Cisco Roundup

MERRY WIVES CLUB

Mrs. G. J. Ward was hostess last night at the Merry Wives Club and a large number of guests.

Photograph music gave pleasure and several games of progressive whist were played. During the evening Mrs. A. A. Webster and Mrs. J. W. Ward served a lovely course with hot tea.

Twenty minutes after the Magdolna service station at the corner of Third Street and D avenue was robbed this morning, a suspect was held in the Cisco jail, pending theft charges.

A man who gave his name as Frank Betts was arrested by police at a hotel here shortly after they were notified of the robbery, which occurred a little after 10 o'clock this morning. They recovered $22.90 of an estimated loss of $24.17.

Police said the suspect had admitted the daylight-theft and that charges were to be filed in Justice of Peace Joe Wilson's court.

Claude Wilson, attendant on duty at the station managed by Waldo Harris, said that the robbery took place while he was waiting on a customer, the suspect rifling the cash drawer. By the time the loss was discovered, he was not to be found.

Police called a few minutes later found a man answering to Wilson's description. They said they had told the suspect and a man with him to leave town last night, and that the other had left.

Harris today said that the same suspect had attempted to rob the cash drawer last night.

Daniels Hotel Opens

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hood, proprietors of the Daniels Hotel, situated at the corner of Avenue D and Broadway, held a formal opening on Friday and Saturday nights of the week, the lobby and dining hall being crowded with guests on each occasion.

Dancing was the pastime, inspiring music being furnished by a colored orchestra from Fort Worth. Punch was served throughout the evening.

More Urge Financing of School Band

Two outstanding citizens of Cisco today added their statements to those of others favoring financing of the Lobo band through some definite means. Their statements follow:

J. A. Bearman, oil operator past president of the Lions club — "I would like very much to say that I am wholeheartedly a booster for the Lobo high school band. I think it is one of the greatest assets of the school and community in the way of public relations."

"A band such as ours, should not be an orphan, depending for charity on its every expense. I am of the opinion that it should be incorporated as a department of the affiliated school credits offered in the regular curriculum."

"Of course, this means that the band should be supported by the school board, and I am of the opinion that a certain sum should be set aside for publicity trips, necessary expenses etc. It would seem that this expense money could come from a certain percent of football receipts."

"But something should be done right now about the matter, so that we could get the discussion behind us. Money is needed for the Lubbock and Mineral Wells trips. Let's do something about it."

Mrs. Nancy McCrea chairman of the program committee, Wednesday night club — "I think the band is one of the best I have heard and it is a great publicity asset for the Cisco schools. I cannot imagine a football game being played without the band. It is my opinion that the band should be supported systematically by the school board and its necessary expenses provided for, the method being left to the wisdom of the school board."

Undertaker 60 Years

BOSTON, Jan. 30 — What is believed to be a record in the undertaking business is held here by Roger O. Cochrane. He is 60 and has conducted a successful business for the past 60 years.

POLICE GRAB SUSPECT AT LOCAL HOTEL

Twenty minutes after the Magdolna service station at the corner of Third Street and D avenue was robbed this morning, a suspect was held in the Cisco jail, pending theft charges.

A man who gave his name as Frank Betts was arrested by police at a hotel here shortly after they were notified of the robbery, which occurred a little after 10 o'clock this morning. They recovered $22.90 of an estimated loss of $24.17.

Police said the suspect had admitted the daylight-theft and that charges were to be filed in Justice of Peace Joe Wilson's court.

Claude Wilson, attendant on duty at the station managed by Waldo Harris, said that the robbery took place while he was waiting on a customer, the suspect rifling the cash drawer. By the time the loss was discovered, he was not to be found.

Police called a few minutes later found a man answering to Wilson's description. They said they had told the suspect and a man with him to leave town last night, and that the other had left.

NURSE TELLS HER STORY IN SHEPARD CASE

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 30 — Mrs. Clara Wax, who nursed Mrs. Zenia Shepard in her fatal illness at Fort Riley in 1929 and whose testimony at the first trial of Maj. J. M. Shepard, accused of poisoning his wife caused the supreme court to call for a reversal of the conviction by the first jury, testified again today.

Maj. Shepard, his wife, the former Alice Watts of Denver, and her daughter, listened closely but Mrs. Wax said the deceased told her the major had poisoned her, did not come.

In the supreme court decision it was held that this statement, not given as a dying statement, was not admissible and that it would create such a prejudice in the minds of the jurors as could not be overcome. In consequence it was not repeated.

"About 15 minutes after I got on the case, Maj. Shepard told me no record was to be kept, but I kept one for my own information," Mrs. Wax said.

Lindbergh Leads Caterpillar Club

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 — Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh is Chief Caterpillar of the Army Air Corps Caterpillar club — he has made four forced parachute jumps.

The Caterpillar club is composed of men and women who have had to "bail out." At the first of the year, 688 names appeared on the club's roster.

Twenty-eight of the "Caterpillars" have made two jumps. Captain Frank O'D. Hunter, Air Corps, ranks first in the club with three jumps. In the Air Corps estimated that 721 life-saving jumps thus far have been made in this country.

Club members include 134 Air Corps officers, 67 enlisted men, 71 Air Reserve officers, four officers Reserve Corps officers of the Regular Army, 50 Flying Cadets, Air Corps, 11 National Guard officers, six National Guard enlisted men, 38 U. S. Navy officers, 22 U. S. enlisted men, five Naval Reserve officers, two Naval Reserve Corps officers, 11 U. S. Marine Corps reserve officers, 30 Marine Corps reserve officers, 30 Marine Corps reserve officers, and 204 civilians.

Rev. J. Stuart Pearce has returned from a revival meeting and will be at prayer meeting this evening. Money is needed for the Lubbock and Mineral Wells trips. Let's do something about it.

