

Portales Pastor Addresses Lions

Rev. Homer Akers, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Portales, was principal speaker at the Lions Club luncheon, held Wednesday at Gerald's Cafe. He was introduced by Blondy Ray, who had charge of the program. Rev. Akers was accompanied here by a member of the Portales Lions Club, Rex Forrest, a county commissioner there.

He drew the story of Jacob and Esau from the Bible to apply his lesson. Esau held his birthright lightly, and Rev. Akers questioned whether we in America today are following his example. He said Americans should hold dear their sacred birthright, which includes the privilege of voting in elections according to the dictates of conscience; right of trial by a jury composed of one's fellow citizens; living in a democratic land where the citizen has his individual rights; and freedom of religion.

Rev. Akers believes that the world is in a serious muddle, but he believes the only solution to the world's troubles is "in democracy." He said Americans should follow the teachings of the lowly Nazarene, the Divine Christ.

Other guests of members of the club included H. E. Musson, retired engineer and farmer; Minister Ebb Randol, Jarvis Angeley, and Ed Hill. Noel Woodley, Lion Boss, reminded Lions that they are sponsoring the presentation here on April 18 of the Clovis Lions Minstrel. Proceeds will go for the summer youth recreation program. He named the following committees: Advertising—W. Q. Casey, Lowell Irvin St. Clair, and Carroll Goss; ticket sales and printing—Tye Young, Jack Holland and Jeff Peeler; preparation of gym-Sam Fox, Blondy Ray and Edward White.

The floor has been covered with new tile, ceilings are celotex. A unique lighting system sets off the new office. A big ceiling square of fluorescent lights and indirect lighting across the front carries out the modernistic design of the office.

The office has almost an entirely new complement of steel furni-

Truman Signs Cotton Acreage Allotment Legislation Into Law

President Truman signed into law on March 31, 1950, an amendment to existing cotton acreage allotment legislation, with respect to minimum farm acreage allotments.

Subsection (f) (5) of the Act reads, in part, as follows: "(5) Notwithstanding any other provision of law and without reducing any farm acreage allotment determined pursuant to the foregoing provisions of this subsection, each farm acreage allotment for 1950 shall be increased by such amount as may be necessary to provide an allotment equal to the larger of 65 percentum of the average acreage planted to cotton (or regarded as planted to cotton under the provisions of Public Law 12, Seventy-ninth Congress) in any one of such three years; but no such allotment shall be increased by reason of this provision to an acreage in excess of 40 percentum of the acreage on the farm which is titled annually or in regular rotation, as determined under regulations prescribed by the Secretary.

Every cotton farm owner or operator who expects to receive the minimum allotment must file a written application with his local PMA County Committee not later than April 28, 1950. The owner or operator of any Group 1 farm will be permitted to file this application, irrespective of whether his farm appears to be entitled to an adjustment.

Farmers of West Bailey County Try New Crop This Year - Dump At Lariat

More than 700 acres will be planted to sugar beets in the northwest part of Bailey County this year, it was revealed by D. L. Dunsmoor, representing the Crystal Sugar Company, Rocky Ford, Colo., this week. He said that farmers near Lariat have contracted with his company to seed that many acres, and announced that a "dump" will be set up by his company at Lariat.

This adds to the nearly 5,000 acres already contracted around Hereford, and the estimated 1,000 acres contracted around Plainview and Monroe.

With so much acreage signed up for sugar beets, some speculated that it might not be long before a refinery would be set up on the Plains. Mr. Dunsmoor said it likely would be company policy to wait and see. He said several years would elapse before the company could tell how permanent the beet growing industry would be and how widespread.

The poultry judging will be divided into judging hens for egg production, breeding purposes and market classes. Dairy products will be judging the quality of cream, butter and milk.

Crops contests will be two classes, identification of seed and judging of commercial grains which includes wheat, oats, corn, and grain sorghums. The seed identification teams will have to recognize 40 different kinds of field seeds.

Muleshoe will have three teams entered in the contests. Vocational agriculture teacher Ed White is coaching the dairy products and crops judging team and Dowell is coaching the dairy judging team.

All teams entered in this contest will be eligible to enter the judging contests at Texas Technological College in Lubbock next Saturday, April 15.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY COUNCIL TO HAVE BAKE SALE SATURDAY
The Women's Missionary Society of the Assembly of God Church will have a bake sale at the Cashway Grocery and Market Saturday, April 8. This will be an excellent chance to get your pastries for your Easter dinner, Mrs. G. H. Hubbard announced.

John W. Pearson, Jr., 34, son of Mrs. John Benson, of Muleshoe, died March 28 of suffocation, caused by a fire in his home, in East Ocean View, Va. Pearson was a chief petty officer in the U. S. Navy, a veteran of eight years service.

