By J. M. Forbes

Right Around Home:

I admire cleanliness and order, though you would never imagine it by looking at our premises. Our yard is the despair of the neighborhood. But I admire what my neighbor has done, though I don't even know his name. He's a scholar, a Democrat and a gentleman, whatever his name. He has taken care of a small rent property near us and where in the back yard junk, debris, and weeds formerly reigned he has brought order out of chaos. It's as clean as the proverbial hound's tooth.

Across the street to the south a neighbor has built a wall about his property to stop the wind from filling his yard with sand. And this year he will have a front yard, from all appearances. The poor writer of this column has no time to work on the yard. He has spent plenty of money and has a yard. He has come to the conclusion that a solid curb about the place is the only way to provide for permanent beautification. It ought not to be necessary, for so long as most of our streets are in poor condition and one may see the face of it. . . .

They have talked to a few, most of whom say a bond issue for paving would not receive a majority of the votes if called now. What do you think? Eventually we will pave all streets in Muleshoe, of this you may be sure. But I reckon Muleshoe is still a young town, our people already have authorized several bond issues for worthy projects. Still there is lots to do. We have a long way to go, and a long way to go before we make Muleshoe a beautiful, comfortable, good place to live in town.

SEEN & HEARD:

Fred Johnson: The group of loiterers with whom I hunt pheasants in Nebraska always stop at Grand Island, Neb., for a steak dinner, and they always say these are the finest steaks on earth. Other night here in Muleshoe we had a steak dinner and one of the guests, Col. Gorte, from Grand Island, was a guest. "Finest steak I ever ate, finest steak on earth," was his comment. These steaks we had were bought at a local food store, and no doubt the animal was grown and fed right here. So, we have the finest steaks in the opinion of some at least, that are obtainable, and maybe we ought to do a little more bragging about our country.

We do have a fine country and more than one person is doing something to make people elsewhere realize it. I am thinking of old J. K. Adams, our county agent, who has been instrumental in causing our people to win more ribbons and prizes on swine than they ever won before. Nowadays, whenever there is a Bailey County swine entered in a show, the others may know there is going to be some stiff competition. He has had wonderful assistance in his Poland China program by the Healds, father and son, for usually it is a Heald bred pig that makes the headlines. But the names of Muleshoe and Bailey County are carried far and wide by these prize winning swine.

Stinson Poland China Is Reserve Champ At San Antonio—Others Win

The Poland China barrow produced on the Heald farm north of Muleshoe and fed and exhibited by Bill Stinson, Muleshoe high school senior took Reserve Championship over all breeds of barrows in both club and open class shows at the San Antonio Fat Stock Show this week.

The show ended February 22 with a sale that broke all records in the United States for high prices for champions. The champion calf from Mills County brought $9 per pound; the champion barrow, a Duoc fed by Milroy Schneider, of Gaudeloupe County 4-H clubs sold for $8 per pound.

This was followed by the Muleshoe barrow, which brought $375 or a dollar and a half per pound. The eight barrows carried to San Antonio by R. C. Giles and the county agent, J. K. Adams, brought more than $800 to the young club boys of this county. Two other club boys were: Carl White, who had a second place in lightweight Polands in a class of 34; and Robert Giles, who placed a Poland China barrow in third place in the lightweight division, another third place in heavy barrows, and another in fourth place.

The Journal last week announced the candidacy of Judge E. A. Bills for district judge. To clarify that statement somewhat the Judge issued the following supplementary statement: TO THE VOTERS OF BAILEY COUNTY: My announcement as a candidate for district judge of the 64th Judicial District, which appeared in last week's issue of the Muleshoe Journal, did not clearly state my place of residence, and for that reason this additional statement is made by me. During that time I have practiced law in Lamb County and other counties of this district until I became district judge on January 1, 1950, by appointment of our Governor and I am now a candidate for a full term. ## Preparations Made For 1950 Census In Bailey And Cochran Counties

