Hall Of

Remarks

by Herrel Hallmark

I SAW MARK Heidenheimer in Cisco last Tuesday and he reports that he is planning to attend the law school of SMU in Dallas this coming fall. Mark said he sent in his application to six different law schools and was accepted by five of those. He has attended the University of Texas in Austin for the past four years and graduated from U of T this past semester.

MARK ALSO REPORTS that Steve Schultz, son of Rev. and Mrs. C.C. Schultz formerly of Cisco but now of Waco, is working in Houston for an air freight company which has bases all over the world. Steve graduated from the University of Texas in Austin last spring.

WELL, FRIDAY was the last day of school for local students with the CHS seniors of 1979 graduating on that night. With the end of school in mind, be sure and watch for children playing either in, or near streets and intersections since they are sure to be outside during the summer.

THE SWIMMING pool did not get to open on Friday as scheduled, but will "hopefully" be opened on Monday. A story on the pool may be found elsewhere in today's edition of The Cisco Press.

A NUMBER OF Ciscoans were seen to be in vehicles pulling boats and trailers and heading out for the Memorial Day weekend to be spent at some area lake. Let's all have a safe and happy weekend and drive carefully during the Memorial Day weekend.

Burton Unable To Attend Concerners

Don Burton of Abilene will be unable to attend the Concerners meeting Sunday at the Church of the Nazarene, Avenue N and West 10th, Cisco, due to prior engagements. He will be speaker at a later date.

Mott's Variety Store Now Open In New Location Here

Mott's Variety Store has now moved all of the store merchandise to its new location at 1001 Avenue D. It is now in the building which formerly housed the Ben Franklin variety store. The store hours will be 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

There is a convenient free customer parking area.

The other Mott's building has been closed and sold to the First National Bank.

The expanded building has a better layout allowing room for an expanded line of merchandise. New merchandise now available at the store includes lawn mowers and weed trimmers.

Ed Clark, store manager, has been an employee of E.B. Mott in Cisco for 15 years. "We will try to carry merchandise to satisfy people and still try to keep lower prices on everyday merchandise," stated Mr. Clark.

Russell-Newman To Celebrate 40th Year In Business

Russell-Newman Manufacturing Company will be celebrating its 40th year in business at the end of this month. The local plant will have a celebration on Thursday, May 31, at 9:45 a.m.

Yard Of The Week

YARD OF THE WEEK, a local contest sponsored by the Cisco Garden Club, was given to the F.P. Moore home at 1500 Avenue N. The yard has beautiful hollyhocks and shrubbery. The Garden Club contest will continue throughout the summer and due to the price of gasoline, anyone who has a pretty yard or knows someone who has, is asked to get in touch with the Garden Club by calling 442-1773 or 442-3511. ## Fellowship Of Christian Women To Have Luncheon

The Fellowship of Christian Women of Cisco will have their monthly salad luncheon this coming Saturday, June 2nd, at 12:00 noon at 309 West 6th.

This luncheon is open to all women of all denominations and is a group of Christian women who meet together for sharing and fellowship. The FCWC library of books and tapes will be available. For young mothers who would like to attend and have need of a sitter, one will be furnished for you. To make arrangements for the sitter and to make reservations please call Mrs. James (Irene) Cotton at 442-2565 no later than Friday, June 1st.

Cathy Crosby of Austin will be luncheon speaker. She is "Here is Life Ministry" representative for the South and Southeastern U.S.A. This is the adult lay ministry within Campus Crusade, working with local churches and groups in evangelism and discipleship. In Austin she leads a Bible study for State Legislators' wives, works with single groups of several churches, has a ministry to Business Executives and their wives and helps to coordinate Spiritual retreats for adults.

Memorial Day Service Monday At 10:30 A.M.

The traditional Memorial Day service will be held on Monday, May 28, 1979, at the flag pole site in Oakwood Cemetery, according to the announcement by Brad Kimbrough, Commander of The American Legion Post. The service will begin at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning.

An invitation is extended to all citizens of Cisco that their appreciation may be expressed to all veterans whose sacrifices have preserved us a nation. Special recognition is given those who served so gallantly in the Vietnam era. A special invitation is extended to them.

In the proclamation, the President has said: "I, Jimmy Carter, president of the United States of America, call upon all Americans to observe May 28 through June 3rd, 1979, the week of our traditional Memorial Day, as Vietnam Veterans Week. On this occasion, let us as a Nation express our sincere thanks for the service of all Vietnam era veterans. I urge my fellow citizens and my fellow veterans, and their groups and organizations, to honor the patriotism of these veterans, and to recognize their civilian contributions to their communities in America today."

The Proclamation of the Governor of Texas sets Memorial Day for all Texans.

The program is arranged as follows: pledge of allegiance to the flag; placing of the Memorial Wreath; invocation by Rev. Don McClenny; welcome remarks by Mr. Gene Abbott; reading of the governor's proclamation by Mr. Brad Kimbrough; group singing of three songs, "America the Beautiful," "God Bless America" and "America;" Memorial Day Address by Mr. Roy Hathaway; In Memoriam by Mr. E.L. Jackson; "My Buddy" sung by Mr. Hathaway; and Taps by Mr. Tim Jones.

City Swimming Pool To 'Hopefully' Open On Monday

The Cisco City Swimming Pool will "hopefully" be open at 1:00 p.m. Memorial Day Monday, May 28, it was reported. The pool was vandalized by persons who painted the bottom of the pool.

drained and repainted.

Rick Calhoun is the summer recreation director. Jon Cermin is the head lifeguard. Other lifeguards will be Jimmy Myers and Beth Lindsey. Judith Calhoun will work at the stand.

Acknowledges Gifts

Dr. Norman Wallace, president of Cisco Junior College, acknowledges contributions to the Cisco Junior College Memorial Endowment Fund by Mrs. Lela Latch Lloyd and the officers, directors and employees of the First National Bank in memory of Mrs. Minnie Hill.

All local area women are cordially invited to attend.

Senior Citizens Nutrition Menu

Variety type of programs were given to the participants of the Nutrition Luncheon Program during the past week.

A program on "Food Preservation" was presented by Mrs. Janet Thomas, County Extension Agent. Her famous "auntie" experiences in using the pressure cooker for canning kept the audience wondering what was happening next.

Friends from out-of-town also contribute to the programs as the Senior Citizens heard Marie Starr, from Portland, Oregon, sing old and beautiful hymns. Even people closer to Cisco added a lot to the programs: Gertie Powell, from Cross Plains, and Grace Norris from Pioneer, sang and entertained.

