

AMY WHITLEY, BRANDI PORTER, AND SERENITY NORMAN

Little Miss Cisco Pageant Held

Serenity Norman, Brandi Porter and Amy Whitley were chosen last Saturday as winners in the Little Miss Cisco contest. The contest was held at the City Park during part of the festivities on July 4th. Each girl received a trophy, a ribbon to wear over her shoulder that fastened at the waist and a crown of flowers that were placed in her hair.

Serenity was the winner in the Division I category that included ages 4, 5 and 6. Melanie McKinney won second place. Kayla Strickland won third place and Cayla Petree won honorable mention in Division I.

Brandi was the winner in the Division II category that included ages 7, 8 and 9. Amy Abbott won second place. Wendy Strickland won third place and Sherrie Murphy won honorable mention in Division II.

Amy won first place in the Division III category, ages 10, 11 and 12. Carrie Conger won second place and Jamie Robinson won third place.

Each second place winner received a basket flower arrangement furnished by Carolyn's Florist.

The girls were required to walk down one aisle in the Lions Club pavilion and stop and talk to Shirley Hargrave. Shirley was the Master of Ceremonies at the Beauty Pageant. Shirley asked each girl questions about their likes and dislikes and what some of their hobbies were.

The girls would then walk across a stage that was beautifully arranged with flowers and plants furnished by Carolyn's Florist. The girls were then required to walk down the other aisle in the Pavilion.

Judging for the contest were three Cisco business women, Dixie Crosby, owner of Kid's Kountry, Annita Ritchie, owner of Lemon Tree and Peggy Hagen, owner of P.J.'s Fashions. All three women agreed that it was very hard to choose a winner because each girl was so pretty.

Each girl who entered the Little Miss Cisco contest received a ribbon, furnished by Southwest Enterprises. First place trophies were also furnished by Southwest Enterprises.

Girls who entered the contest, their parents and their sponsors were:

Division I, Jana Pence, daughter of Bobby and Rhonda Pence, sponsored by Dr. G. Stewart Cleveland; Serenity Shea Norman, daughter of Debbie Norman, sponsored by Bill's Discount; Cayla Sheree Petree, daughter of Mark and Cooky Petree, sponsored by Herman's Garage; Kayla Strickland, daughter of Kevin and Joan Strickland, sponsored by Patterson Ambulance;

Samantha Blackwell, daughter of Sam and Carla Blackwell, sponsored by Quickway Grocery; Melanie Rose McKinney, daughter of Mike and Suona McKinney, sponsored by Wayne Webb contractors; Jennifer Irene Parten, daughter of James and Dixie Parten, sponsored by Mrs. Bairds Bread; Andrea Sanders, daughter of Ray and Jackie Holliman, sponsored by JJ's Diesel Service; and Heather Rhodes, daughter of Tommy and Jerri Rhodes, sponsored by JJ's Diesel Service.

Division II, Wendy Strickland, daughter of Kevin and Joan Strickland, sponsored by Patterson Ambulance Service; Amy Abbott, daughter of Lonnie and Joy Abbott, sponsored by Fullen Motor Co.; Sheree Rene Murphy, daughter of Ed and Liz Murphy, sponsored by Webb's Inc.; and Brandi Porter, daughter of Cindy Porter, sponsored by Tommie Lee Plumbing.

Division III-- Amy Whitley, daughter of Arlie and Deborah Whitley, sponsored by Kimbrough Funeral Home; Jamie Robinson, daughter of David and Cheryl Robinson, sponsored by Madison's Western Wear; and Carrie Conger, daughter of Johnny and Chris Conger, sponsored by Sonic Drive In.

Cisco Public Library To Begin Reading Program

"Get on the Ball with Reading" is the theme for the free summer reading program at Cisco Public Library for all pre-school through grade 6 children.

This is to be only a four-week program beginning with registration Friday, July 10, from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m. at the library.

Members of the Twentieth Century Club cordially invite all children to take this opportunity to re-read old favorites and become acquainted with new reading fun.

Volunteers Are Needed To Work Saturday

School officials will appreciate a good turn-out of volunteer workers Saturday for a field day to make repairs at Chesley Field, the local football stadium. Supt. Ray Saunders reported Tuesday.

Plans call for Rick Payne, maintenance supervisor at the high school, to direct the field day activities and for work to commence at 8:30 a.m. A large number of workers is needed to complete the task of replacing rotten boards in the stands, for painting the stands and repairs.

Volunteers were requested to take carpentry tools and paint brushes with them.

A good many rotten boards have been removed and other lumber will be there as replacements, Mr. Saunders said. A supply of paint and other materials will be on hand.

"We will appreciate the help of our fans and supporters in making these needed repairs," Mr. Saunders said.

Decorated Vegetable Contest To Be Held July 11 And 12

A unique contest, Decorated Vegetables, will be held Saturday and Sunday, July 11-12, in the upstairs lobby of the Hilton Community Center.

There will be three divisions:

Entry by a child under age 12.

Entry by a person 13 to 99 years.

Entry by a child and his/her grandparent.

The vegetable(s) should serve as the foundation or basis of the figure created. All materials or objects used in decorating the vegetable(s) should be natural products. No plastics or synthetics should be used. The entry should be in its completed form when brought in for judging.

Entries should be brought to the upstairs lobby of the Hilton between 9-11 a.m. on Saturday, July 11. As in the recent flower show, the entries will be judged by the viewing public on Saturday afternoon between 2-5 p.m. and should be left on display for the enjoyment of visitors on Sunday, July 12. Entries may be picked up after 4:30 p.m. Sunday or early Monday morning, July 13. Entries not claimed by noon Monday will be discarded.

Three digital clocks, donated by Olney Savings, will be awarded as prizes, one in each division.

The contest is open to all Big Country residents. For more information please call Mrs. Emma Watts at 442-3478 or Mrs. Jo Ann Cermin at 442-3200.

Did you get to make the July 4th activities here in Cisco? I really enjoyed the holiday and I know a lot of other people did too.

There was plenty of food and fun and games for everyone. I know of one 18-year old boy who spent a dollar to buy 16 rings to try to win a free Dr. Pepper at one of the booths at the Lions Club carnival. He didn't win, but he said he felt kind of embarrassed because a little 10-year old girl who was standing next to him won two free bottles of Dr. Pepper with the four rings she had bought for a quarter. And the fireworks at the end of the day were grand too.

We received the following letter Tuesday morning in the mail. It read

"Dear Editor,
On behalf of Anje, (Mrs. Mesken), I wish to convey our deep appreciation for the kindness shown us by so many friends while we were in Cisco during our U S travel.

We were very impressed with all the friendship they have given us.

SPECIAL thanks to our very good friends Mrs. Vera and Mr. Lloyd London for the hospitality and lovely time when we stayed in their home at Lake Cisco.

Body Of Man Presumed Drowned Still Missing

Searchers are still looking for the body of a 29-year old Odessa man who apparently drowned at Lake Leon Saturday afternoon. As of press time Tuesday, the body had not yet been recovered.

According to Otis Griffith of Lake Leon, Clifford Harris dove into the lake to retrieve his hat and then could not reach the drifting boat.

Ted Meacham, who lives in Olden, stated that he was in his boat and came up on another boat with three children waving and crying. Meacham transferred the children to his boat and took them north to Polly Wog Slew. The empty boat eventually drifted to Polly Wog Slew.

Meacham stated that one of the children told him that Harris yelled that he could not reach the boat before he disappeared beneath the waves.

George Grady, Harris' father-in-law who lives at the lake, stated that Harris had taken his two children, ages 10 and 6, and a 4-year old friend of the children boat riding just before the group ate at about 3 p.m. After eating they embarked with fishing equipment onto the lake that was white-capping from strong southerly winds. Game Warden Kenneth Payne was coordinating the search Saturday evening and Sunday morning. The search Sunday was called off before noon due to the high winds and rough water.

The search was resumed Monday evening around 6 p.m. under the coordination of Game Warden Dick Corley of Breckenridge. Approximately 24 persons from the Eastland County Bass Club, Eastland and Ranger Volunteer Fire Departments and others searched with depth finders until dark Monday evening when the search was called off until Tuesday morning.

Several members of the Eastland Fire Department continued searching after dark with the aid of power plants and search lights until about 11 p.m. Monday night.

THE KEY TO LOWER COOLING BILLS ...YOUR THERMOSTAT! RAISE YOUR THERMOSTAT SETTING TO LOWER YOUR COOLING BILLS You can lower your cooling bill up to 50% by raising the temperature in your home from 72° to 78°. West Texas Utilities recommends that you set your thermostat at 78° or higher for efficient summer cooling. Portable fans or ceiling fans can help the higher thermostat settings feel more comfortable. Also, check the filter in your air conditioning system regularly. A dirty filter could keep your system from operating as efficiently as possible. Clean permanent filters according to manufacturer's instructions, and replace non-permanent filters. Kokomo News

Zelda Jordan

We hope that everyone has a great time celebrating the Fourth of July. There are several planned activities in the towns and communities round about. Activities at the Frank Gray Memorial Park at Gray man will begin with the flag raising at 10 a.m. and continue with music, games, food and fun for all ages until the fireworks display at dark.

What ever we choose to do on the 4th, let us all start the day with a prayer of thanks to God for all the blessings that are ours to enjoy each day, and ask His blessings on America that we will remain a land of the free and the home of the brave.

Mrs. Lillian Tyndall of Pikesville, N.C. and Mrs. Nelda Sullivan of Weatherford were visitors at the Kokomo Baptist Church on Sunday morning. They were at Lake Leon during the weekend of the annual Bishop Family Reunion. Their parents, the late Lee and Ruth Bishop, were members of the Kokomo Baptist Church when they lived at Lake Leon.

Woodrow and Helen Browning, Jimmy Little and J.L. Morrow rendered the special music at the Sunday evening service at the Kokomo Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Clearman, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Griffith and Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Morrow attended the Cisco Baptist Association Rally at the First Baptist Church in Ranger on June 22.

Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Morrow were in Albany for the Fandango on Thursday night, June 25.

Ronnie Murphy of the Inlian Mountain Community was a recent visitor of the Glenn Jordans.

Joe Miles and Jesame Taylor of Abilene and Brent Carter of Hawley visited with Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Jordan on Friday night.

Mrs. Albert Hendricks visited in Clyde on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Buchanan, Kelly and Yancy.