L. D. Whiteley, of Lubbock, district supervisor for the 1950 Census, was in Muleshoe Tuesday for the purpose of interviewing applicants for the job of county supervisor. Five persons applied for the place, Mr. Whiteley said, and the person selected will be announced Friday, March 3. The Bailey County supervisor, or crew leader as he is known will have control of the work in Cochran County also. It will be his job to interview, hire, train and then supervise all enumerators or field workers in this year's Decennial Census. In addition to the regular population census, which is taken each ten years, a housing census and the regular farm census which is taken each five years will be conducted. This year, for the first time in this area, an irrigation census will give the nation an idea of the tremendous development in this county since 1945. Those persons interested in the field work should apply directly to the county crew leader between March 3 and March 24. Enumerators will start their training course March 27 or 28 in Muleshoe and will receive daily wages for this work. Actual field work will start April 1 and last approximately 1 month. Enumerators will be paid on a piece-price basis or at so much per person and per farm. In addition rural workers will receive 5 cents per mile car allowance. It is expected that workers will make $8 per day or better, plus car expenses. Only those persons living in Cochran County will be hired from that county, as will be the case in Bailey County. Preliminary population figures which are not official but give a good picture of the final results will be released by Whiteley from the district office located in the City Hall at Lubbock by May 15. Whiteley's district covers the 25 counties composing the 19th Texas Congressional District. A short general assembly was held at Muleshoe high school last Friday, Mr. Teddy Lawler, student body president, was in charge of the program which consisted of the introduction of the Junior play cast by Lee Kimbrough. The purpose was to create more interest in the play which was presented Friday night.

MAY CHANGE METHOD OF ELECTING PRESIDENT

For many years there has been agitation to change, through Constitutional amendment, our method of electing Presidents, by abolishing the electoral college system as it is now constituted and replacing it with a system based on the popular vote. It now looks as if this proposal has an excellent chance of becoming law.

If it does, it will revolutionize the established pattern of political campaigning. Under the existing system, the candidate who gains a majority in a state gets the entire vote of the state in the electoral college. It doesn't make any difference how bare that majority may be. He might carry a state by a single popular vote yet he would get the whole electoral vote, and that is the vote that counts.

The constitutional amendment which is now pending provides that each candidate's electoral vote shall be proportionate to his popular vote. In other words, if a man received 51 per cent of a state's popular vote he would get that percentage of the state's electoral votes instead of all of it. And if, on the other hand, he got 49 per cent, he would be given that part of the electoral vote instead of none.

The influence this would have on campaign politics is obvious. For instance, the Republicans never spend much money or exert much effort in the Solid South. They know that their chance of gaining a majority in any of those states is but one short step removed from impossible. However, under the proposed new system, it would behoove the GOP to do its utmost in, say, Tennessee no less than in Ohio. Every Republican vote, even though the total was still modest, would help their candidate toward the White House.

By the same token, Democrats would no longer just go through the motions of campaigning in solidly Republican states such as Vermont. They'd be out to get the largest proportion of the vote possible. President Truman has said he doubts if the proposed change can be effected in time to influence the 1952 campaign. But, as Jay Hayden points out in one of his columns, "All constitutional amendments recently adopted have run the gauntlet of state ratification in less time than would be available to complete enactment of the present proposal before 1952." The amendment repealing prohibition became law about ten months after it was submitted to the states. The amendment abolishing the "lame duck" session of Congress made the grade in 11 months. The suffrage was approved in 14 months.

In any event, it is promised to cause important and far-reaching changes in the partisan political setup as it now exists.

BABSON DISCUSSES Things To Come

Babson Park, Fla., Feb. 17. Once each year I like to write about things to come as I see them. These suggestions are not original with me, however. They are based on talks which I have had with leading scientists and inventors.

FLYING LIKE BIRDS

1. It is believed that experiments will soon start in connection with individuals flying as do eagles, gulls and carrier pigeons. An alloy of magnesium and titanium should enable an individual to carry a very light engine and wings.

Furthermore, new powerful gases being developed, a very light turbine engine would enable a very light turbine engine to lift and propel an individual. This person may be obliged to wear a special suit containing a light gas. It is true that nothing of the kind has as yet been developed, but it is on the drawing boards. Far greater speeds for commercial planes are definitely assured. Within five years I expect to fly from New York to Los Angeles in two hours.

