THINK YOUTH IN EXTORTION IS IN ARIZONA

EASTLAND, Dec. 13 — Another youth who, with Edward Mackall of Eastland is charged in a plot to extort money from Mrs. C. U. Connell on June 17, today was believed to be in Arizona, federal authorities said. Mackall made bond at Abilene today.

Mrs. Connell received a threatening note demanding money on June 17, which she turned over to the department of justice agents at Fort Worth. On June 18 a newspaper roll was "planted" on Connell's floor.

When two youths came to get what was supposed to be the money officers hidden nearby fired and the two fled.

U. S. Inspector McCormick was at Eastland today investigating the case.

Tribes Fight Plan To Construct Park

CMAHA, Neb., Dec. 13 — The proposed Lewis and Clark National Park along the Missouri river north of Decatur, Neb., is meeting protests from members of the Winnebago and Omaha Indian tribes.

Cyclone Davis To Run For Governor

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 13 — James H. "Cyclone" Davis, 89, visiting his son here, announced he will formally announce for governor on Jan. 1.

Davis said that Davis would make public his platform that date, including in it state ownership of all minerals more than 200 feet underground, state control of gas now piped out of the state public ownership of utilities, require all corporations to take out a Texas charter, and all for constitutional convention.

RED JOHNSON QUESTIONED IN LINDY KIDNAP

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Dec. 13 — Supreme Court Justice Thomas Trenchard today ruled that the state of New Jersey is required to answer only questions asked by Bruce Hauptmann in efforts to obtain a bill of particulars in murder charges on which he faces trial.

The question, number one on the list, read:

"What does the state contend was the cause of the death of the said Charles Lindbergh, Jr.?"

The child Hauptmann is accused of kidnaping and murdering the pilot.

In the summer
Charles Lindbergh was the guest of his grandparents, Senator and Mrs. Wright W. Morrow, at their home in North Haven, Me., and was directly in care of nursemaid Betty Gow, personable Scottish girl who had come well recommended to the Lindberghs.

PEARLS BOOSTED BUSINESS

BROCKTON, Mass., Dec. 13 — Business was exceptionally good at the market-junch counter for a few hours, especially in oysters. Ralph Gilbert, a jewelry clerk, found three pearls in a single oyster he was eating.

WAGGONER IS DEAD AT HOME IN FORT WORTH

FORT WORTH, Dec. 13 — Funeral services for W. T. Waggoner, 82 year old monarch of Texas greatest cattle and oil fortune, who died at his home here Tuesday were held at Oakwood cemetery here Thursday morning at 11 o'clock.

The body lay in state yesterday afternoon and this morning. Death came quietly to the man whose first interest was the range and its riders. He never regained consciousness from a stroke suffered Sunday evening.

Dr. Hodges McKnight, who attended Mr. Waggoner during his last years said pneumonia developed 12 hours before his death.

"He died quietly as he had lived," Dr. McKnight said.

Mr. Waggoner, reputedly the wealthiest citizen of Texas, died with one of his greatest dreams un-realized—he never had a Kentucky derby winner.

But it was one of many dreams; the others were fulfilled. Single-handed, the man who lived and died a cowboy at heart, brought horse racing back to Texas after the sport had languished in outlaw-ry for three decades.

He built and lived to see operated the $2,000,000 racing plant at Arlington Downs, one of the finest in the country. He created a cattle empire of 500,000 acres. He established an oil fortune that brought his reputed wealth above $100,000,000. He made the Three-D Stables known wherever horses race in the United States.

W. T. Waggoner once summed up his life and the philosophy which governed it in words which none of his commentators have tried to improve upon. He said:

"Ever since I was 14 years old, I have tried to run the best outfit, own the best horses, raise the best beef in the country—and do the most work."

The man who doesn't admire a good horse, and a good beef steer, and a pretty woman—well something is wrong with that man's head."

NO CONTAGION IN CISCO SAYS CITY REPORT

Reports that there are a number of cases of scarlet fever here have been branded false by Dr. W. P. Lee, city health officer, in his November report to the city commission. Following is his statement:

"For the past several days I have been repeatedly asked about contagious disease in town, especially scarlet fever. I was told that the school was full of it. There are no cases of contagious diseases in town, or none reported to me, and only three cases have been quarantined in the last five months. I am still administering toxoid and will continue to do so as long as the supply lasts."

"During the past month the usual routine of inspection of groceries, markets, and dairies has been followed with nothing of consequence to remedy. All such places are in very good condition. Our efforts lately have been directed to inquiring into the conditions of premises reported to us unsanitary."

"In comparing our mortality rate with that of the state at large, we would feel encouraged. During the past three years there has not been a death in Cisco or in precinct six from diphtheria, typhoid, or malaria while the state rate per 100,000 is 10.8, 9.9 and 7.1, respectively. With serum for diphtheria and typhoid available, there is very little excuse for death from these diseases."

"During the month there were six births and five deaths, Dr. Lee said."

He is placing on display in public places two posters, one a report from the state department of health showing the mortality rate in Texas from various diseases, and the other a Texas comptroller's report of state expenditures for 1933. The latter, with the inscription "Balance the Budget — Lower the Death Rate," shows that the state spent $282,717 for the state health department, to protect the citizens against disease, $881,311 for military and law enforcement, to protect the citizens against criminals. Agriculture expenditure was listed at $523,381 and livestock commission expense at $357,904.

Hoboes' Free Beer At Yuletide Banned

WORCESTER, England, Dec. 13 — Christmas Day in the workhouse won't be the hoboes' delight it used to be here this year. It's going to be a bone-dry, soft-drinks occasion as a result of the workhouse authorities' could count on a tankard of beer as an aid to the Yuletide festivities.

Time was when the "aristocracy" of the road, who on Christmas Day workhouse here out in at the workhouse here on Christmas day with their dinner. The inducement became so strong that tramps from Land's End to John o' Groats made a bee-line for Worcester on Christmas week.

This year the authorities decided that if they continued to offer free beer the number of "guests" might be more than they could cope with.

So all the hoboes are going to get with their Christmas dinner this year is soft drinks, tea, coffee and tobacco.

Stock First Love

His first love continued to be horses and cattle. In 1929 he completed the Arlington Downs race track. Four years later his fight before the Texas legislature and the people was won, and horse racing with pari-mutuel racing became legal.

His eyes fading, his once-vigorous frame sagged, the "grand old man" of Texas sat in his box and drank in the music of hoofs beating a tattoo on the turf at Arlington.

The plant at Decatur, a 20-story office building at Fort Worth, bank buildings at Vernon and Fort Worth remain as monuments to Waggoner.

His three children survive. They are Electra, (Mrs. A. B. Wharton), Guy, and Paul. To each of them he gave 100,000 acres of land in Wichita, Wilbarger, Bailey, Ford and Knox counties.

At the end, the man who spent 50 years in the saddle, turned back to the land, his first enthusiasm.

"It's the bone and the line and the brisket I want... real individuality in cattle," he said.

9 SHOPPING DAYS 'TILL CHRISTMAS

"Will you rush that order? I've been shopping all afternoon. You've no idea how tired I am."

CISCO STUDENT EDITOR OF ACC 1934 YEARBOOK

ABILENE, Dec. 13 — With more pictures taken than any annual in the history of Abilene Christian college, the editors of the 1935 Picky Pear staff have completed preliminary organization of the book and announced the complete staff.

Bert Ezzell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Ezzell of Cisco, is editor-in-chief of the staff. He was elected last spring by the senior class of Abilene Christian college to head the college and a member of the varsity football team, the "A" honor club for men, "C" club, president of the Trojans social club for men, and member of the dramatic club.

There are 442 individual prints already completed and ready for the engraver, and many of the class, club and group panels. Paramount photographers and Stafford Engraving company, Fort Worth, is doing the engraving.

Most of the staff is made up of seniors except the associate editors and a few other underclassmen who will continue book publishing later. Landon Hill, Abilene, and Homer Uley, Topeka, Kansas, are associate editors. Ralph Arceneaux, Fort Worth, is the business manager and is assisted by Paul Connell, Del Rio. Other members of the staff are: Batsell Baxter, Jr., Martin B. Pruitt, Cledie Pruitt, Lucille Holmes, Blanche Banowsky, June Austin, Bryan McKinzie, and Buren Carr, Abilene; Audie Bacon, Lawton, Oklahoma; Betty Jane Koller, Wichita Falls, Texas; Homer Jordan, San Angelo, Texas; Ames Staggs, Mitchellville, Tenn.; and Carl Landis, Kansas City, Mo.

Music Program At Rotary Luncheon

A musical program, with Mrs. H. V. House singing and Mrs. C. R. West at the piano, featured the Rotary luncheon today. The program was in charge of Miss Mattie Lea Kunkle, pianist of the club.

The club voted to have a Christmas tree at the meeting next Thursday.

Mack Statham Is On College Honor Roll

Mack Statham, Cisco student in McMurrell college, Abilene, was on the honor roll for the first half of the present semester. It was announced today. He scored 60 grade points, which is the highest possible number for a student taking five subjects.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Statham of Cisco, and a graduate of Cisco high school and Randolph college, at each of which he was an honor student.

KID ARRESTED

ROCKLAND, Mass., Dec. 13 — A kid was "arrested" after it was found wandering along a street. Police Chief George Popp locked the goat in a cell until its owner claimed it.

COMMITTEES ON BANKHEAD POLL ARE ANNOUNCED

Friday, Dec. 14, cotton producers and owners of cotton farms will have the privilege of voting on whether or not the Bankhead act will continue another year. The polls will be open from nine in the morning to five o'clock in the afternoon.

Listed below are voting places and committees which are to serve in each place:

Eastland — Justice of peace office; committee: J. D. Barton (chairman), H. O. Hearn, New Lewis.

Cisco — City hall; committee: Felix Boland (chairman), Joe Donaway, Jim Pence.

Rising Star — W. H. Crouse building; committee: Ira Swift, Bruce Eberhart, A. L. McDonald, (chairman).

Carbon — Old lumber yard building; committee: H. G. Hines, (chairman), Elzo Bess, A. M. Thurman.

Gorman — Justice of peace office; committee: I. T. Grisham (chairman), W. F. Cornwell, Jack Chaney.

Ranger — City hall; committee: W. M. Bailey (chairman), Dick Weekes, Frank Weekes.

Journalists Named In Extortion Probe

TULSA, Dec. 13 — The Tulsa newspaper reporter named by Philip Kennamer as having declined an opportunity to join John Gorrell in an extortion plot told the United Press late today he knew nothing at all about the plot.

Tulsa, Dec. 13 — Sheriff Charles Price said today that Philip Kennamer had named two Tulsa newspaper employes who had been offered but had declined a chance to participate in the alleged extortion plot which resulted in the slaying of John Gorrell.

Price's deputies were sent out to find the employes and bring them in for questioning. One was a reporter, the other a copy boy.

Turkey Thief Is Captured By Woman

KINGSVILLE, O., Dec. 13 — A turkey thief suffered two unforeseen indignities at Harold Robinson's turkey farm near here. First, he was captured by a woman; secondly, he was the unpleasant experience of his captor's husband sitting on his head while his wife chased his two fleeing companions.

Four hundred and fifty gobblers have been eating themselves into deletable Christmas and New Year complacence at the Robinson home this fall.

Strange sounds roused the Robinsons one night. The fowls seemed to be stampeding. The next morning they found missing two turkeys, valued at about $12.

The next night, Mr. and Mrs. Robinson went to the brooder house planning to spend the night. About midnight they were awakened again by the stampeding of turkeys. Mrs. Robinson picked up the shotgun and stepped outside. One man was stealing a big turkey hen.

She leveled the gun at him and ordered him to halt. He did. Mrs. Robinson turned over the man to her husband, then ran to her automobile with the gun and pursued the two companions in the car. At North Kingsville, near here, she lost the trail, but meanwhile had picked up Marshal Eugene Harlock.

Sheriff's deputies intercepted the fleeing pair at Ashtabula, O. Mean while, Robinson had had to sit on his prisoner's head to hold him until help came.

The three were all held on petty larceny charges.

L. C. BARROW GETS 5 YEARS FOR ROBBERY

DALLAS, Dec. 13 — L. C. Barrow, whose older brothers, Clyde and Buck, died from officers' bullets, today was sentenced to five years in the state penitentiary for robbery of a drug store.

The 21-year-old West Dallas "tough boy" listened to the verdict of the jury without show of emotion.

Around the courtroom stood armed deputies who watched closely the numerous friends of the defendant.

Near Barrow were his mother and father, who less than six months ago lost their son, Clyde, when a posse stepped from ambush on a lonely road and blasted him and Bonnie Parker to death. The mother wept; the father lowered his eyes.

Reindeer Tied As Santa Rides Truck

Old Saint Nicholas will rein up Dancer and Prancer the rest of his fleet reindeer team, pawing the earth in their haste to be on their way Saturday afternoon and change to a fire truck the color of his own bulging coat to ride into Cisco Saturday afternoon.

The good saint will tie his charges a short distance west of town, in the wooded district just north of the Bankhead highway and ride in with an escort of Cisco firemen to make his appearance behind the Lobo band on D Avenue.

Happy; he will be distributing 300 pounds of candy to the boys and girls of Cisco who will line the main business street to wave a greeting to him. That's a lot of candy, kiddies, so much that he will need two firemen to help him give it all away.

The Cisco merchants, headed by Mitt Williams and Herman Wood, are sponsoring the appearance of Santa on Saturday, and are looking for a great crowd in town to see the jolly fellow and perhaps to look around a bit, in view of the fact that he will make another appearance here on the night of Dec. 24.

On arriving in town, Santa will be taken for a sightseeing tour over the residential part of town, where he will be given an opportunity to look over possibilities for entrance on Christmas Eve, and where he can observe the behavior of the boys and girls of Cisco, remembering that he much prefers the good ones to the other kind.

Then he, the firemen, and the big truck will return to the Laguna corner, Fourth and D and a parade will start through the business district at 2 o'clock. The band will meet Santa and his bodyguard and lead the procession up the street.

Then Santa will be whisked away again to those ranching, impatient reindeer, and will hurry home again, to finish making out his list of presents.

Kleiner Well To Be Drilled in Soon

The well being drilled on the Kleiner estate northeast of Cisco will probably be brought in early next week, it was announced today by Charles Kleiner. The well is being drilled by the Lone Star company.

The well is being cemented and pipe pulled now. Kleiner said today. As soon as this is completed, the work of drilling the well will continue, he said.

Indications are 100 per cent for the well," Kleiner said this morning.

Gas was struck early in the week, and preparations have been going forward since then to take care of a flow of oil.

Four Refused New Trials For Murder

AUSTIN, Dec. 13 — Rehearing in four murder cases, in three of which death penalties had been assessed, were refused Wednesday by the court of criminal appeals.

Three men facing death in the electric chair because of the court's refusals were Leonard Burns of Bowie county, Johnnie Dade of Brazoria county, and C. B. Dobbins of Harris county. Dobbins was convicted in the murder of Eda Enderlin in Harris county Jan. 23, 1934.