Large Crowd Expected As Plans Are Made For President's Ball

PRESIDENT WORKS AS THOUSANDS PLAN BALLS; CAKE HAS 21 CANDLES

NEW YORK, Jan. 30. — With over one thousand more communities joining in the celebration than last year, the 1935 Birthday Ball for the President is expected to set an all-time record. It will go down as the greatest nation-wide social event in the history of the country, according to an announcement by the national committee here.

More than 7,000 parties will be held tonight 53rd anniversary of the President's birth, as compared with the 5,600 parties held a year ago.

Nation-Wide Radio Talk From the sophisticated society resorts of Palm Beach and Miami to isolated logging camps in Washington, birthday celebrations will be the order of the evening. All of the parties will be linked by a nation-wide radio hook-up between 11:30 and 12:30 p. m. when President Roosevelt will make an informal talk commemorative of the occasion.

New York will have a Pageant of America as the main attraction of its ball at the Waldorf-Astoria where Mrs. James Roosevelt, the president's mother, will be the guest of honor.

Chicago, under the chairmanship of Howard F. Gillette, plans to hold "the biggest celebration in American history." Practically every large population center in all parts of the country, including Atlantic, Kansas City, San Francisco, Seattle and Miami are planning large affairs.

Distinguished List at Capital In Washington, the birthday ball will draw a distinguished list of American statesmen and political leaders, while elsewhere throughout the country national, fraternal and labor organizations are co-operating with local groups.

Seventy cents of every dollar will go toward the rehabilitation of intentional paralysis victims in the community in which the money is raised. The remaining 30 per cent will go to the President's Birthday Ball Commission for Infantile Paralysis Research, of which Co. Henry L. Doherty is chairman.

More than 4,000,000 persons are expected to attend the celebrations.

HONOR 70-YEAR-OLD RESIDENT

FLORENCE, Ala., Jan. 30. — All residents over 70 years old are honored annually here at a banquet given by the First Baptist church.

Dance To Be Held At Country Club Here; Floor Show Planned

A great crowd is expected to attend the president's birthday ball at the Cisco country club this evening, it was announced today by H. L. Dyer, chairman of the local committee. The ball, to begin at 9 o'clock, is to be informal.

The president's address will be heard at the ball over a radio furnished by Estes Radio shop, it was said.

Miss Maxine Francis will entertain with a dance and a floor show. Other entertainment will be featured.

Mrs. H. V. House and Marion Bruce will sing at the ball, it has been announced.

Committees for the country club dance are H. L. Dyer, general chairman, door committee, Dr. Hubert Seale, Leonard Hudson, and Dr. Paul Woods; hostesses, Miss Ora Bess Moore and Miss Laura Rupp; floor committee, Horace Conley; entertainment committee, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Anderson.

The walls of the club have been decorated with American flags.

For those who like square dancing, arrangements have been made for a square dance, featuring old-time fiddlers at 619 D avenue. Charles Sandler and Frank Johnson will have charge of this entertainment.

It has been announced that the proceeds from the Cisco ball will not go to the Warm Springs foundation, the local relief needs being stressed this year.

Lions Give Reason For Present Jobs

President E. L. Smith presented a program of "How I Came to Be in My Present Occupation" at the Lions Luncheon today. Each member was asked to make a short statement of why his present profession was chosen. These little talks which proved to be more or less autobiographies, were very interesting and in some instances humorous.

A motion proposing that the Lions club not only endorse the proposal that the school board take over the financing of the band's necessary expense to the extent of a definite stipulated amount yearly or monthly, but that the secretary be instructed to write a letter to the president of the school board asking that this be done, carried.

Barney Blackshear Again Is Sentenced

MARSHALL, Jan. 30. — For the third time, Barney Blackshear was today under sentence of death for the murder of Mrs. Viola Brimberry. Verdict was returned by the jury late yesterday after deliberating only three hours.

Mrs. Brimberry and her husband were beaten at their cabin near Arp in 1932. In two previous trials held in Tyler, Blackshear was sentenced to die for the murder, but in each case the verdict was reversed by the court of criminal appeals.

KINSTON, S. C., Jan. 30. — A rat, lapping milk out of a broken bottle sawed his neck across a sharp edge cut his throat, and bled to death, according to Lemuel Taylor, member of the Ibinston Nature Society.

Country Postman Clings to Pouch

WEST PEMBROKE, Me., Jan. 30. — Like the captain who stayed with his sinking ship, John M. Morgan, a R. F. D. mail carrier, held on to his mail bag after his horse and wagon were lost in a swollen stream when a bridge collapsed here.

Morgan threw himself clear of the wagon and horse when he crashed and seized the satchel as he jumped. After swimming 40 feet he caught hold of a small tree and clung there for three hours. His grip loosened and he dropped the mail bag.

The mail carrier later was rescued and treated for immersion in the cold water. The pouch was recovered from the stream and the mail dried and delivered.

Youth Recovering From Hurts Sunday

John Newton Preston, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Preston of 503 West Second street, today was reported to be resting after being painfully injured in an accident at Randolph college Sunday.

Riding on a truck, he jumped from it as he and a crowd of other boys reached the college, but was thrown under the wheels by the motion of the truck, and was later treated for a severe cut over his right eye and deep wounds on both knees.

WORLD COURT ISSUE DIES IN SENATE VOTE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. — American adherence to the world court became a dead political issue today. The senate rejection of the court was generally believed to mean the end of the Roosevelt administration's efforts to obtain American participation.

The defeat was extraordinary. The days ago the administration was considered a certain victor in its fight to obtain the two-thirds vote in the senate necessary for ratification. Then followed a great flood of words into American homes by radio. Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt, Father Charles Coughlin, the radio priest; Newton Baker, among others, bombarded the public, making an issue that had little interest for the general public, intensively alive.

Telegrams, pro and con, poured in on senators from their constituents. Votes switched and finally late yesterday afternoon when the roll was called the administration lacked seven votes of having the necessary two-thirds majority, a death blow, at least for the time to agitation for American entry to the League of Nations.

Mrs. Roosevelt, Baker and many others, spoke in favor of American participation in the world court.