PARTLY OVERCOMING GRAVITY

2. Considering the millions of possible alloys which have not yet been gravity tested, it is possible that someone will stumble on to an alloy which serves as a partial insulator for gravity. By the use of such for stair-treads, it would require no more effort to walk upstairs than to walk on the level. In addition to such a discovery being a great boon to those with heart trouble, it will be welcomed by all merchants who have great difficulty in getting customers to go up even a few steps, to a mezzanine floor.

BETTER AND CHEAPER FOODS

3. Chemists are making headway in preparing sugar, proteins and yeasts from small trees, and other food direct from gasses, water, and sunshine. These experiments are to "by-pass" the cow and the steer, both of which are now very inefficient manufacturers of milk and beef! The whole study of diet is in a most elementary stage. We will have much more tasty and nourishing food direct from the use of minerals, sunshine, water and air, at much lower prices. We will buy peaches ground up, skin, flesh and seed; meats and fish ground up, bones, body and skin; while lobsters will be sold claws, meat and tamale all ground into a delicious paste suitable for lobster bisque or thermidor. These preparations will be more tasty and nourishing and sell for less money because of the reduced labor involved.

UNLIMITED POWER OF THE MIND

4. The power of the mind over matter has been emphasized by certain religious organizations; but only recently has such power been tested in laboratories. I am especially interested in the work of Professor J. B. Rhine of Duke University, Durham, North Carolina. His experiments definitely prove that the mind acting upon a plant or planted seeds can have a direct effect in hastening or retarding growth. The Fonda Horse, three miles south of Richmond, Virginia is worthy of study.

WATCH THE PLASTIC INDUSTRY

5. The use of plastics has, as yet, hardly been scratched. Women are carrying plastic bags and are wearing plastic raincoats; but other plastic materials, including rugs and dress goods, are about ready for the market. The purpose of these is to entirely eliminate weaving by rolling out the goods from a liquid the same as paper is now made. Leather shoes, which now require about one hundred separate operations, will someday largely be discarded for quickly moulded shoes. Such plastic shoes should stand up longer, be more beautiful, requiring only 10 workers instead of 100, and will sell for half present prices.

A UNIVERSAL RELIGION

6. I visualize a great movement toward Church consolidations. Many readers may not class such a movement as "miraculous" as some of the above developments, but it will be. No wealth, inventions, or new products will make the world a better place in which to live unless accompanied by a spiritual awakening. All these can be used either to construct or to destroy according to the peoples' religious faith. The first step to such a spiritual awakening will be Church consolidations and a universal religion.

Eggs Are Rich In Protein Food

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 21—Eggs are an excellent protein food. They are rich in vitamin A and this makes them a good body building food. The vitamin B helps to promote good digestion and egg yolks are one of the richest sources of vitamin D. You get all of this and more, and it's all done up in one neat package when you eat eggs, says Lucille Shultz, associate extension foods and nutrition specialist of Texas A. & M. College.

She says right now eggs are one of your best buys. They are cheap. The supply is abundant and next to milk are the most important protein food you can use in the diet for the growing child. Besides the vitamins, they contain iron which is a body builder and the phosphorus helps make strong teeth and bones. The appetite appeal of colorful egg dishes, she points out have no age limit—from baby to grandad. Eggs make fine dishes for breakfast, dinner or supper and should be served every day.

Miss Shultz says the growing child should have at least one egg every day and that adults should eat eggs four or five times per week. She says there are many different ways to prepare eggs for the family table and that the method of preparation should be varied for variety adds to their appetite appeal.

She offers these suggestions on egg cookery. Eggs should be cooked with low heat—high heat tends to make the eggs tough. For best success in beating egg whites, use them when they are at room temperature. Strictly fresh eggs, she adds do not peel easily and the older eggs should be used for hard cooking. When you make custards, overcooking will cause the eggs to curdle and too much beating or mixing, in the case of cakes, will cause a loss of air and you'll lose the lightness and fluffiness that you want in your cakes.

If you are interested in getting more information on preparing egg dishes and hints on cooking, she suggests that you call on your local county home demonstration agent for recipes and cooking hints.

In Basketball

Because of lots of hustle, hard work, and stick-to-it-iveness, twelve girls and their manager will be awarded basketball letters in recognition of their efforts for 49-50 campaign. They've accomplished quite a lot this year; for instance, they've had the best basketball season in a number of years. They've completed quite winning streak. They brought home the county championship for the first time since 1936, and tonight they'll be giving it all they've got as they go into the district playoffs at Lubbock against Shallowater at 9:15 p. m. WIN, LOSE, OR DRAW, WE'RE BEHIND YOU ONE HUNDRED PER CENT.