Citrus Peel Candy Made at McAllen

MCCALLEN, Tex., Dec. 13 — First shipments of candied citrus fruit peel have been made by a factory which recently opened here.

The candy is expected to become an important by-product of the citrus fruit juice canning industry. The only candied citrus fruit peel machine in the United States has been installed to make the product.

Rep. Sam Rayburn, Texas, considered Byrns' principal rival, withdrew a few minutes after the West Virginia vote was announced.

Rayburn's decision was announced in a terse three sentence statement.

"I am no longer a candidate for speaker. There are no alibis. Under the circumstances I couldn't be elected."

Rayburn's withdrawal was preceded by that of John Rankin, Miss., who announced he would seek the place of democratic floor leader.

HUGE PLANE DESIGNED

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 13 — Designers for a 36-berth transcontinental airliner, capable of a speed of 200 miles an hour are being drawn by the Curtiss-Wright Airplane company. Construction, however, will await a sale.

HICKOK SAYS WORK PENDING ENGINEERING

Local labor will be used in the construction of the new Hickok carbon black plant near Cisco, it was announced by A. S. Hickok, head of the company, here last night. He has been here several days conferring with local representatives of the company.

"Nearly all the labor will be local," he said. This does not mean, it was explained, that all the labor will be taken from within the Cisco city limits, as was the case in construction of the local gas plant, but it will be from the Cisco area.

When asked for an estimate of what this would mean, R. L. Ponsler, superintendent of the Hickok interests in Texas, said, "I figure that the plant will cost $200,000 and that the labor will amount to about 40 or 50 per cent of that."

No definite site has been selected for the plant, Hickok said. The company has in mind two locations, both near Cisco, and will choose one of them.

"It will probably be about the first of the year before the actual work begins," Hickok said. "It takes a good while to get all the details worked out, but when they are worked out we will move a good deal faster."

Engineering Details

It was explained that the details to be worked out are entirely in the engineering department, fitting the matters of construction to the conditions prevailing in this area.

"There have not been any of the financial problems that sometimes require more time than those in the engineering field," Ponsler said. "We have not had to bother about where the money is coming from, but only in mapping out plans for the actual construction."

Building the plant will probably require from four to six months, Hickok said. "With good conditions, we can probably finish it in four months. I hardly think it could be completed in less time than that. But with unfavorable conditions, it will take longer."

6,000,000 Feet Drilled in Soon

Present plans call for the burning of approximately 6,000,000 feet of gas daily. The plant, as described several days ago, is to be of the most modern type, and will turn out a high grade of carbon black. The Cisco well was recently tested at the University of Tulsa.

The laboratory for testing the product, it was said, will include apparatus for the testing of rubber in which the product is used, inasmuch as most of the carbon black at present is used in the manufacture of rubber. The material is to stand compression, elongation, and shearing tests.

Asked how he found business conditions in the Cisco area, Hickok was optimistic. "Of course we come into contact with only oil and gas business," he said, "but we find it quite satisfactory throughout our area."

"Of course the oil business in Texas has not been very good lately, due to so much hot oil being produced in East Texas. They seem to have it under control now though and if they do, it will mean better times for the oil industry. It will mean that the proration allowance will be raised, with a good price."

SPEAKERSHIP IS CONCEDED TO REP. BYRNS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 — Withdrawal of two of his chief competitors virtually assured Rep. Joseph Byrns, democrat, Tenn., the speakership of the 76th congress.

Byrns' candidacy appeared to be strengthened as additional state groups added their support. West Virginia's six democratic representatives joined Pennsylvania's 23 in announcing they were for Byrns.

Rep. Sam Rayburn, Texas, considered Byrns' principal rival, withdrew a few minutes after the West Virginia vote was announced.

Rayburn's decision was announced in a terse three sentence statement.

"I am no longer a candidate for speaker. There are no alibis. Under the circumstances I couldn't be elected."

Rayburn's withdrawal was preceded by that of John Rankin, Miss., who announced he would seek the place of democratic floor leader.

TIDE PLAYED BOWL THRILLER ON 1927 VISIT

By STEVE MCGINNIS
United Press Staff Correspondent
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 13 — Alabama's Crimson Tide, eastern representative in the New Year's Day Rose Bowl football game, played one of the most thrilling games of the Pasadena series in tying at 7-7 with Stanford in 1927.

It was in that year that Coach Wallace Wade had taken his boys to the bowl for a second successive time.

Stanford, led by the versatile Bill Hoffman, tricky Dick Hyland, Bogue and Shipkey, had played brilliantly. It was true that the cards had failed to catch numerous scoring opportunities. Penalties had set them back frequently. A blocked punt had cost them victory.

The Kick-Off
Pearce, of the Tide, kicked off to Walker, Stanford end, who drove back 5 to his 35. Hoffman hurried a long pass to Shipkey, Bogue and Hoffman made first down. Hyland crossed end to the Tide 8. On fourth down, with 5 yards to go, Bogue tried for a field goal from placement, but failed. Hyland fumbled Barnes' long punt, but Shipkey recovered for the Cards on his 27.

Short, flat passes from Hoffman took the Warner charges to mid-field. Hoffman fumbled and Pearce of the Tide recovered on his 49.

Winnett, All-American Alabama end, made first down. Bogue intercepted Winnett's pass and was downed by Emis on the Stanford 39. Hoffman passed from his 17 to Shipkey.

Fake Play
On a fake play, Hyland got 11

at right end. Bogue added 5 through the line. Hoffman to Shipkey made it first down. Bogue passed to Walker for a touchdown, and then converted. Hoffman's second kick was out of bounds, and Alabama took the ball on her 40, as the period ended. Stanford 7; Alabama 9. There was no scoring in the second and third periods.

Early in the final period Alabama downed Barnes' punt on the Cards' 42. Hoffman and Bogue made 9. Hoffman punted to Taylor. Taylor fumbled, and Stanford recovered on the Tide 17. Bogue, Wilton and Hoffman failed by inches and the Tide took possession on her 8. Smith made 3 at center. Barnes' long punt went out on the Stanford 35. Bogue and Wilton made 8. Stanford was penalized 15 for holding Shipkey made a brilliant catch of Hoffman's pass, but fumbled.

Recovered Fumble
Caldwell recovered for Alabama. Winnett passed to Barnes on the Card 45. Brown fumbled. Walker recovered for Stanford. Wilton made 3 at center. Pearce added two at the same spot. Hoffman failed at center.

Chud Perry, Alabama tackle, charged through to block Wilton's punt. Wilton raced back to his 14 and covered, but the ball went over to the Tide. Jimmy Johnson replaced Smith in the Tide backfield. Winnett smashed center for 8 and first down on the Stanford 7. Winnett drilled center for 2. Winnett's next snap, at center was six inches short of the goal. Johnson blasted into center for a touchdown, dragging Card tacklers with him. Hollins converted.

Pearce of Alabama kicked off and the Tide held the demoralized Cards in their own territory for the brief remainder of the game. The final score: Stanford 7; Alabama 7.

ARIZONA SET FOR FIGHT ON RIVER DISPUTE

By DYKE WILLIAMS
United Press Staff Correspondent
PHOENIX, Dec. 13 — A bitter legislative battle over a billion dollar prize is foreseen for the twelfth state legislature as a result of the new settlement plan for the prolonged Colorado river dispute.

With announcement from Washington by Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes, that construction of the Parker Dam in Arizona will await a water and power settlement, politicians have prepared for the struggle that has disrupted Arizona politics for 15 years.

Whether the state will abandon claim to the right of appropriating 5,900,000 acre feet of water or more from the river in excess of the 2,500,000 acres first proposed by Secretary Ickes under the Santa Fe Compact and Boulder Dam Construction Act, may be decided in the legislative meeting convening Jan. 14.

The issue involves abandonment, or adherence to the hope of irrigating upwards of 2,700,000 acres, proposed by the State River Commission.

Claim of Opposition
Foes of the Interior Department, Arizona River contract claim that at least 5,900,000 acres is irrigable from a Glen Canyon-Verde diversion project, and that unused and unusable water in other states is more than 10,000,000 acre feet of Colorado waste water subject to appropriation under present laws.

Figures also in the struggle will be the created allegation of a plan of American capitalist to irrigate a fertile delta trip in Mexico below the international line. Arizona extremists who favor irrigation of the largest acreage and oppose any contract on water or power allege that imitations on use by various American states are designed to deplete the water surplus in Mexico, where it may be diverted cheaply.

MARTIAL LAW IS DECLARED OVER HAVANA

(Copyright 1934 by United Press)
HAVANA, Cuba, Dec. 13 — Constitutional guarantees were suspended in three provinces today as reports spread that a revolutionary uprising was threatened.

Threat of serious trouble was indicated between now and Dec. 31, when Pres. Carlos Menéndez has promised to hold a general election or resign.

Guarantees were suspended for 60 days in Havana, Santa Clara, and Camaguey Provinces.

In Havana police began searching all pedestrians for firearms and bombs.

Smartness Is New Criterion of Style
NEW YORK, Dec. 13 — Women's clothes, far from being beautiful and always have been essentially attractive!

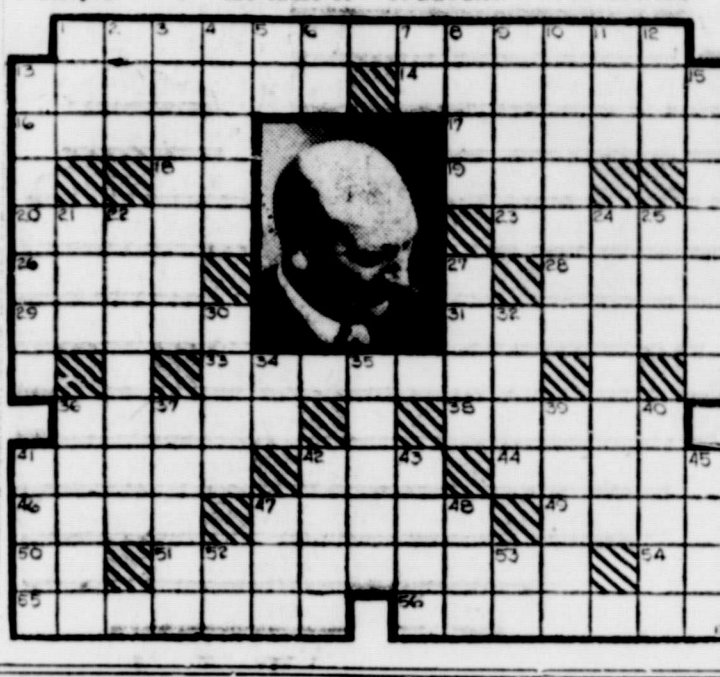

So says Tohe, international style authority and fashion merchandising counselor to over 100 of America's leading department stores and shops. The real point, according to Tohe, is that what counts with women is not beauty in clothes, but smartness and the best dressed woman is the one whose clothes are smartest.

World-Famed Negro Horseman Is Dead
MEXICO, Mo., Dec. 13 — The death of Tom Bass, the best known Negro horseman in the country, has served to recall many stories of his ability with horses and some of the more famous that he bred, trained or showed.

side of President Cleveland, twice rode before President Coolidge, and was visited at his stables by Presidents McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt and Tatt. Queen Marie of Rumania applauded him at the St. Louis show.

Bass, before the turn of the century, owned a livery stable in Kansas City. His knowledge of horses was recognized even then, and fire department officials called on him for advice in selecting teams. It was a suggestion of his that led to the first Kansas City horse show, a show that has grown into the famous American Royal.

Bass was known for his honesty and integrity as well as for his all most uncanny knowledge of spotting

Idaho Ready For Big Cougar Hunt

BOISE, Ida., Dec. 13 — The zero hour for at least six Idaho "killers" has been set.

With the first permanent snowfall will begin a hunt that will end in a blaze of gunfire—and cougar tags.

George Lowe, veteran hunter, has been delegated by the state game department to spend the winter months on the trail. He and his dogs, trained in cougar hunting will get under way as soon as enough snow has fallen to make tracking the animals easy.

Action was taken by the game department to rid the state of one of the "worst enemies" of big game. For several years, cougars have grown more and more troublesome. Each year the reports of deputy wardens have listed an increasingly large number of deer, elk and other big game whose bodies have been found mutilated, half eaten.

Among those cougars singled out for special attention are three ranging near Pocatello, another one or two far back in the mountains on the Boise River and a couple near Shoup, Ida.

MacArthur Remains As Chief of Staff

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 — President Roosevelt today sent a letter to Secretary of War Dern directing that Chief of Staff Douglas MacArthur be retained in that post until a successor has been named. The president expressed the desire to keep MacArthur in order that he may handle war department legislation this winter.

The president indicated a successor is to be chosen in MacArthur's place when the latter has completed his job of guiding such legislation at the capital.

Drunken Man Slays Wife and Himself

TEXARKANA, Texas, Dec. 13 — While his three daughters and neighbors watched horrified, W. E. Preston, 56, today shot and killed his wife and then fatally wounded himself.

Neighbors said Preston had been firing pistol shots at random up and down a street while they covered behind doors. They said Preston was intoxicated.

BRONTON, O., Dec. 13 — At 26 Roy L. Henry will be Lawrence county's new prosecutor. Henry, a Republican, was elected in the recent general election. At 25, Gwynn Sanders, in Union County, Ohio, was prosecutor three years ago.

Hamilton Believed Seen At Houston

HOUSTON, Dec. 13 — Raymond Hamilton the southwest's number one outlaw, was reported today to have crossed the Houston ship channel on a ferry, and posses immediately were formed to search for him.

He was seen on the Beaumont highway in company with two other men and was traced to the ferry, police said.

H. L. Hilton, operator of the ferry positively identified pictures shown him by officers as those of Hamilton.

More Onion Acreage Forecast For Year

CARRIZO SPRINGS, Tex., Dec. 13 — A larger onion acreage this year than last was predicted here as the work of transplanting the sets was well underway.

Most of the acreage increase this year will be on the large farms, it was predicted, as many of the smaller farmers have had difficulty in financing their crop.

The plants are of good quality this season, farmers said, and those already in the ground are getting a good start.

JUDGES TO GET PRIZE

ISTANBUL, Dec. 13 — A Turkish advocate, Lutfi Fikri Bey, who died recently in Paris, has left directions that an annual prize of $500 be paid to the Turkish judge who gives the fairest verdicts and inspires the greatest respect for law.

TORNADO PICKED ON FARM

WESTERLY, R. I., Dec. 13 — A tornado confined itself to Charles M. Hall's farm here. During a recent rain storm a barn, 40 by 60 feet, was lifted from its foundation and carried 25 feet. The barn constructed of cement blocks, 16 feet high and 16 feet wide, was destroyed. Damage was estimated at $5,000.

