Kingfish Gratified At Response To Roosevelt Attack

PREPARING TO FIRE AGAIN AT NEW DEALERS

about Our Friends
By STEPHEN A. LONG

WASHINGTON, March 8. — Sen. Huey Long's demand for investigation of Postmaster General James A. Farley was turned down by the senate post office committee today on the ground that Long had failed to substantiate his charges.

WORLD'S FASTEST MAN BREAKS OWN RECORD AS HE ROARS DOWN BEACH

The fastest man on earth yesterday broke his own automobile speed record when Sir Malcolm Campbell drove his giant Bluebird, "Thunder Wagon" streaking along Daytona Beach at Miami, Fla., at 278.816 miles an hour. This speed was four miles an hour faster than the Britisher's own world record made on the same beach in the same car two years ago, but was far short of his 300 miles-an-hour goal. Above is Sir Malcolm and his great car on Daytona Beach.

COLD HURTS CROWD AS EARLY ARRIVALS ENTER; JUDGING TO TAKE PLACE THIS AFTERNOON

Eastland County's sixth annual livestock show got under way here today with the arrival this morning of stock owned by breeders over the county. Judging started shortly this afternoon.

NATIONS ARE ANXIOUS OVER GREEK FIGHT

(Copyright, 1935 by United Press) VIENNA, March 8. — Europe watched with fast growing anxiety today the spread of a Greek rebellion the powers feared might represent the cause of an outbreak of international war.

Cisco's public school system is the only one in Eastland county which is accredited with the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, it was revealed today by the report of the organization recently published.

BOND BODY TO RETURN FROM TALKS FRIDAY

Representatives of the Cisco municipal government were expected to return home Friday afternoon from their conference in New York City with a bondholders' committee on the Cisco bond debt settlement and to report upon the results of the meeting shortly.

RELIEF BONDS AVAILABLE TO STATE BUYERS

AUSTIN, March 8. — The state's remaining $3,500,000 relief bonds were made available for sale today when the house adopted a conference report on a relief bill. Only the government's signature is needed now, since the senate had previously adopted the measure.

Baby Doe Is Dead At Mining Shack

LEADVILLE, Colo., March 8. — A shroud-covered form was all that was left today of "Baby Doe" Tab-or, the once lovely bride of the once wealthy H. O. W. Tabor, legendary figure of the silver mining west.

California Getting More Tourist Trade

LOS ANGELES, March 8. — Reflecting a marked improvement in business, California's tourist business has shown a 40.7 per cent increase over last year, according to figures released by the Department of Agriculture from its border checking stations.

CUBAN LABOR VOTES STRIKE FOR ALL WORK

HAVANA, March 8. — Leaders of labor unions throughout Cuba today voted a general strike, seeking economic paralysis and the overthrow of the government, it was learned from an authoritative source.

Gas Tax Increase Bill Is Approved

AUSTIN, March 8. — Motorists of Texas will pay $46,000,000 annual gasoline tax under a bill reported favorably by the house committee on taxation today.

Altman Sale Starts Off Briskly Today

Altman's big three days sale started off early this morning with a bang. Customers gathered early and trade was brisk, from the very start. As the day advanced more crowds came and all ladies wear rapidly disappeared... suits, coats, dresses, hats, hosiery and ladies accessories are all in the sale, said F. B. Altman. His business so far today has been very satisfactory and he expects the remaining two days—Saturday and Monday—to be even better, he said.

Richberg Urges NRA Scope Definition

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Urging congress to define the future scope of NRA, Donald Richberg, President Roosevelt's recovery coordinator, said today that uncertainty over the agency's future was "definitely slowing up trade and industry."

Must Change Nail Polish More Often

DETROIT, March 8. — A simple manicure and one coat of nail polish is no longer sufficient for several days, according to a pronouncement at the several annual American Beauty Exposition here.

WTU Company Has Cookery Council

The West Texas Utilities Company today began its two-day electric cookery council for employees of the company in district B. The district includes 17 towns in Eastland, Callahan, Shackelford, and Throckmorton counties.