The following have already won their letters.

Beverly Casey, forward; Billie Graves, guard; Jo Ann Hill, forward; Emily Jarnigan, guard;

Is Presented

Presentation of the County Trophy by the basketball girls to the school was the high point of assembly Friday. Coach Hedges presented it to Kay Malone, captain of the girls team, and she in turn presented it to Mr. Kirk on behalf of the girls' basketball team.

Preceding this were a few sketches of the Junior Play which was given Friday night.

Top Basketball Teams To Compete

LUBBOCK, Feb. 22—Repeat district champions and new district champions will compete Friday in the Texas Tech gym in the annual Region 1 Class B basketball tournament, rated as the top tournament of the state.

Back as district winners in the Texas Interscholastic league set-up are Shallowater, last year's regional winner, Roaring Springs, Dimmitt, Ropesville and Samnorwood. All rate as top contenders. Two games are scheduled Friday morning, with four that afternoon and three Friday night. Semi-finals are set for Saturday afternoon, with finals at night. However, after teams arrive, the Saturday afternoon contests may be shifted to morning in order to allow teams more rest before the final test that night.

Donna Kimbrough, guard; Wanda Kimbrough, forward; Dolores Locker, forward; Kay Malone, forward; Leatrice Martin, guard; Margaret Sanders, forward; Jo Addine Wagon, guard; Jeri Nell White, guard, and Sondra Wagon, Manager.

HOW TO COACH FOOTBALL
 Here are a few things every young coach should know.
 What to wear: At scrimmage sessions the coach should turn out in a long, floppy topcoat and a slouch hat. No one expects a man in slouch hat and floppy topcoat to exert himself running around catching passes. Coaches foolish enough to wear old sweat shirts have to earn their money the hard way, and often are mis-

New Hemingway Novel

Ernest Hemingway's new novel, "Across the River and into the Trees," is the story of a fifty-year old U. S. infantry colonel who returns to Venice for a last visit with a young and beautiful Italian girl. They are happy in their intense love, but it is a happiness made poignant by their realization that the war-battered colonel hasn't long to live. Hemingway, in describing their last visit, recounts the events in the soldier's colorful life which made him the brutal, and yet strangely tender man that he is. The novel starts in the February issue of Cosmopolitan magazine and is Hemingway's first work since his famous "For Whom the Bell Tolls," published in 1940.

taken for tackling dummies. Being mistaken for a tackling dummy is liable to cut down your years of efficiency. Some coaches like to wear a little gold football on their watch chain to prove they know what game it is. This is not a bad idea.

What to say when you're winning:
 When your team comes through you may find yourself asked to address the local Rotary Club. Here are a few things to mention: (1) That old school spirit; (2) My boys; (3) Out weighed but not outplayed; (4) Brilliant cooperation.

What to say when you lose:
 When you lose you may be invited to address the Athletic Council and Faculty. This calls for a different type of speech. (1) Breaks of the game; (2) Win or lose it molds character; (3) Scholastic standing is what really counts; (4) After all it's only a game; (5) Your invalid wife and tiny children.

When to look for a new position:
 The young coach will do well to seek greener fields, at any of the following signs: When the county girl at the hamburger palace tells you what she figures was wrong with last Saturday's game; when Campus papers run editorials entitled "Hey What Gives With Our Team"; when the president of the Alumni Association stops smiling at you.

Junior Play Given Last Friday Night

"Aunt Samanthy Rules The Roost," a farce in three acts was presented by the Junior class last Friday, February 17 in the Muleshoe high school gym before a large crowd of friends and students. Also the following Monday afternoon the group presented the play at a matinee.

This play was centered around an old maid, Aunt Samanthy played by Cora Stinson. Her two neices, Serena and Sophie Simpkins played by Joyce Atchison and Barbara Barnett were desperate to get married but their boyfriends, Ted Harrison cast as Blair Boswell and Bill Aylesworth who played as Frank Fairfield, were afraid to come see them because Aunt Samanthy might be home.