Then the participants took a trip to "Alaska" when Norman (Bill) and Bobbie Richardson showed slides. These slides showed how beautiful Alaska is and how people overcome some of the handicaps.

Ruth Cartee, director of the program, reminds the people that Monday is a recognized holiday, Memorial Day, and the Center will be closed. Mrs. Cartee has released the menus for the week:

Monday-No luncheon.

Wednesday-Braised beef, blackeyed peas, toss salad, cheese sticks, birthday cake, bread and drink.

Friday-Beef and rice, squash casserole, perfection salad, coconut pudding, bread and drink.

Cisco City Council Holds Called Meet

A called meeting of the Cisco City Council was held on Thursday of this week with the main purpose of the meeting to brief the council on a proposed Lone Star Gas rate increase.

Wayne West, manager of the local Lone Star Gas office, was present at the meeting with a public relations man of the company to give the briefing of the upcoming request. City Manager John Boland said the first reading of the proposed increase will probably be at the June 12 meeting.

City manager Boland reviewed with the council the recent deposits of city funds into U.S. Treasury Bills. The May 8 transaction placed $29,521.67 into a $30,000 U.S. Treasury Bill in the name of water and sewer revenue with an effective interest rate of 9.7 percent. It will mature on July 12 and will have earned $478.33 interest.

Also, on May 8, $29,179 was placed into a $30,000 U.S. Treasury Bill in the name of special revenue sales tax with an effective interest rate of 9.70 percent. It will mature on August 23 and will have earned $824.71 interest.

On May 17, a $100,000 certificate of deposit matured and $29,331.35 of it was placed on May 22 in a $30,000 U.S. Treasury Bill in the name of revenue sharing. The bill, which will mature on August 16, has an effective interest rate of 9.5 percent and will have earned $668.75. Also, $24,774.99 was placed in a $25,000 U.S. Treasury Bill in the name of Revenue Sharing with an effective interest rate of 9.55 percent. It will mature on June 28 and will have earned $252.01 interest. The funds from both of these will be needed when they mature for the Front Street project.

The remainder of the certificate of deposit, $45,900.76 was placed in another certificate of deposit for a period of three months at the rate of 5.5 percent interest. It will earn $631.14 interest. The approximate total interest earned from the certificates of deposit and U.S. Treasury Bills will be $10,621.41.

City Manager Boland received permission from the council to attend a city manager's convention. Permission was also received for the city accountant and a supervising personnel to go to Austin June 5 and attend a briefing on Youth Conservation Corp rules and regulations.

The council tabled a discussion of fees for the City City Park Swimming Pool until the June 12 regular meeting. Until that time pool fees will remain the same as last year's.

Correction

Debra Jean Pool From Garland, Not From Cisco

An incorrect news release received from Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene stated that Debra Jean Pool, daughter of Tommy Pope of 1311 Bliss, Cisco, had received a B.S. degree. However, Miss Pool is from Garland and is not the daughter of Mr. Pope.

A Gift Of Beauty

By Viola M. Payne
The home place of the Houston family, several miles down the Leon River from Cisco, is deserted now. Only the wind breaks the silence, or the hum of bees gathering nectar from the blooms in an old apple orchard.

Houston, the son of Captain (Cap) Houston, was born in 1912. But the violin music cradled on this hillside has survived, and can be heard most any time at the Nursing Home at Rising Star, where Bryant Houston lives. Some musicians demand great preparation and fanfare before they present their talents--or contracts, high pay, and Press Agents. But Bryant, one of the world's great fiddle players, demands nothing. For special occasions he plays with Nell Maynard on the piano, and Buddy Weeks on the guitar. But many times he plays alone--spilling his music out freely to the old, infirm, visitors, or children coming in for programs. When he walks up the hall toward the recreation room, carrying his old Italian violin, he always collects listeners. Bryant is a personable man--dark eyes and hair, medium-sized, soft-spoken. But the people of Rising Star have a phrase which describes him more accurately: "Bryant-Houston-and-his-Magic-Violin."

I stopped by the Nursing Home recently to hear Bryant play again. He drew out his violin carefully, with the light glowing against the amber varnish.
"My people were some of the early settlers in Eastland County," he mentioned. "Grandfather brought his family from Alabama when my Dad, Captain, was a boy. Yes, he was really named 'Captain', but everyone called him 'Cap'. As he grew up, he became a fine fiddle-player--won many Championships. When I was three years old he had an offer from the Luther Browder Shows to travel and play for the public. So Dad took us and left the farm. First we covered Oklahoma and Arkansas, and went from there to Long Beach, California. The family consisted of Cap, his wife Anna Helen, and the young sons, Bryant and Leck. Bryant's Mother played the violin, and Leck, like Bryant, learned to play. This was only the beginnings of the travels for the family, which ranged across the country and lasted for sixteen years. During this growing-up time Bryant heard some of the finest fiddlers in the country. He singles out three as being the very best. "My father, Cap, had a very unique way of playing, especially on handling the bow. And Lum Sellers was a great Texas fiddler--he taught me a lot. Bill Collins was a fine Oklahoma fiddler. Both Sellers and Collins could read music. I never did learn to do that. I just listen to things played, and pick them up."

Bryant learned to play on an old Stainer Model violin. Soon he could handle "Turkey In The Straw". But actually, at that time, his idol was the great concert violinist Fritz Kreisler, and he longed to play that type of music.
Several times, in cities, violin teachers heard young Bryant play, and would offer to teach him without charge. But Bryant and his family were very close, and they always traveled together. By 1931 they came home to Eastland County--to stay. They lived in Cisco, worked at various things, and played their violins. Cap ranged out occasionally to pick up a few more Championships, and Bryant began his long history of winning contests. But while the other young men in his age group were anxious to leave for "greener pastures", Bryant had enough memories of those pastures to want to stay in Eastland County the rest of his life.

"When they try to get me out of State," he smiles, "I tell them I am too busy playing in good old Texas Contests."
And here, of course, his record is awesome. Over 400 first place in Contests, with winnings over World Champions unwary enough to up. Trophies stacked around, and awards such as "International Old Time Fiddle Championship" in 1967 and 1968--State Championships in Kerrville. Towns and crowds and titles, blurring into each other. Legends clinging about him. And always the music, calling him back.
"Which are your best tunes, Bryant?"
"Grey Eagle, Lim Rock, Butterfly Hornpipe, Shuck In The Bush, Brown Kelly Waltz, and Listen To The Mocking Bird. My Dad composed Shuck In The Bush, and I believe I'm the only person in the world who plays it."
So this was part of Cap Houston's legacy--a lilting tune. Bryant quietly speaks of the death of his father, in the late 1950's. Several years ago he lost his Mother and brother, the last of his immediate family. We do not dwell on a loss this deep, but turn to another difficulty--a chilling one for violin players.
"About eight years ago I was playing down in Houston, and had my three special violins with me. One of these had been Spade Cooley's Recording Violin--a great instrument with big, full, round tones. These were all stolen from my hotel room, and I've never been able to find them. A friend gave me this good violin I use now."