MILLIONS FOR RECOVERY IN TEXAS ASKED

AUSTIN, Jan. 30. — Nearly $250,000,000 in federal funds can and must be spent for developing natural and human resources in Texas, Gov. James Allred told a recovery conference here today.

He met with representatives of state government departments and federal recovery agencies and told them that coordination is the key to better economic and living conditions for Texas citizenship.

Gov. Allred believed millions should be spent for irrigation projects in the shallow water belts of the western plains and in rugged southwest Texas; more millions for water conservation, flood control, and reclamation in the great watersheds of the Brazos, the Colorado, and other major streams; more millions to prevent soil erosion and to develop hydro-electric power.

"Other sums may be spent in improvement of living conditions not only in cities but in rural districts of the state. There are slums in rural districts as well as in cities," he said.

National System Of Railroads Is Asked

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. — Joseph Eastman urged upon congress today a 6-point legislative program designed to turn America's haphazard transportation facilities into an integrated national system.

In a report bristling with criticisms and blunt statements of fact, Eastman said government operation of the railroads may be "inevitable" if congress frowned on the plan or transportation executives balked at cooperating.

House Approves Pay Raise For Officials

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. — The house today approved restoration of the remaining five per cent pay cut of government employees on April 1. The raise was approved by the senate Monday.

Guttenburg, Iowa, Jan. 30

The "Manitow" last of the floating palaces which were a symbol of the hazy days on the Mississippi when show-and-dance boats did a flourishing business, is on the auction block.

Mexican Revolution Plot Is Frustrated

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 30. — Frustration of a rebellion planned for next Tuesday in such detail that cabinet jobs already had been allotted to leaders, was claimed by the government today.

More than 20 persons, some of prominence, were held by federal authorities who charged there were two sets of revolutionary plotters, one here, the other at El Paso, where many Mexican live in exile.

Secret government agents in El Paso were said to have given first word of the alleged plot. Police said the conspirators hoped that a part of the army would support them.

Head of Streets

FOXWORTH TO SEEK SECOND COMM'N TERM

W. J. Foxworth has announced in the Daily News that he will be a candidate for re-election to the Cisco city commission in the municipal voting April 2.

During his single term in office he has served as street commissioner and has seen many improvements in Cisco. Most important of these improvements coming directly in his department is the graveling project which was recently completed, and which took in 42 city blocks.

Taking advantage of the FERA labor available, the street department repaired the streets of the city which were in the worst condition last month and the early part of this month.

In addition, Commissioner Foxworth has been a member of the body which worked out a plan whereby the city will be able to retire its bonded indebtedness, and which sponsored the coming of a competing gas utility company to lower city gas rates.

Former Demo Leader Dies in Washington

DALLAS, Jan. 30. — Jed Adams, member of the federal board of tax appeals in Washington, died last night in a hospital there, friends were notified today.

Adams, former democratic national committeeman from Texas, had practiced law in Texas for 40 years. In 1919 he was named U. S. district attorney for the northern district of Texas.

Stanley Quits His Rail Body Position

KILGORE, Jan. 30. — Because he wished to get back into private business Capt. E. N. Stanley has resigned as head of the East Texas division of the Texas railroad commission it was announced today.

"I promised to stay until the field was in good shape and it is now in that condition," he said. His resignation was submitted last night, to take effect Feb. 1.

As the chief administrative officer in the section, Stanley had the job of enforcing proration rules and other oil regulations in the huge East Texas field.

Prof Finds Indian Relics in Garden

BOSTON, Jan. 30. — Professor Ernest Jesse Palmer, Harvard college botanist, collector and research assistant in botany at the Arnold Arboretum, has discovered Indian arrowheads, stone hatchets and other artifacts in his famous garden.

Because of its location, Professor Palmer believed that Indians inhabited the place and started to search for a trace of some kind. After digging painstakingly, he discovered the arrowheads and other implements used by the Redmen.

WEATHER

West Texas — Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday.

East Texas — Cloudy tonight and Thursday.

Americans Score Scientific Triumphs

Yale University welcomes home a faculty member and a radio school graduate from a 29,000-mile flight around the world. Dr. Richard Upjohn Light as pilot and Robert French Wilson as radio man quietly soared away five months ago in a Bellanca Skyrocket monoplane. They crossed the north Atlantic via Greenland and Iceland, played through Europe, flew via Baghdad, India and Java to China and Japan. They took steamer to Vancouver, flew down to the Caribbean, then northward home. The professor and the graduate visit 28 countries, fly over seven others without a mishap or a forced landing—"All quite ordinary," explains extraordinary Dr. Light.

American inventors score two outstanding triumphs. General Electric engineers tell of giant vacuum tubes now used as electrical pumps which by transmitting electricity as direct current and transforming it to alternating current at delivery points make possible long-range transmission at low cost. Du Pont de Nemours & Co. announce discovery of a new fool-proof high explosive. It is a white solid composed essentially of nitrate ammonia and oxygen. Twenty per cent stronger than TNT, it resists blow-torches and trip-hammers and explodes only with a dynamite cartridge—At last men begin to control the wild forces they let loose.

Joy In Little America

Little America at the bottom of the earth spends a day of sheer happiness. The Baer of Oakland arrives with mail. Dog teams race the treasure sacks across seven miles of ice to the Admiral Byrd camp. Fifty-six men drop everything except replenishing the fire to bury themselves in letters, clippings, newspapers and magazines. Deliriously they shout aloud their discoveries of what is going on at blessed back home—After six months of polar darkness the world of men smiles brightly over the horizon.

President Wins House Fight

President Roosevelt wins his fight against rebelling congressmen and sees the $1,800,000,000 work-relief bill pass the House by 329 to 78. Of the seven amendments made to the measure, six originate in the administration ranks. The other merely calls for frequent reports. The senate prepares, with fireworks, to follow the example of the House—the president, unhampered, will dictate the use of a sum whose size few men can actually comprehend.

