Woolley And Rains Receive Awards At Annual Rotary Club Luncheon

Bob Bartlett, news director of KTAB-TV in Abilene was the guest speaker at the Cisco Rotary Club Annual Citizenship Awards luncheon held last Thursday at Henson's Restaurant. Janice Woolley and Robert Rains, seniors at Cisco High School were this year's recipients of the honorary award. Eris Ritchie presented the awards to the two students.

Janice is the daughter of Sandra and Dick Woolley and Robert is the son of Jeanne and Bobby Rains. The two students were chosen by a panel of teachers who have taught the students all four years in high school. The awards are based on meritorious conduct in cleanliness, thriftiness, courtesy, loyalty, honesty, respect for authority, service, dependability, scholarship, sportsmanship, auto driving habits and leadership. Citizenship awards have been presented to students by the Cisco Rotary Club since 1966. The speaker, Bob Bartlett said that both students have the criteria to be good citizens. He said everyone needs to have someone to look up to and Janice and Robert have everything for people to look up to them. Mr. Bartlett came to Abilene in 1971 and has won several news awards. He and his wife Susan have 3 girls. There was 80.95 percent attendance last week at the Rotary Club. James Cotton is in charge of the program next week.

Chamber Of Commerce Discusses Plans For July 4th Celebration

The July 4th holiday will soon be here. Each year the Cisco Chamber of Commerce begins their plans to make the holiday more enjoyable by presenting a Firework Show at the City Park at the end of the day. Don Shepard, Chamber of Commerce manager said that this year's fireworks will depend upon the contributions of our citizens to help defray the cost of the $750.00 liability insurance that is required by the state of Texas to display fireworks. Don said that he realizes that the economy is tight but he would like for everyone to reach down deep into their pockets to help pay for this insurance. He said that if anyone would like to make a pledge to help pay for the fireworks to let him know by June 1. The number to call is 442-2537. The money will be needed by the end of June. He said that everyone, citizens and merchants here in Cisco, need to realize that fireworks are important for the 4th of July celebration because that helps to keep people in town and when people stay in town, they will trade here. Don is asking that everyone get out and support this. There is talk about a Miss Cisco pageant that will be held on the 4th of July along with the little Miss Cisco contest. More information will be printed in future issues of The Press.

Jury Selection To Begin Monday For Garcia Trial

Judge Herman Fitts, appointed to preside in the Garcia case, ruled on a number of pre-trial motions Thursday. The trial begins Monday in 91st District Court.

He severed the trial of Joe Thomas Perry from that of other defendants Brenda Gail Perry Andrews, Pat Starr and Richard Hinton.

The Judge ruled, however, that Court-appointed defense Attorney Leslie Vance may remain on the Perry case. Perry is expected to be tried at another date with Barbara Williams, another defendant in the organized crime case.

Special Prosecutor Bill

Hart filed a motion earlier this week that Vance be removed from the case, alleging that the defense attorney had interfered with states witnesses.

Fitts ruled on a number of other motions, while cautioning defense attorneys against repeating motions that were ruled on in previous hearings. He denied both double-jeopardy pleas submitted by Attorney George Gray on behalf of his client, Brenda Andrews.

The Judge also denied a motion to force the state's witnesses to discuss facts of the case with the defense attorneys. "I'm not ordering the witnesses to talk or not to talk," Judge Fitts stated.

A motion was approved to direct the court reporter to record everything said in the trial. The Judge, however, made a point of wording his ruling as to "She will record everything she can hear."

Judge Fitts said he would decide on Monday about a motion for separate council tables for each attorney and his client.

Special Prosecutor Bill Hart has had a whole table at his disposal during pre-trial hearings, with the four defense attorneys sharing tables.

In another ruling, Judge

Fitts agreed that the defense attorneys could listen to a taped conversation Texas Rangers George Fraizer and Gene Kea made May 8 with Elizabeth Perry Peacock Shaw. Shaw was originally charged in the murder, but charges were dropped against her because of her age (14) at the time of the slaying of Debra Jo Garcia.

While making his rulings Judge Fitts singled out reporter Kathy Sanders of the Fort Worth Star Telegram and reprimanded her for an article appearing in the Star Telegram tables.

Scranton To Celebrate 100th Anniversary In June

On Saturday evening, June 6, and all day Sunday, June 7, ex-students of Scranton Schools will convene at the Scranton Community Center for their annual Homecoming. This year is very special, for it marks the 100th anniversary of the founding of their first public school in 1887.

In order to commemorate the schools which have served the Scranton community, the Scranton Ex-Students Association drafted Evelyn Bailey, a former teacher and principal in Scranton High School, to prepare a history, not only of the public schools, but also the privately owned Scranton Academy which played such a major role in higher education at the turn of the century.

The history is divided into three parts which will be published in three installments in the Sunday editions of The Cisco Press, beginning with this edition. John Boland, secretary for the 1987 homecoming, has mailed the following letter to ex-students:

Dear Scranton Exes, We have marked your calendar for you! Now it is time for you to make your plans to be a part of the Centennial Celebration. This year, 1987, is the 100th anniversary since the first opening of public school at Scranton. We are expecting a banner day and want you to experience it with us. Encourage former members of your school class to be present!

Saturday night, June 6th, the usual musical will convene at the Community Center. This event always marks the beginning of the Scranton Homecoming. Many of you look forward to this event each year. The musical begins around 6:30 p.m. The Community Center Club will have sandwiches, pie, coffee, tea and soft

The special graduation edition of The Cisco Press will be Sunday, May 24. We are selling our graduation ads now and if I fail to get in touch with you and you would like to let the seniors know that you are proud of them and that you support them, call 442-2244 and have a congratulatory ad placed in the special section.

The ads are $10.00, $17.50, $25.00, $35.00 and $60.00. They are really very nice looking ads and it really means a lot to the seniors to see the ads along with their pictures and their own information.

The Hilton Community Center will be having a Flower Show on June 6 and 7. The flowers will be judged by the people who attend the show. There will not be a panel of judges. It is open to everyone.

The show will be held upstairs at the Hilton and everyone is asked to start working on a home grown flower for the show. There will be more information in a later edition of The Cisco Press.

I read a column by Don Tabor, the publisher of the Cross Plains Review last week. He was writing about the TV evangelists and he wrote that everyone should "think about your local church before you sign that check" to be sent to the TV evangelist. Some of the things he wrote were, "When you or some member of your family is flat of back in the hospital, is Jim Bakker going to come visit and offer comfort? When you and your spouse are having problems, is Jerry Falwell going to be there to counsel you? Is Jimmy Swaggert going to bind your kids in Holy matrimony? Is Oral Roberts going to ease your grief with his words at a loved one's funeral? No, but your local minister, and friend, will. Your local preacher is a good, moral, honest person. Our preachers are serious about their work, very serious. We can all remember ministers who were special and had an impact on our lives."

Then Bob Bartlett was asked a question about the TV evangelist at the Rotary Club meeting last week and he said that if anyone gives any money anywhere they really need to check and see if their money is being spent in the way it was meant to be. He said that when the TV evangelist say that if they don't get the money in to pay for their time on the air to the TV stations that the TV stations will take them off the air, they are right. They have to buy time just like anyone else does. Then Bob said that if the message that the TV evangelist gets across to someone and it helps them, then maybe it's worth it!

Both ways make you think doesn't it.

Veda Cozart, who works at Taylor Center, handed the following article to me recently. You might find it interesting, as I did.

MY FREE-WHEELIN' DAZE

A helmeted young man on a ten-speed bicycle rode by our house in the country last spring. He seemed to be enjoying himself.

"I could do that," I said to my wife, Lisa. "I could get my bike out and ride to work."

"Sounds like a good idea," Lisa replied. "But it's nearly 13 miles, you know."

Eastland County Receives Rain As Storms Pass Through Area

A stalled weather system in mid-Texas brought heavy rains to this area as the weekend approached, and there was isolated flooding in some areas.

A total of 4.13 inches had fallen through 7 a.m. Friday according to Weather Observer Ron Bailey, who also reported a total of 1.32 inches at 7 a.m. Thursday.

Both forks of the Leon River were reported full and running Friday morning, with the water in the North Fork just under the East Main St. bridge, but appearing to recede. Additional river flooding will depend on the amount of rain which fell in the area northwest of Cisco, it was reported.

Isolated showers had been forecasted, but were expected to be heavy where they developed because the system had very little movement, according to weather observers.

Maintenance Dept. crews of the Texas Highway Department were extra busy Friday responding to flood control problems. One of the first places reported was the south access of I-20, where barricades generally go up first.

Water was over the bridge on Highway 69 north of Town, but the route was passable, it was reported.

The Highway Dept., located on East Main St., had water as deep as 14 inches in their own maintenance yard, so the workmen were having troubles right in their own back yard.

Most of the conditions were reportedly peaked and hopefully receding at mid-morning, awaiting further rundown from heavy rains further upriver.

Cisco City Manger Mike Moore doesn't think there will be a large amount of runoff from the Cisco area, although the town has had some "real nice rains". That area received one-and-one-half inches Thursday night, and "less than that" the previous night during the wild electrical storm. Moore says there is one creek backed up in town and two blocked intersections, but no real problems from flooding. "Last night's rain was just a good, slow one," he said Friday morning.