Sisters Battle In Garment Walkout

DALLAS, March 8.—Sister fought sister today as striking women battled garment workers and police in front of two plants here.

HUNDREDS AT LAST RITE OF AGED JUSTICE

WASHINGTON, March 8. — The mournful toll of a funeral dirge summoned citizens high and low today to a final tribute to Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Daredevil Due To Thrill Cisco Crowd

Daredevil Raymond Fitzgerald will thrill Ciscoans with airplane stunts Saturday and Sunday at the local airport north of Cisco, near Randolph college, as he makes his one-fourth mile parachute jump, wing walking and tallspinning stunts over the city.

Lawyer Executed For Poisoning 4

TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark., March 8. — March Shank, Akron, Ohio, attorney was executed here today for the grape juice poisoning of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Colley and their two children near Malvern, Ark., on Aug. 15, 1933.

Oklahoma Officers Seeking Hamilton

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 8. — Armed with machine guns and shotguns, three state crime bureau agents left the capital this afternoon, reportedly to start another manhunt for Raymond Hamilton, southwestern desperado.

WEATHER
West Texas — Cloudy, probably occasional rains; warmer tonight.
East Texas — Mostly cloudy, somewhat warmer east and central portions; Saturday cloudy, local rains, warmer except west coast.
Rain for year, 4.7 inches.

PIGEONS PASS TIME
PRINEVILLE, Ore., March 8 — Citizens of Prineville attributed disparity between hands on four faces of the town clock to faulty mechanism. But Lester Moncrief, new resident, became curious and investigated. He found that pigeons alighting on the hands were responsible.

HEN LAYS 2 EGGS PER DAY
NELSON, B. C., March 8 — A hen that lays two eggs at a time is owned by Mrs. J. Day here. The hen turned out an over-size egg measuring nearly three inches in length and two inches in width. When Mrs. Day broke it, she found another perfectly formed egg inside — yolk, white, shell and all.

DEER HERD INCREASES
OKANOGAN, Wash., March 8 — Deer have increased rapidly in the Colville National Forest in recent years, a game commission census showed. The 1935 count totaled approximately 9,000 in the forest, compared to 1,500 in 1922. Rigid enforcement of game laws was credited with the increase.

COLLEGIATE POLICE DOG
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, March 8 — A police dog has attended classes at the University of Utah every morning during the past two years. His attendance is better than that of any of the students, claims Dean Thomas A. Beal.

Nobody can hold the dog catcher's job. It requires tact, the city council believes, and so far no one has demonstrated enough diplomacy to get along with the dogs of Kirksville.

WHEN HERE TODAY
HE HENDERSON, pretty and blonde in a silk mill. She and her brother, PHIL, who has an invalid father, also were MEYERS, who also was in the mill, also gave her a new dress. She was a WESTMORE, whose father had built the mill. She was attracted to Gale through the trickery of a THAYER, society beauty and Brian's attorney. Her father, ROBERT THAYER, is general manager of the mill, is scheming to win his job. He is accused of shooting ED GALE, another mill employe, in the night. Gale, frightened, was taken to the hospital, but there is a rumor that she rushed to the door and she rushed to the door and she rushed to the door.

