Letters TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:
Your Tax Revaluation article in the Sunday, January 25, 1981, paper is very well presented.

I own property in Canadian, Hemphill County, Texas. For the five years I've paid on property there, the assessing has been on 100% market value on City, County, and School taxes.

Valuations have been much higher than in Cisco, but due to lower tax rate, which changes each year, amount due is usually lowered.

The reason for this letter is to let the citizens of Cisco and Eastland County know, that from personal experience in Canadian, the 100% market value and lower tax rate is fair and serves the purpose for which it is intended.

Eastland County Teachers Credit Union To Meet January 29

The annual meeting of the Eastland County Teachers Federal Credit Union will be held Thursday, January 29, at 7:00 p.m. at the Community Room of the First National Bank in Cisco. All members are urged to attend.

Prevent Wood Decay in Homes

Home construction technology has increased tremendously during the past few years. Yet, many homes are being built without proper attention to preventing future costly repairs, points out Chuck Stayton, area wood products specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Lumber, plywood and other wood products used in construction are all subject to wood decay. This decay, caused by numerous fungi that break down the wood and feed on it, can lead to structural failure and expensive repairs.

"The best control of wood decay is keeping wood products dry in manufacturing, shipment and use," Stayton contends. "When the moisture content of wood is kept below 20 percent, most decay fungi are not able to decompose the wood."

Basic construction faults cause most decay problems in homes and other buildings. These mistakes allow excessive moisture to enter from the ground level or from rainfall.

Stayton notes six specific precautions to take to prevent soil moisture from entering a house.

"First of all, install wood siding at least 6 inches above finish grade. Make sure all other wood material is a minimum of 8 inches above the ground unless it is pressure preservative treated.

"Secondly, provide an 18-inch or higher clearance between floor joists and the soil in crawl space areas. Greater distance is even more desirable.

"Third, slope the outside grade away from the house to allow proper drainage. Ditching or drainage tiles may be necessary for some locations.

"A fourth step is to install one square foot of vent for each 150 square feet of enclosed crawl space. Place vents opposite each other and as near corners as possible.

"Next, use four to six mil polyethylene soil covers directly on the soil in enclosed crawl space areas and under all slab construction.

"Finally, take special precautions with earth filled porches, patios and flower planters, keeping the soil 8 inches below the level of all house structural wood members. Slope patios and porches away from the house to prevent standing water," adds the specialist.

Stayton also recommends six precautions in roof construction to prevent wood decay.

To begin, use wood shingles of a highly decay resistant species or some that are pressure treated when in high decay hazard regions. Also a minimum slope of 4 feet in 12 feet is needed to prevent water backing up under the shingles.

Secondly, provide enough roof overhang to sweep runoff away from the house. A 30-inch overhang is needed in regions of high temperature and rainfall such as the Gulf Coast of Texas.

Next, extend shingles at least three-fourths of an inch beyond wood members at the eave and rake of the roof to prevent rain water from flowing down the roof and curling under the shingle edge. Facia and rake boards should be pressure treated or of a high decay resistant species.

The fourth precaution is to make sure gutters are sloped toward downspouts to insure proper drainage. Keep gutters and downspouts free of leaves or other debris and allow them to empty onto splash blocks or into drainpipes.

Finally, provide ventilation in attic areas. Vents, located at or near the roof ridge and at the eaves, should provide one square foot of vent for each 150 square feet of attic.

"Major decay problems that have plagued homeowners for years may be avoided by giving special attention to these problem areas," Stayton contends. "Studies have shown that failure to follow these guidelines causes most decay problems in residential housing. The best time to prevent decay is before the house is built."

Beta Sigma Phi Met Jan. 22

The Preceptor Epsilon Chapter XP1670 of Beta Sigma Phi met in the home of Norma Mills, January 22, 1981 at 7:30 p.m.

A short business session was conducted and some things were tabled until the next meeting.

Norma Jean Parr, the social chairman, reported a dinner and Bingo party to be held Tuesday, January 29 at 7:30. The group will meet at Norma Jean's house at 6:30.

The closing ritual was given with all standing and holding hands for the Mizpah. Those present were: Sue Allsup, Mildred Black, Jo Eyley, Joy Ann Hoover, Lazelle Johnson, Eva Mills, Lorene Oliver, Iris Hummel, Reba Rawls, Norma Jean Parr, Inez Bourdeau, Cletus Williamson, the hostess Norma Mills, and the guests, Beth Wilson, Ona Lea, Betty Hardy, her husband and young son.