WORLD-FAMED WOMAN CONDUCTOR
TO LEAD RUSSIAN CHORUS HERE

MME. AGREYNA SLAVIANSKY
Conductor

Mme. Agreyna Slaviansky, who will bring her Russian Chorus for two concerts Monday, is a daughter of the founder of the organization, Dmitry Slaviansky. She has followed in her father's footsteps, winning for the chorus an enviable reputation for choral harmony in nearly every country in the world.

Conductor of the chorus and one of the few internationally recognized directors, she brought her singers to America from Russia by way of the Orient several years ago and has given more than a thousand successful concerts in the United States.

Among the brilliant soloists is her own daughter, Mile. Mara Slaviansky, who is also accompanist for the group.

The Cisco Lobo band and high school Choral club are bringing the Russian Chorus to Cisco for a matinee and an evening concert at the high school auditorium Monday. G. W. Collins, director of the band, and Miss Ella Andres, chorus club sponsor, have charge of the arrangements.

Brilliant soloists will add to the luster of the vocal program, in which many combinations of singers and full ensemble are used, while fiery and characteristic Russian dances given by agile little Russian men and girls will create a spectacular side to the program. It was said, The chorus will include balaika orchestra music.

COLD NIPPED VEGETABLES
CRYSTAL CITY, Tex., Dec. 13.—Cold weather with the mercury dropping to 34 degrees, has had a dulling effect on the fresh vegetable market here. The tomato supply has dropped off, but spinach has benefited greatly by the cold weather. Car loadings of broccoli, parsley, turnips and beets are on the increase.

TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE
DANVERS, Mass., Dec. 13.—It was too good to be true, so Edward S. Marshall notified police. Under his shop door was a check for $1,000 made out to a Charles Ingraham of Danvers with the signature of another Ingraham. Marshall knew no one by this name. He said "No one owes me $1,000 and if they did probably wouldn't pay it."

PIG AND KITTENS PALS
UNION, Me., Dec. 13.—A baby pig and a kitten are pals here. They eat from the same trough and then crawl into a little box and sleep together. The strange companionship resulted when James Griffin built a special pen for the little pig, which was not so rugged as other members of its litter.

CATNIP TRAPPED LION
GREAT FALLS, Mont., Dec. 13.—Want a mountain lion rug for your parlor? It's easy to get one. Just drag out the old catnip. A trap, baited with catnip, fish oil, amine oil and other scents, trapped one near here. Mr. Mountain Lion shuffled around, stumbled into the trap—now he's a rug.

SOW MOTHERED CHICKENS

Attractions of the outer planets are feared to have so displaced the orbit of the main meteor swarm that the earth no longer passes centrally through it.

Blair, who is associate professor of physics, said that in 1933 the scientist Arago estimated that something like 40,000 meteors were visible from his place of observation in the course of three hours.

The Leonids shower is supposed to appear every 33 years. It was explained, and revolve about the sun.

'Bachelor Envoy' Is Family Man

Friends regarded Nelson T. Johnson, U. S. minister to China, as a confirmed bachelor when he went to the Orient five years ago, but two years later he married Jane Thornton Zeck, and they are shown here as they landed in San Francisco with their 18-month-old son. Johnson, who has spent 25 years in the diplomatic service, is an authority on Chinese history and speaks the language fluently.

him. His trip from Englewood to Hartford was checked and verified as to time. But the question constantly intruded: "Did he, then, perhaps unconsciously reveal to some outsider the change in Mrs. Lindbergh's schedule, and unwittingly inform the kidnaper that Charles Lindbergh Jr. would be put to bed in Hopewell instead of Englewood?"

The usual crop of fantastic "identifications"—by long distance—of Red Johnson as the "man with a baby" who had been seen in at least a dozen localities, arose to plague the officials, and one by one were beaten down.

Johnson Deported
For weeks, Johnson was held under surveillance while the investigators checked his past, tracked down his every associate and, with some reluctance finally arrived at the only possible conclusion, that he was wholly innocent of any connection with the crime, knowingly or otherwise.

The punishment for having afforded them so much trouble, the red-headed youth was turned over to immigration authorities for deportation. Far from discouraging the young man, the episode left him grinning in his engaging manner, and promising to return to America legitimately the next time.

For a moment there was a flurry of interest in Betty when the detectives, who had worked in Detroit, An effort to tie her name to that of "Scotty" Gow, a Michigan gangster, fell of its own weight when the police established there was no relationship, and that her chief interest there had been one William Coats, to who she was reported to have been engaged.

And while this inquiry was proceeding a new scene in the drama was unfolding in the Bronx, where an emotional old gentleman had just received an amazing letter from the man who proclaimed himself the kidnaper of the Lindbergh baby.

Fear Leonid Shower
Of Meteors Is Over

RENO, Nev., Dec. 13.—Fear the meteor shower of the Leonids, which was scheduled to appear again about the middle of November, never will be seen in the splendor which marked its previous appearances were expressed by Prof. G. B. Blair of the University of Nevada.

Blair, who is associate professor of physics, said the last normal astronomical display of the Leonids was observed in 1899, but this shower did not occur at the time forecast.

However, a short, well-marked shower did take place about Nov. 15, 1901, just three years after it was due.

The Problem of Plenty

Puritan Governor Dudley wrote from New England to intending colonists in Old England that persons who thought of migrating for sake of material gain would better remain at home. It was different with those whose reasons were those of conscience. These would find, at least the bare necessities of life in the New England wilderness. There were materials for building, fuel to burn, ground to plant, seas and rivers to fish in, a pure air to breathe, good water to drink, which, together with the cows, hogs, and goats brought hither already, may suffice for food.

Pioneers. In Plymouth, during one bitter winter, the supply of corn grew so low that Bradford apportioned five kernels a day to each person. During January, an eagle was shot, cooked, and proved to be "excellent meat"; it was hardly to be discerned from mutton. The capture, three days later, of some seals and a large cod inspired general community rejoicing.

The problem of the pioneers centered on dearth. Theirs was a daily struggle to wrest a living from a niggardly soil and a fearsome ocean. Sometimes they were near starvation. It was cause for thanksgiving that they kept alive at all.

Their successors of today find modern problems spring, strangely enough, from abundance. There is too much of almost everything. Or at least such is the belief. Men are hungry because there is too much wheat, and ill clad because there is too much cotton, too much wool. Surplus is always getting in the way of our prosperity. Cotton must be plowed under, corn burned, fish dumped back into the sea. The government must spend millions to persuade producers not to produce so lavishly.

The Apostle Paul once declared that, among the other lessons he had learned, was how to make a right use of plenty. "I know how to abound," he said. That is a lesson today's civilization must somehow master. The best thought of the age must be rallied to the problem, not primarily of production, but of distribution. Can anyone doubt that, ultimately, the benevolence that has filled the earth with the overflowing products of field and factory will bring all these good gifts of God within reach of all the sons of men?

Japan's Charge Against U. S. Navy

Japan's newspapers quote anonymous naval authorities as accusing the United States of desiring to expand its naval armaments "for the subjugation of the world." Similar quotations in many papers indicate a common inspired source. This apparently is in reply to Ambassador Norman H. Davis' warning to Japan against its threatened abrogation of the treaty which alone holds naval armaments in check. At London Britain answers Mr. Davis' reference to President Roosevelt's urging for allround naval reduction by reaffirming its readiness for a 20 per cent cut—it would limit not only total tonnage but even size of capital ships.

Recovery Versus Reform

The Congress of American Industry calls on Congress for extension of the NRA, but with codes only for industries that ask for them. The New York gathering requests creation of an "independent administrative court" of five members to approve or disapprove all proposed codes. The industrialists affirm their earnest desire to co-operate closely with the government and suggest a joint committee to prepare grounds for this. They ask a balanced budget and a cut in relief spending. They specify their idea of recovery—they do not wish it subordinated to reform.

Citrus Fruit Competition

Increased competition from foreign citrus producers is being faced by the California orange grower in his efforts to develop an export market, the California Fruit Growers Exchange reported recently.

While increased sales of Pacific coast fruit were reported in Great Britain, France, and the Scandinavian countries during the past year, oranges from South Africa, Brazil, and Palestine made their appearance in greater quantity.

South Africa alone, the report said, now exports 3,000,000 boxes of citrus fruits annually to the mother country, and enjoys a subsidy of two shillings per box. A co-operative marketing organization similar to the exchange here is said to handle a major portion of the crop.

Bus Holiday Rates Announced Today

Additional Christmas excursion fares, effective December 13, were announced today by A. F. Baldus, general traffic manager for Southwestern Greyhound Lines. The round trip excursions will be one and one-half times the one way fare and will be good between all points on Southwestern Greyhound Lines. Baldus stated that the excursion fares will be in effect during the entire holiday season up until January 1st, and will carry liberal return limits.

ANTICS OF KINGFISH AMUSE BRITISH PUBLIC

LONDON, Dec. 13 — British public opinion is observing with considerable interest and amusement the political "reforms" of Senator Huey P. Long of Louisiana.

The "Kingfish" is one of the best known among American politicians here, where news of his activities always is lengthily reported.

General consensus seems to be that "despite his buffoonery Long is an astute demagogue," as the News Chronicle wrote when the intention of the "Kingfish" to stand as a Presidential candidate in 1936 recently was reported.

Although other metropolitan newspapers refrained from commenting on the news of his "absolute dictatorship" in Louisiana through the speedy passing of 44 bills, the liberal Manchester Guardian came out with a stinging editorial.

"Senator Huey P. Long, dictator, or 'kingfish'—in his own term—of the State of Louisiana, is a demagogue with a sense of humor," it wrote. "He knows and uses all the tricks of the American political 'boss' without fear or scruple. No one can tell just how far he is a mere self-seeking politician, how far he really believes in his crude remedy for the present discontents.

"In a state where people take life easily he is a whirl of energy. In a country where public speaking tends to be pompous and funeral he is a vigorous and racy speaker. He has no dignity to lose. Long's measures might be challenged in the Supreme Court, on the ground that they are against the Constitution; but then there is nothing to suggest that they are. Senator Long's Presidential aspirations are not yet taken seriously. But ten years ago no one ever thought to see him rule even Louisiana."

BOISE, Ida., Dec. 13 — During 10 months of 1934, 102 Idahoans were killed in automobile wrecks, 21 more than during the same period of 1933.

WHITE BUCK KILLED

Speedy Justice Is Given To Murderer

VIENNA, Dec. 13 — With all the speed it could summon, justice has disposed of handsome Alois Gaidasch, 21.

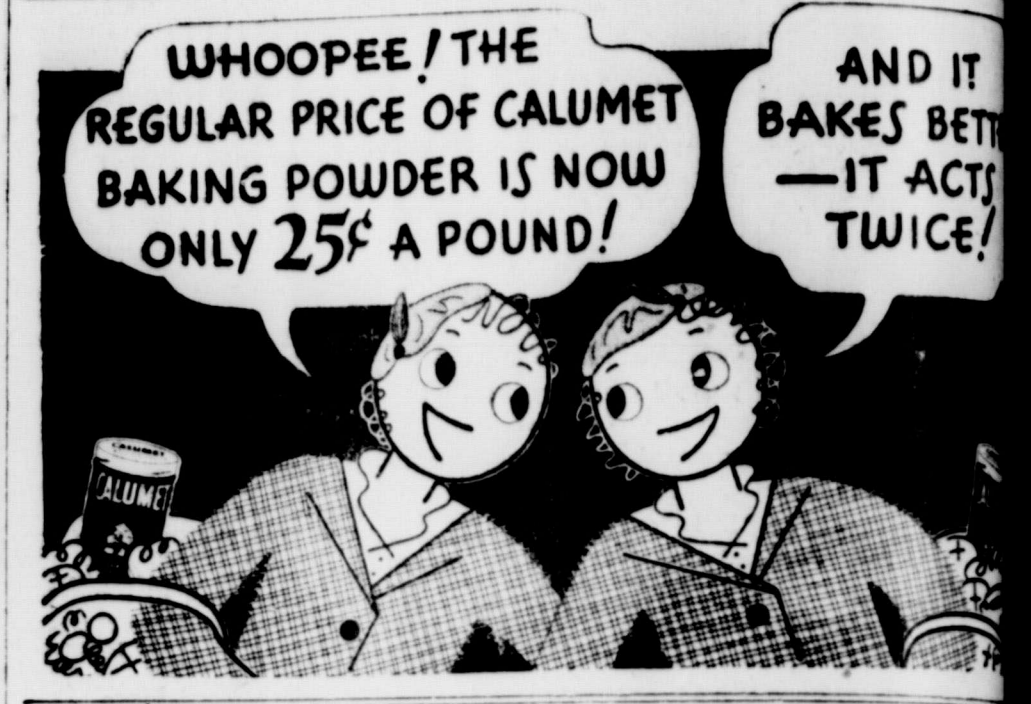

Three hours after a special lightning court had sentenced Alois to death for the murder of his father, he was hanged.

Even then, the proceedings might have been quicker, but Alois kept fainting and the Austrian law requires that the condemned man shall be conscious when the nose tightens.

Gaidasch killed his father during a quarrel in which his father forbade him to continue a love affair with a married woman. Gaidasch used a crowbar, which, it was established, he premeditatedly hid in his home.

When he had killed his father, he hid the body in a left hand his woman friend to keep from his neighbors. The body had gone abroad. Even the odor became noticeable when the body in a potato sack was over the water.

Before his execution Gaidasch wept all his possessions to his woman.

About Cisco Today

BAPTIST WORKERS CONFERENCE MEETS IN MORAN
The Workers conference of the Cisco Baptist association met with the Moran Baptist church on Tuesday Dec. 11th.

Rev. Ross Rogers was on the program to lead the devotional, but as he was unable to attend, that time was taken up with a song and prayer service. Rev. E. S. James delivered an inspiring address on "The Sin of Covetousness". Rev. Joslyn of Albany was next with the subject "The Church for Covetousness". Special music was solo by the Rev. H. D. Blair preceded recognition of visitors and announcements. The sermon for the day was delivered by Rev. Z. C. Chambliss of Desdemona. This was a very powerful message on "Stewardship".

After a beautiful and delicious luncheon served in the basement of the church, there was a regular monthly board meeting and the W. M. S. meeting. Mrs. C. P. Cowart of Ranger spoke on "Stewardship of Time". Mrs. W. H. Hayes of Cisco gave a talk on "Stewardship of Talent". Mrs. W. Y. Bond of Breckenridge had for her subject "Stewardship of Possessions".

After a short business session the time was given to Missionary Raymond Torres, who had also made short talk at the morning session. Those attending the meeting from Cisco were: Mesdames J. R. Purcell, J. J. Buitt, O. J. Russell, P. P. Shepard, W. H. Hayes, J. D. Franklin, H. J. McArdle, E. J. Foe, A. D. Bess, H. D. Blair, W. H. LaRquer, and Rev. E. S. James. Judge J. R. Bussett and Rev. H. D. Blair.