she said. "If Vogel dies Phil will be tried for murder. And he's innocent. He didn't have any more to do with that shooting than you or I. The men who say he did are simply lying, that's all. They tried to frame Phil. They think they can do it, but they can't. I'll work 'til I do anything to save him!"
"But you can't do it alone. You've got to have help. You'll need a smart lawyer—one of the best. Let me get—"
Gale interrupted sharply. "No," she said. "There's nothing you can do, Mr. Westmore, for Phil—or for me."
"You mean that?"
"I certainly do."
Brian's eyes sought hers, held them. A moment more and he rose to his feet. "Well," he said slowly, "if that's the way you feel about it I guess there's nothing more to say. Unless you change your mind. If you should—"
"I won't change it," Gale told him. Her cheeks were colorless but her eyes seemed unnaturally bright.
"Just the same, if you should I'll be glad to hear from you." He was at the door now, his hand on the knob. "I'll be glad to hear from you," he repeated, "in case you change your mind. Good night."
Gale closed the door and turned away.
TWENTY-FOUR hours can seem an endless time. Gale thought this, walking along the street beside Steve. It had been 24 hours—even a little more than that—since she had seen her brother. Twenty-four hours of hoping, waiting. Twenty-four hours of telling herself that somehow things would be all right, that none of the dreadful things she had imagined were going to happen.
She hadn't wanted to come out tonight, but Steve had insisted. They were on their way to "the meeting."
Steve had said, "It's better for you to get out and see people than to stay cooped up at home."
"But I don't want to see people!"
"It's better for you," Steve insisted. "Besides, Phil would want you to."
Gale knew that was true. That was why she had decided to come finally.
There were things to be grateful for tonight. Steve had succeeded in finding a lawyer to take Phil's case. He was a young lawyer and Gale had not been greatly reassured by his appearance. But he had promised to represent Phil and to wait a reasonable length of time for payment of his charges. That meant a great deal. The lawyer had talked in legal terms that had at first confused and then encouraged Gale. Since there was no money for bail, the lawyer explained there was no hope of arranging Phil's release. Even with bail it would have been difficult, probably impossible. While Vogel's life hung in the balance the charges would be delayed. Meanwhile, the lawyer would "look into" the facts.
Gale held to Steve's arm, walking down the street. It steadied her somehow, made it easier to think of going into the meeting.

"What are they going to talk about tonight, Steve?"
"Oh—more about getting new members. I guess. Phil's got a lot of friends in this crowd, Gale. A lot of them think that fight the other night was a frame-up. They think Vogel planned the whole thing."
"But why would he do that?"
"Oh, he didn't plan it the way it worked out, of course. Something went wrong. He didn't plan to get hurt himself. I wish I'd been there to see what really happened."
"Those who were there don't seem to know much about it."
"No—"
THEY had come to the house where the meeting was to be held. Steve knocked and they were admitted. A dozen or more men and women stood about. Some of them were in small groups, talking earnestly. Others smiled, exchanging jokes. Josie Gridley crossed to where Gale stood.
"I'm glad you came," Josie said. "I was afraid you wouldn't."
"Steve thought I ought to."
"Let's go over there and sit down," Josie suggested. "The chairs will be gone by the time everyone gets here."
They made their way to the chairs and sat down. Josie was in her usual high spirits, chattering brightly. Gale scarcely listened. She saw the door open and two girls whom she knew entered. A minute later, three men came in. Joe Gillaspie saw Gale and came over and spoke to her.
Joe said, "Don't you worry—Phil's going to come out of this all right."
"I try to make myself believe it." "Sure he will!"
In 10 minutes more the room was filled. Joe stood up where everyone could see him and said, "Fellow workers, we ain't going to wait any longer. This is the time we said the meeting would start and we're going to start it."
"Mr. Chairman—" A small man with bushy, dark brows got to his feet. "Since our last meeting," he went on, "one of our members—one of our most active members—has found himself in a very unfortunate situation. You all know who I'm talking about. And you know that the other party in the case is an enemy to every member of this organization. The two who made the charges against our member are enemies. Fellow workers, I believe—and I know there are others here who believe the same thing—that our member was framed. I believe Ed Vogel is in the hospital tonight because the bullet that was intended for Phil Henderson hit Vogel instead."
"Fellow workers, the bosses are hiring stool pigeons to watch you all day in the mill and at night on the streets. You aren't safe anywhere. They're armed with guns—" The words died in the sound of smashing wood and breaking glass.

Special Service To Be Church Feature

Special evening services will be held every Sunday at 7:30 p. m. for several weeks at Grace Lutheran church. It was announced by the local pastor, "The World's Redeemer" will be the topic of this series. The subject of next Sunday's sermon will be, "The Prophet's Vision of the World's Redeemer."

Posters To Show Cattle Gradings

The city slickers who think that milk comes from bottles and that beefsteaks come from the butcher shop will have an opportunity to check up on themselves and learn the whys and wherefores of cattle gradings at the Eastland county livestock show this weekend.