The Scranton area, however, had heavy rains, beginning with Wednesday night. Small hail and high winds were reported in that storm, with heavy rains also reported Friday morning. The Nimrod community also had more than three inches of rain and some hail Wednesday night, with heavy rains reported late Thursday night.

Rainfall southeast of Cisco was general, with totals ranging more than an inch Wednesday night to around two inches early Friday morning. Creeks are running, and rural roads muddy and slippery. About the same amount of rainfall was reported across to Lake Leon, which is rising from the heavy runoff on the Lake River.

Ranger was in the same heavy rain belt as Eastland, with totals up to four inches by Friday morning from the Thursday night rain, with some streets flooding. Spectacular lightning was observed in a bank of clouds from northeast across the north as early as 9 p.m. Thursday night, and this cloud moved in after midnight.

Approximately an inch of rain fell in the Cisco area early Friday during an early morning thunderstorm. This brought the two-day total to about two inches, and the forecast called for continued thunder showers Saturday and Sunday.

Everyone who is interested in Project Graduation is invited to attend this meeting.

ing some two inches of rain early Thursday and another inch early Friday. Eastland reported that rainfall measured around four inches there Friday morning. There was considerable flooding in that area, reports showed.

Gordon Spot

By DeMarquis Gordon, County Agent—

It is still too early to determine the best time to spray pecan trees to control the pecan nut casebearer. From experiences in past years we think it will be from May 25 to June 1, but when we see some activity of the casebearer we will be better able to predict the best spray time.

Even after the late freeze many pecan producers still have a nut crop left on their trees. Many home and commercial pecan producers are observing a very large nut set this year which is a miracle since many areas of the state had a major freeze April 29, 31 and May 1. The primary shoots and buds were frozen to death but secondary bud and dormant primary buds are coming out very strong. However, some growers report a very poor nut set. To compound the problem, following the freeze, we have been very dry up until last Wednesday nights rain.

It is easy to check your crop load. Simply look at the terminal end of the new shoot for a tiny pecan cluster. There will be a small stem with three to six pecans at the end of it. These small clusters are actually female flowers. The stigmatic surface will be at the apex of each little pecan. When the stigma turns brown, pollination occurs. If pollination fails to occur, the little female flowers will fall off the tree. In May and June, the pecan nut casebearer feeds on the base of the little female pecans and these will fall off.

Texas experienced a very dry, early spring. A water shortage can also stimulate shedding of little female flowers. Three weeks is the maximum period pecan trees can tolerate drought without crop loss or tree stress. If good pollination occurs and water stress is low, the 1987 pecan crop can be very good.

Growing more and growing it better doesn't necessarily keep farmers from going broke, because agriculture has good years and bad years regardless. That's why experts of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service advise farmers to consider diversifying - growing a variety of products in case a traditional "cash crop" crashes.

To help farmers explore market demand and profit potential of new crops the Extension Service will conduct a conference May 26 on "Horticultural Alternatives for Texas Agriculture".

The daylong conference will begin at 8:30 a.m. at the Holiday Inn in Stephenville. Parts of the conference will be conducted via satellite and there will be discussions relating to local and regional opportunities for alternative crops.

CISCO

Dean Madison, local oil man and former member of the faculty, was appointed to a vacancy on the Board of Regents of Cisco Junior College at the monthly meeting of the Board Monday night. He takes the position of the late J.D. Yardley. Madison will be given the oath of office as a Board member at the June meeting, and serve until an election is held in 1988. The Board adopted a resolution of respect for Mr. Yardley, who had served as a regent for 21 years until his death last month.

The CJC Board of Regents approved plans for summer repair and remodeling work at the College, including re-roofing two buildings and putting in a new floor at the College gym. These projects will be submitted to bidders in the near future. A contract form for employing faculty members was approved after being studied for several months. The Board also approved recommendations for tenures for faculty members.

Honor graduates for the 1986-87 school year at Cisco Junior College were announced at graduation May 8 as: Highest Honors, John M. Bailey and Margaret Yeager McKinney of Cisco, and Katha Lynn McDaniel of Carbon. Those graduating with honors were: Terry Lynn Atkinson of Cisco, Brad B. Watson of Baird, Susan G. Hinds, Edwin J. Newman, Gretchen Gail Rosenbaum and Michael Kevin Stamm, all of Abilene.

Dr. Don Newberry, President of Howard Payne University, will speak at the Academic Banquet at Cisco Country Club on Tuesday, May 19. This Banquet will honor Cisco High School Students who participated in the UIL Contest this year. Dr. Newberry was born near May, Texas, and is a member of the First Baptist Church in Brownwood. A popular speaker, Dr. Newberry is invited to many events in this area.

RANGER

A dedication service will be held Sunday, May 17 at 3 pm in the Ranger Junior College Library for the official dedication of the Coleman Library in memory of Dr. R. Bruce Goleman. Dr. Goleman was a teacher and dean at Ranger Junior College for a number of years and also a civic worker. The public is invited to attend the dedication service.

Monday's Ranger City Commissioners introduced an Ordinance enacting a sales tax for Telecommunications services, and repealing the exemption from the sales tax for all services sold within the City of Ranger. The rate of the tax will be one percent, the same as imposed by the city for all other local sales and use taxes. This ordinance will have its second reading on May 26.

In Monday's meeting, the City Commissioners also considered a request from James Jay of Gorman for permission to sell beer, wine and liquor in the city limits. The location in question is on the south side of I-20 and the Lake Rd. A wet-dry election was held in 1985 for this area, with a vote of 147-50 to remain dry. A lawyer with Jay made suggestions such as holding a special election, or even possibly having that part of the city "de-annexed". Mayor Rogers said that the council is definitely not against new business in Ranger, but that, as the council sees it now, the area is not a wet area. He said that if the matter needs to be pursued further, the council will have to contact the City Attorney and go from there.

There will be a Tea May 17 to honor Adeline Meredith, Deputy Grand Matron, Dist. 2, Section 4, Grand Chapter of Texas, Order of the Eastern Star. Ranger Chapter 275 is sponsoring the Tea, which will be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Locke on Lea Lane at Lake Leon at 2-4 pm Sunday. Friends of the honoree are invited to attend.

Ranger High School has two fine athletes at state meet in Austin this weekend. Sha King and Tim Sharp. They are accompanied by Tim Roach, Track Coach at the School. Sha King will be in the 400m Dash, and Tim Sharp is a state alternate in the Pole Vault event. This is the first time since 1966 that Ranger High School is sending athletes to the state competitions. In 1966 Jerry Watson, representing the school, brought home a 2nd in the state in the 180 yard low hurdles event.

RISING STAR

The first "Welcome to Rising Star" sign is up, thanks to land owner E.F. Agnew. He has allowed the sign to be put on his land adjacent to Williams Memorial Park (City Park). The problem of locating the signs within the city limits has been a bigger obstacle than raising funds, said Chamber of Commerce Committee Chairman Lottie Mae Roach.

She expressed thanks to Mr. Agnew and the donors for funding the sign: Gene Hicks, Joy Pecan Shoppe, Clinton Crisp, Higginbotham's, Palace Drug Store, George Steele and The Rising Star. Mrs. Roach was also a donor. So take a look when you drive into town from the west, and you will see the welcome sign in place.

The Rising Star Roping Club and 4-H Horse Group invites everyone who has a horse to a Trail Ride on Sunday, May 17. Trail riders will meet at the Rodeo Grounds and leave there by 2 pm to drive to the Graham Ranch, where the Trail Ride will take place. A cookout will be held on the Hubbard farm. Bring enough hamburger fixings and drinks for your family.

EASTLAND

A "Festival of Music For The Majestic" at Bell Hurst Playhouse Saturday night, May 16 promises a delightful program of local and regional musicians. The performance will begin at 8 pm Saturday and there will also be a matinee performance on Sunday at 2:30 pm. All seats are reserved, and there are still a few left. Call 629-1141 for your ticket. Bell Hurst Playhouse is located on Highway 80, one mile east of the Courthouse. Turn north at the sign, and Bell Hurst is the second house. All proceeds of this benefit will go to the continued restoration of the Majestic.

The interior of a vacant house at 1501 South Seaman burned last Tuesday night. The fire was brought under control, but the house was a total loss. This property was owned by the Steddum estate. Eastland Police are investigating the fire.

Becky Bullock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bullock, was presented the annual Sousa Award during the Spring Band Concert at the High School auditorium last Monday night. This award has been given to outstanding Band students by the Eastland Music Study Club for the past 27 years. Becky, a drum major and flute player, has won honors in numerous competitions. She will compete at the state UIL solo and ensemble contest in Austin June 1.

Eastland Cadette Girl Scout Troop 242 is sponsoring the program "Is There Life After 6th Grade?" on Monday, May 18 at 6:45 pm at the First United Methodist Church in Eastland. Dr. Sandra Hazelp of Eastland and Sherry Wright of Cisco will present the program. Games and entertainment will be provided by Kay Hutton, Girl Scout Camp Director of Brownwood. All area 6th Grade girls and their mothers are invited.

Revival services are in progress at the Kokomo Baptist Church this week with services continuing thru Sunday night, May 17 at 7:30 each evening and Sunday morning services at the regular time. Bro. Dale Cartwright of Lapan is the evangelist and Woodrow Browning is directing the music with Helen Browning at the piano. Bro. RECIPE FOR THE WEEK: Chinese wok cookery is a favorite of mine. Very nutritious and easy, quick meals can be prepared.

