

Mr. Muleshoe . . .

By J. M. Forbes

Seen & Heard:
Mrs. Lela Barron: I have resided in Muleshoe since 1919 and I have never seen such a mild winter as we have had this time and I never seen a February before that seemed just like spring.
Saturday especially was a typical spring day in old Bailey County. I hear buds are swelling on the Chinese elms hereabouts. But probably in time to get scolded by a belated winter storm a little later.

Mrs. A. W. Black: We have had peaches every year for several years despite late freezes or other hindrances. Last year we got up at 12 o'clock to spray water on our trees. The water froze during trees, protected the buds during an approaching cold spell. Our peaches are large, flavorful, and we have had all we wanted for our home use.

I asked the county agent, J. K. Adams about that, not that I doubted Mrs. Black's story.
"Why, yes," he said at once. "That is becoming common practice. Seems that the ice comes and leaves the bud warm and snug inside, on the same principle that the Eskimos live in ice snow houses. I am convinced that we can have fruit here on the Plains with proper care of the trees." He agreed with Mrs. Black that peach trees need more water than one would think.

Swisher County orchard owners leave a depression about the roots of their trees to catch all the water possible. Trees should be planted deep so the root system will not be near the surface. Then, it's all right to fill the depression with water as a late freeze approaches, which he says, helps to stave off killing of the budding fruit. Rio Grande Valley people will flood their fields when they hear a freeze is coming, he said.

Note to FFA boys and instructors: A friend has loaned me a copy of her home town paper printed in a northern state. I read and re-read two letters from German farm boys to FFA boys in this country. Most interesting reading I have seen in quite a while. These kids told more about real conditions than some of our big correspondents are able to do. Would like to see this stunt duplicated here with our boys corresponding with boys in foreign lands and in turn receiving these most enlightening letters. Could we do this?

Shelby Talks At Lions Meet

Members of the Muleshoe Lions Club Wednesday noon heard a humorous talk by F. L. Shelby, introduced as an "agriculturist" by Bill Moore, who had charge of the program for the day.

Mr. Shelby, who formerly lived in Oklahoma, touched only briefly on the subject of agriculture but kept his listeners amused with his many jokes and anecdotes. Several Lions formerly lived in Oklahoma also and they came in for some gentle ribbing from the speaker.

The speaker said he figured the best way for a man to learn something about agriculture was to buy some of this land, install an irrigation plant and start trying to make money from his operations. "Our land keeps washing away, but we continue producing more than ever before," he remarked.
Seriously, the speaker said, when a man puts a seed into the ground he enters into partnership with God.

Lion Moore said this being an agriculture country, Lions ought to hear about agriculture. Randolph Johnson promises a good program for next Wednesday when he will be in charge.

Buster Reed was elected as Scoutmaster in Muleshoe by the club as a committee of the whole. He will succeed Lester Hammons, who is moving to Earth. The Lions sponsor Scout work here.

One polling place, the city hall, was designated. Persons who live within the district, have poll tax receipts and own personal or real property within the district will be eligible to vote, school Supt. A. Dooley said.

If approved by Sudan voters, the $125,000 will be used to make needed repairs to the elementary school and to convert the present gymnasium into an auditorium and to construct a new gymnasium.

Observers predict that the bond election, which would raise the tax rate from $1.30 to $1.50 per hundred dollars valuation on real property, will carry by an overwhelming majority.

A PLEA TO CONGRESS
When 80% of grass-roots editors answer "Yes" to the question, "Do you fear that our nation is headed toward Socialism?" Don't you think it is time something was done about it?
We have reason to believe that the majority of Congress wants Socialism. We know that if the victors in the last Congressional election had run on a Socialistic ticket, they would have been soundly defeated. Yet it is on the votes of Congressional majorities which have created the situation which makes our country editors see the Socialistic handwriting on the wall.
What can be done about it?

The editors say these are the big things to do:

1. Drastically reduce the size and cost of federal government.
 2. Re-establish home-rule by returning governmental authority, wherever possible, to the states and communities.
 3. Eliminate subsidies.
 4. Reduce social services of the federal government.
 5. Balance the budget and reduce the national debt.
- Frankly, the editors don't expect Congress to do any of these things. Their major hope seems to be that Congress won't pass too much additional "socialistic" legislation.—American Press.