The beef cattle group, headed by Dr. F. E. Clark, has provided a way for even the uninitiated in the business of livestock grading to tell what a good animal should look like. It has been announced.

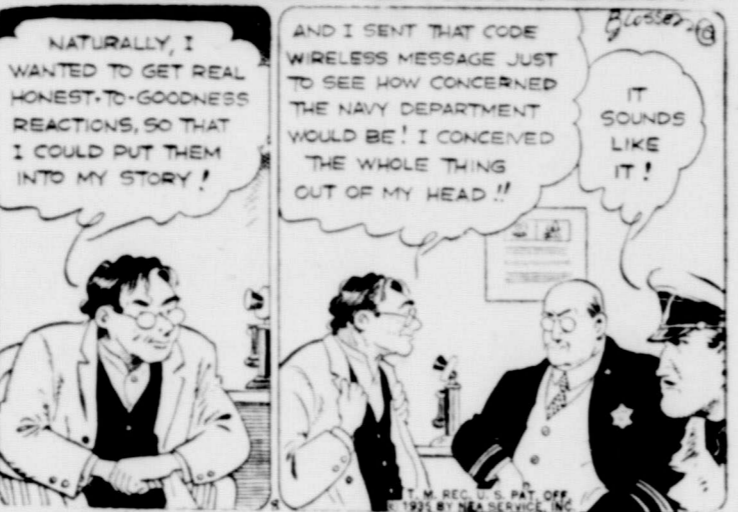

Posters with pictures showing each of the United States grades of slaughter steers will be on display. Under each picture is the characteristics of the animal. Along with the posters, the group will attempt to show an animal of each grade, as nearly as possible, it was said. The judges will explain the points upon which the grades are determined.

The grades will include prime choice good medium, common, cutter, and low cutter.

HEN DEFIES AAA

LEHINGTON, Pa., March 8—The chicken coop on the farm of Harry Honchen has more than 100 per cent efficiency. He has only eight New Hampshire Red hens, but collects nine eggs a day. "It looks like another surplus problem for the AAA," Honchen said.

OBJECT TO RESCUES

FORT WAYNE, Ind., March 8—Although Fort Wayne firemen "are always willing to help out the hapless householder" who has locked himself out of his home, they seriously object to spending $5 of the public funds each time they rescue rats from trees and dogs from sewers and culverts.

18-YEAR-OLD CANARY

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 8—When Mrs. P. H. Fotheringham's son went to war in 1917 he gave her a canary. It lives still, but it's 18 years of living apparently has paralyzed the vocal powers. An occasional peep is the evidence that it once was a fine German roller.

PIEDESTRIAN AT 93

FITCHBURG, Mass., March 7—Charles Palfreyman, 93, walks five miles or more daily to "keep myself young."

Real Cost Nearing 14 Billion Mark As Administration Begins Second Half

today this record breaking outpour of federal funds with actual expenditures of the Roosevelt administration...

Accomplishments Listed Among the accomplishments at the expense of nearly $9,000,000,000 of federal funds were listed as follows:

1—Between 10,000,000 and 20,000,000 persons have been supplied with food and housing

2—Panic conditions that appeared with the Roosevelt inauguration have been dissipated and stability has been restored in business and finance.

3—Thousands of homes and farms have been saved from foreclosure through operation of government agencies.

4—Nearly 116,000 banks have been reopened and most of them placed on a sound basis with liberal government cash.

5—Incomes of farmers and wage earners have been boosted by more than a billion dollars through operation of the NRA and farm relief steps.

6—Business activity has risen from 59 per cent of the 1923-25 average in March, 1933 to 86 per cent in December, 1934; commodity prices rose from 69 to 77.

Diverse Views In gauging the economic results of the first two years of the Roosevelt administration, impartial observers were still uncertain as to the ultimate outcome.

Some administration critics are fearful that the monetary and credit inflation policies of the federal government ultimately will lead to an era of uncontrolled inflation to be followed by a new slump.

Some administration critics are fearful that the monetary and credit inflation policies of the federal government ultimately will lead to an era of uncontrolled inflation to be followed by a new slump.