Vegetarian egg rolls are a favorite. Left overs can be frozen and then heated in the microwave. They're delicious and worth all the effort.

VEGETARIAN EGG ROLLS

3 tablespoons peanut oil
4 cups shredded cabbage
2 1/2 cups fresh bean sprouts, chopped
1 cup shredded carrots
1/2 cup minced green onions
1/2 cup chopped fresh

1/2 cup chopped fresh broccoli

1/2 cup chopped green pepper

1/2 cup thinly sliced fresh mushrooms

1 (2-ounce) jar diced pimiento, drained

3/4 cup soy sauce

2 tablespoons sugar

3 tablespoons cornstarch, divided

3/4 teaspoon red pepper

3/4 teaspoon garlic salt

2 tablespoons water

1 (1-pound) package egg roll wrappers

Peanut oil

Commercial sweet-and-sour sauce (optional)

Commercial mustard sauce (optional)

Heat 3 tablespoons oil in a preheated wok, coating sides; allow to heat at medium high (325°) for 2 minutes. Add next 9 ingredients; stir-fry 3 minutes are until vegetables are crisp-tender. Turn off heat, and set wok aside.

Combine soy sauce, sugar, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, red pepper, and garlic salt in a small bowl. Add to vegetables in wok, stirring constantly; cook 1 minute.

Combine remaining 1 tablespoon cornstarch and water; set aside.

Spoon 1 heaping tablespoon filling in center of each egg roll wrapper. Fold top corner of wrapper over filling; then fold left and right corners over filling. Lightly brush exposed corner of wrapper with cornstarch mixture. Tightly roll the filled end of the wrapper toward the exposed corner; gently press to seal. Secure with wooden picks.

Heat 2 inches peanut oil to 375° in Dutch oven. Place 2 egg rolls in hot oil, and fry 35 to 45 seconds on each side or until golden brown; drain on paper towels. Remove wooden picks. Repeat with remaining egg rolls. Serve with sweet-and-sour sauce and mustard sauce, if desired. Yield: about 30 egg rolls.

Eastland County Courthouse Receives National Attention

Eastland County's beloved Courthouse as a building has been singled out for special positive attention across the state (and nation) even though some of the goings-on within often bring the opposite kind of publicity.

Texas Highways, the nation's number one publication of beautiful color photographs and factual articles keynotes the Eastland building, calling it one of the earliest and least-altered of the Art Deco styles in Texas. It was called modernistic when it was built in 1928. The June article is written by Austin Architectural Writer Jim Stealy and the photographs by Jack Lewis include a large one of the building, a closeup of one of the glazed and fired terra-cotta tile eagles, a closeup of Old Rip, a photo of Mary Jane Brown, Juli Armstrong and Crystal Wilbanks, looking at Old Rip and a reproduction of the famous 1928 photo of the actual unentombment of Old Rip.

This article is the third in a series on the architectural styles of Texas courthouses at Beaumont, and the Travis County Courthouse at Austin.

The writer details the evolution of Art Deco which predates the Depression and was already the favored design for Texas courthouses built after 1925. "You have to look closely to see the custom finishes, but the chiseled stone, fancy floors, rich woods, metal mixtures and other furnishings are superb and priceless in their individuality."

And Eastland Countians can take pride in the fact that theirs is "one of the earliest and least-altered". The article will no doubt attract visitors for years to come.

The writer recounts the county's history in telling of the construction:

Eastland, Texas, was a prosperous town at the center of wealthy Eastland County in the late 1920s. The county had been created in 1858 - named for early Texas Ranger William Mosby Eastland - with the namesake city selected county seat in 1875. Transportation, population, and agriculture had come with the Texas & Pacific Railroad expansion west from Fort Worth in 1880. The railroad tied Eastland to its neighbors in the county, Ranger 10 miles east, and Cisco, 10 miles west.

A vast oil field was discovered in Ranger in 1917. Though the oil boom had long passed, Eastland County "was still making good money off it" 10 years later, notes Texas historian A.C. Greene. Cisco was a busy railroad junction with an air of sophistication, and a bank that attracted a red-suited robber on Christmas Eve, 1927, and gained worldwide attention with its celebrated "Santa Claus Bank Robbery. Those were simple and naive days, "when everybody knew everybody and nobody locked his door at night," as described in Green's book on the robbery. While the Cisco bank was being compromised that day in 1927, plans were underway to build a new courthouse on Eastland's town square. As the old courthouse was being demolished in early 1928, retired county clerk Ernest Wood remembered that he had placed something unusual in the corner-stone of the Romanesque-style brick building during its construction in 1897.

Speculation on this 31-year-old deposit stimulated local curiosity. More than 1,500 people gathered at the building site on February 28, 1928, to watch the time capsule being uncovered. Boyce House, editor of the Eastland Times-Tribune (who had recently engineered nationwide publicity of the Cisco Santa Claus robbery), took the story from there, perhaps with literary license:

"As bricks, mortar, and galvanized plate were lifted off the cornerstone, an official reached into the cavity and withdrew a frog-shaped form. This was a horned toad, or Texas Horned Lizard, Phrynosoma cornutum, reputedly able to hibernate for up to 100 years. Wood claimed that he had placed the creature in the cornerstone in the fall of 1897."

While a Methodist preacher watched, County Judge Ed Prichard held the toad in the air. Then, according to editor House and his wire story that soon informed the rest of the world, the toad twitched and came to life. "Old Rip," as the toad was named, for legendary sleeper Rip van Winkle, was placed in a fish bowl and toured for a year across the United States.

Back in Eastland, work progressed on the new Art Deco courthouse designed by Dallas architects Otto Lang and Frank Witchell. The study building was constructed of marble, terra-cotta, and brick veneer on a steel and reinforced-concrete frame. Glazed terra-cotta tiles covered the first floor and provided detailed bands above. Huge pairs of terra-cotta eagles, flanking shields at each corner of the building top, lent a judicial authority to the composition, completed for $313,000 in December 1928.

Some factions attempted to place another horned toad in the 1928 cornerstone, but humane groups objected. "Old Rip" died (House's paper listed the cause as pneumonia) in January 1929. He was reportedly embalmed, and laid in a satin-lined coffin donated by the National Casket Company. Except for a few subsequent kidnappings and ceremonies (which are stories themselves), the famous toad who reputedly lived for 31 years inside the cornerstone has been displayed in the courthouse lobby since 1929.

Over $45,000.00 will be awarded to the winner of the Kean Big Bass Classic on Lake Hubbard Creek. The second richest amateur bass tournament in the world, and its set up where anyone can win. A one fish tournament gives each contestant equal opportunity of catching that winning lunger.

Lake reports compiled by the Texas Parks & Wildlife for Hubbard Creek is as follows: Water clear, 78 degrees, three feet low; black bass good to four pounds on black worms; hybrid striper good with limits on silver slabs or any shiny baits; crappie slow, white bass fair on shiny lures, channel cats good to four pounds on minnows, yellow catfish picking up to 17½ pounds on trotline.

And our own reports are sending in the following: black bass good to 5.63 pounds on worms in 2-5 feet of water, hybrid striper fair on chrome Model A's, crappie slow on jigs, yellow cats good to 17½ pounds on live perch.

The folks at Mercury Marine offer this easy boating maintenance tip. One of the easiest maintenance jobs a small boat owner can do himself - lubricating the gear housing of his outboard motor - is also one of the most cost effective. A little preventative maintenance can save costly repairs.

The Mercury Outboards boating experts recommend that you lubricate the gear housing about every 30 days during the boating season. And here's how to do it:

Remove the fill plug and washer (their location will be shown in the owner's guide). Make sure you are using the gear lubricant prescribed by the engine's manufacturer, not automotive lubricant. Insert the nozzle of the lubricant tube into the filler hole.

Remove the vent screw and washer. Your owner's guide will tell you where the vent is located. Never add lubricant to the gear housing without first removing the vent screw. Add lubricant until the excess begins to flow out of the vent hole. Next, drain off about an ounce of lubricant to permit expansion. Replace the vent screw and the fill plug along with their washers.

You should have your gear housing checked by your marine dealer if you encounter any of these phenomena: water drains from the filler hole; metal particles are present on the magnetic fill plug; the lubricant is a milky brown color; or large amounts of lubricant must be added to fill the gear housing.

Boat maintenance, a little can save you a lot.

Cliff Craft ranked in the top 15 all time money winners on the B.A.S.S. Circuit and a member of the Mercury Outboards National Fishing Team offers this tip: For summertime bass that are deeper than 10 feet, I strongly advocate light line. Line of 10-pound test and lighter qualifies. The lighter the line, the lighter the lures you can use at greater depths. When bass are in deep, cool water, they will over to the same type of structure that they would in shallow water. With this thought in mind, the use of depth finders and recorders becomes a necessary tool for serious summertime bassing. Once the likely area is chosen, small line allows the angler to overcome the problem of water resistance on lure and line when fishing as deep as 50 feet. It is quite satisfying to catch on unseen bass from an unseen stump or rockpile.

So I Have Been Told.....