L. L. HOOKER SPEAKER AT CITY FEDERATION MEET
The City Federation met Monday afternoon at the club house. Mrs. C. B. Kelly presiding.

After a short business discussion, L. L. Hooker gave an interesting talk on "Social and Community Service Activities". A subsequent round-table discussion followed which proved to be instructive and the club voted to ask each member in the city to donate a sack of candy and a small present marked for a boy or girl to give to the City charity work for Christmas gifts.

Music for the afternoon program was furnished by Mrs. Ben Krausskopf, Mrs. Troy Powell and Marian Bruce, finishing off with Christmas carols.

The club adjourned to meet the second Monday in January.

MRS. McDONALD LIGHTS TO CIRCLE
Circle No. 2 of the Presbyterian Auxiliary met Tuesday with Mrs. Homer McDonald.

Miss Alice Johnson gave a very appropriate Christmas devotion. The program was given in Parta McDonald and Mrs. C. H. Foe.

Miss Laura Lou Morris favored the society with a song after which refreshments of cookies and tea were served the following: Mesdames J. G. Hape, C. Rountree, E. P. Crawford, Glenn of El Paso, C. H. Foe, P. R. Warwick and mother, Mrs. Pentstoss, A. Sandhofer, A. E. Jansen, Leith Morris and Miss Alice Johnson and the hostess.

GLAD GIRLS GIVE PARTY
The Glad Girls Sunday school class of the First Baptist church gave a Christmas party at the home of the teacher, Mrs. Cecil Adams Monday night.

CALENDAR

Thursday
Circle No. 111 of the First Baptist church will meet with Mrs. Ray Judia, 1106 West 8th street.

The Child's Conservation League will meet Thursday December 13 with Mrs. Hensley.

Friday
The Twentieth Century club will meet at 3 o'clock in the club house Friday afternoon.

The Entre Nous with Mrs. Rex Moore as hostess Friday afternoon at 2:30.

The Cisco Choral club will meet Friday night at 7:15 in the First Baptist church.

After a delightful evening of games, numbers were drawn and gifts were exchanged.

A color scheme of red and green, in keeping with the season, was used in refreshments of sandwiches, olives, hot chocolate, and cake. Those present were: Dena Carroll, Elyll Holder, Johnnie Ladd, Margaret Morton, Thelma Webb, Fay Holder, Lottie McDonald, Pearl McCauley, Novell Hudleston, Katherine Wagley, Tudy Wood and Mrs. Adams.

MRS. PIPPEN ENTERTAINS JUMBLE BRIDGE CLUB
The Humble Bridge club met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. W. A. Phippen in Humboldt.

A large, lighted and beautifully decorated Christmas tree featured the decorations in the room where three tables of guests enjoyed the game. A small tree centered each table where refreshments of salad and cherry pie were served.

Mrs. R. B. Carswell was presented with high score and Mrs. Gustafson with low.

The guest list included: Mesdames W. W. Wallace, W. J. Armstrong, James Moore, I. J. Henson, R. B. Caswell, Jack Jones, H. McGowan, R. Henderson, Gustafson, W. C. McDaniel, and M. M. Tabor.

Personals
Mrs. Bob Gilman spent today shopping in Fort Worth.

Pearse Shackelford of Putnam was a visitor in Cisco last evening.

Leith Morris transacted business in Abilene today.

Royce Waters who was injured in an automobile accident at Brownwood several weeks ago returned there Tuesday for a visit to a hospital where doctors placed him in another cast designed to aid in the healing of back injuries sustained in the wreck. He was accompanied to Brownwood and back by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Waters.

Statham Ricks and his lady friend Miss Christine Smith of Dallas spent last week-end visiting with Statham's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ricks.

Mrs. Jack Hinson, son and daughter of Palo Pinto were the week-end guests of Mrs. W. O. Statham.

Quincy Lee of Albany was a visitor in Cisco today.

J. Cox transacted business in Eastland yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cabaness and Mrs. George Adkins spent the day in Fort Worth yesterday.

PERCY HOWARD GETS FREEDOM FOR ONE YEAR

AUSTIN, Dec. 13 — Percy Howard, under life sentence in Texas' famous desert slaying case of the early 1920's was granted a year's freedom by proclamation of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson today.

Howard was tried three times on a charge of killing N. V. Nixon, an El Paso taxi driver, who had been hired by Howard and a companion to drive them on a prospecting expedition.

Nixon's body was found in a shallow grave near Monahan.

At Howard's last trial he was given a death sentence. Former Gov. Dan Moody commuted it to life imprisonment.

Howard contended that though he had gone with Nixon and a companion to Peos, he had left them there and had returned to El Paso by train. Testimony about Howard washing stains from a shirt had a part in his conviction. This testimony later was taken back.

Howard, now tubercular, will live only a short time if he remains in prison, the proclamation said. He has had short furloughs to aid his physical condition returning to prison at the end of the last one.

Gov. Ferguson today issued a conditional pardon for Luther Berkwick, who received 23 years sentence for murder in Harris county in 1931. Other conditional pardons included Clarence Kelly, Harris county, burglary and theft, 11 years, convicted in February, 1932.

close, delegates seemed agreed that the chief need was a powerful integrating force to bring all agencies into closer cooperation.

CRIME CONDITIONS IN TEXAS PROBED

AUSTIN, Dec. 13—Crime conditions throughout Texas were laid before Governor Eleet James V. Alfred in a two hour conference here today by the state senate committee on law enforcement.

Members of the committee returned to Austin today after trips that have covered the principal cities of the state. They have investigated bootlegging, bookmaking, gambling, general lawlessness and efficiency of arresting agencies and to courts.

Waiting to go before the committee at the conclusion of its conference with Alfred were former Ranger Captain Frank Hamer and former Ranger Mannie Gault. They both took part in the successful hunt for Clyde Barrow.

London Is Planning Municipal Festival

LONDON, Dec. 13.—Plans for the celebration of the centenary of local government next year already are being discussed by authorities.

The County Council's Association, the Association of Municipal Corporations and the Ministry of Health will be in charge of the festival.

It was in 1835 that the Municipal Corporations Act created the municipal government along lines still followed today.

English local government goes back to the time of King Alfred, and is much older than Parliament, but it developed in a very haphazard manner through the centuries. When Parliament took its reconstruction in hand, it was practically in a state of chaos.

There was no co-ordination among local bodies, divisions overlapped and interlaced. Disputes were interminable, every authority was a law unto itself, and "jobbery and corruption" prevailed.

Down to a hundred years ago local government was more or less independent of Parliament, and the evil system of "close corporation" flourished.

So many abuses entered into the administration of local affairs that a Royal Commission was appointed to investigate. It was the recommendation of this commission that were brought into force by the 1835 act.

Brick House Stands After 134 Seasons

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 13. — Architectural history was made among the peers and wisecracks of the village wits when the Lonas brothers, Jacob and Henry, built what is believed to be the first brick house here. That was in 1800.

Today, 134 years later, the same "dirt house," as some called it, stands unshaken, sheltering succeeding generations of the Lonas family. Weather and age have battered it with little success.

J. D. Dowell, present owner, points out to visitors the spot where horses and slaves tramped up and down, churning water into the mud that was to be baked into bricks. Also the site of the old kiln, where the bricks were baked for days by log fires.

The cost of erection was $300, considered high at that time. Deeds to various properties owned by the Lonas family between 1790 and 1825, which still exist, reveal that payments then were made in pounds and shillings.

Sturdiness of the house at one time saved the lives of some of the family, as Indians, who had attacked the neighboring farm and killed 17 of its 18 residents, were discouraged at not being able to silence the gunners within the brick walls.

COOPERATION SEEN AS NEED IN CRIME WAR

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 — A report to the national crime conference today that more than 1,300,000 serious crimes are committed in the United States yearly spurred determination of the group to bring federal, state, and local forces in a unrelenting defensive against the underworld.

As the conference approached its close, the group agreed to a plan to WE BUY AND SELL Used Furniture and Stoves

A motion was made and carried to pay the president for the expense of her trip to Eastland at the last council meeting, and a bedroom demonstrator selected.

Mrs. Elizabeth McCracken one of the visitors, gave an interesting sketch of her trip to Dallas last week, when she attended the cotton convention there as one of the delegates from this county.

Plans were discussed for the community Christmas tree, which will be shared by the school, the Sunday school and the Home Demonstration club. Names were drawn for the exchange of presents and there was a general discussion of other topics. At the next regular meeting day falls on Christ day. It was agreed to have the meeting on Friday, Dec. 28, to allow time for the return of our president, Mrs. C. L. Carmichael, who with her husband will send Christmas in Oklahoma City.

INDEPENDENTS ENDORSE PLAN OF ICKES FOR FEDERAL CONTROL

CHARLES NEWELL Staff Correspondent
WORTH, Dec. 13 — With 20 members voting, the Independent Petroleum Association endorsed the kind of federal control of oil asked by Secretary Ickes through the planning and coordination committee here late Friday.
Resolutions adopted also include two of the three things advocated by the governors' oil conference at Ponca City Monday. They were restriction of imports and endorsement of the Connally hot oil amendment.

Pres. Wirt Franklin made a fervid last ditch stand for federal control that was turned down by a majority of the industry at Dallas last month and which Texas independents have fought from the first. He renamed it "federal aid."

Fahy on Hand

Charles Fahy, who succeeded Oil Adm. Board Chmn. Margold shortly after the latter's dictatorship federal control bill was exposed before the Cole investigating committee, arrived late in the day to encourage the small group still standing by the Ickes plan for federal mastery of the oil industry. While pleading for the right of the federal government to tell each state how much of its oil it can produce, and sell outside its own borders, Fahy had high praise for the Texas railroad commission. He said:

"Officials of the Texas railroad commission have rendered invaluable assistance to federal agencies now functioning in the East Texas field and its orders have been invaluable in preventing waste."

First Fahy took a crack at state compacts on the basis of the Ponca City meeting. At the same time he admitted that his own department had been months in evolving legislation submitted to congress. He denied there was ever any secrecy about the Margold reorganization bill which frightened all elements of the industry.

Small Attendance

Fahy said the Cole committee had had the Margold bill in its possession since last spring. He did not explain, however, why that document had been marked confidential by the department of interior from whose files the committee copy came.

In the face of the woefully small attendance, a dozen votes were cast for a doubled budget to raise $150,000 for next year to push the Ickes plan of federal control legislation.

BEATY SENDS OIL CONTROL PLEA TO COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 — A vigorously worded plea for stronger federal legislation to control the oil industry and for establishment of quotas in oil commerce was sent Friday to a house sub-committee by Amos L. Beaty, chairman of the petroleum planning and coordination committee.

Beaty, who has announced his intention to resign as chairman of the committee, said he was expressing only personal views in arguments that ran along this line:

1. Federal system of quotas in commerce would be unconstitutional.
2. Interstate compacts would be in order but uncertainties and defects of the interstate agreement are such as to require further remedies.
3. A definite need exists for a coordinated system of federal and state laws under which the excessive and wasteful extraction of petroleum from the earth and the flooding of markets can be prevented.
4. Enactment and enforcement of a "proper" federal law would not invade state rights but would be the performance of a duty of the federal government which "the states must expect it to discharge."
5. The quotas in commerce plan is practical and fair and has substantial support from the industry.

HUSBAND OF BONNIE BACK AFTER BREAK

ANGELTON, Tex., Dec. 13 — Roy Thornton, former husband of the notorious Bonnie Parker who was slain with Clyde Barrow, Monday was safely back at Ramsey state prison farm after a brief liberty.

Chimpanzee Gives Friends Manicure

LONDON, Dec. 13—The only place in this town where one can have a free manicure is at Booboo's in the Zoo.

Booboo, otherwise called the "philanthropic manicurist," is an adult female chimpanzee. Her manicuring might not be 100 per cent perfect — she thinks nail polish feminine — but your nails will be immaculately clean when she is finished with them.

"No tips accepted," is Booboo's motto. She becomes positively indignant if one offers her a shilling. She might graciously accept some fruit from a few intimate friends, however.

A young man is one of Booboo's steadiest customers.

When she hears his familiar foot-step or voice, Booboo immediately leaves the visitors, who may happen to be with her and rushes to the front of her cage, to meet him. The young man is admitted behind the barrier. He carries desirable fruits, which Booboo accepts. But it is obvious that they are of secondary importance to her. He and she exchange various caresses, and talk quietly to one another. Then she holds out her hand and he thrusts his fingers through the broad-meshed wire.

Booboo selects a stiff piece of straw from her bedding and bites off a short length of it. Then, taking his fingers one by one in hers, she thrusts the straw under the edge of the nail of each and carefully cleans them. At times she discards the straw she is using and selects a new one.

When she is finished, Booboo throws a few handsprings—her way of saying: "The Gentleman is served."

HUSBAND OF BONNIE BACK AFTER BREAK

ANGELTON, Tex., Dec. 13 — Roy Thornton, former husband of the notorious Bonnie Parker who was slain with Clyde Barrow, Monday was safely back at Ramsey state prison farm after a brief liberty.

Thornton, under a 99-year sentence from Dallas county for robbery, and another convict, E. D. Davenport, serving 15 years from Harris county, stole a prison automobile last night and started for Houston.

Thornton, who attempted to escape from the prison walls at Huntsville several months ago by climbing a ladder, was free about three hours. Davenport was caught an hour after the break.

PUBLIC WORKS PROGRAM FOR WINTER ASKED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13—Representatives of the American Conference of Mayors warned Secretary of the Interior H. Ickes Monday that "there will be trouble in American industrial centers" this winter unless the government supports a big public works program for unemployment relief.

"The relieve load will jump from 18,000,000 to 23,000,000 persons unless the administration supplies money to put millions to work," Paul Betters, Chicago, secretary of the Mayors' conference, said.

After conferring with Secretary Ickes, the mayors met with Harry Hopkins, federal relief administrator, where they declared themselves in "hearty accord" with the proposed low cost housing program.

Famed Philadelphia Hotel To Be Sold

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 13 — Green's Hotel, famous old hostelry at Eighth and Chestnut streets, for generations the stopping place of many well-known figures has gone under the hammer.

All the many pieces of furniture, including beds, chairs, and bureaus were auctioned off to the highest bidder. The famous Colonial Staircase will be sold complete for reassembling elsewhere. Also the crystal chandelier will go on the block with a collection of paintings from the old landmark.

BEAVERS STOLE FENCE WIRE

SPRINGHILL, N. E., Dec. 13 — Beavers here are adopting more modern methods in building their dams. One citizen reports that he left a quantity of wire beside a fence. The next day it had disappeared. Investigating, he found that a band of beavers had carried it away and were using it to hold the logs of their dam in place.

Berlin Theaters Produce Classical Plays, Not Nazi Political Propaganda

By PAUL KEOSKEMETI
United Press Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Dec. 13 — The Berlin theater is marked by Nazism to a much lesser degree than either the radio or press.

Berlin's many theatres are playing again, but most of them produce classics or revise successful plays by modern authors. Contemporary drama, so it seems, will be in the background this winter.

