No Peanut or Dairy Reduction Contracts

County Agent J. C. Patterson today reminded that neither a dairy reduction contract nor a peanut reduction contract will be offered growers as has been planned.

ROUND EUROPE PLANE RACE TO START AUG. 28

WARSAW, May 3.—The biggest European sport flying contest, the "Round Europe" flight for 1934 will be organized by the "Aero Club of the Polish Republic" to which the winner of the last race in 1932, Franciszek Zwirko, belonged.

The flying route covers 9,400 kilometers, as following: Warsaw-Koenigsberg-Berlin-Cologne-Brussels-Paris-Bordeaux-Pau-Madrid-Seville-Casablanca-Mekres-Sidi Bel Abbes-Algiers-Biskra-Tunis-Palermo-Naples-Rome-Rimini-Zagreb-Vienna-Brunn-Prague-Kattowitz-Lvov-Vilna-Warsaw.

The flight starts officially on August 29 with the technical examinations, which last until Sept. 7. This hard trial includes: minimum speed start and landing within the short stretch examination of gasoline consumption, and dismounting and assembly of airplanes.

Prizes for the first place 100,000 French francs; for second, 40,000 for third, 20,000; the fourth, 10,000 and 15 prizes of 6,000 francs each.

NEW TRIAL IS ORDERED FOR RICHARDSON

AUSTIN, May 3.—The court of criminal appeals Wednesday reversed and remanded the case of Charles F. Richardson, sentenced to life imprisonment from Young county on a charge of murder in the slaying of his son, Elga Richardson, January 1, 1934.

The record in its entirety leads inescapably to the conclusion that the appellant and his case had been prejudged, the court held after pointing out the widespread publicity given the slaying.

The high court held Richardson's trial could not have been fair and unprejudiced because all the jurors had heard the slaying sworn testimony in the trial.

Methodists, Baptists Win Their Games

Yesterday's two games in the city soft ball league resulted in victories of the Methodists over the Fire department by a score of 11 to 6 and the Baptists over the Nance Motor company by a score of 18 to 2.

Stamey was pitcher for the Methodists and Garrett for the Fire department. Brandon pitched for the Baptists and Stephens and Moore for the Nance team.

League Dir. T. C. Williams reminded the clubs today that the limit for a playground baseball game is seven innings and not nine. He asked the clubs to adhere to that rule.

FIVE STAGES BEND, Ore., May 3.—There are five stages of drunkenness, Circuit Judge T. E. J. Duffy instructed a circuit court jury, trying a case appealed from justice court. They are, he said: Jocosse, lachrymose, morose, bellicose, comatose. The jury brought in an unadorned verdict of guilty.

NEW CONTACT WITH CHILD'S CAPTORS SEEN

TUCSON, Ariz., May 3.—Negotiations for payment of $15,000 ransom and return of June Robles, 6, kidnapped heiress, were believed to have been reopened today.

The belief was founded on a trip made by Al Aguirre, reputed intermediary in the case and friend of the grandfather of the kidnaped child.

Aguirre disappeared after boarding a bus at Nogales, border town, for Tucson. When the bus reached here, he was not aboard. Aguirre returned to Nogales late yesterday. He was seen in a money exchange, a private institution similar to a bank.

WOMAN RELEASED AT GOOSE CREEK GOOSE CREEK, Texas, May 3.—A child here resembling June Robles, 6, kidnaped at Tucson, Ariz., is not the missing girl.

Gus Jones, chief of department of justice agents in Texas, today telephoned Marshal V. C. Porter to release a woman held here since Tuesday night for questioning in connection with the kidnaping.

CRITICISM OF NRA VOICED AT U. S. C. C. MEET

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3.—America must balance her budget, return to the gold standard and reduce her securities, not before there is any real prosperity, Silas H. Strawn, distinguished Chicago attorney, insisted today.

His address before the 22nd annual convention of the United States chamber of commerce was one of the most vigorous criticisms of the new deal yet voiced by an American business leader.

Employment Shows Much Improvement

AUSTIN, May 3.—Employment conditions in Texas continue to show marked improvement over the corresponding period a year ago, according to the University of Texas bureau of business research. For the week ending April 14, reports from 3,038 Texas establishments show a gain of 16.4 per cent in the number of workers employed and a rise of 15.5 per cent in payrolls in comparison with these same firms during the corresponding period last year.

An increase of 1.2 per cent in payrolls and less than 1 per cent in the number employed occurred in these establishments between March and April.

Cities in which the increase in the number employed was above the average in comparison with April, 1933, were: Port Arthur, San Angelo, Dallas, Austin, and Wichita Falls.

Democrats Win Test Vote on Rayburn Bill

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3.—The democratic leadership won the first test vote on the Rayburn stock market bill today when the house voted down an attempt to lower margin requirements set by the measure.

The test vote came on an amendment offered by Rep. Edward Kennedy, Dem.-N. J., which would have increased the loan values of securities from 55 per cent as specified in the bill to 60 per cent, in other words, lowered the margin requirement to 40 per cent of the market value of the security.

Kenny said that industry required a liquor securities market and therefore believed the margin requirement of the bill should be lowered.

Trade Attitude of Britain Given Japs

LONDON, May 3.—Great Britain presented to Japan today what was understood to be a virtual commercial ultimatum in an effort to halt the damaging encroachments of Japanese trade against the empire.

The Japanese ambassador and the commercial attaché of the embassy visited Walter Runciman, president of the Board of Trade, at 4:30 p. m. Runciman was understood to have handed them a memorandum, setting forth the British attitude.

CLYDE IS TRIFLING ON BONNIE, TEXAS RANGERS ARE INFORMED

AUSTIN, May 3.—Clyde Barrow is trifling on Bonnie Parker, his gunswinging companion, it was revealed at Texas ranger headquarters here today. This and the fact that he has broken with Raymond Hamilton give new hope for capture of the notorious desperado soon.

The belief was founded on a trip made by Al Aguirre, reputed intermediary in the case and friend of the grandfather of the kidnaped child.

Aguirre disappeared after boarding a bus at Nogales, border town, for Tucson. When the bus reached here, he was not aboard. Aguirre returned to Nogales late yesterday. He was seen in a money exchange, a private institution similar to a bank.

Beer Sign Is Not Derived From Goat

HOUSTON, May 3.—Bock beer signs with goat heads, to old imbibers the first real harbinger of spring, derived from a German glass manufacturer's name and not from any drinking habit of goats.

The explanation of Frantz Brogniez, Belgium brewmaster here whose formula for making beer has been handed down from father to son for two centuries.

European brewers made their beer in the late fall and winter months, Brogniez explained, taking the first off draught about May—the first beer of spring. Some called it "May beer."

The dark, heavy beer was served in conical glasses made by the Boch Glass company, Brogniez recalled. Hence many called it Bock beer or simply "boch."

In German the word "boch" means "goat," he explained. Consequently it became the custom to advertise that Bock beer season had arrived.

Substitution of the "k" for the "h" in the spelling is an American variation, Brogniez said.

Ft. Worth Drives On Gambling Resorts

FORT WORTH, May 3.—City and county officers joined hands today in the drive to "clean up" the city of horse racing bookmaking shops and gambling resorts.

Chief of Police Henry Lewis said members of several downtown hotels had been ordered to close reported de luxe gambling establishments by nightfall "or else." Some of these cover entire hotel floors, Lewis said.

Only marble machines will be spared in the drive, it was said. Search warrants will be issued officers who ask them, permitting seizure of equipment, the district attorney said.

Hamlin School Party Spends Day at Lake

Thirty-five seniors of the Hamlin high school, accompanied by Ray Morris and Miss Ruby Thompson, teachers, spent today at Lake Cisco, swimming, boating and picnicking.

The teachers declared that parties from the school had visited many places of recreation but had found none to compare with Cisco.

YOUTHFUL DRIVER POMONA, Cal., May 3.—Ten-year-old Harold Smith, son of the trainer of horses at Kellogg Institute of Animal Husbandry probably is the youngest chariot driver in the business. His father rigged up a Roman style chariot, in miniature, and hitched four ponies to the cart, which the youngster drives around track at the Kellogg ranch.

OLD LOCOMOTIVES GO EUREKA, Cal., May 3.—Two locomotives which were puffing from Humboldt county's redwood forests 50 years ago, hauling logs from which early Californians hewed a great western empire, are about to fall before the march of progress.

The locomotives, constructed in 1880 by the Baldwin Locomotive Works, will end their periods of service as scrap steel to be used in reinforcing the mammoth San Francisco Bay Bridge, wrecking company officials announced.

STEPS TO END DOCKWORKERS STRIKE START

HOUSTON, May 3.—Immediate steps to end the strike of 4,000 Texas and Louisiana dockworkers were ordered taken by the National Labor board at Washington on instructions sent Chairman Oscar Powell of the regional labor board at San Antonio, it was learned here.

Meanwhile shipping was at a practical standstill in Texas ports and at Lake Charles, La., where picketing of wharves began yesterday. A man struck in a fist fight reported yesterday along the extensive gulf coast.

Powell advised by telephone today he would get in touch with officials of the International Longshoremen's association, which called the strike, and arrange a conference.

SINCLAIR EMPLOYEES WALK OUT

SEMINOLE, Okla., May 3.—Union employees of the Sinclair Prairie Oil company in the greater Seminole area struck today, forcing a two-thirds shut down of the concern's properties.

Union leaders estimated at least 500 workers walked out at 9 a. m. in an effort to force recognition of their organization and complete adherence on the part of the company to a recent agreement made by Harry F. Sinclair.

FERGUSON SAYS "MA" WILL PUT STATE ON CASH

AUSTIN, May 3.—Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson's ambition to go out of office with the state restored to a cash basis will be realized, her husband-adviser predicted today in the Ferguson Forum.

"The present administration reduced appropriations $15,000,000," the Forum said. "Had the preceding administration not left to this administration a deficiency in round numbers of $19,000,000, the state would today be out of debt, as a result of its policy of economy."

"However, at the end of this administration's fiscal year the state will be finally restored to a cash basis, but it will be almost impossible to leave much money in the treasury, as in former administrations, because of deficiencies inherited."

State Treasurer Charlie Lockhart placed the remaining state general fund deficit at $4,140,125.

600 Exchange Firms Profits 833 Millions

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3.—The 600 firms trading on the New York Stock Exchange made average profits of $1,333,333 in the period beginning in 1928 and running through the 1929 boom as well as the lean days that followed, figures submitted to the senate banking committee has revealed.

The total sum, as gathered from questionnaires tabulated by Ferdinand Pecora, the committee's counsel, showed a net income of $833,167,586 for the period.

IDEAL TO FOIL ABDUCTORS

FORT WORTH, May 3.—The Texas Children's Home and Aid Society has taken precautions so that none of its children can be kidnaped without the abductor leaving his mark of identification. Any visitor whatsoever to the upstairs wards must leave his coat and hat in the reception room before ascending the stairs.

Facist Constitution Adopted by Austria

VIENNA, Austria, May 3.—Austria's new constitution converting the republic into a facist state on Italian lines, was published Monday as parliament met to approve it and sign the death warrant of parliamentary government.

The 471 decrees embodying the constitution were approved by a single vote in a one-hour session of parliament.

"The constitution means that Austria will adopt the guild system of government with all categories of the national life represented in two chambers with sharply restricted powers, under a government enjoying strong powers."

Philippines Accept Independence Bill

MANILA, P. I., May 3.—The Philippine legislature Tuesday took the first formal step toward island independence by unanimously accepting the Tying-McDuffie freedom plan approved by the congress of the United States.

Enthusiastic cheering from spectators accompanied the announcement of the vote on the resolution accepting the congressional autonomy plan.

The next task of the legislature, meeting in a special session, is to provide for a constitutional convention.

Hamilton to Plead Guilty to Robbery

DALLAS, May 3.—Raymond Hamilton, 20-year-old Texas escaped convict, recaptured two hours after he had robbed another bank, will enter a plea of guilty when he goes to trial here Monday on charges in the looting of the Grand Prairie bank of $1,500 April 19.

The youthful desperado also faces indictments under the habitual criminal statute. A venire of 400 was drawn yesterday for probably jury service.

ROTARIANS TO ATTEND 41ST DISTRICT MEET

Most of the members of the Cisco Rotary club will attend the Tuesday sessions of the annual conference of the 41st district of Rotary at Abilene next week, it was revealed at the meeting of the club today when E. P. Crawford, chairman of the committee named by President Phil Pettit to promote club interest in the conference and arrange for this attendance, polled the club members. It is planned to go in a group and to arrive before 10:30 a. m.

Incoming President B. A. Butler and Secy J. E. Spencer, who were re-elected, were named official delegates. They plan to attend Monday when the important district instructional sessions are to be held.

Mr. Crawford said that E. R. McDaniel had been named by the Abilene club to be host to the Cisco delegation.

Thanks Club J. C. King, M. K. and T. agent, was a club guest and expressed appreciation of the "Katy" for the part that members of the Rotary club had played in the entertainment of Matthew S. Sloan, chairman of the board of the railroad, when Mr. Sloan visited here last Saturday.

Jim Collins, chairman of the playground baseball committee, announced that the club will play the Baptist team tomorrow evening at 6 at the grammar school.

The club program, cut short by limited time, closed with that of Jim Bird on charges of desertion in having deserted the Rotary club team and gone over to the Baptist team. Bird denied the charge. On his plea that he was without funds, "Judge" Jim Collins, named J. B. Cate as defense counsel. Prosecutor was R. L. Ponsler and J. C. McAfee served as sheriff.

The trial was ended when the judge abruptly cut short the proceedings before the defense had time to put in a word and the defendant led watermelons to serve the club.

Cummings said he wished 200 additional special agents 70 accountants, some armored cars, a two-way radio system for communication among a fleet of radio scout cars, machine guns and certain types of rifles.

Stewart's most notorious exploits were performed in and around Dallas.

Five bank robberies and a packing house holdup were charged against him. Stewart and a gang in 1932 terrorized the town of Knox City, Texas, and robbed a bank there of $15,000.

SAID BARROW HEADED TO JOIN JOHN DILLINGER

CHICAGO, May 3.—One of the west's most notorious outlaws today was reported to be rushing toward Chicago—his route marked by Watson gunplay—to join forces with John Dillinger.

Clyde Barrow, the Texas terrorist to whose bloody depredations a half a dozen lives have been charged, was believed headed for Dillinger's hideout here.

With him, it was reported, were Bonnie Parker, his cigar-smoking sweetheart, and another outlaw.

A "shoot to kill" army of 7,000 police and federal agents, realizing that a union of Dillinger and Barrow probably would spread more deaths in the wake of the Hoosier outlaw's maraudings, put new vigor into their search for Dillinger whom they felt sure was in hiding here.

The officers' belief that Dillinger was in Chicago was based on the finding of his bullet-marked, blood-stained automobile on the north side late yesterday. There was ample proof that it had been abandoned by the killer.

There also was speculation that Dillinger might be near death or seriously wounded.

The theory that Barrow might head for Chicago to throw his lot with Dillinger's gang against the massed forces of the law unless headed off federal agents, realizing that a union of Dillinger and Barrow probably would spread more deaths in the wake of the Hoosier outlaw's maraudings, put new vigor into their search for Dillinger whom they felt sure was in hiding here.

NAIL HELD BONE
VACAVILLE, Cal., May 3. — A shingle nail held Frank Weber's ankle bone together for 24 years after it was broken in 1908, it was disclosed here recently when Dr. Middleton P. Stansbury performed an operation to remove the nail. Weber was forced to seek medical attention when the nail caused an ulcer to begin, he said.