BABSON DISCUSSES Human Relations in Industry

Babson Park, Fla., Feb. 24. One of the greatest problems which will confront us in the next twelve months is how to bring the break-even point down. When the present artificial boom has burst, producers must find ways to make more goods at cheaper prices and at the same time keep wages up, continue workers' short hours and give more benefits.

THE PROBLEM
This problem, reduced to its simplest form, resolves itself into a question of what makes men work. It is no secret that in many plants worker productivity per man has fallen off considerably. Why? For too long a time management has tried to force workers to do their best by threats of liquidation or lay-offs. This policy of fear nourished strife and bred labor unions.

Then the government stepped in with the Wagner and the Taft-Hartley Acts and said in effect, "We shall legislate cooperation and peace and an attitude of enthusiasm for work." How in heaven's name can you "legislate" industrial peace by setting up a political football game between labor and management? The backers of one team demand more and more touch-downs, or else the coach will be fired. The rooters for the other team will be satisfied with nothing less than the goal posts and painting the town red. A scheme of this sort is unfounded and can result in nothing but friction.

MANAGEMENT'S OPPORTUNITIES

The officials of too many corporations have inherited this scheme of things from their forebears. But we too have succumbed to their time-worn dogmas about management's prerogatives and labor's place in the scheme of things. Yet, if we are to preserve Democracy, avoid state socialism and develop a state of abundance, then we will send teams out to explore, conquer, and develop this relatively unknown frontier of Human Relations in Industry.

One small manufacturer, some months ago, became desperate. His break-even point was too high and he faced a shutdown. But a simple formula was evolved which resulted in a production increase of 160% in a short space of time. Here's how. Management found that about 38% of its sales dollar was charged against the cost of labor. Labor was offered the difference between the 38% and whatever savings it could effect. Labor accepted the challenge. Cost dropped—production went up—new business was available on the basis of decreased costs of production, and deliveries were made on time at a profit to all parties.

WHY LABOR DOESN'T PRODUCE

One of my own employees worked a few years ago as assistant to the president of a nationally-known company with its share of labor troubles. He put on a pair of overalls, went out into the plant as a sort of labor-spy. He learned how to use a paint spray gun and after a while was fully accepted by the workers as one of them. Among other things he was taught by them how to hold work back so that management would never know how fast they could really work. He learned how to so mix his paint and to so spray that he could collect for a three-coat job when in reality the company was getting only a one-coat job.

This new man observed skilled workers withholding their skills from new workers. He watched spilage pile up. He saw workers let excellent suggestion for improving efficiency and cutting costs go down the drain, and then sneer at management because it was so inefficient. Company problems were none of their business, for these men "only worked there." Labor productivity has been frozen by management.

CONCLUSION
I believe that we can save our private enterprise system only by allowing the wage-workers to become an entrepreneur along with management. When the workers can have a personally gratifying part in solving their company's production problems; when they can reap a proportionate reward; then, you won't have to worry much about "collective bargaining" in your plant.

PRESERVATION OF PEACE SHOULD BE OBJECTIVE OF CONGRESS

"The preservation of peace should be the number one objective of Congress and the American people," Congressman George Mahon, Representative of the 19th District, said this week in Washington.

The statement followed a series of meetings of top military leaders with the Committee on Military Appropriations of which Mahon is chairman.
"Despite the fact that within recent months Russia has developed an atomic bomb and overrun China, the over-all Military Program for this country has not been greatly changed," Mahon continues. "Our whole problem of national defense should be re-examined in the light of these events. It is true that the Military Forces of this country on land, sea and in the air are in a better state of readiness for immediate combat now than at any time since the demobilization following World War II, but our forces are smaller than last year."

On account of the inadequacy of funds and on account of the impact which a large military establishment would have upon the economy of the United States, this country is not undertaking to maintain a large military force in being that could wage sustained warfare, according to the Congressman. Yet the findings of Mahon's committee show that unless the rate of airplane procurement needed in the budget this year is increased in succeeding years, the United States Air Force and naval air arms will become less

Papers To Carry Much of Conoco 1950 Advertising

Continental Oil Company has budgeted an advertising program in excess of three million dollars for 1950 to introduce its newly-announced motor oil, according to R. R. "Bud" Holton, local Conoco agent.