I have received a letter and some photos from Charlotte Boles in Sundown, Texas. She has some very interesting things. Mr. John N. Guy and John H. Boles are in the photo of the Carbon Mineral Water Co. Well No. 1 bath house. Mr. Boles is standing at the second post from the front door and Mr. Guy is standing to the right of the steps with a long over coat and hands together. She cannot identify any of the others. Can you? If so please call me.

Another photo of a drug store and Finley Bros. General Store. Mr. John B.

Boles & Sons standing behind the left horse in front of the drugstore. Was this in Carbon about 1901. Let me know.

Carbon School 1915-16 Clyde H. Boles and Viola Guy Boles & classmates.

Mr. Boles to the left of the man with the hat. Viola is the second to the right from the man with the hat. She is in the back row. Can anyone identify anyone else?

The History Book meeting was held at Carbon in the cafeteria Tuesday night. The county committee was beginning to be found. This committee will represent all communities and will be the one to make decisions pertaining to the books. The design, layout, size and many more things that must have the full county committee to approve and make these decisions.

The histories are coming in but according to the number we need to have enough for the book. We are needing yours turned in now.

There is lots of work to do after we receive these family histories and the sooner we can process them the better the book and the sooner it can go to press.

I still need to hear from you or please contact your Chamber of Commerce or if you know who your committee person is from your community please work with them also.

WORD OF GOD

He answered and said unto them, He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man;

The field is the world; the good seed are the children of the kingdom; but the tares are the children of the wicked one;

The enemy that sowed them is the devil; the harvest is the end of the world; and the reapers are the angels.

As therefore the tares are gathered and burned in the fire; so shall it be in the end of this world.

The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that offend, and them which do iniquity;

And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. Who hath ears to hear, let him hear. Matthew 13:37-43

Enterprise Diversity Conference To Be Held May 25 In Stephenville

Horticultural crops have made inroads in Texas Agriculture over the past five years due to declining revenues from traditional agricultural enterprises.

Further information on horticulture crops for agricultural diversification will be discussed at a conference May 25, at the Holiday Inn, Highway 677 in Stephenville.

Because of economic conditions, many producers have had to diversify their operations to maintain profitability, points out DeMarquis Gordon, County Extension Agent. During this time horticultural crops such as berries, grapes, peaches, and vegetables have played a significant role in the diversification process. As a result, Texas Horticultural industries have experienced rapid growth.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service will simultaneously conduct 10 regional conferences on May 26, entitled "Horticultural Alternatives for Texas Agriculture".

Portions of the educational program will be broadcast via satellite to each conference site. In addition, information concerning regional opportunities in horticulture will be presented by Extension specialists and industry leaders.

Each conference will open with local introductions, announcements and a welcome. The program will begin at 8:45 a.m. with a discussion by Extension Director, Zerle L. Carpenter, who will discuss "Diversifying Texas Agriculture—Potentials for Future Growth", followed by Dr. Lawrence Lippke, Extension economist-management, who will discuss "Horticultural Crops—Making the Right Decision".

After these two satellite presentations, the morning program at each site will focus on "Regional Opportunities for Horticultural Crops" and will be presented by Extension horticulturists, economists, and other production and marketing experts.

The afternoon program will offer a mix of local and satellite programming that covers direct and wholesale marketing of horticultural crops—presented by national, state and local authorities. Direct marketing topics will deal with "pick your own" operations, roadside stands, farmer's markets, marketing through retail outlets and pricing products for profits.

"Marketing is perhaps the most critical element in the profitable production of horticultural crops", emphasized Gordon. "Unlike traditional agricultural enterprises, horticulture does not have established buyers or accumulators, such as livestock auctions, gins and elevators. Successful horticultural production relies heavily on the producers' ability to identify appropriate market outlets."

Producers who are unable to attend on of the regional conferences, but who have access to a satellite dish, can view the televised program portions by tuning to the Westar 4 telecommunications satellite (Transponder 6 Direct). However, these producers will not receive the localized, regionally specific portions of the conference.

Producers desiring more information regarding the program should contact the County Extension Office in the Eastland County courthouse or by calling 629-1093.

People n Things

LET'S TAKE OUR hats off to Mr. Doug Fry, local rancher and city judge. He has purchased and delivered to the Canterbury Villa, local nursing home, six copies of the Holy Bible - the large print kind. He purchased them through John Clinton's Bible Book Store.

The folks at the nursing home told us that the bibles are being put to good use. The type is large enough that most people can read them without eye glasses.

Mr. Fry is a former Cisco mayor and a long-time good citizen.

GUESS YOU CAN say that Betty McGinness, wife of Dr. Allen McG, graduated with honors. When she banged the gavel for the last time last Saturday as president of the Texas Dental Association's Auxiliary, the members presented her with a very handsome Waterford Crystal Bowl as a token of appreciation for her year of hard work.

She spent most of last week in San Antonio at the state meeting. Dr. McG and their children were there the final day and were among those applauding when Mrs. McG was honored.

MEMBERS OF THE Cisco Lions Club hardly knew what to expect after Dr. Ken Hammes, CJC prof and program chairman at their meeting last Wednesday, told about the program. He had a film from the CJC Library, he said. Lions might want to leave as none of the actors had on clothes and Ken couldn't imagine how much a film ever got into the college library.

The lights dimmed and the camera began showing pictures of a large pig farm. And Lions were absolutely delighted. Shown were baby pigs at feeding time, pigs fighting, pigs digging, pigs in water and mud, and the like. The whole film was about pigs.

Lions J.V. Heysler told the club that he is chairman of next Wednesday's program and that Mr. Bob Flowers of the Texas Judicial Commission, Austin, will fly here in his own plane to speak.

AT LEAST THREE Cisco teams will compete this weekend in the annual Guys and Dolls golf tournament at the Baird-Clyde Shady Oaks Country Club. Planning to play there were the O. L. (Robbie) Robinsons, the Major Farnsworths, and Tim Jones and Evelyn Daniels.

Bennie Nichols and Bob Bennie, who won 2nd place at Pioneer last weekend, will be a team in the Eastland Lakeside Golf Tournament this weekend (May 16-17) ... Last month, Bennie Nichols captained one of 27 teams of four in a Breckenridge golf tournament put on by the Kiwanis Club. And the Nichols team won ... Nichols and Donnie Cate of Eastland placed third in the Lone Cedar tournament two or three weeks ago ... And Nichols teamed with Ralph Cain of Eastland to win second in a tournament two weeks ago at Coleman.

MEMBERS OF THE Cisco Junior College faculty and their spouses honored the Ken Hammes at a baby shower at the Cleatus Rattan home last Monday night ... Delbert Schaefer was the champion fisherman when members of the CHS faculty held their annual picnic at the June Hicks place one night last week. He hooked a bass that weighed four and a half pounds. It was large enough to make Jim Puryear drool, folks said. The picnic featured hot dogs and hamburgers and the trimmings ... Eddie McMillan attended a gathering of insurance men at Thurber Lake last weekend. He caught several nice catfish, he reported.

WHY HAS BILL Wright built a seven-foot fence around some 150 acres at their place just east of the Lake Cisco dam? He plans to stock the pasture with some exotic animals - the big game hunting kind ... A recent aerial survey by Texas Wildlife folks showed more than 100 deer on the Wright Ranch of several hundred acres out there ... Miss Hazel Worley and Mr. Cliff Hatcher, CHS grads, said their

"I Dos" in a wedding ceremony performed by Cliff's dad, Jim, at Church of Christ here Friday night. There will be a write-up about it all elsewhere in this issue (or soon) of the Press.

THE CHURCH OF Christ, by the way, is recruiting high school age folks for their annual Lake Cisco camp program June 14-20. Call the local church for details ... The CofC's same type camp for 3rd to 6th graders will be held June 7-11 and there are still openings for it.

The Church of Christ Camp at Lake Cisco, by the way, is going strong these days. They will soon begin the summer program. Every weekend has been taken for several weeks and every weekend except one has been booked through the summer and fall.

MET UP WITH Mrs. Mary Thurston of Denver City in Cisco the other day. She was here visiting her mother, Mrs. Alma Philpott, and her brothers Bill and Joe and families. She reports that all's well at her house ... Dorcas Sitton of our town was the honoree at a pretty big party last Sunday. It was Mother's Day and her birthday was two days later. Since part of her folks couldn't be here for both days, they decided to observe both events Sunday. So two granddaughters made a birthday cake. And after she opened Mother's Day and Birthday presents, they brought out the cake. Among the candles was this message: "Happy Birthday."

THE CONGREGATIONS of First Christian, First United Methodist, and First Presbyterian Churches will begin their annual summer union Sunday Evening services on May 31st. Dr. Kenneth E. Breeze, Christian church, will be the speaker at his church ... The Hays Road exit signs on I-20 near Clyde now have a smaller sign under them that says: "Cisco Junior College, Clyde Campus" ... Bill Carr's trucking company has offices in the building owned by Mr. Tommie Pope out on I-20. A western store was formerly operated there.

A NUMBER OF people report seeing the CJC Band and Belles on the Mid-Day with Laurie television program at noon Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Laurie Stevens of the Abilene Channel 9 program took her camera to Mexico with the group and made the pictures.

Thursday noon's program featured the parade in the southern Mexico City with some 85,000 spectators. Mrs. Stevens interviewed a number of Band and Belle members and introduced a lot of people who made the trip, including folks from Cisco, Eastland, Breckenridge, Morton Valley and elsewhere in the area. Prof Wyley Peebles was shown and interviewed.

