Cisco Civic

League Meets

In Kamon Home

The Cisco Civic League met on Thursday, May 7th, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kamon for their spring salad supper and installation of officers. After a delicious salad dinner, the following officers for 1980-1981 were installed: Sherry Wright, president; JoAnn Cermin, first vice president; Dean Baird, second vice president; Yolanda Anderson, secretary; and Trixie Whatley, treasurer.

Other committee members and chairmen were recognized. Sherry Wright announced the tentative programs and activities for the coming year. Betty Alford and Evelyn McGuire volunteered to serve as co-chairmen of the local Blood Drive for Cisco, representing the Civic League.

A final report was given by Carolyn White, chairman of the Restoration Committee. All members were requested to attend the Kickoff Cleanup Campaign on Saturday, June 7th, at the Civic League Depot. It is hoped to have all members present from 9 a.m. to 12:00 noon to clean the grounds and exterior of the building. For more information and work schedules, please call

White And Clary To Head Cisco Cemetery Assoc.

By Louise Allison

Anton White and Steve Clary will again head the Cisco Cemetery Association as president and vice president respectively. They were re-elected to one-year terms at the fourth anniversary meeting of the Association on April 27, at the Chamber of Commerce building.

Other officers re-elected were Mrs. Trixie Whatley, secretary-treasurer,

James R. Clark

Receives Degree

James R. Clark will receive his Bachelor of Science degree in Pharmacy at 8 p.m., Friday, May 16, at Milam Football Stadium in Weatherford, Okla., from Southwestern Oklahoma State University.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Clark of Cisco.

A grand total of 688 individuals are to receive their degrees at the 76th annual spring convocation, including 472 spring graduates and 216 who completed their degree requirements last December.

Carolyn White.

One of the highlights of the evening was the announcement of Ann Boland as Outstanding Civic League Member of the year. As outgoing president she was certainly deserving of the award because of the following accomplishments of the Civic League during the past year: Downtown Cleanup, Back-to-School Dance for local students, maintain city park equipment, aided in Blood Drive, mini-marathon, Mexican food dinner, Civic League night at Laguna Hotel Dinner Theater, Folklife Festival, Rape Prevention Program at CJC, tasting tea, salad supper with Cisco Service Club, Christmas party at Cisco Country Club, lighting contest sponsor, float in Christmas parade, planted trees in downtown Cisco, float in Folklife Festival parade, presented movie for Child Care Center, booth and demonstrations at San Antonio Folklife Festival and $1,000 donation to Historical Society.

operating fund; Miss Louise Karkalits, treasurer, trust and memorial fund. Trustees are Armo Chambers, George Boyd, Brad Kimbrough, J.D. Yardley, J.H. Penn, Mrs. Velma Joyner, Mrs. Reba Merket and Mrs. Louise Allison.

Due to closing of the trust department of the First National Bank, the Association transferred its funds to investments with United Savings. Motion to amend the by-laws and constitution to accommodate this change was approved by the Association. The principal, accumulative interest, memorials, operating balances and stock, were reported as approximating $30,000.

President White expressed appreciation for work done at the Cemetery by Roscoe Leard, Clyde Custer, Steve Clary, J.H. Penn and Cecil Cooper. Over 300 cedars, dead and diseased trees have been removed, and future plans include planting of new trees. Markers now designate each block by number. A warehouse and extension to the office building were completed. Roads running north and south are being closed to provide additional burial plots in the old section of the Cemetery. By specific requests, crushed rock that has failed to prevent growth of weeds and grass, has been removed and fill dirt substituted on certain lots.

Mr. White commented on two problems. One is location of a valve or valves, if any exist, controlling water lines to the cemetery. Many of the lines are old and deteriorated, and a cut-off would be helpful.

The other results from the vandalism that occurred over a year ago when some 200 markers were damaged. Some restoration has been possible, but erection of the larger stones and repairs will require special equipment and probably professional help.

The meeting closed with expressions of appreciation by members present of the continuing support in money, labor and good will by the public.