Mr. and Mrs. Delmon Eaves visited in Ennis during the weekend and attended a bridal shower for their daughter, Deliah Eaves, bride-elect of Randy Lewis on Saturday, June 27.

Mr. and Mrs. Delmon Eaves also visited in De Soto with their son and daughter-in-law, Mark and Margaret Eaves. Mark will be playing in the Nevada Open Golf Tournament in Las Vegas this weekend.

Neil Eaves of the Mangum Community underwent emergency gall bladder surgery in the Hendricks Medical Center in Abilene on Friday. We wish him a speedy recovery. Delmon Eaves and J.C. Clearman visited with Neil on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cullen Rodgers visited during the weekend in Midlothian with Gene and Jim Rodgers and their families.

Glenn and Zelda Jordan spent the weekend in Abilene with Glenda, Roddy, Joe and Sheri Miles. Others visiting in the Miles home were Robert and Diane Mile of Abilene and Glenn, Joyce and Brent Carter of Hawley. They all attended the car races at the Abilene Speer way on Saturday night to see Joe and Robert race in the Street Stock Car Races.

GIVE THE TIME OF YOUR LIFE.

Be a volunteer

Robert placed third in the first heat and was doing well in the feature race until he had a flat tire and had to leave the track. Joe placed second, by about a headlight, in a very exciting race, in the third heat and fourth in the feature race. Joe finished the first half of the racing season in third place in the point standings in the street stock cars, out of 42 cars listed and Robert had climbed to 23rd place after racing only for five weeks. Point standings will start over for the last half of the season following the big 4th of July races featuring 50 lap races. Glenn and I never dreamed of becoming car racing fans, but it doesn't take long when your grandsons are behind the wheel.

Mr. and Mrs. Tim Falls, Cody and Jarad of San Antonio visited on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Little and the boys remained for a visit while their parents made a business trip to Dallas.

Weeks Family Competes

News from the Robert D. Weeks family of Eastland tells of Robert Sr., Robert Jr. (age 9), and Brandy (age 7) attending various Fiddler's Contests this summer. Rebecca (age 4) still has one of her arms in a cast, so cannot keep up with her brothers right now.

Robert Sr. and the boys played in Stamford at the Old Time Cowboy Reunion on July 4. Robert Sr. won Second Place in the Fiddler's Competition - the highest rating he was allowed under current rules.

He won First Place last year and cannot compete for that Championship rating for several more years.

The boys entertained the crowd there, and reports are that they just about stole the show from the old time fiddlers.

After the performance in Stamford the family came to Cisco and played in the park, beginning at 5 p.m. How's that for a busy day?

On Saturday, July 11 the Weeks will go to Weatherford to compete in the Parker County Peach Festival, beginning at 10 a.m. This is a Texas Fiddler's Association Contest.

THE NEED for more jobs is great in our country. There are skilled, willing workers waiting for opportunities to become solid wage-earners and productive citizens in our communities. We all have a vested interest in doing everything we can to help provide these opportunities. There appear to be two major avenues of developing more local jobs: locate the outside employer who would move and/or establish his business here to hire local people; or help the local employer expand his operation to profitably employ more people.

The first is difficult. There are as many towns and communities looking for that "big plant" to move in as there are towns and communities.

Our chambers of commerce have regular programs of search and lure, but too often, their efforts are stymied through a lack of available buildings, sites, water and/or any number of other pitfalls which keep the prospects from leaping at the opportunity to locate in our towns. Some of our towns have industrial organizations which can also often offer further inducements, but they too sometimes are hampered in what they can do to land the "big payroll."

It's everybody's problem, and for that reason, we're attempting to launch an area-wide in-put opportunity for all citizens to contribute their thoughts, suggestions, recommendations and general knowledge as to what could be done that's not being done, or even to comment on what the problems are, and how they can be corrected.

Readers are invited to write their comments to: JOBS, in care of this newspaper, and we'll share these thoughts and recommendations with our readers so that an area-wide effort might be initiated to help bring about more jobs and to stimulate the sagging economy. Persons who write, may remain anonymous if they prefer, but a name on a letter carries more weight.

Any citizen wanting to enlarge and improve his community's economic base faces two big chores:

1. He must carefully catalog both his area's advantages and disadvantages.

2. He must market his area's industrial potential in what often is a less than receptive marketplace.

He'll be asking people at home to spend their dollars in an uncertain industry procurement investment, and he'll be asking busy corporate representatives to invest in a location they perhaps haven't considered or even heard of.

So how should the citizen start a development program? Methodically, professionally - just as he tries to run his own business.

First he must mobilize the talent in his community.

Citizens urge that every effort be made in each county or organize an industrial development commission of energetic local individuals with aggregate experience in full-time chamber of commerce or industrial development work, manufacturing, banking, real estate, law, civil engineering, tax/finance, sales and government (especially state government).

The full-time development worker will be the single most valuable team member. In most cases he should be designated to spearhead the commission's work, and, later, to deal directly with the industrial prospects.

The commission's first job will be assess what the community has to offer to incoming industry: Labor and material resources, utilities and fuels, properties available and suitable to industrial uses, transportation and communication facilities, civic improvements. This will demand complete objectivity.

The commission's earliest surveys should involve close contact with the community's present industry. If an incoming firm is apt to encounter big difficulties, the businessmen already there are probably well aware of the problems, and may in fact need some helpful attention themselves.

Helping those already here

Aiding present industry is at least as important as bringing in new industry. From the point of view of the industrial prospect, an established pattern of commercial and governmental cooperation with manufacturing will be a strong point in the community's favor.

Having taken these steps, the concerned citizen and the commission members should formulate detailed, well-balanced plans, keeping in mind their financial resources.

Several state, civic and private industrial development groups are probably already set up to write letters, advertise, travel and otherwise develop prospect leads on a broad basis. The commission's best bet is to work closely with these agencies, which include utility companies and railroad and large bank development offices, while applying funds to needed civic improvements, preparation of industrially-zoned property for actual construction and use.

Generally a low-budget program of direct prospect procurement at the local level is wisest.

Ads in journals can be effective for wide publication of a special advantage in the area - an unusually good site, an available industrial building, or a specific skilled labor availability. Use direct mail advertising only on a highly selective basis, with special attention to factual, credible content and quality presentation.

Personal industrial travel is definitely only for the industrial development organization with a budget of $100,000 or more. An experienced industrial development man, working hard and fast, and with proper preparation, can complete an average of 20 calls in five days. Expenses for the five-day trip will average about $400.

Most money and energy behind the local, moderately funded industrial development program should be spent at home. Besides caring for existing industry, the community leaders should vigorously promote new home-owned and home-operated industrial ventures and expansion of those presently underway.

Almost certainly, branch plant operations will be easier to obtain. But careful investment of local capital in local initiative and ingenuity will produce a healthier net effect and will yield a vital long-range profit. Fewer dollars will be siphoned from the manufacturing value added at home to headquarters elsewhere. More wealth will remain in private and public accounts locally.

Selling the project at home

Assuming that intelligent, energetic work goes into these phases of the development project, only one further bit of forewarning is needed. It has to do with the common problem of keeping the support ranks motivated.

An ounce of prevention is well applied here. The local developers must communicate candidly with their support people, because, unfortunately, results won't always be readily apparent to them.

We recommend a monthly resume, in newsletter form, of development activities and results, along with special memos to keep supporters about significant steps taken or proposed. Hold frequent "council meetings" with these people to discuss plans and current projects.

One obviously important backer for development efforts is the local power structure. Its sanction for major programs will occasionally prove helpful toward maintaining support and soliciting new interest.

Full-time, professional industrial development people can help educate the rest of the community in project goals, as well as obtain prospects. From this point, the growth workers must remember that no set of plans is good forever. They must frequently ask, "Are our plans sufficient? Are our priorities in proper order?"

San Angelo To Host Regional Arts Seminar

AUSTIN, TX--The San Angelo Cultural Affairs Council will host a one-day area-wide seminar/workshop on key issues facing community arts organizations in the West Texas area.

Set for Friday, July 24, the session will be held at Community National Bank, 36 West Beauregard. Registration will begin at 9 a.m.

The event is part of the Texas Arts Council's sixth annual Regional Meeting Series, held each summer in thirteenth locations throughout the state. The Texas Arts Council is a non-profit, statewide "umbrella" organization serving community arts council, arts commissions, and other local arts groups in the state.

Agenda includes an update on current legislation affecting local arts programming; a survey of resources, services, and communication opportunities available from the Texas Arts Council; information on the Texas Commission on the Arts, state arts funding agency; "networking" opportunities to share concerns and exchange information with representatives of other arts organizations in the area; plus a workshop, "Building a Case for the Arts." There will be a one-hour break for lunch, with sessions expected to conclude around 3 p.m.

There is no charge for the Texas Arts Council-sponsored seminar, which is open to all interested individuals. It is made possible in part by a services contract with the Texas Commission on the Arts and corporate support from the Tandy Corporation/Radio Shack and Standard Oil Company.

Texas Arts Council President Peter Fox, Jr. is overall coordinator of the Regional arts series, and Texas Commission on the Arts Executive Director Richard Huff will be in San Angelo to provide information about the state arts funding agency.

Those wishing to register for the seminar should contact the Texas Arts Council, 3939 Bee Caves Road, Suite 1A, Austin, TX 78746 (telephone 512/327-5282). In San Angelo interested persons may contact Beverly Junell, Texas Arts Council Regional Chairperson at 915/949-2794.

Other Regional Arts Seminars will be held in Amarillo, Odessa, Lubbock, El Paso, Harlingen, San Antonio, Houston, Beaumont, Fort Worth, Nacogdoches, Austin, and Vernon.

Most VA Money Goes Directly To Veterans

Most of the money expended by the Veterans Administration (VA) in Texas went directly to veterans during Fiscal Year 1986, according to Waco VA Regional Office Director Stephen L. Lemons.

"Of the $1,757,553,147 expended in Texas during Fiscal Year 1986, more than 54 percent, or $915,756,049, went directly to veterans as compensation for disabling injuries or diseases incurred while in the armed forces, or as pensions for wartime veterans with limited incomes," Lemons said.

He added that the VA spent $88,826,144 for readjustment and vocational rehabilitation benefits, $88,738,148 for insurance and indemnity payments, $32,471,840 for facility construction, and $55,760,966 for medical services and administrative costs in Texas.