Sons of Texas Stage Rousing Jamboree at Washington Club

5000 Chicago Teachers Protest Payless Months

School teachers, some unpaid since last May, brought the school crisis vividly before Chicago when 5000 of them paraded through the downtown section, as shown here, protesting delays in state legislation to enable payment of back salaries.

Miami's $1,000,000 Airport World's Largest

Covering 47 acres along colorful Biscayne Bay, here you see a bird's eye view of the Miami seaplane terminal—the world's largest and costliest aviation sea base. Built by the Pan-American Airways at a cost of $1,000,000, the airport has, in addition to the immense hangar shown in center, an international terminal building (foreground) with customs and immigration offices. The new base is an air link between North and South America.

Brothers Start Fight for Life in Massachusetts Holdup

Accused of the machine gun murder of a policeman in a Needham (Mass.) bank holdup, the Milten Brothers Irving and Martin, and their friend, Abe Faber (wearing felt hat), are shown arriving at Dedham County Court under a heavy police escort for the opening of their trial. A plea to transfer the trial to United States District Court in Boston was denied.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES
Win Back Pep . . . Vigor . . . Vitality
Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. They should pour out thru the bladder 3 pints of fluid a day which contains 4 pounds of waste matter. If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amounts causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of morning backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic sores and diseases. If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS . . . a doctor's prescription . . . which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes. But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes. Your common sense will tell you that this is impossible. Treatments of this nature may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS . . . the old reliable relief that contains no "dose" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

HANES
The name that changed underwear to WONDERWEAR
You won't wonder where it gets its name—once you climb into HANES! Pull a shirt over your head, and see how far the tail hangs below your belt! It's down so deep in your shorts, it can't worm up and out at your waist! Mister, that is comfort!
Now look at HANES' springy knit. Notice how closely it clings to your chest—without drooping or sagging! And keep your eye on it, week after week—when it's washed. It'll be as lively and snug as ever!
Give a pair of HANES Shorts a work-out. Squirm around and stoop as much as you want. No matter how hard you try, you can't make them catch the crotch and pinch! Colors guard the stretch fast. See your HANES dealer today, and ask for Wonderweare. P. H. Hanes Knitting Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

DESDEMONA

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Stover and their son, Fred Stover, of Houston, have down to DeLeon on business Thursday. Fred has a good position with the Humble Oil and Refining company at Houston. He came on Wednesday and left Friday just a short time before his brother, Rev. Sherrod Stover, came in from Fort Worth and on Saturday another brother, Carroll Stover, came from Wichita Falls and stayed until Monday. On Sunday Sherrod preached at the Baptist church both in the morning and at night in the place of Rev. Z. C. Chambless who is holding a revival at Best, Texas. The night service was especially interesting not only on account of the good sermon preached by this young preacher but on account of one of the congregation being Mrs. Louise Locking, 91 years old, who is the grandmother of the preacher, "Grandma" as she is lovingly called by almost all who know her has been a cripple many years and is seldom able to attend church.

THE U. S. C. OF C. CONVENTION

What is said to be the largest organization of business men in the United States, the chamber of commerce of the United States, is in session in Washington, its delegates openly divided upon the issue of the NRA, with each side professing to see in the results of the recovery drive that which sustains its support or antagonism. President Henry I. Harriman is on the side of the administration in its program. In the opening address of the convention he told the delegates that economic horizons have brightened and that unemployment has been reduced more than two-thirds. On the other hand, opponents of the NRA asserted that it is like giving a patient a purge and bleeding him white at the same time.

Whenever business men generally have come together there has been a lively crossfire of praise and criticism of the NRA, have removed from such voluntary organizations of establishment of code authorities for self-government under the NRA, has removed from such voluntary organizations of business men as the United States chamber, at least temporarily, much of their prestige as representatives of industry and commerce. But the NRA has not removed the opportunity for conventions of these organizations to become forums where grievances may be aired, praise uttered, remedies suggested and the recovery program generally tested in the censure of its enemies.

General Johnson, much-seared but still fighting leader of the recovery campaign, has already appeared before the convention to face its test and defend the program against the censure of his enemies.

Harriman, in his address, reminded the business men that long before the depression had reached its nadir, the chamber of commerce had overwhelmingly voted in favor of self-regulation through trade groups and associations. He pointed out that the NRA was the answer of congress to this request—an imperfect answer, perhaps, but one that appeared to be accomplishing much good.

In his foreword, issued before the opening of the convention, the head of the chamber declared that the fundamental question "of the extent to which the nation still faces and economic emergency will be projected for a business man's answer." The answer to the question was regarded as basic because the attitude of the chamber toward the Roosevelt administration is expected to be determined by it. As officially stated, one question emphasized: "To what extent has the upswing in business been due to governmental action and how much through the operation of natural economic forces?" This was to be followed by the further inquiry: "What force of business action and governmental policies affecting business does the situation now demand?" Furthermore, the purpose of the convention was further defined as "to bring the business thought of the country to bear on policies and measures necessary to insure the greatest possible degree of future economic stability. What legislative enactments should be made permanent? What should be amended and what should be dropped when the emergency is over?"

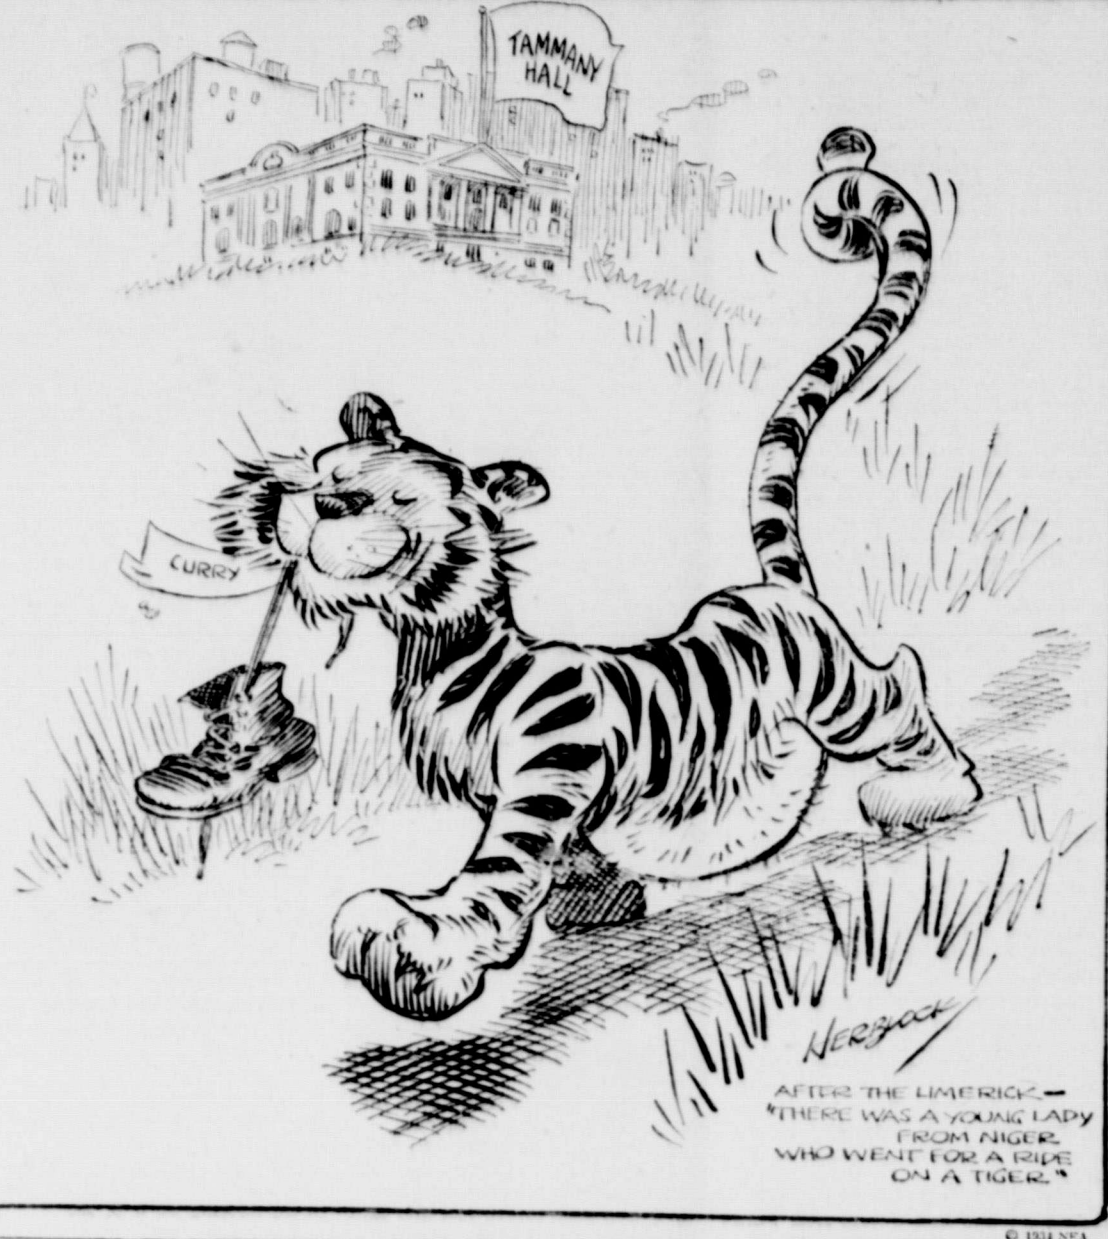

The answer to these questions are being sought in the conflict of opinion and views in the sessions of the business men at Washington. The administration will probably get a fairly well defined picture of what business generally thinks of its efforts to give it the recovery assistance it demanded when Roosevelt offered himself as a leader with the courage to try new paths and a confidence in his ability to set in motion forces that eventually would overcome the momentum of the depression and start the country toward prosperity again.

PRAISES PRESS

Praise of the part that the press has played in starting Texas back on the road to recovery" was spoken by Rep. Richard M. Kleberg, of Corpus Christi, in a message over long distance telephone hookup to the South Texas Press association recently. He congratulated editors and publishers, and reviewed conditions as they were during the years of the depression. "What was the reaction of the press of south Texas to these critical conditions?" he continued. "You know the answer. Your support of the administration and its policies, throughout this hectic and trying period was patriotic and wholehearted. You spread correct information and, directing public thought through your editorials and interpretive articles, you rendered invaluable service to your state and your nation. I might say, also at this point, that it has been my observation that the press of south Texas has always been in the vanguard of worthwhile movements and has given incalculable assistance in every crisis of our state's history. From the establishment in 1829 at San Felipe, Brazoria county, of the state's first newspaper, The Cotton Plant, up to this good hour you fellows have done more than your share in building a greater Texas."

The press not only of south Texas, but of all parts of Texas and all parts of the nation, has done its part in this "hectic and trying period." Not in agreement always, but always in faith with the ideals of American liberty and the welfare of the nation whose security in constitutional government it defends, the press has stood firmly in front for the maintenance of the majesty of the law and the rights and liberties of the people.

They came back from the ride, with the leader inside, And a smile on the face of the tiger.

LaGuardia Tells Police to Shoot to Kill

By HUGH NUGENT FITZGERALD
Mayor F. H. LaGuardia of New York is a product of Arizona. As he was born in Arizona in its territorial days and his parents were of Italian origin. His boyhood days were passed on the frontier and the sheriffs who maintained the law of the territory never hesitated to use their guns on desperate criminals. Now the Arizona-born Italian-American is the mayor of the American metropolis. He addressed an army of 2,000 policemen the other day and he advised them how to deal with crooks and criminals and murderers. This is what he said:

"Out where I was raised we did not have much of a police department. Our sheriff was quick on the trigger—if you get what I mean. Two policemen were shot down in cold blood, one killed and the other seriously wounded. Are you going to stand for that? You will have to find the men who shot those officers. Every crook must be made to know that there will be no compromise with organized crime. Let the word go out to every crook to keep out of New York—that it is unhealthy here. The police should put fear into the hearts of every crook that he will tip his hat every time he sees a policeman."

Major Alfred Petch of Frederickburg, Gillespie county, is one of the most outspoken and fearless men who have seen service in legislative halls under the big dome. He has three terms to his credit. He was one of the leaders of the legislative body. He stood for correct principles of government. He is a lawyer and has been a district attorney. He will be a candidate for representative for a fifth time in June. Major Petch served overseas. He was a gallant soldier. He believes in law enforcement. He would put down crime by smashing criminals in Texas. If elected, he has a program. Read it:

"In the event that I am elected I propose to make the reform of the criminal statutes one of my main objectives. Among the matters of almost important are: First, a statewide law enforcement machinery, with added power placed in the chief law officer whereby he is authorized to coordinate the efforts of all officers possessed with the right of arrest in efforts to effectuate the capture of major criminals. Second, the repeal of the law forbidding the defendant to testify in a trial of his case. Third, the repeal of the severance statute so that all persons charged with crime growing out of the same transaction may be tried at the same time. Fourth, changing the right of continuance of a criminal case so as to make the right condition upon the facts as are now required to exist in a second application for continuance. Fifth, change in the machinery for selection of a jury by abolishing the jury wheel and placing the selection into the hands of a committee of three to be appointed by the grand jury and enjoining the district judge from excluding any person selected for jury service excepting under the most extraordinary conditions.

If the people of Texas are for law enforcement, if they believe that the punishment should fit the crime if they are sincere in their demands for the protection of life and property at all costs lawmakers of the type of Major Petch should be elected as members of both houses of the 44th legislature. There is a way to go about it. Compel candidates for legislative office to meet the issue squarely in the primary campaign now on. Make the legislative aspirant face the issue and pledge himself (or herself) to vote to cast aside the antiquated criminal statutes of the commonwealth. Bandits of today shoot to kill.

of the protection of life and property regardless of the cost it may be to the law abiding taxpayers of the commonwealth.

MOVED HISTORIC HOUSE

VIENNA, Ont., May 3.—An old frame school house in which the mother of the late Thomas A. Edison taught school here, will, it is rumored, soon be moved to the Ford Museum at Dearborn, Mich. The building, which now is being used as a general store, is the last relic of the Edison family in Canada. An old frame dwelling, in which the grandfather of the late inventor used to live, already has been moved to Dearborn.

FIGURES GIVEN ON INCREASE IN OIL PRODUCTION

AUSTIN, May 3.—In considering the increased production of crude oil in the United States since the beginning of 1934, as compared with the production for the corresponding period in 1933, a few percentage figures may serve to give a more definite picture of what is happening in this part of the oil industry. Elmer H. Johnson, regional economist in the University of Texas bureau of business research, pointed out in his monthly survey of the petroleum industry.

"The estimated daily average production of crude oil in this country for the week ending April 21, 1934, is almost 23 per cent greater than that for the week ending April 22, 1933," Mr. Johnson said. "This expansion of production is being paralleled by the greater activity that has become manifest in field operations and in field developments throughout the entire oil producing territory of the United States."

Expansion of Operations

"This expansion of operations, and particularly the expansion in producing oil fields, is not uniform by any means. Texas, for instance, which has been furnishing for some months more than 40 per cent of the national production, was producing during the week ending April 21, 1934, almost 42 per cent of the total crude oil for the country; for the week ending April 22 a year ago this state was producing a little more than 36 per cent of the national output. Moreover, it is important to note that the daily average production of Texas is now 41.6 per cent greater than it was a year ago. Certainly this increase is one of vast significance to Texas as well as to the oil industry.

"Furthermore, in the week ending April 21, 1934, the three East Texas fields—Lathrop, Kilgore, and Joiner—furnished more than 48 per cent of the entire Texas output. And it should be noted that the east Texas field have increased their output by more than 158 per cent over that of a year ago.