It was a very nice report and CJC and area folks should be very pleased with it all.

ALL WAS QUIET at the college Friday. The dorms were closed. The cafeteria had shut down. The school year was officially over. It will be in early June before the first classes of summer school begin.

"The 1986-87 school year was a good one," Dr. Henry E. McCullough, CJC proxy told us.

A lot of work is planned on campus buildings during the summer. There will be basketball camps for boys and girls and other activities that will be announced from time to time.

Lightning Strikes Oil Tank Batteries

Oil tank batteries in three locations south of Cisco were struck by lightning and destroyed by fire early Thursday morning as thunderstorms moved through the region after midnight. Rainfall measuring up to four inches fell at Nimrod and about one inch was recorded in Cisco.

At 1 a.m. Thursday, an oil tank battery was set afire by lightning on the Harris Lease south of Cisco. Two tanks of oil were burned and exploded. Cisco and Rising Star firemen sent men and equipment to fight the blaze.

At 1:30 a.m., a tank battery near Highway 6 on the Reich Lease caught fire and burned. Fifteen minutes later, oil tanks on the Schaefer Lease near Highway 206 south of town were hit and destroyed, firemen reported.

Fireman Truett Horton said they could do little with the oil blazes.

Cisco firemen sent weather watchers out around midnight Wednesday as storm conditions were reported. Teams of watchers were on the job for more than two hours.

At Nimrod, light hail fell with the rain. Heavy hail was reported in the Rising Star area. High winds were also reported south of Cisco but no major damage was reported. Rainfall was lighter north of town.

Cisco Gun Club News

Last Saturday, May 9th, the Cisco Gun Club conducted its first "Trophy Matches" for 1987. For this tournament, the events included the .22 Caliber Pistol, Large Bore Pistol and Shotgun. The club's next trophy tournament is scheduled for July 11th and contestants will shoot the .22 Caliber Rifle, Large Bore Rifle and .22 Caliber Silhouettes.

For June, the gun club has its annual Family Hamburger Cookout scheduled. This event is restricted to club members only.

Saturday's matches were blessed with excellent weather and a fair group of competitors for this tournament. Each of the events had nine shooters competing. The first event, .22 Caliber Pistol, turned into a very close three-man race between David Roop, Bruce Ferguson and Ed Hunger. However, David Roop prevailed and won First Place by shooting 138 points out of a possible 150. The second event was the Large Bore Pistol. Bruce Ferguson took First Place in this event with a very impressive total score of 138 points. The third and final event of the tournament was the Shotgun. To determine a winner in this event it required a four-round tie-breaking shoot-out between Bruce Ferguson, David Roop and Tommie Lee. For the second time that day, Bruce Ferguson took the First Place trophy.

Club Rangemaster and Vice President Tommie Lee stated he was really pleased with this first trophy tournament. "I think the events were well organized and the competition required that the winner in each of the events to do some excellent shooting. I was also pleased to see some new faces at the tournament. I hope everyone will be back to shoot in the July trophy matches," stated Lee.

Prior to the adult matches, the club conducted a shooting match for kids. This match included three matches - two .22 rifle events and a shotgun event. Out of the six young people participating, the event winners were:

.22 TARGET
1st - Destini Ferguson; 2nd - Dusty Ferguson; 3rd - Billy Boles.

.22 SILHOUETTE
1st - Destini Ferguson; 2nd - Dusty Ferguson; 3rd - Brent Lee.

SHOTGUN
1st - Brandon Lacy; 3rd - Billy Boles.

DAVID ROOP shows off the first place trophy he won in the .22 Caliber Pistol match.

10th Annual Breckenridge Air Show To Be May 24

The 10th Annual Breckenridge Air Show is scheduled for Sunday, May 24 at the Stephens County Airport, which is located about two miles south of Breckenridge just off U.S. Highway 183.

The 1987 Air Show, as those who have seen it before have come to expect, will feature about 150 restored World War II Warbird aircraft. The feature attraction will be the reenactment of the air battle depicted in the movie, "Tora, Tora, Tora". Breckenridge's Air Show has grown from an event when a "few old fly-boys" got together for a weekend of fun and fellowship in 1978 into one of the outstanding air shows of the nation.

Planners for the 1987 Breckenridge Air Show are confident - depending upon the weather - there will be over 150 vintage Warbirds on hand for the air show. It is also possible there will be up to 500 other regular airplanes and possibly several experimental aircraft.

Breckenridge's Air Show has grown into a two day event with Saturday being a day to view the static displays of the Warbirds and to tour the Breckenridge Aviation Museum. The Stephens County Airport will be open beginning at 9 a.m. Saturday, May 23 for tours. Admission on Saturday will be $3 per person for everyone over five years of age.

The 10th annual Breckenridge Air Show will take off at 1 p.m., Sunday, May 24 with the fly-over of current military aircraft. The air show itself will begin at 2 p.m. and continue until 5 p.m. Admission is $5 for adults, $3 for children under 12 with children under five admitted free.

Ed Sealy, general chairman of the event said everyone should bring lawn chairs and protective sun equipment. There will be a variety of food and soft drink booths available. There will also be several booths offering souvenirs he added.

Tickets may be ordered in advance. Checks and money orders should be made payable to Breckenridge Air Show and mailed to P.O. Box 1466, Breckenridge, 76024, or they may be picked up at the Breckenridge Chamber of Commerce, 112 West Walker Street.

Cisco Cemetery Association Have Meeting Last Week

The Cisco Cemetery Association had expenses of $26,680 and income of $27,305 during the year ending March 31, 1987. President Anton White reported to the City Council at their semi-monthly meeting Tuesday night at City Hall.

In the annual report, Mr. White said that expenses included buying two riding grass mowers at a cost of $3,858 and contract labor totalling $17,340. Other major expense items included $2,279 for workmen's compensation insurance (two years) and $801 for mower repairs.

Income included $7,200 from the city, $5,900 from the sale of cemetery lots, $11,500 in interests from money in the perpetual care fund, and $260 miscellaneous. The association's trust fund showed a balance of $124,074 at the end of the year - up some $5,000 from the previous year. The gain included $4,350 in gifts and memorials.

City Manager Mike Moore reported that "The association and its leaders are doing an outstanding job and rendering a service to the community that everyone sincerely appreciates." Steve Clary accompanied Mr. White to the meeting.

In other action, the Council withheld action on a request by Thomas C. Canan that the city revise an oil and gas lease with him to reduce the city's royalty interest from a third to 20 per cent. The Council took no action, indicating that they would take another look at the matter after Jan. 1, 1988.

No action was taken on an agenda item to relocate utility lines in the Thrift Mart area where an expansion has been under consideration for the past two years. The Council would like to encourage the company to make the expansion, feeling that it would be good for the community, officials said. They pledged to work with the Chamber of Commerce in encouraging the company.

Sammy Guthrie, III, of Guthrie Truck Stop appeared before the Council and requested that a fire hydrant be installed in the area of the truck stop and the White Elephant Restaurant and Best Western Motel. City Manager Moore was requested to study the matter for a Council discussion at the next meeting.

Mayor Joe Wheatley presided at the meeting. Present were Councilmen Allen Masters, Roy Dennis, Bural Chambers and John Muller, City Manager Moore, City Secretary Ginger Johnson and City Attorney Bill Wright.

Music Club Celebration - A Picnic In The Park

A beautiful place, good food, and fine music. These were some of the ingredients for success at the Eastland Music Study Club Picnic-Concert at City Park the evening of May 4.

Another part of the event was the enjoyable company. Club member, their families, "Friends of Music" and guests greeted each other and visited while they spread a delicious meal at the stone tables.

Everyone remarked how well-kept and green the City Park was, and what an excellent place it was for such a gathering.

Hostesses for the Picnic-Concert were Leslie Keffer, Debbie Parsons, Kay Meeks and Sharon Moylan. Debbie Parsons who was program Chairman. The affair was listed as part of Eastland's National Music Week celebration.

After the meal the crowd went across the Park to the bandstand, where various musicians began the evening's entertainment. Becky Bullock played her flute and Jim Don Andrews his trumpet. again demonstrating their award-winning abilities. Kimberly Parsons played the violin, pleasing the group with her technique.

Then a group composed of Bob Weeks, Violin, and his violin-playing children Robert Jr., Brandy and Rebecca began an appealing program. They were accompanied by Raymond Hart and Al Anderson on guitars.

Bob Weeks demonstrated some of his prize-winning fiddle tunes, with his children joining him and then playing solo at times. Al Anderson and Viola Payne alternated some violin playing with the others. Raymond Hart also sang a number.

The Club was highly pleased with Bob Week's styling, delighted with the playing of his children, and very complimentary of the whole group. All said it was a grande finale to the Club's year of Texas music.

Nutrition Program
Approximately 58 million Americans have an increased risk of illness and early death due to high blood pressure. This represents more than one out of every four adult Americans. Anybody can have high blood pressure but its prevalence: increases with age - to approximately 75 per cent of persons over age 75; is greater in black Americans than in whites, particularly at severe levels where the rates are three times greater in blacks; and is higher in men than women; however, because of the higher prevalence in women over age 65, the total number of persons with high blood pressure is very closely divided between the sexes.