Baptist Training Conference To Be Held Feb. 13-15

ship." He will be assisted by the Hardin-Simmons drama group.

Later that day Bill Sherman, pastor of Woodmont Baptist Church, Nashville, Tenn., will speak on "Prepared Through Study." ## Prevent Animal Related Accidents

Farm animals may be responsible for up to 10 percent of all farm and ranch injuries, with children often the victims.

Knowing and using proper farm animal handling methods can prevent many of these injuries, points out Dr. Gary S. Nelson, safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

He emphasizes the need to "use" known safe practices. Curiously enough, notes the engineer, even Bible scriptures warn that "know how to charm a snake is of no use if you let the snake bite first."

Most animal-related accidents involve violation of simple, commonsense procedures, Nelson points out. So, he emphasizes a number of guidelines:

-Teach children to treat farm animals and pets with kindness and respect.

-Always expect the unexpected when handling animals.

-Don't permit anyone to tease, abuse or mistreat animals.

-Let animals know when you're around—don't startle them.

-Keep small, unsupervised children away from animal pens and pastures.

Discourage youngsters from reaching through fences or pens to pet or feed animals. Some animals may bite or toss their heads, jamming a child's arm against the fence or pen.

Nelson says many accidental injuries are also related to animal-care equipment. That means giving close attention to the following:

-Keep walking and working surfaces used in tending animals clutter-free and clear of ice, manure, mud and other substances to reduce the risk of falls.

-Keep pharmaceuticals and barn chemicals in a safe, preferably locked, storage cabinet where children can't get at them.

Put them as well as such things as tools and buckets away promptly after use.

--Keep pens, ladders, fences and chutes in good condition.

Shock hazards are also a real threat in wet or damp environments of animal confinement pens and buildings. Make sure all electrical equipment is in good shape and properly grounded, emphasizes Nelson. Check wiring, service and switch boxes, outlets and extension lines, and repair faulty parts.

Silos, manure pits and feed storage locations should also be off-limits to children. Keep them locked, Gasses and vapors given off from these materials have killed many people. These locations are also hazardous to adult workers, so proper ventilation or respiratory protective equipment is a must.

Knowing all of these practices, though, means little if they aren't followed, emphasizes Nelson.

WORD of GOD

But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering: for he that wavereth is like a wave of the sea driven with the wind and tossed.

A double-minded man is unstable in all his ways.

James 1:6,8

Worship the Lord!

Philippians 3:3
For we are the circumcision, which worship God in the spirit, and rejoice in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh.

HOW TO BUY COSMETIC AIDS - AND SAVE

Mistakes in buying cosmetic aids add up to costly waste, says a clothing specialist, Becky Saunders. A quick dollar inventory of unused products bought in the last few months will motivate most people to plan future buys more carefully, she pointed out. Mrs. Saunders is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Saving money on cosmetics while getting what you want takes time. However, extra time spent planning ahead, comparison shopping, inventorying current supplies and learning from past mistakes will pay off, she continues. Consider these money-

SAVING TIPS.

PRODUCT SIZE
Buy large, economy sizes for often-used products such as shampoo and hand lotion. For first-time use, buy the smallest size available to determine likes and dislikes. However, compare cost per ounce or unit - larger sizes are not always more economical. Buy small-size containers of products that tend to evaporate or dry out.

PROMOTION/ADVERTISING

More expensive items are not necessarily better products but perhaps just more expensively packaged or advertised. "Buy one, get one free" or buy $10, get a $25 value for $5" is not a bargain unless you need all or the majority of items included, the specialist advises. However, if these items are needed, these promotions are well worth it. FRAGRANCES Scented products are usually more expensive than unscented. Compare costs for adding a drop of your fragrance, or compare costs for similar type fragrances such as florals or spices. STORAGE Keep products tightly covered and away from light and heat for maximum life. Discard unusables that are discolored, dried out or separated. COST PER USE For special-occasion use, such as an unusual eyeshadow shade, less expensive is best, Mrs. Saunders says. Spend more on daily used products. PRODUCT EXPERIMENTATION Take advantage of company and in-store clinics to try products. Make appointments with in-store or company consultants for facials or a complete make-up, often low or no-fee.

