'9 O'clock Doris' Wins Divorce

Because she was just a nine o'clock girl and didn't like night clubs, her marriage failed after 54 days, Doris Kenyon, actress, pictured here in a Los Angeles court, testified in winning a divorce from Arthur Hopkins, wealthy Syracuse, N. Y., realty man. She said he was jealous, too, and called her names.

25 YEAR TERM IS ASSESSED DR. WYNEKOOP

CHICAGO, March 7.—Dr. Alice Wynkoop, 63, today faced life imprisonment for the murder of her daughter-in-law, Rheta.

A criminal court jury of young men selected under the woman physician's own direction, brought in a guilty verdict last night after less than two hours deliberation. It's recommendation of a 25-year sentence was the same as life imprisonment for the ageing woman, whose repeated collapses from heart trouble have interrupted her trial.

A hearing on motions for a new trial was placed on the court calendar for March 24.

JOHNSON SAYS GOV'T INTENDS NO FORCED CUT

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.—Recovery Adm. Hugh S. Johnson assured industry today that the government never contemplated forcing a reduction of hours upon all lines of business by "ukase".

But at the same time he indicated the administration still intended to try to work out arrangements for a 10 per cent cut in hours and a corresponding increase in wages in all industries where it would be practicable.

Johnson asked the NRA code authorities in conference here to arrange further meetings after the general conference to work out this program.

Delegates who had voiced considerable opposition to president Roosevelt's appeal for shorter hours and higher wages cheered Johnson when he assured them the administration did not intend to ram any general rule down industry's throat. The administrator added, however, that it seemed necessary to advance a general proposition which the different authorities could try to adapt to their industries. A 10 per cent cut in hours should be the basis of this program, he indicated.

He said he would not be ready to advance the details of such a program in his speech at the conference tonight.

2 Others Surrender, Robert Hill Is One

HUNTSVILLE, March 7.—Three convicts were shot down from ladders here today as they made a desperate attempt to gain freedom by scaling the high prison walls.

Two others of the five attempting to break prison surrendered without resistance.

Two of the wounded convicts, shot from the ladders they had placed against the walls, were expected to die. They were Charles Frazier, recently placed here after a sensational escape from a Louisiana prison farm, and Pete Finch, the third wounded prisoner was Edward McArthur.

The two who surrendered under the guards' fire were Roy Thornton, said to be the former husband of Bonnie Parker, cigar-smoking companion of the notorious Clyde Barrow, and Robert Hill, last of the Cisco bank bandit gang who was serving 99 years from Eastland county for robbery with firearms.

$847,000,000 AID TO FARMER AIM, SAYS WALLACE

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following dispatch, written exclusively for the United Press by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, outlines administration steps in solution of the critical agricultural problem and indicates what may be expected of the future.

By HENRY A. WALLACE
Secretary of Agriculture
(Copyright, 1934, by United Press)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.—The agricultural adjustment administration already has distributed around 200 million dollars to farmers in compensation for the first step toward adjusting farm production to the critical realities of demand.

Other programs entail a further distribution of funds to farmers which will bring the total to $847,000,000. Dairy and beef cattle program probably will increase this total during the next two years to over one billion dollars.

Addition of this money to the purchasing power of farmers will bring tremendous benefit to business and industry. That fact already has been demonstrated in the south.

Purchasing power is being seeded to the grass-roots through the wheat, corn, hog, tobacco and other adjustment programs. Stimulus to business is the first result of distribution.

I think important gains have been made. These programs are not merely a distribution of funds to farmers to aid them in making necessary adjustment. We are seeking to achieve that balance between agriculture, industry and business that is so essential to any significant recovery.

Criticism Surprising
It is sometimes surprising to hear city people criticize the agricultural adjustment administration on the ground that we are simply giving dole to the farmer. Often such criticism comes from those who are dependent upon some protected or subsidized enterprise. Most frequently we hear that there is no such thing as a surplus of farm products so long as people are hungry. These people do not share our concept of an agricultural surplus. I have frequently pointed out the cruel paradox of bursting grain elevators and overflowing bread-lines. We have insisted that it is not fair to keep the farmer on the pan to produce as starvation prices.