Game Schedule

Winners of the April tournament of the Eastland County Bass Club on Lake Coleman were (left) Bobby Maynard, second place and (right) Will Johnson, first place with a four pound and nine ounce big bass of the day.

County Bass Club Report

By Tommy Thompson

The Eastland County Bass Club held its May meeting May 1, 1980. Members reported catching lots of fish during April. Big bass of the month was won once again by Rodney Sharpe, with a five pound and 12 ounce bass. Rodney also had caught a five pound and seven ounce bass. Both fish were caught from Lake Cisco. Billy Fox caught a five pound and eight ounce from Lake Leon. Terry Wilson caught a five pound and five ounce bass from Lake Eastland. Hope that the fishing stays as good the rest of the year.

We would like to thank the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department for the film shown at the meeting. The film was on stocking programs in Texas lakes. We held our May tournament, May 4, 1980. We fished Lake Hubbard. We had 18 members who fished. First place went to Jerry Scott with three fish that weighed nine pounds and four ounces. Jerry also had the big bass of the tournament with a five pound and six ounce bass. Second place was Billy Fox with four pounds and 14 ounces on three fish. Third place was Melvin Wende with four pounds and eight ounces on two fish. Jerry Scott is leading this month so far toward big bass of the month with his five pound and six ounce bass. Our June meeting will be June 5, 1980, at the First National Bank in Cisco. Our June tournament will be Saturday, June 14, 1980. See you there. Remember--take a child fishing--you will both feel good.

Mangum Baptist Revival Begins Sunday, May 18

Mangum Baptist Church will be in revival beginning Sunday, May 18th. The revival will go through the 25th. Dwaine Clower, pastor, invites everyone to attend as many services as possible. There will be an old fashioned "dinner on the grounds" this Sunday, the 18th. Mickey Fugitt will be the evangelist, and John Sharp will be the singer.

Mickey Fugitt surrendered to the ministry in March of 1970. He is a graduate of Bel Air, El Paso, and Hardin Simmons University. He attended Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. After eight successful years in the pastorate, God has now led him into full time evangelism.

John Sharp is a graduate of Paschal High School. He attended Tarrant County Junior College as a business major, and spent 10 years in real estate. In January of 1979, John was called to a full-time ministry. He had been a soloist at Southcliff Baptist Church in Fort Worth since 1970. He was also an ordained deacon at Southcliff. Since entering the field of music evangelism, John has sung in concert at Baylor University, in Kentucky, and many churches across Texas.

Eastland County Democratic Convention May 10, 1980

91ST DISTRICT COURT-ROOM Resolutions Committee Report Aubrey Wynn, Chairman

The County Democratic Convention adopted the following resolutions:

1. Resolve that the Democratic Party urge more selective screening of foreign students entering the United States and that foreign students be required to return to their native country upon completion of schooling.

2. Resolve that the Democratic Party actively seek the repeal of so-called Windfall Profits Tax on all segments of oil industry, since a large portion of such tax will be borne by the State of Texas.

3. Resolve that the Democratic Party oppose national Food Stamp policy of allowing STRIKERS to receive free food stamps while on strike and refusing to work even though jobs are available.

4. Resolve that the Democratic Party go on record as supporting legislation and federal regulations which are supportive of and conducive to fostering and perpetuating the American Family Structure, especially tax legislation which provide incentive for encouraging and strengthening marriage structure.

SOIL STEWARDSHIP WEEK IS MAY 11-18

COLLEGE STATION—Focusing attention on the care of our natural resources—that's the purpose of Soil Stewardship Week sponsored annually by the National Association of Conservation Districts in cooperation with the nation's nearly 3,000 soil and water conservative districts.

This year's observance will be May 11-18 and the theme will be "The Judgment of Nature," points out Dr. B.L. Harris, land and water use specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"We must consider the role of nature as we consider the current condition of our soil, water and related resources," points out Harris. "Through nature, we are linked with the past and committed to the future."