Funeral services and burial were in Elizabethton, Tenn.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Margaret Hatcher Pearson; his father, Art Pearson of Tellico Plains, Tenn.; his mother; three sisters, Miss Virgie Pearson of Elizabethton, Mrs. Lila Payne of Tellico Plains, and Mrs. Carroll Markwell, of Muleshoe; three brothers, Burnice Pearson, Muleshoe, Franklin Pearson, Tellico Plains, and John Benson, Jr., Muleshoe.

Mrs. Benson and Burnice Pearson attended funeral services.

High Per Acre Yield

For the Texas beet growing area last year the average yield was 15 1/2 tons per acre. Sugar content, which helps to determine the price to be paid for beets, ran fairly high, at an average of 15 per cent.

Prices have been fairly steady for beets, and recently have averaged $9.36 per ton, making a per acre yield of about $150, a high money return when compared to many crops now being grown on the Plains.

However, some cultivation costs will be higher than those for other crops. For instance, thinning this year in the Muleshoe area will be mostly by hand labor. There are block thinners on the market, but so far they have not proved practical for a country like this, where the seed will be planted on a high bed. There is a labor camp at Hereford, and it is expected that much of the labor required will come from that camp.

Lots of water is required to grow beets. Water in this first beet sugar growing project has been initiated, but it costs money to irrigate. Usually, fertilizers are used, also, just as in growing other crops.

There are cultivators on the market, notably one manufactured by International Harvester and a machine made by a Dallas firm for use on Ford tractors.

Few men who have contracted to plant beets will buy a drill for this year's seeding, it was said. Perhaps one or two will be distributed among farmers who intend to seed beets here.

Harvesting machines and trucks likely will be brought here from Hereford territory, it is believed.

Tops are left on the ground, ordinarily. Those farmers who have a livestock program use the tops, which are fine for stock feed.

Seed is sold by the company at 45 cents a pound. Arrangements have been made by the company to have Boone Allison, Lariat elevator man, handle the seed. They will be charged to the farmer and the cost will be deducted from his first pay check he receives for five pounds to the acre, so that cost of seeding beets is not out of line with that for other crops.

Seeding will start in the Bailey County territory shortly after the first of May. Harvest is usually started around October 1, continuing into December.

Cancer Deaths In Texas Produce A "Quack" Warning

AUSTIN, April 3.—Deaths from cancer in Texas reached a total of 7271 during the past year, indicating that a warning against the cancer quacks and so-called cancer cures is justified by the State Health Department. Early diagnosis and competent treatment could have prevented many deaths states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"There are but two ways of treating cancer. First, by surgery and second, by the use of radium or x-ray. Treatment must be begun early and in the hands of a competent surgeon. Surgery is relied upon to remove cancerous tumors and is used in nearly two-thirds of the cases. X-ray or radium is used to advantage for the remaining group. Frequently the two methods are combined. Self-medication, serums, colored light pastes, salves, and diets are valueless.

"The greatest protection against cancer is early diagnosis. Every case is an emergency and it is unfortunate that the majority of those with cancer do not seek medical advice early in the first stages of the disease. No hope should be placed in fake cures or treatments. Rather, the annual physical examination and an immediate reporting to your physician of any symptoms which may be suspected to be the beginning of cancer should be relied upon. These symptoms are: any unusual bleeding from any body opening, any lump in the breast or neck, any lump in the face or mouth, and chronic indigestion. These conditions may not be cancer, but sometimes they are forerunners of the more common types of this disease. Where cancer is suspected, do not delay, but consult your physician at once."

BARSON DISCUSSES Teaching Factory Workers

NEW YORK CITY—With a downward trend in the business cycle in the not too distant future, I am concerned about what will happen in the employment market for workers over forty—to say nothing of those sixty-five years and older. Assuming our present attitude and policy toward men over forty continues, we will have a real social problem.

POPULATION TRENDS
One hundred years ago, we were a nation in short pants. Our population is, however, gradually growing older.

For example, the U. S. Bureau of Census reports indicate that at the turn of the century, only one in twenty-five persons was sixty-five or older, or about four percent of the population. By 1940 the 65 and over group composed almost seven per cent of our population. The 1960 census will probably reveal a good nine per cent of our population in this older age bracket.

Assuming natural fertility and mortality and with immigration laws remaining constant, this has serious possibilities. Add to this, those between the forty-five and sixty-five bracket, project to the year 2000 and you will find 40 per cent of the population over forty-five! This maturing of our population is the result of advances in medical science, a declining birth rate, a markedly reduced number of young immigrants coming into our country, higher living standards resulting in a less hazardous physical life, etc.

