

Hall Of Remarks

by Herrel Hallmark

CISCO IS to celebrate its Centennial this year commemorating 100 years of existence as a town. Isn't it a shame that this is also the year that the city government is in such a state of disruption? You probably already know by now that recall petitions have been approved for the place of mayor and four of the six council members in the upcoming April 4th election.

The other two council places were already scheduled for re-election at that time. Those places are now held by Lucy Collier and Raymond Whitley. Neither person has filed for re-election and probably will not do so. (I can't say I blame them!)

As of Thursday afternoon, only two people had filed for the election. Mrs. Audye Wagley, chairman of Citizens for Better Government, filed for city council place 5, now held by Mr. Whitley, and Randy B. Linn filed for place 6, now held by Mrs. Collier.

The deadline for filing as a candidate in the election is this coming Wednesday, March 4th by 5 p.m. Interested persons should get in contact with the acting city secretary, Ginger Parker, at City Hall.

I would like to urge all persons with Cisco's true interest at heart to file as a candidate for the upcoming election and help get Cisco back on a forward-moving track to progress. Now is the time to come to the aid of your town, but you better make up your mind fast because you only have three days left to file.

I also urge all citizens to get out and VOTE in the election and get the person you want elected to office. Cisco's officials are elected by the citizens of Cisco and you can decide, through your votes, who you want to serve your best interests and those of the town.

NOW IT IS my turn to do some griping. In the newspaper business you receive all types of complaints about how something is handled and how it could be done so much better. Some people complain if something is printed in the paper, and others if something is not printed.

Too many times the complaints are in the form of unsigned letters or unnamed callers. I honestly feel that if you do not have enough intestinal fortitude (guts) to sign your name, then you should keep your complaints, and ideas or thoughts, to yourself.

Any local story published in this paper, either has the writer's name near it or the person can be talked to by calling the office. We are not ashamed of what we write. We are human, so we can make mistakes, which we will gladly correct if you can prove to us that we were wrong.

IT IS TO my understanding that council member Louise Allison has alleged that J.W. Sitton is giving me a "black eye" by his stories concerning the Cisco city council meetings, which he has been attending.

I would like to say that I disagree wholeheartedly with Mrs. Allison and I appreciate all the help given to me by Mr. Sitton, especially in the area of city happenings. He has numerous years of experience in the newspaper field and has lived in Cisco for years, so he knows its people.

After the publishing dates of The Cisco Press were changed to Tuesdays, I am sometimes hard pressed for time to get back from Eastland (where the papers are printed) to attend the city council meetings in Cisco. During one of those times, I asked Mr. Sitton if he would cover the city meeting for me. He said he would and has continued to help me out by attending those meetings.

I personally know how hard it is to write a story which will please everyone since I attended council meetings during the past five years I have been editor.

Since I got married last summer and have four children now, I am extremely thankful for the rest from having to attend the council meetings which allows me to spend more time with my family.

I am publicly stating at this time that I do not feel Mr. Sitton's stories report anything, except what is brought out in the public council meetings. I will continue to accept and ask for his help in that, and other areas as long as I am editor of The Cisco Press.

I know first-hand that it is not fun to sit through several hours of arguments (sometimes petty ones at that) during the council meetings, taking notes. Even at the end of the meeting you are not through, because you must later try to figure out what you can print without someone accusing you of slanting the story.

If you think the stories do not contain what happens at the meetings, then attend one of them for yourself. They are open to public attendance.

On second thought, you may be right that all the goings-ons are not printed. Some of the things which happen during the meetings are too embarrassing to print when you consider that this is a meeting of the city's officials. Also, some of the citizens who attend the meeting are there to try and disrupt it and sometimes act rather badly themselves.

In fact, my son accompanied my wife and I to one of the recent meetings and afterwards he told of a woman (who addressed the council from the audience) as sticking out her tongue at him. Is this the type of people we need to give recommendations on how the city should be run? I certainly do not think so, and God have mercy on us if it is.

Can You Name The Persons Shown?

The grocery was located on 11th Street bet-admissions at Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene, according to an announcement Friday.

Mr. Altom completed his work with the Cisco hospital on Friday and will vacation for two weeks before assuming his duties as head of a large department in the Abilene hospital on March 16th.

The administrator's resignation was accepted at a meeting of the hospital board Monday night. At the same time, the resignation of Mrs. Verna McDonald resigned as director of nursing. She will be replaced by Mrs. Gary Mosley. Mrs. Mosley is the former Kay Boyd and she is a graduate of the Cisco Junior College LVN program and the Tarleton State University School of Nursing. She has been employed at the Mental Health Retardation Center in Abilene, and has resigned her work there. Mr. Boyd works for EnRe Corporation here.

Mr. Altom is a native of Eastland County. He is a veteran of U.S. Army Hospital Corps service in both the European and Pacific theaters during WWII. He was employed for 20 years by Humble Pipe Line Company, including seven years in Cisco, and resigned in January, 1968, to return to Pampa where he had been twice assigned by Humble to become assistant administrator of Highlands General Hospital there.

After four years, Mr. Altom resigned his Pampa job to become administrator of the hospital at Wellington. He spent five years there before moving to Cisco to take the Graham administrator's job on November 15, 1976.

Under Mr. Altom's leadership, the hospital's financial problems were solved, two doctors came to Cisco and each worked here for several months to help with the hospital's income, and conditions improved materially. In 1979, the hospital had its best year in its history.