Exceeding the 1949 expenditures by more than a half million dollars and marking the largest appropriation in the company's history, Holton said that a large share of the advertising this year, as in the past, will be apportioned to newspapers.

"We believe newspapers fit themselves to our distribution system more efficiently than any other medium," Mr. Holton said, "and therefore they have again been selected to carry the bulk of the Conoco advertising impact." The advertising will feature the new Conoco "Super Motor Oil," recently announced by the company after eight years' laboratory research, two winters of testing in the North and a 50,000-mile road test along the Mexican border.

Holton said the advertising will stress the 50,000-mile test of the new oil, which showed "virtually no wear" in the engines of the six automobiles and four trucks used in the 70-day run in sizzling heat that at times reached 110 degrees in the shade.

National magazines, radio, television, billboards and farm publications will also be used for Conoco advertising this year.

FFA Boys And Dads Met 24th

On Thursday evening February 24 the fathers of the Freshman Agriculture boys met with Mr. Dowell to talk over the course in vocational agriculture and the problems that students in the Muleshoe community will have in the next few years and how they can be included in the course. The

Rubber In Your Roads May Stretch the Highway Dollar

Laying a rubber road in Virginia. Particles of natural rubber are mixed with the asphalt surfacing to increase wear and reduce skidding.

It costs nearly a billion dollars a year to keep America's 3,300,000 miles of present highways and streets in repair, to say nothing of building new ones. So it is no wonder that highway engineers and tax-payers are watching with keen interest a new idea in road surfacing that may cut millions of dollars off the annual road repair bill.

The idea is to mix particles of natural rubber with the asphalt surface coating on a road. The Dutch tried it 12 years ago, and found that it made the road stand up better under winter cold and summer heat.

A test rubber road in Holland, after 12 years' use under heavy traffic, is still in good shape, while adjacent strips without rubber have had to be repaired twice.

In 1949 four states—Ohio, Virginia, Minnesota and Texas—laid test strips of natural rubber-asphalt paving. If these prove as successful as highway engineers hope, a new era in road construction will be here. And in addition to extra wear, these rubber-surfaced roads have proved that they reduce skidding.

A free booklet describing these rubber roads and the tests which are being made can be obtained from the Natural Rubber Bureau, Dept. N100, 1631 K St., N.W., Washington 6, D. C. It is called "Stretching Highway Dollars— with Rubber Roads."

program consisted of a demonstration of chapter conducting, parliamentary procedure, testing milk for butterfat and a discussion of advanced breeding problems. The boys taking part were: Willy Wayne Wagnon, Melvin White, Charles Mayhugh, Bruce Sinnacher, Bob King, Sig Kimbrough, Billy Bowen, Pat Vinson, Darrell Myers, Johnny Ladd, Eugene Buhman, Jimmy Hall, Jody Blaylock, and Kiel Quisenberry.

After the program the boys left and the fathers and Mr. Dowell had a heart to heart talk about the boys and their work, what is being done, and what can be done to make the course better. Fathers of the F. F. A. boys who were present were: Fred Johnson, S. L. Robison, I. R. Elder, Eddie Lane, E. F. Wagnon, W. D. Dement, R. L. Hughes, R. E. Herrington, Vernon Vinson, L. S. Hall, M. B. Blaylock, H. H. Potter, C. R. Mayhugh, J. W. F. Otte, Johnnie Myers, Earl Ladd, Cecil Buhman, Lloyd Quisenberry, Finis Kimbrough and L. E. Bratcher.

Mr. Dowell says that most of the other subjects in high school are about the same whether taught in Muleshoe, California, Vermont, or the Rio Grande Valley but vocational agriculture is quite different in each instance. He and Mr. White, the fathers of the boys, and the boys themselves, are trying to determine what the agriculture problems of Bailey County are and do something about them. There are 70 boys enrolled in the vocational Agriculture Department, forty-seven of them are freshmen.