ECONOMIC PROBLEMS OF OVER-AGE WORKERS
There are already today a number of men over forty who are jobless and tramping the streets. The Forty Plus Club can give you some soul shaking stories. In 1900 65 percent of the men sixty-five or over were employed. In 1949, there were but 45.6 percent with jobs. This is largely the result of the so-called "welfare legislation" due to which employers don't want to get loaded with older men who demand more unemployment insurance and who are more liable to accidents and sickness.

Back on the farm the older worker could assume the role of manager and let the younger hands do the more arduous tasks. The basic employment problem of older workers is something more than a problem of business cycles. It is the problem of the slowing down of physical and mental powers after forty; loss of dexterity, poor coordination, weakening eyesight, greater fatigue. But the conveyor belt continues to move just as fast whether you are young or old.

PREJUDICE AGAINST OLD WORKERS

Too many employers seem to identify oldness with a fixed age regardless of individual differences. There's no question but what the various compensation plans set up to protect the worker often militate against him because, in the words of one official, "Older employees add substantially to the cost of workmen's compensation, group insurance, and other welfare plans." Employment managers also tend to look upon older workers as unable to learn new methods—hence they are poor employment risks.

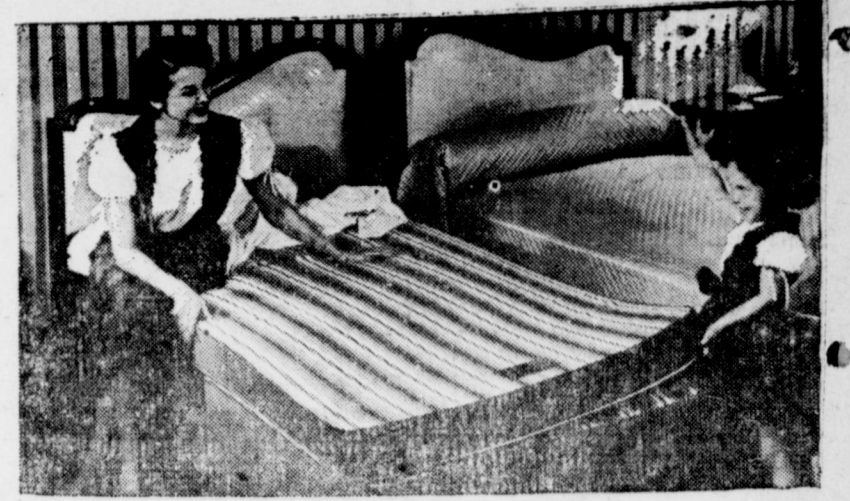

Psychologists tell us that while there is some slight decline in motor reactions and manual dexterity, the capacity to learn at eighty is as great as at twelve. This suggests that the older worker may not be such a poor investment after all. As a matter of fact, the Bureau of Labor Statistics claim that the older worker has a lower absentee rate, is less prone to accidents, and is more stable, and more loyal to his firm. Further, the older worker possesses a background of experience and maturity that often not possibly be matched by the younger worker.

SENIORITY RULES

What would help men over forty years of age most is to have the Unions revise their seniority files. Certainly the whole problem could well become an effective political football—and in fact already is. If private enterprise does not solve this problem, then the Government surely will step in. Here then is another challenge management. Let's hope management measures before it is too late.

I help run a GENERATOR?

That's not so far-fetched as it sounds! Behind every generator—and every other piece of equipment in your Public Service Company—are the investments of our "owners," the stockholders. These are the investments that run our company. You, or someone you know, may be a stockholder. Lots of folks are . . . doctors, teachers, housewives, ministers, and many others . . . and no one of them owns more than 2% of the total stock.

If you have a savings account at the bank, or life insurance policies, it is likely that some of that money has been re-invested in your Public Service Company. This is the way the company really belongs to the people. It's a case history of free-enterprise . . . the system that has made America great and strong.

Muleshoe Men Fish In New Mexico

Six Muleshoe men tried their luck fishing at the Conchas dam about 30 miles northeast of Tucumcari, N. M., over the week end. Members of the fishing expedition were N. H. Greer, Fred Johnson, Randy Johnson, Martin Oliver, F. L. Oliver and Coach Woodie Green. The party left Saturday afternoon and returned Monday afternoon. Randy Johnson reported that Sunday was an excellent day for fishing but Monday was rough and they were caught quite a distance from shore in a small boat when the high winds hit, but made it close enough to shore to wade out. Army engineers picked them up and carried them to their camp. The men reported an enjoyable trip but very little fish.