"The Veterans Administration proudly serves those who served our country," Lemons said. "For more than half a century, the VA has been a deliverer of benefits, a pioneer in medicine, a financier in education, a guarantor of home loans, and an advocate for Texas veterans."

Estimated VA expenditures for Eastland County veterans totaled $7,063,199.00. This figure includes $2,850,735.00 for compensation and pension, $94,442.00 for readjustment and vocational rehabilitation, and $118,022.00 for insurance and indemnities.

Cisco Junior Class Sponsoring Teen-Age Dance

The Junior Class of Cisco High School, in coordination with junior class parents, is sponsoring an Eastland County and area high school dance on July 10th.

The Friday night dance will be held at the Corral Room from 8 p.m. until midnight at 400 Conrad Hilton, the old Laguna Hotel.

DJ L&L Light and Sound will provide the music for the dance. Admission will be $3. Soft drinks will be available.

Cisco has an active group of parents, Parents for Teens, who have sponsored monthly parties for Cisco High School students for the last two years. Junior class parents who work with Parents for Teens will serve as chaperones, in addition to other interested Junior parents, or parents from other classes. Parents from all surrounding towns are invited to also help chaperone.

Definite rules have been established for high school students as follows:

1. Only high school students will be allowed to attend the dance.

2. Students may leave the dance at any time, however, once a student leaves they may not return.

3. No drugs or alcohol will be allowed.

Says a "spokes parent" for the junior class, "High school parents should be assured that the dance will be well chaperoned and our definite rules will be followed. Please feel secure in allowing your teenager to attend our dance, and feel free to join us if you can."

For further information, please call 442-4627 or 442-3113.

Immigrant Plants

As American as apple pie? Well, sure. Most Americans are descended from immigrants, and so are apples--from ancestors somewhere south of the Black Sea.

In fact, except for the likes of blueberries, cranberries, sunflowers, and Jerusalem artichokes, most U.S. food plants are natives of other lands.

Lettuce graced the tables of Persian kings in 550 B.C. and was a favorite salad of pre-Christian Romans. Cucumbers were cultivated in India 3,000 years ago. The walls of 5,000-year-old Egyptian tombs include pictures of laborers eating onions.

Remains of peas have been found in prehistoric Swiss lake dwellings, possibly left on their plates by finicky Bronze Age children.

Olives, usually associated with Greece and Italy, are now believed to have originated in India, along with oranges, black-eyed peas, and rice.

Isn't rice a native of China? No, but the Chinese did give the world peaches, apricots, and rhubarb.

Besides onions, citizens of ancient Egypt ate such familiar American foods as asparagus, cabbage, radishes, and watermelons. Centuries ago, Ethiopians ate okra and barley and drank coffee.

Many of the food plants cultivated today in the U.S. are native to the southern part of the western hemisphere. Avocados were grown in Central and South America 9,000 years ago. Corn, cacao, tomatoes, squash, peppers, peanuts, pineapples, pumpkins, and many kinds of beans came from Latin America. So did--saving the best for last--strawberries, natives of Chile.

"If the United States didn't have such a good history of plant introduction and research, our restaurants would have pretty monotonous menus," says Howard J. Brooks, who oversees horticultural research for the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Service.

Some recent imports through the ARS plant exploration and introduction program include fruits with high content of essential vitamins and minerals.

One is the lychee nut, sometimes called "a strawberry with a peel," imported from southern China. The lychee nut can supply 40 percent more vitamin C per pound than oranges.

Another is the carambola, a star-shaped fruit introduced from Taiwan and Thailand. Carambola is a good source of vitamins A and C, potassium, and iron, and carambola orchards are expanding rapidly in Florida.

Deep Cuts, No New Taxes Recommended

A majority of Texans have said they want an end to uncontrolled state spending and the line held on taxes.

A recent statewide poll showed that 51 percent of Texas citizens want the state budget balanced by cutting spending alone and not increasing taxes.

Some liberal members of the Texas Legislature continue to propose increases in the state budget, to be financed by a $6 billion tax bill, the largest in Texas history.

An alternative is being put forth by the Texas Conservative Coalition, which includes 58 state senators and representatives.

This conservative budget plan balances the Texas budget the way Texans want - without new or increased taxes. It begins with the budget plan proposed by the Texas House of Representatives and then identifies 37 additional cost saving measures totalling nearly $2.8 billion.

As noted by State Representative Gerald Geistweidt, chairman of the Coalition, state general revenue spending has grown nearly 400 percent in the last decade. "It does not make sense to budget for continued growth at a time when Texans across this state are having to tighten their belts. State government should do no less than is required of its citizens."

"Ours is not an irresponsible approach to the budget. This plan involves no cuts to current spending. It only cuts from those proposed increases above current spending."

Taking these steps will enable Texas to keep pace with demands for services while trimming fat and eliminating waste, he says.

THE PLAN (In Millions)

Former Revenue Estimate (including $1 billion deficit carryover) $22,111.6

Current Revenue Estimate (as of 6/12/87) (includes $1 billion deficit carryover) 21,501.7

Extension of Sales & Gas Tax 2,832.2

Bingo tax (HB 1043) 13.0

Adjusted Certifiable Revenue $24,346.9

1988-89 Expenditures (House Version) (27,166.0)

Less increases included in House Version 65.3

DEFICIT FOR THE BIENNIUM ($2,753.8)

COST SAVINGS (in millions) (subtract from deficit above)

NOTE: * Requires statutory change.  Requires rider in the Appropriations Bill.

1. Revenue bonding for Texas Department of Corrections; Mental Health Mental Retardation; Texas Youth Commission construction and offset General Revenue (current bill already assumes bonding or dedicated revenue for TDC & TYC construction, thus the figure represents savings in MHMR only) (SB 1407 - sent to governor) - $12.0

2. Allow for $100 million increase over 1987 levels for Higher Education. Provide institutions with tuition flexibility. Require emphasis of increases to be for junior colleges and community colleges that were cut most in 1987. - 217.2

3.* Limit contributions to Teacher Retirement to state mandated floor salary levels for professional employees

(teachers and administrators) (local school districts must contribute to the system for salary amounts above the floor and for other personnel not paid from state funds) (Economy & Efficiency Committee) - 450.0

4.* Freeze career ladder allotment at 1987 levels; all teachers eligible for career ladder payments in 1987 can still receive payments in 88-89 but at 87 level. No additional increases nor additional recipients will be funded in 1988-89. Also freeze evaluations, and suspend administrative and support personnel supplements and eliminate funding for "any legal purpose" (requires specific statutory change and HB 2512 - failed in regular session)

- Teacher Salary supplement 105.3

- Admin. & Support allotment 164.0

- Any Legal Purpose allotment 164.0

Total 433.3

5.* Reimburse portion of $1.1 billion in General Revenue transferred to Highway Fund (anticipating $5.5 billion in federal highway funding) (pending AG opinion). Consider issuing one license plate for vehicles ($6 million) and other measures to decrease impact. - 400.0

6.* Capture capital gains from Permanent School and University Funds with a two year sunset. (Gov.) - 276.0

7.* Change contributions to other retirement systems without reducing benefits (Retain an actuarially sound basis using 7.2% contribution rate) - 50.0

8. Change provision of DHS appropriations: (no cuts to Nursing Home Vendor Payments) $58.8 revise caseload estimates for AFDC and other related programs (retain $57/month/child)

7.3 allow $1 million increase over 1987 levels for child protective services

 24.0 require generic drugs for all prescriptions

 14.0 cap manufacturer profits for nursing home vendor drugs

7.0 reduce general administration

45.0 - Sell land & facilities
12.8 - Sell annex
Total 76.3

13.* Sell state lands to PUF with "hold harmless clause" and tie funds to capital improvements with G.R. offset (Governor) - 75.0

Examine Self For Skin Cancer

Prolonged overexposures to the sun's rays may lead to skin cancer, and like all other cancers it's important to detect it early. This can be done with a simple self-examination.

"Self-examination for skin cancer is painless, cheap, and gets less time consuming the more often it is done," Dr. Mary Ann Heussner, a health education specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service says. "It's an easy way to catch the disease in its early stages, when it is easier to cure."

According to the American Cancer Society, over 400,000 cases of skin cancer are reported each year. An estimated 7,400 of these cases prove to be fatal. They also report a 3.4 percent increase per year in the incidence of melanoma, which is the most serious of the skin cancers.

"There are a few different warning signs to look for," the specialist says. "Look for changes in the size or color of moles, and the appearance of any new skin growths or patches of dark pigmentation."

"Though skin cancer is more likely to occur in areas that are most often exposed to the sun, all of the body must be examined," she advises.

Self-examination requires only a full-length mirror, a hand-held hair dryer, and a hand-held mirror, in a well-lit room. Check exposed areas of the skin like hands, legs, forearms and face. Next examine the back and buttocks with mirrors. Examine the scalp with the help of a blow dryer to blow hair out of the way. Don't forget to examine the groin area and the tops and bottoms of the feet.

"If you find anything unusual as a result of your self-examination, check with your physician," emphasizes the specialist.

According to Heussner, skin cancer can be treated in a variety of ways, depending upon the type of cancer. Treatments range from surgery to radiotherapy to tissue destruction by freezing or heating.

She adds, "The survival rate for skin cancer is very high and chances increase with early detection and treatment."

Program To Benefit Small Districts

Austin - The Texas Association of Community Schools (TACS) has developed a self-insurance trust designed to meet the insurance needs of small school districts in a cost-effective manner.

TACS executive director Joe Seale said that the new Educators' Self Insurance Trust (ESIT) will provide significant savings on the premiums school districts pay for workers' compensation, liability and property insurance coverage.

"TACS represents school districts with no more than one high school, and we know how stretched their budgets are. Insurance is a necessity for every school district, but smaller districts with few claims shouldn't have to bear the burden created by excessive claims filed in large urban districts," said Seale, whose association represents 866 Texas school districts.

Seale added that the program has been in the development stages for about four years. It will be administered by Corporate Risk Counselors, the Austin-based company that handles TACS' group health plan.

TACS president-elect Jerry Doyle said, "As school tax rates increase, so does the public's expectation of accountability. Most people don't realize how many dollars are required for non-academic necessities such as insurance. As leaders of TACS, we have strived to reduce some of these costs by creating our own insurance programs."

Doyle, who has spent his career in small districts, has been superintendent in the Cochoma Independent School District for the last three years and will assume new duties in Lampasas for the 1987-88 school year.

