What's News Today

The South American countries , quick to imitate our politics and advanced ways of civilization, also copies our ways of society, some of which are not so good. News comes of a wide search on the endless pampas of Argentina for the little 2-year-old son of a rich cattle baron kidnaped by bandits who have evidently heard of our advanced ways of getting rich quick. The enraged rancher and cowboys of the southern plains will make speedy work of the bandits if they find them. A knife perhaps, between the shoulders, or a slit throat, or perhaps a lasso thrown about the neck and a swift dash across the pampas dragging the luckless victims behind those wild mustangs.

California police make quick work of ejecting sit-down strikers from the Douglas Aircraft factory, largest in the world, after a grand jury had indicted the strikers. However, the strikers said they surrendered only because they were assured they would be given a quick hearing. In California they do things in a big way and quickly.

Secretary Hull urges the world to follow the lead for peace but at the same time we are not throwing our guns and war vessels into the discard as we did a few years ago when we joined England, France, Japan and others in a treaty to discard certain class vessels and then found that other nations did not have any of these classes while we were the victims. The nation is safest which urges peace but emphasizes those feelings of friendliness by a well filled cartridge belt, we regret to say. The world filled with weak human beings is not yet ready to settle all its diffi-culties on a friendly basis. Might is still power among nations of the earth, we again regret to admit

England and America are both racing to build a South Sea airline in the Pacific which will connect those far flung spaces with the main seat of power and commerce. Whether the two countries are working together or against each other is not known. We do know that Lidbergh, residing in England, is charting an air mail route across to India and to the South Sea district. Meanwhile, the U.S. A. is rushing radio stations and air station buildings to the Pacific where we still have interests even if we have given up the Philippine Isla

Chief Perdue says thanks to all Ciscoans who are lending cooperation to the safety drive move in Cisco which says stop when you see a sign . . . It will take a little time and patience to get things moving along smoothly . . . But people have become negligent about signs . . . Tourists, and country people who are not used to city driving regulations and are naturally nervous when in town with all the fast driving, should be given courteous consideration . . . We shall never like Michigan City, Ill., because a cop was discourteous to us when we were driving through . . . But we will always remember kindly a certain Irish cop up in New York State near President Roosevelt's home, Hyde Park, who stopped us and said 50 miles per hour was just too fast to be driving through little towns . . . and he did it with such a charming manner that we deemed it a privilege to drive slow just for him . . . We never know how it might pay to be courteous college.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
DAPHNE BRETT, good-looking, successful young New York advertising executive, decides to rent the beautiful Connecticut estate her father left her when he was killed in a hunting accident. She needs the money after five years of providing for the education of her younger sister. JENNIFER, who has just finished college.

Daphne spends a day house-cleaning at the estate preparatory to showing it. She is almost forced into renting to an undesirable family when an attractive young man she has never seen before hops over the garden wall, asks for a bit of lunch, and later comes to her rescue, offering to rent it himself.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER II

I Heard a Wild Goose Yesterday...

At the first "honk" I gazed skyward. There, high in the air, flew a patriarchal gander guiding his flock due north in perfect V-formation-Nature's advertisement that spring is on the way.

And, speaking of advertisements, do you read those that appear in this newspaper? They forewarn you of the change of seasons just as surely as the first robin or the first golden daffodils.

Reading advertisements is a habit well worth cultivating. They tell you, well in advance, of the latest trend in styles. They keep you posted on this year's developments in automotive engineering. They bring your attention to new new foods-nourishing, appetizing. They introduce to you marvels in household helps. They point out interesting locales for your vacation-or for tours that broaden your outlook on life.

The advertisements are interesting, helpful, reliable. By comparing the prices and qualities of merchandise advertised you buy to best advantage. You may rely on the advice given you by the advertisements in this paper just as you depend on the advice of a friend.