Now Is The Time For Spring Cleanup

COLLEGE STATION, April 4—High on the list of things to be done around the farmstead during the spring season should be the annual check-up for the home and other farm buildings. Now is a good time, says W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer, building of Texas A. & M. College, to inspect and make needed repairs before they become big expense items. Foundations should be checked for masonry cracks and also for crumbling mortar and cracks where masonry steps and porches join the foundation. Fill the small cracks with asphaltic cement and chip out the larger ones to a width of half-inch or more and fill with cement mortar, says Allen. On masonry or stucco walls, look for blisters and loose pieces of stucco. Check for cracks in brick or stone walls and for warped, split, or loose siding or shingles in wooden walls. Repair masonry as was recommended for foundations; remove loose mortar from between bricks or stone and replace with cement mortar. Badly warped boards and damaged shingles should be replaced, but re-nailing should be sufficient in lots of cases points out Allen. He says clapboard joints should be sealed with paint to keep moisture from entering and if the house needs a new coat of paint, spring or early summer is a mighty good time to do the job. Wooden cornices and window frames and trim should be checked for leaks and for loose nails, cracks, rot or warping, he says. When re-nailing set and putty each nail. Rotted wood should be replaced and all cracks filled with putty or caulking compound. Don't forget to check the roof and gutters, he adds. Shingles should be checked for looseness, course by course, for misplaced shingles of any kind causes leaks.

JayCees Guests Freshman FFA Chapter For Steak Dinner At Monday Meeting

The freshman FFA chapter of Muleshoe high school was host to the Junior Chamber of Commerce at a steak dinner held in the high school lunch room Monday night.

Nineteen members of the chapter and 18 guests were present.

The program was in the form of a regular meeting of the FFA Chapter and members of the JayCees became familiar with the work and organization of the Future Farmers of America. Reporter Bruce Simmacher gave the aims and purposes and the motto of the FFA. Howard Tate gave the creed and Roald Johnson read "One Boy in Fifty." Billy Bowen gave the general orders by which the chapter is governed and which were issued by Gen. George Washington.

After the luncheon the boys held their business meeting and voted to enter cotton classing and poultry judging at the Lubbock show April 15. Another motion passed was to have an average of two projects per boy in the class next year. To do this several of the rural boys will have to have three as the town members will not have the facilities to care for more than one project. Throughout the business meeting the boys showed excellent parliamentary procedure.

Guest speaker for the night was Ernest Ramm, who has the highest degree in the FFA organization, that of American Farmer. He has won several high honors in dairy cattle and swine divisions of local and state shows and has made a record for himself in field crops. This year he will attempt a new project of sixty acres of sugar beets.

The highlight of the evening's entertainment was a "hog judging contest" in which FFA members selected animals from the group of JayCees present and exhibited them in the ring. The first prize went to J. K. Adams, county agent, second to Roy Dyer, third to Paul Gardner.

Student Council To Revise Constitution

After hearing reports from the delegates who attended the Student Council Convention in Amarillo two weeks ago, the Muleshoe high school student council has made definite steps toward beginning the actual revising of the school constitution.

This constitution has been in use at the high school for so long that it has become very much outdated. This revision should have been made years ago but it has just been put off from one time to another for various reasons.

This year the student council is in existence for the first time. So when they do get the constitution revised, it will certainly be a worthwhile accomplishment for this year.

President Ted Lawler and his council are to be congratulated along with the sponsor, Don Jackson. This is one job that was certainly needed and means a lot of work for all those who are connected with it.

A railroad engineer got up on the wrong side of the bed one morning. The water for his shower was cold. His shoelace broke. At breakfast his toast was burned. His car wouldn't start and he had to taxi to the yards. He was late so when his train started late, so when he started his train he speeded it up to 90 miles per hour. Just as he swung around a curve, he saw another train coming straight at him—and on the same track. He heaved a big sigh and, turning to the fireman, said: "Did you ever have one of those days when just everything goes wrong?" — Edith Gwynne, John F. Dille Syndicate.

Corn Crib Eases Storage Problem
Temporary Types Serve In Many Farm Areas

Much of the 1948 corn crop is still on the farm, filling many of the storage buildings which should be used for the 1949 crop.

Temporary or semi-permanent storage buildings are the answer if you lack space or money to build permanent cribs. These temporary-type cribs in some cases are good enough to meet requirements for government loans.

Here are some tips on building good, strong temporary cribs, as suggested by Successful Farming magazine:

1. Locate the crib on a well-drained site with exposure to prevailing winds.
2. Put a floor under the corn to keep it off the ground. A heavy, waterproof paper or roll roofing might be sufficient on high, well-drained soil. A strong, level floor, six to 12 inches above the ground, protects the corn against soil moisture, permits ventilation and discourages rodents.

Correct attention to proper corn storing methods will help assure the farmer of excellent sow-and-litter results such as are pictured here.

Masonry blocks laid face down form a good foundation for the plank floor of a temporary crib. Rails, ties, logs or heavy timbers can be used instead of concrete blocks. If two-inch flooring is used, supports should not be more than four feet apart if the corn is to be 10 to 12 feet deep. If one-inch flooring is used, the supports should not be more than 24 inches apart. Floor planks should be placed one inch apart if you want a slatted floor for ventilation or artificial drying.