If you want your blood pressure taken call 442-2263 and an appointment will be made. The Senior Center takes the blood pressure free. The programs for the past week included: Janet Thomas of the County Extension Department had a program on canning and checked pressure cooker gauges. The dinner music was provided by Clovis Webb, Maye Green, The Center Band and Choir, and blood pressure was taken by Mabel Thetford. The menus for the coming week will be: Monday - Beef stroganoff with spaghetti, peas and carrots, tossed salad, jello with topping, peanut butter cookies, bread, butter and milk. Wednesday - Pimento cheese sandwich, shoestring potatoes, bean soup, carrot curls, apple, lemon cookies, bread, butter and milk. Friday - Barbecue chicken, potato salad, collard greens, cheese apple crisp, bread, butter and milk.

History Of Scranton's First Schools

By EVELYN BAILEY

Historian Lewis W. Newton asserts that "Texans yield to no other people in the devotion to the cause of education." No more fitting statement could be applied at the early settlers of the Scranton community. When Eastland County was organized in 1873, it was primeval territory, scarcely touched by the white man's hand. It lay on the extreme western fringe of the Texas frontier. There was constant danger from Indians, there were no roads, no schools, no churches, and fewer than 25 families were widely scattered across the county. The first permanent settlers in the Scranton community arrived in 1875 and spearheaded a gradual influx of pioneers during the next ten years. What little schooling was available took place in homes; families who lived near to one another cooperated in providing schooling for their children. Ministers often served as teachers, teaching where they found places to preach. Teachers in the middle or late eighties were Josh Snoddy, T. J. Morris, D. E. Jones, T. M. Morris, C. B. Everett, T. E. Lane, John H. Helms, Felix Boyd, Dick Smith, and Byron Smith.

The State of Texas, still in its formative stage, was trying to establish schools, but it was not until 1875 that the first state-supported high school was established in the older part of the state at Brenham. By the middle eighties the public school movement had reached Eastland County and a few seven-grade schools were started. Scranton received its first such school in 1887, five years before a U. S. Post Office made the name "Scranton" the official name of the town. Previously the area had often been referred to as the "Uncle Joe Brown neighborhood" as he, his brother Aaron, D. C. and H. L. Lane, Nat Hendrickson, and a Mr. Huff, all neighbors, were the first permanent settlers in the community.

Meantime in 1900, A. V. Britton of Alabama had come to Carbon where a public grade school was operating. Seeing the need for a high school, he rode through the community in his buggy, soliciting students and taking subscriptions for a high school. The school, once established, was an immediate success with over 100 students enrolled the first year. In 1901 O. C. Britton, a graduate of Northeast Alabama Agricultural College, arrived in Carbon and took over the superintendency of the school established by his brother. Under his administration Carbon High School achieved phenomenal growth, and Britton became widely known as an able school administrator throughout the area.

By 1902 the settlers in Scranton, recalling the amenities they had been accustomed to back in the states from which they came -- Tennessee, Kentucky, Alabama, Mississippi, and Georgia -- united in an effort to provide education above the grade school level for their children. Not yet able to acquire state aid for a high school, the forward-minded denizens of the community raised, not by bonds, but by individual subscription, the money to acquire twelve acres of land for a campus and erect a large two-story frame building consisting of six classrooms, a 500-seat auditorium with a well-equipped stage, and sufficient funds to assure faculty salaries until such time as tuition could be collected. Again by individual subscription, money was raised to build two large two-story dormitories, one for men and one for women, an adjoining dining hall, and later a music building. Six acres of the campus were laid off into athletic fields for various sports.

It came as no surprise when the Scranton people offered the position of superintendent to the reputable young educator of Carbon. When he consented to accept, the people of Carbon were irate, and according to historian Pearl Ghormley, O. C. Britton was burned in effigy, given a mock burial, and placed in a regular grave with a tombstone which read "Scranton stole our teacher."

Under Britton's administration (1903-1909), he, with the total cooperation of the community, built the new high school into Scranton Academy, chartered and affiliated with the University of Texas. With accommodations for sixty dormitory students and rooms available in private homes, the enrollment grew to over three hundred. The school catalogue of 1913 boasted of "the best preparatory school in Texas - a non-sectarian training school for both sexes, maintained by the citizenship of the country about it." Students came from all parts of the state to attend the school.

Scranton, of course, was an inland town, and when the railroads came to Cisco, Britton was lured by new opportunity. In 1909 he resigned at Scranton and lost no time in establishing Britton's Training School in Cisco.

It has been said that in the early part of the twentieth century, Carbon, Scranton, and Cisco dominated the educational scene in Eastland County. That being true, O. C. Britton deserves much of the credit for that distinction. At Carbon he laid the foundation for his successors there to build into Hankins Normal College (1904-1910); at Scranton he founded Scranton Academy (1909-1917). These were the only preparatory schools in the county during the first two decades of the twentieth century. Mr. Britton also conducted Summer Normal Schools each summer in Cisco and in Abilene; he also served on the County Examining Board. No other educator played so large a role in providing higher education in Eastland County at that early period.

Dale Stewart Completes Study

Dale Stewart of Cisco has completed a week of intensive study on the "Anatomy of the Horse in Motion" at a workshop sponsored by the Cowboy Artists of America Museum in Kerrville.

The workshop was conducted by CA member Jack Swanson of Carmel Valley, California, one of the world's foremost painters and sculptors of the horse.

The PEOPLE'S FORUM

Opinions expressed here do not necessarily reflect the opinions of this newspaper.

I've Been Wrong Before

Gordon S. Clark

I had this mind set against moving my children from one school to another except at summer time. Absolutely not after a school year began.

A child has emotional and other problems which they may never analyze or may in later years begin like talking to a head shrinker. "I believe my problem began when I was very young."

Mother stood for stability but Dad was a rolling stone, a restless, questing spirit. The conflicting philosophies: A rolling stone gathers no moss against but it does get polished edges. So we often finished a school year in a different school from the one where we started.

First there is what poultrymen and psychologists call "the pecking order". The boys at the new school just had to know who the new kid could whip and who could whip him. It was the old putting a chip on the shoulder or "That kid says he can lick you." There was simply no way of getting by it in spite of Mother's insistence that you could avoid school ground fistcuffs. The sooner you were placed in order the less trips to the office. With no sisters I wouldn't know but they say that girls have a worse system yet with dominance established by catty remarks cutting one down verbally and other subtle methods. Maybe the noggin' knocking would be less painful.

Then there were the teachers. After all their trouble of seating and getting roll and grade books in alphabetical order, here you break in. Being almost human they seemed prone to a subconscious resentment toward the disrupter of their neat little order. At times it was all too obvious. Maybe they should be excused because they had to cope with dozens of brats people expected them to control but not too forcefully while each little barbarian tried to go his own way. Remember, civilization is not an inborn trait. Each morning the hospital reports new little animals born with no knowledge nor instinct beyond eating and survival. "Be ye kind one to another" is taught in Sunday School. It seldom comes naturally. Some teachers have talent in civilization, but not all of them do.

The text books were a problem when coupled with teacher inflexibility. Math was the worst with those lousy formula. Consider questions like giving the formula for finding the circumference of a circle or the area of a triangle. The text at one school gave $2\pi R$ but while those two R (radius) equaled one diameter no variations was ever permitted so I lost grade points until I learned that at the new school only πD was correct. The area of a triangle might have been $\frac{1}{2} \times \text{base} \times \text{height}$ ($\frac{1}{2} B \times H$) where you started but now it was $\frac{1}{2}$ base times altitude ($\frac{1}{2} B \times A$). It seems that teachers refused to believe height and altitude were the same thing. I had to learn and unlearn at the same time. Maybe such things made my brothers more adaptable whereas my reaction was resentment evolving into extreme stubbornness. It is a wonder I ever graduated.

Do parents ever discuss a move with their children, prepare them for any, let alone all, those little problems a move entails? Probably they never considered the children's adjustment and certainly they couldn't alter the thinking of those mean old teachers.

Growing up isn't easy and parenting is the most vital yet untaught art of all.

Maybe the crux of the problem lies in the fact that if we had to learn how to bring up children properly before we were permitted to have any, like getting a drivers license, the world would be depopulated and the human race become extinct. The art of perfect parenthood is so complex we would be far beyond the age of procreation before we mastered it.

It takes a lot of love to make up for lack of ability or experience and too many lack time or capacity to love. Now we are beyond Mother's hug and kiss to comfort and heal the skinned knee or stumped toe.

At least my parents gave me a last name beginning with C and I was never left standing against a wall like the Yeagers or Zimmermans in overcrowded class rooms nor last called when the goodies were passed out. But cheer up Y & Z in service C was always first stuck on a duty roster. I wonder why nobody ever did it fairly and started at the other end of the alphabet?

TEXAS HEALTH NEWS AND VIEWS

By Roy Cartee

QUESTION: Mr. Cartee, I need help in sending my Medicare and supplemental insurance forms. I had to pay $40 for a person to fill out 4 of the forms the other day. Who can help me.

ANSWER: AARP has counselors who are trained in Medicare and Medicaid forms. I would suggest that you call 442-2263 and make an appointment. You must come to the office with the doctor or various clinic bills. Remember, you cannot file for payment of your supplemental insurance until Medicare has acted toward payment of the claim.