The hospital has some 52 employees and their wages

Altom Resigns As Head Of Hospital

Council Orders Recall Election For Three More Members

An election was ordered for Saturday, April 4, on the proposition of recalling City Councilmen William J. Eudy, Jerry Jeffcoat and Harold Phippen by the City Council at the regular semi-monthly meeting last Tuesday night at City Hall.

Separate petitions, each signed by about 350 residents of Cisco, were presented earlier in the month to the city secretary. The date of the election is the same as the regular election and for a recall election ordered earlier for Mayor Roy Cartee and Councilwoman Louise Allison.

and working conditions have improved during Mr. Altom's tenure. He was instrumental in research and promotion of the hospital district election in 1977, and this contributed to financial stability.

Mr. Altom, together with Mrs. Helen Orr as business office manager and Mrs. Purvis as director of nursing service and other department heads provided leadership in the hospital becoming a joint commission accredited hospital.

Mr. Altom, a Baptist deacon, has been a member of the Mason Lodge for 30 years and is a member of the Cisco Kiwanis Club. He and his wife, Mary, who own their home at 1005 West 10th Street, have been active in community affairs.

A hospital spokesman had this to say: "Mr. Altom has been actively involved in promoting better care for all patients during his stay in Cisco. The many hours spent in efforts to obtain additional benefits for the community are appreciated. His background in business and his concern for others are the qualities which best describe his suitability for health care administration. His achievements will have a lasting effect on patients and employees alike. It is with deep regret that we accept his decision to leave E.L. Graham Hospital."

The April 4th ballots - regular election and recall election - could conceivably leave the City of Cisco with an unusual situation if all five members are recalled. Two members of the council, Lucy Collier and Raymond Whitley, were not named in recall petitions but their terms of office expire this year. Neither was expected to file for re-election by the March 3rd deadline.

LAST DAY FOR ELECTION FILING IS WEDNESDAY

The last day that candidates may file for a place on the ballot is March 4, 1981. Drawing for order of names on the ballot for the forthcoming election will be conducted March 5, 1981, in the office of the Acting City Secretary at 2:00 p.m.

City Manager Sends Check

Cisco city manager R.J. Turpin mailed a letter and check for $1500 to the 20th Century Club of Cisco this week, to make up for the times they were missed during the past year. They are listed in the city's budget to receive money from the city to help with finances.

Mr. Turpin's letter stated "we are glad to announce that we are in financially good shape. We have made pay raises to our city employees and we are most happy to see that we can pay the remaining $500.00 for 1981 and all of the $1,000.00 for 1980. You will continue to receive your $75.00 per month."

the job until their successors are selected.

When Mayor Cartee brought up the recall matter at the meeting, all members of the council (Mr. Whitley was absent.) voted for it. Councilman Eudy made a statement to say "if Mr. Cartee is not recalled, my resignation will be on the city secretary's desk at the next meeting."

Mr. Jeffcoat challenged members of the council to submit resignations "and let the citizens elect a new council." Mrs. Allison observed "I'm not about to resign."

Mrs. Allison asked for a change in the April 4th election judge. A.C. Warren, retired military and retired IRS employee, was appointed election judge at the last meeting. He signed petitions asking for the Cartee and Allison recall, and Mrs. Allison asked that the Council appoint another man as judge and leave Mr. Warren as alternate judge. The council declined to make a change.

Mr. Phippen observed that petition signers have contacted him to say "it's nothing personal - just politics." And, he added, "I've decided that if you can't stand a little politics you shouldn't run for office."

Absentee voting will begin March 16th at the city hall. The Secretary of State's office, contacted by an Abilene newspaper reporter Wednesday, called the Cisco recall situation "unique."

"I don't know if it ever has occurred before (a recall for all incumbents whose terms do not expire)," a spokesman for the office said. "If all affected members are recalled and no one runs for the other two offices, then the present members would remain in office until a special election can be held." He added that the law is not as specific on recall as in regular elections.

According to wording of the city charter, recalled council members in some cities would go out of office immediately while others would remain in office until an election could be called for their replacements, the spokesman said.

The secretary's office expressed the opinion that in Cisco's case the members would be allowed to stay in office long enough to set an election for new councilmen.

City Attorney Wm. B. Wright, Jr., pointed out that Section 27 of the City Charter provides for vacancies for any cause to be filled by a special election if terms have a year or longer to run or by appointment if less than a year.

Mr. Wright added that state laws seem to conflict with the charter and that the state laws would prevail. In any event, he felt that a special election would be necessary to fill vacancies for any members who might be recalled. -JWS

Council Approves Salary Increases

Salary increases for the city's some 40 workers were approved, authorization to call for bids on airport work was voted, and other business was transacted as the City Council held a semi-monthly meeting that lasted some three and a half hours last Tuesday night. A number of agenda items were held up for study or more information.

City Manager R.J. Turpin read a proposed pay raise to the Council. The schedule, which will add some $17,500 to the city's annual payroll, was approved. It provided raises of about 11 percent to three paid firemen, increases of $50 to $75 per month for policemen, and $50 to $100 per month for other employees. Two men in the water department were given $100 raises in recognition of their receiving certification as professionals in their field through study, Mr. Turpin said.

Fire Chief C.W. Guthrie asked for more money for firemen, noting that they work longer hours. Mr. Turpin said the city's policy has long been to pay firemen and policemen on a monthly rather than an hourly basis. Mr. Turpin said firemen now draw $923 to $1,099 monthly.