"In general, friends in the major oil districts of the country show an increase in production over that of this time last year. A notable exception, however, occurs in the larger fields of California, all of which currently are furnishing less oil than during this period of 1933. Such fields as Santa Fe Springs, Long Beach, and Kettleman Hill all register decreases; the state of California as a whole, however, shows a slight increase. Another field showing a slight decrease in the Semi-ole-St. Louis of Oklahoma. The state of Oklahoma is producing considerably more oil than it was a year ago; Oklahoma City has increased its output by more than 74 per cent.

Comparisons

"Likewise, most Texas districts show substantial increases—West Texas, north central Texas, Texas panhandle, and the gulf coast. The current production of the gulf coast, for instance, registers a gain of 5.6 per cent over that for the same period in 1933. Various comparisons bring into perspective the dominance of Texas and of several of its various fields in the production of oil. For instance, the entire state of Kansas is producing currently less oil than even the single district of west Texas, and therefore considerable less than the Texas gulf coast. Arkansas is producing less than any one of the major Texas districts. All of Louisiana is producing considerably less than north central Texas, and thus much less than either west Texas or the Texas gulf coast. The current output of the entire state of Oklahoma is less than one-half that of Texas; and the current output of Oklahoma is somewhat greater than that of California. Kettleman Hills, for instance, is producing only a little more than the Texas panhandle; and the output of the three large California fields—Santa Fe Springs, Long Beach and Kettleman Hill—is only a little more than that of the Texas gulf coast and is only a third that of the three fields of east Texas. And the total production of California is less than that of east Texas alone. Thus it is necessary to consider the major individual oil districts of Texas as comparable to or even exceeding in importance that of other oil producing states."

CWA Artists Send Gifts to President

HOUSTON, May 3.—Grateful artists and artisans in the recreation department of the civil works administration classes here expressed their appreciation in gifts to the presidential family.

An original linoleum block for personal bookplates, made by a young woman graduate of an exclusive Southern women's college, was sent to Mrs. Roosevelt. A Mexican craftsman chipped an artistic design in glass to frame the president's picture which was sent to Mr. Roosevelt.

Even "Sistie" and "Buzzie" Dali, grandchildren of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, were remembered. A dainty hand-beaten silver bracelet bore the engraving, "Sistie," and an elaborately carved airplane model bore the name "Buzzie."

A young woman artist painted Texas bluebonnets, state flower, on the wrapping paper for the collection.

LOS ANGELES, May 3.—One animal for every inhabitant, or about 3,741,000 were slaughtered in California during 1933 the State Department of Agriculture revealed. Consumption of meat during the year amounted to 153 pounds per person—almost a pound a day for each individual.

Former Ciscoan Is Buried at Abilene

ABILENE, May 3.—Funeral services for Samuel Nelson House, a Cisco resident since 1929, were Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock from the home, 850 Victoria street, conducted the rites, followed by the body was sent to Dallas for burial.

Mr. House, who was 83 years old, died unexpectedly of a heart attack Monday.

Native of Georgia, Mr. House married there in 1872, and with wife came to Texas in 1877. Settled in Stephens county, House for a time operating a route between Breckenridge and Baird, and anticipating the Texas Pacific railroad, was one of the promoters of a town named Gould in Calahan county. House and associates were endeavoring to the railroad through their new at the same time the Mercers brothers, John and Clabe, saw the line for Belle Plains. Both the T. & P. going through Baird and for several years in C where he operated a hotel. He resided in Baird, House nestled the founding of Abilene, tending the first sale of town here.

Wirt Says He Was "Hammered" Silo

CHICAGO, May 3.—Dr. William A. Wirt, the Hoosier schoolmaster who startled the country with "red plot" charges, Monday told war veterans that he was "hammered into silence and intimidation" when he went to Washington to prove his claims.

The 60-year-old Indiana educator spoke at a luncheon sponsored by the American Legion. A congressional investigating committee recently found his charges of communist plots against the government "baseless."

In his speech Monday he named Speaker of the House Henry Ray as having made "socialistic utterances."

The following rule should be followed: C-Enamel should be used for sulphur-bearing foods, such as corn, cabbage, chicken, hominy, peas and succotash. C-Enamel is not recommended but has been successful for lima beans, beets, carrots, corn on the cob, mixed vegetables for soup, pumpkin, squash and spinach.

C-Enamel should not be used for any product which is acid, such as fruits, including apples, berries, cherries, pickles, tomato products.

Foundation Pattern Miss Malta Turner, wardrobe demonstrator for the Peak Home Demonstration club, gave the foundation skirt pattern making demonstration to the club at the home of Mrs. P. C. Larkin. Miss Turner stated that fourteen of the women attended and all are interested in making and using the foundation pattern, not only for themselves, but plan to make one for the girls in the families. One member stated she is to make the waist pattern for her nine-year-old daughter. Miss Turner stressed the need for keeping the threads straight up and down and straight across when making the pattern and when cutting the garment.

Materials For Making New unbleached or bleached domestic should be used to get the best results when making foundation patterns as the experience Mrs. D. M. Jacobs has gained in the demonstration she has started with her club members of the North Star Home Demonstration club. If you feel you can't afford to buy the new material, then use sacks or a fairly good sheet, but starch with a thin starch and iron. When using the old materials cut in skirt and waist lengths and be sure to iron only one way with the threads in order to keep them straight and have the least trouble with getting and keeping them straight with the pattern when cutting.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—Next sensational NRA document to be suppressed is a citation of 29 specific cases where code authorities or members have brought different types of pressure on manufacturers to drive prices up and keep them there.

This bare, factual report from the Consumers' Advisory Board makes no comment. It bristles with evidence of open price association abuses, coercion of small industrialists who can profit on reasonable prices, price-fixing under codes which have no pricing provisions, and practices which drive prices far ahead of purchasing power. The citations show:

One manufacturer was untruthfully told by his code authority that he would be violating the code if he didn't raise a certain price from $10 to $24.25 and a competitor told him he would be sent to Atlanta.

Manufacturers in another industry were advised to get their prices in line by copying one another's prices, though admitted that it was illegal to do so.

A manufacturer complains that he can produce many items much cheaper than bigger corporations with "overhead," but says the code authority threatened him with prosecution if he didn't observe its arbitrarily set price list.

Small competitors are threatened with price wars and one, able to save 20 per cent on operating costs by selling direct to dealers and jobbers without salesmen, was threatened by a big competitor with being put out of business.

Consumer was scheduled to run recently in the very fashionable races at Middleburg, Va. But he was found to be so thin and run-down that he couldn't start.

DEMOCRATIC cloakroom gossip is that Senator Huey Long plans to run against Roosevelt for renomination in 1936 and hopes to take at least a few southern delegations to the convention in an effort to block the president.

Some Democrats take this more seriously than it sounds, believing Huey may line up with other anti-Roosevelt elements in the party and take advantage of any subsequent decline in Roosevelt popularity—which, by the way, is just as strong as ever, on the basis of congressional mail.

FATHER COUGHLIN's next big campaign, insiders say, will be for social credits. The famous priest already is interested in the project and an influential senator has arranged a private meeting here between him and Major C. H. Douglas, author of a widely known plan for a federal system which would take over the credit power from the banks and extend credit to consumers.

Greely said his most amazing memory of Texas rested around the story of "Sheridan, Hell and Texas." Here's the story as Greely said Sheridan told it:

"When I went to Texas to find out how matters were going, I took along a large staff. I feared trouble here and was anxious to get back soon, and from various points sent state officers to investigate conditions. I could not spare time to look into it. I left Texas with only one staff officer, who caused talk at places I did not visit. Some paper fellow thought it clever to invent a reason, and so said that my last words on leaving were: If I owned Hell and Texas, I would live in Hell and rent out Texas."

But added Sheridan, did you hear the clever comment of a rebel editor? Quoting the original story he added: "Bully for Sheridan. Damn a man who won't stand up for his own country."

Next War Like World War, General Says

FORT WORTH, May 3.—Despite the general opinion, the next war will be very much like the World War, believes Major General William R. Smith, former superintendent of West Point military academy and now superintendent of the Sweeney (Tex.) Military academy.

In face of recent inventions and the increasing usage of the airplane, the next war will not be "fought in the air," General Smith said. General Smith was a commander in the World War.

"Men must meet men face to face on the battlefield before one army can defeat another," he said. "When men are confronted with too powerful a force, they dig in. The only way to route them is to send other men to dig them out."

General Smith gave his views on the next war during a visit here recently in the interest of the institution, which he heads.

Man Who Helped Raise Funds for Cisco Storm Sufferers Rode in First Gas Wagon

A little city of 6,000 or more, so densely built and geographically well located as Cisco, one of the few of 6,000 class cities of Texas, rarely makes many friends throughout the world, but before friendship can exist acquaintance must be made and 41 years ago I got acquainted with Cisco, when in a neighboring town I served a committee to collect money and supplies for the sufferers of the 1893 famine which took a toll of 35 million lives. Several times when I have made short stops in Cisco and the beauty of its hills and the friendliness of its people have so impressed me that I regret that I did not come to Cisco and stay longer, perhaps permanently.

90-Year-Old Veteran Recalls Vividly Three Years of Life Spent in Texas

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3.—The future of the nation held little place in the thoughts of the men who pushed their way through the Texas wilds 70 years ago to establish municipalities with frontier settlements.

Greely is 90, and although he has spent less than three years of his life in Texas, he recalls vividly conditions and hardships that existed. Names and minute details of the frontier were irrefragable. The climate, he said, had been forgotten in the years, and I never kept a diary.

GULF WINS MORE "HILL TESTS" THAN 32 GASOLINES COMBINED

Will your car have more power on any one gasoline? HERE'S YOUR ANSWER...

Gulf tested a total of 33 gasolines on famous American hills—12 hills in localities from Massachusetts to Georgia—and here is what they found...

The power of different gasolines varies widely! And of all 33 gasolines, Gulf is uniformly best. 7 out of 12 times, it propelled a car and load up mountain grades farther than any other gasoline tested!

It won more hill tests than 32 other gasolines combined! Prove it! Drive into a Gulf station, fill up, and test the power of That Good Gulf for yourself!

HOW 33 GASOLINES RANKED (IN ALL TESTS TO DATE) EACH OF THE BRANDS of gasoline tested is indicated on the chart by a letter, A to Z6. Note that Gulf gas was uniformly best! Other high-ranking gasoline varied widely in different tests. ©1934 GULF REFINING CO., PITTSBURGH, PA. there's more power in THAT GOOD GULF GASOLINE

New Issue Tossed Into Governor Race

McKINNEY, Texas, May 3.—(Special)—A new issue was tossed into the 1934 campaign by Maury Hughes gubernatorial candidate here Saturday when in his opening speech he advocated a highway commission that the people themselves would elect and control. He told the 5,000 listeners gathered to hear his opening speech that he would divide the state into four districts, each to be represented by an elected commissioner, with the governor appointing the chairman. He also advocated an old age pension plan, based upon that contained in the 1932 democratic platform which Hughes, as a member of the platform committee, helped to write. Hughes said that if it should be necessary to obtain a seven months school year and a decent wage for teachers, he would add approximately $1,500,000 per year to the school fund by taking another one-eighth of the gasoline tax. While chairman of the state recovery board, Hughes obtained federal aid for rural schools and unemployed teachers. A state police force and judicial reform a pardon and parole system model after that of the federal government, reduced governmental costs and opposition to new forms of taxation, were among the points stressed by the candidate.

LEBRUN TAKES LEAD IN ROLE OF GODFATHER

By MARY KNIGHT
United Press Staff Correspondent
PARIS, May 2.—Within less than two years as president of the French republic, M. Albert Lebrun has become the godfather of 497 children.

At this rate, by the end of his term of office in May 1939, he should be historically responsible for 1,500 god-girls and boys.

Godfathering long has been a quaint presidential duty in France. M. Gaston Doumergue, now minister, although a bachelor during all but the last four days of his presidency, became godfather of almost a thousand children. With the start that M. Lebrun has, he will exceed this number.

Certain Restrictions
There are certain restrictions, however, which makes it impossible for just anybody to become a godson or daughter of the French president. The girl or boy to be bred this title must come from a family of French nationality and he or she must be at least the eighth living child in the family.

Furthermore, the morality and honor of the family must be above reproach. Social status, financial condition, place of residence, religion adhered to—none of these things make any difference. When all of these requirements have been complied with, the president gladly gives his consent and, with a gift in gold or kind, openly accepts his nomination as godfather.

Presidential "godfatherhood" confers a definite prestige upon the families so marked in France with the requisite eighth child.

Meets Godchildren
So numerous and widespread over the country are the godchildren of the president that it is seldom possible for him to make a short journey in any direction without being presented with one of his "honorary offspring." The proud father or mother will come forward from the crowd to say, "This, Mr. President, is one of your god-sons," and in the case of godfather Lebrun, a suitable and friendly reply is always at his tongue-tip.

Some presidents manifest less interest in this old French custom, but M. Lebrun is a sponsor of large families and therefore considers this branch of his service one of the pleasant and interesting sidelines of his presidential incumbency.

TINY RAILROAD
DETROIT, Mich., May 3.—A survey for a proposed miniature railroad on Belle Isle, haven of recreation in the Detroit River has been begun by John Ross, chief engineer for the Detroit Street Railways. The proposed six-mile route would follow a course through the middle of the island, with stops at the zoo and other places of interest. Engineering problems involved include a number of road and canal crossings.

COULDN'T RESIST HORNS
LOS ANGELES, May 3.—Ivan E. Wilson had no ear for music, but he could not resist the raucous hooting of automobile horns, according to a complaint issued by the district attorney's office charging him with petty theft. Wilson was accused of stealing horns from automobiles. He was said to have selected only horns with tones varying from "razzberry" notes to those imitating Swiss yodelers.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

Ferrell's Finances

WHEN Wesley Ferrell told reporters at Greensboro, N. C., the other day that he had enough money to meet his needs for the next 30 years, he wasn't fooling. The Indians' holdout might even have said 100 years without a great deal of exaggeration.

Ferrell, who has been paid $64,954 since he started pitching for the Indians six years ago, is a young man who does not toss his shekels around. One of his teammates told me Wes probably has saved $50,000, and that is a conservative estimate, since he lives frugally and has none of the habits which require money to indulge.

Arm in Doubt

ON the theory that his arm is shot, Cleveland offered Wes $5000 this year, with a bonus plan effective after ten victories. Ferrell insists that his arm is okay and he wants to be paid on that assumption. Billy Evans gave Ferrell the privilege during the winter of buying his own release for $25,000. It was believed another major league club would put up the money. But Wes couldn't negotiate, so after three weeks the offer was withdrawn. The fact that Ferrell was placed in the outfield late last summer practically kills chances for a trade.

Ferrell was picked up in 1927 and received a bonus of $3000 for signing a contract. He pitched only one inning that year, and was paid $530. In 1928 he was farmed to Terre Haute, where he won 20 games and lost 8. His pay was $500 a month. Late in that year he was brought to Cleveland where he pitched 16 innings, lost two games and was paid $1603.32.

Loses by Fine

THE year following was one of his great seasons. He won 21 games for Cleveland, losing 10, and was paid $2599.28 salary and $3000 bonus. Ferrell's contract for 1930 called for $9000 and he received a bonus of $1000, winning 25 games. In 1931 his salary was raised to $15,000, and he won 22 games.

He signed in 1932 for $18,000, but was suspended and fined by Manager Peckinpaugh, bringing his actual pay down to $16,322.16. He won 23 games that year. Last season Ferrell signed for $12,000 and in midseason his arm collapsed. Because of his hitting ability he was tried in the outfield, but as an outfielder he was pretty terrible.