He test his bow. Time to stop talking now, and do some playing.
He begins with "Grey Eagle", an awesome Scottish tune calculated to stir the heart of the most bored Contest Judge. And call it magic--call it what you will--but the "Grey Eagle" as played by Houston is a dazzling display of energy transformed into sound. Wild reaches into the third and fourth position, double tones, and unusual bowing makes this a formidable tune for other players to equal.
"Lime Rock", another winning tune, is a hybrid with its own grace and delicacy. Like the playing of Houston, it transcends any style. There are harmonics and many difficult passages. It becomes obvious that this unassuming man can any violistic effect he desires, including pizzicato, spiccato bowing, and an unusual rocking movement across the strings which he learned from his Father.
When Cap Houston composed "Shuck In The Bush", he wrapped up everything he knew about fiddle-playing in a kind of joyful, rakish abandon. As Bryant plays his piece, it is plain that it belongs uniquely to him, and may always. For no one else has been able to play it in the manner Cap intended. Perhaps Cap knew it would be that way.
From this type of music, Bryant swings into "sovenir" by Drala, handling the classic with ease. Soft, streamy notes, then bright showers of notes, finishing with a flourish.

And "Listen To The Mockingbird", the Southwestern Classic, is not too far removed.
This showcase tune for fiddle players has been largely shelved in recent years, for obvious reasons. Very few people have the ability to play it. Bryant has his own version--six different bird calls woven into the melody, with all sorts of warbles and trills. The tones are liquid and natural, and Bryant reveals why.
"I used to catch small mockingbirds and keep them for awhile, so I could listen to them sing. After I learned the right tones, I put them into this piece."

What he puts into all his pieces will be obvious to the public again this summer, as he makes the familiar rounds of contests. Judges and spectators will say that he is "The best of the Texas style and fiddle playing", and other things. Some will realize that this music can create visual images, and rouse ethnic memories buried in the subconscious. Some will recognize that he has interpreted the soul-music of an area, and the magnitude of this.
For the gift of beauty is the great gift of all.

It's all right to argue with your kids now and then. Otherwise they might think you're not listening.

Anybody who thinks TV has destroyed conversation in the home probably doesn't pay the phone bill.

Father to another: "I finally taught my son the value of a dollar. Now he wants his allowance in Swiss francs."

You have to know the ropes in order to pull the strings. If the owl is so wise, why doesn't he get on the day shift?

We give a hoot at Bray's in Eastland and Ranger. See us for all your summer coolers.

The pecan nut casebearer is a destructive little insect to our pecans. He is the first of many creatures that competes with us for our pecans. If we can protect our pecans from this insect than later we can worry about protecting them from such things as pecan weevils, blue jays, crows, and squirrels, not to mention hail storms, dry weather and pecan diseases.

In normal years the casebearer adults, which are light gray moths about 1/2 inch long, lay their eggs on tips of small pecans. They do this about May 20-23. In 4 or 5 days the eggs all hatch into small worms that feed on buds below the nuts for a day or two. After this they tunnel into the pecans and frequently destorys several or all the small pecans in a cluster.

The best time to spray is when most of the eggs have hatched and before the worms tunnel into the pecans. There are always a few early casebearers and a few late ones. But we want to apply insecticides when we can control 85 or 90 percent of the insects. For that reason we prefer to wait until one or two percent of the pecans have been destoryed before we spray.

The cool weather has confused the casebearer and many of them appear to be late in their development this year. We have guessed that May 26 through June 1 would be a good time to spray. Since the unusual cool weather is continuing we are inclined to suggest that the latter part of this period would be the ideal time to spray. Since the casebearer development is strung out more than usual you may want to spray twice about seven days apart.

Our good rains in April and May have been good for lawns. Because of the good growing conditions more nutrients are being used by the grass.

A continuous supply of nitrogen through the growing season is the key to maintaining a healthy, dark green lawn.

This calls for applying fertilizer in the early spring at six- to eight-week intervals. If "slow release" nitrogen materials are in the fertilizer, use higher application rates to extend the interval between uses.

Each application of fertilizer should apply 1 to 2 pounds of nitrogen for every 1,000 square feet. The amount of fertilizer needed depends on the analysis shown on the bag. For example, 21-0-0 is ammonium sulfate which contains 21 percent nitrogen (N) and no phosphorus (P) or potassium (K). To get the needed 2 pounds of nitrogen, apply 10 pounds of ammonium sulfate. (10 X .21 = 2.1).

Use fertilizer containing phosphorus and potassium in the spring or spring and fall. The P and K levels in soils build up after such fertilizers are used for several years.

Therefore, only annual maintenance amounts are needed. Lack of nitrogen reduces leaf chlorophyll, resulting in light green or yellow grass. However, other causes of this condition include disease or insect damage, iron chlorosis or acidity. Iron chlorosis is common on St. Augustine grass growing on alkaline soils. Information about soil testing and lawn fertilization can be obtained at the County Extension office.

Jailers Home Moves Again

The Eastland County Commissioners met Friday to make arrangements for moving the mobile home that is used by the jailer at the county jail. It had been moved once, but it was still in the way of new jail construction. The plumbing to it also must be rerouted or altered. Plans were to move the mobile home about four feet.

The mobile home must be kept by the jail, as a judge in a ruling ordered the county to keep three jailers at the jail around the clock. The county is meeting this order by keeping one assistant jailer on duty inside the jail at all times and the jailer and his wife on 24 hour call in the mobile home. Keeping a jailer on duty inside the jail requires four assistant jailers working shifts. The jailer and his wife being on call by the jail eliminates having to hire six more-assistant jailers. The sheriff and his wife must substitute for the jailer and his wife as the county doesn't have funds to hire additional people.

Burton Unable To Attend Meet

Unknown Building?

While Rose Construction Co., the contractor for the new county jail, was moving earth at the site, the uncovered the floor and foundation of an old building behind the present jail. The concrete floor was seven inches thick with large piers every five feet around it, and no steel reinforcing was used. It appeared to be larger than the floor area of the present jail. The people present at the time could remember back 45 years and could not remember a building being there, but perhaps one of our senior citizens can remember it. At least part of the old floor will have to be removed to make room for the new jail.