T.D. Scott, superintendent of the Panhandle ISD and president of TACS, commented, "Like most small-town folks, we like to mind our own business whenever possible. Our members trust TACS because they have served us well on health insurance. Most school board members and superintendents I know don't mind paying for what we use, but the high claims experience in about 60 larger school districts has caused insurance premiums to remain high for all of us."

Henry Labaj, executive vice president of CRC, said that approximately 250 schools are enrolled in the TACS health insurance plan and he expects equal numbers to take advantage of the cost savings provided by the workers' compensation and liability coverage. "A district with a good track record on insurance claims could save as much as 30 percent on premiums in a single year," he said.

"The program offers competitive pricing and long-term premium price stability. It also insures availability of coverage and tailored service plans that recognize the unique characteristics of a smaller non-urban school district. This program will allow small districts to actually have input into insurance decision-making and direct involvement in their own risk management program."

"ESIT will offer low premiums that will be available from commercial insurers and existing group self-insurance programs, due in part to the unique ownership aspects of the program," Labaj added.

"Response from superintendents who have attended ESIT information workshops throughout the state indicates high interest among small districts in a money-saving self-insurance program."

THE CLASSIFIEDS

The Next Best Thing -

.....to a clear conscience and a good night's sleep is the feeling of security in owning your own home with a clear title. Peculiar to the real estate field, values are based on land and the improvements thereon, if any. But values on these are based on the title. The title then becomes the most important item to be considered when purchase of real property is contemplated. So be careful to buy good title based on an abstract of title or a policy of title insurance.

The PEOPLE'S FORUM

Opinions expressed here do not necessarily reflect the opinions of this newspaper.

I've Been Wrong Before

by Gordon S. Clark

I can clearly recall a time when a lot of antagonistic people said hard things about people who became emotional about religious services. They claimed that religious emotionalism verged on insanity. Some were even more violent in their criticisms and advocated children being removed from such an environment.

I just wonder where those people are today and why we never heard a chirp out of them when young people began tearing the clothes off of music idols. Why do they not raise their voices against the excessive emotionalism of rock music concerts? Could it be either that it is controlled by their associates or that it tends to move the people in the direction of fitting their sociopolitical aims?

Though fanatical religious groups have reeked havoc in the distant past and in recent, isolated instances, the social dislocation attached to wild music is more insidious and consequently less obvious.

Certainly a young person does not automatically have to become part of the evil which is attracted to such raucous activities but the proximity at a moment of weakness may be all that is needed to nudge one over the line.

Most psychologists state that loose noise (music) breaks down inhibitions much as does alcohol. If then the drugs, alcohol and associated evils are there in concert with the inhibition diminishing noise the acceptance of the unacceptable becomes probable. So much for harmless fun and entertainment.

If you doubt the infectious nature of mob activities then consider whether you would accept as normal a person dumping beer or champagne over your head. Then watch the wild celebrations of a sporting event. Would someone from another planet see any sanity whatever in such activity? Most likely they would flee back to outer space or give up in disgust.

Treading on more toes I might admit that though I have become excessively emotional at football games and willing to fight an official guilty of an unfair call I never could see any excuse for destruction like tearing down goal posts. Nor after retaining my temper could I be expected from thrashing that rotten official.

But back to the (?) music (?). I know a man who lost much of his hearing in service but received very little compensation. The jam box may leave so many young people hearing impaired that the nation's ability to defend itself is lessened. Certainly the business of hearing aids will pick up.

Of what value are noise pollution laws and OSHA regulations of noise levels in the work place if rock music is promoted?

While Samuel Johnson may have said of entertainment, "With so many things in this world tempting us to do wrong, I consider anyone who keeps me in a neutral state to have done the world a service." I question whether much of what passes for entertainment keeps one neutral at all. Rather I believe that it aids evil.

Naturally I expect many to disagree violently with my evaluation. Few addicts are ready to kick the habit. But are you really an addict?

Just test yourself. Just try quitting your favorite "entertainment" for a season. I mean quit "cold turkey" as they say and if you experience upset, or being strongly drawn until your mind constantly turns to it, then YOU ARE HOOKED.

If you then admit that it has a strong hold and you need to be free, you might turn to something creative or productive as a substitute. Yes, you may need some sort of crutch because you have been emotionally crippled. Your time and mind will be occupied by something either wholesome or otherwise. In spite of some who seem to have a vacuum between their ears, a personality IS and it will be occupied with something. That neutral state Johnson envisioned hardly exists even in the unconscious. From the seeming void something will shoot forth.

Even one of those cocoon gurus may voice an intelligent word of times as when one said that the time was like a bow with arrows and in quiet meditation the arrow is drawn deep within the bow so that it might shoot forth with greater force. Sadly, there are those times when I try but feel like my bow string "done broke". Maybe a bow should be unstrung when not in use but it is useless if left that way. "I shot an arrow in the air. It fell to Earth I know not where." Damn. Another lost arrow.

4-H NEWS

By Crystal Wilbanks, County Agent

The last Eastland County 4-H Horse Show in a series of three is scheduled for Sunday, July 12, at the Eastland County Arena. Registration is $1.00 per event and will begin at 12:00 p.m. with the show to start at 1:00 p.m. Age divisions; 8 and under, 9-13, 14-19 and 20 and over. Overall High Point Individuals in each age division will receive a belt buckle valued at $100. Reserve High Point Individuals will receive a horse blanket. These points have been accumulated over a series of 3 shows. Ribbons and trophies will also be awarded to participants in Sunday's show. Events will include Showmanship, Western Pleasure, Western Riding, Western Horsemanship, Barrel Racing, Pole Bending, Stakes Race and Flag Race.

Special thanks to Doug and Carolyn White of Ace Hardware in Eastland for helping to sponsor the First Annual 4-H Dog Dippin' last week. They were kind enough to donate Sargeant's flea and tick dip and let us use their facilities for the dog dippin. They also donated the Charbroil Gas Grill which was awarded to Mrs. Ina Brady of Cisco. Incidentally, if we recollect correctly, Mrs. Brady brought 5 dogs to be de-ticked and donated a lot of money to the 4-H Clubs of Eastland County. A total of 80 dogs benefitted from this event and we look forward to having another dog dippin' soon.

Twenty-eight people enjoyed the 4-H Natural Resources workshop at Lake Leon last week. Terry Wilson of Eastland presented a program on how to fish and gave us some of his secrets on how to catch fish, where to look for them and what type of lures or bait to use. Eddie Green, also of Eastland, spoke about the benefits of becoming a member of this organization. Bobby Little of Ranger demonstrated how to build a campfire and how to make roasting sticks out of willow tree limbs.

Everyone enjoyed a lot of fishing and some good eating and had an overall excellent time. A special thanks goes out to these men for helping our 4-H'ers learn how to enjoy the great outdoors. Be looking for more programs of this type in the future.

A MESSAGE FROM THIS NEWSPAPER AND THE DPS TROOPERS

Poet's Corner

I've heard of a city
With streets of pure gold
I've read a story the Bible told. Of a Saviour who died on Calvary's tree
He shed his precious blood for you and me.

He shed all the tear
And He bare all the Stripes, between two thieves
He died that night.

They put Him in a room and
Rolled a big stone.
Except for the guards
He was there all alone.

The angels of God they Beckoned him home.
For God so loved the world
He gave His only Son.

Area News Briefs

CISCO
Mrs. Byron (Cindy) Jobe has been employed to teach elementary school music at Cisco, filling the position held by Pam Jackson. Miss Jackson resigned at the end of the school term. Mrs. Jobe, a graduate of Methodist College at Fayetteville, N.C., has been teaching for the past two years in Ranger. A voice major in college, Mrs. Jobe has sung professionally. Her husband, Byron Jobe, is employed by Union Texas Petroleum.

Cisco work crews will concentrate during July on putting both the north and south shore roads at Lake Cisco in good condition, as well as working on city streets. Plans call for extensive gravel work as well as grading the north shore road and for maintenance work on the south shore. City Manager Mike Moore reported. A limited seal coating program for city streets will be carried out during August, the city manager said. Moore also said that city workers plan to do some cleanup work at the Lake Cisco City Park, which has been damaged extensively in recent months by acts of vandalism. Maintenance work is also planned on a regular basis on the two parks in town, he added.

There will be a work day on Saturday, July 11, at Chesley Field to make repairs at the stadium for the 1987 football season. Supt. Ray Saunders of the Cisco Public Schools announces. Volunteers are needed for painting, carpentry and general clean-up work. "We will appreciate the help of our fans and supporters," Saunders said.

A Decorated Vegetable Contest will be held Saturday and Sunday, July 11-12 in the upstairs lobby of the Hilton Community Center. There will be three divisions, with vegetables serving as the basis of the figure created. All materials or objects used in decorating will be natural products - no synthetics here. All entries should be in completed form when brought in for judging. Three digital clocks donated by Olney Savings will be awarded as prizes. The contest is open to all Big Country residents. For more information call Emma Watts at 442-3478, or Jo Ann Cermin at 442-3200.

EASTLAND
An Odessa man, Clifford Harris, disappeared and apparently drowned in Lake Leon about 5 p.m. Saturday. The tragedy occurred when Harris, age 29, jumped from his boat to bring back a hat that had blown off his head. Three children remained in the drifting boat, and were rescued by Ted Meacham of Olden. Firemen from Eastland and Ranger stayed at the Lake until after dark on Saturday, searching for the missing man. High winds and choppy water halted the search on Sunday. Winds continued on Monday, with the search set to resume late that afternoon.

The First Christian Church of Eastland welcomed their new pastor and his wife on June 28. Pastor David Bondurant and his wife, Cindy, are both from Oregon, where he attended Northwest Christian College in Eugene, Oregon. He received his Bachelor of Science Degree there, and is now enrolled at Brides School of Divinity at T.C.U. in Fort Worth. During the fall David will commute to school from Eastland. Members of the First Christian Church invite the public to come and meet their new pastor and wife.

Eastland Fine Arts Association officials were presented large checks recently for the renovation of the Majestic. Virginia Russell presented Mike Perry with a check for over $750 to be used on the stage work. The money was raised during the Music Festival held in May at the Bell Hurst Theatre. This fund raiser was a joint effort of the Eastland Music Study Club and the Eastland Civic Theatre. In another presen-ation, Wal-Mart Manager Larry Mulholland and company associates presented John Berry, president of the E.F.A.A., with a check for $1,000 for the restoration of the Majestic.