QUESTION: Mr. Cartee, I read the other day of the growth in population in Texas and the elderly is the fastest growing group. Can you tell us anything about this?

ANSWER: Because of great advances in health care during the last several decades, people are living much longer. Figures show the following: In 1980 there were 476,110 people who were between 65-69 years old. While in 1986 there were 549,202. But for ages 75 and older there were 523,896 Texans while in 1986 there were 687,670. However for the age 75 and older, in the year 2000, it is estimated there will be 915,919 Texans older than 75. On the other hand from 1980 to 2000 young workers, ages 18 to 24 years, entering the work force are expected to decline from 24% of the population to less than 16%. The questions that arising who will support this large segment of older people. There is concern and we are making an 18 month study on this very thought in this region, which will be submitted to the legislature.

If you have questions that you would like to direct to Mr. Roy Cartee, associate State coordinator for AARP Health please send them to the Eastland Telegram, P.O. Box 29, Eastland, Texas 76448.

Born in Santo, she grew up there and attended schools there. She was a schoolteacher in Gordon, Mingo, and Santo, and later worked for McClash Mercantile. She was a member of the First Baptist Church and the widow of Lester Phillips.

Survivors include two daughters, Mary Jo Maddox and Jean Lockwood, both of Santo; four grandchildren; one step-grandchild; two great-grandchildren; and two step great-grandchildren.

Services were at 4:00 p.m. Wednesday at the Daugherty St. Church of Christ with Gary Montgomery officiating, assisted by Ernie Christi and Larry Marshall. Aliens Wanting Residency May Contact County Persons Illegal aliens who are eligible to apply for residency under the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986 may contact several persons in Eastland County for help.

The Eastland County volunteers are working under the auspices of Catholic Charities. The legalization program will assist unregistered immigrants in obtaining U.S. resident permits. Catholic Charities has been officially designated by the Diocese of Fort Worth to be responsible for the implementation of the IRCA. Catholic Charities is recognized and accredited by the Immigration and Naturalization Service as an immigration counseling agency. Charities has individually accredited staff and an attorney who will provide assistance to parishes in the Fort Worth diocese.

The Eastland volunteers have attended training sessions with the Charities staff and can offer assistance not only in filling out the forms but in obtaining needed documents.

Briefly, to qualify for the legalization program an immigrant must have entered the United States before Jan. 1, 1982, must not have been convicted of a felony or a total of three misdemeanors, must not have had extended absences from the U.S. since Jan. 1, 1982, and must not have assisted in the persecution of any persons on account of race, religion, nationality, membership in a particular social group or political opinion.

INS fees are as follows: One adult, $185.00, one child under 18, $50.00, maximum per family, $420.00.

Catholic Charities will also charge a processing fee based on a sliding scale not to exceed $75.00 per adult. "No one will be turned away by Catholic Charities because they cannot pay," said Ana Walker, Eastland County coordinator. "We will help everyone we can who is eligible under this program regardless of their ability to pay."

Anyone who thinks they might be eligible for this program is encouraged to contact a volunteer. "We are also calling on area churches who might know of eligible immigrants and business people who might employ them to pass on our names to these people. We have lists of required documents. We can help write letters to obtain required documents and, through Catholic Charities, we can offer them the aid of a staff attorney with years of experience in immigration matters," said Mrs. Walker. "One of our main objectives, besides obtaining residency status for these people is to keep them from being taken advantage of by unscrupulous people posing as attorneys or others who can obtain the required documentation. Since the application period began, we have heard horror stories of people being taken for hundreds, sometimes thousands, of dollars and being left with no papers and little hope," she said.

"We are optimistic about the program," she said. "Dealing with any government agency is not easy. It requires a lot of patience and stamina but we're confident we can help do the job."

More information can be obtained by calling Mrs. Walker at 442-4741, Dora Ramirez at 442-1732, Jane Sancillo at 629-8748, or St. Rita's Church in Ranger, 647-3167.

Lights From The Christian World

By Josephine Cleveland

A great opera singer traveled to many places giving concerts. He was applauded by people around the world. A woman from Japan admired his singing so much that she followed him to various parts of the world to hear him perform. On one occasion she met him. She told him, "I have attended over 400 of your concerts."

The great singer looked at her and said, "Then you have found satisfaction in your life, my friend." As he turned away, he shook his head and said, "But I haven't."

We all have the potential to possess the qualities of nobleness, kindness, contentment, and such. This opera singer had been taught that all strength was in ourselves. He had used his ability and strength to reach his potential of success. But he discovered that this was not enough to satisfy. He learned that there were some things we can't do.

Friend, only Jesus Christ can forgive us of our sin and give us unlimited power to develop to our fullest potential. He brings out the very best of us in every area of our life. It is then that we can find true happiness, satisfaction, and contentment.

Host Families Needed For Exchange Students

Host families and homes are needed for several ASSE International Student Exchange Program students for the 1987-1988 school year. The students arrive in mid-August and leave the following June after spending a school year in the USA. The students are fluent in English, have their own medical insurance, and must provide their own spending money. The only requirement of a host family is room and board. The students are expected to participate in family activities and share in household responsibilities.

One such student is Asa Olofsson, a 17 year old girl from Sweden. Her father is an aeronautical engineer and her mother is a teacher. She had one sister who is 7 years old.

Asa's interests include reading, writing stories, swimming, music, piano, and singing in church and school choirs. Asa especially enjoys writing to pen pals and writing stories. She and a friend print a small paper and sell to friends and families. Asa especially likes very young children and likes to babysit.

Asa would like to learn more about the USA and how it is different from Sweden.

Another student is Magnus Hogfeldt, a 17 year old boy from Sweden. He has two sisters, ages 18 and 8 years of age. His father is a marketing manager, and his mother is a student.

Magnus's interests include soccer, handball, body building, karate, tennis, camping, snow skiing, badminton, clothes, music and reading. He has studied various languages including, Swedish, German, French and English.

Magnus has wanted to come to America since he was a small child and has worked hard at various jobs to help earn his money for the year.

If you feel you can share your home and life with Asa or Magnus for a school year, please contact Carroll Draper, Route 2, Box 216CC, Early, TX 76801. Telephone 915-643-2476 or 817-734-2721.

DEAR EDITOR:

Since the week of May 10-16 has been designated as "Texas Hospital Week," I would like to express my personal appreciation for our local E. L. Graham Memorial Hospital.

I was recently a patient in the Cisco hospital, and I am very grateful for the excellent care I received from the nurses, Dr. Cermin and all the other members of the local hospital staff.

I think we have a good hospital that serves our community well, and one that we can be very thankful for.

Thank you, Mrs. Ruth Livingston

Watch Is Stolen From Anderson's Jewelry

Cisco police are investigating the theft by a shoplifter of a gold watch and band worth some $3,750 from Anderson's Jewelry here Thursday, according to a report by the Police Department.

The police report said that a shopper went into the store and purchased a bracelet and asked Al Anderson, store owner, to engrave a name on it. After the shopper received the bracelet and departed, it was discovered that the watch was missing.

Mrs. Melvin Wende of 1103 Avenue N reported to police and a blue Huffy bicycle belonging to their son was stolen Thursday from the elementary school. Police were investigating.

Life On The Quiet Side

By Sandra Prickett

A flood of fond, almost forgotten memories ran through my mind as I read in my hometown newspaper the drive-in movie in our central Texas town was closing its doors forever. "Lack of business," the owner explained.

I felt a wave of nostalgia as I recalled as a young child the good times my sister and I shared smuggled under a blanket in the back seat munching hot buttered pop corn, and the excitement of sitting next to my beau touching hands while watching the big outside screen.

As I continued to read the obituary of the drive-in theater I noticed the last movie to play on the last night would be, "Take This Job and Shove It."

Poet's Corner

The following poem was written by Ivan Page of Cisco, in 1979.

When Jesus came to this earth,

They started borrowing at His birth.

They borrowed a manager for a bed.

For He had no place to lay His head.

He borrowed a colt to ride to town.

A better person could not be found.

He borrowed some fish and some bread.

Where over 4 thousand could be fed.

He borrowed a drink from a woman at the well.

And off she went others to tell.

When His life he freely gave they buried him in a borrowed cave.

When He died our sins to atone.

The life He gave was His very own.

OUTPOST OF FREEDOM

The framers of our Constitution didn't wait very long to make their wishes known about maintaining a "Free Press." In the very first Amendment, they clearly stated, "Congress shall make no laws respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances." Newspapers guarantee our right to be free!

Our Constitution... 200 years of unequalled freedom!

Chamber Of Commerce Directors Held Meeting

The Cisco Lions Club and the Chamber of Commerce are working on plans for the annual July the Fourth Celebration, the board was told. Efforts will be made to raise an extra $750 this year to pay for liability insurance for the fireworks display, it was reported. Details of the Fourth program will be announced from time to time.

Bural Chambers, chairman for the Little Miss Cisco Contest and for a possible Miss Cisco Contest, reported that committees are being organized for these events and announcements will be made soon.

Christmas In May Work Day Will Be Sat.

Cisco Chamber of Commerce's annual Christmas in May project has been scheduled for Saturday, May 16, according to an announcement from Don Shepard, chamber manager.

