, the report continued. Last year in July total liabilities reported by the seven firms had liabilities over $130,000. Average liabilities per failure amounted to $17,844 during July, only 6 per cent greater than the average of $16,888 for June, and less than half the average liabilities reported for July a year ago, $37,071.

There was available to creditors on the basis of the book value of assets of 53 cents on the dollar as compared with 41 cents in June and 45 cents in July last year.

"Of the total failures" reported, seven were groceries and meat markets, six were drug stores, five were women's specialty shops, and two each of men's shops, dry goods stores, general stores, manufacturers, and produce merchants."

JURY BLAMES THIEVING UPON CRIMINAL RING

The grand jury for the 91st judicial district, reporting to Judge George L. Davenport, Saturday declared that an alarming amount of thievery has been found to be going on in the county with evidences of an organized ring.

The grand jury, in session seven days, reported it had examined 147 witnesses and had returned 77 indictments, 74 of which charged felonies.

"We desire to point out," said the jury report, "to the court, and to the public in general that we have found an alarming amount of stealing going on in our county, some of it of the petty variety, and quite a bit of an even more serious nature; there is evidence of an organized criminal ring operating in this respect, and their depredations have been many and serious. In this connection, we desire to state that our officers charged with the enforcement of the law have been and are doing all within their power to cope with this situation. However, the thefts are so numerous and of such a serious nature that we desire to point out that it will be necessary for the citizenship to lend their hearty cooperation and assistance in helping to stamp out, both by giving the officers all the information they possibly can, and by doing their duty when called upon for jury service, this alarming situation with reference to crimes of this character.

"We wish to commend District Attorney Grady Owen, for his able assistance to us, and to thank him for his untiring efforts in presenting testimony before us. We wish also to thank Virge Foster, sheriff, and his deputies, and the grand jury bailiffs, all of whom have assisted us in every way possible.

The report was signed by D. C. Haineswood as foreman and R. E. Sikes as secretary.

marriage. She waited now, expecting an apology or at least an explanation, but none came. "Who was he?" Eve's voice was pitched a note too high but she managed to keep it steady.

EVE considered this. "And I suppose the girls went too?" she asked. "Yes—of course," Dick was obviously irritated. "A perfect frame-up!" Eve accused.

FT. WORTH GIRL CAN NOW HEAR FOR FIRST TIME

FORT WORTH, Aug. 10—It is a queer world to Miss Dorris Morrow, attractive Fort Worth girl, since she can hear. For the first time she can remember Miss Morrow is able to hear sounds. This through the aid of an instrument. She had been deaf since she was a year old.

DESDEMONA

The fire of Saturday morning was the first one in Desdemona in 16 years. Saturday morning at 5 o'clock the fire siren gave forth its shrill notes calling the people of the town to the home of J. W. Griffin which was blazing all over the roof when it was discovered by neighbors who rushed in and waked Mr. and Mrs. Griffin and their daughter, Mary. The flames were eating their way through the timbers so rapidly that only a few pieces of furniture were saved and hardly any of their personal belongings were gathered up in their excitement. Mr. Griffin set his spectacles and also his false teeth. The house was one of the most convenient and best built ones in town having been erected during 1860 days and first occupied by J. Steakley and family and then by the late Levi Anderson and family and was sold by Mrs. Anderson to the Griffins. Losses were partially covered by insurance but many heirlooms were burned that money could not buy.

DAUGHTER OF FAMED COMMONER IS U. S. MINISTER TO DENMARK

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another of a series describing the work of important feminine officeholders in the administration of President Roosevelt.

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, shake charmer, torch-singer and legislator, is America's first woman envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to a foreign country.

She now is established in the United States legation at Copenhagen, Denmark, where a newspaper called her Denmark's "girl friend."

The handsome daughter of William Jennings Bryan gained her fame as a shake charmer after her election to Congress from Florida. She had invited a scientist to a congressional committee hearing to testify about wild life in the mysterious Everglades, where Mrs. Owen wanted a national park established.

The scientist brought a five foot king snake for purposes of illustration. The congressmen looked fearfully upon the reptile as it coiled upon the green-covered committee table.

Mrs. Owen boldly picked up the snake and coiled it around her neck. Fear in congressional breasts subsided.

Although Mrs. Owen has known the President and Mrs. Roosevelt only since 1930, she was one of his

Parent-Teachers to Discuss Plans for Mobilizing School Support in September

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Definite plans for mobilizing public support for closed schools will be considered by the leaders of the National congress of Parents and Teachers at their semi-annual meeting here Sept. 18-21.

Concern of parents and teachers over the plight of schools is intensified by the outlook that many public schools will open their doors much later than usual this fall, or fail to open at all.

Must Keep Up Standard
According to present plans, parent-teacher associations throughout the country will make every effort to arouse citizens to the need of maintaining educational standards. Citizens' councils have been formed under parent-teacher auspices to study education needs and to promote the idea that education is the responsibility of all citizens, regardless whether they are parents or teachers or not.

Financing of public schools to assure adequate educational opportunity to all children is viewed by P. T. A. workers as one of the most pressing problems confronting the nation today.

Business Won't Finance
"It is not to be expected that education will be properly financed by a word largely devoted to business and which has no appreciation of education ideals or methods," said Mrs. Hugh Bradford, president of the national congress. "One of our past purposes in the parent-teacher association has been to draw together into our conferences leaders in all walks of life that they may better appreciate education."

Publications on the organization and administration of parent-teacher work will be distributed by the National conference of Parents and Teachers during the month of August, to guide parent-teacher associations in the work in the schools next year, the body announced.

Reach for a Lucky —for always Luckies Please!

A woman's reason for liking a man's cigarette

Maybe you'll think I'm a bit inconsistent. Most things I'm fond of are really quite feminine... dainty, frilly frocks—delicate desserts—yes, and delicate compliments, too. To me my cigarette is a personal thing—it touches my lips—so give me one with real character. For some reason or other, I find that whenever I reach for a Lucky, always "Luckies Please". They're as mild and pure as can be—I wonder if "Toasting" isn't the reason after all!