"Nature is a continuing process that rewards care and constructive attention, but at the same time it penalizes negligence and deliberate damage," Harris adds.

Some three million acres of productive agricultural land are lost each year through urbanization and other uses, notes the specialist. In addition, the productivity of topsoil continues to decline due to destructive erosion, and pollution of our nation's waters is a threat to everyone. "Today, the continued productivity of our soil remains our nation's most precious natural resource," contends Harris. "We depend on it for the food we eat as well as to provide food for export abroad."

Lights From The Christian World

By Josephine Cleveland

Jesus was called many different names in the Word. He was called the Son of God, the Prince of Peace and the Son of Righteousness. Friend, as the Son of God, He came down from His dwelling place in Glory in the form of man for one purpose...to rescue man from himself. To do this He gave His life freely, shed His blood on a tree that you might receive through faith in Him forgiveness from and for your sins.

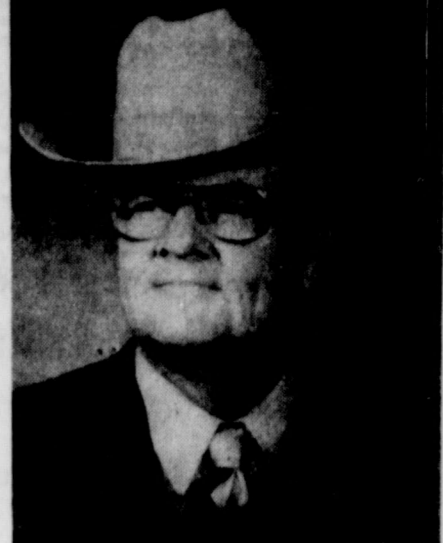

He was the Prince of Peace. He imparted peace to His followers. The peace He gives is not peace from conflicts, trials or temptations. It is peace in the midst of conflicts...Yes, it is the ability to handle well the problems that daily confront all. He was the Son of Righteousness. He freely left His home in Glory in order to impart right living to all who would receive Him. When His mission was accomplished, He went back to His home in Glory and there sits on the right hand of God making intercession for you. He did not leave you without hope but sent you the Comforter, His Spirit, to dwell within all who receives Him.

What a gift! God gave His only begotten Son, the Prince of Peace, the Son of Righteousness that all who receive Him might receive pardon, peace and righteousness. Your part is to reach out, accept and possess this wonderful gift through faith in Him. As you release yourself into His care you will have reason to rejoice.

Life Insurance Company Offers Two Annuities

IDS Life Insurance Co. is now offering two new single-premium deferred annuities designed to take advantage of today's high interest rates, John M. McGuire, IDS sales representative in this area, announced.

The highly-competitive annuities can be purchased at no sales charge for a minimum of $5,000 in either a Foresight LT or Foresight ST plan, McGuire said. Accrual rates for the foresight LT annuity are based on long term interest rates at the time of purchase while accrual rates for the foresight ST are based on short-term investments yields. ST plans can be exchanged later for LT plans if the holder desires.

In addition, IDS Life Annuity contracts are written in easy-to-understand language, probably a "first" in the annuity field,

Ex-Oak waging battle against cancer

By Dave Newhouse
Tribune Staff Writer

COLUSA—Henry "Cotton" Pippen can sit on his front porch at night and eavesdrop on the conversations of coyotes, muskrats or frogs.

But the sound that is sweetest to Pippen, and which has given him new peace with his country surroundings, is the beating of his own heart.

Four months ago, Pippen, 68, a 20-game winner for the Oakland Oaks in the 1940s, felt pain in his legs. His ankles swelled. Gout, he thought.

It wasn't gout. X-rays showed Pippen had a spot on each lung. Cancer.

My father is much more ill than he is willing to admit to anyone. He has been undergoing weekly chemical treatment for cancer for some time now, and from the looks of it, this will be continuing for a long period of time, God willing.

A letter from a concerned daughter, Jackie Pippen Lawrence of Napa. A call to Cotton. "Sure, come on up," he said.