Traffic Problem Vital

President Roosevelt calls on the 48 states to enact uniform highway traffic legislation to reduce the number of casualties. He points out in a letter to the governors that the loss of life from motor vehicles in 1934 was the highest in history and that this intolerable condition need not exist. The automobile has become an indispensable agent of transportation, but its use must be made safe. Better education of the people in its handling is necessary, and the passing and enforcing of regulatory laws. The Department of Commerce has taken the lead in developing the proper remedial measures. The states must now do their part—"We should, as a people, be able to solve this vital problem," declares the president.

European Politics

Italy surprises with the announcement that it too has been having difficulty with spies. During six months it has held seven secret trials and sentenced 19 men and two women to prison for terms of from 5 to 25 years. The average European country is very ready today to believe a neighbor nation is untrustingly spying upon it—Can this be because it seems so untrustingly ready to spy upon its neighbor nation?

Japan's Diet hears a speech from Foreign Minister Koki Hirota which affirms the Japanese policy of domination in eastern Asia. He is satisfied with developments in Manchoukuo, anticipates the Manchoukuo Emperor's visit to Tokyo, asks Russia to reconsider its military works near Manchoukuo's border, warns China its condition causes grave anxiety and hopes China will agree to meet Japan's aspirations and learn to see that Japan has power to help. Mr. Hirota hopes for a new naval treaty and sees only cordial relations with America and Britain—but in the long address there is no knob for the Open Door.

Ohio Pastor Serves 'Church On Wheels'

ALLIANCE, O., Jan. 30 — The Rev. Howard Perry, pastor of Alliance First Baptist Church, has been granted a leave of absence to accept a call to Colorado's "church on wheels," the chapel car of the American Baptist Publication Society.

Rev. and Mrs. Perry will go to Peyton, Col., where they will be inducted into service by the retiring missionary, the Rev. F. I. Blanchard.

church for the couple, is 85 feet long, fitted to accommodate 100 persons. It has facilities for religious services, including organ, pulpit and pews.

DRIVE 200 MILES TO 'GET' MEN
HILLSBORO, O., Jan. 30 — Though forced to drive 200 miles on southern Ohio roads, which took a half day, Marshal Ira Bean and Deputy Sheriff Fred Miller captured two men, wanted here for driving their truck down the wrong side of a busy street.

That Bubble Dance Again

OCEAN WAS FAR INLAND
COTTAGE GROVE, Ore., Jan. 30. — Distinct proof that the Pacific Ocean once extended far inland was had when petrified leaves encased in silt were discovered here.

MISSOURI MULES COMEBACK
BUTLER, Mo., Jan. 30. — Missouri mules are coming into demand again helping farmers bridge their way through the depression. The price is up to about $150 a head. A recent shipment of 40 went from this section to Spain.

SILKEN SPINDLES

by Laura Lu Brookman © 1935 NEA SERVICE, INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
GALE HENDERSON, pretty and 23, works in a silk mill. She and her brother, PHIL, 19, support their invalid father.
STEVE MEYERS, who also works in the mill, asks Gale to marry him. She promises to give him an answer in a few days.
Later that evening Gale goes skating on the river, goes through the ice and is rescued by BRIAN WESTMORE, whose father, now dead, built the mill. Brian asks Gale to wait while he gets his car but when he returns she is gone.
Brian has come home after two years in Paris, convinced he can never become an artist and ready to go to work in the mill. MIKEY THATCHER, brother of ROBERT THATCHER, general manager of the mill, schemes to capture Brian.
Brian sees Gale in the mill and is amazed to find she is a runaway. Mikey tells her that her car has broken down. Brian takes her home and on the way they witness a fight between Phil Henderson and ED VOGEL. The fight ends when a policeman appears. Later, driving home, Brian thinks of Gale and wonders what her name is.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XII
THE line in the cafeteria shifted forward, past wells of bean and tomato soup, past trays of cabbage and macaroni and cheese and beef stew, on to the small, glittering mounds of red and gold gelatin, the prunes and solid-looking wedges of apple pie.
Gale Henderson, lashed by the line in front, rested her tray against the steam table. She nodded and said, "Yes—the tomato soup, to the woman across the counter. Someone jostled Gale's elbow as the woman set the bowl on the tray and the thick red liquid splashed. Gale turned. She heard the voice of a girl in front:
"Suppose you heard about the fight last night?"
"You mean Vogel and Phil Henderson?" It was a different girl speaking now.
"Yeah. Know what started it?"
"RUBY, I suppose."
"Sure. What all these guys see in that dame—but I know it was some fight! Phil ought to know better than to try to cut in on Ed Vogel!"
"Say, I thought it was just the other way around!"
The first girl shook her head knowingly. "No, I've got the straight of it," she said. "Blanche Ryan told me and she used to go around with Ruby all the time. Blanche says it's the limit—the way Ruby is always twitting guys. Just the same, Phil ought to leave Vogel alone. Ed Vogel can lick any man in the mill. That's what my brother says—"

The two girls had reached the end of the line and made their way toward a table. Gale halted, holding her tray. Color flamed in her cheeks. She was angry at the girls, angry at Phil. What a way for him to behave! No wonder he'd left the house so early that morning. Fighting with a brute like Ed Vogel. Over a girl like Ruby Griffith! That's what they meant, of course. She wished she didn't have to sit with anyone at lunch today. But she did. There were no individual tables in the mill cafeteria. There was Josie Gridley at a table where there was a vacant place.

Gale made her way toward it. Other girl was leaning over her and Fisher was beside them.
"Here, you!" he called to Gale. "Help us get her out of here!"
They had to carry her. Connie's eyes opened when they were in the corridor. She tried to speak but, though her lips moved, no sound came. They took her through a door marked, "Emergency," into a little room in which there was a couch.
A crowd of half a dozen had gathered about the door. Someone said, "They ought to keep her head down. They ought to put water on her face." Another said, "My sister fainted once—"

"Get back to your machines," Fisher ordered. "I'll take care of this."
GALE, turning into the hall, almost walked into a tall young man in a brown suit. It was Brian Westmore.
"What's happened?" he asked. "Was it an accident—is anyone hurt?"
Gale said, "A girl fainted. She's in there—"

She slipped past him then, hurrying down the hall. "Wait a minute!" Brian called. He took a step after her, but the girl apparently did not hear. She was out of sight in another instant.
Connie did not come back to work that afternoon. Voices buzzed in the wash room at quitting time. Someone said Connie'd been warned by a doctor that her lungs were infected. Another said, no, it wasn't her lungs; it was her heart. There were rumors that she'd been rushed to the hospital, that her brother's wife had come for her, that Connie had recovered completely and walked home.