The reason is clear. Serious new plays can be produced only if they have a distinctly Nazi outlook. The public interested in such plays background this winter.

The Hitlerites admit this. "The last theatrical season," Dr. Goebbels' authority, recently wrote in the party's theater organ, "failed to fulfill expectations. Despite the rich supply of good and useful plays, public interest gave out. We had to resort from political plays to musical comedies and farces, if we did not want to risk financial ruin."

In the season beginning now, the situation seems to be the same.

Classic Play

The state's theater plays a classic, Heinrich von Kleist's "Herrmann's Revenge," a play written about 130 years ago amidst the turmoil of the Napoleonic wars. Kleist's nationalistic inspiration already turned to the old Teutons in order to stimulate his countrymen's resistance against the victorious French, as the Nazis follow the same method. Kleist appeals to them greatly. The state theater's production, incidentally, is a success.

The greatest success at present, however, is a revival of Shaw's "Saint Joan" at the Deutsches Theater. The success is largely due to the fine performance of the heroine, Paula Wessely, who is Berlin's most popular actress for the time being.

There are not many remarkable personalities left on the German stage after the Nazi purge of Jews and Marxists. Kottner, Bassermann, Elizabeth Bergner are gone. Paul Wegener has also withdrawn so did Werner Krauss and Rudolf Forster at least for the time being.

Stage Favorites

Berlin's most characteristic stage figure at present, besides Paula Wessely, is Gustaf Gründgens, the lead of the Prussian State theater. Gründgens' acting is completely devoid of sentimentalism. He is clear-cut, sharp and angular. His specialty are odd glib crooks. In his best roles, he is demonic; he is never dull.

As to stage managers, Berlin has lost the head of the older, impressionistic school, Max Reinhardt, as well as the boldest innovator seeking a new, "mechanized" stage style, Erwin Piscator. Outstanding stage managers who remained in Berlin include Jürgen Fehling and Heinz Hilpert.

Merchant Kept Busy By Practical Joker

BOSTON, Dec. 13 — Samuel Medway, storekeeper, found his complicated the other evening.

First the NRA office called and demanded a report of his working two unsealed taxis appeared at his store, and an undertaker paid a visit.

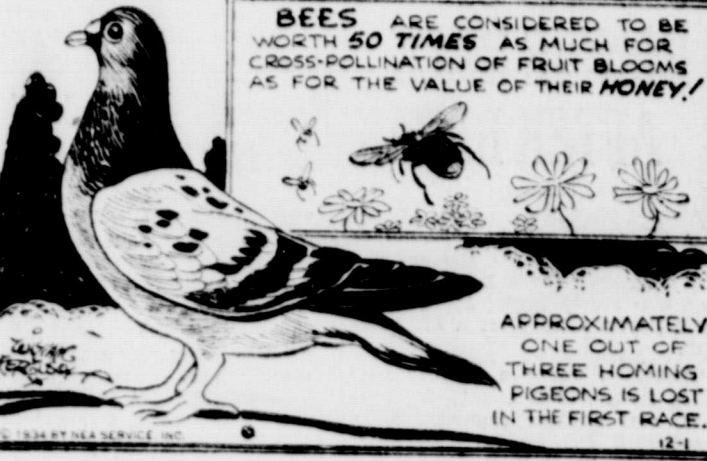

It was learned that it was the work of a practical joker.

Think You Know Your Texas History? Then Try to Answer These Questions

TYLER, Dec. 13 — Think you know your Texas history? If you can make a grade of 50 answering the following questions you'll be doing better than a group of Tyler business and professional men to whom they were propounded.

Here are the questions — and the answers:

- Who was the first native Texan to become governor of the state?
- What governor was deposed because of his opposition to secession?
- What and where is the "Cradle of Texas Liberty"?
- When and where was the Texas Declaration of Independence signed?
- Approximately where was the first settlement in Texas located?
- Who was responsible for bringing the first Americans to Texas?
- Who was in command of the Texans at the Alamo?
- Name the last President of the Republic of Texas.
- Who was the first governor after admission to the union?
- Name the six flags which have flown over Texas.

Answers

TEXAS PLANS CAMPAIGN TO STOP FLOODS

AUSTIN, Dec. 13 — With Uncle Sam's help Texas will combine a fight on depression with a campaign to stop river floods and save water for arid lands.

Bills passed at a recent session of the Texas legislature contemplate cooperation of the federal government in river projects to cost not less than $47,500,000 and possibly much more.

The state authorized use of $6,000,000 on the Brazos river if a PWA loan of not less than $30,000,000 is obtained. For a $15,000 preliminary expenditure by the state on the Neches river, the federal government is expected to provide a $7,000,000 loan. On the Colorado river the state created a public authority. Under its PWA financing will provide $4,000,000 to complete a dam left unfinished in the Insull collapse.

It will be Texas' first large participation in federal-aided river control work. The state is so large that its major streams are entirely within state boundaries. Heretofore they have been ineligible for federal aid. PWA projects are not limited to interstate work.

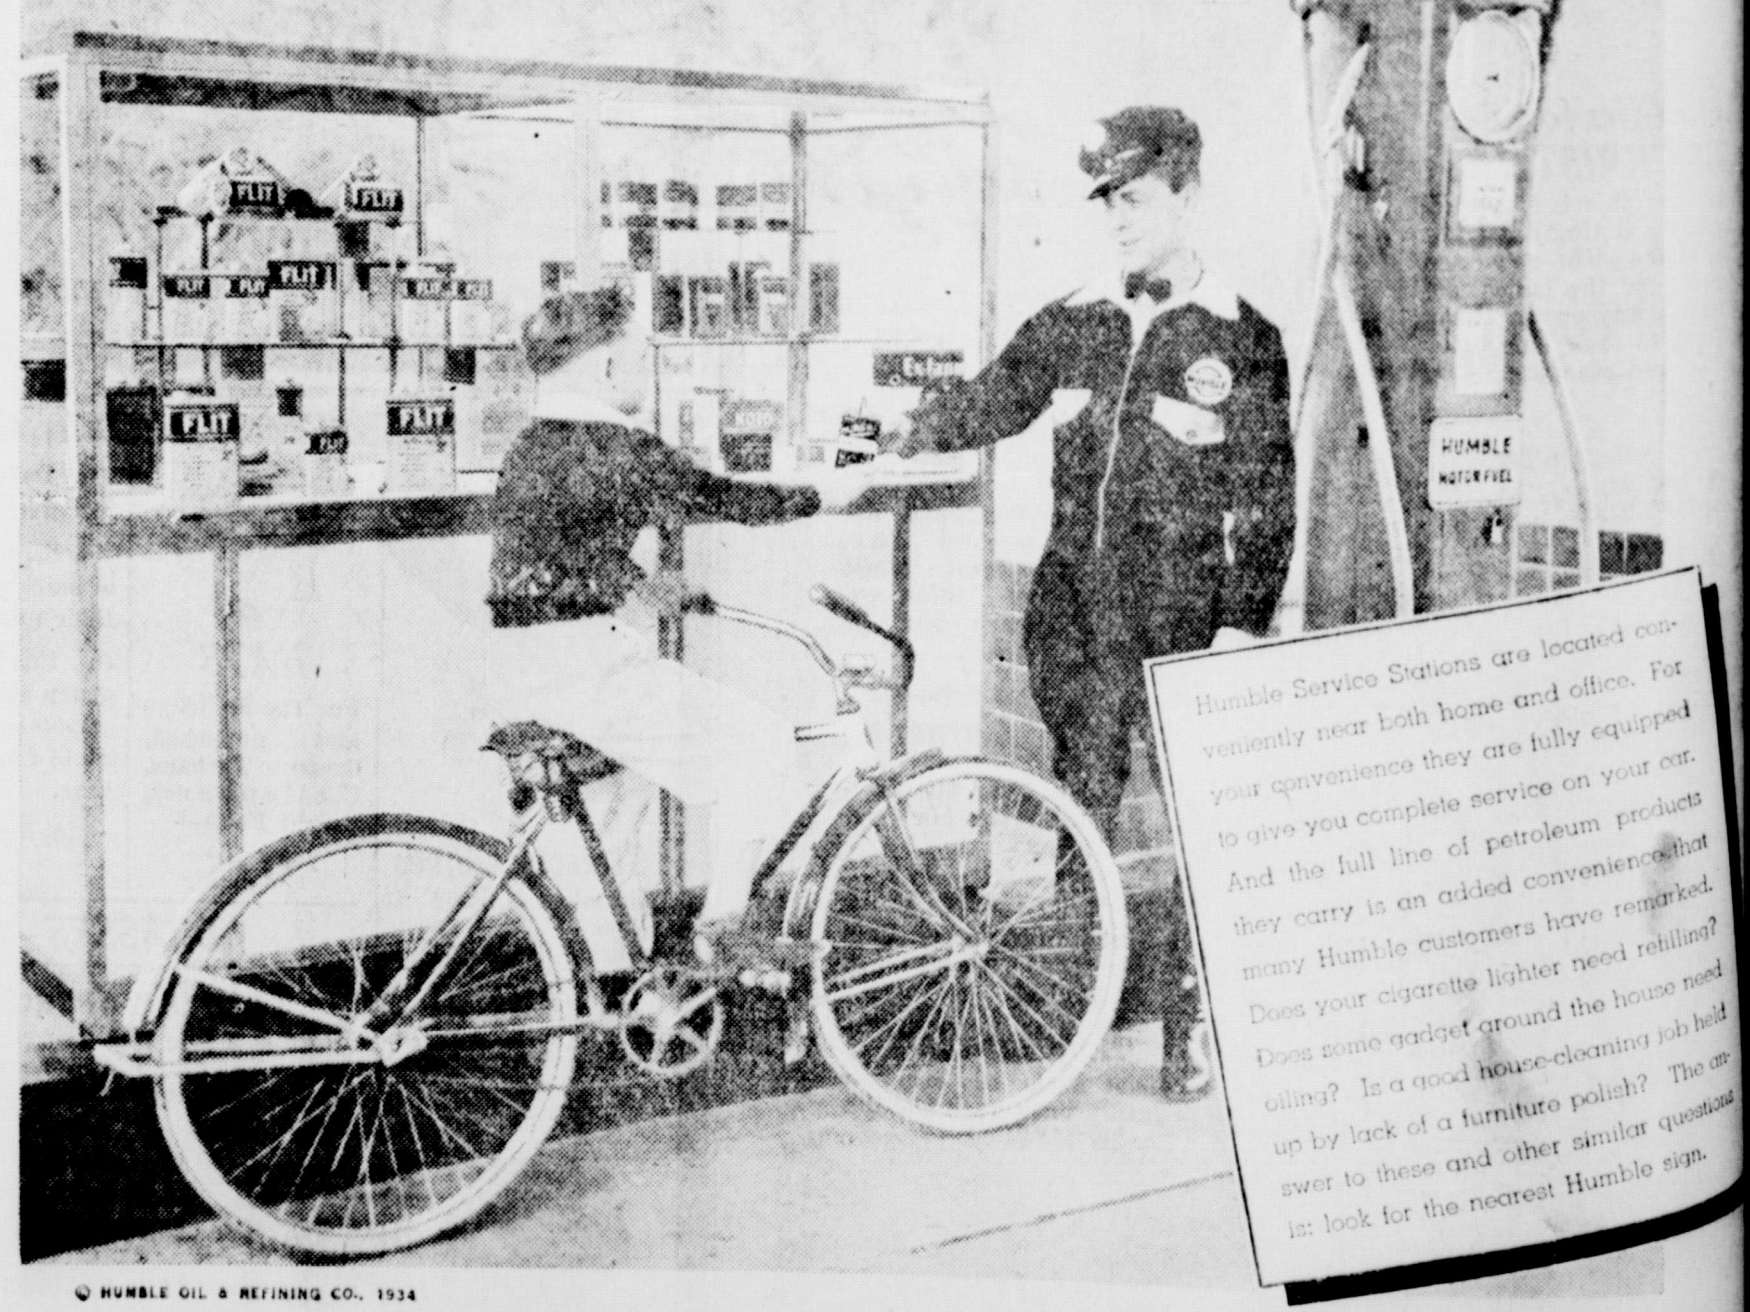

Other projects for which the Texas legislature smoothed the path to federal participation are:

- A $2,500,000 bridge over the Neches river with a vessel clearance 41 feet higher than the Brooklyn bridge
- Flood prevention on the Rio Grande and gulf storm protection at Palacios, site of a National Guard infantry camp.

SPECIALIST FORECASTS RACE OF IMMENSE HUMAN BEINGS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 13 — Physical and mental development of modern babies is predicted by Dr. Russell Hippensteel, specialist, predicted that it will take more than a few generations to produce, future men and women will have better general health, finer teeth and will be free from so-called degenerative diseases," said Dr. Hippensteel.

"This advancement will be the direct result of improved methods of obstetricians and pediatricians," he added.

Dr. Hippensteel's prediction was substantiated by Dr. A. M. Mendenhall, also a baby specialist, who said that while it will take years for the improvement in the human race to show in the general population, there is no doubt that the future will bring larger and better adults.

The length of time necessary for the improvement is difficult to predict because it is not known what percentage of babies are getting not only proper food but adequate care and correct vitamins in satisfactory proportions, Dr. Mendenhall pointed out.

"In my opinion," he continued, "there are relatively few babies receiving all that is available in proper baby care."

EXPLORERS BRING BACK PLANTS TO CHECK SOIL EROSION IN WEST

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 — After searching the deserts and foothills of Russian Turkistan and most of Turkey for plants to control soil erosion, H. L. Westover and C. R. Engler, plant explorers of the U. S. department of agriculture, have returned after 7 months with nearly 1800 lots of seed. Among these is seed of a desert grass that may be uprooted by the wind but holds when it lands. Other surprising plants of pioneer sturdiness are in the list.

The drought of last summer with its frequent dust storms emphasizes the great need for more soil-holding plants such as these men were looking for, says F. D. Richey, chief of the Bureau of Plant Industry. "Because of the unusually adverse conditions for plant life where much of this seed was called we are hopeful that something of real value for our Great Plains and the southwest will be found in the collection."

Most of the seed collections represent grasses or legumes which form a thick turf close to the ground enabling them to bind the soil and hold it against the ravages of wind and water. Others represent shrubs whose root systems looked promising as soil-binders. Seeds from a few trees also were brought back. Most of the seed lots came from plants that are edible by livestock but this quality was not regarded as of principal importance in making selections.

The explorers penetrated far into the foothills of some of the republics of Turkistan. On one occasion they visited the village of Ziddi, in the Gissar mountains of Tajikistan. They were the first Americans to visit this village, and only a week before the natives saw their first automobile. The villagers were so delighted they immediately prepared a feast for their guests.

