Lobos to Play H-SU Team Here Tonight

Cowing to illness among team members the Dublin basketball team left off their game at Cisco tonight but Coach Cooper will bring the strong H-SU freshman team from Abilene here tonight so that fans may still enjoy the treat that has been prepared for them. Six boxers will also accompany them so that knights of the Golden Glove may entertain with bouts between halves or at the close of the games. DETROIT, Feb. 12 (AP)—General Motors executive acting to resume capacity production believed today they could reopen from strike plants Monday and by March would be turning out autos at rate of 225,000 a month.

The company placed orders for $25,000,000 worth of work material and full operation would be resumed within 12 days. Leaders of the United Auto Workers who signed a pact with General Motors yesterday ending the strike started compiling the demand they will present to the corporation in collective bargaining conferences scheduled to start Tuesday. End of the strike was welcome news to automotive centers, where business has suffered during the conflict. Officials believed resumption of manufacturing would spur all lines of business in the Detroit area.

CHECKED CAP LATEST KIDNAP MURDER CLUE

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 12 (AP)—A checked cap gave authorities their latest clue today to the identity of the kidnaper of 10-year-old Charles Mattson. Authorities said it was similar to the one worn by kidnaper. State officers said it fitted Tim Donovan, alias James McDonald who has been held since Wednesday. However, Captain Marshall Scraftford, of the Seattle detective did not believe Donovan was the man.

GUARDSMEN TO REMAIN UNTIL PLANTS ARE OPENED

Talk of Lincoln's Slayer is Revived

GLENROSE, Feb. 12 (AP)—Anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birthday revived talk of the "ghost" of his slayer, John Wilkes Booth, whom many old timers believed lived here after assassination of the civil war president. The records on Booth were closed shortly after Lincoln's death when federal troops supposedly trapped the assassin in a burning barn near Washington. To many here and near by Granbury, John Wilkes Booth, was the saloon keeper who came from the East about 1870 and took his life in Enid Okla., in 1903.

RECORD FLOOD OF VALENTINES DUE THIS YEAR

By HOMER JENKS United Press Staff Correspondent WORCESTER, Mass., Feb. 12 (AP) More Americans are expected to ask their sweethearts to "Be My Valentine" this year than in any year since the depression. From two six-story buildings in this city, where in 1849 the nation's first Valentine was made, went forth some 45,000,000 Valentines during the past few months, an increase of 12 per cent over the corresponding period a year ago. The factories house the George C. Whitney Company, world's largest Valentine manufacturers. Head of the 71-year-old firm is bald-headed Warren Whitney, jovial, middle-aged Worcester civic leader and son of the founder. A steadily increasing business is Whitney's answer to the cynics cry that romance and sentiment are dead. From 5,000 Valentines in 1866, when the Whitney Company made its debut, the yearly output swelled to 55,000,000 in 1928, dropped to 30,000,000 in 1933 and then began to rise again. Older people got in the habit of exchanging Valentines in their youth and kept it up after marriage to keep romance alive," explained Whitney. "From their children picked up the idea." He pointed to the comeback of the lacy Valentine of yesterday as further evidence that romance still lives. Though the more sophisticated greeting-card style still leads, the frilly type has proved increasingly popular during the past two years. "One thing we notice, though, is that fellows have become mighty cautious in sending Valentine greeting to their best girl friends," said Whitney, his eyes twinkling. "Instead of calling her sweetheart, they want Valentines to the 'girl friend' and the messages of love must be expressed indirectly, often comically. I guess they just want to avoid entangling alliances." This year Whitney's Valentines sold for one cent to $12 each. Two-thirds of them were novelty or comic. Million Verses Written Chief assistant of Whitney is lany Donald D. Simonds, who estimates that in eight years as greeting verse editor he has read nearly 1,000,000 Valentine sentiments. Every year he receives more than 100,000 verses from housewives, doctors, dentists and newsmen—and rejects all but 1,000. Contributions

FEARS HUSBAND VICTIM OF MEN WHO SWINDLED

DALLAS, Feb. 12 (AP)—Mrs. James McDowell wife of a Dallas cotton grader inlisted the aid of police today in search for 65 year old husband expressing fear he may have been kidnaped and slain by swindlers. Mrs. McDowell who operated a cotton garment plant, said her husband disappeared three weeks ago. He had been worried she said because little progress had been made in an attempt to find three men who swindled him of $3,000. She said when McDowell left three weeks ago he took a small amount of clothing. His wife was absent at the time and supposed he had gone on a business trip. "My husband was in constant fear that he confidence men would attempt to kill him. "I'm certain he received threats on his life."