Polly Paine, the maid, played by Joy Jones solves everybody's troubles but her own by putting love powders in the lemonade. Her boyfriend the grocery boy, Buddy Baskins played by Jimmy Thomas just never was thirsty. Salty mackerel finally fixed that though.

Aunt Samanthy's friends are Anne Ambrose played by Ann Johnson and Blanche Bowers played by Jean Johnson. The audience will never forget her remark, "Ain't that the truth though?" Lawrence Lovell, played by Frank Cox and Lucian Littlefield played by Kenneth Hicks become Aunt Samanthy's love interest.

This play was under the direction of Mrs. Brown, Mr. Bailey and Miss Griffin. Stage managers were Gene Tipps and Ray Kersey. Announcer was Lee Kimbrough.

Between the acts, entertainment was presented by Dixie Jennings and Mona Smith.

Users were Donna Kimbrough, Billy Faye Graves, Sandra Waggon, Kay Malone, Jeri Nell White, Pat Broyles and Mary Morton.

COVIN HOME FROM OKLA. U.

Bill Covin was home this last weekend from Oklahoma University where he plays football. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Covin of the Covin Motor Co.

When no dew follows a hot day, rain may be expected.

If there's anything more determined than a woman trying to get a word in edgewise, it's a man trying to get there first. My sister and I were fighting hard, but my spouse and brother-in-law were in the lead. The big discussion revolved around the dream house our relatives were going to build. Jean clamored loudly for getting floor plans settled. But the male contingent was busy with a man-to-man debate on materials.

"Of course I realize," Jean told me with heavy sarcasm, "that copper tube is more important than where the kitchen sink goes!"

"You might think so in a few years when it saves you from having to cook, clean, and wash with rusty water," brother-in-law Bill stated.

"But the floor plans..." wailed Jean.

"Look," said Bill, "a home is only as good as its essential accessories. You've got to make up your mind about things like water line tubing and outdoor hardware. You want radiant heating... what kind of coils? What about gutters and down spouts and chimney flashings?"

"Don't think you're so smart," put in Jean. "I know that flashings are the things around chimneys that prevent rain from leaking in. But what difference does it make if you haven't got a room under the chimney?"

"What good is a room if the roof caves in?" yelled Bill.

In with his two cents came Jeff, my ever-loving "Bill, you know your mind is made up. You're set on copper, brass, and bronze for everything from flashings and heating coils to hardware and window screens because they're rustproof and withstand corrosion. You just can't get a better long-time value for your money. Now let's go get a cigar and let these females decide the details."

As they rounded out the door Jean got a satanic look in her eye and grabbed a pencil.

"Details," she yelled, "details! I'll fix him. These are the final floor plans. Bill's study goes next to the coal bin. The living room will be on the third floor. We'll have the back porch in front..."

And edgewise or not, the female of the species got in the last word!

Rural Youth In Gardening Project

Now that they have received the signal— brightly colored seed catalogues boys and girls in the Southern states are anxious to get started in becoming expert 4-H gardeners.

It is estimated that more than 125,000 of the rural youth in Texas and thirteen other southern states will take part in the 1950 National 4-H Garden program. In it they will learn how to manage a well-planned garden, carry out a program of vegetable insect and disease control, and market produce in an economical and improved manner.

Through their garden project, they will increase individual and family incomes by reducing the amount of food purchased. They will also contribute to better family health by producing sufficient amounts of essential and nutritious vegetables and fruits for use through the year.

Incentives for outstanding achievements in gardening include gold-filled medals of honor for four county winners, and an all expense trip to the Chicago 4-H Club Congress next November for the state champion, provided by Allis-Chalmers. Eight national winners selected from the state champions will each receive a $300 college scholarship.

The 4-H Garden program is conducted under the direction of the County Extension agent who will furnish complete information. Winners were named in 99 counties this last year.

FOUNDATIONS FOR OUR FAITH

Continuing Rev. Craft's article. Another installment will be published in the paper next week.

BELIEFS IN THE IMMORTALITY OF THE SOUL

As the human embryo grows to maturity, the powers of the genes also grow. They grow from the invisible to the very visible and powerful parts of the organism. The eyes and ears, nose, hair and limbs; and all the internal organs developed until all are mature. The biological growth is eventually completed, and then the body performs the functions for which it is capacitated. The life processes continue to flow in the human organism as it is supplied with foods and necessary elements for growth.