Hopper Alert For Panhandle Is Sounded

COLLEGE STATION—It may be a little early to start talking about grasshoppers, but farmers and ranchmen are urged to be ready to stop them this year before they leave their egg beds. Once they begin moving out of the areas where they hatch, effective control becomes more difficult, says H. G. Johnston, extension entomologist of Texas A. & M. College and state leader for the grasshopper control program in Texas.

He says recently completed surveys show heavy infestations of grasshopper eggs in at least three areas of the state and warns that hoppers can again build up to plague proportions. The weather at hatching time will materially affect the situation, he adds.

The surveys show the danger spots to be in the Brazos valley especially in Robertson and Milan counties; in the Trinity valley in Kaufman and south Dallas county and along the Elm Creek Fork in north Dallas county and in the Panhandle. One area in the Panhandle — along the Oklahoma line — is termed by Johnston as a threatening area while the other area extending from the north-west corner of the Panhandle southeastward to Amarillo contains infestations of the eggs of the migratory hoppers. These are difficult to control because of their migratory movements. The seriousness of the situation in this area will depend upon the weather conditions at hatching time — late May — says Johnston. He urges farmers and ranchmen in that section to be ready for an all-out fight should the hoppers become a menace to their crops and pastures.

He says the program in Texas will operate the same in 1950 as it did last year. Special emphasis will be placed on the use of insecticides for control rather than on the bait method. Results from last year's program show that toxaphene and chlordane are excellent grasshopper killing chemicals if used at the right time. The use of these chemicals plus neighborhood and community-wide cooperation can make control of local infestations a simple and inexpensive job, he says. Every farmer in infested territory should be ready to spray or dust his field margins, fence rows, roadsides just as soon as the hoppers begin to hatch.

The migratory hoppers must be controlled before they leave the egg beds. They soon scatter over wide areas and thus control becomes a difficult problem.

Win Lone Star State 4-H State Championships

FOUR Texas 4-H State winners in the 1949 Canning, Dress Revue, Field Crops and Food Preparation programs each received an all-expense trip to the 28th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. Brief outlines of their records follow:

State honors in the 1949 National 4-H Canning Achievement program went to Laverne Goertz, 18, of Red Rock. Besides having an outstanding canning record, she did a good job in other phases of 4-H work, completing 36 projects. Laverne canned 4,500 quarts of fruits and vegetables in the seven years she devoted to her canning project and has won 15 ribbons for canned products entered at county fairs. Besides preserving fruits, vegetables and soup mixtures, she has also canned some meats and fruit juices. This contribution to the family food supply not only cut costs, but added a greater variety of healthful meals. Laverne took an active part in the local club, serving as president and secretary, and as song leader in the county group. She is the winner of several first place prizes for her work in food preservation. In recognition of her achievements, Laverne was awarded an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, provided by Kerr Glass Mfg. Corp. Five years in 4-H club work brought State honors to Leora Callahan, 16, of Bastrop, in the 1949 National 4-H Food Preparation program. Leora became an expert meal planner, having cooked and served more than 3,100 meals in five years for 10 members of her family ranging in age from three to 20 years. She estimates the value as $9,300. During one summer when the new house was being built, she cooked for eight carpenters too, all on an oil stove. Now she works in a modern, well planned kitchen. Leora believes planning and management are very important in meal preparation. She gave an excellent demonstration to 50 Bastrop County women in the use of a master mix for biscuits and desserts. She has completed 31 projects and served her club as leader and president. As a reward for her fine record, Leora was awarded an educational trip to the National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago, provided by Serval Home Economics Dept.

State winner in the 1949 National 4-H Field Crops program was Lowie Rice, 17, of Big Spring. He was given an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago, provided by International Harvester Co. What Lowie learned about soil preparation, seed treatment and new methods of cultivation enabled him to make an outstanding record. He grows cotton on 4½ acres, and says a successful crop depends upon the selection of seed, care of the soil and the right type of machinery. Although there is not enough moisture in his part of the country to have really successful gardens, he has grown peas, corn, watermelon, and cantaloupe. A 4-H'er for 16 years, Lowie has held almost every office in his club and has been their leader for 3 years.