Questions For The Doctor

Coping With Stress

Americans live in a society full of stress. There is no way to avoid the pressures that trigger the body's built-in mechanism to fight or flee. Some stress is natural and often useful. Unfortunately, stress often builds up and makes people physically and mentally miserable.

Trouble at work, money woes, sexual problems and many other troubles naturally "cause" stress, says the Texas Medical Association. Even positive occasions such as marriage, job promotion, sudden financial gain, retirement and the Christmas season naturally produce stress.

Too much stress can produce troublesome amounts of anxiety, that vague fear something negative is going to happen. Some anxiety symptoms are nervousness, trembling, inability to slow down or relax, pounding heart, dizziness, abnormal eating habits and troubled breathing. Holding back feelings or a conflict between actual actions and a feeling of duty can cause anxiety.

Stress also can cause depression, a feeling of sadness or disappointment for no particular reason. Common signs of depression are fatigue, sleeplessness, inability to concentrate, restlessness and boredom, withdrawal and apathy in normal activities, and feelings of personal worthlessness and hopelessness. Depression may result from frustration, the inability to live up to expectations, or from a disappointment or compromise.

There is no way to avoid stress, anxiety and depression. But people can do a lot to keep tension within reasonable limits to avoid harm.

Talk over stressful situations with a close friend, the people involved or a professional such as a clergyman, psychologist, or psychiatrist.

Plan work so tasks do not seem endless and deadline pressure is less. Set aside specific times during and after work for relaxation and different activities to change the pace.

Setting realistic goals and deadlines will help avoid disappointment and tension if things don't work out. Advance planning also can keep too many big changes from happening at once.

Exercise regularly. Any pleasurable physical activity will help work out stress and help keep a sound body.

A doctor can suggest the proper kind of exercise, check for physical causes of depression such as a chemical imbalance in the body, and treat any illnesses such as ulcers or headaches caused by stress.

A doctor also can prescribe proper medication. Sedatives, tranquilizers, "pep pills" and other drugs usually only treat symptoms and not the causes of tensions. Abusing pills, alcohol and tobacco can be physically and mentally harmful.

Thinking about tensions can be difficult. But a little effort is worth it to keep minor problems from turning into major trouble.

RJC Announces New Medication Administration Course To Nurses Aides

Ranger Junior College announces that it will offer Medication Administration course for Nurse's Aides at the college.

The Medication Administration Aide course will begin May 29, 1979.

The course will meet on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. in the LVN classroom at Ranger Junior College.

Students may register for the course on the first night of class, May 29, 1979.

Tuition for the course is $37.50 including cost of textbooks. The course is required of all nurses aides working in nursing homes desiring to work as a Medication Administration aide.

For additional information concerning the course please contact Dr. Beryl McKinnerney, Ranger Junior College, 817-647-3234. Enrollment will be limited to the first 25 students who enroll in the class.

Dr. Beryl McKinnerney, Dean of Occupational Education, has announced that Ranger Junior College is taking applications for the 1979-80 class of Ranger Junior College Vocational School of Nursing.

The deadline for application for the program is July 20, 1979.

Only fifteen (15) students will be selected for the program from the group of applicants.

The instructor for the program is Mrs. Pat Morgan. The LVN program at Ranger Junior College has been rated as one of the best in the state. The program is one year in duration.

Upon satisfactorily completing the course, the students must take the state exam for licensure as a Licensed Vocational Nurse.

Students interested in the program may apply for financial aid through the financial aid officer at RJC. Additional information concerning the tuition, class meeting dates, testing dates, and general program information may be obtained by contacting the Registrar or the LVN instructor, Mrs. Morgan, at Ranger Junior College, 817-647-3234.

Keep Up the Good Work

Selling Your Club

Good public relations means more than a handshake and a smile. It involves work, a small amount of hard work that can pay off in well-earned benefits for your club or organization.

Every club performs numerous service projects for its community. How many clubs, though, take the time to alert the public to their projects and activities? Public relations is considered to be one of the most important aspects. Much of the success of individual projects conducted by clubs depends on community support. If that support and interest is lacking, then a club's image will certainly tarnish.

The goal of public relations is to have as many people in your home town or even the world think that your group is a great way to live. They must believe that you are an active, caring group.

The best way to gather community support is if the service goals of your club are known. The way to do this, of course, is to publicize your activities.

Your emblem is a significant factor in publicity. It should be displayed wherever possible. A highway sign, a meeting place sign, or an emblem affixed to a permanent service project like a park bench—all these help spread the word that an active club resides in the community. The name of your club should be kept constantly in the minds of members of the community.

The press release is vital to publicity coverage. It is required in almost every encounter with your local newspaper. It's also a useful tool for informing other publications and radio and television networks of your plans.

It is extremely important that you know how to prepare a good, attention-getting news release. Releases should be concise and either typed or printed for clarity. A busy editor isn't going to take time to decipher a poorly-penned letter. Always include the name and phone number of a person who can be reached for further information. If your contact works, include a phone number where he can be reached during the day.

Before publicizing an activity, though, you should make certain that it will be of interest to more than those involved in your group.

Here are some newsworthy items that you might want to publicize:

• Donations made to individuals or organizations
• All group-sponsored community projects
• Honoring a civic official or outstanding citizen
• Important elections or appointments within your group
• Visits of Officers and Directors
• Environmental projects, such as clean-ups and tree-planting

Members of the Association of Texas Soil and Water Conservation Districts' Soil Stewardship Committee watch as Governor Bill Clements signs a proclamation designating May 20-27 as Soil Stewardship Week in Texas.

Support of other service groups, clubs or scouts
• Sight and hearing conservation clinics
• Delegation travel to conventions, sponsorship of local bands
• A walk for charity

Six basic facts must be presented in every good news release. They are: Who? What? Where? Why? When? How?

Try to gear your news release to the interest of the audience. For example, release to your local newspaper, might add more information about the community and its residents.

A press release does not have to be polished to Pulitzer perfection. It does have to be clear and to the point, and even more importantly, factual.

If you're sending a release after the fact, try to include a photo that will graphically illustrate your service efforts. Photographs, for printing purposes, should be clear, black-and-white glossies. A five-by-seven or eight-by-ten is the best size for reproduction.

The worst type of picture to send is a "queue" shot. People standing in a queue, or line, all looking directly into the camera is not an interesting photograph. Showing an "action" shot will certainly have more eye-appeal, and will actually depict the essence of the story. Concentrate on the focal point of the picture—the action that people behind the photographer would be looking at.