Officials of the Soviet government gave the explorers every possible assistance. Botanical experts were able in almost every instance to give the Americans all the necessary information concerning the plants of the regions visited. This information made it possible to avoid plants which are poisonous or otherwise undesirable. The officials of the various republics supplied automobiles, horses and camels to transport the exploration party over Turkistan, sometimes referred to as middle Asia. Turkish government officials likewise cooperated in every way.

Iowa Scientists To Lead Geologists

IOWA CITY, Ia., Dec. 13 — When geologists from six midwestern states make their annual field tour of the Upper Mississippi region next summer, they will be led by three University of Iowa scientists.

The party will leave here next Aug. 28 under the direction of Prof. Arthur C. Townridge, head of the geology department; Prof. George F. Kay, formerly head of the department and at one time state geologist; and Prof. Allen C. Tester.

The field trip, the ninth excursion of its kind, will comprise an eight day tour in the vicinity of Duluth, Minn. Geologists from state universities in Kansas, Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois and Missouri will be included in the entourage.

BOLIVIA PLANS FULL STRENGTH IN GRAN CHACO

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Dec. 13 — Bolivia prepared Monday to throw its entire man-power into the war against Paraguay, while accepting without reservation the League of Nations recommendation for peace. Mobilization orders were being prepared for all reserves. This means all able-bodied between the ages of 18 and 50. The orders will send perhaps 150,000 men to the front.

As the orders were drafted, Bolivian and Paraguayan field guns thundered on the Bolivian edge of the Gran Chaco. The jungle territory, rich in oil, has been in dispute for a century.

Paraguayan dispatches told of the capture of three more forts on the eastern frontier.

4 DRUG STORES ARE CLOSED TO STOP ALCOHOL

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 13 — As the death toll among denatured alcohol drinkers reached 20 today, city, state and county officials met to discuss prosecution of four druggists arrested on charges of manslaughter.

Meanwhile, a half dozen more victims died of effects of the poisonous drinks.

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 13 — Police closed four Portland drug stores Monday in an effort to cut off the ready supply of denatured alcohol that in 24 hours killed 18 men.

Alleged Deception Is Divorce Cause

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 13 — Clipping nine years from his age changing his name and boasting of ancestral stock caused Gerald A. Foster to be made a defendant in divorce proceedings.

Mrs. Foster is filing suit for divorce, complaining that her husband told her he was 25, when in reality he was 34; boasted of French parentage, when actually he is Portuguese, and went by the name of Foster, although his real name is Lacerda.

They were married three years before she discovered the alleged deceptions, she charged.

TEXAS FARMERS MORE HOPEFUL THAN YEAR AGO SAYS BANKER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 — Farmers in Texas are more optimistic than they were a year ago in spite of the serious damage done by the drought, A. C. Williams, president of the Houston Federal Land Bank, told a conference of the 12 Federal land bank presidents here today.

"Considering the severity of the drought in Texas, the collections of maturing installments on Federal land bank and Land Bank Commissioner's loans have been good this fall," President Williams said. "Borrowers have appreciated their loans from the Federal land bank and the Land Bank Commissioner and are cooperating by prompt payment."

"In spite of the drought there is a very good demand for farms and our sales of farms will exceed sales during 1933," Mr. Williams reported. "We are anticipating a continued rise in the price of good farms for some time to come," he continued.

"The cotton crop in Texas was only about one half of normal this year because of the drought and during November when about 1300 applications were received, compared to 5500 during November 1933. This would indicate that the number of farmers needing to be re-financed is declining and the bank is returning to a more normal period of operation," President Williams said.

Honors Are Awarded To Bishop Seabury

ABERDEEN Scotland, Dec. 13.—The 150th anniversary of the consecration of the first American Bishop Samuel Seabury, and the introduction of Episcopacy to the American continent, were solemnly celebrated here.

While similar celebrations were being held in Woodbury, Conn., where Seabury departed in 1783 for England to be consecrated, nearly all the bishops of the Episcopal church in Scotland gathered to pay tribute to Seabury's faith and courage in introducing Episcopacy in America.

Bishop Robberds, of Brechin, the Primus, presided at a great meeting in the Music Hall, and officiated at the celebration of choral eucharist in St. Andrew's Cathedral. Mr. Gavin I. Binner, of Pennsylvania, represented the Episcopal church of America.

MORE DRINKING OF WINE URGED FOR GERMANY

By H. A. PETERS
United Press Staff Correspondent
BERLIN, Dec. 13.—Germans are being urged to drink up the 1933 wine crop as quickly as possible in order to empty casks for the new record breaking 1934 crop. Housewives are urged to be patient if their husbands occasionally return in the wee hours a bit tipsy from performing this task.

This suggestion is but one of the many being made by the wine growers to advertise the 1934 Rhine and Moselle of which they are so proud. The year promises to become an historic one in German wines, they claim; the drought which scorched other parts of the country apparently merely brought out the best flavor in the grape crop.

Cask Shortage
The shortage in casks promises to be real unless the public makes the problem to heart and drinks more wine. Last year's yield of 53,000,000 gallons taxed the industry's storage capacity; this year's estimated 79,000,000 gallons has more than made up for the wine consumed since last year, and since new casks are unsuitable, wine dealers are worrying lest part of the excellent vintage of this year be lost for lack of proper care.

Part of the vintners' sales campaign has taken the form of "wine days" and "wine evenings" similar to the Bock beer festivals so popular in January and February. The evenings are held in huge drinking halls, properly decorated, with girls and vineyard workers in native dress serving wine and several orchestras in costume. Fireworks usually follow.

Beer Competition
Even with this, the wine industry is having some trouble overcoming the competition of beer, consumption of which rose seven per cent last year, 937,000,000 gallons compared to 897,000,000 gallons in 1933. The average consumption of wine in Germany per year is approximately only six liters; the average beer consumption 80 liters.

The champagne industry has fared much better in the last year, with prospects for a record post-war year when the Christmas and New Year seasons close. Adolf Hitler's slogan, "Champagne for the Masses," which brought about repeal of the champagne tax last year, made it possible for the industry to show better than a 20 per cent increase in sales in only the first three-quarters of 1934, compared to 1933's 5,400,000 bottles, and it may easily be between eleven and twelve million before the holidays are over.

Radio Music Used At Milking Time

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 13.—Milking time is melody time at the George H. Tveitnaus dairy barn, near here. Streams of milk flow musically into pails to the accompaniment of orchestra strains on the radio.

"If music hath charms for the savage beast, why not for a dairy cow?" mused Tveitnaus one day. So, he installed a radio in the dairy barn.

On slow and melancholy tunes, Tveitnaus turns the dial to some thing with more snap to it. Skilled hands of the milkers work faster and the buckets fill quicker. Cows, which have been inclined to be fractious, even to the extent of kicking over a milk bucket now and then, placidly chew on their cud to the latest dance tune now.

May we suggest that you give Mother an Electric Range this Christmas? Yes, we admit that upon first thought it seems "too practical"—"not enough sentiment attached to a range." But, after all, so many Christmas gifts are mere remembrances. Why not make this a Christmas that Mother will long remember. Give her a modern Electric Range—and that means easier and better cooking, new hours of freedom from the kitchen—time to really enjoy life. What gift could be more appropriate than one that lightens the most laborious and time-consuming of household tasks—the cooking of three meals a day—365 days in the year? Here's a gift that will really beautify and modernize the heart of HER home—the kitchen—a gift that will bring a new spirit of convenience, cleanliness and economy. Come in now. # FAST TURKEY FARMERS CUT YEAR'S CROP

AM. Ore., Dec. 3 —Thanksgiving, Pacific Coast turkey farmers today prepared for the Christmas and New Year's markets. The Far West in turkey production this year raised turkeys for the holiday market. The total selling price was estimated approximately $2,000,000.

Exceeded in 1932
This figure was exceeded in 1932 when between 750,000 and 800,000 birds were sold, a record number. Growers found that they had produced more than the price and demand warranted and reduced their crop. They have benefited by a price three to four cents more this year.

This year's crop of turkeys in Oregon about equalled that of last year, reduced from the 1932 level; Washington, California, Nevada and Utah had slight increases, the Oregon State College extension division has reported. Idaho had a 21 per cent increase, and Colorado 10 per cent. New Mexico had the greatest decrease in production, 25 per cent. To the eastward, Texas, largest turkey producing state in the Union, had a reduction of about 20 per cent this year.

Coast Crop Heavy
On the whole, the Pacific Coast crop was heavy. Favored by excellent weather throughout the hatching and growing seasons this year, growers on the Pacific slope found themselves with an abundance of birds. All the more reason for a large number of holdovers for the Christmas market. Possible increases in prices and a greater opportunity to fatten younger and smaller birds were other reasons for keeping birds over for the later sales.

PEOPLE LOBBY PROPOSED FOR TAX HEARINGS

AUSTIN, Dec. 13 — A "people's lobby" to represent the public at hearings on tax bills was suggested to the senate's tax research committee Monday by State Tax Commissioner H. P. Edwards. He pointed out that state business, fighting a proposed tax, is able to send well-informed lobbyists to raise countless objections. The legislators sponsoring the bill being no tax experts, are unable to answer all the objections. Commissioner Edwards who will retire with the Ferguson administration, recommended that the present law taxing intangible assets of railroads and pipeline companies be revised to provide a specific method of calculating an intangible asset. conference, the possibility of a base at Dutch Harbor was one of the diplomatic "pawns" traded by the United States to facilitate an agreement with Japan on the treaty provisions in the western Pacific. At the present time, only a few experts could appraise the potential naval importance of Dutch Harbor. Aircraft crossing oceans like to follow approximately direct routes proximate to land where possible. Offsetting this fact is the notoriously foggy weather throughout the area, which presumably would tend to encourage future America-to-Ash air travel on lines far to the northward. Only one day in seven is entirely clear. Fog or clouds are almost continual and throughout the winter there are high winds.

BIG PER CENT OF HIGH GRADE COTTON NOTED

AUSTIN, Dec. 13 —The report released by the division of cotton marketing at Austin, giving the quality of cotton produced in Texas shows that the cotton ginned to date this season has a large percentage of high grades. The percentage of extra white strict middling and better grades is over 42 per cent, and that of white strict middling and better grades is over 22 per cent. A combination of strict middling and better grades in the above standards is almost equal to two thirds of the cotton ginned to date. Middling cotton in the white and extra white standards is estimated to be less than 16 per cent of the cotton ginned to date. All grades below middling are estimated to be less than 6 per cent. This is a rather small proportion of low grade cotton for the season. Spotted cotton is reported to be 14 per cent of the cotton ginned to date. The percentage of cotton ginned to date having a staple length shorter than 7-8 inch is 15.5 per cent. This percentage is much larger than was reported last year. Nearly 55 per cent of the cotton this year to date has a staple length of 7-8 inch. Nearly one fourth of the cotton is 15-16 inch in length while only 3.1 per cent is one inch in length. 2.1 per cent of the cotton ginned to date is 1-1-16 inches and longer. It is notable that 84 per cent of the cotton ginned to date is tenderable. This will be the last weekly report for this season.

Student Gets Watch Back As A Teacher

FRAMINGHAM, Mass., Dec. 13 —Miss Esther O'Brien, while a senior in Framingham high school 10 years ago, had an initialed wrist watch on a table and never saw it again until recently. The "lost" watch came back to Miss O'Brien, now a teacher at Saxtonville Junior High school, through the mails. The postmark on the package was so blurred it was impossible to determine where the watch had come from. It still was ticking strongly, however.

SHOWS BIRTH INCREASE

GITAWA, Ont., Dec. 13 —Births and marriages in Canada increased during October in 1934, compared with the same month in 1933, while the number of deaths remained practically unchanged, a government report here shows. Registrations from 70 cities and towns in the Dominion showed that births increased by five per cent and marriages by 19 per cent.

New Report Raises Cotton Estimate

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 — The 1934 cotton crop will be approximately 5,000,000 bales below the 1928-32 average, the department of agriculture has reported. The final estimate placed production at 9,731,999 bales, an increase of 87,000 above the last previous estimate of Nov. 1. The crop was 3,316,009 bales below that of last year. The drought cut sharply into crops in Texas, Oklahoma, western Arkansas. The acreage harvested was "nominal" the report said.

NEW TAXES ON OIL, LUXURIES ARE DEBATED

AUSTIN, Dec. 13 — Senate committee, seeking to plumb the state tax system and stop revenue leaks are toying with the proposal for additional oil and gas taxes and a new tax on luxuries.

The state has been going into the red at a rate of $5,000,000 annually during recent years. Across two tables in a smoke-filled committee room, legislators, merchants, oil men, professors and land-owners conferred this week on what to do.

Next week the benefits and penalties of sales taxes will be discussed. A state income tax appeared to be gaining favor.

Sinton Folk Study Situation of Flood

SINTON, Texas, Dec. 13 — When heavy rains made it apparent that something should be done to curb the flood waters of El Chitipin creek, citizens from Odem, St. Paul, and Sinton gathered at the court house to decide what action should be taken.

A committee has been appointed to study the problem.

Patients Make Toys From Junk Articles

KERRVILLE, Dec. 13 — Straps consigned to the trash heap are being used by patients in occupational therapy classes at Legion Hospital to make useful and artistic articles.

Old clocks are made over into mechanical toys, broken window glass used for picture framing and in serving trays, x-ray films are used in billfolds and scraps of clothing are made into blankets and chair covers.

Verse Anthology Of Texas Published

AMARILLO, Dec. 13 — Prairie Nights and Yucca, an anthology of poetry by contemporary writers of the Texas plains, has been published here.

The volume is entirely a Texas Panhandle product. The poems were collected by John L. McCarty, editor of the Dalhart Texan, and the book was printed and bound by an Amarillo company.

The title page was designed by George Autry, young Texas artist. Poems from more than 75 writers are included in the volume.

KICKING CANS WORTH $90
COLUSA, Cal., Dec. 13 — The small boy habit of kicking cans and other movable objects enriched Benny Smith by $90. While playing around a shed owned by Carl Shields, he kicked a can and heard something rattle. Examination revealed an old purse containing nine $20 gold pieces. Shields claimed he had hidden the money months ago, so the two compromised each taking $90.

CENTENNIAL IS MADE SURE BY MILLION CLUB

DALLAS, Dec. 3 — Support for the Texas Centennial celebrations of 1936 to be held by numerous cities of the state possessing shrines of Texas' liberty, or otherwise associated with the glamorous history of the state, is being assured in every section of the state by means of the Texas Million Centennial Club.

Local units of the organization are being organized in every county in Texas through cooperation of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs and other organizations and societies interested in assuring that proper recognition is accorded the commemoration of the hundredth anniversary of the achievement of the state's independence.

Membership blanks are being circulated from the Panhandle to the lower Rio Grande Valley and from Texarkana to El Paso by volunteer workers, whose sole ambition is that the Centennial as a project both patriotic and progressive be kept intact. To become a member, there is entailed no financial contribution, promise or obligation, but merely a pledge to endeavor to further the Texas Centennial celebrations' plans.

Heading the membership drive for the Texas Million Centennial club is Mrs. Volney W. Taylor, of Brownsville, head of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs and an active worker for the Centennial cause.