Mr. Turpin said the city has saved enough money through excellent tax collections, working shorthanded, increased police revenues and so forth to permit the salary increases without raising the budget total.

Councilwoman Louise Allison noted that city monthly bills were up considerably and moved that action of the salary matter be held up until the next meeting. Her motion died without a second. Councilman Jerry Jeffcoat then moved that the new salary schedule be approved. The motion was seconded by Councilman Wm. J. Eudy. Voting "yes" were council members Lucy Collier, Jeffcoat, Eudy and Harold Phippen. Mayor Cartee and Mrs. Allison voted "no."

The resignation of Mrs. Marilyn McLean as acting city secretary was accepted. Her letter of resignation noted that she planned to continue her education. Mrs. Bill (Ginger) Parker, employee at City Hall since 1978, was named acting city secretary by the city manager.

Mr. Cartee suggested that the city advertise for a new city secretary and take action on an appointment within six weeks. Mrs. Allison moved that this procedure be followed, and Mr. Eudy seconded the motion. The vote was unanimous in favor of the plan.

Melvin Wende, president of the Eastland County Bass Club, was present to request information about improvements for a boat ramp at Lake Cisco. Councilmen recalled that the state sent the city some $2,000 for that purpose and it was decided that action would be taken in the near future.

The Civic League's request to provide planter boxes and trash cans for downtown streets was tabled for more information. Application of Bob Moore, who lives just south of the Cisco Municipal Airport, for an easement to cross the airport fence with his airplane from a hangar on his property was also tabled for more information.

The city manager was authorized to call for bids to furnish and apply a prime coat topping for the runway at the airport where base material work has just been completed. All council members voted for the matter except Mrs. Allison who said "no."

Application of James R. Matthews of Lubbock for permission to locate a salt water disposal well on city owned land that he has leased for oil and gas exploration was held up for more information. Payment of January accounts were not approved as several council members wanted to ask questions about some items when Accountant Jean Gray could be present. Bill totals amounted to $56,706 for the general fund and $30,443 for the water and sewer fund.

Action of the state's request for speed limit ordinances for Highway 183, U.S. Highway 80, and IH-20 through the city was also tabled for more study. —JWS

Westbound Asks Water For Northwest Project

The City Council took under advisement Tuesday night an application by Westbound Water Supply Corporation for a monthly allotment of 2,000,000 gallons of water so the firm can extend its service to residents of the Lake Cisco Northshore and Ensearch (Lone Star Gas) Corporation's Pueblo pressure maintenance plant.

The application was filed for the Westbound district, which serves some 384 customers between Lake Leon and Putnam, by Vice President J.C. McDaniel at the regular semi-monthly meeting of the Council. Early action was requested to facilitate application for a federal loan to finance the project.

Mr. McDaniel, assisted by Attorney James Jarrar, told the Council that the net result would probably be about the same amount of water that Lake Cisco is already supplying Northshore cabin residents and the Pueblo plant. All lake cabins now use water directly from the lake and a pipeline has been maintained by Ensearch to furnish water to the Pueblo complex for some 30 years.

It was pointed out that Westbound, which serves 272 customers with Lake Cisco water, has never used its contract maximum of 3,000,000 gallons per month, and doubt was expressed that the additional 2,000,000 monthly would be fully used. Westbound pays 50 cents per 1,000 gallons and projected the new project would net the city an additional $14,500 per year.

The Westbound water goes through the Lake Cisco treatment plant. Mayor Roy Cartee told the Council that the city's water plant probably would be reviewed again by the State Health Department this year and the addition of filtration facilities could be demanded. He suggested "it would be wise to shelve this request, appoint a study committee and get their recommendations." He added that "this is political."

Councilman Bill Eudy said "I can't see how we can lose; it won't cost us any more water and we'll get paid more for it." He made a motion that be seconded by Councilman Harold Phippen to approve the requested contract. Eudy and Phippen voted for the motion, Mayor Cartee and Councilwoman Louise Allison voted against it, and Council Members Lucy Collier and Jerry Jeffcoat abstained. Mr. Jeffcoat said he didn't feel that he should vote on the matter since he is superintendent of Ensearch's Pueblo plant.

Mrs. Allison then moved that the mayor appoint a study committee as he suggested. The motion was approved. Mr. Cartee indicated that he would appoint a committee to include Council Members Jeffcoat and Allison, Dalworth Jobe, Jake Morgan, Donald Gorr, John Webb and Charlie Pence.

Westbound applied to the Council about a year ago, noting that a survey would be made with residents in the areas to be served. Several meetings have been held, it was noted. The proposed project would cost about $400,000 and a 40-year loan would be sought.

In a discussion of the lake, City Manager R.J. Turpin said a survey shows the lake has enough water for 1981 and half of 1982 with no rain. He added that the water level is eight to nine feet below normal for this time of year. City water usage, including Westbound, is presently averaging around 450,000 gallons daily, the city manager told the council.

The city manager was asked to prepare work to institute emergency rationing in the event such is needed. —JWS

Rotary Club Hears Mini-Course In Willmaking At Regular Meeting

A mini-course in will-making emphasizing, in the brief time allowed, little more than high points of effective post-mortem property disposal under Texas and federal tax laws, provided members of the Cisco Rotary Club Thursday noon with some precautionary suggestions for dealing with a process which, as Cisco attorney Billy Wright pointed out, could have some rather costly surprises.