The Capital Outing Club, a private gun club which Pippen manages but doesn't own, is on a dirt road off Highway 20, eight miles outside Colusa and seven miles from Williams. It's northwest of Sacramento, flat, marshy rice land set off against the distant Buttes.

"I've lost all my hair, bald-headed like a rat, from all that chemotherapy," said Pippen, lifting his cap, unashamedly.

Thick white hair once topped Pippen's handsome features, giving him a nickname for life. The cotton's not so rich these days. His head and ears are scarred from the chemotherapy. His face is as craggy as the land he maintains. His strength is down, so is his weight. But Cotton Pippen always was a survivor.

"I saw the doctor last week in Sacramento," said Cotton. "He said, 'I've got a surprise for both of us.' I said, 'What is it, am I going to die?'"

"He showed me some new X-rays. The spot has completely gone from the left lung. He said he could see it (the therapy) working on the right lung, because it's scarred, a good sign."

"I'd about to wear this table out," added Pippen, knocking on a favorite wooden table.

In 1943, to reach 20 victories for the only time in his 16-year career, Cotton Pippen won five games over the final two weeks of the season. He finished 20-15 for the fifth-place Oaks.

This surprised teammates in one sense. They thought Pippen needed two weeks to finish one game. He was known in the trade as a methodical pitcher.

"I didn't have enough to get them out, so I'd worry them to death," he said. "My pitches were slow, slower and slower."

"The concessionaires loved it when I pitched. Do you remember big Otto? He sold at the park. He'd say, 'Cotton, it looks like a big crowd today.' I'd tell him not to worry, I'd keep the fans around for about four hours."

time out for war. He was just one character on a colorful team, wonderfully nicknamed: Catfish, Two Gun, Spider, Pine Tar and Sheriff. Managed by Casey. Laughs by the inning at San Pablo Avenue and Park Street.

"I was batting one day, when a pitch hit in front of the plate. It was a foot outside besides, but the ump got blocked out and called it a strike," recalled Pippen.

"Stengel saw what happened. But he runs up to the ump, face to face, and points and motions and screams: 'If you're not at my house between 7:30-8 tonight, you won't get one bite to eat.'"

"With that, Casey turns and walks back to the dugout. I had to keep from busting out laughing. All the time, the crowd's screaming, 'Give 'em hell, Casey.'"

The Oaks' players were just as zany as their manager, especially the H₂O Boys—Pippen and Ralph "Pine Tar" Buxton.

They got that nickname at the Orinda Country Club, which turned over the club to the Oaks one day when the team wasn't playing.

"Buck and I arrived at the club with our wives. Everyone was swimming. They screamed,

'Come on in, come on in.' I look at Buck, he looks at me. We're wearing sport clothes. I do a flip and a half off the board, Buck does a swan dive."

"People thought we'd been drinking. We hadn't. But we had a few once we got out."

During World War II, for financial reasons, the Oaks fired their groundskeeper, Hugh Luby, a player, was given the added responsibility.

Pippen and Buxton pitched a doubleheader one day. Both came away with big sores on their ankles, from continually stepping into a hole on the mound.

"Buck and I were sitting at Bellini's that night," said Cotton. "We asked Bep Bellini, the owner, if he had a pick and shovel. He did. We already had a rope, so we headed for the park."

"We looped a rope over a telephone pole spike and over the fence we went. We flattened the mound, threw away the pitching rubber. When Luby came out the next day, he knew who had done it. But he never said a thing. He fixed up a new mound—fixed it up pretty good too."

Pippen loved the Emeryville park, baseball's perpetuating fire hazard.

"Every other night, it started on fire somewhere," he remembered. "I bet I put out 15 fires myself. I bet I started 15 too."

Henry Harold Pippen was raised on a ranch in Cisco, Tex., and was a four-sport letterman at Texas School of Mines in El Paso (now UTEP), which he attended for three years.

"It was a pretty good depression job, $150 a month for going to school," he said. "But I had to play the four sports to get the $150. I never opened a book. It was an outlaw school."