To be more specific, the plowing under of 10 million acres of cotton did not deprive the consumer of any clothing. There is still an over abundance of cotton which may be had if our system permits a consumer to buy. The emergency pig-slaughtering campaign did not destroy food. All the edible products were turned into relief channels. Surplus acres breed nothing but confusion, poverty and waste.

A great deal will be accomplished for the farmer, if our current efforts establish in all minds that an agricultural surplus is that excessive quantity of a commodity which as depresses the price that it prevents the farmer from purchasing the things he needs.

Notice No Details of Proceedings One of the appeared slightly nervous, but her was as calm as though he had considerable experience at business. The darkness and the ness with which the pair ap- prevented his noticing dis- ting details about his kid- he said. Both were well-

C. C. MEETING OCCUPIED WITH ROAD MATTERS

Road matters, particularly the effort of the Texas Good Roads association to mobilize opinion behind a petition for allocating a large part of the new federal relief money to road construction, and the Broadway of America club organization, occupied the attention of the board of directors of the Cisco chamber of commerce last night.

The board opened its session with a special prayer by Dr. J. Stuart Pearce, Presbyterian pastor, in keeping with the Roosevelt Week statewide program. F. D. Wright, attorney-member of the board spoke upon the accomplishments of the national administration during the first year of its history, and asked that the support of loyal citizens be given the national leadership its further program.

J. C. Watson, representing the Texas Good Roads association, addressed the board, urging the chamber's aid in the efforts of the association to secure allocation of 400 million dollars of relief funds to road construction. The association is obtaining memberships at $1 each in an effort to enroll the greatest mass opinion possible behind a petition to Texas congressmen and senators to use their best influence to secure this allocation, he said.

Had Influence
The association, Chamber Sec'y J. E. Spener said this morning, is high in the graces of the highway commission and its influence was responsible for the large PWA appropriation for roads that the state secured in the past.

J. D. Farr, Laguna hotel manager, and City Comm'r H. C. Henderson, members of the Broadway of America local which President Charles Hale named last week, were present. Others on the committee are Chairman E. P. Crawford, of the highway group, and his committeemen. The body was instructed to organize at once and make a drive for B. of A. memberships.

The chamber is making an effort to include the Lake Cisco area in advertising literature of the association, said Mr. Spener.

Present were Dr. Hale, president; Directors Cole, Crawford, Huettler, LaRoque, Nance, Prait, Sandler, Wright and Jones.

LIONS PRAISED BY ENVOY OF INTERNATIONAL

A talk by Lion C. W. Webb, field representative of Lions International of Chicago, a free hand drawing demonstration by Miss Lucile Spruill, a song by Master Allen Wilson and a brief talk by John Salwaechter, good roads representative, formed the program at the Lions luncheon today.

Mr. Webb complimented the club on its organization and activities. He said the Cisco club was outstanding from many standpoints and was looked upon by the officers in Chicago as one of the best clubs, even though small in membership. Its reports and accomplishments from time to time were well known to the officials and it was often referred to by himself and other field men as an example of what constituted a real live club. Cisco's accomplishments as reported in the Lions magazine from month to month were often referred to in other states, he said. It is one club, he said, that never gives the International office any worries.

Miss Spruill demonstrated free hand drawing in the form of caricatures of club members. These were enjoyed and caused much merriment.

President Dyer announced that the stickers were ready to aid in the "Pay Your School Tax" campaign being sponsored by the Lions club.

Big Fee Paid Young Fess, Witness Says

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.—Col. Paul H. Henderson, vice president of the United Aircraft and Transport company, told the senate airmail committee today that he paid a fee of several thousands dollars to Lehr Fess, son of Sen. Fess, Rep.-Ohio, for two days' work in 1930 in "expediting" passage of the McNary-Watres airmail act by the senate.

Henderson said passage of the senate "before a certain day in April 1930," was necessary for National Air Transport, a United subsidiary, to obtain a route certificate on its mail contract.

"Mr. Fess was here in Washington two days on the Watres bill," he said. "I paid Mr. Fess either $2,000 to $5,000 but I've forgotten which."

Farley Denies "Boss" Charge of LaGuardia

NEW YORK, March 7.—Postmaster-general James A. Farley left New York for Washington enveloped in a great cloud of silence today after having been publicly embarrassed by Mayor LaGuardia.