Lucille Downey, 16, of Kirkland, was Junior State winner in the 1949 4-H Dress Revue. Her dress is a blue grey chambray. The blouse has short cuffed sleeves, a high collar and is buttoned down the front with pearl buttons. Her skirt has soft unpressed pleats. Lucille wears a navy blue ribbon hat, navy calf shoes and bag, white cotton gloves and white necklace to complete her costume. She estimates the cost of her outfit at $34.53, including all accessories. Lucille has carried her clothing project for six years and has won high honors on her 16 exhibits. She has held many offices in her local club and is their junior leader. In recognition of her achievement, Lucille was awarded an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago, provided by Simplicity Pattern Co.

All of these activities are conducted under the direction of the Extension Service of the State Agricultural College and USDA cooperating.

Lazbuddy Boy Shines In Show At Hereford

(From Amarillo News)
HEREFORD, Feb. 25—A red-headed Parmer County 4-H Club boy turned in a master performance of ring showmanship Saturday to climax this city's two-day spree of opening the new Jim Hill Hotel, parading and exhibiting livestock.

Jerry Gleason, 13 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Gleason, Route 1, Muleshoe, gave many veteran showmen something to shoot at when he sold his Duroc pig at auction in the local livestock arena.

With the typical zest of a youngster and the technique of a super-salesman, Jerry peddled a last-place pig at a top-notch price. Auctioneer Lloyd Otten of Clovis stepped up the bidding when he noticed Jerry was showing his pig and asking for bids at the same time. The audience of approximately 500 spectators in the bleachers cheered.

Jerry turned to the right, then to the left, all the time keeping his pig in hand. Jack Bradley finally landed the high bid at 42 cents a pound, the second greatest price of the sale. The crowd cheered again when Jerry left the ring.

The youngster, five years in 4-H apparently does well as a showman wherever he goes. He did so well in the ring at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, Fort Worth, this year that adult breeders asked him to show their pigs.

"Jerry has a way of keeping the attention of the judge on his pig all the time," said his coach, Agricultural Agent Ollie Linder. "He can take an average hog and show him way up high."

Jerry also dominates activity at Lazbuddy where he is an eighth-grader at school. He is master of ceremonies for many student programs.

Veterans Land Program Beset By Growing Pains

Bascom Giles, Commissioner of the General Land Office and Chairman of the Veterans Land Board, last week issued an "informal memorandum" to the 51st Legislature calling attention to the necessity of expanding the $25,000,000 Veterans Land Program at the next regular session.

"Within a very short time," Commissioner Giles pointed out to the legislature, "we will have received a sufficient number of applications to fully obligate the total $25,000,000 authorized by the constitutional amendment. But only approximately 5,000 veterans will have been taken care of, when many times that number desire to participate in the program."

"While we are processing an average of ten applications a day," Giles added in his prepared statement, "we are receiving new applications at the rate of 20 per day. Of the 4,700 applications received, most were signed for only a 90-day period. It was, therefore, to be expected that many options expire unless the sellers were willing to stand with the veteran and with us."

He described the personnel of the Land Program, of which Alvis Vandyriff is secretary, as consisting of "10 appraisers, 2 attorneys and 15 clerks, stenographers and typists."

"Our incoming mail is averaging approximately 200 letters per day," he stated, "and most of these letters require personal attention."

Listing the program's progress to date, Giles said that 1,600 farms and ranches had been appraised with approximately 72 per cent approved for the contract price. 509 purchases had been completed at an average price of $5,750, an average of $52 per acre including improvements. "Due to the heavy back log of applications and our limited staff," Commissioner Giles pointed out, "the time necessary to process an application filed at this time is at least 200 days."

WALL PAPER DECORATING

PUSH YOUR WALLS AROUND WITH IT

How many times have you wished that your living room was two feet wider, your hallway just a little larger and if only the wall space in the bedroom was not so broken up?

Unfortunately the average Mrs. Homemaker cannot change substantially the architecture of her apartment or home. But she can resort to decorating tips to minimize her problems.