Wright warned that inflation can put much higher valuations upon an estate than might be expected — particularly when real and oil properties are involved — with a consequent and often startling increase in state and federal inheritance taxes. He said it is surprising how many people who think their holdings modest, end up, under present bloated economic conditions, with estates well within the higher tax brackets.

For this reason, among others, he suggested that persons making wills should review them at intervals of not more than five years to keep them within the intent of the testator and the most favorable aspects of the law and conditions as may develop.

Texas has perhaps the most liberal probate laws of all the states, he said, recognizing a variety of will forms as legal. These include formal wills, meticulously prepared and witnessed by at least two impartial individuals; holographic wills wholly in the handwriting of the testator and requiring no witnesses; oral wills that need three witnesses, and so forth. Texas laws require a testator to be at least 18 years of age, of sound mind and freely acting among other conditions. There is even a provision in Texas law, he said, whereby heirs of a person dying without making a will, may organize and designate an executor to dispose of the estate beyond the jurisdiction of the probate court.

Wright pointed out that Texas, as a community property state, decrees an equal division of family property between husband and wife. One sound reason for making a will, he explained, concerns the Texas law which provides that one-half of an estate for which there is no legal testament passes to the children of a couple, if any, whose part is then placed under the governance of the probate court. This, he said, could cause problems in the subsequent management of the estate and its opportunities.

Federal tax laws, he explained, now allow as much as $175,000 of an estate where there is a surviving spouse to be tax free except for state levies which, in kindred relationships, are not always excessive. Where the surviving spouse's one-half of the estate already amounts to that, or even a lesser figure, inheritance of the remaining half could push the total value to a considerable tax liability. In such circumstances a will sometimes provides that the one-half owned by the deceased spouse be placed in a trust fund and the income paid to the survivors, thus discharging the purpose of the bequest without passing ownership of the principal and the resultant tax liability during the lifetime of the legatee.

Application of James R. Matthews of Lubbock for permission to locate a salt water disposal well on city owned land that he has leased for oil and gas exploration was held up for more information. IWU Reflections In Perspective

By I. Will Ussery

During our first summer in Teheran there was a mild epidemic of rabies (if any epidemic of rabies may be classified as "mild"). The local authorities, seeking an explanation for the presence of rabies concluded that its principal source must undoubtedly be the many "jube dogs" within the city.

Now a jube dog is nothing other than a stray which must fend for itself. The jube dogs of Teheran, though, seemed to be almost a distinct breed. For the most part they were handsome animals. Somewhat on the medium-to-large in size, short-haired and for the most part tan or almost yellow in color; they made the most loyal and loving pets you can imagine.

A survey was made, the result of which was the announcement that in the city of something over a million people there was a stray dog population of over 50,000. That's a lot of stray dogs for any city, regardless of its size. An eradication program was initiated. A bounty of 20 rials (something like 27 cents) was paid for each jube dog which was brought in and turned over to the police. Needless to say this was capitalised upon by a number of opportunists. Pets were stolen and were held for ransom. And while the stray population was reduced, the jube dogs were not eradicated.

Now the name "jube dog" requires a bit of explanation. For the most part, the drainage system of the city, which was laid out in an area which sloped generally north to south was the gutters along the principal streets. Some of those gutters were quite deep...maybe 18 inches or more...while others branched off into proper drainage canals; concrete-lined, but still referred to as "jubers". If there was a bit of garbage to dispose of...dump it into the jube. In some areas, for many, many years the jubers were also the principal source of household water. I've seen a man shaving, squatting alongside a jube, while downstream a block or so was a housemaid washing dishes, pots and pans in the same jube. Sanitation was something which was only a bother to Westerners.

Anyway; the jube dogs. Friendly; I never saw one that would not respond to a kind word, most especially if that word was accompanied by a bit of food. And, well-fed they were actually handsome animals. Appeared to have a trace of Labrador in their bloodstream, somewhere. But a bit taller, and somewhat more trim. Still; they were handsome animals.

In an issue of "New Yorker", a slick magazine which caters to the sophisticated taste, in the summer of 1965 an advertisement appeared. "Genuine imported pedigree Persian Jube Dogs. Puppies, $150.00" I really wanted to learn how the person who placed the ad obtained a pedigree for his dogs. City slickers!

GOOD GOLF

Jay Hebert, touring pro and tournament winner for 30 years, has been commissioned by Standard Brands Incorporated to assist senior golfers by preparing these tips.

As a golfer ages, the muscles may become less supple, the distance-producing backswing shortens.

Erin Ryan, Snead, and Sarazen recommend stretching exercises swinging a weighted club, steel pipe, etc. At age

Tips On A Low Score At A High Age

79, Gene Sarazen walks the beaches of Marco Island daily swinging a 24 ounce club.

For senior golfers, clubs with a little more flexible a shaft are almost a must. Added flexibility gives you more head feel and allows you to bend the shaft at impact which gives you the desired trajectory. Experiment with different shafts and find the flex that suits your swing.

Often, a golfer tries to compensate for a loss in distance by swinging harder.

First Baptist to Hold Puppet Seminar

A seminar on the usefulness of professional-quality puppets as effective instructional tools is scheduled at the First Baptist Church, Ave. E. & 9th St., Cisco, Texas 76437 on Tuesday, March 3, 1981.