Fifty years ago, Cotton could sprint 100 yards in 9.8. He raced three times against world record holder Charlie Paddock, and beat him once, at a stock show in Ft. Worth.

Cotton signed a baseball contract with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1932. His major-league career added up to three years and a 5-16 record with the Cards, A's and Tigers.

Although with St. Louis a short time, he became friendly with Dizzy Dean.

"A little of him rubbed off on me," said Pippen. "He wasn't goofy; he did things on purpose. He'd tell you one story, then tell another reporter the same story another way 30 minutes later. Good reading."

Pippen was with Dean in a Pittsburgh restaurant the night Ol' Diz told Pirates' star Paul Waner, leading the league in hitting at the time, that he'd strike him out four times the next day.

"I may not get up four times," Waner replied. "I'll get you up four times," Dean countered.

Dean had a shutout and a big lead working the next day. He had struck out Waner three straight times entering the bottom of the ninth. Waner was fifth up that inning, so Dean struck out the first two batters, then walked the next two.

"Frankie Frisch, our manager, screamed at Diz, 'what in heck are you doing?'" said Pippen. "But Diz struck out Waner a fourth time, then screamed from the mound, 'Don't forget about the $100, Paul.'"

Who was Pippen's toughest batter?

"Man, they all wore me out," he answered, "but Ted Williams was the toughest."

"I struck him out three times out of four his first year (in the Pacific Coast League), because of the curve ball. Well, he paid kids that following winter to throw him nothing but curve balls. Throw him one after that and it was gone. He learned the curve ball in one winter."

Cotton Pippen and his wife Lillian have much to be thankful for—two daughters, one son, four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren—not to mention Cotton's returning health.

"We came here to retire," said Cotton, who left bartending and hectic Bay Area living seven years ago for the quietude of Colusa County.

There are 15 private duck clubs on the same road as The Capital Outing Club, where Pippen works and lives. Billy Martin hunted for 10 days at the Capital last year. Martin is a friend of Lew Figone of El Cerrito, one of Capital's eight owners.

"Duck season lasts three months," said Cotton. "The rest of the time is just waiting for the season to open."

How do you pass the time between seasons?

"Just fishin' and froggin'," said John Hilty, Cotton's good friend who owns the Stone Creek Land Company hunting club down the road.

There was a flood three years ago after the 2047 Canal broke.

"It stopped one inch from my doorstep," said Cotton. "I caught a yellowcat (fish) standing right on my porch."

Cotton Pippen is content.