Close-ups are always preferred to distant views. Avoid mass shots if you want names mentioned in the caption.

Photographs should be kept flat at all times. Never paste a photo that you are sending for publications onto cardboard, and never roll it up for mailing. If you are going to mail a picture, be sure your print is protected by cardboard envelope liners.

The importance of good public relations cannot be over-emphasized. It can make the difference between strong community support or an apathetic response to a group call for service.

A club that is losing members and not gaining any new ones is obviously not promoting itself or its work. If the club director, Texas State Soil & Water Conservation Board; Dr. Bill Harris, Soil & Water Use Specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service; Allen Sheppard, field representative, TSSWCB; Waldo Smith, Washington SWCD and Gene Gilbreath, director, Association of Texas SWCDs. Gilbreath is also Chairman of the local Upper Leon Soil and Water Conservation District. The purpose of Soil Stewardship Week is to call attention to the fact that the care of soil, water and related resources is everyone's concern. Texas soil and water conservation districts are committed to improving our State through the wise use and development of soil, water and related resources.

had maintained an effective public relations program, new people would be eager to join such a service-minded community group.

Public relations is actually the job of selling yourself. And in the case of a club, an effective public relations campaign is the best way to sell the good that your group can do with support from the community.

For The Men Who Succeed

...and for those who will someday succeed them, our suggestions is that they invest part of their earnings in real estate. Wise investments in real properties have yielded fortunes to many people. And those who succeed in this venture never gamble on the title. They buy only quality abstracts or title insurance made or written by those who have themselves invested wisely - in their plant - in their personnel - and in their responsibility to the public.

Lights From The Christian World

By Josephine Cleveland

We live in the world; but as true believers in Christ we do not fight the battles that confront us from worldly motives.

Remind yourself often, Friend, that the weapons you use in your fight are not the world's weapons, but God's powerful weapons with which to pull down strongholds.

One of the most powerful weapons is prayer. Pray often. Say the name of "Jesus" often in prayer and praise; for there is power in His name.

One day Jesus was praying in a certain place. When He ceased praying one of His followers said to Him, "Teach us to pray, as John the Baptist taught his followers."

Jesus said to them, "When you pray say, 'Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be Thy name, Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done, As in heaven, so in earth.'"

His promise is, "If we ask anything according to His will we will receive it." Learn to recognize His will for your life. Learn what God wants you to do. Discern His Spirit.

God will not impose His will on you. Make your requests known to Him as you recognize.... His thoughts are higher than your thoughts and His ways are higher than your ways.

As you release yourself to God's will, He is then released to work out His will in your life.

Homer White Celebrates 86th Birthday

Homer E. White of Route 2, Eastland, was honored on Friday evening, May 25, celebrating his 86th birthday. The outdoor barbecue and party was hosted by Mr. White's grandson, Doug White and his wife, Carolyn.

Born Homer Ebben White on May 25, 1893, in Carbon, he was one of four children of George Newton White and Abigail White. Mr. White was reared in Eastland County where he met and married Nora Alice Capers on September 13, 1916. She was deceased in January of 1974. Mr. White has spent his entire life in the farming and cattle business around Eastland. He is a longtime member of Thy will be done.....

First Baptist Church in Eastland.

Approximately 20 friends and relatives attended the birthday celebration. Among the guests were Mr. White's two sons, Dalton White of Eastland and Morris D. White of Cisco. Mr. White's other grandson, Major Donel D. White and his wife, Debbie, were present from Killeen. Mr. White has three great-grandsons which were all present. They are Gable, four and one-half years; Brodie, one and one-half years; and Cord, five months.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN - While one conference committee was in the process of working out a state budget, another was trying to decide who will get what as far as tax relief goes, and yet another conference committee was about to begin negotiations over school finance.

Ironically, hardly anyone noticed. Not even the first House override of a gubernatorial veto since 1951, or tentative approval of initiative and referendum legislation, or passage by House members of changes to the consumer protection act, could hold the spotlight for long after the first of what would be two filibusters began in the Senate.

While conference committee members were quietly drawing up a compromise to pay state employees (except teachers) 5.1 percent more in 1980-81 and poor children an extra $100 a year, one-third of the senate was at odds with the other two-thirds over consumer issues and one purely political matter—a presidential primary.

Months ago, the whole question of a presidential primary appeared to be dead thanks to Sen. Ron Clower of Garland who rounded up the signatures of 13 of his colleagues who said they were against Sen. Jack Ogg's bill that would separate a presidential primary from state primaries. Thirteen senators is enough to block consideration of a bill in the senate.

But then Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby rolled out SB 1149, a bill Sen. Lloyd Doggett quickly tagged as a "Trojan Horse." Later though, Doggett, Sens. Babe Schwartz, Carl Parker, Clower and others, who combined in the first filibuster of the week against SB 1149, came to think of the bill more as a smokescreen.

What looked like a shrewd parliamentary maneuver by Hobby turned out to be even more. Simply stated, SB 1149 would have put the secretary of state (at the moment, a Republican, George Strake) in charge of funds for running primaries instead of the county party chairmen. The Democrats were a little nervous about that happening. But even more irritating for some Senators was the fact there was no guarantee SB 1149 would come back from the House unamended.

If the House sent back a substitute, it would take only a majority vote for the Senate to concur and that meant Clower's 13 votes wouldn't be enough to stop passage of a bill with some provision tacked on setting up a separate presidential primary.

That was the "Trojan Horse" Doggett described. But Hobby had more on his mind. A usury bill already passed by the House pegging interest rates to treasury bonds and proposed changes in the consumer protection law were coming up on the Senate calendar. Doggett and Sen. Bill Patman had already threatened to filibuster the measures.

Doggett, Patman, Schwartz and others had joined forces earlier in the session to filibuster a bill on the State Bar and proposed changes in the consumer protection law. Three filibusters had been mounted in the Legislature thus far until this week and all had little success. But with the final days of the session facing the legislature and major legislation still waiting to be finalized, a filibuster appeared to be a more effective tool than it had been earlier.

Any hope of that being true faded quickly as it became clear that Hobby had put SB 1149 on the line merely to tire and wear down the opposition. At first glance it would appear that Hobby's tactic failed because a group-effort filibuster against SB 1149 did manage to all but kill the bill. But Hobby rolled out HB 409—interest rate legislation. Patman had vowed all along to fight such a bill and a fight meant a filibuster—the second of the week.

Earlier, in the first filibuster of the next to last week of the session, a team of senators had filibustered SB 1149 and won themselves the nickname "The Killer Bees" from Hobby, but Patman carried the load alone against HB 409 talking for 17 hours and 21 minutes—the longest filibuster this session.