The use of wallpaper is one of the easiest, most attractive and least expensive ways to alter your home. The proper wall paper can turn these defects in even the most difficult room into decorating assets.

Most everyone has a hallway, but not all of us are lucky enough to have one large enough to accommodate furniture. That's no reason to fret. A scenic wall paper here will give dignity and poise to this small area as well as creating the illusion of added space. Smart striped papers in muted colors will also achieve the same effect.

Living Rooms
Because the rooms are small, lighter tones and small patterns are best; they give a feeling of spaciousness and expanse. For an unusual effect wallpaper the hall area and three living room walls with a small geometric design and on one end of the walls, hang a colorful splashy floral.

Strangely enough, a room that is too big can present a decorating headache, too. Wall papers in deep, warm colors with bold designs done on a grand scale, will inject a feeling of warmth and coziness to the largest room. The darker hues and heavier patterns have a tendency to bring the walls together.

Wall paper plays a very important role in the decoration of the dining room, no matter what its size. Since the main pieces of furniture in the room are wood, it may very easily be cold and uninviting. Often the chairs provide the only source of color.

Therefore, timidity has no place in influencing the choice of wall coverings for this room. Even though the area may be small, the wall paper should be dramatic and eye-catching.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 5.

The Golden Text is: "Know ye that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture" (Psalms 100:3).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright; for the end of that man is peace" (Psalm 37:37).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is the creator of man, and, the divine Principle of man remaining perfect, the divine idea of reflection, man, remains perfect" (page 470).

Churches Unite In World Day Prayer Program, Feb. 24

World Day of Prayer program was observed in Muleshoe on Friday afternoon, Feb. 24 at the First Methodist Church by at least five denominations of Christian churches being present and participating in the observance.

Mrs. Roy Bayless brought the devotionals and explained the reason for setting aside a day of prayer for the nations of the world.

The program consisted of talks brought by Mrs. Askew of the Pentecostal Church, Mrs. Noel Woodley of the First Methodist Church and Mrs. Hubbard of the Assembly of God Church. Several prayers were offered and special music brought. The entire program was centered around the theme "Faith in Our Time" and was truly an inspiration to the entire group.

FOUNDATIONS FOR OUR FAITH

We continue Rev. Craft's article prepared for publication in this paper. Another installment will follow next week.

THE MORAL CAPACITY OF THE SOUL

The soul of man is the spiritual and mental powers which together constitute the inner and invisible being we know as the real self. At the center of the soul is the WILL. The will of the individual is the executive and administrative director of the soul. The Will directs all thinking; selects all responses to all stimuli; controls the emotional drives for action, and employs the imagination for whatever end it may choose.

One's attitude towards the many and varied experiences of life will largely determine the moral and spiritual concepts he may form out of life's experiences. Those things that appear to one to be harmful and to do him injury or harm are regarded with fear. The things that one fears sooner or later become barriers or hindrances to happy experiences. The nature of the mind is to either destroy or run away from those things that are harmful and unpleasant. When both things and people threaten to do one harm or injury; then it is that both are regarded with fear and suspicion. It is natural to leave alone the things that would harm either body or soul. If the harmful things and unfriendly people pursue one for injury; then the reaction toward such things and characters is to evade the experience of suffering in any degree of harm and injury. The desire on the part of any individual for peace and well being is basic to good will and friendly relations. However, one who desires peace and good will, and does all that he can to be friendly and have peace continually is rejected again and again; then the response to such people and even things becomes protective for his own welfare and well being.

What causes men to hate, to fear, to lie, to steal, to be dishonest, to kill, to rob, to malign, to covet, to criticize, to abuse, to censure, and to fight any person or group of people? Fundamentally such relations one may take towards an individual or a group of individuals is due to the fact such a person is afraid. At the bottom of all such reactions towards other people is due to a fear in some form toward some person or a group of persons. These fears are also man's reaction defense mechanisms. Any man who feels absolutely secure will not resort to such defenses in social conduct. The man who is afraid he will not have food and clothes may seek security of them by stealing, robbing, or by working. Either way may be a means for securing them. A man becomes afraid of another man, and because he is afraid of him, he seeks to render him harmless by destroying him—murder—or by getting him out of his eyes. Usually many subtle moves are directed towards the people we fear in order to be rid of their presence and influence. Nations which fear each other resort to "cold wars" in an effort to subject the other. The conduct of anyone under fear is not normal, and it is always anti-social. It is to be observed that all differences between any people is due to jealousy and fears of some form. We want to be rid of the people we fear. We fear them who interfere with our plans, positions, and prestige.