"I like to fainted myself," a girl beside Gale fretted. "Hot as it was today! It's bad enough most of the time, but today—!"
"Yes," Gale agreed, "it was worse than usual."
"Know what I think's the matter with Connie?" the other went on.
"What?"
"I think she's starving herself, that's what I think. She doesn't buy any lunch, you know. Just brings something. All she had the other day was an apple—I knew because I saw her eating it here in the wash room. She said something about not being hungry and having had a big breakfast, but I didn't believe a word of it. Connie lives with her brother and his wife and he ain't been workin', you know. Laid off a month ago. I don't think they've got anything but just what Connie makes—"

Gale nodded. She said, "Yes, I think that's what's the matter with Connie. She shouldn't do it. She won't be able to work if she doesn't eat."
The other girl turned away. Gale put on her coat and hat and went down the corridor. Outside she faced Brian Westmore. He was smiling and he said, "I thought if you were going down the street you might let me walk along with you."

ON THE POLITICAL ANVIL

By RAYMOND BROOKS

Probable need for a constitutional amendment to give the state power to regulate the earnings of public utilities was foreseen as Gov. Allred's administration bill, and several others, awaited action in the legislature.

The desire is to allow investors a fair return on the money they put into utilities, but Texas administrative officials of long experience have said the courts won't sustain rates on that basis.

The courts adhere to the basis of "reproduction, new less depreciation," which means every time the price of pipe or fittings or the cost of labor changes, the rate structure is subject to upset. Practical effect is when the prices go down, consumers get no benefit, but when they go up the legal dictum is to hike the rates.

Practice has been to grant numbers of reductions in utility rates; but the contention has not been answered that their rates are too high.

Companies, as well as the government, may want constitutional authority to guarantee a fair return only on money actually put into a utility. That is, on present low price levels, the reproduction cost would, if it could be determined, run far lower than the original building cost of most utilities constructed at peak prices.

The other phase of necessary constitutional change is to restore to the state power to administer and enforce equal and uniform regulations, remitting a feature of the power now held—jealously—by home rule cities.

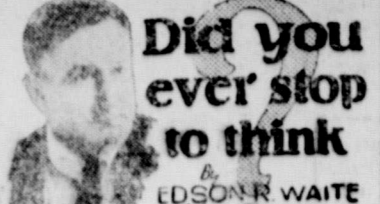

There are many opinions, but it would seem that the constitution could fix absolute maximum rates, or could fix measuring sticks by which only such utilities that could be built within limits of cost could function, and only those able to operate on reasonably small net returns on the actual investment would be able to operate successfully.

Chm. Ernest O. Thompson of the Texas railroad commission, who had experience in utility rate matters as mayor of Amarillo, when his telephone charges led him to official retaliatory action, has been giving deep thought to utility control recently, and has brought together much data as the basis of regulatory action.

Col. Thompson pointed out, however, that the courts will not stand on a fair return for what money was put into a plant and service, but rose invariably into the realm of present reproduction less depreciation, to give a return on some theoretical or fictitious price rather than value.

CITY HAS BIG CASH BALANCE

MANEFIELD, O., Jan. 30.—Carrying over a cash balance of $82,730.57 in their general operating fund, at the end of 1934, city officials here claimed Mansfield's financial conditions "probably the healthiest of any city in Ohio." City Auditor Paul L. Kelley said the balance was the largest in the city's history and is approximately $75,000 higher than that for the boom year, 1927. Strict economy in municipal operations is given as the reason.

Did you ever stop to think

That newspaper advertising will impress a business on the buyer's mind.

The only way a near-dead business kept alive is by newspaper advertising.

In these days and times every business concern is facing the keenest sort of competition and the only business concerns that will get ahead in the race for business are those that bring to their help the mighty power of advertising.

The irrefutable proof of good merchandise or service is the demand. There is absolutely no guess work about advertised goods and service.

The constant demand for advertised goods and service shows they have stood the test. Newspaper advertising gives plain, every-day facts and that is what the people want.

Illinois Woman Has Jeff Davis Trinket

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Jan. 30.—A watch chain, said to have been worn by Jefferson Davis when he fled from the Confederate capital in 1865, is the coveted heirloom of Mrs. D. S. Condit, here.

Kept in a safety deposit vault, the jewel is a rare memento piece in itself and is a unique memento of the Civil War. It was inherited by Mrs. Condit from her father, the late

Dr. Henry Conkling of Bloomington, a Union surgeon during the war. According to the history of charm Dr. Conkling purchased from a soldier who had taken from the deceased Southern leader. Dr. Conkling saw the soldier entering the store to his horse's head and gave a gold coin for it.

The charm is made of Enamgold, heavily chased with oak leaf and acorn design, and set with a large topaz. Value of the piece has been estimated at $10,000.

Says Laughs Aided Nation In Struggle

HOLLYWOOD, Fla., Jan. 30.—Ray Comstock, Broadway producer today gave "rooey" hearty laughter a large share of the credit for carrying the United States through the depression.

"The theatrical executive places high valuation on laughs. Some of them, if rollicking enough, worth ten grand any day."

Comstock is wintering at Hollywood Beach Hotel, "Just on the beach in the sun and taking in about the staffy office all the grand canyon of Broadway brings a smile that's worth $10,000," he said.

When the masseur strums a tenor put in his ribs while he is bathing in a solarium, Comstock says: "There goes another thousand."