Under its securities plan dictatorial powers have been gained in the operation of the nation's exchanges and the methods of control over security issues which were a contributing factor in the 1929 boom which was followed by the present depression.

Treasury figures today showed the record peace time expenditures of the New Deal in the promotion of its recovery program. Against total government expenditures to date of approximately $13,500,000,000 the government collected in taxes and other income about $6,000,000,000.

Other millions of dollars have gone for such activities as the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, Farm Credit Administration, subsistence homesteads, crop reduction, Tennessee Valley Authority, insurance of bank deposits and other New Deal activities bring the total "recovery costs" to around the $8,500,000,000 mark.

Further heavy expenditures for these purposes are indicated by administration officials unless private industry itself resumes its normal spending activities.

A gradual growth of federal control over banking and finance marked the first two years of the Roosevelt administration. A sweeping series of victories by the administration in the Supreme Court giving a stamp of approval to its monetary program through the upholding of the government's right to abrogate the gold clause in all obligations were won less than a month ago.

At the same time the administration was going ahead with new banking plans designed to center important control in the hands of the Federal Reserve Board, virtually establishing a central bank for the United States. This program is now before congress.

CRIME DOESN'T PAY CLEVELAND, March 8 — Seven-teen pencils and 42 cents in change was the price Walter L. Blakmore, 23, paroled Mansfield, O., state reformatory prisoner, paid for his life. The pencils and change were found in his pockets when police killed him as he fled from a robbery.

Depression-Hit Cowmen Don Full Dress in Roundup

Texas steers hawled in amazement, then lay down dazed to be branded, at this strange roundup in the Big Bend country, when cattlemen clad in evening clothes gathered for the fray. Tuxedos and boiled shirts, no longer used since depression prices for livestock ended the social whirl of better days, adorned the roundupers as they roped calves, rounded up strays, and applied the branding iron.

About Our Friends

Continued from page one Wednesday morning when Mrs. E. P. Crawford was hostess to the Wednesday Bridge Club at her home on West Fifth street.

Upon arriving the guests were greeted by the hostess and Messrs. H. S. Drumwright and James Anderson then invited them into the breakfast room, where Mrs. Alex Spears served delicious punch.

The table was artistically decorated with nasturtiums and the punch bowl nestled in a bower of these flowers. The charming bungalow was beautiful with its decorations of sweet peas and Shasta daisies.

Tables were arranged for both "42" and "bridge." After an hour spent at these games the hostess passed different old-fashioned games and each table was supplied with its own individual game of rook, checkers, fishing for peanuts, hearts and other exciting games.

Merriment reigned supreme and every one forgot the passing of time and the hot sun outside.

Mrs. Crawford served a delicious Neopolitan ice cream and waters with sweet peas as plate favors.

Those who enjoyed the morning's fun were: Mrs. D. D. Fulwiler, Mrs. Walter Cheney, Mrs. W. W. Moore, Mrs. Forest D. Wright, Mrs. B. W. Patterson, Mrs. F. A. Van Deren, Mrs. Geo. Lingle, Mrs. D. L. ### Famous Plane Is Now Fishing Ship

EDMONTON, Alta., March 8 — From trans-Atlantic fliers' rescue ship to a smelly fish freighter. That's the history of a giant all-metal Ford tri-motor airplane that made aviation history when it rescued Baron Guenther von Huenfeld, Capt. James Fitzmaurice and Capt. Herman Koehl after they were forced down on lonely Greeny Island, off the Labrador coast, on the first east-to-west trans-Atlantic flight.

Today the sturdy machine that starred in the 1928 rescue flight of Berni Balchen and Floyd Bennett is performing the mundane task of assuring the eastern United States of fresh supplies of fish from frozen lakes in the far Canadian north.

This famous ship is known simply in the north as the G-CRAC—a fish freighter. But intrepid northland pilots can testify that her days of adventure are by no means ended. At any moment she may be called upon to make a mercy flight in impossible flying weather to rescue some stranded riverboat crew, sick trappers in the barren lands, or natives at isolated points in the north.