BAND PROGRAM BIG SUCCESS, MEMBERS SAY

Playing to a nearly filled house last night the band parents club considered the first of a series of band entertainments very successful in the receipt of about $70 dollars revenue, according to Mrs. Robert Maddox who has been very active in assisting at staging the event. Mrs. D. Ball, president of the organization, and all members of the club express their earnest appreciation for the publicity given by newspapers, the assistance and patronage of friends of the movement, to the West Texas Utilities company and the City Drug company for the loan of flags. "People have been very kind in assisting us in our efforts to create a fund with which to buy equipment to place our band on a par with other bands in our class by means of providing better instrumentation for the club." The first purchase to be made for the band will be a set pedal tympani, said Mrs. Maddox, at a cost of $300.00. Other equipment will be added as funds are acquired. This is merely the first of a series of entertainments to be sponsored by the band parents club and they expect to make each just as entertaining as the one staged at the high school auditorium last night.

PRESIDENT TO PUSH JUDICIAL REFORM BILLS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—President Roosevelt considered the constitutional amendment and legislation to reorganize the U. S. Supreme Court before deciding on present plan. This revelation came as indications were noted that action of the president's suggestion might be delayed to allow national sentiment to crystallize further. Speaker of the House William Bankhead emphasized there was no intention on the part of the House Judiciary Committee to evade action on program but admitted the committee was not moving very fast. There were indications however that the committee is split on the president's program. With Attorney General Homer Cummings and Solicitor General Stanley Reed as his chief advisor Mr. Roosevelt eliminated the possibility of a constitutional amendment. Sources close to Mr. Roosevelt revealed the president differed with Sen. George Norris of Nebraska, that congress could require that the supreme court invalidate legislation only by a unanimous vote of a 7 to 2 vote.

JAPAN WARNED TO BE CAREFUL IN CHINA

NEW YORK, Feb. 12—Warning Japan that the English-speaking nations "could not endure the violation of their interests in China. Winston Churchill British statesman and former Chancellor of the Exchequer, today advised the Mikado's government not to build up against themselves, by disproportionate self-assertion "some combination which might lead to a melancholy trial of strength." Writing in Collier's on the whole Asiatic question, as it affects world affairs, Mr. Churchill said: "Unless the Japanese themselves forge the weapons of their own destruction, they may in Lord Fisher's phrase, 'sleep safe in their beds.' No one wants to hurt them; no one can hurt them without an expenditure of moral, financial and economic energy spread over a considerable period of time, and far beyond what the prize to be won would be worth. Here is the strength of Japan. "It ought not, however, to be a strength which is misused. In Great Britain, the United States and Russia are friendly powers with every conceivable inducement to remain friendly with Japan. But these powers have great and long-established interests in China. These interests are commercially of high value. There are also cultural and moral interests of inestimable importance. "The trade of the United States with China and the Far East is a great matter not to be brushed aside in an arrogant and overriding spirit. Hong Kong is a thriving British colony. Shanghai is a magnificent international settlement of the leading seaports of the world, created by a hundred years of British industry and investment. British and American missionaries have long carried on their arduous and perilous task throughout China. The Chinese, also, have rights of their own. "We could not endure the violent uprooting and extirpation of all our long, slow, lawfully gathered interests in China. Still less would the English-speaking world remain impassive before a slogan translated constantly into action of 'Asia for the Asiatic,' meaning thereby Asia

TEXAS CHILD MENACED IN THREAT NOTE

HUNTSVILLE, Feb. 12 (AP)—Federal agents today investigated an attempt to extort $2,000 from A. R. Russell, well to do merchant, whose young daughter, Evelyn, was threatened with kidnaping. The money was demanded in a crude note mailed to Russell Wednesday in Huntsville. The note directed him to place money in a newspaper and leave it on the Trinity highway. A group of officers found the marker, a white cloth beside the highway two miles northeast of Huntsville late yesterday, but did not apprehend the extortioner.