The "satisfied chuckle" that follows the landing of a "shopper" the gulf stream—well, that's worth $5,000."

"It was courage, but mostly laughs, that carried us through the depression. We're coming out of the period. You can tell it by watching the faces of people everywhere. They're not smiling—they're laughing out loud these days. It's good for them. Just think of all the dollars they're spending in laughs."

THE NEW 1935 FORD V-8 PICK UP

The proved power, speed, economy of the V-8 engine . . . plus improvements that make it a more rugged hauler than ever

THE Ford V-8 Pickup has always been a car that could take punishment. This year, improvements have been added that enable you to use the Ford V-8 Pickup harder than ever—and to do it at less cost.

Even the proved V-8 engine has been made more economical, more dependable. It has new crankcase ventilation that rid's the engine of water vapor, minimizes sludge, reduces oil dilution and corrosion. It has copper-lead connecting rod bearings that resist burning and pounding out. It has cast alloy camshaft and crankshaft that outwear forged steel.

The front axle is stronger—20%. The frame has been strengthened—with a new X-member, double reinforced side rails, new cross members at front, center and rear. The chassis is mounted on the Ford Full-floating Springbase—giving more uniform tire wear, longer brake life, better brake action, improved over-all operation, easier riding and handling.

But the way to find out what this new Ford V-8 Pickup will do for you—and save for you—is to put it through a tough trial on your own job. Your Ford dealer will let you have one any time you say.

Given 50 Cents For Returning $1,600

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 30 — A. C. Thomas found $1,600 worth of postal savings certificates. He spent two days of tedious search in finding the owner, a woman who had not yet discovered she had lost them.

"You," said the owner, "deserve a reward."

"Yes, ma'am," beamed Thomas, holding out his palm. The fortunate owner fumbled in her purse, deposited a half-dollar in Thomas' hand.

FOSSILS IDENTIFIED
PULLMAN, Wash., Jan. 30 — Two fossils found near La Crosse, Wash., and sent to Washington State college have proven to be a molar tooth and an atlas vertebra from a Columbian elephant of the pleistocene period. They were discovered by A. R. Watzke.

GOOD SCHOOL MARKS POINT FOR SUCCESS

AUSTIN, Jan. 30 — It is apparent from the recent analysis that has just been made by the registrar's office at the University of Texas that students who rank high in their high school graduating classes "have the odds in their favor" when they enter college or university.

Last year 1,196 students enrolled in the University as freshmen. A total of 922 of these, or 77.1 per cent passed the minimum grade requirements of the university. Of the total freshman enrollment, 464 were students who had ranked in the top quarter of their graduating class. Ninety-one and six-tenths of these "first class" students passed their University courses, as compared with the all-freshman record of only 77.1 per cent. Of the 341 freshmen who came from the second quarter of their high school graduating class, 76.8 per cent passed, or practically the equivalent of the all-freshman record.

On the other hand, students who ranked in the lower brackets of their high school classes stood poor chances of making their university grades. A total of 256 freshmen came from the third quarter of their high school class, and only 68.4 per cent of them passed first-year university work. Only 41.5 per cent, or less than half, of the 111 students who came from the lowest quarter of their high school graduating class, were able to pass the minimum university requirements. A small group of students, 24, were unidentified as to high school rank of the fourteen, or 58.3 per cent passed university grades.

It is interesting to compare the records of men and women students with regard to their high school records. Women with high and medium scholastic records from high school made uniformly better university grades, or at least a larger percentage of them passed university work, the comparisons being as follows: First quarter, men passing university requirements, 73.3 per cent, women, 84.2 per cent; second quarter, men 80.2 per cent, women, 83.4 per cent; third quarter, men 73.9 per cent, women, 82.9 per cent. On the other hand, while a much larger number of men than women students entered the university with poor high school records, 92 as compared with 19, the men made better university records, 43.5 per cent of

Ladder of Death Is Grim Evidence

The kidnaper's ladder from which the state charges the Lindbergh baby plunged to death is shown as it was introduced as evidence after a bitter fight in the Hauptmann trial. Beside it is a board used as an upright of the base section which the state declares was taken from the flooring of the Hauptmann Bronx home. Below is a chisel found near the Lindbergh home after the crime.

Only 92 students who enrolled as freshmen last year failed to complete any university work, of which 72 were men and 20 were women.

SPORT PART OF TRAINING FOR HITLER YOUTH

BERLIN, Jan. 30 — The 235,000 young men of Adolf Hitler's Labor Service, whose soon may be made compulsory for all German youth, receive six or seven hours of sport each week and a similar period of political instruction, in addition to their regular conservation and reconstruction work.

The sport, according to Labor Service leaders, does not include the so-called "Gelenksport" — field sport — whose use in the SA program has provoked repeated charges that the stormtroops were being given systematic military instruction.

Source of Recruits.
The appearance of Labor Service detachments on parade, from their crisp shouldered spades to the traditional goose-step, must class them as at least an extremely good source of recruits, but their primary purpose is still to act as a spearhead in the Nazi program of land improvement and public works.

The political instruction is intended to equip them to continue as shock men when their term of service expires and they receive jobs in civilian life. Or if they prefer, they may continue as officers in the labor army.

Grown Up in Organization.
When the Labor Service was established, most leaders were drawn from the ranks of former officers. This is still true of the higher-ups, but more and more the younger leaders are men who have "grown up in the organization."

It is estimated that five per cent of all those enrolled apply for the Labor Service's special instruction course at the end of their enlistment terms. This course, first in district schools and later in a central institution, is designed to equip them with specialized training to fit them for leadership.

In addition to instruction in the practical aspects of their duties, an engineering course is provided, which it is hoped eventually will make the service independent of outside technical aid. This it is claimed, is desirable first because of the limited budget and second because it will make the service more completely self-contained.

SOUTH CHARLESTON, O., Jan. 30 — A pure white hen pleasant, one of the rarest of game birds, was reported seen at close range near here by three persons.

