Enrollment in Classes to Start at 9 AM

Cisco's set-up of CWA schools will be in full swing tomorrow, after a delay occasioned by a jam at the headquarters. Fourteen separate classes, with 19 teachers engaged, will be inaugurated. Two of these classes are already in progress—the commercial classes at the high school; the general and cultural school taught by Miss Dorothy Gentry at the East Ward school. The schools are open without charge to all persons 16 years of age and above who wish to take advantage of the instruction offered. Enrollment will start in the morning at 9 o'clock, Supt. R. N. Cluck, who organized the schools, announced a teachers meeting was held at the high school this morning and directed by organization of the teachers for enrollment.

On Teachers Teachers assigned to enroll classes will not necessarily be assigned the instruction of those classes, he said. In instructions to the teachers this morning Mr. Cluck stated that the responsibility for schools rests on their shoulders and that the success or failure of their individual units. He assured them there was no "pension" and that teachers failing to keep up their end or not putting in the required hours would be replaced with others now on a waiting list. Superintendent of schools in the city is charged with organizing classes, and draws no pay for work.

Classes will be as follows: Primary schools—Mrs. John Vernon, Mrs. Marie Gentry, and Miss Gentry, at West Ward, and Miss Gentry, at East Ward. These classes will enroll children 2 to 6 years of age. Commercial school—P. L. Kelly, Corrine Rountree, and James Gentry at the high school; Miss Gentry at the high school; Miss Gentry at the high school.

He was arrested on suspicion Monday but his identity was not revealed until today after officers had checked his statements with Shiro authorities and found them accurate. He told detectives here his name was Monroe Routon and said that he and a woman arrested with him were ex-convicts. The woman is his wife, he said. A field office was established where free immunization against disease, principally typhoid, was offered. Meanwhile with heart-breaking regularity, names of those in the missing list were transferred to the death column. The known dead were counted at 39 this morning. Nine others were missing and feared almost certainly dead. To this toll names occasionally were added from the list of 66 unreported.

CECIL LOTIEF IS OPPOSED TO EXTRA SESSION

For three reasons, State Rep. Cecil A. Lotief, of Cross Plains, representing Eastland and Callahan counties, opposes another special session of the Forty-third legislature, he wrote the Cisco Daily News. They are: 1.—One special session has already been held at a cost of $150,000, issuing $5,500,000 state relief bonds which have not been sold, principally, Lotief indicates, because his amendment taxing natural gas to amortize the bonds was turned down. 2.—Because the "big interests" of the state are attempting to pass a sales tax which Lotief believes would put the burden of financing the state upon the shoulders of the working man, and 3.—Because "if in two sessions the legislature could not enact laws as desired by the governor, I do not believe that they would do it in another session."

Lotief's proposed amendment to bond issuance bill would have imposed a tax of one-half of one percent per 1,000 cubic feet of one natural gas, above 300 million feet each three months, leaving the state. It was killed when the speaker sustained a point of order raised by Rep. Sara Hughes, Dallas woman, whom Lotief said she had married. It would have applied proceeds of this tax to amortization of the relief bonds.

Have Million Left If it had been enacted, says Lotief, Texas would have fed all its hungry men and women and have $1,000,000 left in the general fund. Lotief's letter in full is:

Cross Plains, Texas December 31, 1933. Cisco Daily News Gentlemen:

There seems to be a great deal of talk and rumor over the state favoring a special session of the legislature. It is in this connection that, this letter comes to you. I, as a member of the Forty-third legislature, desire to say that I am fully opposed to any called session at this time, because of the following reasons:

First, we have already had one called session which cost the taxpayers of Texas something like $150,000 and was of no importance save to issue relief bonds in the amount of $5,500,000. At the time these bonds were issued under what is known as senate bill number 46, I offered an amendment to said bill which would have taxed natural gas leaving this state in the amount of one-half cent per thousand cubic feet. This bill would have allowed each producer an exemption of 300,000,000 cubic feet for each three months, thereby not hindering the small gas producer of this state. Section eleven of my amendment to senate bill number 46—which will be found on pages 485 and 486 of the house journal of first called session—provided as follows: "All monies collected from this bill shall be used to pay the bonds and interest as voted for relief purposes and the balance of the money, if any, shall be deposited in the treasury of the state to the credit of the general fund." At that time Mrs. Sara T. Hughes, lady member from Dallas county, raised the point of order on my amendment.