PANHANDLE GAS WASTE DURING 1934 SHOWS 76 PER CENT HIKE

By Elmer H. Johnson, Regional Economist Bureau of Business Research, University of Texas

On the basis of data supplied by the United States bureau of mines the total wastage of natural gas in 1934 in the Texas Panhandle increased 76 per cent over that for 1933. In 1934 the total production of natural gas in the Texas Panhandle amounted to 376,000,000 cubic feet. This sum was 46 per cent greater than for 1933. Or this vast quantity it is estimated that 483,000,000 cubic feet were wasted in 1934, as contrasted with a total wastage of 275,000,000 cubic feet in 1933.

Through these figures of waste seem staggering enough, perhaps by converting these quantities of wastage of what is called "the perfect fuel" into the coal equivalent, or its oil equivalent, a more concrete basis for comparison is attained. The amount of wastage of natural gas in the Texas Panhandle alone in 1934 is roughly equivalent to 21,000,000 metric tons of coal, or to 24,000,000 barrels of oil, that for 1933 roughly equal to 12,000,000 metric tons of coal, or to 48,000,000 barrels of oil. During the past two years this appalling waste in the order of magnitude of 33,000,000 metric tons of coal is as great as the total estimated reserves of lignite and coal for the entire state.

66 Per Cent Wasted
Moreover, for January 1, 1935, it is estimated that the wastage in the Panhandle amounted to 1,500,000,000 cubic feet daily—or a quantity roughly equivalent to the wastage of nearly 70,000 tons of coal daily.

Furthermore, quoting a bureau of mines statement: "The current production of natural gas in the Texas Panhandle is about 2,700,000,000 cubic feet daily, of which about 60 per cent is wasted."

If conservation means efficient utilization without waste, then here is an outstanding example of violation of conservation policy as the most ardent conservationist might seek to find.

Soil erosion conservationists continue to tell us of the appalling wastes of soils—but have largely, if not entirely omitted the geological and physical geographic aspects of the question—at times when agricultural restriction policies are the order of the day. Moreover, no data have been advanced to show that erosion, bad as it is, has been an appreciable factor in reducing the aggregate of agricultural production for the nation as a whole. One of the most thoughtful conservationists of his time, Thomas Crowder Chamberlain, the eminent geologist, stated in 1929 that nature apparently has a mysterious way of replenishing its soils.

Irreplaceable Resources
But when we come to minerals we are dealing with irreplaceable resources—resources that have been slowly evolving in the earth's laboratory during past geological ages. Especially do these features of irreplaceability apply to our mineral fuels and sources of energy once used or misused they are gone forever.

It is, however, more than the intrinsic significance of these wasted resources that should be of concern to Texas. If the trends of the times—both short-time tendencies and the longer swings—can be at all relied upon, it seems obvious that the future prosperity of Texas will be very largely dominated by industrialization. Industrialization in Texas can come about through decentralization of manufacturing industries, a movement that has attained world-wide proportions during the past quarter of a century. Decentralization is but the formation of new centers—and the new centers, like the old, are in the main dependent upon the use of available fuels and energy resources in large and dependable quantities. Where can industries find low-cost power in sufficient quantity at or near tide-water? And industries at or near tide-water have the world as their market. In so many words is summarized the prospects of Texas prosperity in the future.

Being Depleted
Economically desirable, and necessary though it may be, it is none the less true that every gallon of petroleum products from Texas petroleum and every cubic foot of Texas natural gas consumed outside the state deplete Texas reserves of these irreplaceable resources by just that much, not counting wastes involved.

Because of the industrial significance of petroleum and natural gas, the time will come when wastes will be reduced to a minimum and when efficient methods of utilization will be demanded. The trend in coal utilization during the past twenty-five years, particularly the practice of using coal as a raw material from which an ever-widening range of products is continuously being extracted, points the way to more effective utilization of our fuel resources. Who can estimate how much of Texas oil and natural gas will be wasted or misused before desirable types of conservation policies are applied to these resources which nature provides once and for all time?