Before a large audience, LaGuardia told Farley to his face that he believed him responsible for the defeat of the city economy bill in the state legislature. LaGuardia maintains that unless the bill is passed New York city is bankrupt.

When LaGuardia sat down amid thunderous applause, Farley stood up. His face was flushed. He agreed tonight, there will be a preaching service conducted by the Rev. Wm. Sharp, of Hatch, N. M., the pastor, the Rev. C. S. Moad, announced this morning. P. M. McCoy, of Denver, Colo., will direct the singing, he said. These services are to continue throughout the week, concluding Sunday evening, and beginning each evening at 7:30. The public is invited, said the pastor.

Economies Affect City Deliveries

Economies put into effect in the post office department will mean that each of the three city carriers out of the Cisco office will be furloughed two afternoons each month, said Postmaster Craddock. The furlough began yesterday.

No deliveries will be made on the route of the carrier during the afternoons that he is off, with the exception of the business district, said Mr. Craddock. Each will be furloughed one afternoon during the first half and one during the last half of the month.

The following schedule of furloughs for the carriers was announced:

Fred Erwin, afternoon of March 6; J. A. Krisell, afternoon of March 7 (today); S. B. King, afternoon of March 8; Mr. Krisell, afternoon of March 27; Mr. King, afternoon of March 28; Mr. Erwin, afternoon of March 29. When Mr. Erwin is off, said Postmaster Craddock, no deliveries will be made on any part of his route during the afternoon. Morning delivery will be made. When Mr. Krisell is off today in the afternoon, Mr. King will make deliveries in the business district, in addition to as much of his own regular route as possible. When Mr. King is off today there will be no afternoon deliveries on his route.

BLOODSTAINED CAR OF AUSTIN MAN IS FOUND

FORT WORTH, March 7.—The blood-spattered automobile of Arthur J. Leverett, of Austin, Texas, containing a blue overcoat with three bullet holes in the back, was found today four miles south of Grapevine, Texas.

The automobile was left near the farm of Mrs. Annie Reynolds early today by a man who stopped it suddenly, jumped out and got into another car, persons on the Reynolds farm said.

Deputies went to the farm, obtained the number of the small automobile and informed the sheriff at Austin. He informed them that the license had been issued to Leverett "who had left Austin yesterday for Sheepeater carrying $400.

With Leverett was a brother-in-law, Walter Behne, officers were told.

Pat Garrett Pistol Is Awarded Widow

AUSTIN, March 7.—A ruling of the Texas supreme court here today gave Mrs. Pauline Garrett, widow of Pat Garrett, the pistol with which Garrett as an officer killed the notorious "Billy the Kid."

The court here decided it was without jurisdiction in an attempt to appeal from the decision of a county court-at-law in El Paso county.

six will go with a group of 10 local FFA boys who will Saturday, designated FFA day show. The group, conducted by Bird, will leave here Friday on about 4 in a truck and will return Saturday evening.

Series of Services At Church of God

Instead of the regular mid-week prayer service at the Church of God tonight, there will be a preaching service conducted by the Rev. Wm. Sharp, of Hatch, N. M., the pastor, the Rev. C. S. Moad, announced this morning. P. M. McCoy, of Denver, Colo., will direct the singing, he said. These services are to continue throughout the week, concluding Sunday evening, and beginning each evening at 7:30. The public is invited, said the pastor.

KLAMATHFALLS, Ore., March 7.—Horse stealing, once punishable by hanging in this section, now brings two-year, penitentiary sentences. Judge William Duncan recently handed two-year sentences to two confessed horse thieves.

Sudden Snow Is Blamed for Crash

PETERSBURG, Ill., March 7.—A sudden snowstorm was blamed today for the crash of an American Airways plane which claimed the lives of four men, one of them aviation editor on the Chicago Tribune and friend of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

The plane crashed on a farm five miles from here while apparently trying to dodge heavy mists and cold. Ice was believed to have formed on the ship's wings.

First Lady Reaches San Juan by Plane

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, March 7.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt arrived by airplane at 1:05 p. m. today for an inspection tour and friendly visit to the island.

Predict Concert on Foreign Exchange

NEW YORK, March 7.—Steadiness of the dollar in terms of the franc and pound for the last three weeks may involve a temporary understanding among the United States, Great Britain and France that will lead to conferences for return to an international gold standard, according to New York foreign exchange experts.