"Trying-on" products and fragrances is important because effects often vary among individuals. Ask about new products and colors discussed in fashion editorials. The more you can learn from the experts and experiment with products, the better prepared you are, the specialist adds.

MULTIPLE LISTING SERVICE

IWU Reflections In Perspective

By I. Will Ussery

One of the first questions which arises when one is considering relocation to an overseas post is that of medical facilities. That question is foremost when one is going on "family status". And that was the condition of our assignment to Teheran, Iran.

Although I had no indication that we were going into that sort of situation during the six months of my "bachelor status" service in Iran, it had been determined that medical treatment by highly qualified physicians was indeed available. At that time, the majority of the doctors of medicine had been educated and trained in either Western Europe or the United States...or both. Dentists, strangely enough, were for the most part graduates of the Dental College of the Heidelberg School of Medicine in Germany.

It had been determined that "Pars Hospital", situated almost in the heart of the city of Teheran was operated according to somewhat Persianized American standards. The principal practitioner was a product of the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine, and had served his internship in Philadelphia General Hospital. Pars catered largely to the western population of the city. Or to clarify that...to the people from Western countries.

Somewhat unexpectedly upon my return to this country for my annual Christmas Break it was learned that I would return to Teheran "for a period of time not to exceed one year", accompanied by my wife and younger daughter. The availability of suitable and adequate health facilities posed no great problem.

Upon having established residence in Teheran, our first encounter with a hospital was with one far from the downtown facility of Pars Hospital. It was with the Reza Shah the Great Memorial Hospital, which was situated up the slope of the mountain range from what had once been the village of Tajrij (pronounced "Tazhrish") which had long since been swallowed up by the expanding city but which still clung to its nominal identity.

When we leased our first residence from an Iranian lady who seemed to be extremely wealthy, and whose family was of quite some political significance, the place was in the hands of a "Bhadji", or housemaid who came from a village which was owned by the landlady. She was simply serving as a caretaker for the house and garden. And Noelli (about the nearest we can come to Anglicising her name) came from the village of Ishmael, high in the mountains of Turkestan Province above the city of Qazvin. Qazvin was some hundred miles to the northwest of Teheran.

Madame Mahdavi, the landlady, requested that we engage Noelli as our Bhadji, but was not insistent about it. "If she does not work out; I shall send her back to the village. She does not speak your language, nor does she know how to prepare your food. But she knows the house, and will keep it clean for you. She will do your laundry, and will run your errands. And Noelli is honest." That final qualification we found to be infinitely correct. So; knowing that we'd have to have a Bhadji, we accepted Noelli.

After about three months, Noelli came down with what could be described in country terms as "the vapours". Listless, tired easily, and a loss of appetite. We insisted she see a physician. She did just that.

After a brief period of treatment, she informed us (through our driver, who spoke Turkish...Noelli did not at that time speak Persian) that the doctor had told her that she must have surgery. We went to see the doctor, who told us that Noelli had an infected kidney, or one which did not function, or something. In any case, it must be removed. So be it. And where would he recommend she go for the surgery? Why, to Reza Shah Memorial Hospital, which was right almost next door to the out-patient clinic where he practiced.

We went with Noelli to the hospital, and were agreeably surprised at the spic-and-span cleanliness of the place. Extravagant use of ceramic tile and stainless steel in the construction of the hospital made cleanliness quite easy. And it appeared that the staff took full advantage of that aspect. The hallways and rooms were spacious, and the nurses and other staff members were dressed in crisply-starched uniforms.

We were in the process of booking our housemaid into the hospital, under the auspices of the physician, the Administrators of the facility came forward. It seemed that the presence of a foreigner in his hospital was something of a rarity. We explained our presence. "Only" your Bhadji? Why do you not take her to one of the charity hospitals operated by the government?"

We stated with strict firmness (and not without a bit of indignation) that Noelli was our Bhadji, indeed. But that we loved Noelli as though she were a member of our family. And we wanted her to have the best care available.

He appreciated our point of view, and held our magnanimity in esteem which amount almost to awe. "But the cost. Agha. It will be expensive". "How expensive?" We asked. "Oh, it could cost as much as twelve, maybe fifteen thousand rials ($200.00)." "Then, how much of that do you wish us to pay in advance, as a gesture of good faith?"