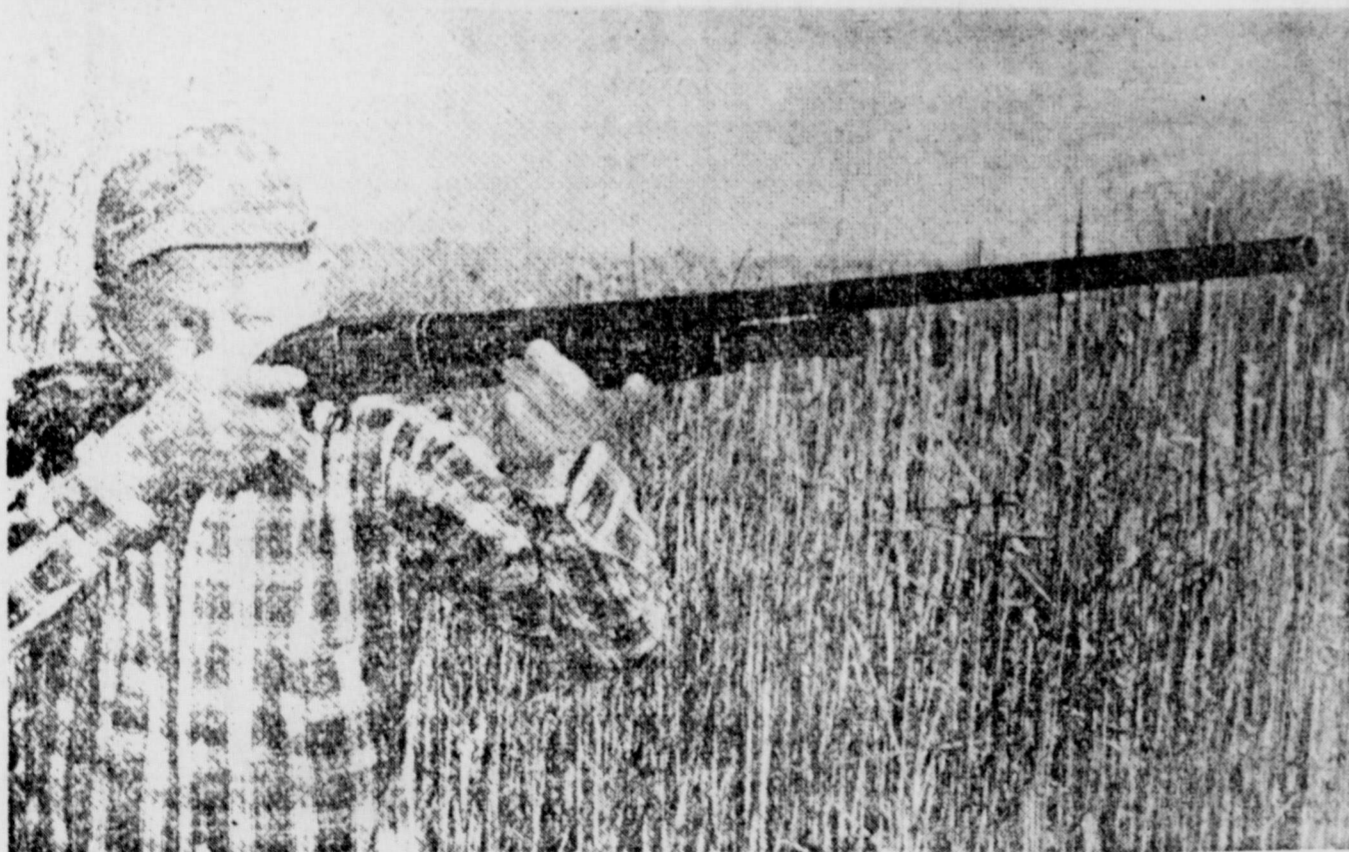

"You ought to see the sunsets around here—sunsets you wouldn't believe," he said. "I'm also the best cribbage player in the county, bar none."

Cotton's sunrises have taken on new meaning, too. Every day he feels better.

"They say my hair will come back when I get off it (chemotherapy)," he said. "I just thank God I'll get well."

In 1943, Cotton Pippen won 20 games

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The above story was reprinted from the Oakland Tribune on February 17, of this year. Cotton Pippen was born in Cisco and is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Pippen of Cisco. He was raised on a ranch six miles west of Cisco.

Mr. Pippen has a brother, Bruitt Pippen of Moran; two sisters, Ellen of Houston and Mrs. I.W. (Rozelle) Ussery of Eastland. He also has a brother, Jack and sister, Mrs. W.R. Huestis, both of whom are deceased.

Mrs. Ussery recently returned from visiting her brother in Colusa and reported he is doing much better since he is undergoing chemotherapy. She was accompanied on her trip by Mrs. Blake Stephens of Abilene.

Mrs. Ussery asked for local people to be informed of Mr. Pippen's battle with cancer and said she believes he would like to hear from local people. He may be written at the following address: H.H. Pippen, Box 891, Colusa, Calif. 95932 or phone 916-458-5524.)

LEXINGTON PARK, Md.—An interesting stop for a visitor in the Washington, D.C., area is Andrews Air Force Base, which is located about 15 miles south and east of the capitol and the White House.

It is here that they keep Air Force One, the president's big Boeing jet airliner, in readiness for travel on short notice. Air Force One is one of a fleet of 15 passenger jets, many of which are outfitted with a lot of special equipment and gear.