When Patman could go no longer, the Senate quickly passed HB 409 raising the maximum interest rates that can be charged on home mortgages and senators also approved legislation (SB 357) weakening the consumer protection act. The usury bill headed back to the House for concurrence in Senate amendments and SB 357 was sent to the governor.

A second filibuster by Doggett against changes in the consumer law was avoided after certain amendments the Austin senator had called for were added in the House.

The House reattached to the bill class action suits that had been removed in the Senate. And the House also eliminated the definition of "actual damages"—a clause in the senate version that would have prevented consumers from collecting for mental anguish. Both the House and Senate did away with triple damages in consumer suits but the House did provide for treble damages in some cases and left that decision to juries hearing consumer cases.

The Governor

Gov. Bill Clements scolded the House this week for overriding his veto of a minor bill that would have exempted a single county from state game laws. Clements told the House it should "stop playing games. It's a sad waste of time to spend more than an hour wrangling over a matter of this magnitude during the final crucial weeks of the legislative session."

Clements was a bit happier over the progress of a wiretap bill he has called for. The measure would allow wiretaps only in narcotics cases. Sen. Carl Parker called the legislation the "Richard Nixon Wiretap Bill" but senators must not have been listening as they passed the measure on second reading 20-11. The bill must still survive a third and final reading in the Senate and a trip through the House before getting to the governor's desk.

Clements didn't get his way when it came to extending his budgetary powers. The Senate refused to even consider a bill that would have beefed-up a governor's ability to control state expenditures.

The Senate did approve a constitutional amendment allowing governors to remove appointees from boards and commissions with the consent of the Senate. Currently, the governor has no such powers.

And finally, the Legislature approved a constitutional amendment with a "local option" proviso legalizing bingo for non-profit and charitable organizations.

Hints For The Aged & Handicapped

Dear Pat-I often take advantage of the many things you mention in your column, especially the reading and writing materials. I am handicapped and enjoy both although they are difficult for me.

I would like to know if there is a dictionary printed in large type. I feel there should be now that so many other types of books are being printed in this manner.

Dear Mr. C.-Yes, there is an easy-to-read, large-print version of Webster's New World Dictionary, Second Concise Edition, published by William Collins & World Publishing Company.

If you can't afford the retail price of $19.95, it's a good idea to ask your local library to purchase it. In cases where there are handicapped clubs and organizations, it's a good addition to their own library for membership use.

There is much concern for older persons with visual impairments because nearly half of all people with serious visual impairments are over 65.

A new booklet, "Outreach To The Aging Blind: Some Strategies For Community Action", written by Irving R. Dickman is an excellent publication that emphasizes two essential ingredients for strategies of action for older people with serious eye problems—effort must be local and it must be based on collaboration of all organizations and agencies concerned. The booklet is available from the American Foundation for the Blind, Inc., 15 West 16th Street, New York, New York 10011. Price: $3.50-PAT

Readers-While we're on the subject of good material for handicapped groups to purchase, I'd like to mention a new resource guide.

Research Grant Guides has published the 1978-79 edition of a new paperback, "Handicapped Funding Directory." The guide lists over 350 foundations, associations, and government agencies which grant funds for projects in the handicapped area.

The editor, Burton J. Eckstein, has more than 20 years experience in grant and contract administration, with extensive work in the handicapped area. Write: Research Grant Guides, P. O. Box 357, Oceanside, New York 11572. Price: $14.50-PAT

Good news for those who are disabled and will be looking for jobs and careers.

According to the Department of Labor's new "Occupational Outlook Handbook", the vast majority of the 46 million jobs that will open up in the next 5-6 years will require less than

MRS. PAUL THOMPSON

Miss Linda Gaile Eldredge And Paul Edward Thompson Married May 26 In Austin

Miss Linda Gaile Eldredge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry G. Eldredge of Austin, was married Saturday night, May 26, 1979, to Paul Edward Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard N. Thompson of Cisco. The wedding took place in the Allendale Baptist Church in Austin with Reverend Harold E. O'Chester performing the ceremony.

The altar background was formed by two spiral candelabras entwined with greenery. Gary Fink of Cisco sang "Treasures" and "That's the Way" and also played traditional music, including the "Bridal March" and "You Light Up My Life."

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a long white lace-trimmed gown with a flowing train. The empire bodice featured a sweetheart neckline bordered with Venetian lace, long full sleeves ending in bands of lace at the wrists, and a lace-trimmed flounce hem. A tiara crown of seed pearls and white embroidered flowers held her fingertip illusion veil. She carried a silk nosegay bouquet of white roses, fuchsia, baby's breath and a spray of white tiger lilies with cascading ribbon in earth tones to match the bridesmaids dresses. As "something old" she wore a pearl necklace, a gift of her grandmother.

Miss Debbie Burdick of Graham was maid of honor. She wore a camel color princess style dress with scoop neckline, topped with a candlelight cape of re-embroidered organza. Bridesmaids, cousins of the bride, were Misses Susan Parrish of Odessa, D'Andrea Sprouse of Gainesville and Deborah Ford of Sadler. Each wore a dress styled like that of the maid honor in a rainbow of earth tone colors. Silk flowers was the headdress and each carried a straw fan with silk flowers in the earth tones and candlelight bows and streamers.

Ronnie Webb of Cisco served as best man. Groomsmen were Jesse Turner and Danny Trevino, students at Howard Payne University in Brownwood, and Jerry Eldredge, brother of the bride.

A reception followed the ceremony with punch and a tiered cake featuring a gazebo decor and white doves on top. Serving were maid of honor Debbie Burdick, and bridesmaids, Deborah Ford, D'Andrea Sprouse and Susan Parrish. Janette Majors, a student at Howard Payne University, registered guests.

The bride is a junior at Howard Payne University where she is an alumni member of Mu Sigma Theta. She is a 1977 graduate of Anderson High School in Austin.

The bridegroom is a 1975 graduate of Cisco High School and a 1979 graduate of Howard Payne University with a B.A. in Behavioral Science. He is a member of Gamma Beta Phi. He is currently employed by the Brownwood State Home and School as a houseparent.

The couple will be at home in Brownwood following a honeymoon trip to San Antonio and Padre Island.

CONA NOVELLI AND GARY WENDE

Engagement Announced

Mr. Clifford M.J. Novelli of Houston and Mrs. Cona Novelli of El Paso proudly announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Cona Virginia, to Gary Wayne Wende, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Wende of El Paso, and grandson of Mrs. Dan Wende and Mrs. Jeff Graham, both of Cisco.