Assassins Deaf to Pleas of Gangster

CHICAGO, March 7.—Gangland reprisals broke out again in Chicago today when two killers invaded the hotel room of Frank (West Side) Pope and fired six bullets into his head.

A few years ago Pope, as a member of the now scattered Al Capone syndicate, talked himself out of a gang ride but today his pleadings were in vain. A colored maid in the hotel said she heard a pleading voice, then six rapid shots. The assassins fled down a back stairway and escaped.

250,000 New Men Expected for C.C.C.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.—Almost complete replacements of the personnel of the civilian conservation corps is expected during this year under a new enlistment policy designed to accommodate 250,000 new recruits and spread the benefits of the program.

Director Robert Fechner estimated 100,000 men would leave the corps this month to accept or seek other employment. He believed 250,000 fresh recruits would be taken in on the April 1, July 1, and October 1 enlistment dates.

THE 30-HOUR WEEK

Industry's opposition to the 30-hour week and the fact that the 40-hour week has not accomplished all that the NRA intended of it, may combine in a compromise on a 36- or 34-hour working period. It will be remembered that only a few days ago Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, told a congressional committee he did not think industry could stand the imposition of that short a week.

Industry's attitude as sharply defined in its representation at the code conference, is one of opposition to any attempt to put it in a position where a compromise will be the only suitable way out. It does not wish to see itself the victim of the government's generosity.

THE INSULL CASE

Not the most complimentary chapter of American international negotiation is that relating to the Insull case. It has become an axiom in the history of the attempt of the government to extradite the utilities magnate, that a Greek order of expulsion is merely another opportunity to grant the fugitive an extension of stay.

SOUTH DAKOTA QUITS COAL BUSINESS

South Dakota, after 15 years of expensive trials, has retired from the coal business. This was one of the non-partisan governmental ventures. More than $40,000,000 in debt as a result of the failure of its state owned enterprises, South Dakota merged off another $185,000 loss by getting out.

EDITOR PRAISES BRITISH FASCISTS

England's powerful publisher, Lord Rothermere editorially cheers the British fascist movement as aimed at liberating the forces of youth, "a force that for generations has been allowed to run to waste in Britain."

Naturally the English publisher's praise of the fascist cause draws sharp answers. Defenders of things as they are retort that youth has a significant place in the English government.

It is possible that the British fascist organization is merely an outcropping of the inevitable revolt against things as they are. Perhaps it is a great impatience with the slow process of world recovery from the disastrous aftermath of the world war.

notion strikes him. Those are two games about as effective in removing the mind from care as any recreational activity of which I can conceive—unless it is golf.

But the latter game suffers because, despite the nationality of its origin, it is far from either democratic or economical. It takes at least 100 acres to play on and few persons of even wealth have such equipment.

By contrast, lacking 15 cents, the checker player can whittle the necessary implements out of spool ends and a smooth pine board. That, a thoughtful stance, and disposition to be quarrelsome in the pinches completes his equipment.

Will Rogers yesterday stated the case of the woman sheriff at Crown Point, Ind., succinctly. "I feel kinder sorry for the woman sheriff in Indiana," said he. "She thought she was surrounded by men."

There is conceivable justification for a man, trained in guns, submitting to the flourish of a wooden platoon at the city hall the day after it occurred. It is that the place of sheriff or other peace officer is not one for a woman to fill. I have heard much of the feminist argument that a woman should fill a man's shoes and could do so with a reasonable amount of experience.

MONEY SYSTEM OF COUNTRY IS VIRTUALLY NEW

WASHINGTON D. C., March 7 - The financial, economic and monetary structure of the United States has been virtually remade in the first year of the Roosevelt administration.

per ounce. This gave the United States government gold reserves in excess of $7,100,000,000 or more than a third of the monetary gold stocks of the world. Cash Sets Record. Ability of the government to borrow huge sums enabled the treasury to boost its ready cash to the highest levels on record, not excepting war-time. With the bookkeeping profit of nearly $3,000,000,000 realized from the write-up of the treasury's gold, the government's cash balance stood at one time at approximately $5,000,000,000.