PARIS, Dec. 13 — A note advising the United States that France will default its Dec. 15 war debt payment of $22,308,312 has been drafted and will be dispatched after the cabinet has approved it Monday, it was learned today.

SCULPTOR HEADED FOR FAME

SEATTLE, Dec. 13 — Alexander Weygers, youthful Seattle sculptor may attain fame in the world of art. Colorado Taft, his former teacher, believes Taft, one of America's leading sculptors, passed his work. Weygers, a native of Java, has a remodeled barn for a studio.

Pastor's Tee Shot Kills Big Pheasant

JOHNSTON, Pa., December 13 — Hereafter when Rev. Don D. Van Horn, of Pittsburgh, goes hunting he probably will take along a bag of golf clubs.

When Van Horn teed off at the Greenburg Country club, the ball sailed across a ravine and headed for the green. Where the ball should have been, the minister found a fluttering three-pound pheasant. Beside it was the golf ball.

WORLD-FAMED WOMAN CONDUCTOR
TO LEAD RUSSIAN CHORUS HERE

MME. AGREVA SLAVIANSKY
Conductor

Mme. Agreva Slaviansky, who will bring her Russian Chorus for two concerts Monday, is a daughter of the founder of the organization, Dmitry Slaviansky. She has followed in her father's footsteps, winning for the chorus an enviable reputation for choral harmony in nearly every country in the world.

Conductor of the chorus and one of the few internationally recognized directors she brought her singers to America from Russia by way of the Orient several years ago and has given more than a thousand successful concerts in the United States.

Among the brilliant soloists is her own daughter, Mile. Mara Slaviansky, who is also accompanist for the group.

The Cisco Lobo band and high school Choral club are bringing the Russian Chorus to Cisco for a matinee and an evening concert at the high school auditorium Monday. G. W. Collum, director of the band, and Miss Ella Andres, choral club sponsor, have charge of the arrangements.

Brilliant soloists will add to the luster of the vocal program, in which many combinations of singers and full ensemble are used, while fiery and characteristic Russian dances given by a trio, little Russian men and girls will create a spectacular side to the program. It was said. The chorus will include balaika orchestra music.

COLD NIPPED VEGETABLES
CRYSTAL CITY, Tex., Dec. 13—Cold weather with the mercury dropping to 34 degrees, has had a dulling effect on the fresh vegetable market here. The tomato supply has dropped off, but spinach has benefited greatly by the cold weather. Car loadings of broccoli, parsley, turnips and beets are on the increase.

TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE
DANVERS, Mass., Dec. 13—It was too good to be true, so Edward S. Marshall notified police. Under his shop door was a check for $1,000 made out to a Charles Ingraham of Danvers with his signature of another Ingraham. Marshall knew no one by this name. He said "No one owes me $1,000, and if they did probably wouldn't pay it."

PIG AND KITTENS PALS
UNION, Me., Dec. 13—A baby pig and a kitten are pals here. They eat from the same trough and then crawl into a little box and sleep together. The strange companionship resulted when James Griffin built a special pen for the little pig, which was not so rugged as other members of its litter.

CATINP TRAPPED LION
GREAT FALLS, Mont., Dec. 13—For a moment there was a flurry of interest in Betty when the detectives learned she once had worked in Detroit. An effort to tie her name to that of "Scotty" Gow, a Michigan gangster, fell of its own weight when the police established there was no relationship and that her chief interest there had been one William Cooks, to who she was reported to have been engaged.

And while this inquiry was proceeding, a new scene in the drama was unfolding in the Bronx, where an emotional old gentleman had just received an amazing letter from the man who proclaimed himself the kidnaper of the Lindbergh baby.

SOW MOTHERED CHICKENS
BROADUS, Mont., Dec. 13—It's kind of a funny idea in the first place—that of a sow pig which mothers chickens. But then George Ruck has two sows. One mothered a flock of chicks when their mother died.

Attractions of the outer planets are feared to have so displaced the orbit of the main meteor swarm that the earth no longer passes centrally through it.

Blair, in illustrating the past immensity of this astronomical display, said that in 1832 the scientist Arago estimated that something like 40,000 meteors were visible from his place of observation in the course of three hours.

The Leonids shower is supposed to appear every 33 years. It was explained, and revolve about the sun.

'Bachelor Envoy' Is Family Man

Friends regarded Nelson T. Johnson, U. S. minister to China, as a confirmed bachelor when he went to the Orient five years ago, but two years later he married Jane Thornton Beck, and they are shown here as they landed in San Francisco with their 18-month-old son. Johnson, who has spent 25 years in the diplomatic service, is an authority on Chinese history and speaks the language fluently.

GLASSWORKERS' NEEDS CITED
CLEVELAND, Dec. 13—Repeal and president Roosevelt's recovery program will avail the thin-blown table and bar glassware industry naught unless it is given adequate tariff protection against imports which can be sold at a fraction of the cost of domestic products, said M. J. Gillooly, president of the American Flint Glassworkers' Union here.

GOVERNOR A KENTUCKY COL.
CONCORD, N. H., Dec. 13—A Kentucky colonel will govern the state of New Hampshire. Governor-elect H. Styles Bridges received a commission from Governor Ruby Laffoon of Kentucky which stated that he had been made an aide-de-camp to the Chief Executive of Kentucky.

CITY LIGHTS UP AGAIN
ALLIANCE, O., Dec. 13—The city's street lights, half of which were discontinued early in the year as an economy measure, have been turned on again. Safety Director Mark Montague said the semi-darkened city had saved $12,000 by the move.

him. His trip from Englewood to Hartford was checked and verified as to time. But the question constantly intruded: "Did he, then, perhaps unconsciously reveal to some outsider the change in Mrs. Lindbergh's schedule, and unwittingly inform the kidnaper that Charles Lindbergh Jr. would be met in Hopewell instead of Englewood?"

The usual crop of fantastic "identifications"—by long distance—of Red Johnson as the "man with a baby" who had been seen in at least a dozen localities, arose to plague the officials, and one by one were beaten down.

Johnson Deported
For weeks, Johnson was held under surveillance while the investigators checked his past, tracked down his every friendship, eliminated each of his associates and, with some reluctance, finally arrived at the only possible conclusion, that he was wholly innocent of any connection with the crime, knowingly or otherwise.

The punishment for having afforded them so much trouble, the red headed youth was turned over to immigration authorities for deportation. Far from discouraging the young man, the episode left him grinning, in his engaging manner, and promising to return to America legitimately, the next time.

For a moment there was a flurry of interest in Betty when the detectives learned she once had worked in Detroit. An effort to tie her name to that of "Scotty" Gow, a Michigan gangster, fell of its own weight when the police established there was no relationship and that her chief interest there had been one William Cooks, to who she was reported to have been engaged.

And while this inquiry was proceeding, a new scene in the drama was unfolding in the Bronx, where an emotional old gentleman had just received an amazing letter from the man who proclaimed himself the kidnaper of the Lindbergh baby.

The Problem of Plenty

Puritan Governor Dudley wrote from New England to intending colonists in Old England that persons who thought of migrating for sake of material gain would better remain at home. It was different with those whose reasons were those of conscience. These would find, at least the bare necessities of life in the New England wilderness. There were materials for building, fuel to burn, ground to plant, materials for building, fuel to burn, ground to plant, and rivers to fish in, a pure air to breathe, good water to drink, which, together with the cows, hogs, and goats brought hither already, may suffice for food.

Pioneers. In Plymouth, during one bitter winter, the supply of corn grew so low that Bradford apportioned five kernels a day to each person. During January, an eagle was shot, cooked, and proved to be "excellent meat; it was hardly to be discerned from mutton." The capture, three days later, of some seals and a large cod inspired general community rejoicing.

The problem of the pioneers centered on death. Theirs was a daily struggle to wrest a living from a niggardly soil and a fearsome ocean. Sometimes they were near starvation. It was cause for thanksgiving that they kept alive at all. Their successors of today find modern problems spring, strangely enough, from abundance. There is too much of almost everything. Or at least such is the belief. Men are hungry because there is too much wheat, and ill clad because there is too much cotton, too much wool. Surplus is always getting in the way of our prosperity. Cotton must be plowed under, corn burned, fish dumped back into the sea. The government must spend millions to persuade producers not to produce so lavishly.

The Apostle Paul once declared that, among the other lessons he had learned, was how to make a right use of plenty. "I know how to abound," he said. That is a lesson today's civilization must somehow master. The best thought of the age must be rallied to the problem, not primarily of production, but of distribution. Can anyone doubt that, ultimately, the benevolence that has filled the earth with the overflowing products of field and factory will bring all these good gifts of God within reach of all the sons of men?

Japan's Charge Against U. S. Navy

Japan's newspapers quote anonymous naval authorities as accusing the United States of desiring to expand its naval armaments "for the subjugation of the world." Similar quotations in many papers indicate a common inspired source. This apparently is in reply to Ambassador Norman H. Davis' warning to Japan against its threatened abrogation of the treaty which alone holds naval armaments in check. At London Britain answers Mr. Davis' reference to President Roosevelt's urging for allround naval reduction by reaffirming its readiness for a 30 per cent cut—it would limit not only total tonnage but even size of capital ships.

Recovery Versus Reform

The Congress of American Industry calls on Congress for extension of the NRA, but with codes only for industries that ask for them. The New York gathering requests creation of an "independent administrative court" of five members to approve or disapprove all proposed codes. The industrialists affirm their earnest desire to co-operate closely with the government and suggest a joint committee to prepare grounds for this. They ask a balanced budget and a cut in relief spending. They specify their idea of recovery—they do not wish it subordinated to reform.

Citrus Fruit Competition

Increased competition from foreign citrus producers is being faced by the California orange grower in his efforts to develop an export market, the California Fruit Growers Exchange reported recently. While increased sales of Pacific coast fruit were reported in Great Britain, France, and the Scandinavian countries during the past year, oranges from South Africa, Brazil, and Palestine made their appearance in greater quantity. South Africa alone, the report said, now exports 3,000,000 boxes of citrus fruits annually to the mother country, and enjoys a subsidy of two shillings per box. A co-operative marketing organization similar to the exchange here is said to handle a major portion of the crop.

Bus Holiday Rates Announced Today

Additional Christmas excursion fares, effective December 13, were announced today by A. F. Baldus, general traffic manager for Southwestern Greyhound Lines. The round trip excursions will be one and one-half times the one way fare and will be good between all points on Southwestern Greyhound Lines. Baldus stated that the excursion fares will be in effect during the entire holiday season up until January 1st, and will carry liberal return limits.

ANTICS OF KINGFISH AMUSE BRITISH PUBLIC

LONDON, Dec. 13.—British public opinion is observing with considerable interest and amusement the political "antics" of Senator Huey P. Long of Louisiana.

The "Kingfish" is one of the best known among American politicians here, where news of his activities always is lengthily reported.

General consensus seems to be that despite his buffoonery Long is an astute demagogue, as the News Chronicle wrote when the intention of the "Kingfish" to stand as a Presidential candidate in 1936 recently was reported.

Although other metropolitan newspapers refrained from commenting on the news of his "absolute dictatorship" in Louisiana through the speedy passing of 44 bills, the liberal Manchester Guardian came out with a stinging editorial.

"Senator Huey P. Long, dictator, or 'Kingfish'—in his own term—of the State of Louisiana, is a demagogue with a sense of humor," it wrote. "He knows and uses all the tricks of the American political 'boss' without fear or scruple. No one can tell just how far he is a mere self-seeking politician, how far he really believes in his crude remedy for the present discontents. "In a state where people take life easily he is a whirl of energy. In a country where public speaking tends to be pompous and funeral he is a vigorous and racy speaker. He has no dignity to lose. Long's measures might be challenged in the Supreme Court, on the ground that they are against the Constitution; but then there is nothing to suggest that they are Senator Long's Presidential aspirations are not yet taken seriously. But ten years ago no one ever thought to see him rule even Louisiana."

Did You Ever Stop To Think

By Edson R. Waite

Japanese newspapers are quite enterprising and are of great assistance to their government in expanding foreign trade.

Last summer one of the most important of their newspapers sent a mission of investigation to the countries of the Pacific and the Mediterranean to report on trade prospects.

A lot of countries, including this one, may lose some trade if they don't stop and think and get busy. Seems that a wholesale invasion of American and Canadian markets will also be made.

The phenomenal cheapness of Japanese manufactured products, also the cheap quality of products, none of which can compare in quality or service to those manufactured and nationally advertised by United States and Canadian manufacturers.

Kansas Assists In Boom For Missouri

ATCHISON, Kan., Dec. 13.—When Kansas elected to retain its dry status at the fall election rumors of a business boom across the Missouri river were heard.

Just across the river is Missouri and wet territory. In the pre-prohibition days the town of Winthrop—or East Atchison—flourished at the east end of the old steel bridge, and now that conditions are much as they were then, it seems likely the old status will be resumed.

Winthrop was Atchison's drink and snow covered in the winter. Then it had its "First Chance Saloon" and its "Last Chance." In between were the others, most of them frame buildings with their swinging doors, sawdust covered floors and free lunch counters.

Speedy Justice Is Given To Murderer

VIENNA, Dec. 13.—With all the speed it could summon justice has disposed of handsome Alois Gaidasch.

Three hours after a special lightning court had sentenced Alois to death for the murder of his father, he was hanged.

Even then the proceedings might have been quicker, but Alois kept fainting, and the Austrian law requires that the condemned man shall be conscious when the noose tightens.

Gaidasch killed his father during a quarrel in which his father forbade him to continue a love affair with a married woman. Gaidasch used a crowbar, which it was established, he premeditatedly hid in his home.

When he had killed his father, he hid the body in a loft, and invited his woman friend to spend the evening at his home. The next day he told his neighbors that his father had gone abroad. Eventually, when the odor became noticeable, he sewed the body in a potato sack and buried it.

Before his execution Gaidasch bequeathed all his possessions to the woman.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

NEW YORK—In reaching across the continent and obtaining custody of the San Francisco Seal, the guiding hands of the New York Yankees showed that they realize that they cannot depend upon Class AA ball players from Newark to furnish a pennant punch in the American League.

Ruppert, Barrow & Co. is looking far ahead, for DIMaggio doesn't come up until next fall.

In the meantime, unless the New York club dismantles its present array of "yesterday stars," it is likely to finish lower in the 1935 race than any Yankee team in years. Joe McCarthy requires a complete new outfield and reserve pitchers.

Baseball men believe the Detroit Tigers will run into trouble trying to repeat. Schoolboy Rowe and Tommy Bridges are their only certain pitchers, and Mickey Vernon may need outfield replacements before next season is far advanced.

Joe Cronin Compares Dahlgren With Chase

PROGRESS in Boston depends to a large extent on Rob Grove's arm and Bill Werber repeating his 1934 performance. Many players have enjoyed one good campaign and stopped. The better equipped ones go on duplicating their deeds.