3. Make the crib sides vertical and build them so they will stay vertical. Be sure the sides are strong enough to withstand the pressure of the corn. Use rigid braces for the sidewalls and ends.

4. Make crib sides with at least 20 per cent of the wall area open for ventilation to speed up the corn drying process.

5. Put a roof over the corn that will withstand water and wind.

FOUNDATIONS FOR OUR FAITH

WHAT DOES EASTER MEAN

Easter has special significance to those of the Christian Faith. Easter has two significances; the first one is the crucifixion of our Lord, and the second is the resurrection of our Lord. Without the crucifixion, there could not have been the resurrection as we know it.

The passion of our Lord and the resurrection are two events not only in time, but in eternity. Time does not dim the greatness and the meaning of either. The fact of the crucifixion of our Lord is an endless indictment against the fact of sin in the world. Sin can never be denied nor can it be minimized in the history of mankind. The Cross stands as a fact which shall never cease to indict sinful man.

The peculiar thing about sin is that it has always been an enemy of truth and righteousness, and will always continue to be the foe of truth and goodness. Jesus Christ was the world's only perfect being, and the cross stands forever as a witness to what sin did to Christ and still exists unchanged in its attitude towards our Lord and the things Christ believed in and taught. We need to see that the forces of evil that nailed Christ to the Cross still exist and still continue to crucify Him by seeking to destroy the things that Christ died to make real in the lives of all men. He who opposes the good, and seeks to destroy it is joined with the same type of mind that crucified our Lord. There are four great sins that are united in four groups of people which crucified our Lord.

The sin of envy was the sin of the Pharisees; the sin of malice was the sin of the priests; the sin of revenge was the sin of Judas, and the sin of moral indifference was the sin of Pilate. All four sins and all four groups of these sort of sinners combined their evil powers and killed Jesus. The strangest thing about the matter was that the first three sins and groups of sinners were members of the church—Jewish Church; the last sin and sinner was represented by Pontius Pilate. Pilate represented the attitude of the Roman government. To him, the indictments and crucifixion of Jesus was of little concern.

The Pharisees were angry with Jesus because he violated the Sabbath by doing good; by claiming to be God and granting forgiveness to ordinary sinners, and by disregarding the Law of Moses and the traditions of the elders. Jesus had the courage to defy a very ancient and established religious order, and of course was opposed with the fury of envy. The envy was further precipitated by the fact that the multitudes were following Jesus and leaving the Jewish church. They were believers in Jesus because His religion did something good for them.

The Pharisees could not combat the power and influence of Jesus; so they did what the average human being does under such circumstances; they sought to destroy Jesus, and succeeded.

The Priests also envied Jesus, but they did more than that; they held him in contempt and with malice sought to be rid of him. They were not too blind to see the good he did, but they were fully aware of the fact that if Jesus lived, there would be no Jewish Church left. If the church passed into oblivion, their positions would also be gone forever. There were thousands of Priests in the Jewish Church at the time of Jesus, and most of them served not more than one week out of a year. But these men depended on the church for their livelihood, and they were not friendly to any cause that would deprive them of their income. So they became most bitter towards Jesus. Their motives were sinister. Malice took hold of their evil hearts, and the priests of the Jewish church demanded their pound of flesh. They worked with the Pharisees in bringing Jesus to the Cross.

Now there was just one man among the twelve apostles who was unhappy in his lot and position in the Apostleship, Judas Iscariot was this selfish unhappy man. He was treasurer of the Apostles, but this was not honor enough for this selfish egoist. Jesus left him out of his close confidence and out of his trust. This aggravated Judas, and the spirit of revenge grew into full bloom on the Passover night when Jesus kept the last supper with his apostles. It was on that night that Judas made his final decision to betray Jesus. Immediately after supper, Judas went out and sold Jesus to the Pharisees and the Priests for thirty pieces of silver (about $15.00). He played the part of a friend and betrayed Jesus with a kiss. The orientals all wore beards, and looked very much a like. It was necessary to have some sure way of identification in those days lest they take the wrong man. Judas saw to it that Jesus was delivered to the Jewish authorities who could not put him to death.

Pilate was forced into this picture because the Jews could not put a man to death under the Roman law. So the Jews demanded that Pilate sit as judge of the mock trial in which many false witnesses testified against Jesus. Pilate cared nothing for the things of the Jewish church, but he was told that Jesus claimed to be the King of the Jews. It was this point that they interested Pilate. He felt that he had to defend the security of the Roman state, and for this reason, he heard the case. But indifferent Pilate found no fault in Jesus, and desired to release Him.