However, all of it soaked into the ground adding to the excellent "season" left by the recent inch of rain which has done so much to improve the outlook for fall-planted grain and winter pasture. Good grass by spring is the hope of cattlemen, who so far have been blessed with a mild winter on their stock. The last rain met another serious dearth in replenishing stock of water. Farmers in general are also happy over the prospects.

Wears 1905 Coat When He Celebrates

STEPHENVILLE, Jan. 3.—This is not an old story, but it's a yarn about an old coat—not one that's been hanging in the closet all these years, but one that sees service every week. When Jim McCleskey, well known character around the court house, postoffice and newspaper offices in Stephenville, got ready to celebrate the exchange of 1933 and 1934, he donned a coat he bought back in 1905 and a pair of trousers he selected from some store 10 years ago. Jim "dolls" up every Saturday and Sunday, and he always wears the 1905 coat, and it looks pretty good. Jim says he hasn't missed a single week wearing the garment in 29 years. The coat is in good condition, despite its age and frequent use, but the trousers are getting thin at the knees, Jim declares, from praying that they will last until the depression scats.

Sued for Million

Luncheon wasn't all that was served to Mrs. Alice Feitmann (above) as she dined at the Swanky Colony restaurant on New York's Park avenue. The extra item not on the menu was a suit for $1,000,000. It was the summons and complaint of Mrs. Margaret Stafford, who wants the money because, she says, Mrs. Feitmann stole her husband's affections and broke up a happy married life that had lasted 17 years.

ONE-TENTH OF INCH OF RAIN IS MEASURED

A drizzle that continued through most of the night and morning here put little moisture on the earth, the gauge at the city hall registering hardly a tenth of an inch precipitation.

However, all of it soaked into the ground adding to the excellent "season" left by the recent inch of rain which has done so much to improve the outlook for fall-planted grain and winter pasture. Good grass by spring is the hope of cattlemen, who so far have been blessed with a mild winter on their stock. The last rain met another serious dearth in replenishing stock of water. Farmers in general are also happy over the prospects.

MESSAGE READ TO CONGRESS BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 3.—The nation definitely is in the process of recovery, President Roosevelt reported to congress today in a vital message on the state of the nation which he himself read from the rostrum in the crowded chamber of the house of representatives. His message was general in terms himself as an appeal for real social and economic reform rather than for recovery in terms of older values. The president addressed a joint assembly of house and senate shortly after the two chambers convened separately for the first regular session of the 73rd congress. Satisfaction with the immediate past and confident hope for our country's future marked Mr. Roosevelt's message. Permanent readjustment of many of the nation's social and economic arrangements was the objective placed before congress by the president. The division is sharp and clear, Mr. Roosevelt said, between those who would recover by a return to the old order and those to whom recovery means reform of old methods. Of this latter group, Mr. Roosevelt is the head.

Draw Fire Tax evaders within the letter of the law and high officials of banks or corporations who have grown rich at the expense of stockholders or the public drew the president's fire. "I have been shocked," he said, "by many notorious examples of injuries done our citizens by persons or groups who have been living off their neighbors by use of methods either unethical or criminal."

The president expressed his abhorrence equally of those notorious examples in high station and of the clan of the gun, organized banditry, lynching and kidnaping. Credit of the government has been fortified by the economy act. Mr. Roosevelt said, and the overwhelming majorities of banks, both national and state, which reopened last spring are sound. The government is assisting in return of nearly $600,000,000 of frozen money to depositors of bank which were not licensed to resume business. Three Objectives Flood control, power development and land use policies are to figure largely in solution of agricultural problems. Citing the Tennessee valley and other developments, the president said his administration was seeking: 1.—Elimination of waste; 2.—Removal of poor lands from agriculture; 3.—Encouragement of local industries.

The objective is a better balanced national life, the president said. The message was more than an address to congress or even to the people. With an aroused section of big industry moving inevitably to legal challenge of much recovery legislation, the president addressed himself today to the third branch of government normally is left to go its way alone and without advice. "To consolidate what we are doing," he said, "to make our economic and social structure capable of dealing with modern life is the joint task of the legislature, the judicial and the executive branches of the national government."