The three and one-half hour training session will be conducted by professional puppeteers from Puppet Productions, Inc. (PPI), a San Diego, California company that has trained more than 73,000 persons in similar session.

Live performances will be used to demonstrate the effectiveness of puppetry as a communications tool. Included among the demonstrations will be instruction in single and double puppeteer performances as well as intensive training in puppetry techniques.

In recent years, puppets have proved to be valuable instruction aids by increasing motivation and holding the attention of young students. One teacher found that in a lecture-type atmosphere the students retained 2-10% of the information. When he used a puppet, retention increased to 80-90%. These are staggering statistics and confirm that these loveable characters are effective teaching tools.

The universal appeal of puppets is also reflected in the thousands of churches and schools which have begun using puppets in their educational programs.

"Puppets create an excellent climate for learning, whether the subject matter is secular or religious," says Bill Hawes, President of PPI. "The seminar is designed to aid both beginners and experienced puppeteers with emphasis on training as well as actual participation at the seminar."

Subject areas covered in the seminar include how to manipulate hand puppets, selecting and training puppeteers, organizing an effective puppet team, immediately improving your performances and maintaining high performance standards.

Seminar sizes are limited to insure adequate personal attention so early registration is recommended. Individual registration fees are $18.00 with reduced rates available for groups and families. For additional details and registration information, contact Terri Childress, (817) 442-1160.

Senator Glasgow Reports

According to Senator Bob Glasgow, the bill to restore the lateral road fund to the counties has passed the Senate and is currently being considered by the House of Representatives.

"If the bill becomes law, the counties will find an extra bonus this September when the new fiscal year begins," stated the Senator. The Senator went further to explain that an extra $16.9 million would be available for distribution at that time which would represent the principle amount of lateral road funds frozen by the Governor's veto for the past two years along with the accrual of interest on that amount.

The amount of funds distributed to each county is determined on the basis of formula which takes into consideration the rural population of each county and the county road mileages in each county. This formula would be based upon the 1980 census population and the county road mileage as of January 1, 1981.

The Senator released figures which estimate the amount that each county in the 22nd District would receive. Senator Glasgow was cautious to explain that these were based upon old census figures and old road mileage figures and it would not accurately reflect what the new census figures or road mileage figures would be.

The figures released would be available for distribution on September 1, 1981, and would represent a three-year accrual of lateral road fund benefits as follows:

- Bosque is $89,458.62
- Comanche is $95,414.31
- Cooke is $110,238.39
- Denton is $186,642.81
- Eastland is $95,242.17
- Erath is $97,971.03
- Hill is $147,921.12
- Hood is $51,201.78
- Jack is $55,862.25
- Montague is $96,937.53
- Palo Pinto is $83,163.69
- Parker is $135,056.40
- Somervill is $20,236.71
- Stephens is $51,422.13
- Wise is $119,584.41
- Young is $70,802.43

After the distribution of the three-year amount, the succeeding year's amounts due each county would be approximately one-third of those amounts stated above.

Discover International Cooking

French Food: Love and Style

Besides the fresh, delicate foods, there are two important ingredients to French cooking: love and style.

That, says the new 303-page book from Campbell Soup Company, "The International Cook," is what French cuisine is all about.

Sunday, March 1, 1981

The book has 142 recipes from 30 countries. It also gives historical insights about the countries.

Two things make French food different from other foods of the Western World: stocks and sauces, and imaginative use of vegetables. The preparation time for these classic recipes is cleverly pared through the imaginative use of Campbell's condensed soups.

APPLY FOR TAX EXEMPTIONS.

If you pay property tax in the State of Texas, there is one very important date to remember. Depending on your local taxing district, either April 1 or April 30 is ordinarily the last day to file for exemptions or to render your property for each tax year. Several types of tax relief measures are available to Texas taxpayers, but they do not go into effect automatically. Applications must be filed each year.

School districts offer a residence homestead exemption to all homeowners and additional exemptions to persons who are disabled or 65 or over. Productivity valuation is available to qualified farmers and ranchers.

Counties offer homestead exemptions on their farm-to-market road or flood control tax rate, and may offer optional exemptions to the disabled and elderly.

Cities and other taxing districts may offer optional exemptions for the disabled and elderly.

All districts offer an exemption for certain disabled veterans on one designated property.

Remember, exemptions are not effective automatically. Applications must be filed each year on or before your local rendition deadline. While late applications for exemptions may be accepted in some instances, the burden and expense of proving a good reason for filing late rest on the taxpayer. You can avoid any inconvenience and fully protect your rights and access to remedies as a taxpayer by applying before the rendition deadline.

Contact your local city, school and county tax offices for more information on available exemptions and about the deadlines in your area. The State Property Tax Board has a pamphlet, Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities! to help you understand property taxes. Get a free copy at your local tax office or contact the State Property Tax Board in Austin.

The convention met at 10:00, Tuesday morning, March 1, 1836, at the Byars Blacksmith Shop, to write the covenant of the Texas Declaration of Independence.

Betty Beggs Chamber Artist of the Month

The Eastland Chamber of Commerce artist of the month of March 1981 will be Mrs. Betty Beggs of Route 1, Rising Star, Texas.

Mrs. Beggs states that art was a discovery for her in the fifth grade when she found that could make a girl's profile from a bracket. The next year she began taking art classes under Mrs. Violet Taylor and continued for two years painting with oils.