A sergeant at the gate gave us a mini tour and explained and answered questions. The plane designated Air Force One is always used by the president and is constantly ready and at his disposal. One of several pilots and a crew are always available on short notice. They undergo special training that enables them to fly anywhere in the world. The staff includes folks who speak a variety of languages and they go on trips where this skill might be needed.

The day we visited AAFB, one of the white house jets took Secretary of State Edmund Muskie to Maine and back. Another took Mrs. Jimmie Carter to Chicago for a meeting.

We were present when the Prime Minister of Japan arrived in Washington for an official visit. He flew in a DC-10 that was flying the colors of Japan Airlines. A hundred or more Japanese embassy folks plus a dozen or more high USA officials gathered on the ramp. (Folks like us watched from behind a fence watched over by several FBI agents.)

The AAFB band marched in and played the national anthems of both Japan and the USA as the Prime Minister and his official party left their airplane. And a military crew with five small cannons fired an official 21-gun salute. It was all very impressive.

The Prime Minister's party was loaded into 15 Cadillacs for the trip behind motorcycles and police cars to town. (We wondered if it wouldn't have been more appropriate for 15 Toyotas to be used.)

The sergeant told us that AAFB has some 25 man-dog teams that are on duty when any airplane arrives or departs. These teams are specially trained to locate bombs. The dogs are a mixture of Shepherd and German Police parentage. Man and dog always work together.

AAFB is a large military center with other missions. It is an important hub in the national military passenger network and it has both bomber and fighter squadrons in readiness.

ANOTHER POINT of interest to visit is the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. They have so many visitors that guided tours are provided from a Visitor's Center.

Halsey Field House is something to see. It has 80,000 square feet of drill and physical training area, seats 6,000 for basketball, has an indoor track, and an infield large enough for baseball, tennis or golf.

The Academy Chapel was dedicated in 1904 by Admiral Dewey. Its stained glass windows are of excellent Victorian glasswork. Many are special dedications to Naval heroes.

Below the Chapel is the crypt which contains the sarcophagus of John Paul Jones, considered by many historians to be the father of the U.S. Navy. His battle cry of "I have not yet begun to fight" is enshrined in naval

Lake Extension Club Holds Meeting

The Lake Cisco Extension Club held the regular monthly meeting in the Federated Club house April 21 with the president presiding. Plans were made to take part in the annual Fun Day with the other clubs of the County which was planned as a trip to Abilene including a tour of West Texas Rehab, lunch at the Mall and an afternoon of shopping-sightseeing.

A most interesting lesson was given by two 4-H girls, Janice Wooley and Kelley Cooper, demonstrating "Take Your Pick of Flowers" by giving step by step instruction for making fabric flowers. They displayed lovely arrangements of flowers made from calico, eyelet and other fabrics. Janice wore a posey in her hair and Kelly wore a pretty corsage. The demonstration was very well given and enjoyed. Final plans were made for the purchase of material for making an afghan which will be sold to raise money for the club. Mrs. Jack White will crochet the afghan and chances will be offered to the public in the near future.

Mary Stephens will make artificial flowers at the next meeting and the lesson on small insect control will be presented.

The meeting ended with a recreation period in the form of a Bible quiz.

The meeting will be in charge of supervising the construction.

State Dept. To Take Bids

AUSTIN—Bids will be received by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation May 13 for the rehabilitation of a section of State Highway 6 in Eastland County.

A new base overlay and surface will be applied from 1.5 miles east of Carbon southeastward to near the west city limits of Gorman.

The work will provide smoother riding characteristics and increased skid resistance. Old paving bricks, made many years ago at Thurber, will be recovered during the project. They will be donated to the City of Cisco for use in their planned restoration of the courtyard of the Mobley Hotel.

The Mobley was the first hotel built by the late Conrad Hilton and is being restored by the Hilton Foundation under the direction of Dr. Reno Petrini, head of the school of architecture at the University of Houston.