Cona is a graduate of Burger High School and a graduate of the University of Texas at El Paso. Gary is a graduate of Eastwood High School and attended the University of Texas at El Paso. He is employed at Southwest Airlines in El Paso.

The couple will be married the evening of June 30 at 8:00 in El Paso at the Trinity Lutheran Church. All friends and relatives are invited to attend the ceremony and the reception immediately following in the church fellowship hall.

Lone Star Gas Files Application For Gas Service Rate Increase

Cisco, May 23, 1979—Lone Star Gas Company's local manager, Wayne West, today filed an application for a gas service rate increase which would raise residential customers' bills about $1.45 per month during summer months and $3.45 per month during winter months, based on average monthly consumption of 8,000 cubic feet.

West said the Company needs $82,286.00 of additional revenues to meet its cost of operation and to earn an adequate return on the company's rate base in Cisco. For the twelve months ended September 30, 1978, based on adjusted revenues and expenses, Lone Star earned a zero percent rate of return on its fair value rate base. West said rising costs are the reason why the company's earnings are deficient.

The largest single cost of the utility's operations throughout its pipeline network to 533 cities and towns in Texas is the cost of purchased natural gas, climbing more than 700 percent since 1971,

OLD SID AND HIS HUNTER'S HORN

Along the southern border of Texas, with its mesquite, its cactus and sand,

The days of my childhood were happily spent, as the son of a "hound dog man."

My memories quite often go wandering back to that farm where I was born.

It was there I first heard the notes sweet and clear that came from a hunter's horn.

Like the sound of that horn, those memories are sweet, but also bring back regret.

Too late in life to make up for neglect of a man I could never forget!

I left unsaid my love for that man, though I felt it so deep in my heart.

Now, each passing day I pay for that sin with tears that so easily start.

Though his hair was silver, his heart was pure gold; so free with all that he had.

That horn blowing, hound raising, wolf hunting man, was also my dear old Dad!

Quite an influence he made in my life, with this, his favorite expression,

"Where there's a will, there's surely a way!", and he proved it throughout the depression.

We studied our lessons by a kerosene lamp; for conveniences, we had none.

A catalog we used in the old outhouse, and in winter, it was surely no fun!

Monetarily, though we were quite poor, we managed, somehow, to survive,

And I realize now, in so many ways, we were the richest kids alive!

A devoted Christian, our Mother was, and the Bible she firmly taught.

With her heart full of love, unselfish, she was. God Bless her for battles she when the company's average cost was 18 cents per thousand cubic feet, to today's cost of approximately $1.7417.

West added that, despite recent cost increases to customers, natural gas is still, by comparison, the cheapest energy source available.

"Though the customer may not realize it, rates adequate to provide Lone Star an equitable return help assure the customer adequate service for his needs, whether in the home, the office, the hospital, school or factory," West concluded.

Under the present rate, residential users averaging 8,000 cubic feet per month are paying $22.41.

Cisco Beautification Committee Sponsoring Clean-Up Day June 2

The Cisco Beautification Committee (CBC) is sponsoring a Clean-Up Day Saturday, June 2. We will be meeting at 8:00 a.m. in the Redeemer

Lutheran Church parking lot. We are asking the citizens of Cisco to help. Children under 12 must be accompanied by a parent or sponsor. When you arrive, you or your group will be assigned an area or lot to be cleaned, trimmed, mowed, etc. Please bring a lawn mower, rake, hoe, broom, garbage bags, pruners, tree limb saw, ladder and maybe paint brush. If you do not have these items come anyway, we will have some for you to use.

Please wear long work pants (jeans), long sleeve shirts, heavy shoes or boots, and a pair of gloves.

If you live or have property on Avenue D (from Interstate 20 to railroad tracks) and can not physically afford to have someone else clean it, please contact either of the committee chairmen. We have contacted a few already and they have been very grateful and looking forward to us coming. If you desire help please call us.

one he called Buck, with his horn once more in his hand. When the Big Meet is held beyond Golden Gates, I ask You to name him, Dear Lord,

"The Master of Hounds," a title well earned, as his just and fitting reward!

When the Day of Judgment rolls around at last, and He comes to claim His own,

With the musical sound that accompanies Him, the truth will at last be known.

When that trumpet's blast rings loud and clear on that peaceful, beautiful morn,

That won't be Gabriel that you hear, friends, but old Sid with his hunter's horn.

Carroll W. Davidson Chief Petty Officer, Retired U.S. Submarine Service, United States Navy P.O. Box 1222 Cisco, Texas

Written especially for, and dedicated to, my father, Sid Davidson of Weslaco, who passed on to his eternal reward December 26, 1970.

Gone, but not forgotten, as there are many who will agree with me when I say old Sid was the greatest wolf hunting, Walker raising, tried and true "hound dog man" the State of Texas has ever known.

Also a special dedication to two local Cisco friends, Mr. Harry Lister and Mr. B.M. Lusk, both loyal and true "hound dog men."

There was no musician who ever lived that could play the way he did!

No clearer, no sweeter, nor beautiful notes; nor none could sound so forlorn.

As those that came forth, when he called his hounds, on his battered old hunter's horn.

Though blind his last years, how happy he was, just hearing his hounds giving chase.

The look of true joy, the thrill of the hunt, so clearly was shown on his face.

It has been eight long years since we bid him farewell, but my heart is aching the same.

Well loved and respected, eyes still dim with tears, when anyone mentions his name.

His place here on Earth was following his hounds, or on the seat of a plow.

But, if Heaven holds a place for hound dog men, that is where old Sid is now.

He was laid to rest in the ground that he loved, where nothing but peace abounds.

Now, I hope and I pray the Lord will see fit to let him, once more run his hounds.

What a glorious sight, once more it would be, to see him with Bugle Anne;

With old Jerky Joe, and

With old Jerky Joe, and

With old Jerky Joe, and

With old Jerky Joe, and

REDEEMER LUTHERAN CHURCH

Sunday School and Bible classes will begin at 9:30 a.m. The worship service will be at 10:30 a.m. Pastor Crockett's message is entitled "The Joy of Our Faith!" based on I John 4:13-21. The Lutheran Hour will be aired over KERC at 12:30 p.m. Pastor Wallace Schulz notes that many Christians do not feel the presence of God's Holy Spirit in their hearts. He discusses that problem in the question "Must One 'Feel' Saved To Be Saved?" The Lutheran youth fellowship will meet in the Parish Hall Sunday evening at 8:00.

The Nursing Center Bible study will meet in the worship area on Monday at 10:00 a.m. The worship service at the Center will be on Wednesday at 10:00 a.m.