Malcolm Campbell May Use Salt Beds

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, May 3.—Sir Malcolm Campbell and his famous "Bluebird" probably will challenge his own world's land speed record of 272 miles per hour, on the salt beds of Great Salt Lake some time in July.

William F. Sturm, American representative of the British automobile racer, said tests of the salt beds proved suitable for the run. Further examinations will be made, however, before the final decision is made.

It will be necessary to construct a track large enough to allow seven miles in which to warm up one mile for the clocked run, and four miles to slow down. The proposed site was near Salduro, Utah.

"I think the course finally selected," Sturm said, "should be one of not less than 12 miles and preferably one of 14. When a tentative course should be figured, approximately 600 feet wide. Sounding should be taken, both at the edges of such a course and likewise in the middle, so that no mistakes will be possible. This would involve considerable time for inspection, will be far safer."

Sturm said Sir Campbell plans to bring his new $100,000 machine, 2,500 horsepower, providing four tests prove the beds can hold five-ton automobile.

TO BE STREAMLINED

DETROIT, Mich., May 3.—Streamlines apparently the way to more vehicles the Detroit Railway commission has authorized a $6,500 expenditure for the construction of a 30-passenger car with modified streamline sign. The car, to be constructed salvaged materials, will be 35 feet long and about 10,000 pounds lighter than the Peter Witt type cars in operation.

GUN MADE IN 1250

SANDUSKY, O., May 3.—A .38 Smith & Wesson caliber handgun, made in 1250 A. D., belonging to an inmate of the county firm here, is in the keeping of Theodore A. Hilt, a hotel manager. The owner, who refuses to give the name to military officials, says the weapon was handed down from generation until it came into his possession. Hilt was asked to "keep the gun, the owner explaining that though for a time he slept with it he is afraid it will be stolen.

NEW CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR IS POSSIBILITY

By GORDON K. SHEARER
Special Press Staff Correspondent

AUSTIN, May 3.—Possibility of a new candidate for governor before the June 4 election is being considered by the state capital. The possibility of such a candidate is being considered by a group that never has been to the state recently. They long for a latter-day Charley Culberson and a relentless fight against the forces that consider the hosts of industry.

They want a candidate who not only will make retention of prohibition a chief plank, but one who will fight with vigor a war on race track gambling and legalized prize fighting. Rumblings of discontent have been heard for some time. How serious they are becoming, politically, is illustrated in San Antonio. There, no conviction ever has been had under the state liquor law. Mayor K. Quinn has ordered police to investigate illegal liquor sales. Local politicians are being closely watched where they are called.

Hughes Opening
Maury Hughes, opening today at Killeen, put all the announced candidates for governor on tour. The opening of the campaign and the enthusiasm of the candidates promise a new campaigning record. Tom F. Hunter already had made speeches before his formal opening at Clifton last Saturday. He made two speeches today—one at Mahachie and one at Kaufman, and a rest at Dallas Sunday, he will go to Bouthard, Clarksville, Gilmer, McKinney and Gainesville on successive days and finish the week at the Old Settlers' reunion at San Antonio. Besides main addresses at these places there will be numerous talks en route.

Hunter's 200 speeches in the first year of his campaign of 1932 apparently broke the existing record. In its first days he made 12 speeches in 10 hours. Hubert Johnson, candidate for road commissioner, has mapped a campaign of 300 speeches for this year.

Publicity
A record also may be established in the employment of press agents. W. von Sturweck, an important place in the national relief administration to return to Texas to supply publicity for Hunter. Wakefield, former publicity man to Jesse Jones and Ross Sterling, is handling Alford publicity. The Cooper is sending out Witt's literature and Clint Small has handled A. W. Lyon and Leon Wilson publicity work. Cooper this week featured an editorial from the Houston Press praising Witt's talk at the Jefferson Day dinner. Significance is that the Houston Press was the only major daily supporting Mrs. Ferguson's campaign two years ago.

Some campaign oddities:
Lon Smith carried every county one in his last race. Edw. K. Russell, candidate for governor, never lived in an incorporated town. Hunter dictates letters while traveling between towns. They are typed on a portable. Charley McDonald is out shaking hands by 8 a. m. each morning. Gonzales Inquirer is taking the lead poll of the campaign.

Ben John Hornsby, candidate for lieutenant governor, is uncle of the mous "Rajah" of baseball fame. Edward Rex Waller is the hard kick candidate. Up from a recent generation, his wife and child have been ill.

COUPE STOLEN 18 MONTHS AGO IS RECOVERED
A model A Ford coupe stolen from Charlie Mayhew 18 months ago has been recovered at Lubbock, little the prize for its long absence from its rightful owner, Mayhew was informed Monday night. He went to Lubbock Tuesday afternoon for the machine.

The car, which had been driven a few hundred miles over 6,000 when stolen, registered a few hundred over 12,000 when found, he was informed. It was in storage at the time.

Independents Win Game With Moran
The Cisco Independent Baseball team and the Moran Independent team played 11 innings Sunday at Healey park before the Cisco team, coached by H. C. Wippen, won 4 and 3. The Cisco nine, crippled by a last minute defection of the pitcher and catcher, found substitutes who performed well for the lack of practice with the nine, and staged a ninth inning rally to stave off defeat and pave the way for an eighth inning run that meant victory. Scoring one run in the first, the Cisco team saw the visitors tie the run in the second and drive over two runs in the sixth to get the lead. Between the first and the ninth the Cisco team were blanked. The home town boys go to Moran Sunday for a return game.

Tariff Authority to Roosevelt Opposed

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3.—Opposition to granting President Roosevelt the authority over tariffs was presented before the senate finance committee Monday on the ground that such a step would retard industrial development in the United States.

Harry L. Derby, representing the manufacturing chemists association of the United States, told the committee that he believed the tariff bill if enacted, would retard recovery efforts.

"No industry would be safe in any expansion program unless it knew it would be protected," he said. He advocated amendments to give congress the power of ratification of new rates.

YOUNG SHANNON PREFERS FARM TO SHOW OFFER

AUSTIN, May 3.—Armon C. Shannon, young son of R. G. (Boss) Shannon, paroled when other indicted in the Urschel kidnaping were sentenced, has turned down an offer to appear in a show and is now farming.

The youth was paroled to M. W. Burch, Decatur, chief of legal investigation of the Texas Highway commission. Burch has sent Federal Judge Edgar S. Vaught the first of the semi-annual parole reports he will make on Armon's conduct.

He has a crop of 55 acres in cotton and corn. Besides, he raises a truck crop for home consumption and sale. His father sends him $15 a month. Of this $7 goes for groceries and $8 for stock feed.

Armon recently engaged in a fight, Burch faithfully reported to the federal judge, but it was with outsiders who were attempting to manufacture beer on Boss Shannon's place.

"A few weeks ago," Burch reported, "some traveling road show offered Armon a job and before giving them his answer, he wrote for my advice. As a result, he did not join the company but remained on his farm with his family."

Burch said he believes young Shannon is trying to profit by his mistakes and become a good citizen in his community.

CHI POLITICIAN ADMITS HE HAD BREMER MONEY

CHICAGO, May 3.—John McLaughlin, reputed Chicago gambling lord and former state legislator, has confessed to handling $53,000 of the ransom money paid for release of Edward Bremer, wealthy St. Paul banker, the department of justice announced.

The confession was the latest development in the war of the government against John Dillinger and his henchmen. While one section of the justice department was obtaining the statement of guilt from McLaughlin other agents searched for three Oklahoma gangsters, allegedly allied with Dillinger, who are believed to have engineered the actual abduction of Bremer.

PRESBYTERIAN CAMPS TO BE LOCATED HERE

Location of the annual summer encampment of the Fort Worth presbytery of the Presbyterian church permanently at Cisco was announced Saturday contingent upon the signing of papers which will transfer from the Lake Cisco Amusement company a lease on a plot of ground where it is planned to erect permanent buildings. The land is on the bluff overlooking the swimming pool, across highway 23 from the country club.

The presbytery's intermediate group conference is to be held there during the last week in June, when 100 or more young people from an area that stretches from Fort Worth westward beyond Sweetwater will come to Cisco for five days of religious training and recreational activities. This is the first time in the five years that the encampment has been organized that it has been scheduled for Cisco.

Buildings
Dr. J. Stuart Pearce, chairman of the presbytery's committee which has charge of religious educational activities, said that plans under consideration call for the erection of a kitchen and dining hall to seat 200, first and an auditorium next. These buildings, together with others it is planned to build, would be constructed of native stone, he said.

Dr. L. H. Wharton, of Austin, here last week in a series of services at the First Presbyterian church, has been assisting in the plans, said Dr. Pearce, and praised the site at Lake Cisco as superior to any in the state for the purpose.

When the necessary arrangements have been made, said Dr. Pearce, two or three encampments, similar to those at Kerrville, will be held each summer, bringing hundreds of youngsters here for week-long conferences and recreational programs. This year it is planned to hold only the intermediate conference.

The location was decided on by the committee in session here Monday of last week. It was made contingent upon securing the site. Members of the committee are Dr. Pearce, E. P. Crawford, Cisco, secretary-treasurer; Dr. Alexander Gray, Itasca; Rev. M. H. Applewhite, Fort Worth; Rev. Charles Tucker, Munday; Rev. Frank Taylor, Fort Worth.

RESPIRE FROM NRA PROGRAM BELIEVED DUE
WASHINGTON, May 3.—The administration, confronted with four pressing problems demanding solution, was said in capitol sources last week to be planning to retard its recovery drive for a few weeks in order to take stock of the situation.

Congress is on the threshold of concluding its work on the controversial tariff bill for recovering trade.

While senate debate rages, the administration will be able to evaluate its recovery program and determine what additional legislation may be necessary.

CISCO MAN IS KIDNAPED AND ROBBED OF $344
PORT WORTH, May 3.—George Hartness, 40, agent for the Merchants Fast Motor lines, Cisco, was released at Lake Worth near here Monday afternoon by a bandit who robbed him of $344 and took Hartness' automobile.

The victim told officers he was driving to a bank in Cisco about 9 a. m. Monday when a man, about 25 or 30, motioned him to the curb. The man asked Hartness to accompany him to a tourist camp where he said he had some things to be moved and wanted to get an estimate of the cost.

When they neared the tourist camp the man threatened him with a pistol and told him to drive on, finally robbing him and releasing him near here.

Airlines Threaten To Leave Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH, May 3.—American Airlines, successor to American Airways, will cease all activities in Fort Worth at once unless the company is awarded airmail contracts to be granted this week in Washington, it was announced.

The announcement and threat was contained in a telegram received today by Julian Lyles, local district traffic manager of the company, from Lester Seymour, Chicago.

Local officials of the company were uncertain what effect the loss of the airmail contracts might have on the planned inauguration of a new overnight all-sleeper plane service between here and Los Angeles Saturday night.

$4,266,681 GAIN IN TEXAS STATE BANK DEPOSITS
AUSTIN, May 3.—Resources of 475 state banks in Texas totaled $189,743,436 as reflected in the state bank call of March 5, records recently compiled by the state banking department revealed.

The total represented an increase of $2,666,681 over the resources of 489 banks which totaled $185,476,755 on Dec. 30, 1933.

Exclusive of savings departments, resources as of March 5 were $182,689,640 compared to $178,006,390 as of December 30.

Cash on hand in state banks totaled $5,297,976, the March 5 call revealed. Cash on hand Dec. 30, 1933, totaled $7,594,986. The decrease of $2,297,010 in the sums on hand was generally believed to indicate a more liberal loan policy, putting the cash held in "hard times" back to work in commercial channels.

However, loans and discounts on personal collateral security as of March 5 totaled $49,953,526, compared with $52,777,857 as of Dec. 30.

475 Banks Report
Comparative statements compiled by the banking department pointed out, however, that 489 banks were reporting Dec. 30, compared with 47 banks reporting March 5. Capital stock for the comparative dates decreased $1,070,700.

Comparative statements on liabilities also revealed a $4,133,000 increase in class A debentures, and an increase of $17,500 in class B debentures, compared with Dec. 30 statistics.

St. John to Be Hughes West Texas Manager

Will St. John will leave shortly for Fort Worth where he will be in active charge of the west Texas part of the campaign of Maury Hughes for governor. St. John will be located at the Hughes west Texas headquarters in the Worth hotel.

St. John only recently returned from a tour of the panhandle country where he said he found a strong sentiment for Hughes. Hughes opened his campaign in McKinney last Saturday.

"Test-Tube" Babies Arouse Interest

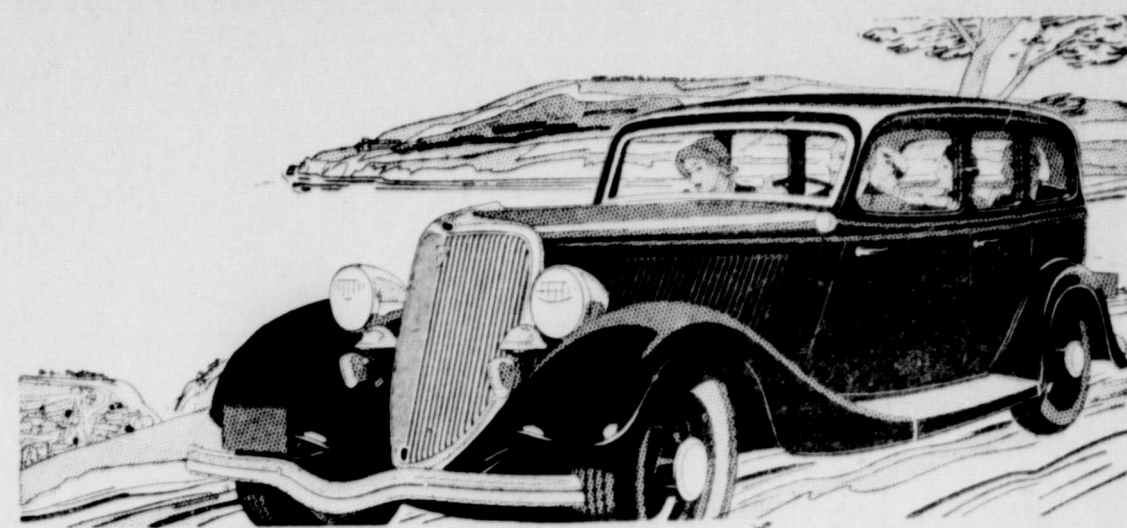

NEW YORK, May 3.—Childless married couples and young men sought information today regarding New York's test-tube babies, and physicians discussed the possibility of a central laboratory to further the practice of artificial impregnation.

The interest was aroused Monday by disclosure that a dozen test-tube babies live in New York. A proposal for a clinic, it was learned, was placed before the marriage consultation center of the Community church several months ago and met with the support of at least one of its medical directors, Dr. Frances Seymour, woman specialist, who has brought 13 test-tube babies into the world in the past two years, also approved the idea.

BUSINESS TONE GOOD RESERVE BANK REPORTS

DALLAS, May 3. — Stimulated in part by pre-Easter buying, the March sales of department stores in large cities were 38 per cent larger than in February and exceeded those of the corresponding month last year by 58 per cent, according to the monthly business review of the Eleventh Federal Reserve district.

In connection with the heavy increase scored over the month of March, 1933, attention was called for due allowance which should be made for the effect of the bank holiday on that month's retail trade activity.

Heavy and widespread rains, which materially improved conditions in agricultural and livestock industries throughout the district, were other outstanding developments in the review.

In the wholesale trade, a substantial demand for merchandise was in evidence. The increase exceeded the previous month and that of March, 1933, by a wide margin.

Although a stronger demand was visible in some parts of the district than in others, a general undertone of confidence appeared to be maintained, the review said. Prices were steady in most lines during the greater part of the month. However, a seasonal recession of 3.0 per cent in sales was reported by wholesale dry goods firms.