LETTERS FROM READERS

To the Editor:
We the American Legion Auxiliary are for the upbuilding of our city, and what is more uplifting than music? There is nothing that stirs us more than our national anthem, we break our necks to a parade when we hear the band, and when every thing has gone wrong there is nothing as soul satisfying as soft music. So why shouldn't music in our schools be given its proper place, and our children be given credit here in Cisco schools as in other schools? We notice a number of other things have been added to our school the last two years, for which we are glad. But why forget the very organization that has contributed greatly to our school and town and continue to disregard the rights and desires of the majority of our citizens?

We the American Legion Auxiliary, are for the Cisco Lobo band, and feel that they should have a per cent of the gate receipts of the football games, or some other means of support, to build up our band and furnish transportation.

Its up to us, we have been idle too long, while other cities were busy building we have been sitting on the stool of do nothing. If we want to put Cisco on the map lets say it with music, and get in the parade right behind the Lobo band. But lets not take it all out in talking. Lets do something.

Y. P. HAVE MEXICAN DINNER

Members of the Young Peoples League of the First Presbyterian church held a social in the church basement last evening in the form of a Mexican dinner.

Pottery in keeping with the occasion was used in attractively decorating the tables.

Rev. J. Stuart Pearce asked the invocation after which John Peter Huey acted as toastmaster. Jim Flores was presented in several solos accompanied by G. W. Collum. Miss Ruby Thompson read a poem in which Harriet Angus, Coleman Williams and J. Peter Huey assisted. Rev. Pearce gave a short talk. The social was closed with the song "Bless Be The Tie That Binds."

Those present were: Misses Mary Catherine Donahoe, Anna Bell Rutledge, Lorraine Siddall, Pat and Peggy Van Eman, Harriet Angus, Ruby Thompson, and Roy Chambers. Jack Moon, J. G. Ruck, Enders Huey, Sental Caffrey, Coleman Williams, John Peter Huey, Jim Flores, Howell Moore, Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. Gragg, Mrs. Huey, G. W. Collum and Rev. Pearce.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL SERVE DINNER

A very successful dinner was served by the Women's Council of the First Christian church yesterday from 11 to one o'clock. A delicious plate consisting of turkey, dressing, giblet gravy, scalloped potatoes, green beans, cranberry sauce, celery, pickle, cherry pie, and coffee, was served to approximately 150 guests. Mrs. Jack Elkins' circle had charge of the dining room which was attractively decorated with green vines in blue bows.

Funds were for the benefit of the church building needs. The council hopes to have a similar dinner every fifth Tuesday in the year.

Hubbell Is Most Feared of Pitchers

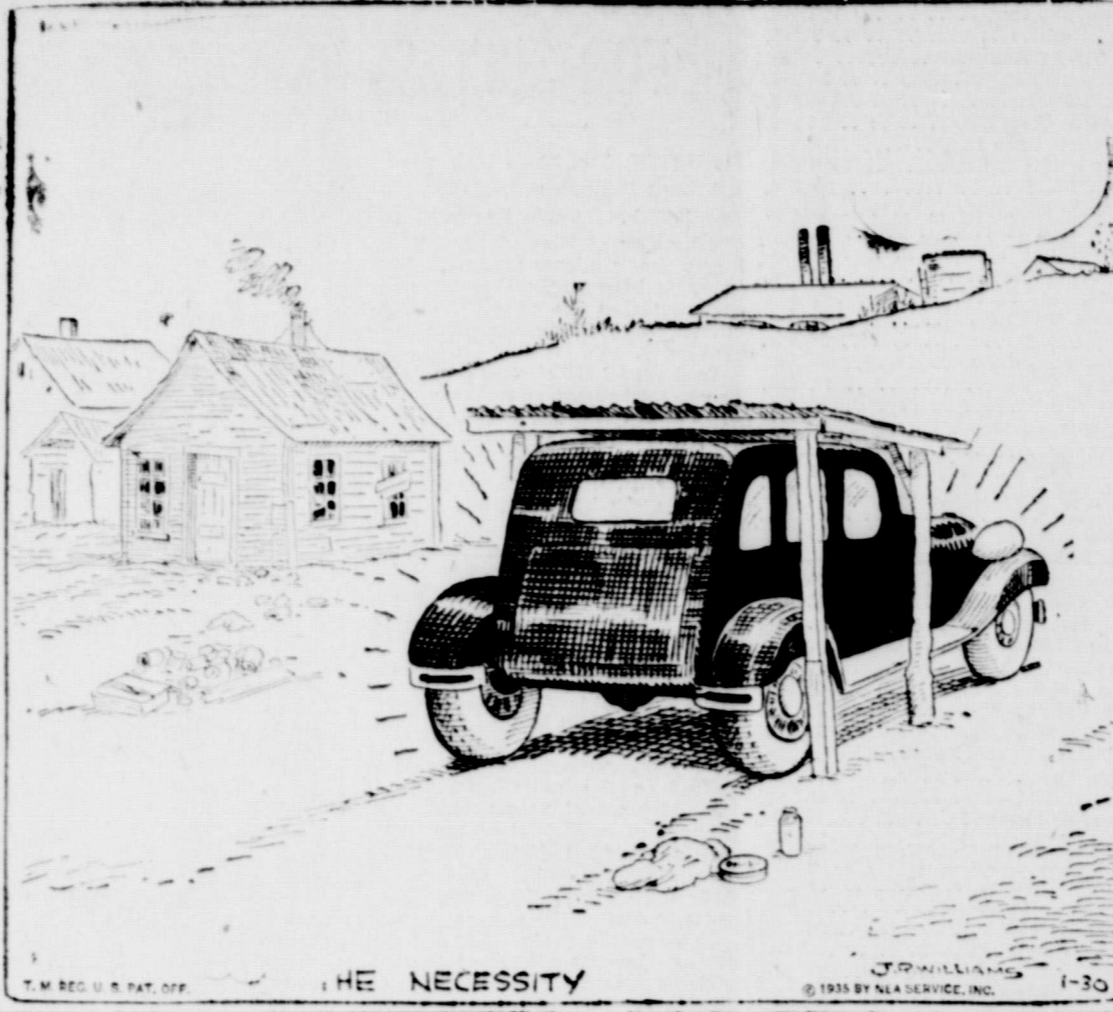

LINCOLN, Ill., Jan. 30.—Toughest of all the pitchers in the National League to hit is Carl Hubbell, star hurler of the Giants, in the opinion of Rupert Thompson, outfielder for the Braves, who makes his home here.