But the mob was ready to demand that Jesus be crucified, and Pilate was the pacifier. He finally ordered the Roman soldiers to execute Jesus by nailing Him to the cross. The sins of the world had crucified Jesus, and the cruel hearts went away feeling that they would never again have any trouble with Jesus. It would have ended the shameful affair had Jesus not risen from the dead. But death could not hold our Lord in Her fierce grip. The tomb yielded the Christ, and He was declared alive forever more.

Let us look again at the Cross. Who crucified our Lord? The Roman soldiers drove the nails into his feet and hands, but the Jewish church members had it done—none others cared.

How many friends did Jesus have when he was on the cross, and during the trial of his life. The church had turned against him long since. Now Judas one of the twelve betrayed Him; Peter denied Him, and all the rest followed afar off. Mary, the mother of Jesus, and Mary Magdalene stood by near the cross while Jesus was dying. The only apostle that was there was the beloved John to whom he committed the care of His mother. No man had such a following as did Jesus a few months before His crucifixion. In fact a great host of people tried to make Him King just five days before He was crucified, but during the same week this same mob turned to demand His death. Jesus knew too well the nature of man. It was the fact that his most trusted apostles turned against Him in the day of testing. Jesus died almost without a friend.

This fact leads us all to realize that no multitudes will follow a man so long as there is something to be had for themselves, but when it comes to the matter of laying down one's life for his friend; then it is that one's friends disappear. Jesus was the most forsaken man in history during the time of His trial and Passion. We learn from what happened to Jesus, that we cannot expect to have more than one friend in a life time, and that friend may have to be your mother or father. Thus is the character of mankind revealed in the tragic death of Jesus.

But they who thought that they were getting rid of Jesus by killing Him, soon discovered that this dead Christ was alive and that people were seeing Him. The mystery of the resurrection attracted more people than during his life time. Men of good repute were testifying to the fact that Christ had arisen from the dead. Some had seen him and talked with him; to some He had shown his nailed scared hands and lanced

He had the evidence that he was the one who had been crucified. But now he was alive forever more. The man that had been killed on the cross was now alive and beyond the reach of human hands and power. Jesus now could enter the heart and no one could run him away. He did speak direct to the souls of men and they had to listen. Men never tried to explain the mystery of the resurrection in Jesus day, they had to accept what was true, and did believe what they saw and heard.

Christ was an eternal event; his death on the cross was an eternal event, and his resurrection was and shall always be an eternal event. These facts takes Jesus out of the time-space continuum and leaves him in the continuum of eternity. This fact makes Him universal in Personality, in His saviour-hood, in his death, and in his resurrection. Christ now stands for all the world and for all peoples. He is the One universal saviour for all mankind and for all time. Just as the cruel men crucified Christ with the idea of getting rid of Him; so they have continued to crucify Him down the centuries by holding an attitude of MALICE, of ENVY; of REVENGE, and of MORAL INDIFFERENCE towards Christ and His Church. No man WHO WILL AGREE TO BE CRUCIFIED FOR CHRIST'S SAKE AND CAUSE ON EARTH WILL REMAIN CRUCIFIED. SUCH MEN LIKE CHRIST WILL NOT DIE, BUT LIVE ON FOREVER.

"Unreality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 2. The Golden Text is: "Surely God will not hear vanity, neither will the Almighty regard it" (Job 35: 13).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his ears are open unto their prayer; but the face of the Lord is against them that do evil." (1 Peter 3: 12).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Ignorance of God is no longer the stepping stone to faith" (preface vii).

Library News . . .

New books that have been added to the library recently include "Shakespeare of London" by Marchette Chute, Audubon's "Birds of America" and "The Boys

From Sharon" by Louis Field Cooper.

"The Boys From Sharon" is about Edith Howe, who like some enchanted princess in a fairy tale, she had for many years led a life that was placid and aimless, in the antique house presided over by her formidable aunt, Mrs. Fanning. Edith was proud; and because she and her bumbling ineffectual father were hangers-on there, she was ashamed. She spent most of the time reading poetry and occasionally she was forced to listen to Mrs. Fanning's complaints because she did nothing about finding herself a job. She met young George who came down for a week end when his parents were in Bermuda. Edith had fallen head-over-heels in love for the first time in her life. Edith was then faced with the task of making some momentous decisions.

Sock Hop Held At Muleshoe High

Something new was in store for the student body at Muleshoe high school this last Saturday night. This came in the form of a Sock Hop dance sponsored by the Senior class.

The idea was to put the socks on display. All shoes were checked at the door. Admission was based on the size of the foot. Price was a nickel per inch. After everyone was admitted, dancing proceeded on the dance floor. Of course, all dancing was in sock feet.

The floor was arranged with small tables circling it. On the curtain on the stage, were hung five huge stuffed socks.