If that is a big for gentle supreme court treatment of the recovery cases which shortly will be going to that august body, then there it is out in the open. Paragraph by paragraph, the president touched and dealt generally with the problem of the nation. He did not unfold to congress his plans for the currency or the dollar, but remarked briefly on his partial utilization of inflation powers and said again he was aiming at a medium of exchange less variable in purchasing and debt-paying power. Inquiry and examination have convinced Mr. Roosevelt that "certain of our sister nations" are confronted by domestic problems at this time which prevent them from entering into stabilization discussions based on permanent worldwide objectives. But in those words was the unqualified reiteration that such stabilization is an ultimate objective of Roosevelt's money plans.

Straightening River Will Reduce Deaths

EL PASO, Jan. 3 - A decrease in border slayings may be a result of the $6,000,000 Rio Grande straightening project at El Paso, according to H. C. Horsley, district chief border patrol inspector.

"With river bends eliminated and underbrush cut, officers can patrol the border with greater safety to themselves," he said.

The river will be shortened from 155 miles to 88 miles. The international boundary remains the same.

NAT'L PARKS GAINING WITH WINTER SPORT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 3 - America's national parks rapidly are gaining popularity with followers of winter sports, according to records of the office of national parks, buildings and reservations.

Popular demand for improved winter sports facilities in the mountain parks constantly is increasing, said Arno B. Cammerer, director of the office of national parks, in his report to Secretary of the Interior Ickes.

During the winter of 1932, 16 of the national parks were open, with varying types of accommodations ranging from hotel and lodge service to camp grounds for travelers carrying their own equipment.

Heavy Winter Travel Yosemite National park was said to have experienced the "usual heavy winter travel," which reached its peak during the annual Yosemite San Joaquin-Sierra winter sports carnival in 1932.

A special study of winter sports in the leading resorts of this country and Europe, which will be of basic importance in developing winter sports policies.

Cammerer reported that winter sports continued to increase in popularity in Mount Rainier, where the toboggan slide at Longmire and the ski fields in the Paradise valley region attracted large numbers of winter visitors.

90,000 at Hot Springs Park Despite unfavorable conditions throughout the country, nearly 90,000 persons visited Hot Springs national park during the 1932 winter season, the report said.

The government has authorized a project in Moraine park, employing emergency conservation labor, which will feature a fine ski hill.

The finest skiing areas in America are said to be in the region of Yosemite park, beginning at Snow creek and extending to the slopes of Mount Hoffman, Tenaya peak, and Sunrise pass.

UNDER THE DOME AT AUSTIN

By GORDON K. SHEARER United Press Staff Correspondent AUSTIN, Jan. 3 - Don Cupid is not on the state payroll but he was one of the busiest persons under the state capitol dome during 1933.

His arrows hit one state senator, seven state representatives, fifteen members of the state highway department staff, four employees of the state comptroller's office, three from the board of control and two in the state railroad commission offices.

In several instances he brought down two state employees with one shot.

Cecil Murphy's recent marriage to Miss Zula Matthews, an assistant clerk in the senate, brought down one of the state senate's eligible bachelors.

House members who married during the year were R. W. Calvert of Hillsboro; Emory Camp, Rockdale; Otis Dunagan, Elg Sandy; R. H. Good, Cooper; Vernon Lemens Rainbow, and Thomas J. Renfro, Fort Worth.

Judge Mack Burch, Decatur, head of the legal division of the state highway commission, married Miss Jessie Ziegler, who was a former Gov. Foss S. Sterling's secretary.

Staff Mrs. Burch formerly lived in Houston. Other weddings in the highway department included:

Miss Dorothy Motheral married Weldon Cloud, Lampasas; Miss Dora Topperwein married William Morrow of the state treasury department; Miss Ida Anderson of the highway department stenographic force married J. A. Shelby of the assistant highway engineer's office.

Mrs. Josephine Burns chose Ray Fallinson, also of the highway department, as her husband; Miss Bobby Lucas married James Howard of the state land office; Miss Rosemary Deen married M. B. Baker of the state insurance department; Miss Constance Catterall became Mrs. Naylor by marrying a member of the state motor patrol division at Houston.

Miss Evelyn Glascock became the bride of Seth Breeding of the U. S. Geological Survey force working with the state water board.