So out of our fears come forth our defense mechanisms. These mechanisms are protective for the individual. They are not only tools of defense, but become tools of offense also. Sometimes the defense is a good offense. So the evil nature of man is not an inherited nature as such, but a capacity whereby one may use it for anti-social and immoral purposes. Anything one does that brings harm to himself or to any other human being is considered evil and sinful. The nature of the soul is such that it can be developed into a fearful and unbelieving demon. Fear is the greatest power in human nature that may lead to evil. The man who fears another is always the man who will murder another. The man who does not fear will not commit murder. Fear makes cowards of otherwise good men. It is the coward that we must also fear. The coward will take advantage to save himself while he seeks to harm another. It was Mussolini who stabbed France in the back during World War II. It is the coward who comes in for the kill after the enemy is helpless.

What I would like for us to see in this discussion is that the moral nature of the soul is developed through the common experiences of life. The evil soul is developed through the experiences motivated by fear, jealousy, and cowardice.

The good and wholesome soul is also developed. Good souls are not born good any more than bad souls are not born bad. The kind of a soul that anyone has—good or bad—is made so by the kind of reactions towards the various experiences of life. If fear, jealousy and cowardice are motivations for building an evil soul; then it is true that love, faith, good will, confidence, hope, kindness are the motivations that will bring wholesome responses and a good life. Love displaces fear; trust displaces jealousy; goodwill displaces hate and distrust; hope displaces despair and vile imaginations, and kindness displaces

the ambition for revenge. Upon these good foundations one can hope to build a good life. The good soul has no desire to harm or hurt another human being. Instead of harming someone, the good soul lives to be good and to do good. A good person is always GOOD FOR SOMETHING GOOD. There is no such thing as a negative good man. If a person is good; he is good for something GOOD.

Our experiences of life are the forces out of which we forge our characters, but our motivations direct our responses to all stimuli and are responsible for the type of character each builds in the game of life.

Good people are creations of good motivations toward life's stimuli in the constant and growing experiences of an unceasing flow of life.

Bad people are creations of bad motivations toward life's stimuli in the constant and growing experiences of an unceasing flow of life.

But where does God come into character building? God furnishes every man with good thoughts and motivations. They who employ the good motivations of love, faith, kindness, hope, and goodness are using the instruments of God. The positive and good elements of all life come from God. Evil motivations are not of God; They come from man's own creation and are evil like man in his animal nature.

easy THRESHES IT

Rubber-against-rubber shelling contacts in the ALL-CROP Harvester give a natural shelling action, just as you rub out a head of grain in the palm of your hand.

The crop falls on a wide, rubberized draper and rides straight to the full-width, spiral-bar cylinder in a thin stream just as it grew in the field. Rubber-cushioned cylinder bars rub out the grain or seeds against rubber concaves.

This same gentle handling of over 100 grains, seeds and beans makes the All-Crop what is... truly an ALL-CROP Harvester. Stop in and talk to us about an All-Crop for your farm.

HEADS EXPANSION

CHICAGO—Erection of a new refrigerator factory on a 21-acre site alongside the world's largest range plant here has been announced by James J. Nance, president of Hotpoint, Inc. This will complete the final phase of the huge expansion program launched in 1947. Nance's announcement came as welcome news to both industry and the American home maker. The plant itself represents possibly the largest building construction in the middle west. To the house wife, centralization and company-operated manufacturing facilities for a full line mean quicker realization of better all-electric kitchens in practically every home.

Wheat Variety Schools Planned

Wheat Variety Identification Schools have been scheduled at six locations in Texas and Oklahoma. All schools will be two-day schools with the first day as a review of previous schools and to bring beginners in variety analysis up to date. The second day will be to train elevator and flour mill employees who are doing wheat variety analysis work regularly.