Demand Decreased
Contrary to the usual upward tendency in March, the demand for groceries at wholesale last month was decreased by 4.2 per cent as compared with February. The volume of distribution was only 13.5 per cent larger than in the corresponding month last year, whereas in the preceding month there was a similar increase of 40.7 per cent.

Collections were reported well sustained during the month. Agricultural and livestock prospects were bettered as a result of the general rains in March and the first half of April. However, in much of the West and Northwest Texas sections there is still a deficiency in moisture due to the effects of the prolonged drought.

Planting Retarded
In the eastern half of the district spring planting operations have been retarded by wet soil resulting from frequent rains, the report said. Small grains were reported showing considerable improvement due to favorable temperatures and better moisture conditions.

Small grains were reported showing considerable improvement due to favorable temperatures and better moisture conditions. Condition of the Texas wheat crop was reported at 62 per cent of normal as compared with 50 per cent a year ago. In heavy producing sections of Northwest Texas the crop condition was reported somewhat spotted due to moisture deficiency.

Small IS GIVEN BACKGROUND OF VARIED CAREER

Planting of corn is nearing completion in most sections of the district, the review stated.

Commercial vegetable crops suffered from the effect of adverse weather conditions during March, and there was too much moisture for the best progress of most crops.

Ranges Improved
Range prospects in all sections of the district were improved, stimulated by favorable temperatures and plenty of moisture. Livestock came through the winter in fairly good condition, and reports indicated the stock was taking on flesh. The report said Texas lamb crop would be below normal. The condition of early lambs is poor and losses have been heavy during the winter. The report placed the condition of Texas ranges at 74 per cent of normal as compared with 81 per cent a year ago.

Receipts of cattle at the Fort Worth market during the month were larger than in either the previous month or the corresponding month last year. The receipts of hogs and sheep were moderately larger.

A slight though gradual increase in member bank borrowing at the federal reserve bank was noted during the month. Debts to individual accounts during March at banks in this district totaled $554,766,000, as against $513,474,000 the previous month, and $356,967,000 a year ago.

Cotton consumption for textile mills in Texas was on a slightly lower level than a month earlier, the review said.

Crude oil produced in this district during March aggregated 31,775,000 barrels, which compares with 27,384,000 barrels in February, and 29,773,000 barrels in March a year ago. The output of Texas fields during March averaged 956,500 barrels, being 47,250 barrels larger in excess of the daily yield during February, and 64,000 barrels larger than of the same month last year.

Construction activity reflected a considerable improvement. Valuation of building permits issued at 14 leading cities in the district during March amounted to $988,507, as compared with $696,642 in the previous month, and $946,341 in the corresponding month last year.

$1,243,000 Building Permits in Texas

AUSTIN, May 3. — Total building permits during March as reported by the secretaries of the chambers of commerce in 35 Texas cities were $1,243,000, against $893,000 for the same cities in February and $1,248,000 in March, 1933, according to the University of Texas bureau of business research. During the first quarter permits aggregated $3,139,000, against $3,228,000 during the corresponding period last year.

These data relate to private construction and do not include projects under the federal relief program.

Clint Small and His Family

Sen. Clint Small of Amarillo, candidate for governor. Mrs. Small and their two children, Clint Small, Jr., and Miss Winifred Small.

ney, next county judge. Then he served awhile as Wellington city attorney, then mayor of his city, president of the county fair.

He was married to Miss Winifred Zoo O'Neal of Childress. Sen. and Mrs. Small have a son, Clint, Jr., student in the university, and a daughter, Miss Winifred Small, high school student.

After a long service in city and county offices, Small was elected district judge of the 100th district, comprising several Panhandle counties. Soon his people put him in the race for state senator and elected him. He is now serving his sixth year in the senate.

More in Record
This is a thumbnail sketch of the personal side of Sen. Small's career. Much more is told in terms of the policies and measures he has sponsored in the senate.

His name has been linked most prominently with the land bills to define and reserve land titles of the western pioneers, particularly the streambed survey bill, validating titles in hundreds of river surveys throughout Texas.

He shared in authorship or support of many laws. He had a part in writing the present state budget law and the road bond assumption law, the relief legislation of the past two sessions, the penitentiary reform law which kept the prison at Huntsville and modernized it.

He supported and advocated the rural aid appropriations. He helped out down state appropriations to the present level, and at the same time to preserve and maintain grants for the conduct of the schools, colleges and state institutions.

At the recent session, Small, though not a proponent of the postponement of execution of contracts by the moratorium law, helped work out a moratorium bill that his experience as district judge led him to believe might be sustained by the courts.

Small has made it a point to be rather cautious and conservative in legislation, as evidenced in his recent declaration as he began this year's race, warning voters that extravagant promises of candidates were incapable of fulfillment.

Small is a genial, likeable man, but at all puffed up with senatorial dignity; a man who in the passage of his hand till in his first term scored one of the greatest personal triumphs in the history of the law-making body.

SIMONS SAYS JAPS TO ABIDE BY 'OPEN DOOR'

LONDON, May 3. — Japan has promised to maintain the "open door" in China and to continue observance of the nine-power treaty, Sir John Simons, foreign secretary informed the house of commons Monday.

The assurance was given by the Japanese foreign minister to the British ambassador at Tokio, Sir John said.

The nine-power treaty, signed at Washington in 1922, bound the signatories "to respect the sovereignty, the independence and the territorial and administrative integrity of China" and "to refrain from taking advantage of conditions in China in order to sell special rights or privileges which would abridge the right of subjects or citizens of friendly states and from countenancing actions inimical to the security of such states."

Kerensky Calls on All Classes to Form "Internationale" to Oppose Communism

EDITOR'S NOTE: Alexander Kerensky, provisional president of Russia in 1917 after Czar Nicholas was overthrown, discusses in one of his rare interviews three momentous questions — communism, fascism and the Far East.

By RALPH HEINZEN
United Press Staff Correspondent (Copyright 1934 by United Press)

PARIS, May 3.—Alexander Kerensky, who became provisional president of Russia when the czar was deposed and was overthrown himself by the Bolsheviks, called upon men of all classes Saturday to join in a new "internationale" to fight for personal liberties against fascism and communism.

In an exclusive interview with the United Press Kerensky said: "All dictatorships repeat the methods and mannerisms of bolshevism. In Russia it was the intellectual class that was crushed; in Germany under the nazi dictatorship Germany sought to crush another class—Jews."

"The duty of all men, regardless of race or class is to unite in a new internationale to fight for personal liberties and the resurrection of democracy. Otherwise dictatorial regimes will suppress the few remaining privileges of the personality of man, the finest thing in human history."

Kerensky, bitter foe of communism, did not paint a gloomy picture of the political situation. He held people must be reinstated before Russia can be expected to play her role."

THIS LAXATIVE Cleanses Completely

... no bowel abnormality... Cleanse bowels of waste matter thoroughly, more completely with Feen-a-mint, the chewing gum laxative, and you'll get quicker, surer relief from dizziness, headache and other constipation ills. Feen-a-mint acts more thoroughly because you chew it. Just as chewing prepares food for your stomach, so the chewing of Feen-a-mint distributes its laxative ingredient uniformly throughout the intestines to give a "full" natural movement. Thus, Feen-a-mint never shocks the system nor abuses the bowels. Doctors themselves prescribe the laxative ingredient used in Feen-a-mint. Completely, thoroughly, Feen-a-mint empties and cleanses the bowels of putrid waste. As headache and dizziness go, you feel more active, energetic, fresh. Feen-a-mint contains no ricinoleic acid to upset stomach or to get stale. "Daisy" is dangerous—chew Feen-a-mint for constipation. 15c and 25c at drug stores.

HUGHES OPENS GOVERNOR RACE WITH M'KINNEY

M'KINNEY, May 3. — Demand for law enforcement, reduction of state debt, and repeal of state dry laws, with one-half the subsequent year tax revenues to go to the state school fund, Maury Hughes, former state democratic executive committee chairman, opened his campaign here Saturday. There must be a drastic change our law enforcement machinery," Hughes warned. He proposed establishment of a state police force, consolidation of the rangers and state highway patrol, with a central law enforcement bureau at Austin to prevent "gangsters like Brown and Dillinger from running wild."

Opposed Saloon

He opposed the open saloon and favored a strict regulatory legislation under a bond and license system. "As soon as repeal is accomplished," Hughes promised, "I will advocate that one-half of the liquor tax go to the available school fund for the payment of adequate salaries for our school teachers." The remainder would go to the general fund. "Law enforcement," said Hughes, "is a science and only those who are familiar with the technical machinery of the law can legislate. If we are to curb banditry and lawlessness, there must be a drastic change in our law enforcement machinery. We must coordinate the various branches of law enforcement. After this is accomplished, judicial reform must follow, and then we must have a change in the system of granting pardons."

Judicial Reform

Judicial reform, as another important plank in his law enforcement platform, was promised. Hughes pointed to his long experience as a district attorney as equipping him for this task. "A policy of cutting state costs and putting the government on a 'pay-you-go' basis was advocated. The state ad valorem tax, said Hughes, should be cut in half if the property law escaping taxation were rendered. He said he favored a registration tax on notes, bonds, and certificates of indebtedness. He opposed both a state sales and income tax."

Winners in Band Contests Announced

ABILENE, May 3. — Abilene, Wink, Monahan, Odessa and Big Spring shared first places among the 13 bands competing here Friday at the sixth annual west Texas high school band contest, held at Simmons university. The first three schools won the contests of Class A, Class B, and Class C respectively, and Odessa and Big Spring tied for first place in Class D. Abilene and Wink junior bands tied for first. Fourteen soloists representing Abilene, Wink, Albany, Midland, Decra, and Wichita Falls, won medals for superior playing. A quartet and a duet from Wink took medals in ensemble contests. Cisco high school, winner of the class A division three successive years, did not enter this year. Abilene had no competition in this division, but the band's superior playing was praised by the judges who rated it 97 and 8-9ths per cent. G. V. Collum, Cisco band instructor, assisted in the judging.

Reserve Officers Plan Get-Together

Plans are under way by the Oil Belt chapter, Reserve Officers Association, for their first annual get-together party in the form of a dinner to be held in the Colonial ball room of the Holston hotel in Ranger on the evening of Friday, May 11. Arrangements under the direction of Capt. Wayne C. Hickey of Ranger, Majors R. A. Lerner of Eastland and J. S. Pearce of Cisco, call for a banquet at the beginning of the program and a well arranged and informal dance following.

Dr. W. J. Danforth of Fort Worth, prominent after dinner speaker, who is very active in the ranks of the reserve officers, and is district governor of Lions International, will be the speaker of the evening. Spicy and wholesome entertainment features will also have a prominent part in the program. After the banquet entertainment will be provided to serve the individual tastes of the guests. According to the program committee, nothing will be left undone to make this a most pleasant and worthwhile affair.

Invitations are being arranged for all reserve and former officers of the United States army, navy, and marine corps and their ladies, and also friends of the reserve officers who are residing in the Oil Belt.

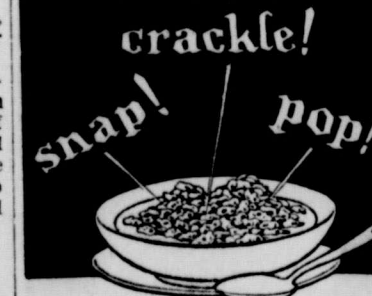

JOE WILSON IS CANDIDATE FOR JUSTICE BENCH

Joe Wilson, justice of the peace in the sixth precinct since March 3, 1933, when he was appointed to the place made vacant by the death of J. H. McDonald, is asking the voters of the precinct to place the stamp of approval upon his administration of the office by giving him the democratic nomination in the July primaries, a selection tantamount to election. Justice Wilson, who walked into Cisco from Caddo before the town was organized to get a job, and found one for life as one of the charter citizens of the community. He arrived, a stranger, in 1881 when the present townsite was dotted with tents. He liked the community so well that he remained, married Mrs. Wilson and with her raised a family of four sons and three daughters. One daughter burned to death at three years of age. Only once before has he asked and held office—he was city alderman from 1893, the year of the big cyclone, to 1897. In the year between March 3, 1933, and the same date in 1934, he disposed of 224 criminal cases—32 in the last month—and tried 58 civil cases. Both dockets are clear.

Says he: "I have tried and will continue to try to administer the duties of this office impartially and in a spirit of justice to all. If the people of the sixth precinct see fit to continue me in this responsibility, I shall be grateful, and promise a continuation of that policy and a better service for the experience I have gained."

Cisco Man Is Named State R.O.A. Chaplain

Dr. J. Stuart Pearce pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Cisco, Saturday was unanimously elected chaplain of the Texas State Reserve Officers Association in convention at Fort Worth. Dr. Pearce is a major in the reserve corps. He has been prominent in American Legion and reserve officers work since the inception of the two organizations.

CISCO HOME EC. STUDENTS WIN IN STATE MEET

Representatives of the home economics department of Cisco high school returned Saturday from the state homemaking rally at Austin with one first place and one second place won in competition with some 800 high school girls from all over Texas. Miss Juanita Bounds, head of the Cisco department, accompanied her pupils to Austin. Laverne Dill took first place in Class A judging of family dietaries and the Cisco exhibits in Class A children's clothing took second place. The Cisco contestants were Misses Dill, Mildred Whitman and Dimpie Cone. The contest lasted three days, beginning last Thursday. It was the second entered by Cisco contestants, who last year won a second place in "Caring for Food in the Home." Miss Dill was the winner of that, also.

This is Miss Bounds' second year as head of the Cisco department, and her third year of teaching experience. The exhibits which took second place in the children's clothing contest were three play suits made by Mildred Whitman, Faye Henderson and Sarah Mayhew. The Cisco representatives enjoyed their stay in Austin greatly, said Miss Bounds. The host city treated them royally, she reported.

Texas March Cement Production Higher

AUSTIN, May 3. — Production of Portland cement in Texas during March was 433,000 barrels, 54.6 per cent above the 280,000 barrels in February and 15.5 per cent above the 375,000 barrels in March, 1933, according to the University of Texas bureau of business research. Shipments, at 346,000 barrels, were up 27 per cent from February but 8 per cent below those of March, 1933. Stocks of 579,000 barrels on March 31 compare with 492,000 barrels a month earlier, a rise of 17.7 per cent, and 640,000 barrels on March 31, 1933, a decline of 9.5 per cent. United States production of Portland cement during March totaled 5,257,000 barrels against 4,168,000 barrels in February and 3,884,000 barrels in March, 1933, gains of 26 and 48 per cent respectively. Sharp increases at 4,618,000 barrels represented a rise of 56 per cent above February and 32 per cent above March, 1933. Stocks on March 31 were 21,401,000 barrels, or 3 per cent above those a month earlier and less than 1 per cent larger than on March 31 last year.

Only 67 House Members Found to Have Relatives on State Payrolls of Texas

By RAYMOND BROOKS AUSTIN, May 3. — While over 83 per cent of the Texas senators have a kinfolk on the state payroll, according to sworn to affidavits filed in the report of the joint legislative committee on nepotism, slightly over 45 per cent, or about 67 of the 150 house members, were shown to have relatives employed by the state departments and institutions. The record as to about half these house members is here reproduced, and that as to the others will be quoted in a subsequent article. Twenty-two house members filed reports showing instances of kinship with state employes, or with other house members, or in one or two cases with teachers in the public schools, whose inclusions was not asked by the legislative committee.