When Betty's children were small, she took a correspondence course in Commercial Arts gaining much experience in drawing and the use of watercolors. She also took some private lessons in portraiture from Emil Herman in Wichita Falls. In the last few years she has studied oils under Sue Mullinax at Cisco Junior College, and has taken instructions in oil paintings under James Campbell of Abilene, Jan Herring who teaches in Eastland often, and John Crump of Anson.

Mrs. Beggs is program chairman for the Home Art Club at Cross Plains and is a member of the Cisco Art Club, and is a representative for The Texas Fine Arts Association. She has been teaching in Rising Star for the past year. Formerly she taught at Wichita Falls. Betty has won numerous awards and ribbons in the area Art Exhibits.

The public is invited to come by and view this exhibit while on display through the month of March. There will be portraits of several Eastland County residents in the show.

WORD OF GOD

Jesus Heals A Leper:

And, behold, there came a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

And Jesus put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou clean. And immediately his leprosy was cleansed.

And Jesus saith unto him, See thou tell no man; but go thy way, show thyself to the priest, and offer the gift that Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

Matthew 8:2-4

If You Live Here, There Or Elsewhere

.... and own real estate in this county, we have a complete record of your title from the deed from the State down to the present time whether it be a vacant lot, the big house in town or a dude ranch in the hills. Exactly how much land do I own? Any surplus or minerals? Mortgaged? Any adverse claimants? Is my record title chain unbroken? All these questions and many more are answered when we build your abstract in our modern plant.

When a Texas Legend Sings, People Listen!

When a Texas Legend Sings, People Listen!

Lights From The Christian World

By Josephine Cleveland

"Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."—Galatians 6:7

The man mused as he flipped the calendar to the New Year. Closing the book on the past year he opened the new ledger before him. The page was lustrous and spotless.

"Oh, yes, my Friend, a Voice whispered, "it is white as snow now but soon it will be smeared with finger prints, eraser marks, ink blots, and smudges, perhaps even a tear."

"What heavy thoughts," you say.

Loudly his companion speaks to him, "Come, let us eat, drink and be merry. Reach for a little cheer in this bottle; open this pill box. You will find a delicious drink and a sugar coated morsel that will lift you into blissful tranquility."

"Yes, let us be merry," he replied.

A soft but clear Voice speaks, "Eat, drink and be merry for tomorrow we may die—but, you fool, this night your soul may be required of you"—Luke 12:19-20

The man tried to shake the unpleasant thought from his mind.

The soft, persistent Voice continued to cause other words he once had heard surface in his mind, "the thoughts of the wicked are an abomination to the Lord; but the words of the pure are pleasant words"—Proverbs 15:26

A joy begin to take shape within him. Thoughts continued to tumble in his mind. "Understanding is a well-spring of life to him that has it; but the instruction of fools is folly"—Proverbs 16:22

His mind clears. He rejoices. He exclaims, "Thank you Lord for your faithfulness."

FFA . . . BUILDING TOMORROWS TODAY

An American Success Story

Agriculture's Youth In Action

One of the best examples of youth in action on the American scene today is the FFA, the national organization for students studying vocational agriculture in the public high schools. It is an organization run by the student-members under adult guidance.

Soon after vocational agriculture became a subject in many of the nation's high schools in 1917, instructors became aware of the need to provide practical training beyond the traditional classroom approach. Their idea was to make the instruction more interesting by making practical work experience, competitive livestock judging, and agricultural leadership development activities part of the instruction. Vocational agriculture instructors and students eagerly accepted the learn by doing principle.

The FFA was founded nationally in 1928 after similar organizations had started in several states. Right from the beginning, the FFA has stressed leadership, cooperation and citizenship all vital to success in modern agriculture.

Today the FFA has a membership of 485,000 with chapters in approximately 8,000 high schools throughout the nation. The organization has state associations in all states and in Puerto Rico.

Vocational agriculture or agribusiness programs are funded in part by the National Vocational Education Acts through the U.S. Office of Education, state departments of education and the local school systems. The FFA operates under a federal charter granted by an Act of Congress in 1950 (Public Law 740, 81st Congress). The charter provides for a national board of directors and a board of student officers elected from the membership.

FFA activities are specifically designed to be a part of the instructional program in vocational agriculture. Members learn through active participation how to conduct and take part in public meetings, how to speak in public, and how to take a leadership role in their school and community.

Each local chapter and each state association elects its own officers each year. In all cases the teacher of vocational agriculture is the advisor of the local FFA chapter and the state supervisor of agricultural education is the advisor of the state association.

FFA members have full opportunity to practice the principles of democracy in conducting the affairs of their organization by exercising their privilege to vote at chapter meetings, serve on committees, and otherwise assist in carrying on the work of their organization. Elected delegates to the state and national conventions, held each year, are asked to decide on major issues facing the organization.

Advancement through the degrees in the organization from the Green Hand through the Chapter Farmer, State Farmer, and American Farmer or Agribusinessman is based on achievement in farming, ranching, or agribusiness careers.

Nearly 8,000 public high schools have FFA chapters. One of the requirements for membership in FFA is that a student be enrolled in vocational agriculture. Students may retain their membership until they are 21.

Competition is a key element of the FFA from the chapter to the national level. Each year the FFA recognizes more than 80,000 members at local, state and national levels for outstanding achievement in activities related to agriculture career and leadership development.