Ladies' Prayer and Share group will meet in the Parish Hall on Thursday at 9:30 a.m.

"Clean-Up Day" in Cisco will be Saturday, June 2. Willing workers will meet in the Redeemer Lutheran parking lot at 8:00 a.m. We urge all our members to take part in this ministry for Jesus to our community. Remember that children under 12 must be accompanied by a parent or sponsor. We heartily commend our Cisco Civic League and Cisco Service Club for sponsoring the Cisco Beautification project. Help "KEEP CISCO CLEANER AND GREENER" throughout the year!

FIRST ASSEMBLY OF GOD CHURCH

Rev. O.T. Killion has announced that his Sunday morning sermon topic will be "Who Touched Me?" based on Luke 8:45. The evening sermon topic will be "In Time Developments" based on II Thessalonians 2:3-12.

Letters to the Editor

May 9, 1979
To: Congressman Charles W. Stenholm and Letter to the Editor of The Cisco Press:

I was disappointed to read in the Cisco paper Stenholm's dissertation about nuclear missiles. He is taking up right where old Omar B. left off - spend more on military related programs which is what has brought us to the present near national financial disaster.

Why couldn't the people be told these simple truths:
1. We have 12,000 strategic missiles while 120 would kill 90 per cent of all people in Russian cities - i.e. one Polaris submarine can virtually do that.

2. Proliferation of these disaster "bombs" among nations is getting out of control. Life on earth can be totally destroyed by radiation.

3. Tanks, planes, surface ships and such paraphernalia of World War II are virtually useless now because of 20,000 m.p.h. non-nuclear missiles which are very low-cost comparatively - offering instantaneous target destruction either shoulder launched or jeep fired. Widely spaced infantry (not tanks) is all that's left.

4. Military related spending is taking 50 per cent of general revenue, not 25 per cent, when you properly subtract deficits and Social Security funds while adding in veterans, etc.

Congress has reneged on its responsibilities to the extent that our democratic-capitalist system is threatened by a military-fascist control. The ultimate of this game is World War III.

FLEAMK To Have Auction Sale

The FLEAMK, the antique store housed in an old oil tank at Putnam, Texas, is going to have a colossal auction sale.

When R.W. Reynolds, owner and originator of the nationally known place, took auctioneer Gerald Lawrence for a stroll through it with a note pad in hand, Lawrence was so overwhelmed by the mountains of merchandise and the cavernous insides of the big old tank, that he did not record one item of the thousands to be sold. He explained, "I don't know where to start. There's no way to list it all." But with the help of proprietor Reynolds, a partial list was compiled and is being circulated throughout the area.

So, on Saturday, May 26 beginning at 10 a.m., Lawrence Auction Company of Abilene will see what it can do to help close out one of the more colorful and unique businesses in this part of the country. The auction will continue at 1:30 p.m. on Sunday.

Reynolds states that the theme of the sale is, "Something for everyone." And, there just about is. He invites all to come "bid and buy" or just "spectate".

PUBLIC NOTICE

Texas Electric Service Company, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of its intent to implement new rate schedules for electric service in areas served by the company, effective June 21, 1979, or as soon thereafter as permitted by law.

The new schedules will result in a 16.1 percent increase in the adjusted gross revenue of the company.

A complete copy of the new rate schedules is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas, and with each affected municipality. Copies also are available for inspection in each of the company's public business offices.

TEXAS ELECTRIC SERVICE COMPANY

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

By Armo Chambers

On Memorial Day, families and friends join in tribute to honor those who died in service to their country. It is a sentimental day which through the years has caused more and more families to listen to echoes of war time hopes and promises. Veterans organizations sponsor parades with reverent wreath-laying ceremonies in traditional respect for those who laid their lives on the line - and lost. Memorial Day does not symbolize militarism or glorification of war...It is a day on which it is seen there is no glory to war; only death. It is truly a "time to weep...and a time to mourn"...

It can and should be a time of rededication to the principles of universal brotherhood; a world wide brotherhood of reappraised attitudes to condemn war wherever it may be or whoever may be in it. It has been often asked if an atmosphere of brotherly respect and tolerance - without war - can ever prevail. Some thoughts on this subject will appear here next week. Watch for them...

Hicks was promoted to the Cisco position from Corpus Christi where he had been area superintendent since 1975. He joined the company as a compressor operator in 1962 and advanced through the positions of gauger, meterman and area foreman.

The Cisco District's operations extend from Crane County in the west to Ellis County in the east and to Brazos County in the south. Gas enters the system from as far north as Hemphill County in the northeast part of the Panhandle.

pipeline on the entire LoVaca system. Seven compressor stations in this district propel the gas through these lines with 36,000 horsepower of energy. One of these compressor stations with two 3,000 horsepower units is located a few miles south of Cisco itself.

Though transportation of gas for Texas Utilities Fuel Co. is the main function of the Cisco District, gas from these pipelines is sold to Lone Star Gas Co. for delivery to the Dallas-Fort Worth market. In addition, 75 miles of gathering line bring new gas supplies to the LoVaca system in this district.

Hicks is replacing Gene Perrier, who has been transferred to LoVaca's Midland district office as superintendent.

Governor of Texas

GREETINGS: AUSTIN, TEXAS

During the week of May 28-June 3, 1979, the citizens of the United States of America will pay special tribute to those members of its Armed Forces who served honorably in Southeast Asia during the Vietnam conflict.

The American Legion, Department of Texas; Department of Texas, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States; the Disabled American Veterans, Department of Texas, Inc.; the Texas Veterans Affairs Commission and various groups and citizens throughout this State are participating in The National Salute to Vietnam Era Veterans.

The Vietnam Era was ended by Presidential Proclamation signed on May 7, 1975. In the fourteen years since the start of the Vietnam Era, the estimated number of veterans in civil life who served during that period has grown to nearly 9 million.

The men and women who served in the uniform of our Country have made a major contribution not only to the preservation of America's freedom but also toward the attainment and preservation of freedom throughout the world.

The Nation and the free world are eternally grateful for the contributions of American veterans to the advancement of the cause of an honorable world peace.

It is most fitting and appropriate that we pay special tribute to all those who have borne the burden in defense of our freedom.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby call upon all citizens of Texas to join in the observance of the week of May 28-June 3, 1979, as VIETNAM VETERANS WEEK. Also, I urge all citizens to take this occasion to express their sincere appreciation and deep gratitude to the Vietnam Era veterans, as well as all other veterans, for their outstanding contributions to the advancement of the cause of an honorable world peace.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 23rd day of April, 1979.
W.P. Clements, Jr.
Governor of Texas