Pre-trial motions were heard last Thursday in preparation for the July 20 trial of Cecil Ray Bryant who is charged with aggravated possession of a controlled substance with intent to manufacture. His motion to have the case dismissed because the state allegedly failed to comply with the speedy trial act was denied. A motion to have evidence suppressed will be ruled on later by District Judge Jim Wright. Bryant was arrested last January 13, after his pickup truck was stopped three miles south of Eastland on Highway 6. Department of Public Safety Trooper Richard Treece and other D.P.S. officers were checking Bryant's licenses when they smelled an unusual odor and searched the pickup. They found what is believed to be drugs and a drug lab in the back of the truck.

The Eastland Chapter of the AARP will hold a covered dish supper at the Senior Center on Park Hill at 6 p.m. on Thursday, July 9. Sgt. Jerry Mathews of the Department of Public Safety will speak on matters related to traffic safety. The public is invited - bring a dish of your favorite food and dishes for eating.

RANGER
There is still time to get to the Ranger Jaycee Rodeo Parade this Thursday, July 9, at 5 p.m. in downtown Ranger. This will begin the 25th Annual Jaycee Rodeo, which will be held on the 9, 10, and 11. The parade is expected to be a large one, with a number of horseback riders, floats, antique cars, decorated bicycles and other entries.

Registration is open for the 1987-88 term of Tuesday School at the Mesquite and Rusk Church of Christ in Ranger. This pre-school class will begin Sept. 8 for children 2 and one-half to five years old. There will be a "Get Acquainted Coffee" for the parents on Sept. 1. Registration forms may be picked up at the building. For more information call 647-1155, 647-3425, or 647-5330.

The City of Ranger held the second pre-bid conference and a preview of the Housing Rehabilitation Grant last Monday in City Hall. At the first meeting, which was held June 10, Doug Mitchell was awarded the first three houses in the program. Mayor David Rogers encourages all contractors and local citizens to attend meetings connected with the Housing Rehabilitation Grant.

The Ranger Chamber of Commerce held a Roaring Ranger Days meeting on Tuesday of this week, making plans for the annual event. A merchant's meeting was held following the CofC Roaring Ranger discussion, with a promotion organized for the week of the celebration. Details will be announced when they have been finalized.

BAIRD
Services of the Callahan County Attorney, Bob McCool, are now available in Cross Plains. McCool will be at the office of Justice of the Peace Rolan Jones there each Thursday from 1:30 to 4 p.m. The County Attorney will be available to handle all JP cases, including consultation, questions, and legal advice. He will also be accessible for private practice. McCool and Deputy Sheriff Wayne Knowles will act as an extension of the County Court system through this JP office.

Countywide, collections of the sales tax are running 17.88 behind last year's totals, reports Bob Bullock, state comptroller. The town of Cross Plains is reporting 34.31 percent lower than last year, lowest among the Callahan County towns. Bullock said. Baird is 9.48 percent lower, Clyde 11.43 percent, and Putnam 4 percent. Baird's May 1987 collection is above collections made in May, 1986, however.

The District Texas Teen Age Baseball League Tournament will be held in Baird Monday, July 27 through Thursday, July 30. Plans are to make repairs to the field and get everything ready for the big occasion. Volunteers are needed to help in many ways. If you are interested contact Steve Ward, Tom Kersey, or Beverly Rogers.

Fishing Outdoors

By Terry Wilson

"Denny Brauer 1987 B.A.S.S. Angler of the Year"

Local angler Jerry King of Ranger attended the Big Bass Printing Open Tournament on Possum Kingdom this past weekend, along with 453 other hopeful anglers from across the state.

The days fishing was tough for most but Jerry was able to land some real nice lunkers. 2 fish totaling 8.43 pounds which gave Jerry a solid 7th place. All Jerry needed for the overall win was 1.74 pounds, just one little 14" fish meant the difference between $400.00 and $4,000.00. First place was won by "the old man of the sea" J.L. Stracner of Abilene. Both gentlemen reported to have caught their fish on jigs.

A recent interview with Denny Brauer revealed some interesting insight to pre-fishing lakes to gain the competitive edge.

Today's circuit of professional fisherman is more talented and competitive than ever before, so I try to gain any competitive edge that I can.

I feel pre-fishing a lake or a river offers the best opportunity to prepare for an upcoming tournament. There are usually only two or three practice days before a tournament so I try to pre-fish the lake a couple of weeks beforehand, or as close to the cut-off period as possible.

When I pre-fish a lake or river, I try to learn absolutely as much as I can about that body of water, and that means studying three major factors: the bottom contour, underwater structure or growth patterns and the effect of weather or fluctuations on the water condition.

It is important to realize that I am not looking for that one great fishing spot, but I am basically eliminating areas that yield few "keepers" and would probably do so during the tournament. Knowing where not to fish is just as important as knowing where to fish.

The first thing I do is obtain a topographical map and study it intently, looking for dropoffs, slopes, channels or structures. I determine how a body of water "lies" in the surrounding countryside. Is it flat land or high, hilly land?

I then divide the lake or river into reasonable sections that I feel I can cover in a single day. If I am pre-fishing for three days, I divide it into three approximate equal sections, one for each day.

I begin my survey by cruising that day's section. I turn on my Humminbird LCR 8000, the Humminbird Super Thirty II in the front of the boat, and my Humminbird In-Dash 60. I probably depend on my sonar equipment more during pre-fishing than during the actual tournament, because I am looking at bottom contour. When I locate drop-offs, slopes, channels or shallow flat areas, I confirm them on my map and make extensive notes about each feature. I always pay close attention to these areas I think would hold the best concentration of quality fish.

Secondly I look for underwater structures and growth patterns, search out weed beds and determining the perimeters of underwater growth. I do this through a combination of sight, topographical maps, and my depth sounder readings.

Finally, I constantly monitor the water temperature. I have found that the surface temperature gauge built into my LCR 8000 has been invaluable to me.

Fish move according to weather and temperature conditions I can predict for the tournament. Only God can predict the weather, but by studying the present and past fluctuations (even if that means scanning old newspapers), I can at least attempt an educated guess.

Whenever possible, I rent an airplane to "overfly" the water. This visually confirms the deep and shallow areas, as well as sudden drop-offs. It allows me to study productive weed bed patterns and the grassy areas, as well as surrounding slopes that lead into the water's edge. I can also spot areas of stained water, which are important on a clear water lake, and areas of bait fish. Now I am ready to actually start fishing and lure testing. Since this is a time-consuming process, I try to invite a couple of my fishing buddies along. Through a systematic trial-and-error process using different lures, I can tell what works best for each part of the water. Once again, I take extensive notes on all the lures and how the fish react to each.

I really can't say enough about note-taking. When I jot down a note, I know I will use it later during the tournament. More times than I can remember, a note scribbled during pre-fishing has landed a big fish for me.

Pre-fishing is another good way to gain a competitive edge, and it is a great way to learn your way around a new body of water. I would like to suggest that avid fishermen develop a systematic method for pre-fishing their home lake.

Throw out all your old preconceptions, get a map, chart of sections and get to work. One problem with less productive fishing days could be that your familiarity has got in a rut, and you have overlooked some potentially productive areas.

So to keep your fishing fun as well as productive, keep it fresh. Afford yourself the luxury of a pre-fishing weekend in home waters. Pre-fishing is very important, and it could be to your key to catching bigger fish and developing a more competitive edge.

The above statements by Denny Brauer are not those of the everyday angler. 1987 B.A.S.S. "Angler of the Year". Winner of the 1987 B.A.S.S. Super Invitational on Kentucky Lake and consistently placed in many of the tournaments this year. A runner-up to the "angler of the year" in 1986, Denny will compete in his sixth consecutive Bass Masters Class this year, and his fifth consecutive U.S. Bass Class. A six-time National Champion, Brauer was named the U.S. Bass "Angler of the Year" and Match Fishing Champion in 1985.

Upcoming tournaments include: West Texas Bass Classic, July 11, Lake Spence. First place for single heaviest black bass $10,000.00. Entry fee $65.00. July 12th E.C.B.C. Inerclub, lake to be announced. July 25th E.C.B.C. Mixed Double tournament Lake Proctor. Headquarters Sowell Creek. August 2, Stephenville Bass Club Open Tournament, Lake Granbury, $3500.00 cash and prizes guaranteed.

August 8th, Lake Coleman. Clyde Boy Scouts First Annual Bass Tournament. Headquarters at Driftwood entry fee $20.00. 1st place $500.00; 2nd $300.00; 3rd $200.00; 4th-10th prizes.

Area lake reports are as of 6-30-87. Leon - Black bass good to 4 1/2 pounds on jigs and worms, crappie spotted one limit reported, catfish fair to 3 pounds on jumbo grasshoppers and minnows in mid lake. Cisco - Black bass fair to 3 pounds on worms in main lake. No other reports.

Proctor - 12 feet high and dropping slowly. Black bass fair to 4 1/2 pounds on spinners, striper good topwater to 14 pounds; crappie fair on minnows to 10 fish per string; catfish good on shad and minnows on trotlines.

The following reports were compiled by the Texas Parks and Wildlife as of 6-27-87.

Brownwood - Water muddy, 4 inches over spillway; black bass fair on blue whitetail worms to 5 pounds in deep water; striper spotty to 8 pounds on blue-nosed Bomber Long As; crappie fair but small, no limits, on minnows and redheaded, yellow-bodied, chartreuse-tailed jigs; white bass fair schooling and under lights to 20 fish per string on jigs, Bomber slab and Roy's handcrafted lures; channel catfish fair to 3 pounds on worms and shruimp; blue and yellow catfish slow.

Whitney - Water clear, 79 degrees, 4 feet high; black bass good to 4 pounds on spinners, plastic worms around the big island; striper good to 15 pounds on live bait; crappie oor; white bass fair with some schooling in Bear Creek; catfish excellent in 5-6 pound range on worms, shrimp; blue catfish good to 14 pounds on live perch. Fishing pressure fairly low midweek, all boat ramps open.

Fork - Water clear, 82 degrees, 10 inches high; black bass good to 8 1/2 pounds on topwaters early and late, Pop R, Chuggers, Zara Spook; crappie excellent on minnows in 25 feet of water and moving into deeper water; catfish good from bank to 10 1/2 pounds on earth worms, nightcrawlers. Bream excellent on crickets and worms, fish moving to 10 feet of water.