Where Employed Rep. J. W. Adamson of Denison showed that he is a cousin of Rep. Fisher of Newcastle. Rep. Fisher also reported the same relationship. Rep. A. M. Aikin, Jr., of Paris recited the employment of his cousin, Zoe Aikin by the College of Industrial Arts at Denton. Reports of Rep. Nall Colson and of the secretary of state showed that Mrs. Neville H. Colson, wife of the representative, is employed in the state department. Rep. Ben Cathey of Quitman, chairman of the investigating committee, showed that his daughter-in-law is a teacher in the schools at Alba, and that he has a nephew, whose name is not shown, employed in the Amarillo division of the highway department. Rep. Sam S. Devall of Hallettsville is the son-in-law of Mrs. W. T. Bagby, superintendent of the woman's Confederate home at Austin. Devall said he has a fourth cousin employed in what was the civil work division of the relief administration. A sister-in-law of Rep. Fritz Engelhard of Eagle Lake teaches school in his home high school. Rep. J. B. Ford of McLennan county showed that his brother, A. L. Ford, is employed by the boys' training school at Gatesville. Rep. H. N. Graves of Georgetown has a cousin, G. Newton, who has been employed for years by the board of control. Rep. Walter C. Holloway of Longview is the uncle of Rep. Sidney Latham. He has another nephew, C. C. Holloway, employed by the highway department. Rep. Hugh Jones of Center has a brother, Thomas Jones, in the highway department. Rep. Harold Kayton of San Antonio showed that his brother-in-law Zach Campbell, was a member of the state ranger force. Rep. Latham reported his relationship to his uncle, Rep. Holloway. Rep. J. F. Lindsey of Anson said he has a son employed in the casualty division of the insurance department. The son's name was not given in the report. Rep. W. O. Reed of Dallas has an

CONOCO OFFERS NEW MOTOR PROTECTION AND ECONOMY

Proved By The Most Convincing Test Ever Made!

This New Oil, In Competition with Five Widely Advised Motor Oils, Excelled the Others—Proved By This Official Test!

YOU have a large investment in your motor car—only efficient lubrication can protect this investment. Conoco conducted the "Destruction Test" to allow you to make the wisest choice for your car. Six oils, a single fill of 5 quarts, with no more oil added, in six brand-new strictly stock cars, were driven until the motor in each car was destroyed from lack of lubrication. The Contest Board of the American Automobile Association supervised every detail. The first oil failed, with motor destroyed, at only 1,713.2 miles... others failed in rapid succession... the best of the competing oils going to 3,318.8 miles... while New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed

Motor Oil lubricated its motor for a total of 4,729 miles!... more than 3,000 miles farther than the first oil to fail... and more than 1,400 miles farther than the second best oil! Thanks to Conoco's Hidden Quart protection, this amazing victory stands unchallenged. New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil introduces long life to motors, with extremely low consumption—over 4,729 miles on five quarts of oil! It is a simple but dramatic story. It is VITAL to you as a user of motor oil. It proves claims of low consumption and points the way to true economy in motor protection—saving of repair bills, yet costs no more per quart than other quality oils. "I NEED HEALTHY NERVES, TOO, MR. CECIL SMITH, WITH A THRIVING FAMILY TO LOOK OUT FOR"

Robert E. Butterfield, Jr., who has two thriving youngsters, says:

"A father's job gives a fellow plenty of experience with nerve strain, too! Providing for the children keeps you keyed up to concert pitch. Then—coming home from work, with Dick insisting on movies—Bob's eternal tap dancing—that's the zero hour for a father's nerves! Although I smoke all I want, jangled nerves have passed me by. That's because I smoke Camels. Camels have the fine flavor of the choicest, most expensive tobaccos. And I find they never upset my nerves."

Cecil Smith, who rose to the top of the polo world this year with a ten-goal rating, says: "Most polo players, myself included, smoke a great deal. And most polo players, myself included again, prefer to smoke Camels. They are milder. I like their flavor and they never upset my nerves."

How Are YOUR Nerves?

Nerves, nerves, nerves! You hear them discussed everywhere today. For most of us are more or less the victims of irritated, jumpy nerves. If troubled that way, check up on your eating, your work, your recreation, your sleep. And to be on the safe side about "nerves," begin to smoke Camels. Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS than any other popular brand. No wonder they are milder, finer in flavor, free from irritation! Make Camels your smoke! You'll be delighted with Camels' flavor... the gentle mood of enjoyment... well-being... and poise which steady smokers find in Camels.

NEBRASKA GOP BOOMS M'CARL FOR CANDIDATE

McCOOK, Neb., May 3. — Old guard republicans here are booming J. Raymond McCarl, former treasurer in the McCook "hometown quartette" and comptroller-general of the U. S. treasury, as a prospective leader to carry the party banner in the 1936 presidential elections.

Although more than a year has yet to elapse before the country once again elects its national executive, Nebraska republican leaders are on the alert for evidence that McCarl might be considered. Advice from Washington and the east in their estimation, have signified that McCarl's prospects are not remote.

Cool to Hoover

Nebraska old line republicans have received trumpet blasts of Orden Mills with noticeable coolness. The "pleasure trip" of the former President Hoover through the midwest, while not reaching Nebraska, failed to stir up any enthusiasm here.

Mention of McCarl's name, however, usually is well received. His supporters here point to his mention recently in Industrial Control Reports, issued by the James True Associates at Washington, as indicating that his name actually is being considered.

Citizens here, who were intimately acquainted with McCarl trace his liberal attitude to his long association with Senator George W. Norris leading exponent of the liberal gospel in the United States senate. After his graduation from the University of Nebraska school of law in 1903, McCarl returned to his home here to try his first case before the then Judge Norris. The trial formed the basis for a long friendship.

Norris' Secretary

When Norris went to congress as a representative for the first time he took McCarl with him as secretary. The young man's flair for politics soon was discovered and utilized by his party leaders in the capital. In 1920 he was named by the republican national committee to direct the party's national congressional campaign. The returns from the congressional elections that year with a smashing victory for the republicans, consolidated McCarl's position.

Largely as a reward for these services, he was summoned by President Harding after the general accounting division had been created and the position of comptroller-general was open for the first time. McCarl accepted the president's offer of the position and began his 13 years term in 1921. Full extent of his power in official Washington is indicated by the fact that no president is empowered to remove him from office no matter how many official toes he may step on in his authority to "blue pencil" all expenditures, large or small, in the federal services.

Chance Dime Novel May Be Valuable

PHILADELPHIA, May 3. — Perhaps, in rummaging through the attic, you will discover some paper-backed dime novels.

Do not throw them away, shuddering at memories of the woodshed. They may be quite valuable. For the dime novel has leaped from its obscurity of 30 years ago to a place of honor in the congressional library at Washington.

Thousands of collectors are eager to pay high prices for genuine "Diamond Dick" thrillers of the '80s and '90s. In Philadelphia a Happy Hours Brotherhood, composed of 60 members, has been organized to promote interest in dime novel collecting.

Robert H. Smeltzer, vice president of the brotherhood, believes dime novels not only are harmless, but actually have done considerable good.

"I was brought up on a farm, and in my teens I read my first dime novel. My grandmothers and aunts considered dime novels trash, so I read them in secret back in the haymow.

"I can't for the life of me see what was wrong with them, unless it was the fact that they were so frequently concerned with death and fighting. The good man always triumphed, however, and justice always prevailed. There are things more objectionable in most modern magazines."

MARY O'DARE IS GIVEN FREEDOM ON $5,000 BOND

DALLAS, May 3.—Mary O'Dare, the girl who shared Raymond Hamilton's fortunes when they were bright but who deserted him when he was recaptured, is free to go where she pleased.

The girl, heart's fancy of Hamilton, was brought here Friday night from Waco where earlier she waived examining trial on charges of robbery with firearms in connection with a bank holdup at West, Texas. She was released on a $5,000 appearance bond signed by a professional bondsman.

When word that the girl had been released reached Hamilton confined in the Dallas county jail, he became more embittered at the thought that his sweetheart was through with him. He told jail guards he blamed her indirectly for his capture.

"I was in love with her. I know she was nearly broke. I wanted to help her, so I robbed the Lewisville bank to get her some money. Now she is through with me," Hamilton said.

German Women Police Break Up Highly Organized Band of Juvenile Thieves

COLOGNE, May 3. — Cologne's British-trained female police have just broken up a highly organized and effective juvenile thief band which had baffled the law for months.

A total of 23 children, ranging between seven and 12 years old, have been arrested. They probably will be sent to juvenile detention homes until they are 19.

The parents, if they are responsible for their children's actions will be punished most severely. The police have not yet established who inspired the thefts, but the simplicity and ease with which the unique scheme was worked point strongly to some adult "master mind."

The process, explained by Fraulein Marianne Pihl, commissar for the female division, was as follows:

One of the children would enter the shop designated to be robbed and ask for a cigar box for iretwork, or perhaps for a cigaret picture card. The shop door was purposely left slightly ajar and while the shopkeeper was getting the box or card from the back room, a second child entered and hid under the counter.

The door being ajar, there was no need to announce his entry. The first child received his requested box or card, left the shop, and the shopkeeper went about his business.

The second child, having located the simple cashbox with which most German shops are equipped emptied it at a favorably opportunity and returned to his hiding place. A third child entering gave the second his chance to escape. The third requested also some sort of gift and left openly.

By the time the theft had been discovered, the children had long since disappeared. In most cases, moreover, suspicion fell on the wrong persons, usually those living in the house, and as the shopkeeper did not wish to charge them, the thefts remained undetected for some time.

The thefts occurred all over town, and the authorities have not yet discovered what became of the proceeds.

The female police were organized August 1 1933, during the British occupation of the Rhineland, under the supervision of Commandant Allen, of London. Their purpose at that time was to round up prostitutes and undesirable women.

Horned Toad Derby To Be Aid for Charity

MIAMI, Fla., May 3. — The horned toad, nature's prize ugly duckling, has undergone a metamorphosis.

He's emerged from a spectacle to a sport with the announcement of a Horned Toad derby at the Miami Biltmore Country club.

The derby has another unique angle. It brings the denizens of the Arizona desert under the guardianship of lions. However, this apparent new wrinkle in natural history has nothing to do with the king of beasts. It's the Lions club of Miami which is sponsoring the derby as a charity event.

Exploding the old adage regarding the difficulty of the first 100 years, one of the favorites for the forthcoming sweepstakes is a youngster of 200, Plenty Grand, which holds the world's record of 38 seconds in a 25 foot ring.

Early entries in the juvenile class include a bevy of blue ribbon winners between 75 and 90 years old. However, they still are at the skittish age and too young to be dependable bets, according to Jack Bartlett, owner of a string of blue-blooded spiked speedsters.

According to Bartlett, although he may look like the apparition resulting from a session with bathtub gin, the horned toad actually is a swell guy. He's a strict prohibitionist and even mineral water is taboo. His idea of a drinking bout is to open his pores and absorb moisture from the aid and sand.

He sits down to eat only twice a week and never leaves warts for remembrance.

annon Not on List For Continuance

JACKSON, Miss., May 3.—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., for years the storm center of the Methodist Episcopal church, today won overwhelming endorsement of his contemporary leaders when they voted 89 to 170 against a plan to remove him. The vote overrode the presbytery committee's report which failed to name Cannon for continued service.

JACKSON, Miss., May 3.—The annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South today failed to recommend Bishop James Cannon Jr., in its list of those for continuation of service and office.

Trade Attitude of Britain Given Japs

LONDON, May 3.—Great Britain today sent to Japan today what was understood to be a virtual ultimatum in an effort to halt damaging encroachments of Japanese trade against the empire. The Japanese ambassador and commercial attaché of the embassy visited Walter Runciman, president of the Board of Trade, at 10 p. m. Runciman was understood to have handed them a memorandum, setting forth the British trade.

No Peanut or Dairy Reduction Contracts

County Agent J. C. Patterson today reminded that neither a dairy reduction contract nor a peanut reduction contract will be offered growers as has been planned. Programs for improving conditions in these industries are being worked upon, he said, but no announcements have been made other than that plans for contracting acreage reduction in peanuts and reduction of dairy products have been called off.

ROUND EUROPE PLANE RACE TO START AUG. 28

WARSAW, May 3.—The biggest European sport flying contest, the "Round Europe" flight for 1934 will be organized by the "Aero Club of the Polish Republic," to which the winner of the last race in 1932, Franciszek Zwirko, belonged. Zwirko was killed a short time later.

The flying route covers 9,400 kilometers, as following: Warsaw-Koenigsberg - Berlin - Cologne - Brussels - Paris - Bordeaux - Pau-Madrid - Sevilla - Casablanca - Mexico - Sidi Bel Abbas - Algiers - Bizra - Tunis - Palermo-Naples-Rome-Rimini - Zagreb - Vienna - Brunn-Prague - Katowitz - Lvov - Vilna-Warsaw.

This route is 2,000 kilometers farther than that of 1932. The distance must be completed between Sept. 8 and Sept. 15, that is over 1,100 kilometers per day. With the inclusion of the African laps, for the first time the flight crosses the frontiers of Europe.

The flight starts officially on August 29 with the technical examinations, which last until Sept. 7. This hard trial includes: minimum speed start and landing within the shortest stretch examination of gasoline consumption, and dismounting and reassembly of airplanes.

After the "Round Europe" flight, on Sept. 16, is the speed test, always awaited with great curiosity.

Methodists, Baptists Win Their Games

Yesterday's two games in the city soft ball league resulted in victories of the Methodists over the Fire department by a score of 11 to 6 and of the Baptists over the Nance Motor company by a score of 18 to 2.

NEW CONTACT WITH H. CHILD'S CAPTORS SEEN

TUCSON, Ariz., May 3.—Negotiations for payment of $15,000 ransom and return of June Robles, 6, kidnaped heiress, were believed to have been reopened today.

The belief was founded on a trip made by Al Aguirre, reputed intermediary in the case and friend of the grandfather of the kidnaped child. Aguirre disappeared after boarding a bus at Nogales, border town, for Tucson. When the bus reached here, he was not aboard. Aguirre returned to Nogales late yesterday. He was seen in a money exchange, a private institution similar to a bank.

CRITICISM OF NRA VOICED AT U. S. C. C. MEET

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3.—America must balance her budget, return to the gold standard and revise her securities, act before there can be any real prosperity, Silas H. Strawn, distinguished Chicago attorney, insisted today.

His address before the 22nd annual convention of the United States chamber of commerce was one of the most vigorous criticisms of the new deal yet voiced by an American business leader.

Strawn gave voice to many of the leading objections to the recovery program. Tax burdens, he said, are becoming more unbearable if not "indeed confiscatory" while lack of confidence and restrictive legislation is holding back business and driving capital into hiding.

Employment Shows Much Improvement

AUSTIN, May 3.—Employment conditions in Texas continue to show marked improvement over the corresponding period a year ago, according to the University of Texas bureau of business research. For the week ending April 14, reports from 3,038 Texas establishments show a gain of 16.4 per cent in the number of workers employed and a rise of 15.5 per cent in payrolls in comparison with these same firms during the corresponding period last year.

An increase of 12 per cent in payrolls and less than 1 per cent in the number employed occurred in these establishments between March and April.

Cities in which the increase in the number employed was above the average in comparison with April, 1933, were: Port Arthur, San Angelo, Dallas, Austin, and Wichita Falls.

Democrats Win Test Vote on Rayburn Bill

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3.—The democratic leadership won the first test vote on the Rayburn stock market bill today when the house voted down an attempt to lower margin requirements set by the measure.

CLYDE IS TRIFLING ON BONNIE, TEXAS RANGERS ARE INFORMED

AUSTIN, May 3.—Clyde Barrow is trifling on Bonnie Parker, his gunswinging companion, it was revealed at Texas ranger headquarters here today. This and the fact that he has broken with Raymond Hamilton give new hope for capture of the notorious desperado soon. All is not well in the Barrow camp, investigators have learned.