Foods are a particular form of energy. Dead matter regardless of the kind of chemical elements they are cannot provide food for the body. If men could eat non-living chemicals, man would not need to work and grow chemicals of the right sort. Foods are really prepared for man in the good earth by a process which is not clear to a scientist to explain, but this is the way nature works.

So man eats and drinks the proper foods and keeps his body growing and in proper repair. Foods represent energy, and are the means of providing the body with a form of energy that it can assimilate into the cells and tissues of the body. Once this energy is stored in the body it is ready to be used as the mind of man and as the body itself may demand. Nature uses part of this energy to keep the body in repair without any help from the conscious self, or its direction. The power that makes the body function is inherent in the body and is not dependent upon the action of the mind in a conscious effort. But the conscious mind can and does divert much of this energy towards certain uses and purposes. Most of the energy seem to be drained off toward certain physical ends through the action of brain and muscles. Yet a portion of this energy is used to keep the brain in repair and at the same time to furnish energy with which to think and perform all mental functions. It takes as much energy to think as to do muscular work.

The brain itself is an organ designed for thinking and retaining thoughts. The fourteen billion brain cells in the gray matter of the brain are believed to be used in all mental processes in the functioning of the brain. It takes energy for the brain to exist and also to function. It takes energy and reality for the brain to maintain itself. Then is the brain just a mechanical organism? If we believe the brain to have in it the immortal energy which shall never cease in this life or the next one, how can we maintain this position?

All energy changes from one form to another. Matter as we know it now, is a form of energy that we know best. But this matter, congealed energy was at one time and in some places another form of energy. If all energy had its origin in God, it was then at that time in form of pure spirit, and had a different form to what we know it in matter. So if all energy was once a spiritual energy, it too was invisible reality. But it was immortal, and still is immortal. No energy can be destroyed; it can be changed. Now the body is the machine that converts energy as matter into a spirit or mind—at least a portion of it must of necessity be changed to spirit. It is this refined energy, or spiritual energy, that goes into the brain and is contained there as the mind and soul of man. To say that the mind does not exist, is to deny our conscious self. If disease attacks the brain and impairs its function, then the spirit or mind is handicapped in its total function and expression.

At disease's brain can prevent the normal functioning of the brain both in developing its mental life and in the expression of the same. Yet the body as an organism continues its mission with whatever powers and resources at its disposal to build such a spirit or mind as is possible. Imperfect minds certainly can be the product of disease or some biological defects. Perfect bodies should produce perfect and complete minds or souls. In every germ cell that is normal the innate soul-making powers are ready to function toward the development of a complete mind.

Regardless of the nature of the mind or soul in the body, the soul is composed of a refined type of energy which is itself an immortal entity. Certainly we do not believe that souls reach their maturity in this body. Imperfect ones will have a better chance for development in another life, and a spiritual body such as St. Paul described in the fifteenth chapter of I Corinthians. The body is an organism that transforms energy from natural forms of matter into various forms for various needs inside the body. Since the mind is such a powerful force, it must have a reality. If the mind is a reality, it is composed of energy of a spiritual nature.

Death when it comes to the body cannot destroy this soul energy. It can release this soul energy that envelops the universe just as sun light radiates a portion of the universal space.

If we believe that there are sorts of physical energy waves—of physical energy—radiating from the sun and stars and filling the universe with its presence—yet we see none of them—surely we would not deny that spiritual waves of energy radiate and are present in all the universe. After all the brain and its cells are mere receptacles for receiving and holding than for creative thinking. If all truth is God, and in God; then it is true that man can