Monticello - Water clear, 96 degrees, normal level; black bass good to near 9 pounds on 8-inch dark worms; crappie poor; catfish very good to 9 pounds on Canadian Crawlers and shrimp.

Houston County - Water clear, 85 degrees, normal level; black bass good to 10 pounds plus with an 8, a 7 and some 5s on black worms mostly in 5 to 20 feet of water; striper fair; crappie good but hard to locate on minnows; white bass slow; catfish slow to 13 pounds, 7 ounces on trotline with live perch.

Rayburn - Water clear, 78 degrees, 6 inches below pool; black bass good to 8 3/4 pounds on worms, jigs, spinners and topwaters; striper fair in lower end of lake on Rat-L-Traps; crappie good with limits to 3 pounds on live minnows in 20 to 25 feet of water fish at 10-15 feet; catfish good to 49 pounds on trotline with live bait; channel catfish good in 25-30 feet of water on Catfish Charlie.

Braunig - Water murky, 84 degrees, normal level; black bass fairly good to 7 1/4 pounds on cranks; striper excellent to 5 pounds on spoons and tilapia; crappie slow; catfish excellent to 8 pounds on shad, chicken liver, shrimp and tilapia;

Wende Reunion Held Saturday June 27

The descendants of Daniel and Emilie Wende held their reunion Saturday, June 27, at the Cisco Country Club. A delicious meal was served at noon followed by a brief meeting. Melvin Wende, Dora Schaefer, and Joe Ziehr were re-elected officers. Terry Wende also brought and told about the book he has written on the Wendes. It was a joyous and memorable day.

Those who attended were redfish excellent to 20 pounds on tilapia and spoons in 15 feet of water; corvina slow.

Granbury - Water clear, 81 degrees, normal level; black bass slow to 3 1/2 pounds on buzz baits early, worms later in the day; striper and white bass schooling late afternoon and just after dark, best baits are Little Cleos, popping corks, Flea Flies and live perch in the middle of the day; crappie slow; catfish slow.

Hubbard Creek - Water clear, 74 degrees, lake full; black bass slow; striper fairly good to 4 pounds on silver slabs or live minnows; crappie picking up to 20 fish per string on minnows; white bass slow; catfish good to 35 pounds trotline with live bait; channel catfish good to 4 pounds.

Spence - Water murky, 75 degrees, 5 feet low; black bass fair to 4 pounds on buzz baits, Rat-L-Traps; striper fair to 16 pounds trolling Redfins with downriggers; crappie slow; white bass slow; catfish fair to 3 pounds on worms.

Twin Buttes - Water clear, 74 degrees, lake level 3 1/2 feet low; black bass fairly good to 6 pounds, 3 ounces on minnows in shallow water; striper fairly good to 8 1/4 pounds trolling slabs; crappie fairly good to 25 fish per string on minnows; white bass slow; catfish slow on rod and reel; trotline good to 19 pounds on goldfish.

Repairs To Dam At Possum Kingdom Lake On Schedule

Repairs to the dam at Possum Kingdom Lake are continuing on schedule, according to Brazos River Authority, owner of the dam and reservoir project. Meanwhile, the lake level, which had risen to 992 feet as the result of recent heavy rains, has returned to 987 feet.

The lake level was drawn down 13 feet from the normal maximum operating level of 1,000 feet as a safety precaution while investigations leading to possible structural modifications are being made at the dam. The temporary maximum operating level of 987 feet was reached on April 24 and is expected to be in effect for at least six months and maybe as long as a year. Lowering of the lake level to 987 feet was ordered by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, which licenses the hydroelectric generating facilities at the project.

Among the items of work in progress at the dam was drilling access holes through the dam's buttresses to provide access to the interior of the spillway section of the dam, installation of relief wells to relieve water pressure which was detected under the dam, and installation of monitoring equipment to detect changes in water pressure or movement of the dam.

A public meeting was held at Possum Kingdom on June 25 at which Ron Corso, Director of the Division of Inspections for the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, spoke and answered questions regarding FERC's role in administering the hydroelectric license for the project. Attendance at the meeting was estimated at 150 people. In addition to the public meeting, representatives of the Brazos River Authority and its engineering consultants met with FERC technical staff representatives to review the ongoing repair work and the proposed plan of corrective measures. As a result of that meeting, the FERC staff gave approval to the implementation of the first step in the plan, the installation of relief wells.

Waste Management Announces Texas' First Electricity From Landfill Gas Project

Waste Management, Inc. today announced plans to construct and operate the first facility in the State of Texas to produce electricity from municipal solid waste, in the form of recovered landfill gas.

The 3-megawatt small power production facility will be fueled by methane gas recovered from Waste Management's DFW Landfill at Lewisville, Texas. Methane gas is a natural byproduct that develops in landfills from the decomposition of refuse. The power plant is projected to produce enough electricity to 20,000 homes in Wisconsin.

Methane-powered electric generating plants like those developed by Waste Management qualify as small power production facilities under the federal Public Utilities Regulatory Policies Act (PURPA). Their benefit is to make productive the landfill methane gas that would otherwise be vented and flared, losing its productive energy potential.

"Plants like the one planned for the DFW landfill offer a double benefit to the area," said Charles Fiedler, district engineer for Waste Management. "They take advantage of renewable energy resources, while solving the problem of what to do with the methane gases that develop in landfills."

Renewable resource projects are classified as having the highest priority for development by the Texas Public Utility Commission, indicating that preference should be given them by utilities when choosing cogeneration and small power production partners. These projects require partners, normally electric utilities, to purchase the electricity produced. For example, Wisconsin Electric Power Company purchased electricity produced at Waste Management's Wisconsin facilities at a price equal to the amount it would cost the utility to produce the same amount of electricity with the next power plant it constructs - known generally as the utility's avoided cost. By purchasing power from such facilities, the utility delays proportionately the time when it must develop additional capacity through construction of another power plant and the resulting need to increase prices to the consumer.

For its first Texas facility, Waste Management has offered to sell the electricity produced to Texas Utilities Electric Company (TUEC) at a price less than TUEC's avoided cost for producing the same amount of power. Negotiations between Waste Management and TUEC have been under way for some time, but a final agreement is yet to be reached.

"We considered several avenues for selling the electricity our landfill gas power plant will produce," Fiedler said. "We chose to approach Texas Utilities partly because of their long-term commitment to fuel diversity. Landfill methane gas would add yet another element to TUEC's already diversified fuel mix."

"We think we are close to an agreement. We're offering to sell TUEC electricity at less than their avoided cost, despite the fact that Public Utility Commission regulations indicate we are entitled to full avoided cost rates, and that we've been able to contract with utilities in other parts of the country at full avoided cost. In addition to being a good value for their customers, it affords TUEC and Waste Management the opportunity to put this renewable energy resource to productive use."

TUEC provides electric service to nearly a third of the people of Texas. Its service territory stretches from far West Texas, past Midland and Odessa, to the Dallas-Fort Worth area, and on into East and Northeast Texas. Dallas, Fort Worth and several other area cities receive electric service from TUEC.

Negotiations are also under way with Texas-New Mexico Power Company (TNMPC), whose lines would be needed to transfer electricity from the Waste Management facility to the TUEC distribution system. TNMPC provides electric service to the Lewisville area, where the new plant will be located.

"Fittingly, much of the refuse deposited in the DFW Landfill comes from municipalities served by TUEC and TNMPC. Once an agreement is finalized and the plant is constructed and operating, the refuse discarded by the people of the area will provide the fuel for making their electricity. That means the cartons protecting light bulbs purchased last year may well provide the fuel to make the electricity that will light the bulbs next year," Fiedler said.

Waste Management's first landfill gas to electrical energy plants in Wisconsin have been widely acclaimed for their engineering and for environment and energy innovation, winning the Wisconsin Governor's award for Energy Innovation, a federal Department of Energy award, and an American Society of Civil Engineer's award for engineering excellence.

"We're ready to go," Fiedler said. "All we need is to finalize a deal with the electric utility partner. After that, we can have the facility on-line and producing power in a matter of months. We think this will be a model project for Texas," he added.

"We're looking forward to bringing this engineering accomplishment and innovative fuel resource to the Dallas area," Fiedler concluded. "Electricity from waste presents a good solution to landfill gas questions, provides a ready source of power plant that would otherwise be wasted, and provides area citizens with a new source of electric power at a cost that is less than a new electric company power plant would be."

The planned landfill gas to electric energy facility at DFW Landfill is the first of at least four such projects Waste Management plans to pursue in Texas. In all, the company has more than 20 such projects under active development throughout the United States.

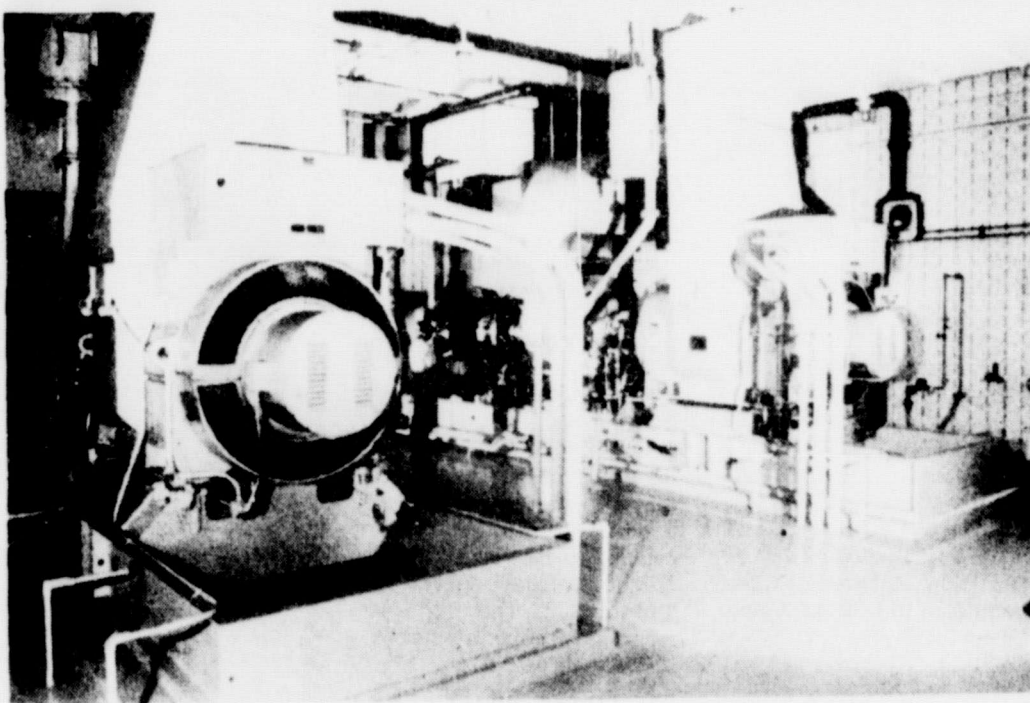

The DFW Landfill facility is operated by American Container Services, a subsidiary of Waste Management, Inc. Three area Waste Management companies - Texas Waste Management in Lewisville, TIDI in east Dallas and American Container Services in west Dallas and the mid-cities - deposit refuse in the DFW Landfill facility, in addition to other companies serving the area. Twelve thousand cubic yards of refuse a day are deposited in the landfill, which is now about one-fourth filled.