Funds for awards are provided by more than 800 businesses, organizations, and individuals that sponsor FFA programs through the National FFA Foundation, Inc. The Foundation provides nearly half a million dollars to make the incentive awards available to deserving FFA members in the following

Many tomorrows will make up the future for an FFA member of today. Big tomorrows like graduation from high school, college or job, a new car, career choice, marriage, children, retirement.

And an endless list of little tomorrows fill each day of the week in a year. Should I accept an office? Hogs or sheep, corn or soybeans? Which style to buy? Play hockey or run track? How to break the news to them? Who to date? Landscaping or floral arranging? Parts and sales or repair? What to write? Should I borrow the money? Who to vote for? What about his health? Or mine? How can I keep better records? Computer? How can I help? Solar energy?

Put them all together they make a lifetime and fill a career.

award programs: Star Farmer and Star Agribusinessman awards, 19 agricultural proficiency awards, public speaking, national chapter awards, national chapter safety, Building Our American Communities Awards, national judging contests, establishment in agriculture awards, and through state initiated programs for improving agricultural leadership.

Recent food shortages in this country have reaffirmed the need for continuing a strong program of vocational agriculture and the FFA. Thus there is a bright future for trained agriculturists ready to serve America.

Vocational agricultural education and the FFA is "Building Tomorrows" for 485,000 high school students "Today." The "Building" process begins for them when they enroll in the vocational agriculture class in their school as freshmen.

First of all, vo-ag will prepare these students for the important "Tomorrow" of getting established in an agriscareer. They are taught skills and competencies in the classroom for a particular field of agricultural interest they have chosen.

Secondly, the new students soon discover a unique learning laboratory will be an integral part of vo-ag. It is the FFA Chapter where students are given the opportunity to Learn By Doing. Incentive awards to motivate them. Competition to drive them. Desire to pull them into their work and study. Experiences to season them. Hard work to test them. Rubbing shoulders with other members and experienced adults to teach them.

An adult advisor is the chief builder in this educational Building process. The advisor is the vocational agriculture instructor, as well as the FFA Chapter advisor, and is the reason motivation, inspiration and learning take place.

An added plus in "Building the Tomorrows" for young people is the unique experience FFA can provide its members. Experiences which help them face the little tomorrows.

Leadership experiences abound for members constantly in FFA. Organized ones like public speaking contests or serving as an elected officer. Or unorganized ones like a chance to present a motion during the meeting; the chance to serve and work on a committee; or the chance to see an older chapter member succeed.

Add to leadership the experiences of solid citizenship training, a sensible bout with cooperation, the encouragement of self pride, forced decision making, a taste of thrift, an opportunity to serve others, and a place to exhibit unshamed patriotism.

Bring on the Tomorrows!

GORDON SPOT

By DeMarquis Gordon

I think it is safe to say that absolutely nothing can be more discouraging at planting time than poor soil. Gardeners all over the county are constantly amazed at what they are expected to grow their garden vegetables in. There are good soils and poor soils in Eastland County although most are not that bad for gardening if prepared properly.

Regardless of the type of soil in your garden, it can be improved by adding plenty of organic matter. This is one of the real keys to growing successful vegetables in your backyard.

If your soil is heavy clay, adding organic matter will improve drainage and aeration as well as allow for better root development. If you have sandy soil, liberal amounts of organic matter will help it hold water as well as nutrients.

Where do you get organic matter? This magical stuff, which does all the above things plus serves as a source of food for soil fungi and bacteria, comes in the form of peat moss, compost, hay, grass clippings, gin trash, barnyard fertilizer, shredded bark, leaves or even shredded newspapers.

When adding organic matter to soil, be sure to apply enough to physically change the soil structure. Ideally, at least 1/2 of the final soil mix in your garden should be some type of organic material. To accomplish this, spread a 2 to 4 inch layer of organic material over the garden surface and till it to a depth of at least 6 to 8 inches. Apply the recommended rate of fertilizer over the garden surface at the same time and till it in along with the organic matter.

This is also a good time to treat your soil for nematodes if they have been a problem in the past. More about that later.

Last week I talked about working up the garden soil and mentioned using rototillers. I indicated they weren't absolutely necessary for gardening, but they sure do make soil preparation a lot easier. Many local gardeners prefer the shovel or spading fork to the rototiller and really enjoy getting out and working up the ground. But I know there are many who look for a simpler and easier way to handle this chore. For you folks who own rototillers or those of you thinking about renting or buying one, here are some tips to make the tilling job a lot easier.

(1) Tilling the garden will be easier if you leave a row untilled between passes. There are two reasons for doing this: wide turns are easier to make with a tiller than "about faces", and the machine won't be pulling itself and you toward the next row (which it will do if you even come close to overlapping rows).

(2) In tilling heavy clay soils or breaking up ground for a new garden, reduce the engine speed of the tiller so that it will dig better and buck and bounce less.

(3) When tilling ground for the first time, don't try to work it to its maximum depth in the first pass. The first time around, set the brake stake half the depth you desire. Then set it to full depth and go over the ground a second time.

(4) It's important to till only when the soil is somewhat dry and friable. Tilling when it is too wet will leave behind large clods which will become rock hard when dry. Also, mud clumps clinging to the blades will upset its balance, causing undue wear on you and the tiller.

Our next column will deal with controlling soil-borne diseases.