The loot of the Lancaster, Texas, bank robbery, Henry Methvin and Barrow bought themselves some swanky clothes and Barrow annexed a new girl friend. Whether Bonnie has learned about Barrow's new sensation, the informant at the ranger headquarters does not know.

Beer Sign Is Not Derived From Goat

HOUSTON, May 3.—Bock beer signs with goat heads, to old imbibers the first real harbinger of spring, derived from a German glass manufacturer's name and not from any drinking habit of goats.

That is the explanation of Frantz Brogniez, Belgium brewmaster here whose formula for making beer has been handed down from father to son for two centuries.

European brewers made their beer in the late fall and winter months, Brogniez explained, taking the first draft about May—the first beer of spring. Some called it "May beer."

The dark, heavy beer was served in conical glasses made by the Boch Glass company. Brogniez recalled. Hence many called it Bock beer or simply "boch."

In German the word "boch" means "goat," he explained. Consequently it became the custom to tie a goat outside beer gardens to advertise that Bock beer season had arrived.

Ft. Worth Drives On Gambling Resorts

FORT WORTH, May 3.—City and county officers joined hands today in the drive to "clean up" the city of horse racing bookmaking shops and gambling resorts.

Chief of Police Henry Lewis said members of several downtown hotels had been ordered to close reported de luxe gambling establishments by nightfall "or else." Some of these cover entire hotel floors, Lewis said he had been informed.

Only marble machines will be spared in the drive, it was said. Search warrants will be issued officers who ask them, permitting seizure of equipment, the district attorney said.

Hamlin School Party Spends Day at Lake

Thirty-five seniors of the Hamlin high school, accompanied by Ray Morris and Miss Ruby Thompson, teachers, spent today at Lake Cisco, swimming, boating and picnicking. The teachers declared that parties from the school had visited many places of recreation but had found none to compare with Cisco.

STEPS TO END DOCKWORKERS STRIKE START

HOUSTON, May 3.—Immediate steps to end the strike of 4,900 Texas and Louisiana dockworkers were ordered taken by the National Labor board at Washington on instructions sent Chairman Oscar Powell of the regional labor board at San Antonio, it was learned here.

Meanwhile shipping was at a practical standstill in Texas ports and at Lake Charles, La., where picketing of wharves began yesterday. A man struck in a fist fight at Beaumont was the only violence reported yesterday along the extensive gulf coast.

Powell advised by telephone today he would get in touch with officials of the International Longshoremen's association, which called the strike, and arrange a conference.

SINCLAIR EMPLOYEES WALK OUT

SEMINOLE, Okla., May 3.—Union employees of the Sinclair-Prairie Oil company in the greater Seminole area struck today, forcing a two-thirds shut down of the concern's properties.

Union leaders estimated at least 500 workers walked out at 9 a. m. in an effort to force recognition of their organization and complete adherence on the part of the company to a recent agreement made by Harry E. Sinclair.

FERGUSON SAYS "MA" WILL PUT STATE ON CASH

AUSTIN, May 3.—Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson's ambition to go out of office with the state restored to a cash basis will be realized, her husband-adviser predicted today in the Ferguson Forum.

"The present administration reduced appropriations $13,000,000," the Forum said. "Had the preceding administration not left to this administration a deficiency in round numbers of $19,000,000, the state would today be out of debt, as a result of its policy of economy."

"However, at the end of this administration's fiscal year the state will be finally restored to a cash basis, but it will be almost impossible to leave much money in the treasury, as in former administrations, because of deficiencies inherited."

State Treasurer Charlie Lockhart placed the remaining state general fund deficit at $4,140,125.

HIS LUCKY DAY

OREGON CITY, Ore., May 3.—Dr. William Osborn Steele considers Friday the 13th his lucky day. The doctor fished the Willamette river here for salmon for five years, and not a fish did he catch. Undiscouraged, he went out again on Friday the 13th, and a great Chinook grabbed his hook. It weighed 35 pounds.

Moved Historic House

VIENNA, Ont., May 3.—An old frame school house in which the mother of the late Thomas A. Edison taught school here, will, it is rumored, soon be moved to the Ford Museum at Dearborn, Mich. The building, which now is being used as a general store, is the last relic of the Edison family in Canada. An old frame dwelling, in which the grandfather of the late inventor used to live, already has been moved to Dearborn.

Oberammergau's Passion Play, Untouched By Nazis, Will Be Presented Again in May

By EDWARD BEATTIE, United Press Staff Correspondent. OBERAMMERGAU, May 3.—Nazidom's hectic first year has brushed lightly past Oberammergau, where a 300-year tradition and faith will be reconsecrated in May.

Hamilton to Plead Guilty to Robbery

DALLAS, May 3.—Raymond Hamilton, 20-year-old Texas escaped convict, recaptured two hours after he had robbed another bank, will enter a plea of guilty when he goes to trial here Monday on charges in the looting of the Grand Prairie bank of $1,500 April 19.

The youthful desperado also faces indictments under the habitual criminal statute. A venire of 400 was drawn yesterday for probably jury service.

ROTARIANS TO ATTEND 41ST DISTRICT MEET

Most of the members of the Cisco Rotary club will attend the Tuesday sessions of the annual conference of the 41st district of Rotary at Abilene next week, it was revealed at the meeting of the club today when E. P. Crawford, chairman of the committee named by President Phil Pettit to promote club interest in the conference and arrange for this attendance, polled the club members. It is planned to go in a group and to arrive before 10:30 a. m.

Incoming President B. A. Butler and Sec'y J. E. Spencer, who were re-elected, were named official delegates. They plan to attend Monday when the important district instructional sessions are to be held.

Mr. Crawford said that E. R. McDaniel had been named by the Abilene club to be host to the Cisco delegation.

Thanks Club. J. C. King, M. K. and T. agent, was a club guest and expressed appreciation of the "Katy" for the part that members of the Rotary club had played in the entertainment of Matthew S. Sloan, chairman of the board of the railroad, when Mr. Sloan visited here last Saturday.

Jim Collins, chairman of the playground baseball committee, announced that the club will play the Baptist team tomorrow evening at 6 at the grammar school.

The club program, cut short by limited time, closed with trial of Jim Bird on charges of desertion in having deserted the Rotary club team and gone over to the Baptist team. Bird denied the charge. On his plea that he was without funds, "Judge" Jim Collins, named J. B. Cate as defense counsel. Prosecutor was E. L. Ponder and J. C. McAfee served as sheriff.

The trial was ended when the judge abruptly cut short the proceedings before the defense had time to put in a word and fined the defendant four watermelons to serve the club.

CUMMINGS ASKS MORE EQUIPMENT

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3.—Atty-Gen. Homer S. Cummings appealed today for more men, armored automobiles, radio facilities and more machine gun to capture such criminals as John Dillinger.

Dillinger would have been trapped in Wisconsin, Cummings said, if the department of justice was modernized.

Cummings said he wished 200 additional special agents 70 accountants, some armored cars, a two-way radio system for communication among a fleet of radio scout cars, machine guns and certain types of rifles.

TEXAS OUTLAW REPORTED EN ROUTE NORTH

CHICAGO, May 3.—One of the west's most notorious outlaws today was reported to be rushing toward Chicago—his route marked by wanton gunplay—to join forces with John Dillinger.

Clyde Barrow, the Texas terrorist to whose bloody depredations a half a dozen lives have been charged, was believed headed for Dillinger's hideout here.

With him, it was reported, were Bonnie Parker, his cigar-smoking sweetheart, and another outlaw. A "shoot to kill" army of 7,000 police and federal agents, realizing that a union of Dillinger and Barrow probably would spread more deaths in the wake of the Hoosier outlaw's marauding, put new vigor into their search for Dillinger whom they felt sure was in hiding here.

The officers' belief that Dillinger was in Chicago was based on the finding of his bullet-marked, blood-stained automobile on the north side late yesterday. There was ample proof that it had been abandoned by the killer.

There also was speculation that Dillinger might be near death or seriously wounded.

The theory that Barrow might head for Chicago to throw his lot with Dillinger's gang against the massed forces of the law unless headed off downstate was supported by information in possession of the federal authorities.

Alvin Karpis and Arthur Barker have been identified as followers of Dillinger. Both also were members of the Barrow gang when it cut a swath of lawlessness through Oklahoma, Texas and the southwest.

OFFICERS CHASE TWO SUSPECTS IN OKARKS

CABOOL, Mo., May 3.—Run to ground in the rough Ozark hills by state and county officers, two men today abandoned their car and woman companion and fled on foot.

Officers, aided by bloodhounds, were loose on the trail. The woman was caught near the car. Capt. A. D. Shepard, of the state highway patrol said the woman was not Bonnie Parker, tough companion of Clyde Barrow.

Shepard also said he was sure the man sought were not Barrow or any of his gang. It was possible, he said, they might be Alvin Karpis and Fred Barker, wanted on murder charges and as suspects in the Bremer kidnaping.

6 Inch of Rain Is Recorded in Cisco

Cisco received 6 of an inch of rainfall yesterday, the gauge at the city hall revealed. The moisture was welcomed as moistening a top soil that several days of wind had dried and hardened. Gardens, lawns and flower beds within the city, and grain, pasture and row crops outside were materially helped.

BIG SPEAR HEAD

GOLD BEACH, Ore., May 3.—Abe Hardenboren turned up a large Indian spear head while plowing his field near here. The weapon was four and a half inches long, and inch and a half wide, half inch thick. It was made of black flint. It was undamaged.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep . . . Vigor . . .
Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tube filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. They should purify the bladder 3 pints of waste which contains 4 pounds of waste matter. If you have trouble with too many bladder passages with scanty amounting burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. The warning signal may be the beginning of backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vigor, getting up nights, lumbago, swollen ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness. If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day you are up for many months. Daily Ask your druggist for DOAN'S . . . a doctor's prescription for millions of sufferers for over 40 years. They give relief and will help to wash out 15 MILES of kidney tubes. But don't take chances with strong or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to get you up in 15 minutes. Your common sense will tell you that this is impossible. The merits of this nature may seriously irritate delicate tissues. Use DOAN'S PILLS . . . the old reliable that contains no harmful drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S at your druggist. ©1934, Foster-McMillan

HANES The name that changed underwear to WONDERWEAR

You won't wonder where gets its name—once you do into HANES! Pull a shirt over your head, and see how far tail hangs below your belt! It won't drop so deep in your shorts can't worm up and out at your waist! Mister, that is common sense. Now look at HANES' spry knit. Notice how closely it clings to your chest—without drooping or sagging! And look your eye on it, week after week—when it's washed. It'll be lively and snug as ever! Give a pair of HANES Sheer work-out. Squirm around stoop as much as you want, matter how hard you try, can't make them catch, crotch and pinch! Colors are as bright as when first bought. See your HANES dealer today, and ask for HANES underwear. P. H. Hanes Knitting Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

DESDEMONA

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Stover and their son, Fred Stover, of Houston, came down to DeLeon on business yesterday. Fred has a good position at the Humble Oil and Refining Company at Houston. He came on Tuesday and left Friday just a few days before his brother, Rev. THE U. S. C. OF C. CONVENTION

What is said to be the largest organization of business men in the United States, the chamber of commerce of the United States, is in session in Washington, its delegates openly divided upon the issue of the NRA, with each side professing to see in the results of the recovery drive that which sustains its support or antagonism. President Henry I. Harriman is on the side of the administration in its program. In the opening address of the convention he told the delegates that economic horizons have brightened and that unemployment has been reduced more than two-thirds. On the other hand, opponents of the NRA asserted that it is like giving a patient a purge and bleeding him white at the same time.

Whenever business men generally have come together there has been a lively crossfire of praise and criticism of the NRA, have removed from such voluntary organizations of establishment of code authorities for self-government under the NRA, has removed from such voluntary organizations of business men as the United States chamber, at least temporarily, much of their prestige as representatives of industry and commerce. But the NRA has not removed the opportunity for conventions of these organizations to become forums where grievances may be aired, praise uttered, remedies suggested and the recovery program generally tested in the face of the issue.

General Johnson, much-seared but still fighting leader of the recovery campaign, has already appeared before the convention to face its test and defend the program against the censure of his enemies.

Harriman, in his address, reminded the business men that long before the depression had reached its nadir, the chamber of commerce had overwhelmingly voted in favor of self-regulation through trade groups and associations. He pointed out that the NRA was the answer of congress to this request—an imperfect answer, perhaps, but one that appeared to be accomplishing much good.

In his foreword, issued before the opening of the convention, the head of the chamber declared that the fundamental question "of the extent to which the nation still faces and economic emergency will be projected for a business man's answer." The answer to the question was regarded as basic because the attitude of the chamber toward the Roosevelt administration is expected to be determined by it. As officially stated, one question emphasized: "To what extent has the upswing in business been due to governmental action and how much through the operation of natural economic forces?" This was to be followed by the further inquiry: "What force of business action and governmental policies affecting business does the situation now demand?" Furthermore, the purpose of the convention was further defined as "to bring the business thought of the country to bear on policies and measures necessary to insure the greatest possible degree of future economic stability. What legislative enactments should be made permanent? What should be amended and what should be dropped when the emergency is over?"

The answer to these questions are being sought in the conflict of opinion and views in the sessions of the business men at Washington. The administration will probably get a fairly well defined picture of what business generally thinks of its efforts to give it the recovery assistance it demanded when Roosevelt offered himself as a leader with the courage to try new paths and a confidence in his ability to set in motion forces that eventually would overcome the momentum of the depression and start the country toward prosperity again.

Praise of the part that the press has played in starting Texas back on the road to recovery" was spoken by Rep. Richard M. Kleberg, of Corpus Christi, in a message over long distance telephone hookup to the South Texas Press association recently. He congratulated editors and publishers, and reviewed conditions as they were during the years of the depression. "What was the reaction of the press of south Texas to these critical conditions?" he continued. "You know the answer. Your support of the administration and its policies, throughout this hectic and trying period was patriotic and wholehearted. You spread correct information and, directing public thought through your editorials and interpretive articles, you rendered invaluable service to your state and your nation. I might say, also at this point, that it has been my observation that the press of south Texas has always been in the vanguard of worthwhile movements and has given incalculable assistance in every crisis of our state's history. From the establishment in 1829 at San Felipe, Brazoria county, of the state's first newspaper, The Cotton Plant, up to this good hour you fellows have done more than your share in building a greater Texas."

The press not only of south Texas, but of all parts of Texas and all parts of the nation, has done its part in this "hectic and trying period." Not in agreement always, but always in faith with the ideals of American liberty and the welfare of the nation whose security in constitutional government it defends, the press has stood firmly in front for the maintenance of the majesty of the law and the rights and liberties of the people.