Typically, power plants fueled by landfill methane gas combine the operating reliability of a gas turbine power plant with the long-term fuel security of a solid fuel plant. The facility ultimately will produce enough methane to support a second 3-megawatt turbine generator in the early 1990s and to continue the production of electricity for at least 20 years after the landfill is completed.

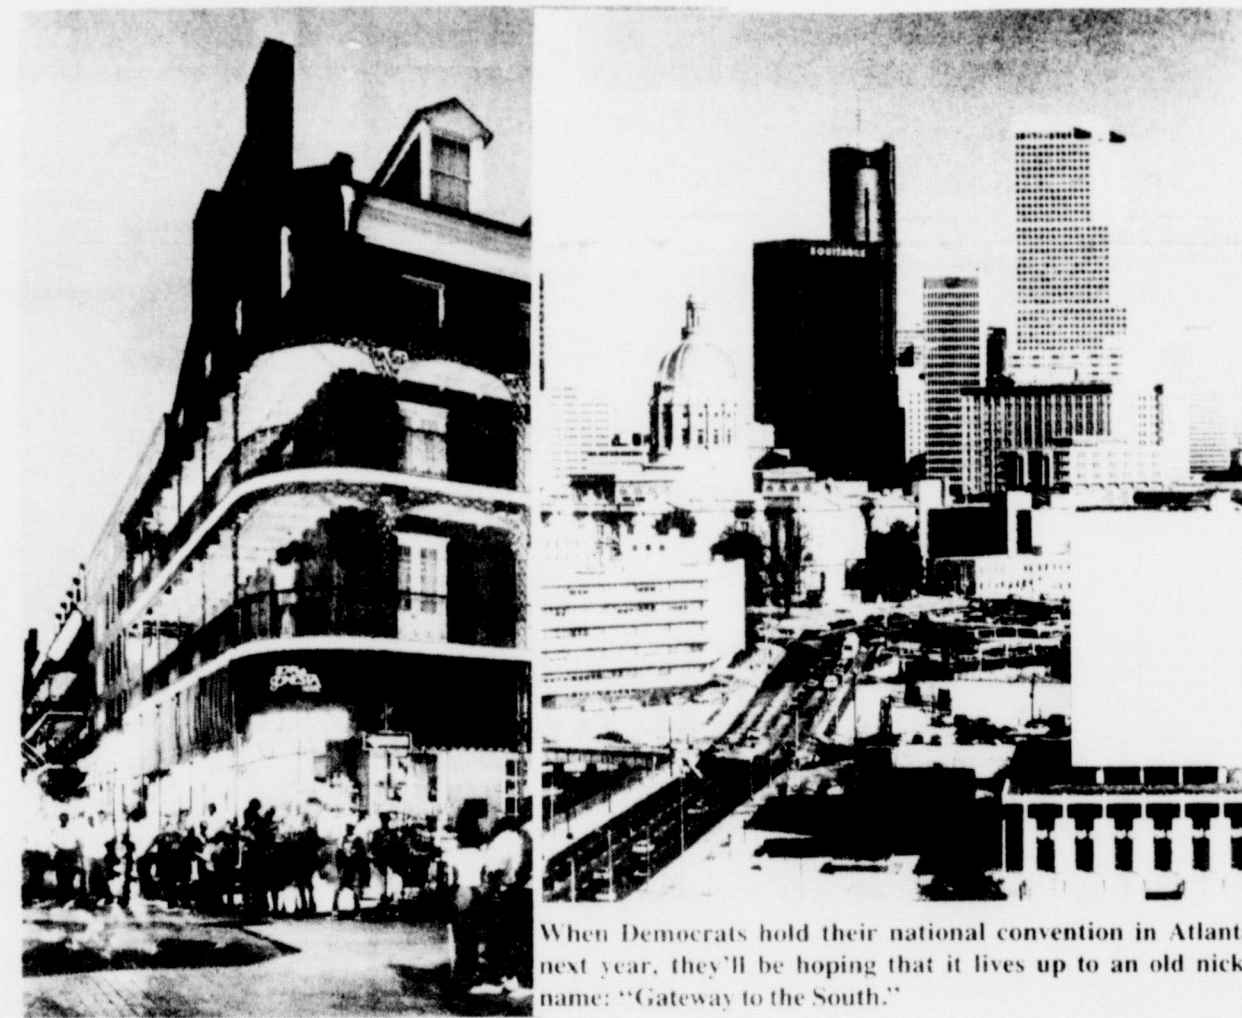

Waste Management, Inc. is the world's largest company providing comprehensive waste management services. Its operations include the storage, collection, processing and disposal of solid and hazardous wastes; resource recovery; and international city cleaning. Operations in North America provide solid waste management services in more than 400 communities in the United States and Canada. Waste Management's operations in the Dallas-Fort Worth area include TIDI and American Container Services in Dallas and the mid-cities, Texas Waste Management in Lewisville, Waste Management of Fort Worth, and Lee & Son Trucking Co. in Sherman, Texas.

Similar Plan Considered For Eastland Once

The City of Eastland a few years ago was in negotiations with a Houston-area firm which was proposing such a facility to be constructed in Eastland County to dispose of solid waste for the entire county and generate electricity. The company cited in this article indicates that it is looking for other locations and might possibly be a prospect for such a development here.

INSIDE VIEW-These turbine generators run on methane gas recovered from the Waste Management, Inc. Omega Hills Landfill in Wisconsin. Plans to construct a similar facility at the DFW Landfill near Lewisville, Texas, were announced today. The DFW facility would initially be capable generation enough electricity to supply 5,000 area homes.

When Democrats hold their national convention in Atlanta next year, they'll be hoping that it lives up to an old nickname: "Gateway to the South."

Republican delegates can be expected to take time out from politics long enough to enjoy the sights and sounds of New Orleans' famous Bourbon Street.

Southern Cities Get Ready For 1988 Party Conventions

By Susan Ridge

Delegates will be heading south next summer when Republicans attend their national convention in New Orleans and Democrats journey to Atlanta. Both cities are spending lots of time and money to accommodate convention goers, even though the events are more than 12 months away.

For New Orleans and Atlanta, it's not enough to prepare for the convention delegates. More than 15,000 journalists are expected to report on the activities surrounding the convention, not to mention the influx of official guests, presidential campaign workers, lobbyists and just plain curiosity seekers who will crowd the hotels and scramble for convention passes.

Although this certainly won't be the largest convention for either city, it is one of the most prestigious. As former New Orleans City Councilman Brian Wagner said, "It's a chance to show the rest of the country that we know how to work and play."

The chance for prominent national and international media attention has led Atlantans to do some sprucing up around town. To encourage visitors to walk the short distance from their hotels to the convention site, the city is building a larger sidewalk lined with trees, flowers and park benches.

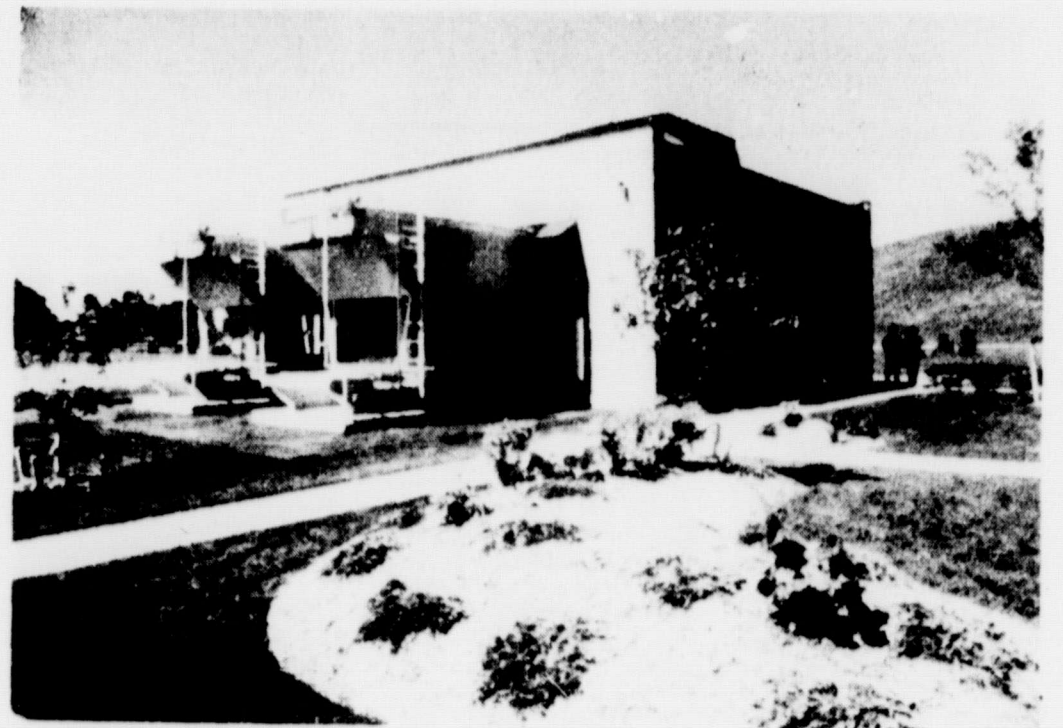

Mark Howington, assistant manager of communications for Atlanta 88, Inc., the planning committee for the convention, said, "The work involved is incredible. All eyes will be on Atlanta next year. We've got to be ready."

Already boasting one of the country's best public rail systems, MARTA transportation officials will have completed a new portion of the line connecting the airport with downtown hotels by the time the convention opens July 18.