NOTICE

DESDEMONA

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Herrington of Ranger were guests of their cousins Mrs. J. H. Rushing, Sr., and her son, Weldon, on Thursday afternoon.
Dr. P. M. Kuykendall of Ranger was here on professional business Wednesday evening.
Mrs. R. J. Krapf and son, Urban, returned Sunday afternoon from a two weeks auto trip to Waukegan, Ohio, where they went to take her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Hager to their home.
Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Barron and son, Billy Jack, spent Sunday with relatives at Graham.
Mrs. Charles Lee visited Mrs. O. G. Lawson at Cisco Thursday. Besides the Lawson family she also had the pleasure of seeing a sister of Mr. Lawson's who was on her way to West Virginia where she would see Mrs. Lee's mother, Mrs. Clara Bremer.

Miss Romalee Wright who is attending John Tarleton college at Stephenville spent the weekend here with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Wright. One of her school mates came home with her.
Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Davis drove over to Gorman Thursday afternoon. Mr. Davis went over to trade gasoline trucks and Mrs. Davis attended the meeting of the Bass Lake Home Demonstration club. The main feature of the club meeting that afternoon was the landscaping of the yard of Mrs. Ernie Todd.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gallagher, of Albany came down Thursday for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nabors.
E. F. Mullins, athletic coach of our high school received a message Sunday afternoon that his mother was extremely ill and for him to come at once. Ford Reed kindly let him take his car and Rev. H. H. Nance went with him to bring the car back if it should be necessary for Mr. Mullins to remain several days. Monday he wired that his mother was better and they returned Monday night.

Boen Wednesday night Feb. 27, to Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Miles, a girl weighing 71-2 pounds. Mr. and Mrs. Miles have made their home in Baltimore, Maryland the past year but have been here for sometime visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Nabors.

Jack Lee drove up to Wichita Falls on business Friday.
Gerald Marsh, of Bartlettville, Okla. came Saturday to visit his sister, Mrs. Karl Winters and family.

Tom Stark and little daughter, of Comanche visited Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Stark, Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Anderson drove up to Eastland Thursday.
Constable Rube Miles drove up to Eastland on business Monday.

Arch Brown was called to Eastland Monday to serve on the grand jury for this term of court.
Saturday night at the high school a large crowd gathered and enjoyed "Stunt Night" which was sponsored by the Parent-Teachers association of which Mrs. Ed Hanson is the president. Several organizations besides the different grades of school gave stunts, all of which were splendidly given. At the close the judges awarded first prize a beautiful picture to the Freshman class. Honorable mention was given to the P. T. A.'s and the Methodist Missionary society. One feature that was especially enjoyed was two songs by Jack Erich, with Carl Brumelow as pianist. These talented musicians are members of the music faculty of Decatur college. While here Mr. Brumelow was the guest of his sister, Miss Pollie Brumelow who is one of our popular grammar grade teachers.

Rev. Roy Shahar of Moran, came down Friday and began a revival meeting at the Baptist church. Good crowds are attending the services and much interest is being manifested. Rev. Clambless the pastor remained for the week instead of going back to the seminary at Fort Worth.
Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Black of Comanche came up Tuesday to visit Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Stover and other friends who were delighted to see them.

The Methodist Missionary Society met at the church Monday afternoon for the monthly business meeting. The president, Mrs. Charles Lee led the devotional after which reports were given and other business attended to. The bulletin of missionary news was then presented with the following ones giving items, Miss Mollie O'Rear and Mrs. W. H. Whitworth, G. S. Bruce, H. H. Nance, W. E. Barron, Claude Lee, W. C. exhibits, will be free, it was pointed out by the management.

Officers of the livestock show are Dr. Charles Hale, president; J. M. Bird, secretary; Dr. P. E. Clark, F. E. Harrell; Dr. C. C. Jones; and C. Metz Heald, county agricultural agent.

Committees, other than those having charge of the various divisions of animals, are the following:

Publicity, B. A. Butler and W. H. LaRoque.