Lumberman's Energy Audit Program Developed

Consumers across the state of Texas will soon be able to visit lumber and building material dealers in their communities to receive an energy audit and analysis of their homes' energy conservation.

The audit program, called Lumbermen's Energy Audit Program (L.E.A.P.), has been developed by Lumbermen's Association of Texas. The Association plans to have the service available to residents of more than 400 cities and towns in Texas through its more than 800 dealers.

The L.E.A.P. audit program, developed by Dr. Bill R. Stewart of Texas A&M University, is a simple way for consumers to determine which energy inefficiencies exist in their own homes and what improvements are most cost-effective for them in reducing overall energy expenditures.

The consumer visits a local participating lumber dealer to pick up the audit form and other information. After filling out the form and answering questions dealing with such data as the age of the heating and cooling unit, square footage of the home's living area, the number of people living in the home, the number of windows, etc., the information is then fed into a computer at the dealer's place of business.

A report is then generated which informs the consumer about what steps might be taken to improve efficiency, what materials are needed, and their costs. This information is then analyzed on the basis of energy efficiency achieved and projected "return on the energy conservation investment". The results are customized to each specific consumer's home and based on utility rates in effect in that specific market as well as climatic conditions in that location.

An energy efficient home can often save the owner thousands of dollars in operating costs over the years of ownership. And, there is little doubt that energy saving devices enhance the resale value of a property. According to recent surveys, energy efficient homes can bring from five to ten percent higher prices.

For more information about the L.E.A.P. energy audit, contact your local lumber dealer and see if the program is available in your market, or contact the Lumbermen's Association of Texas at P.O. Box 5546, Austin, Texas 78763.

Senior Citizen's Nutrition Menu

H.S. Fritsch wrote a little two verse poem entitled "How Old Are You?" which may apply to each of us:
"Age is a quality of mind.
If you have left your dreams behind,
If hope is cold,
If you no longer look ahead,
If your ambitions' fire are dead—
Then you are old.
But if from life you take the best,
And if in life you keep the jest,
If love you hold;
No matter how the years go by,
No matter how the birthdays fly—
You are not old."
As usual the Center has a lot of people who are talented and willing to share with others. They were Leah Brown and Anna Dytzel, who played the piano for the dinner music; Roland Smith, a popular country and western entertainer; and Janet Thomas, home demonstration agent, who spoke concerning "Food, Fads and Quackery."
The menus for the coming week are:
Monday: swiss steak, mixed vegetables, pineapple/carrot jello, fruit cobbler, bread, butter and drink.
Tuesday: beef and cabbage, glazed yams, blackeye peas, cake, bread, butter and drink.
Friday: beef stew/vegetables, cor-

ASSORTED DETAILS have been causing delays in the beginning of the Mobley Hilton Hotel Restoration project and Cisco should be patient for the delays are helping plans for a good job. That is the word that President Dick Woolley of the First National Bank received the other day from Dr. Jim Taylor, dean of the Conrad Hilton College of Hotel and Restaurant Management, University of Houston.

The UofH School of Architecture, you know, is in charge of the Mobley project. Bids are due by midsummer, ground breaking no later than September and completion by December, 1982, Mr. Woolley learned.

MRS. VIOLA Payne, feature writer for Eastland County Newspapers, did a nice story that ran a week or so ago in the Eastland and Ranger newspapers about Sun Oil Company's plans to use water flood to rejuvenate the old Ranger oil field - the boom days field.

The other day, Mrs. VP received a telephone call from Sun's pubrel offices in Dallas to tell her that a television film crew would be in Ranger (and maybe Eastland and Cisco) on Thursday and Friday to do a story about the Sun project, which has already attracted national attention in oil journals.

Mrs. VP understands that the ABC Good Morning America is due to air the documentary on March 8th. We'll keep an ear to the ground to keep you posted on when to tune in the Ranger oil field story.

LET'S ALL HELP Prof. Wesley Valek and his CJC history department assemble historical printed material for a nice display at the Corral Room during the upcoming centennial. They're looking for newspaper clippings and pictures relating to Cisco and the community during the days from Red Gap forward - anything of historical significance.

The clippings will be copied and returned to you, Mr. WV says. Senior citizens who meet three times a week or so at the Corral Room will help protect the exhibit items. They're also helping round up items for the display. Contact Wesley with anything inre Red Gap and Cisco people and things.

Lions Hear Talk On Camp Program For Handicapped

Six Cisco young people worked as counsellors to help make the 1980 camping program at the Lions Club Camp for Crippled Children, Kerrville, a good success. Oscar Lopez told the Cisco club in a talk last Wednesday noon at their weekly luncheon.

The Cisco group included Oscar Lopez, Van Reynolds, Cheri Ward, and Roger Autrey along with Kevin Holland and Clay Wyatt of Cisco Junior College. Oscar and possibly others of the group will work at the camp again this summer.

The camp has been holding summer camping programs for crippled children since 1953, and its facilities have improved over the years. Oscar said youngsters 5 to 16 are accepted for two week periods without charges.

A typical camping session was described. Oscar said "you could see improvement in the attitude and general well being of the campers," many being from underprivileged homes. The children enjoy classes to learn crafts, swimming, sports of all kinds, picnics and outings and good food.

S. Lopez was program chairman and introduced Oscar, his son, for the program.

Lion O.L. Stamey said the club is accepting applications from diabetic and crippled youngsters for the 1981 camping season.