Sand Boils Plugged By Army Engineers

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 12 (AP)—Army engineers indicated today they had plugged five large sand boils which inundates 18 square blocks of lower New Orleans. Giant pumps spouted the yellow river water out into Lake Ponchartraine. The river had risen until it was slightly over the flood stage of 17 feet. Army engineers clogged the flow of water after raising solons for men and mobilizing prisoners to handle the sand bags.

About Our Friends

By STEPHEN A. LONG
The loneliest man in America whose words dropped from the lips of Abraham Lincoln whose words we celebrate today, Feb. 12. He spoke those words in 1863 and the world was dark and unpromising for the Union. Another day was passing. "I dare not despair. I know there is a God who is in the affairs of nations as well as of individuals. . . . A little girl born in the state of Virginia was destined to grow up and bear a son whose name would more than fulfill the dream of a mother for her child. Her name was Nancy. Her husband was a young carpenter who worked for shops of her uncle. . . . they were married on June 12, 1806. Lincoln took his bride home to a house 14 feet square. . . . he was ignorant and could not read his own name but his wife . . . Abraham was born in 1809. Nancy Hanks died in 1818. Her son was nine, but the companionship between them . . . in him the latent inheritance from her of the love of learning so he studied diligently to himself for a life of usefulness. Her influence stayed with him and was voiced in that beautiful phrase, "All that I am or hope to be, I owe to my mother."

Now if Ruby Wood had taken her pet lion for a stroll on a leash, it would have made a picture like dozens of others before it. But taking a lion driving, that's something else again. Even in blase California. And as you can see, Leo is about the last word in back seat drivers. What a roar of disapproval Ruby's likely to hear if he doesn't like her chauffeur.

"Black-Draught is Purely Vegetable"

—What Does That Mean?
A great many things can cause constipation and there are many remedies to relieve it, but possibly none more popular than the "vegetable" laxatives.
Among these, Black-Draught is outstanding. In its manufacture, leaves of a certain plant are used, and the roots of certain others. These are dried so they will keep without preservatives... no other chemical change from the way they grew in "Mother Nature's medicine garden." By their being finely ground, the digestive system extracts the active medicine right where it is needed. Constipation is relieved.
Black-Draught is so economical that a 25-cent package averages upwards of 25 doses.

COMMON COLD KEATED WITH SNAKE VENOM

By F. C. M. JAHN
Press Staff Correspondent

A Feb. 12 (UP)—Poisonous remedy against common colds is being tested by the government-controlled Austrian Serum Institute of Vienna in the name of "viperin" the after long and careful work, has produced an which soon will be available to the public. As indicated by the effective component is an extract of poisonous snakes carried out by prisoners and in hospitals, surprising results. A single injection in many cases, suffices to drive the cold as well as accompanying headache and a few hours, it was noted, however, may be repeated several times without fear because it is so harmless, according to the institute.

The name of "viperin" the after long and careful work, has produced an which soon will be available to the public. A single injection in many cases, suffices to drive the cold as well as accompanying headache and a few hours, it was noted, however, may be repeated several times without fear because it is so harmless, according to the institute.

Found at Water Sources
The particular rays on which Dr. Beltzke has concentrated his attention may be related to or even identical with those which interest divining-rod practitioners, namely, those emanating from the earth at some water sources.

Under the laboratories of the Graz Pathological Institute there are several springs, and to the rays of these waters the head of the institute exposed 450 mice in well-earthened cages.

Within 13 months 13 mice were suffering from cancerous tumors, while of 400 control-mice which had been given the same food and general treatment in non-earthened cages only one showed a similar tumefaction.

The contraction or development of a cancerous malady by the 13 water-earthened mice was considered highly significant, especially in view of the further fact that a more or less intense leukemia was noticeable in many of the exposed mice.

Artificial Radiation Considered
In evaluating his experiments in the Vienna Clinical Weekly Dr. Bertzke emphasized the possibility that the radiation of certain artificial electric currents in the earth such as the so-called vagabond rays of radio stations may have had a power plant or the ground waves as much or even more influence on the blood and general physical condition of the cancerous and leukemia-earthened-mice as those of which the water and earth are suspected of being guilty.

This possibility, however, he thinks should be considered an incentive rather than a deterrent to further research with a much larger number of animals under all possible conditions in different parts of the world. If many scientists in a number of different centers repeat the experiments under various conditions the results, in his opinion, may produce surprising if not startling results.