Entertainment, Charles Sandler and J. D. Lauderdale.

stock began arriving Thursday afternoon for what officials would be the greatest Eastland County Livestock Show in its six-year history.

stock was due to arrive at new grounds at D avenue and 7th street early Friday morning, and horses and mules were in place Saturday morning.

plans prepared to welcome the stockmen and spectators are expected to exhibit their stock and view that of others.

new grounds at the old Wilk-Lumber company location decorated with flags and signs, and Ciscoans and visitors were planning a gala two days show.

RULES LISTED FOR EXHIBITS OF LIVESTOCK

Rules of the Eastland County Livestock show, as announced by the management of the exhibit, are as follows:

- 1—All animals must be in place by 9 a. m. Friday March 8, except that all horses and mules must be in place by 9 a. m. Saturday, March 9.
- 2—All animals must remain in place until 5 p. m. Saturday, March 9.
- 3—There will be no entry fees.
- 4—Each exhibitor will be required to show his own animals. Vocational agriculture students will assist exhibitors in showing stock if requested.
- 5—Each exhibitor will care for his own animals and provide food for them. The show, however, will have a watchman on duty at all times and will furnish straw for bedding.
- 6—The show management cannot assume responsibility for the safety of stock. Every effort will be made, however, to prevent damage to animals.
- 7—Exhibitors must show animals to be eligible for awards. Breeders of Eastland county and Cisco merchants are cooperating to offer prizes for all first and second place animals.

City and Chamber of Commerce Send Welcome To Visitors at Stock Show

The mayor pro tem of Cisco and the head of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce, through the Daily News and the American today extended a welcome to visiting stockmen and exhibitors at the Eastland County Livestock Show:

Commissioner J. R. Burnett, mayor pro tem, issued the following statement:

"On behalf of the city of Cisco, and in the absence of Mayor Berry, I wish to extend to each and every visitor to the County Livestock Show a cordial welcome and to tell you that Cisco appreciates your presence here and your interest in the livestock exhibit. May your visit to our stock show be both pleasant and profitable."

Dr. Charles Hale, president of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce and head of the Livestock Show committee, said:

"Welcome to Cisco, stockmen. We want you to enjoy your stay at the show this year, and hope you will return to our future exhibits. Many of you are old friends of the stock show, and many more, we hope will become so. As agriculture, as reflected in a great measure by the County Livestock Show, grows, so will Cisco and Eastland County grow in the future."

Livestock Breeders and Cisco Merchants Make Show Interesting By Giving Prizes

In addition to the ribbons given as prizes for first, second, and third places, Cisco merchants and livestock breeders of the county have cooperated to offer prizes in cash and merchandise to winners of first and second places, and for ten outstanding animals of each class in the show.

The Cisco Boosters are offering a $7.50 grand prize to the breeder winning the most first and second number.

Following are the names of the breeders and merchants who have made the presentation of prizes possible:

- Paul Poe's Grocery, Norvell-Miller Grocery, McClelland Grocery, Laguna Hotel, Miller-Lauderdale, Dr. F. E. Clark, Cisco State Bank, First National Bank, Palace Theater, Leach Stores, John H. Garner's.

HARD EGGS

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, March 8.—Seven cases of eggs for $42 is a good buy, said G. F. Belosky, but a preposterous price to pay for 126 dozen ordinary rocks. Eggs covered only the top layers of the seven cases, he complained.

YEN FOR SMOKING

CANBY, Ore., March 8.—Enraged because his grandparents would not allow him to smoke in bed, Buster Browne, 15, left his home with them and struck out for Long Beach, Cal., a thousand miles away.

ADVICE TO WOMEN

ALL women at some period of their lives need a strengthening tonic like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The young woman who suffers from monthly pains, the expectant mother who has nausea and other disagreeable symptoms, or the middle-aged woman who experiences "heat flashes," should try this "Prescription." Mrs. J. W. Wylie of 92 Red River St., Austin, Texas, said: "A relative was in such a run-down condition she couldn't do a thing. She lost many pounds in weight and suffered from feminine weakness. Finally she used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and gained weight and had no further trouble." New size, tablets 50 cts., liquid $1.00.