Several hundred miles away, amid the jazz and cajon cooking, the city of New Orleans is making similar preparations for Republicans at the Superdome. Unlike most national gatherings, much of the political convention activity will take place at night. In response, the city has arranged for local restaurants to stay open later to feed hungry delegates. Local officials have also asked area employers to open and close one hour earlier to prevent the expected increase in rush-hour congestion.

New Orleans has also been honored with a visit by the pope this fall. Some of the work required his appearance, such as installing a sound system on the floor of the Superdome, is also necessary for the Republican convention next August. Members of both planning committees are working together on such details.

How do residents feel about all this attention being focused on their hometowns? "We just couldn't pull this off if it weren't for our volunteers," said Peggy Wilson, New Orleans city councilwoman. "We have people ready to donate their homes and their boats to accommodate visitors. We're definitely showing some southern hospitality."

OUTSIDE VIEW-Pictured here is the gas compressor station at Waste Management award-winning landfill gas to go electrical energy project on the grounds of its Omega Hills Landfill in Wisconsin. A similar facility is planned for DFW Landfill service the Dallas area near Lewisville, Texas.

We The People

200 Years of Freedom

This year we celebrate the 200th anniversary of the U.S. Constitution. In many ways, the creation of our Constitution was a more important event in our nation's history than the Declaration of Independence in 1776.

In the 11 years between the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution, America was little more than a collection of 13 bickering former colonies.

Under the Articles of Confederation, America could hardly be said to have a government at all. Congress and the courts were ineffective and the executive branch of government was nonexistent.

So in 1787, many of the same leaders who had so recently won our independence gathered in Philadelphia. Included in their number were such men as George Washington, Benjamin Franklin, Alexander Hamilton and James Madison.

Their goal was to create a new form of government that would be strong enough to unify the states while absolutely guaranteeing individual rights and liberties.

That we are able to celebrate the bicentennial of that Constitution is testimony to their genius. That basic document still protects our right to worship as we please, to speak freely on all issues and to freely communicate with one another through newspapers and magazines without fear of unwarranted government interference or censorship.

That our founding fathers were able to produce a document that would stand the test of time is a tribute to their great political skills as well as their wisdom. Those who went to Philadelphia representing their states began with major differences. Each had a vision of how America should be governed. Hamilton had an aristocrat's fear of "the mass of the people." He was countered by such advocates of democracy as Virginia's Madison and George Mason.

That our Constitution began as a result of compromise, of give and take between widely differing viewpoints, may be one of the secrets of its greatness. It is our legacy of seeking peaceful solutions for difficult problems and allowing opposing opinions to be openly and freely debated. ■

This is one of a series of columns celebrating the 200th anniversary of the U.S. Constitution.

Tax Reform Retreat

By Thomas J. Donohue

Congress may take away your tax cut before you have a chance to benefit from it.

Last year's Tax Reform Act was designed to reduce the tax burden on the poor and moderate income families. It would be taken away in one fell swoop if Congress is successful in increasing excise taxes to raise $18 billion for federal budget deficit reduction. Excise taxes are currently included in the prices of gasoline, beer, wine, distilled spirits and tobacco.

An independent study commissioned by the Coalition Against Regressive Taxation (CART) confirms how a proposed $18 billion increase in these taxes would affect each income class compared to the relief they are supposed to get from last year's Tax Reform Act.

While tax reform will cut income taxes by $400 million families with less than $10,000 on income, an excise tax increase of the magnitude being suggested in Congress would raise their taxes by nearly $2 billion.

The difference, and it takes no great statistical analysis to see the obvious conclusion, is that those Americans with the least earning power, and the least paying power, are being asked to pay more — something like two billion dollars more. That is not what the leadership of this nation promised the American taxpayers when they passed the Tax Reform Act less than a year ago. We must not reverse the benefits of the Tax Reform Act through unfair excise taxes.

That excise tax increase would be a staggering 479% as great as the tax cut these families were promised under the new tax bill. That would be a cruel hoax against those Americans least able to pay.

The $18 billion dollar figure was chosen because that is the size of the revenue increases both houses of Congress have adopted for fiscal 1988 as part of their budget resolutions. In fact, it would take only 4 or 5 billion dollars of increases in these five excise taxes to wipe out the tax relief enacted for the under $10,000 income group.

These Americans already spend 5 percent of their income on state and federal excise taxes, which is double what they pay into Social Security. That is already seven times more than what they will pay in federal income tax under tax reform.

Sadly, what tax reform gave one year in a particularly astute revision of our nation's tax policies, it is threatening to take away in another year through discriminatory implementation of excise taxes. That is not right. That is not fair. ■

AFTER GOING TO City Park for Lions Club barbecue sandwiches and a look at the carnival and July 4th celebration last Wednesday, the Sutton Crofts returned to their home on 5th Street. Mary (Mrs. SC) decided to hang a curtain and was about to climb up on a stool when Sut interrupted: "Here, let me do that. You might fall and break an arm," he said, taking over the curtain hanging. Climbing on the stool, Sut prepared to do the hanging. And the stool toppled, spilling him and curtain on the floor. Sut's right arm seemed bruised and they took it to Graham Hospital where a doctor examined and determined that it was indeed broken. Mary then drove Sut to Hendrick Hospital, Abilene, where the broken arm was placed in a cast. Luckily, it was his right arm because Sut is left handed - in everything he does except write. And the curtain still needs hanging. Sut also broke his glasses and needed five stitches to sew up a cut over one eye.

THE CISCO Junior College board of regents will hold their July meeting Monday night, July 13. The Marshall Joneses went over to Fort Worth last Saturday for a weekend visit with relatives. Lawrence Davis of El Paso, the highest ranking Cisco boy scholastically in the 1987 commencement, writes pals here that he is due to be inducted into the U.S. Marine Corps on August 3rd. Aren't the Red Bud trees nice around town these days?

SATURDAY'S July the Fourth carnival and celebration at City Park was a very nice affair, indeed. It was our assignment to dispense soft drinks at the Lions Club food stand. And we workers there were delighted when Lion Carroll Scott, who was unable to handle his work assignment, sent two daughters to replace him. Ane Mrs. Carol Ann (Scott) Slagle of Grand Falls, No. 1 daughter, and Kay Scott, No. 3 daughter, did an outstanding job. They worked from 10 a.m. to until after 2 p.m. Mrs. Slagle, wife of a football coach, is spending a few weeks here with her parents and attending CJC classes at Clyde. The barbecue that came out of the cooking machine owned by Eddie McMillan and Brad Kimbrough was absolutely super. Many, many people ate sandwiches for lunch and supper and had desert from the homemade ice cream stand operated by the Lutheran Young People and other goodies served by church groups. There was good entertainment in the picnic pavillion all day. And the program was topped off by a nice fireworks show.

MR. BRUCE Stovall, a busy man in the area oil industry, tells us that he was a pretty tired citizen when he steered his motorcycle into his home driveway last Friday afternoon. He had ridden it to Junction a day or so before to join some of his children at a vacation retreat on a river there - a camping expedition that has been a family favorite for 25 or 30 years. And he rode the cycle home. Bruce said the boys caught a good batch of catfish and they enjoyed a 3 a.m. fish daughter Terri is the new boss lady at Philpott's, tells us that he wanders in occasionally and invariably they have some flowers for him to deliver. YOU'LL HAVE to do quite a bit of looking to find prettier African Violets than those at Dean Drug. You won't see them unless you look for them because they keep their 25 or 30 plants on shelves as you enter the store. A lot of them are in bloom and are quite attractive. Understand the ladies at Dean's, including Betty McGrew, Verdine Nichols and Marilyn Fleming, talk to the violets every day when they water and feed them. Talking to your flowers, our scout reported, will be a big contributing factor if they do well. Listed below are the memorial gifts received by the Cisco Cemetery Association during the month of June: In memory of Alfred E. Standart by Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Reich. In memory of Gorum P. Glascock and the R. D. Vanderford by Fredreca P. Butts. In memory of Sarah Elizabeth Trott and the Martin Family by Bob M. and June E. Owens. In memory of Zona Buford by Mary Nix. In memory of Harold Adling by Garl and Burnice Gorr. Contributions to the Cemetery Association may be mailed to Box 308, Cisco, Texas 76437.

A JULY THE Fourth visitor at City Park was the Rev. Prince Altom, member of the CHS Class of 1961. He has been pastor of a church in the San Francisco area for the past 12 years and was in these parts for a vacation visit with his parents, the Garner Altoms of Abilene, and other relatives and friends. The Garner Altoms were here, too. Their other son, Doug, lives at San Angelo and Prince had visited him.

THE FOLKS AT Walton Electric seem to have lost their advertising director - the writer of the messages that appeared from time to time for the past few years on their out-front signboard. All they advertise now are items for sale or service ideas. Nina Jo Anderson, who recently went to work for IDS with an office at 502 Hilton, has been the signboard writer. (A recent ad there offered free kittens - with or without $5 purchase.) She reports that she's getting things organized at her new office and doesn't have time for signs. Bubba Anderson, son of Ted and Nina Jo, was up from San Antonio where he's in the U. S. Air Force for the past weekend.

WHAT'S FRED Wheeler doing these days since they sold Philpott the Florist? "I'm getting caught up on my rest," he told us. And he's pretty busy fishing. Mr. Dean Madison, whose

Gun Club To Hold Matches

This coming Saturday, July 11th, the Cisco Gun Club will conduct its second of the three scheduled "Trophy Shooting Matches" of 1987. The matches will be held at the club gun range north of the city, beginning promptly at 12 NOON.

members entry fee will be $10.00. All club members are encouraged to come out and participate in these rifle matches. Hunting season is not that far off and this would be an excellent opportunity to prove your shooting prowess. The public is always invited to attend and participate in the shooting matches.

Three categories or events will be shot during this tournament. The first two matches are the .22 caliber rifle which will be shot at 50-yard targets and the large bore sporter rifle (.243 caliber or larger) shot at 100-yard paper targets. There will be a First Place Trophy awarded in each of these matches to the shooter with the highest overall score shooting at three separate targets (150 points maximum). The third match will be the .22 caliber silhouette event with a trophy going to the top shooter in this event also.

For information on restrictions or limitations on the rifles, scopes, etc. that can be used in the events, or more details regarding general tournament procedures, please contact club officers Michael Moore or Tommie Lee. The entry fee for members for this trophy tournament is $5.00. Non-