"Oh, no, Agha. You are American. Your generosity overwhelms me. And your concern for your Bhadji is most unusual. There is no thought for a moment of any advance payment. You are indeed a most kind man. It will be a pleasure to have your Bhadji in our hospital".

Noelli spent something like two weeks in the hospital recovering from her surgery, which was perfectly successful. And the total bill came to something just under two hundred dollars.

Three months later, as we were making arrangements to move to another house where we remained for ten and a half years, Madame Mahdavi gave Noelli her choice of either going with us or remaining with her house. We were sitting on the patio when Madame made that decision. Noelli stepped across to stand behind My Lovely Wife's chair and placed her hand on MLW's shoulder. She had made her decision. And she stayed in our household until we departed Teheran those years later.

We often wonder what has happened to Noelli. With the help of her four sons (the youngest was only five years of age and was living with her at our place when we went there), Noelli purchased a modest home not far away. She was a widow, and was the strict matriarch of her family. And as we wonder about Noelli, we cannot see her accepting the "Hate American" admission of the present leaders of her country. Who knows?

Our most outstanding experience with hospitals in Teheran involved our daughter, who suffered what was diagnosed as "spontaneous pneumothorax - 80 percent collapse of the lung". The physician to whom our then family doctor in Teheran had sent us recommended surgery, but immediately. We went into mild panic.

From the doctor's office we called—with his permission and complete endorsement—Colonel Johnson at the U.S. Army Hospital which was operated there for the American military forces and for the Foreign Service personnel. We described our problem, and he was quite sympathetic.

"But Bill, we do not have a thoracic surgeon on our staff. If she can travel, we can place her aboard a "Med-Evac" plane for West Germany where the surgery can be performed. But with eighty percent collapse, that is highly unlikely. In an emergency, and this appears to be that, I would place one of my patients in the hands of a local surgeon. I can recommend one who is a colleague of both Doctor Cooley and Dr. DeBakey (Widely known surgeons of Houston)." "And who is the surgeon whom you would recommend?" Why, Dr. Mohammed Ali Sheikh. Shall I call him for you?"

It was not necessary. I was calling from Dr. Sheikh's office. The surgery, performed the following day, was most successful. And when she was taken to the Chief of Thoracic Surgery of Methodist Hospital in Houston two months later for a checkup, that surgeon exclaimed..."Dr. Sheikh! You could not have been in better hands. Please give him my best regards when you see him again".

Square Dancing Is Fun-Try It

The Eastland County Spinners Square Dance Club will start Beginners Lessons for all ages on Monday, February 9, 1981 at 7:30 p.m. at the Community Club House on Pine Street in Ranger.

The caller and teacher is Ralph McMullen. SQUARE DANCING IS FUN

Square Dancing has a long and interesting history.

One of the marvelous things about Square Dancing is that although it is a traditional American activity, it is as modern as today and as fresh and as challenging as tomorrow. It is also a great relaxer to help combat the pressures and tensions of our present time.

Many of the oldest Square Dance clubs had their origin in church groups and they are still going strong.

Today's Square Dance bears little resemblance to the old-time dance - and for very good reason. While the Square Dance of a century ago was allocated to the barns or small and sometimes uncomfortable meeting places, today's Square Dancing takes place in some of our cities' most beautiful structures, in church auditoriums, in parks and recreational buildings and in air-conditioned private halls. Like the rest of the country itself, Square Dancing has grown out of the barn.

It is rather difficult to describe the average Square Dancer. They come from all walks of life and are good, clean, tolerant and loveable citizens.

So, you see that it is hard to describe Square Dancers. Even if you never Square Dance, your life would be richer for having known them. We'll just leave it this way: you'll never regret entering into the fun and fellowship that will be yours as a Square Dancer.

Learning to Square Dance is an enjoyable excursion into something new and different. After you have danced for years you will look back and recall with pleasure the time you spent so well.

Join the fun! Learn to Square Dance. WE'RE SAVING A PLACE FOR YOU!

It will make you feel very funny!

Because there's going to be nothing straight about a CHEECH & CHONG film.

Every generation has had their own comedy duo; the 30's had Laurel and Hardy. Abbott & Costello broke up the 40's and Martin and Lewis really fractured the 50's.

CHEECH & CHONG have helped make the 70's go "UP IN SMOKE."