LaGuardia Tells Police to Shoot to Kill

By HUGH NUGENT FITZGERALD
Mayor F. H. LaGuardia of New York is a product of Arizona. That is, he was born in Arizona in its territorial days and his parents were of Italian origin. His boyhood days were passed on the frontier and the sheriffs who maintained the law of the territory never hesitated to use their guns on desperate criminals. Now the Arizona-born Italian-American is the mayor of the American metropolis. He addressed an army of 2,000 policemen the other day and he advised them how to deal with crooks and criminals and murderers. This is what he said: "Out where I was raised we did not have much of a police department. Our sheriff was quick on the trigger—if you get what I mean. Two policemen were shot down in cold blood, one killed and the other seriously wounded. Are you going to stand for that? You will have to state law enforcement machinery, with added power placed in the chief law officer whereby he is authorized to co-ordinate the efforts of all officers possessed with the right of arrest in efforts to effectuate the capture of major criminals. Second, the repeal of the law forbidding the defendant to testify in a trial of his case. Third the repeal of the severance statute so that all persons charged with crime growing out of that he will up his hat every time he sees a policeman." Mayor Alfred Petsch of Fredericksburg, Gilchrist county is one of the most outspoken and fearless men who have seen service in legislative halls under the big dome. He has three terms to his credit. He was one of the leaders of the legislative body. He stood for correct principles of government. He is a lawyer and has been a district attorney. He will be a candidate for representative for a fifth time in July. Major Petsch served overseas. He was a gallant soldier. He believes in law enforcement. He would put down crime by smashing criminals in Texas. If elected, he has a program. "In the event that I am elected I propose to make the reform of the criminal statutes one of my main objectives. Among the matters of utmost importance are: First, a statewide law enforcement machinery, with added power placed in the chief law officer whereby he is authorized to co-ordinate the efforts of all officers possessed with the right of arrest in efforts to effectuate the capture of major criminals. Second, the repeal of the law forbidding the defendant to testify in a trial of his case. Third the repeal of the severance statute so that all persons charged with crime growing out of the same transaction may be tried at the same time. Fourth, changing the right of continuance of a criminal case so as to make the right condition upon the facts as are now required to exist in a second application for continuance. Fifth, change in the machinery for selection of a jury by abolishing the jury wheel and placing the selection into the hands of a committee of three to be appointed by the grand jury and including the district judge from excluding any person selected for jury service excepting under the most extraordinary conditions. If the people of Texas are for law enforcement, if they believe that the punishment should fit the crime if they are sincere in their demands for the protection of life and property at all costs lawmakers of the type of Major Petsch should be elected as members of both houses of the 44th legislature. There is a way to go about it. Compel candidates for legislative office to meet the issue squarely in the primary campaign now on. Make the legislative aspirant face the issue and pledge himself (or herself) to vote to cast aside the antiquated criminal statutes of the commonwealth. Enactments of today should be there as remorseless as a mad tiger in the jungle. As for the yellow rats of the social order, they should be shown no mercy. Major Petsch as a member of the 32nd legislature introduced the anti-kidnaping act. It is a matter of record that this act aroused the bitter opposition of his fellow members of the 32nd who fought the severe penalty clause it carried to the last ditch. Now why should mercy be shown to kidnapers of little children? Why shouldn't the punishment fit the crime? This is the year for Texans to declare for a New Deal and for men who will stand for the program of the protection of life and property regardless of the cost it may be to the law abiding taxpayers of the commonwealth.

which took second place in the exhibit of children's clothing at the state home economic rally in Austin recently, is on exhibit in the John H. Garner's department store with the small garments, neatly stitched and attractively patterned, appear to the layman's eye quite as good as garments commercially made. The art of homemaking very rarely became a lost art during the "whoops" days that followed the World War. In the generation before the great conflict, future housewives were trained in the home by a capable mother. Such things as home economic or homemaking departments were rare in schools and excited either contempt or suspicion on the part of the practical-minded. I can remember when girls were discouraged from undertaking such courses by the contention that they would be taught only how to make frothy desserts and such things, to the detriment of the solid knowledge they acquired in their homes. What a change has occurred. Now daughters come home from school in the afternoons and shows mother how it is done. She has learned to plan and prepare appetizing and nutritious meals at small cost, to buy economically and yet well, to design and make an entire wardrobe with an eye to practical values and costs as well as attractiveness. She even learns how to nurse in illness, to feed youngsters and make baby clothes. The reason all this responsibility has been transferred to the schools is simple. Mother just about knows all she knew, and what she did know she rarely got a chance to tell the girl. Again, times have changed a girl's mother was a girl and they don't do things quite the way she has been accustomed to doing it. Put it to her credit, however, that in the procession of this fast-moving period, the mother of today hasn't become wedded to the past. She has kept young enough to learn with daughter, to eagerly accept new methods for new conditions. She has kept youthful in attitude and that is a mighty important thing. It is one of the reasons for the fact that nowadays many, many mothers are as pretty as 45 as daughter is at 20. In fact many mothers and daughters are hard to distinguish between the matter of years. Cisco will entertain two large groups at once Monday afternoon. One is to be a delegation of business men who are to arrive at 1:50 p. m. on a special train and leave at 2:40 after a handshaking round of the business district. The other is the Broadway of America motorcade from San Diego, California to Dallas and the annual convention of the highway association. The Waco group of wholesale manufacturers, jobbers, and members of educational institutions, professions, desires no program formal welcome, the chamber of commerce has been informed they wish is a chance to meet business men. Sleeping and accommodations will be taken of aboard their train. The Broadway tour will be only long enough to make a noise, hear a speech or two and give Cisco people to the convention. DONNA of the BIG TOP by BEULAH POYNTER

BEGIN HERE TODAY
DONNA GABRIEL and MADELINE SIDDAI, who call themselves "The Gabriel Sisters" are famous performers with Henrico's circus. CON DAVID, the animal trainer, is in love with Donna who regards him merely as a friend. Madeline, in love with Con, has been flirting with NED TRAFFORD, boss carnivore.

In the first car the group of strange people discussed the accident.

Two weeks later Donna falls from the trapeze and is taken to a hospital, badly injured. Madeline sends word to CON DAVID, a letter telling Donna to continue the impersonation until she is well. Then Madeline goes on with the circus. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER VII A FUNERAL pall, thick and heavy, hung over the circus. The crew train, with tents and stakes and poles and apparatus, had departed by the time Con and Madeline reached the siding where the Pullmans stood, but the performers stood in little groups on the tracks or platform with no intention of retiring so early. Renfro paced the traveled roadbed, his hands jammed in his pockets, his black brows meeting in a scowl. La Belle Matilde, his wife, sat on a heavy suitcase. "Well, what's the verdict?" Renfro demanded when the couple approached. Madeline told him what the doctor had said. "It will be a long time before she can work," she added. "I'm going to send her home as soon as she's able to travel." Renfro kicked viciously at a small rock. "Your act will be busy without her," he muttered. "Now I'll have to find a new aerial turn." "You mean you're going to let me out?" Madeline exclaimed. "What else can I do? You're a nice kid, but you know the rules. I don't mean right away, of course."

"But, Mr. Renfro—" Madeline's hands were clammy. "There'll be the hospital bills—" "I thought your folks were well to do? Well, never mind. We'll talk it over in the morning." There was little time for Madeline to consider what he had said, for the others crowded about to ask about Donna. For the next 20 minutes she was busy answering their questions. Con slipped away, to stand alone on a rear platform, nursing his grief. AN hour later, after the weary performers had gone to their staterooms, the headlights of the engine that was to carry the train to the next stand split the darkness. The creak of coupling pins, the switching from one track to another, the blast of the whistle tore through Madeline's agonized nerves like the sharp cut of a poniard. Stark terror suddenly gripped her. No one else might believe that Ned Trafford had tampered with belt or screws but she knew he had! He had tried to kill Madeline herself and failed, but he might try again with success. Cowardice prompted her to leave the circus at once, but two things were stronger; first, her absorbing love for Con David and, second, the fact that she was practically without funds. Unlike Donna, Madeline had not saved her salary. If Donna should die—Madeline shivered! Donna's death would be a double disaster. How would Madeline convince her family that she was the real Madeline SidDAI? She must persuade Renfro to keep her on with the circus. By hook or by crook she must win Con's love. Perhaps Trafford would not make another attempt at her life. Since she had cast suspicion on him he might be afraid to risk another "accident." Madeline fell asleep and dreamed of falling through space, of being mangled by tiger claws, of being kidnaped by a red-haired giant and flung into a pit of snakes. She awoke screaming with terror, her body bathed in perspiration. Like most members of the theatrical profession Madeline was superstitious. She knew that Trafford was her enemy, but to dream of snakes meant more than one enemy! She was surrounded by them. Suppose Donna were one? Suppose Donna should hold this accident against her, would she refuse to work with Madeline again, to help her, either financially or in other ways? Burying her face in her pillow, she sobbed in a frenzy of self pity. IN the first car the group of strange people discussed the accident that night and others they had seen. They spoke in awed whispers. Major Dan Thumb, his shrill, childish voice high pitched though muted, told of a black wife

BY RODNEY DUTCHER NEA service staff correspondent

WASHINGTON.—Next sensational NRA document to be suppressed is a citation of 20 specific cases where code authorities or members have brought different types of pressure on manufacturers to drive prices up and keep them there.

This bare, factual report from the Consumers' Advisory Board makes no comment. It bristles with evidence of open price association abuses, coercion of small industrialists who can profit on reasonable prices, price-fixing under codes which have no price-fixing provisions, and practices which drive prices far ahead of purchasing power.

One manufacturer was untruthfully told by his code authority that he would be violating the code if he didn't raise a certain price from $10 to $24.25 and a competitor told him he would be sent to Atlanta.

A manufacturer complains that he can produce many items much cheaper than bigger corporations with "terrible overhead," but says the code authority threatened him with prosecution if he didn't observe its arbitrarily set price list.

New Issue Tossed Into Governor Race

McKINNEY, Texas, May 3 — (Special)—A new issue was tossed into the 1934 campaign by Maury Hughes, gubernatorial candidate, here Saturday when in his opening speech he advocated a highway commission that the people themselves would elect and control. He told the 5,000 listeners gathered to hear his opening speech that he would divide the state into four districts, each to be represented by a elected commissioner, with the governor appointing the chairman.

He also advocated an old age pension plan, based upon that contained in the 1932 democratic platform which Hughes, as a member of the platform committee, helped to write.

Hughes said that if it should be necessary to obtain a seven months school year and a decent wage for teachers, he would add approximately $1,000,000 per year to the school fund by taking another one-eighth of the gasoline tax.

While chairman of the state recovery board, Hughes obtained federal aid for rural schools and unemployed teachers.

A state police force and judicial reform, a pardon and parole system model after that of the federal government, reduced governmental costs and opposition to new forms of taxation, were among the points stressed by the candidate.

LEBRUN TAKES LEAD IN ROLE OF GODFATHER

By MARY KNIGHT
United Press Staff Correspondent
PARIS, May 2.—Within less than two years as president of the French republic, M. Albert Lebrun has become the godfather of 497 children.

At this rate, by the end of his term of office in May 1939, he should be historically responsible for 1,500 god-girls and boys.

Godfathering long has been a quaint presidential duty in France. M. Gaston Doumergue, now prime minister, although a bachelor during all but the last four days of his presidency, became godfather of almost a thousand children. With the start that M. Lebrun has, he will exceed this number.

Certain Restrictions
There are certain restrictions, however, which makes it impossible for just anybody to become a godson or daughter of the French president. The girl or boy to bear this title must come from a family of French nationality and he or she must be at least the eighth living child in the family.

Furthermore, the morality and honor of the family must be above reproach. Social status, financial condition and place of residence are things adhered to—none of these things make any difference. When all of these requirements have been complied with, the president gladly gives his consent and, with a gift in gold or kind, openly accepts his nomination as godfather.

Presidential "godfatherhood" confers a definite prestige upon the families so marked in France with the requisite eighth child.

Meets Godchildren
So numerous and widespread over the country are the godchildren of the president that it seldom is possible for him to make a short journey in any direction without being presented with one of his "honorary offspring."

The proud father or mother will come forward from the crowds to place "This President is one of your god-sons," and in the case of godfather Lebrun, a suitable and friendly reply is always at his tongue-tip.

TINY RAILROAD
DETROIT, Mich., May 3.—A survey for a proposed miniature railroad on Belle Isle, haven of recreation in the Detroit River, has been begun by John Ross, chief engineer for the Detroit Street Railways.

The proposed six-mile route would follow a course through the middle of the island, with stops at the zoo and other places of interest. Engineering problems involved include a number of road and canal crossings.

COULDN'T RESIST HORNS
LOS ANGELES, May 3.—Ivan E. Wilson had no ear for music, but he could not resist the raucous hooting of automobile horns, according to a complaint issued by the district attorney's office charging him with netting them.

Wilson was accused of stealing horns from automobiles. He was said to have selected only horns with tones varying from "razzberry" notes to those imitating Swiss yodelers.

Dillinger's Girl In Police Toils

Arrested in a Chicago date, Evelyn Frechette, alias Ann Martin, above, has been identified by fingerprints, U. S. officers say, as the woman with John Dillinger when he shot his way out of a St. Paul trap and by photographs as the woman who visited him in Crown Point, Ind., jail, posing as Mrs. Dillinger two days before his escape.

Society Girl To Wed Actor

A Hollywood society girl, Miss Katherine Toberman, above, will be the bride of Monroe Owsley, film actor, this summer. Miss Toberman is the daughter of a prominent Los Angeles realty dealer. Owsley was well known on the stage before he achieved film success.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

Ferrell's Finances
WHEN Wesley Ferrell told reporters at Greensboro, N. C., the other day that he had enough money to meet his needs for the next 30 years, he wasn't fooling. The Indians' holdout might even have said 100 years without a great deal of exaggeration.

Ferrell, who has been paid $64,954 since he started pitching for the Indians six years ago, is a young man who does not toss his shakels around. One of his teammates told me Wes probably has saved $50,000, and that is a conservative estimate, since he lives frugally and has none of the habits which require money to indulge.

Losses by Fine
THE year following was one of his great seasons. He won 21 games for Cleveland, losing 10, and was paid $2899.28 salary and $3000 bonus. Ferrell's contract for 1930 called for $9000 and he received a bonus of $1000, winning 25 games. In 1931 his salary was raised to $15,000, and he won 27 games.

He signed in 1932 for $18,000, but was suspended and fined by Manager Peckinpaugh, bringing his actual pay down to $16,922.16. He won 23 games that year. Last season Ferrell signed for $12,000 and in midseason his arm collapsed. Because of his hitting ability he was tried in the outfield, but as an outfielder he was pretty terrible.

Arm in Doubt

ON the theory that his arm is shot, Cleveland offered Wes $5000 this year, with a bonus plan effective after ten victories. Ferrell insists that his arm is okay and he wants to be paid on that assumption. Billy Evans gave Ferrell the privilege during the winter of buying his own release for $25,000. It was believed another major league club would put up the money. But Wes couldn't negotiate, so after three weeks the offer was withdrawn. The fact that Ferrell was placed

Malcolm Campbell May Use Salt Beds

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, May 3.—Sir Malcolm Campbell and his famous "Bluebird" probably will challenge his own world's land speed record of 272 miles per hour, on the salt beds of Great Salt Lake some time in July.

William F. Sturm, American representative of the British automobile racer, said tests of the salt beds proved suitable for the run. Further examinations will be made, however, before the final decision is made.

It will be necessary to construct a track large enough to allow seven miles in which to warm up, one mile for the clocked run, and four miles to slow down. The proposed site was near Salsduru, Utah.

"I think the course finally selected," Sturm said, "should be one of not less than 12 miles and preferably one of 14. When a tentative course should be figured, approximately 600 feet wide. Sounding should be taken, both at the edges of such a course and likewise in the middle, so that no mistakes will be possible. This would involve con-

TO BE STREAMLINED

DETROIT, Mich., May 3.—Wagon streamlines apparently the vogue for many vehicles the Detroit Street Railway commission has authorized a $6,500 expenditure for the construction of a 30-passenger streamliner with modified streamline design. The car, to be constructed of salvaged materials, will be 35 feet long and about 10,000 pounds lighter than the Peter Witt type cars now in operation.

GUN MADE IN 1250

SANDUSKY, O., May 3.—A cannon gun, made in 1250 A. D., belonging to an inmate of the County Jail here, is in the keeping of Theodore A. Hill, a hotel manager. The owner, who refuses to give the name to infirmity officials, says the weapon was handed down from generation until it came into his possession. Hill was asked to "keep" the gun, the owner explaining that though for a time he slept with it, he is afraid it will be stolen.