Southwestern Life Reports Business Increase in 1949

Southwestern Life Insurance Company's agency force in 1949 produced $108,786,968 of new paid-up life insurance, a gain of 11.7 per cent over the $97,401,728 recorded in 1948, it was announced today by James Ralph Wood of Dallas, president, as the Company's 47th annual financial statement was released for publication. Company assets, which for the most part represent savings of the Company's 255,000 policyowners, at the end of the year amounted to $200,132,922.31. The statement reflected the Company's investment interest in Texas farms, homes and business properties. It showed a total of $57,228,791.34 in real estate loans, an increase of more than $18,000,000 over 1948. Southwestern Life's total insurance in force at the end of the year was $761,644,019, an increase of $64,435,879 in 1949. Policyowners and beneficiaries received payments during the year of policy benefits amount-only think or perceive what God has always been. Thoughts radiate from God and man's brain cells are receiving plates for storing knowledge coming forth from God by intuition. Such an idea does not conflict with our educational system of transferring thoughts and knowledge. In school, teachers and books share ideas, and the mind and brain grasp them. Thoughts come to us from without, and not from within. Our thoughts came from others, and the source of them all must be the source of all truth and thought—God. The soul or mind of man must itself be an energy of a refined sort. Like the meson in the atom it is unseen to mortal eyes; yet its reality is seen in its behavior. If energy—all sorts—is indestructible, who can say that soul is energy is also indestructible and therefore, as indestructible, it is immortal with a quality of immortal life.

Soul or mind energy is on the plain with God Himself, and will of course in time return unto Him, according to His laws of spiritual forces. The great scientists to day are no longer those who doubt God as a Reality. The minds of the scientists are turned to a faith in God, and in the ultimate Good. Now science has paved the road for our faith in a belief in God and in the immortality of the soul of man. So science and religion have come to stand on the same pinnacle of faith.

Fire Destroys $667,536,000 In 1949

Even though fire losses tapered off slightly during 1949, an estimated $667,536,000 in irreplaceable property was destroyed by flames during the year.

The total was only 6.1 per cent below the all-time record for destruction set in 1948, when losses were estimated at $711,114,000.

The thousands of fires which broke out each day during 1949 burned up homes and jobs as well as badly needed foodstuffs and materials required to keep the nation's production high.

Mrs. Carles Tells Of Early History

Back to the early days of Bailey County and Muleshoe went the minds of men on the wings of memory as Mrs. Beulah Carles and Mrs. Harry Wilterding related early days facts, figures, and remembrances before the Lions Club at its gathering Wednesday.

days when there were only two or three business houses in Muleshoe, and even before there was a Muleshoe. They were introduced by Lion Rufus Gilbreath, in charge of the program for the day.

In the beginning, related Mrs. Carles there was a terrific fight to determine what town would be the county seat, Hurley or Muleshoe. Amidst the "fuss" and "feudin'", the decision was in the making; Muleshoe became the county seat.

She remembered other communities besides Hurley and later, Muleshoe. There was Virginia City and Montezuma in the south part or central part of the county, but one could never tell; whilst the citizens of one community were wrapped in the sweet and peaceful arms of morpheus, citizens of the other community would steal the office building for their own settlement.

JAMES FIRST POSTOFFICE
James was the first postoffice Mrs. Carles, later for a long time postmistress in Muleshoe, remembers. It was about five miles east of the present townsite of Muleshoe. New Hurley was located on the railroad, about in the vicinity where, Blondy Puckett's store is now placed.

Finally, when the railroad came in 1913, John Santa Fe located the present town of Muleshoe, and people began to move houses here from Farwell, Bovina, and elsewhere. They had no intention of building permanent houses here until they were sure the town would be permanent. The houses were placed on cedar post pilings and all arrangements were made so that they could be moved elsewhere else, just in case.

Old Hurley postoffice got its mail consignment from Bovina, the nearest railroad station before 1913, on a three days a week basis. The carrier had to cross ranches, opening and closing gates.

Spots in the section were designated not by community names but by the names of ranches and windmills: For instance there was the Blue Mill, and the Dugout Mill, the Mashed-O, the LFD, the James, and many other ranches by which to guide oneself in a country where it was easy to get lost.

Mrs. Carles remembers when recreation was on a town-wide or community-wide basis. They would go to square dances many miles away in a wagon, and had no thought of returning that night; they'd dance most of the night, return home late the next day. She herself, spent two nights and a day and a half at a neighbor's house on such an occasion. Upon returning home they found the snow had filled the pig pen and the pigs had simply walked out of their pen over the snow.