Special prizes given by the Seniors was a pair of socks to Bill Thomson for the loudest socks, a pair to Mona Smith for the smallest feet and also a pair of socks to Benny Douglass for the largest feet.

All those who attended reported having a nice time and that it

Veterans' Land Applications Are Still Accepted

AUSTIN, April 3.—Although the entire $25 million principal of the Veterans' Land Program was committed by March 18, Land Commissioner Bascom Giles stated today that additional applications still are being accepted, "under certain conditions." "Where both seller and veteran understand that we cannot guarantee there will be money to complete the purchase," said Mr. Giles, "we are putting the applications on file." The $25 million fund is a revolving one and thus additional purchases can be made from time to time as veterans make their semi-annual payments, Giles pointed out. Some veterans are also retiring their indebtedness faster than their contract demands. One tract in Dickens County has already been paid for in full. "Also," Giles explains, "every withdrawal enables us to process one of the applications accepted on this conditional basis. We will act upon these new applications if and when money is available in the order received." The down payments accompanying a "conditional" application will be returned if the transaction is not completed. No application has been accepted since March 18, except this "conditional basis," Giles said.

Holly Receives Two Year Pen Term

Alfred Burl Holly was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary after being convicted by the jury on a charge of theft. He was charged with stealing a trailer, a saddle and other items in 1948. Since that date he had served terms for other convictions.

New Materials Used In Furniture

COLLEGE STATION, April 4—Furniture manufacturers are using the new materials that scientists are developing to add new color and life to their products. Mrs. Bernice Claytor, extension home management specialist of Texas A. & M. College, says families interested in buying furniture may wish to take advantage of these recent developments when purchasing furniture for the home.

upholstered furniture and that wide use is being made of foam rubber. In some lines of wood furniture, dressers, chests, desks, and other similar pieces are being made larger. Mahogany, walnut, oak and maple remain among the most popular woods. New finishes are being used on some woods, she adds. Many of these new finishes are most attractive and most of them seem to be very durable.

In dinettes, she says wider use is being made of square chrome tubing. Chairs are being made larger and fuller. A new plastic table top is being used on many wood dinette tables that is said to be impervious to almost any type of destruction that humans can think up short of using an axe. In the household equipment field she says there is a noticeable change in the restyling of ranges and refrigerators especially in some of the new ranges. Increased numbers of home freezers are being offered.

Mrs. Claytor says that fabric prices are expected to go higher. More abstract patterns are expected to be used instead of floral and leaf designs and metallic effects will be important. Multicolored patterned plastic material has been introduced. There is an increased supply of nylon upholstery material which is said to be easy to clean and this feature may make pastel upholstery more

Egg Is Never Any Better Than When It Is Laid
Many farmers apparently don't think about the fact, but an egg is just as good as it will ever be when the hen lays it. Boyd Ellis, poultry specialist of the Wyoming agricultural extension service, points out that it's up to the consumer to keep the quality of eggs good. To do this, eggs should be gathered soon after they're laid; should be cooled in a wire basket.

Overweight Is Problem In U. S.

COLLEGE STATION, April 3.—The most frequently mentioned malnutrition problem among adults in the United States is overweight. In simple, everyday language, Lucille Shultz, associate extension foods and nutrition specialist of Texas A. & M. College, says many adults just eat too much.

How much food a body needs depends on its size and activity. If the body weight stays about right for height and build, a good indication that calories in the diet are in balance with body needs. Overweight indicates that too much fuel food is being eaten and the body is storing it as fat.

Miss Shultz says it is safer to be plump than skinny up to 35 but after 35 excess fat becomes a greater health liability than extreme thinness. Ailments such as high blood pressure and heart and kidney troubles are more common among the overweights, but those who are too thin tend to tire more easily and may be easy prey to infections.

For those under 20 years of age and overweight, she suggests that reducing be done only under a physician's supervision. Young mothers and those with heart or organic troubles should also observe this rule of safety.

To those over 35 years of age who need to reduce, she offers this advice. Don't lose weight too rapidly — a pound a week or so is plenty. Cut the calories, but eat other essentials for good health; eat three meals per day but no between meal snacks and avoid the high calorie content foods and eat sparingly of bread or cereal.

Eat plenty of fruits and vegetables, but she says take them straight — no cream sauce or fat nor cream or sugar. Be generous with the protein-rich foods for good nutrition requires lots of lean meat, milk, eggs and lean fish.

Dust Reaches A 15,000 Foot Level

LUBBOCK, April 3—Recent dust storms in West Texas reached a height of 15,000 feet and covered an estimated 85,520 square miles during the early stages, reports on a research project at Texas Technological College indicated.

During a prolonged storm late in March which lasted three days the barometric pressure reached a record low of 25.06 in Lubbock. The winds evidently started whipping up dust in southwestern New Mexico as they blew toward a large low pressure area in Nevada. As the low-pressure area moved eastward, the dust-laden winds invaded Texas.