Our flour mills have found that in addition to using the variety survey maps and knowing the grade and protein level of the wheat purchased, they must also insist upon a definite variety mixture in order to produce flour which will satisfy the commercial bakeries. Premiums up to 10c per bushel are currently being paid by mills to get the gluten strength they require, according to K. E. Soder, director of the Texas-Oklahoma Wheat Improvement Program.

Schools will be held in Amarillo and in Lubbock. The Lubbock school will be held in the agriculture building on the Texas Tech campus, March 7 and 8. Amarillo's school will be held March 9, 10, and 11, in the San Jacinto Methodist Church.

Adams Family Has Fine Rural Home

Pictured here is the fine country home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Adams in the Bula Community of Bailey County, a home typical of the many comfortable modern homes now to be found on so many farms of this area. The Adams family are active in community and church affairs. They have one son, Bobby Jean, who is living at home and helping with the farming.

Mr. Adams is a director of the Bailey County Electric Cooperative and has taken an active interest in bringing more electric service to the people of this section. Their home almost could be called a model electric home, for they have many electrical appliances to make house work easier and their home more comfortable.

Since the advent of the REA with its electricity for power and light, and the perfection of butane systems for heating and cooking, rural homes of this section do not have to yield in any particular to homes of our modern cities.

J. B. FARLEY REACHES AGE 94, BIRTHDAY FETED

An early day business man here, Mr. Farley has long since retired. Mrs. Farley will soon be 84. The couple live alone. Mrs. Farley gets around rather poorly, rarely leaving the house, but he is pretty spry, making trips to the stores and to the postoffice.

Sunday three of the children were here to visit the couple: John and Jim Farley, of Chickasha, Okla., and Mrs. Mattie Gault, of Eloy, Ariz. Many of the neighbors and friends called during the day.

Rev. A. W. Blaine, pastor of the First Baptist Church, brought a recording of his Sunday morning sermon and the gathering listened to the record in the afternoon.

Two granddaughters also were here for the birthday celebration: Mrs. Claud Smith, and Mrs. Gene Andes and Mr. Andes of Sentinel, Okla.

Representatives of the Lubbock camp of Gideons International distributed several hundred New Testaments to school students in Muleshoe Wednesday.

J. C. Leech and O. D. Peden, Gideon members, distributed the books to fifth and sixth grade students in the elementary school. Every pupil in the Muleshoe negro school was given a copy.

In addition, Bibles were placed in each office and classroom in the schools. Copies also were placed in rooms of two Muleshoe hotels and in one tourist court.

One of the men spoke: "I dug this hole where I was told to and began to put the dirt back like I was supposed to. But all the dirt won't go back in. What will I do."

For a long while the supervisor pondered the problem. Then: "I have it. There's only one thing to do. You'll have to dig the hole deeper."—Scottish Rite Bulletin.

Bean Acreage Allotment Plans Are Being Made

Dry edible bean growers in Bailey County today were urged to cooperate fully with Production and Marketing Administration county committees, who are now starting to set up dry bean acreage allotments throughout the county.

H. E. Schuster, chairman of the County PMA Committee, said that committees already are at work gathering reports of bean acreage during the past 3 years. The reports will be used to establish 1950 farm acreage allotments for beans of the following classes: Baby Lima, Cranberry, Great Northern, Pea and Medium White, Pink, Pinto, Red Kidney, Small Red, Small White, including Flat Small White, and Standard Lima. The allotments will be based generally on the farm's bean acreage history for 1947, 1948, and 1949.

"Any farmer who operates a farm which produced dry edible beans of the allotment classes in any of these years should contact the county PMA office if he has not already furnished a committee with bean acreage data for his farm," Mr. Schuster said. If any farmer intends to plant beans on a farm in 1950 where no beans were planted during the period 1947, 1948, or 1949, he should file an application for a bean acreage allotment with the county PMA office NOT LATER THAN MARCH 1, 1950."

Mr. Schuster reminded growers that price support of 1950-crop dry edible beans will be available only to those farmers who have acreage allotments established for their farms and who plant within their bean acreage allotments.