Miss Lucille Cooper became Mrs. Adair Petmeyer and Miss Marguerite Person became Mrs. Belva Jackson. W. O. Dixon of the highway department married Miss Sarah Hundley of Dallas; Billy Bell married Miss Ann Brooke; Gordon Carlton married Miss Coleta Croslin and Henry Taylor married Miss Agnes Smith, of the U. S. bureau of public roads.

Wedding bells rang in the state board of control office for Miss Hattie May Wilbanks who married F. C. Bryant of Pecos; Miss Sadie Davis who married Cecil Hull of San Antonio and Secretary J. R. Ham who married Miss Fay Hunt of Lubbock.

Another member of the staff is expected to send out wedding invitations soon.

Two members of the state railroad commission staff here married in the closing week of 1933. Miss Grace Crow, stenotype recorder of hearings before the commission, married A. F. Coward of Dallas. Miss Edna Allen of the motor division married Arlyle B. Cross of Amarillo.

Claude Blanton, former University of Texas football star, has qualified as the first state employe to marry in 1934. His bride was Miss Kay Feavey of Lugkin. Weddings in 1933 took three brides from the comptroller's office. They were Miss Mary Stadler who married Robert Hutchings of Dallas; Miss Vida Killingsworth who married John Weston of Austin and Mrs. Katherine Odum who married William Manning of Austin.

A Cleburne bridegroom married Miss Beulah Oden of the state department of education.

New Year's callers at the governor's mansion found work started on the ground improvements authorized by the special session of the legislature. An appropriation for it was made.

State School Superintendent L. A. Woods served venison from a twenty pound buck killed near Junction at his New Year's dinner Monday evening.

Lon A. Smith, chairman of the Texas Railroad commission, will serve on two 1934 committees of the National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners. One is a special committee on motor vehicle legislation and the other a regional committee on telephone depreciation.

State Senator Will Pace of Tyler claims the honor of first placing a football in the hands of Coach Frinks of the Greenville high school football champions. Frinks then came out for the football squad of Peacock's Military academy at San Antonio.

Did You Ever Stop to Think?

By EDSON E. WAITE Shawnee, Oklahoma. Governor A. W. Hockenhill, of New Mexico, says: "Stopping to think of the influence of the NRA upon this nation leads me to think: "That the NRA is a new birth to the American nation, providing an antiseptic to our destructive disease of depression, teaching us that destructive competition is wrong, and in fact is war between ourselves. From it we are learning the value of cooperation; that we depend upon each other and must move together; that a great partnership exists, binding together the American people and that we must fight for and not against each other. Truly it is ushering in a new day, a day of thinking and acting in unison. Some who have not smiled in three years are smiling again. Optimism is appearing on the horizon. The Yuletide season spread good cheer. Our stockpiles were not so empty this Christmas as last. Our thinking compels us to conclude that the NRA is working. If we will only go a step further and reestablish our partnership and cooperation with Him who has always guided the destinies of this great nation, then peace, prosperity and happiness will be assured."

G. B. Williams, editor of the Dinkirk (N. Y.) Observer, says: "Did you ever stop to think that people read newspapers because they want them? The newspaper is not forced on anyone. People pay for it and pay for it regularly. Whole families await it eagerly and quarrel good-naturedly over their individual turns to read it. Each praises and criticizes it as one is prone to praise and criticize the other members of the family. The newspaper is a definite part of the family. That is why its sales force is immeasurable. "Door to door salesmen use all kinds of ingenious devices to get inside the home. But the newspaper is a welcome guest. One type of selling is forced, the other type is received cordially. Door to door handbills are an intrusion upon the privacy of the home, but the newspaper is invited in. Its messages are read avidly and its advertisements are considered a part of these messages. "The newspaper is so definitely a part of the people, so much an accepted member of the family, that its pages constitute the finest advertising medium yet devised."

BRECKENRIDGE, Jan. 3.—The best fight card since the beginning of boxing under the new state law in Breckenridge is promised this week by Promoter Frank Hicks.
Hicks said Monday that in addition to the main 10-round event between Ralph Sikes of Brownwood and Bobby Clark of Sweetwater, 20 other rounds of semi-final and preliminaries have been signed.