Students of G. Frederick Warn, associate professor of geology, reported dust particles .25 of a millimeter were found 65 feet above the surface. Particles from New Mexico and Colorado were mixed with the local dust. About one per cent of the particles were organic matter such as leaves, straw or grass.

Remarkably low humidity has aided the dust storms, Warn said. The last rainfall of note fell in the South Plains on Sept. 21. Recent winds have had a drying effect which is further reducing the moisture content of the soil.

Warn said. Ordinarily, a wind of 40 miles per hour will carry the dust along if the gusts are sustained. However, gusts of 20 or 25 miles per hour can start storms rolling, and velocities during some dusts have reached 70 miles per hour.

Wind turbulence and air moisture as well as the speed of the wind, help determine the amount of dust that will rise.

Four out of five recent storms have entered the South Plains from a westerly direction and one has come directly from the south. The most intense recent storm entered Texas from the west.

Tech students Billy Cox and Dewain Cox, both of Monahans, and Jack Pales, Lawton, Okla., are working under William C. Irvin and Warn's supervision in compiling data on the dusts.

then again in a matinee on Monday afternoon. This last presentation was mainly for the grammar school pupils. Friday night there was an audience of about 600.

The play this year was comedy-mystery and was different with the dark scenes, cut-shots and mysterious people adding to the suspense and excitement.

Those persons in the play were Joyce Blackburn, Frances Roy, Joe Cummings, Ted Lawler, Howard Tate, Glenda Stevens, Jerry Julian, Wanda Kimbrough, Bill Green, Mary Jo White, Barb Grandy, Bobby Goss and Jo Ann Holman.

Easter Services In The Palo Duro

The services will be conducted by the San Jacinto Baptist church and its organizations with Rev. Leon Hill preaching the sermon.

Rev. Hill, one of the Southwest's best known speakers, originated the Sunrise Easter Service at Elizabethton, Tenn. He hopes to see the Palo Duro Easter Service grow into something like the beautiful services held at Grand Canyon and Bryce Canyon, at the Garden of the Gods and at Elizabethton.

The public is invited. The only charge to be made is the usual park admission fee. Breakfast will be available at El Coronado lodge adjacent to the service site beginning at 5 o'clock Easter morning.

Citizens Used 400,000 Gallons Of Water Friday

It was almost a summer day last Friday so far as the use of city water is concerned. W. E. Young, city water superintendent, said the city that day sold 400,000 gallons of water.

He surmised that most of the water was used to wet down lawns against strong winds that have been blowing. Only a few days in summer would see a higher gallonage of water used, he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Holt and daughter Carolyn of Amherst visited friends and relatives here Sunday.

GIRLS TOWN OPENING

Mrs. Ray Griffiths, Mrs. Pat Bulloch, and Mrs. Irving St. Clair went to Whiteface this week end to attend the formal opening of Girls' Town.

Russell Maloney, caustic with and writer, tells this one on himself. The day he signed his first television contract, he flourished the paper at his wife and shouted: "This means I" now be seen in every bar and grill in New York!

Calmly, his ever-loving bride murmured: "What makes you think you haven't been?"

Do you want A WORLD AT PEACE

Today's newspaper headlines and radio newscasts tell a story of chaos in the modern world. They continually speak of broken relations between countries, of ineffectual efforts for nations to understand each other, of the seeming impossibility of men to live together peacefully in one world.

And always the news and editorial columns are saturated with references to the "A-bomb" and the even-more-powerful "H-bomb." Underlying all this is the ever-spreading fear that a third world war is inevitable.

Do you actually want and hope for world peace? Or have you accepted as unavoidable another international conflict? Is it worthwhile to strive for peace among men when confusion, misunderstanding, distrust constantly point toward futility? And, after all, would your home and family, your community, really be vitally affected by another war among nations?

WHAT CAN WE DO ABOUT IT?

Then what can we do about the situation? How can we fight the theories and practices which undermine everything in which we have faith? Is the answer a change in our form of government; or is it in better care of the people through educational institutions, hospitals, and homes for the underprivileged?

These things the churches of the world have worked for through the centuries. As they have spread Christianity, they have established schools, orphanages, and hospitals in almost every country on earth. With your continued support, your church will go on sending missionaries around the world to teach peace, to educate men and women, to guide them spiritually and to minister to their physical needs.

In recent months President Harry Truman, General George Marshall and General Douglas MacArthur have declared the answer to world confusion lies in the spiritual realm. Do you agree with these statements? Is there another solution to the growing threat to international security? Or is there no hope for a world at peace?

The Bible gives a clear answer to these and many other questions of everyday living. Hear it at the . . .