PLENTY OF RECREATION
They had neighborly dinners and dances. Usually two violins and an organ were the instruments used to furnish dance music. Once, when unusual weather filled Soda Lake with water, people nearly every evening got together, took all the children, and, closing everything at 6 o'clock went to the lake to let the children swim while the older folks prepared the evening meal and talked. Everybody went, without exception. Other entertainment features of their lives included the now almost forgotten Chataqua. A big tent placed on the site now occupied by Cobb's Department Store was used for the Chataqua, and people came here from farms and ranches miles away to attend their programs.

Mrs. Carles remembered the "Sand Hill Lillies" and other early day flora. Her description of a Plains sunset, with the foreground sprinkled with yellow flowers and all the fine white faces fronting a highway she was traveling will long be remembered by her hearers.

Many still think the building now used by Teen Town was moved here from Hurley as so many other buildings were moved. Not so, says Mrs. Carles. The building was erected by Will Wilterding, who incidentally was the first county judge, to be used as a courthouse. Mrs. Carles reveled later events; the big bank robbery, the feats of the Gaede boys, now heads of families, in track and field meets; C. C. Brooks building the first picture show; early day office holders. In conclusion, she said: "I am not a good speaker, but I love the South Plains, and I like to tell about its history."

Mrs. Wilterding spoke briefly. She recalled that she was the first school teacher in the county. She had 25 pupils but grades ran from the first to the 8th and she was pretty busy. She exhibited a 1921 official election ballot, a handbill telling of a labor day celebration and picnic in Y. L. community, and added some memories of her own to that of her friend, Mrs. Carles.

Kings Are Local Dealers For New Type Fertilizer

Several future Phillips 66 agricultural ammonia dealers were guests of the Fertilizer Sales Division of Phillips Chemical Company, February 16 and 17, on a trip to the lower Rio Grande valley and northeastern Texas. The purpose of this tour was to acquaint these dealers with the methods of application of agricultural ammonia.

The group left Amarillo by plane on February 16 for McAllen, Texas. They traveled by car to the vicinity of Elsa, Texas to see ditch side application of agricultural ammonia to irrigation water. This demonstration was put on by Nelson Abell and Chester Rousch, Jr., of Anhydrous Ammonia Company of Texas, Inc.

On February 17 the group visited Greenville, Texas, where Sykes Burnett and Alton West of Farm Service Company, Inc., demonstrated dry land ammonia application equipment. On the return flight to Amarillo, the plane circled over the anhydrous ammonia, ammonium nitrate, nitrogen solution and nitric acid manufacturing facilities of Phillips Chemical Company at Etter, Texas.

Guests making the trip include John Paetzold and Norman Moore, Associated Growers of Hereford, Hereford, Texas; Virgil Rowland and Arthur Singleton, The Rowland Company, Plainview, Texas; Thornton Musick and George Jackson, Farmers Chemical Company, Tulla, Texas; Robert King and Harold King, Western Fertilizer Co., Inc., Muleshoe, Texas, and Orville Nash, Nash Brothers,

Waco Tournament Entrants Return

The group of students from Muleshoe high school that went to the Waco debate tournament returned last Saturday with some good experience behind them and several wins to tell of. The individuals came back with three of this group having entered the finals in their respective departments. They will be notified the results of the finals by mail.

The newly organized girls' and boys' debate teams traveled to Waco only for the experience but they beat the A teams they were up against. The double and triple A teams proved better however. Marilyn Gupton who entered in the poetry reading contest with seventy-one other contestants was one of twenty to go to the finals. Out of forty-eight entrants in the dramatic reading Joyce Blackburn was one out of ten chosen for finals. Also Joyce was one of the forty-eight entrants in girls' declamation and was one of eight chosen from this group to go to finals.

Frank Cummings, one of the forty-six boys' declamation contestants, came out one of the twelve boys chosen for finals. These three people had to speak before two different audiences and before two different groups of judges and had to meet certain qualifications before they were chosen to go into the final round. The members of the debate teams were Howard Tate, Jerry Julian, Charles Taylor, Bill Thomas, Mary Jo White, Billie Margaret Collins, Willa Kinn and Joy Snyder. Rold Johnson was also entered in the poetry reading but did not place.

Mrs. Horace Blackburn and Don Jackson accompanied the group to Waco.

VISITED IN TURKEY
Mrs. Woodie Lambert and Judy Kay spent the weekend in Turkey with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Jim Arnold. Her mother returned home with them to spend the week.