Volunteers have been asked to meet at 7:30 a.m. at Traditions Restaurant where they will be divided into groups and assigned to the various projects, Mr. Shepard said. They were reminded to wear old work clothes and bring tools.

Each year, the CoC organizes the Christmas in May project. Volunteers repair homes of Cisco residents who are unable to make repairs themselves. The homes are chosen from applications made to Christmas in May.

Supplement To High School Annual Is Being Offered CHS

Cisco High school annual staff is producing a supplement to the yearbook which will include the spring events of the 1987 school year. Photos of graduation, tennis, golf, track, banquets, the senior play, and other spring things are to be contained in the supplement. These events are usually missed due to the early spring deadline for sending yearbook materials to the publisher.

"We have found a way to remember these special events by supplying a supplement," a yearbook spokesperson said. The sixteen-page booklet sells for $5.00 and may be purchased through any yearbook staff member or Mrs. Lou Jane

Progress of a membership drive has been good and more contacts are to be made before the drive ends, the board was informed.

Manager Don Shepard told the board that the industrial committee has been working to develop plans for the presentation of eight to ten minutes about Cisco and its assets. This presentation will be available for potential industry and business prospects. Plans to advertise Cisco in highly industrialized areas are also being studied, Mr. Shepard said.

Mrs. Ayres Cermin is chairman of a committee that has been working on plans for highway signs and for a new brochure to use in advertising Cisco, the board was informed. Pictures have been made for the brochure and it is now being prepared. Signs on I-20 advertising Cisco are soon to be repainted, it was reported.

Harold Reich told the board that there is considerable interest in plans for a community farmers market, which is expected to be opened in early June. Late winter freezes have delayed produce from gardens in this region, he said. Ideas for community promotions to generate traffic in business were discussed and studied.

President Roy Dennis was in charge of the meeting.

Directors present were Emma Watts, Dan Dixon, Dr. Ayres Cermin, Shirley Hargrave, Brad Kimbrough, Ronnie Ledbetter, Helen Orr, Harold Reich, Bill Wright and Don Shepard.

Jury Selection For Garcia Case

Wednesday. He said this article might make choosing a jury difficult.

The judge extended a gag order issued by visiting Judge Claude Williams in early April. The order now includes all court personnel, he said. "It extends to everybody not to talk to the press," Fitts said.

A motion to sequester the jury during the Garcia trial was denied by the Judge, although he said this might become necessary during the trial. This had been requested by a defense attorney with the statement that: "There is a clear and present danger that the news media will report inadmissible evidence against the defendants."

The trial is scheduled to begin at 9 a.m. Monday Morning, May 18, in the District Courtroom. Jury selection will begin from 500 prospective jurors.

High School Class Of 1957 To Meet May 23

The Cisco High School class of 1957 has announced plans for a 30 year class reunion. The date reserved for this very special occasion is May 23, 1987, and the event will take place at the Mobley-Hilton beginning at 3 p.m. with a family hour. At about 7 p.m., plans call for the group to enjoy dinner together at Cisco's newest and very elegant restaurant "Puttin on the Ritz", just a few steps away from the Mobley. After dinner, a party and dance is scheduled at the Mobley.

Roy Thackerson, better known as the "Fingerless Fiddler" and a member of the class, has been invited to do some pickin' and fiddlin' for the group. At this writing the class had not received word from Roy. The class has put out a call for the class prophecy according to Nina Jo (Walton) Anderson of Cisco, also a 1957 Cisco High School senior class please send it to one of us. It would be so much fun to read it now. Thirty years ago, 1987 sounded like a space odyssey. Now look what has happened to us! Oh, well, we're going to have a great time anyway! Everyone make a special effort to come to this reunion. We've had lots of fun at our past get-togethers, and really want to see those that have never come. Bring old pictures, memorabilia, a sweetheart or friend if you don't have a spouse, and a heart full of remember when's. Let's make this one the best year!"

The following class members are missing: Kay Pelfrey, Janice Graves, Sydney Hansen, Clifford Bilbrey, Betty Micheal, Shelba Terry. If anyone has information concerning them, please contact a committee member.

She has this message for her classmates: "Everybody, dig into those old boxes in the attic and see if you can find the class prophecy. If anyone has it, and can't come to the reunion,

Ex-teachers of this group are invited and encouraged to attend this reunion and share in the fun and fellowship. Please direct any questions or responses to any of the following committee members: Nina Jo Anderson 442-1993; Arlene Fry 442-3330; Vondalea Anderson 442-3223; Rodney Callaway, Cross Plains, 725-7770.

"No problem," I said. "My bike's a ten-speed too. All those gears flatten out the hills."

"It's also 13 miles back." "I can always gear down," I explained, ignoring Lisa's cautionary logic, as I hurried for the basement steps. In a moment I returned with the big, yellow Schwinn Continental I had bought in college. It was mildewed, yet still magnificent.

"I'll have this beauty on the road in a flash," I said. "Of course, I'll ride just a couple of times a week to start with, then build up. It'll rain enough to keep me from burning out, and I'll save lots on gas."

Lisa agreed. It would be a way to save money, use a renewable resource (my energy), improve overall fitness, and enjoy the scenery. It sounded ideal. So on Saturday I cleaned my bike, checked the tires, oiled the chain and rode about a mile down the road. It was fun. I was ready.

Monday I was up at dawn and pedaling into the glory of a new day. The first 2 1/2 miles were wonderful! The breeze rushed across my face, the bike was easy to pedal. I even found myself coasting much of the time. I could understand why so many people love biking. I imagined little woodland creatures looking on and nodding approval, and I felt quite proud of my 40-year-old self.

After I crossed Huffman Bridge, my point of view changed radically as I realized that, until then, it had been a downhill ride. As I began to labor up from the river I found out my free-wheeling was not even remotely free. I would pay a substantial price, with interest.

I apologize to the people who live along Highway 64-70 and the bypass. The sound they heard going by their homes that morning was not a vacuum cleaner with emphysema. It was me trying to breathe.

I shifted to the lowest gear, which wasn't low enough, and resolved to make it up the hill. I might have climbed off and pushed. But there was an occasional car, and my pride told me that for most bikers the hill was a routine challenge. I wasn't about to be seen hoofing it in abject surrender.

I made it, but just as I was anticipating the extravagance of normal oxygen intake, y hopes for relief were dashed. A dog, half wolf and half-chainsaw, came bounding from a farmyard. I generated more speed, an Olympian achievement considering I was pedaling with one leg. The other was staying off the dog. I remember reading that joggers could sometimes save themselves from such beasts by talking tough. It was worth a try.

"BAD DOG! GO HOME!" I shouted.

And he did! I pedaled on quickly. My breathing returned to normal by the time I turned onto the narrow two-lane highway that started a long, downhill stretch. I had gone 5 1/2 miles.

My legs, lungs and heart appreciated the respite, but my nerves soon came in for a test. A big truck was coming toward me, and a quick glance over my shoulder told me I was being caught from behind by a second 18-wheeler. Very shortly the road was filled by the two trucks and me, three abreast. I could have easily touched the one truck with my elbow as it hurtled by. But just to make sure I knew he was there, in case I hadn't noticed, the driver gave me a blast on his honker. I nearly became airborne as my spirit bolted for heaven, no longer interested in inhabiting a doomed temple, no matter how aerobic. Somehow I clung tenaciously to my perilous course as the trucker thundered past in his security of steel and seat belt.

Even though it took an eternity, I finally made it to work where, fortunately, there were no witnesses I knew very well. I parked the bike and leaned against it, my body racked by nausea and fatigue. I walked slowly up the steps, my leg muscles working as if replaced by cold fudge. To a custodian's "Good morning!" I managed a pathetic croaking response.

I struggled to make it through the day, trying not to think about the trip home. But I survived that, too, taking my time except when riding under a high-gear of steam past the dog's house. I caught him by surprise and, laughing maniacally, shouted, "Eat my dust!" as I outraced him.

I came in our door looking as if I had ridden through a nuclear powered car wash. I was sweat-soaked and sucking air like a beached grouper. Lisa began humming the theme song from Rocky as she fixed me a cold drink. Since we didn't have an oxygen tent, I gratefully took the iced tea and collapsed on the sofa.

I've ridden many times since and have gradually grown stronger, more confident. Inspired by the constant attempt of trucks to cuddle up to me, I purchased a helmet with a rear-view mirror. On the road, I glance into the mirror and see myself grimacing and turning purple. It never seems to be in position so I can spy what's coming from behind. But if some vehicle hits me, I'll be able to see my expression when it happens.

I've gotten my one-way trip down to 41 minutes from 63. And that dog, whose name is Clyde, has, through training associated with the projecting of small geological specimens, come to an understanding. He rarely greets me anymore.

Riding a bicycle long distances does not hurt the lower back or the knees. I haven't had any trouble in either area. Of course, my hands have gone dead from supporting my weight as I lean forward. And friends wonder why I always appear to be looking to the ceiling, not realizing that my neckbones are permanently fused as a result of watching the road from the bottom-numbing, hunched-over position that a ten-speed bike demands.

Actually, I at times enjoy biking, but often it resembles "training" of some kind. I look forward to rides when it's cool and sunny and I'm not rushed. Yet I must admit I've acquired a new appreciation for early-morning rain showers that force me to leave my bike at home and drive the car. I don't care what the little woodland creatures think of me then.