CHEECH & CHONG are the comedy team that gave birth to rock comedy and in the process of turning on a whole generation, sold ten million albums, picked up numerous awards, including Cash Box and Billboard's best comedy duo, and a Grammy for their album, "Los Cochinos."

Now it's time for a CHEECH & CHONG movie. C & C's "UP IN SMOKE" will make you feel very funny.

Senator Glasgow Reports

Senator Bob Glasgow of Stephenville is co-sponsoring two measures that would give relief to local counties.

One measure would restore lateral road funding to the counties and the second measure would increase the county's share of revenue from license tag receipts.

The lateral road fund measure is also co-sponsored by Senator Ray Farabee of Wichita Falls and Senator Kent Caperton of Bryan.

"Until a veto by the Governor of lateral road funds two years ago, the counties had relied on lateral road funds since 1933 to aid in the construction and maintenance of county roads," stated Senator Glasgow.

According to the Senator, the amount of the funding for all counties in the State will be 7.3 million dollars, that amount to be divided between the rural counties of the State. This is the same amount that was appropriated from motor fuel tax revenues prior to the veto two years ago.

The measure increasing the county's share of license tag receipts is co-sponsored by Senator Glasgow and Senator Traeger of Seguin.

According to Senator Glasgow, the measure would give the counties the first $300,000 from license tag receipt funds collected and one percent of those funds thereafter. The present law gives each county the first $50,000 and then one half of the amount collected thereafter with a maximum ceiling of $175,000 to be kept by each county.

"During the past few years, the counties have been caught in the crunch between high inflation; and as in the case of the cut-off of lateral road funding, less funds with which to conduct its business," state Senator Glasgow.

"The important thing to note also is that the restoration of the lateral road fund and the increase in the county's share of license tag receipts will not increase taxes or create new taxes," noted Senator Glasgow.

Glasgow noted that if we did not help the counties, they could be forced to either critically reduce the quality and extend of their local services or to increase local county taxes," stated Senator Glasgow. "The citizens of the counties deserve neither," added the Stephenville Legislator.

The emergency Pay Raise For State Employees Bill was the main topic of discussion during Senator Glasgow's weekly conference press call on Monday, January 26.

The bill had just passed the Senate when the press conference began. It passed on a 2nd and 3rd reading. This was the first bill passed by the Senate this session.

The Senate passed a 6.8% pay raise and now the bill is headed for the House. In the House, the bill is assigned to committees and then their readings will begin. Quick action by the house is expected.

Senator Glasgow co-sponsored the bill in the senate and is in favor of 6.8% amount. The house could lower the amount, although it is not expected to be lower than 5.1%.

There is a minimum of $50 on the raise. The bill calls for $50 or an increase of 6.8% which ever is larger.

The pay raise bill includes College but not Junior College Educators, Secondary or Elementary Educators.

The Lateral Road Fund is under consideration this week. It is now on the floor. This fund was started in 1939. $7.3 million is divided by 254 rural counties to repair roads. The amount is usually small to use for construction, therefore equipment is usually purchased. The money for the fund comes from a portion of the Motor Vehicle Fuel Tax.

For the past several years the Lateral Road Fund has been frozen due to the fact that the agency that distributed the funds were closed and no one else was appointed to the handling of these funds. The purpose of the Governor's Bill is to unfreeze these funds.

Three of the Governor's appointments were approved by the Senate on Monday also Barry Lillian Anderson was appointed to the Governing Board of the Texas School for the Blind, Bryan Walker and Carl Cyfert were both appointed to the Advisory Council on Youth Safety. All three appointees are from Denton.

Senator Glasgow will be placing another press call next Monday around the same time.

Eastland Co. Art Association

GLEN LAWLESS Watercolor Artist

Eastland County Art Association will meet February 5 at the Texas Electric Reddy Room.

Glen Lawless of Cisco will be giving a demonstration in water coloring.

He attended Texas A&M and became a design and development engineer. It was during this time he saw his first original watercolor painting.

His past interest in sketching combined with his fascination of watercolor art combined to create a determination to become an accomplished watercolorist.

In 1977, after he had completed a successful engineering career, he bought a small ranch near Cisco. He then decided to devote himself full time to becoming a watercolor artist.

He has won many awards but believes his success as an artist will be determined by the acceptance of his work by the general public.

All visitors are welcome to come to the meeting.