The ROMANTIC RUNAWAY

Serialized story 'The ROMANTIC RUNAWAY' by Katharine Haviland-Taylor. Includes illustrations of a man and a woman. Text: 'Alice disappeared into the adjoining room to assemble her mistresses' evening chrysalis. Therese heard her husband speaking of fishing and engineering and a small island named someone he called "Noyes". "And I swear I saw him," he ended with some excitement. "What of it?" she questioned with a languor that was not assumed. "My Lord, don't you remember that case?" "No." "The Noyes-Martell case?" "No." "But you knew Josie Martell?" "An actress, wasn't she?" "Yes. Well, did you or did you not know that she was murdered?" "Oh, I knew that - or I think I did, Alice - Therese called, turning her face toward the open doorway. "I'll have the green taffeta tonight." "Well, it was Noyes who murdered her; that's all. It was 20 years ago and the police are still looking for him. And that boy you think is so good-looking - Pablito, isn't he? - lives with Noyes." "I FAIL to see why that fact should heighten one's blood pressure." "You don't see? Look here - if I don't report this it makes me a criminal for aiding Noyes in his evasion." "You are a criminal," Therese stated evenly, "but you have been made so by indulging your own inclinations and not from shielding anyone else!" He spoke then quickly and heatedly and as she spoke she struggled up from her half-prostrate position. "I wouldn't mind your penchant for other women so much," she broke in, "if you didn't always come back in such a bad mood. I get very bored by that, Ted - " "My God!" "If you don't know what to do about this matter go to Field. He'll advise you. He knows everything, the boulder! The only gentleman within 10 miles of this place is that Pablito boy." "I thank you, my dear. You are always charming." "Is he the son of this Noyes?" "I suppose so." "Illegitimate?" "Must be. His wife never divorced him. She was a Callender." "Really? The Charleston Callenders?" "Yes." "Odd! I do remember the affair now. Ted, will you get out? Since my dressing no longer interests you I hardly see - " "Do you always have to be so cross, Therese?" He left her and she heard the slam of the door opening to his room. Alice, with the green taffeta gown over her arm, found her mistress relaxed on the chaise longue, her eyes closed and a frown between her brows. Alice would have something to tell the servants at dinner that night, she reflected, as she laid out the fragile garments. She had always known that Pablito was "half a gentleman" anyway and now she could prove it. (To Be Continued)

Bronchial Irritations Need Creosote

For many years our best doctors have prescribed creosote in some form for coughs, colds and bronchitis, knowing how dangerous it is to let them hang on.

Creosolium with creosote and six other highly important medicinal elements, quickly and effectively stops coughs and colds that otherwise might lead to serious trouble.

Creosolium is powerful in the treatment of colds and coughs, yet it is absolutely harmless and is pleasant and easy to take.

Your own druggist guarantees Creosolium by refunding your money if you are not relieved after taking Creosolium as directed. Beware the cough or cold that hangs on. Always keep Creosolium on hand for instant use.—Adv.

"EXCELSIOR"

"Excelsior" was written by the famous American poet, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow. It is not his most famous poem but it appeals to us because it pertains to youth's courage and "stickability."

We most know that the word "excelsior" comes from a Latin word meaning "ever upward," which is the entire meaning of the poem. The youth in the poem wished to excel, and a heeded no warnings, no inducements to remain in comfort and safety, but went striving upward, and at last suffered death in the snowstorm. But to the end he stood by his motto, which is a noble one, and whether he failed or succeeded it was all a noble thing to try to excel.

If we would only take this poem as a motto, it would be a stepping stone instead of a stumbling block on our travel upward on a path filled with obstacles. It would give us encouragement when we are disheartened.

"Beware the pine trees withered branches!"

"Beware the awful avalanches! This was the peasant's last good-night"

A voice replied, far up the height "Excelsior!"

How to Chew Gum

Chewing gum or wax is an old art handed down to us from our forefathers as a substitute for the tough meat of the dinosaurs they ate and therefore, our instincts lean toward making a chewing motion with our mouths. As chewing with nothing in our mouths is or might appear foolish to the sophisticated, we chew gum as tough meat can only be secured at cafes.

As I said before, chewing gum or wax is an art. One not versed in this art might be seen chewing slowly and infrequently with mouth closed, but an old master can be readily distinguished by his fast chewing and the loud noises resulting from chewing with his mouth open. Most enjoyment from aforesaid gum can be obtained in the latter manner.