Joe Cronin will bolster the infield and be an inspiration. Cronin is banking on Dahlgren, from the Mission club, of the Pacific Coast League, to be a wide improvement over Eddie Moran, who is in the minors once more after another season's whirl in the American League.

Cronin describes Dahlgren as the most superlative fielding first baseman turned out on the western coast since Hal Chase exhibited his skill out there, when a statement on the first league manager. If he can handle a glove with the tenacity of Chase, and if he can pitch, he will be quite an asset.

CLEVELAND probably is the most formidable club in the wheel, strikers possess more than they actually have, and very difficult for Walter. The St. Louis club has completed players there are critics of fan support. Clift is a splendid one has man.

Foxx Should Take Part With Great Catchers

CONNIE MACK'S presence in the lineup indicates that he is with the Philadelphia club when the old major league look out for you may see that he has a lot of it.

Those who should know that after the 1934 season, Foxx will have taken the foremost catchers. The St. Louiser has the quality to pitch to the quality of Bill Dickey, who is a first-rate catcher for their league.

Even without Cronin, a ton looks like the most advanced outfit in the outside of the pitchers' box, one of the Senators would be a first-rate catcher for any staff, but cannot produce.

The White Sox have a house, which is a good one, the minor leagues, for exceptions, the Committee composed of players who in smaller circles.

To prove a paleontological major importance.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
ANN, HOELLSTEDT pretty and 20, finds work as a secretary. She falls in love with TOBY MILICENT, though raised against him by her room-mate, SARAH HENRY.

Later Ann meets PETER KENDALL, wealthy and prominent and engaged to SARAH HENRY. PETER's knowledge Valeria goes about with a girl, who she attends a party at which a man is shot. Peter, learning how Valeria has been killed, tells her their engagement is at an end.

The same day Ann breaks her engagement to TOBY. She and Peter meet in a restaurant and discuss their mutual unhappiness. When he asks her to marry him she agrees. They are married that night and set out for Florida.

In the days that follow Peter is disturbed by the realization that he is deeply attracted by his pretty "friend" Valeria. When they return home Ann is snubbed by all the Kendalls except Peter's sister, MILLICENT.

HEAVY HEART, TOBY CHAPTER XVIII
MILLICENT was to her mother.

"After all, Grandfather won't live always. When he dies, most of the money will be Peter's. It might be better for the family if you were friends with his wife."

"Is that why you're sponsoring Peter's wife?" Carol asked, amused.

"No, it isn't the reason. I think she's darned sweet."

"Well, maybe," Carol said. "But why all the bother? What does the need with us? She has Peter's millions."

"You know as well as I do there are plenty of snobs who like to hurt newcomers, no matter how rich they are. And if Peter's own family turns a cold shoulder, she will be hurt lots of times. There was the Randolph reception last night. She wasn't asked because Mother is such a good friend of Mrs. Randolph's. Millicent's angry eyes met her mother's."

"Well, really, Millicent—" Mrs. Kendall laughed. After a moment she said, "I never thought of suggesting to Margaret to have her. It didn't occur to me after that glimpse I had of her in Jerome's that she would be particularly interested in social affairs."

"You should see her now. You'd change your mind! If you won't help, I warn you I'll put her across without you. It won't be hard because she has beauty and brains, and as Carol suggested—millions."

"I can't see what all the fuss is about," Mrs. Kendall said, a little flutter of anxiety in her voice. "Peter goes out one night, angry all so lovely. In one Ann's fresh face appeared above rich fur, a success. I'd probably have to start teaching her table manners. Have you seen her eat?"

Millicent was drawing on her gloves. "I imagine her manners are better than mine, from what I've seen of her. All right then, I'm giving a reception and dance this week and everybody in town will be invited. Have I your regrets?"

something for that forlorn, lovely child. And it was going to be exciting to pit her wits against her mother's. Carol was counted out. She hadn't particularly counted socially, because she was indifferent about parties and indifferent to everyone.

But Mrs. Kendall had power and some of the old standstayers would stick with her. People were a lot of sheep, Millicent thought. All standing back, waiting for someone to put the sign and seal of approval on those who broke into their ranks.

The next step in the campaign would be to convey to Ann very diplomatically that one couldn't leave one's handsome and rather defenseless husband at the mercy of shrewd women. Peter was brilliant, but not very smart about women. If he had been, Valeria couldn't have pulled all the tricks she had. There had been times and times Millicent had wanted to tell Peter about them but it had seemed useless in the face of his blind faith in Valeria.

Ann was not playing up to Peter. There was a barrier of some kind between them. At times they were almost absurdly formal with each other. It was dangerous—this careful, polite, friendly attitude of theirs.

If they would have one down-right quarrel, if Peter would get violent and shove her around, or if Ann would become jealous and throw something at Peter it would help a lot.

"There's a lot of emotion beneath the surface there," Millicent thought. "But it's bottled up. And that's bad."

Well, Millicent would give her dance and Peter would see Ann in that gorgeous white gown she had bought. Ann had been beautiful with her bronze hair drawn back from her face, fitting her small and like a bright crown. And the inspired, bringing out the beauty of Peter would wake up when he saw Ann dancing in that white dress.

Millicent hoped Ann was a good dancer. It would help, too, if she were a bit of a flirt. Peter needed something to show him how sweet and desirable his wife was.

WHEN the pictures of Ann arrived Millicent studied them carefully. It was difficult selecting one for the newspapers. They were all so lovely. In one Ann's fresh face appeared above rich fur, a success. I'd probably have to start teaching her table manners. Have you seen her eat?"

Millicent was drawing on her gloves. "I imagine her manners are better than mine, from what I've seen of her. All right then, I'm giving a reception and dance this week and everybody in town will be invited. Have I your regrets?"

"Indeed, yes," Mrs. Kendall said gently. "I really have a dreadful cold and Carol will be sure to want to stay and take care of me. The whole town! Imagine."

"I agree with you, Millicent, she's beastly," Carol said mischievously. "It's a reputation we have, and we must maintain it."

About Cisco Today

BAPTIST WORKERS CONFERENCE MEETS IN MORAN

The Workers conference of the Cisco Baptist association met with the Moran Baptist church on Tuesday Dec. 11th.

Rev. Ross Respass was on the program to lead the devotional, but as he was unable to attend, that time was taken up with a song and prayer service. Rev. E. S. James delivered an inspiring address on "The Sin of Covetousness". Rev. Joslyn of Albany was next with the subject "The Cure for Covetousness". Special music, a solo by the Rev. H. D. Blair preceded recognition of visitors and announcements. The sermon for the day was delivered by Rev. Z. C. Chambliss of Desdemona. This was a very powerful message on "Stewardship".

After a beautiful and delicious luncheon served in the basement of the church, there was a regular monthly board meeting and the W. M. S. meeting. Mrs. C. P. Cowart of Ranger spoke on "Stewardship of Time". Mrs. W. H. Hayes of Cisco gave a talk on "Stewardship of Talent". Mrs. W. F. Bond of Breckenridge had for her subject "Stewardship of Possessions".

After a short business session the time was given to Missionary Raymond Torres, who had also made a short talk at the morning session.

Those attending the meeting from Cisco were: Mesdames J. R. Burnett, J. J. Butts, O. J. Russell, P. P. Shepard, W. H. Hayes, J. D. Franklin, H. J. McArdle, E. J. Fox, A. D. Estes, H. D. Blair, W. H. LaRoque, and Rev. E. S. James, Judge J. R. Burnett and Rev. H. D. Blair.

L. L. HOOKER SPEAKER AT CITY FEDERATION MEET

The City Federation met Monday afternoon at the club house. Mrs. G. B. Kelly presiding.

After a short business discussion, L. L. Hooker gave an interesting talk on "Social and Community Service Activities". A subsequent round-table discussion followed which proved to be instructive and the club voted to ask each member in the city to donate a sack of candy and a small present marked for a boy or girl to give to the City charity work for Christmas gifts.

Musical for the afternoon program was furnished by Mrs. Ben Krauskopf, Mrs. Troy Powell and Marian Erbe, finishing off with Christmas carols.

The club adjourned to meet the second Monday in January.

MRS. McDONALD HOSTESS TO CIRCLE

Circle No. 2 of the Presbyterian Auxiliary met Tuesday with Mrs. Homer McDonald.

Mrs. Alice Johnson gave a very appropriate Christmas devotion. The program was given in part by Mrs. Leith Morris, Mrs. H. McDonald and Mrs. C. H. Fee.

Miss Laura Lou Morris favored the society with a song after which refreshments of cookies and tea were served. The following Mesdames: J. G. Ripe, C. Rountree, E. P. Crowder, Green of El Paso, C. H. Fee, P. R. Warwick, and mother, Mrs. Pentecost, A. Sandhofer, A. E. Jamison, Leith Morris and Miss Alice Johnson and the hostess.

GLAD GIRLS GIVE PARTY

The Glad Girls Sunday school class of the First Baptist church gave a Christmas party at the home of the teacher, Mrs. Cecil Adams Monday night.

CALENDAR

Thursday
Circle No. 111 of the First Baptist church will meet with Mrs. Ray Judia, 1106 West 8th street.

Friday
The Child's Conservation League will meet Thursday December 13 with Mrs. Hensley.

The Twentieth Century club will meet at 3 o'clock in the club house Friday afternoon.

The Etire Nous with Mrs. Rex Moore as hostess Friday afternoon at 2:30.

The Cisco Choral club will meet Friday night at 7:15 in the First Baptist church.

After a delightful evening of games, numbers were drawn and gifts were exchanged.

A color scheme of red and green, in keeping with the season, was used in refreshments of sandwiches, olives, hot chocolate, and cake. Those present were: Dena Carroll, Fyul Holder, Johnnie Ladd, Margaret Morton, Thelma Webb, Fay Holger, Lottie McDonald, Pearl McCauley, Novell Huddleston, Katherine Wagley, Trudy Wood and Mrs. Adams.

MRS. PIPPEN ENTERTAINS HUMBLE BRIDGE CLUB

The Humble Bridge club met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. W. A. Phippen in Humboldt.

A large, lighted and beautifully decorated Christmas tree featured the decorations in the room where three tables of guests enjoyed the game. A small tree centered each table where refreshments of salad and cherry pie were served.

Mrs. R. B. Carwell was presented with high score and Mrs. Gustafson with low.

The guest list included: Mesdames W. W. Wallace, W. J. Armstrong, James Moore, I. J. Henson, R. B. Carwell, Jack Jones, H. McGowan, R. Henderson, Gustafson, W. C. McDaniel, and M. M. Tabor.

PERCY HOWARD GETS FREEDOM FOR ONE YEAR

AUSTIN, Dec. 13.—Percy Howard, under life sentence in Texas' famous desert slaying case of the early 1920's was granted a year's freedom by proclamation of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson today.

Howard was tried three times on a charge of killing N. V. Nixon, an El Paso taxi driver who had been hired by Howard and a companion to drive them on a prospecting expedition.

Nixon's body was found in a shallow grave near Monahan.

At Howard's last trial he was given a death sentence. Former Gov. Dan Moody commuted it to life imprisonment.

Howard contended that though he had gone with Nixon and a companion to Peecos, he had left them there and had returned to El Paso by train. Testimony about Howard washing stains from a shirt had a part in his conviction. This testimony later was taken back.

Howard, now tubercular, will live only a short time if he remains in prison, the proclamation said. He has had short furrows to aid his physical condition returning to prison at the end of the last one.

Gov. Ferguson today issued a conditional pardon for Luther Berwick, who received 23 years sentence for murder in Harris county, burglary and theft, 11 years, convicted in February, 1932.

close, delegates seemed agreed that the chief need was a powerful integrating force to bring all agencies into closer cooperation.

CRIME CONDITIONS IN TEXAS PROBED

AUSTIN, Dec. 13.—Crime conditions throughout Texas were laid before Governor Elect James V. Allred in a two hour conference here today by the state senate committee on law enforcement.

Members of the committee returned to Austin today after trips that have covered the principal cities of the state. They have investigated bootlegging, bookmaking, gambling, general lawlessness and efficiency of arresting agencies and the courts.

Waiting to go before the committee at the conclusion of its conference with Allred were former Ranger Captain Frank Hamer and former Ranger Mannie Gault. They both took part in the successful hunt for Clyde Barrow.

London Is Planning Municipal Festival

LONDON, Dec. 13.—Plans for the celebration of the centenary of local government next year already are being discussed by authorities.

The County Council's Association, the Association of Municipal Corporations and the Ministry of Health will be in charge of the festival.

It was in 1835 that the Municipal Corporations Act created the municipal government along lines still followed today.

English local government goes back to the time of King Alfred, and is much older than Parliament, but it developed in a very haphazard manner through the centuries. When Parliament took its reconstruction in hand, it was practically in a state of chaos.

There was no co-ordination among local bodies, divisions overlapped and interlaced. Disputes were interminable, every authority was a law unto itself, and "jobbery and corruption" prevailed.

Down to a hundred years ago local government was more or less independent of Parliament, and the evil system of "close corporation" flourished.

So many abuses entered into the administration of local affairs that a Royal Commission was appointed to investigate. It was the recommendations of this commission that were brought into force by the 1835 act.

Brick House Stands After 134 Seasons

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 13.—Architectural history was made amid the jeers and wisecracks of the village wits when the Lonas brothers, Jacob and Henry, built what is believed to be the first brick house here. That was in 1800.

Today, 134 years later, the same "dirt house," as some called it, stands unshaken, sheltering succeeding generations of the Lonas family. Weather and age have battered it with little success.

J. D. Dowell, present owner, points out to visitors the spot where horses and slaves tramped up and down, churning water into the mud that was to be baked into bricks. Also the site of the old kiln, where the bricks were baked for days by log fires.

The cost of erection was $300, considered high at that time.

Deeds to various properties owned by the Lonas family between 1790 and 1825, which still exist, reveal that payments then were made in pounds and shillings.

Sturdiness of the house was one time saved the lives of some of the family, as Indians, who had attacked the neighboring farm and killed 17 of its 18 residents, were discouraged at not being able to silence the gunners within the brick walls.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 13.—Irving Jaffe, winner of three Olympic championships and holder of numerous other speed skating records, appeared here as one of the features of the Mardi Gras and Ice Gymkhana at the Arena.

A motion was made and carried to pay the president for the expense of her trip to Eastland at the last council meeting, and a bedroom demonstrator selected.

Mrs. Elizabeth McCracken one of the visitors, gave an interesting sketch of her trip to Dallas last week, when she attended the cotton convention there as one of the delegates from this county.

Plans were discussed for the community Christmas tree, which will be shared by the school, the Sunday school and the Home Demonstration club. Names were drawn for the exchange of presents and there was a general discussion of other topics. As the next regular meeting day falls on Christ day, it was agreed to have the meeting on Friday, Dec. 28, to allow time for the return of our president, Mrs. C. L. Cantrichal, who with her husband will spend Christmas in Oklahoma City.