Deadline For TCA Assistance Awards Feb. 1

Deadline for financial assistance awards applications to the Texas Commission on the Arts (TCA) is February 1, 1981, announced TCA Chairman Mary Lou Braymer today.

"Awards from the Commission are actually contracts between the State of Texas and local organizations to provide services to the people of Texas," Mrs. Braymer explains.

The awards, which must be matched by local funds, assist in supporting public programs in music, dance, theatre, visual arts and architecture, media, literature, community development and education.

Applications are received and postmarked no later than February 1 and September 1 of each year. Applications are then reviewed by advisory panels comprised of experts in the field. Their recommendations are reviewed by the Commission's Assistance Review Committee, with final awards made by the full 18-member commission in April and December.

Nonprofit tax-exempt organizations, units of government and educational institutions may apply for financial assistance awards to sponsor arts programs.

The Texas Commission on the Arts serves Texas - its arts organizations and its people - by providing coordination, information and financial aid for art programs. TCA's primary goal is to serve as a catalyst for making the arts accessible to the public.

Application forms and details about financial assistance awards programs are available by requesting a State Arts Plan from the Commission, P.O. Box 13406, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711, or call toll free 1-800-252-9415.

The Preacher Writes...

DE-SEXING THE BIBLE

Did you notice in a recent issue of U.S. News and World Report that the National Council Churches, responding to feminist pressure, has assigned a committee to look into the possibilities for de-sexing the Bible? The objective is to substitute neuter and/or feminine designations for many masculine words and phrases in the Scripture. If members of the churches which are represented by the NCC (thank the Lord ours is not) seem to approve, the changes will be incorporated into the next edition of the Revised Standard Version which is due for completion in the mid 1980's. Some of the changes being suggested are:

1. Replacing "He" with "God" in references to the Deity and using substitute words for other masculine terms such as "Father" and "Lord."

2. Substituting "Child of God" or "Sibling" for "Son of God" in references to Jesus.

3. Replacing terms such as "fathers" with "ancestors", "brothers" with "siblings", "mankind" with "humankind", and "men" with "human beings."

Can you imagine that? Can't you just hear us all as we pray, "Our Ancestor Who art in Heaven?" Or, do you suppose they mean for us to baptize our converts in the name of the "Ancestor, the Sibling, and the Holy It?" Do they really believe that Jesus said, "My Ancestor and I are One?" Or, how about the parable of the Prodigal Sibling?

Aside from such absurdities as these, the proposed revisions are a blatant humanist effort to distort the inerrant Word of God.

God inspired the writers of the Bible to use the family structure as an analogy to show His relationship to His people. He obviously wanted to be understood as a loving Father. He wanted the Son to be thought of as a bridegroom and the church as the Bride. What can the de-sexers hope to do with passages that state unequivocally that the husband is head of the home and the wife is to be subject to him?

The planned revisions seem to be one more attempt to undermine the God-ordained relationships between men and women and further weaken the institution of the family. Christians everywhere will recognize the effort for what it is; namely a surrender on the part of the NCC to the wave of humanist philosophy which expresses itself in strivings like these to obviate the truth of Holy Scripture.

Icy Sidewalks And Steps Are Threat To Postal Service

Ice-covered sidewalks and steps were the cause of injury to literally thousands of Postal Service employees last year, according to Acting Sectional Center Manager/Postmaster FRANK N. BOUNDS.

"More than 16,000 postal workers across the nation were hurt when they fell or lost their balance, and ice and snow was the primary cause of those accidents.

"We do everything possible to deliver the mail regardless of how bad the weather becomes," Mr. BOUNDS SAID, "but we want to remind customers again that snow and ice on steps and sidewalks has to be removed where carriers must walk."

Mr. BOUNDS said he realizes it's not always easy to remove ice and snow, but carriers are not required to risk personal injury from unusual hazards to deliver the mail.

To allow a carrier to drive up to a curbside mailbox to deposit or collect mail without leaving his or her vehicle, rural or curbside boxes should be kept clear of snow, vehicles or other obstructions.

Putnam News
By Mrs. R.B. Taylor

Looks like we may have some more winter weather again after several spring like days. I am sure we can use more moisture either rain or snow as I have never seen many times when West Texas couldn't use more moisture. Evidently spring must be near as I saw some birds building nests yesterday.