There are "tuck shots" we might call them, in chewing gum just as there are tricks in all other sports. If you understand gum-chewing thoroughly you can pop blow, but if you make machine-gun like noises with it at all, as well as stretch it some 2 or 3 feet without getting it on your clothes.

All of these afore-discussed maneuvers with mouth and gum are for pleasure only. When trying to put something over on the teacher they are not to be used.

Chewing gum in a class where the penalty, if caught, is severe, is one of the most exciting phases of the sport. The sports man has to be on the alert every moment to get by with it. The most common way, and generally considered the safest, to escape detection is to chew only when she is not looking, to place the gum, with assistance from the tongue, in a small pocket found in the lower jaw at the end of the row of teeth. It can be held there indefinitely and without detection.

There are several people in our high school who excel in the many art of gum consumption but there is a champion of these champions. He is none other than F. B. Matthews.

Though I have studied many different people chewing, I believe he has the smoothest, biggest and most effective chew I've seen.

WENDELL RUSSELL
 P. S.: This was written while I was serving a detention for chewing gum.

ENJOY BAND PROGRAM
 The high school band, under Mr. Colium's direction, gave another delightful chapel program Friday, February 23. A number of parents and friends were present and expressed their appreciation of such a splendid organization and of such a pleasing program.

Everyone is looking forward to the next program, Friday, March 9. Everyone who has not heard our band should do so as soon as possible. Visitors are always welcome.

Ilenes Inklings

I often wonder if all freshmen are as hopeless as every other freshmen. In the first place most freshmen are hopeless and in the second place they're hopeless in the first place. Let's see, where was I. Oh! Yes! about those hopeless freshmen. Why can't they even sing "Pack Up Your Troubles" But did those seniors blare forth in melodious discord! It was bee-yoo-tee full. No but a doubt it! No but a doubt it!

Rules For Freshmen
 If you see a senior you'd like to kick. Or see a teacher you'd like to kick. Do it.
 While in Miss Daniel's room you'd like to chew some gum.
 Or while in any teacher's room you'd like to hum.
 Do it.

While in the hall one gets in your way. Knock him down; be on your way. At the first opportunity you find just keep these rules in mind. Go ahead the teachers won't mind. (Oh yeah! Just do it!)

OUR HIGH SCHOOL
 In a beautiful city named Cisco. Don't get it confused with "Frisco." There was a large building called hi-school.

Which, during the winter was extremely cool. Not any of the pupils were very bright.

The way they prepared their lessons were a sight. These pupils gave the teachers a head-ache. Cause all of the rules they try to break.

They wrote on the walls with a lip-stick and ink. And were so noisy you could hardly think. All of their books they tried to ruin. Until the librarian taxed them for so doing.

They cut up their desks and broke window-panes. And acted as if they had no brains. Some of the teachers are old maids, that's true.

But those that are married are often blue. Coming to school with a down-cast face. It's hard during the day to abide by their pace.

Visitors who come think the school is a zoo. They do resemble monkeys I'll admit that's true. This funny school is still going today.

'Cause when new pupils come, they want to stay. So I leave this school for you to de-terminate.

Whether it should have lived or should have died. N. H. and B. T.

HOME EC. CLUB PROGRAM
 The Home Ec. club met this Tuesday at the usual club period and after the usual preliminaries of roll call and minutes we gave the club yell led by the club cheer leader, Marie Qualls. This was followed by talks on ways of self improvement: "Cosmetics"—Sarah Mayhew; "Finger Nails and Hands"—Flora Bacon; "History of Costume"—Johnnie Ladd.

Then as the program did not last the entire period, the girls were at liberty to talk to each other socially or prepare some lesson which had been neglected.

DRAMATIC CLUB NOTES
 The cast for the club play to be presented in about five weeks is being rehearsed on definite schedule.

Plans for building an interior set for the production are under way and will be completed by the members of the club not cast in the play. The Patsy found out that a chicken is the only useful creature before and after it's born! You come to the play and find out what she found out!

Wedding Bells Ring

Southerland-Farmer
 The wedding bells rang for Willis Southerland and Fae Farmer, February 22. The couple were married in Moran, Texas. They have been honored by several parties given by their friends.

Hazel and Westerly
 Alice Hazel, ex-student of C. H. S. was married to Melton Hespil of Putnam, March 3. They will make their home in Graham.