In the eight-round semi-final Woody Windham of Abilene, who has moved to Breckenridge, will meet Lill Mickey, 137-pounder from Amarillo.

Lill Mickey has been fighting main event through west Texas and Woody Windham needs no introduction to local fight fans as he has fought here on many occasions, and has never been badly defeated.

The first preliminary starting at 8:30 will be between Red Lauderdale of Wayland and Jumping Jodie Cason of Fort Worth. Lauderdale won a good decision over J. V. Rogers in the "Y" arena at the last fight. Cason has fought many times in Breckenridge but has never been beaten here.

ment stating that the said amendment was not germane to the bill and the speaker of the house sustained her point of order. I wish now to say, had the speaker ruled differently and my amendment became a law, we would have fed every hungry man, woman and child in this section and still have left in the general fund a credit of something like $1,000,000. It is needless to say that there would have been no necessity for another called session at this time.

Secondly, I am opposed to another call of session because the big interests of this state are trying to foster what is known as a "sales tax" upon the burdened backs of the poor people of Texas. I, for one, am opposed to it because there is not any one in this state working for this legislation, except those who are connected with big interests. It appears to me that they are trying to shift the taxation load from themselves to the shoulders of the laboring man in blue denim and overalls. Also, I do not believe that the "sales tax" could be properly enforced without making tax collectors out of every small merchant who already has every duty for which he has time.

Thirdly, I am opposed to another called session because if in two sessions the legislature (43rd) could not enact laws as desired by the governor, I do not believe that they would do it in another session.
Being a supporter of economy and honesty in government I do not desire to draw $10 a day for a special session when there are hungry men and women to be fed. Therefore, please count me as one state representative vitally opposed to another called session.

Very truly yours,
CECIL A. LOTIEF,
State Representative 107th Floterial Dist., Cross Plains, Texas.

TWO EMERGENCY UNITS ARE ROUTING UNEMPLOYMENT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Two emergency units of the federal government, identified as CWA and CCC, and a vast regional program undertaken by the Tennessee Valley authority, have contributed much to the administration's offensive against economic depression.

The year 1934 will be faced with contentment by millions of men, women and children, to whom Uncle Sam has extended assurances of food and shelter.
Utilizing a $400,000,000 appropriation from the public works fund, the federal civil works administration, used war-time tactics in a peace-time re-employment drive, and in little more than a month, placed in excess of 4,000,000 American citizens on a wage earning basis. These millions are still working and are receiving food allotments under the program of the Federal Surplus Relief corporation.

President Roosevelt has indicated that he will ask congress for an appropriation of $350,000,000 to continue the civil works program until the first of May. It has been estimated that the initial $400,000,000 allotment to CWA will have been exhausted by February 15.

Hopkins Headed Drive
CWA was established on Nov. 8, by order of President Roosevelt, and youthful Harry L. Hopkins was named administrator. The civil works administration has spent in the neighborhood of $50,000,000 per week since its inauguration. Skilled laborers working under CWA have been paid at rates ranging from $1.00 to $1.20 an hour, while unskilled workers have received wages ranging from 40 to 50 cents an hour.
Civilian conservation corps camps, established about eight months ago in every section of the nation's vast forest domain, have brought thousands of ruddy faced youngsters happiness, food and shelter. CCC director Robert Fechner said more than 300,000 men had been taken from the ranks of the unemployed—conditioned, fed established in 1,466 forest camps, and put to work protecting improving and developing more than 600,000,000 acres of timbered lands which still remain in this country.

The camp construction program gave employment to several thousand carpenters and workmen, and furnished a market for the sale of 300,000,000 feet of lumber and large quantities of other building materials.
Million and Half Aided
It was estimated that a minimum of 1,500,000 needy persons had been benefited directly this winter through the payment of cash allotments by members of the civilian conservation corps to their dependents. Cash allowances earned each month by men in the forest camps were expected to aggregate more than $35,000,000 during the months of November, December, January, February and March.
Though not to be confused with purely emergency relief bodies, the Tennessee Valley authority, established last June, has done its share in contributing to employment. The present TVA payroll alone numbers nearly 3,000 persons.
Because of the flexibility of its organization, the authority was able to offer—and to have accepted—a plan to add 16,500 civil works administration workers to current Tennessee valley projects.