I haven't heard of any one here at Putnam on the sick list but Mrs. Naomi Heyser at Baird is in Hendrick Hospital at Abilene suffering with a bout of the flu. She is some better today. Also our local postmistress Laverne Rutherford at Baird was unable to come to work this morning. She has a case of laryngitis.

A group of Putnam and Baird ladies met at the Community Center at Putnam Friday morning and organized a painting class. Mrs. Myrtle George of Ranger will teach both china and oil painting. Those present were Mmdse Clinton Waddell, John Petty, Bill Feeley, Sid Weathermon, Adolph Muzny, I.G. Mobley, Calvin King, Maggie Cook, John D. Isenhower, John Doyle Isenhower, Ollie Burnam and R.B. Taylor. The class will meet every Friday from 9 to 12 and 1 to 4 at the Community Center.

The "Stockades," a group of boys acting as crusaders for Christian service meets at the Community Center every Saturday evening from 7 to 12. They are sponsored by Don Price of Abilene, Mr. Rodriguez of Baird and Billy Wagley. They are doing a very worthwhile service for the boys. Nine boys attended Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Toby Tefteller of Grand Junction, Colo., visited their grandparents Wednesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. R.D. Williams of Baird and Mrs. R.B. Taylor. They had come to Sweetwater to attend funeral services for Toby's grandmother, Mrs. Vergil Palmer. Mrs. Tefteller is the former Denise Finley of Farmington.

The John Pettys spent Friday at Cross Plains with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Milam. Butch Petty of Eastland visited the Pettys Saturday.

Mrs. Shirley Vickery of Downing, Calif., visited the Billy Wagley family this week.

Mrs. Annie Merle McGowan of Pecos is visiting her sister, Mrs. Maggie Cook at Baird and her aunt, Mrs. Naomi Heyser also of Baird.

Mr. and Mrs. James Isenhower and family of Coleman spent the weekend with her mother, Ollie Burnam.

Fire Department organized at Putnam. The purchase of a new fire truck by the city of Putnam has kicked off a new Fire Prevention Program for Putnam. On January 18 the Baird and Cisco Fire Departments joined the residents of Putnam to organize a volunteer fire association. Many helpful suggestions were given by both departments. More equipment was ordered. The new fire truck was available so residents could get familiar with it and the working capability was

Civic League Begins Work On '81 Folk Life Festival

The Cisco Civic League has begun work on the 1981 Folk Life Festival that will be held on April 25th and 26th. Since a large turnout is expected as part of Cisco's Centennial Celebration, booth registration is already in progress. People interested in reserving a booth for arts and crafts or for selling food may contact Jo Ann Cermin at 442-2534 or 442-3200 in Cisco and Dean Baird at 692-8436 or 677-1473 in Abilene.

The Civic League urges anyone in the Big Country area who makes handmade arts and crafts to join them for both fun and profit. Some exhibits of arts and crafts in the past have included: metal art, tin art, pottery, leatherwork, wool wall hangings, china painting, oil painting, watercolors, egg decorating, stone polishing, tile painting, portrait drawings, wood toys and quilting.

Exhibitors are invited to demonstrate their craft as well as sell the finished product. Last year George Holland, McMurry art instructor, demonstrated the use of the potter's wheel in pottery making and Sherwood Suter of the ACU faculty demonstrated his techniques with watercolors. However, demonstrations are optional and voluntary. The fee for an arts and crafts booth is $15.00 for the two-day event. No commission will be charged this year on sales. The booth for arts and crafts is approximately 8' by 10', and one table is provided. If more space is desired, a second booth fee will be charged.

Food booths may also be reserved. Since a large crowd is expected, the Civic League would like to expand the choice of ethnic foods that will be sold this year. Some suggested foods to be sold are: barbecue plate, Mexican dinner, Italian dinner, German sausage and sauerkraut, egg rolls, Enchiladas, Tacos, Chalupas, Nachos, Sish-ka-bobs, salad, homemade ice cream and donuts and coffee.

In order to reserve a food booth, a $15.00 deposit is requested. This amount will be refunded at the end of the festival that will serve as rental fee for the booth.

Exhibitors will enjoy other activities of the Folk Life Festival which include: continuous entertainment featuring country-western bands, a German band, square dancing, and a style show of antique clothes. Displays will include antique guns, folk medicine, candle making, primitive cooking techniques and other folk-life products.

For more information concerning facilities, please contact either JoAnn Cermin or Dean Baird at the numbers listed above.