Thompson, who made his major league debut with the Braves last season and batted 272 in 112 games, finds Hubbell's pitching assortment the toughest in the circuit, although he has a healthy regard for the slants of Jerome "Dizzy" Dean, ace of the World Champion Cardinals.

Only one member of the Boston club hit above the coveted 300 mark last season and Thompson charges the low battery averages among his teammates to the way Braves Field is situated. He claims the batter is at the mercy of the pitcher most of the time on the Boston field, due to the stiff breeze that blows into the park from the Atlantic Ocean.

According to Thompson, most of the regulars on the club hit above the 300 mark during the last campaign while playing away from home, but once on the home lot their batting marks began to shrink.

OUT OUR WAY

RANDOLPH NOTES

CRYSTAL JACKSON Vivian Kilpatrick would make an excellent debater. She almost convinced a person that the diamond ring she is wearing really does belong to her mother.

Wails pierced the air. Moans came from anguished lips. The sounds gradually died until they were only broken sobs.

The cause of all this ruckus? Grandma died. Grandma is one of the famous Thundering Herd — and now where J. H. once kept three horses he now keeps only two.

Practice makes perfect. Vernon Van Fleet gazed for extended minutes upon or at his profile. He was trying to perfect that devastating smile.

Eureka! Eureka! We have found it. Miss Hiatt's sense of humor has been discovered. Someone in Spanish class translated "rabos" as "neighbors," and went on to read about them being dug out of the ground. Miss Hiatt remarked that the word did not mean neighbors.

but if it did they would probably not be found in the ground, and if they were found in the ground they would probably object to being dug up.

To whom it may concern: Edison Speer can be truthful (I think). Jack Gilbert still weighs 152 pounds.

Rennie Reynolds is emotional. Coleman Williams can be serious. Doc Elmore can wash dishes.

Dean Isaacks was not putting on airs this morning when he wiggled so much in education class. He was just trying to explain something to some freshmen.

Roland Hill talked to the Student Body in chapel this morning. His sermon was excellent.

The Demosthenian club will meet at their regular meeting time Thursday night. The subject for debate is: Resolved: That Daniel was a greater character than Joseph. Roland Hill and Maigle will take the affirmative side and Forrest Bailey and Francis Barnes will take the negative.

Don't forget: The Randolph Badgers play Clifton college Friday night at Randolph. Be there.

FRANCE TO EAT FIFTY MILLION CAKES FRIDAY

By MARY KNIGHT United Press Staff Correspondent PARIS, Jan. 30.—Fifty million Frenchmen will eat 50,000,000 pancakes Feb. 2 because it will be Candlemas Day.

Just why it was decided to eat pancakes on Candlemas Day is a mystery, but according to the legend, in order to have particularly good luck throughout the year, you have to hold a coin in one hand and flip one or more pancakes yourself. The name "Candlemas" comes to the day from the fact that candles, duly blessed, are carried in procession at the Candle mass. In every household in France the smell of pancakes and the curl of smoke will be noticed. Inexpert flippers, who lose their treasure to have it land on the stove and burn or fall to the floor, know that they are apt to experience some misfortune during the next 365 days.

Candlemas Day is always the 40th day after Christmas, February 2 this year. Its symbolism is the bringing of the Christ Child to the Temple and the purification of the Virgin on that day.

The combination of religious and gastronomic rituals is the outstanding feature of the day, and particularly in the provinces the day is one spent in prayer and feasting, each member of the family taking his or her turn at the stove with the pancake flipper and praying for a successful spin of the batter back to the pan.

Nightshirt Walk Fails to Get Job

BOSTON, Jan. 30.—Harold Murphy wanted a job so badly that he got out of bed and hitch-hiked to Portland, Me., clad only in his nightshirt.

Murphy was told of the job while in bed at the Wayfarers' Lodge. He got up and walked out the door. When he reached Portland the job had been filled.

He returned here, but instead of his night attire he was clad in an overcoat, overshoes and a hat, given to him by a truck driver.

AIM WAS TOO ACCURATE

PORTERVILLE, Cal., Jan. 30.—Too accurate aim with his 22 rifle brought painful injuries to John Champion, 13. Using a cartridge as a bull's eye, John hit his target. The cartridge exploded and a piece of the missile struck him in the forehead, cutting him deeply, and leaving a piece of metal lodged against his skull.

TWISTED SEASONS

DELAKE, Ore., Jan. 30.—Old Man Weather twisted his seasons as strawberries ripened, and marigolds, snapdragons and violets bloomed in William L. Smith's garden.

Huge House Keeps Captain's Tradition

NEW LONDON, Wis., Jan. 30.—A 40-room house standing on a hill near here keeps alive the story of Capt. Enos Drummond who built the mansion in 1849, but was murdered before he carried out his plan of importing 40 slaves in order to live like a plantation gentleman. Although the northwest ordinance prohibited slavery in Wisconsin Drummond was said to have planned a secret system of slavery. Legends depict him as one of the roughest and toughest men Wisconsin ever has known. He was killed just after the house was completed.

Experiments May Save Babies' Sight

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 30.—Experiments are being conducted here which may mean the saving of eyesight of thousands of infants each year. The disease—Ophthalmia neonatorum—commonly called "babies' sore eyes," is contracted on an average by two out of every 100 infants and unless promptly checked, frequently results in blindness.

Dr. Louis Lehrfeld, of Philadelphia General Hospital, who is conducting experiments expressed theory of checking the disease protection against infection at source—the mother. He said theory will revolutionize existing methods.