Reforestation work
These figures do not include 5,000 civilian conservation corps men put to work on reforestation and soil erosion control projects in the Tennessee river drainage basin.
The authority has at its command $50,000,000 of the $3,300,000,000 appropriated to the public works fund. Present directors are Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, chairman; Dr. Harcourt A. Morgan, and David E. Lilienthal.
During the brief period the authority has been in operation, work has started on two great dams and a third dam is being operated in conjunction with the vast government properties at Muscle Shoals. The TVA also is engaged in power developments and other activities which will fit into the advancement project for the entire Tennessee river basin.

Contracts Awarded
In recent months, the authority has spent more than a million dollars both within and without the basin for needed materials and other supplies, thereby helping business generally. It has also awarded many contracts which mean additional income for the families of producers and indirect benefits to many other persons.
One of the most important duties of the authority was to assume control of the government properties at Muscle Shoals which represent a

Texas Topics

By RAYMOND BROOKS

AUSTIN, Jan. 3.—When the house investigating committee turned to the extreme requirements under present law for appointment of receivers for corporations, and the huge aggregate sum paid for receivership fees, everybody concerned seemed agreed that a remedial legislation is desirable.
Atty. - Gen. James V. Alford suggested that, in questioning Atty. Brooks D. J. Pickle of Austin, a former assistant attorney general, whether Judge Pickle himself had ever shaped up or recommended such remedial legislation. Judge Pickle's answer was that that wasn't within the province of his duties; but the committee members themselves could not have given such an answer, inasmuch as a representative is supposed to represent the best interest of the commonwealth as a whole.
Perhaps the committee's brief hearing on that question will result on some public-spirited lawmaker's efforts to remedy what has grown, by the demands of the law and modern corporate complexity, to be a recognized abuse and ill.

Lieut. Gov. Edgar Witt definitely is shaping the issue of the governor's race, in which he is a candidate, by early and vigorous declaration that he is a wet, and that he favors submission for repeal of the state prohibition amendment.
"I'm wet," he wrote Stuart R. war-time cost of between $135,000,000 and $150,000,000. Thus far, nearly 200 municipalities have, either formally or informally, applied for TVA power, and three places—led by Tupelo, Mississippi—have signed or are about to sign power contracts.

Smith, Beaumont attorney, "if by that term you mean an advocate of repeal of constitutional prohibition." His statement indirectly referred to the prospect of pussyfooting on the question. Witt said he had not stressed the wet matter in his original announcement, because he did not wish to appear trying "to run for office solely on the wet and dry issue."

Former Sen. W. D. McFarlane of Graham, now serving in congress has announced his candidacy for reelection next year.
McFarlane put the same aggressiveness and enterprise into his service as congressman as he did in serving in the state senate. Whether all his constituents like him or not, they certainly know about him—which is one of the goals of a successful politician.

Oregon Flax and Linen Men Hope

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 3.—Excitation that the public works administration will loan $3,500,000 for development of the flax and linen industry has aroused great interest in western Oregon.
Flax has been grown abundantly in the Willamette valley many years, with the product owned by the state penitentiary, said to be the only one in United States. Two linen mills in Salem consume part of the penitentiary's output and the rest is sent to the east.
Granting of the loan would mean additional flax plantings of at least 50,000 acres, it is said, and creation of a number of processing plants in different parts of the valley. A large linen mill would probably be built at Salem.
The public works administration is considering making the loan according to reports from Will E. Raman, promoter of the flax industry now in Washington. In order to establish a new industry and provide a market for a greater variety of agricultural products.

You Can Park Voice On Steel Tape Now

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 4.—Now you can park your voice—just as you park your car.
The vocal parking space device has been exhibited in Memorial Hall at Harvard university. The parking space consists of a thin steel ribbon which flows along in plain sight at about one foot per second. Unlike any other form of recording speech it is not necessary to process the ribbon or treat it in any way. The voice is impressed upon it directly by means of two small magnets which produce a varying magnetization of the steel tape corresponding to the sound waves in one's speech.

Any time the words parked are wanted for transmission the ribbon is run through a second set of magnets and the speed is reproduced in the form of an electric current. The device has the further advantage that the parking space may be used over and over again. As soon as one speech has been cleared, another can be moved into the same space whereas any other form of recording usually spoils the disk or film used for further recording.