Smith-McDonald
 Lucile Smith, an ex-student of C. H. S. and a well known basketball star, was married to Dutch McDonald February 24. The couple will make their home in Cisco.

Here an' There

Edna Cooles spent Sunday in Breckenridge.

Maynel Edmonson and Ruby Lee Blanton attended a party in Carbon last Tuesday night.

Cecil says he beat Virginia Lee on a geometry test. (What he can't understand is if she is getting dumb or is he getting smart?)

Have you noticed Watson Cooper's and Paul Ives' new football mustaches? (Eleven on each side.)

The three musketeers, Bill Kilborn, Durward Boyd, and Gerald Merket are going into business. (It must be dry goods, cause they have started collecting girls handkerchiefs.)

Isn't it queer that Opal Crawford gets so many notes that have O. B. signed to them. (Could we help you to decide, Opal?)

What's this all about Mary C. Donohoe—this new orange and black sweater with a "W"—and a "W" ring—(Maybe it stands for a "Wink")?

Attention everyone—Gerald Merket says he is on the road to reform (maybe he is in love).

Ruth Meglasson is planning a tour in the panhandle with some friends.

M. D. Bailey, Jr., is mighty proud of his donkey. It won 2nd place in donkey contest. (There were 2 entries.)

In geometry class Daskam and Bernie Mae like to sit in the same seat almost every day. Once as Bernie Mae started to leave, Daskam said, (jokingly?) Oh course not! "I sure hate to see you leave."

Wendell Russell says that someone laughs at each of his jokes. If no one laughs he can work up at least a giggle. (What a man.)

There's gossip about Jimmie R. and Mr. Colium's little girl. (notes.)

Gee! Miss Chambliss, he must be a rich man. (Candy and flowers.) Oh! maybe he is the kind that 'says it with flowers.'

Irene Culbert visited in DeLeon Tuesday night.

Miss Watson went to Dallas to see "that certain someone." (It's been heard that he will be here this week.)

NERVOUS, SLEEPLESS
 Mrs. M. C. Isom of 611 W. 18th St., North Little Rock, Ark., said "I almost had a breakdown. My nerves were so bad, sleep was impossible. Noon

School at noon presents a matinee picture, and particularly an outsider.

The seemingly sudden mad of activity at the first ring of bell. Locker doors slam, students stream from exits, vivacity of conversation, unintentionally overheard. "Wait, run and get my hat".... "Is it raining out there?".... "So told me to sit on the front seat—Get along little dogies".... when the bell rang"....

The basements full of bringing lunch-to-school pupils.... hands reach in to rustling sacks.... "I wonder what gave me today?"....

Upstairs a forlorn girl waiting belated parents.... Miss staying overtime to finish preparations for a Physics experiment. Through with lunch, some upstairs to get lessons or talk two girls comb hair and gossip.

Home-for-lunch students the trek back.... Crowds the Halls gradually change from emptiness to buzzing activity, the clamor is deafening.... bell buzzes indistinctly close on classes.... Silence.

Card games and were enjoyed by the guests here served to the following guests: the Burckett, Dorothy Jean, Betty Elda Clark, Virginia Smith, Doris Surles, Bessie Coats, Louise Poe, the honor the hostess.

CALENDAR
 Tuesday—Feb. 27—Regular club meetings. "Howl Staff" went down to the Cisco Daily News office. Surely was interesting.

Wednesday—Feb. 28—The sophomore's gave an unusual play called "Clipped" in chapel. We enjoyed it a lot.

Thursday—March 1—Study hall during chapel period. Senior's had a special class meeting. Have you heard about the "invitations" the seniors have chosen? They are so pretty.

Friday—March 2—We had a lot of fun in chapel this morning. Mrs. Irby had charge of chapel. The whole student body sang "The Eye's of Texas are Upon You" and "Home on the Range."

Monday—March 5—The Science club gave an interesting program in chapel. Did you know the senior's could sing so well? We should sing more in chapel. Eh? Wot?

PRESS CLUB
 The Press club enjoyed an unusual program last Tuesday. Melvin Lawson who had charge of the meeting for that day, arranged with Mr. Butler to take the club through the press room at the Daily News. The members were shown the steps in the making of a newspaper. There was so much to see and so many
